TARIFF ACTION IN THE SENATE IS FORCED TO WAIT UNTIL THURSDAY

Democratic Caucus Called and Holds Brief Discussion on Bill.

Objections to Some Phases of Conferees' Report Cause the Delay.

Reed Heads Protest After House Approves Measure 254 to 103.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The entire conference report on the tariff bill was laid aside for twenty-four hours in the senate today as the result of a protest among Democratic senators, which resulted in the calling of a party caucus to go over the conference report before it should be finally acted upon in the senate.

A hurriedly called caucus assembled at 11 o'clock, but when the senate met at noon the caucus had made no progress toward a conclusion and the Democratic leaders agreed to lay the tariff bill aside. The caucus resumed work at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The so-called insurgent forces, led by Senator Reed of Missouri, who circulated the demand for the caucus, insisted that there were compromises and amendments agreed to by the conference committee which demand further study and consideration by the Democrats of the senate before being finally written into the bill.

Talked for an Hour.

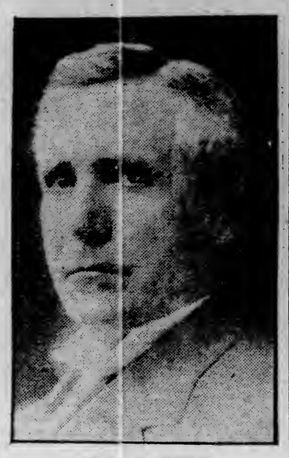

After an hour's discussion of the matter Democratic leaders determined not to try to force the tariff bill through the senate today, but to allow ample time for debate behind closed doors.

Senator Pomerene's objection to the action of the conferees in dropping the $1.10 tax on grape brandy used to fortify sweet wines, and Senator Reed's criticisms of the decisions of the conference committee on several important tariff rates, were the chief points brought up.

Senator Kern, the Democratic leader, and Chairman Simmons of the finance committee expressed the opinion that the tariff bill would be taken up tomorrow in the senate. The controversy over the proposed cotton futures

METHODISTS AT DETROIT

Nineteenth Annual Session of Northern Minnesota Conference Opens.

Dr. Copper's Report for Duluth District Shows Splendid Growth.

Detroit, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The nineteenth annual session of the Northern conference of the Methodist Episcopal church opened in this city yesterday afternoon, Bishop Quayle of St. Paul presiding.

Yesterday's trains brought delegations from various parts of the state, and about 200 are now present. The following Duluth Methodist ministers are in attendance: Reverends William F. Hovis, pastor of Endion church; Charles R. Oaten of Lester Park church, George E. Silloway of Grace church, C. W. Emery of Merritt Memorial and W. H. Farrell of Asbury. Prominent among official visitors from others states are Rev. Doctors Robert Forbes of Philadelphia, J. B. Hingeley of Chicago, J. O. Randall of Chicago, Harry A. McCain of Topeka, S. Earl Taylor of New York, Edgar Blake of Chicago and W. F. Sheridan of Chicago. These will deliver addresses at the conference.

The city is giving the conference a royal welcome. Decorations are displayed everywhere. Last evening a public reception was given Bishop Quayle and the members of the conference, at which addresses of welcome and responses were given by J. K. West, pioneer citizen of Becker county, J. A. Narum of Detroit, Rev. Dr. Leonard of Minneapolis and Bishop Quayle.

Church Temperance Society.

Preceding the reception the anniversary of the church temperance society occurred, at which Rev. E. E. Satterlee of Brainerd presided and Rev. Dr. H. G. McCain of Topeka delivered the address. He said, among other things, that the problem of American government at this time was the problem of properly assimilating into our

MINNEAPOLIS VOTES DOWN COMMISSION

New Charter Is Rejected By About 22,999 to 9,850.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 1.—The proposition for a commission form of government for Minneapolis was defeated at the special election here yesterday by a majority of 13,149. Official returns from all but 11 of the 115 precincts give the following vote:

City officials expect that the majority will be swelled somewhat by the official returns from the missing precincts.

A hard campaign has been fought for th last three weeks for and against the proposed charter, which a commission has been working for more than two years to perfect.

TECHNICAL PAPERS ON COTTON HEARD.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 1.—Technical papers relating to the business were read at the morning session today of the semi-annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, which opened here last night. Among those on the program for addresses were E. N. Murti of India; Thomas Aspinall, F. O. S. of Bolton, Eng.; D. E. Douty, New York city, and Arthur T. Bradlee, Boston.

Decca muslins, the sizing for cotton warps, the results of moisture tests upon American cotton at the cotton conditioning house, Havre, France, and the second report of the committee on conditioning of cotton yarn and cloth were on the program for discussion when the meeting began.

MINER IS BEHIND 40 FEET OF SOLID COAL

Says Air Is Getting Bad Despite Tube That Enters Tomb.

Centralia, Pa., Oct. 1.—The rescuing party at the Continental mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, which is trying to reach Thomas Toshesky, a miner who was entombed last Friday, this morning arrived at a point which showed that forty feet of solid coal and rock would have to be cut through to enable them to crawl in and relase the imprisoned man.

Toshesky is undergoing the terrific ordeal bravely in his isolated little prison 100 feet below the surface. Frequently during the night he conversed with the rescuers, his remarks being heard very clearly through the fifty feet of tubing penetrating the coal breast from the adjoining chamber.

Pushed Blanket to Him.

Since a blanket was pushed through the tube to him yesterday he feels more comfortable. He said water was dripping from the roof and that his prison was beginning to grow damp, and the atmosphere was becoming heavy. Unless he is soon rescued he may perish for want of fresh air, mining experts say.

Nearly every time he talks, Toshesky asks about his wife and four children. He begs the rescurers to tell his wife that she should worry as little as possible.

A number of mine inspectors from various anthracite districts are assisting in the work of rescue. Officials of the company said today that Toshesky may be taken from the mine by nightfall. Progress is slow, as there is constant danger of additional falls of coal and debris.

JAPANESE INVOKE U. S. CONSTITUTION

Another Note on Anti-Alien Dispute Sent By Tokio.

Tokio, Japan, Oct. 1.—It is understood here that Japan and the United States are engaged in a discussion of the possibilities of arranging a new commercial treaty between the two countries.

Another note of protest in the California anti-alien controversy has been dispatched to the United States. The text has not been published, but it is understood that if it is accepted, on which point the Japanese authorities are very optimistic, it will necessitate a new treaty between the two countries.

The protest implies the application of the Roman law extending the authority of the president beyond the possibilities of the supreme court, and invokes clause 2, article 6 of the Constitution of the United States.

Clause 2 of article 6 of the Constitution reads:

"This Constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof; and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding."

STRAIGHT TIP TO MEXICANS

They Are Warned U. S. Soldiers Will Guard Border Bridge.

Constitutionalist Leaders Abandon City of Piedras Negras.

Piedras Negras, Mex., Oct. 1.—Confronted by an implied ultimatum that United States soldiers would be used to prevent the destruction of the international bridge here as well as American property on the Mexican side, every responsible chief of the Constitutionalist movement disappeared from here early today, leaving the town at the mercy of the Federals should the latter make a filibustering attack from the American side of the river.

Several looters were shot down in the streets here today by Constitutionalist troops, who are sternly suppressing a spirit of anarchy which showed itself last night.

Refugees Crowd Eagle Pass.

Eagle Pass, Texas, Oct. 1.—About 2,000 of the refugees who crossed the international bridge here yesterday were unable to obtain lodging in Eagle Pass, and it was necessary to open public buildings and obtain empty box cars to shelter them.

Not Many Americans.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Although a great exodus of refugees from Piedras Negras, across the Rio Grande into Eagle Pass, Tex., has taken place within the last twenty-four hours, officials here pointed out today that only a small portion of them are Americans. Hundreds of Mexicans have been concentrating in Piedras Negras from the interior of Coahuile and many of these, fearing for their safety in the event of the expected occupation of the Constitutionalists' capital by Mexican Federals, have sought an asylum on American soil.

Border Patrol Stronger.

Officials at the war department are not alarmed over the situation, now that the border patrol has been reinforced by additional soldiers from Fort Sam Houston, and they suggested today that the presence of a machine gun platoon on the American side at the international bridge would in all likelihood insure protection, regardless of the straits in which the hard-pressed Constitutionalists may find themselves.

So far no application has been received for the admission into Eagle

STEEL CORPORATION DEFENSE IS RENEWED

Prof. Leith of Wisconsin Testifies as an Iron Expert.

New York, Oct. 1.—The Steel corporation marshalled its experts today to refute the government's charges that it deserves dissolution as an illegal monopoly. The corporation took up the defense where it was left off when hearings were suspended last June. It maintains not only that it is not a monopoly but that a monopoly of the steel and iron trade is an impossibility.

Prof. C. I. Leith of the University of Wisconsin was the first witness. He qualified as an iron expert by reciting his connection with the United States geological survey and the tax commission of Wisconsin and Michigan in that capacity.

MORE RIOTING AT CALUMET

Ten Arrests Are Made, Including "Big Annie" Clemeno.

Motorists Are Fired on and Doctor's Chauffeur Hit.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 1.—Ten arrests were made in the Calumet copper strike district as the result of rioting this morning. "Big Annie" Clemeno, one of the leaders of the women strike sympathizers, and Ben Goggia, a strike leader, are among those in custody. Workmen were intimated and one deputy was badly beaten. Strikers who prevented men from going to work at the Allouez mine were dispersed by cavalry.

To quell the disorders and rioting in Red Jacket and Newton this morning the deputy sheriffs had to use pistols and sawed-off shotguns, firing in the air.

"Big Annie" Old Offender.

The woman leader, "Big Annie" Clemeno, and the Italian, Ben Goggia, each has been arrested four times.

At 3 o'clock this morning Dr. Joy of Calumet, returning from Ahmeek by automobile, was fired upon, his driver having a finger shot off.

Strikers paraded this morning at Ahmeek, Wolverine and Kearsarge armed with shotguns and rifles.

Considerable shooting by strikers in Keweenaw district last night was reported to military headquarters here this morning.

Automobile hunting parties were fired on as they passed through that district.

There was the usual picketing by strikers throughout the zone this morning.

GIRL 4 YEARS OLD ON 7,000-MILE JOURNEY

"Please Do Not Kiss Me" Is Written on Card She Wears.

New York, Oct. 1.—Attached to the skirt of a 4-year-old child who reached here unattended on the liner Kron Princessin Cecelie yesterday, was a placard on which was written in several languages:

"Please take care of me. I am going to my mamma. Please do not kiss me."

The little girl, Margaretha Ritzchen, came from a town near Vienna, where her mother had left her in a relative's care on marrying for a second time and emigrating with her new husband to Kenwood, Cal. Recently the mother sent for her daughter, who, on reaching her destination, will have traveled about 7,000 miles.

The steamship doctor, who wrote the placard, was thoughtful enough to protect the child from germs that might be transmitted through kisses.

ASKS WILSON TO SPEAK AT FAIR.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Senator Fletcher of Florida today extended an invitation to the president to speak at the interstate fair at Pensacola, Oct. 26, next. The president had tentatively agreed to go to Mobile, Oct. 27, to attend the Southern Commercial congress, and if he goes there may also stop at Pensacola the day before. The interstate fair is participated in by people of Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

REFUSE PILES UP IN CHICAGO

Garbage Reduction Company Refuses to Handle Waste Stuff.

No Way Yet Found to Dispose of 700 Tons Per Day.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Relations between this city and the Chicago Reduction company, which had the contract to dispose of the city's garbage, having been broken last night, orders were sent to the various wards today to cease the collection of garbage.

Householders were urged for the time being to burn their garbage in furnaces or otherwise to dispose of it by their own efforts. For the present it was stated that only refuse which was not animal or vegetable would be collected by the city. This would be dumped in abandoned clay holes.

The situation is regarded as very serious, as there is always more or less typhoid at this season, and the fly pest which carries the germs of disease will be at its worst for the next six weeks, it is said.

City Fathers Puzzled.

Suggestions that the plant of the company be seized are not regarded as practicable. In fact, the municipal administration is in a quandary over the matter. A special meeting of the city council will be held tonight with Mayor Harrison, recalled from a vacation, in the chair, but there is no hope of immediate relief.

It is said that the investment in the reduction plant, owned by Ohio men, was less than $300,000. According to Harold Almert, appraiser for the company in the negotiations to sell it to the city, the profits for the last three years have averaged $186,000 a year.

Is 700 Tons a day.

Mayor Harrison early this morning called the special meeting of the council for tonight. At midnight the plant of the Chicago Reduction company, which has taken care of the refuse, was closed following the ignoring of the company's ultimatum served yesterday upon city officials that unless it was paid $493,000 in cash by 12 o'clock, "we will let the garbage rot in Chicago's alleys."

Aroused by the menace of 700 tons of garbage accumulating daily in Chicago, many aldermen asserted today that the city would be justified in exercising its police power and seizing the plant. A settlement with the company could be made later, they said.

MAN 82 YEARS OLD KILLS WIFE AND SON

San Franciscan Then Blows Off His Own Head With Gun.

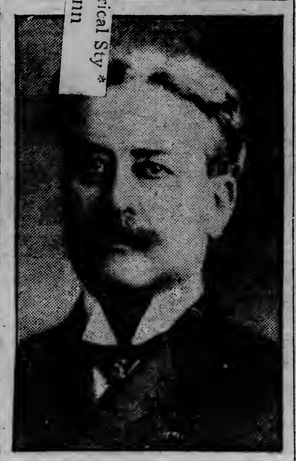

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 1.—Gilbert Smith Deane, a gunsmith, shot and killed his son, G. S. Deane, Jr., and then shot his aged wife dead as she attempted to leave their home. Then Deane lay on the floor and pulled a rifle trigger with his toes and shot his head off. The police could learn of no reason for the tragedy. Deane was 82 years old, his wife was about 80 and the son 30.

Rock Island Brakeman Killed.

Mason City, Iowa, Oct. 1.—J. T. Dolan, brakeman, was killed, Joseph Haigh, engineer, seriously scalded and John Sommerville, fireman, slightly injured in a wreck of Rock Island Freight No. 641, near here last night. The train ran into an open switch and seventeen cars were piled up.

SULZER'S CONNECTION WITH BROKERS' DEALS IS SHOWN AT TRIAL

VACA[illegible] IS ENDED [illegible] CITY'S PROBLEM

CARTER H. HARRISON,
Mayor of Chicago.

Direct Connection With "Account 500" Established By Evidence.

J. B. Gray Says Colwell Told Him Who Made Trades.

Handwriting Experts Are Called to Give Testimony.

ACCUSERS REST.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Counsel for the board of managers rested their case in the Sulzer impeachment trial at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Direct connection between "account 500" and Governor Sulzer was established today when J. B. Gray of the Stock exchange firm of Fuller & Gray, who handled the account, testified before the impeachment court that Frederick L. Colwell told him that the stock transactions in the account were for the governor. Colwell was Sulzer's alleged "dummery."

Handwriting Experts Called.

Handwriting experts made their appearance today in the senate chamber where the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer is being held.

Several signatures made by either the governor or his agents were in dispute. Bank employes who have been on the stand failed to identify them. Some were indorsements of checks and others were attached to letters.

One signature, which counsel for the board of managers were very anxious to identify, was attached to a letter asking Harris & Fuller, New York brokers, to close the governor's accounts to Lieut. Commander Josepthal. It was signed "William Sulzer, for Mrs. Sulzer."

Represented Loan.

Melville B. Fuller, testifying yesterday regarding this account, said that it represented a loan made to the governor, who had said the money went to pay obligations incurred by Mrs. Sulzer at the Carnegie Trust Company of New York, now defunct.

The "cross entry" made in the governor's Harris & Fuller account dated Dec. 30, 1912, the day before his in-

FRENCH BOY SLAYS SEVEN

Spares 4-Year-Old Child and Then Sleeps Calmly.

Nantes, France, Oct. 1.—A crime of incredible savagery was committed yesterday by a boy of 15 years who murdered, with an ax, seven people in the village of Basbriageen-Landrea in the department of the Loire-Inferieure.

The boy, Marcel Redureau, was employed as a vine cutter. He and his employer, George Mabit, were pressing grapes together yesterday evening when a discussion arose between them. Redureau became angry, seized an enormous ax and with a single blow cut Mabit's throat from ear to ear, killing him instantly.

The young murderer then entered his employer's house, holding his formidable weapon dripping with blood. He dashed up to Mme. Mabit and slashed her throat till she was dead, and then killed a servant in the same way.

Still with his dripping ax in his hand, the boy proceeded to another room, where he dispatched his employer's mother and then killed three of Mabit's children. He spared a fourth child, aged 4, lying by their side.

After completing his series of crimes Redureau went to bed and slept calmly until this morning. The bodies were discovered by villagers. After his arrest he made a complete confession.

FIVE DIE IN FIRE IN HOTEL IN KENTUCKY

Proprietor's Wife, Three Children and Sister Lose Their Lives.

New Haven, Ky., Oct. 1.—Five persons perished in flames that swept through the business section of New Haven early today. The victims were the wife, three children and sister of James Devere, who were trapped by the fire in Devere's hotel.

MONUMENT TO UTAH SEA GULL UNVEILED.

Salt Lake City, Utah., Oct. 1.—Commemorating the deliverance of early Mormon settlers from starvation, a monument to the Great Salt Lake sea gull was unveiled in the temple grounds here today. A grasshopper scourge which visited to pioneers in 1848, threatened total destruction to their crops, when great flocks of gulls appeared and devoured the pests.

COST OF WEDDINGS IS RAISED IN LA CROSSE

Adverse Legislation Is Pastors' Reason for Raising Rates.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 1.—More stringent laws, passed at the last session of the legislature, have practically put an end to marriages at La Crosse and other Wisconsin border cities, and ministers are seeking larger salaries because of the serious cut in their revenues.

The pastor of one of the largest Lutheran churches in town, who ordinarily has many weddings, said today that he had not performed a marriage ceremony in three months, and other ministers make the same complaint. On the other hand twenty-three La Crosse couples crossed the river to Winona to be married in September, and others are going to other Minnesota points.

The new laws forbid all marriages within five days of the taking out of the license except for two very serious causes, and after Jan. 1 will also require that all men married in Wisconsin submit to a physical examination.

U. S. S. MINNESOTA IS ORDERED REPAIRED

Connecticut Will Replace Her as Flagship of Admiral Beatty.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—The battleship Connecticut, which has been at the Philadelphia navy yard for several months undergoing repairs, passed out to sea today, bound for Hampton Roads, Va., where she will join the Atlantic fleet for the fall maneuvers and gun practice at sea next week.

The Connecticut will replace the Minnesota as the flagship of Rear Admiral Beatty, commanding the fourth division of the fleet. The latter vessel, which recently returned from Mexico, has been ordered laid up at the Philadelphia yard for four months' repairs. The other vessels of the division, the Ohio, Kansas and Idaho, will all leave for Hampton roads before the close of the week.

COURT DEATH RATHER THAN DEPORTATION

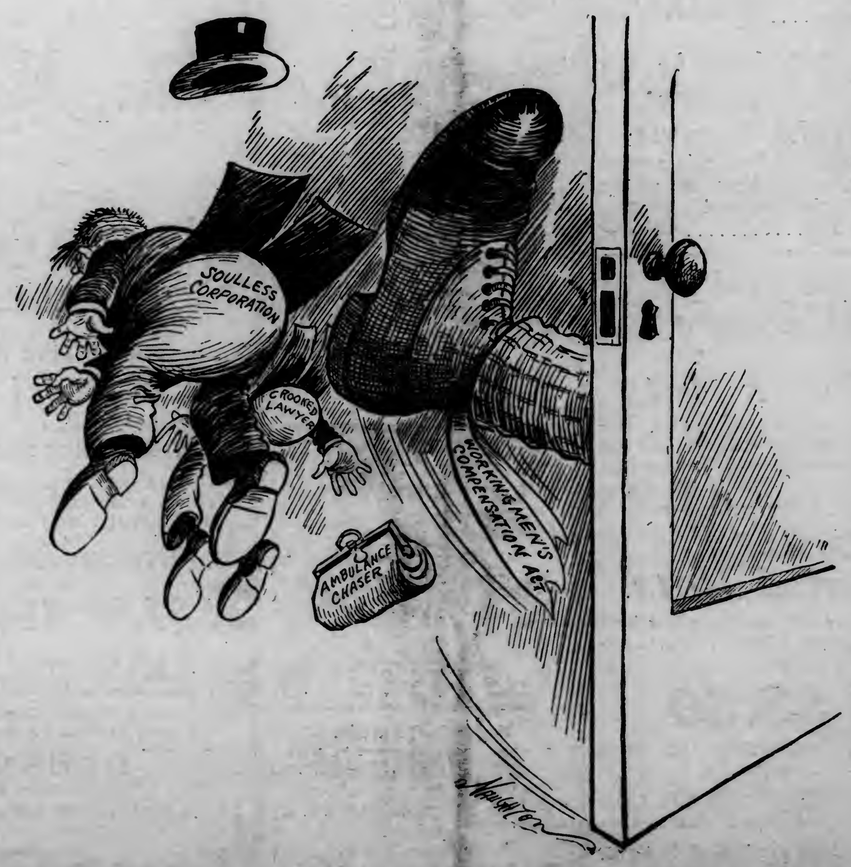

New York, Oct. 1.—Four men who were to have been deported on the steamer France obtained liberty or death today by leaping forty-five feet from an upper deck to the Hudson river as the vessel lay at her pier. All traces of the men were lost. The finding of two life belts in the river led to the belief that they had perished.

The men were confined in a cabin near the hospital ward. They escaped by cutting a hole in the wall, crawling down chutes to the coal pit and climbing the emergency ladders to the upper deck. So quietly did they work that a guard stationed outside the cabin door heard nothing of their movements.

All had arrived here recently as stowaways.

GOOD RIDDANCE OF BAD RUBBISH.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

NORTHERN PACIFIC WINS LAND CASE

District Judge Fesler today handed down a decree in favor of the Northern Pacific railway in a suit brought against that corporation by James N. and M. N. True to recover sums paid on lands in Washington purchased on a contract. Judge Fesler found that plaintiffs had failed to carry out the terms of their contracts.

Separate contracts covered purchase of 1,280 acres sold for $1,920 and 5,272.51 acres for $9,382.77. The payment made was declared forfeited.

Newspaper for Wales.

Wales, N. D., Oct. 1.—This part of Cavalier county is to have a newspaper at last. Editor Schoonmaker, an experienced worker in the newspapor field, is the man behind the enterprise and is cordially received by the business men of Wales. The paper will be called the Progress and will soon be issued.

ICEBERGS.

Trans-Atlantic Shipping Endangered By Them.

Boston, Oct. 1.—Icebergs again threaten trans-Atlantic shipping. Capt. Robert McKillop of the steamer Numidian reported on his arrival yesterday from Glasgow. A towering berg and several growlers appeared off the Grand Banks, directly in the track of west-bound liners, when the Numidian passed last Friday. It was the first ice sighted this fall.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE ON CRUELTY CHARGE.

Emma Coles, aged 35, brought action against her husband, Robert M. Coles, aged 46, for divorce in district court today. The charge was cruel and inhuman treatment.

During the married career of the couple, the petition states, covering a period from April 20, 1899, the plaintiff alleges that the defendant struck, kicked, bruised and ill-treated her in many other ways, at one time striking her with a revolver and threatening to kill her. In addition to separation the plaintiff asks the custody of their son, Robert, aged 10.

PLAN ELABORATE WINTER'S PROGRAM

Two Councils of Royal League Appoint Committees on Entertainment.

At a meeting of the executive committee of West Duluth council, No. 225, and Pocahontas council, No. 319, Royal League, committees to have charge of entertainments on the meeting nights of the lodge were selected. It is intended to have an attractive program every evening that the lodges meet this winter.

The affairs will be held following the meetings of the lodges, which will be held jointly at the West Duluth Commercial club. It is proposed to close up the business of the lodges in quick form each evening in order that an hour or two may be devoted to various programs. These socials will be free to the members and invited friends and will consist of musical numbers, recitations and readings, cards or dancing. Members of the two lodges will alternate in having charge of the entertainments, one night each month being under the charge of the men's lodge and the members of the ladies' lodge will entertain on the alternate night.

The following are the members appointed to have charge of the programs and the night on which they will be in charge:

Oct. 14—Mrs. T. F. Olsen, chairman; Mrs. Olive Peterson and Miss Margaret Doig.
Oct. 28—Emil J. Zauft, chairman; Frank M. Ashley and E. G. Kriedler.
Nov. 11—Mrs. Thomas Brain, chairman; Mrs. Frank Winkle, Mrs. Henry Fedl and Mrs. A. Dale.

RECORD ARRESTS IN ONE MONTH

West Duluth Police Take in Fifty-One Offenders, Mostly Drunks.

The largest number of arrests made in the history of the West Duluth police station were booked by officers during September. There were fifty-one offenders on eleven different charges.

Plain drunks hold a large lead of all those brought in. Of these there were twenty-four. Seven others were tabbed as being both drunk and disorderly while three were disorderly while drunk. Discharging firearms and hunting within the city limits was the charge made against eight and three others were arrested for assault.

One in each case was arrested for each of the following: Defrauding an inn keeper, selling liquor to a minor, bastardy, violating the health ordinance, violating the automobile ordinance, and trespass.

JUNIORS WIN.

Defeat Industrial Freshmen on Gridiron By Heavy Score.

The junior class football team of the Duluth Industrial high school decisively defeated the freshman team by a score of 42 to 0 on the Fifty-second avenue west grounds yesterday afternoon. The freshmen were on the defensive throughout the entire game. Roy Winness, the team's captain, playing a star game. Touchdowns were made by James McDonald, Frank Wade, E. Morris and John Nettleton for the juniors.

The senior and sophomore game will be played the latter part of this week. The winners of the senior-sophomore game will play the juniors for the school championship.

WILL LECTURE ON "SEX EDUCATION."

Dr. Mabel Ulrich of Minneapolis, who has been in the city for some time giving lectures on "Sex Education" at the Y. W. C. A., will speak this evening at the assembly hall of the Irving school. It is expected that the meeting will be attended by a large number of the women of this end of the city. The address will be given to women only.

Dr. Ulrich has been drawing fair sized audiences during her talk to women at the various social centers of the city. She gave an address at Lakeside and also at the Bryant schools. Her lectures have been given to matrons in the forenoon and young women in the afternoon on Wednesday and Thursdays at the Y. W. C. A.

The lectbure this evening will be free and is given under the auspices of the city's social center department.

Record Motorcycle Time.

A record-breaking time was made yesterday afternoon on a motorcycle on a round trip from West Duluth to Cloquet. Allen Scott, Jr., left at 4:30 o'clock in order to look over the highway, made the trip to Cloquet and returned to West Duluth at 5:37, making the distance of thirty-two miles in one hour and seven minutes. Mr. Scott said the road was in fine shape most of the distance.

EPIDEMIC OF TYPHOID

Eight Cases Have Been Reported From Steel Plant Suburb.

Drinking of Well Water Is Believed to Be Cause.

What may become a serious epidemic of typhoid fever has broken out at Gary, the new suburb near the steel plant.

Drinking impure well water is said to be the cause.

The townsite, now containing about 2,000 people, is without any sewer system or any water supply other than the wells, into which drains the filthy surface water and the seepage from the cess pools which have had to be built.

Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, this morning detailed Inspector Robert Metcalf to work at Gary. He will be on duty there constantly for a week and probably longer.

"Boil every drop of your water," is the substance of the doctrine which he will din into the ears of the residents at Gary. The urgent necessity for this was strongly impressed upon him by Dr. Webster.

In addition to having the people at Gary boil the water, Inspector Metcalf will give attention to the sanitary conditions at the suburb. In some places the conditions are distressingly unclean. The city officials who recently visited the suburb were shocked by what they found. They realized that a sewer system and a good water supply are crying needs but they felt that considerable improvement could be made pending their coming.

Dr. Webster said this morning that he has written the state health officials relative to conditions at Gary but that thus far none of them has taken any action. Some time ago the state assumed charge of the typhoid situation in this part of the state, where numerous cases have developed, and indicated that it wished to handle typhoid rather than leave it to local health departments.

But the conditions at Gary have become so threatening that Dr. Webster feels that no further delay can be allowed. He has placed Inspector Metcalf in the field and is securing samples of the well water which will be immediately tested in the branch state laboratory located in this city. The epidemic has not assumed large proportions but the situation is dangerous. The health department records show eight recent cases of typhoid at Gary. Two deaths have resulted from typhoid contracted there, one being a steel plant employe and the other a woman who died in the ambulance while being conveyed to a hospital.

BUSHEL OF OATS IS CROOKSTON PUZZLE.

Crookston, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—When is a bushel of oats?

This is a question upon which hinges the winner of a wager of $100 a side between Former Senator A. D. Stephens and E. W. Taylor. Mr. Taylor laid a wager that a certain field of oats raised on the Hall farm by L. A. Northrup averaged ninety-one bushels per acre. Senator Stephens wagered that they did not yield that amount. W. E. McKenzie was made stakeholder and was to supervise the measuring of the ground. The acreage was soon ascertained, and the thresher man was consulted as to the number of bushels threshed. According to machine measure Mr. Taylor won the bet, but Senator Stephens insists that he was betting on the standard of the state, by weight. Both men claim the money and Mr. McKenzie will give it to neither until they have reached an agreement. He is thinking some of using the money to pay Blue Earth county the $74 due for the bloodhound called in to hunt for the Granzhorn child.

CHINA OFFERS BIG MARKET

Tremendous Field for American Manufacturer, Says William Banning.

After spending two years in Shanghai, China, as business manager of the China Press, William P. Banning has returned to America, and is the guest for a week or ten days of his brother, A. T. Banning, Jr., of this city.

"Following the revolution," said Mr. Banning, "there was a tremendous demand for foreign goods. A man with a shipload of hats or of suits could have made a fortune. I have seen Chinese so eager to get clothes of foreign cut that they would make them out of their native silks. It was very funny to see a Chinaman walking along the street with a suit of American cut, made out of gaily colored silk.

"Just at present the rebellion is having some affect on business. When such disturbances occur the rich merchant of the inland town closes his store and heads for some treaty port where he will get protection and escape being levied on. That is interfering with business now, but if they get settled conditions there, there will be a tremendous market for the American manufacturer. The American is looked upon as a friend by the Chinese. They know we are disinterested, and we were one of the first to recognize the republic.

"American business men, if they will adapt themselves to the peculiar customs of doing business in China, will find Chinese business most satisfactory. The word of a Chinaman of any standing is an absolute bond. The standard of honesty is very high, and there will be no trouble in collections. A reputable Chinaman considers his word as absolutely binding on him. But you will have to do business his way. A book could be written on this subject.

"China is just being touched by the foreign influence. It is felt as yet, chiefly in the treaty ports, and these are just a fringe along the coast. It is a wonderful country and a tremendous field for American manufacturers if they ever get into a position where they are forced to look for markets other than the United States offers. Up to the present time our manufacturers apparently, have been, in the main, kept busy with the home demand, but China is there waiting for them any time they energetically seek to cultivate the country as a market."

BARROWS MINE ABOUT READY TO SHIP ORE.

Barrows, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Barrows mine is loading six cars a day from the shaft. A dozen cars are on the siding now. It is reported that the first shipment from this mine, operated by the Virginia Ore Mining company, a subsidiary of the M. A. Hanna company, will be made shortly and will also mark the first shipment of ore from the South Range of the Cuyuna iron range. The first train will be appropriately decorated and there will be a celebration at Barrows.

Hair Grew 4 Inches In A Few Weeks

A St. Louis Lady Increased the Length of Her Hair Fours or Five Inches in a Few Weeks With This Simple Home Recipe.

A well-known St. Louis lady, after using a simple recipe on her hair which she mixed at home, made the following statement: "Without exaggeration, my hair has grown four or five inches." The recipe she used is as follows, and any lady or gentleman can mix it at home: To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the tips of the fingers. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but removes dandruff, scalp humors and prevents the hair from falling out.

It darkens streaked, faded, gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. These ingredients can be obtained from any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home.

FARGO THEATER MAY BE REBUILT.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is still a possibility that the theater in Fargo may be rebuilt by the Walker Bros. The house burned down last winter. It had never been a money maker, but had about broken even and paid interest on the investment. The construction of an auditorium in this city put on a different phase to the situation. If the auditorium competes for theatrical attractions and concerts there would be no money in a theater. The plans are completed and the building may be rebuilt but much will depend on the attitude of the auditorium management.

Studies Bayfield County.

Washburn, Wis., Oct. 1.—Representing the agricultural department of the United States government, Earl D. Strait has completed his work of collecting data of conditions in this territory. The information gathered by him will be used as a basis for legislation preliminary to land clearing methods held under advisement by the Federal authorities. Mr. Strait has visited farms cleared by dynamite, stump pullers, and other methods. In each case he obtained the cost per acre, and such information which will be used later. He is authority for the statement that there are millions of acres of cut-over lands in the United States that could be made into fine farms and that the government intends to encourage this work.

STILLWELL ILL IN STATE PRISON.

Ossining, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Stephen Stillwell, former state senator, who was convicted of bribery in connection with legislation at Albany effecting the stock exchange, is ill in Sing Sing prison, where he is serving a four-year term. His friends are alarmed regarding his condition and Stillwell himself has made application to be transferred to Great Meadow prison.

Crookston Pioneer Dead.

Crookston, Minn., Oct. 1.—The oldest woman in Polk county is dead. Mrs. Kari Berge, age 104, died today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. Neslund after an illness of two days. She was born in Tynseth, Norway, Aug. 10, 1809, and came to this country in 1882. Since then she has been a resident of Polk county, never having left its confines.

NEGRO BEATEN IN BALTIMORE RACE RIOT.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 1.—In a race riot here last night a negro was so badly battered with bricks that it is believed he will die, another negro was seriously injured and four white boys were shot, though not seriously hurt.

George Howe, a negro, from whose home the shots were fired which struck the boys, was attacked by a mob of about 1,000 white men and boys while policemen were endeavoring to place him in the patrol wagon. There were cries of "lynch him," and he was struck a number of times.

The shots were fired through closed shutters after Howe's house had been bombarded with bricks and stones. It is the only house in the block occupied by negroes.

GETS DITCH CONTRACT

Minneapolis Firm Receives $85,000 Plum From the County.

County Auditor Odin Haldn today awarded the contract for the construction of County Ditch No. 1 to Friedrick, Barnard & Small of Minneapolis. The total bid was about $85,000. All bids were opened Saturday by the auditor in the presence of all bidders, and he has had the matter under advisement until today.

It is expected that the contract will be signed as soon as it can be prepared, and that the contractors will begin work as soon as freezing weather starts. The first work will be transporting dredging machinery and clearing the right-of-way, which will be done this fall and winter. About 60,000 yards of earth will be removed and 45 miles of highway along the ditch leveled. From 16,000 to 18,000 acres of valuable farm lands which are now useless will be drained and made valuable.

Three Guardians Named.
Probate Judge Gilpin today acted upon three petitions for guardians. George Spechnak was appointed guardian for Ivan Domin; Vina G. LeBlanc for Louis William Le Blanc, and John Gabrielson for Edith O. Olson.

Guilty of Assault.
Christ Reamer, 36 years old, was found guilty in police court yesterday afternoon on a charge of assaulting Henry Davis. Reamer was arrested by Officer Barber on the complaint of Davis, who claims that Reamer beat him last Wednesday. Sentence in the Reamer case was continued until this afternoon.

Cabin Is Looted.
Many articles were stolen from the cabin of J. H. Trux, secretary to Mayor Prince, sometime between Sept. 21 and Sept. 26. The cabin is located on Snively road and it is the belief of Mr. Trux that some boys in that neighborhood entered the house. Among the articles taken were twenty-five college pennants, dishes, blankets, two axes, a cross cut saw and some provisions. Mr. Trux has reported the theft to the police and an investigation is now being made.

Stolen Car Recovered.
About one hour after R. L. Burke reported the theft of his automobile to the police last evening the machine was found by an officer just three blocks away. Mr. Burke called headquarters about 8:30 o'clock and told the police that his Ford car had been stolen on First street, between Third and Fourth avenues west. At 9:30 o'clock the car had been found.

Poker Losses Returned.
Joseph Berg, who was arrested Monday night on a charge of gambling, was yesterday afternoon ordered to return $10 to Ben Thompson, who made the complaint against Berg. The case against Berg was then dismissed. Thompson claimed that Berg won $13 from him in a poker game.

Gets Jury Trial.
A special jury was called this morning in municipal court to hear the case of the state against Jose Villa Brilla, who is charged with having assaulted his wife a week ago Monday. The Brillas live at 714 East Third street.

Verdict Set Aside.
District Judge Dunsign yesterday afternoon set aside the jury verdict, which gave Bradshaw Brothers $584.67 in their suit against L. Eldridge Barber, tried two weeks ago. The court in setting aside the verdict holds that the evidence did not warrant the verdict. Bradshaw Brothers brought suit to recover $55.51 for goods and merchandise alleged to have been furnished Lottie J. Barber at the request of the defendant.

Tampered With Car.
Sverre Olson, 17 years old, son of O. M. Olson, was arrested this morning by Detectives Bradley and Toewe on a charge of having tampered with the automobile belonging to Charles L. Rakowsky. Young Olson and another boy pulled the various levers of the car while it was standing by the curb at Fifth avenue east and Second street last evening, causing the machine to start off. It stopped directly in the center of the street car track, where it was found later by the owner.

Cars in Collision.
In a head-on collision between two aerial bridge cars at Lake avenue and Sutphin street last evening, John Hicken, brother of Commissioner Hicken, who was standing on the rear platform of the south-bound car, was thrown against the side of the car and his shoulder badly bruised. Mr. Hicken, who is an operator on the aerial bridge, is confined to his bed today. The cars were not damaged.

May Be Third Victim.
Andrew Mazak, 2825 Railroad street, one of the men burned in the explosion at the steel plant Sunday night, is reported in a very serious condition at the St. Mary's hospital, where he has bee nconzned since the accident. Mazak is not expected to live by the hospital attendants. Stephen Faith and John Frazer, two other workmen, who were burned in the explosion, are reported improving.

New Year's Services.
Rabbi Maurice Lefkovits of Temple Emanuel will preach on "The Transient and the Permanent" at the opening Rosh Hashanah or New Year's service at 7:30 o'clock this evening. At the special services at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning he will preach on "Self-Mastery."

Cases Continued.
The cases of Fred Erickson, who is charged with having sold liquor to Dan Summers, a minor, and George Bromfield, who is charged with having disposed of liquor to the 16-year-old boy, were continued until Friday afternoon, when brought up in police court yesterday afternoon. Erickson pleaded not guilty when arraigned on the charge last week, while Bromfield pleaded guilty. He will be sentenced following Erickson's trial.

SAYS CITY WAS "STUNG" ON MAP PURCHASE

That's the price the city is paying for the "new" insurance map which has been secured for use in the office of the building inspector, and as far as being valuable to the city is concerned, it is a lemon—a sour one at that, the officials claim.

When the map was ordered the officials believed that they would have an up-to-date atlas showing all parts of the city in detail, as to the locations of lots and buildings, etc. But what has been received is not half as useful as the old map which has been in use for many years.

The "new," "up-to-date" map is several years behind the times, and lacks many important sections of the city. It doesn't show Gary, or Fond du Lac, or the Sixth division of West Duluth, or Woodland and adjacent divisions, or the whole section between Twenty-fifth and Forty-second avenues east, or in short, scarcely any of the sections of the city which are now growing rapidly. It is for these that a map is particularly needed.

But the city may not be "stung" as the cash for it has not yet been paid. The ordinance making the appropriation for the map was passed a week ago and does not become effective for thirty days. Wherefore it is probable that the map will be returned and the order cancelled.

MAYOR TACKLES SMOKE PROBLEM

Mayor Prince has taken up the matter of abating the smoke nuisance from the Omaha roundhouse on Garfield avenue with the local officials of the Omaha road.

They stated that the master mechanic will be in the city shortly and that the complaint which has been made will be submitted to him. The residents believe that the stacks should be built higher, so that the smoke will pass over their homes.

Those who are familiar with the smoke proposition state that the real solution is to so build and regulate the fires that little or no smoke results from them.

WILSON DEDICATES FLAG AS PEACE SIGN

Emblem That Has Visited Many Battlefields Is Displayed.

Washington, Oct. 1.—President Wilson today dedicated as an insignia of peace an American flag, which has been carried from battlefield to battlefield throughout the South by Maj. A. F. Judson, an ex-Confederate soldier of Los Angeles, during a recent tour in the interest of peace.

Maj. Judson, who has conducted patriotic exercises while the peace flag waved over Mission Ridge, Chickamauga, Appomatox, Gettysburg and other battle grounds of the Civil war, planted the flag over Washington's tomb a few days ago. As the flag was unfurled in the executive office by Maj. Judson and Lieut. Gen. Young, representing the Grand Army of the Republic, the president joined the donors in expressing hope for domestic and international peace.

FARMERS' BARNS BURN; FIREBUGS SUSPECTED.

Valley City, N. D., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire, thought to be of incendiary origin, destroyed two large barns and other outbuildings belonging to Joe Nogeosek, a rich Stutsman county farmer living near Kensal. Twenty horses, 2,000 bushels of wheat and 400 bushels of flax were burned, in addition to farm machinery. The loss will total at least $10,000 with insurance of $2,500.

HUMAN CORPSE IS FOUND IN HAYSTACK

Signs Point to Murder and Attempt to Burn the Body.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Robbery is thought to have been the motive for the murder of an unidentified man whose body, already partly decomposed, was found in a haystack at the edge of the city today. Two bullet holes indicated the method of death. Afterwards the murderers attempted to destroy the evidence of their crime by concealing it in the haystack and setting fire to the hay, but in some manner the fire failed to flourish, only partly singeing the man's head.

People residing in the district have heard no shooting within the last week.

SEND LIGHTER TO SUNKEN STEAMER

Saulte Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The lighter Reliance with pumps and diver was despatched to the sunken steamer Rees this morning. Heavy fog hung over river all night until about noon today. Examination made of the steamer Rees shows a big crack about six inches wide extending to ten feet below water line made by Prince Rupert's stem and two holes above water line made by the anchor blades of the Prince Rupert. The Rees was beached among boulders which tore her waterbottom open.

Her bow is in fourteen feet of water and stern in thirty feet. Work was commenced today noon to patch up and pump out the boat. The Prince Rupert is tied up behind the steel plant with bow badly stove in, anchor gone and house pipe torn loose.

SWAM TO SANDY HOOK

Against Tide and Wind Lifesaver Made 22-Mile Trip.

New York World: Capt. Alfred Brown, commodore of the Flushing Bay division of the American Life Saving society, recently swam from the Battery to Sandy Hook.

The first successful effort to make this 22-mile journey in the water crowned Capt. Brown's fifth attempt. The feat had been regarded by water men as practically impossible.

The swim was begun at 5:15 a. m. and finished at 6:53 p. m., Brown having been in the water thirteen hours and thirty-eight minutes. He landed in excellent condition amid the plaudits and congratulations of the attaches of the United States life saving station, the Telegraph marine observatory and many officers and soldiers of Fork Hancock.

Against Unfavorable Conditions.
Although three previous attempts to make the long journey from the Battery to the Hook and one to make it from the Hook to the Battery had all failed after hours of battling against wind, wave and tide, Capt. Brown was declared to have faced the most unfavorable conditions he had known. The water at the start was smooth but there was a strong floodtide and the successful finish of the exhausting trip seemed almost hopeless when a fresh southerly wind had to be met in the final stages.

"It was a great trip," Capt. Brown said. "I thought I would never get here. It was the worst tide yet, but I finished strong. Sleep? I haven't been to bed yet. The people down here have treated me great and I'm going to stay here all night.

"No, sharks didn't worry me any. I'm not afraid of 'em and I didn't see any.

"I certainly never expect to try the swim again. I have made it once, so there wouldn't be any use."

When the captain dived off the Battery wall the official launch had not put in an appearance, but he could not be restrained. Paul Frommlach, Charles Kauffman and James Kennedy, who had arranged to trail him, broke a round bottomed dory from its moorings and started after him.

The officials and newspapermen waited until 7:30, when the official launch put in its appearance. The party then decided to go by rail to Gravesend Bay. There they hired a launch named the Star.

After three-quarters of an hour of searching with glasses, Brown was sighted two miles from Romer shoal. This was at 10:15. The party of timers, newspaper men and swimming experts then caught up with him and kept along until he finished.

He Needed Little Coaching.
Brown needed little encouragement. Some of his companions jumped out of the dory from time to time and swam with him, but he showed such evident determination to continue until he was exhausted or made his goal that the coachers left him very much alone.

The swimmer used an English overhand stroke and seemed not to be bothered by wind, tide or the choppy waves that he met toward the end of his trip. His arms lifted slower and slower towards the last, and it was evident that every ounce of strength and endurance was going into the strokes.

It was dusk when he finally touched shore. He slumped for a moment and tottered in the sand, but the first warm handclasp, the first hearty "Well done," put life into him and beyond some stimulant and a rub down he needed no special attention.

Brown has made championship swims to Coney Island from Brooklyn Bridge, has made several water journeys from Hell Gate to College Point and has figured as first across the line in many swimming races against both amateurs and professionals.

LIONS DANGEROUS.

Theodore Roosevelt in Scribner's Magazine: Taking the average of individuals and the average of surrounding circumstances, I consider the lion more dangerous to the hunter than any other game.

The leopard is an even greater adept at hiding, is even quicker and more reckless in its charge, and is smaller and more difficult to hit, therefore I consider that a fighting leopard is a trifle more likely than a lion to get home when it charges, but it is so much smaller and less powerful, that it is far less likely to kill its antagonist—very few hunters have been killed, although many have been mauled, by leopards—and a few good dogs will not only stop, but themselves kill a leopard, so that with dogs it can be hunted with entire immunity.

Under many, perhaps most, conditions, a fighting bull buffalo offers a rather harder proposition than a fighting lion, because the huge, massive creature is far more difficult to stop when he does charge, and because he usually shows the most vindictive and ferocious resolution when, after being wounded, he finally makes up his mind to fight, but under ordinary circumstances a buffalo is not nearly as apt to charge as a lion, and is far more easily seen and far less quick in his movements, and in most cases cover is more easily evaded; so that on an average I do not consider that the buffalo is as dangerous.

Elephants are much more apt to charge than buffalo. A herd will charge under circumstances when even lions would slink quietly off, and in consequence to hunt them seems to me about as dangerous as to hunt buffalo, but the actual charge of a single elephant does not seem as dangerous as the actual charge of a lion or buffalo.

The rhinoceros I regard as on the average much less dangerous than lion, leopard, elephant or buffalo. In fact, as only about as dangerous as, or very little more dangerous than, the grizzly bear. But it must be remembered that these are only my personal views, and while I believe that they are shared by the majority of the big game hunters most competent to speak on the subject, I am well aware that many equally experienced and observing hunters are on record as expressing widely different views.

NIGHT SCHOOL IS OPENED

Students in Y. M. C. A. Courses Assemble and Register for Classes.

B. P. Neff Gives Inspiring Talk on Value of the Work.

The opening rally of the Y. M. C. A. night school was called last evening in the association auditorium.

After expressing his satisfaction that so large a number had assembled to join in this event, he introduced Bentley P. Neff, who made a strong address.

Mr. Neff said in part:

"It is always a pleasure to address students at a night school, because it is self-evident that there is a strong, underlying sentiment of self-improvement and an anxiety to reach out for the brighter and better things of life.

"The education received under these conditions is supplementary and not competitive and is practically constructed to cater to the needs of employed men and boys. It enables those who have missed early educational advantages, from whatever cause, to recoup their loss without interfering with their regular occupations.

Capital From Leisure.

"In other words, it enables them to capitalize their leisure time; makes it yield dividends rather than be a period of waste in energy and money.

"The tendency is so strong now-days to waste time and misuse money, that anything which develops a habit of usefully employing our time and conserves our bank account is of great importance. This night school work, as carried on by our local institution, is not a spasmodic, temporary, isolated effort, for you will be interested in knowing that international secretaries under the direction of the international committee in New York city, organize and promote this work on a world-wide basis.

"Instead of being a part of a group of a few hundred fellows in the local educational department, you are a part of a student body of over 70,000 men and boys in various centers in the United States in regular classes, besides 50,000 others, benefited through special clubs and lectures.

Scope of Work.

"The scope of your studies is an interesting thing to consider; from instruction adapted to the needs of the office boy, who has not finished the grades, to special courses adapted to the mature business men, many of whom are university and college graduates, is a pretty wide field to cover. This grade of work includes such courses as salesmanship, advertising, business law, higher accounting, business administration, money and banking, public speaking, credit management, special engineering courses, etc., to the very limit of practically every legitimate occupation open to man with specific and definite training in each.

"And in all this emphasis is laid on courses adapted to the individual needs and practical men of thorough technical training, supplemented by the subsequent experience each in the specialty which he teaches.

"Service."

"The spirit of the age is 'service' and the Y. M. C. A.'s the world over have in recent years been able to secure the services of strong men—big men—as instructors. Men who could not be induced to spend time in the evening on a commercial basis for ten times what they receive for the teaching.

"All this means the highest type of efficient service on the teaching force and the consequent benefit to the student.

"The aim is to get results in the least possible time but thoroughness is not sacrificed to speed.

"This work is comparatively new. The last ten years has seen practically all of its growth.

"Twenty years ago there was no system of examinations. Now uniform examinations are held all over North America at the same hour in each subject. The questions are prepared by the international Y. M. C. A. committee in conjunction with educators of world-wide fame. They are sent sealed to each association and opened before the class assembled for examination.

"Twenty years ago the work was free and therefore cheap and little prized. Now a reasonable tuition is charged and the work is highly prized by the more than 70,000 men who profit by it each year.

Well Organized.

"Twenty years ago the work had no local supervision. Now there are seventy-nine cities in the United States where at least one trained man devotes his whole time to the promotion of suitable educational facilities for the men of the city.

"Duluth is one of these seventy-nine cities.

"The writer in his fifteen years' experience in employing men here in Duluth cannot impress upon you all too strongly the necessity of preparation and training. This is an age of keen competition. Never were people so busily employed as at the present time. It is a case of the survival of the fittest. There is a big demand for capable men, who by training are in a position to carry heavy responsibilities. What we need today is men of character, men of force, men of executive ability.

"One thing I want to impress upon you more forcibly perhaps than anything else, and that is as soon as you have assumed the obligations of this course, see to it that you thoroughly discharge your duty to yourself. This work in the evenings may become tiresome—irksome. There may be a tendency on your part to stay away from your classes, not to study as much as you ought to to equip yourself properly for the lessons. Don't let this feeling overcome you. It is a temptation that may come to all; it certainly will come to some; but remember that you are fighting with a definite purpose in view and that it is only after you have overcome all the obstacles that you will enjoy in any degree the success, to which your endeavors will entitle you."

Mr. Neff was cheered very heartily for his inspiring talk.

Mr. Moore then introduced Charles C. Sampson, mechanical engineer in charge of the installation of machinery at the new plant of the Minnesota Steel company. Mr. Sampson has had a broad training and wide experience and spoke very entertainingly of his experience. His first definite training for his life work was received in the Ottumwa, Iowa, Y. M. C. A. night school. An interesting coincidence in this connection is that Mr. Wade was then general secretary of the Ottumwa association and secured for Mr. Sampson his first place to work. That was the start. Since then Mr. Sampson has graduated from the Armour Institute at Chicago with the degrees of B. S. and M. E., and now holds his position with the steel company.

Immediately following Mr. Sampson's address the meeting was adjourned to the educational department rooms where the men had the opportunity to talk over with the various members of the faculty, the different lines of work in which they were interested.

A good enrollment has already been made and the following classes are being organized this week: Algebra, arithmetic, architectural drafting, automobile, bookkeeping, business English, business letter writing, civil service, electricity, English for foreign men, machine design, mechanical drafting, plan reading and estimating, public speaking and debate, shop mathematics, shorthand and typewriting, and show card writing.

Other classes will be organized as soon as enough men have enrolled to warrant.

LYCEUM—Motion Pictures.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—"The Lion and the Mouse."
REX—Photoplay.

Amusement Notes.

The Lyceum will resume pictures, starting today and will continue throughout the balance of the week. Today's feature, in three parts, "The Message to Headquarters," contains some very exciting scenes. A young Italian officer in the Carbidiere saves an American touring in Italy from bandits and so incurs their everlasting enmity. Visiting the United States, he is captured by American confederates of the bandits, and only escapes through a fellow captive Yankee detective's message to police headquarters. In addition to this three-part feature, two single reel comedies will be shown.

Mabelle Lewis and Paul McCarty, who are at the Orpheum this week, pleasing the audiences with a good song and dance act, enjoyed many trips during the past summer with Tony Jannus, the aviator, who was seen in Duluth with his flying boat. Jannus was staying at Point Paulo near Grand Rapids, Mich., during the summer, entertaining the summer resorters there with his flights. The two vaudeville performers spent a week at Point Paulo, being booked for the summer park there, and the three became warm friends.

Jannus frequently tried to get into the air with his two passengers, but the motor would not take him more than seven or eight feet above the water, and he was forced to be content with demonstrating a speed of forty or fifty miles an hour as a boat with an occasional "hop" through the air with his two friends aboard. He made several trips with McCarty and Miss Lewis alone, however, his sunset "joy ride" with Miss Lewis being one of his frequent exhibitions of daring.

A new program of vaudeville acts will open at the Empress theater with the matinee performance tomorrow. The acts booked are Roland Carter and company, who present a sketch entitled "Vacation Times;" Hetty Urma, a dainty and accomplished impersonator and comedienne; Cornalia and Wilbur, two well-known vaudeville comedians of acrobatic fame; Charles and Madaline Dunbar in their original act entitled "Animal Funology." Pictures will round out the bill.

The remarkable following enjoyed by Charles Klein's "The Lion and the Mouse" throughout the country seems to be as large as ever. There can be little doubt as to the local interest, judging from the large houses which are greeting Robert Sherman's production of this far-famed drama at the Empress. Mr. Klein struck the chord of popular spirit when he wrote his greatest play.

The spirit of the French Revolution is vividly shown in "Robespierre" at the Rex theater. The last three performances this evening will end the change of program for the first half of this week. There will be a complete change tomorrow with the three-part production, "Rob Roy."

Much interest has been shown by all the spectators who witnessed the historical portrayal, "Robespierre," in which Herbert Brenon has made his greatest effort as a director and producer, having selected from the Universal company their best stars to appear in his production, which is from the pen of George Hollis. It shows the director's gigantic task in handling successfully so many people at one time in the mob scenes. Only a master hand could have hypnotized such a multitude of people into participating with the actual spirit of the mob in the scenes of insane brutality which characterized this period of the French Revolution. William Shay, a most polished actor of silent drama, appears as Robespierre. The story in brief is as follows: Robespierre and Dumont were sworn friends in their college days. During their early manhood both the young men were desperately in love with the handsome Louise. She favored Dumont and refused the hand of Robespierre. Her father was the local magistrate, and was blamed by the peasantry for the imposition of a severe tax. Robespierre was too wise to blame him, but had already grown to despise authority, and later became the leader of the peasants. His love for Louise grew in fervor, as did the hatred for her father. This is followed by a lengthy chain of exciting incidents which hold the spectator spellbound.

TRY TO KILL ACTORS IN ROLES OF TURKS.

Cettinje, Montenegro, Oct. 1.—Riotous secenes, almost culminating in the lynching of the actors who represented Turks, marked the first performance last night of King Nicholas' play, "The Siege of Scutari."

When the actor who played the role of Essad Pasha came on the stage, a youth sprang on the platform, revolver in hand, and with difficulty was restrained from shooting the actor. When the third act showed the Turks in full retreat, the audience made a rush for the stage with the intention of lynching the wearers of the fez. The police were compelled to use force to restrain the frantic people.

FEAR INVENTOR FELL FROM SHIP.

London, Oct. 1.—Dr. Rudolph Diesel, inventor of the Diesel motor, is believed to have been lost overboard from the channel steamer Dresden on the voyage between Antwerp and Harwich. Dr. Diesel embarked at Antwerp Monday night with a fellow director of his company to attend a meeting in London. On the arrival of the vessel at Harwich, he was missing. His berth had not been disturbed, although his night attire had been laid out.

Dr. Diesel suffered from insomnia, and it is feared he fell overboard while strolling the deck.

U. S. PROTECTION OF BIRDS DELAYED.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Federal regulation for the protection of migratory birds under the bill passed at the last session of congress did not go into effect today, as originally planned. In their efforts to co-operate with the various states, officials of the department of agriculture charged with drafting the regulations have met with considerable delay and Secretary Houton has not yet approved the work. In the meantime state laws affecting migratory birds will remain in effect. It is understood that hunters in all sections of the country have been awaiting the new regulations with keen interest.

BANKS MAKE NEW RECORD

Clearings for September Biggest in History of Clearing House.

First Nine Months of Year Show a Tremendous Increase.

Remarkable expansion in the volume of trade in this city is reflected in the record of local bank clearings for September and for the nine months of the current year.

Clearings for last month set a new high record for the Duluth clearing house association. They reached $34,403,550.43, an increase of $8,005,167.11 over September, 1912, which was also a record breaking month.

An increase of $37,740,046.34 was exhibited in clearings for the last nine months' period, the amount aggregating $162,484,954.35 compared with $124,744,938.01. With the exception of June, a gain was reported each month.

Discussing the situation, a local banker expressed the opinion today, that general trade in this city is more active at present than at any previous period within his recollection. "Our reports are to the effect that our wholesalers are doing a big volume of business and all the factories in this city appear to be running up to their capacity," he said. "Demand for money is active in all lines, but we are passing through the wheat marketing rush without any indication of stringency developing so far."

Commenting on the general business situation, the City National bank's October letter on business condition says:

"A year ago now we were on the eve of a presidential election. The business of each month of the year up to that time had been an improvement over the previous one, activities increasing right through the summer months and up to and beyond the election of a president, including a change of the political party in power. This condition was a surprise to every one as we had become accustomed to believe that business must of necessity be quiet during the summer and a falling off must be experienced during a presidential campaign. We learned that neither of these things were necessary. After such a long season of constantly increasing business, it was necessary that we have an easing up and the most natural time for such easing up to come was during the summer months. This year we have witnessed the usual summer quiet and many people mistook the condition, believing it to presage financial and business trouble. It was argued that the dullness was due to the tariff bill and the currency bill, both of which would bring about such changes in business as to entirely upset conditions.

"Both the tariff changes and the currency bill are affecting business and yet business is experiencing its regular fall picking up, almost all lines reporting the usual increase for September."

SEX, RACES AND SOCIAL ORDER BIG PROBLEMS

These Are What Church Must Solve, Says Bishop Talbot.

Southampton, England, Oct. 1.—"The church of today has three subjects of absorbing interest to consider, and solve—the sexes, the races and social order."

Thus was the announcement made at the opening of the annual Church of England congress by its president, Right Rev. Edward Stuart Talbot, bishop of Winchester. His subject was "The Need for Unflinching Application of Christian Principles to Social Injustices and Economic Problems." He continued:

"There is a clamorous need for more strenuous thinking and more insistent action in connection with the problems of the avoidance of marriage, the abuse of marriage, the revolt against its responsibilities and duties, and the relations between men and women.

"On the question of color, a stronger stand is required against racial contempt and the greed of the exploiters. The disclosures like those of the Congo, Putomayo and the Portuguese islands show what European action can do.

"The disclosure of the white slave traffic has startled the British nation into recognition of the intensity and cold-bloodedness of evil at home."

In conclusion Bishop Talbot denounced "this age of armaments with its colossal and intolerable burdens, its naked international selfishness and its contempt for those heavenly principles which should draw Christian nations into the common service of world-wide liberty."

INNOCENT, SPENDS 50 YEARS IN PRISON

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 1.—Charles Gilbert, oldest inmate of the Connecticut state prison, died there yesterday. He was 74 years old and had been confined nearly fifty years. Death was due to heart disease.

Gilbert was sentenced in 1865 to life imprisonment for the killing of Henry Cadwell, a United States Civil war recruiting officer. When Gilbert's father died some years ago, he asserted that the latter had done the killing, and that he had gone to prison because he did not wish to testify against his father.

RAISE RATES, SAYS ELLIOTT

New Haven's New President Talks of Railroad Affairs.

He Says Higher Rates Would Restore Public Confidence.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 1.—A short route to the restoration of public confidence in the railroads of the country would be furnished by a positive declaration by Federal and state commissions that rates may be advanced, in the opinion of Howard Elliott, the new president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad. Mr. Elliott made this statement last night in an address before the Boston chamber of commerce, in which he discussed the future of the New Haven system. The needs of railroads generally, however, were dealt with at length. Mr. Elliott said in part:

"If we are to continue to have privately owned railroads, supervised and regulated by governmental authority, and if we are to avoid ownership by the government, the owners and users of the railroads must work together. Personally, I do not believe in government ownership in a country like the United States where our political methods are still in need of improvement.

Policy on Rates.

"The policy of the government—national and state—during the last twenty-five years seems to have been to decide rate questions in the great majority of cases in such a way that rates were rarely advanced and were generally reduced, and to introduce rules, regulations and methods that increased expenses.

"The commissions naturally feel the great pressure of the millions of users of the railroads for reduced rates and increased facilities. But if the rates continue to decline, or even remain on the present level, and if expenses are increased by higher wages and cost of materials and by the introduction of different appliances and facilities far more rapidly than the roads can obtain money, then there is but one result for some of the railroads of the United States—and that is bankruptcy.

"I believe the commissioners, who have such great powers, realize their responsibility to the owners of the properties as well as to the users, and I hope earnestly that they will give practical evidence of their realization by permitting some advances in rates.

Would Do Much.

"Should the commissions—Federal and state—make a positive declaration that rates may be advanced so as to permit the properties to meet all of their obligations, pay a fair return to stockholders and leave a balance for improvements, they will do much for the entire country. Such a declaration would at once inspire confidence and give to existing securities a better standing than they now have, both here and in Europe, and would help to market new securities upon an interest basis more favorable than is now possible, because of the uneasiness in the minds of investors about the future net earnings of the railroads."

WANT UNCLE SAM TO SUPERVISE BRIDGES

Army Engineers Report on Ohio River Flood Causes.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Immediate legislation to place under Federal control the construction of all bridges and their approaches, and to prevent encroachments upon channels in tributaries of navigable rivers, is recommended in a report submitted to Secretary Garrison by the board of army engineers appointed to investigate the floods which devastated the Ohio valley last spring.

Artificial contraction of river channels and their adjacent flood plains, which caused the disaster, the board declared, can be prevented only by systematic, comprehensive control by the central government, without interference from the state authorities.

"These rivers (Ohio tributaries) are feeders of a navigable stream, and have an important effect upon the regimen of the Ohio river, and it is the opinion of the board that the authority of the United States should be exercised to prevent encroachments upon them exactly as in the case of navigable streams.

"The board further urges that immediate steps be taken to exercise such authority, since bridges and other structures are to be rebuilt at once, and these is evident danger in several places that they may be rebuilt in an obstructive manner."

PROHIBITION FOR NATION PREDICTED.

Freeport, Ill., Oct. 1.—Addressing an audience of preachers and laymen of the Rock River conference of the Methodist-Episcopal church last night, Rev. P. A. Baker, president of the American Anti-Saloon league, predicted success of a movement to procure an amendment to the Constitution to bring about national prohibition.

This enabling act, he said, could be more easily procured than was the Webb-Kenyon law, preventing illegal interstate shipments of liquor, "chiefly because Cannon would not be there to pack committees and because Christian public sentiment can now express in organized form."

Baker declared that at a convention to be held at Columbus, Ohio, in November, a committee of 1,000 would be appointed to journey to Washington at the opening of congress to present to both houses of congress the amendment prohibition forces expect to fight for.

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE IS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

Made From Fruit—Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given to-day saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

OLD SHROUD SERVES AS WEDDING DRESS

Baltimore Woman Gets Well After Ninth Operation.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 1.—After being pronounced incurable by a score of physicians and operated on nine times, each time with supposedly fewer chances of recovery, Miss Sophie M. Koerth of this city, was married last night to J. G. Railsbach, in the dress which she made four years ago for her shroud.

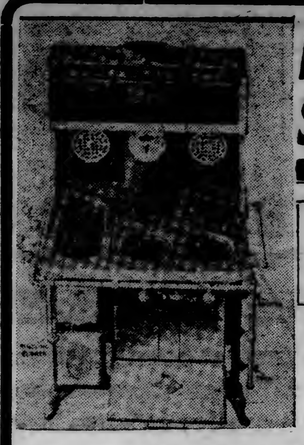

Four months ago the last and most daring of the operations was performed. Since then she has not felt the faintest trace of her former malady. Her case is well known among abdominal experts.

SERVE GRAPE JUICE ON "BARBARY COAST"

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 1.—The Barbary Coast of San Francisco, known to tourists the world over, celebrated its final passage last night with a revel that packed its resorts to suffocation and thronged its streets with thousands of lookers-on.

Promptly at midnight the police commission's ruling, preventing the further sale of liquor by women, went into effect, and in a last effort to prolong the night life that has made the "coast" notorious since the pioneer days there was a sudden switch from cocktails to grape juice. The police permitted this subterfuge, but the word went forth that hereafter only "straight saloons," from which women will be barred either as entertainers or as visitors, are to be permitted, regardless of the nature of the drinks served.

How About Your Gas Bill?

When you hear that your neighbor's gas bill is only about half or two-thirds as large as yours, do not quarrel with your wife about it, just investigate a little, and you will find they have a Champion Interchangeable Gas & Coal Range in their kitchen. This range is guaranteed to use one-third less gas than any other range made.

Just as Good

Many merchants not handling the Champion Interchangeable will tell you they are selling one just as good. Why do they say "Just as good"? That is because they know every woman using a Champion is perfectly satisfied with her range. Don't be fooled into taking one of those just as good ranges; imitations are never as good as the original and the Champion is the one they are trying to copy. But they will never get very close to it, for the special features are thoroughly covered by fourteen patents.

Contributors to Lake Shore Park Will Meet With Commission.

Matter of Donating Site for Armory Again to Be Discussed.

Mayor W. I. Prince will call a meeting of the residents who contributed towards the fund for the purchase of Lake Shore park to get their views relative to deeding a small fraction of the ground as a site for the proposed new armory.

When the ground was secured $10,000 was raised by private subscription under the direction of ex-Mayor Cullum and $10,000 was paid by the city. The land was purchased from the Northern Pacific for park purposes, which makes it necessary to secure the consent of the railroad before any part of it can be used for any other purpose, according to City Attorney Clapp.

When the project was first broached a number of those who contributed declared that they were strongly opposed to giving the state a site for an armory at the foot of Thirteenth avenue east. Since then Mayor Prince says that several property owners have told him that they have changed their opinions, having concluded that the armory would be no detriment but might be a desirable improvement. The mayor wishes to have all those who made donations meet with the commission to get an expression of opinion. If any considerable opposition develops the project will be abandoned without further consideration, but should the reverse be the case, the proceedings will be continued to the end that the armory site be furnished at the eastern end of the park, near the curling rink.

WANT TEACHERS IN PHILIPPINES

Civil Service Examinations Will Be Held Throughout Country Dec. 30.

Teachers, both men and women, are wanted by the score to teach school in the Philippines, according to a report just sent out by the civil service commission at Washington.

The last examination before appointments will be made is to be held throughout the country on Dec. 30. From the eligible list thus secured appointments will be made next spring for service in the Islands beginning with the 1914 school year. The services requires women teachers in home economies and men teachers in agriculture, manual training, high school science, mathematics, English and history. School supervisors are also wanted.

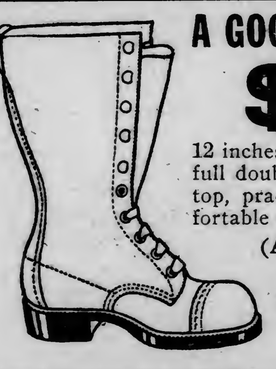

Information regarding the examinations and the nature of the service may be obtained from the bureau of insular affairs at Washington.

Woman's Realm

An informal vesper service hour from 4 to 5 o'clock, followed by two hours of informal hospitality, is the plan for every Sunday afternoon at the Young Women's Christian association. Miss Valborg Gunderson, violinist, and Miss Loretta O'Gorman, vocalist, will give an hour's program of music at 4 o'clock at the first of these meetings next Sunday afternoon, and from 5 to 7 o'clock there will be an informal gathering in the lobby of the Y. W. C. A. building and tea will be served to the girls by a number of the girls who live in the house.

The secretaries of the association will all be there each Sunday afternoon to meet the girls, and every young woman in the city whether a member of the association or not is cordially invited to be present. The vesper services will be of a simple nature and informal, and the social hours are planned that the girls may have an opportunity of making friends, and those who have no homes here can feel free to meet their friends there and entertain them there.

"I want the girls to feel that this is a home," said Miss Bertha Rowles, general secretary of the association. "I know how lonely Sunday afternoon can be if one is strange or hasn't a home here, or even if the girls do live at home I want them to feel that this is a pleasant place to come to where they can meet their friends and enjoy them here. If the girls want to make fudge, they can; of course we can't furnish the materials but they can make it here. If they want to pop corn or roast chestnuts or apples they can do so.

"The girls themselves are interested and committees have been formed among them to take charge of the entertainment and act as hostesses at the tea each week."

Last evening the members of the religious work committee of the association composed of Mrs. F. H. Rogers, chairman; Mrs. W. F. Horr, Mrs. Milton Fish, Mrs. E. A. Risdon, Mrs. J. A. McGaughey, Mrs. Robert Yost, Miss Blackmar and Mrs. Charles N. Thorpe and the girls who will have charge of the Sunday afternoons, met at dinner at the association building to discuss the plans for the year. The chairmen for the Sunday afternoons are: Miss Amelia Mina Stringer, Miss Henrietta Meyers, Miss Inga Johnson, Mrs. Amelia McArthur, Miss Carrie Mitchell, Miss Anna Bracket, Miss Edith Rowley and Miss Charlotte Robinson. Their committee members are Misses Grace Stevenson, Mabel Train, Helen Mee, Jessie McGhie, Lele Walrod, N. Nelson, Elsie Schuster, Cecilia Junsola, Bettie Fjellman, Anna Norquist, H. Rau, Anna Rudolph, Myrtle Gorham, Ella Schandler, Bell Smith, Esther Erickson, Nan Holmes, Minnie Bohne, Marie Cheska, Sophie Cheska, Berg, Ehling, Maud Neff and Katherine Neff.

Open House.

The Young Women's Christian association building will be thrown open for an "open house" on Friday evening of this week, when everyone interested is cordially invited to call. Men and women whether members of the association or not will be welcome and will be shown over the building. The dormitories, the new living room on the third floor, the parlors, assembly hall, gymnasium and swimming pool will all be lighted.

A short program of musical numbers is being planned by Mrs. E. W. Matter and Miss Therese Diehl will read. Punch will be served by girls who are members of the association and the classes planned in various subjects for the year will be explained and an opportunity given for registration.

AT NOPEMING.

Christian Endeavorers Will Give Program.

A musical program will be given Friday evening of this week at the Nopeming sanitarium, arranged under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor union of this city. There will be representatives of the societies from the various churches and about thirty-five members will go out on the 5:15 Northern Pacific train, returning at 10:45 on the Canadian Northern train.

Dr. I. W. Boden will give a short talk and the program will be made up of violin solos by Miss Wally Heymar cornet solos by G. A. Anderson, vocal solos by Miss Jessie McGhie and a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Towner. Miss Lillian Macaskill will be the organist.

The patients at the sanitarium have little amusement beside what they make for themselves there, and this program is being anticipated with a great deal of pleasure.

At the Poor Farm.

The Christian Endeavor societies of the city have given a great deal of pleasure to those who live at the county poor farm with their visits there on Sunday afternoons for the past year, and these visits will be continued through the year, the different societies taking turns in sending the programs out each week. Last year they held thirty meetings there with a total attendance of Christian Endeavor members of 500.

LECTURE.

Prof. Dickinson Will Talk on Drama.

Members of the drama league and others interested are anticipating a treat in the first of the series of lectures by Prof. Thomas Dickinson of the University of Wisconsin, which will be given this evening at the sun parlor of the Spalding hotel. His subject is to be, "The New Technique of the Drama." This will be the first of a series of four lectures which he will give this winter before the Duluth branch of the league, and an informal reception has been planned from 7:30 to 8:30, when members of the league may meet Prof. Dickinson, and an opportunity will also be given to those wishing to join the league to secure their membership tickets. The course of lectures is free to members of the league, but others interested may secure course or single tickets for the lectures.

PROGRAM PLANNED.

Social Center Meeting at Whittier School.

All residents of Park Point interested in social center work there are invited to attend a meeting at the Whittier school tomorrow evening, to be called at 8 o'clock at which Mayor Prince and Miss Marguerite Culkin, social center director, will both speak. There will be a short program of victrola numbers, a vocal solo by Miss Annabelle McLeod, a reading by Miss Lelia Sparks and a violin solo by Miss Louise Murchison.

Miss Culkin will explain the difference between social center and social settlement work and discuss plans for clubs and work there during the winter.

ENGAGEMENT.

Dr. MacLean's Daughter to Wed Westerner.

A recent issue of the Chicago Daily Tribune heads its society column with the following announcement which will be of interest here:

"The Rev. and Mrs. Thomas W. MacLean of Duluth announce the engagement of their daughter, Grace Appleton, to W. Melville Hart of Western Springs. Mr. Hart is a brother to Lewis M. Hart, who married Miss Martha Myers, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Johnston Myers on Tuesday evening."

Dr. MacLean is vicar of Trinity procathedral and his daughter spent a few months in Duluth last spring making many friends during that time. The wedding plans have not been announced.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Dr. and Mrs. Rice Will Be Honor Guests.

Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Rice will be honor guests at a reception which will be held this evening from 8 to 10 o'clock at the parlors of the First M. E. church, Third avenue west and Third street, of which church, Dr. Rice had been pastor for several years. The reception promises to be a brilliant affair and all members of the church and congregation, as well as ministers of the other churches and their wives and all friends of Dr. and Mrs. Rice are cordially invited to bid them farewell as they will leave this week for Detroit, Mich., to make their home there.

In the receiving line with Dr. and Mrs. Rice will be Mrs. C. A. Congdon and Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Taylor. Assisting about the rooms will be Mrs. Edward L. Bradley, Mrs. Watson S. Moore, Mrs. William Moore and Mrs. James Kelley. In the dining room refreshments will be served during the evening with Mrs. Isaac Moore in charge assisted by the folowing women who will preside at the tables: Mrs. J. A. Watterworth, Mrs. W. B. Underhill, Mrs. Henry Fee, Mrs. George Martin, Mrs. Lewis H. Merritt and Mrs. W. L. Smithies. A group of young women will assist them in serving.

Autumn leaves and flowers have been arranged with pretty effect about the parlors and an orchestra will play.

MACADAM AND CULVERT WORK ARE DISCUSSED

Roads Congress Hears Papers By Prominent Men.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 1.—The sessions of the American roads congress, now meeting here, were today devoted to discussion of construction and maintenance and contracts. Among those who read papers on various topics were Logan Waller Page, president of the congress, who discussed selection of materials for macadam roads; A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer of Wisconsin, whose subject was waterway structures, and Col. Edward A. Stevens, state highway commissioner of New Jersey, who told of treatment of worn out and ravelled macadam surfaces. The discussion of contracts was not to be held until late today.

Perfect Macadam Roads.

"Of all the factors which go to make up the perfect macadam roads," said Mr. Page, "there is undoubtedly none more potent than that of the suitability of the material which enters its construction.

"There are two ways in which the engineer may avail himself of the information necessary to a proper selection of road material. The first and only certain one is to make an actual service test on the material under observation and under the same conditions of traffic and climate to which the proposed road will be subjected. The second method is by means of short time laboratory tests to approximate as nearly as possible the destructive agencies to which the material will be subjected on the road."

Waterway Structures.

Waterway sufficient to carry off promptly the water coming to it; proper foundations to bear the loads, resist undermining and give long service; superstructure designed to bear for a long period of years any load which may be imposed upon it and so constructed as to serve the comfort and convenience of travel and economy of maintenance.

JOSEPHINE ELIZABETH JENKS DRIVING "FRILLS."

The fall season of horse shows which are preliminary to the big show in Madison Square Garden opened with the sixteenth annual show of the Morristown Field club. There was a big attendance and interest centered largely in the exhibits by children. There were not only driving but jumping contests. Josephine Jenks of Mount Kemble won in the jumping with her black mare, "Frills," which went at the brush like a steeplechaser and carried her easily to victory. Gwendolyn Conkling was second on her mare "Black Pearl." Vivian Conkling, Alex Tiers, Jr., and his sister, Esther, also figured conspicuously in the children's part of the program.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Coarse Language on Streets Obnoxious.

Using obnoxious language, especially on the streets, is getting to be an all too prevalent habit and one that should be curbed. My observation is that men, no matter what their class and training, are very lax indeed in conversation among themselves and that this conversation is often an embarrassment to ears for which it is not intended. Almost any body of men and boys assembled together, instinctively it seems, drop into a manner of conversation that is, to say the least, objectionable. I noticed it the other morning on my way from church in a group of schoolboys on a corner, the eldest of whom might have been 14 years of age. Their language was very offensive and a distinct shock coming from boys of that age. Every remark was punctuated with an oath and they seemed to vie with each other in the strength of their profanity.

There are few of mature mind, however loose and profane they may be themselves, who like to hear this sort of thing from others. It never gives a man advantage of any kind to stoop to foul language in addressing anyone. Profanity is supposed to be forceful, I presume, but it misses its points always and simply stamps the man as a vulgarian or of uncontrollable temper. As badly as it sounds to hear full grown men make use of coarse expletives and profanity and as much as it is to be regretted for the sake of the individual himself, the very worst effect is upon the budding boy and man.

The young boy and the young man think it smart. They believe it to be a hallmark of manhood and they are not the least bit reserved or careful as regards the time or place or nature of their remarks. I have watched boys grow into manhood; seen them cloaked with a little authority and heard profanity follow as though it were natural for the man to acquire the habit with his first long trousers or the first position in which he had any voice.

I have known men to rebuke swearing among men, but it is too rarely done, even when it falls unpleasantly on the ears. Somehow as a rule men tolerate it, though they may use none. The man who permits himself to use coarse language hurts himself, and is a menace to others—especially the young boys, with their poorly conceived ideas of manliness, mainly due to poor example. I sincerely wish more men would take the matter of cleaner language to heart. We should have a better atmosphere all round.

Doctors Who Cure Men

By the latest and best methods, and at the lowest cost of skilled service and successful treatment.

While it is a serious thing that men contract or inherit disease, or also tendencies or weaknesses toward them, etc., the most serious results are certain to follow neglect or improper treatment. Diseases, ailments and other unnatural and abnormal conditions, which are often brought on through ignorance, indifference and neglect before the age of knowledge and understanding bring on a vast amount of wretchedness, misery and sorrow. It seems strange that some men will put off treatment day after day, racked in body and wrecked in mind, when there is a safe and sure way of escape.

IS THIS THE WAY YOU FEEL?

Tired in the morning and easily excited? Are you dizzy and nervous? Headache? Tongue coated? Have you catarrh? Nose stopped up? Gas on the stomach? Hands and feet cold? Palms and hands moist? Have you dull pains in the back or limbs? Have you rheumatism? Have you fistula, piles, itching or bleeding? Have you rupture? Have you kidney or bladder trouble, lame or weak back? Have you any blood diseases, scrofula, skin eruption, pimples, bone pains, pale complexion and losing weight? Anyone who wants to be cured has no excuse for suffering. NOT GIVEN FAIR TRIAL

Delivers First Lecture in University Extension Course in Duluth.

Declaring that there has been no fair trial for democracy in this country, Dr. Raymond A. Phelan, who is in charge of the local extension department of the University of Minnesota, began the regular weekly lectures last evening at the Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Phelan said in part:

"Democracy, in brief, is the philosophy of fair play in the pursuit of life. Healthy, law-abiding, intelligent, moral, prosperous and happy conditions of life for all persons are insisted upon by democracy. America has always thought of itself as being democratic; but it is decidedly more hopeful and patriotic in the best sense to suggest that American democracy is just beginning. A bright man or woman sometimes says 'I am disgusted with democracy. It is a rank failure.' And if democracy has been on trial for a century and a quarter and the American conditions of today are the result of such a trial, the conclusion is inevitable—democracy must be a failure.

Not Fair Trial.

"But has democracy been on trial in this country? We usually think of the Declaration of Independence with its proclamation of common rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness as constituting, you might say, the birth certificate of this nation. This justly revered document proclaimed the kind of nation its framers desired, but the conditions of the time could not bring forth such a nation. The property qualifications for voting, the religious qualifications for holding office and the political tricks of the time did not square with the principles of the document written by Thomas Jefferson. Nor did the attitude of the gentlemen of 1776 admit of brotherhood with the humble person, the simple man, as John Adams called him.

"Even granting that the Declaration of Independence is a true birth certificate of this nation, it may still be insisted that American democracy has not yet had its chance. For in 1787 our nation became committed to a form of existence quite undemocratic. It it was born democratic, its constitutional conformation was not democratic.

"The Constitution, framed in 1787, embraces several decidedly undemocratic features. Its system of checks and balances was frankly revised to bridle the people. The senate, and it was thought, the president, were put out of reach of popular influence. Amendment was made difficult to avoid the dangers of popular agitation and clamor. The Declaration of Independence emphasized human rights; the Constitution laid emphasis upon property rights.

"Can the people rule? Not directly and continuously, but they can through responsible representatives. One's confidence in democracy is sometimes interfered with by certain misconceptions about democracy. Democracy does not aim at making people identical. Even in the democratic America of the future there will be grades of people, but no degraded people. There will be leaders and leadership, but leadership based on the will of those led and subject to that will."

URGE PROTECTION OF JEWS IN ROUMANIA

Resolutions Are Adopted at Meeting Addressed By Clapp.

New York, Oct. 1.—A resolution requesting President Wilson to employ this country's treaty relations in conjunction with other nations in relieving Jews from oppression in Roumania, where it was declared, people of that race are being legislated against, was adopted in Cooper Union last night at a mass meeting called by the American-Roumanian-Jewish Emancipation committee. A delegation was appointed to place the committee's views before the international congress at Berlin next January.

Speeches were made by United States Senator Moses Clapp of Minnesota; Judge Warren Foster of the court of general sessions, who offered the resolution; Dr. Maurice Eisenberg, and others.

Senator Clapp said that, while the United States was not a party to the Berlin treaty, it recognized the rights of Roumania. "We would not have recognized her, though," he said, "had we known she would not keep the treaties she made with other nations."

Senator Clapp said he believed the resolution would bring results.

A letter was sent to King Charles I of Roumania, asking him to use his power to ameliorate the condition of the Jews and accord them the equal treatment designed for them in the Berlin treaty of 1878.

Among those whom the committee will invite to be members of the United States delegation at Berlin are Theodore Roosevelt, William H. Taft, Andrew Carnegie, Seth Low, Chief Justice Harry Olsen of Illinois, Vincent Astor, Henry L. Stimson, and Jacob H. Schiff.

Washington, Oct. 1.—President Wilson has signed the bill recently passed by congress, which throws open to homestead drawing beginning Oct. 17, 300,000 acres of grazing land in the Nebraska national forest, the forestration of which was abandoned by the government during the last administration. The drawings, which actually will be made Oct. 29, are to take place at North Platte, Valentine and Broken Bow, Neb. The homestead lots will be for 640 acres.

Try Holbrook's Slayers.

Constantinople, Oct. 1.—The Turkish authorities acted with promptitude in prosecuting the murderer of Rev. Charles H. Holbrook of Lynn, Mass., the American missionary who was killed at Soushehir, Asiatic Turkey, early in August, according to the report of Lewis Heck, acting American vice consul and interpreter here. The murderer and four of his accomplices are to be brought up for trial in October.

NEW LAW IS IN EFFECT

Large Employers Adjusting Business to Workmen's Compensation Act.

Standard Settlement and Release Form Approved By Judges.

The Minnesota workmen's compensation act came into force today and today and hereafter men injured while at work will have their cases against employers handled under this new law.

Large employers have been readjusting their affairs to the new conditions since the law was passed and have joined with the state department of labor in getting things in shape for its proper introduction.

A joint committee composed of representatives of the state department of labor and industries, insurance companies, the employers' association and mining companies has drafted a standard settlement and release form for use under the act, which form has been approved by the district judges of St. Louis and Hennepin counties and by Judge Brill of the Ramsey county district court. The other judges of the Ramsey court could not be reached, but it is expected that the form will receive their endorsement, and also that of the other district court judges of the state to whom it is being sent for approval.

The judges of St. Louis and Hennepin counties have decided to make this form a standard form in their courts for the presentation of settlement cases and will promulgate a court rule requiring the use of this form. Copies of the form may be obtained from the state department of labor and industries.

The compensation cases where there is no dispute, can be presented to the court on its settlement form without the appearance of the parties in interest at the court except in those cases where the judge of the district court feels that it is necessary to have a hearing and calls the parties into court.

The judges of St. Louis and Hennepin counties have already signified their intention of utilizing the deputy labor commissioners of the department of labor for the investigation on behalf of the court of these compensation cases, and probably other judges of the state will adopt a similar plan. Full information with respect to the form can be obtained at the office of the commissioner of labor.

There are two blank forms thus approved, one being in the case of injury and the other in case of death. The former is accompanied by blanks for the oath, one to be filled in and sworn to by the interpreter in case one is needed, one for the attending physician, and one for the court to sign approving the settlement. The other one has simply a notarial blank, an interpreter's blank and one for the court. The injury case petition recites the extent of the injury, what the injured person earned when able to work, and the terms of the settlement. That of the cases of death is the same with the necessary difference in the two classes of cases.

Deputy Labor Commissioner Martin Cole calls attention to several provisions of the statute, which he believes are of vital interest to employes. These are covered by sections covering the "waiting period for compensation," "medical, surgical and hospital service," and "notice to employer of accident." Commissioner Cole stands ready at all times, he says, to give assistance to employes in need of advice. His office is at room 310 courthouse and his office hours are from 9 a. m. to 12 m.

Important Sections.

Following are the sections of the statute referred to by the deputy commissioner:

"Section 17, waiting period—No compensation shall be allowed for the first two weeks after injury received, except as provided by section 18, (see below) nor in any case unless the employer has actual knowledge of the injury or is notified thereof within the period specified in section 19 (see below).

"Sec. 18, medical, surgical and hospital service—Such medical and surgical treatment, medicine, medical and surgical supplies, crutches and apparatus as may be reasonably required at the time of the injury and thereafter during the disability, but not exceeding ninety (90) days to cure and relieve from the effects of the injury, the same to be provided by the employer and in case of his inability or refusal seasonably to do so, the employer to be liable for the reasonable expense incurred by or on behalf of the employe in providing the same; provided, however, that the total liability under this section shall not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars ($100.00) in value; except that the court may, during said period of ninety (90) days, upon necessity being shown therefor, require the employer to furnish such additional medical, surgical and hospital treatment and supplies as may be reasonable, which, together with any such sums or relief theretofore furnished shall not exceed in all two hundred dollars ($200.00) in value.

"Sec. 19. Notice to employer of accident—Unless the employer shall have actual knowledge of the occurrence of the injury, or unless the injured workman, or a dependent, or some one in behalf of either, shall give notice thereof to the employer in writing, within fourteen (14) days after the occurrence of the injury, then no compensation shall be due until such notice is given or knowledge obtained. If the notice is given, or the knowledge obtained within thirty (30) days from the occurrence of the injury, no want, failure, or inaccuracy of a notice shall be a bar to obtaining compensation, unless the employer shall show that he was prejudiced by such want, defect or inaccuracy, and then only to the extent of such prejudice. If the notice is given, or the knowledge obtained within ninety (90) days, and if the employe, or other beneficiary, shall show that his failure to give prior notice was due to his mistake, inadvertence, ignorance of fact or law, or inability, or to the fraud, misrepresentation or deceit of the employer or his agent, then compensation may be allowed, unless the employer shall show that he was prejudiced by failure to receive such notice, in which case the amount of compensation shall be reduced by such sum as shall fairly represent the prejudice shown. Unless knowledge be obtained or notice given, within ninety (90) days after the occurrence of the injury, no compensation shall be allowed."

DOCK LABORER KILLED BY FALL

Adam Sulkowski, 38 years old, a laborer on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern ore dock, was instantly killed by a fall from an ore pocket to the steamer Gary at 9:45 o'clock last night.

Sulkowski was attending an ore pocket and lost his balance. He dropped seventy feet and struck the railing of the steamer, falling between it and the dock. His body was badly crushed.

Coroner McComb was notified and the body ordered moved to Flood & Horgan's undertaking rooms. He leaves a widow and three small children residing at 351½ Restormel street. Arrangements for the funeral will be made this afternoon.

MAYOR SPEAKS AT OPENING OF BAZAR.

Mayor W. I. Prince and Rev. D. Guillet, pastor of the St. Jean Baptiste French Catholic church, were the principal speakers last evening at the opening exercises of the bazar which is being held by the women of the church in the French school building, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Nearly 800 people attended the opening.

The hall represents a miniature fair. The interior has been tastily decorated and a large sign of welcome stretched across the front of the building. Booths have been arranged around the sides of the hall, each of which is presided over by young women of the congregation. The program last night included a number of musical selections by La Brosse's orchestra.

WILL SHOW PICTURES OF PRIZE GARDENS.

A collection of photographs showing the best gardens of the West end, the winners of the various prizes offered by the West End Commercial club, and other interesting West end scenes has been made into stereopticon slides and will be thrown on a canvas as one of the features of entertainment on Oct. 17 in connection with the distribution of the prizes that night. L. A. Simonson, president of the Commercial club, stated last evening that he had a large number of these slides already in his possession for the program.

The program for the entertainment is rapidly being completed. The speakers will be decided on at the meeting of the club tomorrow night. Among these will be men who have taken a prominent part in the agricultural development of the country surrounding Duluth.

Each of the four schools which have taken part in the garden contest of the club will be represented with children taking part in the program. These are the Lincoln, Adams, Ensign and Munroe schools. The program given by the children will include songs, drills, recitations and instrumental musical numbers.

The club has arranged to hold the entertainment in the auditorium of the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. Arrangements will be made to accommodate a crowd of about 1,000 people at the entertainment.

Oscar Olson's Funeral.

The funeral of Oscar Olson, 55 years old, 1008 Garfield avenue, who died Monday night will be held Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the family residence and at 2 o'clock from the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. Rev. J. J. Daniels will officiate. Interment will be made in the Union cemetery.

Plan Children's Festival.

At a meeting of Duluth Homestead No. 3131, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, to be held at the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, Monday evening, plans will be completed for the children's festival to be held on Oct. 20. The lodge has also recently received its new uniforms for its degree team and these will be used in putting on initatory work Monday night.

Yard Master Hurt.

W. H. Streeter, 1803 West Superior street, yard master for the Northern Pacific railroad, was found unconscious at 3 o'clock last night in the company's yards in the West end. He is believed to have been lying there an hour before discovered. It was said at the yards that he had been hit with a lantern in the hands of a brakeman. He had a bad scalp wound.

West End Briefs.

Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, left last evening for Detroit, Minn., to attend the Northern Methodist conference which opens there today.

Mrs. E. F. Hime, 2028 West Superior street, has returned from St. Paul, where she is visiting relatives for two weeks.

The Luther League of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, entertained at a musical and literary meeting for its members last evening.

Mrs. Victor Juten, 2716 West Fourth street, will entertain tomorrow afternoon for members of the Rebekah Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church at her home.

Mrs. Elim Johnson, 111 Vernon street, will entertain tomorrow afternoon for the Ladies Aid Society of the Swedish M. E. church. The society will hold its annual election of officers.

The Swedish Christian Sick Benefit society will hold its monthly meeting at Sloan's hall this evening. A social program has been planned following the business meeting.

AVOID CATARRH

Breathe Hyomei—It Medicates the Air You Breathe and Instantly Relieves.

Why continue to suffer from catarrh, stopped up head, husky voice, and other troubles of the breathing organs, when there is an absolutely certain, scientific remedy at hand.

Hyomei is the remedy. It is a pleasant, harmless and antiseptic medication which you breathe through a small inhaler. Breathing a few times daily through the inhaler charges the air with this germ-killing antiseptic. Catarrhal discharges, sniffles, foul breath, watery eyes and the formation of crusts in the nose are promptly relieved by this medicated air.

A complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a strong, hard rubber pocket inhaler and a bottle of Hyomei costs only $1.00, and extra bottles, if afterwards needed, are only 50 cents each. Druggists everywhere sell Hyomei.

Use Hyomei for bronchitis, coughs and cold in the head, husky voice, croup of infants, and any inflammatory disease of the breathing organs.

SOUP TO NUTS! EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF DYSPEPSIA—PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Digests Food When Stomach Can't—No Sourness, Gas, Indigestion.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach, if you will take Pape's Diapepsin occasionally.

Anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid, poison or stomach gas, which causes Belching, Dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, Nausea, Indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), Biliousness, Heartburn, Water brash, Pain in stomach and intestines. Headaches from stomach are absolutely unknown where Pape's Diapepsin is used. It really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. It leaves nothing to ferment, sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from your druggist, then eat anything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, besides, every particle of impurity and Gas that is in your stomach and intestines will vanish.

Should you be suffering now from Indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can get relief in five minutes.

$3.50 Recipe Free, For Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today; You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

We have in our possession a prescription for nervous debility, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that we think every man who wishes to regain his health, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So we have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write us for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and we are convinced it is the surest-acting combination ever put together. We think we owe it to our fellow man to send him a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what we believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, spot-touching remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop us a line like this: Interstate Remedy company, 4873 Luck Bldg, Detroit, Mich., and we will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but we send it entirely free.

JAPANESE WILL BE INSTRUCTOR

Will Teach American Business Methods in University Extension Course.

After three years' experience as head of the department of English business practice in the Yomagachi higher commercial school, Prof. C. S. Rotzel is coming to Duluth to teach accounting.

The general extension division of the state university announces a course in principles of accounting to begin next Friday at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30.

"Persons familiar with the elements of bookkeeping may increase their efficiency and their earning power by taking this course," said Dr. Raymond Phelan of the university in announcing the course today. University credit to properly qualified students and progress toward the degree of certified public accountant are other alluring advantages offered by this course.

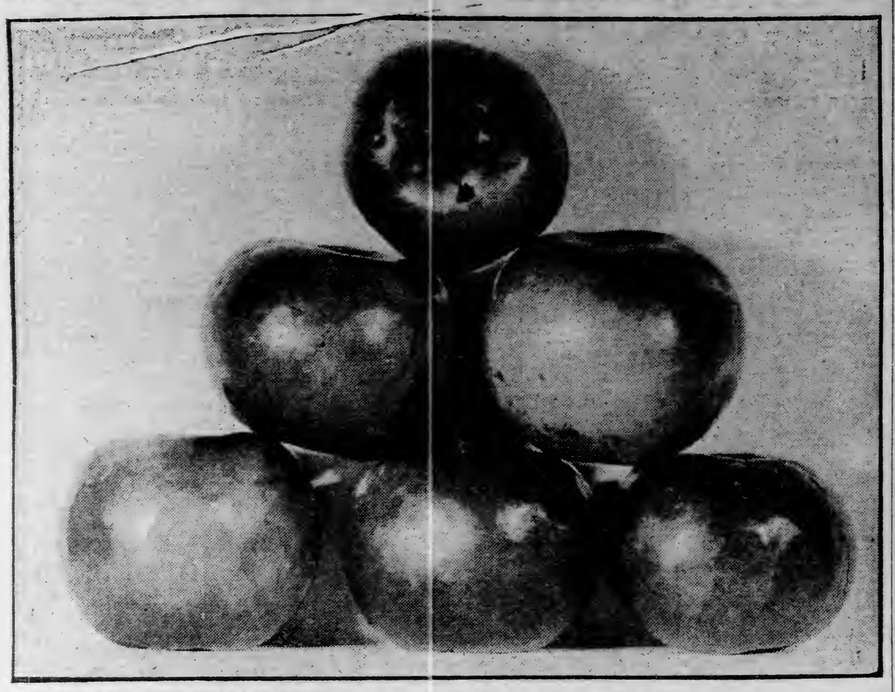

Prof. Rotzel is a graduate of the New York University School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance, holds the degree of certified public accountant, and has had extended and valuable business experience as an accountant. Persons interested in his course may register with Secretary A. L. Turner at the Y. M. C. A.; Miss Zelma Kaiser, public library; Miss Maud Needham, department of public welfare, 306 courthouse, or with Secretary McCarthy at the Commercial club.

HUGE APPLE CROP OF SOUTHERN MINNESOTA IS BEING LEFT TO ROT OR FED TO THE HOGS

THESE ARE "WINDFALLS" LEFT TO ROT ON THE GROUND OR FED TO THE PIGS OF SOUTHERN MINNESOTA.

Further evidence bearing out the contention of The Herald that the Minnesota apple crop is rotting on the ground, was brought to light today when R. Merrill, traveling for the Duplex Manufacturing company of Milwaukee stated that thousands of bushels of the finest apples are spoiling on the ground in the fruit sections of the state, because the farmers do not find it profitable to gather them.

He took photographs of one sixty-five acre orchard and one forty-acre orchard where he says the trees were so heavily laden with fruit that the limbs lay on the ground. The pictures will be reproduced in The Herald tomorrow if it is possible to make cuts from them. Any stranger going in, he said, can have all he can carry away for nothing. Much of the fruit is fed to the hogs, he says. The rest rots on the ground, and could be bought for almost anything that would be offered.

Mr. Merrill brought to The Herald office some fine specimens of Bismarck and Wealthy apples that were given him. They were simply windfalls that were left to rot, but for immediate consumption are just as good as the apples sold in Duluth for 50 cents a peck and higher.

Mr. Merrill has just passed through Zumbra Heights, near Lake Minnetonka, Laconia, Young America, Norwood, Assumption, and other points on the Watertown division of the M. & St. L.

The situation is so bad, said Mr. Merrill, that many apple growers are talking of cutting down their trees. Last year, owners say, the apple crop brought practically nothing.

"And the consumer is held up on eggs just as he is on apples," continued Mr. Merrill. "Eggs are selling in Duluth at about 35 cents a dozen while the farmer gets about 19 cents. The express charges are very small. A friend of mine just made $70.20 by buying twenty-six cases of eggs containing thirty dozen each. He bought them from a dealer in Norwood at 19 cents and expressed them to Duluth where he sold them for 28 cents. He got a clean profit of about 7½ cents a dozen above cost of handling."

between an absolutely perfect Diamond and one a little off-color or imperfectly cut? Could you, unassisted, pick out from several different grades the one absolutely perfect Diamond in the lot?

Ability to do this comes only after many years of experience. If you cannot, you are wise in buying where one grade only is sold.

You do not need to be an expert to buy at Henricksen's—only Diamonds absolutely perfect in every way are sold. Back of every stone sold is a definite "worth while" guarantee.

CONTRACT HAS EXPIRED

But Work of Removing Point of Rocks May Continue.

The contract of J. F. Fredin and George A. Wielsnd to remove stone from the Point of Rocks expired yesterday.

Contractor Fredin informed Commissioner Murchison that he will continue operations for a time, at least to see how operations proceed under new conditions imposed by the government. It is stated that the work at the Superior entry has now advanced to the state where five-ton boulders must be used. The engineers need them and will do what they can to aid the contractor.

Something less than 3,500 tons of rock have been taken out of the cliff since work was started there under the city's arrangement with the government and the private contractors. This is a big slice but much more remains to be removed before Superior street can be considered to be opened.

The formation of the rock makes it difficult for the contractor to take out boulders averaging five tons each. The cliff is in layers with many cross seams and when the blasts are set off large quantities of smaller boulders are knocked out. The equipment can take care of the five-ton rocks but there will be so much smaller rock that it will soon interfere seriously with the operations. Contractor Fredin will go as fast as he can and in the meantime some arrangement may be devised to dispose of the smaller rock.

The city is receiving 80 cents a ton for the rock from the government and is paying the contractor $1 a ton. In view of the desirability of cutting away the cliff and opening Superior street the agreement has been considered a favorable one for the city.

HELPED HUNT FOR HIS OWN "CORPSE"

About 8:30 o'clock this morning a woman living on East First street called up Robert Donaldson, telephone operator at police headquarters, and told him that there was a man either "dead or drunk" lying near her house.

The police ambulance was immediately sent to the scene, but when it arrived there was no man around the building.

Just after the ambulance returned the woman again called up Operator Donaldson and told him that some school children had come along and awakened the man, who was one of the crowd that watched the patrol officers looking for a "dead man or one that was dead drunk." She said she saw the man from her house window and watched him aid the officers in their search.

BOND ISSUE IS DISPOSED OF.

The entire issue of $65,000 school bonds which the city has been selling over the counter in amounts ranging from $100 to $1,000 has been disposed of. The balance amounting to $34,000 was taken over this morning by the state teachers' fund.

The city commissioners now intend placing the recent sewer bond issue amounting to $9,000 on sale in a similar manner. The residents of the city will have the opportunity of purchasing these in any amounts from $100 up.

FORMER POLITICIAN GETS JAIL SENTENCE.

Jonh Kukulinski, claiming to be a former supervisor of the Eighteenth ward of the city of Milwaukee, today was sentenced to serve sixty days in the workhouse here for stealing a razor. Kukulinski was arrested two weeks ago on a charge of having improper conduct with young children. He was fined and given the alternative of leaving the city. He claimed that he was a power in Milwaukee politics a decade ago.

Big Registration.

Over 600 children entered the Carpenter school this morning at its opening for the year. The rooms available for use are all well filled and it is expected that the total enrollment before the end of this week will reach close to 700. The addition being constructed to the building will be completed about Jan. 1 and will take care of a large number of children as well as give great relief to the present crowded condition of the schools.

Placing Night Crews.

Coal docks in Superior are putting on night crews for the purpose of better taking care of the rush work of receiving coal this fall. Last night docks Nos. 1 and 3 of the Northwestern Fuel company put men to work on the night shifts and it is expected that other companies will do the same within the next week or ten days.

May Extend Courst.

At a meeting of superintendents of schools and prominent educators to be held in Madison Friday and Saturday of this week, the proposition of extending the high school courses so as to require six years to complete them will be taken up. Supt. W. E. Maddock of Superior will attend.

Robbed of His Savings.

William R. Murphy, former resident of Superior, now station agent at Maple, Wis., was robbed of his entire savings amounting to $300. The robbery occurred Monday night and local police officers were requested to watch out for the culprit. The robbery took place while Mr. Murphy slept in his room in a hotel at Maple.

SEEK WOMAN NOW IN GAY MURDER AFFAIR

Los Angeles, Oct. 1.—Robert Askew, a negro, today is practically cleared of any suspicion in connection with the murder of Mrs. Rebecca P. Gay, Christian Scientist practioner, last Friday night. He probably will be released in a few days after he serves a term for drunkenness.

Persons who saw a negro who loitered around the murdered woman's office now declare Askew is not the man. A "Mrs. Wallace" is being sought. Her name frequently was used by the negro in his visits to Mrs. Gay's and neighboring offices. A certain Mrs. Wallace known to Mrs. Gay disappeared on the morning after the murder, it was said today.

PRIZE WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Announcement has just been made of the prize winners for the best table decorations at the recent Duluth exposition. Merchants of Duluth offered the prizes. The prizes and winners were as follows:

For the best table decorated with flowers and plants from the home garden, Mrs. C. E. Roe received first prize and selected a coffee percolator offered by French & Bassett. In the same class, Mrs. W. H. Giller received second prize and has selected the carving set offered by the Kelley Hardware company. The third prize was for the best table decorated with wall flowers or plants, and was won by Mrs. C. A. Horr, who selected the American toaster offered by the Duluth-Edison Electric company.

MORE AMERICANS EMIGRATE TO NORTH

Last Year Saw 140,000 Go to Canada, Says Report.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 1.—Western Canada was invaded by 140,000 settlers from the United States during the season ending yesterday, according to a statement issued today by Bruce Walker, commissioners of immigration. This immigration was a slight increase over last year.

AS WE SAID BEFORE.

Six months after it came into power, the city commission still is shifting about its departments in the interest of efficiency and economy.

This is to be expected, and it is wise. There will be more of it later, as practice develops new ideas.

But we wish it could have been possible in the beginning to adopt The Herald's idea of employing an expert in municipal efficiency to make a tentative business organization for the city, studying to make it as efficient and as economical in its workings as possible.

Much labor and thought would have been spared to the commissioners, thus enabling them to devote their labor and thought to other issues. The profit in such a plan would have been absurdly out of proportion to its cost.

Another thing the Wisconsin public utilities commission has gone and done is to order better streetcar service for Janesville. But of course such a thing isn't necessary in states where all the public service corporations are already giving the best service possible.

JUSTICE.

It is a wrong habit of mind which condemns an institution for a flaw in one of its supporters.

And it is unjust to condemn the quality of justice in this country because of the failure of a judge here and there to rise to the height of his opportunity.

But, on the other hand, there is a persistent recurrence of cases which embarrass greatly those who take upon themselves the defense of the courts.

In March, 1911, the Triangle company's factory in New York burned, and a hundred and forty-seven girls and women, barred from safety by locked doors, perished miserably.

So great was the public feeling over this tragic affair that the New York legislature promptly passed a law prohibiting the locking of doors in factory lofts in working hours.

The situation in his loft was precisely that which caused the deaths of a hundred and forty-seven, and precisely that which this new law was framed to guard against.

Here was an opportunity for the courts to make an example that would insure safety to thousands of factory employes.

And the court inflicted upon Max Blanck the enormous penalty of a FINE OF TWENTY DOLLARS!

The New York World calls this "a shocking decision." We do not feel disposed to challenge that phrase; though a severer adjective might easily and fittingly have been used.

One great feature of the football season is that there are no percentages to remember.

A REFORMER IN PRISON.

Thomas Mott Osborne, chairman of the New York state committee for prison reform, is wearing a prison uniform, occupying a prison cell and going through the daily round of a convict in Auburn penitentiary. He is there without guilt and by his own choice, in order that he may study the effect of the prison on the prisoners.

It is a worthy object that Mr. Osborne has in mind, and doubtless good will come of it. This country has progressed amazingly from the early days when, as McMaster reports in his "History of the American People," far less consideration was given prisoners—including prisoners for debt—than is given today to a work horse. Yet the effect of prison management on many prison authorities—our Warden Wolfer a most conspicuous exception—is to callous the sensibilities; and an occasional disinterested checking up is wholesome and desirable.

However, the opportunity to judge of prison conditions would be better, it seems to us, if the purpose of such a voluntary immuration as Mr. Osborne's were unknown to the prison authorities. If there is anything wrong in Auburn prison, it will hardly be in evidence so long as the chairman of the state committee for prison reform is an inmate.

But if the chairman of the state committee for prison reform had conspired with a public-spirited judge to be sentenced to a short term in Auburn, and had gone there to be received and regarded as an ordinary prisoner, he might have found out more about prison life than he will under the present circumstances.

THE MINNEAPOLIS CHARTER DEFEAT.

Given an opportunity to adopt a home rule charter modelled somewhat on the lines of the commission plan, Minneapolis voters turned out in large numbers yesterday and beat it worse than two to one.

This is not the first time this has happened. We have forgotten how many times Minneapolis has voted on a home rule charter, and still it remains the only first class city in the state without one, and with many minor cities surpassing it in progressiveness.

The trouble with Minneapolis seems to be a hopelessly divided and subdivided public sentiment. Traditionally, Minneapolis is at war with itself. It is so in every state convention—though that will not happen again because conventions have been dispensed with. It is so in the legislature, where one of the most familiar and most painful spectacles is that of half a dozen Minneapolis members heatedly washing unclean linen over some purely local measure in which the rest of the state has not the slightest possible concern.

The only interest of the state at large in the kind of charter Minneapolis has is that it would prefer to see progressive tendencies in the city that will be its metropolis until Duluth catches up with it, and that it would like to see the legislature relieved from the necessity of constituting itself, during about a third of its time, into a common council for the city of Minneapolis.

The defeat of the charter may easily be ascribed to the constitutional inability of Minneapolis to find out what it wants, to the opposition of vested interests, and to the charter itself.

The charter seems to have been a curious amalgam of radicalism and stolid conservatism. In some points the ultra-radical elements had too much leeway, and in others the Tory spirit prevailed. The chief difficulty seems to be that in an effort to form a compromise between the old plan and the new, the charter commission fell into the abyss of the irreconcilable. Trying to effect a straddle, it made a sprawl.

It has been evident, too, that the working of the commission plan in Duluth was used, more quietly than openly, to scare citizens into voting against the half-baked commission plan proposed in the Minneapolis charter. Also it has been evident that much of this comment was unfair, both because some of it was exaggerated and because the rest of it was based on a too precipitous judgment. Nobody should pass judgment on the working of the commission plan in Duluth—or rather upon the capacity of the commission elected under it—until it has been tried at least a year.

The Minneapolis vote against the commission plan has no general significance whatever, and should not be used anywhere as an argument against the commission form. Such use would be unjust because the Minneapolis charter did not propose a logical variety of the commission plan, and because of the painfully evident fact that probably it will be impossible to create a charter that will please enough people in Minneapolis to get it ratified at the polls.

Tammany seems to be getting almost as much advertising out of the impeachment as the governor is.

FEDERAL REGULATION OR UNIFORM STATE ACTION NEEDED.

Oregon furnishes another instance of the fact that to solve many important problems it will be necessary either to extend the Federal power or to bring about uniform state action.

That state not long ago passed a law requiring men to undergo a physical examination before taking out marriage licenses.

And the law is working—to swell the marriage license receipts of Washington, Nevada, California and Idaho, the states surrounding Oregon.

Men who fear the results of such an examination, or who have a distaste for it coupled with money enough to take a railroad trip, evade it by getting married in other states.

So the law fails to reach the very cases for which it was devised.

But if all the states passed a similar law, or if the Federal government took over the regulation of marriage and divorce, the plan would work.

Now comes the proposal to unionize all the telephone girls. Will they let central pin a union label on her voice when she says "line's busy"?

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

LIQUOR ON TRAINS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

This is the first time I ever sent an article to a newspaper, but as I went to the state fair this fall and on returning home went into the dining car and had something to eat, which of course was a common thing for anyone to do, I was surprised when the waiter asked if we didn't want something to drink. And I asked him what kind of drinks could we have. Answer, "Beer, whisky, brandy or anything." "Why," I told him, "that's against the law of the state to drink on trains." "Oh, no," he said, "not in this car—when you pay for it." (And, mind you, three times the price you can buy it for at any other place.) The railroad company can sell liquor on a train and rob you, but beware. Don't try to take a little bottle with you. You get it in the same place as the chicken got the ax.

OBSERVER.

Nashwauk, Minn., Sept. 29.

The New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A splendid special edition of the New Orleans Times-Democrat, celebrating its fiftieth anniversary and the progress and prosperity that have come to New Orleans in the half-century since the war, is at hand. Born in war time (the Times began in 1863, the Democrat in 1875 and the two were consolidated in 1881), the Times-Democrat has seen and been a part of the Civil war, the period of Reconstruction and the upbuilding that has come since.

"New Orleans," says the Times-Democrat, "sees itself today with more than double the population and tenfold the wealth, commerce and industry it possessed when the first number of the Times was issued, and beginning a new era which promises to be the brightest of all its career."

In the bringing of the good and wealth and well-being that have come to New Orleans the Times-Democrat has played its yeoman's part, and it has always been in the vanguard of progress. This edition sets forth the story of New Orleans' growth admirably, and it is a splendid showing both for the Times-Democrat and for New Orleans.

"A Need to Be Careful."

Mobile Register: The Tuscaloosa Times-Gazette editor wrote a pleasing editorial on "A Need to Be Careful," and then the printer sent the editorial page through the press upside down. At last reports the editor was reading the editorial, or something just as good, to his printer.

Would Save Time.

Cleveland Leader: It might simplify matters if the government were to establish a permanent board to investigate wrecks on the New Haven.

The Pioneer

What man would live coffined with brick and stone, Imprisoned from the influences of,
And cramped with selfish landmarks everywhere.
When all before him stretches, furrowless and lone,
The unmapped prairie none can fence or own?

What man would read and read the self-same faces,
And, like the marbles which the mill grinds,
Rub smooth forever with the same smooth minds.
This year retracing last year's, every year's dull traces,
When there are woods and unmanstifled places?

Shut like a book between its covers thin
For every fool to leave his dog's ears in.
When solitude is his, and God forever more,
Just for the opening of a paltry door?

What man would watch life's oozy element,
Creep Letheward forever, when he might
Down some great river drift, beyond men's sight,
To where the undethroned forest's royal tent
Broods with its hush o'er half a continent?

What man with men would push and alternate,
Pleeing out crooked means for ends,
When he can have the skies and woods for friends,
Snatch back the rudder of his undismantled fate,
And in himself be ruler, church and state?

Cast leaves and feathers rot in last year's nest,
The winged brood, flown thence, new dwellings plan;
To change and change is life, to move and never rest;
Not what we are, but what we hope, is best.

The wild, free woods makes no man halt or blind;
Cities rob men of eyes and hands and feet,
Patching one whole of many incomplete;
The general preys upon the individual mind,
And each alone is helpless as the wind.

Each man is some man's servant; every soul
Is by some other's presence quite discrowned;
Each owes the next through all the imperfect round,
And the whole earth must stop to pay his toll.

Here, life the undiminished man demands:
New faculties stretch out to meet new wants,
What nature asks, that nature also grants;
Here man is lord, not drudge, of eyes and feet and hands,
And to his life is knit with hourly bands.

Come out, then, from the old thoughts and old ways,
Before you harden to a crystal cold
Which the new life can shatter, but not mold;
Freedom for you still waits, still looking backward, stays;
But widens still the irretrievable space.

—James Russell Lowell.

Women Are More Spiteful Than Men

From the Pictorial Review.

Why is the gentler sex the more quarrelsome?

Why, when a dozen or more women organize for any worthy purpose, must the cause soon become secondary to leadership?

Why, when women form an organization for personal pleasure and amusement, do they so seldom gain the same satisfaction in the association which men find at their clubs?

These questions have been asked by men—and some thinking women—ever since the sex proved its right to organize. If man's inhumanity to man was long ago bewailed by classic writers, woman's rudeness to her sister has become a byword among modern newspaper reporters and jokesmiths.

Much has been written about the street car boor who shoves men and women aside to secure a seat in a crowded trolley, but he is meek and lowly compared with a woman who spies a remnant she covets at the farther end of a bargain counter. Truly she mows down whimpering youth and trembling age in her onward rush. The woman who is a ministering angel to suffering man becomes a creature of stings and stabs when dealing with a tired saleslgirl or dressmaker. A woman will acquire an aching back while packing a church box for shipment to some distant missionary field; then, straightening up, she will knife the hopes of the woman who wants to be president of the society which has given the box! When a man is on trial for murder, in discussing his case, a woman will always give him the benefit of the unwritten law. For a woman similarly placed, she permits herself to feel no doubt and invariably refers to the defendant as "that creature."

A great deal is said these days about sex antagonism. To those of us who study women at work, at play and in organization, there seems less antagonism between the two sexes than among members of the one sex—among women themselves.

Have you ever listened while a man's best friend explained why said man was late to dinner, or in returning from lodge? When it is all over and the friend prides himself that he has done a pretty good job, the wife remarks with calm incredulity, "Of course you'd say that. Men always stick to each other."

Reverse the case. Listen while a woman explains to her best friend's husband why said friends is late for an appointment, or has committed some slight indiscretion. Between the clauses of the explanation, behold, inserted some tiny but damning insinuation, and over all the virtuous suggestion that no well regulated wife would do such things. Is the husband convinced by the explanation? He is, indeed—convinced that he is a much injured person. What was a trifling sense of annoyance had grown into a belief that his wife needs a lecture on her shortcomings!

Woman never gives her sister the benefit of the doubt. The sex starts with suspecting its own self early in life. Watch the difference between boys and girls in school. A new boy enters the class. He is well set up and has a business like pair of fists and a sense of fair play that sticks out like the freckles on his nose. These are sufficient. The other boys take him in and make him feel at home without asking whether his father sells bananas or bonds. He is one of them and is given a fair show. He qualifies quickly. He's everybody's friend.

But how different the experience of the unknown little girl whose parents have just moved to town. For days she stands absolutely alone while the other little girls find out what her father does, what sort of a house they live in, whether her mother keeps a servant or does her own work, whether her hair ribbons are of the latest width and style of tying, and other trifles born important in the feminine soul. And finally when some girl does make friendly advances it is with this summing up: "But if you're friends with me, you can't speak to Mary Green."

Old Dance Tunes.

Lawrence, Mass., American: When the fiddlers played "Turkey in the Straw," "Old Zip Coon," etc., some of the Confederates at Gettysburg dropped their suitcases in the dusty road and toed out the old measures until the musicians could saw on no longer.

Where are the dance tunes of today that will set the present set of boys and girls to footing it out on some 50-year day in the dim future?

A school of dance music familiar to our fathers, and heard within comparatively few years, now seems almost to have disappeared. "Irish Washerwoman," "Money Musk," were examples of whole libaries of merry jigs. They were simple, homely little airs, suggesting breakdowns in farmhouse kitchens and dances of the squirrel-tail hand-tub company.

There was a kinkiness about these little measures, a rollicking quality that modern machine dance tunes, sawed off by the yard to sell to music publishers, fail to show. This quality inspired very agile and individual manners on the dance floor.

In the old "contra dances" many people were not satisfied with the standard movements taught by dancing masters. They had individual kinds and pranks, which they kicked out to suit themselves. Some would become famous for these originalities. Visitors would come from miles around to see noted dancers go through the standard measures with their own variations.

The new style turkey trots and tangos are a revival of this taste for more vigorous and individual dancing. But they seem to run more to sex suggestion and less to pure physical merriment and high spirits. One would go a long way to see those old "Johnny Rebs" of '63 do "Turkey in the Straw" on the road to Gettysburg!

That Was Different.

Houston Post: "My dear," says the mother to the daughter, who is lying down with a sick headache and a box of chocolates, "here is a letter from your Uncle George saying that Lucy Tottle, who is away at school, has received a medal of honor for her perfection in art and music. It would be very nice of you to put on your hat and run down the street and tell the other girls."

"Oh, mamma, I feel too miserable to walk a step."

The mother, opening another letter, glances at it, gulps with surprise, and exclaims:

"Here's a letter from Aunt Jennie. She says Mildred Glimp has been flirting and carrying on dreadfully all summer at that hotel in Canada."

"The horrid thing!" exclaims the daughter, sitting up and reaching for her hat. "Come mamma, let's go make some calls."

Are Women Good Risks?

New York Evening Post.

Is it the intention of women which warns them of approaching death, and makes them undesirable risks for insurance companies?

Are unmarried women better risks than married women?

All things considered, should women be accepted as readily as men and on equal terms?

These are some of the questions discussed at the medical section meeting of the American Life Insurance association in St. Paul last Tuesday. The insurability of women is at present one of the most interesting and uncertain phases of "the most fascinating business in the world," as J. F. Roche, vice president of the Manhattan Life Insurance company, called it today.

"I am convinced that this belief in women's intuition is based solely on the fact that the medical examinations of women are not as thorough as those of men," he said, "and that women are more apt to have diseases of which they alone are aware. Of course, when these women are insured, it is a case of decidedly adverse selection. But women are divided into four classes with us, and one of these classes compare favorably with men. In fact, statistics show that they are even more favorable than men.

This class is made up of unmarried, self-supporting women. They are the best risks, and next to them come widows and divorcees, who, in this instance only, are classed together. The worst risks are the married women, although those whose premiums are made payable to their estates are not as unsafe as those who make them payable to their husbands. Formerly insurance companies discriminated against women by charging an extra premium, but that is not so now, although most companies still limit the insurance of women. But this may change in the near future, as all old ideas concerning women are changing."

Even now eight companies accept women on equal terms with men, according to the report made by Dr. Ambrose Talbot of Kansas City. And it is the belief of Louis I. Dublin, statistician of the Metropolitan Life, that this equality should and will soon be generally recognized. He is quoted as summing up the situation in this way:

"It is fair to concede, therefore, that the mortality experience of women insured in ordinary plans can be made to present the same favorable aspect as that which is now observed among insured men. To bring such results about, the insurance companies need only to be up and abreast of the times. They must be ready to appreciate the changing status of women in the social and economic world. Women are becoming more and more economic producers. Millions of women are today engaged in industry.

"All sharp limitations of a former time as to what was woman's sphere are being broken down, and we find her side by side with men in the steel mill as well as in the office. Even housewives are recognized as having an economic position fully comparable with that of their sisters in industry. Under such conditions it is a narrow policy which would put unnecessary and harsh restrictions on the insurance of women on the score of sex alone.

"I believe that this advanced attitude in developing our plans for the insurance of women will have to be taken. The field is a large and growing one, and presents to active insurance men a virtually untouched sphere for active canvassing. Methods must be somewhat changed, but the prospect is a promising one. If a sufficiently representative exposure be obtained, the death rate as well as the lapse rate will be found to be satisfactory."

Pocahontas Was the First.

Richmond Times-Dispatch: We want to know why our industrial editor prints a lot of things Virginia is "getting long on" and includes "Virginia-grown peaches?" Virginia has been "long" on peaches ever since Pocahontas.

The Dear Old Farm.

I remember, I remember, the house where I was born;
The gaps between the siding where the sun came in at morn;

I remember, I remember, the stovepipe throught the floor;
The kitchen stove that, always fed, was always wanting more;
The coal I used to carry, the wood I had to get;
The boots that stuck so tightly when I got them cold and wet.

I remember, I remember, the grindstone where I ground
Some forty million sickles—how I turned it round and round
Till at last I felt like dropping—asked if we were not most through—
Learned that we were nearly finished; just another hour or two.

I remember, I remember, how those summer nights would speed;
How I thought that I could never get the sleep I seemed to need;
I recall the voice that woke me when the dear old clock struck four,
And the ever-ready bootjack that hung up behind the door.

I remember, I remember, how the pigs would grunt and squeal,
As I came across the barnyard with their early morning meal,
And I've some slight remembrance of the calves I used to feed;
And do I recall the woodpile? O yes, very well, indeed.

I remember, I remember, how sore my feet would get,
I think some of the tenderness is lingering in them yet;
I remember quite distinctly that I thought it very fine
To start at work at 4 a. m. and work at night till 9.

I remember, I remember, how I used to long to be
One of those swell city fellows that I sometimes chanced to see;
And I think that I remember how the folks all used to smile
When I said I'd try the city in a very little while.

I remember, I remember, I got away at last,
And I found that fame and fortune didn't come so very fast,
But the work I hated hardest I liked better than the best
That I managed to discover on that dear old farm out west.

I remember, I remember, they write the fiction yet—
How they told us that the farmer was the one best winning bet;
But so long as I remember all the work I used to do
I will stick right to the city—I will stick—I'll stick like glue.

Governorship Talk Becoming General

Papers Picking Their Favorites.

Danger in Numbers.

Greenbush Tribune: Senator Elwell, the good roads advocate, has announced his intention of running for governor. It will very likely be the same old story over next year. So many want-to-be-governors will try for the nomination that Eberhart will have smooth sailing again.

Calls for New Deck.

Walker Pilot: Sam Gordon thinks that the cards should be all shuffled up and a brand new deal made for a candidate for governor. Sam drew the deuce two years ago and we don't blame him for calling for a new deck.

Foolish to Try.

Red Wing Eagle: At this distance it looks like a very foolish speculation for Governor Eberhart to expect being re-elected governor. His threat of a special session of legislature, and then backing out of it when the time came for making good the threat, did not strengthen his position any too much in various circles.

Seems Peeved at Adolph.

Worthington Progress: James A. Peterson, who gave Knute Nelson a close race for the United States senatorship last year, is being urged to enter the Republican primaries next spring against Governor Eberhamsmithhill. If we thought the Republican nominee for governor had any chance of being elected next year, we would urge the nomination of the Hon. "Jim" by all means. He is not the kind of a mongrel Eberhart is, but we don't care if we do say it, Jim Peterson is a decent American of Swedish descent, and that is one thing no Swede can truthfully say of Eberhambrewsmithhill.

Should and Can Be Done.

Martin County Sentinel: We are willing to concede that Governor Eberhart, with his well-oiled machine, will be a hard man to beat, but it should be done and it can be done.

Progressives Should Unite.

Alexandria Post News: Unless we mistake the signs of the times there will be a number of candidates striving to wrest the Republican nomination from Governor Eberhart next year, repeating the history of the campaign of 1912 and its mistakes, and dissipating the forces of the opposition. Here is the Progressives' opportunity to bring forward a strong candidate for governor. Those who earnestly desire the election of a progressive governor will find that a three-cornered fight for the election offers greater prospect of success than a free-for-all race for the Republican nomination. The independent vote in Minnesota has been a strong element in recent state elections and, if centered about a strong personality in 1914, it would mean the election of that candidate.

Elwell Looks Good.

Spooner News: Senator Elwell of Minneapolis has announced himself as a candidate for gubernatorial honors at the next election. The senator has a good many friends scattered through the state and he will make a formidable candidate. His bill for good roads is conceded to be the best so far placed upon our statute books, though a concerted effort seems to have been made to put both the senator and his law in the discard by the politicians of the state house.

If Democrats Keep Out.

Cass Lake Times: Tom Noswal, a vigorous writer, has opened the gubernatorial campaign for 1914 in the Northfield News and brings forward for our consideration William E. Lee of Long Prairie, James Peterson of Minneapolis and Senator Elwell of the last named city as prospective candidates. Eberhart is quietly laid on the highest political shelf, and Iverson, who has been itching for gubernatorial honors for many moons, is almost neglected in his theme. Tom squarely hints that Eberhart and his handy man, Ed. Smith, should be bled and turned out to grass for a season, and if we may attempt to fathom his mind, he believes that Lee, who made a good run last year, will carry off the honors. There is still room for other candidates and before the primaries are called there may be a dozen "barkises," all ready to fight for the place. One thing is practically sure: we can employ but one and the state wants the best one of the lot. If Lee shall be the one on whose shoulders the mantle of Adolph may fall he may be elected if the Democrats don't interfere.

Many Are Selfish Because of Ignorance

Youth's Companion: It was the fifth scorching day in succession, and the Hadleys all looked wilted as they gathered about the supper table. Every one except Hilda, however, brightened up at sight of the cool salad and berries and ices and lemonade.

"I kept thinking of that lemonade all the way home!" Rob declared. Kent chuckled as he remarked, "I knew there'd be sherbet. Mother always puts a premium on hot weather."

Mrs. Hadley's face looked happy, in spite of the weariness it showed—till Hilda spoke.

"Mother, Cela Lamont just won't take 'no' for an answer—about my going to the mountains with them. I don't see why I can't if I'm willing to go without new clothes. Dr. Stubbs says that everyone ought to take a vacation."

Aunt Nancy looked up quickly, as if she were going to speak, but at the moment she said nothing. After supper, however, she stopped Hilda out on the piazza.

"Doesn't it make a difference," she asked, "whether you take your own vacation, or some other person's?"

"What do you mean?" Hilda asked, uncomfortably. She stood in awe of Aunt Nancy.

"Well, I suppose there's just about so much money for vacation in this family—there generally is. Did Ruth go away last year?"

"She said she didn't want to," Hilda replied, flushing.

"Or the boys?"

"Boys don't care."

"Oh, don't they! Did you ever notice Kent's face when he handles his fishing rod? Or Rob's when you speak of the mountains? And your mother—when did she go away last?"

"Why, mother doesn't ever go anywhere!" There was sheer amazement in Hilda's voice now. She even forgot her annoyance at Aunt Nancy in the absurdity of the thought.

Aunt Nancy's comment was dry. "She looks it," she said, as she turned away.

For a moment Hilda stood stunned; then she ran upstairs in a blaze of anger and locked her door behind her. But she could not lock out Aunt Nancy's words—"Who's vacation do you want? She looks it—she looks it."

Whose vacation did she want? Rob's? Kent's? Ruth's? Her mother's?

MUST HAVE MORE ROOM

Parcel Post Has Overcrowded Mailing Room—Addition Imperative.

It is hoped to have an addition built to the Duluth postoffice some time before the Christmas holidays, if the postal authorities at Washington can be convinced of the need of more space at the local headquarters.

Oscar R. L. Johnson, foreman of the mailing department at the postoffice, says that his men are all cramped for space and that since the parcel post went into effect, the conditions have become worse and worse. At the present time the larger packages for the parcel post have no place at all in the mailing rooms and as a result are in the way of the mailing clerks.

There is no room in the mailing department for the handling of the mail that goes through at the present time, said Mr. Johnson. It is impossible, he said, to utilize the space in other departments, as everyone in the building is working at a handicap for lack of room. Even the basement of the building is used for storage purposes and it will be impossible to arrange that floor for the mailing department.

The only solution to the space question is to have an addition built to the rear of the structure, extending out on the driveway to the east of the building. This will cut down the space for the wagons, but it is the only possible way to solve the problem, according to Mr. Johnson.

Mr. Johnson has made a request of Postmaster A. P. Cook for an addition and the head of the local postoffice has written to the authorities at Washington. A building inspector from the postoffice department is expected here shortly and the final arrangements will be made upon his arrival.

It is hoped by Mr. Johnson to have the addition finished before the holidays, so that the heavy mail at that time can be handled in a much larger space than is used at present. The head of the mailing department plans to have built several large bins in the addition for the heavy bundles and packages that go through the parcel post. This will greatly alleviate the work of his clerks.

national life the 40 per cent of foreign born population. He claimed that the two chief factors detrimental to this were, first, the industrial order of this country, with its frequent injustice to the toilers, and, second, the organized liquor traffic, and that the injustice of the former often renders them more susceptible to the ravages of the latter. He claimed that the organized liquor traffic was more detrimental to good citizenship than the corruption sometimes found in high finance, because it strikes at the moral as well as physical strength of the nation. The Methodist Temperance society aims through a campaign of education to reach the vast membership and Sunday school constituency of the denomination in the interests of good government.

The organization of the conference for business this morning resulted in the election of the following officers: Secretary, Rev. C. R. Oaten, Duluth, who was unanimously elected for the sixth term; treasurer, Rev. J. R. Davies of Hutchinson; statistical secretary, Rev. Jaeger of Browns Valley. The following were elected assistants to the secretary: Revs. Thomas Grice of Virginia, C. W. Ramshaw of Cloquet, Thomas A. Stafford of Litchfield, C. W. Emery of Duluth, R. W. Duel of Sauk Center, and F. W. Harron of Minneapolis. The treasurer's assistants are Revs. G. W. Gilman of Hawley, F. J. Bryan of International Falls, Crawford Grays of Howard Lake, and R. P. Cummings of Beardsley. The assistants to the statistical secretary are: Revs. R. C. Jones of Chisholm, E. F. Stidd of Ely, G. E. Tindall of Alexandria, W. C. Hodgson of Crookston, E. A. Cook of Renville, O. D. Cannon of Ortonville, H. G. Leonard and H. Y. Logan of Minneapolis.

Rev. Dr. McKee, superintendent of the Detroit district, presented to the bishop as a gavel to use in presiding, a mallet which formerly had been used to drive plugs in beer barrels in a defunct local saloon.

Rev. S. L. Parish of Fergus Falls preached the annual conference sermon, and the bishop, assisted by the superintendents and other ministers, administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

The Duluth District.

The annual reports of the district superintendents showed the steady growth of the church in Northern Minnesota. Following is the report presented by Rev. E. K. Copper, superintendent of the Duluth district:

"The year has been one of unceasing toil on the part of the working force of the Duluth district, and the achievements most encouraging. Every interest of Methodism has been presented by loyal and faithful pastors. An examination of the individual reports of the pastors from the different charges indicates large results and advancement in the chief interests of the church. To achieve such success in the face of many discouraging conditions is a real tribute to ministerial fidelity.

"Evangelism Supreme."

"The normal state of Methodism is the spirit of revival. A vast personal responsibility, therefore, is placed upon the ministers in the churches, and upon the laity, to whom God has committed the care of all the churches. In confirmation of this statement we must recall the very positive action of the last general conference and the special appointment of some of our bishops to put into action certain plans, the execution of which should contribute toward the restoration of the normal life of our evangelical and evangelistic Methodism.

"You will note in almost every instance of material prosperity in the churches the evangelistic note has been sounded.

Membership.

"During the year very faithful service has been rendered by the pastors

REV. E. K. COPPER,

in their endeavor to build up the church membership, through revivals held and personal work. Not all the reports were received from the pastors in time for my report, but those received indicate that 222 were received into the churches by certificate from other Methodist churches, 36 from other denominations, 120 into full connection from probation, and 198 on probation, making a grand total of 378 full members and 198 probationers received into the church in the conference year. Eleven members died and 64 were transferred out of the district. As will be seen elsewhere in this report, most of the probationers have come in through children's classes and the Sunday schools. The actual increase of membership cannot be given until the work of the statistician is completed.

Baptized Children.

"It is quite apparent, from the large number of baptisms reported by the pastors, that parents are not overlooking their privilege and duty in the matter of consecrating their children in Christian baptism. In this way they are putting their children into the church, and are willing that they should take the responsibility of getting out. According to reports received, 293 children have been baptized and 172 adults.

"I am sorry that so small a percentage of our pastors and Sunday school superintendents have felt the necessity of organizing the children into classes for instruction according to the disciplinary plan. Herein lies our weakness and peril. We have not been as faithful with the children as we should, but I suppose we should rejoice that the church everywhere is seemingly arousing from her sleep in this all-important work of properly teaching and training our youth.

"A number of pastors have been faithful in giving certificates of registration of baptized children when moving to a new place.

Young People's Work.

"There is an enrollment of upwards of 8,000 Sunday school scholars, with an average attendance of about 5,600. A number of new schools have been added to our list. Approximately, only about 1,500 of these are attending the preaching services with any degree of regularity. This is all wrong. There should be a larger attendance of the youth of our church upon the preaching services. Character will lack fibre without the influence of the sanctuary. A very fine increase to the church membership is reported from the Sunday schools, which is most encouraging; and there are a goodly number of adult and men's Bible classes in the schools. General Sunday school interest has been awakened throughout the district. They are mostly using our own supplies, and are coming rapidly into the graded system.

"The Epworth league has made advanced steps during the year. A most interesting and inspiring convention was held at Chisholm in early June. Bishop Quayle was with us and was a great blessing. From reports sent in it looks as though we had a little less than 1,000 members. The average attendance of Epworthians upon the regular preaching services is not as large as it should be, and too few of our pastors are able to report that the league is helpful to the spiritual life of the churches. Only a few mission classes are reported.

Men's Work.

"There are only three regularly organized men's clubs on the district, but these are doing most effective work, not only in the church, but civically and for social and moral reform of the communities and cities in which they reside. The men's Bible class in the Sunday school has largely taken the place of the club or brotherhood, whether wisely or not, I am not quite ready to affirm.

Evangelistic Data.

"A larger number of pastors have conducted more special evangelistic meetings this year than any year that I have been in district work. Generally, the pastor has been his own evangelist, and they have been faithful, most of them in publicly and privately inviting the careless and indifferent to the better life—with a goodly degree of success.

The New Financial Plan.

"The new financial plan is as yet in its infancy, and as yet by far few of our charges have adopted the same. It is sincerely hoped that with the opening of the new year, and better light that the church has on this new situation, all of the charges will rapidly fall into line, dropping the methods of fifty years ago, and adopt the up-to-date business methods of the church. Could we but see to it that better business methods were adopted, and the business of the church better cared for, we should greatly aid the Great Head of the church in answering our prayers 'that the kingdoms of this world speedily become the kingdom of our God and His Christ.' Only about three-fourths of the charges report as being on the prorating list. The total current expenses are reported as being over $17,000, with only a few charges reporting deficiencies. I am afraid that I almost blush with shame when I report, as I am obliged to do, that less than 50 per cent of church membership contribute toward running expenses and benevolences. Just where the fault lies, I am not yet certain. It would seem that the pastors have been faithful in their efforts to educate the membership concerning this privilege. Only a few of the charges report separate treasurers for regular funds and benevolences; and only a few have been remitting monthly or quarterly. Many are planning for the better system with the new year.

Religious Culture in the Home.

"If there is a decline in the spiritual life of our people, it must be attributed largely to indifference to religion in the home. Only 11 1-5 per cent of our church membership in the district are reported by their pastors as having family worship. Sixteen and a half per cent of the families in membership are represented in the quarterly conferences; and about half of the church officials are taking some one of our church papers. There has been a large increase in the circulation of the Northwestern Christian Advocate and the Epworth Herald remains about the same. Our desire is that there should be at least one church paper in the home of every member, and certainly one in the home of every church official.

"Only a few of our pastors have apparently taken any interest in recommending the reading of certain books that might be helpful in building up the religious life of the people. An awakening is needed badly in this privilege. What a great blessing any pastor might be by suggesting the right book at the proper time.

Duluth Deaconess Home.

"On Sunday, Jan. 12, Bishop Quayle consecrated the new Duluth Deaconess' home. The finances of the home are reported to be in a better condition than any previous time in its history. A new superintendent in the person of Miss Martha Morgan has been placed in charge of the home and work. She has with her a capable company of workers, and is backed by a competent board. We wish for her and the home the largest possible usefulness.

Indian Missions.

"Special evangelistic meetings have been held at our Sawyer Indian mission, and also at the Nett Lake mission on the Orr and Tower Indian mission charge. Brother F. H. Pequette, our missionary at Sawyer, has been faithful in his work, and has very greatly assisted in the care of the Orr and Tower mission, as well as at Onamia and Wahkon among the Mille Lac Indians. Two men appointed as missionaries have respectively resigned during the year, and we are still looking for another suitable man. A number of new converts from among the heathen Indians have been added to our membership.

"Through the helpfulness of our congressman, Hon. C. B. Miller, we have been given full title to eighty acres of land at Sawyer on which we had already built our mission property. We are now trying to get title to a suitable tract at Nett Lake, on the Orr and Tower mission, where it is hoped we may be able to rebuild our mission house, the first having been destroyed by fire two years ago. I herewith present to the Northern Minnesota conference the title to the land acquired at Sawyer, which is in the name of the conference. Some day the church will appreciate this equity more than now.

Finnish Missions.

"There are three Finnish missions within the bounds of the district. The Rev. Matti Lehtonen was changed from the Duluth Finnish mission to Chisholm Finnish circuit in the late spring, Rev. Jaimar Ketonen desiring to answer a call from his Finnish friends in Brooklyn, N. Y. Brother Lehtonen has baptized 102 children, married 33 couples, conducted 14 funerals, received 27 into the church and preached 32 times to the children. This missionary has been very faithful in caring for the young. In addition to this he has delivered a number of temperance addresses to his people, and published a lot of tracts and distributed them freely. He has also published and distributed 3,000 copies of 'Why Have I Joined the Methodist Episcopal Church?' Brother B. A. Barker, the pastor of our English church at Moose Lake, has most satisfactorily taken care of the Moose Lake Finnish mission, which church is the first Methodist Finnish church building in America. Miss A. Thompson, a Finnish deaconess, has done marvelous work in caring for our mission in Duluth. We have three Finnish Methodist Episcopal church buildings, worth $8,500, with an indebtedness of only $950.

Paid on Indebtedness.

"Our people where they have been incumbered with debt have striven to reduce, and in some places to lift same entirely. Mora charge has paid $400; Hinckley, $70; Wright, $60; Hill City, $350; Grand Rapids, $175; Deer River, $40; Aurora, $200; Two Harbors, $635; Aitkin, $70; Coleraine, $166; Grace church, Duluth, $100.

Improvements.

"Mora charge is improving their church and enlarging same at an expense of over $2,000; Rutledge, $45; Sandstone has seated their church, for which they have paid $240; Sawyer mission has put in fine seating at a cost of $145; Wahkon, improvements, $75; Barnum, $63; Aitkin circuit, $105; Biwabik church and parsonage, $80; Hill City, $113; Floodwood, $44; Deer River, $300; Cloquet, on parsonage, $1,500, making it thoroughly modern in every way; Ely, $2,200 for full basement and thorough renovation of church; Winton, $130; Eveleth, $100 on church and $550 for organ; Asbury, Duluth, $70 on parsonage; Grace church, Duluth, $300; Merritt church, Duluth, $328; Aitkin, A. L. Richardson, pastor, has a subscription of $7,500 toward a new $10,000 brick church to be erected early in the new conference year.

Dedications.

"Five new churches have been dedicated in the year. The church at Gilbert valued at $4,000, T. B. Shorts, pastor, was dedicated on Sunday, April 27, with all indebtedness provided for. The new and beautiful little church at Crosby, costing about $3,500, was dedicated Sunday, July 13, and all indebtedness was provided for excepting the loan from the board of home missions and church extension. A neat little parsonage of four rooms was also built at the same time, furnishing a place for the preacher to live. Dr. M. P. Burns of the Minneapolis district aided in the dedication of both of these buildings. The church at Onamia, C. E. Wittrup, pastor, was dedicated on Sunday, Aug. 3, with all of its indebtedness provided for except the small loan from the board. This people have now a comfortable building in to which to worship. On June 4 the district superintendent dedicated the attractive little church at Henriette, worth about $2,000; Claude Spicer, pastor. And on Sunday, June 8, assisted by A. L. Richardson and the pastor, F. B. Luce, dedicated the pleasant and comfortable new church in the new town of Palisade, worth easily $2,000, all paid for but about $100.

"Three more churches stand nearly ready for dedication, and will all of them most likely be dedicated in the month of October. These buildings are at Proctor where a $5,500 building is erected, modern and thoroughly adapted to the needs of this thriving suburb of the city of Duluth; Marble, and another at Gary in the western part of the city of Duluth, and in the new steel plant location. The present building when all completed will cost about $3,800, and will serve the present needs.

Personal.

"Shortly after the adjournment of the last annual conference, the Rev. W. F. Hovis, D. D., of South Bend, Ind., was transferred to this conference and stationed at Endion church, Duluth, where he has done a marvelous work. The church is thoroughly organized, with the yearly budget of $10,000 provided for in a continuous subscription. The pastoral support has been advanced $1,300 and paid regularly on the monthly plan; and the benevolences have advanced 1,500 to 2,600 per cent. We most cordially welcome Dr. Hovis to Duluth and the conference.

"We regret exceedingly to report that Dr. M. S. Rice, for ten years the popular pastor of First church, Duluth, has been persuaded to become the pastor of a church in another city. Dr. Rice has been most successful and influential in his work in Duluth, always preaching to large congregations, and always advancing the benevolent interests of the general church. Every year he has had a most successful revival campaign in his church. He will be greatly missed by all classes. No man has had a larger place in the hearts and affections, and confidence of the people of our city—indeed, we might truthfully say of the entire country roundabout. He has our prayers and best wishes. His successor will very likely be appointed at this conference, and a most cordial welcome awaits him for this most delightful people.

"A number of charges, smaller ones as well as some of the larger, have been visited in the year by our resident and presiding bishop, greatly to their satisfaction. More charges on the Duluth district in the last conference year have seen what a Methodist bishop looks like than in all of its previous history.

Conclusion.

"This is the record of the district, necessarily inadequate and incomplete. It is a splendid showing. Our Methodism is not an obsolete institution; our ministers and our people are not a failure. Our Lord is marching on.

"I close this report with thanks to Almighty God and gratitude to my brethren."

Pass of a band of Japanese, who, is is said, fear the Federal occupation of Piedras Negras because their sympathies have been with the Constitutionalists. In case they should be granted an asylum on the Texas side, it is probable they would be interned, and in that event a question would immediately arise over the payment of their board bill. The Japanese are said to be destitute.

Judge Refuses Information...

Vera Cruz, Oct. 1.—The refusal of one of the judges at Tampico who is directing the investigation into the assault on two daughters of Matthew Gordon, an American, while the father was tied to a tree, to inform American Consul Miller at Tampico of developments in the case, and the judge's accompanying declaration that the consul had no right to inquire into the matter, has resulted in a new international exchange.

The state department at Washington in a wireless dispatch by way of Vera Cruz, has informed Consul Miller that the embassy has been instructed to request the Mexican government to order the judge to render full information in all cases involving the protection of American citizens.

In another case of alleged assault, Washington is acting without the formality of addressing the Mexican administration. The consuls at Aguas Callentes and San Luis Potosi have been instructed to demand of the Mexican authorities the immediate release of Lucile Henry and that she be sent to Tampico. Lucile is an 18-year-old negro girl, and was taken from her parents by the captain of a government force while fleeing to the coast.

Would Postpone Election.

Mexico City, Oct. 1.—A bill to postpone the elections, which was introduced in the chamber of deputies last night, was referred to a committee. An effort made by the leading Liberal deputies to force immediate discussion of the bill failed.

auguration, also was in dispute. Counsel for the board of impeachment managers intimated that the entry was made later than this date. It made his debt for securities appear as a loan.

At the opening of the morning session, Melville B. Fuller of the brokerage firm of Harris & Fuller was granted permission to make a personal statement to the court. Mr. Fuller read from a prepared copy. He first referred to headlines in various evening papers referring to his testimony yesterday. He said that he and his firm had been misrepresented.

Told to Limit Statement.

"I have concealed nothing," the witness declared. "I testified frankly and freely before the Frawley committee, although I understand—"

At this point Attorney Stanchfield interrupted, claiming that comment on the Frawley committee "exceeded the province of a personal statement." Judge Cullen sustained the attorney in his contention, and told the witness that if he had been misrepresented in any newspaper he had recourse to the courts.

"But," interposed Attorney Marshall of the governor's counsel, "he claims not only to have been misrepresented in the papers, but also that there were intimations from the counsel on the other side that reflected upon him and upon his firm."

Judge Cullen told the witness to confine himself to a personal statement.

Says Books Are Correct.

"The books of my firm are absolutely correct," Mr. Fuller then said. "No balances were forced. No items were omitted or concealed in them to protect Sulzer or anyone else."

Most of the morning session was devoted to an effort by the managers to show how and why Governor Sulzer rewarded his campaign secretary, Louis A. Sarecky, by procuring him a $4,000 job in the state immigration service.

They evidently did not wish to call Sarecky as a witness unless forced to do so, and endeavored to establish their point by reading excerpts from the proceedings of the Frawley investigating committee, before whom Sarecky repeatedly refused testimony.

Defense Objected.

Counsel for the governor objected to this line of evidence. Judge Werner asked Mr. Stanchfield of the prosecution whether Sarecky was to be called as a witness. One of the Sulzer lawyers informed him that Sarecky was under subpoena from the managers' counsel.

"But," interrupted Mr. Stanchfield, "you need not understand from that fact that the managers are going to make him their witness."

Presiding Judge Cullen then ruled that Mr. Stanchfield, in reading the Sarecky testimony, must confine his testimony to the parts in which Sarecky refused to answer the questions concerning the campaign contributions.

Sarecky's Qualifications.

John C. Birdseye, secretary of the civil service commission, testified that the commission suspended its rules at Sulzer's request in order that Sarecky might be appointed deportation agent at a salary of $4,000. This was on the ground that Sarecky was "master of five languages," and was "peculiarly equipped for the position" by reason of his knowledge of the jargon of the races which largely constitute the state insane hospital population.

Robert C. Cumming, chief of the executive bill drafting department for the past thirteen years, the next witness, was questioned concerning the drafting of the "stock exchange reform bills" recommended by the governor. Among these was the stock exchange incorporation bill, which was introduced but never reported from committee.

"What, if anything, did the governor say to you regarding the incorporation bill?" asked Attorney Todd for the managers.

"He simply asked me to hurry the drafting, as he said he wanted it introduced as soon as possible."

The bills were drawn in accordance with the governor's request, the witness said, and were delivered to Senator Stillwell and Assemblyman Levy.

Gray Was Called.

John Boyd Gray of the New York brokers' firm of Fuller & Gray then was called to the stand and examined for the assembly managers by Attorney Brackett. The firm, he said, was composed of Arthur I. Fuller and himself.

"Do you know F. L. Colwell?"

"I do."

"Is he connected with your firm?"

"No, but we allowed him desk room in our office."

"When did you last see him?"

The witness said he had had no communication with Colwell since that time.

Gray said the last time he saw Colwell the latter had told him he was going to Albany to see Sulzer. This date he later fixed as the day on which the Frawley committee held its last session.

Colwell Opened Account.

"Did you have a conversation with Colwell in October, 1912, in respect to opening an account?" asked Attorney Brackett.

"Yes, he asked in my Yonkers office to get a quotation on 'Big Four.' I quoted it and he gave me an order to buy 100 shares. He made two payments against the stock when it was delivered in the Yonkers office, one of $1,500 and one of $1,000. They were both paid to me."

Gray then was questioned concerning whether or not Colwell had ever received a salary from his firm. He reiterated that Colwell never had been so employed.

"Was there never any salary of $50 a week paid to him?"

"Oh, well," replied Gray, "for a time he acted as my private secretary for which I paid him $50 a week."

Gray said that on Oct. 28 that $500 more was paid for the stock and on Oct. 31 the balance, $8,825, was paid, all in currency. All but the latter amount was paid, he said, by Colwell to the witness personally. The $8,825 was paid to the employe, Frederick A. Coe, who delivered the stock to Colwell.

Gray said he had made no inquiry why the payments were made in cash, and had not asked where the cash had come from.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; make a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

PLAYERS CHOOSE TEAMS OF THEIR OWN LEAGUES

Giants and Athletics Will Be Backed By Players of Their Respective Leagues, Which Is But Natural.

Adams Team to Have Big Contest With Kents--- Boxers of the Present Lack Science of Some of the Great Stars of the Past.

BY BRUCE.

TODAY, perhaps, we will have the comparison of the strength of the Giants and Athletics adjudged by that eminent German, one of the most famous since the declining days of the Iron Chancellor, Bismarck, Honus Wagner. And if you have followed the trend of the dope through the labyrinthian trial of the woods of conjecture, you are reasonably well aware of the team that the flying Dutchman will select as the carters of the highest honors in all the world of baseball.

It is charming simple, this mode of selecting the winners by the players of either of the majors, and shows the loyalty that often beats in the breast that in turn beats under the uniform of the stalwart player.

Walter Johnson is interviewed, and comes smiling out of the mental array of facts or figments of fancy, just as the case may be, declaring that the Athletics will win, because, "I have pitched against the hitters of the Mack team and have found that unless I am at my very best, they are liable to beat me."

In turn we can turn to Mr. Wagner, the eminent resident of Carnegie, and listen closely while he gives his opinion upon the forthcoming series.

"I think the pitchers of the Giants will prove too much for the Athletics," is the opinion of the gigantic German. "Those pitchers have been able to give me a lot of trouble and I believe that the hitters of the champion Athletic team will find that McGraw has some of the greatest twirlers in the old game."

Here it is—the men who have played in the American league during the present season and have been beaten rather regularly by the demon hitters of the Athletics, harbor the belief that the sterling members of the clan of Mack are practically unbeatable. Likewise, those who have started the season in the National league with the highest hopes of success and have been hopelessly defeated by the dashing Giants, also are thoroughly imbued with the belief that the Giants will prove triumphant after the smoke of battle has cleared away. It is ever thus. Those who defeat us in the games of chance and skill of this life, we grudgingly admit must be the best in the world. Therefore it is not at all strange that those of the National league should cast their lances in the bannered-brigade of McGraw and march with what they believe will prove the victorious cohorts; nor is it anything to cause thrills of wonderment that the defeated team members of the Byron Ean Johnson circuit should express confidence in the helmeted and militant soldiers of the regiment of Cornellius McGillicuddy.

A Big Game Coming.

WHEN the Adams and Kents await the whistle that will start the two teams in the struggle of next Sunday, the followers of independent football here will see what promises to be the greatest game that has ever been played during the life of the organization that has gloriously assisted in the making of football history in the circles in which it has been a conspicuous member.

Manager Geistman of the Adams has levied on the material of all of the Head of the Lakes region in the effort to line up under the banners of the blue and white brigade the strongest team that has yet represented the Adams association.

Erickson, the two Bradleys and Buchanan are four of the stars of the Adams team who promise to be conspicuous in the biggest game that has been scheduled for the triple A association since it actively entered the football field.

The Kents enjoy the reputation of being the class of the independent teams of St. Paul. There is little question of the Adams being the best team on this side of the bay. A victory over the Kents would mean a long step toward the Northwestern championship. It is safe to say that the West enders will go into the battle with the resolution to play the best game that they have ever shown.

Some Caustic Comment.

ONE of the staid and conservative Chicago papers in reviewing the "Wild Cat" Ferns-Billy Walters scrap at Kenosha, goes so far as to say that the aspirations of the two men to the championship of the universe are too childish to be taken in the least seriously. In the same breath the paper adds that either of the two men would prove very easy for Packey McFarland.

It is a fact, and a sad one in so far as the boxing game is concerned, that you can number on your fingers the great boxers of the day from the scientific viewpoint. There are the Kellys, the Walters, the "Wild Cat" Ferns, et al, and their name is legion, but when you come to review boxers of the plumed rank of Packey McFarland and Mike Gibbons, the color scheme is of quite another shade.

In the days of old we had the McAuliffes, the Dixons, the Ganses, the Ryans, and others by the score. Where are the boxers of that caliber today? We are not making that kind. Why? Who knows. Maybe it is because of the fact that in the longer route contest the boxer was compelled to learn the rudiments of his trade or be decisively defeated.

Commy Has Waited Long.

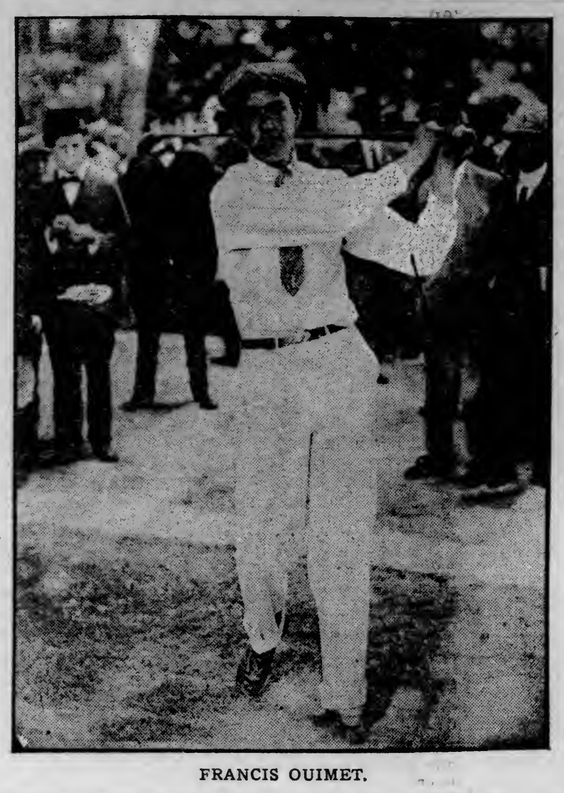

BACK in 1886 Charles Comiskey was the leader of the old St. Louis Browns, a team that was fairly well known in those halcyon days. The Browns won four pennants in a row and also several world's championships, you might be interested to know.

But anyway, be that as it was, the old Roman in those days declared that some day he would be taking a team of his own around the world. This remark was called into radiant being by the trip of the old Chicago White Stockings.

Time has leaped blithely along, as it has a habit of doing, and lo and graciously behold, we have come to the time when the prediction of the white-haired president of the present Chicago White Sox is being borne out.

Good luck to the owner of the Sox, one of the richest men in the great national game in the point of riches, friendship and admiration upon the part of the baseball world. If there has ever been a man deserving of the golden bough of success, this gallant soul is he.

Teams Break Even.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—Yesterday's double-header here resulted in an even break, Philadelphia winning the first game, 10 to 9, and Brooklyn the second by 3 to 1.

In the opening engagement Brooklyn scored nine runs in the first inning. Rixey started and was taken out after two runs had been scored and with the bases filled. Chalmers then went to the rubber and pitched to four batsmen, six runs going over the plate and a man being on third when Marshall went in. One more run was scored before the inning closed. Philadelphia then began a great uphill struggle and tied the score by mixing three hits with two passes and two errors in the eighth, and won in the ninth, when Burns doubled and Knabe singled, scoring Reed, who ran for Burns. Ragan pitched the entire game for Brooklyn, while Marshall was taken out in the eighth for a pinch hitter and Camnitz held the visitors in check in the ninth.

In the second contest timely hitting by Moran, Collins and Wheat off Camnitz' delivery gave Brooklyn enough runs to win, as Walker was in wonderful form. Not a hit was made off Walker until the eighth inning, while sensational catches by Collins and Wheat staved off a rally by the home team in the final session. The scores:

Batteries — Ragan and McCarthy, Fischer; Rixey, Chalmers, Marshall, Camnitz and Dooin, Burns. Umpires—Byron and Rigler.

Second game— R. H. E.

Giants Are Blanked.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 1.—Yesterday was "Tyler day" at the local National league park and "Lefty" George Tyler shut out New York, 8 to 0, in Boston's final game of the season with the Giants. The league champions again presented a team of many substitutes and their hitting was weak. In honor of Tyler a delegation came from Derry, N. H., his home, and Mayor Fairbanks of Derry presented Tyler with a silver loving cup and $100 in gold. The pitcher's teammates gave him a chest of silver, and Manager Gray of the Lowell club, under whose direction he broke into baseball, presented him with diamond sleeve buttons. Score:

Boston .....2 1 8 0 1 0 1 x—8 15 0
Batteries — Fromme, Schupp and Hartley; Tyler and Rariden. Umpires—Klem and Orth.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Boston Takes Two.

New York, Oct. 1.—Boston turned the tables on New York yesterday and duplicated the home team's performance of Monday by winning both games of a double header. The first game was decided, 3 to 2, and the second, 3 to 0. In the opener, Leonard held New York to seven scattered hits. An error was responsible for one of the two runs. Boston hit Ford hard, bunching hits in three different innings for a run each time. The game was featured by snappy fielding, including three double plays.

In the second game, Moseley held the home team to two singles, one in the first inning and one in the eighth. Hartsell, who walked, and stole in the first inning, was the only New York player to be passed, and only three reached first base during the game. The visitors continued their hard hitting, but McHale did effective work in the pinches and kept the score down. A running bare-handed catch off Maisel by Hooper in deep center field, was the fielding feature. The game was called at the end of the eighth on account of darkness. Scores:

New York .....0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0—2 7 1

Second game— R. H. E.

Senators Blank Champs.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Ayres, a recruit, went through his first full major league game yesterday against the Athletics and shut them out, 3 to 0. The star struck out eleven and gave no bases on balls. The champions played second string men, only one of the regulars getting into the game. Strunk, who replaced Brickley in the seventh, made the only clean hit against Ayres.

Washington ...0 0 0 1 1 0 0 0 x—3 7 2
Batteries—Boardman and Gieber; Ayres and Henry. Umpires—Connolly and Dineen.

Want Joint Franchise.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 1.—The application of Marinette-Menominee, Wis., for a joint franchise in the Wisconsin-Illinois baseball league, was the most important feature of the meeting of the league magnates here yesterday, outside of the awarding of the pennant for the season just closed to the Oshkosh club.

President Weeks' report was read and accepted but the election of officers and other important business matters were postponed until a future meeting.

Colonels Beat Pirates.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 1.—The Pittsburg Nationals were defeated by the Louisville American association team, 6 to 5, in ten innings yesterday. The Pirates had a lead of three runs up to the eighth inning, when the locals fell upon the delivery of Hendrix, who had relieved Adams in the sixth and scored five runs. The Pirates tied the score in the ninth, but Ellis held them scoreless in the tenth, while Louisville obtained the winning run off a pass by Cooper, a single and an error. Left Fielder Stansbury, for Louisville, made three singles and a double in four times up. Score: R. H. E.

Refuses Big Price.

New York, Oct. 1.—August Belmont, chairman of the jockey club, it became known last night, has refused an offer of $200,000 for Tracery, the 4-year-old son of Rock Sand Toplary, which has been racing with much success for two seasons in England. The offer came by cable from W. Allison, the well-known newspaper man and breeder abroad, who, it is thought, acted in the capacity of an agent.

EAU CLAIRE IS EXPECTED TO GIVE CENTRAL BATTLE

It is expected that the Central High school football team will be in the best shape of the season for the game with the Eau Claire team, next Saturday.

Physical Director Hanson of the Eau Claire school has sent word to Coach Shilling of Central that Eau Claire has the greater part of the championship team of last season, and the effects of these words upon the hill top boys has been to make them show the hardest work and the greatest enthusiasm of the present season.

Monday afternoon was spent in signal drill and getting over the stiffness of the game of Saturday. Tuesday afternoon the squad got down to hard work and diligent labor was spent in correcting some of the faults exposed to public view in the game with Two Harbors.

"Hold the Ball, See!"

One of the reiterated commands of the coach since the exhibition of Saturday has been to hold the ball. The fumbling in the game against the boys from the ore district was the most glaring fault displayed, and every effort is being made to overcome it.

Last season Eau Claire won the sectional championship of Wisconsin, according to the reports that have been received here. This season the team has defeated the alumni by the score of 25 to 0 and scored a victory over the Stout Institute by the count of 13 to 7.

Special work will be done all of the present week in preparation for the comi ngconflict, the first really serious game of the present season, by the way. The boys are being coached in formation at the kickoff and protecting the runner after the ball is received. The linemen are being given an arduous drill in turning the runner out of the play when the ball is being carried through their side of the line or around an end on their side of the line, and when the team lines up for the battle with the Badgers it is believed that the best team work of the year will be shown as a result of the hard work that is being done to make them right.

If the Eau Claire team is as strong as reports have led Coach Schilling to believe, the game of Saturday should be by far the best of the season to date with the issue very much in doubt.

MAY SHOOT PARTRIDGES

Season for Best of Game Birds Opens in Minnesota.

Good Hunting Reported—Heavy Bombardment Will Begin Sunday.

Today marks the opening of the partridge season in Minnesota.

Early this morning the enthusiasts who are so fortunately situated that they could leave the city were on the hunting grounds with their shot guns seeking the highly-prized birds, for partridges are recognized as being among the most appetizing, toothsome and satisfying of all game which finds its way to the table.

A number of hunting parties of varying sizes left the city yesterday and last night. Some can stay but a day or two; others will remain a week or more. They have been waiting long and anxiously for the opening to roll around once more and others are just as eager to seize the first opportunity to get out into the woods in an effort to bag a few of the brown-feathered prizes. For hundreds this will be next Sunday. The woods about the city will be filled with hunters, most of them amateurs with a large sprinkling of boys. The annual bombardment will then start in earnest.

Unfortunately, the usual quota of accidents will almost inevitably be reported. They will be almost entirely due to carelessness, for some people seem unable to learn or appreciate the dangers of a gun, no matter how much the necessity of extreme care is dinned into their ears. Some persist in firing at a noise in the brush before they see what causes it; others drag their guns towards them with the muzzle first, and show in various other ways that they should not be lalowed to handle at any time anything as dangerous as a gun of any kind.

The partridge hunting this fall promises to be the best in years. Those who have been outdoors report that the birds are numerous and that where they have not been seriously disturbed have been seen in large coveys. In various sections, however, the game hogs have been busy for some time. Where the birds have been hunted the coveys will be broken up and the birds will be quite wild, making it difficult to get close enough to them for a shot. Hunting will be easier later in the fall, when the leaves have fallen from the trees and underbrush. The best plan for those who have no dogs is to walk quietly along the roads, particularly old logging roads, early in the morning and late in the afternoon.

Guy claimed that amount for recommending Player Shaw to Washington with the understanding that it should be paid when Shaw made good. The Washington club notified the commission that it would be ready to settle when Shaw demonstrates his ability to hold his own in major league company.

INSIST ON BEING WRITER-PLAYERS

Baseball Fraternity Defies National Commission's Recent Order.

New York, Oct. 1.—Baseball players who write articles for newspapers on the world's series will have the support of the Baseball Players' fraternity, it was announced by David L. Fultz, president of the organization. Fultz made a statement regarding the rule laid down by the national commission, prohibiting players of the competing teams from writing on the championship games, or allowing their names to be signed to articles written by others.

"We do not pass upon the status of the player-author, as in our opinion that matter rests entirely with the player and the paper itself," said President Fultz. "But if our support should become necessary to enable one of our members to carry out a contract, which he has had a perfect right to enter into, and which another has entered into with him in good faith, we would back him up to the limit."

The attitude of the players toward the rule will be taken up Monday, when the national commission meets here to complete arrangements for the world's series.

Officials of the New York club announced that they have returned $50,000 to persons who sent the money to buy tickets to the championship games. Under the rules, no mail orders for tickets are to be honored.

Mack Won't Submit.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, last night declared that he would not prevent two of his players, Baker and Collins, from writing special news articles on the world's series, against which a ruling was recently issued by the national baseball commission.

"It seems that the commission is making the ruling entirely too late," said Mr. Mack, "and if any such action is contemplated, the players should have been notified long since."

Artisan Golfer Forced Into Professional Ranks in England.

London, Oct. 1.—"Abe" Mitchell, the noted artisan golfer, says that he was driven into the professional ranks on account of the intense hostility shown to him in the last two amateur tournaments because of the fact that he is a working man. Writing to the Golf Monthly, he says:

"My chief offense has been when I was born an artisan. In following my occupation to get a living, first as a gardener, then as a chauffeur, I had more opportunities to play golf than the ordinary British artisan has the right to expect. There are golf game classes in England, and an artisan golfer is not wanted in amateur circles."

Mitchell says that he fully intended to cross the Atlantic to compete in both the amateur and open tournaments, but was warned before his departure that measures would be taken to prevent him from driving from the first tee.

SCOTT AND MISKE BOUT ENDS WITH HONORS EVEN

"Three-Fingered Jimmy" Murphy Has the Better of Steve Gardner of Duluth.

(By BRUCE.)

As has been the case in most of the bouts staged across the bay, the semi-windup of last night's show at the Ulrich arena completely and wholly outclassed the bout that was down on the cards as the star attraction of the evening.

A dark little scrapper who sails under the romantic and somewhat picturesque nom de guerre of "Three-fingered Jimmy" Murphy, and Steve Gardner, from the more cosmopolitan side of the bay, mingled freely in this bout, and while the honors of the evening must be accorded to the boy from the wicked environs of Chicago, Stevie must also be heaped with enconiums as well.

His First Test.

Last night's bout with the tough Murphy was really the first test for Gardner with a boy of any comparative standing. Lest there be some who forget, we might call attention to the novitate of Murphy one evening in the ring with Pal Brown, and state that he did not acquit himself with the credit that should be given to Gardner. Murphy has developed into one of the tough ones of the lightweight division. He put Danny Goodman away and has beaten some of the other good boys of the ring, and yet he failed to stop the comparative beginner from this side of the water front.

The Chicago Italian looked faster, appeared to have the harder punch and was more aggressive than Steve. Murphy has a good left that he hooked into the body of Gardner, or swung to the head of his opponent.

The right of the little swarthy son of sunny Italy also was effective and in close he hooked it with telling effect to head and body, and several times in close would stagger the Duluthian with blows that didn't travel over a foot.

In the sixth round Gardner was on the canvas twice for the count and appeared to be close to the land of nod. The friendly bell saved the Duluth boy to all appearances, and Steve came out comparatively fresh and strong for the next round.

The bout started fairly even but as the rounds piled up the knowledge of Murphy gave him the upper hand and during the latter part of the fight Gardner was content to save himself and keep from taking the count.

One should not gather that the battle was all in favor of Murphy. Gardner caught the Windy City lad some hard punches, once or twice shaking him up, but in the main the bout must be given to the three-fingered gent.

It is a peculiar fact that all of the yokels from the village were firm and lou-voiced rooters for Murphy, it seeming that the one great desire of their lives for the time being was to see the knockout of the scrapper from the city. Villagers will cut up at times, gosh darn 'em.

Science Was Lacking.

In the main bout of the evening there was a noticeable lack of the thing commonly called science and ring craft. Miske missed enough roundhouse swings during the course of the evening to supply the momentum for all of the new gates that will be placed in the fenced-in range pasture of the recently opened up Montana land.

During the course of the evening several straight lefts were used. But for the most part the two boxers used methods of attack that would ordinarily have little use in the vocabulary of the expert mittman.

Both men were game and both boys took punishment without flinching. Miske is simply a big kid, lacking his full growth, and therefore exceedingly awkward. This sterling youth is in the most awkward stage of growth, and there are vast cavities of unfilled room in his lank body. He is a comer, but as yet has not reached the high spot of his prowess.

"Steamboat Bill" Scott is like one of the old river packets. It required Bill several rounds to get under a full head of steam, but once his throttle was wide open and his side wheels were revolving with jerky motion, he kept a-going until the end of the pugilistic journey, and never once showed the least inclination to slacken speed.

Bill caught Miske Bill several rights that should have hurt, and yet the tough kid from St. Paul seemed not to mind them very much. Once a rousing right with the steamboat coming in behind it rocked the head of the Misko boy. Also several swings of Miske sent the head of the vessel man back with a jerk that might have jarred his spinal system.

Both of the boys were strong at the end of the bout, and to call it anything but a draw would have been unfair to both of the men.

In the curtain-raiser Ritchie Mitchell knocked out Young Kilbane of Kenosha in the opening round. Ritchie had it all over his opponent, and showered him with a heavy September morn downpour of rights and lefts.

A Good Entertainment.

The show was about the best that has been staged under the Ulrich auspices, the second bout being one of the best that has been given the fans across the bay. The house was fairly well filled, and the spectators filed out with the spirit of general satisfaction that comes when one has been given several thrills during the course of the evening.

WILL PLAY OFF DISPUTED GAME

New York and Philadelphia Will Settle Question on Thursday.

New York, Oct. 1.—Details of the manner in which New York and Philadelphia shall play off tomorrow the remainder of the disputed baseball game terminated by the umpire in Philadelphia Aug. 30 at the end of the eighth inning, are contained in a letter addressed to the presidents of the two clubs by President Lynch of the National league. The letter follows:

"By direction of the board of directors of the National league, the teams representing the New York and Philadelphia ball clubs are ordered to take the field at the Polo grounds, New York, at 1 o'clock p. m. Thursday, Oct. 2, 1913, for the purpose of finishing the game illegally terminated by the umpire in Philadelphia on Aug. 30 last.

"The score shall stand 5 to 6 in favor of Philadelphia, with the New York club at bat for its first half of the ninth inning, and one man on the side at bat (McCormick) shall be out, one ball called on the second batsman (Murray) and no runners on bases. The regular batting order of the New York club shall be as follows:

"First baseman Merkle cannot play, he having been replaced by McCormick.

"The batting order of the Philadelphia club shall be:

"Pitcher Alexander and Substitute Devore cannot play, they having been relieved. The suspension of Manager Dooin from the field on Aug. 30 shall be continued during the period required to finish the game.

"After the umpire has called play the rules of the game shall apply the same as in all other champion contests except that players who are to act as substitutes must be only players who were under contract to and in actual service of their respective clubs on Aug. 20, 1913.

"In event of rain, this game shall be completed on Friday, Oct. 3, or if further postponed, on Saturday, Oct. 4."

THREE FAVORITES WIN.

Fast Time Being Made in Columbus Grand Circuit Races.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 1.—Pronounced favorites in three races in the Columbus Grand Circuit program were winners yesterday, but the Columbus stake for 2:08 trotters did not go to the favorite, Robert Milroi. Cheeny won it after the first heat had been taken by Rythmell. Each heat was under 2:07 and the fastest was in 2:06½.

Directum I. and Frank Bogash, Jr., did not meet, though they were both eligible to the Board of Trade stake, which the East View pacer won handily in straight heats. His best time, 2:02½, was within one-fourth second of his record.

Frank Bogash, Jr., was raced in the Arch City stake, the feature of which was the contest for the place between Del Rey and Foote Prince. In the final heat Driver Murphy drove Frank Bogash, Jr., at top speed in the stretch and his pacer took a new mark, 2:02¼.

Great Scott won the 2:16 pace in straight heats. Driver George Kyger, after placing Polly Ann twice, was unseated and the driving assigned to Charles Valentine. After the change the mare finished third.

Board of Trade stake, $3,000, 2:07 pace, three in five—Directum I. (Ryan), first; Our Colonel, (J. B. Jones), second; Baron A., (Cox), third; Doctor B. P. (Dompier), fourth. Best time, 2:02½.

WILL BOX BEFORE CITY OFFICIALS

Lakeside Club Will Stage Bouts for Mayor and Hicken.

Amateur boxing is expected to be given a clean bill of health in Duluth when amateur bouts will be staged at the Lakeside Athletic club a week from next Thursday for the approval or disapproval of Mayor Prince, Commissioner Hicken and others who may wish to attend the amateur show of the Lakeside organization.

It is believed that boxing under the proper supervision will meet with the approval of the commissioner of public safety, and it is for this purpose that the bouts are to be staged at the club.

In addition to the boxing contests there will also be several other athletic features. Louis Zorbas, the little Greek, will go on with some other wrestler of the city, and several other features will be added to the program.

PETERS TO CHALLENGE WINNER OF CONTEST.

Ed. L. Shave, sporting editor of the St. Paul Daily News, who looks after the interests of Theodore Peters, was an interested spectator at the fight across the bay last evening. According to the announcement of the St. Paul scribe, he will make the trip from the Sainty City to witness the battle between Beell and Yokel and will have Peters at the ringside to issue a challenge to meet the winner of the big bout.

"That should be the greatest contest of years," said Shave. "Peters wrestles Irslinger, the English champion, at St. Paul on Oct. 15. After that he will be ready to meet Beell in the event that he proves a winner over the Briton. With Beell in the proper shape he is still, in my opinion, the greatest man of his weight and inches in the world."

SHOWING PLEASES STAGG.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The University of Chicago football team lined up against the freshmen yesterday for the first time this season and the regulars scored 25 to 0 against the youngsters.

Russell opened the scrimmage as quarter for the regulars. Boyd relieved him later and made a run of forty yards. Stagg was pleased over the showing.

Declared Ineligible.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Collins, the most promising candidate for center of the Northwestern football team, was yesterday declared ineligible because of studies. The squad went through hard practice in elementary football yesterday afternoon, Coach Grady thinking that the men needed that more than scrimmage practice.

Bierman Accident Victim.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 1.—Al Bierman, who played right half against South Dakota last Saturday, was the first accident victim in the Minnesota football squad. While in a hard scrimmage yesterday Bierman's shin was so badly damaged that he will be out of practice for the next two or three days. Coach H. L. Williams put the Gophers through the hardest practice of the season so far.

JUNIOR LEAGUE TO HOLD A MEETING.

There will be a meeting this evening in the Lake Hardware company's store of those interested in the organization of the Junior football league. During the past two years the little fellows have played a remarkably good article of ball considering their years, and it is expected that the league will be better than ever during the present season and that the teams will be even stronger than they have been in the past. It is desired that all those interested in placing teams in the league will be present.

American Wins at Chess.

New York, Oct. 1.—The second game of the series of five between Frank J. Marshall, United States chess champion, and the Bohemian champion, Oldrich Duras, was finished at the Manhattan Chess club early today. After fifty-four moves, Duras, who had opened the game with a queen's gambit, declined, resigned. This gave Marshall two points to Duras' none.

Matched for Ten Rounds.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 1.—Jack Dillon, local claimant to the middleweight boxing championship, and Gus Christie of Milwaukee were matched yesterday to box ten rounds in Terre Haute, Ind., between Oct. 3 and 10.

Brown Has Best of Go.

New York, Oct. 1.—"Knockout" Brown, the East side lightweight, made his first appearance in a local ring since his return from the Pacific coast and had the better of Danny Ridge in a 10-round bout last night. Both weighed in the neighborhood of 135 pounds.

Gets the K. O.

Akron, Ohio, Oct. 1.—George Shepp of Newcastle, Pa., knocked out Tommy Gavigan of Cleveland, in the eleventh round of their scheduled 12-round match here last night. They are middleweights.

Sleep Came Quickly.

Columbus, Oct. 1.—Phil Brock of Cleveland, knocked out Eddie Forrest of Philadelphia in the first round of their scheduled 10-round bout here last night. The men were in the ring just 1 minute and 27 seconds.

RECORD ACREAGE OF WHEAT BEING SOWN.

Scott City, Kan., Oct. 1—More wheat is being sown in this section of Kansas, the zone of recent drouth, than for many years. The farmers are jubilant because the recent rains have thoroughly soaked the sub-soil. They say this will give the wheat a chance to sprout and be in good shape for the winter. During the last few years the soil has been so dry at sowing time that the wheat failed to sprout.

Much of the seed wheat received here is furnished by the Kansas Farmers' Seed Wheat club. Private corporations also are supplying some farmers, taking for their pay one-fourth of the coming crop, delivered. In case of failure the settler is out nothing except his labor.

WANT SOCIAL SURVEY MADE

Also Plan to Get in Touch With New Citizens.

The subject of a social survey of Duluth was taken up yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Central Council of Social Workers.

The Central Council of Social Workers is an informal round table to which each philanthropic organization in the city is invited to send a delegate. It meets for lunch about once a month, excepting the summer months, the purpose being discussion and mutual exchange of ideas. Through the central council each organization and each person interested in philanthropic work is kept informed of what all others in the same field are doing, and of what assistance and co-operation they need.

The central council last spring was instrumental in securing the establishment and organization of the Duluth Remedial Loan association, which is now in active operation. This fall the council has taken up with earnestness the proposition of having a social survey made for this city. A committee of the central council gave this matter careful and extended consideration, and concluded that such a survey ought to be made and that it ought to be made by the city government, as a basis for all the future work of the public welfare department.

A social survey, such as the central council projected, is in the nature of a census of social conditions. The council prepared a set of suggestions to serve as a basis for the plan for making such a survey. These suggestions were submitted to Mayor Prince, who held two meetings with the central council in reference to this subject.

The mayor has never formally advised the council of any outcome of the matter, but the council understands that he has stated to some of its members that he does not believe the city will be able to find the money to undertake such a work.

The central council members believe that a social survey is the thing which the department of public welfare needs first, and that the necessary funds for such a survey should be a first lien on the funds available for the department.

New Citizens

The central council is considering also the practicability of getting in touch in a definite way with the people who take out their naturalization papers in Duluth. A committee of the central council at present has this matter under consideration and it is expected that arrangements can be perfected which will put Duluth in the lead among American cities, as one which extends a hand of recognition and fellowship in a definite way to the new citizens who are made within its limits.

At the meeting yesterday, the central council expressed much regret at taking leave of Courtenay Dinwiddie, who has closed his active work in this city and is leaving next week. The housing ordinance, the narcotic drugs ordinance, and the dance hall ordinance were credited by the members to Mr. Dinwiddie's account.

Poisoned Blood Quickly Cleansed

An astonishing record of serious blood poisoning is daily brought to our attention. And most if not all these startling calamities could be averted were the blood primed, toned and purified in advance by that wonderful remedy known everywhere as S. S. S. Few people realize how quickly the system becomes infected with the acids and ferments from undigested food, constipation and inactive kidneys.

The symptoms are fever, thirst, excitability, dry skin followed by rash, and many indications wrongly diagnosed as Ptomaine poisoning. This condition is almost universal in all climates and is quickly overcome by the action of S. S. S. Many people who act hastily from violent temper are simply suffering from the effects of poisoned blood, produced by faulty elimination. But by far the greatest peril is the daily danger from bruises, confusions, the scratch of a rusty nail, insect bites, poisoning and the house fly that deposits the germs of Typhoid, Malaria, Diphtheria and other malignant diseases.

The medicinal properties of S. S. S. are relatively just as essential to well balanced health as are the nutritive properties of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. And if you will bear this fact in mind and get your blood under the dominating influence of S. S. S. you will not only drive out those impurities that cause Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Pimples, Boils and thin anemic blood, but you will feel anew the thrill of health that can come only from a purified blood stream.

Do not accept anything else in place of S. S. S.; pay no attention to the "Just as Good" claims of those who would sacrifice your health to make an extra profit. S. S. S. contains no minerals, no crude drugs, nothing but the most beneficial botanical materials. So be sure and get S. S. S. and avoid disappointment. HAS SHOWING OF BIG MINE

Large Part of Section Thirty Property Will Be Stripped.

Recent developments at the Section 30 Mining company's property, affords its management reason to anticipate that the iron ore deposit underlying it is equal to any on the Vermilion range, and is not surpassed by the older mines in the vicinity of Ely.

A gratifying feature just reported is that the eastern end of the large ore body has been found to take a sharp upturn and has been tapped on the surface, affording every indication that a large tonnage will be available throuh stripping operations. While this is not the first time that ore has been located at the surface on the Section 30 property, the recent discovery is taken to warrant the assumption that it is capable of extended development as an open pit mine.

"Our property is opening up fully to our expectations and we are now satisfied that we have an enormous ore body," said George A. St. Clair, president of the company, this morning. "We are already mining from the surface at several points, but that is really nothing new for the range. They had open pits years ago at the Soudan mine.

Good Values.

"The most encouraging point about our mine comes in the good values we are getting at depth. Our shaft is down seven levels to a depth of 635 feet and our main work is now being done on the 575-foot level. We are at present mining 800 tons of ore daily, and with the building of a new and larger shaft now under contemplation, there should be no trouble in swinging it up to 1,200 tons a day. We have done over 17,000 feet of drifting at the different levels, so that our development work is well ahead of our mining operations. Our season's output was contracted for early in the season to independent Eastern steel and iron companies and on the present trade indications, I do not think we shall experience any difficulty in marketing our ore next year."

Mr. St. Clair avers that over 200 men are now employed at the mine, resulting in the town at the location showing substantial growth this year.

The property operated by the Section 30 Mining company has had an interesting history. It was opened up first sixteen years ago and then tied up through a long drawn out legal battle between the feeholders, resulting in Leonidas Merritt, L. C. Harris, P. C. Fagan, the Lonstorf estate and the Eaton estate being confirmed in their title.

The present company, headed by George A. St. Clair, has been developing and operating the property during the last six years on a royalty basis with uniformly satisfactory results.

FIGHTS DUEL WITH HIS FIRST WIFE.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 1. — Rising from the breakfast table to answer the door bell, Frank Ivy, a real estate dealer was shot, probably fatally, by his first wife, in the presence of his second wife and their two babies. Ivy fired a bullet at the woman as she ran down the street, and she is now in jail with a bullet wound in her leg.

The shooting was the result of a quarrel over the divorced couple's daughter, who recently was taken from the mother and sent to Whittier reform school.

NOCOVITCH IS UP FOR MURDER

Keewatin Man on Trial on Charge of Killing Two Austrians.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Nocovitch, the Keewatin Austrian charged with the wanton murder of Steve and Mike Vukobrotovich on April 19 last, was placed on trial in district court here this morning.

The work of examining jurors began at 9 o'clock, and up to noon only two jurors had been accepted of the dozen examined. The first to qualify was Theodore Leibich, a farmer from Splithand, who was also the first to be examined. William Purrington of Grand Rapids, the second man to be examined, was also accepted, but all others so far have been challenged by the defense.

Throughout the proceedings Nocovitch sat at the right hand of his counsel, apparently unmoved.

About twenty-five witnesses have been summoned in the case, including sixteen Austrians, the attending physicians and the sheriff and deputies who made the arrest.

Nocovitch is charged with having murdered the two Vukobrotovitch men, who were cousins, on the evening of April 19, as they were returning to their lodging house after an evening at cards. Both men stated before they died that they did not know Louis personally, and no motive for the crime is known.

Attorney H. W. Stark has been chosen as counsel for the defense and County Attorney McOuat is prosecuting.

The jury this morning brought in a verdict of $4,635 for the plaintiff in the personal injury suit of Oscar E. Jackson, as administrator of the estate of A. O. Clyde, deceased, against the Orth Lumber company and F. M. Grimm, defendants.

LIE COSTS RANGE BOY HIS FREEDOM

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Herbert Herbert, a 20-year-old youth, was today sentenced by Judge Hughes in district court to serve an indeterminate term of not more than ten years at Stillwater. Herbert was implicated with William Delahunt in robbing a clothing store at Hibbing for which crime Delahunt is now serving a term in the "pen."

After the arrest of the boys they were brought before Judge Hughes at Hibbing, both pleading guilty. When questioned by the judge at the time Herbert swore that he had never been in a penal institution and the court placed him on parole. Since then, however, it has become known that he had served a term at the boys' industrial school in Wisconsin and Assistant County Attorney Boyle had a bench warrant issued for his arrest, which was served yesterday at Hibbing. The two boys are well known at Hibbing and on the Western Mesaba range. They committed a bold robbery and when placed under arrest Delahunt jumped from the automobile containing the pair and attempted to make his escape. Chief of Police Donahue of Chisholm, who made the arrest, fired two shots at the prisoner, both taking effect, and recaptured him.

HIBBING MILK SUPPLY IS GOOD.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing purchasers of milk need fear no contamination in the supply obtained from dairymen here, according to Dr. C. F. Morsman, who has completed a test at the supply stations and dairies.

All of the four local milkmen more than lived up to the state law requiring 3.5 per cent butterfat, he reports. The conditions at the dairies were found to be sanitary and the handling of the milk was good.

"There has been no evidence of any contamination of the milk here this summer," said Dr. Morsman. "We have not had a single case that could in any way be traced to faulty milk supply. The general health conditions in the village have been excellent and there are but few spots that would not stand the inspection of the most critical civic specialist."

VIRGINIA CHURCH WILL BE ENLARGED.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of the trustees of the Swedish Lutheran church yesterday the contract for improvements, which will cost $7,000 was awarded to Andrew Grande of this city. The building will be raised and a stone foundation built. An addition of thirty feet will be made and a basement will run the length of the building. A modern heating plant and sewer system will be installed.

St. Paul's Episcopal church has been undergoing extensive repairs. A basement has been excavated and a stone foundation made. A heating plant will be installed.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. W. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

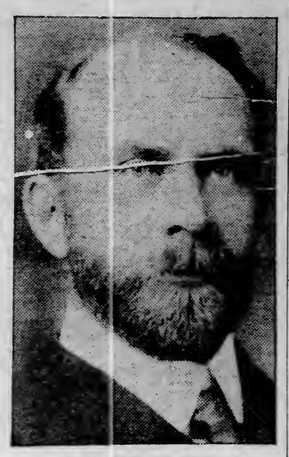

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, tired feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one or two Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women, as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and then just to keep in the pink of condition.

DULUTHIAN TO TALK TO EVELETH BOYS

J. H. HEARDING.

Eveleth, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Members of the Boys' Study and Recreation Club of the First Presbyterian church will listen to an address by John H. Hearding of Duluth Friday night on "Abraham Lincoln." The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. E. Pfremmer.

The boys' club was organized by Rev. Philip A. Schwarz. In addition to the study periods, the members have military drills and athletics under the direction of Capt. J. C. Hartness of Company F, Minnesota National Guard.

At the next meeting, Oct. 17, to be held at the home of Charles H. Rutty, the boys will be addressed by D. F. McIntyre of Eveleth, who will speak on "City Government."

HIBBING DOES NOT FEAR WATER FAMINE

Efforts to Add to Available Supply Results in Exaggerated Report.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The report published in Duluth's morning newspaper that Hibbing is facing a water famine and that the state authorities have been appealed to to avert a crisis, was read here today with some amusement and in some quarters indignation, from a fear that it would create a harmful impression in the minds of those not familiar with conditions.

The facts are that although an effort is being made, and has for some time, to increase the available water supply, there is no famine nor any immediate prospect of one. The water and light commission is desirous, however, of acquiring certain state land south of the town for the purpose of sinking an additional well and C. A. Remington, chairman of the commission, has been in St. Paul recently in an effort to obtain a price on the property from state officials. He has not yet succeeded, but it is expected the deal will be shortly consummated.

The main supply of the town comes from a well sunk deep into the iron ore body. Recently, however, pumping operations began in the Scanton mine, directly south of the town. The pumps are delivering 1,200 gallons of water a minute and the city's supply may be affected. Additional water has been supplied by Penobscot creek, running through the mine of that name, although this course has been condemned by the state board of health and the commission seeks to sink other wells in time to avert a future crisis.

IMPRESSIVE RITES FOR CHISHOLM GIRL.

Chisholm, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral for Miss Helen Winquist was one of the largest held here in some time. Twelve girl friends dressed in white accompanied the remains and served as pallbearers. Following in the procession were all the saleswomen in town besides a large number of automobiles and other vehicles. The stores were closed during the burial hour. The services were held at the Finnish church. Interment was made in the Protestant division of the Chisholm cemetery.

HIBBING ITALIANS ELECT OFFICERS.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a recent meeting of the Societa Italo-Tiroiese of this village, officers were elected as follows: President, N. Martinelli; vice president, V. Battista; secretary, G. Romani; assistant secretary, L. Lorenzati; treasurer, D. Bretto; directors, G. Bonicatto, S. Sarafino; marshal, A. Bonaventuri; guard, Q. Ubertini. Meetings and outings, similar to those conducted during the past year will be continued.

POWER PLANT SALE FORMALLY RATIFIED.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Formal ratification of the deal providing for the acquisition of the Virginia Electric Power & Water company was affected at a meeting of the council here last night.

Mayor M. A. Murphy addressed the aldermen and citizens at the meeting and spoke briefly of the fight to obtain the plant and expressed his gratification at the outcome. He congratulated the officials on their work and urged the citizens to remember the "Do it for Virginia" spirit.

The plant will be operated for a time at least, without any changes in either the executive or operating departments.

S. Oberg was appointed a member of the police and fire commission to succeed Carl J. Johnson, who resigned two weeks ago.

AGED MAN HURT BUSTING BRONCHO.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ben Wiley, about 65 years old, whose home is in the Sugar Lake district, beyond Lake Pokegama, was brought in to St. Benedict's hospital yesterday afternoon, suffering with a fractured skull, and probably internal injuries as the result of his attempts to tame a broncho.

Little is known of just what happened, but Tom Hughes, the neighbor who brought Wiley to the hospital, stated that he had found him, and that apparently he had been attempting to ride the pony which is entirely unbroken. Wiley was unconscious when found and has remained in that state. Dr. C. M. Storch, who has charge of the case, stated that there was little doubt of internal injuries, and refused to admit that the man had a fair chance. The authorities are attempting to communicate with a daughter, who is said to live in the town of Harris.

OFFICIALS INSPECT ITASCA'S NEW ROADS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Commissioners Andrew Nelson, James Passard and Morris O'Brien, together with County Surveyor Oscar Lindbergh, have left for Swan River to inspect new roads which have just been finished on contracts let by the board some time ago. They went first to inspect a road south from Swan River, which has just been completed by Contractor Pelland. From there they go to Wawina to inspect a piece of road just finished by Contractor Pogue, and then to Warba to look over the Bruce road, which has just been repaired. They will return to town tomorrow.

SEEK GOOD MAN FOR POSTMASTER'S JOB.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A civil service examination is announced for Oct. 25, at the local postoffice, to fill the contemplated vacancy of postmaster at Swan River, the position carrying a salary of $354 a year. Further information can be secured from the local secretary of the civil service commission here, or of the postmaster at Swan River.

TO TEACH FARMERS HOW TO CLEAR LAND.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A short course in clearing and farming of timbered lands will be given for the benefit of farmers at the state experiment farm, east of town, from Oct. 27 to Nov. 1. Supt. A. J. McGuire of the farm made the announcement of the course today, and stated that it would be held in the new library hall at the farm. Mr. McGuire is already in communication with Dean A. F. Woods and Supt. A. D. Wilson of the state university, and he expects to be able to announce the list of speakers for the course shortly.

CHISHOLM BOYS ARE PLACED ON PAROLE.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Domitan and Andrew Zedrek, brothers, who pleaded guilty to assaulting Tony Rota, a friend, with beer bottles in a brawl at Chisholm last Monday, were placed on parole this morning in district court by Judge Hughes. Their sentence to the state reformatory at St. Cloud was stayed for a year, and they are to report monthly to Probation Officer Everett of Hibbing. They are to refrain from the use of liquor and are to remain in this county.

Plan Hibbing Hotel.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The organization of a stock company for the construction of a four-story hotel is contemplated by J. J. Cox of Hibbing. The plan provides for the erection of a building on the corner of Third avenue and Pine street, the lots now occupied by the City Drug store and adjacent store buildings. This would allow a space 75x125 feet. The completed hotel building would cost, according to the estimates, $125,000 and would be modern and up-to-date in every detail.

Church Supper Profitable.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The harvest home supper given by St. Paul's guild was the largest and most successful ever given by them. These suppers are yearly events and each finds the members with a larger crowd to care for. The hall was decorated for the occasion in fall fruits, vegetables and autumn boughs and berries. The receipts for the supper were $156.

RHEUMATIC PAINS PROMPTLY DISAPPEAR

Relief Comes After Taking Few Doses of Croxone.

It is needless to suffer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and the only way to overcome it is to remove the cause.

Croxone does this because it neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter the poison from the blood, and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is a truly remarkable medicine for rheumatism, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. You will find it differs from other remedies. There is nothing else just like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it without results. Relief follows the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle and all druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to overcome the worst backache or urinary disorders.

FAIR

The clouds which have marred Duluth's perfect fall weather for two or three days are due to clear away tonight, and fair and cooler weather is forecasted.

A year ago today it was fair and cool.

The sun rose this morning at 6:07 and will set at 5:48, making eleven hours and forty-one minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Warmer weather prevails in the Lake Superior region and from South Dakota southward to Texas, but in Wyoming and Ohio valley states it is somewhat cooler. Freezing temperature occurred in Northwestern Wyoming. Rains fell during Tuesday or last night over the Southern Lake region, Upper Ohio valley, Middle Atlantic and West Gulf states, New Mexico, Colorado and Western Nebraska. Indications favor a continuance of generally fair weather in St. Louis and Douglas counties during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

TARIFF ACTION IN THE SENATE IS FORCED TO WAIT UNTIL THURSDAY

tax may further prolong the deliberations, however.

Simmons Asked for Delay.

When the senate met the conference report on the bill as agreed to by the house was presented. Senator Simmons, for the conferees, asked that the conference report be allowed to lie on the table until tomorrow. He offered no explanation of the request, but it was granted and the consideration of the tariff bill went over.

The petition for the caucus was signed by Senators Reed, Pomerene, Hitchcock, Martine and many others. Each of these senators had some particular item in the conference agreement to which they objected. The exact purpose of the caucus was not stated in the call that went out to senators early this morning, but it was expected that the entire tariff report would be under fire.

No Prediction by Simmons.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee and of the joint conference committee, declined to predict when the caucus met what action would be taken as to the conference report. The house passed the report yesterday and no course was open to the senate today other than to agree to it or to send the whole thing back to another conference. It was not expected that this latter course would be adopted, but Chairman Simmons withheld all of his plans for action in the senate today until the action of the Democratic caucus should be determined. The proposed compromise in the cotton futures tax was also under consideration in the caucus.

La Follette Makes Threat.

The threat of Republicans, including Senators La Follette and Penrose, that they might try to send the conference report back to the conference committee as soon as it was taken up in the senate further complicated the situation that confronts the Democratic leaders this morning. It was feared that a movement of that kind, if it received the support of any Democrats, might gain sufficient strength to force the conference report back into another conference with instructions that would embarrass the conferees in the effort to reach another agreement.

Democratic members of the finance committee were called together hurriedly by Chairman Simmons and the new complications were taken up. Parliamentary clerks of the senate were also called in to go over the parliamentary procedure so that the Democratic leaders might know just what situation would confront them on the floor of the senate.

Statement By Reed.

"We are simply insisting that the senate shall have sufficient time to study and familiarize itself with the conference report on the tariff bill," said Senator Reed, who circulated the petition for the Democratic caucus.

"Many things were put in and taken out of the bill by the conference committee, and we demand the right to become very familiar with the scope of the bill. It is the same attitude that we take towards currency legislation."

Senators who signed the petition for the caucus were Reed, O'Gorman, Shafroth, Myers, Salisbury, Owen, Hollis, Hitchcock, Pomerene and Martine.

House Vote 254 to 103.

The Democratic tariff revision bill left the house last night on what the party leaders hoped would be its last journey to the senate. After many hours of debate, the house adopted the main conference agreement on the bill, 254 to 103, almost a strict party vote. Mess is charged with rifling the bunks while the Greeks were at work with the section gang. When the Greeks returned to their abode they found many of their belongings on the missing list. A search for the robber was instituted. The laborers got on Mess' trail and soon had him in custody. He was bound over to the grand jury.

Greek Laborers Robbed.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph Mess, a big German, thought the war between Greece and Turkey had started again yesterday when he was surrounded by a score of Greek laborers who accused him of robbing their section house at Britt, a point north of the city on the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific road. Mess was charged with rifling the bunks while the Greeks were at work with the section gang. When the Greeks returned to their abode they found many of their belongings on the missing list. A search for the robber was instituted. The laborers got on Mess' trail and soon had him in custody. He was bound over to the grand jury.

At the end of a short but bitter fight for the adoption of the report, Representative Underwood, the Democratic leader, succeeded in carrying through the Smith-Lever cotton futures tax amendment by a vote of 171 to 161. Democrats and Republicans alike voted on this without regard to party, and a large portion of the Democratic membership from southern states joined in the vigorous demand that the whole subject be carried over to another session of congress.

Cotton Futures Tax.

The cotton futures tax question now rests entirely with the senate. The house concurred in the Clarke amendment put into the tariff bill by the senate, but added the Smith-Lever-Underwood plan as another amendment. Unless the senate will accept this change, which has the indorsement of the president, the whole cotton futures plans will again have to be considered in the joint conference committee and again reported to both houses of congress for action.

The tariff bill itself came in for warm praise from all Democrats. On the final passage of the conference report, embracing all of the bill except the cotton tax, Representatives Donohoe of Pennsylvania, Lazaro, Morgan and Broussard of Louisiana, Democrats, voted against it, while Representatives Kelley of Pennsylvania; McDonald of Michigan and Rubley of Pennsylvania, Progressives, and Manahan of Minnesota, Stafford and Cary of Wisconsin and Kent of California, Republicans, voted with the majority.

Speaker Clark took the floor in the last moments before the vote, to congratulate the president, Representative Underwood and the Democratic party in general upon the success of the tariff program. He defended the caucus plan and ridiculed the suggestion of Representative Murdock that no tariff bills in the future would be drafted in this way.

FEWER SHARES SOLD ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Decrease of About 31,000,000 Reported for Nine Months.

New York, Oct. 1.—Business on the stock exchange for the nine months of the calender year ending yesterday, showed a marked falling off in comparison with the corresponding period of 1912, despite the greater activity and general price advances of the last few weeks.

At the close of yesterday's session a total of approximately 65,000,000 shares was recorded for the first three-quarters of the year, while bond sales aggregated about $382,000,000. These totals represent a decrease of about 31,000,000 shares and $165,000,000 bonds compared with the same period last year.

Figures Misleading.

To an extent, however, these figures are considered misleading for the reason that under the policy of reform inaugurated by the exchange early in the year, the daily operations of the last few months are believed to represent more actual business than was transacted in former years, when manipulation often was of a flagrant character.

Brokers view the outlook as more hopeful than some months ago. This is indicated in the partial recovery of the price of stock exchange seats from their low price of the mid-year. Conservatism is still the keynote, however, and that attitude may be expected to continue pending a better understanding of the tariff and currency bills and other potent factors.

CLAIM MURDERER'S TRAIL IS FOUND

Another Lead Is Being Followed in the Rexroat Case.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The man known only as "Spencer," who lured Mrs. Mildred Allison Rexroat, the tango teacher, to Wayne last Friday and is believed to have shot her and placed her body on the railroad track, answers the description of Edward Spencer, formerly of West Chicago, Sheriff A. A. Kuhn of Du Page county asserted today.

He added that he expected to have Edward Spencer in custody when the inquest reopens tomorrow morning. The sheriff said that Spencer lived in West Chicago, which is not far from Wayne, two years ago, and was a railroad fireman.

"He was discharged because a woman reported that he had insulted her while she was waiting at the station," Sheriff Kuhn said. "I have been told that he was a frequenter of dance halls, and has the same facial formation and the peculiar drawl which mark the man we want."

Several suspects arrested yesterday were released last night.

CHILDREN'S RIGHTS TOLD BY MRS. WETZ

Speaker at Kansas City Advises Writers and Mothers.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 1.—"The rise of a poor boy to wealth is overworked in our present day literature for the young," said Mrs. Eleanor Wetz, representing the Child Conservation of America league in an address on "Children's Rights" today.

Mrs. Wetz said stories depicting the ragged urchin shaking off the shackles of poverty and advancing to the estate of the millionaire captain of industry had given the boy a wrong conception of life's work. She suggested that a civic hero be used instead.

Mothers, Mrs. Wetz said, should give their children closer attention in the formative stages, and advise them what to do instead of "playing too strongly on 'don't.'"

"There are nearly 2,000,000 child laborers in the United States. As a result of this, together with vice, alcohol and nicotine, last year in America there were 3,000,000 defectives—insane, criminals or paupers. One-third of the last generation in England died paupers, and the United States is rapidly approaching that condition."

Electricity for Tioga.

Tioga, N. D., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tioga is to have electric lights within five or six weeks. A company has been organized and the plant ordered. A contract has been made for the power house and work will be started at once.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

Settle on Courthouse Site.

Stanley, N. D., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—After a strenuous time over the location of the site for the new courthouse the advocates of the place north of the Great Northern line won. A full block has been secured. The south side proposition lost largely because of the fact that only a half block site near the business center could be had because property owners refused to sell at what the committee believed was a reasonable price. It is now anticipated that the excavations for the new courthouse will soon start.

INCREASE IN ORE SHIPPING

Figures for September Are Larger Than Those of Last Year.

Season to Date Also Shows Greater Activity Than 1912.

Ore shipments for the month just passed on both the Missabe and the Duluth & Iron Range railroads surpass the figures for the same month a year ago, and the figures for the season to date are also greatly in excess of those for a corresponding length of the 1912 season.

During the month that closed yesterday the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad shipped 1,938,823 tons against 1,652,735 tons in September of 1912, this being an excess of 286,088 tons in favor of the present month.

In the season to date the Missabe has an excess tonnage of 2,101,539 over the 1912 season from the opening to the last day of September, the figures for the present season to date being 9,830,726 against 7,729,187 for a corresponding period in 1912.

Figures given out by the Duluth & Iron Range auditing department show that this road has shipped considerably more ore during the present season to date than was shipped during a corresponding period of the 1912 season.

The figures to date for the Iron Range road are 8,194,738 against 7,310,194 for a corresponding period of 1912.

During the month just closed the Iron Range shipped to the docks some 1,518,030 tons compared to 1,130,482 tons for September of last year.

These figures, coming as they do during the latter part of the season, indicate that the amount of ore shipped during the present year will have a comfortable margin over the tonnage record of last year.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 1.—The freight steamer W. L. Rees, owned by the Wilson Transit Company of Cleveland, was rammed and sunk last night by the Canadian steamer Prince Rupert, near the Vidal shoals above this port. The Rees was struck amidships and with water pouring through a big hole, was run upon the beach, where she lies with her stern under water. The Prince Rupert returned to the Soo for examination. She was up-bound and had just left the Canadian canal; the Rees was bound down and heading for the American canal.

SULLIVAN WINS RACE

Four Big Freighters in Speed Contest on the Lakes.

The steamer J. J. Sullivan reached here yesterday ahead of the Mathew Andrews, the Roberts, Jr., and the Richard Trimble, thereby winning one of the most exciting races that has been contested on the Great Lakes for some time, the speed contest starting at Lorain, Ohio.

The J. J. Sullivan left Lorain some two and a half hours behind the other boats. The Sullivan joined the other three boats at Detroit, and from there the most exciting part of the contest started. The time of the Sullivan from Detroit to Duluth was forty-seven hours.

According to Capt. Massey of the Sullivan, the Sullivan was the last of the boats when they passed Detroit, the Roberts and the Andrews being in the lead and the Trimble slightly ahead of the Sullivan.

At Russell island the Trimble had been left behind and the other three boats were racing on even terms. When Thunder Bay island was reached the Roberts and Andrews could not be sighted by the crew of the Sullivan, which completed the remainder of the trip alone.

GIRLS HAVE A ROUGH VOYAGE

The two Duluth young women left on the steamer a week ago Saturday and they had no sooner left the local harbor, when the boat ran into a storm. All the way to Port Arthur the boat was compelled to hug the shore. Capt. Harold Davidson declares that the storm was one of the worst he has experienced in his many years' service on the lakes.

An interesting feature about the trip was that the steamer Goulder left Duluth one hour behind its sister ship, C. A. Congdon, and then beat the latter boat to the Soo by nearly four hours.

Steamers Collide.

Port Colborne, Ont., Oct. 1.—The steamer Ketcham, coal laden, down bound, collided with the steamer Beaverton, bound up, Monday morning between locks 7 and 8, with the result that the Ketcham's stem was broken and a hole torn in the Beaverton. Both boats are proceeding through the canal.

Gates Released.

Conneaut, Ohio, Oct. 1.—The steamer John W. Gates which went aground at the entrance to Conneaut harbor, was released late Monday afternoon after tugs had worked all Sunday night and most of Monday.

In turning around to come in, the stern of the freighter went hard aground on a bar at the end of the east breakwater. The three harbor tugs worked all of Sunday night, but failed to move her. On Monday morning the whaleback Cort and the McDougall took hold. Three tugs and the Cort pulled her off the shoal at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. She will probably go from here to drydock for examination. It is believed that the bottom is damaged.

Company Mourns Him.

London, Oct. 1.—In spite of the denial from Munich of the disappearance of Dr. Diesel, the chairman of the Diesel Engine company at the annual meeting of shareholders today confirmed the story of his disappearance. After expressing the sorrow of the directorate of the company over the loss of Dr. Diesel, who is supposed to have fallen overboard from his boat, the chairman said:

"We can hardly hope to see him again. I am sure his widow and his friends have our deepest sympathy."

The Dyspeptic's Dream Is a Good Meal

And He Could Most Completely Enjoy It If He Ate a Stewart's Dyspepsia Tablet After It.

One of the greatest horrors to dyspepsia sufferers is the fear of food consequences. They know from past experiences that meats, vegetables and fluids will not agree with them. The stomach tells them so and thus after awhile they actually learn to abhor such dishes.

But often in their dreams they experience the joys of eating a hearty soup-to-nuts meal of the good old fashioned kind. When they awake the old fear is still with them.

"He could eat a meal like that if he took a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet."

Of course this fear of food is natural. It arises from an abused and diseased digestion, but the moment you put into the stomach along with the food you eat the very elements that will digest the meal you will suffer no evil effects, and thus lose your fear of food.

Such elements are contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and they are so powerful and yet so thoroughly natural that of themselves, when placed in a glass tube with a mixed food, they will actually digest that food.

More than the mere act of digesting the meal eaten, they go into the blood and thus enrich all the digestive machinery of man so that when the next meal is eaten the fluids are stronger and more capable of doing their work.

A little Stuart Dyspepsia Tablet taken after each meal will quickly restore the dyspeptic's digestion so he can enjoy the meal of his dreams in reality.

MILE OF ROAD COST $100

Nearly a mile of the driveway extending eastwards from the mouth of Lester river on the lake shore has been put in shape at a cost of less than $100.

The work was done under the direction of Henry Cleveland, manager of the park department, who utilized his repair crew and the equipment used for keeping up the boulevard and the roadways in the local parks.

The road was in such condition in places that it was practically impassable. Automobiles and teams were able to get past spots which had been washed out by driving around them, but not without more or less danger. To replace the culverts which were out of commission logs were "snaked" from the lake shore. They were in first-class condition and reduced the expense of the repairs considerably. The old culverts were too small and the new ones were made big enough, it is believed, to meet all conditions.

The gravel was taken from the park department's gravel pit near the mouth of the river, so that its cost represented the hire of the team which was employed on the short haul. The pit is peculiar in that it is apparently inexhaustible. As gravel is taken away a new supply is washed in from the lake to replace it.

AUTOMOBILE WAS RUNNING AWAY

Patrolman Stops Driverless Car on West Fifth Street.

Patrolman Peter Barber was walking along Fifth street, between First and Second avenues west, yesterday afternoon, when he saw a driverless automobile coming toward him.

The officer jumped on the running board of the car and stopped the machine, later driving it back to the place where it started. The car was running at about four miles an hour.

The owner of the car had left it standing by the curb with the engine working and it is believed that the shaking of the machine caused the gears to mesh.

"PRIVATE" DOORS IN THE CITY HALL.

The word "private" has been ordered placed on the doors of several offices in the city hall.

Among other city hall repairs—the bill for which will run to $8,000 or $9,000—new glass was placed in all the doors, and now they must be labeled.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

LAND VALUES SKYROCKETING

Good Crops in North Dakota Stimulating Demand for Farms.

Morton and Pembina County Price Records Already Broken.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Satisfactory grain yields throughout most of the state will be responsible for an unusually heavy list of transfers in real estate this fall, and already many such transfers are being made. Morton county has established a new record high price for land, being $65 an acre, while near Cavalier, Pembina county, the new record just established is approximately $70 an acre.

One of the interesting features of this year's crops is the increase in fruits. Many farmers are growing apples successfully, these including Andrew Graff of Walcott, Ferdinand Blaskowski of Medina, Eastgate Bros. of Larimore and several others, and in each instance the yields are very satisfactory. The success achieved this season will result in other farmers becoming interested in apple growing.

Cavalier has just opened a potato elevator and a large number of farmers in that district have tubers for sale. Next year they will enter the industry on an even more extensive basis.

An interesting report of what diversified farming is doing for one section of the state comes from Sheridan county. The McCluskey creamery is paying about $5,000 a month to the farmers in that immediate vicinity, and the resultant increase in community prosperity is very marked.

J. Rockey of Medina has this year been successful in growing peanuts.

N. D. PRESBYTERIANS TO MEET IN LANGDON.

Langdon, N. D., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual meeting of the North Dakota Presbyterian synod will open in Langdon Oct. 9, continuing till Oct. 12. Preceding it for two days the annual fall conference of the Pembina presbytery will be held.

The county commission operations in the state will come in for thorough consideration at the hands of the synod. The Presbyterians have been strong advocates of this system and have been getting good results in many districts, and several of the prominent delegates will urge the continuance of the board in charge of comity work.

Langdon Presbyterians will provide entertainment for the visitors, who will number about 100.

KOOCHICHING TO VOTE ON BIG BOND ISSUE

Border County Citizens Will Decide Fate of Road Extensions Saturday.

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners have designated Saturday, Oct. 4, as the day Koochiching county will vote on the authorization of $300,000 in bonds for building four trunk roads under the Elwell road law. Advocates of the expenditure of the money for road purposes have distributed an immense amount of literature and have held meetings to give information on the desirability of the roads.

Prominent men in county affairs assert that the commencement of the work would mark a new era in the progress and development of the county.

The proposed roads, four in number, are as follows: One road to run from International Falls a distance of eighty-three miles in a southwesterly direction to Northome, where it will join the proposed state road to Bemidji and the Twin Cities. Another road is twenty-two miles long and to run from this city to the St. Louis county line east of Ely, where it will join the state road to Duluth. Another road is laid out from here west for fifty-three miles, down Rainy river to the county line, where it joins the proposed state road to Baudette, Warroad and Thief River Falls and also with the Canadian highway to Winnipeg. The fourth road will run east from Northome to the Deer River road in Itasca county, a distance of about forty miles.

BIG POWER PLANT NOT YET CERTAINTY

Steel Corporation Acquiring Data on Electrical Project for Black River.

Ishpeming, Mich., Oct. 1.—Although the officials of the United States Steel corporation have not yet decided to build a water power plant on Black river, eleven miles south of Ishpeming, to generate electricity for the operation of its properties on this range, a number of outside newspapers have asserted that the proposed plant is a certainty. The company has had engineers at work for several weeks making a survey that will be presented to its principal officials for their consideration. It is said that inasmuch as sufficient power to operate the mines on this range, can be generated, the decision of the officials will probably be favorable, though in any event nothing will be done towards building the dam until next year, or later.

The Steel corporation owns a large power plant on the Menominee range. It supplies compressed air and electricity to the Chapin mine at Iron Mountain. In the event of the development of the water power in the district south of Ishpeming, the electric current will not only be utilized at the mines in Ishpeming but it will also be used at the Champion property and at the Stegmiller on the Swanzey range. Black river is a large stream, capable of developing considerable power.

The hydro-electric works are already serving mines on the Marquette range. One is the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's plant on Carp river, and the other is owned by the Cambria Steel company on the Michigamme river, at Republic. The latter has been in operation for many years, furnishing power only to the Republic mine. The electricity at the Carp river plant, which cost in excess of $1,000,000, is transmitted over an extensive stretch of country, and is now serving practically all of the corporation's properties on the Marquette and Swanzey ranges.

The United States Steel corporation has ceased explorations on lands of the Michigan Land & Iron company, in the Fence river country, midway between the Marquette and Menominee ranges. It is not known just what the result of the drill tests have been, but it is thought that the exploratory was of such a nature as not to warrant continuing drilling operations. The field is an extensive one and many of the best informed mining men are of the impression that mines will be developed there at some time. Only a small portion of the territory has ever been explored.

ODANAH INDIANS PLAN CONFERENCE.

Odanah, Wis., Oct. 1.—On Saturday Oct. 4, will occur a general council that will be of importance to local Indians. It will be for the purpose of settling the long standing tribal attorney matter. The council is called for 10 o'clock in the morning.

It is contended that the Indians at the present time are sadly in need of such a person as the much disputed "State School and Swamp Land" case is to come up for hearing in the United States supreme court Oct. 17 and an attorney is needed to look after their interests there at that time. Practically our entire village as well as the largest part of the reservation is involved in this case and it is desired to secure the aid of a competent attorney. Last year this same matter came up in the senate in what was known as the Esch bill but was killed by an attorney in Washington, D. C., who appeared in behalf of the band. Several years ago the Indians won out in the case of "Hitchcock vs. the State of Wisconsin." Councils after councils have been held in the past but outside of a lot of talking and quarreling nothing has been accomplished.

BULL MOOSE PAPER TO BE LAUNCHED SOON.

Martin, N. D. Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The arrangements for the publication of a state-wide weekly to promote the Bull Moose cause has been completed and George L. Nelson of the Searchlight at this place has removed his family to Fargo. F. A. Putz will conduct his paper here. Mr. Nelson first intended to locate at Minot but considered the mail facilities in Fargo very superior and changed his plans. He is said to have the backing of leading Bull Moosers, including the representatives of the central committee.

DEDICATE CAVALIER COURTHOUSE OCT. 10.

Cavalier, N. D., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The dedication of the new Pembina county courthouse is slated for Oct. 10. The event will attract people from every section of the county and numerous visitors from elsewhere in the state. The county commissioners and the Cavalier Commercial club have the program in charge and have arranged for some prominent speakers. The courthouse is held to be one of the best in the state. The entire building is fireproof and modern in every detail. The sheriff's residence and jail are also of the latest type and are as safe as can be constructed. The county officials are now comfortably located in their offices and everything will be in shape for the dedication on the date set.

The removal of the county seat from Pembina to Cavalier succeeded only after a fight that continued a decade and after it was voted there were three lawsuits carried to the supreme court.

EAU CLAIRE TO BE HOST TO BAPTISTS.

Eau Claire, Wis., Oct. 1.—The state convention of the Baptist churches is to be held in this city on Oct. 13, 14, 15 and 16. An elaborate program will be arranged and many churches of other denominations have offered assistance. Several hundreds of visitors will be in the city, and a warm welcome is already assured them. On the closing day of the convention, Thursday, it is hoped, weather permitting, to give the guests an automobile ride about the city. To arrange for this a citizen's committee will be selected at an early date, to act with the Rev. George R. Stair of the local church.

ESCANABA MUST PAY DEPOSED EDUCATOR

Former Supt. Davis Wins Noted Case Against Michigan City.

Escanaba, Mich., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The last chapter in one of the most interesting pieces of school litigation that has ever arisen in the Upper Peninsula has been written at Escanaba, the board of education having settled with Former Superintendent F. D. Davis his claim for damages because the board in 1910 violated the terms of a contract with him and placed another man in charge of the schools. Mr. Davis, who is now engaged in the insurance business, brought suit for damages on the basis of his contract, and the case was tried before Judge Flannigan. The judge took the case from the jury because he agreed with the contention of the attorneys for the board that it was against public policy for a board to make a contract running beyond the terms of the members, as was done in the case of Mr. Davis, and that, therefore, the contract was void.

On the advice of his attorneys and in response to the urging of prominent educators, who insisted that the point involved was one of importance to the profession, Mr. Davis took the case to the supreme court. This tribunal ordered the case to be retried, taking the position that Judge Flannigan should not have taken it from the jury. The contract was, lacking fraud, sufficient, the supreme court held, and Mr. Davis was entitled to have a determination of damages.

The settlement provides that Mr. Davis shall be paid $1,100, which will include his attorneys' fees and costs. This sum is only a small part of what he would have received under the disputed contract, but Mr. Davis did not make his fight for money, but to establish the principle involved. Furthermore, he would have been unable to show that his constant employment as a school man had been interfered with, as a short time after the Escanaba trouble he was offered the superintendency of the Soo schools, which he declined to accept, preferring to remain in the insurance business.

The trouble between Mr. Davis and the Escanaba board had little relation to his ability as a school man, but was largely the outgrowth of politics.

SEEK SETTLERS FOR ADAMS COUNTY LAND.

Hettinger, N. D., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Few new movements in the state have attracted more attention than the plan of the Hettinger Commercial club to sell off the unoccupied and unfarmed lands in Adams county to actual settlers. Inquiries are frequent and numerous and when the sales occur Oct. 10 and 11, it is anticipated many holders of land and purchasers can be brought together. The club is not charging a cent commission. It is listing the lands at its own expense and at the lowest figures the holders will sell. The idea is to substitute real farmers for the professional and non-working class of homesteaders. In many instances the holders of the land either mortgaged their claims or left the land idle, depending on the efforts of the actual residents to increase their claims in value.

The only protests made are by realty men who are not able to secure any commissions out of the transaction. It is the first time the effort was ever made in North Dakota and if it is a success several other of the newer counties will try it.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Sleepy Eye—A. Bunker Smith of this city, oldest son of W. Smith, cashier of the First National bank, was united in marriage to Miss Cora May Lincoln of Minneapolis at the home of the bride's parents last Monday, by Rev. J. E. Freeman of St. Mark's church.

Rochester—The first teachers' institute to be held in Olmsted county for a number of years has been announced by County Superintendent W. L. Mercer, beginning Monday, Oct. 6, and continuing until Oct. 11. The institute takes the place of the regular summer school, which was not held this year.

St. Cloud—Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Ahlgren were pleasantly surprised by thirty of their friends last night, the occasion being Mr. and Mrs. Ahlgren's twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Mr and Mrs. Ahlgren were presented with an entire set of silverware.

Fork—Last Saturday afternoon at Fork, occurred the marriage of Miss Hilda Aasend and Joseph Monson of Grafton, N. D., Rev. H. J. Glenn officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Marie Monson while Ole Aasend attended the bridegroom.

Herman—Miss Dessie Cater was married to Clare Emerson Sheldon at Herman on Sept. 18. The happy couple will make their future home at Alexandria, Minn., where they will be at home to their friends after Nov. 1.

East Grand Forks—An athletic association, to be conducted under the direction of the board of education, probably will be organized in a very short time. Plans already have been discussed, and it is expected that a committee, composed of several young men of the city, will present a scheme of organization to the board at the next regular meeting.

Moorhead—Miss Lucy Weld, daughter of President and Mrs. Frank Weld of Moorhead, will be among the brides of the winter. Miss Weld's engagement to Curtis H. Pomeroy of Barnesville was announced at a luncheon given by Mrs. Weld at the Weld home Monday.

Nisswa—The barn of D. C. Henderson burned to the ground Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. No cattle or horses were lost, but the contents, including hay, harness and much lumber and other building material for his new home were destroyed. The loss may come to over $2,000.

Bear River—The supervisors of Bearville met recently and in addition to allowing a number of bills, awarded ditching contracts to Martin Stram, on the Langahagen road; Henry Olson, county road near Miles Nelson's, and Cleve Tinkey, a piece of road north of Green Rock.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette — Outweighed fifteen pounds to a man the Marquette high school football team lost Saturday to Ishpeming at the fair grounds by a score of 31 to 0. The Marquette squad showed up in best form in the second and third quarters, when the visitors put over only one touchdown.

Iron Mountain—John Obermeyer, Iron Mountain's plumber and sanitary engineer, has been awarded the contract for the plumbing and heating plants in the new city hall at Crystal Falls. His tender was $5,100. The contract for the building was awarded to Herman Gundlach of Houghton, his bid being $39,800. In addition to the city hall work, Mr. Obermeyer has the contract for the new grade school at Crystal Falls, which will total about $7,000.

Calumet—With the recent arrival of her twenty-fourth baby, Mrs. George Chalklind of Ford River probably enjoys the distinction of giving birth to more children than any mother in the peninsula. Of the twenty-four children but six are living. Before her fifteenth birthday Mrs. Chalklind was married for the first time. She is but 38 years of age. One pair of twins was born. Mrs. Chalklind has been married twice. Her single career after her first marriage extended over a year and a half.

Marquette—The body of Matt Lunni, a miner who was buried beneath a fall of ore in the Cleveland-Cliff Iron company's Lake mine at 9 o'clock Friday night, was recovered yesterday morning at 2 o'clock. Lunni leaves a widow and eight children, the oldest of which is not yet 14 years of age. Four brothers of the deceased live in Ishpeming. The family home is at the Cleveland location.

Marquette—Andrew G. Larson, aged 77 years, passed away Saturday night at Morgan Heights sanitarium. Mr. Larson is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Alfred Danielson and Mrs. Victor Fahlstedt, and two sons, John A. Anderson and Charles Anderson of Marquette.

Marquette—Members of the Marquette lodge of Elks expect that a final decision concerning the plan to start work this fall on the foundation for the proposed Temple on Washington street will be reached at a meeting to be held the evening of Oct. 9, when the finance committee will be prepared to give a full statement of the condition of the treasury with regard to the building project.

Calumet—Fourteen-year-old Margaret Fazakas, the Wolverine girl who was shot in the head during a riot at North Kearsarge the morning of Labor day, was removed yesterday from the Calumet public hospital to her home. The girl has almost entirely recovered. The case is considered remarkable. The girl was shot through the brain.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

New Richmond—The body of a laboring man was found in a straw stack on the farm of John Hawkins, near Hammond. It was that of a transient who had been employed on a threshing crew. He was engaged in a fight in a Hammond saloon the night before and was severely beaten, but the district attorney and coroner decided that he died of alcoholism. The only name known for him was "Shorty."

Eau Claire—A message was received yesterday by Frank McDonough that his son, McCord McDonough, aged 18, had been drowned in a lake near Tacoma, Wash., when his canoe upset. The boy was attending school at Tacoma.

Barron—The Barron creamery received during the month of August 281,161 pounds of cream, testing 79.- 103 pounds of butterfat; price paid, 30 cents. Amount of pay roll $24,893.97.

Chipppewa Falls—Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Miss Mary Fliehr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fliehr, 511 West Spruce street, to John Thorn of Superior. The ceremony will take place at St. Charles' church, Oct. 8, at 9 o'clock.

Odanah—Clyde Spear of Bayfield and Miss Mable Clark of this village were married at the M. E. parsonage by Rev. J. W. Scott. Benjamin Charette acted as best man while Miss Dorothy Wood, was bridesmaid. Only the immediate friends were present at the wedding. They will make their home at Bayfield.

Saxon—Frank E. Vanlen of Saxon is rebuilding and is now laying the foundation for a structure 30x70 feet on the main street, two stories high. The lower floor will be fitted up as a saloon with living rooms in the rear while the upper floor will be used as a dance hall. The building will be ready for occupancy by Jan. 1.

Madison—"I should worry." "Uh-huh." No, but the folks do," and like answers have been found following the questions on the cards used in the religious census now being taken at the University of Wisconsin. These answers to questions regarding denomination were made by freshmen, who in the excitement of their first few days of college life are ready to make light of many things.

Milton — The seventy-fifth anniversary of the establishment of the Congregational church of this village was celebrated Sunday with a special program. President Edward Dwight Eaton of Beloit college delivered the commemoration sermon.

Ashland — William La Chapelle, well known in Ashland and a member of the Ashland lodge of Elks died in California last week. The remains will be brought to Bayfield for burial. The deceased is a brother of Capt. La Chappelle, formerly of the tug Ashland.

Ashland—Mrs. Agnes Zasada died Saturday night of old age. She was 81 years old and leaves a husband and three grown up sons, Joseph, Michael and B. D. The deceased resided in Ashland twenty-six years. The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Polish church.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Jamestown, N. D.—William Paulson of this city, a Northern Pacific brakeman, was shot twice by a man who was stealing a ride upon a freight train near Berner, a siding three miles west of Jamestown. One bullet entered the right breast, struck a rib and was deflected, coming out at the back. The other bullet struck his right forearm above the elbow and came out the other side of the arm. Neither wound is particularly serious.

Mandan, N. D.—Herman Yunck, a pioneer resident, was found dead in bed. For years he had suffered from heart trouble and his death was no surprise. He was a local hotel man and was one of the organizers of the local fire department. Earlier he had been a railroad man. A large family mourns his death.

Rugby, N. D.—The Rugby creamery is offering 30 cents a pound for butter fat, and the Pierce County Tribune, published there, is urging the farmers to support it. During the threshing season cream receipts have fallen off to an alarming extent.

Oakes, N. D.—Seventy of the fine drove of hogs of Charley Johnson of Riverdale, near here, died of cholera and about thirty-five more were infected. Assistant State Veterinarian J. A. Logan was there and pronounced the disease as cholera. This is the first so far reported in the county. There is a report that some hogs east of Ludden died suddenly from cholera, while other reports give deaths of hogs at Verona, Sheldon and Lisbon.

Grand Forks, N. D.—A qualifying examination for candidates for the Rhodes scholarship will be held at the University of North Dakota, Tuesday, Oct. 14, and Wednesday, Oct. 15. This examination occurs but twice in three years. Last year Edward Porter of Ellendale won the honor from this state and will attend Oxford during the next three years.

Woonsocket, S. D.—The dedication of the new $35,000 Methodist church building here has been postponed and it is expected Sunday, Oct. 12, will be selected as the date for the exercises.

Clear Lake, S. D.—A fine new post-office building has been completed here and the postoffice has been moved into it. It is claimed to be one of the best equipped buildings for postoffice purposes in this part of the state.

Sinai, S. D.—At the annual meeting of the Sinai Civic league the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Henry Larson; secretary, Mrs. Adolph Larson; treasurer, Mrs. Christopher Bern. The league is working on a project to have the fire-fighting facilities of the town increased so there will be less danger of disastrous fires.

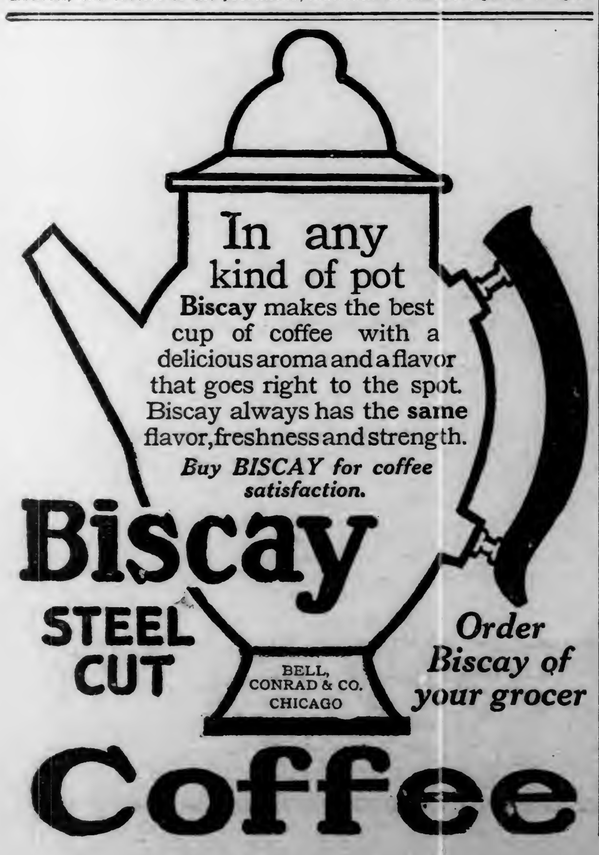

Bowman, N. D. — Announcements have been received of the wedding of Miss Della M. Downey to James T. Guenther, which occurred at Bowman. The bride and bridegroom will make their home at Marmarth, near which place the bride has a claim.

Larimore, N. D.—Loneliness and monotony are thought to have deranged the mind of Mrs. Anna Parsons, aged 67 of Larimore, who was committed to the state insane asylum at Jamestown by the county insanity board. She had lived alone with her husband for several years on a farm in Larimore township.

Grafton, N. D.—A quiet wedding was solemnized in Grafton Monday afternoon when Miss Inga Amanda Clementson of Clearwater county, Minn., and Norbert Monsebraten were united in marriage by Rev. H. J. Glenn. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Monsebraten while the bridegroom was attended by Carl Clementson.

Wilton, N. D.—Miss Anna Carlson and Nelson Hambly, well known young people of Wilton, were quietly married in Bismarck, Friday evening. The happy couple returned to Wilton Saturday morning.

Washburn, N. D.—Ira Wright and Miss Laverna Newman of Wilton drove to Washburn Saturday morning and were united in matrimony the same day.

TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

Frank Magie Quits as Deputy Sheriff After Twenty Years.

Announces Intention of Being Candidate Against Sheriff Meining.

Frank L. Magie, for over twenty years deputy sheriff of St. Louis county and probably one of the best known officers in the county, this morning tendered his resignation to Sheriff John Meining. Mr. Magie announced that he intended becoming a candidate for the office of sheriff at the election next year.

Mr. Magie has served under five different sheriffs. He received his appointment first under the administration of Paul Sharvey and continued in office with Sheriffs W. C. Sargent, W. W. Butchart, W. J. Bates and John Meining.

While in the employ of the county in this capacity, Mr. Magie has had a number of thrilling escapes. Once he was shot in the head, the bullet tearing a deep gash in his scalp, while he was attempting to make an arrest. Numerous other narrow escapes have been encountered by him.

He is probably one of the best known deputies in the county and has friends in every city and hamlet on the range as well as a host of them in this city.

His resignation from the sheriff's force is said to follow some differences of opinion which have been becoming more acute each day in the sheriff's office. His letter of resignation, which also states his intention of becoming a candidate for sheriff follows:

The Letter.

"Mr. John R. Meining, sheriff, St. Louis county:

"I hereby tender to you my resignation as deputy sheriff of St Louis county, and ask that I be immediately relieved from my position, a position which I have filled more or less successfully for more than twenty years.

"During this long period I can truthfully say, and my record will sustain my statement, that I have never shirked or sought to evade any duty, however dangerous or disagreeable it might be to me personally. I have tried to do my duty as I saw it without fear or favor. I have found much pleasure and pride in my work in the past and leave it now with many regrets, but I am becoming convinced that I cannot conform to your requirements of doing business. Your ways are not my ways, and your methods are not my methods. I believe I owe it to you to fairly inform you that it is my present intention to become a candidate for the position of sheriff of this county. Should I make this race it would be on the record I have made in more than twenty years of service to the people of this county, and I expect to go before them and ask them to put their stamp of approval on my efforts. I believe that my many years' of service as deputy have given me a training which has fitted me to render to the people of this county the high degree of service to which they are entitled. Yours truly,

"FRANK L. MAGIE."

A STAGE SHOT FATAL.

English Actor Died When Gun Wads Entered His Body.

London Chronicle: The story of how an actor was fatally shot on the stage in full view of the audience, who remained unaware of the accident, has been made public since the death recently of Herbert Bonhote Wilson.

Mr. Wilson, who was 34 years old, was playing the hero, Jack Fraser, in "The Woman Conquers," which was produced by Carlton Wallace's company at the Elephant and Castle theater.

At the first night performance all went well until towards the end, when a climax is reached in a scene in which the hero, Jack Fraser, is shot and wounded by Raymond Delgada, his rival in love. The part of Delgada was played by D. Lewin Mannering.

A full sized gun, with blank cartridge, was used, but by some accident Mr. Wilson received an injury to the shoulder.

The audience did not appreciate what had actually occurred. It was thought by those who went to his assistance that some tragic error had been made in loading the gun, but that he was suffering merely from a flesh wound which bled profusely. Mr. Wilson was able to deceive the audience while the play was brought to an end.

He was hurriedly conveyed to his home in Noel street, Islington, where the doctor found that the gun had been discharged into his left shoulder, where a deep wound had been inflicted. Six felt wads were removed from it, and his condition became so serious that he was removed a few days later to the Great Northern hospital, where it was intended to perform an operation. He was, however, too weak to receive an anesthetic, and died.

A pathetic feature of Mr. Wilson's death is that during the first day after the accident he felt that he would be able to resume his part.

His father, who is an army officer living in Kensington, saw him at the hospital, but left for Folkestone, thinking that his son would recover quickly after an operation.

Mrs. Wilson, the widow, who is only 26 years old, is also an actress, being widely known on the stage as Miss Eda Trevenna. She is left with two little daughters.

COSTLY ACQUAINTANCE.

Saturday Evening Post: Two close-fisted Missouri brothers sued a neighbor for $375 owing on a land deal. They engaged the best lawyer in their county seat.

The lawyer won the case. The brothers called to see about his fee. One stayed outside and the other went in.

"How much is it?" he asked.

"Well," said the lawyer, "I won't be hard on you. I have known both you boys since you were children and I knew your pap. I guess $300 will be about right."

The inquiring brother went out dazed.

"Lordy, George," he said to the one outside, "I'm durn glad he didn't know grandpa, too!"

OLD THEORIES ABOUT LIGHTNING.

London Chronicle: Our forefathers had many theories about lightning. According to them no one could be struck by lightning could be burnt. Splinters from such a tree, diligently chewed, were an infallible cure for toothache, and were, of course, pleasanter to the taste than the dentists' forceps. And the old time schoolboy firmly believed that if he were rash enough to mention lightning directly after a flash, the important part of his raiment would be immediately torn off. And many were his attempts to land his fellows in that predicament.

MAY BECOME GOVERNOR GENERAL OF CANADA

GEN. LORD METHUEN.

Gen. Lord Methuen is reported a possibility for succession to the duke of Connaught as governor general of Canada. He has been governor of Natal and is now field marshal of the British army. He was born in 1845 and he spent most of his life in active service in the army. He has done service chiefly in Africa and was one of the conspicuous figures in the Boer war.

WILL VALUE LIGHT PLANT

Chicago Engineer Will Arrive This Week to Begin Work.

W. T. Rittenhouse, an electrical engineer from Chicago, is expected in Duluth tomorrow or Friday to confer with city officials relative to making a physical valuation of the plant of the Duluth-Edison Electric company.

Commissioner Merritt will recommend Mr. Rittenhouse to the council as the engineer to have charge of the work, which was authorized at a recent meeting of the city council. An appropriation of $7,000 has been made from the utility fund for the purpose, although it is believed that the cost will be considerably less

After the valuation has been made the council will open negotiations with the Duluth-Edison company. If a fair and satisfactory price can be agreed upon the city will take over the plant. If such an agreement cannot be reached the city has announced its intention of instituting condemnation proceedings in the courts, the authorities stating that they now have ample authority with present laws to institute and carry through such a course.

Charles L. Pillsbury of Minneapolis, one of the two experts who prepared the plans and estimates of two electric plants for the old council, will likely be called in as the consulting engineer. He will aid in laying out the plans and will later check up the figures which are submitted on the valuation. Mr. Pillsbury stands high in his profession and he has the confidence of the municipal ownership advocate of the city.

Around it stands priestesses, the spring-girls, dressed in white waterproof uniforms. They fix the drinking-cups at the end of poles and GYROSCOPES KEEP SHIPS FROM ROLLING.

R. D. Gatewood, naval constructor, U. S. navy, in the American Machinist: The principle of the gyroscope, while simple and generally understood, can be applied at times to produce some very puzzling results, and in order that the method of its application to ship's rolling may be more clearly understood, it may perhaps be as well to review this principle in the simplest possible way.

Suppose we have a vertical spindle and on it mount a wheel in what is called the natural or horizontal plane, the spindle being so arranged that it can be tilted in any direction. To consider the matter concretely, let us suppose that the wheel is spinning at a high rate of speed and that we so tilt the spindle that its top moves toward the north.

What happens? As soon as the top of the spindle is given this angular motion, the spinning will develop a couple which tends to tilt the spindle either to the eastward or westward, according to the direction in which the wheel is spinning. The movement of the gyroscope does not take place in the same direction as the impressed force, but that this tendency to move is transferred 90 degrees in the direction of rotation before it is manifested as motion.

While in principle the gyroscope is quite simple, the difficulty lies in overcoming the many mechanical troubles that arise as soon as it is attempted to produce results in a practical way.

Many years ago that able naval architect and investigator, Sir J. I. Thornycroft, evolved a scheme for preventing rolling by means of shifting a heavy weight, the controlling mechanism being by means of a gyroscope.

Later on, a German engineer, Doctor Schlick, developed what is called the "passive" type of gyroscope, which utilized the periodic motions of a ship after they had been developed by the actions of the sea for damping or reducing the rolling.

Mr. Sperry attacked the problem from a totally different and more aggressive point, and proposed to install an "active" type of gyroscope equipment which did not wait for the ship to roll before it began its work, but which prevented instantly, at its inception, any rolling movement of the vessel.

There is a very important point to be observed here. Each tendency to roll is quelled on the instant, and simultaneously with its development, is completely neutralized before it has time to move the ship. There is thus practically no angular motion.

If the reader will remember that without angular motion a couple exerted by a gyroscope becomes zero, then he will readily understand that it requires practically zero work to resist the couple—in other words, when a ship is held practically free from rolling, it requires very little power to maintain it in this condition, and this has been found to be actually the case in practice, as has been thoroughly demonstrated. At first sight, this may seem revolutionary, but it is nevertheless true, and it is this feature of the development that should work a revolution in our methods of stabilizing ships.

BLACK INTERIOR DECORATIONS.

Kansas City Star: Behold black now as the fashionable color of the interior decorator. The liking for it arose in Vienna, where interior decorating is an art much thought of. There some of the new houses, or rooms which have been redecorated, show wall papers with black backgrounds, on which huge, bright flowers are printed. Carpets, too, are of black. The idea of this method of decorating is, apparently, to make the room strictly a background for the furniture and persons in it. The brightly flowered paper, of course, detracts from this effect, but the sort of paper more often used does not have the bright flowers. It shows the black ground, with a gray or misty white figure.

There is an outgrowth of this craze for black which is interesting, especially to those who live in apartments, or other crowded quarters, where the kitchen as well as the other rooms of the house come under occasional inspection of guests. This is the black enameled jar or box for cakes, bread and grocery supplies of various sorts. It is painted brilliantly with big red roses, and makes an interesting note of color. Six boxes or jars of this sort ranged in orderly array on shelves give a distinctive note to the most uninteresting pantry or kitchen.

UP IN THE AIR.

Indianapolis News: Working at the top of a 235-foot chimney, where the wind velocity often reaches seventy-five miles an hour, Eugene Crane, a post senior mechanical engineer, at the University of Minnesota, is preparing a thesis for his mechanical engineer degree. The chimney was built this year as a part of the new power plant of the university, and is one of the largest of its kind in the Twin Cities. Crane's thesis is to treat of the heat loss in the chimney, testing with thermometers at different points, and of the loss of gases due to the friction on the sides of the stack.

STRONG AT THE CLOSE

Flax Closes Off After Slight Flurry on Further Tariff News.

Duluth Board of Trade, Oct. 1.—The wheat market closed strong today, good buying appearing at the end. December wheat closed off ⅝c and December ½c off. October durum closed ⅜c off and December ⅝c down.

The wheat market ruled weak again today under an accumulation of bearish conditions. Receipts continued at the flood, cables were lower and Eastern demand was light.

December wheat opened unchanged at 85⅛c and sagged ¾c up to the final hour. May opened unchanged at 90c and sold off ½c. October durum opened a shade off at 81¼c and broke under liberal offerings to 80½c. December durum opened unchanged at 82c and showed a decline of ¾c up to the noon hour.

Receipts were maintained on about the basis they have been running at for the past week, 2,018 cars being reported at Duluth, Minneapolis and Winnipeg, an increase of 738 over last year. Local elevators exhibited a gain in stocks of 1,065,000 bu for the three days of the present week, the aggregate of all grains in stock reaching 13,459,000 bu.

The elevator situation at Buffalo is unchanged, 3,500,000 bu grain being reported afloat there this morning. Those houses there are flooded, but the car situation is good, the railroads putting forth every effort to rush stuff forward to the seaboard.

Flaxseed Is Nervous.

Following the announcement from Washington of the advance in duty to 20c a bu gross, trading in flaxseed continued on the nervous order today. Sharp weakness developed at the opening at Winnipeg, the quotation on the December seed there running down to 2c to $1.20½, and that was reflected over here consequent upon the shifting of hedges between the markets. A considerable volume of realizing orders on yesterday's advance was also absorbed, the net result being that declines of around 1¼c were recorded. The market backed and filled throughout the session, the crushers' interests buying liberally at the low spots.

Opening prices were unchanged in all options, October opened at $1.42 and closed at $1.42; November opened at $1.43 and closed at $1.42¼; December opened at $1.41 and closed at $1.40, and May opened at $1.46¾ and closed at 1.46¼.

MARKET GOSSIP.

John Mann, of D. Mann Bros. & Co., linseed crushers of Buffalo, was a visitor on the board of trade today. He avers that liberal stocks of flaxseed are still held in the East, and that crushers down there are watching the harvest situation in the Northwest closely. Their advices are to the effect that threshing results are running much ahead of the crop estimate of last month.

• • •

"We expect to put through 100,000,000 bu of grain at our ports before the close of navigation," said J. W. Wolvin of Port Arthur, who was a visitor on the board of trade today. Mr. Wolvin says that the elevator and grain handling situation is becoming serious at all the Canadian lower lake ports. Congestion is reported at Montreal and all the elevators on Georgian Bay ports are said to be rapidly filling up.

• • •

B. W. Snow wired from Winnipeg: "Northwest Canadian wheat crop is only a little larger than last year, say about 190,000,000 bu of finest quality ever known. Farmers are hard up, county banks are forcing them to sell in order to liquidate debts, harvest was completed early, weather for threshing has been perfect, car arrangements for handling crop was never better and result of these combined conditions is immediate marketing of the largest percentage of crop ever known. These enormous receipts are at expense of ordinary country stocks and if weather holds a little longer, the important movement will be finished a month or six weeks earlier than usual."

• • •

With the receipt of 1,739 cars, all records of wheat inspection were broken in the Winnipeg market today. The highest previous record of one day's receipts was in November, 1912, when 1,603 cars were received.

• • •

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool as follows: "Wheat—Weaker. American cables yesterday and the decline in Winnipeg caused pressure here at the opening and values were ¼d lower. Following the opening, the market was dull and after a slight effort made by a prominent house to support which caused an advance of ⅛d the market again assumed heaviness and prices declined ¼d. Reports from Russia and Argentina continue favorable, and estimates regarding the Russian exportable crop are maintained. Russia and Canada continue to offer freely at a concession in price to effect sales. At 1:30 p. m. the market was dull but easy, ¼@⅜d lower."

• • •

Minneapolis wired: "Cash market stronger. Good general demand for the top grades of choice northern blue stem mostly December to cent over, ordinary ½c under December. Velvet chaff ½@1c discount. Receipts in country have dropped off sharply, but there is still considerable wheat in transit. Will take at least a week or ten days to clean up. Flour sales fair for nearby shipment."

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Best Prices of the Day Made in the Last Hour.

Large Offerings of Steel But It Rose With Leaders.

New York, Oct. 1.—Although movements of stocks during the morning were uncertain, with several reactions after the opening rise, the market gradually grew steadier, on a level which showed general gains for the leaders. Large offerings of Steel made less impression on the market than yesterday, and the belief that the shorts were in danger of overextending their holdings, caused more confident buying.

Steel was forced under yesterday's low point, but subsequently moved up with the other leaders. London bought stocks here, showing a preference for Union Pacific and Steel. The strong showing made in the fortnightly copper report from Europe, helped copper stocks. Passing of the quarterly settlement period without serious difficulty abroad and the easier tendency of money rates here, was a decided help to sentiment.

In spite of the improvement in tone, however, buying was not aggressive and trading grew dull as the noon hour appeared.

Bonds were irregular.

After two days of declining prices, the stock market showed a distinct improvement when trading began today. Copper shares were especially strong. Amalgamated and Chino rose a point each; Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific and Virginia-Carolina Chemical advanced a like amount. Steel, Reading and the other active stocks made fractional gains.

The higher range of prices brought out an increased supply of stocks and the advance was halted. The absorptive power of the market was not great and a reaction set in, which forced back the list nearly to yesterday's close.

Pressure was not severe, however, and the market later rallied again, although it failed to reach the high prices established on the opening bulge.

Several favorite speculative stocks advanced during the noon hour. Union Pacific reached a new high price for the day, and Reading, Steel and Amalgamated rose to about the morning's top quotations. Otherwise the market was virtually unchanged.

Some of the specialties showed persistent heaviness, and Southern Pacific fell back nearly a point. Among the general run of active stocks trading was featureless.

The market closed firm. Reading and the copper stocks made the best prices of the day in the last hour. Chino increased its gain to 2⅝ and Utah and Amalgamated to 1¾. In the remainder of the list, gains were well held to the close.

WM. F. HENRY, Business and Advertising Manager.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of October, 1913.

F. N. ALLEN,

(Seal.) Notary Public, St. Louis County, Minnesota.

My commission expires April 1, 1915.

A GOLD BOND CIRCULATION!

The Duluth Herald is a high-class, 2-cent newspaper with an established clientele of over 28,000 subscribers won entirely on merit. The Duluth Herald has never found it necessary to resort to the guessing scheme or premium method of artificially "boosting" circulation. If a subscriber wishes a frying pan, razor strop, mouse trap or other article usually used as a bait, The Duluth Herald will direct him (or her) to a store that sells it for less money than the premium newspaper can supply it for. The Duluth Herald gives its readers and its advertisers full value first, last and always.

HERMANN OELRICHS ARRESTED AND HELD FOR STABBING GIRL

Young Millionaire Is Accused By Lucille Singleton of Texas.

New York, Oct. 2.—Hermann Oelrichs, the young millionaire whom Lucile Singleton charges with having stabbed her while in an automobile Tuesday night, was arraigned in police court today and held in $1,000 bail for a hearing on Tuesday next. The case was postponed because of the absence of complainant. She was still in bed today.

Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, widow of the late Hermann Oelrichs, who amassed a fortune of millions from steamship lines, early today saved her son, Hermann, from spending the entire night in a police station cell by going his bond for $5,000, giving her $100,000 residence as security.

Young Oelrichs, a student in the Columbia law school, was arrested late last night on a charge of felonious assault after Lucile Singleton, who says she is the 19-year-old daughter of a Texas mine owner, had told her story of a mysterious automobile accident on Broadway Tuesday night.

Claims He Stabbed Her.

The girl alleged that Oelrichs, who was then known to her as "Billy Creighton," had stabbed her while she was riding in the young millionaire's car.

Oelrichs was arrested while visiting the apartments at which Miss Singleton was lying wounded. Detectives had hidden themselves there behind portieres, and according to them they heard "Creighton" reveal his identity. He was arrested and locked up in the Mulberry street po-

DIVORCE DEFENDED BY DEAN HENSON

British Churchman's Talk Causes Sensation at Meeting.

Southampton, Eng., Oct. 2.—Very Rev. Herbert Rensley Henson, dean of Durham, caused a sensation at the Church of England congress last night by a speech in which he openly approved divorce.

He declared that the full significance of growth of the movement in favor of divorce was not to be explained by an outbreak of licentiousness. Its strength lay in the fact that it gave expression to the distinctly Christian factor of self-respect that would not acquiesce in a situation which actually became degrading. It was an error, he said, to fasten attention on divorce statistics as if any considerable importance attached to them. What really mattered was the standard of personal purity.

The audience listened with some show of uneasiness to Dean Henson's views, and was manifestly relieved when he concluded. Other delegates insisted that the church must maintain the doctrine of the permanency of marriages.

DAUGHTER OF NOTED CHIEF IS IN WANT

Sitting Bull's Child Has Had an Interesting Career.

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 2. — Sitting Bull's daughter is in San Diego and in need, according to a written statement made to Chief of Police Wilson by the young woman. The daughter of the old Sioux chief told Chief Wilson that she was seeking an employment that would yield her a livelihood.

According to her account, she has had an interesting career. Captured and recaptured a dozen times, she writes, she finally was found on the battlefield of Wounded Knee, strapped to the back of her mother, who had been dead for three days.

Gen. L. W. Colby of Beatrice, Neb., adopted her and cared for her. She was graduated from the Beatrice high school, the Downer college in Milwaukee, and the University of Kansas.

Police Detective Boucherie vouches for her. Mrs. Boucherie and the daughter of the Indian chief were schoolmates in Nebraska.

RAISES ITS RATE.

Bank of England Seeks to Protect Reserve Fund.

London, Oct. 2.—After a prolonged discussion, the directors of the Bank of England today decided to raise the bank rate from 4½ to 5 per cent as a precautionary measure to protect the bank's reserve, which had been depleted by over $10,000,000 this week by exports to Egypt. The weekly consignments of gold from South Africa have been absorbed by the continent, where the scramble for gold continues.

The discount market hardly expected the advance today in view of the firmer New York exchange, but it was recognized that some protective measure would be necessary in the near future in order to enable the Bank of England to get the gold arriving from South Africa and build up its reserve, which has fallen much below that of last year. The higher rate, it is expected, will serve as a warning to other quarters to check their prospective gold demands.

HOPE TO FREE MINER FRIDAY

Thirty Men Are at Work to Rescue Pennsylvania Man.

Tosheshky Talks With Wife Through Tube—Begs for Dynamite.

Centralia, Pa., Oct. 2.—With twenty-five feet of a solid pillar of coal to excavate, rescuers hope to reach by noon tomorrow Thomas Toshesky, who has been entombed in the Continental mine of the Lehigh Coal company for six days. Today H. J. Heffner, mine superintendent directing the work, installed air compressers in the heading and the work of digging away the wall of anthracite is expected to proceed more rapidly. During the excavation work last night only one miner at a time was able to pick into the face of the coal.

Toshesky is becoming very restless. He started to dig himself out of his cell and had picked away about three feet of coal in the direction of his rescuers when those on the outside told him to be careful lest he cut the rope used in drawing his provisions through the long pipe that has been inserted in a mine breach. Toshesky was told to stop digging, but he said he had to do something to help pass the time away.

Begged for Dynamite.

The imprisoned miner begged for a stick of dynamite to blow down portions of the barrier between himself and liberty. To quiet him another bottle of eggnog was sent in to him along with instructions from Mr. Heffner to try to go to sleep.

Toshesky was more cheerful during the night after a fifteen minute talk he had through the pipe with his wife yesterday afternoon. He was glad to hear that she and the four children were well and he begged her not to worry about him.

Mrs. Toshesky saw for herself the efforts that the company is making to save her husband's life and is hopeful he soon will be home. She had mourned him as dead until news was brought to her three days after the accident that he was alive.

Three shifts of thirty men each are engaged in the rescue work. The most experienced miners in the region are enrolled in the corps. A special telephone line was constructed from the mine breach down the mountain three miles to the Lehigh Valley company's office in order that the officials might keep in closer touch with the rescue work.

APPEALS TO MOVIES TO PROVE AN ALIBI

Brokaw Says He Was in Crowd Photographed in San Diego.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 2.—Fred Brokaw, in custody here awaiting extradition on a Pittsburg warrant charging assault to commit robbery, has set up a novel alibi. Brokaw told the police he had a prominent position in a street crowd that figured in motion pictures taken here Sept. 5. His alleged crime was committed in Pittsburg, Sept. 5. The films were obtained and thrown on the screen for the benefit of the police. Brokaw, or his double, was easily recognizable. Attorneys for the prisoner will attempt to prove that the pictures were taken on Sept. 5, using this evidence in resisting extradition.

BROKER HURT IN AUTO WRECK DIES.

Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 2.—R. J. Wilson, a stock broker, died here today from a broken spine, the result of an automobile accident Sunday night. With two companions, Wilson drove his car over an embankment.

DEMOCRATIC SUPPORT OF LOW TARIFF BILL ASSURED BY CAUCUS

Simmons Is Sure There Will Be No Failure at Finish.

Republicans Attack Conference Report on Points of Order.

Only Six Vote Against It in Party Conference.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Democratic support for the conference report on the tariff bill appeared to be united when the senate today began the final consideration of the Democratic revision measure. The all-day caucus of yesterday which had thrashed out the difficulties within party ranks and brought about unanimous support of the conference report, led Chairman Simmons of the finance committee to hope that there would be little delay in securing final action on the bill.

Republican senators had not disclosed the extent of their proposed criticism of the conference agreement when the day's work began in the senate, but it was expected that Senators La Follette, Penrose and others would speak at some length.

The decision of the senate Democrats to drop the entire cotton futures question out of the present tariff is expected to meet with the approval of the house. The latter body indorsed the proposed compromise Tuesday only by a narrow margin, and many of those who voted for it, including Democratic Leader Underwood, said they would prefer to have the whole question treated in a separate legislation rather than in an amendment to the tariff bill.

GET SULZER'S SIDE READY

Attorneys for Impeached Executive Confer at Albany.

Wife Probably Will Testify as to Stock Dealings.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Adjournment until Monday afternoon was taken in the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer today after a few motions made by counsel for the defense had been disposed of.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2.—There was no morning session of the Sulzer impeachment trial today and this gave everybody connected with the case, except the governor's attorneys, a chance to discuss and speculate on his probable defense.

The final plans of the Sulzer attorneys were drawn in a long conference with the governor at the People's house this morning. Following out their rule, which they have stood by firmly, they made no statement.

It was believed that their first step would be to ask for a ruling from the court on two things—the constitutionality of articles 1, 2 and 4 and whether the application to private uses of funds given without restriction constituted larceny. If the court ruled favorably to the defense in the first of these questions, it was generally admitted that the case practically would be at an end. Most of the board of managers case was built on these three articles.

The Question.

The question of larceny also was a big one, for with a few exceptions, contributors whose gifts were not accounted for in the governor's campaign statement testified that they had not specified what use the governor should make of the money they gave him.

The sudden closing of the case of the board of managers yesterday came as a surprise to the defense and found them unprepared for opening their case. Senator Harvey D. Hinman, who had been selected to open the case for the governor, had not completed his opening statement this morning but he did not know when he would be able to finish it. Doubt was expressed if the gov-

BOSTON IS GETTING TO BE REAL WICKED

Boston, Oct. 2.—An increase in crime in Boston is shown by the establishment of a new record in number of cases handled by the municipal court in a year. For the year ended Sept. 30, the total of these cases was 53,209, as compared with 46,700 in the previous year. The increase was most marked in drunkenness and automobile law violations.

SAYS MARRIAGE WILL HURT HIS BUSINESS

Milwaukee Butcher Fears Publicity Effect on Patrons.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 2.—Declaring that his business would be ruined if the news of his marriage were made public, one of the applicants for marriage license at County Clerk Widule's office last night asked his name be withheld from publication.

"I own a butcher shop and am coining money," he said. "There are over 300 unmarried young ladies living in my neighborhood. Because everybody knows that I have money, the matchmakers send their daughters around to my shop with a view of getting me interested.

"But if they found out I was married they would get mad and boycott me, and I'd go to the wall. When I get married I am going to introduce my wife as a new hired girl."

Under the circumstances, County Clerk Widule agreed to suppress the man's name.

PANAMA CANAL WITHSTANDS SEVERE EARTHQUAKE SHOCK

SEES HIS WORK STAND UNDER TEST BY NATURE

COL. GEORGE W. GOETHALS, Engineer in Charge of the Construction of the Panama Canal.

"Absolutely No Damage to Structures" Is the Report.

Officials Feel No Anxiety as to Safety of Locks.

Panama, Oct. 2.—Absolutely no damage was done to the structures of the Panama canal by the earthquakes which occurred in the canal zone between 11 and 12 o'clock last night.

There were two earthquakes, of an intensity much more severe than any disturbance since the Americans took possession of the canal zone, and indeed more severe than all remembered ever to have occurred on the isthmus. The first shock, as experienced in the capital, was slight and was quickly followed by one or longer duration, which shook buildings to their foundations. The church bells were set to ringing, doors were thrown open and residents were brought tumbling out of their beds.

Alarmed the People.

The first movement lasted about five seconds. It occurred about 11:20 o'clock. The second movement was of ten seconds' duration. The people at midnight were gathered in the streets. Jamaicans who went through the disaster at Kingston and Italians who have had similar experiences in their home country were particularly alarmed.

According to the seismograph there were two slighter shocks, but these were unnoticed. The general movement appeared to be from west to east. Those familiar with earthquakes said the movement was more of an upheaval than a vibration from side to side.

Cabled for Information.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Maj. Boggs, in charge of the Isthmian canal offices in this city, this morning cabled to Col. Goethals at Panama for details of the earth shocks on the isthmus last night, with special reference to its possible

GOVERNOR BALDWIN WOULD ACCEPT TOGA

Says He Will Not Seek Re-election to His Present Office.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 2.—Governor Simeon E. Baldwin in a statement issued here says he will not be a candidate for renomination for another term as governor, but would accept the Democratic nomination for United States senator, providing it came to him without a contest. He is now serving his second term as governor.

SERENO PAYNE'S SON'S WIFE ROBBED.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Sereno E. Payne, Jr., daughter-in-law of Congressman Payne of New York, who helped to draft the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, was robbed of a jewel case last night while she was at dinner at a local hotel. Her room was entered and a handbag containing the jewels was cut open and the valuables stolen.

THINK NEW YORK THIEF IS ELLIS.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 2.—Photographs of John Clark of New York, who confessed to having robbed rooms in a local hotel last Monday, will be rushed to Indianapolis and Louisville today in an effort to ascertain whether Clark bears any resemblance to Joseph Ellis, the much-sought-for fugitive who is accused of having robbed and killed a man in a hotel in Indianapolis on Sept. 22. The local police say that in one or two respects the description of Ellis corresponds to Clark, but in others the two are widely different.

PRICE OF COAL IS RAISED IN BOSTON.

Boston, Oct. 2.—Retail prices of all grades of coal were advanced 25 cents a ton by dealers in this city today. The dealers say the increase was necessitated by high cost of handling.

CONFESSES DYNAMITING R. R. BRIDGE

Secretary Jones of Structural Iron Workers Also Arrested.

New York, Oct. 2.—George E. Davis, alias George O'Donnell, was arrested by a United States marshal here today on a charge of blowing up with dynamite a New Haven railroad bridge at Mount Vernon, N. Y., Sept. 3, 1911.

Davis is also charged with having conspired with the McNamara brothers, Frank M. Ryan and other officers of the International Bridge & Structural Iron Workers' union, to wreck the Mount Vernon and other bridges.

The marshal asserts that Davis has confessed.

Davis was arraigned before a United commissioner, waived examination and consented to go to Indianapolis, where he is under indictment for transporting explosives.

In his confession it is alleged Davis has implicated union officials in the Mount Vernon explosion and other explosions.

Union Officials Arrested.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—Harry Jones, secretary-treasurer of the International Bridge & Structural Iron Workers' union, was arrested here today by a deputy United States marshal on a charge of conspiracy.

Jones, it is said, is implicated in the confession of George E. Davis, who was arrested in New York city.

Jones was arraigned in Federal court and his bond fixed at $10,000. He had not been able to furnish it early this afternoon.

Davis, it was learned here, is the O'Donnell who was considered an important adjunct to the dynamite conspiracy trials but who could not be found at the time.

It is reported that Davis made his confession two weeks ago in the New York office of Walter Drew, counsel for the National Erectors' association. This followed Davis' discharge from a job in Pittsburg, Pa., when, it is said, he became "sore" on the union. Robert Foster, an investigator for the National Erectors' association, got in touch with Davis and, it is understood, brought about his confession.

PINDELL WILL GET DIPLOMATIC POST

St. Petersburg Approves His Selection as Ambassador.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The Russian government, in reply to an inquiry from the state department, has signified that Henry M. Pindell, the Peoria, Ill., editor, will be acceptable as American ambassador to Russia to succeed Curtis Guild of Massachusetts, resigned. It is expected Mr. Pindell's nomination will be sent to the senate immediately.

Mr. Pindell has been here for several days, and on learning of the favorable action by Russia prepared to return to his home at Peoria today. After the nomination has been acted upon by the senat, Mr. Pendell will come back to Washington for a conference with officials on pending Russian affairs before departing for his post at St. Petersburg.

CANADIAN AND WIFE ARE SWINDLE VICTIMS

Appeal to St. Louis Police to Help Get Back $5,000.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 2.—William J. Young and wife of Brandon, Man., today appealed to the police here to search for two men who had swindled them out of $5,000 which Young and his wife had bet on a "sure thing" horse race.

Mr. and Mrs. Young traveled 2,000 miles to St. Louis to invest the money with the men, and yesterday they turned the money over to the two confidence men in a local hotel. The two men left the hotel with the money, promising Young and his wife they would return. When the two confidence men failed to return after several hours, Young appealed to the police.

According to his story, he and his wife first met the men at West Baden, Ind., ten days ago. One of them was known as C. H. Kleinfelder and the other was introduced as "Mr. Rector of New York."

Senator Lodge Past Crisis.

Nahant, Mass., Oct. 2.—United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge maintained today the improvement shown in his condition yesterday. His physicians said that danger of serious results from his recent operation has now passed.

STUBBORN FIRE.

Blaze in Old Slab Foundation Gives Department Long Fight.

A stubborn fire broke out at 2 o'clock this morning in old piling and sawdust formerly the foundation and dock of the Hunters & Brown mill on Grassy point. The fire is believed to have been started from sparks from a passing engine.

The flames had got well started in the sawdust and dry slabwood used in the foundation as well as in old timbers of the dock. Department No. 8 from West Duluth worked until 6 o'clock this morning to put it out.

First of "Tar" Dances.

The Western Boat club will entertain tomorrow evening at its first series of "Tar" dances to be given at the Dormody's hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street. Invitations have been sent to 100 friends and members of the club. The hall is being tastily decorated to suggest marine events. The committee members are Frank H. Wade, Ed. Gustafson, Melvin Olson, Emil Swanstrom, Warren Crosby, Allen Scott, Jr., and M. H. Murray.

MRS. HILL DIES.

Was Pioneer Settler at the Head of the Lakes.

Mrs. Louisa Hill, 59 years old, a resident of Midway and the Head of the Lakes for a quarter of a century, wife of Charles Hill, one of the best-known Finnish settlers in the county, died yesterday afternoon at their farm in Midway following an illness of a few weeks.

Mrs. Hill leaves two children and a number of other relatives in Minnesota. The children are Leonard Hill and Mrs. Andrew E. Johnson, both residents of Midway. She also leaves a brother living in Finland and another who is living on the West coast.

The funeral services will be held from the family residence on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock with burial in Pine Hill cemetery. Rev. M. Lethonen will officiate.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK ON GRAND AVENUE.

Thomas Foubister, the well-known Grand avenue grocer, has just completed a handsome concrete block and cement brick building at 5620 Grand avenue and this week is moving his store into the place. The building has 25-foot frontage on Grand avenue and also fronts on Ramsey street.

The building is just about completed. It has cost about $6,000. It is only one story high, but has a full basement. Mr. Foubister stated this morning that a second story may be added in the future.

NEW THEATER IS WELL PATRONIZED.

The Alhambra, West Duluth's newest photoplay house, has been receiving splendid support from the people of West Duluth. Every evening since its opening the seating capacity of the place has been taxed to its limit.

The management has made a number of bookings of the best photoplays offered and promises many entertaining features every evening at the theater. Changes in the program are being made four times each week.

BROKEN AUTOMOBILE DELAYED SPEAKER.

Dr. Mabel Ulrich, who was scheduled to speak at the Irving school last night, failed to make an appearance. On her way out to West Duluth the automobile in which she was riding broke down and the speaker was delayed until too late to give the talk.

About 150 women had gathered at the assembly hall of the school to listen to her address. Advantage was taken of the moment to organize a women's club in connection with the social center movement in that end of the city.

After discussions between those present and a short talk given by Miss Margaret Culkin the club was formally organized with nearly 100 women members. The officers elected were: Mrs. W. G. Otley, president, and Mrs. F. C. Grover, secretary. The club will hold semi-monthly meetings during the winter.

Elect Officers.

The annual election of officers for the Ladies' Aid Society of the Asbury Methodist church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. D. Abbott, 5609 Grand avenue. Mrs. Abbott was elected president; Mrs. A. F. Rockwell, vice president; Mrs. J. D. Meldahl re-elected secretary, and Mrs. E. J. Zauft, treasurer. Mrs. J. A. Horman was chosen chairman of the work committee.

Amusement Notes.

"The Common Law," a dramatization of Robert W. Chamber's sensational novel, which Manager A. H. Woods produced last season with such gratifying results, is booked as one of the special attractions at the Lyceum on next Monday and Tuesday and countless numbers of fiction readers who have been charmed and fascinated by Mr. Chambers' book, will doubtless look forward to witnessing the play with much pleasurable interest.

In "The Clown's Daughter," the feature at the Lyceum today, some scenes of the largest circus on tour will be shown. In this excellent story love is constantly before the spectator. The keynote of the play is struck in Toby's sacrifice to his unselfish love for his little girl, in answer to her dying mother's appeal that their child shall not be brought up in the circus life. In addition to the above feature three single reels will be shown, two of them comedies. This program will be shown today, tomorrow and Saturday.

To spend seven and a half hours in a plaster cast which covered her entire body was the experience of Miss Burdella Patterson, who is appearing in a posing act at the Duluth Orpheum this week.

Miss Patterson was chosen for a model of a statue of Diana and the statue was later exhibited in Paris and London.

When the plaster was finally removed, her body was found to be burned in several spots, and she suffered extreme discomfort from the necessity of remaining motionless while the plaster set. However, she received $250 for the few hours work, and later as a result of it was given engagements to go to Paris and pose for such artists as Julien, Dupey and Cabanel. It was in Paris that Jean Marcel, the artist and sculptor, discovered her. He was the first man to introduce artistic posing acts in vaudeville, and he engaged Miss Patterson for one of his first ventures. Since then she has been almost continuously engaged in vaudeville work, so she owes her career as a vaudeville artist to the seven and a half hours spent in a plaster cast.

Miss Patterson is a Cincinnati girl, and she has been a professional model since she was only 14 years of age. Even before that time she posed occasionally for portraits.

A new program opens at the Empress theater with the matinee performance this afternoon for an engagement of three days. The feature act is Roland Carter and his company in a sketch entitled "In Vacation Days." This sketch is laid in a prison. The convicts do their duty in a hilarious manner. The guard who is also a lover of good singing is finally enticed to join in the merry making, and between the two convicts and the guard some very nifty musical numbers are put over in a new manner.

Hetty Urma, a very petite young woman, comes with many high recommendations as a clever singer, dancer and impersonator. Her song number, "The Latchkey," is considered a good rendition of the bachelor's goodbye to celibacy.

Cornalia and Wilbur, a team of comedy acrobats, will give a line of feats and complicated stunts.

Animals have their fun as well as human beings and this will be proven by Charles and Madeline Dunbar in their act, "Animal Funology." They imitate animals at play.

Two new films of the better sort will complete this program of vaudeville acts.

In nearly every one of Sir Walter Scott's novels, there is splendid dramatic material to be found, and especially is this true of "Rob Roy" the three-part dramatic production featured today on the Rex program. It will be shown until Sunday night. "Rob Roy" is a story that revolves about the heroic efforts of the Scots to free themselves from the irksome yoke of the English. More particularly, interest centers about the dashing character of Rob Roy who, in revenge for vile laimons treatment received at their hands, took the initiative in many plots that harassed the English.

The American Eclair company has produced a number of classical plays that have been released by the Universal company, but it is doubtful if any have surpassed this one in stirring action, magnificent costuming, and settings and vigorous military climaxes.

The characterization of the title role by Jack W. Johnson is an important feature of this film. This feature production will be, without a doubt, enjoyed by all the Rex patrons.

EFFORT TO PUT CITY ON CASH BASIS ONCE MORE

Commission Will Try to Start Year With Clean Slate.

City Will at Least Know Exact State of Finances.

For the first time in many years Duluth will start the coming year knowing the exact status of its finances.

The financial slate will not be without a mark but it will be more nearly so than has been the case for a long time past.

The permaneat improvement fund, which has been going from bad to worse in other years, will have a new start along business-like lines. All the old debts will be cleared away. This will be done by issuing certificates of indebtedness in anticipation of the tax collections of 1914 to the amount of $80,000. The general fund, which has the second largest deficit, will be treated in the same way by issuing $40,000 of certificates. Certificates will also be issued against other funds to tide them over the balance of the year and until the tax receipts are received from the county next spring.

The certificates will total $275,000. They will be used only as needed. Finance Commissioner Voss explains that that ordinance will authorize more than may be necessary as this will eliminate the necessity of drawing and passing a number of ordinances. If the full amounts authorized are not needed they will not be used.

Balance of $54,000.

When the accumulated debts of the permanent improvement fund have been wiped away the fund will be left with a balance of but $54,000 for next year's work. This will be far from sufficient. But the work will be so regulated, if present plans are carried out, that the obligations of the fund at the end of the year will be much less than this year. In the meantime the excess will be carried by the revolving fund, which will have plenty of money when the assessments for work done this year are paid. After next year's budget is passed certificates will again be issued, as this fall, but the amount will be considerably less. The year following the amount will again be materially reduced, if it is not wiped out. Not more than three years should be required to establish the permanent improvement fund upon a permanent cash basis.

To limit the fund to $54,000 next year would be to practically tie up street improvements, as the street intersections and storm sewers must be paid from it. By the arrangement which has been made no such disastrous situation will arise. The Oneota street improvement alone would wipe out the $54,000, preventing other necessary work.

Will Start Even.

The other funds will start the year on substantially an even basis, with no large balances or deficits. And henceforth it is the determination of the commission to keep the city on a cash basis. Perhaps this cannot be done to the letter, but the deviations will not be of any magnitude, according to the present intentions of the council.

The ordinance prepared by Finance Commissioner Voss specifies that the following amounts be issued against the various funds:

Sinking fund, $40,000; public safety fund, $75,000; library fund, $5,000; public works fund, $35,000; permanent improvement fund, $80,000; general fund, $40,000.

The certificates will bear interest at 4 per cent; half the amount of the issue will become due Aug. 1, 1914, and the other half Dec. 1, 1914. The certificates will be in denominations of $1,000 each. The commissioner will introduce his resolution at the next regular council meeting next Monday.

CRITICIZES THE ABATEMENT LAW

Attorney John Norton severely ridiculed and criticised the abatement law passed by the last legislature in his summing up in the Maud Grant case today. He said he sat in the hall when the bill passed but that not 10 per cent of the legislators believed it a good bill. Mr. Norton was warming up to his theme when objection was made by Assistant County Attorney Forbes.

The trial of Maud Grant, charged with running a house of assignation and illfame, came to an end at noon and the jury was instructed. The case has been hotly contested and is considered of great importance as it is the first in St. Louis county coming under the new law.

Attorney Norton for the defense roasted the police department for its work in the case, and labeled the whole proceeding as ridiculous.

INVESTIGATING SWIMMING POOLS

Cleanliness is probably the first cardinal principle of health, but does one acquire healthy cleanliness by bathing in swimming pools?

The question is one which Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, is making an effort to determine.

Dr. Webster today addressed letters to those in charge of the various swimming pools in the city, requesting information as to what steps, if any, are taken to safeguard the health of those who use them.

Dr. Webster said this morning that various contagious diseases may easily be transmitted through the medium of the swimming pools if proper precautions are not taken. He declared that no one should be allowed in the pools who cannot show a clean bill of health.

Among other things the health director wishes to know the condition of the water, as to whether it is kept fresh, or is sterilized, and whether or not the bathing suits are sterilized.

Swimming pools are located in the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. and they are liberally patronized throughout the year, being used daily by scores of persons. The city has no public bathhouse or swimming pools.

BURGLARS ROB ICE COMPANY'S OFFICE.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand Forks Ice company's main office in the heart of the business district was looted during the night, $150 in cash and $400 in checks being stolen. The burglars sorted the checks, leaving several given by a former local merchant.

The safe had not been properly locked and the burglars gained easy access.

Eat and Get Thin

This is turning an old phrase face about, but modern methods of reducing fat have made this revision possible.

If you are overfat and also averse to physical exertion and likewise fond of the table and still want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds, do this: Go to your druggist (or write the Marmola Co., Farmer Building, Detroit, Mich.) and give him (or send them) 75 cents. For this modest amount of money the druggist will put you in the way of satisfying your ambition for a nice, trim, slim figure. He will hand you a large case of Marmola Prescription Tablets (compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription), one of which you must take after each meal and at bedtime until you begin to lose your fat at the rate of 12 to 16 ounces a day. That is all. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercising to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully and without a doubt that flabby flesh will quickly take unto itself wings, leaving behind it your natural self, neatly clothed in firm flesh and trim muscles.

PUBLICITY GOT RESULTS

Meat Inspector Says Owners Have Been Stirred to Action.

The publication in The Herald recently of the scores of the various butcher shops in the city has done more to raise the standards of the local markets than any previous move which has been made, according to the September report of Meat Inspector Leo Bernhardt.

The meat inspector declares that the publicity which the shops received has spurred all of them to make their places neater, cleaner and more sanitary and inviting. In publishing the scores it was the desire of the health department officials to let the public know exact conditions in individual markets, in order that those which were careful should not suffer because of the criticism of those which were negligent.

The inspector's report shows that the number of markets in the city is not decreasing in the ratio of the increase in the high cost of living. While one has gone out of business five others are starting, bringing the total number of meat markets in the city to eighty-one.

During September the inspector condemned two cases of eggs and 134 pounds of meats of various kinds. The preceding month about two tons of meats were sent to the incinerator, of which a small amount came from the retail dealers.

PITCHED BATTLE AT THE ALLOUEZ MINES

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The situation in the copper strike district this morning, while not so wild as yesterday, was characterized by rioting at Calumet and Allouez. There was one arrest at Calumet and fourteen at Allouez, and warrants are out for thirty others.

Gen. Abbey and staff, in an automobile, arrived at Allouez just in time to get into the thick of a battle in which strikers numbering more than 1,000 were attempting to prevent a score of men from going to work at the Allouez mines.

The workmen, armed with guns, were forcing their way through the crowd, when a detachment of mounted artillerymen armed with riot sticks arrived on the scene.

The crowd was in an ugly mood, and many of the persons in it were armed with stones and clubs. The cavalry, however, gained control of the situation.

Picketing throughout the strike district was in evidence early today. One arrest was made in Calumet.

INTERNATIONAL FALLS STREETS TO GLITTER

Contract Awarded for Installation of "White Way" on Main Street.

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council has awarded the contract for the conduits, standards and lamps for a "white way" system in the downtown section of the city at a cost of $5,000, to F. E. Patterson and the work will be commenced within a few days. The Patterson bid was a few dollars lower than that by the Duluth Electric company submitted by J. N. Day.

Alderman R. F. Ellis and Alderman E. H. Zimmerman, will make a trip to Milwaukee and Chicago to make comparisons between luminous arc and flaming arc lamps for the purpose of determining which style shall be used here.

The council has also committees working on a waterworks plant, including a filtration and sedimentation basin. Estimates of cost on the water plant are being obtained from experts in Minneapolis and other cities.

Railroads

WILL BUY RAILROAD.

Louisville & Nashville to Take Over the Alabama.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 2.—Stockholders of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad company have authorized the directors to bid for the physical property of the North & South Alabama railroad. The amount of the offer was not made public. For a long time the North & South Alabama lines have been controlled and operated by the Louisville & Nashville, which owns virtually all the preferred and common stock of the former company.

The stockholders re-elected all directors, who will organize in New York city next week.

DEMAND SHORTER DAY ON THE C. P.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 2.—Demands for a shorter working day, without a reduction in wages, have been made by trainmen employed in the western system of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, according to an announcement here. The men ask that the working day be shortened one hour. Representatives of the railroads and men are holding conferences.

TEXAS TOWNS ARE PARALYZED BY FLOOD

Steel Bridges Are Wrecked and Other Damage Done.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 2.—With the San Antonio river out of its banks and overflowing the down-town districts of this city to a depth in some places of five or six feet, business in San Antonio was demoralized this morning. The damage will reach several hundred thousand dollars.

Street car service, felephone service and the electric plant are out of commission.

Steel Bridges Down.

San Marcos, Tex., Oct. 2.—Flood damage totaling at least $250,000 has resulted in this section during the past twenty-four hours, from an unprecedented stage in the San Marcos and Blanco rivers, which now form a large lake. Several costly steel bridges have collapsed. Railroad traffic is practically suspended.

Rain Has Fallen.

Lake Charles, La., Oct. 2.—Lake Charles citizens today did not know whether to expect a rise or fall of the water that has flooded this city and a large portion of Southwest Louisiana for several days. Reports from up-river points were that rain had fallen in many places and that the river was rising rapidly. Some of the flood water, however, has found an outlet to a low prairie country.

SUIT TO TEST FRANCHISE NOT LIKELY TO BE SETTLED

Attempts at Preliminary Negotiations Are Barren of Results.

First Skirmish Is Due in Federal Court Next Tuesday.

The tentative offers which have been put forth to settle the suit which the city has instituted against the Duluth Street Railway company to annul its franchise are not expected to bring any results.

For despite statements to the contrary, strong feelers have been put forth looking towards a compromise. Officials on both sides have denied making attempts at compromise, possibly for the purpose of waiting until some definite proposition could be made public, but a proposed compromise has been discussed.

However, it does not look at the present time as though those who have been going over the possibilities of terms will be able to get together. The city commission is divided on the proposition. That is, some of the commissioners rather favor coming to a settlement while others would not agree to it unless the company would agree to concessions which it is highly improbable would be accepted by the street railway company.

Will Go to Courts.

The probabilities are now that the case will be fought out in the courts on its merits. The attorneys retained by the city, including the firm of Kellogg, Severance & Davis of St. Paul and Francis W. Sullivan of this city, as well as City Attorney Harvey Clapp, are very confident of winning.

It is stated that the contention of the city is that the company has been operating in Duluth by license and not by virtue of a franchise. The allegation is said to be that cars have been run on the Duluth streets by common consent as the company has had no franchise in that it did not comply with the terms imposed.

The suit of the bondholders against the city is scheduled to come on for trial in the Federal court next Tuesday. The city's counsel feel that that action will not be heard in the Federal court on the grounds that it is not within the jurisdiction of the Federal court. It is explained that it is purely a state case, involving no issues outside of Minnesota.

Whether or not that should result, it is stated that as soon as the action in the Federal court has been disposed of, the case started in the district court will be taken up immediately. The issues at law in the two cases are different, but the facts and the witnesses are practically the same. City Attorney Harvey Clapp has explained the situation to the judges of the district court and has received the assurance that the action will be taken up in district court as soon as that in the Federal court has been closed. This will save expense and time, as the witnesses will be on the ground as well as the attorneys appearing for both sides.

Ownership Contested.

A petition contesting ownership and possession of property was filed in district court today by A. N. Peterson against the Missabe & Northern Townsite company, Alexander Burns, Mary R. Burns, Northern Security company and others. The plaintiff asks to be adjudged owner in fee simple and to be given right of possession of lot 2, block 1 in town of Grant, village of Iron Mountain.

Is Suddenly Stricken.

Miss May Holmes of the Fitzsimmons-Palmer office force was taken suddenly ill yesterday afternoon and in the evening it developed that she was suffering from appendicitis. She was removed to St. Mary's hospital and was operated on late last night.

Why Are You Sick?

Because of some pressure upon some spinal nerve. Dr. Riesland, Palladio Bldg., removes that pressure. Health follows.

Held On Serious Charge.

John Everett, employed on the dairy of P. J. Hickey on Duluth Heights, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant sworn out by Mr. Hickey charging him with having criminally assaulted Mrs. Hickey last Monday night. It is claimed that Everett entered the house when Mrs. Hickey was alone and mistreated her. He will have his preliminary examination in police court tomorrow.

Firemen Have Run.

The fire department responded to an alarm at Fourth avenue east and the railroad yards this morning where a car of hay was afire, supposedly from the spark of a passing engine. The damage was small.

Is Seriously Ill.

Call of the Calendar.

There will be a call of the calendar in district court before Judge Fesler at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for the purpose of setting cases for hearing for the next two weeks. Attorneys are expected to take notice and be on hand.

Boys Are Paroled.

Sever Olson and Walter Magner, two 17-year-old boys, charged with having tampered with the automobile of Charles Rakowsky, pleaded guilty in police court this morning. The court admonished them to be more careful in the future and placed them on parole for one year. The boys tampered with the machine while it was standing in front of Mr. Rakowsky's home at Fifth avenue east and Second street.

LET COMMERCE COURT JUDGES DOWN SLOWLY

Washington, Oct. 2.—The terms of office of the five circuit judges now serving in the United States commerce court, which would have ended at once under the provisions passed recently by the house, have been extended to Dec. 31 by the senate appropriations committee. In a report on the urgent deficiency appropriation bill made to the senate today, the committee indorsed the provision abolishing the commerce court and legislating its five judges out of office, but gave the latter about three months to prepare for their retirement.

More Funds Supplied.

The senate committee added to the bill $20,000 for the payment of assistants to the attorney general and district attorneys in special government cases; $8,540 for a deficiency in the fund for the enforcement of anti-trust laws and increased the salary of the assistant to the attorney general from $7,000 to $9,600.

An appropriation of $10,000 for the Federal board of mediation and conciliation was added to the bill.

FORMER PASTOR WILL BE HONOR GUEST AT CHURCH ANNIVERSARY

The celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the dedication of the Second Presbyterian church, 1516 West Superior street, will commence this evening with prayer service and music. Rev. J. A. McNaughey, pastor of the church, will conduct the services this evening.

Rev. Thomas M. Findley of Glenwood, Minn., pastor-at-large of the St. Cloud presbytery, and pastor of the local church for eleven years between 1888 and 1898, and Mrs. Findley will be guests of honor at the banquet to be served tomorrow evening. The supper will be tendered by the men of the Servo Adult Bible class. Last year a similar affair was held under the charge of the ladies. It is expected that there will be about 300 present at the banquet.

On Saturday evening the young people of the church will tender a reception in honor of the visiting guests. Following the reception exhibition games will be played on the playground in the rear of the church.

Rev. Mr. Findley will preach the anniversary sermon on Sunday morning. In the evening Mrs. Findley will be in charge of the services and speak to the Ladies' Missionary society and Christian Endeavor society.

Rev. and Mrs. Findley will be guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillon, 419 North Eighteenth avenue east.

REV. THOMAS M. FINDLEY.

URGES NEED OF A NEW MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM

That the recent exposition showed the need of a municipally owned auditorium, as large if not larger than the Duluth Curling club rink is the opinion of West end business men. The enormous attendance and its patronage by merchants and manufacturers and its great benefit to the entire community should make such a show an annual affair and a municipally supported venture, according to the belief of many West enders.

"Great credit is certainly due to the men who were back of the exposition and who made it a success," said S. W. Hill, West end clothier and former president of the West End Commercial club. "It brought a closer feeling of comradship between the manufacturer and merchant and between merchant and consumer. It also gave the people an insight into what is made as well as what can be grown in this community.

"There is no doubt but that some mistakes were made by the committee in charge, but such mistakes only serve to better prepare them for future similar affairs. Small manufacturers should be given an opportunity of making displays at a low cost. Some were given such opportunities and in future shows plans will probably be made to give room for all.

"I think that giving away 35,000 free tickets was unnecessary. The admission of a dime was only a trifle, and all who saw the show on these free tickets would again be willing to go to a similar show and pay the small price for admission. With 80,000 or 90,000 admissions paid, with what is received for concessions, the receipts would pay all expenses connected with getting up such an affair.

"The attendance warrants the city owning an auditorium with a capacity for entertaining as many if not more than attended the exposition. Such a building would be a paying municipal venture. Other cities such as St. Paul have such buildings and why not Duluth?"

Doctors Said He Had Dropsy

Some time ago I had an attack of grippe which finally settled in my kidneys and bladder. I doctored with the doctors and they claimed I had dropsy. I tried other remedies and got no relief from any of them. My condition was such that I was unable to work for about two months and the annoying symptoms caused me a great deal of trouble and pain. I was hardly able to turn over in bed. Seeing one of your Almanacs, I decided to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a trial and after taking several bottles was able to resume my work again. I cannot say too much in praise of your Swamp-Root as the results in my case were truly wonderful.

Yours very truly,
ROBERT BALLARD,

GARDEN PRIZES WILL BE GIVEN TO WINNERS.

Mayor W. I. Prince will preside at the meeting of the West End Commercial club on Oct. 17 when the club will give out its prizes to the winners in the recent garden contest. Dr. O. A. Oredson, chairman of the club's garden committee announced yesterday afternoon an almost completed program for the evening.

Invitations will be extended to each of the improvements clubs and commercial clubs of the city to send a representative who will give a five-minute talk. Children from the Lincoln, Ensign, Adams and Munroe schools will also appear on the program.

Louis Dworshak will give a vocal solo and Miss Mary Shesgren will give a reading. An address on social center and community work will be given by Miss Margaret Culkin following which L. A. Simonson will show a number of stereopticon views of gardens, business houses and the pictures of winners of prizes. The prizes will then be awarded.

At the meeting of the club this evening the final arrangements for the affair will be completed.

Infant Girl Dies.

Helen Wolk, the 2-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wolk, 103 Mesaba avenue, died yesterday. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence with interment in Forest Hill cemetery. Rev. J. A. McGaughey officiated.

West End Briefs.

Rev. and Mrs. Nels Soneson of Braham, Minn., who have been spending a few days visiting in the city, guests of Rev. and Mrs. Swaney Nelson, 2212 West Third street, left last evening for their home. The visitors were on their wedding trip, having been married early last week in the southern part of the state.

The Bethany Aid Society of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church is being entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. H. Johnson, 2030 East Fifth street. The hostess is assisted by Mrs. Carl Anderson.

Mrs. Lindstrom of Cambridge, who has been spending several weeks at the home of her mother, Mrs. Anna Seline, of Piedmont avenue, left yesterday for her home.

Miss Edna Magnuson, 2617 West Fifth street, will entertain this evening for members of the Tabitha Society of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Black and son, Clyde, of the Miller apartments left yesterday for a two weeks' visit to relatives at Willowdale, Minn.

The Citizens' State bank is open for all banking business from 6 to 8 p. m. Saturday evening.

VOLPLANES WHEN ENGINE BLOWS UP.

Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Several thousand people at the Binghamton industrial exposition were horrified to see the crank shaft of the engine in an aeroplane driven by Earl F. Fritts of Oneonta blown to pieces, followed by the smashing of the propeller as that part threshed itself against the guard, while the machine was 500 feet in the air. Fritts volplaned carefully to earth, but ran into a wire fence at the northern end of the fair grounds. He escaped injury.

Lane Much Better.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 2.—Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, who returned today from a week's sojourn at Monterey bay much improved in health, plans to leave for Washington at once.

Pimples Positively Perish—Quick

They Cannot Live Where Stuart's New Calcium Sulphide Treatment Is Used.

Don't worry and fret about your ugly looking face and complexion. If you have skin eruptions of any kind you know instantly that your blood is out of order.

If you went to your doctor and took treatment from him one of the ingredients he would undoubtedly prescribe would be calcium sulphide.

"I Certainly Made a Change in My Complexion With Stuart's Calcium Wafers."

They are the best skin remedy and blood purifier on the market today. No doctor, in our opinion, can prescribe a better one and certainly no druggist can exceed the scientific learning nor be equipped to produce a better treatment than these little pleasant wafers.

You should see how all skin eruptions vanish after using calcium sulphide treatment in the new Stuart way. There is nothing mysterious nor magical about this treatment. It is a natural one. A perfectly harmless one. The entire system is glad the moment Stuart's Calcium Wafers enter the blood, which they do just as the nourishment you derive from your food does.

Pimples, blotches, blackheads, tetter, liver spots, muddy complexion, all flee under the influence of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. Their action is exceedingly refreshing and not at all unpleasant. They will not interfere with your eating in the least and they will actually aid your blood and all other functions of the body, for pure blood means a perfect body.

Obtain a box today from any druggist anywhere. Price, 50 cents.

TO USE PERUNA.

MRS. J. G. DUKES.

Rev. J. G. Dukes, 713 S. 5th St., Wilmington, N. C., writes:

"My wife has been in a very bad state of health for several years, and nothing seemed to do her any good until she began to use Peruna one month ago. Since then the color has returned to her face, and she is gaining in flesh every day, and I believe she is a well woman to-day.

"My little boy, ten years old, was pale and had but little life. He began to use Peruna the day his mother began. To-day his face is rosy, and he is out in the yard running and jumping with the rest of the children."

ENGLISH SINGER AND JOCKEY DEPORTED.

New York, Oct. 2.—Marie Lloyd, English music hall singer, and Bernard Dillon, an English jockey, who arrived here yesterday on the steamship Olympic as Mr. and Mrs. B. Dillon, were ordered deported today. The singer admitted that she and Dillon were not legally married, but claimed that she had been living with him for five years as his wife.

HOPE FOR MEN!

Hope, it is said, springs eternal in the human breast, but how many afflicted men there are who are disappointed and discouraged either because they have not investigated until they have found the right treatment to take or because they have had unsatisfactory medical service elsewhere.

We expect and do hear daily from patients long stories of unsuccessful treatments. But in almost every case the fault lies with the man himself in failing to discriminate between the ordinary practitioner and the skilled specialist. In the treatment of Blood Poison, Skin Diseases, Ulcers, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Nervous Debility and such troubles you will find us past the experimental stage.

Come to SEE US and note the difference in the way an experienced Specialist will handle your case.

You will be amply repaid by the progress which will be made in your case. We have cured many hundreds of men; we can do the same for you.

ATTACK MADE ACROSS RIVER

Piedras Negras' Defenders Repulse Federal Refugees.

American Soldiers Are Forbidden to Cross Into Mexico.

Piedras Negras, Mex., Oct. 2.—A filibustering expedition composed of Federal refugees attempted to capture Piedras Negras from the American side of the Rio Grande today. They were repulsed by the border patrol and the neutral guards placed in charge of the city yesterday after the Constitutionalists' evacuation.

Order Is Maintained.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The citizens of Piedras Negras have elected a mayor ad interim and have posted guards throughout the city to maintain order pending the expected arrival of the Mexican Federal forces, according to a report to the state department today. Large numbers of refugees continue to leave for the United States, but consular reports say that good order is being maintained despite the arrival of large numbers of people from the interior.

Orders that no American troops be sent into Mexican territory at Piedras Negras without instructions from Washington went from the war department yesterday to Brig. Gen. Bliss, commanding the United States border forces.

Full advices have been received from Gen. Bliss and Consul Blocker concerning the situation, but the Washington administration is confident there will be no developments to make necessary a departure from its settled policy of non-intervention.

Fierro Can Leave Army.

Mexico City, Oct. 2.—Esteben E. Fierro of Laredo, an American citizen, who was arrested toward the end of September at Saltillo and impressed into the Mexican army, will not have to serve. The order commanding him to enter the ranks was rescinded today upon representations made by the United States embassy.

Fierro, however, still is a prisoner of the civil authorities. He is accused of theft while acting as conductor of a military train in the state of Coahuila.

Manuel Calero, former Mexican ambassador at Washington, and Jesus Flores Magon, former minister of the interior, both members of the cambinet have been nominated by liberals as presidential and vice presidential candidates, respectively. No convention was held for these nominations, but the leaders of the liberal party called on them and notified them of their selection.

Hulse Family Safe.

Bedford, Pa., Oct. 2.—Lieut. Governor John M. Reynolds today received a telegram from his son-in-law, Shirley C. Hulse, announcing the safe arrival of himself and family at El Paso, Tex. Hulse with a New York mining engineer named Fuller were engaged in a mining enterprise in the interior of Mexico, and recently it was feared they had been murdered by insurrectionists. Fuller escaped on horseback and Hulse securing a horse and wagon made his way to the border. The incident was called to the attention of the Mexican government by the state department at Washington.

Girl Arrested as Spy.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 2.—Marie Zuniga, an American-Mexican girl from Douglas, Ariz., was arrested in Juarez by Federal authorities on a charge of being a rebel spy. She had arrived here to work for a telegraph company and went to Juarez on a sight-seeing trip. She was arrested at the Mexican side of the international bridge and Mexican officials assert that she was carrying messages from the Sonora rebels to sympathizers in Juarez. She is being detained at a private house guarded by Federal soldiers.

Two Americans Arrested.

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 2.—Frederick Simpson, the American consul at Nogales, Sonora, passed through Douglas on his way to investigate the imprisonment of two Americans at Cumpossas, Sonora. James Bylington was reported jailed on a charge of having extracted ore from a mine to which he had no title. John Bennett was arrested on a charge of having fomented a political disturbance by shouting "viva Diaz" in the streets.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS WILL GATHER IN DULUTH.

John O. Ferris of Minneapolis, district superintendent for the American Sunday School union comprising Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana, and Samuel Marshall of Erie, Pa., who will take charge of the range district of rural Sunday schools, replacing Rev. F. L. Prestidge of Virginia, who recently resigned, are spending a few days in the city. They are in the city making preliminary arrangements for the annual conference which will be held here Oct. 31 to Nov. 7.

There will be about seventy-five delegates to the conference, representing the paid workers of the Northern district. These workers have charge of about 700 rural Sunday schools with an attendance of 25,000 pupils.

Many prominent Sunday school workers in the country will be present to give addresses during the eight days of the meeting. Among these will be two district superintendents.

The Northern district comprises probably the largest territory of any in the country. Many of the schools are scattered throughout the country districts and are many miles apart. The conference will be held at the Y. M. C. A.

DOUBLE BED BESIDE TABLE

Restaurant Connected With Lodging House Arouses Inspector's Ire.

A restaurant run in connection with a lodging house, fitted with eight double bunks sleeping sixteen persons, and with a double bed alongside the table has been reported by the city health inspector.

The light and the ventilation were in keeping with the general character of the place, according to the report, and to top off the rest, it was stuck in the back end of a saloon which would not win a prize for its swell fittings.

That is the way Health Inspector Joseph Pratts describes a place which he discovered at 625 West Superior street, in the heart of the city. He refers to it in his monthly report for September.

According to the inspector the proprietor is in a quandary, trying to decide whether he will abandon the lodgings or go out of the restaurant business. In the meantime he reports that no business is being done.

During the month Pratts inspected 71 bakeries, 101 basements, 58 lunch rooms, 59 hotels and rooming houses, 111 restaurants, 62 boarding houses, 203 stores, 66 wagons and abated 44 nuisances.

TRY TO DYNAMITE NEWSPAPER PLANT

Couderspout, Pa., Oct. 2.—An attempt to wreck the plant of the Potter Enterprise was made early today. A heavy charge of dynamite was exploded under the typesetting machines. The side of the building was blown out, but the machines were only slightly damaged. No one was in the building at the time. The force of the explosion broke windows in surrounding buildings.

To explode the charge a tunnel had been made from an alleyway under a wall. There was no basement under this part of the building.

The Enterprise is published by M. T. Stokes, who formerly engaged in newspaper publishing in Ohio. The paper has been conducting a vigorous campaign on local issues.

A reward of $500 has been offered by the county commissioners for the arrest of those responsible for the outrage.

MORE POWER FOR FEDERAL OFFICIALS

Washington, Oct. 2.—A new provision that would take practically all deputy United States marshals and deputy collectors of internal revenue out of the protection of the civil service has been added to the urgent deficiency appropriation bill by the senate committee on appropriations, which reported the measure back to the senate today.

It provides that collectors of industrial revenue and United States marshals shall have power to appoint any deputy who is compelled to furnish a bond and "shall have power to revoke the appointment of any subordinate officer or employe and appoint his successor at his discretion, without regard" to the civil service laws or regulations.

Motor for Marshall.

An appropriation of $7,000 for the purchase of a new automobile for Vice President Marshall and its care and operation for one year was also added to the bill by the senate committee.

Secretary McAdoo has called a conference of collectors of customs to be held at New York beginning Nov. 3 to consider improved methods in customs administration. In the interest of economy and efficiency, it is expected that the conference will recommend reforms. Collector Mitchel of New York and Frederick A. Cleveland already have made an investigation of administration methods at New York and have made recommendations to Secretary McAdoo for making it a model port.

Superior

E. M. Phelps Resigns.

E. M. Phelps, who has been in charge of the local office of the Wisconsin Free Employment bureau, has tendered his resignation to take effect Saturday. Mr. Phelps expects to go into business for himself. W. M. Leiseron, state superintendent of the employment bureaus, will be here tomorrow and will likely announce the successor for Mr. Phelps.

City Has Cash Balance.

The city of Superior has a balance of $25,201 in the treasury according to the fiscal report submitted to the commissioners yesterday afternoon for the fiscal year ending Oct. 1. The report shows that while a number of the departments have run short the balances in other departments have more than offset these shortages.

Beautiful Neck and Bust Easily Acquired

A prettily moulded throat and a shapely bust are essential to the society woman who is constantly required to don evening dress. Those unfortunate in this regard must recognize the cause before the deficiency can be overcome. A thin, scraggy neck or form is due to the muscles and fatty tissues losing their strength and tone because of imperfect circulation and nourishment. Improve circulation and nutrition is also improved. But how? Parafied plastoid jelly, a perfectly harmless substance which all druggists keep, offers the most effective, easiest, quickest means I know of. Smear this liberally over throat or breasts, allow it to stay on about fifteen minutes, then wash off. It has the effect of bringing a healthy blood supply to the depleted tissues, as evidenced by the slight throbbing and feeling of warmth.

This method of rebuilding muscular tissues and stimulating devitalized glands is "Nature's own." Any woman with flat or flabby bust, scrawney or baggy neck, will be well repaid if she will use parafied plastoid jelly every other night for awhile.—Ladies' Favorite Magazine. Adv.

ATHLETIC CONTEST FOR SCHOOL BOYS.

School boys of Superior will enter in athletic contests to be held Saturday at the Nelson Dewey grounds. Bronze, silver and gold medals will be awarded to the best all around athletes taking part. About forty-five boys have entered so far. The boys will be given trials in the various events and those who do not make the required percentage of tests will be given special training under the direction of Emil Krause, the school physical director.

"Centrals" Strike.

Telephone girls of the Wisconsin Telephone company struck yesterday afternoon. The strike is said to have been on account of a chief operator who recently arrived here from the lower part of the state. The differences were settled by the management by shifting the chief to another department.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

BELMONT'S HORSE SECOND AT NEWMARKET.

Newmarket, Eng., Oct. 2.—August Belmont's Tracery disappointed his backers at the Newmarket race meeting today. The colt came in second to Cantilever in the $50,000 jockey club stakes. Aleppo, ridden by Danny Maher, was third. There were seven runners.

Tracery looked like a winner when the horses reached the bushes, but was caught in the dip by Cantilever, the latter winning by three lengths. The betting was 6 to 4 against Tracery.

The race was over a course of a mile and three-quarters.

CAPABLANCA GOES TO EUROPE.

New York, Oct. 2.—J. R. Capablanca, the Cuban chess champion, left New York today on the steamship Kaiserin Auguste Victoria. He will go via London and Paris to St. Petersburg to fill his post as chancellor to the Cuban consulate there. On his way from London to St. Petersburg he will meet some of the chess masters who are to participate in the international chess congress at Havana.

MURET TURNED OVER TO FEDERAL OFFICERS

New York, Oct. 2.—Ernest Muret, the self-styled dentist, who, it is charged, was an associate in the counterfeiting operations with Hans Schmidt, the slayer of Anna Aumuller, was surrendered today by the state to the United States secret service, an indictment charging counterfeiting having been found against him by the Federal grand jury.

Before Muret was surrendered to the Federal authorities he was arraigned today for sentence on his plea of guilty to a charge of having in his possession a dangerous weapon in violation of the Sullivan law. Sentence on this charge was suspended in order to permit the Federal authorities to press the counterfeiting charge. Muret was taken back to the Tombs.

CHICAGO GARBAGE PLAN GETS BUMPED

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Another difficulty in the disposition of Chicago garbage arose today when indignant citizens living in the neighborhoods where it is proposed to dump the refuse arranged for mass meetings to protest against the plan and threatened to go into court.

No collections of garbage will be made until next week. Announcement to this effect was accomplished by official explanation that the public need not feel apprehensive of an epidemic.

An emergency measure to provide for disposing of the city's garbage, accumulating at the rate of 700 tons a day, was passed by the city council last night. The relief measure provides for the purchase of land where garbage will be disposed of by means of chemicals. The ordinance carried an appropriation of $225,000 for the purchase of the property.

NEW WITNESSES AT THE EATON INQUEST

Hingham, Mass., Oct. 2.—Several new witnesses were heard when the inquest into the death of Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton was resumed today.

These were Mr. and Mrs. John Hills, neighbors of the Eatons at Assinippi; F. S. Alger of Rockland, a newspaper man, who had an interview with the widow soon after her husband's death, and a woman nurse who attended the naval officer in his last days. Other witnesses heard were Herbert Simmons, a neighbor, and Earl C. Forsman, a clerk in a store at Assinippi.

The motive of District Attorney Barker in reopening the inquest twelve days before the date set for the trial of the widow, Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, on a charge of murder was not made known.

Died of Poisoning.

Admiral Eaton died of poisoning on March 8 and the inquest, held soon afterwards, was interrupted by the arrest of Mrs. Eaton, who has since been in jail at Plymouth. She is accused of having placed poison in her husband's food, after a series of domestic quarrels.

From the first Mrs. Eaton has protested her innocence, and though the plan of the defense has not been disclosed, it had been hinted that an attempt would be made to show that the admiral died from an overdose of a tonic drug which it is claimed he had been in the habit of using.

KING GUSTAVE ILL; HAS TO STAY IN BED

Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 2.—King Gustave of Sweden is suffering from the effects of an operation for appendicitis performed in 1910, and has been obliged to take to his bed at Skabersjoe castle to undergo special treatment. A bulletin issued today says:

"The king has often had bad pains in the abdomen since he underwent the operation in Paris. These pains have increased considerably within the past few days. The treatment will necessitate the king's staying in bed for some time and will prevent him from attending to state business. The king's temperature is normal and his condition does not occasion anxiety."

BEMIDJI TEACHERS ADDRESS FARMERS.

Bemidji, Minn., Oct. 2.—Farmers packed the school house in district 61 last evening, where a program was given and speeches made by members of the Bemidji High school faculty. E. A. Barker accompanied by Mrs. Barker, Miss Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gile drove out in the Barker car and Clyde M. Bacon accompanied by his wife and Miss Newton, Supt. Dyer and A. D. Bailey drove out in the Bacon car.

Interesting talks were given by the Bemidji people and a short musical program was given. Miss Newton, instructor of music in the local schools sang several selections and many pieces were played on a victrola taken out by the Bemidji party.

Y. M. C. A. WORKER GOING TO INDIA

A farewell reception was tendered at the Proctor Y. M. C. A. last night to M. R. Shelton, the retiring secretary, whose resignation took place yesterday. The reception was largely attended by Proctor people and a number went from Duluth, among them President W. A. McGonagle of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road, General Secretary and Mrs. B. C. Wade of the Duluth association, E. W. Peck of Minneapolis, state secretary, and Bruce Minier, international railroad secretary.

Mr. Shelton has been secretary at Proctor for three years and has been exceptionally successful, earning for himself one of the most distinguished promotions which the association is able to give. He will sail on Oct. 15 or Nov. 1 for India, where he will make headquarters at Calcutta and will be one of two men sent from this country to begin the organization of railroad Y. M. C. A. organizations in India. It will be strictly pioneer work for nothing of the kind has yet been attempted in India, and will be a position of much responsibility.

With the departure of Mr. Shelton from the shores of the United States, thirty-one men will have, this year, gone from this country to different parts of the world to further the work of the Y. M. C. A.

TEST POWER CASE IS ARGUED IN DENVER

Denver, Colo., Oct. 2.—Fees to the government, estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 in the next ten years, are involvde in the case of the United States against the Utah Power & Light company, a $40,000,000 merger, argument of which was begun before the United States circuit court of appeals here today. The appeal, which is from the decision of Judge John A. Marshall of the United States district court of Utah, is a test case charging the power corporation with trespass in constructing a flume and reservoir in the Cache national forest in Utah. Hundreds of similar instances in mountain and Pacific coast states are awaiting determination.

NEW YORK CITY IS FLOODED BY RAIN

New York, Oct. 2.—A rain storm that reached almost cloudburst proportions descended on New York Wednesday afternoon, establishing a record for precipitation that flooded streets, tied up the subway, hampered surface and elevated traffic in city and suburbs for several hours, and caused property loss that can scarcely yet be estimated.

Two persons were killed and several injured. Four men were buried in a sewer ditch cave-in, but were rescued. Lightning played above the city and struck an elevated train and several buildings, setting fires which the deluge extinguished. Incoming trains from all directions were delayed, as cuts and tunnels resembled rivers within canyons.

Within the city the traffic congestion was such that the resources of the traffic squad were severely taxed. Brooklyn bridge saw the greatest traffic rush in its history. It was late at night before traffic officials announced resumption of normal traffic.

There was little wind here, but along the New Jersey coast there was a gale blowing fifty miles an hour. Rain swelled the Passaic river nearly to its previous record high water mark and the streets of Newark were inundated. Low-lying Jersey meadows became seemingly part of the river.

Train and trolley traffic on Staten Island was almost entirely suspended throughout the afternoon and water flowed from eighteen inches to two feet deep through many streets.

HAIR STOPS FALLING, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS—25 CENT DANDERINE

Save Your Hair! Make It Soft, Fluffy, Lustrous and Beautiful.

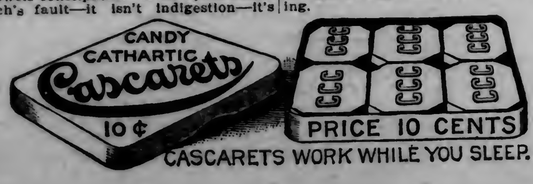

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

UPSET STOMACH, COSTIVE, BILIOUS, CASCARETS TONIGHT—DIME A BOX

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means your stomach is sour—your liver is torpid—your bowels constipated. It isn't your stomach's fault—it isn't indigestion—it's biliousness and constipation. Try Cascarets; they sweeten the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret to-night straightens you out by morning.

CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP.

WHERE SHOE IS PINCHING

Minneapolis and Chicago Traffic Men See Importance of Duluth Victory.

Minneapolis Commission Issues Figures Showing Duluth's Benefit.

If there is any lack of interest or appreciation in Duluth of the now famous Duluth rate case decision this failure of appreciation is not shared in cities like Minneapolis and Chicago, for just now they are throwing a succession of fits, following the filing of a petition with the interstate commerce commission to have the case reopened, claiming that Duluth has been given "more than she asked for."

The petition is filed by the Chicago Association of Commerce, but it is claimed that this association is merely acting in behalf of many large interests, aggregating in capital more than $2,000,000,000. It is understood that every pressure possible is being brought to bear upon the commission to reopen the case on the claim that it is going to cost the interests losses of millions of dollars.

This was the most brilliant and important victory that the Duluth traffic commission has ever achieved and before the members see Duluth lose it after it was won, they will fight it through to the last ditch. However they hope the case will not even be reopened, for the commission considered it most carefully before announcing the decision, and the petition for a rehearing contains no new features. The decision of the commission gave Duluth a lake and rail rate that put it on a parity with Milwaukee and Chicago. When one considers that this meant taking away from the tremendous interests of Chicago the advantages they had been enjoying over Duluth, it will be understood where the shoe pinches.

Far-Reaching Victory.

The victory of the Duluth traffic commission opened up for Duluth and the territory back of her, advantages that have heretofore been unknown and almost unhoped for, not only immediate advantages, but advantages that would bring growth and commercial strength in the future.

Minneapolis claims that it is not figuring in the appeal to reopen the case, claiming that it won a victory when the commission refused to have the rates break at Duluth, but her "victory" was of the bitter variety, the decision robbing Minneapolis of many advantages that she has possessed over Duluth for many years.

Here are some schedules figured out by the Minneapolis traffic commission, in case the decision stands, the effect on territory west of Minneapolis:

From Pittsburg, iron and steel products can be shipped to North Dakota and Montana points through Duluth, 5¾ cents per 100 pounds less than through Minneapolis, and 14 cents less than through Chicago.

From Baltimore, canned goods can be shipped to North Dakota and Montana points through Duluth, 7 cents less than through Minneapolis and 20 cents less than through Chicago.

From New York, dry goods, boots and shoes, hats and caps and like merchandise can be shipped to North Dakota and Montana points through Duluth, 21 cents less than through Minneapolis and 60 cents less than through Chicago.

This applies practically to all territory west and north of the Hastings & Dakota division of the Milwaukee road, from Minneapolis west.

The following clipping from the Minneapolis Journal shows how the case is viewed there:

Boomerang Case.

"The most extraordinary condition ever known in the Western traffic world has developed from the great case, in which Duluth, fighting Minneapolis in an effort to deprive Minneapolis of rail and lake rates and conserve that advantage exclusively for Duluth, enlisted the sympathy and support of Chicago. A boomerang effect that will cost Chicago business interests hundreds of millions of dollars annually in trade, if it becomes operative, is clearly to be seen ahead, and the affected interests want the whole matter taken up again.

"The interstate commerce commission, in the famous case only recently decided, granted Duluth a reduction in lake and rail rates that put it on parity with Milwaukee and Chicago. But it also recognized the inherent right of Minneapolis, by geographic position, to a share in through lake and rail rate advantages. The effect was not what the interests that started the fight had expected. What is more, railroad presidents everywhere have been making speeches at dinners and meetings advocating an advance in rates as a necessary step towards extension of lines and upkeep of property, and this has been going on for more than a year.

Effect Terrific.

"Now come the railroad rate experts who have figured what is going to happen to the roads, and incidentally to Chicago, and the effect is going to be terrific both with regard to trunk line traffic and lake and rail earnings, if figures mean anything.

"What the change will do to Minneapolis is but a trifle, compared to what it may be expected to do to Chicago.

Passive Attitude.

"W. P. Trickett, executive officer of the traffic division of the Civic and Commerce association, said today that the attitude of Minneapolis, as defined by the directors, is passive, and that it is not a Minneapolis fight. 'But we are fully preparing ourselves, and if the petition of Eastern lines that the matter be reopened, is granted, we will of course figure in the case. The attitude of our organization is a favorable one, inasmuch as it is generally understood by railroad financial heads and executives that we are in no manner concerned with any effort to reduce railroad rates or prevent reasonable advances, as a whole. The organization has never made such a fight. We are concerned only with the maintenance of the position of Minneapolis, and would of course fight vigorously any proposal that would suggest readjustment on a basis to give the Eastern roads and Chicago a better position, if it affected us.'"

Wreck Is Menace.

Capt. G. H. Vroman of the Union Towing company today received a message that the wrecked City of London was lying one and one-half miles west of Pelee island, near the west side.

The forecastle and deck are awash, the top of pilot house, smokestack and spars being exposed. The boat will be lightered tonight in order to prevent passing boats running on the wreckage.

Bridge Kept Busy.

The Interstate bridge was kept busy swinging during September to allow boats to pass. A total of 2,314 vessels of which 1,021 were tugs passed through the draw. This is over 300 less times than during August, but is considered a record number of times for September. During August 2,638 boats passed through the open draw.

THAW CASE GOING INTO STATE'S HANDS

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 2.—The grand jury that has been considering charges in connection with the escape of Harry K. Thaw from Matteawan asylum will be discharged next Monday. The judy took a recess last week until Oct. 6, and it is understood that no indictments were found against Thaw or anyone else who might have been charged with helping him to escape.

District Attorney Conger applied for the discharge of the jury today and County Judge Hasbrouck promised to grant the request on Monday.

Mr. Conger said after a conference last night with William T. Jerome it had been decided that New York and Dutchess counties would hereafter leave the Thaw case in the hands of the attorney general.

Complains of Treatment.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Through Senator Oliver of Pennsylvania, Harry K. Thaw has appealed to the state department to ask an explanation from the British embassy here of the treatment accorded him by Canadian officials while he was held a prisoner in the Dominion shortly after his escape from the Matteawan insane asylum. Thaw claims the treatment was in violation of the privileges he was entitled to as an American citizen.

OBITUARY

Louis Windmuller, the aged philanthropist who recently sustained a breakdown from senile paresis, and in consequence was adjudged incompetent to handle his big estate, died in New York Oct. 1. He was 70 years old. A widow, a son and a daughter survive him.

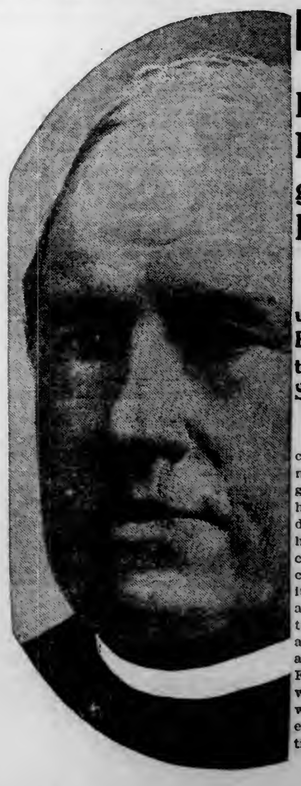

FRENCH RELEASE GERMAN AVIATOR.

Boulogne, France, Oct. 2.—The French authorities granted an authorization to depart from France to Lieut. Steffen, the German officer, who landed near here with his aeroplane on Sept. 29. Before leaving, Lieut. Steffen thanked the French authorities for the courtesy they had shown him. He told them that he had not intended to fly across French territory, but had been blown out of his course and compelled to descend.

MORTIFIED BY SLAP, MAN DROWNS SELF.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 2.—Humiliated by being slapped in a saloon row, Thomas Rye, aged 73, walked directly from the saloon to the Mississippi river, advanced on to the bridge and jumped into the water. This happened Sunday night. At that time Rye was seen hastening toward the river. Late yesterday his body was found.

FATHER JOHN'S IS A SAFE FAMILY MEDICINE

Cures Colds and Builds up the System Because it is a Pure and Wholesome Food that Makes Flesh and Strength.

When the children have a cold or cough or when they need a tonic, mothers should be careful never to give them anything containing alcohol or dangerous drugs. Because it does not contain these drugs or alcohol in any form, Father John's Medicine is a safe medicine to give the children. Thousands of mothers use it in their homes right along. It has a history of 50 years of success in the treatment of coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles, as well as a tonic and body builder. The ingredients of Father John's Medicine are pure and wholesome food for those who are weak and run down. It is not a patent medicine but a doctor's prescription. Get a bottle today.

MAY HAVE TO PAY FOR VACATING STREET.

Before the requested vacation of Crescent avenue between Anoka and Owatonna streets, Woodland, comes up for final hearing at the council meeting Monday afternoon, the commissioners will go over the ground in person.

Four blocks of a platted thoroughfare are involved in the proposed vacation. Looking over the blueprint this morning Mayor Prince said that it appears that the lots on either side would have upwards of thirty feet added to their frontage for their full length by the vacation of the avenue. He explained that he is not familiar with the topography but that it seemed to him that the owners of the property benefited should pay the city what the added ground would be worth to them. In keeping with the announced policy of making no vacations without first knowing the situation the council will visit that part of Crescent avenue involved before the meeting of Monday.

The petitioners represent that the avenue has never been opened and is now partially fenced in. They state that it is of little value and that no one would be damaged by the vacation. What the commissioners desire to determine is to what extent the property will be benefited by it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures all humors, catarrh and rheumatism, relieves that tired feeling restores the appetite, cures paleness, nervousness, builds up the whole system.

Get it today in usual liquid form or in the tablets called Sarsatabs.

ELY'S CREAM BALM OPENS CLOGGED NOSTRILS AND HEAD—CATARRH GOES

Instantly Clears Air Passages; You Breathe Freely, Nasty Discharge Stops, Head Colds and Dull Headache Vanish

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrate and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

Woman's Realm

Hundreds of women attended the opening reception of the Twentieth Century club which was held yesterday afternoon at the Spalding hotel parlors and were received by the president, Mrs. N. F. Hugo, who headed the receiving line in which were Miss Maria Sanford, the special guest of honor; Mrs. J. L. Washburn, Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge and Mrs. J. H. Crowley.

Receiving in a second group were Mrs. M. Lawitzky, Mrs. H. L. Gage and Mrs. J. T. Culbertson with the presidents of the federated clubs of the city, Mrs. John A. Keyes, Mrs. George Goodrich, Mrs. R. P. Boyington and Mrs. K. A. Ostergren.

The assisting hostesses for the afternoon were: Mrs. Henry Taylor, Mrs. M. H. Kelley, Mrs. Robert Spiegel, Mrs. W. A. McGonagle, Mrs. R. E. Denfeld, Mrs. A. L. Warner, Mrs. John McLeod, Mrs. T. W. Hoopes, Mrs. T. J. Davis, Mrs. Z. D. Scott, Mrs. John Segog, Mrs. J. J. Moe, Mrs. F. G. Stevens, Mrs. Edwin H. Lee, Mrs. H. R. Spencer, Mrs. W. H. Hoyt, Miss Francis Earhart, Mrs. J. H. McLean, Mrs. Harriet L. Carey, Mrs. J. B. Richards, Mrs. J. H. Atwood, Mrs. F. A. Patrick, Mrs. S. R. Holden, Mrs. D. B. McDonald, Dr. Mary Gillon, Dr. Mary Conrad, Mrs. Fred Reynolds, Mrs. Gustav Flaaten, Mrs. W. G. La Rue, Mrs. J. H. Norton, Mrs. E. J. Bardwell, Mrs. C. E. Wallace, Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst, Mrs. M. S. Hirshfield, Mrs. R. B. Liggett, Mrs. D. B. McDonald, and Miss Katherine King.

The chairmen of the different departments of the club also formed a receiving group to discuss with members the work for the year in their classes and departments. In this group were: Mrs. J. C. H. Engel, Mrs. W. G. Bonham, Mrs. W. H. Schilling, Mrs. H. N. MacHarg and Mrs. Leonard Young.

Mrs. George A. Elder and Mrs. George A. St. Clair presided at the punch bowl, assisted by Mrs. Hans Haroldson, Miss Carolyn Munger, Miss Elizabeth Olcott and Miss Margaret Elder.

Exquisite baskets of flowers were used about the parlors, roses, daisies, marigold and golden glow lending their beauty.

Musical Program.

The music for the afternoon was given by George H. Madison, baritone, who delighted the guests with his singing of "The Horn," "An Episode" and a group of Irish songs, which were enthusiastically received, Miss Louise Murchison played his accompaniments.

Sanford Lectures.

The reception formally opened the club work for the year and the literary work was given a most auspicious opening this afternoon when Miss Maria Sanford gave her first lecture on "Literature for Everybody," at the lecture room of the First Baptist church, Ninth avenue east and First street, to members of the club and others interested. Mrs. Homer Anderson sang a group of songs and the speaker was introduced by the president, Mrs. N. F. Hugo.

Lecture on Burns.

Tomorrow evening Miss Sanford will give a lecture on "Robert Burns" at the Baptist church at 8 o'clock, free to members of the club and a large attendance is assured, for aside from the popularity of the speaker and the interest in her subject the Scotch people of the city are especially interested and will attend in numbers.

A. G. McKnight will introduce Miss Sanford tomorrow evening and Philip Gordon Brown will sing a group of Scotch songs.

PARENTS' MEETING.

Miss King Will Speak on "Co-Operation."

Miss Katherine King, principal of the Bryant school, will speak this evening at a meeting for parents of the pupils at the Lowell school on Duluth Heights, to be held at the school building at 8 o'clock. She will tell of the work of the mothers' club of the Bryant school and speak on co-operation of parents and teachers. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

FOR MISS ERD.

Pretty Reception for Singer on Return From Europe.

Mrs. Frank Hibbing and Miss Hibbing of 1830 East Superior street received from 3 to 6 o'clock this afternoon at their home, in compliment to Miss Senta Erd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Erd, who recently returned from Germany, where she studied music for three years. Mrs. Hibbing, Miss Hibbing and Mis Erd formed the receiving line, and assisting about the rooms were Mrs. J. B. Erd, Mrs. M. H. Aiworth and her sister, Mrs. Fred Benjamin of Toppenish, Wash., and Mrs. Nels of Chicago, Mrs. Aiworth's niece, and Mrs. M. H. Kelley. Mrs. R. T. Hugo and Mrs. R. B. Liggett presided at the punch bowl, and assisting in the dining room were Misses Elsie Kugler, Lucille Bradley, Helen McKinnel and Edith Kelley.

In the reception hall mountain ash berries were arranged with artistic effect, while in the other rooms a color scheme of pink and white was carried out. In the dining room sweet peas were used for the centerpiece, and in the living room and parlor asters and gladioluses. The fireplace was screened with a bank of daisies and golden glow.

Several hundred guests called during the afternoon.

Miss Erd has been studying for grand opera with unusual success, and she will be heard in concert here this season.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Rice, who left today for Detroit, Mich., to make their home there, were greeted by more than 1,000 people at the reception given for them at the parlors of the First M. E. church last evening. Dr. Rice has been pastor of that church for nine years, and will become pastor of the North Woodward avenue church at Detroit. Both he and Mrs. Rice have made a wide circle of warm friends, and as an expression of appreciation for their influence here they were presented with a large chest of solid silver tableware as a gift from the congregation of the church.

This was the last of a series of social affairs which have been given in their honor in the last few weeks.

Rev. J. W. Hoffman, who will succeed Dr. Rice, will arrive in Duluth next week from Pittsburg and will occupy the pulpit Oct. 12.

OPEN HOUSE.

Program Arranged for Informal Affair at Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Jane Everington Scully will sing a group of songs and Miss Eva Zalk, pianist, will contribute several numbers for the program which will be given tomorrow evening at the Y. W. C. A. open house. Miss Tessie Diehl will also read. All men and women interested in the work of the association are invited to call at the building at Second avenue west and Second street tomorrow evening after 8 o'clock when the building will be thrown open for inspection and the work of the fall classes explained and an opportunity given for those who wish to register for the classes.

CLOSES COURSE.

Dr. Ulrich Gives Last Lectures Here.

ELECT PRESIDENT.

St. Cecelia Members Will Meet.

There will be a meeting of the Society of St. Cecelia this evening at 8 o'clock at the vicar's study at Trinity pro-cathedral, Twentieth avenue east and Superior street, for the purpose of electing a president. The society consists of the young women of the church who have banded together for social, musical and religious work and they plan regular meetings during the year, to be held at various homes or at the church.

Philathea Class.

At the annual election of the Philathea class of the First Presbyterian church, held in the church parlors, the following officers were elected: Juanita Ritman, president; Anna Macaskill, vice president; Amanda Meier, secretary; Rubi Anderson, treasurer, and Anna Murray, reporter. An entertainment will be given by the class the last week in October for the benefit of the building fund for the new addition to the church.

The class will hold its annual picnic supper in the church parlors on Monday evening, Oct. 6. Young women who are strangers in the city are especially invited. A short business session will be held after the supper, which will be served at 6 o'clock.

MAGBIAH CLUB.

Classes Are Planned for This Fall.

The Magbiah club will hold an important meeting Sunday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the Talmud Torch building, Third avenue east and Third street, followed by a social meeting and program at 3 o'clock.

At the business meeting the members will discuss the work of the club for the year. Classes in sewing, basketry, reading circles and study classes will be formed and all members, both associate and active, are urged to be present for a discussion of the plans.

DIESEL MYSTERY DEEP.

Sailor Says Inventor Did Not Sail on Boat.

Antwerp, Oct. 2.—The mystery of the disappearance of Dr. Rudolf Diesel, the German inventor, while on his way from Germany to England, was still deepened today by the assertion of a member of the crew of the cross-channel steamer Dresden, who said that Dr. Diesel went on board the steamer at half past five in the evening of Sept. 28, but on learning that the vessel was not to start until half past seven went ashore and was not seen again. The sailor declared he was convinced that Dr. Diesel did not cross the channel.

The steward did not enter his name on the cabin list.

Sailor's Story Contradicted.

London, Oct. 2.—The statement made by a sailor that Dr. Rudolf Diesel did not travel on board the steamer Dresden is contradicted by the declaration of George Carels, an official of the Diesel company that he dined with Dr. Diesel on board the Dresden and left him on the ship's deck at 10 o'clock on Sept. 29.

ENGLISH ACTRESS AND COMPANION HELD.

New York, Oct. 2.—Marie Lloyd, an English actress who arrived yesterday aboard the steamship Olympic, was detained by immigration authorities together with Bernard Dillon, a jockey, pending inquiry into their claim that they are man and wife. The couple were registered as Mr. and Mrs. Dillon.

According to advices received by the immigration authorities, whose inspectors interrogated and detained the couple, Miss Lloyd and Mr. Dillon were never legally married. Miss Lloyd said she had been living with Mr. Dillon for five years and each claimed they were married.

Both Miss Lloyd and Dillon will be taken to Ellis Island for a hearing before a special board of inquiry.

MODERN DRAMA DEALS WITH THE PROBLEMS OF THE DAY

Chief Characteristic Is Naturalness---Old Playwrights Never Went Below the "Culture Line."

"The drama of today is a contemporary drama," said Prof. Thomas Dickinson of the University of Wisconsin in his lecture on "The New Technique of the Drama" given last evening at the sun parlor of the Spalding hotel under the auspices of the Duluth Branch of the Drama league. "It does not represent problems of the past or of the future but deals with problems of the day. It is a product of the social conditions of the day and the theater going public demands that its chief characteristic be naturalness and consistent representation of life.

"The new play is built upon a standard of actuality and no longer are situations taken alone from above what one might call the culture line, but are matters pertaining to all the classes of people and all the passions and problems of the race. The old type of play was built up with situations, characters and actors all taken from a pigeonholed shelf, depending upon external effects and types for its development. It never touched the primitive passions. Now the plays are taken from the everyday life of the people, the great masses of the people and must be natural. They are much more simple in plot than the old time plays and deal with the vital forces taken from life."

Prof. Dickinson spoke of the close relation of the drama to the life of the day saying it has come to be an "amusement machine."

"The drama is the most democratic of all the arts," he said, "as it touches most strongly the masses. One reason for this is that the audience is absolutely necessary for the drama to have any force. A rehearsal to an empty house is a lifeless, forceless thing and only when the inspiration of the crowd of people watching the play is given is it worth anything."

The lecture last evening was the first of a series of four which Prof. Dickinson will give before the members of the league during the winter, his next to take up "Realism in the Drama." Warren E. Greene introduced the speaker to a large audience which received him with enthusiasm. An informal reception was held in the hotel parlors prior to the lecture giving the league members an opportunity of meeting the speaker.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Ideals Are Temporary Only.

A young woman of 25 or 26 is lamenting the loss of her ideals. She believes that she is growing too practical because she can no longer enthuse over or even consider the type of man who formerly appealed to her as combining all the manly virtues. Men who seemed to her heroic for some reason which her romantic fancy seized upon and made real, now appear merely selfish or rattle-brained, or both. She believes that she has lost her capacity for appreciating the good in folk—that instead of measuring them up she is inclined to measure them down. I think that she need not fear for her ideals. They are safe enough only changed.

It would be a serious matter if years did not grant change from the worshipful sort that saw in every gay Lothario an idol upon which to lavish trust and affection, to the more solid order that has not so much to do with seeming things as with things as they are.

We start out with no very well-defined ideas, I am afraid. If we are girls or young women, our ideals are apt to become confused with the looks of the men, whether he employs a good tailor, has broad shoulders, good teeth and a Gibson cast of countenance. Of course, he is also good and brave and tender and clever, or at least, having the requisite appearance, we endow him with the virtues of heart and mind. Gradually we come to realize that broad shoulders do not make a man or a determined chin one of strong character always.

The ideals of youth are good for the time being. They fill their niche. But it is better to get at the heart of a man or woman, to recognize and appreciate to the full extent the real good that may be found there and to endure the failings because of the good, than to be living in an imaginary world, idealizing everything and everybody and eventually meeting disappointment because they do not fill expectations impossible to realize.

A WORD TO DULUTH HOUSEKEEPERS

Next time you do not know just what to serve for dinner try "Minnesota" Spaghetti. You will be mighty pleased to see how the family enjoys the delicious appetizing flavor and, if you serve it often, you will make a big saving in household expenses.

"Minnesota" Spaghetti is the most nourishing and most easily digested food known. It can be served in so many ways that no one ever tires of it.

It is very easy to prepare and it can be made to take the place of meat very largely—its cost is only about one cent a dish.

YOU SAID SOMETHING.

Dispatches from Minnesota have told of the rotting of thousands of bushels of apples for no other reasons than that the cost of gathering and marketing them was larger than the price the apples could command in the market.

We have been told repeatedly that the farmers do not produce enough to keep prices down. But before worrying about that, wouldn't it be ordinary horse sense to devise methods by which the products which are produced are sure to be marketed?—Toledo Blade.

Not in Minnesota alone, but in other states, have there been such reports. And it is not apples alone, but other and still more necessary foods that ripen and waste for lack of buyers.

AND MEANTIME THE MARKETS IN WHICH THE CONSUMER MUST BUY ARE SCANT ENOUGH TO KEEP PRICES ALMOST BEYOND REACH!

For lack of the apples which rotted on the ground, the price of apples this winter will be inordinately high.

The foolest, most stupid thing about the social organization is that even at this late stage of civilization it has not devised a decent system of feeding itself—of satisfying the producer and contenting the consumer by a direct and cheap and adequate system of getting food from those who raise it to those who eat it.

It should be the strongest and most fundamental function of social organization, and it is the lamest and the most neglected.

The lack of a sane system of marketing food products hurts both producer and consumer, and is attended by a wicked waste and an unfair diversion of benefits that should be shared by producer and consumer.

Society—through government if necessary—should set itself to the task of devising the shortest and cheapest route possible from producer to consumer.

It is about as important a task as it possibly could take up.

It looks as if there might be some trouble in telling just when the extra session of congress fades into the real thing.

ELOQUENT FIGURES.

Bank clearings in Duluth last month were $34,403,550.43, an increase of $8,005,167.11 or thirty per cent over the same month last year, which also was a record-breaking month.

Bank clearings in Duluth for the period of nine months just closed amounted to $162,484,054.35, a gain over the same period last year of $37,749,046.34 or thirty per cent.

The bank clearings for each of the nine months of 1913 were higher than for the same month in 1912.

Nothing more eloquent of the strong upward movement in Duluth commerce and industry could be imagined than these figures from a local article in The Herald of last evening.

CHARITY.

There is much wisdom in the letters written by the late Mayor Gaynor, and it is always piquantly and tersely expressed.

For instance, one Robinson wrote him a short time before his death to remind him of an incident in Gaynor's earlier career that was highly creditable to him as a lawyer and a man.

Robinson had been pressing a bill against one Tragman, and Tragman employed Gaynor as his attorney. Tragman asked Robinson to visit Gaynor's office to arrange a settlement, and when they entered the debtor approached his attorney and began to walk in a whisper.

Presently Gaynor broke out into distinctly audible words: "You can't do any such thing. I won't be your attorney if that is the way you want to do business. Furthermore, let me tell you that you will land in state prison if you don't look out."

Robinson was reminded of this incident by the fact that Tragman had just died in the penitentiary, and he wrote Gaynor about it. In reply he got a letter in which Mayor Gaynor said that he remembered the incident well, that Tragman had gone out of his vision some way and that he had not known that he had "gone to the bad."

Then came one of the sentences for which Mayor Gaynor was famous; and in it there is expressed a philosophy which most people would profit by making their own:

THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN TEMPTED TOO LITTLE TO FALL ARE NOT COMPETENT TO JUDGE THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN TEMPTED TOO MUCH TO RESIST.

What do those whose lives have been lived out of the reach of temptation know of the lives of those who have lived neighbor to it always?

What right have "those who have been tempted too little to fall" to judge "those who have been tempted too much to resist?"

Much of the charity and instinct for justice that made Gaynor loved in spite of his austerity are crowded into that sentence.

Utah has erected a monument to the sea gull, which effectually puts an end to the old idea that the stork is the state fowl.

THE NEWSPAPER, THE PUBLIC AND THE ADVERTISER.

A Chicago piano manufacturer recently cancelled his subscription to the Chicago Tribune, and refused longer to advertise his goods in its columns, because he did not agree with its editorial policy.

About the same time we heard of this incident, we also heard of a man, otherwise large and broad and capable, a man of large success and big achievements, who had said that the newspapers of this country are purely commercial institutions that are swayed by their advertisers, and that have no scruples or opinions that cannot be altered for a price.

The two incidents together illustrate a more or less common viewpoint which The Herald is glad to say it believes to be atrociously wrong and mistaken.

In the first place, the Chicago man erred because advertising is purely a business proposition. He seeks publicity for his wares because that is the cheapest and best form of salesmanship and because a dollar invested in it brings ten times as great a return as a dollar invested in any other means of bringing his goods to the attention of possible buyers. The editorial policy of the advertising medium he is considering is important, in that respect, ONLY AS IT AFFECTS THE STANDING OF THE NEWSPAPER AND PUBLIC CONFIDENCE IN ITS CONTENTS. Whether or not he agrees with it, if the editorial policy of a newspaper is such as to command for it public respect and confidence, then it is a better advertising medium than it would be if it had an editorial policy that failed to command public respect and confidence.

And right there is where we come to the man who believes that newspapers are public prostitutes, with their opinions swayed by commercial instincts and subject to the beck and call of those whose business it covets.

If newspapers were as he believes them to be, not one of them would gain, or be entitled to gain, the least public respect and confidence. And any newspaper which becomes as he believes newspapers to be immediately forfeits whatever public respect and confidence it may have enjoyed.

The purchaser of publicity, who buys it because it is valuable to him, wants the best form of it he can buy. Publicity through a newspaper whose opinions carry no weight because it is notorious that they are a commodity to be bought and sold would be practically worthless. It would be dear at any price. The wise investor in publicity buys no such worthless publicity as that. As he judges circulation less by size than by whether it is thrust upon subscribers or sought by them, so he judges editorial policy less by whether he agrees with it than by whether it accords with the public view and the public good.

Newspapers are not and cannot be what that man believes—or says he believes—and there is a reason which even he can understand—IT WOULD NOT PAY.

A newspaper's first duty is to its subscribers—which means the public. This though it lives by its advertising receipts instead of by its subscription receipts.

Its duty is first to the public because it is a public institution, and because it cannot be most highly serviceable to its advertisers unless it does serve the public loyally and thereby earn and receive the public's respect.

The newspaper business is conducted in the open, more than any other business. Its goods are all in the show window. A newspaper can do nothing in the dark. All it does must be done in the light of day, through publicity; and by publicity it will be damned and defeated if it seeks to betray the public interest for a price. Its first attempt at betraying the public would simply betray its own venality and its unworthiness.

The Herald has had opinions of its own, and it hopes always to have them. These opinions have at times gone counter to the opinions of many of its advertisers.

But it is glad to say that no advertiser whose account is worth consideration ever has sought to sway its editorial policy by the use of his patronage.

When a newspaper, to get business, must sacrifice its conscience and its individuality, and stultify itself for gain, it might as well haul down its flag and quit.

It would be hard to convince a whole lot of people that that Pennsylvania miner who was buried in forty feet of solid coal had such a bad thing after all.

THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE WHITE WAY'S TEMPTATIONS.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal having attacked New York's "Great White Way," and criticized the metropolis for offering such glittering temptations to extravagance, self-indulgence and vice, the New York World came tartly back with the assertion that it is not New Yorkers who support the "Great White Way," but New York's visitors.

The World says that it is the folks from Kalamazoo and Kankakee, from Emporia and Elgin, from Des Moines and Duluth, who fill the cafes and sit spellbound in half-alarmed enjoyment before the cabaret shows.

But it's not an answer to the charge made by the Memphis newspaper.

We had thought of the fitting comment on the World's defense, and were about to spring it when we discovered that the Record, of Columbia, South Carolina, had sprung it first:

> But isn't it just possible that in his absorbing pursuit of "making a living," which means "making money," the New Yorker is not indifferent to encouraging immoral and lawless conditions that violate the common instincts of social decency and of public safety to entice the unwary and the naughty from the four corners of the country to gather there where the bad men and women can fleece them and share the spoils in various ways with that type of "good citizen" whom we have everywhere, who leads an upright, moral and exemplary life, who never goes wrong himself, but who is so complacent and adept in winking at the snares and traps laid for the weaker individual, which contribute to his resources in "making a living."

It may be true that the majority of patrons of glittering places that profit by daring approach to the abysses of vice are from the country.

But while the people of the country at large, even many who are exceedingly circumspect in their conduct at home, may be open to the charge of patronizing and even that of supporting the "Great White Way," nobody yet has thought of accusing them of starting it or owning the resorts which make it glittering and perilous.

With the stockyards so near, one wonders why the this and that Chicago should have such a fuss about garbage.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

KNOW EVERYTHING BUT WAY TO MAKE LIVING.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The principal reason for the great number of unskilled workers is the lack of industrial training.

There are many in this country who know everything but how to make a living.

They have had a good education but no practical training in the work of the world.

About the only employment the boy is offered after he leaves high school is common labor unless he has somebody pulling for him.

If a business course, such as bookkeeping, typewriting, etc., and a manual training department were included in the public schools there would be more skilled workers than there are now. Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain yours,

C. KNUTSON.

AN EDITOR IN SACKCLOTH.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your issue of yesterday you advised an unsuspecting schoolgirl that Sir Joshua Reynolds was the creator of the famous "Baby Stuart." For shame! The undersigned produced this treasure a century before Reynolds was born. Is this a blunder, or is it paid advertising inserted by the ghost of Sir Joshua?

SIR ANTHONY VAN DYCK.

Duluth, Oct. 1.

The Editor grovels before the Schoolgirl and asks for pardon, but insists that the public librarian grovel also. The Editor was rusty on art and consulted the public librarian, that ever courteous, ever ready fount of knowledge. He was informed that Sir Joshua Reynolds painted Baby Stuart. Even before Sir Anthony wrote the above letter the librarian called The Herald and did a mild, preliminary grovel for her mistake, but more is necessary. The Editor hopes the Schoolgirl did not lose any marks on her examination paper because of his trusting too much to the librarian, and if she has some more problems to solve she is requested to send them in, with the promise of more careful attention in future. This should square us with Sir Anthony, the schoolgirl and everybody but the librarian. She deserves to suffer.—The Editor.

Biting the Granite

Editorial in New York World.

Woodrow Wilson may deceive the country into believing that he is a great president of the United States; but he cannot fool Theodore Roosevelt.

Mr. Roosevelt has weighed both the president and the Democratic party in the balance, and they are scandalously wanting. He has made "a patient and sincere effort to find out what Mr. Wilson means by the New Freedom," and he is in doubt "whether it has any meaning at all."

As for the Democratic party, it "can accomplish nothing of good unless it deliberately repudiates its campaign pledges." Inasmuch as the Democratic party is carrying out its campaign pledges, not repudiating them, it therefore follows that everything the Democratic party is doing is bad. The administration's meager record thus far "is in connection with the tariff and with a discreditable impotence in foreign affairs." As for the tariff, it is "merely a red herring dragged across the trail to divert our people from the real issues." That would be bad enough, but the worst is still to come, for it appears that "the present tariff bill has been handled by precisely the same improper methods by which the Payne-Aldrich law was enacted."

This will be news to the protected interests, to wool and steel and sugar and cotton and the National Association of Manufacturers. Later we shall doubtless learn from Mr. Roosevelt's scrupulously truthful pen that the administration's currency bill was drawn to please Wall Street and the National City bank. Live and learn, live and learn.

Mr. Roosevelt's attack upon President Wilson in his Century article comes at a time when the president has admittedly won the confidence of the intelligent elements of all parties. Tariff revision downward will soon be an accomplished fact. The currency tangle, with which neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Mr. Taft made any headway, is about to be straightened out. In the Mexican matter the policy which Mr. Roosevelt describes as "discreditable impotence" has been acclaimed by practically a unanimous public sentiment, the dissenting votes being cast by Theodore Roosevelt, William R. Hearst and a New Mexico senator who is avowedly interested "in mining in Mexico."

When Mr. Roosevelt decided to become a candidate for president in 1912 he had little difficulty in destroying Mr. Taft politically, because the Taft administration was already discredited by its own record. But in promoting his 1916 ambitions Mr. Roosevelt is dealing with a different man and a different situation. In assailing Woodrow Wilson he is "biting the granite," as Bismarck once said, and while this occupation may amuse a perpetual candidate, it will have no serious effect upon the granite.

"Overproduction" of Apples.

Louisville Courier-Journal: Remarking on the fact that there was "overproduction" of apples when the last crop was short of the average by 10,000,000 barrels, the New York Times expresses the opinion that "there is need for an apple trust as 'bad' as the banana trust."

Overproduction in this instance meant nothing more than inefficient marketing methods. Everybody eats apples, and it would be a difficult matter to grow more of them than 90,000,000 and more people could conveniently get away with—and there are other nations which like American apples.

An enormous lot of the products of American fields, gardens and orchards is permitted to go to waste every year because system is lacking in distribution. There are plenty of people to consume these products, plenty of consumers who would be glad to get them and pay good money for them, but marketing in most parts of the country is on the haphazard order, and where there is a feast of apples in one locality there is a famine in another. The same condition applies to other products.

The country may not need an "apple trust"—the people are suspicious of trusts—as the Times suggests, but it does need something in the way of a nation-wide organization for the proper handling of the products of farms and orchards. A system by which the wants of every section might be understood and quickly supplied would put an end to complaints of "overproduction." To this end the business methods of the trusts might be studied to some profit.

The demand for apples and apple products is increasing all the time. There is a great variety of wholesome products into which a surplus apple crop may be converted. There is not much excuse for fruits going to waste. The American people have been unthrifty about these matters, and the time necessarily is coming when better methods must prevail.

The Freeman

Let them levy income taxes,
Let them cut their tariffs down,
Let the man who strikes and wracks us
Blow old Croesus out of town;
What care I for trouble-makers?
Let the gored ox grunt and groan.
I've a patch of good ten acres
And a rooftree all my own.

Head erect and independent
As a bird upon the wing,
In these summer days resplendant
On my little patch I'm king.
Stocks decline and wealth is fleeting,
Only God's green earth is sure;
Hungry man is always eating;
He who feeds him is secure.

Hear my strutting biddies clucking,
Hear the boastful rooster crow.
While I'm sweating, digging, mucking
Where my peas and berries grow,
Let sad poets do their rhymings
Let loud spouters mouth and talk.
Jacks like me see fortunes climbing
Top of ev'ry green bean stalk.

Bankers, traders, corporations
Must to others bend the spine;
All have debts and obligations;
None has freedom such as mine.
Runs the law of all the ages—
First in freedom's ranks shall stand
He who knows no bond nor wages,
Owns the soil and rules the land.

Not for me the ocean liner,
Not for me the foreign tour,
Toiling, I have something finer
Than the glitt'ring dollar's lure—
Life that fears no man's resentment
Happiness that knows no sting,
Health and strength and calm contentment;
Ten green acres where I'm king.

What care I for trouble-makers?
I can reap where I have sown.
I've a patch of ten green acres
And a rooftree all my own.
This the song of all the ages—
First in manhood's ranks shall stand
He who toils for no man's wages,
Owns the soil and rules the land.

A Peep at 1916

By Sargent.

Washington, Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a reduced majority the Republicans carried the old James G. Blaine district in Maine the other day, and the Democratic candidate at this by-election polled within about 100 of the number of votes Woodrow Wilson got in that district at the regular presidential election of 1913. But all the standpatters in this town, in congress and out of congress, are in an ecstasy and assert that the campaign of 1916 is already decided in their favor by the "verdict" from Maine, where a Republican was chosen to succeed a Republican in the Sixty-third congress by a plurality 200 less than that cast for the Republican candidate last November.

Nobody begrudges the G. O. P. this little dab of consolation. It is so long since they have had anything to rejoice over that we are glad they have emerged without annihilation from a conflict which all must agree was a drawn battle.

If the Republicans had chosen the ground for this little try-out, they would have selected the Third Maine district. For many years James G. Blaine was its representative. It has long been as intensely Republican a community as Lancaster county, Pa., or the Western Reserve of Ohio. Nor is that all—the new tariff puts on the free list three great products of Maine, viz., lumber, potatoes, fish. And yet they carried the Third Maine district by a beggarly 500 plurality when they had 700 plurality the year before!

* * *

Any man who has been about this capital for a third of a century as I have will be slow to charge Dr. Warren with unwarranted license of romance when he created the character of Littlebat Titmouse in "Ten Thousand a Year." Here are grave solons who not only profess to believe, but actually do believe, that a judgment pronounced against the Democratic tariff by a single Republican constituency in Maine more than a fortnight before it was possible for that measure to become a law of the land is binding on the entire American electorate the autumn of 1914 after the new tariff shall have been in force more than a twelve month!

Some of 'em have come up to me with smiles nearly as broad as that Ollie James wears when he hears of a Democratic victory, but not quite, and said: "It's all over, old man, the country has weighed the Democratic administration and found it wanting."

* * *

Bosh! The day after this by-election in Maine the United States senate passed the Democratic tariff by more than the Democratic majority in that body and it was a material reduction in the rates of the Underwood bill. The very next day business gave opinion of that result by advancing the prices of all the legitimate securities of our vast corporate enterprises. Mark you, the standpatters in congress had predicted "woe to business." The following Saturday the great concern, Dun & Bradstreet, came out with roseate pictures of the situation. The bill is not yet a law, but doubtless it will be this week.

Then there will come out of bonded warehouses some $150,000,000 worth of merchandise, mostly raw materials, which will go into our shops and mills to be fashioned into finished product. That will give employment to labor, and before the present administration expires by lapse of time, March 4, 1917, I confidently predict that the American manufacturer will be as much of a free trader as is the British manufacturer. Mr. Redfield, secretary of commerce in Wilson's cabinet, is one of the most successful manufacturers in the country and he is as nearly a free trader as any man in public life. A year from now his tribe will be legion in New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Ohio. In 1911 when Oscar Underwood and Champ Clark were "projeckin'" with those "pop-gun" tariff bills of the Sixty-second congress a manufacturer was here from Illinois and he made declaration that if they would give him free wool he cared not a rap if they put his woolens on the free list also.

So it just amounts to this—if the country is prosperous the fall of 1914 the Sixty-fourth congress will be overwhelmingly Democratic and the Wilson administration universally popular. On the contrary, if industry languishes the Republicans, or Bull Moosers, or whatever name they take, will come in; but even if they do they will not dare rehabilitate that shameless robbery, that arrant knavery, "protection," which is as dead as African slavery, its twin relic.

The day after the election in the Maine district there was printed a manifesto from Col. Roosevelt in which he served notice on the G. O. P. that it had to surrender to him at discretion, that it must abandon even the name "Republican" and accept what he calls his principles. If the standpatters agree to this, he will accept them, condone their wickedness, and lead them in a charge next time.

In the early Georgian era an order issued out of the council and was promulgated in Scotland to the effect that no subject of the crown should bear the name MacGregor. It gave theme to the poet for the stirring lyric containing the couplet:

"If they rob us of name, and pursue us with beagles,

But there are standpatters on Capitol Hill in this town, senators and representatives, who are gleeful in the cry, "We'll march to victory under the lead of Teddy in 1916!"

And Teddy—he's a politician and don't you forget it. He knows that the G. O. P. can never be anything other than what it always was, a sectional party. He knows that the South long ago forgave Appomattox, the march through Georgia, the vandalism at Columbia, but he also knows that the South will never forgive the humiliation of Reconstruction when the proudest race in the world was made politically subject to the most abject race in the world.

Hence, if under the name Republican that party honestly proposed universal beneficence and the Democratic party promised universal malevolence, the Cotton South would go Democratic "hell-bent" as Maine went in 1840.

Teddy knows that, and unless Woodrow Wilson be his master in the art, Teddy is the first politician in the land, and he has the ken to see that under that name the Republican party has scored its last victory, please goodness.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

Would Wipe Out Contest.

Red Wing Free Press: The St. Cloud Journal Press wants the state to pay the expenses of political candidates for state offices. In that case the state should also pick its own candidates—in which event an election would be unnecessary.

So There You Are.

Walker Pilot: The man who tips a waiter when his wife has holes in her stockings is no philanthropist, says the Sauk Center Herald. And a man who had a wife who wore holes in her stockings would have to tip a waiter if he ever expected to get anything to eat. So there you are.

What's the Good of It.

Biwabik Times: At the next election St. Louis county will see one of the very first real campaigns for county offices. With party politics eliminated there will be at least two strong candidates for each good county office, with the possible usual exceptions to the rule, and there will be a better hustle for votes after the primaries than has been the case in the past.

Will Have to Explain.

Waseca Herald: The Minnesota congressmen who voted to retain the Payne-Aldrich tariff "monstrosity" will have to reckon with their constituents next year.

Where Candidates Bloom.

St. Hilaire Spectator: What is the matter with Northern Minnesota, especially the northwest counties? There is not a single candidate for governor among the whole bunch, while the southern counties have four or five each.

In the Right Direction.

Red Wing Free Press: One reason why the Republican party is no longer in general favor with the public is that it has always acted for the party first and for the nation secondarily, and the public has tired of that sort of thing. The nation as a whole has come to care more for the general public welfare than it does for party welfare. Which is a big stride in the right direction.

But You Never Can Tell.

Madison Press: John Lind is just as strong a man for the position of United States senator as he was before he went to Mexico and no stronger. He would have been urged by his party to try for the place if he had not gone to Mexico, and there is no doubt but that he will be now. If Minnesota sends a Democrat to the United States senate to succeed Mr. Clapp it is a conceded fact that Mr. Lind would be an ideal man for the place, but it is not likely that a Democrat will get a seat in the senate from this state just yet.

Latest Bad Break.

Fergus Falls Free Press: The longer Sydney Anderson stays in congress the more apparent becomes his unfitness for being there. His latest fool break is to resign in grandstand fashion from the ways and means committee because the Democratic majority of that committee did not consult him as to the framing of the tariff bill. When the first Minnesota district was represented by Jim Tawney it had a representative who reflected great credit upon the state, even though he was a reactionary and a friend of Cannon. Its present representative has exposed the first district to laughter and ridicule, even though he is a progressive.

"Twice-Born Men"

Chicago Evening Post: The Man Who Wanted Us to Write an Editorial hitched his chair up nearer.

"It may seem a bizarre idea," he said, "but it is a perfectly sound one, and you ought to discuss it for your readers."

"The idea is this," the man went on. "People think of the I. W. W. crowd as a godless, irreligious crew. You remember the banner they carried at Lawrence—that 'banner with the strange device'—'No God, No Master'?"

We remembered it.

"Well," he went on, "it is true that the I. W. W.'s are pretty irreligious. They can cuss an awful lot, and they have mighty little respect for most of the institutions of modern life. But I have been impressed, as I watched their convention at 180 West Washington street, with the discovery that they are really—in their way—an intensely religious crowd."

We raised professional eyebrows.

"It is this way," he went on. "If you really have the 'seeing eye' you speedily discover that these men are what some modern evangelists have called 'twice-born men.' Once upon a time they were unskilled laborers with one foot in the gutter, casual laborers—known to the trade as 'shovel stiffs.' Their one ambition was to relieve the monotony of life on Saturday night with a quart of 'Squirrel whisky.' Oh, that Saturday night! You don't know what it is like. It begins at 7 o'clock with a bracer or two, and it gets excited by 8 and maudlin by 10 and dead to the world by midnight. Dirty, sordid, stupid Saturday night! Thousands and thousands and thousands of men"—his face was flushed with earnestness—"have absolutely no ambition on God's earth save to make the next Saturday night, and the next, and the next, just a little bit more stimulating and exciting than last week's was.

"Home life? Practically none. Books? Ditto, of course. Philosophy? Absolutely bankrupt. The 'yegg,' who is the professional tramp, has a profound contempt for these 'shovel stiffs.' The 'yegg' has a philosophy. He can prove to you that the man who works is a fool. In his way, he is a highbrow. These casual laborers who make up the bulk of the I. W. W. didn't, in their unregenerate days, measure up in sheer manhood with the 'yegg.' The wheat fields call them; obediently and feverishly they work their way to the wheat fields; then on to the beet fields; then they pick hops or they work in the cheaper lumber camps. Just dumb driven cattle. See?"

He straightened himself to make the contrast more effective.

"Now look at 'em! To be sure, they are noisy and rude, but, Great Scott, they're alive! Do you get that? They have found something to live and fight for. Oh, of course, they take a drink now and then, but Saturday night doesn't find them soused to their ears; it finds them in a mill town fighting somebody else's battles, 'scrapping' with the deputy sheriff, speaking under a flaring gas torch, hoarse and sweaty and alive. They are 'converted'; they are 'twice-born men.'"

We looked at him admiringly and freely granted him an editorial. Tactically the I. W. W. may be wrongheaded and unregenerate, but we refuse no man space who wants to prove that they are men.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1893.

•••The United States circuit court of appeals today affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of Frederick Prentice, appellant, vs. the Duluth Storage & Forwarding company et al. This settles the case against Prentice finally. He claimed title to a large portion of the central division of Duluth.

•••At a special meeting of the Charleston Iron company, A. E. Humphreys was re-elected president, William Buckley vice president and general manager, W. L. Jackson secretary and treasurer, and Moses Stewart, Jr., and James McKinley directors. The old lease of the Buckley property was cancelled, and money will be raised to develop the lands in 58-17 adjoining the Adams mine.

•••Company H of West Duluth has held another election of officers, the first being invalid because not enough members were present. The following were elected: H. H. Holmberg, captain; C. W. Vies, first lieutenant; P. Rowen, second lieutenant.

•••H. L. Howard's company is rehearsing daily Fred J. Chipman's play, "The Journalists," which will be produced at the Temple in the near future.

•••Quite a boom has been started at Pike Lake in view of the proposed street car extension in that direction. Charles Fenton has bought the hotel formerly run by the late Thomas Butler, and Alderman James Dingwall and several other Duluthians have purchased tracts of several acres each, upon which they will erect summer cottages.

•••H. M. McHarg, the register's clerk in the local United States land office, has been let out by Register Taylor on account of orders from Washington to reduce the force, and Charles B. King has been promoted to the position.

•••Mrs. Joseph Stanton and daughter of Spokane, Wash., and formerly of Duluth, are in the city visiting Mrs. Stanton's sister, Mrs. J. Ready, who has been sick for several months.

•••The contract for completing the interior of Duluth's new public building has been let to L. L. Leach & Son of Chicago for $51,890.

•••There will be a farewell reception at the First Methodist church this evening to Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Huntley, who are about to return to their home in Baltimore. Rev. Dr. Thoburn of Oil City, Pa., will succeed to the vacant pastorate.

APPROVE SITE FOR BEMIDJI NORMAL

Northern Minnesota Town Now Awaits Appropriation By Next Legislature.

Bemidji, Minn., Oct. 2.—The deeds giving over the land selected by the state commission for the site of Minnesota's sixth normal school to be located here, have been approved and were turned over to the state auditor yesterday. Frank Arnold, A. P. Ritchie and George Stein returned from St. Paul this morning where they completed the final business relative to the filing of the documents. The final report of the commission designating Bemidji as the proper location of the school was filed in the office of the secretary of state.

Nothing further will be done in the normal school matter until the legislature meets in 1915 when the appropriation for the school will be made, following which action the first dirt will be moved as soon as the necessary preliminary arrangements are complete.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW MEETS.

New York, Oct 2.—The Brotherhood of St. Andrew of the Protestant Episcopal church opened its twenty-eighth national convention here yesterday. The meeting will cover four days more and is the forerunner of the general convention of the Episcopal church to begin here a week from today.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

PLAN MILLION DOLLAR FUND

Proposed in Interest of All Minnesota Methodist Institutions.

Rev. Charles R. Oaten to Return to Lester Park Church.

Detroit, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Today's session of the Northern Minnesota Methodist conference was opened at 8:30 a. m. by Bishop Quayle, who gave another of his characteristic addresses. The principal item of business was the advancing of the classes of young men. W. J. Barr, H. P. Orchard, A. L. Beckendorf, G. L. Hoggans, J. E. Rains and Orris Suret were continued in the studies of the first year; L. C. Benson, H. K. Soltan and T. B. Shorts were advanced to the second year class. The following were admitted into full membership in the conference: H. C. Mecklenberg, H. B. Adams, Justus Parish, J. W. Schenck. The following were continued in studies of the fourth year: Crawford Grays, T. N. Swinnerton, M. C. Fenski, H. Huline, A. J. Abbott, Norman Boldore, T. G. Galbraith, H. D. Greene and M. O. Parish. Those to be ordained on Sunday as elders are: R. W. Duel, B. D. Hanscom, H. H. Hare, J. W. Lillico, E. E. Thompson and F. J. Smith.

Million Dollar Fund.

The conference united in a plan proposed to create a million dollar fund for Methodism in Minnesota. This fund would be in the interest of all Methodist institutions of the state, including Hamline university, Asbury hospital, Duluth Deaconess' home, St. Paul's German Methodist college at St. Paul, the fund for superannuated ministers and a proposed new home for the aged.

Dr. Frank Doran of St. Paul addressed the conference in relation to it, and a commission consisting of four laymen and four ministers was ordered to confer with a similar commission from the Minnesota conference. Bishop Quayle strongly urged the creation of this million dollar fund.

Dr. S. Earl Taylor of New York, secretary of the Foreign Missionary society, addressed the conference in the interest of missions.

Committees at Work.

Yesterday afternoon the Methodist conference settled down to its routine committee work. The work of the church is being considered in almost every phase through these committees, which will present their recommendations on Saturday or Monday.

Rev. J. O. Randall of Philadelphia, secretary of the commission on evangelism, delivered an address before the conference at 4 o'clock. His special plea is for an advance in membership of at least 10 per cent in every local Methodist church.

The evening session was the anniversary of the board of home missions and church extension. In the absence of Rev. Dr. Forbes, its secretary, Rev. M. P. Burns of Minneapolis, gave the principal address.

Ministerial Transfers.

Several ministers have been transferred to this conference this year, among them are Revs. W. F. Hovis and Dr. Hoffman to Duluth, Rev. Dr. Young to Anoka, and Rev. Dr. Luce to Minneapolis. Among the transfers out of the conference are Revs. M. S. Rice, A. W. MacDougald and Andrew Hanson. It is probable that Rev. W. Emery of Merritt Memorial church, Duluth, will be transferred to Rau Claire, Wis. Rev. C. R. Oaten, who had expected to move from Duluth, has decided to remain for another year at the Lester Park church.

lice station, at which the youth's mother appeared shortly afterward and produced the required bail. Young Oelrichs was released under instructions to be in the Jefferson Market court for arraignment today and he and his mother drove away in a taxicab.

Let Go of Wheel.

Miss Singleton told the police that she was riding with the man she then knew as Creighton when a quarrel arose because she admitted she had an engagement with another man. Thereupon, she alleged, "Creighton" let go of his steering wheel and stabbed her several times with some sort of sharp instrument which may have been an automobile tool.

Detective Suspended.

Theodore Trayer, a detective, who investigated an automobile accident to Young Oelrichs on Broadway last night, has been suspended. Trayer's report of the accident, in which Miss Singleton had been reported "injured" by being tossed through the wind shield of the machine, was not satisfactory in the light of developments in the case as obtained by other detectives, it was announced.

Miss Singleton told these detectives that she had been stabbed by her companion in the car. Trayer, prior to this, had reported that Miss Singleton told him she was not stabbed, and that in reply to a question whether she knew Oelrichs, she replied she did not. The machine that met with the accident, however, striking a stone and crashing into a tree, belonged to Oelrichs. The girl's companion fled, leaving the wrecked car behind him.

Good Record in School.

Miss Mary Chambers, principal of the Darlington seminary at West Chester, Pa., where the Singleton girl says she attended school, was quoted today as having said over the long distance telephone:

"There was a Miss Lucile Singleton here about three years ago. She was a pupil for about a year and a half and registered from Dallas, Tex. I met her father once when he came to the seminary with his daughter. Mr. Singleton said that he was a miner. Last year Miss Singleton returned to the seminary but remained only three or four months, leaving in April or May. She was well thought of in the seminary. She was very quiet and one of the most studious pupils we had at the time. We do not know anything about her family and since she left the seminary we have not heard from or of her. Her registered address was care of Edwin Singleton, 1404 Wood street, Dallas."

ernor's side of the case would get under way until next week. At all events, it was planned to ask for an adjournment until Monday.

Josephthal on Hand.

What effect the belated arrival of Lieut. Commander L. M. Josephthal would have on the case of the defense was a subject of much speculation. Immediately on reaching here he went into conference with the governor at the executive mansion. Josephthal refused to discuss what the nature of his testimony would be, but reiterated his statement that it would be favorable to the defendant.

The first witness for the defense, it is said, will be Louis A. Sarecky, the governor's campaign secretary, whom counsel for the impeachment managers failed to put on the stand, although he was under subpoena. Sarecky indorsed many of the checks given to Sulzer during his campaign, which were not reported in his sworn statement of campaign contributions.

Both the governor and Mrs. Sulzer are expected to take the stand before the defense closes. The governor will defend his failure to report the numerous contributions on the ground that they were personal gifts, it is believed.

Wife Will Tell of Loan.

Mrs. Sulzer, it is said, will defend his alleged speculative transactions with testimony to show that they were conducted for her account. She is expected to tell the story of the loan she is said to have contracted with the Carnegie Trust company, and seek to prove that for the sole purpose of paying the loan, the governor borrowed money from the stock exchange firm of Harris & Fuller on securities owned by her, and did not speculate with the firm.

Whether the long missing Frederick L. Colwell, the governor's alleged agent in his Wall street transactions, will also be called, was a subject of much speculation. His whereabouts has been known to the governor's attorneys, but they have declined to produce him unless it was stipulated that he would not be placed under arrest for refusing to obey a subpoena. This counsel for the impeachment managers said they were powerless to prevent.

Attorney Harvey D. Hinman will make the address opening the governor's case. It was chiefly because Mr. Hinman, who has conducted most of the cross-examination had become exhausted, that Judge D. Cady Herrick, chief counsel for the defense, asked that adjournment be taken until Monday.

The close of the case of the assembly managers marked the elapse of two weeks since the trial began, and of six days consumed in taking testimony.

as the tariff report was taken up that he hoped a final vote could be reported today. He made a formal request for an agreement for a vote at 6 p. m., but Senator Poindexter objected because, he said, many senators wanted to debate the conference report.

Senator Norris tried to get an agreement for a vote tomorrow, but Senator Simmons declared he hoped the senate would stay in continuous session until the tariff bill finally was disposed of.

Points of order were made against the conference report as soon as it was taken up by Senators Burton and Penrose, Republicans, on the ground that the conference committee had put new matter in the bill. Senator Burton's objection was made to the compromise of 15 per cent ad valorem in the duty on wire, while Senator Penrose made a point against the compromise in the duty on plain jute fabrics, where the conferees adopted a rate of 10 per cent in place of 20 per cent that had been agreed to by the house and senate.

Six Opposed Report.

Disaffection among Democratic senators which yesterday prevented final action on the tariff bill was dissipated under the influence of the heated caucus discussion, and last night the caucus approved the bill as reported by the conference committee of the house and senate. But six Democrats voted against approving the report.

The caucus decided to abandon its position on the proposition in the bill to tax dealings in cotton futures, and to leave the entire subject for later legislative action. Both the amendments of Senator Clarke of Arkansas, written into the bill in the senate, and the less drastic administration substitute presented by House Leader Underwood and adopted by the house, will be thrown out by the senate Democrats.

After the caucus Senator Simmons expressed confidence that there would be no desertions from the Democrats who voted for the bill on its original passage in the senate. An amendment proposing to bind the Democrats by last night's caucus was offered by Senator Lewis of Illinois, but was withdrawn with the understanding that the binding nature of former tariff caucuses applied to the entire consideration of the tariff bill.

Battled Loud and Long.

The caucus battled loud and long over verious provisions in the bill arranged by the conference committee. Chief among these were the tax of $1.10 a gallon on grape brandy used to fortify sweet wines, against which Senator Pomerene of Ohio voiced strenuous protests; the differential between wire rope and wire in completed cables, which, as fixed by the conference, aroused the opposition of Senators Reed of Missouri and Hughes of New Jersey, and the arrangement of the paragraph including cast iron pipe.

Senators Reed and Pomerene framed a resolution directing that the conference report be sent back to the conference committee with instructions to alter these provisions, but Senator Simmons, in charge of the bill, moved as a substitute that the conference report be accepted. His motion was carried by a vote of 33 to 6. Senators Reed, Pomerene, Vardaman, Hollis, O'Gorman and Hughes voted against it.

effect upon the Panama canal. This action was taken as a measure of precaution, though the officials felt that Col. Goethals would have advised them very promptly had the canal sustained any substantial injury.

It is recalled at the commission offices that from time to time there have been slight shocks of earthquake experienced on the isthmus since the Americans assumed charge of the canal construction, but in no case has there been any damage whatever to the engineering work, although a sensational report of one of these quakes about two years ago caused considerable alarm at the time.

Very Little Danger.

It is said at the commission offices that no extensive injury to the canal could have been caused by any earthquake of record, not only on the isthmus, but in this hemisphere.

As far as the isthmus itself is concerned, the records, which have been carefully studied by the canal commissioners fail to show the occurrence of anything more than slight seismic disturbances in that quarter as far back as the history of the isthmus is known. There are standing today masonry structures erected several centuries ago, which probably would have been destroyed long ago by any considerable earthquake shock.

But in addition to this reported exemption of the isthmus proper from severe earthquakes, the army engineers base their belief upon the safety of the canal largely upon the wonderful enduring qualities of the modern reinforced concrete construction, which is embodied in all of the great locks, dams and approaches of the new canal.

At San Francisco.

It is pointed out that during the San Francisco earthquake, though the "line of fault" representing the point of most imminent danger ran directly through the Mare Island navy yard, the great concrete dock there was absolutely undisturbed and the same was true of the reinforced buildings in San Francisco itself.

It is said at the canal offices that there was no connection whatever between last night's earthquake and extensive earth slides into the Culebra cut at Cucaracha, reported yesterday. The later movement has been in slow but continuous process, and its only ill effect, it is said, might be to cause a postponement for a few days or weeks of the opening of water communication across the isthmus, an event originally fixed for Oct. 10, when the famous Gamboa dike was to have been dynamited.

Water in Culebra Cut.

Panama, Oct. 2. — Water was let into the Culebra cut from Gatun lake through four 24-inch pipes under the Gamboa dike yesterday morning. At the present rate of flow, the cut between the Cucaracha slide and the Gamboa dike, about five miles, will be filled to a depth of fifteen feet by Oct. 5, the date set for the destruction of the Gamboa dike.

SEAMEN'S BILL ONCE MORE BEFORE SENATE

Measure Taft Refused to Sign Is Revived By Nelson.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The so-called seamen's bill, to abolish involuntary servitude and improve working conditions on merchant vessels, which president Taft refused to sign last March, was again indorsed today by the senate committee on commerce and will be recommended for passage in the senate.

The bill was reintroduced in the present congress by Senator Nelson without change from the form in which it was passed in the last congress.

The proposed law would require three watches on all vessels; would require able seamen at the wheel and at the lookout of all vessels; would prevent the holding of seamen in service in foreign ports, and would make many other changes in the working conditions of sailors.

"WAKE UP" IS WORD TO MANUFACTURERS

New York Man Warns Them of Competition Under Tariff.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 2.—Because keener competition is expected in foreign-made goods through the new tariff law about to be enacted, manufacturers attending the meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers were warned today to wake up and start a campaign in other lands for the sale of American-made goods. The manufacturers were addressed by William Whittam of New York on the new tariff and foreign competition.

"We have now competition from abroad of no mean importance," he said, "but under the new schedules we shall have more and more. Indeed, it may, and likely will, be for a time calamitous. For while we are adjusting ourselves to new conditions, the foreign manufacturers will be seeking every weak spot in our new armor and attacking us there."

Suggested an Exchange.

In urging manufacturers to give more attention to the foreign field, Mr. Whittam suggested that an exchange be established in New York along the lines of the Royal Exchange in Manchester, Eng. Such an exchange, he added, would enormously reduce the present cost of both selling and buying without diminishing net profits.

James B. Reynolds, who was a member of the tariff board appointed by President Taft, addressing the association last night, expressed the opinion that the cotton industry would suffer greatly if the Democratic tariff bill becomes a law.

Steamship Company's Error Sends Immigrant to Interior.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 2.—After traveling all the way from New York to this city, Statan Colseink, a Russian immigrant, learned today that his steerage ticket was marked Lincoln, N. H. An error in the marking of his transfer ticket had sent him half way across the continent.

The police took charge of the man, who is unable to understand English, and through the medium of an interpreter, learned of his plight. An effort is being made to get the steamship company to pay his expenses back to New Hampshire.

For Sallow, Blotchy Rough or Greasy Skins

(From Woman's Tribune)

Some skins require constant grooming to keep them from becoming oily, muddy, blotchy or rough, or if such condition has developed, to overcome it. In such chronic cases it is particularly inadvisable to keep piling on cosmetics which clog the pores, collect dust and dirt, making the complexion worse than ever. It's a lot more sensible to use ordinary mercolized wax, which literally absorbs a bad complexion. Apply the wax, like cold cream, before retiring; next morning, in washing it off, you'll wash away fine, flour-like particles of the unsightly cuticle. Repeat for a week or more and you'll have an entirely new skin—soft, satiny, spotless and beautiful as a child's. One ounce of mercolized wax, procurable at any druggist's, is all you'll need.

If the skin be wrinkled or flabby, here's the best possible remedy: Mix ½ pint witch hazel and 1 ounce powdered saxolite and use as a face bath. It works like a miracle, yet is entirely harmless. Adv.

GREECE PREPARING TO FIGHT THE TURKS

Servians Claim They Are Driving the Albanians Back.

Athens, Oct. 2.—Greece is preparing for war with Turkey and the reservists have been summoned to the colors within three days. The immediate evacuation of Dedeagatch has been ordered.

Servians Claim Gains.

Belgrade, Oct. 2.—Servian officials announce that the tide of battle in Albania has now set in their favor, the Servian army having reoccupied Dibra and Ochrida. The Serbs now outnumber the Albanians and are pushing the latter back toward the recently defined boundary.

Essad Pasha has addressed a note to Servia, declaring his disapproval of the Albanian uprising in Servian territory, but stating that he will lead the Albanians in opposition if Servia attempts an invasion of the country. Essad Pasha is also said to be negotiating a settlement of his differences with the provisional government of Albania.

DR. ANGELL HAS GROWN NO WEAKER.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 2.—The attending physicians announced today that although Dr. James B. Angell, the aged president emeritus of the University of Michigan, experienced a restless night, his condition remained practically unchanged today, and as long as he does not lose strength they will entertain hope for his recovery. Because of his advanced age his convalescence must necessarily be slow, they say.

CATTLE IN BOND TO AWAIT NEW TARIFF.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 2.—American cattlemen are holding thousands of head of Mexican cattle in bond at El Paso and at other points on the border, awaiting action on the tariff bill providing free importation. One local firm has 5,000 head in bond and claims it will save $25,000. One thousand are being held at El Paso, 1,334 at El Pame, Tex., another thousand at Lajitos, and others at points east and west of here. The cattlemen are permitted to hold the cattle in bond for six months.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It

In the spring of 1903 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: OCT. 5.

THE CONNECTION.

Since our last lesson about the Golden Calf many things have happened, and almost a year has passed. The full ceremonial law has been announced, ethical and sanitary instructions have been given covering almost every duty and relationship, as to food, marriage, the seasons of the year, worship, etc. The tabernacle, that marvelous movable temple, had been constructed, and now they descend from the height of 5,000 feet to which they had laboriously climbed at the foot of Sinai and start on their journey, still led by the pillar of cloud. That year following the giving of the law the family of Aaron was selected for the priesthood and it was a time of training and valuable experience. Now they are ready to go on. In three days they had the experience narrated in our lesson.

THE LESSON.

I.

The Agonizing Prayer. 10-15.

"And Moses heard the people weeping throughout their families, every man at the door of his tent; and the anger of Jehovah was kindled greatly; and Moses was displeased. And Moses said unto Jehovah, Wherefore has Thou dealt ill with Thy servant? and wherefore have I not found favor in Thy sight, that Thou layest the burden of all this people upon me? Have I conceived all this people? Have I brought them forth, that Thou shouldest say unto me: Carry them in thy bosom, as a nursing-father carrieth the sucking child, unto the land which thou swarest unto their fathers? Whence should I have flesh to give unto all this people? For they weep unto me saying, Give us flesh that we may eat. I am not able to bear all this people alone, because it is too heavy for me. And if Thou deal thus with me, kill me, I pray Thee, out of hand, if I have found favor in Thy sight; and let me not see my wretchedness."

1. THE OCCASION.—They were in trouble. They murmured and God destroyed many of them by fire. Then they demanded a greater variety of food, especially meat; they spoke of the fish, cucumbers, leeks, onions, garlick and melons they had in Egypt and contrasted them with this one dish they had every day. It touched Moses deeply, about as a starving child would bring agony to the heart of its father or mother, helpless to relieve it. God was angry with the people. Their cry for food and God's anger tore Moses' heart in anguish.

2. COMPLAINT.—Moses complained at God himself. It was impudence, except that it was noble. No one ever gave God a plainer talk, I suppose. The point of it was that God had given him a task as hard as for a father to take a mother's place. He had evil-entreated Moses in so doing. It was a sign of God's disfavor, so Moses told Him. That task was to nurture these babies as a mother nurses her child. He said in effect that, as he was not a mother in bearing them, he could not be expected to nurse them and that the burden was a wrong to him.

3. DESPERATION.—"Kill me out of hand" he asked, rather than see the harrowing sights and hear the pitiful crying. It is human talk. We enjoy it because we have said the same thing to Him. This is the second time Moses had given way to indignation. He charges God wrongly and reacts into desperation. This weakness sounds good to us and shows that Moses is not perfect. It gives us hope. Why didn't God kill him for his impudence? Because He knew the noble unselfishness out of which the prayer came and how dependable His friend Moses was.

II.

God's Marvelous Response. 16-25.

"And Jehovah said unto Moses, Gather unto me seventy men of the elders of Israel, whom thou knowest to be the elders of the people, and officers over them; and bring them unto the tent of meeting, that they may stand there with thee. And I will come down and talk with thee there; and I will take of the Spirit which is upon thee, and will put it upon them; and they shall bear the burden of the people with thee, that thou bear it not thyself alone. And say thou unto the people, Sanctify yourselves against tomorrow, and ye shall eat flesh; for ye have wept in the ears of Jehovah, saying, Who shall give us flesh to eat? for it was well with us in Egypt: therefore Jehovah will give you flesh, and ye shall eat. And Moses went out, and told the people the words of Jehovah; and he gathered seventy men of the elders of the people, and set them round about the Tent. And Jehovah came down in the cloud, and spake unto him, and took of the Spirit that was upon him, and put it upon the seventy elders; and it came to pass, that, when the Spirit rested upon them, they prophesied, but they did so no more."

1. REINFORCEMENTS.—There were two reinforcements for the tried and tired man. One was helpers who would have his spirit and take part of his work off his shoulders, and the other was organization, system. If he could not bear that great struggling, kicking, rebellious army of over 600,000 fighting men, to say nothing of old men, women and children, in his arms like a mother, these seventy men can take off some of the load.

Notice the equipment of these men—the same face-to-face talk with God as they shall stand at the door of the tent; the same spirit that Moses has, the spirit of serving with almost supernatural unselfishness. Their very presence will help him and will stimulate the people. There is contagion in good as well as evil. There was no miraculous transfer from Moses to them, but there was human contagion and divine inbreathing. They got their new consecration from the same source from which Moses got his, with the aid of his example. That gives them the desire to bear the burdens of the people, just as, according to Paul, we are "taught of God to love one another" and really wish to "bear one another's burdens."

God also reinforced Moses by His approbation. Not a word of condemnation did He speak. He told him that his spirit suited Him so well He would reproduce it in the others; it was exactly what was needed in all His servants.

2. DISCIPLINE.—He promised to give them flesh but made them sanctify themselves, set themselves apart for that purpose by the ceremonies He had given them. The effect of that was a confession of sin, and of faith and hope; it was a step in self-control. It had its value. The omitted verses tell how He was going to discipline them by disgust, for they would have to eat the flesh whether they wanted it or not. It was quail for dinner and supper and breakfast and between meals, till they would never want to hear the word again. It used to be said that no one could eat a quail a day for thirty days without hating the very sight of it. God will make use of the occasion to teach them a lesson He never had a chance to teach them before.

3. PROPHETS.—It was tremendously impressive when Moses brought the seventy out to meet God at the Tabernacle and to hear His voice, while the cloud enveloped them; it was still more impressive when those seventy men began to speak in prophecies, a gift bestowed by God on them for their good and for the aid of Moses and to impress the people, a temporary gift for an immediate purpose. "They did so no more," after the need was met. Two men remained in the camp and they, too, prophesied. The surprised people sent word over to Moses at the tent that the two men were prophesying thinking he would be angry, but he said he wished all the people were prophets. Great lessons have been taught by this incident.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

Throughout the Bible God is the friend of men and especially in the earlier books man speaks to God as a man to his friend. A growing sense of the distance of God and of the reverence due to Him inspires the later speech with a becoming humility; but many of the older addresses are marked by an ease, a candor, a bluntness, even, which are peculiarly welcome as showing how real to the speakers, and how human, was the God they thus boldly addressed.—McFadyen.

Moses did not have to bear the burden alone; God would put his spirit into seventy others to stand with him. Rev. John Balcom Shaw, D. D., says that he was deploring, in the hearing of a godly woman of high faith, the decline of Sabbath observance in the church, the secularity of the great majority of Christians, the worldliness which is eating like cancer at the very heart of the church, when she interrupted him, with a face radiant with hope and optimism, and said: "You are looking in the wrong direction, sir . . . keep your face toward the mission field, and you will not be seeing darkening night, but advancing day." Studying carefully her words he saw in that field Christian union in its most advanced form; he saw African converts of a year giving $5 per member; Koreans, $3.50; Persians, $6.25; one station in Africa with 42 self-supporting schools and 7,500 envelope subscribers; 300 Peking university students accepting Jesus; 5,000 Koreans converted in a month.—Cowan.

WATER BEING GIVEN AWAY

City Will Put Meters on the Large Sprinkling Systems.

Water Rates Will Be Revised—Continuous Reading of Meters.

Thousands of gallons of water, representing a large amount of revenue, is lost to the city annually, according to officials of the water and light department.

This condition has come to the attention of Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, head of the utilities division, in connection with the preliminary plans which are being made to place the water and light department under an improved and more business-like system, beginning Jan. 1.

The new methods contemplate a service charge, the amount to be determined later, for the large sprinkling systems which are installed in many of the large buildings in the city. It is with them that much water is said to be used for which no return is received, and this will have to be paid for along with the service charge, according to present plans.

Meters are to be installed to determine definitely the amount of water which is used in these buildings, so that the charges may be fixed according to the consumption. To serve the sprinkling systems large pipes, six inches or more in diameter, must be connected with them. And in order to secure material advantages in insurance rates the pipes must feed from the city mains.

New Meter System.

To install meters in these large pipes would cost large sums of money, as meters for pipes of that size cost several hundred dollars. To eliminate this expense by-passes will be installed. That is, smaller pipes will be hooked to the large pipes, with meters on them. The meters will show how much water flows through the small pipes, and knowing the proportions, the department can quite accurately determine the total amount of water which passes through the big pipe. The small meters are comparatively inexpensive and give substantially the same results as the larger and more costly meters. Their use will enable the department to increase its receipts many hundred of dollars, it is believed, or stop the consumption of many thousands of gallons of water for which the city has not been paid.

Should Pay For It.

Commissioner Merritt declares that the city should be recompensed by the owners of sprinkling systems. He points out that the city has a large plant which must be ready at all times to furnish large quantities of water to the sprinkling systems should occasion arise. Because of the city's constant preparedness and the efficiency of its water system he says that constant protection is afforded the big stocks and buildings in which the sprinkling systems are installed, evidenced by the lower insurance rates which are obtained for those buildings. For furnishing such protection he states that it is only proper that the city should be paid. What this charge should be will be determined along with the considerable program of revision which is being instituted by the commissioner and the department officials under the direction of Manager D. A. Reed.

When an expert has been hired to make a valuation of the plant of the Duluth-Edison company he will assist in appraising the properties of the water and light department. This information will be utilized in making the above changes, as well as in revising the schedule of water rates and instituting a system of continuous reading of meters. At present meters are read at the end of each month, men being taken temporarily from other work for that purpose. It is believed that the results will be more satisfactory and efficient if several men devote their entire time to reading the water and gas meters.

Begin This Fall To Beautify Your Home Grounds

¶Many do not realize HOW IMPORTANT it is to have the grounds surrounding their homes as beautiful as possible. Everyone admires a pretty landscape, and there is no more excuse to live in a home which does not show a beautiful EXTERIOR than to live in one with the INTERIOR only half finished.

¶Some imagine that to have beautiful grounds surrounding their homes is so expensive that it can only be had by the wealthy. This is incorrect; even the humblest cottage can have its grounds treated in an artistic manner, BUT the scheme must harmonize so that everything "fits"—you must get expert advice if you want a pleasing effect.

¶A small sum spent in the RIGHT planting under our direction will make you proud of your home, and will add MANY DOLLARS to its market value.

THE H & O SERVICE

¶We have made the designing of home grounds and parks a study for many years. We know just what plants and trees will harmonize with your house and with your surroundings. The "H. & O. Service" will study your grounds and work out a scheme that will harmonize, and when completed, will give character to your surroundings.

¶Where the grounds are not too large we will furnish complete plans and sketches without cost, providing the material for the plantings are purchased from us at our usual very reasonable prices. Right now in the fall is a good time to take measurements, so the plans can be worked out during the winter for the early spring planting. Send for our beautifully illustrated booklet "HOME LANDSCAPES" which will give you an idea of what you can do with YOUR home. We will gladly send this booklet free.

WILL CANCEL MORE ALASKA COAL CLAIMS

Defendants' Failure to Appear at Hearing So Interpreted.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 2.—Taking testimony in the United States suit to cancel coal claims, entered by Albert Frost of Chicago, Frank Watson of Spokane, and others in the Mattanuska field, Alaska, has begun before a special United States commissioner. The defendants did not appear nor were they represented by counsel. This default was equivalent to cancellation of the claims.

The claims are in what is known as the Watson group, or Chicago group. Forty claims of the sixty-four in the group had already been cancelled. The promoters of the group were defendants in a criminal suit in Judge Landis' court in Chicago last spring, and were acquitted.

All of the Alaska coal claims are to be passed upon speedily by peremptory order of the commissioner of the general land office.

BARS HUMPHRIES FROM HEARING CASES.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 2.—The state supreme court has issued an alternative writ restraining Superior Judge John E. Humphries from hearing the contempt cases of Emil Hendrickson and Thomas Russell, who had been cited by Judge Humphries to appear before him today to answer for signing a resolution of defiance, drawn up and circulated by Socialists. Fifty-five of the 360 men and women who signed the resolution were arrested, and more than a dozen, including a woman still are in the county jail. Hendrickson and Russell were the only defendants who appealed from the action of Judge Humphries in overruling their motions for transfer of the cases to another judge.

BROKE MAN'S RIBS TO MAKE HIM STAY ABED

Former Attendant at Kankakee Hospital Makes Confession.

Kankakee, Ill., Oct. 2.—Blows dealt Carl G. Holst, an insane patient, 78 years old, so that he suffered six broken ribs and later died, were the method employed to keep him in bed at the Kankakee state hospital for the insane, according to a confession by William Wolfe, a former hospital attendant.

Wolfe is under arrest charged with murder. He implicated John Mahan, a hospital employe, who also was arrested and another former employe who has not been apprehended.

Holst insisted in getting out of bed and it was because of this fact, according to Wolfe, that he was finally beaten. Angry because of the patient's actions, Wolfe said, they decided to "fix" him so he would remain in bed. Wolfe stated that he held Holst while Mahan and the third employe did the beating.

WORKMEN SUPPLY 84 INCHES OF CUTICLE.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 2.—Fellow workmen of John Swanson, who was burned at the steel mills, gave up eighty-four inches of skin necessary for the grafting operation. Physicians announced that Swanson would live.

SUFFRAGETTES ARE CRITICIZED.

Southampton, Eng., Oct. 2.—The suffragettes present at the church congress got small encouragement from Dean Weldon in support of their modern methods. Pointing out that women were treated with greater honor and respect because they belonged to the weaker sex, he asked:

"Could there, then, be a greater folly than to destroy the mutual sympathy between the sexes by a fight for superiority or equality—a fight in which, as far as physical strength is concerned, women must come out second best? The intuitive respect of man for woman is the supreme asset of womanhood, and nothing in the world can ever atone for the loss of it."

NAVY STEEL PLANT HAS BEEN CLOSED.

New York, Oct. 2.—The steel plant at the Brooklyn navy yard has shut down. Seventy men were discharged and several hundred others will be indirectly affected by the change. The shutdown was attributed to the economy policy of the navy department. Contracts for steel work on the new super-dreadnought assigned for construction to the local yards, have been let elsewhere, some of the work even going to England.

LORD SACKVILLE'S DAUGHTER WEDS.

London, Oct. 2.—Victoria Mary Sackville-West, daughter of Lord and Lady Sackville, was married yesterday to Harold Stanley Nicolson, son of Sir Arthur Nicolson, under secretary of state for foreign affairs. The ceremony was performed in the private chapel at Knole park, the Sackville residence. The Bishop of Rochester officiated. The affair was a great society function. A brilliant reception was subsequently held.

MISSOURI REAL ESTATE MAN SLAIN.

Chaffee, Mo., Oct. 2.—A mysterious murder was revealed when the body of Robert L. Tisdale, a real estate agent of Cape Girardeau, Mo., was found hanging from a tree just east of this city. The man's neck had not been broken and there was no indication that he had died of strangulation.

Pieces of rope found near the body and tracks in the road have opened the theory that he was killed elsewhere and dragged to the tree where the body was hanged. It is believed he was poisoned and that robbery was the motive, as his pockets were empty.

BRYANS MARRIED TWENTY-NINE YEARS.

Fairfax, Va., Oct. 2.—Secretary Bryan and Mrs. Bryan came to Fairfax yesterday to celebrate the twenty-ninth anniversary of their wedding. They spent the day with Mrs. John S. Barbour, Mr. Bryan's cousin, and attended the county fair, where the secretary was the principal speaker. "The Signs of the Times" was his subject, and he discussed the efforts President Wilson is making to curb the power of great private interests.

"Virginia should be proud," he said, "that she gave birth to the man who is to take the country out of the grip of men who were endeavoring to make the government a private asset."

PLAN PITTSBURG COAL DIVIDENDS.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 2.—The board of directors of the Pittsburg Coal company has placed in the hands of a special committee the question of an adjustment of the $39.50 per share due the preferred stock in deferred dividends. The committee is to report at the next meeting of the board. Any plans recommended by the committee, if approved by the board, will be subject to the ratification of the stockholders.

MAJOR RANDALL IS DEAD AT WINONA.

Winona, Minn., Oct. 2.—Maj. B. H. Randall, three times a member of the territorial legislature and later a member of the state legislature, died yesterday after a short illness. Maj. Randall led a force of civilian fighters against the Indians at Fort Ridgely in 1872, successfully defending 300 refugees. He was 90 years old.

SET "DYNAMITERS'" APPEAL DATE OCT. 7.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—A date for the hearing in the United States circuit court of appeals of the case of Frank Ryan, former president of the Structural Iron Workers, union, and twenty-seven other men convicted in the labor trials at Indianapolis, will be set Oct. 7. The men were found guilty of assisting in the interstate transportation of dynamite.

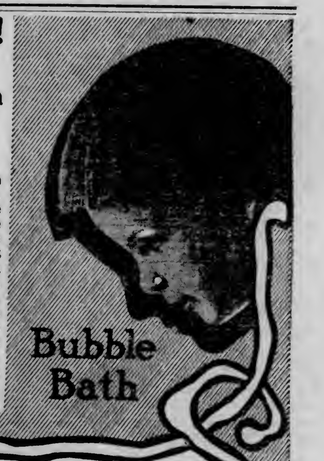

GOOD SUGGESTION TO DULUTH PEOPLE

It is surprising the amount of old, foul matter the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka, drains from the system. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and acts on BOTH the upper and lower bowel so thoroughly that ONE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost IMMEDIATELY. We are mighty glad we are Duluth agents for Adler-i-ka. W. A. Abbott, Druggist, 205 West Superior street.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

ELEVATOR LAW DOUBLE EDGED

New North Dakota Act Is Responsible for Many Complaints.

Independent Concerns Are Charged With Favoring Stockholders in Deals.

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Farmers and independent elevator companies are guilty of adopting just as many unfair tactics in the purchasing of grain and in the general conduct of their business as are the line elevator companies, if complaints on file with the state railroad commission can be taken as a criterion. Also, the state's unfair discrimination law, declared constitutional in an opinion furnished the board of commissioners by the attorney general, will be just as operative against the independent companies as against the line concerns.

The method employed by many farmers' companies of paying higher prices for grain to members of the company is especially condemned in many of the complaints on file with the commission, all of which will be considered in the light thrown by the attorney general's decision.

It has been frequently charged that certain companies pay a cent more per bushel to stockholders than they do to non-stockholders. By adopting this practice, the stockholding farmers receive a rebate, in the shape of profits, of the 1 cent holdout. This feature of the situation will be quite thoroughly considered by the state commission in dealing with future discrimination complaints.

As to the line elevators, it has been openly charged that they have long employed unfair tactics against the independent companies.

The unfair discrimination law was a weapon which was leveled by the farmers at line elevator companies, and its introduction in the state legislature was for that purpose. Under the attorney general's ruling, however, it is said to be a double-edged saw and works both ways.

Make This and Try It for Coughs

This Home-Made Remedy has no Equal for Prompt Results.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually conquers an ordinary cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchitis. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this plan.

Making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful mixture has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MARQUETTE TO HAVE ANOTHER BIG DOCK

Marquette, Mich., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a cost of $100,000, the firm of Pickands & Co. of Cleveland will provide itself with a new dock and coal-handling plant in Marquette, to be ready for use by the opening of navigation next spring. Contracts for the construction work have been awarded.

The firm handles the bulk of the coal consumed on the Marquette range. In the construction of the new dock the present merchandise wharf will be used. This pier is owned by the D., S. S. & A. railroad and is held under lease. It will be rebuilt for a width of forty-five feet and for a distance of 500 feet. This work will make necessary the removal of the present warehouse, and F. B. Spear & Sons, agents, who handle the package freight business of the port, under the necessity of providing a new landing place for the Anchor line and other steamers. The proposed new coal dock will be used only for unloading purposes. The present storage plant will be enlarged and equipped with a more commodious screening house. The coal will be carried to it by a belt conveyor.

The present dock of Pickands & Co. is so short that there are comparatively few boats in the bulk freight service to this port that it is able to accommodate. The new dock will be able to take the largest vessels on the lakes.

LAURIUM LIVES IN SPITE OF STRIKE.

Laurium, Mich., Oct. 2.—Notwithstanding the strike, which has been in progress ten weeks, and the fact that many people left the Copper country for other fields, real estate men are unanimous in the claim that there are few empty houses in the village. The demand for houses has been unusually brisk this fall and greater difficulty is being experienced in supplying suitable homes than in securing tenants for homes vacated.

Practically all of the houses in the village which are vacant lack modern improvements and might be classed as undesirable, bringing only a very small rental. Since the strike there have been numerous changes of residence in the village, according to local real estate men, tenants of the poorer houses leaving them to occupy more improved residences. There are numerous applications on file for homes of the latter class, but few of them are ever vacated.

FOSSTON DISTRICT REPORTED PROSPEROUS.

Fosston, Minn., Oct. 2.—This is a banner year for Eastern Polk county. The district has had a bountiful crop, one of the best ever raised, and two-thirds of it is threshed and the balance stacked and out of the way of damage from any bad weather. There is a little flax to thresh, which is not stacked, and it is a fine crop also.

Real estate is moving splendidly. There is a big demand for Eastern Polk county land, and prices are good. The farmers are buying more land. Many of those who went to Canada a few years ago are coming back. Most of them did not sell their farms here, and are very glad of it. Many of those who did are buying back farms and paying a big margin over what they sold for—and are glad to do it.

CHANCE MEETING REUNITES LOVERS.

Redwood Falls, Minn., Oct. 2.—Miss Hattie Anderson, living with relatives near this city, stopped at a camp while on her way to church on Sunday to ask men there to adjust part of the harness on her horse.

From the tent came William G. Marshall, curious to learn who had a voice that so resembled the voice of his old sweetheart, from whom he had become estranged shortly before he left the old country several years ago.

The woman was his former fiance, he found, and before nightfall they were married. She will go westward with him in the covered wagon that is part of his horse-trading outfit.

PUMPKINS AND FAST NAGS IN SPOTLIGHT

County Fairs Being Held in Various Parts of North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A number of fairs are in progress in North Dakota this week and more are planned for next. Last week there were exhibitions at Beach, Dickinson and Linton, the weather interfering considerably, especially at Beach. This week the weather is ideal and the conditions are all the most exacting promoters could ask.

The fair at Wahpeton, which is running for four days, is probably the largest county fair in the state. It has grown to such proportions that its name is likely to be changed to the Tri-State fair as in addition to the Southeastern North Dakota, it also draws heavily from South Dakota and Western Minnesota. Governor Eberhart of Minnesota and President Worst of the North Dakota Agricultural college were the principal speakers. There was a fine street program and the line of amusement was especially attractive.

The Missouri slope fair at Mandan, with all its wild west features attracted a great deal of attention. The show appeals to the residents of the western part of the state and has become a fixed fall exposition. The race programs are always high class.

Down in Ransom county the corn show is in progress. Ransom county farmers were among the first to see the advantages of growing corn and they have developed it to a higher quality than most other sections. The display this week will be especially attractive.

Mott, "the spot," opened a fair today. The Hettinger county exhibit will have no races but there will be many other features. This is corn day and tomorrow is alfalfa and live-stock day. There will be a great line of amusements for the evenings.

Among the fairs scheduled for next week are:

Bowbells, Oct. 7-9; Hettinger, Oct. 9-11; Casselton, Oct. 9-11; Finley, Oct. 10-11; Nome, Oct. 18; Lankin, Oct. 23.

UNLOADED GUN KILLS FARMER BOY.

Mora, Minn., Oct. 2.—Alfon Sjodin, the 13-year-old son of Mrs. Gust Wenberg of Fish Lake, was accidentally shot and instantly killed yesterday. The accident occurred upon the farm of Peter Edlund, the boy's uncle.

Alfon, with two other boys, were hunting and stopped in a potato field to play. Each boy carried a shotgun, none of which were supposed to be loaded. One gun was laid across a potato digger and Alfon happened to be standing directly in front of this gun when one of the other boys stepped upon the tongue of the digger, the jar causing the gun to be discharged. The entire charge of shot struck the boy's head, causing instant death.

ISHPEMING CLUB PLANS BANQUET OCT. 22.

Ishpeming, Mich., Oct. 2.—The Ishpeming Advancement association will give a banquet for its members Wednesday evening, Oct. 22, in the Guild hall of Grace Episcopal church. It will be served by the women of the congregation at 6:30 o'clock.

The arrangements for the banquet and the entertainment program are in the hands of a committee, composed of E. J. Townsend, chairman, Will Newett and Julius Johnson, appointed by President Leininger.

It has not yet been decided what subjects will be discussed, but the committee announces that the meeting will be a genuine "get together" affair. It is planned to arrange other meetings of this character at frequent intervals during the winter.

TRACTION LINE WILL UNITE BORDER TOWNS

Interurban Road Building Between Ranier and International Falls.

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A crew of fifty men is at work grading and track-laying on the interurban road being built by the American Traction company between International Falls and Ranier. The line will be three miles long and passes through what is called the Midway district. President L. H. Nord states that twice as many men would be employed on the construction work if they could be obtained. The rolling stock of the road will be one gasoline car and others of the storage battery type. It is intended to have the line in operation early in December.

NEGAUNEE YOUTHS RETURN TO BOOKS.

Negaunee, Mich., Oct. 2.—Negaunee young people who are attending college and who have recently returned to their school work are:

To Michigan university at Ann Arbor—Paul Bell, Charles Sporley, Walter Sterling, Sheldon Crane, J. Jewel, Donald Drake, Gilbert Christianson, Rhoda McNabb, Simon Fredrickson, Ruth B. Miller, Pauline Adams and Loretta Helmsdorfer.

Olivet university at Ovid—Albert Bice.

Ferris institute at Big Rapids—Kenneth Doyle and Alfred Rytkonen.

Armour institute at Chicago—John Rough.

University of Wisconsin at Madison—Arthur Moll.

University of Illinois at Champaign—Gerald Flynn.

Accounting Board Organized.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the first meeting of the board of accounting, authorized by the last legislature and appointed by the board of regents of the state university, Dr. F. L. McVey, president of the university, was elected chairman, with Walter Thomson of Fargo, secretary. F. T. Cuthbert of Devils Lake is the other member of the board. This board is charged with supervision of public accounting and will draw a set of regulations governing the profession.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Devils Lake, N. D.—The plan to construct a modern automobile highway from Devils Lake to the Canadian boundary line has been approved by the Devils Lake Commercial club, and the first work on the new road probably will be done this fall. Next year it is planned to do extensive work and make the road one of the best in the entire Northwest.

Michigan, N. D.—Michigan authorities are searching for Angus Brandt on the double charge of grand larceny and jail breaking. Held in the Michigan jail for the theft of flax from Con Hogan, a farmer of Petersburg, Brandt escaped from the local jail by wrenching several bars loose from their moorings. He had a five-hour start on the officials.

Petersburg, N. D.—Charges that they operated a co-operative blind-pig, maintaining lockers to which keys were sold at $1 each, and in which was contained a quantity of liquor, are laid against Carl Gedestad and Sigrud Rasmusen, both of this place. They are well known young men who have resided here several years.

Alexander, N. D.—The contractors for the Great Northern have finally completed the 1,400-foot tunnel just on this side of the Yellowstone river. The tunnel is the most interesting feature of the extension of the line from New Rockford to Lewiston, Mont. Work was begun on opposite sides and the two crews met each other in the center of the big bluffs on the east side of the river at this point. As soon as the bridge is completed across the river, trains can run from the Montana side.

Wimbledon, N. D.—Bringing a supply of liquor from Portal or some Canadian point, a wholesale boot-legger is said to have a regular route along the line. So frequent and noisy have the drunks here been that an effort is being made to apprehend the violators. It is claimed the booze peddler makes two trips each week and leaves a suitcase or telescope in each town.

Fargo, N. D.—The inauguration of the new accounting system in the grain elevators of the state under the direction of the state railway and warehouse commission, is expected to greatly simplify the keeping of the records. It is put into force under the new law enacted at the last legislative session at the request of the commission and some elevator men.

Granville, N. D.—Charged with attempting to dynamite a house in which seven people were living, John A. Spouce is under arrest here. The alleged crime was committed at Mount Vernon, Ill., after which Spouce came here and engaged to work on a threshing crew. A letter received by relatives in Illinois mailed here gave the clew to his location.

Lawton, N. D.—Firebugs are believed to be operating here. A vacant building, formerly occupied as a meat market, was found on fire at an early hour. It was at first thought tramps had accidentally started the blaze but an investigation led the officials to believe it was a case of incendiarism.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Milwaukee — William C. Cowling, a well known Republican politician, former city attorney for Oshkosh, Wis., and manager of the campaigns for the United States senate of Samuel A. Cook of Neenah, was arrested in District Attorney Yockey's office this afternoon, charged with larceny as bailee.

La Crosse, Wis.—Miss Cora Opsal of La Crosse and Mrs. Oscar Anderson of Roadstown, were seriously injured, and Oscar Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Sime, all of Readstown suffered painful bruises and cuts when their automobile turned turtle near here yesterday. A rut in the road caused the accident.

Ashland—The year's work at Northland college has opened up well. The dormitory rooms are all filled, and students continue to come. Both the girls and the men's glee clubs have begun the year's work in preparation for a concert tour toward the end of the year. While probably but little in the way of athletics will be done, a fair number of the men are out for exercise and a knowledge of football under the direction of Dean Hitchcock.

Chippewa Falls — A young lady by the name of Miss Sanders from Barron had her suit case rifled at the Soo depot Monday evening. Miss Sanders who was waiting for her father, left the case with a woman with who she had been conversing while she went for her supper. Upon her return the stranger had gone and the suit case was open on the floor.

Madison—The city superintendents of schools of the state will meet in annual session here Friday and Saturday upon call of State Supt. Cary. The principal addresses will be by Prof. James F. Hosic of the Chicago Teachers' college; Dr. Salmon, secretary of the national committee on mental hygiene; Prof. W. D. Frost of the University of Wisconsin.

Milwaukee — With their wedding date fixed for Oct. 16, Miss Huldena Zechinato and A. J. Zimmermann eloped to Chicago Monday morning and were quietly married there, keeping their intention secret from friends and relatives until after the ceremony. Mr. Zimmermann is secretary of the Schiffler Biscuit company and president of the Milwaukee Association of Accountants and Bookkeepers. He was founder of the latter organization.

Antigo—Mrs. Sam Iris started her fall house cleaning early and in doing so decided to burn some paper in which dynamite had been wrapped. She did not examine the papers and is now recovering from the effects of an explosion. Some member of the family had left a dynamite cap in the wrappings and when the papers were burned the cap was exploded.

Ashland—Sergeant Joseph Jacobson in competitive drill at the Company D armory, stayed on the floor the longest without making a mistake and was declared the best soldier in the company. He was given a beautiful silver medal.

Appleton—More than 2,000 Wisconsin friends of Lawrence college are listed among the contributors to a fund of $160,000 necessary for the school to raise by Oct. 1, 1913, in order to take advantage of an offer of $40,000 made by the general education board of New York, of which President Samuel Plantz of Lawrence college, is a member. Announcement was made today that the fund has been completed.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

East Grand Forks—Miss Eugene E. Erickson and Harry Darling of Minneapolis were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Erickson, at East Grand Forks. A wedding supper followed the wedding, attended only by relatives of the bride and groom. Rev. Mr. Persenius of the Swedish Lutheran church of Grand Forks, officiated.

Crookston—Rev. W. C. Hodgson has received a call from the Joyce Memorial church at Minneapolis at a salary of $2,800 per year. Two representatives of that church have visited Crookston and determined that Rev. Mr. Hodgson is the man they want.

Rochester—A. T. Stebbins, M. C. Lawler, and C. Van Campen have been named a new soliciting committee to complete the raising of subscriptions for the Commercial club home, and the canvass will be rushed to a rapid completion. Only $5,000 is needed to insure the erection of the club home, and with $23,000 on the list at the present time, it should prove an easy task to secure the balance.

Deer Creek—T. J. Graham who a few years ago bought the George Kobler farm in the edge of town, put 200 bushels of potatoes into his cellar and sold $1,060 worth from ten acres of land. Mr. Graham has several acres still to harvest.

Bemidji — Zip Bang and Danny Bright, horses owned by John Sullivan of this city, were winners in the races held at Madison, Minn., Saturday. Zip Bang was the winner in the 2:16 pace while Danny Bright took the money by winning the 2:15 pace.

Nebish — A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Edward's home near Nebish Monday, when Miss Mabel Josephine Edwards became the bride of Fred Cook, Rev. Mr. Parshall officiating. Miss Florence Edwards, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Albert Almendinger acted as best man. The out-of-town guests were: Rev. Mr. Parshall of Cass Lake, Miss Lemloh of Puposky, Mr. and Mrs. Cook of Redby, and Miss Florence Huck of Bemidji.

Hovland—M. S. Greene put up for L. Ellingsen on Friday, the first stack of bound grain that has been stacked in the town of Hovland, believed to be the forerunner of many stacks to be built in the future, now that it has been demonstrated that the finest kind of wheat and oats can be raised here.

Cass Lake—Archdeacon H. F. Parshall will leave soon for New York, where he will be a delegate at the national convention of the Episcopalian church.

Winona—As a season for tourist travel and excursioning, the season of 1913 will go down into history with laurels, for the oldest river men concede that the multitude handled has sort of taken the edge off the big freight traffic of former years. Close to 500,000 passengers in all have been carried.

Grand Marais—Contractor Nunstedt, with a crew of men, has commenced work upon the residence for Samuel Bally, which he is building on St. Paul avenue, near Monroe street. A concrete foundation and basement has just been completed by Andrew Hedstrom. This will be one of the most substantial residences in the village.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Ishpeming—At 6 o'clock Tuesday at the French Roman Catholic church, Miss Leah Lafrenier became the bride of Arthur Lafave. The young people left on an early train for the Copper country where they will tour and visit for a few days before settling down in their new home in Ishpeming.

Hancock—E. J. Dube, president of the St. John Baptiste Society of Hancock and Houghton, has named a committee to secure speakers for the celebration of the Copper country lodges in Hancock next year. President Dube named Charles O. Oliver and Charles E. Rouleau of Hancock, with the president to act as the committee to secure the speakers.

Houghton—The Michigan College of Mines resumed its work this morning after the 1913 September vacation. It was impossible to learn the registration of the new students but it is shown that the class is as large this year as last.

Hubbell—The executive committee of the Lake Superior association of Congregational churches met at Hubbell for the purpose of selecting a date and place for the semi-annual meeting. Hubbell was designated as host to the association and Nov. 5 has been selected as the tentative date. A final meeting will be held shortly when a permanent date will be chosen.

Ishpeming—Rev. W. G. Prout, who was pastor of Methodist churches in this county for several years before he was transferred to the Copper country, is now stationed at Iron River, where he preached his first sermon Sunday. Rev. Mr. Prout has been pastor of the Hurontown church for the past four years. He will be succeeded by Rev. J. H. Oatey.

Hancock—The ladies of St. Patrick's parish of Hancock met Monday evening to organize for the banquet which will be tendered Hancock council, Knights of Columbus, in connection with its ceremonial on Columbus day, Oct. 12. The banquet will be given in the evening after the initiation of seventy-five candidates in the afternoon. The officers named in the parish hall follow: President, Mrs. C. J. Keough; vice president, Mrs. Thomas Lynch, and Mrs. William Patten; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Richard Rourke, Jr.

FREE If you only write me

To my poor, weak, suffering sisters, who need a woman's expert knowledge —not a man's—or a surgeon's knife.

DR. JULIA D. GODFREY
Fort Wayne, Indiana
For 30 years Specialist in Women's Diseases—Who has wonderful success in her Home Treatment for her Sex —Offers Free Supply to you Whatever You Suffer.

YOU AND I CAN get together, by mail, without anybody knowing it, and I will give you my careful, simple, expert advice and a Home Treatment as a physician, woman and mother—FREE from me to you, to help or cure you as a gift from a successful Specialist in all diseases and sufferings which women alone know. Even the most discouraged and long suffering cases, as well as thousands of afflictions so common to women, have been brought to health and happiness in my long, delightful practice.

I am no longer a sufferer myself, as you can see from my picture which I show here so that you will feel that you know me better from now on. And I am thankful to extend my helping hand, expert knowledge and mature, wide experience to your case.

Use My Free Home Treatment If You Have These Troubles.

No matter where you live I can and will do this for you if you suffer from Female Weakness, Nervousness, Bearing Down Pains, Headaches, Backaches, Poor Appetite and Indigestion, and Kidney Trouble or other sufferings that women alone know.

Do You Dread the Surgeon's Knife?

Many women have written me that before they tried my Home Treatment they had for years lived in dread of men doctors and their advice to submit to surgical operations. Many had tried one "drug cure" after another but still suffered as you do. They had almost given up hope. They wrote to me as almost a last refuge but they took my advice and Home Treatment and ever afterward could not seem to thank me enough.

No Man Knows Those Suffering Tortures as a Woman Does.

You and I know what sympathy and right Home Treatment means to our suffering Sisters when they are helped and cured as no man doctor possibly could.

And I know that there are hundreds of weak, nervous, sick and discouraged women to whom I can give health and happiness if I am only fortunate enough for their sakes to reach them.

Prove Hope Not Lost in 2 or 3 Days.

Health can be restored. All such women's diseases can now be conquered. My experience has proven this and never before have I been so successful as in my recent cases.

If your eyes see this offer, decide to be one of the fortunate ones—to cease suffering—to regain your spirits of happy youth and strength.

Please Write Me Now.

For convenience you can use the coupon below, or a letter telling me how you suffer. Your case will be carefully considered. You will receive a complete letter of expert advice and I will send you a supply of my Home Treatment FREE, by mail, postage paid, in a plain package for you and you only.

That won't cost you a penny. Not a cent. No obligation to me in any way for one of the grandest blessings for your health's sake that you can discover. Decide, Sister, this once more to seek the end of your sufferings. Write to me today, now, while you feel like it.

WORLD'S SERIES CAUSES WIDESPREAD DEMENTIA

Husbands Read at Table, Youths Go Without Meals, and a General Spirit of Abstraction Seizes the Populace.

Fan Writes Ode to Beell and Yokel---Frank Bryant Is Going After the World's Honors in the Roller Skating Sport.

BY BRUCE.

THERE may be possibly some talk of the tariff at the present time—also, as we understand the thing, Huerta and others of habitat the other side of the border line, have grown rather fresh in fomenting some-near international complications. At any moment Castro may do a political shoot the chutes and try to start something. Mrs. Pankhurst is threatening to hit our shores and explain the intimate details of some of the brick throwing; and going further down the line, it might be also added that Bill Sulzer and Harry Thaw are still claiming some space on the front pages of some of the leading journals of the country. What of all this? Nothing very much, cause Bill, the world's series is due to start within the next few days.

Of course you understand that the Giants and Athletics are at the present time resting upon their oars. There is not a great deal of exertion to win. The race in the two big leagues is over to all intents and purposes. What we are waiting for is the world's series.

Another thing that troubles us—and it would be greatly more troublesome if we were going to the series—is where the people who pay to see the series are going to sit.

After carefully reading some 100 or more papers that are published in various parts of this country, and one in Superior, we find that there are some of the papers of the larger cities that will have two and three experts, in some cases six, covering the series. It is getting to be awful. Where are the people who are compelled by the greedy members of the national commission to pay some $4 and $5, and by some of the speculators that assail one at the gate or in the hotel lobby to pay vastly more, going to camp? The room will be monopolized by those experts who come to behold and to get the psychological, the mental, the physical, and delirious effect; the color of the clash, to note the gowns worn by society, to catch some of the witty things said by the fans, to observe the effect of excitement upon the "peepul," and to variously describe the inside stuff to those who are presumably paying their money to get out in the air and breathe in some ozone without bugs in it.

There will be actors, ministers, ball players, novelists, one or two society women, freaks of diverse lines of industry, and a few reporters there to cover the big doings. If the craze to break into print regarding the series increases, some of the newspaper men will be crowded out into the bleachers. This is a great life and we must be brave.

The general madness started about a week ago. Some of the more ardent fans went down several weeks ago. But the stage where men will not speak to their wives during the dinner hour (formerly observed under the general head of supper), but sit with papers propped against the bread basket (the one on the table), and glare if asked to answer a question, is on.

Upon our streets men have been observed wandering hatless at the noon hour, one paper before their eyes and several more under their arms. Office boys and slender clerks are growing thin and wan; they refuse to eat during the noon hour so as to read the latest from the scene of the soon to be front. There is a general dementia and it is considered a generous act of fate that some people have not been run over by the street cars or automobiles that dash carelessly about our tax paved streets.

Since time immemorial, since the first quarrel betwixt Eve and Papa Adam, the general salutation, the general method of beginning a conversation has been: "It's a nice day, isn't it." And this despite the fact that it might be raining at the time. Habit is one of the strongest things we know of. But now all that has changed. Its "Who's going to win the world's series?" You hear it here, there, everywhere. The weather as a general and useful subject for a conversational curtain raiser hasn't a chance these days.

Employers of labor don't expect much work out of their employes the week before the series is played, or the week it is being played, or the week after it has been played. In our little fifth readers we have been led to believe that the opening gun at Sumpter started quite a lot of excitement along with the opening of a general Molly Donohue ruction. But the opening gun of the world's series, friends, is going to be the occasion of general scurrying of feet to get in the general vicinity of a telegraphic wire, and we might even add that the ear of the nation will be close to terra firma.

She is going to be a great and wakeful week, and if your office boy, or even your stenographer shows signs of being somewhat off, don't get peevish, for everybody's doing it.

Take Your Choice.

FRIEND HEIMBACH has sent in the following ode to the prowess of Beell and Yokel, and after reading it you can form your own opinion as to the probable outcome of the meeting between the Wisconsin bearcat and the Rocky Mountain lion:

Fred Beell.

Does he still possess the hidden power
That laid Toni Jenkins low—
Likewise defeated giant Gotch
Just seven years ago?

Or will we find that in the strife
He falls to land the coin
And the mighty hasbeens of the mat
He'll soon be due to join?

Mike Yokel.

That Yokel is a crackerjack
No sane man will deny
For all the world of middle weights
He surely can defy.

But when he tackles Freddy Beell
A bit of weight he's giving
Not only that, but on the mat,
To the greatest man that's living.

Sequence.

So when it comes to place your bet
To rake in a few dollars
If Beell's as good as ever yet
He'll make Mike down his colors.

ALTON B. HEIMBACH.

Here's Luck to Frank.

OUR little friend Frank Bryant is going after the highest honors in the roller skating world. Just four years ago this unassuming little chap was asking for races with some of the then prominent local roller skater speed merchants.

During the present season the champion of the Northwest is going after the greatest in the world. Bryant will enter the world's championship races, either to be held at Milwaukee or Pittsburg, and in addition expects to race some of the best of the real ones at the Auditorium track.

Bryant is a clean cut, modest and likable little chap. He is but 23 years of age. His best days are in front of him. This should be the best season that the home developed youth has enjoyed, and there are a lot of friends here at home who are rooting for a win for Frank over stars of the class of Hamilton, Moore and Davidson.

TEAM RACE FOR THE AUDITORIUM

Crack Amateurs Will Meet In Five-Mile Roller Event.

Manager Lockerman of the Auditorium rink has lined up some fast teams for the roller race of tomorrow evening.

Team No. 1 will be C. Holland and Young Haggerty. V. Nyberg and B. Thompson will skate on Team No. 2. Ed. Balanger and Tom Haggerty will skate on the No. 3 team, and Art Radtke and Johnny McGinnis will be the members of Team No. 4.

Under the rules of the race the team members can change places any time they desire; in other words, a man can skate a mile and then leave the track in favor of his teammate, or a man can skate a lap and then tag his skating partner and leave the track.

The race will be for a distance of five miles and is expected to bring out some very good sport, as the teams are made up of some of the best of the amateur skaters of the city.

According to the announcement made today by Manager Lockerman, within three weeks the big amateur race for the city championship will be contested at the rink.

Delaney, former amateur champion of Milwaukee, is here at the present time and it is probable that he will start against the cracks of Duluth.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Cleveland 8; Detroit 1.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 2.—Gregg held Detroit to four scattered hits yesterday and Cleveland, continuing their desperate, although nearly hopeless, fight for second place, won, 8 to 1.

The Cleveland southpaw blanked the Tigers until the ninth, when Cobb beat out an infield hit, stole second and third and scored on Gregg's poor throw to catch Veach off first. Olson, who played second in Lajoie's place, singled to right in the first inning, scoring Liebold. Cleveland won the game in the fifth when, with the bases full, Chapman drove a double to the scoreboard in left, bring home O'Neil, Gregg and Liebold. Singles by Chapman, Olson and Ryan gave the visitors two tallies in the eighth. House replaced Comstock in the final inning and he was found for two runs. O'Neil singled, scored on Liebold's triple and Chapman brought Liebold in by driving a long sacrifice fly to Cobb.

Johnston was ordered off the field in the sixth inning by Umpire O'Loughlin for protesting against one of the latter's decisions. Score:

Cleveland	10003002	2—8	13	3
Detroit	00000001	—1	4	2

Batteries—Gregg and O'Neil; Comstock, House and Gibson. Umpires—Ferguson and O'Loughlin.

Washington 1; Athletics 0.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Washington made it three straight shutouts by winning from Philadelphia yesterday, 1 to 0. Again the champions played none but second string men, but they forced the locals to hustle in order to win.

Bohen, one of Connie Mack's youngsters was in the box and pitched a splendid game. He allowed but three hits, two of them coming in the eighth inning, when Washington put across the winning run.

Bentley, a Washington recruit, pitched almost as good ball as his opponent. He was relieved to make way for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Gallia pitched the ninth inning for Washington and retired the Athletics in order. Score:

Philadelphia	00000000	0—0	6	1
Washington	00000001	x—1	3	1

Batteries—Bohen and McAvoy; Bentley, Gallia and Ainsmith.

Invaders Win Out.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 2.—The second round of the Canadian Women's golf championship was played yesterday. Mrs. Barlow of Philadelphia, the only American entrant, defeated Miss A. Mackenzie, Canada, 3 up and 2 to play.

Miss Mabel Harrison and Miss Murial Dodd of the English invaders, also won their matches. The Canadian survivors included Miss Pooley, Victoria, B. C., and Miss Florence Harvey, Hamilton.

CROSS PENNSY'S LINE FIRST TIME

Franklin and Marshall Team Scores Against Heavy Red and Blue.

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—The Franklin and Marshall football team played great football against the heavy University of Pennsylvania team yesterday and, although the Red and Blue won, the visitors crossed the Quakers' goal line for the first time this season. The final score was 13 to 6. Coach Brooke's team was weakened by the absence of Capt. Young.

Pennsylvania scored first in the opening period on a forward pass. In the third period, with the ball on Pennsylvania's 35-yard line, Avery fumbled Simpson's pass and after recovering it, tried to kick, but Hartman blocked the ball and it rolled behind Pennsylvania's goal line, where Smith fell on it for a touchdown. Jones, however, failed to kick goal.

Pennsylvania changed her tactics in the final period, using straight line plunges, and scored another touchdown. Marshall kicked one goal.

TOUGH LUCK AT GRAND CIRCUIT

Rain and Heavy Track Delays Heats—Also Cause Accidents.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 2.—Threatening clouds coupled with the fact that some rain fell last night, made uncertain this morning the carrying out of the program prepared for the Grand Circuit races at the driving park this afternoon. In an effort to complete the racing card of the meet tomorrow, officials of the annual event planned to start the program at 12:30 today so as to give time for races that were postponed from yesterday because of a heavy track.

The race for the Buckeye stake of $5,000 for 2:11 trotters put over from yesterday promised to be the drawing card this afternoon. It was planned to finish two races started yesterday. Four other races are on today's program. They are the 2:08 trot; free-for-all pace; 2:08 pace and 2:16 trot.

Completion of all that is planned for today will require at least twenty heats and probably more.

Drenched by rain Tuesday night, track was not made safe for racing yesterday until 2 o'clock when an abbreviated program of class events was run off. Only one of the three races started, was finished. Bismaya winning the 2:20 trot after the first heat had been won by George Rex.

Fay Richmond, after getting two heats of the 2:13 pace, was nosed out of the third by Princess Margaret, the favorite. This race, like the 2:10 pace, in which different horses won each of the three heats decided, will be completed today. Don Patch, favorite for the 2:10 pace, stumbled in the first heat, and Driver Jamison was unseated.

In scoring for the first heat of the 2:13 pace, Christobel swerved into Kinneysham, and Driver Ben Walker was thrown against the fence. Kinneysham ran around the track before being caught. Walker resumed his seat and raced three heats.

HARVARD LOSES STAR.

Tudor Gardiner, Great Tackle, Likely Never to Play Again.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 2.—Tudor Gardiner, star tackle of the Harvard varsity eleven of 1911 and a leading candidate for end on the present Crimson team, probably will never play football again.

Gardiner was lost to the team yesterday when physicians advised against his playing. He broke his forearm in the Harvard-Princeton game two years ago and the injury kept him out of the game last year. Under the test of two weeks practice the arm has been found too weak to allow him to play.

His absence, together with the illness of Milholland and Dana and the ineligibility of Smith, has left Harvard with only three available ends, instead of the seven who started practice.

Cuts Out Schedule.

Northfield, Vt., Oct. 2.—The cancellation of the entire schedule of the Norwich university football team, because of the death of Halfback Verner Belyea, was announced yesterday. Belyea's death resulted from injuries in a game with Holy Cross, Sept. 24.

DATE IS FIXED FOR BIG MATCH

Beell and Yokel Will Wrestle at Curling Club, Oct. 23.

Guy Warren has been appointed chairman of the ticket committee of the curling club that will work in conjunction with the officials of the Greater Duluth Athletic club in handling the tickets for the Beell-Yokel contest.

It is expected that there will be a meeting of the president and board of directors of the club, when the matter of the big world's championship contest will be gone thoroughly into and arrangements made for advertising and handling all of the multifarious details of what is expected to be the biggest contest in the history of the Northwest.

Date Decided Upon.

Emil Klank, manager of Beell, wired last evening that Oct. 23 was the definite date decided upon, and the contest between the two men will be wrestled on the evening of that date, which falls on Thursday.

Klank will leave immediately for Marshfield, Wis., the home of Fred Beell, and will attend to the construction of a training camp on the farm of the little Badger, and will also make final arrangements for the conditioning of the Wisconsin Bearcat.

Directors of the curling club state that the demand for tickets will be enormous and that already inquiry is being made. There will be a meeting of the ticket committee and arrangements will be made as to the sale of the pasteboards.

Referee In Open Face Suit.

According to the plan discussed with several of the committeemen representing the club, it is planned to have the announcer and referee wear the regulation evening clothes. This will be following the example of the big athletic contests held in the largest cities of the East and West.

William J. Brennan, the man who became famous for forfeiting the game between the Giants and Athletics, who is possessed of a stentorian voice, will probably be employed expressly for announcing the various features of the program.

EXHIBITION GAMES.

American Association Teams Meet the Big League Nines.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—The Pittsburg National League club was from the Indianapolis team, 9 to 5 yesterday. Merz went to pieces in the fifth and the visitors, bunching hits with the locals' errors, scored three runs. In the sixth, more misplays and more hits brought Pittsburg's total to nine. O'Toole, who started the game for the visitors, was taken out after he had allowed nine hits for a total of five runs. The score:

		R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	20013300	0—9	13	0
Indianapolis	10200000	0—5	12	8

Columbus, 5; St. Louis, 4.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 2.—In spite of unsteady fielding, the Columbus American association team won from the St. Louis Americans in a ten-inning exhibition game yesterday, 5 to 4. Perring tied the score in the eighth with a home run. In the tenth Hinchman's double scored the winning run on two sacrifices. The score:

		R.	H.	E.
Columbus	10000201	0—5	9	6
St. Louis	20010001	0—4	8	1

Play to a Tie.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 2.—Yesterday's exhibition game eneded in a tie. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago Americans	3	7	2
Milwaukee Association	3	7	3

Batteries—Russell, Scott and Schalk, Sullivan; Hovlik and Hughes. Called at the end of the tenth; darkness.

GOPHERS READY TO BATTLE WITH AMES

Minnesota Team Is in Good Shape—Bierman's Leg Better.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 2.—Today's practice will be the last hard work for the Minnesota football squad before the game with Ames on Saturday. Coach H. L. Williams gave the men three hours of hard practice yesterday, pitting the regulars against the reserves. They were trained both on the offensive and defensive.

The injury to Bierman's leg, sustained Tuesday, is improving and he is expected to be in the game Saturday. Joe Mattern, who has been in Bierman's place at right halfback, since the latter's injury, is showing up excellently.

THAT UNFINISHED GAME.

New York and Philadelphia Will Play It Off.

New York, Oct. 2.—After taking a few days' rest while the substitutes were essaying to represent the team in Boston, the National league team regulars will get back into harness again today, if the weather permits a game, for a three-day tuning up stretch before the season ends and world's series week begins. Manager McGraw was hopeful last night that the two injured members of his first line squad, Doyle and Snodgrass would be found in their usual positions.

If the field is fit for play today, a triple bill is scheduled, a double header following the finishing of the game at Philadelphia because of the actions of the bleacher crowd. The unfinished contest is to be taken up at the point where it was broken off by the interruption, with New York at bat in the ninth inning, the bases clear, one man out and one ball on the batter—Jack Murray.

JUNIORS WILL MEET.

Another Conference Is Planned for Next Saturday Evening.

There will be another meeting of the Junior Football league on Saturday evening at the Lake Hardware company's store.

It is desired that representatives of all of the teams that will be in the league during the present season be present.

The Maroons, Adams, Lakesides, Johnson & Petersons, Wolverines and Crescents had men on hand last evening. It is desired to have eight teams in the league and it is expected that the representatives of the additional teams will be present Saturday evening. The average weight of the team's members will be limited to 135 pounds. There will be no age limit imposed.

It is planned to have several practice games next Sunday among the various teams.

SEASON JUST ABOUT OVER IN BASEBALL

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, returned last night with his "cub" players who have been used in the series against Washington, and today the American league champions will start the final games of their regular schedule with New York. It is expected Mack will present his strongest lineup in order that team work may be perfected for the world's series next week.

The first string players have been allowed to take things easy since they clinched the pennant.

The National league race for this season ended yesterday. Rain necessitated calling off the final game which was scheduled with Brooklyn. Today the Phillies will play the Giants at New York, where they will finish the season on Saturday.

Freshmen Hold Regulars.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—University of Chicago freshmen held the varsity football squad to a 7 to 7 tie yesterday. The freshmen, at the direction of the coaches, made use of the open game play, utilizing the plays made Saturday by the University of Indiana. The forward pass made them many gains.

RULES TO GOVERN PLAY FOR THE KLEIN TROPHY

Teams Competing for the Championship Cup Must Play in Three Games.

Adams Team and Kents Will Meet in First Contest for Title.

Definite rules will govern the playing for the Northwestern Independent football championship.

This matter was decided yesterday when Manager John Geistman of the Adams team, Manager Murphy of the Beavers of Minneapolis, and Max Klein, donor of the handsome loving cup that will be awarded to the team making the best showing, held a conference.

The teams will be ranked according to their records. For instance it is stated that Virginia is coming here especially primed to get the Adams eleven, and this may be the only game played by the range team.

It is the idea of Max Klein to compel a team to play at least three games to be eligible to competition for the cup.

Out For the Adams.

With the chances bright for the playing of the championship in this city, it begins to look as if the teams desirous of annexing the cup are covertly watching every move of the Adams team.

For the first time in the history of independent football a spy is suspected in the camp of one of the teams that is in the running for the championship.

John Balfour, a former player of the Kents, was recognized here yesterday by a former St. Paulite. It may have been that other business brought the Balfour boy to the Head of the Lakes, but it is believed that he came here to get a line on the aggregation the Kents will face in the first of the big games that will be played for the Klein cup and the independent championship of the Northwest.

Manager Murphy of the Beavers was also here yesterday, conferring with Manager Geistman of the Adams team in regard to the game that will be played during the present season between the Adams and the Beavers of Minneapolis.

Kents Look Formidable.

The Apostles are coming loaded for the Adams boys, according to the reports that are coming from St. Paul. All of the old stars are in the lineup, and in addition to these dependables some of the crack players of college reputation have been impressed into service for the big meeting.

To meet this crack team the Adams will have what is generally looked upon as the best eleven that has ever represented the Adams Athletic association.

The backfield of the West end team is especially strong, and if the line of the blue and white players can hold the forwards of the Kent team, it is believed here that the Adams backs will win the game.

In all of the independent football history of Duluth this is regarded as the most important game, and a contest that will bear directly on the Northwestern championship.

KELLEY TO BOX WITH WALTERS

Welterweights to Furnish Card at Twin Ports Club.

Spike Kelley and Sailor Walters will meet for a 10-round no decision contest before the Twin Ports Athletic club at the Grand Opera house, Superior, on the evening of Oct. 17.

Announcement of this was made by the officials of the club yesterday.

The men have met before and on that occasion the bout was called a draw.

Under the conditions of the match the two contestants will weigh in at 145 pounds.

While "Wildcat" Ferns had the better of his recent contest with the former member of Uncle Sam's navy, Walters is considered one of the best of the welters and is expected to put up a good exhibition with the man who got the goat of Thomas Sheehan.

WEAK IN LINE.

Northwestern Finds Where the Team Needs Strengthening.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—E. J. Moulton, former tackle on the University of Chicago football team, has joined the Northwestern squad as coach. He aided Coach Scribner in giving the linemen a long session with the charging machine. Scrimmages with the freshmen disclosed the chief weakness of the team was in the line. The back field spent the day practicing the forward pass.

METALLIC CARTRIDGES

Made by the Foremost Ammunition Concern in America

Whether your arm is a Remington or any other standard make, whatever its calibre and the load you need, you want Remington-UMC metallics—not because they are necessarily stamped with the same name as your firearm, but because they give more accurate results.

This Company has been making ammunition for fifty years. We produce metallics for every standard make of arm—and every Remington-UMC cartridge is tested in the arm for which it is made.

There is a dealer in this community who can give you Remington-UMC Metallics for your rifle, your pistol. Find him. Ask him for them. Look for the Red Ball Mark on every box of metallics and shot shells you buy.

ABANDON APPEAL TO FREE ORCHARD.

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 2.—As the result of protests from all over the state, no pardon for Harry Orchard, confessed slayer of ex-Governor Frank Steunenburg, was asked by the Metropolitan Church Association of Waukesha, Wis., when the state board of pardons met yesterday. Notice had been published, as required by law, that a pardon would be sought, but on account of the protests, Orchard, it is understood, insisted that the petition be delayed. Orchard, who is serving a life term, has been in prison since January, 1906.

"JUDGE WOMEN LIKE HORSES."

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 2.—A. O. Jacobs, horse dealer, who admits being married three times legally and two other times illegally and who says he judges women just as he does horses—by their disposition—is on trial in the district court in Kansas City, Kan., on a charge of bigamy. Jacobs is 42 years old.

NOTICE

IN RELATION TO

HAND BAGGAGE ON STREET CARS

During the last year or two much complaint has been made to the company of the inconvenience and discomfort caused to patrons by reason of other patrons abusing the privilege of taking hand baggage on the cars.

The payment of fare entitles any passenger to the privilege of taking "hand baggage" upon the car, but the term "hand baggage" has apparently been interpreted by some to mean anything that the passenger could lug aboard the car and the privilege has been abused to such an extent that the comfort of passengers and the operation of the cars has been seriously interfered with.

Without any desire to inconvenience those who have used the cars too freely in this way, but rather to promote the comfort of other patrons and in the best interests of all concerned, the company has adopted some new regulations and will hereafter require its employes to more strictly enforce all rules pertaining to this matter.

The new regulations will go into effect on October 1st next and this notice is given at this time in order that patrons who have been depending upon the cars for transporting articles that will not after that date be received as hand baggage may devise other means of transporting such things.

HAND BAGGAGE

Traveling bags, boxes, baskets, bundles, packages and other articles of such size, shape and weight as to enable the passenger to carry them in one hand while boarding the car will be considered as "hand baggage," provided, of course, they are not objectionable on account of being dangerous or offensive to other passengers.

PROHIBITED ARTICLES

Trunks, bicycles, baby carriages (except go-carts and small folding carriages that are of such shape that they may be taken inside the car folded up and held by the owner so as not to interfere with the comfort of other passengers), lumber, tool kits from which sharp tools protrude, unprotected glass, open pails of paint or grease, foul smelling articles, as well as all such things as by reason of their shape, bulk or weight could not be taken into the car proper without blocking the aisles or otherwise interfering with the comfort of passengers, must not be taken onto the cars as hand baggage.

When the "dinky" cars were used in Duluth and Superior passengers were permitted to stand in the front vestibule and the back part of the rear vestibules was used for baggage. This has resulted in the practice of depositing baggage in the rear vestibules of the large cars, greatly to the discomfort of passengers. All that part of the rear vestibules of the large cars which is not necessary to keep open for the safe and easy entrance and exit of passengers will hereafter be kept clear for the accommodation of those who desire to stand in the vestibule, and beginning October 1st no baggage whatever will be permitted in the rear vestibules of such cars. We believe this rule will materially add to the comfort of passengers and save time and accidents due to passengers having to climb over boxes and bundles when getting on or off the cars.

We respectfully solicit the co-operation of our patrons with our employes in enforcing this new rule. Patrons will kindly take their hand baggage into the body of the car with them and carry it upon their laps or place it under the seats, where it will not obstruct the aisles.

Passengers who wish to stand in the rear vestibule to smoke are requested to find a place under the long seats and near the rear door for any baggage that they do not wish to hold in their hands.

JOBBERS SET NEW RECORDS

Duluth Houses Reflect Sound Optimism of the West.

That the volume of wholesale trade being booked by Duluth houses this fall is setting new high records, is the intimation being passed out by the sales departments of the different establishments. That situation is attributed to the general optimism now prevailing through the West brought about by the fact that the crop outturn, as shown by threshing operations, has been substantially better than was anticipated a month ago.

With the exceptionally favorable weather that has prevailed this fall, the bulk of the crop will be marketed several weeks in advance of last year's movement, making collections correspondingly early. Payments up to the present are reported to have been generally satisfactory.

Dry Goods Trade Active.

Dry goods trade is showing a sharp gain according to F. A. Patrick & Co. A heavy Eastern call in mackinaws and auto robes is advised, report orders coming to hand liberally. The company's factory capacity in those lines has been increased 60 per cent during the last twelve months, and it is now said to be operating up to about its limit on current orders. The house's salesman started out this week with their next fall's lines.

Sugars Take a Drop.

Heavy business in both staple and fancy groceries is advised by all the jobbing houses. It is to be noted that sugars have taken a sharp drop of 25 points this week in both beet and granulated lines. This is attributed to the beet product now offering freely on the market and competition between two of the large refiners. Coffee quotations are ruling firm as a result of Brazilian supplies being much lighter than a year ago. A feature commented on by the trade, is the heavy call being met with for fish brought largely through the continued high prices ruling in meats. Salt Pacific coast salmon is featuring at present.

Hardware Prices Firm.

A large tonnage in shelf goods and stoves and ranges is now being shipped out by the two local hardware establishments. The market is strong in all steel and iron products, and dealers are consequently showing more disposition to anticipate their requirements in the placing of orders. Cordage has just taken another drop of ½ cent.

Paper Orders Liberal.

"Our trade for September was the best in our history, showing a gain of 37 per cent over last year," said B. M. Peyton, president of the Peyton Paper company. His company's turnover for its fiscal year ending Sept. 1, he also averred, showed an improvement of 30 per cent over 1912. A heavy run in building paper is advised as a result of the usual activity by contractors prior to the incoming of cold weather. Numbers of new accounts in general stationery lines are said to have been opened this fall at points over the ground covered in Northern Minnesota, Northern Wisconsin, Northern Michigan and North Dakota.

Furniture Bookings Good.

Substantial furniture trade from over the range territory, North Dakota and Montana is reported by the De Witt-Seitz company, bookings for last month showing a remarkable gain over the tally of a year ago. Reports from the company's salesmen are encouraging. Among the outside buyers at the house today were: J. W. New, Floodwood, Minn.; P. Spina, Ironton, Minn.; M. Shapira, International Falls, Minn., and Oscar Anderson, Ironwood, Mich.

Shoe Factory Busy.

A large increase over last year in both travelers' and mail orders, is advised by the Northern Shoe company, special gains being noted over Western Minnesota and North Dakota. The company's factory is operating to capacity.

OLD LAND PATENT INTERESTING RELIC

Deeded Land to City Council of "DuLuth" in 1860.

One of the first land patents issued to Duluth, Patent No. 25, made to the city council and signed by President James Buchanan, when Minnesota was a territory, has just been framed and presented to the register of deeds by District Judge Ensign. The patent is now hanging in the register of deeds' office. Judge Ensign got the patent from John D. Ray, now dead, who was one of the early residents of Duluth.

The date of the document is July 2, 1860, and Duluth is spelled DuLuth. The patent turns over to the city council various lots in Portland, Minn., now Portland division, Duluth. The members of the council at that time as mentioned were: William Nettleton, president; J. P. Culver, recorder; R. A. Jefferson, Edward H. Rice, William Ord, trustees.

The property is described as lot 4, section 27; lot 4, section 34; lots 1 and 2, section 35, in township 55, range 15; lots 1, 2, 3, section 2; lot 1, section 11; lot 1, section 12 township 49, range 14.

TREASURY FIGURES

Washington, Oct. 2.—The deficit of the Federal treasury for the current fiscal year has reached $10,343,000, as compared with $4,050,000 a year ago. The month of September, however, made a better showing than the previous months of the current year, receipts exceeding disbursements by $2,059,000.

The net balance in the general fund Oct. 1 amounted to $123,417,000 while the total cash in the treasury was $2,020,142,000. The number of national banks in existence was increased during the month to 7,613, and the total outstanding national bank note circulation $759,031,000.

MAY NOT ACT ON WHALEY CHARGES.

Washington, Oct. 2.—After examining witnesses brought to support the charge that Representative S. Whaley of the First South Carolina district had spent large sums unlawfully to obtain his nomination, the house elections committee decided to adjourn until December. It was said at the capitol that this meant the committee would take no action on the charges.

The DOCTOR'S HELPS

By DONALD McCASKEY, M. D.
Member of Staff, General Hospital, Lancaster, Pa.; Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine

CONCERNING THE REMOVAL OF SKIN PITS OR POCK MARKS

A Wisconsin inquirer, "R. A.," writes for help on the above subject. She says:

"I have been using olive oil for about two weeks to help remove tiny depressions in my skin. Will it do any harm? Can anything be done?"

Do not be too hopeful in expecting the complete cure of smallpox pits in your skin. The disfigurement can oftentimes be somewhat lessened by the skilled application of the high-frequency current through a vacuum tube of the X-ray machine. The current must be most skillfully applied, however, otherwise it will do more harm than good. If there is any physician in your community who utilizes and devotes himself to X-ray special work, consult him. If there is not, you had better arrange to hunt up a bona fide X-ray man in your nearest large city. I mean some good medical man who is in clean repute and respectable standing with the members of his profession. Take this letter to your family physician. He will be able to advise you as to some particular X-ray doctor.

There has been a great deal of success with the use of concentrated solutions of bichloride of mercury as a skin application in lessening pock marks. This, however, is a rank poison and sets up considerable irritation. But under a watchful and experienced eye it can be made to do good work. The bichloride of mercury is, however, a very tedious and lengthy treatment. The olive oil which you have been using can do absolutely no harm. Do not permit the electric needle to be used on you. Your skin should be carefully examined by your local doctor and his advice should govern your final actions.

MORE ABOUT TREATMENT OF SKIN ITCHING.

A reader of the Doctor's Helps, "Mrs. F. M.," inquires for a remedy for a chronic itching of the skin. "It is under my arm pits," she says. "For three years I have tried many kinds of ointment, with no benefit. I had abscesses under each arm pit. These were lanced, and have never returned. But the itch still keeps up. There is, however, nothing to be seen. It is all sensation. I shall follow your directions closely."

I wish I could see with my own eyes the itching skin areas and likewise ask you several important and personal questions. As this is impossible, my judgment would be to have your armpits treated by regulated doses of the X-ray high-frequency current, through a strictly high-grade vacuum tube. It may be that this is impracticable. If you have been subject to rheumatism, your system will need to be treated internally. If the itching is a plain case of nervous pruritis, it could probably be much relieved, even cured entirely by careful and graduated doses of arsenic. This, however, is a rank poison and you could not take it with safety unless under the eye of your family physician, who could watch its effects. Your inquiry tells me very little. If you have been infected by syphilis, that condition must be thoroughly attended to. Take this article to your physician in whom you have confidence. There are many features about your case that can only be determined by close questioning and a careful examination. He is on the ground and can use his eyes and I hope this article will help co-operate with him and get you fixed up and relieved of your trouble promptly. THERE IS A WAY. Do not grow discouraged. The cause of your ailment must first be clearly diagnosed.

Editor's Note—There are two chief characteristics which mark the value and superiority of this medical department of our newspaper. One is the brevity with which each subject is discussed. The other is the simplicity. All correspondence is held in strict confidence. Only initials are used in making reply. Doctor McCaskey does not treat patients by private mail. He has declared to us that only the local physician on the spot can do that. We mean this Doctor's Helps feature to co-operate with our local physicians.

NEW YEAR FOR JEWISH RACE

Rosh Hashanah Marks Anniversary of Creation of the World.

Holy Season Is Begun With Church and Home Services.

Today is Rosh Hashanah, or New Year's day, for the Jews throughout the world, it being observed with special services, which began last evening and will continue until sundown tonight for the reformed Jews, and until sundown tomorrow for the orthodox Jews.

The day marks the beginning of the new year 5,674 and also the anniversary of the creation of the world, supposed to have taken place 5,674 years ago, according to the Jewish tradition.

There were special services at Temple Emanuel last evening, and also at Adash Israel, the orthodox synagogue. Rabbi Maurice Lefkovits spoke on "The Transient and the Permanent" at the opening service last evening, and closed the service this morning with a sermon on "Self-Mastery." At the Adash Israel synagogue there will be another holy service this evening and the closing services tomorrow morning.

Rosh Hashanah is also being observed in all the Duluth homes, besides the services in the synagogues.

In addition to being the first day of the new year, Rosh Hashanah marks the opening of the holy season for the Jews, the season ending with Shemini Atzereth—the Feast of Conclusion—on Oct. 23.

Next Friday evening the Jews will begin the annual observation of Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, during which all persons over 13 years of age are supposed to fast in atonement for the sins committed during the previous year. The Day of Atonement gains its significance from Rosh Hashanah, which is often called Yom Hadin, the Day of Judgment. It is on Rosh Hashanah that the Jew becomes conscious of his shortcomings through a self-examination, while on Yom Kippur he atones for his sins.

Following Yom Kippur comes Succoth, or the Feast of Tabernacles, which is in reality the Thanksgiving of the Jews. The feast starts on the evening of Oct. 15 and continues until sundown of Oct. 23. This closes the holy season up to April 11 of next year, when Passover starts for one week.

Children in the Duluth grade schools who show a tendency to use their left hand in learning to write are being taught to use their right hand also, according to Robert E. Denfeld, superintendent of schools.

There are many children in the Duluth schools who, when learning to write, start in using their left hands. The plan of the teachers, said Mr. Denfeld yesterday, is to encourage the use of the right hand in writing.

"We do not wish to discourage the use of the left hand altogether," said Mr. Denfeld, "but we do want to encourage the use of the right hand also. In this way the child can become ambidextrous, and this asset is surely one to be considered.

Mr. Denfeld advises parents to discourage the use of the left hand for any purpose for which the right can be used. Parents, he says, should never stop trying to teach their children to write with the right hand, in case they show a tendency to use the left.

It is stated that only 2 per cent of the children who write with their left hands write as well as the average right-handed child.

DULUTH MAN'S LUCKY FIND

Will Interest Readers of the Herald.

Those having the misfortune to suffer from backache, urinary disorders, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatic pains, or other kidney and bladder disorders, will read with gratification this encouraging statement by a Duluth man.

C. J. Gustafson, 2106½ S. Third St., Duluth, Minn., says "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and am glad to praise them. Whenever I have trouble from my kidneys, such as backache, pains in my sides, etc., I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and they always cure the pains."

Mr. Gustafson is only one of many Duluth people who have gratefully indorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Gustafson had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Relief for Catarrh Sufferers Now FREE

By the new method the nose and throat are treated by an effective local remedy applied directly to the afflicted membranes.

The Elixir taken into the stomach, has a direct influence upon the mucous membranes of the body and cures the disease by removing the cause.

How the Remedy for Catarrh Was Discovered.

THIS terrible disease has raged unchecked for years simply because symptoms have been treated while the vicious germs that cause the trouble have been left to circulate in the blood, and bring the disease back as fast as local treatments could relieve it.

C. E. Gauss, who experimented for years on a treatment for Catarrh, found that after perfecting a balm that relieved the nose and throat troubles quickly, he could not prevent the trouble beginning all over again.

On test cases, he could completely remove all signs of Catarrh from nose and throat, but in a few weeks they were back.

Careful experiments and investigations have shown that as the troubles were expelled from the nose and throat, the real cause of the disease was overlooked and in a short time the Catarrh would return stronger then ever. Mr. Gauss has gone away ahead of the ordinary methods of treatment and has provided a remedy that and immediately gives relief to the nose and throat.

Kills the Germs in the Blood

He perfected the New Combined Treatment, since admitted to be the logical, sure, scientific method.

Reese Jones of Scranton, Penn., says that after trying many other treatments, he used this new method, and—"My nose is now entirely clear and free and I am not bothered by the disease any more. The New Combined Treatment is worth its weight in gold."

Temporary relief from catarrh may be obtained in other ways, but the New Combined Treatment must inevitably be accepted for permanent results.

Sarah J. Cape, Mount Pella, Tenn., says, "I suffered the pains and distress of catarrh for thirteen years and needless to state, tried nearly every method, but by your new method I was completely cured and you cannot imagine the joy that has come over me."

Trial Treatment FREE

This new method is so important to the welfare of humanity, so vital to every person suffering from any form of catarrh, that the opportunity to actually test it and prove its results, will be gladly extended without one cent of cost.

A large trial treatment, with complete, minute directions, will be sent free to any catarrh-sufferer.

AMERICAN WEDS BRITISH CAPTAIN.

Pomfret, Conn., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Eleanor Goodrich Campbell, daughter of Rear-Admiral Caspar Goodrich, U. S. N., retired, and Capt. Charles Thompson Davis of the British army, Indian division, were married yesterday at the Goodrich home here. The ceremony was performed by a justice of the peace. After two weeks they will leave for Capt. Davis' post in India.

DENMARK FACES POLITICAL UPHEAVAL.

Copenhagen, Oct. 2.—The dissolution of the upper house of the rigstag is probable in consequence of the third reading in the lower house of a bill granting universal suffrage to women, depriving the crown of the right to nominate twelve members of the upper house, and withdrawing the special privileges with respect to the suffrage heretofore possessed by wealthy voters.

The government is determined to make the upper house, in which the Conservatives now have a small majority, more democratic. The political tension is extreme and the result of an appeal to the country is uncertain.

LUMBER COMPANY SUED FOR $7,500

Damages Sought for Workman Fatally Injured While Unloading Logs.

Charles Johnson, as administrator of the estate of Gust Passila, deceased, filed an action in district court yesterday afternoon demanding $7,500 from the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company. Passila is alleged to have died from injuries received while unloading logs for the defendant.

Passila, according to the complaint, worked for the company at Virginia during the winters of 1912 and 1913. His duty was to unfasten the locks or catches from flat cars and let logs into Silver lake. While at this work, it is said, a log fell and struck him, knocking him into the lake, causing injuries that brought about his death.

HIBBING PARK TO BE JEWEL

Range City to Complete Beautiful Playground This Fall.

Plans Call for Heavy Expenditure During Year on Park System.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bennett park, Hibbing's splendid playground, will be completed this fall. The park board will have to exceed its appropriation for the year by $10,000 to accomplish it but permission to do the work has been secured from the village council.

With the completion of Bennett park Hibbing people will have a park that will be excelled by but few in the Northwest. Picnic parties will delight in the conveniences that have been arranged for their comfort, children can play at will on the grassy sward, walks and drives galore will furnish pleasant places for strolls and the band will be secured for regular concerts.

Clearing of brush, building of roads, transplanting of native trees and shrubs and the erection of the shady lounging places is what has been outlined for the coming month. Next year the board will be in a position to commence laying out the flower beds, sowing grass seed and complete the work on the intricate system of roadways that will wind through the big grounds.

Missabe park, which never fails to excite the admiration of visitors to Hibbing will be conducted along the same lines as during the past year with concerts by the local band. The decorative scheme may be somewhat enlarged and it is planned to add several lots at the rear of the band stand.

Will Improve Boulevards.

Increased work is contemplated on the boulevards, the fair grounds will be included in the landscape gardening scheme, the library and detention hospital grounds will be kept in the same excellent condition and the public market, which is also in the hands of the park board, will receive much attention.

From February, 1913, to August of this year, inclusive, the board has spent $26,928.79, the monthly reports showing the following totals: February, $292.86; March, $587.39; April, $1,247.39; May, $4,204.62; June, $5,707.75; July, $7,662.28; August, $7,785.49. The board estimates that they will need $17,510 for the remainder of the year, dividing their expenditures into the following items: Greenhouses to Feb. 1, $2,010; Missabe park to Nov. 1, $3.500; Bennett park to Nov. 1, $12,000.

For the work this year the council appropriated the sum of $35,000. At the request of the park board the appropriation for next year will be $45,000, but $10,000 of this amount will become available immediately. The estimates for the work for the year 1914 to 1915 are as follows:

Bennett park, $15,000; greenhouses, $1,000; Missabe park, $2,000; library, $200; boulevards, $2,000; detention hospital, $300; cemetery, $1,000; fair grounds, $2,000; bonds, $4,000; new sites, $7,000; deficit (amount advanced for use this year), $10,000.

The present park board has done excellent work in beautifying Hibbing and their plans for next year show there will be no letup in their energetic efforts.

GRAND RAPIDS BOYS ARE STILL PEEVED

Football Team May Disband After Coleraine Game Saturday.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although the situation following the dropping of two of the high school boys from the high school football team because they played with the town team in the game with Bemidji last Sunday, remains the same, the team practiced last evening, and will play Coleraine on Saturday. The concession was made by Coach Carson when it was shown that it would be discourtesy to refuse to play a team without grievance of any kind against that team. The coach said, however, that were it not for that he would not listen to the team's going to Coleraine. The entire back field is demoralized, and the team will be what the conch terms a "bunch of kids," and he stated tonight that he wished it distinctly understood that it was not the regular team.

G. D. Mooers, who usually plays tackle, will play in Farrell's place as fullback, and Ray Beckfelt, a new recruit, will be put in to play in Mooers' position. Harold Brown will play in Wallace Aiken's position at end, and Lon Fowers will substitute for Will Whaling as left halfback. Both of the men dropped from the team are back field men, and now that "Bones" McAlpine has fallen behind in his studies, it is not unlikely that he will be pulled out, and some one will have to be substituted for him.

It was rumored on good authority today that the father of one of the boys had every intention of fighting the edict of the superintendent, and would take the matter to the court if necessary to decide whether or not the school authorities have the right to govern the boys on Sunday.

Coach Carson said today that unless the authorities agreed to allow Whaling and Farrell to return to the ranks of the team, football would be abandoned for the year, and the team disbanded, for he would not consider taking the team to Hibbing without more support than he has at present.

SELF DEFENSE TO BE PLEA OF HOMICIDE

Nocovitch Trial at Grand Rapids Begins to Assume Form.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The defense in the Nocovitch murder case showed its hand this morning in the examination of the second witness, George Churchich, when it developed that the plea will be self-defense. At the convening of court Churchich was summoned to the stand by the state and testified through Jo Talkovich, the interpreter. Upon cross-examination by the counsel for the defense, he admitted that he had been drinking for two days before the murder and part of that time was in company with the two murdered men. He also admitted having played cards with the two murdered men but refused to admit that they had planned to rob Nocovitch of the $80 bank roll which he had with him.

The jury panel in the case was completed late yesterday afternoon, after the examination of more than forty talesmen. The twelve jurymen selected are: Thomas Liebich of Splithand, William Purrington of Grand Rapids, Merrit Kniffen of Bear River, W. S. Kingston of Grand Rapids, P. W. Wilke of Grand Rapids, Axel Rudquist of Good Hope, Ed Hillar, township 148-27, J. S. Gole, W. N. Dalcour, Roy Trask, Lorin Hane and Thomas Fredricks of Grand Rapids.

County Attorney McOnat briefly outlined the case to the jury, the substance being that on the night of April 19, the two men who were killed, Steve and Mike Vukobrotovitch, were in the business section of Keewatin, and about 11 o'clock started for their camp, in the part of Keewatin known as the location. On the way they stopped to pay a bill which Mike owed at a camp, and there met the defendant. All three indulged in a game of cards, and later started home together. When the Vukobrotovitch boys turned into the path to their lodgings, the county will attempt to prove that Nocovitch turned and fired repeatedly, the bullets taking effect, resulting in the death of both men during the following week at the Hibbing hospital.

The trial may consume another day.

MANY CASES AHEAD OF VIRGINIA COURT

Criminal Calendar Completed and Civil Actions Follow.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The trial of criminal cases in district court was concluded yesterday and the civil calendar taken up. At the present term of court thirty criminal cases have been under consideration. Seven of these went to trial before juries, four resulting in verdicts of guilty and three acquittals. In all of the other cases pleas of guilty were entered. On the civil calendar there are forty-one jury cases and seventeen court cases still to be disposed of.

The case of Oscar Finjal against the city of Virginia was the first to be taken up by the court. The plaintiff sued the city for $7,500 for injuries alleged to have been sustained by him in colliding with an electric pole in an alley while he was driving a dray for a local firm, at which time he was thrown from the wagon and his right arm broken. In his complaint he alleged that the pole was placed where it was a menace to public safety and that the city was negligent in not having it removed. The case went to the jury at 4 o'clock and after deliberating an hour they rendered a verdict of $282 in favor of Finjal.

HIBBING BOOK WORMS ORGANIZE A CLUB.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A chautauqua reading circle has been organized. This is to be the classic year of a four years' reading course, the books outlined for study being: Mahaffy's "Rambles and Studies Through Greece"; Power's "The Message of Greek Art"; Schumaker's "The Meaning of Evolution"; and Miller's "Studies in the Poetry of Italy." Meetings are to be held every Tuesday at the home of the members, the first active meeting being scheduled for next week at the home of Supt. Blair.

The members who have already joined are: Supt. and Mrs. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Holtzlander, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Elliott, Rev. and Mrs. Sears Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Knowlton, Miss Bertha Stiles, Miss Anna Anderson, Mrs. Johnston and Bruce Elliott.

VIRGINIA TO PLAY THE DULUTH TIGERS.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Virginia city football team and the West End Tigers of Duluth will formally open the football schedule of the Virginia city team here with a game at Oliver park next Sunday, which promises to be one of the best ever seen on the Iron range. The city team is composed of ex-stars from various schools in this and other states, and the visiting eleven is one of the best amateur elevens in the Zenith City, and recently held the fast Adams on even terms. Over the range there is much interest in the game, and a large attendance is expected from outside points.

The locals have been undergoing some heavy practice work this week under the direction of Coach Radermacher, and have perfected a number of new plays that are expected to be highly effective in Sunday's game.

The high school eleven will meet the Superior Centrals at Oliver park on Saturday afternoon, and the high school second team will play the Biwabik school team in that village on the same day.

Bovey Couple Wed.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Clerk of Court I. D. Rassmussen this morning issued a marriage license to Miss Rose Hajdukovich and Dan Trbojevich, both of Bovey.

VIRGINIA TO SEND SCOUT FOR PLAYERS

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Virginia team of the Northern Baseball league will be represented by a scout at the amateur baseball tournament to follow the closing of the world's series, at Cleveland. The scout will be either "Kid" Taylor, who will manage the 1914 Ore Diggers, or Elmer Miller, formerly of the Duluth White Sox, who was sold by Manager Darby O'Brien to the Mobile, Ala., club. The probabilities are that it will be Miller. The latter has a wide acquaintance among the baseball players who will be present at the gathering, is an excellent judge of talent, and Manager Taylor has confidence enough in him to believe that if he attends the tournament and there are good men available, he will be just the man to pick them up for Virginia.

The management of the local team is anxiously awaiting the announcements of the drafts that may deprive them of Couture and Greish and possibly one or two more men next season, and in the meantime is going about the preliminaries of organizing next year's team in a very business like manner. A meeting of the local association will be held within the next few days, at which the business affairs of the present season will be settled up.

VIRGINIA WANTS A CITY PHYSICIAN

School Board and Council May Co-operate in Employment of Doctor.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mitchell Stewart, clerk of the board of education, has asked the city council to co-operate with the board in the employment of a physician to care for the health affairs of the city as well as those of the school district.

The matter was first brought up at the meeting of the school board last week, when it was reported by Supt. Colgrove that a number of cases of smallpox had been discovered among the pupils of the schools and at which time he recommended that a visiting nurse be employed. This plan met with opposition on the part of some members of the board, their idea being that a physician should be employed who would not only be able to detect contagious diseases but also to examine the pupils and report upon other defects. At Tuesday's council meeting Mr. Stewart suggested that a physician be employed who would divide his time between acting as city health officer and attending to the duties required of him by the board of education and that his salary be equally divided between the two bodies. The matter was referred to a committee which will confer with the school board and report at next week's meeting.

Upon the recommendation of City Attorney D. D. Morgan, Attorney James J. Gibbons was appointed assistant city attorney.

TOWER MUSICAL ORGANIZATION ELECTS.

Tower, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Tower band held its second annual meeting last evening and the election of officers resulted as follows: President, T. B. Pearson; vice president, Joseph Stonich; secretary, Harvey Gordon; treasurer, Mat Mechelich.

The organization is but a year old and in that time has paid for its own instruments, and the expenses of a leader, hall rent, music books and incidentals. The membership is twenty-five and is under the instruction of E. Laogier of Virginia. The expenses of the band are met by dues and assessments and the organization is practically out of debt.

TOWER NOTES.

Tower, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. E. Shively was down from Vermilion Dam Tuesday on a business trip.

Postmaster Peylo of Peylo was transacting business in Tower on Wednesday.

Mr. Bayliss of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was in town Wednesday. He says thousands of acres are owned in this vicinity by Cedar Rapids people, largely for speculative purposes.

When the snow is sufficiently deep to begin work preparatory to the winter's logging operations. They will probably employ nearly 100 men at their various camps.

Hunters are reporting splendid success. The partridges are numerous and large numbers are being brought to town.

N. J. Benson returned from his farm in the Little Fork valley Wednesday evening.

Potatoes are reported as proving to be only about half a crop in this section and high prices are looked for. They are being marketed here at 50 to 75 cents a bushel.

H. W. Miller, state inspector of weights and measures, was here Wednesday on a business trip for the state. Following his predecessor within a brief space of time. He finds the various weighing and measuring devices in good order and generally correct.

The government has caused a number of improvements to be made at the Indian schools the past two months. The storehouse has been increased in size by the addition of another story. A new and commodious barn has been erected, thus adding to the facilities.

Complete Virginia Work.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lawrence, McCann & Co., will this week finish work on the North side sewer and the H. L. Bartlett company has also about completed work on sewer extensions on the South side for which it has had contracts. This will wind up the campaign of sewer extensions in Virginia for the year, unless there are some small jobs undertaken and finished before the cold weather sets in. The H. L. Bartlett company this week begins work on the widening of the creek at the sewer outlet. Material has been assembled and it will be pushed to completion as soon as possible.

Virginian May Go West.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A deal was closed today whereby the plant of the Mesaba Bottling works was transferred from Peter Peterson to K. Herman Runn. Mr. Peterson is one of the pioneers of Virginia, having been a resident of the city for the past twenty years and prominently identified with its business affairs. While he has made no definite plans for the future, he contemplates locating on the Pacific coast if a suitable business location can be found.

Firemen to Go Sleuthing.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—With a reward of $100 offered for the arrest and conviction of any person caught tampering with the fire alarm boxes in the village, members of the department have decided to get into the sleuthing game, not alone for the reward, but to prevent their sleep being disturbed by useless runs. Early yesterday calls from boxes 13 and 41 were received at practically the same time. Both were false alarms.

Vermilion Season Ends.

Tower, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The outing season on Lake Vermilion is over. Cottagers have packed up and the shores of the lake are practically deserted and will remain so until the huntsman invades in search of game for which this region is noted. All of the Duluth and Twin City cottage owners have departed. By the end of the week it is expected that the last of the campers will have left.

Saloon Keeper to be Fined.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first municipal court case to be tried under the new jury law in Hibbing will be the one against Antoni Santini, proprietor of the Teddy Bear saloon, who is charged with having sold liquor to Arthur Carlton, a minor. Mayor Power, Recorder Haley and Judge Brady have completed a list of 100 names from which the twelve men eligible for jury duty will be drawn.

Broncho Buster Recovering.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The condition of Ben Wiley, who was brought in to the local hospital yesterday from Sugar lake with a fractured skull and internal injuries; following his attempts to break a broncho, is somewhat improved today. He has regained consciousness and seems stronger than last night. His chances for recovery are about even, and the attending physicians have hopes of pulling him through unless complications develop.

Fargo Votes for Bonds.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 2.—The proposition to bond the city for $1,000,000, upon which a special election was held in this city today, carried by an almost unanimous vote, only twelve of 353 votes cast being against the issue. The vote was very light and was taken as a mere formality for passing the measure. The purpose of the bond issue is to take up all of the outstanding debts and to secure money needed to conduct the affairs of the city at a lower rate of interest.

Can't Help But Admire Babies

Every Woman Casts Loving Glance at the Nestling Cuddled in its Bonnet.

A woman's heart responds to the sweetness of a pretty child, and more so to-day than ever before since the advent of Mother's Friend.

This is a wonderful external help to the muscles and tendons. It penetrates the tissues, makes them readily yield to nature's demand for expansion, so there is no period of pain, discomfort, straining, nausea or other symptoms so often distressing during the anxious weeks of expectancy.

Mother's Friend thoroughly lubricates every nerve, tendon and muscle involved and is a sure preventive for caking of the breasts.

And particularly to young mothers is this famous remedy of inestimable value. It enables them to preserve their health and strength, and they remain pretty by having avoided all the suffering and danger that would otherwise accompany such an occasion.

You will find this splendid remedy on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle.

FAIR

The perfect fall weather returned this morning, and the weather man holds out the promise that it will continue.

What is so rare as a Duluth fall day? This is the time of year when Duluthians who enjoy walks in the woods are happy. Owners of automobiles also find much to be thankful for.

A year ago today it was fair and cool.

The sun rose this morning at 6:08 and will set at 5:46, making eleven hours and thirty-eight minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Rains fell during Wednesday or last night over the Lake region, Eastern Canada and North Atlantic states in connection with the disturbance centered over the Lawrence valley. Very heavy rainfall occurred at New York. Light to copious showers also fell over Louisiana, Texas, Colorado and Southern Utah as a result of the depression overlying the extreme Southwest. Moderately warm weather prevailed Wednesday in nearly all districts. It is cooler this morning in Manitoba, Minnesota, Northern Wisconsin, Upper Michigan, South Dakota and Nebraska, but the temperature is rising in the extreme Northwest. Indications favor a continuance of generally fair weather at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Oct. 2. — Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Iowa—Fair tonight and Friday; moderate temperature.

SOUTH CUYUNA RANGE BEGINS ORE SHIPPING

Whistles and Cheers Sound and Occasion Is Made One of Rejoicing.

Brainerd, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—With mine, locomotive and drill whistles joining with the cheers of hundreds of miners, railway and mine officials, citizens and school children of Barrows and visitors from Brainerd, Barrows, Duluth, Eveleth, Superior and St. Paul, the first ore shipment of the South Cuyuna iron range was made from the Barrows mine of the Virginia Mining company, subsidiary of the M. A. Hanna company. Twelve cars of ore, averaging 60 per cent, were sent out as the initial shipment, billed to the Northern Pacific railway's new ore dock at Superior.

To Superintendent W. J. Nichols, formerly of Virginia, belongs much of the credit for the high state of efficiency of the Barrows mine. The shipping of ore will give an added impetus to business in Barrows and Brainerd.

WILSON APPROVES BIRD PROTECTION

New Federal Regulations Take Effect at Once.

Washington, Oct. 2.—President Wilson yesterday approved the new Federal regulations for the protection of migratory, game and insectivorous birds, promulgated by the department of agriculture, in conformity with the act of congress passed March 4 last. The regulations, which become effective immediately, divide the United States into two zones, north and south of 40 degrees and the Ohio river. The seasons have been considerably modified for most of the Southern states, and on the Pacific coast they have been made uniform for the states of California, Arizona, Oregon and Washington. Protection is to be extended to insectivorous birds throughout the year.

SEPTEMBER WAS A COLD MONTH

Five Frosts Reported By the Local Weather Bureau.

September, according to the report of the United States weather bureau, was colder than any previous September for many years. The lowest temperature for the month was 28 deg. and the highest 80 deg. Twenty-eight deg. is as low as the temperature has fallen for forty-three years. The greatest daily range was 26 deg.

There were five frosts during the month, only one of which was killing. This fell on Sept. 22. Light frosts were reported on Sept. 13, 16, 18 and 20.

The cloudy days exceeded the clear days. Thirteen days were cloudy, five partly cloudy and twelve were clear. There were thunder showers on the 2nd, 4th and 7th. A trace of snow is recorded. The prevailing direction of the wind was northeast.

The total precipitation was 3.32 inches. The greatest precipitation for twenty-four hours was 1.22 inches which fell on Sept. 3 and 4.

Get TIZ—and TIZ only; don't accept substitutes. See that "Walter Luther Dodge & Co.," is printed on the box. TIZ is on sale everywhere, at druggists' and department stores, price 25c. If your dealer won't supply you, we will send by mail on receipt of price. Walter Luther Dodge & Co., 1223 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago.

COMMITS SUICIDE WITH TOBACCO TAG

W. M. Dammeyer of Indianapolis Dies in Texas.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 2.—William M. Dammeyer, said to be a business man of Indianapolis, severed the arteries in his wrist with a tin tobacco tag and bled to death while under detention here yesterday. Dammeyer was taken from a hotel because of his strange actions.

Was Well To Do.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—William M. Dammeyer was a well-to-do business man of Indianapolis. He went to Houston two weeks ago in hope of benefiting his health.

AEROPLANE FALLS; HURTS SPECTATORS.

Elkins, W. Va., Oct. 2.—Caught by a drift of wind, an aeroplane driven by Irving Conley of Buffalo fell about fifty feet late yesterday at the fair grounds, injuring several persons, two perhaps fatally. Willard Nallen, colored, struck by the motor, had his skull fractured, and Mrs. J. A. Boylen of Cumberland, Md., had her right hand severed and body cut and bruised. Others were struck by the aeroplane, but were able to be taken to their homes by friends. Aviator Conley's back was sprained and body bruised by the plunge.

BANQUET FOR DR. A. W. RYAN

An interesting program has been prepared for the banquet to be given Dr. A. W. Ryan at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the Commercial club.

The banquet is given in celebration of the twentieth anniversary of Dr. Ryan's ministry at St. Paul's Episcopal church. A. F. M. Custance has secured a quartette to furnish music, and several well-known speakers are to give addresses.

OIL USED TO LIGHT FIRE KILLS THREE.

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 2.—Three children of John Thomas, a cotton planter living near Fort Smith, were burned to death in a fire at their home, caused by an explosion of oil with which an attempt was made to start a kitchen fire. The children were under 11 years of age.

DAY SUGGESTED FOR PORTO RICO OFFICE.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Secretary of War Garrison conferred with the president Wednesday relating to the forthcoming appointments of governor of the Philippine islands. The secretary said no conclusion had been made.

Candidates for governor of Porto Rico include Arthur Yager of Georgetown, Ky., former president of the college there who was a classmate of President Wilson at Princeton. Senator James is strongly urging the appointment. Other candidates are Frank A. Day of Minnesota and Congressman Foster of Illinois.

KATE EDWARDS' PARDON SOUGHT.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 2.—The state board of pardons has been asked to pardon Mrs. Kate Edwards, the Reading murderess, who has been in prison for more than a dozen years and whose death warrant has been unsigned in the administrations of three governors. The reason for the pardon alleges that she had been debased by brutal treatment and had she told the truth at the trial, she would not have been convicted of first degree murder. She is now 48 years old, and it is said that her reformation is complete.

AN OLD PRESCRIPTION FOR THIN, WEAK BLOOD

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Purify and Build Up the Life Stream.

If your blood is not fortified against the multitude of disease germs that surround us, you risk being a prey to sickness. You may not be able to put in a good day's work without a constant feeling of exhaustion.

A simple, safe and effective blood tonic is found in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They supply the needed material to increase the number of red corpuscles in the blood—those little agents that keep up the needed reserve strength. With your blood in perfect condition you will be able to ward off headaches, stomach trouble, "tired feeling" and lack of ambition.

Sickness is unnatural. It is easier to keep well than to cure illness. Get out of the sick class by building up your blood through the use of the old-time and well-known blood tonic, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Get a package today from any druggist. Use them regularly, according to directions, and in a short time you will note a marked improvement in your general physical condition.

STEADY TO THE CLOSE

Wheat Scores Fractional Advance Over Closing Prices of Wednesday.

Flax Weakens on Receipts of Selling Orders From Country.

Duluth Board of Trade, Oct. 2.—The wheat market continued steady up to the close. December wheat closed ⅝c up and May ⅜c up. December and May durum both closed unchanged from the opening.

After a firm opening, followed by a slight reaction, the wheat market turned strong today and held that way through the session. The strength was attributable to improved Eastern millers' demand, and the impression was general among operators that the height of the fall movement is over and that arrivals will begin to show a falling off within the next week or ten days. Receipts at country elevators are decreasing.

Marketings today at the three Northwestern primary markets, Duluth, Minneapolis and Winnipeg, came to 1949 cars, an increase of 603 cars over last year's tally. Of that, Winnipeg contributed 1,145 cars, and advices are that growers in the Canadian West are setting in to market as large a proportion of their crop as possible before the close of navigation. While the rush up there continues, a bar is placed against exports of American grain, but confidence is expressed by leading Duluth exporters that the situation will right itself later, and that a gradual stiffening up in the market is to be expected.

Liverpool cables were higher and helped to impart a more bullish feeling.

December wheat opened ⅛c up at 84¾c and had advanced ½c up to the final hour. The May option opened unchanged at 89⅞c and also bulged ½c. Durum did not share in the early advance, opening unchanged at 80⅝c for December and 81¾c for May, and remaining on that basis up to near the close.

Flax Closes Lower.

The market in flaxseed weakened slightly after the opening today on the execution of a batch of selling orders from the country inspired by the favorable weather in the West for threshing and expectations of heavy receipts within the next few days. Crushers were good buyers on the weak spots.

With the exception of the November option, which was ¼c up, opening prices were unchanged. October flax opened at $1.41⅛; November at $1.42½; December at $1.40 and May at $1.46¼. Losses of from ½@1c occurred during the first hour's trading and then prices rested. The October option closed at $1.40¼; November at $1.41; December at $1.39½, and May at $1.45.

The general elevator and grain handling situation was unchanged at Buffalo this morning, 3,200,000 bu of grain being afloat there.

• • •

L. H. Piney of Minneapolis and F. Hahn of Fort William were visitors on the board of trade today.

• • •

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat—The weaker American cables yesterday were offset here by persistent reports of drouth in Southern Argentina, and at the opening the market was steady, unchanged to ¼d higher. Following the opening the market was dull at the opening advance. Russia and Canada continued to offer freely at a decline and expectations are for liberal world's shipments this week with stocks in the United Kingdom large. These factors served to check the advance, but still there appears to be a good inquiry for Manitoba parcels, with reduced crop estimates from Hungary and France. At 1:30 p. m. the market was dull but steady, unchanged to ¼d higher.

"Corn—Opened unchanged and later advanced ⅛d to ½d, with December leading the strength. The weakness in America was offset by expectations of light shipments from Argentina and a better demand for parcels, and the distant shorts covered."

• • •

A wire from Minneapolis said: "Cash market holds strong with very good demand for the top grades. The mills are the chief buyers. Good No. 1 northern blue stem is selling at ⅛@1¼c over December, and the ordinary at December price to ½c under. Velvet chaff is selling at the December price to 1c discount. Flour sales are just fair. Mill feed prices are easier and millers are holding flour firmer."

MARKET GOSSIP.

Improvement in flour trade is reported by Duluth millers this week. "Better inquiry is coming to hand from the Eastern jobbers and shipping directions are good," said A. D. Goodman, manager of the Duluth Universal Milling company, today.

Oats and barley are a drug on the market at present and stocks of both are piling up in the elevators here, there being now 1,723,000 bu of the former and 1,879,000 bu of the latter in store. In addition undisposed of cars of both grains are accumulating at the railroad terminals. This situation is attributed to the difficulty being experienced in getting coarse grains, which are mainly for domestic consumption, through the elevators at Buffalo. An embargo on oats was placed by the railroads on oats shipments to Minneapolis several days ago, which resulted in diverting the flow this way.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Gain Is Wiped Out By Selling on Advance.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Selling that developed on a slight advance today in wheat more than wiped out the gain. The upturn at the outset was due to news of drouth in Southern Argentina and because of reports of increased flour business at Minneapolis. Demand, however, was only of a scattered sort, and soon gave way when bear leaders showed themselves a little aggressive. Opening prices were unchanged to ¼c higher, but the reaction carried the market below last night's level.

The fact that the selling was overdone and that there was talk of better export call tended subsequently to harden values. There were also predictions of lighter receipts Northwest, and that the Canadian tariff would not be changed. The close was firm, ¼@⅝c to ⅜@½c net higher.

Generally favorable weather weakened corn from the start. The crowd ignored statements that there would be large shipments out of Chicago this week and next. The market opened ⅛c lower to a shade advance and then made a decided vertical decline.

Oats displayed firmness despite assertions that a cargo of Canadian oats had been chartered at Fort William, Ont., to come to Chicago. Pit buyers were active and seemed determined to hold the market at a slight advance.

World's lard stocks the heaviest in ten years had a depressing effect on provisions. First sales ranged from 7½c decline to 2½c gain, but prices later hardened.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Fluctuations Narrow During Morning But Stronger Tone Develops.

Last Hour's Trading Witnesses General Elevation of Quotations.

New York, Oct. 2.—Fluctuations of standard stocks were unusually narrow during the morning. There was some further selling of Steel, which effectually checked the market whenever it showed a tendency to advance.

Trading was dull during the second half of the forenoon, with a slight reaction in the leading stocks. Bonds were steady.

Southern Pacific collateral 4's advanced 1¾.

Copper shares, whose buoyant advance was the feature of yesterday's market, were again prominent in the first trading today. Amalgamated and Utah made further fractional advances, but Chino fell back a point. Canadian Pacific rose 3 points and Pittsburg Coal preferred 1⅝. American Telephone was heavy, losing a point on the first few sales. Changes elsewhere were small and irregular.

A better tone prevailed when trading was fairly under way. Slight opening declines of Union Pacific, Steel and Reading were made up. Amalgamated and Nevada Consolidated advanced a point and Chino recovered its loss. Pittsburg Coal preferred increased its gain to 3 points and the common rose 1½.

Prices improved slightly during the noon hour, but trading was slow and the advance did nothing more than restore the leaders to their high figures of the day.

Steel developed a distinctly strong tone, advancing nearly a point. The rise in this stock affected the whole list, which continued to creep upward. Amalgamated's gain was increased to 1⅝. Interborough and Metropolitan preferred advanced a point.

The market closed steady. Steady absorption of stocks continued and the last hour's trading witnessed a general elevation of quotations. Bidding was not urgent, but offerings were scant and there was evidence of growing uneasiness among the shorts. Canadian Pacific stood 3½ above yesterday's close and Amalgamated Copper 2. New York Central, Lehigh Valley and California Petroleum were a point higher, North American 1¾ and Realty 2.

A GOOD ADVERTISER

Herald Want Ad Department — Both Phones 324

Can sell good property—any time, anywhere! He must keep his ad at work. It must be THERE when the possible buyer looks—and he might not look more than one day out of ten. Of course, he might see and investigate it on its first publication. Or, perhaps, the fifth or sixth time it appears. The good advertiser knows that, however persistent a campaign may be required, the cost will be an easily forgetable thing when the sale is made! Most changes in realty are effected as the result of Want advertising.

Everybody looks to The Herald to tell them of the best opportunities.

WILSON PREPARES TO SIGN TARIFF BILL IN THE NEXT FEW HOURS

Measure Probably Will Be Law of Land on Oct. 4.

Senate Agrees to Conference Report By Vote of 36 to 17.

Sweeping Changes in Old Laws Made By New Act.

Washington, Oct. 3.—The house agreed to the tariff bill conference report at 1:22 today, constituting the final action of that body on the tariff bill. Speaker Clark overruled all points of order made by members who contended that further action by the house was not necessary.

Vice President Marshall signed the bill at 1:34.

Washington, Oct. 3.—President Wilson began work today with the prospect of signing, before the evening ends, the first great reform measure of his administration and the first Democratic tariff revision bill passed in nearly a score of years.

Democratic leaders of the house and senate had smoothed the way for the last legislative step for the approval of the bill; congressional clerks had engrossed and prepared the huge document for the president's signature, and it remained only to secure the formal action of the house of representatives in receding from its cotton futures tax amendment to complete the tariff bill.

Embraced in the legislation which has been pending in congress since April 8 are a complete revision and a general reduction of nearly all the

MONEY BILL IS BLOCKED

Means to Get It Out of Senate Committee Are Discussed.

Situation Causes Anxiety to President and Others.

Washington, Oct. 3. — The situation confronting the administration currency bill in the senate has become a matter of deep concern to President Wilson and members of the senate who favor early action upon the bill. Four members of the senate banking and currency committee have been in conference during the last week, in an effort to devise a plan for hastening action on the bill, but they have not decided finally what course will be followed if the full committee should refuse to report the bill back to the senate.

Chairman Owen and Senators Pomerene, Hollis and Shafroth have participated in the conferences, which began soon after one visit of Senators Owen and Shafroth to the White House early in the week. It is understood that Senators Hitchcock, O'Gorman and Reed, the three other Democratic members of the senate committee, have thus far refused to agree to any plan of immediate action on the bill.

Would Force Consideration.

Several tentative plans for forcing the measure upon the attention of the full senate have been considered by administration leaders. These include a proposal to have the senate committee discharged from further consideration of the bill, thus bringing it before the full senate, and the alternate possibility of having a Democratic caucus take up the problem and determine what course shall be followed.

In both cases, however, the friends of the administration bill recognize that sentiment is divided on the Democratic side over many provisions of the measure. It is believed that an exodus of senators from Washington will follow the signing of the tariff bill, and that any contemplated action involving the full Democratic strength of the senate will be withheld for several weeks.

Small Bankers Heard.

The senate committee today continued to hear members of delegations of small bankers of the South and the Middle West discuss the administration bill. Edwin McMorriss of Meridian, Miss., and W. F. McCaleb of San Antonio, Tex., indorsed the general purpose of the bill, but suggested a number of amendments to make the proposed system more attractive to small country banks.

Next Meeting Probably Will Be Held in Atlanta.

Detroit, Oct. 3.—The American road congress in session here set today as "Michigan day" and the program was given up to the annual convention of the Michigan State Good Roads association. Practically all of the speakers were Michigan men and the discussion included the following topics:

Rural life and good roads, road legislation and how to get it, state grange and good roads, use of prison labor in road construction, storm centers to be avoided in campaign for good roads, and trunk line roads.

It was generally conceded that the 1914 good roads congress will be held at Atlanta, Ga. The Canadian delegation, headed by A. W. Campbell, deputy commissioner of railways and canals of Canada, will endeavor to secure the 1915 meeting for either Toronto or Ottawa.

WEARER OF D. S. O. IS KILLED BY AEROPLANE

Maj. Merrick of British General Staff Is Aviation Victim.

Salisbury, Eng., Oct. 3.—Maj. George Charlton Merrick of the British army flying corps was killed while flying over the military aviation grounds here today when his aeroplane suddenly collapsed.

Maj. Merrick, who was an artillery officer, was only 41 years old and one of the most distinguished of the young officers attached to the general staff of the British army. He had seen much war service in British India and West Africa and had been decorated by the king with the Distinguished Service Order for bravery in the field.

FRENCH PRETENDER TRAVELING IN PERU.

Lima, Peru, Oct. 3. — Prince Louis Philippe, duke of Orleans and Royalist pretender to the French throne, arrived here today. He is traveling incognito under the title of the Count de Villiers. Before the duke left Europe it was said that his wife, who before her marriage in 1896 was the Archduchess Marie Dorothea Amelia of Austria, was about to seek a divorce, demanding alimony of $16,000 yearly and the return of $35,000 she had spent on the duke.

PROMISES SENSATION

Sulzer Says He Will Tell Astounding Story on Stand.

Will Go to the End in Impeachment Affair.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Judge D-Cady Herrick, chief counsel for Governor Sulzer, who ever has been silent regarding the plans of the defense in the impeachment trial of the governor, went a step farther today by going into retirement. Senator Harvey D. Hinman, who will make the opening address for the governor, locked himself in his hotel room and continued working on his opening statement, to be made on Monday.

The governor continued work on his own story. While he is consulting them on it in every way, he is insisting that he be permitted to make the fullest statement.

Strain Is Telling.

The strain of the long trial is telling on the governor, and sometimes he expresses the wish that the whole fight was over. Not that he is afraid of the result, but rather because the tension is so great and the work is so hard.

"But now I am in the fight," he said to a friend, "and I am going on to the end. Let come what will, I am going to tell my story in my own way. Mine will be an astonishing narrative, and when I have completed it and the whole truth of the manner in which political bosses have tried to coerce me and failed, is known, every decent man and woman in this state will be with me, despite what the impeachment court may do."

OELRICHS IS SILENT

Young Millionaire Will Not Talk of Assault Charges.

Father of Lucille Singleton on Way From Texas.

New York, Oct. 3.—Young Herman Oelrichs remained in seclusion today, declining to discuss the charge made by Lucille Singleton, daughter of a Texas mining man, that he had stabbed her on Tuesday night last just before the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a tree. He referred all inquiries to his lawyers, who repeated what they had said yesterday and last night, that the stabbing charge was ridiculous.

They were equally emphatic in stating that no attempts had been made to "hush the matter up" and that no offers of money settlement to the girl had been or would be made.

Girl's Father Coming.

The girl kept to her room today, awaiting the arrival of her father from Dallas, Tex. She still is suffering from shock and from the wounds on her breast which Oelrich's lawyers says were sustained when she was flung through the windshield of the automobile.

Columbia university authorities, it was learned today, began an investigation to determine whether the facts warranted Oelrichs' dismissal as a student at the institution.

On Tuesday next the case will come up in court, when Oelrichs will be arraigned on a charge of felonious assault. Meantime he is out under $1,000 bail.

Denies Daughter Was Attacked.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 3.—Edwin Singleton, father of Lucille Singleton, who was reported stabbed by Hermann Oelrichs Tuesday night in New York, denies that his daughter was attacked as reported, declaring he had a telegram from her conveying this information. The telegram assured him, he said, her injuries had been received when the automobile was wrecked in a collision.

Miss Singleton had known Oelrichs for some time under the name of "Creighton," her father said, having been introduced to him by a mutual friend. She has been in New York studying music since she left Darlington seminary, said her father.

He is a mining man, whose interests are in the Taos district of Mexico. The girl has a small independent income from her grandmother's estate.

SYNAGOGUE GALLERY COLLAPSES; 100 FALL

New York, Oct. 3.—A hundred persons fell fifteen feet in a screaming mass in an uptown hall today through the collapse of a gallery. Several were injured. The hall was being used as a synagogue.

Though many were shaken up, the injuries of only four were serious. Ambulances summoned were not needed, as only one of the injured would go to the hospital.

The structure sagged slowly at first, giving those beneath ample time to run from under. The slow fall also saved those it brought down from more serious hurts.

The hall was crowded, and panic prevailed until it was determined that no one had been killed.

HURLS ROSARY BEADS AFTER JURORS FIND HE MURDERED WOMAN

PUT LID ON CITY CLUBS

St. Louis Prosecuting Attorney Declares War on High Places.

May Force Rich Men's Organization to Pay License.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 3.—Circuit Attorney Harvey today opened what he characterized as a "war of extermination" against "lid clubs" in St. Louis by filing quo warranto proceedings against the St. Louis club, the Missouri Athletic club, and the Brewery Workers' Association of Missouri, to compel them to show why their charters should not be revoked.

The quo warranto proceedings are brought on the allegation that the three defendant organizations have been selling intoxicants without a state license.

The St. Louis club is a social organization of wealthy St. Louisans and the Missouri Athletic club is a social and athletic club combined.

Followed Closing Laws.

Since the Sunday and 1 o'clock closing laws have been enforced in St. Louis, numerous so-called "lid clubs" have sprung up in all parts of the city. When these clubs have been attacked in the courts, they sought refuge under a supreme court decision of 1890 which held that the St. Louis club was not a dramshop within the meaning of the law.

These various clubs have paid no license, but it is believed that most of them would go out of business if they were obliged to divert part of their profits to the purchase of licenses.

If the circuit attorney wins in the suit instituted today the St. Louis club, the Missouri Athletic club and the Brewery Workers' association will be subjected to the state liquor laws and will be prohibited from serving liquor to their own members on Sundays and between 1 a. m. and 6 a. m. on week days.

THIRTY INJURED BY RUNAWAY STREET CAR

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 3.—Thirty or more persons were injured, several possibly fatally, by the overturning today of a Scranton Railway company's car bound for Dunmore. Twenty-four of the injured were removed to hospitals.

The car, heavily loaded, stalled on a hill on one of the city streets because of slippery rails, and began to slide down the slope when the brake chain broke. Striking a curve at Madison avenue and Pine street, the car toppled over, injuring as it fell on its side a number of passengers who had jumped from the rear platform.

Hans Schmidt Becomes Furious at Result of Inquest.

Prosecutor Whitman Hears Alienists and Declares Priest Sane.

Shonts, Astor, Greenhut and Regensberg Serve as Jurors.

New York, Oct. 3.—Hans Schmidt, the priest, who murdered Anna Aumuller, became frenzied today at the coroner's inquest into the death of his victim, rose from his seat, ripped from his neck the rosary he had worn ever since his incarceration, tore it into many bits and hurled them at the newspaper reporters sitting half a dozen steps away. The jury found him responsible for the girl's death.

Schmidt's outburst of temper occurred in the presence of a jury of millionaires impanelled to conduct the inquest. The verdict was quickly found. It follows:

"We, the jury, believe that Anna Aumuller came to her death on Sept. 2, 1913, at No. 68 Bradhurst avenue, at the hands of Hans Schmidt."

Schmidt was immediately remanded to the Tombs without bail to await the action of he grand jury.

Shonts Was Foreman.

Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, was foreman of the jury. His fellow jurors included Vincent Astor, B. J. Greenhut, merchant; Mortimer Regensberg, cigar manufacturer, and E. S. Marslan, banker.

PARIS HOTEL ROOMS LOOTED BY THIEVES

American Guests Among the Victims of Robberies.

Paris, Oct. 3.—The hotels here are being systematically robbed, many American visitors being among guests who have lost considerable personal property. Apparently a band of thieves, both daring and expert in their work, is operating.

At one hotel in the Place Vendome, a Mrs. Kirkland, an American, has just been robbed of a quantity of valuable jewelry.

At another house in the same square on the same day, while practically all the guests were absent from their rooms, one of the largest of the recent robberies was carried out. A man dressed in workman's clothes, who said he had come to execute some repairs, was admitted to a number of rooms. He carried away from them without being detected, almost everything that was portable.

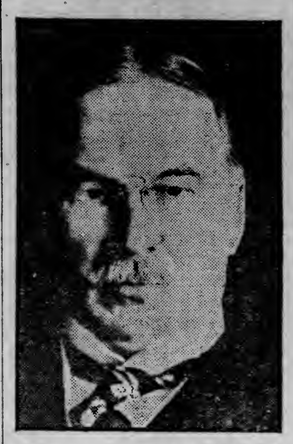

The police have been unable to obtain any clue as to the identity of the thieves.

MINER IS NOT YET RESCUED

Toshesky Must Spend Another Night in Dark Prison.

Has Been More Than One Week Imprisoned Underground.

Centralia, Pa., Oct. 3.—It was estimated by the Lehigh Valley Coal officials this morning that ten or twelve feet of solid anthracite coal remains to be cut away before rescuers will be able to reach Thomas Toshesky, the miner who was entombed in the Continental colliery one week ago.

It had been expected that the imprisoned man would be liberated about noon today, but he will doubtless have to spend another night or part of it in his little cell. The man is confined in a space seven feet wide by fifteen feet long.

When told that he would probably remain a prisoner from fifteen to twenty-four hours longer, Toshesky replied cheerfully that he would have to be satisfied. He again requested his rescuers to visit his family and cheer them up.

Getting on His Nerves.

The imprisoned miner told the miners working to dig him out that he worked several hours during the night cutting away coal in order to tire himself so that he could sleep more soundly. He has had very little sleep and is becoming extremely nervous. When told that he had been confined a week, Toshesky said he hoped it would not be more than another day until he could see the sky again and his wife and four children.

Two of Toshesky's daughters are to be confirmed next Sunday, and he hopes to be in condition to attend the services.

Mrs. Toshesky was bitterly disappointed when told that her husband would not be with her today. She is satisfied, however, that he will be rescued alive.

OFFICIAL REPORT ON CANAL ZONE QUAKE

Col. Goethals Declares It Caused No Damage to Any Structures.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Official assurance of the complete immunity of the Panama canal from damage by Wednesday's earthquake came to the isthmian canal offices here today in the following cablegram from Col. Goethals:

"Earthquake caused no damage to any canal structures nor did it create or increase any old slides."

Four Laborers Drown.

Panama, Oct. 3.—Four West Indian laborers working at the culvert at Miraflores locks were drowned yesterday afternoon owing to the giving way of the barrier used to retain the water within proper bounds.

Although only forty-eight hours have elapsed since the water first entered the Culebra cut, it is filling so rapidly that previous calculations have been upset, indicating that the cut will be filled to the level of Gatun lake by Oct. 10, the date fixed for the destruction of the dyke by dynamite.

BANKERS BEGIN TO REACH BOSTON.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 3.—With the arrival today of General Secretary Farnsworth and twelve assistants to open headquarters at a local hotel, preparations for the thirtieth annual convention of the American Bankers' association were in full swing. The convention will open next Monday. The currency bill now before congress will form one of the principal topics of discussion.

Son of Capt. Stevens Badly Injured in Same Accident.

Steam Shovel Wrecked By Locomotive About Midnight.

Dead Men Are Thomas Baxendale and G. Perkovitch.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two men are dead and one seriously if not fatally injured as the result of an accident at the Sliver mine last night. The dead:

THOMAS BAXENDALE, aged 32, steam shovel cranesman.

G. PERKOVICH, aged 26.

The accident happened about midnight. The steam shovel had been moved back to allow taking water and had been placed in a position where it was close to the main track. Water is supplied to the shovel from a locomotive tank, and the locomotive, in charge of George Provich, engineer, was coming up a grade. When at the summit the engineer discovered the position of the shovel and attempted to check his engine, but lost control, and the locomotive crashed into the steam shovel, wrecking it and throwing Stevens, Baxendale and Perkovitch under the wreckage.

Cooked by Steam.

Steam escaping from the boilers of the steam shovel practically cooked Baxendale and Perkovitch to death. Stevens was caught in such a way that it was necesary to cut off his right foot above the ankle to remove him. He is suffering from burns, the extent of which cannot yet be determined.

The injured men were hastened to the Lenon hospital, but Perkovitch died about 1 o'clock and Bakendale at 4:30.

Baxendale was a single man, a native of England. His only relative in this section is a brother, William Baxendale of Eveleth, and he took charge of the remains this morning and will ship the body to Silverwood, Mich., for burial.

Nothing is known of Perkovitch's relatives at this time.

Frank Webb Stevens, the engineer of the shovel, is a son of Capt. A. H. Stevens of this city, one of the oldest and best known mining men of the Mesaba range.

PLAN WELCOME TO AMERICAN FLEET.

Naples, Italy, Oct. 3.—A cordial reception is being prepared here and at Genoa for the United States fleet which is expected to visit Italy about the middle of November. The hope is generally expressed that the visit, announced each year since 1910, will not be prevented.

MINE GUARDS ARE DISARMED

Permission to Carry Weapons Withdrawn in Copper Country.

Four Arrests Are Made of Men Hindering the Workers.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mine guards and other employes of the Ahmeek Mining company, a subsidiary of the Calumet & Hecla in the Keweenaw county copper strike district, may no longer carry concealed weapons. The blanket license issued by county authorities giving that right to the company was revoked today.

Sheriff John Hepting and Prosecuting Attorney Hamilton, who revoked the license, said the mine guards have been responsible for the shooting in the district.

They reached this decision after an investigation of alleged attacks by strikers on a special train which brought the mine guards into the district last Monday night convinced them the first shots were fired from the train.

Keep Better Order.

With additional cavalry and more deputies stationed at Ahmeek and Allouez this morning, the situation in Keweenaw county was quieter than it has been any time this week. The appeal for assistance sent to the governor last night by Sheriff Hepling of Keweenaw, had a good effect. The Federation of Miners men were not at all in evidence this morning, and the crowds of strikers went no further than to hoot and hiss the men going to work under protection of deputies and troops.

At Quincy, Houghton county, where strikers attempted to prevent men from going to work, four arrests were made and the mob was dispersed by soldiers.

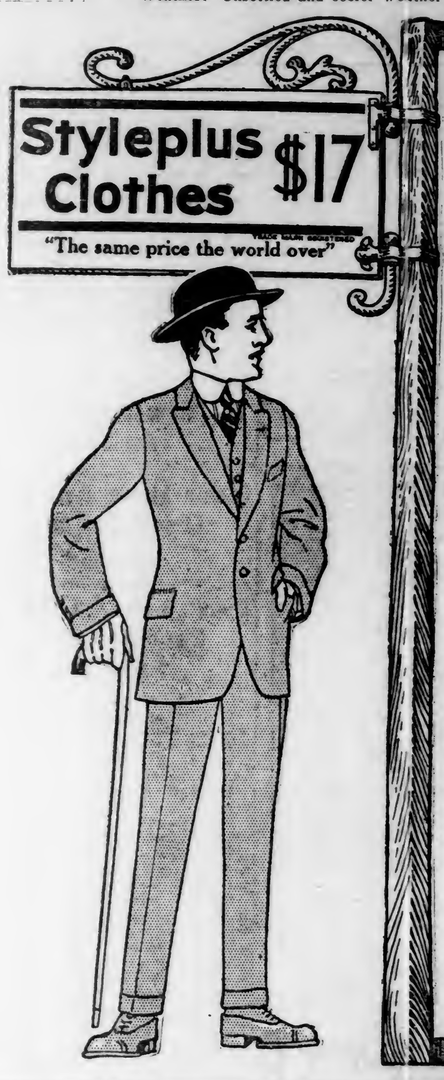

Abbey to Decide.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 3.—"If Gen. Abbey decides more troops are needed to protect lives and property in the strike zone, I will order some of the militiamen back there immediately," Governor Ferris said.

He added that he hoped such action would not be necessary because of the disapproval voiced when he sent the state militia into the copper mine district shortly after the strike was begun.

NEW STREET IS NECESSITY

West Enders Want Action on Opening of Railroad Street.

Business men of the West end will ask that the city commission urge immediate action in the condemnation proceedings for the opening of Railroad street from Eleventh avenue west to Garfield avenue. The condemnation proceedings have been in court for five years, and until recently have been almost entirely lost sight of.

At the time of the condemnation of the street the opening was fought by the railroads. It was taken into court, and changes in administration from time to time have caused the matter to be entirely overlooked until a recent renewal of the agitation on the part of the business men.

It is claimed that the opening of this street is very important. It is now necessary for teams and trucks to travel over the Sixth avenue viaduct in order to go from the West end to any of the docks along the water front west of that point. A similar distance has to be traveled by teams in the employ of the health department when going from the West end to the incinerator plant at Thirteenth avenue west. The opening of the street would, it is claimed, shorten the distance to be traveled from a mile to two miles.

Several years ago teams were allowed to cross the tracks leading from the wharves to Garfield avenue. The railroads later tore up planking and parts of the roads, making it impossible to get through that way. Shortly after this action on the part of the railroads the city commenced condemnation proceedings.

George M. Jensen, secretary of the West End Commercial club, stated last night that Commissioner Murchison had given promise to press the condemnation suit to a quick close.

Mrs. Strandmark Dies.

Mrs. Caroline Strandmark, 54 years old, wife of David Strandmark, a resident of the West end for sixteen years, who lately has made her home with her husband in Maple Ridge, Minn., died at her home Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Strandmark resided in Duluth and Superior for thirty years before leaving for Maple Ridge.

She leaves, besides her husband, three daughters, Misses Hulma and Mabel Strandmark and Mrs. Lewis Roepke, and three sons, Oscar, Oliver and Emanuel. She also leaves her mother, two sisters and one brother. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the family home, and burial will be made at Dalbo, Minn.

WOULD PLACE LIGHTS ON TRACTION POLES.

The program submitted by the garden committee for the big meeting on Oct. 17 was approved by the West End Commercial club at its meeting last night, in Simonson's hall, Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street. The program was published in The Herald yesterday.

A report of the committee on the proposed white way was given. A new scheme was advanced which included the placing of the cluster of lights on the poles of the street railway company. It is proposed to ask the company's permission to place these lights on the poles, and it is claimed that considerable money will be saved in that manner.

Merchants on Superior street between Eighteen and Twenty-second avenues, have given the committee a promise that they would pay for the lights and lighting if they were installed. The committee, consisting of A. B. Anderson of the Anderson Furniture company, Matt Koneczny of the Morterud-Koneczny company and A. B. Width of the Bonman-Width-Heglund company will interview the management of the street railway company with the view of securing its permission to allow the lights to be installed.

BIBLE CLASS WILL GIVE A BANQUET.

John G. Ross, president of the Servo Adult Bible class of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, will preside at the banquet as toastmaster this evening.

Responses will be made to toasts by Rev. T. M. Findley of Glenwood, Minn., Rev. J. A. McGaughey, pastor of the church; E. E. Williams, James Maghan, James McInnis, John Page, A. S. McDonald, Harry O'Brien, John Ledingham, E. L. Hinchliff, Fred Jones, Charles Richards, Robert Stewart, E. Stephens and several women of the church.

The members of the church and their friends will sit down to the banquet at 8 o'clock. It is expected that about 200 will be present. A number of songs and musical selections will also be given during the evening.

Elect Officers.

The annual election of officers was held yesterday afternoon by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Swedish Methodist church at its meeting at the home of Mrs. Emil Johnson, 111 Vernon street. Mrs. Albert Broman was elected president; Mrs. O. Norberg, vice president; Mrs. Louis Nelson, secretary; Mrs. Charles Peterson, financial secretary; Mrs. David Larson treasurer and Mrs. James Larson, treasurer of the sick benefit fund. The society made arrangements to meet the first and third Thursdays every month.

West End Briefs.

Miss Jennie Frazer, 515 Twenty-seventh avenue west, has returned from a visit with relatives in Minneapolis.

The annual bazaar given by the ladies of the St. Jean de Baptiste church in the school hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street, is drawing big crowds every evening. A program of music and speaking forms part of the program each night.

Walter O. Blakley of Green Bay is spending a few days visiting relatives in this end of the city.

The Epworth league of the First Swedish Methodist church will be entertained this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Larson, 2602 West Third street. The annual election of the society will be held.

Duluth homestead, No. 3131, Modern Brotherhood of America will meet next Monday evening to make its final arrangements for the children's festival to be held at the Woodmen hall on Monday, Oct. 20.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Second Presbyterian church held its meeting yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the church, 1515 West Superior street.

WILL DECIDE ON SCHOOL TAX LEVY

Board Will Also Discuss Need of Two New Buildings.

At the regular monthly meeting of the school board, to be held this evening, the most important matter to be brought up will be the question of the tax levy. The members have been furnished details by Clerk C. A. Bronson and it is likely that a thorough discussion of what the school district needs will be held during the evening.

It is expected that the Park Point Improvement club will have a delegation on hand to demand a new school building in the district it represents. It has made the demand recently, claiming that the present building is insanitary and inadequate. The board turned down the request owing to the lack of funds. The school situation at Gary will also be talked over.

INSPECTS NEW POWER PLANT.

F. A. Cokefair has just returned from a trip to Coon Rapids on the Mississippi, where he has charge of the construction work of the power plant and dam which is being constructed for the Northern Electric company. Electric power will be furnished from this plant to the General Electric company of Minneapolis, and Mr. Cokefair says that it will be ready to deliver the power by Jan. 1.

Mr. Cokefair arrived in New York Sept. 9 from a trip to Europe on which he was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. C. C. Cokefair, and his cousins, Edward Scriven of Duluth and A. H. Albertson of Seattle. They sailed for Europe June 19. Mrs. Cokefair will not return to Duluth for about two weeks, having remained in New York to visit friends.

Grand Forks Prospering.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 3.—Bank clearings in Grand Forks during September, this year, increased $417,600 over the bank clearings of the same month, last year, that fact being brought out at the monthly meeting of the Grand Forks Clearing House association last night. Clearings for the month just ended were $1,753,000, while in 1912 the clearings for September were $1,335,600. All through the present season the bank clearings have shown big gains over those of last year.

NO CHURCH SPLIT.

Disciples of Christ Meeting Fails to Bring Division.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 3.—The threatened division in the convention of the Disciples of Christ in session here failed to materialize when a meeting of delegates opposed to the new church constitution adjourned without taking action on their announced proposal to demand a reconsideration of postponement of the new laws. The opposition developed with the adoption of a delegate convention plan, many delegates favoring an open or general convention.

Missionary representatives presented showed that about one-half of the $2,000,000 fund for missionary work had been subscribed. The officers of the foreign Christian missionary society elected are:

A. McLean, Cincinnati, president; W. S. Dickinson, R. O. Newcomb, M. Y. Cooper, J. D. Armistead, Cincinnati, M. S. Jefferson, Lexington, Ky.; C. H. Winders, Indianapolis, vice presidents; Justin N. Green, Cincinnati, recorder; C. W. Plopper, Cincinnati, treasurer; F. M. Rains, Stephen J. Cory, and A. E. Cory, Cincinnati, secretaries; Stanley Sprogens, Cincinnati, auditor; P. T. Kilgour, M. D., and Alyn C. Poole, M. D., Cincinnati, medical examiners.

PROBE FOR THE "STREET"

Labor World Wants Commission to Investigate Produce Prices.

Time to Prove or Disprove Many Attacks on "the Trust."

Widespread interest has been aroused through The Herald's recounting the enormous waste of apples in the southern sections of the state, sustained through the inability of growers to find buyers for the fruit under the present marketing conditions.

The Labor World, representing the union labor interests of the city, wants an investigation of Michigan street.

Commenting upon the situation, the Labor World says in its issue of this week:

"C. T. Fitzsimmons, head of the 'commission trust' on Michigan street this week issued a statement through a paid advertisement in the News Tribune to the 'Duluth Herald and any other newspapers that may be interested,' in which he offered to pay to The Herald $3.25 per barrel for any grade of apples that may be grown.

Knows His Business.

"There is a possibility that Mr. Fitzsimmons knows what he is talking about. He is familiar with the condition of the apple crop, as he is of every other kind of a vegetable or fruit crop. But when Mr. Fitzsimmons, the head of the 'commission trust' talks about apples he fails to say anything about the general claim made everywhere in Duluth to the effect that the prices of fruit and vegetables sold here are higher than the prices charged in other cities, and particularly in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

"Now that Mr. Fitzsimmons is so cock sure of his position on apples, and the people are still in doubt of the genuineness of his statement, and particularly do they believe they are being systematically and cruelly robbed by an alleged Michigan street combine, the Labor World will make this offer to Mr. Fitzsimmons and his alleged fellow conspirators:

"Join with us in asking that the city commission appoint a committee of five citizens to investigate the methods and practices of Michigan street merchants; to inquire into prices of fruits and vegetables in the Twin Cities; to ascertain freight and other charges for shipping from the Twin Cities to Duluth, and conduct such other inquiries as may throw light on the whole question.

"Let the commission clothe this committee with the power and authority to subpoena witnesses, administer oaths and compel the attendance of all witnesses. A fair appropriation should be made by the city to defray the expenses of the committee, which should be composed of honest, disinterested and intelligent men.

"If the Michigan street merchants are not guilty of the many offenses charged against them by the people they will have no fear of such an investigation. It should be the very thing they want. They ought to get behind this suggestion and support it in earnest.

May Be Mistaken.

"It does not do Duluth any good to have it charged against its commission merchants that they are a band of highway men, if they are not. Some of us believe we are paying an unreasonably high price for our fruit, butter, eggs, vegetables, in fact all perishable produce. We have been charging this up to an alleged Michigan street combination, and we might have been mistaken.

"Now all we want is the truth. That is all the people want. There is no way of getting the truth except by and through a thorough, systematic and intelligent investigation of the exact situation. We shall refuse to believe the claims of the commission merchants that there is free competition on Michigan street in the face of the high prices we are obliged to pay until we are shown differently. We are from Missouri.

"Come now, Mr. Fitzsimmons, we are absolutely honest in our request. Will you join with us in petitioning the council for the appointment of an investigating commission, such as we have suggested, to be composed of fair men? If you are as innocent as you say you are you will lose no time in having the skirts of every commission merchant in the city cleared of the serious charges that are constantly being made against them, and we offer the way to have it done.

"The integrity and the good name of Duluth are involved in the many claims made against her commission merchants. If these claims are true, the guilty merchants should be wiped out of business and a free market opened to the people. If they are not true an investigation will exonerate them, and we will then be in a position to search elsewhere for the cause of the high cost of foodstuffs in Duluth. And in doing so we may possibly enjoy the co-operation of the commission merchants who we now believe to be our enemies."

HULL IS ELECTED TO NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Succeeds Mountcastle of Tennessee on Democratic Body.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 3.—Cordell Hull, congressman from the Fourth Tennessee district and author of the income tax provision in the tariff bill, was elected national Democratic committeeman, vice R. E. L. Mountcastle of Knoxville, deceased, at yesterday's meeting of the state Democratic committee. Hull received thirteen votes against seven for Porter Dunlap.

GROCERS INDORSE CURRENCY BILL.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—The enactment of uniform pure food laws was urged by speakers at the meeting of the executive board of the National Wholesale Grocers' association here.

"Under the present laws, pure food labels from one state are not acceptable in another state, and the shipper and producer are put to great expense," said President McGlasson. "A uniform net weight and measure law would effect a reduction in the cost of living."

The board indorsed the Owens-Glass currency measure, and expressed a belief that the tariff bill, if enacted, will not disturb business.

JAPAN'S MOVE DUE TO NEW TARIFF?

Washington, Oct. 3.—Officials here are inclined to believe that the prospect of a new tariff bill, and not the controversy over California alien land legislation, is responsible for the suggestion in dispatches from Tokio that a new commercial treaty may be negotiated between Japan and the United States.

At an early stage in the negotiations over the California legislation, there was some discussion of a proposition advanced from the Japanese side that if the existing treaty did not affirm the right of Japanese residents in the United States to hold land on even terms with the citizens of other nations, the omission should be corrected by an amendment.

CATHOLICS NOT TO VOTE IN ROME.

Rome, Oct. 3.—After the fall of the temporal power, the pope issued an order forbidding Catholics throughout Italy to participate in political elections. For the first time the present pontiff, at the last general elections, waived the prohibition in certain constituencies, where Catholic candidates opposed anti-clerical Socialists.

Recently there has been a rumor in circulation that at the coming general election the prohibition would be waived also in the constituencies of Rome. The vatican organ, the Osservatore Romano, announces that the Catholics of Rome will not go to the polls. No reference is made to other parts of Italy.

NO RECEPTION FOR MRS. PANKHURST.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 3.—No reception of any sort, cordial or otherwise, awaits Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst from Pennsylvania suffragists upon her visit to this country. This was the dictum voiced at the headquarters of the Equal Franchise federation here. Mrs. F. M. Roessing, president of the Pennsylvania branch of the association, said that Mrs. Pankhurst had not been invited to the United States by the suffragists, neither would the militant's presence be acceptable.

SMALL BANKERS TELL VIEWS OF THE BILL.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Representatives of small banking in the Middle West and South appeared before the senate banking and currency committee to criticize the administration currency bill. Generally the small bankers indorsed the purpose of the bill as framed, but in several instances amendments of importance, proposing changes that would offer advantages to smaller banks, were suggested.

Bull Derails Ten Cars.

Olathe, Kan., Oct. 3.—Ten cars of a St. Louis & San Francisco freight train were derailed when the train struck a bull weighing 2,000 pounds near here. The engine and tender passed over the animal without being derailed, but when the empty cars struck it, they were thrown from the track. A herd of cattle was crossing the track when the train approached and three of the animals were killed.

All British Crew Saved.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 3.—Fifty-four shipwrecked persons from the British freight steamer Templemore, which was burned at sea 800 miles east of the Virginia capes, were brought here by the steamer Arcadia. No lives were lost. The value of the vessel and cargo is estimated at $700,000 covered by insurance.

UGH! NOT CALOMEL, OIL OR SALTS, TAKE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" Cleanses Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

A harmless cure for sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, constipation, indigestion coated tongue, sallowness—take "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all such misery comes from a torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

A tablespoonful to-night means all constipation poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved out of your system by morning without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children because this delicious fruit laxative can not cause injury. Even the most delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine, so ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.

Out of Their Boxes the New Fashions Have Stepped

Immediately there seems to be a flutter of excitement, a catching of breath, as it were. Just to glimpse the new wearables is to be enthusiastic in your appreciation of their beauty.

The New Hats

First queer, then quaint, then unusual, then becoming, seems to be the order in which come one's impressions of the new hats. They are all that, but best of all, becoming. Fashioned oftener of black velvet than anything else, the skill of the designer has been taxed to its utmost in perching curious and beautiful feather ornaments at unusual angles. Sometimes topped by gracious ostrich, sometimes with paradise or some new feather fantasy the workers have invented.

Exquisite Headwear for Little Girls

The hats imitate women's styles in their trimmings of feather fancies, fur and lace, in the popularity of plush, and in the small and medium shapes. They are more colorful, though black-and-white is good for the better hats. Hats for more practical wear have little trimming, and many are in easily conformable, soft shapes.

The New Autumn Suits—New Coats

(Second Floor—Main Building.)

For those who want the simple tailored suits and for the miss or misses who want the novelty kind, we have them in a large variety of styles and materials, and beautiful as they are in cut and finish, their charm is in their new colors. Don't wait until the cold weather begins. It is advisable to make a selection now, especially for those wanting the novelty suit, of which there is but one of a kind. Prices, $25 up.

Wonderfully rich are the Novelty Coats, and they are ideal wear for the woman who motors. Many are made of the new Wool Velours, Vicunas and Duvetyne cloths—all fabrics which drape themselves as if by magic. A very dark sage green is lined with a lighter metallic green, scattered with vivid blossoms; a golden tan is lined with dark blue; a Black Wool Matelasse has a Futurist lining, nothing short of gorgeous and at reasonable prices.

It's Time to Get Little Tots Ready for Winter

HATS FOR LITTLE SISTER—In every beautiful color, and bonnets to match any coat; soft velour and corduroy ready to wears, and exquisite dress hats of velvet, trimmed with bright contrasting bands and flowers.

LOVELY COATS FOR BABY—In white cashmere, Henrietta or Crepella Cloth, $4.00 and up. We make a specialty of Colored Coats, in small sizes—corduroy, chinchilla and pretty cloth coats from 1 year to 6.

OUR HAND-KNIT GARMENTS are substantial and warm and are just the thing for this time of the year before heavy coats and furs are donned.

Bring the little ones to our "Babycraft" Shop inspect our warm bath robes, sweaters, tights, caps, dresses, sleepers, underwear, cozys—anything you need for baby you will find here.

JOHNSONS IN THE LEAD

New Directory Contains 1,365 of Them—Andersons Next.

Olsons a Close Third—Smiths Trailing in Seventh Place.

The new directory for Duluth and Superior has just been issued and is today being delivered as rapidly as possible by Supt. Bonner and his assistants. The book is larger than that of last year. Its cover is a bright yellow, a departure from the more somber hues that the company has been using.

So far as the contents of the book are concerned a rummage through—in fact through any directory—is interesting. In this directory for instance will be found the name Tambornino and the natural supposition might be that he is a musician, but he isn't, he is a painter.

The work of finding the longest name in the directory would be a week's job but with the shortest one, it was easy. "Ek," that's it. One possessor of it is a policeman, but there are several families by that name. The next nearest that could be found to rival the shortness of Ek were Ahl, Aho and Emo.

It was noticeable also that while there are plenty of the Burke family in the city there is just one who spells his name the original and good old Irish way "Bourke," and he is the commissioner of the Lake Carriers' association.

Many "Sons"

When one undertakes to find out how many names there are in each directory that end with "son," it is soon found that "some job" has been tackled. A Herald reporter undertook that job today and while he did not get all of the "son" families, he got the leaders. It should not be understood that the figures here given show the entire population in the city going by the respective names, for the directory mentions only the heads of families.

This year's directory does not separate the "ens" from the "ons" in these names but, ignoring the spelling, has arranged them in alphabetical order, making the finding of the names much more convenient.

The Johnsons and the Andersons lead the list, the former having about one-third more than the latter; the Olsons come next, then the Petersons, then the Nelsons, then the Hansons, then the Smiths. The Browns beat the Thompsons, and the Sullivans beat the Jones and Swansons.

The figures follow: Johnsons, 1,365; Andersons, 914; Olsons, 630; Petersons, 553; Nelsons, 527; Hansons, 303; Smiths, 241; Browns, 167; Thompsons, 136; Sullivans, 89; Jones, 76; Swansons, 33.

Fashionable Millinery.

There is the small close-fitting hat; also medium and large models. The small close-fitting shapes are taking the place of the large picturesque hatt for street wear, although the larger models are very much in vogue for dress occasions. Mahogany is one of the leading shades, the toupe is also good, and black never was better than this season. There is a great variety of colors used in the trimming, the high effect is noticeable in almost every design. The Bolin millinery is at No. 10 East Superior street, next to Empress theater. While waiting to interview Madam Bolin with reference to the latest styles in fall and winter hats a Herald representative learned that the Bolin millinery, well known in Duluth as the style center, is showing a beautiful display of millinery this week. Hats designed under the supervision of Madam Bolin, have that distinctive feature of being different. The latest styles of Paris models, the new ideas in hat making are all represented in this season's showing. Madam Bolin says that when on her buying trip to the East, she found that the idea this year, seemed to be of a much wider range in shapes and designs than usual.

CITY EMPLOYES WILL DRAW PAY

Commission Holds Special Meeting to Approve Monthly Payroll.

The city commissioners have a pleasing regard—to their subordinates, at least—for the pocketbooks of the city employes.

As witness, a meeting of the council has been called for this afternoon to pass the payrolls, authorizing the distribution of some $50,000 to $60,000.

Three days of October have passed, and were not such a meeting called, the payroll resolution would not be passed until next Monday. Wherefore a week of the new month would have expired before the servants of the people would have been able to "draw their breaths." The commissioners figure that getting paid but once a month is a long while between breaths and do not wish to have the faithful put to any inconvenience by having them wait a week past the end of the month for their stipends.

The ordinance of Finance Commissioner Fred J. Voss, providing for the issuance of $275,000 of certificates of indebtedness, will be given its first reading. The certificates are authorized in anticipation of the tax collections for the coming year and the proceeds will be used to tide the various funds over the balance of the year and until the first apportionment is received from the county next spring.

The ordinance fixing the tax levy for 1914 will be given its third reading and passed. The budget calls for a collection of $849,500, giving a city tax rate of 16.49 mills, on an estimate valuation of $51,500,000. The statement will be certified to the county auditor at once. Under the charter it must be in his hands not later than Oct. 10.

RAILROADS OF NORTHWEST BUSY

W. J. Power, assistant general freight agent of the Great Northern, is in the city today.

"While coal has not been moving in the volume of last year," said Mr. Power, "general freight business is very good on the roads of the Northwest, judging from the amount of business that is being done on the Great Northern.

"Last season the general shortage of hard coal caused an early ordering from the dealers in the country. This year the case has been very different. There has been very little early shipping of coal, and the docks at the Head of the Lakes at the present time are fairly well crowded.

"It is believed that there will be a heavy shipment of coal within the next few days, as up to the present time the volume of business has not been near the tonnage shipped up to this time a year ago."

KANSAS A. O. U. W. MAY ADMIT WOMEN.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 3.—Consideration of the advisability of admitting women into the organization was the express purpose of a special session of the grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Kansas that opened here today. Nearly 800 delegates were present. A two-thirds vote is required to amend the constitution and provide for the admission of women.

Diamonds Make Good Investments

A fine diamond never depreciates in value.. You wear it with pride and pleasure, and it is worth what you paid for it many years after you bought it. It can always be turned into cash at its real value.

Our long acquaintance with the diamond market and our foresight in selecting some especially choice stones before the prices advanced enable us to offer some splendid values. The stones are brilliant in color, perfectly cut, and well fitted for adornment or as an investment.

We have unusually choice stones in rings, from ¼ to ⅝ carat, mounted in hand-made 14 K. gold mountings. Prices, $15, $25, $35 and $50.

In larger stones we are selling some beauties at a very close margin. You cannot appreciate their beauty and value unless you see them.

BABY SENT TO SEATTLE JAIL

Judge Humphreis Sentences Eighteen in Contempt Cases.

Other Judges Offer Habeas Corpus Writs to All Petitioners.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 3.—Superior Judge J. E. Humphreis, who has been engaged in warfare with the Socialists of Seattle since last June, devoted yesterday to hearing cases against fifty-five Socialists cited by him for contempt of court because they had signed "resolutions of defiance" that denounced the judge for his injunctions in street-speaking cases. Judge Humphreis proceeded with the contempt cases in spite of the fact that the state supreme court had issued a writ restraining him in the case of two defendants who had appealed. Appeals to the supreme court will be taken.

After Judge Humphreis had sent twelve men and six women to jail for contempt of his court, a consultation of other judges of the superior court was held.

Other Judges Acted.

Thorwald Siegfried, an attorney, who previously had complained to the bar association of Judge Humphreis' excessive use of the writ of injunction, was requested to apply for a writ of habeas corpus for the prisoners.

Siegfried applied to Judge Everett Smith for the release of Glenn Hoover and G. M. Hodgson, and they were released on their own recognizance.

Judge Smith said he would release all the prisoners who sought freedom on writs of habeas corpus.

Judge Humphreis was angry when he heard of the consultation of his fellow judges and the release of two of the prisoners. He denounced the other judges and declared the right of habeas corpus did not apply in contempt of court cases.

Judge Humphreis first overruled the defendants' motion for a change of venue because of prejudice on the part of the court. He warned the defendants and their counsel that the filing of such an affidavit was of itself a new contempt.

Fined Women $100 Each.

The judge fined Kate Sadler, a street orator, $100 and costs, and imposed the same fine upon Mrs. Hannah Anderson, who retorted that she had no respect for the court.

Hulet M. Wells, late Socialist candidate for mayor, and Glenn M. Hoover, former assistant attorney general of Washington, were fined $100 each and "forever disbarred."

The severest punishment of the day was meted out to H. O. Sayler and Roy Draper, who did not sign the resolutions of defiance, but who applauded Mrs. Anderson in the court room when she gave her opinion of Judge Humphreis. The men were each sentenced to six months imprisonment, and to pay a fine of $300.

Defendants who explained that they signed the resolutions of defiance through a misunderstanding were released upon payment of trivial costs.

Sent to Jail With Baby.

Mrs. William McNally stood up with a baby in her arms. The judge said he did not wish to send a baby to jail.

"Never mind," the woman said bitterly. "The baby is as guilty as I am."

She was fined $100 and sent to jail with the baby and a little boy.

The woman's husband, a Spanish war veteran, also was fined $100 and sent to jail.

Six women and two children spent last night in the county jail.

During the judge's lecture on the evil of street speaking, he declared that Albert R. Parsons, the anarchist hanged in Chicago after the Haymarket riots, was guilty of murder through incitement to riot. An elderly woman dressed in black, standing on a chair in the rear of the court room, cried:

"That is untrue. He was an innocent man. I am Parson's widow."

As soon as Judge Humphreis could recover from his surprise, he shouted to the woman, who was Lucy Parsons:

"Widow or no widow, you had better keep quiet, or you'll find yourself in the county jail."

FARM LABORERS IN ENGLAND NEED AID

First Part of Land Inquiry Report Is Issued.

London, Oct. 3.—A summary of the first part of the land inquiry report, on which will be based the next step of the government's program of social legislation, has been made public and shows the pressing need of relief for rural laborers.

The report, which is made under the direction of David Lloyd George, states the wages now paid do not allow the level of physical efficiency to be maintained. The question, it is urged, is the more pressing because since 1900 prices have risen disproportionately to wages. Objection is shown in an increasing degree by laborers to the wages being partly paid in kind. The laborer feels the long hours and absence of holidays nearly as much as the lowness of wages. The loss of wages through wet weather is a strong subject of complaint.

A surprising feature of the report is the absence of any reference to the much-discussed minimum wage of $5 a week.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 3.—A temporary injunction restraining John D. Rockefeller from interfering with the alleged rights of a realty company in a business block at West Sixth street and Frankfort avenue, was granted late yesterday by Common Pleas Judge Vickery.

The realty company claimed "armed agents," said to be in Rockefeller's employ, had closed up a store in the block, saying the realty company no longer had control over the building. The company claims to have leased the building from Rockefeller ten years ago for ninety-nine years. Service on Rockefeller, or his wife, also named in the petition, could not be made, but Clarence E. Terrill, named in the petition as Rockefeller's agent, was reached with a copy of the restraining order.

Valley City Pioneer Dead.

Valley City, N. D., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The death of Con Schwinler, one of the first four white men to settle in Barnes county, is reported from Tacoma, Wash. Mr. Schwinler was born in Prussia in February, 1845, and came to North Dakota in 1874, settling first at Sibley Crossing; the following winter he built himself a cabin on the present site of the normal school powerhouse, long before there was a town here. He has been identified with the growth of this section of North Dakota, and had large interests in Barnes county.

New Fall Suits

This is a season when the elaborate suit is greatly favored. So soft the materials; so rich and gorgeous the coloring—these suits are attractive enough to delight the most exacting woman.

Duvetyn and Peau de Peche are the fabrics pre-eminent. But Caracul, Plush, Velvet, Velour de Laine, Broadcloth and Rich Brocades also dominate in some of the more attractive suits. Many coats are fur trimmed and may be fastened high at the throat.

Corded materials and poplins are shown in the simpler suits. Broadcloth is seen more than usual and all the novelty cloths, checks and smart diagonal weaves find favor—$19.75 to $75.

These Suits at $19.75 Are Just Beautiful.

Suits equal in material, lining, tailoring, fit, wearing qualities and appearance to high-priced custom-made suits.

These suits are cut individually after patterns graded by most scientific methods and conform perfectly to every figure

THE COATS have broad shoulders, close-to-the-neck fitting collars, long graceful lines, faultless hand-felled revers and genuine Skinner satin lining.

THE SKIRTS come in the very latest draped models, perfectly cut and hung and will not sag or bag.

THE MATERIALS are absolutely pure wool, guaranteed Poplin, Bengaline, one of the newest materials; navy, Copenhagen blue, mahogany, brown and black.

THE TRIMMINGS: Vests, collars, revers and cuffs of imported silk velvet to match; all sizes for misses and ladies.

The Following Letter Was Awarded the Prize of a Pair of $3.50 School Shoes

Out of the several hundred replies received from scholars, the committee had great difficulty in deciding as to the winner of this contest.

Below we publish the reply considered by the judges as stating the best reasons why the Glass Block School Shoes are best to buy:

West Duluth, Minn., 9-3-13

GLASS BLOCK STORE, Duluth, Minn.

Gentlemen: Following are the reasons why I think the Glass Block School Shoes are the best to buy:

1—A great store with a great business can be depended upon to furnish only the best that can be procured—and the Glass Block is such a store.

2—A great store like the Glass Block is the only place where assortments, both as to styles and sizes and widths, are complete and where the best service is furnished to patrons and a perfect fit secured.

3—The fact that the Glass Block Store is offering these school shoes is reason enough why they are the best and so the cheapest to buy.

I am a student in the first year high school, Irving, West Duluth. Respectfully,

LUCILE MAE ARMSTRONG.

Address, 427 N. Fifty-seventh Ave., West Duluth, Minn.

WIDE CHOICE IS OFFERED

Fruits and Vegetables of Many Kinds Are Now Available.

Butter Prices Unchanged—Egg Market Is Firmer.

Fruits and vegetables of every kind are available in the best choice and variety in years on the Duluth produce market this week. Attributable to the fine weather, the products of the soil are being garnered in fine condition and prices in many items are lower than a year ago.

Touching upon fruits, the last car of Italian prunes, just received, is pronounced by the trade as of the best quality of the season. A few more Elberta peaches are being offered and they are being rapidly picked up, as it is realized that the season in them is nearing its end. New York state bartel pears in all the late varieties are now coming to hand, and a good demand for them is reported. Malaga and Tokay grapes are still on the market and are meeting with a ready sale. Receipts of Michigan Concord grapes have been unusually heavy this fall. On the score of the substantial call being met with in them, their price is now ruling steady, with no further decline anticipated by the trade. Cranberries are a special feature. The fruit is of good quality, and with the large crop being gathered at producing points in the East, they are selling on a reasonable basis.

The demand for Honduras oranges is said to be steadily increasing. It is largely taking the place of grapefruit for the breakfast table on account of its low price. Washington cantaloupes are still being received, but as their season is about over, they will soon be off the boards.

Apple Market.

The apple market is reported to be rapidly strengthening up, a sharp demand being met with for extra fancy stock. Minnesota grown fruit is offered at $3 and $3.25 a barrel.

Coming to vegetables, it may be said that pickling goods are now nearly off the market as a result of the recent severe frosts. Hothouse tomatoes and cucumbers are now coming in and a good call is reported for them. The market in potatoes is easing up, attributable to increasing supplies from the district. Contrary to previous predictions, the trade does not look for any advance in potatoes over their present figure of 70 cents a bushel, for some time to come. Quotations in sweet potatoes are steady. Cabbage is being liberally marketed, and on the basis of reports being received regarding available supplies through the district and state, a decline is expected in it.

Butter Prices.

Butter quotations are unchanged with creamery selling at 32 and 33 cents a pound; imitation creamery at 25 and 26 cents and dairy 24 and 25 cents. While production of the creameries is showing a reduction in all sections of the country, an uncertainty as to the immediate market trend of butter has been imparted through the possibility of the product being placed on the free list or of the duty on it being reduced in the new tariff bill. Nervousness in trade circles has been apparent recently on that score, though it is to be noted that the New York butter market has been firmer during the last couple of days. Eggs are strong on a basis of 25 and 26 cents a dozen on Michigan street, but on account of short supplies, an advance is expected to happen at any time.

Householders will be pleased to learn that the poultry market is easier. Prices on hens and geese have been reduced 1 and 2 cents a pound. Following increasing receipts from the district and from the southern sections of the state, a lower market in poultry is forecasted next week.

Meat quotations are firm, and are thought likely to continue so, as receipts of livestock at packing points are said to be running much below requirements.

WOULD IMPEACH JUDGE M'PHERSON

New York Lawyer's Threat Is "Not Persuasive," Replies the Judge.

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 3.—Threatened impeachment proceedings against Smith McPherson of Red Oak, Iowa, United States district judge were made public when the judge, through Federal Commissioner McArthur here, openly accepted the challenge.

The threat came from Hugh J. O'Brien, an attorney of Rochester, N. Y., who demanded the reopening of the bankrupt case of the Sydney company of Ottumwa. In his reply to the New York attorney, which he made public, Judge McPherson said:

"I note the recital in your letter that if I fail or refuse to make and enforce an order on Mr. Loomis, once the receiver of my court, to pay the New York state receiver $572.55, that you will present the matter to the judiciary committee of the house of representatives, asking for my impeachment and removal. That statement is not persuasive to me."

ROBBERY IN FRISCO FIRE COMES TO LIGHT

Sub-Treasury Theft of $2,000 Shown in Estate Records.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—An inventory of the estate of the late Lester Jacobs, United States sub-treasurer here during the great fire of 1906, shows that the vaults were robbed of $2,000 on or about April 18, 1906, the date of the fire. Jacobs made good the loss privately and the claim of his heirs against the government for reimbursement is valued at nil.

During the confusion of the fire and the days immediately following, the sub-treasury vaults were guarded by United States soldiers. A week later they were opened by a locksmith and $2,000 was found to have disappeared. The loss was never publicly known before, although there were rumors at the time.

ENGLISH GROUSE SEASON NOT GOOD

Birds Are Scarce on Both English and Scotch Moors.

London, Oct. 3.—Grouse shooting on the English and Scotch moors is not quite as good this season as last, but some big bags have been got. When King George was shooting with the Marquis of Ripon at Dallowgill, England, the six shooters in the party killed 864 birds the first day and 870 the second, as against 761 birds by five guns on the same moor in 1912, and 1,280 birds in 1905, when the king, then Prince of Wales, was one of the party.

At Middleroor, in Yorkshire, England, this season, Messrs. Nicholson's party got 495 in one day, as against 1,282 birds by nine guns on the same moor in 1911 by the same party. Sir George Pilkington's party of seven guns shot this season in one day 253 grouse on the Ribblehead moors, England, as against 182 birds bagged there by the same party in 1912. Mr. Hemingway's party of eight guns got this year, in one day, 201 birds on Ilkley moor, England, where as the same party with six guns got 340 birds there in 1911.

On the Scotch moors, this season, the birds were scarce on the higher beats. The best records have not exceeded 280 birds by any shooting party in one day. American millionaires have made no figure at all in this grouse shooting.

HENNING CONFESSES PLOT AGAINST FUNK

Says He Has Been Supplied With Money to Travel.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—John C. Henning, arrested in Minneapolis, has confessed that he entered into a conspiracy to blacken the reputation of Clarence S. Funk, former general manager of the International Harvester company, according to an announcement by State's Attorney Hoyne. Henning arrived here last night, and with the officials of a private detective agency went into a conference with Hoyne which ended after midnight.

The confession, it was said, offered substantial evidence that the suit brought by Henning charging Funk with having alienated his wife's affections had been the result of a plot.

After the trial, in which Mr. Funk was found not guilty, Mrs. Henning was said to have confessed to the state's attorney that the suit had been the result of a conspiracy. "Henning's confession is similar to the one made by his wife," said Hoyne.

As a result of Mrs. Henning's confession, indictments charging conspiracy were brought against Attorney Daniel Donahue, Aileen Hepner, a witness, and Isaac Steifel, a detective. Henning was indicted on a charge of perjury. Donahue's trial is to begin next week.

The suit was brought against Mr. Funk after he had appeared as a witness before an investigating committee and testified that in a conversation with Edward Hines the latter had said, "Well, we put Lorimer over, but it cost $100,000 to do it."

Henning, in his confession, said he had been furnished with money to travel ever since his indictment.

GALLOWS IN WYOMING THAT HAS A HISTORY.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 3.—When on Friday, Nov. 14, J. Warren Jenkins is executed for the murder of his wife, formerly Jesse Root of Brighton, Colo., he will be hanged on a gallows with a history.

The machine is that which the notorious Tom Horn was hanged here in 1903. It was built by James Julian of Cheyenne in 1889 for use in executing Charles Miller, a double murderer, and worked so well that it was "knocked down" and held for future use.

Two years ago it was sold to the state, the law having been adopted providing that all hangings should take place in the penitentiary at Rawlins, and on May 24, 1912, was used to execute Joseph Seng, a murderer, from Evanston.

The machine is of the automatic description, the weight of the condemned on the trap opening a faucet and releasing a stream of water, the trap springing when sufficient water has escaped to cause a counterweight to drop.

ENDS LIFE IN TURKISH BATH

Frank Johnson Had Been Dead Many Hours When Found.

Shot Himself Through Head While Attendant Was Out.

Frank Johnson, 40 years old, shot and killed himself in one of the rest rooms of the McKay Turkish baths about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, his body not being found until 7 o'clock last evening.

Johnson had shot himself through the mouth, an automatic revolver being found lying across the dead man's chest, his thumb still clasping the trigger. Deputy Coroner McAuliffe was notified and he ordered the body removed to the Crawford undertaking rooms, where an autopsy will be held this afternoon. Dr. McAuliffe declared that Johnson had been lying dead in the room for at least nine hours.

David Kaplin, who is in charge of the baths, stated this morning that Johnson came to take a bath about 11 o'clock Wednesday evening. The man appeared to be in very good spirits, said Mr. Kaplin, and gave no suggestion that he was contemplating suicide. Johnson awoke about 9 o'clock yesterday morning and went out for his breakfast.

Just after Johnson returned to the baths, Mr. Kaplin went out for a few minutes and it is believed that Johnson shot himself in the absence of the attendant. No shot was heard during the day.

Both Mr. Kaplin and his attendant saw Johnson lying on his bed during the day, but they both thought that he was asleep. When Johnson failed to come out in the evening an investigation was made and the revolver found lying on the dead man's chest.

From what can be learned Johnson was an agent for the Hibbing Land company at Hibbing and was also in partnership with Victor Lundquist. As far as is known he was unmarried. Among the dead man's belongings is a picture post card, showing Johnson and a woman much his junior.

nesses not a trace of emotion crossed Schmidt's face, but Coroner Feinberg's charge seemed to lash the prisoner into a sudden tempest of fury. Jumping to his feet, his eyes blazing and his lips moving, Schmidt tore the rosary from his neck with a single sweep of his arms, and before detectives could stay him had snapped it into many parts and hurled them at the newspaper men.

The torso of the victim was identified by Anna Hirt, who roomed with the Aumuller girl at the parish house of St. Boniface's church. The Hirt woman was followed on the stand by detectives, the physician who made the autopsy, and finally by Inspector Faurot, in charge of the detective bureau here, to whom Schmidt confessed. Faurot detailed in a hundred words or less the substance of the confession.

Priest Did Not Testify.

"Do you wish to place your client on the stand?" Coroner Feinberg next asked counsel for Schmidt. The answer was negative and the coroner, apparently expecting that Schmidt would testify, asked if the priest had nothing to say.

"Nothing whatever," replied the lawyer.

The coroner's charge was brief. He told the jury that it could find that Anna Aumuller came to her death at the hands of an unknown person, or that she was killed by a person to be named by the jury.

"Hans Schmidt does not appear before you on trial for the murder," he said. "You are simply to find a verdict as a coroner's jury."

Within fifteen minutes from the time the first witness had taken the stand the jury had withdrawn. Within ten minutes more it had returned with its verdict.

District Attorney Whitman expressed the positive conviction today that Hans Schmidt is sane and consequently will be placed on trial for the murder of Anna Aumuller, whom Schmidt slew as she slept, dismembered and sank in the Hudson river on Sept. 2 last.

Mr. Whitman's opinion, it is understood, is based on the finding by the four alienists who have examined Schmidt in the Tombs at Mr. Whitman's behest. Their formal report will be made within a few days.

Crowd Around Building.

Only three portions of the girl's body—the upper and lower parts of the torso and one leg—have been recovered from the river. These were viewed by the jury today.

A great crowd stormed the criminal courts building where the inquest was held, but comparatively few were admitted to the courtroom. Among the number who obtained seats were several women.

import duties levied by this government on foreign merchandise; a new income tax that will strike every person having a net income above $3,000, and an array of important changes in customs laws and internal revenue regulations which will keep treasury department officials busy for many months in adjusting administrative affairs and which will have an important bearing on all trade developments of the country for the next year or two.

Underwood Confident.

No differences on the tariff bill remained to be settled in congress when the two houses met at noon, except the cotton futures question. The senate had receded last night from the Clarke amendment, designed to prevent gambling in futures, and Democratic Leader Underwood was confident that the house would today recede from its own amendment, known as the Smith-Lever compromise.

While the latter amendment had the indorsement of President Wilson, the president had made it clear that he did not think the regulation of cotton future trading was an essential part of a tariff bill, and that he would not object to having the entire matter dropped out and taken up later in a separate bill.

The tariff conference report, completed by the senate last night, was ready for submission to the house as soon as that body met. It was expected that it would be acted upon and the tariff bill sent to the president before the end of the afternoon.

President Wilson, after a conference with administration leaders early today, planned to sign the tariff bill at 9 o'clock tonight. Arrangements for ceremonies to attend the final act in the prolonged tariff legislation were made by the president as soon as it seemed assured that the measure would reach him some time today.

Invited to White House.

Invited by the president to witness the signing of the measure were Chairman Underwood and members of the ways and means committee; Chairman Simmons and members of the finance committee; Vice President Marshall, President Pro Tempore Clarke and Majority Leader Kern of the senate; Speaker Clark, members of the cabinet and newspaper correspondents.

President Wilson looked forward with eagerness to the moment when the engrossed bill, the fruit of many months of endeavor to enact tariff reform in accordance with the declaration of the party platform, would be placed upon his desk. Having followed every detail of the action in conference and since that time in the senate and house, he was thoroughly familiar with the bill and ready to affix the signature which would transform it into law.

Treasury officials today began the task of redrafting the regulations for the enforcement of the new tariff law.

Effective at Once.

While the law goes into effect tomorrow, collectors of customs will continue to assess the duties of the old Payne-Aldrich act, with holding final liquidation of each entry until the receipt of copies of the new law. In this way, it is expected, there will be no delay in passing importations through the customs house and the government will be guaranteed the proper duties.

It will probably require ten days for the customs services in all parts of the country to adjust itself, even in a general manner, to the new law, but it will require months before all the intricate problems concerned in its enforcement are settled.

Senate Vote 36 to 17.

The senate at the end of a listless debate, passed the conference report last night by a vote of 36 to 17, only four more than the necessary quorum of the senate.

Senators La Follette, Republican, and Poindexter, Progressive, voted for the conference report as they did for the bill on its passage, and Senators Ransdell and Thornton, Democrats, voted against it as they did against the bill. Otherwise it was a strict party vote.

Joseph W. Folk, solicitor of the state department, in a letter sent to Senator Simmons, chairman of the senate finance committee, has furnished a list of countries having treaties with the United States which would be affected if the United States enforced the provision of the tariff bill giving a 5 per cent rebate in tariff on goods brought in American ships. Congress has amended the bill, however, so that countries now bound by treaty provision on the subject shall be exempt from the provision of the new law.

Among the countries thus exempted are Austria-Hungary, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Denmark, Greece, Netherlands, Spain, Norway and Sweden, all heavy exporting countries to the United States.

Treaties with Great Britain, Costa Rica and Honduras contain modified restrictions, which apparently would prevent the tariff discrimination against goods that are the "growth, product or manufacture" of the country exporting them.

There are a large number of countries named by Solicitor Folk that have no treaties with the United States protecting them against the proposed discrimination. These include Germany, Brazil, France, Mexico, China, Russia, Switzerland and a number of smaller nations. Merchandise brought to the United States from any of these countries in American-owned vessels, will receive a concession of 5 per cent from the tariff on similar goods brought in foreign bottoms.

Wilson Bars Picture Men.

President Wilson refused throughout the day repeated requests from moving picture concerns and photographers to be present when the tariff bill is signed. He took the position that the signing of a legislative act of so great importance should be a dignified occasion, but the requests were pressing in on the White House from all sides and there was some hope that the picture men might at least photograph the group after the bill was signed.

The president decided to sign the bill with two pens. The pen with which he will write the name "Woodrow" will be given to Representative Underwood and the other, with which he will complete his signature, will be presented to Senator Simmons, who led the tariff fight in their respective branches of the congress.

President Wilson's signing of the Underwood-Simmons bill at 9 o'clock tonight will bring into effect one of the most far-reaching revisions of tariff rates and revenue laws enacted for many years.

A new income tax, applying directly to the incomes of citizens; the abolition of all tariff on scores of items of immense importance to American industry and American consumers, and a heavy reduction of tariff rates on most of the articles in general use in this country are its chief features.

While certain portions of the new law do not take effect at once, most of its provisions and almost all the direct tariff reductions do.

At every port collectors of customs, appraisers of merchandise and hundreds of employes of the treasury department will plunge at once into the task of collecting the nation's revenue on a new basis, and with hundreds of new classifications and new provisions of law to complicate their activities.

Revenue Is Reduced.

The Federal government has been spending nearly a billion dollars a year, and the new tariff law will raise less than one-third of that sum. Recent estimates by tariff experts in congress predict that the rates will raise $249,000,000 a year, and that the income and corporation taxes will raise $122,000,000. The remainder of the government's great income is made up principally of internal revenue taxes and postal receipts.

The income tax probably will bring the new tariff law most forcibly to the attention of citizens. President Wilson and Democratic leaders in congress believe, however, that the reduction of duties on clothing, foodstuffs and other necessaries of life, and the complete removal of the duty from many like articles, will eventually bring a reduction in the "cost of living" without materially affecting business prosperity.

Summary of Law.

Average percentage of tariff rates as compared to the value of all imported merchandise: Old law 37 per cent; new law 27 per cent.

Value of annual imports added to the free list, $147,000,000.

Estimated revenues from all import rates: Old law, $305,000,000; new law, $249,000,000.

Estimated revenue from corporation and income taxes: Old law, $37,000,000; new law, $122,000,000.

Altogether, consumers in the United States probably will receive from abroad, free of all tariff, more than $1,000,000,000 worth of merchandise during the next year. During 1912 the amount of "free imports" was more than $880,000,000, and when the tariff is entirely removed from wool, sugar, iron ore and cheap iron, and other important items, the total is expected to increase notably. Under the old law more than 53 per cent of all goods brought to the United States from all parts of the world paid no tariff, and that proportion will be increased by the new law.

The free wool provision of the new law takes effect Dec. 1, 1913; the free sugar provision May 1, 1916.

Nine Months of Work.

The new tariff law, passed four years after President Taft signed the existing Payne-Aldrich law, is the result of more than nine months of work in congress. Hearings were started Jan. 6, by the house ways and means committee. Chairman Underwood introduced the tariff bill April 7, immediately after President Wilson had convened the new congress. It passed the house May 8 and the senate Sept. 9.

In the opinion of its makers, the Democratic leaders of congress, the most important features of the new tariff are:

A reduction of nearly one-half in the average tariff on foodstuffs and farm products.

The placing of raw wool on the free list, and a reduction of nearly two-thirds in the tariff on woolen clothing, especially of the cheaper grades.

A reduction of one-third (average) on cotton clothing.

Reduction of the sugar tariff and its ultimate abolishment in 1916.

A reduction of one-third (average) in the tariff on earthenware and glassware.

Abolishment of all tariff on meats, fish, dairy products, flour, potatoes, coal, iron ore, lumber, and many classes of farm and office machinery.

The Republican Attack.

Throughout the long fight over the bill, the Republican attack on the measure has been directed against those rates which the Republicans declared were so low as to threaten destruction to American industries, through the competition of foreign manufacturers. The Democratic supporters of the new law have insisted that except in those cases where public welfare demanded radical changes, the tariff has been reduced only to a point where it will "stimulate competition" without turning American markets over to foreigners.

A great amount of work will fall upon the treasury department, it is expected, in working out the details of the new income tax and the methods of collecting the direct taxes from individual citizens of the United States. The tax upon corporations, now fixed at 1 per cent of their income, remains the same, and becomes part of the general income tax law. A staff of special deputies, collectors, and agents will be employed to organize and conduct the work of income tax collection.

Steel Plant Suburbs

Fond du Lac, New Duluth, Gary and Smithville

CLUB WILL RESUME ITS ACTIVITIES

New Duluth Organization Will Work for Many Improvements.

The New Duluth Commercial club will resume its activities this month. Meetings will be held regularly every two weeks on the second and fourth Tuesdays.

A number of improvements for this end of the city will be taken up by the members. Among the first will be that of getting the property owners to petition the city for a sewer system which will cover the entire suburb. This it is claimed is one of the most necessary improvements and it is proposed to have it completed next year.

Other improvements which the club will be active in securing will be better school facilities and more sidewalks. The school population is rapidly increasing and the Howe school now is taxed to its capacity. A store room is being used for kindergarten purposes.

The steady influx of families to this suburb will, it is believed, make it imperative that the present building be either enlarged or else another constructed. It is probable that one or the other course will be advocated by the club at its next meeting.

WANT SIDEWALK ON COMMONWEALTH.

Property owners on the west side of Commonwealth avenue will ask that the city build a sidewalk on their side of the thoroughfare. Within the past few months several business buildings have been constructed on that side of the street and the owners say that it is absolutely necessary that a sidewalk be constructed in front of their lots.

A committee from the Gary Improvement club will interview the commission today or tomorrow with the view of asking this improvement. It is claimed that the city has been building sidewalks along vacant streets at the bidding of real estate dealers interested in disposing of their property but that so far the plea for this improvement along the principal thoroughfare has gone unheeded.

Revisits Old Home.

Allen Guerard of Port Arthur, Can., a former resident of Fond du Lac, was a visitor in this suburb yesterday. Mr. Guerard was raised in Fond du Lac and during his early years went to school there. His visit to the place yesterday was the first since his parents moved away from the place twenty-five years ago.

Buys Giddings' Home.

Ole Sorenson, proprietor of a hotel in New Duluth, has recently purchased the home of James Giddings. The residence is one of the best in this end of the city. The consideration was $5,000.

HOPE TO UNITE ALL TEMPERANCE FORCES

"Council of One Hundred" Calls Meeting for Nov. 14.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 3.—Amalgamation of all of the temperance forces of the country into one organization, an educational campaign, nation-wide in its scope, and a campaign for constitutional prohibition are the chief aims set forth in the formal call issued today by the Council of One Hundred for the meeting of the temperance forces in national convention in Columbus on Nov. 14.

Among those who sign the call as members of the Council of One Hundred are United States Senator Morris Sheppard, Texas; Governor Lee Cruce, Oklahoma; Former Governors R. B. Glenn of North Caroline and E. W. Hoch of Kansas; Judge Ben B. Lindsey, Denver; Congressmen Edwin Y. Webb and Richmond P. Hobson.

Leaders in the movement estimate that no less than 20,000 persons, representing every state in the Union, will attend the national convention.

ENGLISH BARONET DRUGGED TO DEATH

Sir Frederick Williams Has Led Queer Life in Paris.

Paris, Oct. 3.—The body of an Englishman which had been removed to the morgue after his death from an overdose of ether, has been identified as that of a young English baronet, Sir Frederick Williams. He was found unconscious in his apartments on the Boulevard Montmartre by a friend who had him removed to a hospital where he died.

Sir Frederick, about 25 years old, tall, fair and of distinguished appearance, rented his apartments six months ago, decorating them with costly draperies, rare plants and incense burners. Neighbors say that he received a number of strange visitors, most of them foreigners, whose errands were mysterious. Only one woman was ever seen to enter, she being a young dancer who had been engaged to teach him dancing.

SUPPOSED SUICIDE IS FOUND TO BE MURDER

Mystery Develops Out of Thomas Rye's Death at La Crosse.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 3.—The turning of the supposed suicide case of Thomas Rye into one of murder, by testimony of medical experts and the verdict of the coroner's jury, leaves the police completely mystified, and every effort is being made today to find a clew which will lead to the discovery of the assassin.

Until Dr. A. Gundersen, who conducted the autopsy, went on the stand last night, it was the theory that Rye, after a saloon quarrel, had wandered away and committed suicide by drowning. Dr. Gundersen and Dr. R. E. Flynn swore that death was not caused by drowning, but by a blow upon the head from a heavy instrument. The jury then returned a verdict of murder by persons unknown.

The police are holding Nicholas Hefti, who had a quarrel with Rye in the saloon, but there is no evidence to connect him with the man's death, and he probably will be released today.

No motive for the murder has yet been developed. The dead man's money and other valuables were all found on the body.

RICE CROP HIT HARD BY SOUTHERN FLOOD

Business Still Is Suspended Though Water Is Receding.

Lake Charles, La., Oct. 3.—Flood conditions continued to improve here today. Calosieu river and the lake were slowly receding. Business in the city, however, still is practically suspended. Boats are the only means of transportation in many parts of the town.

The heaviest loss from the flood will fall on the rice crop. This has been variously estimated from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. Railroads have suffered greatly and much livestock has perished.

Eight Reported Dead.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 3.—With scores of flooded streams in Southern Texas receding, no reports of additional loss of life had been received early today. It was believed estimates of $1,000,000 property loss would stand practically unchanged. Eight drownings had been reported.

Railroads are pushing the work of reconstruction, but train schedules will be disarranged for some time.

FOLK POSTPONES THAW CASE RULING.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Solicitor Folk of the state department today postponed the announcement of his decision with respect to the petition which Harry Thaw lodged with the state department asking that the British embassy be asked to explain the action of the Canadian authorities in forcing Thaw out of Canada.

While no comment was forthcoming from the state department officials, it was recalled that Mr. Bryan, on request of the authorities at Albany, transmitted their request for Thaw's deportation to the British ambassador, "with a view to such action as the Canadian authorities may find themselves justified in taking."

WISCONSIN READY TO INSURE CITIZENS

Madison, Wis., Oct. 3.—The state life fund in which the state of Wisconsin is prepared to insure the lives of its citizens now has enough applications to issue policies. They will be sent out shortly.

Insurance Commissioner Ekern has sent a circular letter to policyholders inviting their opinion on the advisability of having a committee of policyholders to act in an advisory capacity to the state officers in charge of the life fund, and on the method of selecting such committee.

LAST PAVING JOB IS BEGUN

East Sixth Street Will Probably Be Completed This Year.

Satisfactory Progress Reported on Most of the Other Contracts.

Work has now been started on the paving of East Sixth street between Eighteenth avenue and Woodland avenue, the last of the important street contracts awarded by the city council this season.

The concreting is now under way and Commissioner Murchison is confident that the asphalt will be down before snow flies. The contract price was $12,300.

Satisfactory progress is reported on most of the other large contracts. The concrete has been laid on the lower half of East Fourth street between Sixth and Fourteenth avenues and asphalt binder has been placed on about half of that section. On the upper side about three blocks of concrete has been laid. The bid on that job was about $50,000.

Work on the upper end of Twenty-third avenue west and on Seventh street has been delayed by the scarcity of crushed rock. The bid on the former was approximately $35,000 and on the later $60,000.

Slow progress is being made on the sewer which is being laid on Park Point. This is said to be due to the fact that much of the pipe has to be laid under water and that it has been hard to get men for that kind of work. No booster pumps have yet been installed and several blocks yet remain to be put down.

EMPRESS—Vaudeville.
REX—Photoplay.

Amusement Notes.

A. H. Woods, whose theatrical successes are legion, will present Robert W. Chambers' "The Common Law," at the Lyceum Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. Woods, it is claimed, has spared no pains nor expense in making the production complete in detail and has gathered together a company of players who may be relied on to give an intelligent interpretation of the work as set forth by the author of the novel from which the play has been taken.

Today and tomorrow the patrons of the Lyceum will see "The Waif," an exciting story of a beautiful Western girl's pluck. Her brother dies suddenly while they are crossing the mountains to join their father. She dons her brother's clothes, feeling a sense of security against the terrible loneliness in masculine attire. She loses her way and wanders to a miner's cabin where she is given shelter. The waif kills an outlaw who attacks her and wounds the miner who in lapse of time becomes a wealthy man and takes the plucky girl as his partner for life. The balance of the program consists of a two-reel feature, "The Clown's Daughter," and two exciting comedies.

Marie McFarland, an American girl who has made a reputation in grand opera in France and Italy, will appear with another young woman who goes by the mysterious name of "Madame ?" in a program of the more popular grand opera selections and favorite ballads.

Second in importance on the bill will be Richards and Kyle in "A Regular Club Fellow." Wallis Clarke and company will give a unique dramatic offering called "The Devil's Mate." Brent Hayes, who is called the master of the banjo, will be fourth on the program. Dupree and Dupree are cycling experts, and La Valera and Stokes give an act called "A Dash of Spanish" consisting of singing and dancing. The seventh act on the bill is the number by Hyman Meyer, who calls himself "The Man at the Piano." The motion pictures and the orchestra program will complete the bill.

There will be three more performances of this week's bill, tonight, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night. The new program opens with the Sunday matinee and continues all week with a daily matinee.

A new vaudeville program opened at the Empress theater last evening, to continue for the remainder of the week.

"In Vacation Time" is the title of a musical skit, showing the interior of a prison. The performers are supposed to be inmates and the guard. The convicts are musically inclined, and go through their prison tasks in a hilarious fashion. They finally induce the guard to join them, and present several popular musical numbers.

Charles and Madeline Dunbar have an act which they call "Animal Funology," consisting of imitations of various kinds of animals. They also introduce several songs during their act.

Hetty Urma, who calls herself the American Vesta Tilley sings a number of character songs which found favor with the audiences yesterday.

The fourth act on the bill is presented by Cornalla and Wilbur, comedy acrobats, who offer a number of feats requiring strength and agility, and mingle more or less comedy with the offering.

Some well selected photoplays complete the bill.

"Rob Roy," the feature production at the Rex, is making good and has received considerable favorable comment from many patrons of the theater. The familiar faces of the Eclair artists add to the interest of the picture, owing to the fact that so many people have seen them in numerous masterful productions.

Rob Roy is, undoubtedly, one of the best-known works of Sir Walter Scott. The Eclair company has now given it a wonderful three-part feature production. There is genuine action throughout the three reels, and the interest is held from the first scene to the last. Some splendid battle scenes are staged in which the Scots are seen ambushing the English troops in the rugged hills of old Scotland.

The story centers around the personality of Rob Roy and his efforts to assist in a plot against the English with a love story delightfully interwoven.

J. W. Johnston has the part of Rob Roy; Nancy Averill, Rob's wife; Milly Bright, Diana; Robert Frazer, Francis; Fred Truesdell, Rashleigh; Will Sheerer, Sir Frederick. These popular Eclair stars all appear to splendid advantage, and the Eclair producers have been so successful in securing the atmosphere of the Scotch hills that the feature is a most enjoyable one.

Superior

TO TALK SECESSION.

Allouez Men Will Hold Mass Meeting Monday Night.

At a meeting of business men and property owners in Allouez to be held Monday evening, it is proposed to revive the secession talk for the suburb. It is said that the business interests are dissatisfied with the Superior city government and wish to throw off its rule.

Those back of the movement claim that the suburb pays a large share of the taxes but gets very little in return. Allouez and Itasca make up the Tenth ward of the city of Superior.

It is pointed out that the real estate assessment for Allouez and the remainder of the Tenth ward for 1912 was $3,538,250 and personal property $103,350, making a total valuation of $3,641,601 for taxation purposes. On this basis was assessed taxes of $97,522.07. In addition to this, income taxes of $100,418.24 were assessed, and while the greater part of the total is in the courts, it is believed all will be collected.

Bowlers Fix Dates.

The Superior Bowling association arranged its schedule of games for this month at its meeting last night. Three games will be played each week. Plans were also made for giving a series of dances this winter.

Social Worker Leaves.

Carl Beck, director of social center work in Superior for the past year, left last evening for New York where he will take up a similar line of work. Mr. Beck will become civic secretary of the People's Institute. He resigned from his position in this city to take effect Oct. 1.

NAVAL SHOOT WILL BEGIN

Duluth and Pine City Men to Practice Saturday and Sunday.

Target practice is about to begin on Encampment Island on the north shore of Lake Superior and the Naval Reserves of Duluth and Pine City will leave on the Gopher at 2 a. m. tomorrow.

For the convenience of those who cannot leave their work Saturday a shoot will be held Sunday, said Capt. Guy Eaton, commanding the naval militia. The Gopher will leave tomorrow morning and return again in the evening.

Lieut. Emerson, U. S. N., and Capt. Pullis, U. S. N., will arrive today in Duluth to referee the shoot. The Gopher left today for the scene of practice with the target raft in tow and will return tonight. Members of the crew left with the boat to help anchor the raft.

SOME ONE TAMPERING WITH GRAND JURY?

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 3.—Judge William Vandeventer of the city court of East St. Louis, Ill., today told the grand jury that has been investigating alleged municipal irregularities that he had been advised that attempts were being made to influence the grand jury.

THREE ARRESTED FOR "JUMPING" BOARD.

Kalle Kvist, 24; Frank Heino, 24, and Frank Snari, 23, were arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of defrauding an innkeeper. The complaint against the three young men was made by Sannah Hattunen, who runs a boarding house at 284 South First avenue east. Officer Westerlund made the arrest.

In police court following the arrest Kvist and Heino pleaded not guilty, while Snari entered a plea of guilty. The cases of the first two were set for this afternoon, while sentence in the case of Snari was continued until after the trial of his two companions. They were each released on payment of $10 bail.

We've Talked a Great Deal About Men's Coats for Men

OUR SUBJECT TODAY WILL BE

Men's Coats for Women!

You've noticed the tendency among smartly dressed women to wear coats in men's styles; it's a pretty sensible idea, too, because a man's coat has a lot of pockets and conveniences that women will enjoy, and that they don't get in women's garments.

We'd like very much to show you some of our Hart Schaffner & Marx coats that are suitable for women to wear, you'll be pleased with the smart style; you'll like the extremely good men's tailoring, the fine quality in the fabrics.

The coats are made from all-wool fabrics, beautifully tailored. The designing is the same as that in their finest men's garments.

They are specially adapted for use in automobiling, walking, for either mild or severe weather; for all-around wear.

We cordially invite your inspection of the new samples and styles. We're sure all women will be interested in them. The prices are much lower than you are accustomed to paying for such garments.

NOT EVEN $2 BID FOR $4,000 DIAMOND RING.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 3.—Bids were coming slow at the auction sale of jewelry at a store on Twentieth street one night recently. Pocket knives were offered for sale, umbrellas, revolvers, old army muskets, stick pins were all put on the block, and little enthusiasm was aroused.

The crowd seemed without life; the autioneer was limp with his efforts to put some ginger into the hundred or more men gathered in the store. Nothing doing! The hot, tired crowd absolutely refused to be stampeded by the auctioneer's oratory.

By and by a stranger strolled in, watched the proceedings until he had a case of ennui that would make a tramp with the hookworm look like Teddy Roosevelt in comparison. With the breeziness characteristic of the West, he took a chance on starting something. Slipping a huge gold ring with a large diamond in it from his hand, he asked the auctioneer to try and sell it.

The auctioneer looked at the ring; it seemed to be cut from a solid gold nugget, and the diamond in the glaring lights looked like the Kohinoor. He gasped and clutched at the counter for support.

"What am I bid for this ring, gentlemen?" he asked in a small, weak voice.

"A dollar," said the man who had put up the ring. The auctioneer, who had to have two bids or no sale, begged, pleaded, even threatened, but he couldn't get that bid raised. Finally, with a sigh, he passed the ring back to the owner.

That ring was worth exactly $4,000, and not a man in the store would offer $2 for it.

"You jays had better go home before the cows come out to feed," was the parting injunction of the Westerner as he told them what the ring was worth.

In your hand you hold a five-cent piece.

Right at the grocer's hand is a moisture-proof package of Uneeda Biscuit. He hands you the package—you hand him the coin. A trifling transaction?

No! A remarkable one—for you have spent the smallest sum that will buy a package of good food; and the grocer has sold you the most nutritious food made from flour—as clean and crisp and delicious as it was when it came from the oven.

PUZZLED BY EVERYTHING

Strange World Greets Ohio Convict After Forty-Three Years.

Old Man Can Scarcely Believe His Own Eyes and Ears.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 3.—One of the Emancipation Day pardons granted by Governor Cox released John Taborn, Delaware county murderer, and he became a free man for the first time in forty-three years. During his entire term in prison he was outside the walls but once, and then only for a little while.

John Taborn entered the prison on Aug. 16, 1870, at the age of 23. He comes out at 66, "to start all over again," as he said. His shoulders were bowed with the weight of years and hard labor, but his mind and eyes were clear. He looked about him with wonder at a world which long had been growing toward a new development.

Living in the heart of a city, he had never ridden in a street car, never talked over a telephone, never seen a moving picture or an arc light or a bicycle or an automobile. He had never heard a phonograph. As for aeroplanes and wireless telegraphy, he could not even imagine them, he said, though he had seen a picture of an aeroplane in a book, once.

From his seat in the prison yard, where he sat day by day after age prevented him from doing the hard work of the prison, the old prisoner had watched the skyline change over the top of the prison wall. He saw skyscrapers poke their tops over the edge of the wall and wondered at them and the manner of their construction. He wondered often, he said, at what kind of people were doing these things, but guards told him little, and about the only information he received of the world outside came from new prisoners. During his term he watched 23,658 of them come and go. After the first few years no friends came to see him, though attempts had been made to obtain a pardon for him.

Begged For a Guide.

When Warden P. E. Thomas carried his pardon to him the old prisoner received the news stolidly, but he lost no time in donning the blue serge suit given to each prisoner leaving the institution, accepted a purse of $30 which prisoners made up for him, and thanked them and the warden for the $20 given him by the state. But as he started from the prison his nerve failed him, and he asked that some one from the prison might go with him and remain with him "until he got used to things."

Warden Thomas delegated his secretary, Frank O'Bleness, to accompany him, and together they rode up the street in the prison automobile. It was Taborn's first automobile ride and in the first one he had ever seen. As he rode along the paved streets, new to him, the old man leaned out of the side of the machine. His eyes drank in everything. He was so deeply interested that he did not hear several remarks addressed to him, but he said little. He asked to be taken to the governor that he might thank him for his pardon before he did anything else.

Governor Cox received him with interest and questioned him closely: "You went to the penitentiary the same year that I was born," the governor remarked.

In reply to the governor's questions Taborn said he had no relatives living; no personal property and no friends whose whereabouts he knew, or in fact whether they were living or dead. He thanked the governor with tears in his eyes, turned away and then returned to thank him again.

Next he was taken for a walk about the streets. He was like a child. His eyes wandered everywhere and he was constantly in people's way. Unaccustomed noises made him start with almost catlike quickness. He gazed in awe at skyscrapers in the business section and finally asked to be taken through one. Going in he became tangled up in a revolving door and had to be extricated. He got on an elevator and rode up several stories before being aware that he had moved. He did not know how to find his away out of the building.

Taborn breathed a sigh of relief when he got on solid ground again. He had been no higher in the air than the second story of a building since his imprisonment.

People Have Changed.

"It's hard to explain," he said. "Everything looks so strange. People seem to move about faster than when I went to prison. They move differently and more businesslike. My! How much faster business must be conducted! There are so many automobiles, and they travel so fast. That's what surprises me most—so many automobiles. When people got around in my day it was with horses and buggies, and only a few people had them. Now everybody seems to have automobiles. I heard in prison that the world was moving faster; now I know it.

"People seem to be more particular in their dress and actions. The general run of people look like they have more sense than in my time. That is, they look more intelligent, especially the women. Women look a whole lot more businesslike than when I went to prison. I can't explain it very well, but somehow it seems to be a different sort of a world, doing things in a different way."

Taborn was taken through several stores, and there everything in turn excited his wonder. It was a fairyland for him. He said he was sure the world had improved more than twice as much in the forty-three years since he had seen it than in the twenty-three years he had lived before he was sentenced. He could scarcely believe his own senses when he was taken to see the moving pictures that "talked." His eyes opened in wonder as he talked to the warden at the penitentiary over the telephone. It seemed that the old man would never tire of seeing new objects. He stood for an hour watching the crowds on the sidewalks.

After eating the "first square meal he had had for forty-three years," it was with reluctance that he climbed on the first electric car he was ever on to take him back to Delaware, once his home, and where he was convicted of killing a man in a quarrel over a mouth harp.

Later Taborn will go to Cass county, Mich., where he lived as a boy, and he hopes to find some of his friends there. Eventually he intends to go to Hillsboro, N. C., where he has been promised work at his trade of machinist. He is also a shoemaker, but he will be unable to work much at this trade because of a deformed finger, due to an accident in prison.

An Unequalled Record.

Taborn leaves the penitentiary with a record for good behavior that is unequalled in prison history. During his entire confinement he was not once reported for breach of rules or misbehavior of any sort. He asked but one favor during his term, and that was during the only time in which he was outside the walls. Because of his age Former Warden Jones once took him to the prison farm, fifteen miles from Columbus, and he was there for three days. At the end of that time, though he was placed on his honor and allowed the freedom of the entire place, he asked to be taken back to the penitentiary, because "it seemed more like home, and it was too lonesome in the country." During his trips to and from the penitentiary he saw only a little of the outskirts of the city.

When he left the penitentiary finally he asked if he would be allowed to come back and live if he so desired. This is not allowable under the law. He was offered a pardon by Governor Harmon on condition that he go to the Soldiers' Home in Dayton and stay there, but he declined. He served two years in the Union army as a drummer boy during the Civil war. He is still well preserved and his sight is as good as ever. He made many friends in prison, and as the confidant of prisoners he probably knows the "straight" story of many of them.

Because of his friendships in the prison and the fact that he will probably find it hard to become accustomed to new conditions, it is believed by the prison authorities that it will not be long before he will be back asking for a home there.

WOMAN WEIGHS 750.

Takes Six Men to Help Her Board a Train.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 3.—Her husband, three ushers, two baggagemen and a large freight truck were required to help the stoutest woman who ever passed through St. Louis to board a train here.

She was Mrs. Lizzie Glon, and, according to her husband, tips the beam at 750 pounds.

The Glons came here from Cleveland, Ohio. They declared they had covered 9,000 miles in a vain search for a homestead through Canada and the West. Glon weighs less than 130 pounds.

At the time of their marriage Mrs. Glon, who now is 57 years old, weighed 400 pounds, he said.

UNCLAD MEN LIVE IN AN ICY REGION.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 3.—Capt. James Leslie of the British steamship Earl of Elgin, which arrived from Norfolk, has become fairly convinced that clothing is not a necessity. As proof he cited a happening among the dwindling race of Yahgans, in the Straits of Magellan.

The ship was in the midst of icebergs when two natives, father and son, paddled out in a canoe. The father wore a simple belt and the son was attired in the remains of a coat.

Feeling certain that the lad was freezing, the captain had him wrapped in a blanket and sent to the galley to get warm. The boy speedily became weak and fainted. The father, seeing his son's plight, rushed forward, seized him and threw him overboard into the icy waters.

The boy immediately revived and climbed into the canoe, where he laughed merrily as he caught ship's biscuits tossed by members of the crew.

The captain adds that there are only 200 Yahgans left.

OHIO RIVER WATER FILLED WITH GOLD.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 3.—Every inhabitant of Huntington and other cities whose drinking water is being pumped from the Ohio river, if they be water drinkers, are taking into their systems daily a considerable quantity of gold.

Not only is the precious metal being wasted in that manner, but the streets are being sprinkled with the metal bearing liquid.

This fact was discussed in an analysis of the water made by James C. Blake, a chemist, who declares that his analysis shows that every half pint of water taken from the city mains contains 1 per cent of gold, also traces of silver and copper.

Whether the gold exists in sufficient quantity to pay for the separating of it from the Ohio river water Mr. Blake was unable to say.

Finds War Shinplaster.

Cambridge City, Ind., Oct. 3.—Workmen, when remodeling the home of Emil Ebert, found in the wall under a window $167.41 in gold and silver coins and fractional paper currency known as "shinplasters," showing that the money had been placed there at the time of or soon after the close of the civil war.

THE PEERLESS and the IMPERIAL HEATERS

¶The principle of all Hard Coal Base Burners is direct radiation of heat and hot air circulation. This is a point of vast difference in base burners and the point upon which depends the heating capacity of any base burner, and is the point where the Peerless and Imperial Universal Heaters excel, as they have more direct radiating surface and more hot air circulating capacity than any other base burner on the market today in corresponding firepot size.

The cuts in this ad demonstrate a few of many special features embodied in the construction of Imperial Universal and Peerless

Has three extra large Heat Flues, two descending and one ascending, through which travels all the heat generated from the fire and radiated into the room instead of escaping through the chimney.

Has two Hot Air Circulating Flues which are so placed that same are surrounded by heat on all four sides which greatly increases the hot air circulation and is a feature found only on the Imperial Universal.

The cold air is drawn from the floor and in its upward passage through the hot air circulating flues becomes intensely heated, and is then either dispersed into the room where the stove stands or conducted through the double heating attachment to the room above.

No Cold Floors When You Have an Imperial Universal in Your Home.

The Fire Pot, Duplex Grate and Shaking Ring can be removed through front of stove without removing a bolt.

Revolving Fire Pot which is extra heavy and deep.

Double Swing Top and Automatic Magazine Cover.

The Swing Top, Ash Pit Door and Screw Register Damper and the surfaces on which same are fitted are machine faced by special machinery, making same absolutely tight-fitting and giving perfect control of the fire.

Every pound of coal when burned will generate a certain amount of heat regardless of the stove it is burned in, but the stove that will radiate this heat into the room instead of letting it escape through the chimney, is the best heater, and that is where the Imperial Universal has the advantage over all other base burners on the market.

Woman's Realm

The love and veneration for Prof. Maria Sanford in the hearts of those who went to hear her lecture on "Literature for Everybody" yesterday afternoon at the lecture room of the First Baptist church was expressed in a rising salute to her when she entered. Mrs. N. F. Hugo, president of the club, introduced Miss Sanford with a few tactful and complimentary remarks, expressing the delight of the club in welcoming her and the esteem in which she is held.

"Literature helps us to keep up our standards and ideals," said Miss Sanford, "and the most precious gift with which a parent may enrich a child's life is a love for good literature.

"The ambition for attainment and success is a purifying one, but we must remember that those who attain success and wealth must have the enlarged life to enjoy it. No study equals that of history and literature; history, the record of great lives, and literature, the record of great minds.

"There is an aristocracy in words. There are common, everyday, working words; there are the more dressy words and the starry words that thrill and stir and burn. No language is as rich, as strong or beautiful as the English language, for it has been produced by a race that has followed ideals, has known the anguish of defeat, the joy of victory, the pain and struggles of great efforts toward great ends."

Preceding Miss Sanford's lecture, Mrs. Homer Anderson sang a group of songs, "The Land of Sky Blue Water," "At Parting" and "At Dawning," all of them being received with warm appreciation. Mrs. Anderson has a most sympathetic, pure soprano voice which has a delightful quality of sweetness. Miss Gladys Reynolds played her accompaniments.

Lecture on Burns.

This evening Prof. Sanford will lecture on Robert Burns at the lecture room of the First Baptist church, Ninth avenue east and First street, and will be introduced by A. G. McKnight. Phillip Gordon Brown will sing a group of Scotch songs and Miss Reynolds will play his accompaniments.

SOCIAL CENTER.

Preliminary Meeting Is Held on Park Point.

A social center will be organized on Park Point as a result of a well attended meeting held last evening in the Whittier school under the direction of Miss Margaret Culkin, director of social centers, and Miss Susan M. House, principal of the school.

An interesting and varied program featured the evening and entertaining addresses were given by Miss Culkin and Mayor Prince. Miss Culkin explained the meaning and purposes of social centers and Mayor Prince pointed out that through the social center the residents of various localities will not only provide amusement but will further their own welfare as well as that of the city. C. A. Knippenberg spoke of the social center as it pertains to Park Point.

The entertainment included a vocal solo by Miss McLeod, a violin solo by Miss Murchison, a reading by Miss Sparks and phonograph selections.

C. A. Knippenberg was appointed chairman of a committee to perfect a permanent organization and take the matter up with the school board. Other members of the committee are: Miss Susan House, Miss Mary Marvin, Mrs. W. T. Maynard, J. F. Denning, A. H. Brocklehurst, G. M. Paulus, Mrs. N. Nesbitt, Mrs. J. A. Robinson.

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Mrs. G. Herbert Jones Is Chosen President of Children's Home Board.

Annual Reports Will Be Read at Meeting Next Friday.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year and reports made by the outgoing officers and committee chairmen at the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Children's Home held this morning in the board room.

Mrs. G. Herbert Jones, who was assistant secretary of the board during the past year, was chosen president for the year ending Sept. 30, 1914. The other officers named are: Mrs. R. M. Hunter, secretary; Miss Anna Macfarlane, assistant secretary; and Mrs. F. D. Day, treasurer. Mrs. Day was the only old officer reelected.

Those named for the board of directors for the ensuing year are the following: Mesdames R. M. Hunter, W. C. Winton, Marcus L. Fay, J. H. Crowley, G. H. Jones, S. R. Holden, T. F. Cole, G. G. Oliver, J. B. McDonald, F. D. Day, B. C. Rude, T. W. Hoopes, Watson S. Moore, H. R. Spencer, James Wanless, C. G. Traphagen, H. B. Paull, S. R. Kirby, S. D. Harlow, and the Misses Anna Macfarlane, Elizabeth Hoatson and Martha Peyton.

MRS. G. HERBERT JONES, New President of Children's Home Board.

The reports of the outgoing officers were only informal at the meeting this morning, it being planned to make them complete at the first meeting of the new year to be held at 10 o'clock next Friday morning. At that time the work for the committees will also be outlined by the newly elected officers.

The general condition of the Home is reported to be excellent and the financial report shows a satisfactory balance. All of these statements will be read in full at the meeting next Friday.

Miss Elizabeth Hoatson was chosen chairman of the finance committee this morning, it being the first committee office voted on after luncheon. The other committee chairmen will be named during the session this afternoon.

The officers of the club during the past year, who ended their duties this morning, were: Mrs. T. J. Davis, president; Mrs. S. R. Holden, vice president; Mrs. H. B. Paull, secretary; Mrs. G. Herbert Jones, assistant secretary; and Mrs. F. D. Day, treasurer.

HOME KEEPING A BUSINESS

Housewives' League Aims to Make Home Keepers More Efficient.

Full Measures and Careful Marketing—Woman's Council Proceedings.

"It is our business to think about the business of the home and conduct its affairs on a business-like basis," said Mrs. C. E. Spring in her report on the formation of the Housewives' league of Duluth, given at the regular meeting of the Women's Council, held this morning at the library clubroom.

"This is a home movement by home people and for the home, and every woman should make it her business to see that her marketing results in fairness to herself.

"We intend to insist that we get fair treatment in the shops and we feel that we can do much good work in inspection of the shops and bakeries and factories.

"We must, however, to do effective work have members, and I hope that every delegate of this council will interest the members of her club to join the movement and take up the work of the cause.

"Do you know that we never get a full bushel of potatoes? At a meeting held last Friday at the Curling rink institute room during Exposition Week, a bushel basket filled as full as possible fell short about ten pounds of the required weight of a bushel, which should be sixty pounds, and we are given correspondingly short weights in other foodstuffs.

Partly to Blame.

"Of course we are partially to blame ourselves when we telephone our orders, and do not personally supervise the marketing; when we call for six or seven deliveries a day from one shop; and when we insist on luxuries out of season."

Mrs. Spring also spoke on the selling of produce from cars by the producer directly to the consumer as one remedy for the high cost of living and stated that she had no sympathy with the proposed ordinance which would tax the sellers $10 a day for the privilege of selling from the car.

"If our merchants and commission men," she said, "were poor struggling workers and needed protection the tax might be all right but I believe that today we have no need of that high protective tariff and thereby take away a means where those who need to get things cheaply may do so."

There are leaflets which will be distributed to members of the Housewives' league telling the proper weights of vegetables to the pound and other literature to help them in buying will also be distributed.

Mrs. Spring reported that there are alreadp eighty-six members who have joined since last Friday afternoon.

Executive Board.

The council voted, following a motion made by Mrs. J. L. Washburn, that "The Woman's Council have an executive board which shall consist of all of the officers of the council and three directors who shall be elected at the annual general election, making a board of ten members." It was also decided that the executive board should be an executive body to attend to routine business matters and to either investigate matters that may come up and report them back to the council, or to decide upon matters needing immediate attention according to the wishes of the council upon each particular matter. The new officers and directors will be chosen at the meeting next month.

Supervisor of Rinks.

Miss Jean Poirier as a representative of the playground committee, asked that the council lend its influence for better supervision of the skating rinks during the winter and it was also decided to confer with the commissioners and have a few of the ordinances which apply to everyday life of the city, selected and printed in pamphlet form for distribution.

Fire Drills and Recess.

The council adopted a resolution to be sent to the board of education asking that the fire drills be made obligatory and it was also reported by the education committee that the plan of placing the seats and desks in school rooms where there is a cross light, diagonally across the room will be tried in some of the new buildings.

The council voted that the nominating committee of the council to name officers for the election at the November meeting be each year elected from the floor instead of appointed by the chair and Mrs. R. N. Marble, Mrs. Z. D. Scott and Mrs. N. F. Hugo were elected to act this year.

Mrs. C. E. Spring, Mrs. F. L. Barrows and Mrs. M. R. Baldwin were appointed as a committee of the council to see the commissioners to urge the establishment of municipal collection of garbage throughout the city for next year.

An invitation was read from the Saturday club to members of the council to attend the meeting of the Saturday club on Saturday, Oct. 11, which is to be "Federation day" with reports from all the delegates who went to the federation convention held last month at Brainerd.

Early Christmas Shopping.

The members of the council were asked to do all that they can to encourage early shopping for Christmas and it was also urged that every club be represented in the council and if the regular appointed delegates could not attend that they send a substitute that the clubs might be kept in touch with the work of the council.

OBITUARY

Capt. A. B. Davis, for twenty years a captain of revenue cutters on the Great Lakes, is dead at the home of his son, George C. Davis of Chicago. Capt. Davis served thirteen years beyond the regular retiring age by special appointment from President Roosevelt. At the age of 21 he commanded a vessel which crossed the ocean, and after thirty-four years of sea service was appointed a captain in the revenue service on the Great Lakes. He was in command of the Andy Johnson during the world's fair, and of the Gresham during the Spanish-American war. He was 81 years of age, and is survived by two sons, George C. Davis, assistant government appraiser in Chicago, and Charles Davis, a lawyer of this city. Capt. Davis' life was full of adventures and he was credited with being the greatest here in the revenue cutter service. During the last ten years of his service Capt. Davis had charge of engineering work at the outlet of Lake Superior.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Girls Should Be Proud of Honest Laboring Men.

Do nice girls think more of a man's hands than they do of his character and his ability to provide a good home for them? A superintendent of schools in one of our large cities recently asserted that they do and I have seen enough of the strivings of "nice girls" after "nice husbands" to agree with him to no small extent. The big knuckled mechanic who works with his hands and wears a blue shirt and overalls at his labors is slighted for the man who clerks it, is always attired conventionally and whose hands give no sign of what his work may happen to be.

A $15 a week clerk finds greater favor in a woman's eyes than a mechanic who earns from $4 to $6 a day. Better looking, better educated and more of a man in his chosen pursuit the latter may be, but a woman, if she can, will pick a man who will not come home at night with his dinner pail dangling, his hands rough and sore and the signs of his trade hanging to his clothes. Even when the man has been a companion of childhood he does not receive the encouragement he would as suitor had he some snug little berth where he could keep his hands clean.

We are a queer lot and in no way queerer than when we attempt to divide and subdivide the ranks of toil. Theoretically any honest labor, honestly performed, commands respect.

In the home of the laboring man there is constant endeavor to educate the child beyond the father's sphere. If the son of the family can't be educated for the law or the medical profession, or some other just as high sounding and just as lean living, he can do and is encouraged to do the next best thing, which in his case means getting into a store or an office where he can dress like a gentleman, keep his hands soft and white and eat at a lunch counter instead of out of a dinner pail.

The daughter of the honest, capable mechanic who has been able to give her advantages does not as a rule look for a mate among men in her father's walk in life. She, too, has ambitions for a man who will, to put it crudely, keep his hands soft and white and free from all tell-tale contact with manual labor.

Let woman be insistent that a man make the most of himself. If a man is a mechanic let her take pride in what he does and only feel shame when he shows himself to be a half-hearted slouch who works only for the pay envelope and not for the satisfaction of doing what he does as well as he can. When a man chooses an employment simply that he may keep his hands in condition and a woman marries him because she cannot endure the sight of those scarred with the struggle of manfully earning a living, there is no further comment necessary, except that they deserve each other.

HAS HIGHEST OF REWARDS

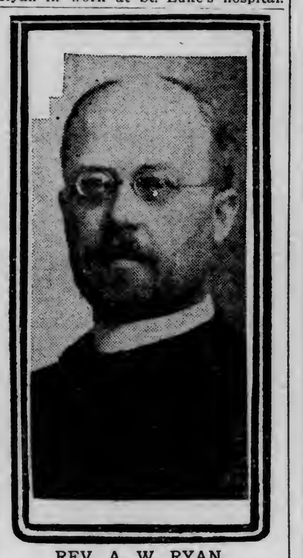

Dr. A. W. Ryan Shown Honor and Love of Associates.

Banqueted on Twentieth Anniversary of His Rectorship of St. Paul's.

"The clergyman of Duluth who has done more for the city than any other," was the glowing tribute paid Rev. Dr. A. W. Ryan at the banquet given at the Commercial club last night in honor of the twentieth anniversary of his ministry at St. Paul's Episcopal church.

He was praised as a faithful and eloquent minister, an effective social and charity worker, who had built St. Luke's hospital, and a tireless civic worker with the best interests of Duluth always at heart. And he was also called the "most beloved man in Duluth." About eighty of his friends were present, among them Mayor Prince and many of the most prominent and active men in the city. All expressed the wish that he would serve another twenty years.

H. R. Spencer was introduced as toastmaster by Dr. J. E. Bowers, who has long been associated with Dr. Ryan in work at St. Luke's hospital.

REV. A. W. RYAN.

Dr. Bowers said that it was the self-sacrifice of Dr. Ryan that made St. Luke's and the new St. Paul's church possible.

Mayor Prince declared that Duluth is a better city because of Dr. Ryan's services. He said his service had been of the highest type, altruistic, ethical, spiritual and material.

Henry F. Greene spoke of the self-sacrifice of Dr. Ryan in his choosing to follow the ministry instead of devoting his energies to making money. He said the ministry in these days does not draw men who value money above other things, and the church, he said, is responsible for every benevolent institution the city has. He said when Dr. Ryan came here St. Paul's was a struggling little parish while today it is large, prosperous and has a splendid new building that the city can be proud of.

Bishop is Applauded.

Bishop McGolrick of the Catholic diocese, was roundly applauded when he entered the banquet room. He said Dr. Ryan, as president of the Duluth Humane society and the State Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, had been a most faithful worker and had never been absent from a meeting. He declared that he and Dr. Ryan had always co-operated and that their work together had been pleasant.

T. T. Hudson, member of the board of managers of St. Luke's hospital, called Dr. Ryan a "humanitarian in the largest sense." Rev. Dr. Coolbaugh of Cloquet, who has been a friend of Dr. Ryan ever since he came to Duluth, spoke of him in the highest terms. Rev. George R. Gebauer and T. W. Hugo also spoke of Dr. Ryan's service to the city.

Prof. Custance's male quartet, which sang a number of appropriate songs, approached Dr. Ryan and sang "My Hero."

Dr. Ryan spoke briefly and recounted reminiscences of his twenty years' work in Duluth. Letters of regret were sent by Rev. Dr. Thomas W. McLean, rector of Trinity cathedral, and G. G. Hartley.

MR. OR MRS. DYSPEPTIC! GET YOUR STOMACH RIGHT—PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

In Five Minutes! Time It! No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness, Belching.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction, or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

EPISCOPALIAN CONFERENCE

Duluth Will Send Several Delegates to New York Meeting.

The general conference of the Episcopal church of the United States will be held, beginning next Wednesday at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York city and there will be several delegates from Duluth.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Crosby are already there and will remain over for the meeting as Mr. Crosby is a lay delegate from the Duluth diocese. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Paine, Mr. Paine being also a lay delegate, will leave this evening, will spend Sunday in Montreal, Can., and will then go to New York. Rev. Dr. A. W. Ryan and Rev. Dr. Frank Coolbaugh, clerical delegates from this diocese, will leave on Sunday, and Thomas S. Wood, another lay delegate, will go on Tuesday night

GRAND FORKS HAS A $20,000 BLAZE.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire early today gutted the Barnes Provision company's warehouse, causing a $20,000 loss. All the contents of the upper floor were destroyed, while the roof was burned off. O. J. Barnes' loss is $15,000 and that of George B. Clifford of Minneapolis and A. P. Clifford of Grand Forks, owners of the building, about $6,000.

OCT. 1 IS LAST DAY FOR LOW SHOES

But the "Same-Weight-Winter-and-Summer" Brigade Is Unterrified.

Low shoes in the future must all be discarded by Oct. 1 if the wearer would be in fashion.

Just as the straw hat must go on Sept. 1 the low shoe must go on Oct. 1, just one month later and it marks the last touch of summer as far as wearing apparel is concerned.

Besides the edict of fashion, local shoe dealers declare that the wearing of the low shoe brings on colds at this time of year.

In spite of the edict, however, there are many of the unterrified who will cling to their oxfords for several weeks yet, while some will wear them all winter. The latter belong to the class that "wears the same weight winter and summer" in underwear.

BOYS' Y. M. C. A. WORK FOR YEAR

Program Begins With Annual Dinner—Organization Under Way.

The annual committee dinner for all the committees of the boys department Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening at 6:30. Dinner will be served by the social and entertainment committee. Watson S. Moore, president of the Y. M. C. A., will preside and will install the new cabinet officers and members. Following this all the committeemen will be formally appointed by the boys' department president. One hundred and twenty-five boys will form the committee force for this season.

Each committee has met and outlined a policy for the year's work, and the ten chairmen will read their policies tonight. Dr. Robert Yost, W. J. McCabe and B. C. Wade will make short talks.

The Sunday club will open its fall and winter season Sunday at 4 o'clock, Dr. Robert Yost will be the speaker and Mrs. Jane Everington Scully will be the soloist. Lunch will be served at 5:30.

The Knights of Sir Galahad will organize on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Bert Wheeler will give the talk. There will be a musical program.

Tomorrow the outing committee will conduct an outing. The party will meet at the boys' building at 2:30 in the afternoon, go to central department for a swim and then over to Park Point for games, lunch, corn roast, planked white fish and a marshmallow roast. All members of the club are invited.

The fall gymnasium and swimming schedule has commenced and the classes are being well attended. High school boys have gymnasium classes Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 3:15, and swimming Tuesday and Thursday at 3:15. Grade school boys have their gymnasium work on Tuesday and Thursday at 4:15, and Saturday morning at 10:30 and swimming Wednesday and Friday at 4:15. Boys who work have gymnasium classes Monday, Wednesday and Saturday at 8 p. m. and swimming Tuesday and Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Juniors have gymnasium classes Saturday at 9 a. m. Friday night will again be the popular social night.

VALLEY CITY NORMAL ENLARGES FACULTY.

Valley City, N. D., Oct. 3.—With prospects for the largest attendance of the twenty-two years of its existence, the Valley City Normal school opened yesterday. President G. A. McFarland has just returned from an extensive trip through the East arranged for twelve new members of faculty, some coming to fill vacancies caused by resignations, and others to assist in crowded departments.

Mrs. Sara Sherman Pryor of the Washington Irving school, New York, has the department of reading and expression. Leonard J. Call, University of Michigan, will be athletic coach and instructor in mathematics. Miss Helen Crane, University of Illinois, is to be librarian; Miss Margaret Carmichael, University of Chicago, assistant librarian, and Miss Edith Andreason, Valley City Normal, will be second assistant librarian. Miss Bertha Newlander, University of North Dakota, will be instructor in English grammar, and Miss Vida Austin, instructor in biology.

The two vacancies in the domestic science department will be filled by Miss Vera Winn, Purdue university and Miss Kendall, Stout institute, Menomonie.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

Seeley, Who Fitted Czar of Russia, Called to Duluth.

F. H. Seeley of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will be at the Spalding Hotel and will remain in Duluth Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday only Oct. 7, 8 and 9. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield as now used and approved by the United States Government will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, affording immediate and complete relief, but closes the opening in 10 days on the average case. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, harmful injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. All charity cases without charge, or if any interested call he will be glad to show same without charge or fit them if desired. Any one ruptured should remember the date and take advantage of this opportunity.

EDMONT

18 Third Avenue West, Duluth, Minn.

INSURANCE LAPSED AND FIRE FOLLOWS.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Just three days before his barns, grain and stock were destroyed by fire, with a loss to him of $14,000, Peter Sullivan, residing near East Grand Forks, dropped $7,000 in insurance that he had been carrying for a number of years.

Sullivan thought his water facilities and fire fighting equipment on the farm sufficient to prevent any great loss, and that he still carried enough insurance after dropping the $7,000 policy.

This was Sullivan's last year in the farming business—or at least he had so intended—but the big loss will compel him to remain two or three years more to rebuild. It is believed that one of the men sleeping in the barn accidently started the fire.

Jap Warships Remain.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—The Japanese warships at present in Chinese waters off Nanking, are to remain there, according to a semi-official announcement.

STATE TO BEGIN WORK ON FIREBREAKS.

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 3.—Miss Annie E. Shelland, county superintendent of schools, has returned from a visit at St. Paul where she conferred with the state highway commissioner and the state forestry commissioner in regard to firebreaks in various parts of the county. The county superintendent was assured that the firebreaks, which may also serve as a road, connecting the Black river and the Big Fork, a distance of four miles will be advertised at once and also the firebreak between Harjie and Caldwell a distance of fourteen miles.

Other propositions in 63-22, 71-23 and 69-24 have been left for further investigation. State Forester Cox will come to this region within a short time to see local conditions, and the advertising for bids will be deferred until after his visit here.

WHY NOT STATE INSPECTION OF PRODUCE?

The important factor in public regulation of the commission business, whether it concerns grain or garden products, is inspection and grading.

The license fee and bond are important, too; but these are now required. The chief difference between the grain commission business and the produce commission business is that there is state inspection in the former and none in the latter.

It was mainly inspection that The Herald had in mind when it urged that the produce commission business be surrounded by the state with the same protection for producer, merchant and consumer that is provided in the grain commission business.

We have a letter from a local commission merchant saying that he would welcome an inspection system, because as it stands now the condition of produce received rests almost entirely on the statements of shipper and receiver, which often differ, and sometimes legitimately. If there were state inspection and grading at the terminal point, as there is with grain, there would be an unbiased authority to decide all questions at issue between producer and commission man, and it would be an advantage to both as well as to the consumer.

The state will do well to consider the possibility of creating an efficient produce inspection system. It should do so unless there is some reason why the grower and consumer of potatoes and apples are less entitled to protection than the grower and consumer of wheat.

Somebody has started a query as to "the hardest shot" in golf. Easy! It's the one you made when there was nobody there to see it.

HOMES SHOULD BE FIT FOR HUMAN HABITATION.

Though there has been criticism of the provisions of the Duluth housing ordinance, so far the city government has resisted all attempts to injure it by amendment; and it is to be hoped that the commission will stand fast.

If it can be proved that there are unnecessarily burdensome provisions in the ordinance, they can be changed; but there should be no change that will alter the fact that the ordinance requires buildings constructed for human habitation to be fit for human beings to occupy.

That is, that they shall provide ample light and air and sanitation, in the interest not only of the health of those who shall live in them, but in the interest of the community health as well.

In Frankfort, Germany, no building is permitted to occupy more than sixty-five per cent of any lot. The Duluth ordinance limits buildings to sixty per cent of interior lots, but permits them to take up seventy and eighty per cent of corner lots.

Frankfort, in order to make itself a city fit to live in, practically made itself over. Formerly many lots were long and narrow; but it was found impossible to build sanitary houses on such lots. So the city appointed a commission to rearrange and sell the property. Each owner was given exactly the same area of land as he had before, but in shape more nearly square so that each house might have light in front and back even when the houses are contiguous.

This probably is going farther than most American cities would be permitted to go. It is going vastly farther than Duluth has gone with its building ordinance, which applies only to buildings constructed hereafter.

Whatever changes are made in that ordinance, now or hereafter, they should not be permitted to affect the requirement that houses built for human beings to live in must be made fit for human habitation.

And now the annual debate is on as to whether it should be pronounced "par-tridge" or "pat-ridge."

HEALTH AUTHORITIES MIGHT GO TO SCHOOL TO THE ARMY.

Says the New York Sun: "There has not been a single case of typhoid fever in the tent encampments of twelve thousand regulars in Texas during the six months of their existence. Nor has there been a case of smallpox.

"To repel these dreaded diseases the army surgeons have used vaccine. So successfully have they warred on mosquitoes that only a few cases of malaria have been reported. There is no pest of flies. If the regulars were ordered on foreign service they would be sound and fit almost to a man. There would be no repetition of the horrors of Spanish war camps so far as they were concerned. Great credit is due the medical department because the only ground available for the camps in Texas was salubrious neither in site nor surroundings."

State and city health work, in most states and communities, has advanced little farther than the army work had advanced in the time of the Spanish-American war.

The adoption of modern army sanitary methods in civil life would be a helpful thing; for surely it is as important that we keep our workers sound and fit as it is that we keep our soldiers well.

This idea of having an official get a personal taste of prison life is all right as far as it goes, but it seems as if it would be more effective if the warden were the one to make the experiment.

THE PURPOSE OF COUNTRY ROADS.

It is to be hoped that there will be no great disagreement by the American road congress with the thoughts put before them Tuesday by Congressman Shackleford.

Mr. Shackleford said that the purpose of good roads is to facilitate the transportation of food supplies from grower to market, and not to create driveways for automobile joy-riding.

And he is right.

Not that country roads should not be enjoyed by motorists, nor that their interest and aid in good roads should be discouraged.

But in all road-making plans the first interest consulted should be that of the producer; and road systems should be planned with a view to promoting the marketing of food supplies rather than the pleasure of automobilists.

Mr. Shackleford urged support for what he called "business roads," which he declared aimed for "cheaper transportation and lower cost of living."

And the American road congress is animated by the wrong objectives if it disagrees with him.

"The touring roads class," said Mr. Shackleford, "demands that the United States limit its road activities to the construction and maintenance of a few 'ocean-to-ocean' and 'across-country' highways of great perfection, and then leave the rest of the people to build their own roads, or do without, as they choose.

"The business roads class believes that in dealing with roads we must keep in mind easy communication between the farms and the towns and railway stations, so the farmer may market his crops at less expense and the town dweller may get farm products more easily and at less cost."

Mr. Shackleford has well stated what ought to be the underlying purpose of all good roads plans. The "touring roads" aim must be subordinated; though when roads that achieve the object of benefiting producer and consumer are constructed we shall all be glad if automobilists find pleasure in using them.

On the same day the news dispatches reported an increase in criminality in Boston, they told of a rise in the price of coal in the same city. Queer how news follows the same line sometimes for several items.

HYGIENE AND FINANCIAL COMPULSION.

The London Lancet, a recognized medical authority, gravely informs the world that a breakfast of bacon and eggs is not only unnecessary but, except in the case of the manual worker, actually undesirable.

It says that coffee and rolls is plenty, because after a night's sleep the bodily engine should be running in good order, and should need no great amount of stoking with food.

This advice is particularly aimed at those who glower over their breakfasts in a bad temper.

But the laboring man, apparently, will do well to have his breakfast of bacon and eggs.

The Lancet falls short of its opportunity of public service.

It ought to inform the world also how the laboring man, with bacon and eggs become luxuries available only to those who, it says, should not eat them, is going to provide himself with the breakfast it prescribes.

With the testimony against Sulzer all completed, it's a little hard at this distance to see how the high court can fail to convict Tammany.

PEOPLE ARE HONEST.

The freedom with which credit is extended by retail stores these days may be a bad thing economically, because it tempts to greater expenditures than the cash basis, but it is a good thing in another because it proves how large a percentage of the people are honest.

Here and there are men to whom payment of bills is an operation which they never think of making except when they can't help it; but the general run of people are good pay because they are honest.

There is no lack of proof that the great majority of people are honest.

But the other day a man in New York made an experiment to test public honesty, and it is pleasant to learn that it turned out well.

He bought five pocketbooks, put money in each, enclosed a card with his name and address, and deposited them at various places. Then he went home to await the result of his experiment.

In less than an hour the pocketbooks began to come back. Two little girls brought back the first one, and refused to take a reward. A man brought in another and would take nothing except a cigar. A boy of fourteen brought in the third, and an elderly woman the fourth. The four came back within the twenty-four hours; the fifth had not been heard from at last accounts.

This is a pretty good showing for New York, or for any town. At least eighty per cent of honesty is proved, with the possibility that the other twenty per cent may be accounted for later.

Chairman Garrett says the house lobby report may not be made until December. Anyway that's a deal more satisfactory to the country at large than the old way of having it appear every time there was a vote on the tariff.

BEING SET BACK.

There is a current slang phrase which, like much slang, is concentrated eloquence; and it carries with it a valuable lesson for those wise enough to take it to themselves.

The use and meaning of this phrase is illustrated by a newspaper item about the purchase of a new hat by Mr. Bryan. He has just bought a new fuzzy hat, reported to be of the type favored by Tyrolean yodlers; and the item reporting the purchase ends thus: "It set him back eight dollars."

It "set him back." Do you get that?

If you will view your own purchases with that phrase in mind, maybe there will be some that you will not make.

You are—or you ought to be—laying up something for a rainy day, or for a home, or for a vacation, or as a nest egg of capital with which to make an investment when the opportunity and the accumulation are coincident.

Every dollar you spend "SETS YOU BACK" that much.

The progress made by many toward the aim of a financial nest egg is much like that of the man climbing a slippery hill, who slipped back two steps every time he took one step ahead.

If you get into the habit of realizing that every dollar spent "sets you back" a dollar in your climb toward financial independence, maybe there will be some purchases that you have in mind that you will not make.

Unnecessary and extravagant purchases "set you back" every time; and if you make enough of them you will either stand still or slip back.

One great oversight was committed in the arrangement for the world series—the deciding game may have to be played on the thirteenth, and that's sure to beat one of the teams.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

THINKS MR. MERRILL WAS "STUFFING" REPORTER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

We notice in your paper of Oct. 1 an article relative to apples and eggs in the territory of Young America, quoting a certain Mr. Merrill. Now I wonder how many of the readers of this article ever saw a traveling man when he wasn't talking, not necessarily saying anything, but just buzzing away. It is a poor traveling salesman who doesn't keep in touch with the sensational side of current events and when he can get a newspaper reporter posing for a sensational report, then is when his brain begins to work fast and furious, for it is manna to his hungry soul to commence his "stuffing" process and see Mr. Reporter drink it down. Then Mr. Traveling Man gets around the corner and laughs until his sides ache. We just had a man return from Young America, and the very exact territory Mr. Merrill writes about, and it is impossible to get a car of apples there, either in bulk or barrels. I offered high prices if he could get in a car, but he said it was impossible to do so. I offered 22 cents there for eggs, "case count," but all shippers claim they were offered 24 cents from Minneapolis.

Will The Herald please write to some of these points and get quotations on apples and eggs and publish them?

Very truly, WILL G. STARKEY.

Duluth, Oct. 1.

A Monument Worth While.

Mike Kinney, teamster and editor, in the Gimlet: Once upon a time I lived in a sordid, plain and ugly small town. There were no bronze or marble statues to stimulate the ambitions and imaginations of the boys and girls. There were no graceful fountains to develop and satisfy the natural love of beauty.

But in the nearby cemetery out on the hill were a lot of expensive, but what seemed to me even as a child, useless monuments erected in memory of the loved ones who had crossed the Great Divide.

Say sis, I want you to let me rest under the trees with only the green grass for my blanket. If there is any cash to spare out of my life insurance, erect my mounment in the form of a drinking fountain, and place it in town, where every day men, women and children will laugh and gossip and where tired horses and thirsty dogs will drink of the crystal bubbling waters. Cut this out and file with my will.

Why Jack London Is For Equal Suffrage

From "John Barleycorn," by Jack London.

And like such a survivor of old red war who cries out, "Let there be no war!" so I cry out, "Let there be no more poison-fighting by our youths!" The way to stop war is to stop it. The way to stop drinking is to stop it. The way China stopped the general use of opium was by stopping the cultivation and importation of opium.

The philosophers, priests and doctors of China could have preached themselves breathless against opium for a thousand years and the use of opium, so long as opium was ever-accessible and obtainable, would have continued unabated. We are so made, that is all. We have, with great success, made a practice of not leaving arsenic and strychnine and typhoid and tuberculosis germs lying around for our children to be destroyed by.

Treat John Barleycorn the same way. Stop him. Don't let him lie around, licensed and legal, to pounce upon our youth. Not of alcoholics nor for alcoholics do I write, but for our youths, for those who possess no more than the adventure stings and the genial predispositions, the social man impulses, which are twisted all awry by our barbarian civilization which feeds them poison on all corners. It is the healthy, normal boys, now born or being born, for whom I write.

It was for this reason, more than for any other, and more ardently than any other, that I rode down into the Valley of the Moon, all a-jingle, and voted for equal suffrage. I voted that women might vote, because I knew that they, the wives and mothers of the race, would vote John Barleycorn out of existence and back into the historical limbo of our vanished customs of savagery. If I thus seem to cry out as one hurt, please remember that I have been sorely bruised and that I do dislike the thought that any son or daughter of mine or yours should be similarly bruised.

The moment women get the vote in any community, the first thing they proceed to do, or try to do, is to close the saloons. In a thousand generations to come men of themselves will not close the saloons. As well expect the morphine victims to legislate the sale of morphine out of existence.

The women know. They have paid an incalculable price of sweat and tears for man's use of alcohol. Ever jealous for the race, they will legislate for the babes of boys yet to be born, and for the babes of girls, too, for they must be the mothers, wives and sisters of these boys.

And it will be easy. The only ones that will be hurt will be the topers and seasoned drinkers of a single generation. I am one of these, and I make solemn assurance, based upon long traffic with John Barleycorn, that it won't hurt me very much to stop drinking when no one else drinks and when no drink is obtainable. On the other hand, the overwhelming proportion of young men are so normally non-alcoholic that, never having had access to alcohol, they will never miss it. They will know of the saloon only in the pages of history, and they will think of the saloon as a quaint old custom similar to bull baiting and the burning of witches.

Queer Human Nature.

Emporia Daily Gazette: The New York Evening Post is a great newspaper in many respects. Its columns stimulate thinking. Most newspapers are constructed on the theory that the reader wishes his thought predigested. A case in point is the opening of an editorial in the Evening Post on the Thaw trouble in Canada. Concerning the acclaim of Thaw in Canada the Evening Post feels that it is merely a replica of the way of an eagle in the air, a serpent on a rock, or a ship in the midst of the sea. The Post gives it up and exclaims, "Human nature is amazingly persistent."

Well, isn't it! Is there anything in the universe—excepting the consistent love of God—more persistent than the persistent inconsistency of man? Why do men beat their wives, desert their children, murder their friends, drink whisky, smoke cigarettes, ride motorcycles, eat opium, forge checks, buy mining stock, dance the turkey trot, wear plug hats, rock the boat, monkey with the buzz-saw, chew tobacco, believe in water witches, or bet on elections?

All the boys in Emporia are wearing leather bands on their wrists. There is no sense in it. All the women are wearing skirts that show the mosquito bites on their legs; they are neither cool nor comfortable. Then there was the Maine election.

Why should the spirit of mortal be proud? "I said in my haste," wrote Solomon, (the editor, in his haste, writes Solomon, for David) "all men are liars," and he might have added, after reflection, "I am convinced that lying is the least of their foolishness."

A Woman's Dream.

One day I stood upon a mountain slope,
The mighty rock-bound wall a tower of hope
That rose above the world so brave and bold.
The solitude and vastness filled my soul.

I then descended to a leafy glade,
Where rippling streams and songs of wild birds made
A fairy kingdom where I slept and dreamed
Of curious war crafts on an old-world stream.

And after this I went among those friends
Where peace and harmony forever blends.
We talked of great deeds done by brave and bold,
Until the thought of greatness filled my soul.

I longed intensely to go forth and fight
Against the evil forces for the right.
I longed to be of all good things a part,
And gradually those longings filled my heart.

And then I went down to the gates of death,
And fought with all my strength, to my last breath.
Then life was given to me from the skies,
And I returned and brought with me a prize!

A man-child, perfect, fair to see.
He had traveled through those dreamlands, safe, with me.
In the curious war crafts, on the old world streams.
Will he live and be a knight and fulfill all my dreams?

He remembers, for often in his sleep
He smiles, and frowns, and moves his hands and feet.
Ah! worse than death the bitterness will be
If he shall fail to live those dreams for me.

Coquetry and Flirtation

From "Reveries of a Bachelor" by Ik Marvel.

How like a flirt! mused I again, recurring to my first thought; so lively, yet uncertain; so bright, yet so flickering! Your true flirt plays with sparkle. How carefully she cramps it, if the flames show too great a heat; how dexterously she flings its blaze here and there; how coyly she subdues it; how winningly she lights it!

All this is the entire reverse of the unpremeditated dartings of the soul at which I have been looking; sensibility scorns heart curbings and heart teachings; sensibility inquires not, how much? but only where?

Your true flirt has a coarse grained soul; well modulated and well tutored, but there is no fineness in it. All its native fineness is made coarse by coarse efforts of the will. True feeling is a rustic vulgarity the flirt does not tolerate; she counts its healthiest and most honest manifestation all sentiment. Yet she will play you off a pretty string of sentiment which she has gathered from the poets; she adjusts it prettily as a gobelin weaver adjusts the colors in his broidery. She shades it off delightfully; there are no bold contrasts, but a most artistic mellowing of nuances.

She smiles like a wizard, and jingles it with a laugh, such as tolled the poor home bound Ulysses to the Circean bower. She has a cast of the head, apt and artful as the most dexterous cast of the best trout killing rod. Her words sparkle, and flow hurriedly, and with the prettiest doubleness of meaning. Naturalness she copies, and she scorns. She accuses herself of a single expression or regard, which nature prompts. She prides herself on her schooling. She measures her wit by the triumphs of her art; she chuckles over her own falsity to herself. And if by chance her soul—such germ as is left of it—betrays her into untoward confidence, she condemns herself, as if she had committed crime.

She is always gay, because she has no depth of feeling to be stirred. The brook that runs shallow over hard pebbly bottom always rustles. She is light hearted, because her heart floats in sparkles, like my sea-coal fire. She counts on marriage, not as the great absorbent of a heart's love, and life, but as a happy feasible and orderly conventionality, to be played with and kept at distance and finally to be accepted as a cover for the faint and tawdry sparkles of an old and cherished heartlessness.

Still mused I, as the flame danced again, there is a distinction between coquetry and flirtation. A coquette sparkles, but it is more the sparkle of a harmless and pretty vanity than of calculation. It is the play of humors in the blood, and not the play of purpose at the heart. It will flicker around a true soul like the blaze around an omelette au rhum, leaving the kernel sounder and warmer.

Coquetry, with all its pranks and teasings, makes the spice to your dinner—the mulled wine to your supper. It will drive you to desperation, only to bring you back hotter to the fray. Who would boast a victory that cost no strategy, and no careful disposition of the forces? Who would bulletin such success as my Uncle Toby's, in a back garden, with only the Corporal Trim for assailant? But let a man be very sure that the city is worth the seige!

Coquetry whets the appetite, flirtation depraves it. Coquetry is the thorn that guards the rose—easily trimmed off when once plucked. Flirtation is like the slime on water plants, making them hard to handle, and when caught, only to be cherished in slimy waters.

And so, with my eye clinging to the flickering blaze, I see in my reverie a bright one dancing before me with sparkling, coquettish smile, teasing me with the prettiest graces in the world, and I grow maddened between hope and fear, and still watch with my whole soul in my eyes, and see her features by and by relax to pity, as a gleam of sensibility comes stealing over her spirit; presently she approaches, a coy and doubtful approach—and throws back the ringlets that lie over her cheek, and lays her hand—a little bit of white hand—timidly upon my strong fingers, and turns her head daintily to one side, and looks up in my eyes as they rest on the playing blaze; and my fingers close fast and passionately over that little hand, like a swift night cloud shrouding the pale tips of Dian; and my eyes draw nearer and nearer to those blue, laughing, pitying, teasing eyes, and my arm clasps round that shadowy form—and my lips feel a warm breath—growing warmer and warmer——

Just here the maid comes in, and throws upon the fire a panful of anthracite, and my sparkling sea-coal reverie is ended.

Peril of the Empty Heart

Christian Endeavor World: The danger from empty hands is unquestioned. The teacher that wants to ward off mischief is wise enough to find something that will keep busy the fingers of his charges. Society has good ground for looking with suspicion on the adult hand that does not hold a tool of some kind, and it gets ready for trouble when many hands are empty at one time. The law may look with more disfavor on the idle poor, who may be idle from necessity, but experience shows that there is no less menace in the rich idle from choice. Idle hands soon become busy at evil.

The empty head is a threat of coming trouble. The state recognizes this. In self-defense it demands that its future citizens have training in schools, and it seeks to bar from its borders the ignorant hordes that would enter only to become the tools of plotters.

What is the stand that we take toward the empty heart? When great truths are under discussion is it not often assumed that the most trustworthy, unbiased judge is to be found in some agnostic Gallio just because he has no personal interest in the matters at issue? Teachers of philosophy have not hesitated to assert that those in their position should not be openly identified with a church, in order that they might maintain an undisturbed balance of mind. Some so-called Christians have been weak enough to yield to such men an authority because of their judicial attitude.

The worst bigot may often be entitled to a more respectful hearing than is due to the men that pose as taking calm and "sane" views. An enthusiastic seeker for truth is a better guide than the indifferent dilettante. An interest strong enough to stir the emotions will discover what the cold light of reason will never find. We do not look for our music and art to the mathematicians that can measure with a micrometer the exact wave-lengths of sound and light, but whose ears and eyes are unresponsive to beauty. If great issues cannot be committed to men of empty hands and empty heads, can we safely accept as our leaders in the weightiest affairs men of empty hearts? Which class offers the greater menace?

The Extra Session That Wasn't Called

The State Press Talks About It.

Governor's Curious Reckoning.

Breckenridge Gazette: Governor Eberhart certainly cannot be accused of having a weak spinal column when he vetoes two of the best bills ever passed by our legislature for the people generally, giving his excuse for the acts that he would call an extra session to pass a general utilities bill instead, then later give it out that he would not call the special session as a majority of the house members are opposed to such a move. When the governor vetoed these bills he knew the sentiment of the house members and did not have to wait all this time to find out that they were against his movement almost to a man. Such maneuvers on the governor's part seems to indicate that he places a very low estimate upon the intelligence of Minnesota citizens.

He Showed Wisdom.

Sandstone Tribune: Governor Eberhart has concluded that discretion is the better part of valor and has decided to call off the extra session of the legislature that he has threatened for the past few months to deal with the public utilities problem. It was the sensible thing for him to do for two reasons. First, the spirit of the house is such, following the veto of the Nolan and Minnette bills, that it would almost surely refuse to pass the state commission bill advocated by the governor. And, besides, the public is absolutely unprepared to give any judgment on the matter at this time and the members would be very liable to find in that condition sufficient excuse for refusing to enact the legislation the governor desires. From every standpoint it seems more desirable to do what he has decided to do and put the whole question up to the voters at the next election. Between now and the election we will all have plenty of time to inform ourselves as to the best method of controlling the public utility corporations in the state and the action of the legislature when it takes the question up at the regular session will be based upon knowledge and will express the desires of the people.

Is Now Paramount Issue.

Northfield News: Whatever the occasion of the governor changing his mind with regard to the extra session he is to be commended for it. There is nothing urgent—no pressing need—for the state's assuming immediate control of public utilities, even admitting that with regard to some of them it is desirable. There is absolutely no public demand for the legislature to meet.

If the governor is to be criticized at all it is because of his original intention to call the legislature together to pass upon a question which the people had had no time to consider. That looked too much like attempting to force a snap judgment.

One advantage, however, has resulted from the prominence the governor must be admitted to have given this subject. He has made it the paramount issue not merely of his campaign for governor, but of every candidate for a seat in the legislature. It thus becomes a question upon which it is the duty of the voters to inform themselves. For this there is ample time; so that when the legislature does meet it will reflect an intelligent and matured public sentiment. If that is for state control, well and good. If not, the legislature will be in a position to adopt such a modification of the measure the governor has in mind as will meet popular approval.

Real Gratitude.

Fergus Falls Journal: The governor is being warmly praised because he has decided not to call the special session of the legislature that he said he would call. Some people would praise a governor if he told them he was going to kick them, and then changed his mind.

Rines Some Boss!

Royalton Banner: The governor has announced that no special session of the legislature to act on a public utilities bill will be called this fall. He gives as his reason that the Rines' organization has control of the majority of the membership of the house and would defeat the measure through their opposition to the administration. He will carry the fight directly to the people and let them vote upon it at the primaries next fall, where the influence of the organization will not be felt. Let's see, was Rines ever an exponent of the cause of the masses? He is now some boss nevertheless.

Would Be in Vain.

Rochester Post and Record: Governor Eberhart has wisely concluded not to call a special session of the legislature to enact a public utilities law. The present members would not have passed such a law and the session would have been in vain. He will make that an issue in the next campaign and the Post and Record thinks it will be a popular one.

Love Will Find Out the Way.

Over the mountains
And over the waves,
Under the fountains
And under the graves;
Under the floods that are deepest,
Which Neptune obey;
Over rocks that are steepest
Love will find out the way.

Where there is no place
For the glowworm to lie;
Where there is no space
For receipt of a fly;
Where the midge dares not venture
Lest herself fast she lay;
If love come, he will enter
And soon find out his way.

You may esteem him
A child for his might;
Or you may deem him
A coward from his flight;
But if she whom love doth honor
Be concealed from the day,
Set a thousand guards upon her,
Love will find out the way.

Some think to lose him
By having him confined;
And some do suppose him,
Poor thing, to be blind;
But if ne'er so close ye wall him,
Do the best that you may,
Blind love, if so ye call him,
Will find out his way.

You may train the eagle
To stoop to your fist;
Or you may inveigle
The phoenix of the East;
The lioness ye may move her
To give o'er her prey;
But you'll ne'er stop a lover;
He will find out his way.

Who Killed Little Old Wall Street?

Life: "I" said the Railroad, "I did it with my Bond Issues, my common and preferred, and my delightfully opaque system of bookkeeping. I killed Wall Street."

"G'wan!" said the Broker. "You're a bit of a joker. I killed the Street. I did it with my rigging and pyramiding cornering. I'm the guy—if you really want to know—who killed the Street."

"I did it," said the Bull Mooser, "when I crushed the trusts, too, sir—I killed the Street. With the use of the judiciary and my Western friends backing me up, not to mention stump speeches and other devices—I fixed Wall Street."

"'Twas I," said the Muckraker. "I may be a faker, but I did this complete. With my picturesque writing and magazine biting—I jugged the Street. Which makes me laugh mildly—though I often act wildly—'twas I killed the Street."

And they all bowed their heads, for they knew the right one had come along at last. "I did it—no minion am I. I am Public Opinion—'twas I killed Wall Street."

TELL ABOUT CUYUNA ORE

Crosby and Others Testify in Steel Corporation's Hearing.

Merriam Calls Corner on Lake Superior Product Impossible.

New York, Oct. 3.—More experts took the stand yesterday at the hearing in the government's dissolution suit against the United States Steel corporation, to support the defendant's assertion that it does not control the available supply of iron ore. Carl Zapffe, a geologist employed by the Northwest Improvement Company of St. Paul, was questioned about the mines of the Cuyuna range.

The witness said that the range held thirty miles of iron ore commercially valuable. He estimated the ore at 350,000,000 tons outside the mines now worked. This, he said, did not include the manganiferous ore, which would add 50,000,000 tons to the total. The output from the range in 1911 was 147,000 tons.

Mr. Zapffe asserted that, so far as he knew, the Steel corporation had no interest in these mines or in the district.

In answer to a question whether he would estimate the percentage of available iron ores in Michigan controlled by the Steel corporation, Prof. Leith of Wisconsin university answered about 30 per cent in 1911 and slightly less in 1912. The witness explained that the decrease was due to outside discoveries and explorations. Outside interests, Prof. Leith said, controlled more iron ore from Michigan than the Steel corporation.

Crosby Questioned.

George P. Crosby, a mining engineer of Duluth, was questioned concerning the Cuyuna ore region, in which he is interested. He explained that this land is and has been open for lease to anyone offering a fair price. He estimated the available ore in the Cuyuna range at 100,000,000 tons and added that much of the region was unexplored.

C. D. Tripp, president of the Rogers-Brown Ore company, substantiated much of Mr. Crosby's testimony.

William N. Merriam, expert geologist for the United States Steel corporation, declared that it would be an almost impossible task for the corporation to get a corner on the ore in the Lake Superior district. The corporation would have to keep buying because of the new ores that are always being discovered, he explained, and in addition, other companies were making reservations for the future.

In 1909, the witness said, he had been sent to Birmingham, Ala., by the then president of the corporation, Mr. Corey, to examine the Tennessee Coal & Iron company, to see, as he said Mr. Corey expressed it, "if we have bought a gold brick." Later the witness told of making two trips to Brazil to examine the ore fields there. With the proposed tax of 25 cents which the Brazilian government may make law, the witness estimated that ore from that country could be laid down in Philadelphia for about $4.83 per ton. He expressed the opinion that three concerns using about 3,000,000 tons a year, could get enough ore from the Lake Superior district to compete in the markets.

FARM SCHOOL WILL REOPEN NEXT WEEK

Minnesota Agricultural Institution Will Enlarge Its Scope.

Crookston, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Northwest School of Agriculture, a subsidiary of the University of Minnesota, will open here next Tuesday, Oct. 7, with an augmented faculty and a wider field of endeavor than ever before. Among the important new features this year is an advanced course in normal training and rural school methods, in charge of Grace B. Sherwood, in which the aim will be to train teachers specially for consolidated rural school work. This will in no way interfere with the field of the state normal schools, but will train teachers who are greatly in demand, who have the necessary training in agriculture, domestic science and manual training, with particular regard for the needs of the consolidated school, the tendency toward which is growing rapidly. The only other new position created is that of librarian and assistant in English, to be filled by Katherine Metcalf.

Among the seven new instructors, William Dietrich of the Illinois College of Agriculture, author of several standard works on livestock, who has edited scores of bulletins on the subject, is considered a specially strong man on animal husbandry, an especially important department at this period of the development of the stock industry in this section.

C. G. Selvig, M. A., superintendent; Otto I. Bergh, agronomy and farm management; T. R. Sewell, carpentry and drawing; Carl A. Berg, blacksmithing and machinery; C. E. Brown, poultry; dairy husbandry, F. H. Sargent; Mabel H. Olson, domestic science and art; Ethel Kadlec, assistant in domestic science; Thomas H. McCall, botany and horticulture; P. L. Bengston, civics and physiology, and preceptor of boys dormitory; Faith S. Brown, English and public speaking and preceptress of girls' dormitory; O. L. Buhr, registrar and athletics; Francis Hovey, music and physical training.

EVANGELICAL DELEGATES MEET.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Forty-four delegates from the United States and Canada are here for the annual convention of the board of missions of the Evangelical association. They represent 145,475 persons in America and abroad who contributed $460,975.91 in the year ending Aug. 31 to home and foreign missions. Conferences in Germany, Switzerland, Russia, Japan and China, are represented here. The missionary branch of the Evangelical association was organized seventy-five years ago, and extended its work to foreign fields in 1850.

OUTLINES ROOSEVELT'S SOUTHERN ITINERARY.

New York, Oct. 3.—Anthony Fiala, the Arctic explorer whom Theodore Roosevelt selected to prepare the equipment and supplies for the colonel's South American trip, has announced some of the details of the itinerary through Brazil. The party, Mr. Fiala included, will sail Saturday for Brazil.

From Buenos Ayres a 1,400-mile journey by water will be made to the head waters of the Paraguay river. Thence they will strike in Matto Grosso, a forest-covered territory intersected by water courses in the center of Brazil. In a little-explored territory between the river Tapajos and Xinju, Col. Roosevelt will penetrate where few men have gone before. Jungles abound where bands of Indians rove.

"One reason for the colonel's trip," said Mr. Fiala," is a desire to promote the spirit of good will existing between South American republics and the United States."

TO AVOID COURTS.

New York Chamber of Commerce Adopts Proposition.

New York, Oct. 3.—The New York Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution to place before the chambers of commerce and boards of trade of the world a plan for settling disputes between merchants of two or more nations without going to the courts. The plan contemplates the insertion in contracts between merchants of two nations of a standard clause providing for the settlement of disputes by an arbitration tribunal to be appointed by a commercial body named in the contract.

KILL CATARRH GERM USE BOOTH'S HYOMEI

Try the sure and most effective way to reach the raw, tender inflamed mucous membrane infested with catarrh germs—breathe Hyomei. All druggists sell it.

You cannot reach the nooks and crevices of the breathing organs with liquid preparations; there is only one way—breathe a few times daily the germ-destroying air of Booth's Hyomei. It acts directly on the inflamed membranes and destroys the catarrhal germs.

If you suffer from offensive breath, raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, husky voice, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, spasmodic coughing, or any other symptoms of catarrh, use Hyomei at once. It will destroy the disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs, and give quick and permanent relief, or money refunded by Boyce Drug Store.

The complete outfit including pocket inhaler and bottle of liquid costs $1.00, extra bottles of liquid if later needed, 50 cents.

FAIR IDEA INDORSED

Suggestion of Tri-State Exhibition Is Favored By Experts.

Northern Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin Would Be Brought Closer.

The idea of a tri-state fair, recently suggested in The Herald by C. P. Craig, is receiving indorsement by experts who have for years taken a deep interest in the development of Northern Minnesota, Northern Michigan and Northern Wisconsin. It is conceded by such of these as took occasion to visit the city last week that Duluth's exposition was far in advance of any county fair, both in the number and quality of the exhibits staged.

The letters appended voice the general sentiment. They were received today by Charls P. Craig, one being from F. H. Gibbs of St. Anthony Park, Minn., one of the most successful vegetable growers in the vicinity of the Twin Cities and whose services have for years being much in request as a judge at state fairs, and the other from Roy H. Beebe, editor of the Lake Superior Farmer. Mr. Gibbs says:

Makes Good Suggestions.

"The Duluth exposition exhibit was much better both in quality and quantity than any I have seen at any county fair. The only weakness was in some cases where over grown specimens were selected.

"The exhibit of potatoes was of exceptionally high standard, was better by far than the potato exhibit at the state fair this year. The roots and cabbages were also very high grade. The onions were well grown, but the growers evidently lacked experience in caring for them for they had been left in the ground too long and they appeared to have started second growth.

"The vine crops were excellent—far better than I had expected would grow go near the North pole. The arrangement could not have been better. The market gardeners' display of Louis Christensen and the one next to him was a credit to any gardener anywhere; every article was well grown and well selected. The retail exhibit of C. L. Roe and two others in the same lot; also the home gardens. Duluth head lettuce and cauliflower were, of course, in a class by themselves and can't be equaled anywhere.

"If you have another exhibit of this kind I would suggest that another lot be added to class 'C,' so that an entire community like Meadowlands would not be competing with single individuals.

"Also where the display is sold from and added to each day and scored for points each day, that the prize ribbons be attached each day. Then no one could maintain a low grade exhibit all week and then come in Saturday with a lot of fresh stuff and carry off the only blue ribbon awarded in the class. Some exhibitors, yourself and myself included, think more of a blue ribbon than we do of the cash prize."

Mr. Beebe says: "I have your letter of the 26th, and believe that your 'land product show' for next year could take in a good deal of additional territory. I feel particularly friendly to the idea because for some time I have felt that the 'Duluth sphere of influence' should extend into Wisconsin a great deal farther than it does. There is no use talking, our peoples have not got the money to put things over the way you have in Duluth, and I believe that if your people make an effort, you could cultivate a great deal more friendly feeling than exists at the present time. I hope that I am catholic enough to realize the good Duluth can do us and Wisconsin, and one way to bring about such relations is through the plan you suggest."

ORDERS DEATH CHAIR.

Governor Ralston Takes Action in Indiana Affair.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 3.—Governor Ralston has ordered Warden Fogarty of the state prison at Michigan City to install immediately an electric chair for the execution of convicted murderers.

Two weeks ago, when two men who had killed their wives were condemned to death, prison officials declared they would be unable to carry out the court's decree because the last legislature, in substituting electrocution for hanging, had failed to appropriate money to install the outfit.

BANKERS CALL ON THE PRESIDENT.

Washington, Oct. 3.—President Wilson late yesterday greeted at the White House more than one hundred bankers from Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, en route to the convention of the American Bankers' association to be held next week in Boston. The bankers were accompanied by their wives and families and the party filled the president's office.

SAYS CIVILIZED RACE MUST RULE.

Southampton, England, Oct. 3.—The earl of Selborne, former governor of the Transvaal and high commissioner to South Africa, who has had plenty of opportunity for studying the color question, told the church of England congress that backward races could not exist permanetnly in independence side by side with a civilized race.

"There must," he said, "be effective control, full and complete, and exercised in the light of day, by the civilized race. If any of these conditions should be absent, there would be a state of anarchy resulting in the demoralization and decay of the native race.

"Natives who are found unfit for the vote ought to be provided with some constitutional means for expressing their grievances and wants."

DEPOSITORS MUST EXERCISE PATIENCE

Closing of Milwaukee Trust Concern May Not Mean Loss, Says Official.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 3.—The Citizens' Saving & Trust company, founded in 1857 and the oldest corporation of its kind in Milwaukee, was closed yesterday afternoon by State Bank Examiner A. E. Knolt. The liabilities of the company are placed at about $1,000,000, of which about $350,000 is in deposits and $650,000 in participating certificates, which are in the nature of mortgage bonds, secured by various parcels of real estates.

To protect all depositors the banking commissioner has segregated $428,000 of good assets to protect $350,000 of deposits.

Examiner Knolt has issued the following statement:

"In closing the doors of the Citizens' Savings & Trust company my intent is to conserve the interests of depositors and protect them from loss, if possible.

"The assets of the trust company are, under the law, primarily liable, and will be used for the payment of depositors.

"The trust funds are secured by a deposit of $101,000, approved securities with the state treasurer. This $101,000 will more than cover all obligations of the trust company as trustee.

"The holders of participating certificates will have to look to specific investments in which such certificates participate for their redemption. These participating certificates are not a liability of the trust company.

"When I assumed the duties of commissioner of banking I had A. B. Gellfuss, a veteran banker, and at that time bank examiner, elected to the office of vice president of the Citizens' Savings & Trust company. He was my representative in full charge of the affairs of the trust company. It was during his incumbency that the old deals cropped up revealing false entries, crookedness, diversion of funds, etc., committed by former officials of this trust company.

"In liquidating there may be some shrinkage, but if the depositors will exercise patience, it would appear that they can probably be paid in full."

The business of the company will be wound up by Mr. Gellfuss, who is in charge as deputy banking commissioner.

The closing of the Citizens' Savings & Trust bank, it is stated, will have practically no significance on the financial situation here as related to banking. Its affairs have been known in banking and business circles for some time.

GRAND FORKS GUN COMPANY ASSURED.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 3.—About sixty, or a sufficient number of men to form a machine gun company, have signed up for the military organization to be formed in this city.

An organization meeting will be held next Monday night in the Grand Forks Commercial club rooms, and an election of officers and formation of a company will take place.

Arrangements have been made with the Grand Forks oratoria to use the city auditorium as an armory, and this will be one of the finest buildings in the entire Northwest for drills. The local company will be the fourth machine gun company in the country and will be an honor to the state and the city, having it located in North Dakota and Grand Forks.

The guns can be supplied on short notice, and will be sent from Washington immediately after the formation and acceptance of the company.

Leaders in the movement are in hopes to sign a full company of eighty men before the meeting on Monday night.

Three mules for conveying the same number of machine guns will be purchased and kept for that purpose upon the formation of the company.

Maxim Gorky Consumptive.

Naples, Oct. 3.—Maxim Gorky, the Russian novelist, who lives at a villa on the island of Capri, is so ill with tuberculosis that he has been obliged to come here and submit to a special cure.

Sheldon Heads Medics.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 3.—Dr. Charles S. Sheldon of Madison was elected president of the State Medical Society of Wisconsin at the annual convention here. Dr. Curtis A. Evans of Milwaukee was elected vice president. Dr. C. J. Combes, Oshkosh, was elected second vice president, and Dr. E. A. Kinney, Madison, third vice president.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

WANTS GOVERNMENT TO OWN WIRE SERVICE

Lewis of Maryland Is Framing Bill for Presentation.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines is to be proposed in a bill Representative Lewis of Maryland is drafting for introduction in the house. Although the measure which would have these public utilities taken over as a part of the postal service have not been made an administration policy, the president is known to have discussed the idea with Representative Lewis and others interested in the project.

GARDNER OPPOSES VOTES FOR WOMEN.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 3.—A new element was injected into the state campaign with the announcement by Congressman Augustus P. Gardner, Republican candidate for governor that he is opposed to woman suffrage.

The committee on resolutions had prepared a plank for next Saturday's state convention favoring an amendment to the Constitution which would give the ballot to women. Congressman Gardner said:

"Personally I shall not vote for woman suffrage if the question is referred to the people."

FREE—Get This Diaper

Pattern and Save Your Baby From Pins

The Pinless, Buttonless Diaper has come and these stores have gladly volunteered to give the Pattern Free to every mother and every nurse. Half the tears and half the suffering of your little baby will be banished when you use this comfortable, convenient style of diaper that you can cut and fold yourself from this Free Pattern.

Think of it—not a pin to come unfastened and jab and stab the helpless little child. Babies have suffered tortures from the pricks and scratches of the deadly "safety" pin that is safe only as long as nothing unusual happens to unfasten it. Babies have been poisoned by pin-stabs and scratches.

The new Pinless Pattern of Diapers is not for sale—not a cent will be taken for it—but every mother and every nurse may have the pattern absolutely free. And this style of Diaper is scientific—it has extra thickness where needed, but not a particle of bulkiness to get on baby's sensitive nerves or make him bow-legged, as less scientifically cut diapers may do.

Free at These Stores

These stores will be glad to give you this new Pinless and Buttonless Pattern of Diapers Free of all cost and without obligation—simply ask or send for one.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

McLeod County.

State of Minnesota, respondent, vs. Henning Wallen, appellant.—In a prosecution for incest it is held that the evidence is sufficient to support the verdict of guilty, and that the record presents no reversible error. Order affirmed. Brown, C. J.

St. Louis County.

Clara Barthes, respondent, vs. Pittsburg Iron Ore company, appellant.—In an action to recover for injuries sustained by plaintiff in consequence of the alleged negligence of defendant in its blasting operations at one of its iron mines, located in close proximity to a public highway, upon which plaintiff was passing at the time of her injury, it is Held, That the evidence sustains the verdict of negligence on the part of defendant; that the verdict is not founded in speculation or conjecture in respect to the fact that the injury came from defendant's mine; and that the damages awarded by the jury are not excessive. Order affirmed. Brown, C. J.

Ramsey County.

Richard E. Burdick, minor, by A. K. Burdick, his father, respondent, vs. C. & N. W. Ry. Co., appellant.—A brakeman, in attempting to board a moving car in switching yards of defendant, was injured by his feet catching in a hard and crusted snowdrift in close proximity to the track. This drift had existed for some length of time, and was formed partly by the drifting of snow and partly by snow thrown from the tracks in clearing a way for trains to pass. It is held:

1. Whether it was negligence for defendant to fail to remove this snow drift was on the evidence a question for the jury.

2. The evidence does not conclusively show that plaintiff assumed the risk. Judgment affirmed. Bunn, J.

Hennepin County.

Rotzien-Furber Lbr. Co. respondent vs. Eric Franson, et al, appellants.—Contract for sale of lumber sustained as against an objection for want of mutuality, though there was no express undertaking on the part of the seller to sell, such undertaking being sufficiently implied from the express terms.

Complaint in action for breach of contracts for sale of lumber held sufficient as against an objection to the introduction of evidence thereunder.

Evidence held sufficient to sustain the jury's finding as to amount of lumber covered by the contract declared on, and also their finding that defendant had failed to deliver it as agreed.

Where a contract for the sale of all the lumber in a certain lumber yard gave the seller the privilege of reserving an indefinite amount of lumber for use in the erection of a certain building, it was incumbent upon the seller, when sued for failure to deliver as agreed, to plead and prove the facts necessary to a reduction of liability in consequence of the exercise of the privilege so reserved.

Complaint and evidence in action based upon breach of a contract for the sale of lumber by failure to deliver as agreed, held sufficient to sustain a recovery, as for money had and received, of advance payments made by the plaintiff.

Instruction as to the plaintiff's right to such a recovery under the evidence, sustained as against a contention that it was ambiguous and misleading.

Other assignments of error considered and held to present no reversible error. Order affirmed.

Freeborn County.

Martin Hagen, respondent vs. C., R. I. & P. Ry. Co. appellant.—1. The evidence sustained the allegations of negligence in the complaint that defendant backed a train at excessive speed, and without observing the adopted practice of having a look-out at the front of the forward car and ringing a bell, and because thereof plaintiff was injured.

2. Upon this record the defense of contributory negligence was for the jury and the verdict in that respect finds fair support.

3. An omission to give a complete definition of assumption of risk is no cause for reversal here, because the definition given was accurate as far as it went, the evidence presented no situation to which the omitted part was applicable, no suggestion of an omission or inaccuracy was made when the court at the end of the charge asked counsel if any had been made, and it seems the record does not raise the question of assumption of risk. Order affirmed. Holt, J.

Freeborn County.

John Eckart, appellant, vs. J. P. Kiel, respondent for the son; John Eckart, appellant, vs. J. P. Kiel, respondent for the father—1. Defendant had dynamite caps in his possession upon his farm. He sold the farm to plaintiff. Some time later plaintiff's minor son was injured by the explosion of a dynamite cap which, it is claimed, was picked up by a child in the barnyard. Under the testimony, which is fully stated in the opinion, it is held that the court should have submitted to the jury the question whether the cap which caused the injury was one of those defendant had in his possession.

2. The court should have submitted to the jury the question whether negligence on the part of defendant was proven.

3. Defendant's testimony as to the disposition he made of the dynamite caps is not directly contradicted. His testimony as to other material matters was flatly contradicted. His testimony where uncontradicted cannot be held true as a matter of law. Its credibility was for the jury.

4. If the jury should believe that he gave a false account of the disposition of these caps, they would be at liberty to infer that the truth would be unfavorable to him.

Order reversed and new trial granted. Hallam, J.

Ramsey County.

Dena Uggen, administratrix respondent, vs. Bazille & Partridge, et al, defendants, Bazille & Partridge, appellants—1. In an action based upon the alleged negligence of the master in failing to warn the servant as to the dangers attending his work, negligence is not presumed and the burden is upon the plaintiff to show that such warning was not given.

2. To render the testimony of a witness that he did not hear such warning admissible to prove that it was not given, it must appear that the circumstances were such that he probably would have heard the warning had it in fact been given.

3. Prior statements of a witness inconsistent with his testimony are admissible for the purpose of impeachment, although they state what he understood instead of the facts upon which such understanding was based, and it was error to exclude such statements. Order reversed and new trial granted. Taylor, C.

Hennepin County.

Frank M. Ford, respondent, vs. Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway company, appellant—1. Under the commerce clause of the Federal Constitution, congress may regulate the contract between the carrier and shipper as to liability for loss in interstate shipments. Until legislation by congress the extent of the liability is determined by the application of common law principles, or by the public policy of the particular state, or it may be fixed by statute.

2. By the Hepburn act of June 29, 1906, 34 Stat. 584, c. 3591, congress exercised its authority to regulate interstate shipments and the power of the state was at an end.

3. The schedules of fares and charges and the regulations filed with the interstate commerce commission by the carrier pursuant to the provisions of the Hepburn act are controlling between the carrier and the shipper.

4. The schedule of fares and charges and baggage regulations filed by the carrier with the interstate commerce commission fixing the limit of liability for loss of baggage bind the carrier and passenger in interstate transportation. Order reversed. Dibell, C. Hallam, J., dissents.

Anoka County.

In the Matter of the Consolidation of School Districts Numbered 12, 13, 17, 18, 66 and 31 in Anoka County, and 31 in Isanti County, Minnesota. L. E. Hitchcock, appellant, vs. Consolidated School District No. 12, et al., respondents.—1. Proof that a foreign born resident has voted, when voting without naturalization is a crime, raises a presumption of naturalization; and this presumption arises though the naturalization of the one voting comes through the naturalization of his father.

2. Applying the law stated to the evidence it is held that a holding that a resident of the state, born in Germany, who had voted many years in this country, was a citizen, is justified. Order affirmed. Dibell, C.

TO MEET AT MINNEAPOLIS

State Convention of the Minnesota Congregationalists Next Week.

Proposals Affecting Government of the Church Will Be Debated.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 3. — More than 300 men, prominent in the Congregational churches of Minnesota, will gather Oct. 7 to 9, at Plymouth church, Minneapolis, for the fifty-eighth annual convention of the General Congregational association of the state. The delegates will include pastors of churches and a large number of laymen, chosen in proportion of one to each hundred of membership.

Questions of importance relating to the denomination in Minnesota, some of which will have to do with the national council in Kansas City, Oct. 22 to 31, will be considered. Among them are proposals affecting the status of various missionary bodies in the denomination and a proposal for the election of a general secretary to superyise the work of the church. The second proposal, according to members of the church, will be sharply debated.

There will be other proposals that, if adopted, will change the government of the denomination.

Convention Program.

The convention will open early Tuesday, Oct. 7, with a business session, given to reports of the officials and committees, and visitors at the denomination schools.

"Minnesota, the Land of Opportunity," will be the subject of the address at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday by Dr. Dewey, as moderator, and at 8:30 p. m. Rev. Theophilus S. Devitt, Winona, will deliver the annual sermon, taking for his theme, "Salvation by Expression." Communion service will end the night session.

A devotional address by Ozora S. Davis, president of Chicago Theological seminary, at 9 a. m., Wednesday, will be followed by the annual meeting of the Minnesota Missionary society, at which Supt. Everet Lesher, Minneapolis, will deliver an address on "Congregational and Opportunity Work in Minnesota."

E. W. Peck, state Y. M. C. A. secretary, will talk about work for boys and at 11:30 a. m. Dean L. A. Weigle of Northfield will make an address, "Eucken—The Life of the Spirit."

Sunday School Sessions Oct. 5.

The Sunday school session, beginning Wednesday, Oct. 8, at 2:30 p. m., will be given to reports and addresses by Rev. J. O. Ferris, Rev. E. A. Drake and Rev. R. P. Herrick, all of Minneapolis, and Miss Margaret Slattery, Boston. Devotional service will begin at 7:45 Wednesday.

Proposed changes in denominational polity are scheduled for discussion at 10:15 Tuesday, when Rev. H. K. Painter, assistant moderator, will submit the report of the committee of nineteen; A. A. Miller of Crookston will read a paper, "Dangers and Difficulties," and Rev. C. N. Thorp, Rev. E. B. Dean and others will participate.

"Touring in War-Ridden Turkey" will be the subject of a lecture by Rev. John K. Brownie, Harpoot, Turkey, at 3:30 Wednesday, and "Liberating Angels," that of a talk by Miss Annie L. Howe, Kobe, Japan. Hamlin Hunt, organist at Plymouth church, will give a recital at 4:30 p. m.

William T. Holmes, Tougaloo, Miss., president of the American Missionary association, will deliver an address before that organization at 8:15 p. m. Thursday night, after which the address by President Northrop will close the convention.

Cyrus Northrop Is President.

Cyrus Northrop is president of the association and Rev. H. P. Dewey, Minneapolis, is moderator. Other officials of the Minnesota association are Rev. H. K. Painter, assistant moderator; Rev. M. B. Morirs, secretary and treasurer, and Rev. George P. Morrill, scribe.

The business committee is made up of Rev. W. C. A. Wallat, chairman; Rev. Frank Newhall White and Rev. John P. Miller, and the committee on arrangements comprises C. N. Chadbourn, chairman; James A. Ross, Charles I. Fuller, David N. Winton, D. D. Webster, W. O. Jones and George W. Teitsworth.

MARKSMANSHIP IS IMPROVING.

The police at the regular weekly target practice yesterday afternoon did the best shooting since this feature was established as part of the routine of the department.

Sergt. Roberg set a record with his total score of 48 points out of a possible 50. This is the highest score yet made by the police of this city. Each officer is allowed ten shots, each perfect one counting five points.

The other scores made are: Patrolman Smollett, 45; Patrolman Murray, 43; Patrolman Ek, 43; Patrolmen Andree and Englert, 42; Patrolmen George Wood and Dinkel, 38; Patrolmen Holmstrom, Peterson and Root, 37; Patrolman Stahl, 35, and Lieut. Fritz, 33.

FEEL YOUNG!

It's Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets For You.

Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from just a few constipated days, unless you take yourself in hand.

Coax the jaded bowel muscles back to normal action with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them to unnatural action with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines with nasty, sickening cathartics.

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistency and Nature's assistance.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets open the bowels; their action is gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain, or griping when Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two occasionally and have no trouble with your liver, bowels or stomach. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

BOY STARTED OUT TO SEEK ADVENTUNE

Declaring that his son, William Dardis, 14 years old, who was arrested here Wednesday morning after a report of his disappearance was received from International Falls, had been influenced to a great extent by cheap motion pictures, Joseph Dardis arrived from the border city last evening to take the young fugitive home. They left for International Falls this morning. The boy had taken $51 from his mother before leaving for Duluth and when arrested here had $37 of the money in his possession, together with a revolver and some cartridges.

DULUTH GIRL IS SUCCESSFUL HUNTER

Miss Florence Johnson, in charge of the St. Louis hotel cigar stand, has just returned from a two weeks' vacation on the range. Miss Johnson spent a good share of her vaction shooting nead Lake Denum and succeeded in bringing home a good bag of ducks and chickens.

Forger Sentenced.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 3.—James P. O'Connor, real estate broker, pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery and was sentenced to from one to fourteen years in the penitentiary. O'Connor's forgeries were said to have aggregated more than $35,000.

BIG INCREASE IN BUILDING SHOWN

Substantial growth in Duluth's population and industrial progress is reflected in the report of the building inspector for September.

During the month, permits were issued for buildings to the value of $473,879, being an increase of $316,937 over August and of $388,489 over September last year. The number of permits taken out showed a gain of sixty-two over the tally of a year ago. Building operations are active in all sections of the city with the steel plant districts giving an especially good account of themselves.

Industrial development was much in evidence in the month's building operations. Under that category came permits for $10,000 taken out by the Minnesota Radiator company for its plant now under erection on a site adjoining the Zenith Furnace company.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BOOSTERS ARE SPEEDING UP

North Dakota Commercial Clubs Plan to Make Things Hum.

Harvest Festivals, Dinners and Other Stimulating Features on Card.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Varied interests and enterprises have demanded the attention of the enterprising commercial clubs of North Dakota during the week, many of the business men's organizations devoting their time to the planning of fall or harvest market festivals and similar enterprises.

The Lisbon club has just brought about establishment of a unique rest-room for the farm women. It contains a model kitchen, playroom for children, a bedroom for the youngsters, a dining room and parlor. While this rest home was made up especially for the corn festival week, it may be made permanent. The Women's Civic league co-operated with the Commercial club in planning the enterprise.

The Devils Lake Commercial club has inaugurated a series of dinners, the first being held with W. P. Davies of Grand Forks as the speaker.

President J. L. Cashel, Jr., of the Crafton Commercial club, says the club will enter on a new era of activity and he expects to make the season interesting, urging a membership campaign and other features.

The Kenmare Commercial club has planned a big game hunt, and afterwards will enjoy a feed. The Kenmare club's executive committee also has laid plans for the winter season, one of the questions that will be given consideration being that of providing more residences for the city, there now being a scarcity of property of that nature.

The Hettinger land sale advertisement has brought a tremendous influx of inquiries and big things are anticipated of the new plan, which will be tried next week.

A plan proposed by the Devils Lake Commercial club of marking the opening of the Soo depot there with a celebration, has been approved by officials of the Soo line.

W. A. Young has resigned as secretary of the Fordville Commercial club and S. S. Haislet elected in his place.

A tri-county farmers' day is being planned, the affair being held Oct. 21.

Nome, Barnes county, will hold an agricultural fair and educational celebration, Oct. 18. Oakes is holding a corn contest and market festival, commencing today.

Today the Grand Forks Commercial club will make a visit to the International demonstration farm, adjoining the city.

The Hettinger fair, which is being backed by the Mott Commercial club, will be closed today. It has been very successful.

Carpio holds a harvest festival Oct. 11 under the direction of the Carpio Commercial club.

At Langdon a plan of civic beautification will be carried out with the Commercial club in charge.

CARELESS HUNTERS IN PENINSULA WOODS

Unusual Number of Casualties Since Opening of the Season.

Republic, Mich., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—During the short period intervening since rabbits and ducks have become legal game this fall, an unusual number of hunting accidents have occurred in Upper Michigan. In two instances deaths resulted. Now that the partridge season has opened and many more hunters will go to the woods, it may be expected that the list of casualties will be materially expanded. The roster of the victims to date follows:

Frank McGrath, aged 31, of Ironwood; killed by the accidental discharge of his gun while hunting ducks. McGrath was an expert in the use of firearms and had trailed moose, caribou and other big game in the wilds of Canada.

Leslie Atwill, aged 10, of Princeton; killed while looking into the muzzle of his rifle and when the gun was discharged in some unknown manner.

Matt Niemi, married, of Rapid River; gun discharged when used as a prop; lost one hand and may lose sight of one eye.

John Paradise, aged 28, of Bessemer; suffered loss of hand; gun accidentally discharged.

Joseph Osterman, Jr., of Baraga; three fingers shot off by gun used as a walking stick in crossing a stream.

Arsin Tousignant, Jr., of Ishpeming; arm shattered; gun discharged while carried on handcar.

John Griffs, Sault Ste. Marie; accidentally shot by son while hunting ducks; arm badly torn.

Albert Wallenstine, aged 13, of Ishpeming; shot in head by boy companion who mistook him for a rabbit; condition serious.

Howard Carlson, aged 14, of Marquette; shot himself in leg.

Alfred La Reaux, aged 10, of Perronville; shot while herding cows by unknown hunter; one eye destroyed.

OTTERTAIL COUNTY LAND $90 AN ACRE.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Oct. 3.—Another big land deal has just been made in this locality, the well-known N. E. Nelson farm in the town of Aurdal being sold for $90 per acre. This farm consists of 200 acres, and is one of the best farms in the county. It has the finest kind of buildings, and has always been properly handled, crop rotation and the manure spreader having kept the land in prime condition. The purchasers are Iowa parties.

The farm has recently been owned by Nels M. Nelson, who bought out the interest of the other heirs after the death of his father, N. E. Nelson.

PENINSULA FACTIONS SCORE EVEN BREAK.

Marquette, Mich., Oct. 3.—In the announcement of the appointment of Arthur A. Juttner to be postmaster at Menominee and Daniel A. Holland to be postmaster at Hancock, Marquette Democrats last evening professed to see signs either that the "organization" men and the "original" Wilson men had arrived at a compromise or that the Democratic powers at Washington had decided to deal with them with an even hand. Juttner has been an "organization" man and Holland has been one of the "originals."

St. Paul May Push West.

Belgrade, St. D., Oct. 3.—A rumor has been revived here that the St. Paul railroad is preparing to build an extension from its Black Hills line through Western South Dakota, to connect with the Puget Sound extension of the road at Miles City, Mont.

The Dyspeptic's Dream Is a Good Meal

And He Could Most Completely Enjoy It If He Ate a Stewart's Dyspepsia Tablet After It.

One of the greatest horrors to dyspepsia sufferers is the fear of food consequences. They know from past experiences that meats, vegetables and fluids will not agree with them. The stomach tells them so and thus after awhile they actually learn to abhor such dishes.

But often in their dreams they experience the joys of eating a hearty soup-to-nuts meal of the good old fashioned kind. When they awake the old fear is still with them.

"He could eat a meal like that if he took a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet."

Of course this fear of food is natural. It arises from an abused and diseased digestion, but the moment you put into the stomach along with the food you eat the very elements that will digest the meal you will suffer no evil effects, and thus lose your fear of food.

Such elements are contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and they are so powerful and yet so thoroughly natural that of themselves, when placed in a glass tube with a mixed food, they will actually digest that food.

More than the mere act of digesting the meal eaten, they go into the blood and thus enrich all the digestive machinery of man so that when the next meal is eaten the fluids are stronger and more capable of doing their work.

A little Stuart Dyspepsia Tablet taken after each meal will quickly restore the dyspeptic's digestion so he can enjoy the meal of his dreams in reality.

Obtain a box from your druggist. Price, 50 cents.

GREAT NORTHERN TO RESIST PAYING REBATE.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—A test suit to determine the validity of the point raised by the Great Northern Railroad company that it does not have to rebate freight rates on freight consigned from Minnesota points to East Grand Forks during the period the state rates were held up by litigation, was filed yesterday in the district court of Polk county.

The Great Northern maintains that it does not have to make the rebate on the plea that all freight consigned to East Grand Forks is first sent to Grand Forks, N. D., and then switched back here, thus making it interstate commerce.

In the test suit, W. H. Bird, a local dealer, is the plaintiff. Among allegations raised is one to the effect that the railroad is simply employing a subterfuge to avoid state control.

UPSOLA CREAMERY OPENING CELEBRATED.

Holdingford, Minn., Oct. 3.—The celebration of the opening of the new creamery at Upsala Tuesday was probably the most largely attended gathering of the kind ever held in the county. About 1,500 persons were present, according to careful estimates.

The most prominent feature of the affair was the visit by Governor A. O. Eberhart. He was taken from the train at Avon at noon by C. J. Peterson, William Schindler and Pete Viebauser. The party arrived at Holdingford at 1 o'clock and a brief stop was made at the schoolhouse, where the teachers and pupils greeted the governor with a song, and he spoke to them for a few minutes. The arrival at Upsala was at 1:30, where again the school children, with flags and the band, greeted the guest of the day.

Dinner was served to the governor and party at the Borgstrom residence. At 2:30 President Peterson of the Creamery company gave a history of the creamery, after which he introduced the governor, who spoke on schools, co-operation and public utilities.

Gotch Not in Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—When some of the newspapers recently reported that Frank Gotch, champion wrestler, had been in North Dakota on a hunting trip with a friend and the two secured 168 prairie chickens in North Dakota in two days, the state game board and wardens were somewhat excited. Two men in two days would have been entitled to forty birds in this state. In response to a letter of inquiry addressed to him at Humboldt, Iowa, Mr. Gotch writes: "I was not in North Dakota. A party of four of us hunted in Polk county, Minn. We never secured the bag limit any day, but got a nice lot of birds and had a good time. I did no shooting in North Dakota whatever."

Schoolmasters to Meet.

Grafton, N. D., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. E. L. Whitney, secretary of the North Dakota Schoolmasters' league, has issued a call for the first meeting of the organization, which will be held in Fargo Nov. 4. On the program for addresses are C. C. Schmidt of the state university; J. Nelson Kelly, Grand Forks; F. L. Whitney, Grafton; E. R. Edwards, Jamestown; J. H. Stauff, Langdon; W. E. Hoover, Fargo, and C. C. Root, Bismarck. The league will adopt its constitution at that time.

La Crosse Man Murdered.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 3.—Thomas Rye, who disappeared immediately after engaging in a saloon brawl and whose body later was found in the Mississippi river, was murdered by a blow on the head by an unknown person, according to the verdict the coroner's jury returned last night. The theory of suicide was exploded by two physicians, who testified, after a postmortem examination, that no water was found in Rye's lungs, and that cuts on the head showed death had resulted from blows. Nicholas H. Hefti, alleged to have hit Rye on the head with his fists in the saloon fight, is being held by the police, and others who participated in the quarrel will be arrested.

Paint Men Elect.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 3.—Louisville was chosen for the 1914 convention of the National Paint, Oil and Varnish association at today's session. The following officers were elected. President, P. J. Callahan, Louisville; vice presidents, Charles J. Casher, Pittsburg; George W. Mephan, St. Louis, and Robert Thomas, Chicago; secretary and treasurer, F. P. Cheesman, New York.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Chassell—The Chassell Athletic club held its first business meeting for ensuing season and it was decided by the members of the club to begin practice at once in Gagnon's hall.

Calumet—Local and Keweenaw and Lake Linden bowlers are preparing to organize a strong six-team bowling league, which shall include three of the strongest teams that can be picked from these three districts and it is probable that a meeting of the managers of the several teams will be called during the coming week for the purpose of electing officers and drawing up a schedule.

Hancock—At a meeting of the Finnish Farmers' Milling company officers for the ensuing term were elected, the following being named for the various offices: President, John Kilskila; vice president, William Johnson; secretary, Matt Marjamaa; treasurer and general manager, Dan Bukema.

Palmesdale—Maj. Earl R. Stewart of the Second regiment infantry who has had charge of the soldiers stationed on the south range of the Copper district during the past sixty days addressed the students of Adams township high school during the course of which he presented a beautiful new flag to the school to replace the one borrowed by the troops upon their arrival.

Negaunee—Miss Mary Brown, aged 65 years and a former school teacher in the Negaunee schools from 1870 to 1875, died Tuesday morning from heart failure as she was teaching her class.

Negaunee—Miss Ida Field of this city, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Field was married Tuesday at Ishpeming at the parsonage of the Finnish Lutheran church, to August Heikkila. Miss Field is one of Negaunee's most popular young ladies.

Hubbell—Nov. 6 has been selected as the date for the semi-annual meeting of the Lake Superior Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers. The sessions this year will be held at Hubbell. A program committee has been named to arrange for speakers and the reading of papers.

Ishpeming—Marquette county and especially Ishpeming and environments, will be well represented at the supreme lodge of the Sons of St. George, which will commence at Boston Tuesday of next week. The Marquette county men have been elected represetnatives to this convention are: Capt. John Trebilcock of the National, George Tucker of Marquette, Capt. J. H. Rough of Negaunee and William Andrews and Steven Perilli of Ishpeming. Mr. Andrews is messenger of the supreme lodge and according to the rules of rotation will this year be advanced to the vice presidency.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Redwood Falls—The fortieth annual Redwood county fair now in progress is pronounced the best ever held in the county. New buildings costing about $10,000 have been erected. They are a new grandstand, exhibit building, cattle show barn and horse exhibit pavilion. With good weather it is expected there will be a record-breaking crowd each day. "Happy Heart," the fastest 2-year-old colt in Minnesota, will go against his time on Saturday.

Owatonna—On the Elmer Steele farm, a few miles north of Ellendale, a winter apple tree is bearing both fruit and blossoms. Nothing of the kind has ever been seen in this vicinity before.

White Earth—John R. Howard, superintendent and special disbursing agent, is in receipt of information that the secretary of the interior has authorized the payment of $106,200 to the White Earth reservation band. This sum is derived from a credit interest on Minnesota Chippewa tribal funds. The amount to be paid will be about $18 per capita, and it is the purpose of the department to pay the latter part of the present month.

Park Rapids—John M. Wiley, promoter of the North and South railroad, submitted his new proposition that he would enter Park Rapids provided the village would bond for $12,500, the bonds to be payable when the road is completed. The sum of $2,500 is to be his bonus for changing the survey, and the village is to give him a right-of-way. The directors of the Commercial club decided to lay the proposition on the table until after Wiley is tried in Federal court in October.

Ortonville—The district convention of the W. R. C. was held in this place yesterday. The department president, Mrs. Carrie May Nelson of Minneapolis, was present, also Mrs. Georgia Smith, the department inspector. A feature of the meeting was an 18-mile boat ride on Big Stone lake and an automobile tour.

Blue Earth—The city of Blue Earth will soon have a "white way" along three blocks of its main street, $2,000 having been subscribed by individuals for this purpose. The council has voted to extend the sidewalks on each side of the street four feet, making a 14-foot walk. The lights will be the five cluster globe, placed 100 feet apart on both sides of the main thoroughfare.

Wilmona—While riding a motorcycle, John Rapp collided with a horse and buggy and received injuries which may result in his death. One of the shafts was driven through his stomach. The young man's father was accidentally killed while hunting five years ago.

Winona—The Young Women's Christian association, organized here this year, is launching a campaign to raise $60,000 to purchase and equip a plant in Winona and provide running expenses for the first two years.

Perham—The fair held here was a success from every point of view. The weather was ideal, the exhibits unusually fine and the attendance exceptionally large. Mrs. Baker of Minneapolis, who judged the needlework and canned goods, paid the ladies of this community a high compliment on their exhibit.

Fergus Falls—Miss Catherine Guter, a woman 29 years of age, committed suicide at the state insane hospital here yesterday by hanging herself. Miss Guter had suicidal tendencies and was closely watched, but she managed to slip away about 7 o'clock Wednesday morning and was found hanging in a small closet. She was a school teacher before going insane. Her father resides at Tioga, N. D.

Albert Lea—The Washburn hotel was robbed early yesterday of paper currency and silver amounting to over $50. S. H. Severson, the proprietor, had taken the receipts into his room and placed it beside his bed for safe keeping. A valuable watch on a chair was overlooked. A man employed by Severonly two weeks is missing.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

McIntosh, S. D.—Leo Bruguier, a half-breed Indian, and a negro, charged with having stabbed a brakeman, broke from the county jail here. The former was recaptured.

Forestburg, S. D.—The Forestburg Sentinel is the latest South Dakota weekly to suspend publication.

Lemmon, S. D.—A crew of men under Oscar N. Sampson has started work on Lemmon's portion of the Twin Cities - Aberdeen - Yellowstone park trail.

Pierre, S. D.—Articles of incorporation have been filed for the American State bank at Beresford, with a capital of $15,000.

Fargo, N. D.—C. P. Stine, formerly secretary of the Fargo Commercial club, now holds a similar position at Pomona, Cal. Mr. Stine, prior to coming to Fargo, was secretary of the Commercial club in St. Paul and of the St. Paul Associated Charities for a number of years.

Marmarth, N. D.—P. I. De Lange, president of the Farmers' State bank, died here. He was 81 years of age and was a native of Cresco, Iowa, at which place interment will be made.

Fargo, N. D.—An inquiry was received by Chief Bingham from Miss Marguerite Harmon of Spokane, asking about the whereabouts of Clara and Olga Boutenberg. A considerable sum of money has been left them, and the authorities are unable to get in touch with them.

Wahpeton, N. D.—In two more weeks the new Richland county courthouse will be completed. The woodwork is finished and the painters and decorators are now busy. It is proposed to move some of the offices at an early date. All will be in the new structure before the end of next month, and the first term of court will be held in January. The new structure is an elegant building and is being erected at a cost of $150,000.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Howard Flint of Deep has been elected to the presidency of the sophomore class at the state university. Mr. Flint is well known at the institution and last year was prominent in all student activities. He was a member of the football and track squads and made good on both. He also is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity and is one of the most popular students at the institution.

Grand Forks, N. D.—President F. D. Cameron, Directors M. F. Murphy, Dr. George Williamson, F. L. Goodman and E. J. Lander of the Grand Forks Curling club yesterday started a campaign for funds for the new rink and met with fair success. The directors plan to sell 1,000 shares of $10 each. Mr. Owen and Mr. Pelletier are both very enthusiastic and believe the rink will prove to be a paying proposition in the city.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

La Crosse—Gustav Evenson, who escaped from the West Salem county insane asylum last May and who adroitly kept from being recaptured by fleeing from farm to farm in the southeastern part of Minnesota, working occasionally a few days, was found by the police wandering in La Crosse. He was taken back to West Salem yesterday. Evenson has escaped from the institution six times.

Eau Claire—A beautiful home wedding was that at the residence of Julius G. Ingram, 522 Fourth avenue, Tuesday evening, when his daughter, Miss Margaret Ingram, gave her hand in marriage to John Hughes of Hudson, Wis. The house was crowded with guests, several from out of town. The ceremony, with the ring service, was performed at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. A. E. Leonard of the First Congregational church.

Janesville — During the storm of Tuesday lightning struck and destroyed a barn on the Pat Ryan farm in the town of Magnolia, causing a loss of $2,500. The residence of Mrs. F. C. Cook of this city was struck and the chimney demolished. Mrs. Cook was stunned by the shock.

Sparta—The first hearing in the state under the provisions of a new law which permits residents of any city to apply to the railroad commission for an order requiring a union station to be erected, was held in this city yesterday. The Milwaukee and Northwestern railroads are involved.

Omro—The Omro indoor fair opened on Tuesday in the Woolen Mills buildings. The booths for merchants' displays were filled with sewing and fancy work. The kitchen departments were all filled with dainties of the culinary art. The fair is much larger and better than last year.

Madison—The wearing of the green cap by university freshmen, long compulsory at the state institution, is now followed by a rule for the freshmen girls requiring them to wear green buttons. Upper classwomen comment on benefits from wearing the insignia, declaring that extra efforts will be put forth by them to assist the newcomers.

Washburn—At a special meeting of the county board yesterday $30,000 was set aside for the purpose of improving the county system of highways. The county will ask for state aid to the amount of nearly $8,000, the state's share under the law. Bayfield county is making rapid progress in road building. In four years, more than $100,000 has been expended on roads and bridges.

La Crosse—Miss Cora Opsal and Oscar Anderson of Readstown were seriously injured when their automobile turned turtle.

Milwaukee—The case of W. C. Cowling, lawyer and politician, known throughout the state, charged with misappropriation of funds entrusted to his care, was continued until Wednesday, Oct. 22, in district court. The continuance was requested by Frank X. Boden, who appeared as attorney for Cowling, and was granted without comment by Judge Berge.

Glenwood City—Mrs. W. T. Walker received a cablegram from Birmingham, Eng., appraising her of the death of her father and mother. Mrs. Walker is the wife of Rev. W. T. Walker, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Neenah—More than 100 Catholic Foresters attended the semi-annual meeting of the Fox River Valley association held under the auspices of the Neenah court. The boy scout plan of providing amusement for the boys was one of the main topics discussed.

Yell Defiance at Blood Disorders

A Remedy That Has Shown a Most Remarkable Purifying Effect.

At Last You Can Get Rid of Blood Troubles —S. S. S.

The word Medicine is one of the most abused in our language. There are certain medicinal properties just as necessary to health as the food we eat. Take, for example, the well-known medicine S. S. S. This famous blood purifier contains medicinal components just as vital and essential to healthy blood as the elements of wheat, roast beef, the fats and the sugars that make up our daily ration.

As a matter of fact, there is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming Rheumatism, Catarrh of the Stomach and intestines, skin eruptions and all blood troubles.

And in regenerating the tissues S. S. S. has a rapid and positive antidotal effect upon all those irritating influences that cause sore throat, weak eyes, loss of weight, thin, pale cheeks and that weariness of muscle and nerve that leads so many people into the dangerous path of stimulants and narcotics.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and in a few days you will not only feel bright and energetic, but you will be the picture of new life. S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 219 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who maintain a very efficient medical department where all who have any blood disorder of a stubborn nature may consult freely.

S. S. S. is sold everywhere by drug stores, department and general stores.

Don't permit anyone to sell you a substitute. Insist upon S. S. S.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

Don't Persecute your Bowels

Cut out cathartics and purgatives. They are brutal—harsh—unnecessary. Try CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

Purely vegetable. Act gently on the liver, eliminate bile, and soothe the delicate membrane of the bowel. Cure Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headache and Indigestion, as millions know.

TOMMY AND "PUDGE" WILL BE MISSED BY GOPHERS

Dr. Williams Is a Calm and Unemotional Soul and Can't Stir Enthusiastic Response.

BY BRUCE.

WE NOTICE that Tom Shevlin is in the East at the present time and that "Pudge" Heffelfinger is expected in the immediate environs of New Haven at any moment. This is the best news for the supporters of Yale and correspondingly drear and sad tidings for those gallant young men with queer, though who would say grotesque, mustaches, and the little girlies who follow with hysterical shrieks the progress of the Gophers, whether it be toward their own goal or the goal of their opponents.

Doc Williams is one of the best fellows in the world—to play chess with. When it comes to enthusiasm, he stands on the same level with our old and beloved friend, J. H. Ritchie, whom Doc often visits after the game and earnestly reviews the plays. But anyway, on paper the dear doctor is one of the most scientific, one of the most precise, one of the greatest of gridiron mathematicians. But when it comes to the magnetic task of getting enthusiasm into a team, it's good night, Judge, for the dear Doc.

But enthusiasm is the middle name of Messrs. Shevlin and Heffelfinger. They exude it: they also inhale it—in other words, they get enthusiasm both going and coming.

As one of those to talk to a discouraged team between the halves, this "Pudge" Heffelfinger man is one of the greatest in the world. If he could go into vaudeville with it and reproduce those ten minute talks he has given to some of the Minnesota teams during the past years, he would divide the spotlight with Harry Lauder—but, come to think of it, they would never stand for some of the things Pudge says—he would have to cut out the asperities.

Tommy Shevlin is of the same general order. He talks like Theodore Roosevelt used to orate, only more so. He utilizes teeth, fists and a muscular if not rythmatic sway of the body to enforce what he is all the time saying.

With Doc Williams it is very different. If he rises to a nasal-voiced "Gosh darn it, boys," Doc is surely going some. Now this stuff, when the team is gravely facing a crisis, won't in the least do. You have to inject fire and blood into the talk. For instance, if the hero of the melodrama came to the big scene where he was tied to the saw, or lashed to the railroad tracks, or locked into the same room with a fire, and when he was in the midst of his difficulties, were he to emit a weazened voiced "My gosh, this is bad," most of us down in the vicinity of the seventh and eighth rows, and all of those in the gallery, would be sorely tried and thoroughly disgusted.

And thus it is in the midst of the clash, the tear and the strife of football; the fellows want something or someone to get into their hide and stir them; desire deeply someone to curse them to orally massage the blood back into the moral beings.

This is just where the good doctor is weak. He can sit with paper and pencil and work wonders on an imaginary field, and he can bring these plays forth from his sanctum and explain them with lucidity and profound grasp of detail to his pupils—but—and another but—when it comes to injecting fire and enthusiasm into the human pawns he has created—well, let us say once more, the good doctor grasps vaguely for assistance.

And this Heffelfinger and Shevlin were the original kids in the enthusiasm line. They could come in between the halves and tear a man's conscience to pieces; make him feel that he was a yellow, hulking good for nothing piece of humanity, who had been playing like an old woman with two bad sons to engross her thoughts and lull her energies. After some of the things these two strenuous sons would say to a man had sunk in, the poor player would generally go forth and tear his opponent gleefully to pieces.

Therefore we say, it will be a sorry piece of news that Tommy and "Pudge" have journeyed east so early in the season. There is need for them at home. Old Yale calls these stalwart sons each year, and we are loath to see them go. Great players they have been—first rate examples of the strenuous life, the call of the wild, and several other things when the occasion has need of stirring words.

There Are Two Views.

THERE are always two stories to every event and every controversy, and no doubt if the phonograph has been in use in the days when Mother Eve had the falling out with Adam, posterity would have had occasion to choose sides and form pro Eve and anti Adam societies.

"Three-fingered Jimmy" Murphy came to us the other evening and told as follows:

"I had Gardner almost out in the fourth round. Don't forget that, now. If I had tried a little harder in that round I could have put him to the clear, see. Now don't forget to write something about those two knockdowns. Don't forget that, cause I am going to get your paper—what is it? The Record Herald? No, The Herald. Oh yes. Well don't forget those two knockdowns, see. They counts in my lead. Oh yes, he's a good tough boy, but I could get him, see. Don't forget that in the write up. Don't forget that I had him down twice."

It was right after this that we noticed that Mr. "Three-fingered Jimmy" Murphy wended his way to the place where young Mr. Richard Farrington sat, with his mind more or less intent upon the bout then in progress between the "steamboat" and the Miske one.

Spake Mr. Gardner:

"Maybe he had the best of me, but I wasn't near out. Once he hit me and I thought the roof of my head was coming off. But he didn't have me near out. He's tough and as strong as a bull, but I would like to fight him again. Once I caught him coming in and he was shook up and kind of groggy. Maybe he had the best of me, a little the best of me, but I would like to fight him again."

Choose sides and proceed to root for Messrs. Murphy and Gardner.

The Gallant Mr. Baker.

THERE are few personages in the world at the present time who hold the halo of bright and effervescent glow that can be claimed by J. Franklyn Baker, the eminent batsman of Trappe, Maryland.

The Giants with more or less fear and queer quakings are vaguely speculating upon the things that the world's series sensation of 1911 will do to the offerings of the eminent pitchers of the New York team.

Likewise the members of the brigade of Mack are keenly contemplating the part this homely hero will bear in the burden of lifting the winning share of the money that travels with the winning aggregation.

And also it must be borne in mind that the great world, that world that takes no part in the impending struggle, save possibly to worry over some pay envelopes that have been wagered on the hazards, is also speculating on the part the sterling slugger is to play in the fortunes of war.

DISPUTED GAME WON BY PHILLIES

New York, Oct. 3.—The New York-Philadelphia game begun on Aug. 30 and stopped in the ninth inning by Umpire Brennan was completed yesterday, Philadelphia winning, 8 to 6.

"The longest game on record" was brought to a quick finish. Murray of the Giants, who was at bat with one out when the game at Philadelphia was interrupted, grounded to Byrne. Meyers singled, but Grant, who ran for the Indian, was forced at second by McLean, batting for Snodgrass, and the game was over. The Philadelphia players ran from the bench and danced in glee at the speedy decision in their favor of the long-standing dispute.

The unique entertainment afforded by the playing off of the disputed game preceded a double-header, the Giants winning the opener, 8 to 3, and Philadelphia the second, 4 to 3. In the first game Mathewson and Marquard held the visitors safe while Chalmers was hit hard. Chalmers went to pieces in the sixth inning, when New York got four runs from five hits and two passes.

The second game was called at the end of the sixth inning on account of darkness. Hearne pitched for the locals. McCormick's three-base hit drive was a feature of the second game. He reached home on the hit, being safe on Dooin's muff. Fletcher's brilliant fielding featured the first game.

Manager McGraw had his regulars, aside from Fred Snodgrass, the "charley-horsed" center fielder, in action yesterday, and in addition put Mathewson and Marquard of the first line defense in the box through their paces. Larry Doyle, team captain and second sacker, whose shoulder has been lame since he hurt it in an automobile accident last week, got into the harness in the second game of the double-header with Philadelphia. It is expected that he will have time to rest up to play his usual dashing game. It is counted significent by some, however, that McGraw did not put Larry Doyle with the rest of the regulars during the first game, when Shafer played second and Herzog third. The combination worked well both at bat and in the field. But Shafer was back at third at the start of the latter encounter and worked a while in that position with Fletcher, Doyle and Merkle, the infield that all along has been expected to man the inner defenses for the Giants in the battle with the Athletics and their notable infield combination.

POST-SEASON GAMES

Easy for Reds.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 3.—Twenty-one hits secured by the Cincinnati National baseball club tells the story of why the visitors defeated the local American association team, 15 to 9, yesterday in a slow, uninteresting exhibition game. Score: R. H. E.

Kansas City 9 9 5
Batteries—Johnson and Kling; Covington and Murphy.

JOHNSON SIGNS UP AT HEALTHY SALARY.

Washington, Oct. 3. — Walter Johnson, who is leading all pitchers in the major leagues, yesterday signed a contract with Manager Griffith of the Washington team for the 1914 season. The salary was not announced, but it is understood to be $12,500.

TWO GIANTS RETURN.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 3.—Harvard's varsity line, which was not satisfactory to the coaches in the game with the University of Maine last Saturday, was greatly strengthened yesterday by the return of Pennock, the "All American" guard of last year, and Trumbull, who is first choice for center. These two men have been out of the game for several days because of injuries, and are expected to play against Bates this week.

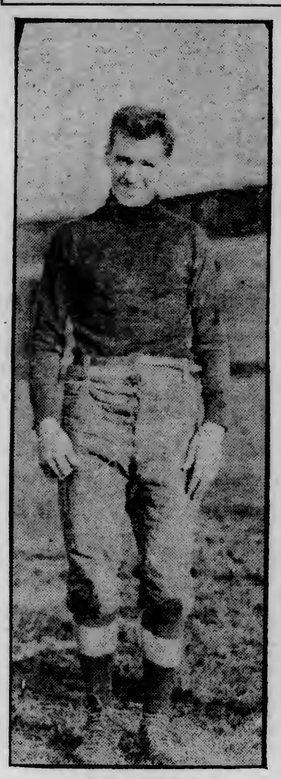

In an effort to find an end to fill the place of T. Gardiner, who is on the hospital list because of his weakened arm, Coach Haughton tried out W. Whitney, the freshman back field man of last season. He will probably figure in Saturday's game with Bates.

MACK AND M'GRAW HAVE EVEN BREAK IN CATCHERS

Records Show That Meyers, McLean, Wilson, Schang, Lapp and Thomas Compare Very Favorably.

New York, Oct. 3.—The catchers of the New York Giants and Philadelphia Athletics will play an important part in the coming battles for the world's championship in baseball, and the managers of the rival clubs are fortunate in having dependable trios for the position behind the plate. Connie Mack has Schang, Lapp and Thomas to use as his judgment dictates and McGraw in Meyers, McLean and Wilson has an opposing squad of catchers which, viewed in a broad manner, suffer little if any when compared with the Philadelphia wearers of mitt and mask.

Meyers and Schang appear to have first call for the position with McLean and Lapp second choice and Wilson and Thomas as third-string catchers. Meyers and Schang will be called upon to do the brunt of the work, barring illness or accident, and are therefore first to be considered in a comparison of the catching strength of the two clubs. From an offensive standpoint Meyers is the better player of the two, due to his ability as a batter. The big Indian has an unofficial record of .310 for 115 games this season as against .259 for Schang in seventy-five games. On the bases the Philadelphia backstop is a faster man, but this asset is more or less nullified by the fact that Meyers gets to the initial bag more frequently than his chief rival in the World's Series. Both are accurate and fast in throwing to the bases, but the Athletics' youngster has a margin over Meyers in this respect, for he shoots to second with less apparent exertion and more speed than the Chief Tortes.

Mack's Second Choice.

Lapp has taken the ascendency over Thomas during the past season, and judging from present indications, will be Connie Mack's second choice for the stand behind the home plate. He will have a formidable opponent in McLean, who joined the Giants via the trade route from St. Louis after the midseason mark had been passed. As in the case of Meyers and Schang, the Giants' second string catcher has a decided advantage over Lapp in batting, for the records show that the former Cincinnati-St. Louis catcher has a batting average of .285 as against Lapp's .219. The figures are all the more impressive since both catchers have worked in about the same number of games. As an offset the Philadelphia catcher has proved to be deadly in throwing baseстealers out at second and third, and in this respect outranks the veteran who was traded into a world's series pot of gold after his new teammates had secured a commanding lead in the race for the pennant.

Ira Thomas, one of Mack's veterans, in point of experience at least outranks Wilson easily, but the old adage of youth vs. age may equalize this should the pair don masks and pads in the same game. Thomas is a catcher who rises to emergencies, and as a tactician has few equals. As far as batting is concerned he is far superior to Wilson, but the latter has been improving steadily and may surpass expectations in this respect in case he has an opportunity to break into the series at a critical period. Once on the base lines, he will have an excellent chance to pick up Thomas' advantage with the bat, for he is fast, considered from the standpoint of a catcher.

The records of the catchers of the two clubs this season follow:

CENTRAL EXPECTS HARD GAME FROM EAU CLAIRE

Badgers Said to Have Best Team in History of School.

Hilltop Boys Are in Best Condition of the Season.

Central and Eau Claire will meet tomorrow at Athletic park in the most important game of the season to date.

Coach Schilling today announced that he would have the strongest lineup of the year in the game, and also that the Central players are in the best condition of the season.

During the present week some strenuous practice work has been gone through in anticipation of the hard game of tomorrow. For no contest of the year have the hilltop players been groomed as they have for the battle with the Badgers.

Change in Line-up.

Banks, a big chap, will start the game at guard and Culkin will also start in the line-up at left half instead of O'Brien. The O'Brien boy is suffering slightly from a bruise and is not likely to go in during the first half.

Culkin is a dashing, fearless little chap and it is not in the least believed that his substitution will weaken Central.

During the present week the hilltop kids have been sent against the bucking machine, have been drilled in interference in a number of new plays, and have been especially coached in the execution of the forward pass. It is believed that there will be better team work, more speed used in the execution of the plays, more skill shown in the handling of punts, and generally more snap employed in all-round play than has been the case in any of the games played at Athletic park during the present season.

Even in Poundage.

According to the information sent to Coach Schilling, the Eau Claire team will average 145 pounds. If this is a correct statement of the weight of the Badgers, there will be but little difference in the poundage of the opposing teams.

Eau Claire is said to be very fast. Coached by Hanson, a former college star, the little Badgers are believed to represent about the strongest team the Wisconsin village has had since the days when "Lon" Roseth and several other prospective University of Wisconsin stars were members of the high school team.

Pearson is considered one of the stars of the Wisconsin team. In the game against Stout Institute this boy was one of the best ground gainers of the day. Patrick, Atkinson and Young are also considered as star members of the team. These men are expected to do some sensational ground gaining against Central.

Central Should Win.

It is believed that the hilltop team of the present season ranks among the best that Central has ever had. From end to end the line is one of the best in the history of the school, and the forwards are expected to play the best game of the season in the contest of tomorrow.

While there is some doubt at the present time whether the backfield is the equal of the one of last season, this is but a question of individual judgment, and before the season or in the game with Eau Claire the backs may come through and show that this impression is entirely erroneous.

Brown is playing the game of his life and Stevens is better than last year. If the other backs can develop the class of the backs of last season the backfield, before the end of the season, may be superior to the backfield of 1912.

It is expected that tomorrow's contest will be a hummer. Duluth should win, unless the visitors have an exceptionally strong high school team. It will require a very classy high school aggregation to defeat Central, for the local boys are game, understand a great deal of football and will fight to the last ditch.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Crack St. Paul Team Will Reach Duluth Saturday Evening.

According to the information received today by Manager John Geistman of the Adams team, the members of the Kent football team will reach Duluth tomorrow evening in order that the St. Paul boys will have a good rest for the contest with the Adams boys Sunday at Athletic park.

The Adams team will run through signal drill this evening at the French rink under the direction of Coach Chauncey Colton and will be given special drill on some of the formation plays that will be sprung for the first time this season in the game of Sunday.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 3.—In a pelting rain the round of the ladies' championship of Canada was played off at the Dixie links yesterday. Two of the visiting British players and the American champion, Mrs. R. H. Barlow of Philadelphia, were eliminated. The surprise of the day's play was the defeat of Mrs. Barlow by Miss Florence Scott of Hamilton, who scored an easy victory, 7 up and 5 to play.

Miss Muriel Dodd, the English champion, defeated Miss Gladys Ravenscroft of England 4 and 2.

CLOSE WORLD'S SERIES GAMES ARE LOOKED FOR

New York, Oct. 3.—Opinion regarding the outcome of the world's series appears to be unusually divided this year. Prominent baseball players and writers are predicting a very close series of games, with low scores predominating. All speak of the luck or break of the game being an important factor in the ultimate winning of the championship.

The same situation has developed in the betting. Outside of the home cities of the two competing clubs, the wagering is at even money. In Philadelphia the Athletics are slight favorites, and here local supporters are quoting odds of 10 to 9 on the Giants to defeat the American league representatives.

A consensus among thirty leading baseball writers of the big league circuits shows that eighteen favor the Giants to win against nine for the Athletics and three frankly undecided. Almost without exception, however, they qualify their predictions by stating that the series of 1913 will be very evenly contested, and that the slightest break in the luck of the game will swing the championship one way or the other.

MACK PUTS ON REGULARS

Trying Out Full Strength Against Yankees in Warming Up Process.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—Only four and one-half innings of the first game of the series with the New York team which Manager Mack of Philadelphia intended should be used as a basis for putting his players in first-class trim for the world's series contests, could be played yesterday afternoon. While New York was at bat in the fifth inning, with the score 0 to 0, a hard shower caused Umpire Evans to call the game off. A double-header will be played today.

For the first time in a week Mack had his full strength in the field. All the members of the infield, McInnis, Collins, Baker and Barry were in their positions. The outfield was composed of Eddie Murphy, Strunk and Oldring.

When Bender and Schang were sent in at the start of the game it was taken as an indication that they would be selected to do this work in the first engagement.

The fans have been guessing as to who Mack would pair off with Bender. Many believed that Thomas, who did the bulk of the backstop work for Philadelphia in the world's series against Chicago in 1910 and against New York in 1911, would again team up with the noted Indian twirler. The indications are, however, that Schang has been decided upon to receive Bender's delivery. Schang was slightly hurt in yesterday's contest. A foul tip ok Peckinpaugh's bat crushed one of his fingers. Manager Mack declared last night that he did not believe the accident would turn out to be serious.

Bender pitched only three innings. He had excellent control and only two hits were made off him, Maisel getting an infield single in the first inning and Peckinpaugh making a hit to center field in the third. Only nine batsmen faced the Indian as Maisel was thrown out by Schang trying to steal second base and Peckinpaugh was doubled with Sweeney on the latter's grounder to Barry.

Brown and Lapp became Philadelphia's battery in the fourth inning, two men getting to first on passes and one on a fumble by Barry.

The American league champions put up a snappy exhibition in the field. At bat Philadelphia did not size up as being in form, although they usually have trouble hitting Caldwell, who pitched for New York. In Caldwell's last appearance against Philadelphia at New York, he shut them out and allowed only two hits. Yesterday the home team made two singles in four innings, Oldring and Baker each getting a hit. These were the only times when Philadelphia could bat the ball out of the infield.

Two games today will give Mack the opportunity to use a large number of twirlers. The chances are that Bender, Plank and several of the young pitchers will work a few innings in the games.

YALE CAPTAIN RESIGNS.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 3.—Charles N. Snowdon of Pittsburg has resigned as captian of the Yale varsity crew. Thomas B. Denegre of New Orleans, has been chosen to succeed him. This announcement was made last night at a meeting of the Blue oarsmen. Snowdon's resignation was due to his being ineligible to row in the Harvard regatta next June.

As captain and No. 2 of the crew last year, Snowdon devoted his afternoons to the oarsmen and did not put in sufficient time at his studies to graduate. He will complete his course about mid-year, and this will render him ineligible for the race in June with the crimson crew.

Denegre is a junior. He rowed bow last year.

BIERMAN OUT OF SATURDAY'S GAME

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 3.—Al Bierman, right halfback on the Minnesota football team is still on the side lines with an injured leg and it is doubtful if he will be able to play in the game against Ames next Saturday. It is probable that Joe Mattern will hold Bierman's position on that occasion.

The last hard practice before Saturday's game was held yesterday, it being confined largely to scrimmage with a fair amount of signal work.

SYNDICATE WILL BUILD DEFENDER

New York, Oct. 3.—Formal announcement that the Royal Ulster Yacht club's challenge for a series of races for the America's cup in 1914 had been accepted, was made last night at a general meeting of the New York Yacht club. The resignation of Former Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt and Arthur Curtis James, Former Vice Commodore Henry Walters, Vice Commodore George F. Baker, Jr., and Rear Commodore J. P. Morgan from the committee, were accepted.

This was done, it was anounced, because the five are members of the syndicate which will build the first yacht that will be a candidate for the defense of the cup. Nothing was said about a second syndicate to build a yacht.

PLAYER REINSTATED.

Monty C. Phyl Reverts to New York Nationals in Complicated Case.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 3.—The national baseball commission yesterday reinstated Player Monty C. Phyl to good standing in organized baseball and held that he was a member of the New York National league team. No fine was inflicted. Phyl was one of the members of a California state league club at the time it was taken into organized baseball, and the men had the right to ask the commission for reinstatement after three years from the time the league was declared to be in good standing.

Phyl was released by the National league team, but joined the California state league instead of reporting to the team to which he was released. The commission held that he reverted to the New York Nationals.

Sox Twirler to Wed.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Reb Russell of the White Sox pitching staff obtained a license here yesterday afternoon to marry Miss Charlotte Benz of Indianapolis.

Ralph Rose Very Ill.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 3.—Ralph Rose, world's champion shot-putter, is critically ill with typhoid fever at the home of a relative here. Rose was stricken suddenly last night while in a Hammam bath.

Young Out of Game.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—University of Pennsylvania football followers were disappointed when they learned that Captain Young, the star halfback, who has been out of the game with an infected heel for several days, probably would not be used against Lafayette next Saturday.

The Sport Postoffice.

There are letters in The Herald sporting department for the managers of the Tigers and Maroon football teams.

MURDER CASE TO THE JURY

Trial of Louis Nocovitch at Grand Rapids Nearly Over.

Defendant Testifies That Victim Attacked Him and He Had to Shoot.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fate of Louis Nocovitch, charged with the murder of Steve and Mike Vukobrotovich April 19 last, will go to the jury this afternoon.

Nocovitch was on the stand in his own defense this morning and declared that the two Vukobrotovich men attacked and tried to rob him and that he shot them to protect himself. His story was somewhat involved, however, and he contradicted himself at several points. He completed his testimony at noon.

Edward Bruett of the Stevenson location at Keewatin, a mining captain, testified lato yesterday that the defendant had always been a decent, peaceable young fellow during the four months that he had worked for the mining company. Dan Bocish testified that he had been a bartender at Keewatin and that he had known the defendant for some time, and had never known him to start any trouble. Tony Kalager, also a bartender, said that he had known the two dead men for some time, and that he knew them to be gamblers and thieves, that he had seen them take change which the bartenders had laid on the bar, and that he knew that they were in the habit of cheating at cards. The defense failed, however, to prove its most important point, that threats had been made during the afternoon of April 19 against Louis, or that the Vukobrotovich boys had seen Louis' bankroll.

HIBBING CURLING RINK IS ASSURED

Indications That Roarin' Game Will Be Played in Range City.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Every indication points to the successful completion of the plans for the organization of a curling rink in Hibbing. Though the preliminary meeting held last week was not largely attended the enthusiasm that the published reports have aroused in the village assures the promoters of sufficient support to continue their work and by the time the rink could be built, it is expected that an ample membership will have been secured.

The committee appointed to consult with W. J. West of the Oliver Iron Mining company, relative to proposed sites are investigating the lots suitable for the purpose. It is understood that a triangle plot of ground adjacent to the Great Northern tracks near Second avenue is favored by the majority of the curlers as most conveniently located.

The committee to solicit members will start their work next week and there is little doubt but that by the time the weather is cold enough to build the rink plenty of signatures will have been secured for the club.

Games will be arranged with Virginia and the Duluth enthusiasts have offered to send a special delegation to the village to initiate the new rink and start the curlers on the right path.

HIBBING FOOTBALL TEAM WORKING HARD.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—With no game scheduled for tomorrow, the high school football team will put in a hard practice in preparation for the remainder of its schedulde.

The strike among the players at Grand Rapids may break up the plans of the series between those two teams but the management has hopes of arranging a game for a week from tomorrow with the fast team from Superior. The Superior manager is holding the date open but the place of meeting has not been agreed upon as yet.

The team is developing at a rapid rate and should give an excellent account of itself during the season.

The effort to arouse enough interest among the former stars to organize a team to meet the Virginia city team is meeting with little success and it is believed that the plan will be dropped. Only a very few names have been received and the majority of the men who would be eligible feel that there are not enough stars to make it interesting for the Virginia aggregation that is drawn from four range towns.

RANGE PIN SPILLERS SHOW SIGNS OF LIFE

Lively Bowling Season Is Looked for at Hibbing This Winter.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bowling will more than hold its own in Hibbing this winter, according to the plans that are being made by the followers of the game.

Last year there were six organized teams in the field, many matches were played and the village was represented at the big Duluth meeting. This year it is expected that fully as many will be organized and that an excellent representation will attend the Zenith City gathering.

It is also proposed that a range league be organized for games during the season and that an approved system be adopted in the schedule. Money is to be raised for a suitable cup to be awarded to the winners.

The Ryan alleys on Pine street have already opened for business and report an excellent patronage despite the fact that the season is just commencing.

CHISHOLM NIGHT SCHOOL TO REOPEN

New Year's Work Will Start Next Monday Evening.

Chisholm, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. P. J. Vaughn of the local schools announces that on Monday evening next the night school will reopen, teachers having been procured and assigned to the work. Some of the classes will be handled by the shifting of regular teachers who will receive extra compensation. Three evenings per week will be assigned at the beginning which may be increased to five evenings per week later if conditions demand. English, arithmetic, spelling, commercial work, etc., will be the subjects covered.

The enrollment last year passed the 300 mark, a surprisingly large number availing themselves of the opportunity, and the attendance was made up of men from all walks of life. Many of the foreigners made rapid strides and have advised their friends and country men to attend the school.

ELY LAKE FARMERS PLAN SUNDAY PICNIC.

Eveleth, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The farmers on the shores of Ely lake are planning a real old fashioned picnic for themselves and their friends on Sunday.

They have secured a large boat and this will be towed by two gasoline launches. There will be music and refreshments on board and as many as desire can ride. The big event, however, will be the picnic dinner. The bill of fare will be bounteous and no one will go away hungry. There will also be races and sports galore.

Those in charge of the affair are as follows: E. A. Trenholm, president of the day; Albert Riff, Virginia, vice president; James Patten, marshal of the day; John Mitchell, judge of sports; W. E. Sterling, manager. No liquor will be sold on the grounds and there will be no gambling.

VIRGINIA POLICE RAID BLIND-PIGS.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—A wholesale raid was made by the police last night on the blind pigs of the city and ten offenders gathered into custody. Those arrested were Mike Poniska, John Mattkovich, Mary Lulich, Mary Pochnich, Minnie Rukavina, Helen Lulich, Asunta Muzzietti, Joseph Kprvatovich, Dan Skerbich and Steve Scotta. All furnished bail bond for their appearance in municipal court.

The raid followed a complaint in the council last week by Alderman Mattson when he called attention to the open manner in which the pigs were being conducted and expressed himself as of the opinion that it was up to the authorities to stamp them out. Chief of Police Rice has had men engaged for several days collecting evidence and it is probable other arrests will follow those already made.

ASK FOR BIDS ON SCHOOL ADDITION.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board is advertising for bids for the building of the recently authorized brick addition to the north end of the present high school in this village, and work will be begun as soon as the contract can be let. Bids for the construction of a drainage ditch, and pipe, for the draining of the basement excavation have been called for Monday afternoon, and it is expected that the contract will be let at once. The excavation will be rushed as soon as the contract is let, which is expected to be on Oct. 22, and it is hoped that the foundation can be completed before the ground freezes.

ANOTHER CREAMERY FOR CARLTON COUNTY.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. A. J. McGuire of the state experimenal farm is in Cloquet for a few days, going down to organize a creamery association, similar to the Itasca County Co-Operative association here, among the farmers of the outlying districts about Cloquet.

Firemen Play Handball.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Unable to locate a team with sufficient courage to accept the challenge the local firemen have now turned their attention to handball. Undaunted by the lack of a suitable court the players are using the side of the town hall as the object of their attacks, the creosote blocks proving an excellent floor. Several fast matches have already been played on fair afternoons.

Virginian Goes East.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joe Watt, range agent for the National Biscuit company will leave tomorrow for Chicago on his annual vacation. From there he will go to Bradford, Ont., to attend the wedding of a sister. Mrs. Watt, who has been visiting in Chicago for several weeks, will join her husband at Bradford, from which place they will return to Virginia.

SCHOOL BOYS WILL ABANDON FOOTBALL

Breach Between Grand Rapids Team and Supt. Freeman Not Healed.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although Supt. of Schools E. A. Freeman has receded from his original position and said that Edward Farrell and Will Whaling, who were dropped from the high school football team because they played with the town team on Sunday, could return to the team on Oct. 13, the high school team will be disbanded following the game with Coleraine on Saturday, and football will be abandoned for the season. The statement was made by Coach Carson today.

Yesterday Supt. Freeman went to Hibbing on the early morning train, and informed the Hibbing authorities that neither of the boys would be permitted to play. The Hibbing authorities immediately telephoned here, asking that the team come anyway, but Coach Carson refused absolutely to take the remains of the team to Hibbing. In speaking tonight he declares it would be folly to take a team which had been completely demoralized by the loss of two of the best players from the backfield, and attempt to play a crack team which for years has been its hated rival.

BUDDING ORATORS TO BE ENCOURAGED

Virginia School to Develop Eloquence in Aspiring Pupils.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Beginning today, every Friday afternoon from 2:40 to 4 will be devoted to debating, reading, composition and the discussion of current events at the Technical high school. The object of the rhetorical is to train the students to talk with ease, to think rapidly and to give immediate expression of their views on subjects under discussion.

The high school has three rhetorical organizations—the freshman, sophomore and junior-senior. Every fourth Friday it is planned to hold a joint meeting at the Roosevelt auditorium, at which the four classes of the high school will be represented.

Following is the program to be given at the first meeting of the junior-senior society this afternoon in the junior assembly room at the high school: Talk, "Purpose of Rhetoricals," Lorena MacFarlane, president; essay, "Thomas Edison," Floyd Whiting; current events, Victoria Johnson; essay, "Lost in the Woods," Clayton Quayle; debate, "Resolved, that immigration should be further restricted by the imposition of an educational test;" affirmative, Cassie Monroe, Herbert De Noble, Elsa Gronberg; negative, John Hawkinson, Gertrude Sigel, Ruth Gowan; critic's report, Miss Agnes Jaques.

RUSHING WORK ON EVELETH PAVING

Contractor Plans to Finish Up Adams Street This Fall.

Eveleth, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work on the Adams avenue paving is being rushed and seventy-five men and a dozen teams are on the job. The curbing is about all in for the full five blocks, and cutting down the street to the new grade is now under way. When this is finished the street will be in readiness for running in the concrete base.

"If the weather permits us we will get this done before it freezes up," said Contractor McCann. "We will finish the job this fall, for we lay concrete blocks in winter as well as when it is warm."

Lyceum Course for Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of directors of the Booster club and all interested citizens will meet in the library hall tonight to make plans for a lyceum course to be held during the coming winter. Arrangements can be made with five other towns in this section of the state whereby a fine course can be secured, at a minimum cost, and it is believed that the money will be pledged.

Chisholm Jews in Church.

Chisholm, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rosh Hoshanah, the Jewish new year, is being celebrated by the Jewish people in this vicinity. Services are being held in the new synagogue each day and evening. All Hebrew stores and business houses are closed with notices posted on their doors that they will remain closed until Friday evening. The devotional services will continue until Oct. 23, when the series ends.

FOUR KILLED IN ARKANSAS WRECK.

Stephens, Ark., Oct. 3.—Four trainmen were killed and another probably fatally injured when an engine drawing a pile driver and a freight train on the St. Louis Southwestern railroad collided near here. The dead:

H. C. DAVIS, engineer, Elmo, Mo.

ARTHUR YOUNG, fireman, Pine Bluff, Ark.

AUBREY FIELDS, fireman, Thornton, Ark.

CHARLES CHEEK, bridgeman.

Several others were injured, but not seriously.

WINE MERCHANT TOURS ITALY

His tour was a sort of celebration as he did not expect to be well again.

Mr. James Raggi, Wine Merchant, 624 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, well known in the Italian banking quarter, was in one of the San Francisco hospitals with dropsy, due to Bright's Disease. Medical skill had been exhausted and friends and physicians thought his days numbered.

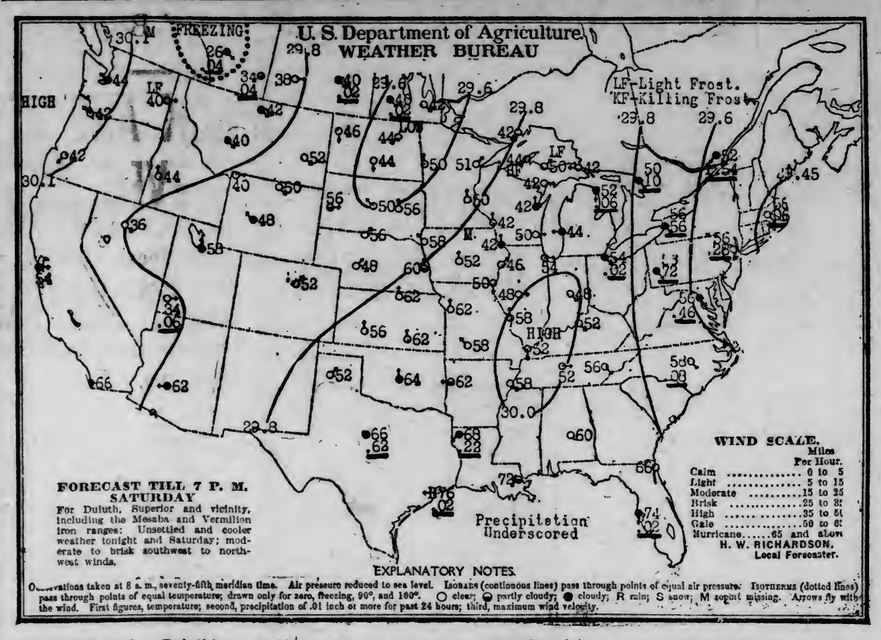

Editor R. M. Wood of San Francisco, who had recovered from Bright's Disease, induced Raggi to take up the same treatment, Fulton's Renal Compound. In a few months the case was yielding and within a year his doctors reported him normal and he left for a tour of Italy.

These facts can be proved by anyone having friends in San Francisco.

If only one-tenth of the recoveries in Bright's Disease reported by patients under Fulton's Renal Compound are true, then in view of the admission of the books that under their best prescriptions recovery in chronic Bright's Disease is impossible, there would still be but one thing to do. If you have Bright's Disease you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up. It can be had at druggists supplied by Leithhead Drug Co.

Ask for pamphlet on our investigation into the curability of Bright's Disease, or write John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature; drawn only for zero, freezing, 90°, and 100°. ○ clear; ◑ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figures, temperature; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.

COLDER

Duluthians would be willing for this brand of weather to continue indefinitely. It is perfection itself.

Unsettled and cooler weather is predicted for tonight.

A year ago it was fair and cool. The sun rose this morning at 6:10 and will set at 5:44, making eleven hours and thirty-four minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Further rains fell during Thursday or last night over the Eastern Lake region, Upper Ohio valley, St. Lawrence valley and North Atlantic states in connection with the depression centered off the New England coast. Rainy weather continued in Western Louisiana and Texas and light rains also fell over the southern portions of Utah, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Warmer weather prevails over Manitoba, Minnesota, Southeastern North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas, while in Michigan and Ohio valley states it is somewhat cooler. Indications favor partly cloudy to cloudy and cooler weather in St. Louis and Douglas counties during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Upper Michigan—Increasing cloudiness and warmer tonight; Saturday unsettled with probably showers.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight, probably followed by showers in early morning or on Saturday; warmer in east and cooler in northwest portions tonight; cooler Saturday.

Minnesota—Cloudy and probably unsettled tonight and Saturday; cooler.

North Dakota—Cloudy and cooler tonight with temperature near freezing; Saturday fair and cooler.

Iowa—Unsettled weather tonight and Saturday with probably showers; warmer in east and cooler in west portions tonight; cooler Saturday.

Montana—Generally fair tonight and Saturday; cooler tonight with temperature near freezing.

WILL RECEIVE $500 FOR INJURIES

Ralph Cozzi Was Hurt in Collision of Gasoline Speeders.

Ralph Cozzi will receive $500 from the Northern Pacific Railroad company for injuries which he received in a collision between two gasoline speeders on the Northern Pacific tracks at Ainsley, N. D., on July 4, 1912. A jury in district court lato yesterday afternoon awarded him this amount.

Cozzi was riding with other employes of the company on a gasoline car between Sanger and Stanton, N. D. In rounding a curve, the car on which he was riding collided with another car coming from the opposite direction. Cozzi was thrown violently to the ground, receiving a fractured and broken arm and other injuries.

In district court he sued for $2,650. The case was tried before Judge Fesler.

UNCLE SAM IS ADVERTISING IT

Calls Attention to Dry Farming Congress at Tulsa.

According to C. J. Nesbitt, a guest of the Holland, the International Dry Farming congress at Tulsa, Okla., is going to be one of the most important meetings ever arranged in the West.

"The government has taken a deep interest in the matter," said Mr. Nesbitt. "I notice that the cancellation marking for stamps has the advertisement of the congress. When the government will go that far to boost a project, it must be some worthy cause.

"Tulsa is a city of some 65,000 people and one of the livest cities of the West. It is estimated that there will be some 200,000 people there during the convention. This is something that all of that country is vitally interested in and it is anticipated that there will be visitors not only from all parts of the state, but also from all over the Southwest."

In the matter of general importance Mr. Nesbitt says that Tulsa has passed Oklahoma City and is one of the most progressive and up-to-date cities of the country.

Reinsch Off for China.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 3.—Prof. Paul S. Reinsch, who resigned the chair of political science in the University of Wisconsin to become ambassador to China, accompanied by his family, left Chicago yesterday on their way to the Orient. They will sail Tuesday from San Francisco on the Japanese line steamship Tonyo Maru for Yokohoma. From there the party will sail for Shanghai, reaching port Nov. 1.

CANNOT OPEN CITY'S SAFE

Time Lock Refuses to Work for First Time in Twenty Years.

For the first time in twenty years the time lock on the safe in the office of City Treasurer Grant E. McLean failed to work this morning.

The clock on the safe is set for 8 a. m., after which the heavy doors of the iron box may be swung open at any time up to 12 o'clock, when the tumblers work again.

The failure of the time lock to work today did not seriously inconvenience the officials. The safe contained about $500 in cash and several thousand dollars of securities, but they were not of a nature to interfere with the transaction of business. The books are all kept in the vault for fire protection and only cash and valuable securities are placed in the safe. The checks of the fire department pay roll are in the safe and should it be found that some days will elapse before the safe can be opened they will have to be rewritten.

The city treasurer is waiting for the time to roll around again, however, in hopes that the combination will be released. Should it not work the company with which the insurance of the safe is carried, guaranteeing it to work, will be notified. An expert will then probably be sent to the city to put the machinery in shape.

The union printers of the United States pay old-age pensions to 1,089 members at the rate of $5 a week. Among the pensioners are six women.

How to Destroy the Dandruff Germ

BY A SPECIALIST.

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found, after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair-growth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you: 6 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavona de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing half an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the fingertips. If you wish it perfumed, add half a teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. While this preparation is not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Six Hundred Additions to Church Membership in Litchfield District.

Dr. Copper Likely to Continue Superintendent of Duluth District.

Detroit, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The morning session of the Northern Minnesota Methodist conference was opened at 8:30 with a devotional service conducted by Bishop W. A. Quayle. The class of young men who are to be admitted on trial in the conference was introduced to the conference. The class consisted of F. C. Gilchrist of Stacy, Blaine Lambert of St. Paul, John Walker of Wazetta and E. C. Parish of Sandstone. Mr. Parish is the fifth son of Rev. J. J. Parish of Villard, Minn., to enter the Methodist ministry in Minnesota.

Rev. Dr. W. H. Jordan, superintendent of the Litchfield district, read his annual report. Six hundred additions to membership of churches in his district were reported.

H. C. Caffin, formerly of Duluth, assistant state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., addressed the conference on the importance of vigorous prosecution of Christian work among boys in the high schools of Minnesota. The conference pledged its co-operation through the work of the local churches.

E. C. Parish of Sandstone, J. W. Schenck of Aurora and Blaine Lambert of Hamline were elected to be ordained by special request of their superintendents. Rev. Robb Zaring, editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, reported during the past year an increase of 150 per cent in subscriptions.

Address on Missions.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the conference the principal event was the anniversary of the Woman's Foreight Missionary society, at which the address was given by Miss Sutton, a missionary on furlough from Singapore, S. S. Miss Sutton has spent the past four years in the Straits Settlement, and gave a very graphic account of her work there, and also of the conditions prevalent among the people. She claims that the natives are anxious for the Christian religion, and are seeking Christian baptism and instruction in larger numbers than can be properly cared for. The only hindrance to the rapid development of the work in that country is lack of sufficient funds.

In the evening the Rev. Dr. S. Earl Taylor, one of the secretaries of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist church delivered an inspiring address, and showed a large number of stereopticon views of his recent trip round the world in his inspection of the mission stations of the Methodist church.

Change in Superintendent.

There are rumors relative to several matters of importance. One is that there will in all probability be a change in the superintendency of the Fergus Falls district. Rev. Dr. McKee is the present superintendent, and it is expected that his place will be taken by Dr. U. S. Villars of Minneapolis. There were some rumors of a change in the Duluth district superintendency, as it was thought that Dr. Copper might at this time accept a position under one of the general conference commissions, as head of the transportation matters of the Methodist church, but this will be a matter for later consideration. Dr. Copper has already been appointed to the position by the bishops of the church, and has practically been doing the work of the commission for three years past in connection with his regular district work, but Dr. Copper will probably complete at least another year on the district.

The question of the conference giving its approval of the attempt being made to consolidate the Anti-Saloon league and Prohibition party forces will probably be taken up at one of the sessions. There seems to be some feeling against the movement.

SORGHUM CANE CROP GOOD IN BELTRAMI.

Bemidji, Minn., Oct. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sorgham cane raising is a profitable industry for Northern Minnesota, according to I. G. Haycraft, who came in yesterday from his farm near Turtle River, nine miles from Bemidji.

"A. J. Trusty, a farmer in Port Hope township, tried out a small field, one and three-quarters acres, of sorgham cane this season," said Mr. Haycraft, "and the experiment is proving a splendid success. From this small patch Mr. Trusty has made 200 gallons of sorgham, for which he finds a ready market at 75 cents a gallon. He has a small mill of his own and is determined to plant a large acreage next year."

Many of Mr. Trusty's neighbors, Mr. Haycraft said, will plant cane next spring to be run through his mill near Turtle River.

FATAL TO GOOD LOOKS

Thin Blood and Nervousness Will Quickly Wreck Beauty.

Pale people are generally nervous. Thin blood not only affects the complexion by robbing cheeks and lips of color but it also weakens the nerves by robbing them of nourishment.

When you have so far lost control of your nerves that you "fly to pieces" over the least little noise or excitement, it is high time to give your nerves a rest and to build up your blood. The drawn look, the sunken eyes, the deepening lines about the mouth and forehead, the loss in weight, are plain signs that the nerves and the body are being poorly nourished.

SHELTER FOR LAKESIDERS

Street Railway Will Build Shed at Fifty-Fourth Avenue.

Herbert Warren, general manager of the street railway company, notified Mayor Prince this morning that the company will erect a shelter at Fifty-fourth avenue east and Superior street for the convenience and protection of the large crowds which daily wait for the cars at that point.

The company has been ready to put up the shelter for several years past, only waiting for a location to be designated. If it were to be placed on a vacant lot the company wished the written consent of the property owner, and if on the street a permit was requested from the works department.

Mayor Prince states that he has been informed that the requirements have been fulfilled and that the shelter will be built without further delay. The shelter was first asked several years ago.

KAISER'S SON-IN-LAW MAY NEVER BE RULER

Deadlock Exists Over Placing Prince on Brunswick Throne.

Berlin, Oct. 3.—An utter deadlock apparently exists in the negotiations for placing Prince Ernest August of Cumberland and his bride, Princess Victoria Louise of Prussia, on the throne of Brunswick, and Emperor William may be disappointed in his hope of seeing his only daughter the wife of a reigning sovereign.

This has been brought about by the failure of the Prussian officials to realize clearly before the betrothal of the young prince and princess the determination of Prince Ernest August and his father, the duke of Cumberland, never formally to renounce their rights to the Hanoverian succession.

"Honor Before Love."

Prince Ernest August declared flatly to Prince August Wheim, Emperor William's lesser son, who was sent to confer with him at Karlsruth before the betrothal in order to induce him to renounce his rights:

"For me and my family, honor comes first, then love."

Princess Victoria Louise may therefore find herself the wife of a pretender in much the same position as Former King Manuel of Portugal.

ENDS BACKACHE AND KIDNEY DISORDERS

Croxone Helps Lifeless Organs Regain Health, Strength and Activity.

It is useless, dangerous and unnecessary to be tortured with the digging, twisting pains of backache or suffer disagreeable kidney and bladder disorders when Croxone is guaranteed to promptly and surely relieve all such misery.

Croxone masters these troubles because it quickly reaches the cause of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the membranes and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and make the kidneys filter and sift from the blood the waste and poisonous matter that clog the system and cause such troubles.

It does not matter whether you have but slight symptoms or a chronic, aggravated case, it is practically impossible to take Croxone without results.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if you are not entirely satisfied the very first time you use it.

INSPECTORS WILL BEGIN RECOUNT OF THE BALLOTS

Two of the three inspectors who will recount the ballots cast at the referendum election of Sept. 16 at which the Hicken code was declared to have been approved, were selected this afternoon by attorneys who appeared in district court before Judge Cant in the initial proceedings of the election contest.

A. T. Banning was chosen by City Attorney Harvey Clapp and Walter Gonska was selected by Hugh J. McClearn, attorney for W. W. Clayton, who brought a taxpayer's suit to force a recount of the ballots. The third inspector will be agreed upon this afternoon by Mr. Clapp and Mr. McClearn. The court intimated that it would sign an order appointing the three as soon as the agreement was reached and the order was presented to the court.

If the third man is selected this afternoon, it is believed that the recounting of the ballots will be started tomorrow morning at the city hall. Unlike the recent election contest over the office of mayor and short term commissioner, the recount of ballots will be a simple one and should not, attorneys say, require more than two days at the most. In this event, the inspectors' report should be made to the court early next week.

The result of the election as shown by the canvassing board at a meeting held Monday afternoon, Sept. 22, was as follows: For the Hicken ordinance, 4,791; against the ordinance, 4,683. The figures showed the code to have been approved by a margin of thirty-eight votes. In the appeal which has been taken, the contestant declares that more than ten illegal votes were cast in each precinct for the measure. The claim is also made that all the votes against it were not counted.

PROMOTION DAY IN FIRST PRESBYTERIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Sunday, Oct. 5, will be observed as promotion day by the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church. Appropriate graduating exercises will be conducted in each department and diplomas will be given to the graduating class in each department.

This day is quite an event in the work of the church and Sunday school as well as in the lives of the children and young people whose parents and friends are invited to attend. Of the 98 graduates 68 are from homes where neither parent is a member of the First Presbyterian church, while 30 come from homes where one or both parents are members of this church.

The following cradle roll members will be promoted to the beginners' department: Donald R. Cameron, Richard Reinhart, Jack D. Callan, Thomas W. Wood, Annabelle M. Wright, Marjorie F. Roble, Marian D. Reinhart, Margaret H. Frazer, Clinton W. MacMullen, Albert W. Pommerville, Frank F. Towne, Ruth J. Graham, Lucie V. Locker, Dorothy J. Cullen.

The following beginners will be promoted to the primary department: Plevena Bennison, Vera Olive Lacy, Marjorie Oberg, Margnerite V. Stewart, Florence Clough, Gladys Monson, Joseph Parker, Frances Van Valkenburgh, Sadie E. Hood, Katherine E. Murray, Ennola Pop, Keith Wallace.

The following primaries will be promoted to the junior department: Gertrude Seccombe, Harvey Williamson, Florence Cullen, David Elder, Lionel Parker, Arthur H. Muir, Delta Pierce, Ruth I. O'Leary, Mary Macrae, Emily Lannigan, Ruth Anderson, Raymond Watts, John J. Randall, Allan Smith, Arthur Kuregre, Virginia Baluss, Gladys Robinson, Ruth Williamson, Dora Conkey, Earl Rosenau, Joseph Montgomery, Reynolds Bennison, James W. Walder, Margaret Rusch, Elizabeth Hanson.

The following juniors will be promoted to the intermediate department: Walter Todd, Arthur Tucker, John Foley, Charles Brown, Myrtle Irvin, Ida Shinoe, Madeline McLennan, Mae Elder, Helen Bruen, Dorothy Pierce, William D. Eadie, Edward Evans, Fred Foley, Leinus Butchart, Helen Macrae, Edith Hutchins, Myrtle Blonstrand, Grace Magie, Jemima Elder, Lucy Hostetter, Clarence McKibbin, George Ross, James O'Neill, Allen Mustonen, May Phillips, Dorothy Worcester, Ruth Smith, Helen Macaulay, Melba Bruen.

The following intermediates will be promoted to the senior department: Gladys Rittman, Ralph Ross, Greta Ferguson, Anna Mae Johnston, Marguerite McCullough, Fred Durdin, Harold Coe, Agnes Macdonald, Ruby Miller, Beatrice Spengler, George McFarlane, Harold Stephenson, Alfred P. Melrose, Juliet Gordon, Pearl Miller, Pauline Brown, Louis Forbes, May Callan.

MAY HAVE TO ABANDON JOB

Contractor at Point of Rocks Is Having Difficulties.

Difficulties are being encountered by Contractor Fredin in continuing his operations to remove stone from the Point of Rocks.

As anticipated, the requirement that no boulders less than five tons be delivered to the government is resulting in the accumulation of a great quantity of smaller rock, which makes it difficult to get the big stone out.

Yesterday one of the loaded flat cars ran away. The cars are loaded on a track with some grade and they are moved out of the road by releasing the hand brake. The brake refused to work when an attempt was made to stop the car, and it ran away. When it hit the bend below it jumped the track. The contractor has no equipment along the railroad, making it necessary for him to blast the five and ten ton boulders into small pieces in order to move them. He will lose the $50 which he would have received for the boulders and other expenses will bring his loss from the accident to $100 or $150.

The shortage of funds in the city treasury deprives the municipality of an appointment of finishing the wall between Eleventh and Twelfth avenues along Superior street. The wall is planned for the lower side of the street to grade across a depression. When the government announced that it could use no stone under five tons the contractor volunteered to complete the wall with the smaller rocks for $1.25 a ton. He pointed out that as he was getting $1 a ton for the rock he would be building the wall for 25 cents a yard. Commissioner Murchison said that it is to be regretted that the lack of money prohibits the city from getting this work done at the price offered by the contractor.

In view of conditions at the cliff and the apparent impossibility of making some arrangement for disposing of the smaller rock, it seems probable that the contractor will not continue operations much longer. Thus far some 3,500 tons of rock have been removed, making a large cut in the cliff and doing much to open Superior street.

DULUTH MAN DISAPPEARS

The parents of Fred Fowler, 24 years old, 331 West Fifth street, this morning appealed to the police in their efforts to find their son, who disappeared from his home early Wednesday morning and has not been seen since.

Fowler left his home, apparently to go to work, but he failed to show up at Swift & Co.'s, where he was employed or at his home that evening. His parents fear foul play and are almost distracted.

When he left home Fowler wore a pair of khaki trousers and a blue woolen shirt. He weights about 155 pounds, is very dark and stands about five feet seven inches in height.

EXPECT TO CHECK TYPHOID'S SPREAD

Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, visited Gary townsite this morning to examine conditions following the development of a number of typhoid fever cases in the suburb. He did not find that there was any material change in the situation, which is considered encouraging.

Inspector Robert Metcalf is endeavoring to cause an improvement in the sanitary conditions, including the wiping out of various filthy spots which offer breeding places for flies, recognized as the most dangerous of typhoid carriers. The chief source of infection is believed to be from the drinking water, however, which is secured from wells into which surface water drains.

The residents are being instructed to boil their water and to take every precaution to prevent further spread of the disease. If this is done the health department officials believe the threatened epidemic can be checked. The situation clearly demonstrates the need of furnishing Gary with a pure water supply and an adequate sewer system. Construction of the water extension from New Duluth has not started as a sufficient guarantee has not yet been secured, but it is believed that this will be accomplished shortly.

APPROVES THE ASSESSMENT

The recent personal property assessment for Duluth, which was made under the direction of City Assessor J. Allyn Scott, was one of the best in the state.

The assessment has been carefully reviewed by the state tax commission, the ruling authority in tax matters in Minnesota, and found highly satisfactory. After its examination the commission stated that no changes will be made in the local assessment.

Duluth's showing in the moneys and credits was exceptional. The gain for the whole state was approximately $16,000,000, of which the gain in Duluth alone was about one-fifth, being close to $3,500,000.

Under the new laws passed by the state legislature the making of future assessments will be more difficult and complicated than in the past, both as to the personal property and the real property assessments. Instead of about thirty-five items on the personal property list, there will be over seventy items, many of the others having been subdivided. This will necessitate more detail and more time.

Unplatted lands and buildings on unplatted lands must henceforth be assessed at 33 1-3 per cent of their full value, and platted lands and buildings on platted lands at 40 cents of the full value. The assessor's office has the measurements of all except new buildings in its possession, these having been made during the revaluation two years ago. But the change will necessitate a complete revision of the figures on the assessor's books. It is not believed that the new schedule will make any material difference in the total of the assessed valuation aside from the normal increase.

The assessor has been working steadily to prepare for the assessment which will be made next May. For weeks past he and his deputies have been viewing and checking up the city. Arrangements are being made for revising the card system and the large maps of the city are being brought up to date.

FEARS HUSBAND WILL KILL HER

Fearing that her husband will kill her, Mrs. Mary Dorvinen, 320 West Third street, yesterday afternoon caused the arrest of the former, after he had assaulted her. She declared in police court this morning that she was afraid to live with her husband and that she caused his arrest merely to safeguard herself and their two sons.

William Dorvinen was arraigned on a charge of assault in the third degree this morning. He pleaded guilty and was given a straight sentence of thirty days in the county jail.

Mrs. Dorvinen was recently sentenced to thirty days in the county jail on a serious charge, but was released after serving four days when her husband appeared and asked for her release, promising at the time to care for her and behave himself. Mrs. Dorvinen declared this morning that she will secure a divorce as she is afraid to live with her husband any more.

MAY GET WATER MAINS THIS FALL

As a result of the typhoid fever epidemic at Gary, the water main extension will probably be secured this fall, according to a statement made by Watson S. Moore, one of the owners of the townsite, this afternoon.

Mr. Moore stated that they had been merely waiting for an estimate of the cost of the extension from the city. This was secured this afternoon and it is approximately $50,000.

"We will begin work on the petition at once," said Mr. Moore, "and hope to have the required guarantee within a very few days, so work can be begun this fall. The situation there demands prompt action, and nobody realizes it better than we do."

ALL THREE OF THEM FINED

Eli Sivetich, 38 years old, came all the way to Duluth yesterday afternoon to cause the arrest of Doka Mikullo, 40 years old, who Sivetich claims stole $150 from him, and when he appeared against her in police court this morning he was also placed under arrest.

Yesterday afternoon Tony Marino, 43 years old, and the Mikulic woman were arrested by Detectives Schulte and Irvine for living together as man and wife. The information was given the police by Sivetich, who came here to prosecute the Mikulic woman on a charge of having stolen $150 from him at Ely about a month ago.

In police court this morning the Mikulic woman accidentally told the court that she and Sivetich lived together at Ely for about two months and that they were not married. A complaint was then made out against Sivetich.

The trio pleaded guilty to the charge and they were each fined $50 and costs or sixty days in the county jail. They paid their fines.

Asked in court why they never married, both Marino and the Mikulic woman stated that they secured a marriage license about a month ago but that they never had time to get married. It was also learned this morning that Marino is married and has a wife and son in Austria. The Mikulic woman is a widow, while Sivetich is unmarried.

HORSE DEALER FOUND GUILTY OF BIGAMY.

Kansas City, Kan., Oct. 3.—A. O. Jacobs, a horse dealer, who has been married five times, was found guilty of bigamy in the district court today. He will be sentenced tomorrow. Four of Jacobs' "wives" are living. His last two marriages were concerned in the bigamy charge.

Beecher's Church Scorched.

New York, Oct. 3.—Fire broke out this afternoon in Plymouth church, Brooklyn, and did about $5,000 damage before it was gotten under control. The church is one of the most famous in Greater New York and its pulpit was once occupied by Henry Ward Beecher.

Silk and Wool Poplin

Will Be a Prime Favorite for Autumn Gowns

There is a pronounced tendency to all corded weaves in silk, silk and wool and all-wool fabrics. Hence the reason for such a demand on this very satisfactory material.

We are showing it this season in plain and brocaded effects and in several qualities. Some of them are comparatively light weight so that they can be easily draped; others are as heavy as a tailor serge—meant to be used for separate skirts and suits. The construction and the quality of the particular manufacturers' product, which we feature, are of especial note. They will not slip easily in the seams—they always retain their finish. They can be sponged without impairing the finish or draping qualities of the cloth, and we know they will give most excellent wear.

42 and 44 inch widths most generally. Plain weaves at $1.50 and $3.00 a yard. The brocades at $2.00 and $3.00 a yard.

Most of the colors we are able to match up in combinations, so that if wanted, you can have part of the gown of the brocade—the other part plain, or for a suit the coat of the brocade and the skirt of the plain.

TRAINS VIA WEST DULUTH

Soo Line May Use Its New Route By Nov. 1.

Site for West Duluth Station Is Not Yet Chosen.

Passenger trains on the Soo Line will probably be running through West Duluth on Nov. 1. The company's tracks leading from its passenger station in Superior to the Grassy Point bridge have been placed in first-class shape and the tracks leading along the bay front from the Grassy Point bridge to the Duluth Union station are rapidly being put in shape for this traffic.

"I have not accurate information, but it is my opinion that the trains will be operated through West Duluth by Nov. 1," said Supt. Harris of the road this morning. "It may be two weeks before definite information can be had from the company's offices. The road has been placed in fine shape and is ready for the traffic."

Mr. Harris said he did not know just what trains would be operated over the West Duluth road, but was of the opinion that the company would probably run all of its trains that way. The company has a long-term lease on the Grassy Point bridge from the Northern Pacific Railroad company.

As yet local officials of the company do not know just where the company will locate its West Duluth station, but it is probable that a site close to Ramsey street will be chosen. Business men of West Duluth say that this location would be the most advantageous to them and it is probable that the company's officers will interview some of the merchants before definitely deciding on the site.

SOCIAL CENTER IS APPROVED

W. C. T. U. Members Favor New Work Undertaken in West Duluth.

The social center at the Irving school was indorsed and resolutions passed to give what moral aid possible at the meeting of the West Duluth W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Lucien Merritt, 4611 Oneota street yesterday afternoon.

"The Progress of Vigilance" was the subject discussed under the leadership of Mrs. M. E. Allen. Papers were read by Mrs. Allen and Mrs. A. A. Keer. Announcement was made of the International Purity congress which will meet Nov. 9. A delegate to this convention will be elected at the next meeting of the union.

IS ARRESTED IN MILWAUKEE

Miss Beulah Barton, daughter of Mrs. Laura Barton, 5018 Main street, and Albert Hoover of St. Paul are being held by the Milwaukee police according to a message received last night by Chief of Police C. H. Troyer. Hoover is alleged to have left in company with Miss Barton about a month ago. The girl's mother will leave this afternoon to bring her daughter home.

Hoover is said to be a married man engaged in the jewelry business in St. Paul. A warrant charging him with family desertion is said to be held by St. Paul officers.

Miss Barton was until a month ago employed in a local department store. Shortly after leaving her mother appealed to local police officers to assist in locating the girl. Information to the effect that she was in Milwaukee in company with the man was received here a few days ago and yesterday they were located and arrested.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF WEST DULUTH CLUB.

The West Duluth Commercial club will have a number of important matters presented before it this evening, according to John J. Frey, member of its railroad committee. It is proposed by some of the members to ask the club to request a hearing before the state railroad and warehouse commission regarding discrimination in railroad fares on its trains to the Twin Cities.

The club will also discuss street and road improvements. It is expected that a large number of the members will be present. The club will also plan a series of monthly social affairs. Last winter these "Ladies' Nights" proved very popular and drew out good attendances.

FIRST ENTERTAINMENT AT SOCIAL CENTER.

Many West Duluth people are expected at the first of a series of entertainments to be given this evening under the auspices of the social center clubs at the Irving school. The lecture and program will be free to all.

H. W. Richardson of the United States weather bureau will give a talk on the work of his department. An address on "City Planning" will also be given by Charles S. Mitchell. The program will also include solos by C. O. Applehagen and Miss Maud Mattson.

It is proposed to give entertainments of this nature every two weeks. Programs are being prepared under the direction of Miss Margaret Culkin assisted by various members of the clubs, Well-known business and professional men will appear on the various programs.

CAUGHT SWEEPING WHEAT IN CARS.

Frank Gilmett ran short of chicken feed yesterday and believed that the cheapest way of refilling the grain bin would be to sweep some of the loose grain in the empty box cars on the Northern Pacific tracks. Before he had gathered much of the feed he was discovered by Special Officer Jacobson, and this morning he pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Lanners. He was fined $3 and costs. Sentence was suspended on condition that he would keep away from the cars for a year.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mike Willett, 608 North Fifty-sixth avenue west, returned this morning from Fergus Falls. He brought with him a carload of horses.

There! Take That!

London, Oct. 3.—The deportation of Marie Lloyd, the music hall singer, is commented on today by the Pall Mall Gazette, which writes somewhat sarcastically about the "sensitiveness of American public opinion." It says:

"One can only hope that the excessive propriety which governs the regulations for the admission of aliens to America corresponds with the daily life of the citizens within its discreet borders."

MISTRIAL IS LOOKED FOR

Second Jury in Maud Grant Case Out Twenty-Six Hours.

A second mistrial is looked for in the case of the State against Maud Grant, indicted in district court on a charge of being the proprietor of a house of ill-fame. Up to a late hour this afternoon, the jury in the second trial of the woman were apparently unable to reach an agreement after having been out for nearly twenty-six hours.

The first trial of the action, two weeks ago, resulted in a disagreement. The first trial was conducted before Judge Fesler. The second trial was started this week before Judge Dancer and the case went to the jury at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning. This morning, the jurors returned to the court with the request that the court's charge be repeated to them as they were in doubt as to some of the points.

It was rumored around the corridors of the courtroom this morning that the second jury was about evenly divided on the question of the woman's guilt or innocence. The first jury, it is generally understood, voted nine for conviction, three for acquittal.

Bethel Lodger Stricken.
Pat Murphy, 39 years old, of Detroit, Mich., suddenly became unconscious at the new Bethel about 11 o'clock last evening and was immediately taken to St. Luke's hospital in the police emergency patrol. Murphy had been ill for several days. He registered at the Bethel about two hours before being taken ill.

Charity Workers Will Meet.
Members of the Associated Charities will meet at Memorial hall Wednesday, Oct. 8, when there will be a discussion of the last year's work, election of a new board of directors and a new amendment to section 3, article 9, of the by-laws will be voted upon. The new amendment would have the officers, including the president of the central council, elected by the council. As the by-laws now stand, the secretary of the Associated Charities acts as the secretary of the council.

Will Appeal From Award.
William L. Stevens filed notice yesterday that he will appeal to the district court from the report of the viewers on Ditch No. 1 and its confirmation. Stevens owns the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 15, township 54, north of range 18 west. The viewers fixed the benefits to be derived at $113.91 and the damage to Stevens' property at $55.30. Stevens says the damages are insufficient and the assessment too large.

New Mining Company.
Articles of incorporation were filed with the register of deeds today by the Butterfield-Maas Mining company. The business of the corporation will be operating in mines and mining property. The capital is fixed at $150,000 and the men in the company are all residents of Duluth. The officers are: George W. Butterfield, president; R. S. Forgy, first vice president; John Thomson Leirmo, second vice president; Leslie H. Copeland, secretary, and A. F. Maas, treasurer.

Wants Administrator Named.
Edgar Prochnik, Imperial Austro-Hugarian consul, petitioned the probate court today for the appointment of Mauritz Hein of St. Paul as administrator in the estate of John Muhvic, deceased. The estate consists of $25 and a claim for alleged wrongful death.

Looking for Yeggmen.
The local police have been asked to arrest the three masked men who opened a safe at Thief River Falls early Tuesday morning and got away with $7,500. A description of two of the men is given by the station agent at Thief River Falls. He describes one as 5 feet, 9 inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds, and the other as 5 feet, 6 inches tall, weighing 140 pounds.

New Land Company.
Articles of incorporation of the Vermillion Summer Home company were taken out at the office of the register of deeds yesterday afternoon. The directors are all Duluth men. The purpose of the corporation is to buy, sell, improve and plat property, and also to deal in mortgages, loans and transact other business of a similar nature. The capital is fixed at $50,000, and 500 shares will be issued, each at par value. The directors are: William Elder, Charles P. Meyers and Alexander Marshall.

An Interesting Convention.
Dr. I. J. Murphy, medical inspector of the health department, returned today from St. Paul, where he attended the annual conventions of the State Sanitary conference and the State Medical society. Dr. Murphy stated that many interesting and instructive papers were read by medical men from various parts of Minnesota.

Referees Target Practice.
Lieut. H. F. Emerson, U. S. N., who is in charge of the recruiting stations in Minnesota, inspected the local office this morning. Lieut. Emerson will leave with the navy marines on the U. S. S. Gopher this afternoon for Encampment island, where he will referee the annual target practice the remainder of the week.

Pays His Fine.
James Stanley, bartender for P. J. Hickey, 113 West First street, who was arrested on Sunday, Sept. 14, for selling liquor and was convicted a few days later, paid his fine of $100 this morning. Following the conviction, Stanley was granted a stay of twenty days, which expired yesterday afternoon. He was fined $100 or ninety days at the time.

Denies Parentage.
Herman Lukallo was brought to trial before Judge Fesler and a jury this morning on a charge preferred by Hilda Saline. The action is a quasi-criminal one, the only question to be submitted to the jury being to decide whether or not Lukallo is the father of the 2-week-old child of the complaining witness. Lukallo denies the parentage.

On Trial for Assault.
The case of Oscar Carlson, 521 North Twenty-first avenue west, who is charged with having assaulted Hugo Christopher, 12 years old, on Sept. 25 last, came before Judge Cutting in municipal court this morning. Young Christopher was on the stand and testified that Carlson struck him several times and knocked out two teeth, because he thought the boy was stealing some truck from his garden. The case was continued to the afternoon session of court. Carlson pleaded not guilty when arraigned last Friday, his case being set for this morning. He is being defended by Andrew Nelson.

For Selling Liquor to Boy.
Fred Erickson appeared in police court this afternoon to answer a charge of having sold liquor to Dan Summers, a minor, last Friday afternoon, while George Bromfield, who pleaded guilty last Saturday to having disposed of liquor to young Summers, will be sentenced following Erickson's trial. Erickson pleaded not guilty when arraigned last Saturday, and his case was set for this morning.

Trial Is Postponed.
The scheduled hearing of John Everett, who was arrested Wednesday afternoon on a charge of having criminally assaulted Mrs. P. J. Hickey last Monday night, was continued from this morning to the afternoon session, owing to the length of the regular grist. The warrant for Everett's arrest was sworn out by Mr. Hickey. Everett is an employe on the Hickey farm on Duluth Heights.

Steals Tray of "Flashes."
A large tray of imitation diamond settings were stolen from the five and ten cent store yesterday afternoon. The total value was $6. The police are now investigating the theft.

Gets Judgment on Note.
M. S. Cook has taken default judgment for $536 against C. L. Burr and J. L. Anderson in a suit brought in district court to collect $500 and interest on a promissory note given by Burr to Cook and indorsed by Anderson. The note was given last May and ran for sixty days. When it matured, the payment was not forthcoming. Cook brought suit to recover.

THREE CLERKS ARE ARRESTED

Charged By State Officer With Giving Short Weights.

Three grocery clerks in different sections of the city were arrested this morning on charges of selling short weights. The complaint against them all was made by C. A. Montgomery, state inspector of weights and measures.

According to Mr. Montgomery, in police court this morning, considerable short weighing is being done in the city. It is understood that warrants for three more arrests are now out and that the violators will be in custody some time this afternoon.

Miss Emma Thatcher, who clerks for her father at 312 West Fourth street, pleaded guilty to a charge of having sold thirteen and one-half ounces of cranberries for a quart. There are eighteen ounces of cranberries to a quart.

Henry Johnson of 2814 West Third street will enter a plea tomorrow to the charge of having sold sixteen and one-half ounces of cranberries for a quart.

C. E. Anderson of 5615 Grand avenue is charged with having sold twenty and one-half ounces of pickling onions for a quart. He pleaded not guilty and his case was set for next Monday morning. There are twenty-six ounces of pickling onions to a quart. He was allowed to go on his own recognizance.

The cranberries and onions were all sold to Mr. Montgomery himself.

THINK CHINESE WILL RELEASE AMERICANS

Washington, Oct. 3.—A report to the state department today from Charge Williams of the American legation at Pekin, stating that Li Yuan Heng, vice president of China, had informed him of the arrival of 2,000 troops at Tsao Yang, leads officials here to believe that the eight foreign missionaries, including four Americans, who are held for a ransom by bandits at that point will speedily be released.

Charge Williams confirms unofficial reports of the capture of the missionaries, and adds that one captive has been killed by the bandits, but the identity of the victim is not established. Charge Williams bases his report on a missionary telegram from Hsiang Yang forwarded to Pekin through Consul General Greene at Hankow. Unofficial reports say the little son of Rev. Herman Fauske, an American attached to the Lutheran Brethren mission, was slain by the bandits.

CREDIT MEN ARE GUESTS OF CITY

About ten members of the directorate of the National Association of Credit Men arrived in Duluth at 2 p. m. today from St. Paul as guests of the Duluth division of the association. The afternoon was spent in sightseeing, and the visitors will be guests tonight at 6:30 o'clock at a banquet at the Commercial clubrooms. The visitors will leave for their homes at 11 o'clock tonight.

To insure a good representation of the national body several Duluth credit men went to St. Paul yesterday where the National association was in session. These were W. M. Bergin, secretary of the Duluth association; Willard B. Cross, president of the Jobbers' Credit bureau; H. W. Higgins, ex-president of the association.

About 125 local men and visitors are expected at the banquet tonight and an interesting program has been arranged. President H. A. Sedgewick of the Duluth association will preside and Mr. Cross will be toastmaster. Mayor Prince will be an honorary guest and give a short address.

CUTS HER HAIR AND LIES TO THE POLICE

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 3.—Police officials of Jerseyville, Ill., today used bloodhounds to trace the person who clipped the long auburn hair of Miss Myrtle Hamilton, a 14-year-old high school girl. The bloodhounds followed the trail to Miss Hamilton, herself, and she confessed the deed.

Previously she had told that her hair had been snipped by two men, and the police believed the deed had been done by the mysterious men who have been docking the tails of horses in the vicinity of Jerseyville for the last two or three weeks.

The girl said she clipped her hair in order to attract attention.

BEST SEASON IN HISTORY

More Tourists Than Ever Before Passed Through Duluth.

Hotel Men and Steamship Agents Well Pleased With Results.

According to reports of hotel men and steamship companies the tourist season of 1913 in Duluth, which has just closed, eclipsed all others in the history of the city. Hotel men say that 50 per cent is a conservative estimate of the increase in their tourist business. While it is impossible to get any correct estimate of numbers, it is believed that more than 100,000 tourists visited Duluth last summer. Many of them may have just passed through, but a majority of them spent at least a day here.

Hotel managers say that all the hostelries in the city were overcrowded despite the fact that every available room was fixed over into a sleeping place. Sample rooms, writing rooms, corridors, were all used during the big rush. So difficult was it to get sleeping quarters at times, that tourists offered as high as $15 a night for a room and yet were turned away as it was impossible to find quarters. During this rush, however, hotel men in Duluth did not holdup tourists, but offered the best of service at the usual prices.

Edwin Lee, president and manager of the Spalding hotel company, says that the Spalding housed about 10,500 people during July and August. As the commercial travelers are not very numerous in Duluth during those months, he said that they would not number more than 20 per cent of the 10,500. The Holland, St. Louis, Lenox and McKay also turned away guests nearly every day during the height of the season. No tourist could get quarters at these places after about 7 o'clock in the evening.

Lasted Three Months.

The managers of the steamship lines were just as optimistic in their reports of the tourist business. The Anchor Line, Northern Navigation company, Port Huron & Duluth Steamship company and the Chicago, Duluth & Georgian Bay Transporation company, all of which operate tourist boats on the Great Lakes and touch at Duluth, report the best business in this history. These companies operate from two to four ships each. These boats carry about 325 passengers each. These lines say tourists began to come to Duluth from all points on the Great Lakes and from Eastern and Southern points about the middle of June and continued to arrive until well along in September.

There are several very good reasons given for this increase in numbers. The weather over the United States last summer was hot, and great numbers knew that "it is cool in Duluth."

Duluth is also attractive to tourists because it is a hay fever resort without a rival. Park Point, tapering out into the water for several miles is the refuge for the hay fever sufferer.

WANTS WORLD-WIDE FIGHT ON FUTURES

Washington, Oct. 3.—On the heels of the failure of congress to legislate in the tariff bill to prevent gambling in cotton futures, Representative Harrison of Mississippi today introduced a resolution providing for an international campaign against such speculation. The resolution would request the president to negotiate with Great Britain and other nations with a view to formulating a plan to prevent cotton speculation.

IS STEADY TO THE CLOSE

Wheat Market Holds Firm Throughout the Day's Session.

Flaxseed Breaks Under a Flood of Selling Orders.

Duluth Board of Trade, Oct. 3.—The wheat market held steady right up to the close. December wheat closed ¼c off and May ¼c off. October durum closed off ¾c with the May option unchanged.

• • •

After sagging off at the opening today, the wheat market held steady, with the trading on the narrowest order. The general factors of the day were bearish, cables being lower, and the flow of grain to the primary markets did not show any diminution in volume. Under these conditions and with the Eastern milling demand comparatively quiet and the market out of line for export, shipments are below the mark and the elevators are rapidly filling up. The Duluth houses showed a total of 1,148,000 bu of all grains in store today, of which wheat accounts for 9,137,000 bu. This is a gain of 998,000 bu of wheat and of 1,754,000 bu all grain on hand during the last five days. Minneapolis is in the same position, wheat stocks there gaining 2,075,000 bu in the week.

Some heavy wheat sales not yet officially noted are reported to have been made during the last couple of days by local elevator interests. The business is said to have been put through on a close margin, but it was done with a view to keeping the grain moving and providing room in the houses.

December wheat opened ⅛c off at 85¼c and sagged ¼c more in the early trading, resting on that basis up to the final hour. May opened ⅛c off at 90¾c and weakened to 90c. October durum opened ¼c off at 80¼c and recovered on fair demand to 80½c. The December option opened unchanged at 81⅝c and weakened ¼c later.

Flaxseed Breaks at Close.

Flaxseed broke sharply at the close on a flood of offerings. Trading was dull and featureless previously. Prices were unchanged in the early trading, fairly liberal offerings being readily absorbed without affecting quotations. The market did not move either way up to the final hour and then there were some fireworks in the last five minutes.

October flaxseed opened at $1.40¼ and closed at $1.39; November opened at $1.41 and closed at $1.40; December opened at $1.39½ and closed at $1.38¾ and May opened at $1.45 and closed at $1.44¼.

MARKET GOSSIP.

World's stocks are estimated by Bradstreet's as showing an increase of 6,213,000 bu in the week. This is about the same gain as last week.

Broomhall cables from Liverpool: "The market opened steady but dull. Offers were light, being influenced by the steady American cables and firmer Canadian offers and prices were unchanged. Following the opening there was a decline of ⅛@¼d with moderate realizing. World's shipments other than America are expected to be light, cargoes in fair demand, India offers firm and the demand from France continues with more urgent request for cargoes. These however, were offset by free Russian offers at a decline and continued free American and Canadian receipts. At 1:30 p. m. the undertone was easy, ⅛@¼d lower.

"Corn opened unchanged to ⅛d lower. Later there was covering by October shorts on the rejection of deliveries owing to the unsatisfactory condition of the same and this month advanced ½d."

John Conby, Chicago, and H. E. Hughes of Minneapolis were visitors on the board of trade this morning.

• • •

Kansas City wired: "Immense increase of winter wheat in Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma and most of it is up and will furnish fine grazing for cattle. There has been a wonderful transformation in conditions in the Southwest in the past four weeks, and with the big stocks of wheat here and elsewhere, and exporters here tell me personally they cannot do any business, the situation looks very poor for maintaining grain values."

The extraordinarily high grade of the wheat being marketed this season is shown in the daily record of car inspections. Compared with last year, today's tally showed 57 cars of No. 1 hard against 57, and 154 cars of No. 1 northern against 70, while only 5 cars of no grade stuff came to hand against 188. "There has been nothing like it since 1895," said E. N. Bradley, manager of the Globe Elevator company, this morning. "That year we had at the Globe elevator at one time 2,800,000 bu of No. 1 hard out of a total of 4,300,000 bu, and nearly all the remainder ran No. 1 northern.

• • •

The elevator situation at Buffalo today remained just where it stood yesterday, 3,300,000 bu of grain being reported afloat in the harbor. The railroads by special dispatch have been just able to take care of current receipts during the last few days.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Goes Down on Argentine Crop Reports.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Favorable crop advices from Argentina tended today to give the wheat market a down turn. Drouth was said to be confined to a small district. There were also Liverpool reports of continued free offerings by Russia. The opening was a shade to ¼@⅜c off. Prices fell still further after a brief rally to last night's level.

Increased hedging sales at Minneapolis added to the weakness, but covering by shorts here finally steadied the market. The close was steady, ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c net lower.

Good weather had a bearish influence on corn. Increased estimates of the Argentine export surplus counted too against the bulls. The market started a shade to ⅛@¼c lower and continued to recede.

Lightness of shipping demand prevented any important reason. It was predicted also that country offerings would soon increase. The close was steady, ⅛@⅜c to ⅝c under last night.

Oats appeared to be depressed by the new tariff and by reports of Canadian shipments to Toledo and elsewhere. Price changes, however, were only moderate.

Provisions declined owing to demand being slack. First sales which were 2½c lower to a shade up, were followed by quotations that showed a more decided loss.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

New York, Oct. 3.—Stocks came on the market steadily throughout the morning, in sufficient volume to force down prices materially. American stocks were inclined to heaviness abroad, and offerings for foreign account were in fairly large volume. Heaviness of Union Pacific was attributed to liquidation by holders who were disappointed at the failure of the directors to make some announcement regarding the rumored cash distribution. Stocks in which the bulk of the trading centered fell 1@1½.

Bonds were easy.

Slightly lower prices prevailed at the opening today. Pressure was heaviest against Union Pacific, which fell back 1½. Steel also was sold in large amount, yielding nearly a point. The copper shares lost a small part of their recent extensive advance. Union Pacific preferred moved against the market, advancing 1½.

Prices fell lower before the end of the first hour, although Union Pacific recovered half of its loss of 1½. Reading, Steel, Amalgamated and American Telephone declined 1 and Atlantic Coast Line 1½. Government bonds developed renewed weakness, most issues showing losses. The coupon 4's made a new low record, at 109¼.

Pressure against the market was unrelieved and important stocks sold under their forenoon low prices. Steel increased its loss to two points which had the effect of weakening the market for other metal stocks. Locomotive went down several points in short order and there was acute heaviness among other low priced industrials.

Speculative selling was suspended for a time in the latter part of the day. The market showed no semblance of rallying power, which discouraged the bulls from taking on stocks at the lower prices and encouraged the bears to keep out their short lines.

The market closed steady; fractional recoveries in the final hour were due to the efforts of some traders to cover their shorts. Business was of nominal proportions, and although more steadiness was exhibited the principal shares ended the day with losses of a point or more.

TOSHESKY IS SAVED AFTER EIGHT DAYS IN COAL MINE CAVE-IN Miner Refuses Aid as He Emerges From Living Tomb.

Is His Second Experience of Perils of Work Underground.

Says He Feels "Bully;" Seems to Think Adventure Ordinary.

Centralia, Pa., Oct. 4.—Thomas Toshesky, prisoner since Friday of last week in an abandoned chamber of the Continental mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, walked into the open air a free and comparatively well man at twenty-two minutes before 8 o'clock this morning. He was taken to his home in Centralia, three miles away from his underground prison, and at once put to bed, apparently none the worse for his experience.

It was 7:15 o'clock when the last barrier of coal was driven away and Toshesky crawled through the opening from his prison chamber into the tunnel which had been steadily driven toward him by eager, willing rescuers.

Seven minutes later the first intimation was given to the outside world that the big task was completed and the prisoner was free. This was when a miner crawled to the mouth of the tunnel and called to the top of the pit for blankets and hot water to be sent down.

Walked Without Aid.

The work of getting the man ready for his exit occupied the next few minutes, and at 7:39 o'clock a file of men emerging from the heading heralded the approach of the hero of the occasion. Toshesky came from the hole with a gray blanket wrapped about his shoulders. Back of him was a miner with hands upraised, ready to assist if he should be needed, but Toshesky walked with astonishing agility, considering his experience.

When he stepped onto the wooden platform just outside of the mouth of the narrow tunnel and was first able to stand upright he paused for an instant and looked up the steep and muddy zigzag path which led to the opening of the mine breach.

His miner's cap was on his head when he crawled through the opening of the tunnel and greeted his rescuers. His

SKIPPERS' HASTE TO PORT COSTS $5,000

Cargoes of Fish Arrive Before Tariff Change Is Effective.

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 4.—The owners of two fishing schooners which reached port yesterday from the Grand Banks are lamenting that the skippers did not delay a day in bringing home their fares. Had they waited until today the vessel owners, under the new tariff law, would have saved $5,000 which they were obliged to pay in duties on the 650,000 pounds of fish.

WOMEN SET FIRE TO HOUSE NEAR LONDON

Two Are Arrested on Suspicion—Suffragette Literature Found.

London, Oct. 4.—Militant suffragettes this morning set fire to a large unoccupied riverside house at Hampton-on-Thames, a few miles above London. Two women were arrested on suspicion. A large quantity of suffrage literature was found strewn about the grounds.

The women were identified in police court as Miss May Richardson and Miss Rachel Peace. Miss Richardson, who was recently released from prison, where she was serving a term of three months' imprisonment, admitted that she had set fire to the house and hoped she had made a good job of it. The women were remanded for further hearing without bail.

CHILD EATS BERRIES; SLEEPS THREE DAYS

Racine Doctors Unable to Explain Nature of Fruit.

Racine, Wis., Oct. 4.—After eating some green berries which she picked in Washington park, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian H. Krogh, lapsed into an unconscious state and remained so for three days. Attending physicians were at a loss to diagnose the case and declared the child would die. Late yesterday the girl regained consciousness and apparently is as well as ever.

When questioned, she lisped out the story of the berries. An effort is being made to ascertain the nature of the berries as they may prove a menace to children who daily roam the heavily wooded park.

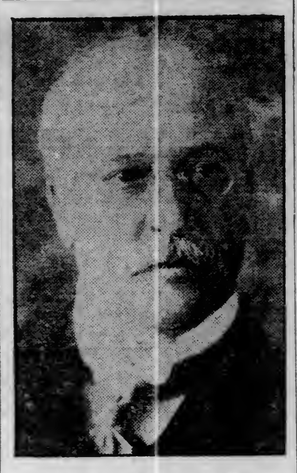

MEN NAMED FOR ALASKAN OFFICES.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The president today made the following nominations:

QUEER DEATHS IN WISCONSIN

State Board of Health Gets Some Strange Reports.

Auto Victim "Hit Between the Lamp and the Radiator."

Madison, Wis., Oct. 4.—Of hundreds of death certificates handled annually by the state board of health in making its classification of diseases, many contain interesting remarks as to the cause of death. These death certificates are generally filled out by a local physician and mailed to the board. Some of the "causes" as found in the reports by Chief Statistician L. W. Hutchcroft follow:

A mother "died in infancy."

"Went to bed feeling well, but woke up dead."

"Died suddenly at the age of 103. Up to this time he bids fair to reach a ripe old age."

"Do not know cause of death, but patient fully recovered from last illness."

"Deceased had never been fatally sick."

"Died a mere child." (An infant of 6 months).

"Last illness caused by chronic rheumatism, but was cured before death."

"Nothing Serious."

"Died suddenly, nothing serious."

"While cranking his automobile, sustained what is technically known as a colles fracture of the right rib."

"Pulmonary hemorrhage — sudden death." (Duration, four years).

"Chronic diseases."

"Deceased died from blood poison, caused by a broken ankle, which is rembarkable as the automobile struck him between the lamp and the radiator."

"Exhaustion."

Since 1907 the national bureau has recognized the Wisconsin health bureau as one of the states furnishing correct vital statistics. All records that are incomplete are sent back for correction. Under recent reorganization, with five health officers in the field, the board hopes to be able to furnish more complete information on the causes of deaths.

OKLAHOMA VOTING LIMITS ASSAILED

"Grandfather Clause" of Constitution Attacked as Invalid.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The Federal government's effort to prove that the "grandfather clause" of the Oklahoma Constitution violates the Constitution of the United States was begun in the supreme court today with the filing of a brief by Solicitor General Davis.

The circuit court of appeals for the Ninth circuit has certified to the supreme court the question of the validity of the amendment to the Oklahoma Constitution which grants suffrage to illiterates and their descendants who were entitled to vote prior to Jan. 1, 1866.

The solicitor contends that the entire provision is unconstitutional because it violates the Fifteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution, guaranteeing suffrage without discrimination as to race, color or previous condition of servitude. The effect of the "grandfather clause," he adds, is to exclude practically all illiterate negroes and practically no illiterate white men.

TROOPS KEEP MOBS QUIET

Order Is Restored in Copper Country After Night Riots.

Accidental Injury to Child Leads to Outbreak.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The additional troops sent into Keweenaw county yesterday prevented any disorder this morning. There was no interference with men going to work today.

A total of twenty-eight arrests were made in connection with the Wolverine riots last night, and the woman who started the riot is being sought.

Strikers last night attempted to wreck the automobile of Gen. Abbey near Wolverine and threw rocks through the windows of street cars. The county road near Ahmeek was barricaded with ties, barrels and rocks. Twenty Lansing artillerymen, under Lieut Ashley, clashed with several hundred strikers who, it is said, sought vengeance as the result of the accidental injury of the 3-year-old daughter of a striker by one of the troopers.

Girl Accidentally Hurt.

The mounted men met the advance of the strikers and quickly gained the upper hand, the strikers offering little fight.

While one of the artillerymen was riding through Wolverine, the wife of a striker rushed out of her home and threw a missile at him. He gave chase, and the woman's little daughter, who ran directly in front of the horse, was knocked down and injured.

This aroused the woman's husband and other strikers, and a big crowd collected and started for the military camp with the apparent intention of attacking the soldiers. The troops, who were prepared, captured the leaders and dispersed the others.

Ferris Criticizes Authorities.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 4.—Governor Ferris announced, after a conference here today with Adjt. Gen. Vandercook, that he will instruct Gen. Abbey, in command of the state troops in the Calumet strike zone, to order three additional militia companies to be prepared for service in case their presence is deemed necessary.

Governor Ferris criticized the manner in which the local authorities, according to reports, are enforcing the laws in the Copper country. He said that as conditions were "not growing better," he would keep troops in the district for some time.

He blamed the removal of the injunction prohibiting picketing for the recent disturbances.

INTERURBAN CARS COLLIDE; ONE DEAD

Score of Passengers at Columbus, Ohio, Injured in Crash.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 4.—In a heavy fog, two interurban cars of the Columbus Railway & Light company collided head-on just north of this city early today, killing one man and seriously injuring several others. The cars met on a single track and the impact caused them to telescope. A score or more of passengers were more or less injured.

Motorman C. W. Davis of Columbus died shortly after reaching a hospital. Both of his legs were severed and he was otherwise injured.

ST. PAUL UNION DEPOT DESTROYED BY FIRE; $200,000 IN THE RUINS

New Building Already Sought to Replace "Noah's Ark."

Travelers and Trunks All Got Out on Short Notice.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ruins of the St. Paul union depot still smouldered this morning, although the fire which destroyed the ancient structure started about 11 o'clock last night. It was not brought under control until it practically had burned itself out. The loss is estimated at $225,000 to $250,000, covered by insurance.

A meeting was expected to be called during the day to form definite plans for a new station. A movement for a new and modern structure has been under way for years.

Trainshed Hardly Touched.

The trainshed was hardly touched by the flames and trains entered and departed as usual today. Improvised ticket offices were established in passenger coaches under the shed.

Although the baggagemen had only twenty minutes time in which to move more than 400 trunks to a place of safety it was announced this morning that not a single piece of baggage had been lost. This morning's baggage was checked as usual, out at improvised tables, in the depot shed. Only trunks were accepted, passengers being required to care for all their hand baggage.

Incoming passengers from a Chicago & Northwestern train arriving from Chicago at 11:05 p. m. were the last to pass through the station. Conductor James Williams of Minneapolis followed the passengers through the de-

PASSENGERS SAVED BY WIRELESS CALL

Steamer Spokane Wrecked on the Pacific Coast.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 4.—All passengers of the Pacific coast Steamship company's steamship Spokane are reported safe today on board the steamer La Touche of the same line, which took them off when the Spokane went ashore last night near Cape Lazo, 100 miles north of Victoria, B. C.

Details of what happened after the wireless call "Sinking fast" went out from the Spokane will be known when the La Touche, a freighter, reaches port here. Another of the company's boats, the Alki, is standing by the wrecked vessel.

Spokane's Second Disaster.

The Spokane was bound here from Skagway. She ties today close to the spot where she was beached in 1911, after striking a rock in Seymour Narrows. She is the second of the company's boats to get into trouble this season, the steamer State of California having struck an uncharted rock in Gambier Bay Aug. 17 and sunk, carrying down thirty-seven passengers and seven members of the crew.

VOTES FOR WOMEN IS PART OF HIS PLATFORM

CHARLES S. BIRD.

Great Barrington, Mass., Oct. 4.—Woman suffrage was emphatically endorsed by Charles Bird, Progressive nominee for governor, when a young woman interrupted his speech at Otis yesterday to ask how he stood on the subject.

"My father's closest friend," he replied, "was Julia Ward Howe. I was brought up to believe in woman suffrage. I have always believed that it is not only woman's right, but her duty to vote."

REPUBLICANS CLASH IN MASSACHUSETTS

Immigration Plank in Platform Is Cause of Trouble.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 4.—A contest over the question of an immigration plank between the committee on resolutions and the party nominee for governor, Congressman A. P. Gardner, was one feature of the Republican state convention today. When the committee announced the wording of its platform declaration on this subject, Congressman Gardner declared that it was unsatisfactory to him, and he would oppose it on the floor of the convention.

The committee's report was: "We believe that some system should be devised whereby undesirable aliens should be entirely excluded and that desirable aliens should be more carefully distributed throughout the country."

Congressman Gardner favored a direct declaration in favor of restriction.

Since candidates for state offices have been nominated by direct primaries, the only function remaining to the convention was the adoption of a platform.

"CURRENCY NEXT" IS WORD AT WASHINGTON; TARIFF BILL IS SIGNED

TREASURY MEN BUSY

Execution of Lowest Tariff Since 1857 Develops Upon Them.

Officials Say It Will Provide Ample Government Funds.

Washington, Oct. 4.—With the Democratic tariff law consummated, activity today was transferred from the halls of congress to the treasury department, where Secretary McAdoo and Assistant Secretary Hamlin began the development of a plan of enforcement.

Treasury officials declared that the new act will be the lowest tariff law in the history of the country, with the possible exception of the Walker tariff of 1846 and its amendatory tariff of 1857. With President Wilson and the congressional framers of the law, they declared it was "a competitive tariff" and freely expressed the conviction that business would be invigorated and sustained through its operation.

Ample Revenue.

Officials were equally confident that it would afford the government ample revenue. It is roughly estimated that $100,000,000 worth of merchandise, held in bond, soon will be withdrawn and payment of duty made under the new law. Compared with the Payne-Aldrich act this will mean a loss of $10,000,000 to the government. Treasury officials maintained that these withdrawals would have no perceptible effect upon the business of the country.

General regulations will be issued within a few days, covering the tariff as a whole, and these will be followed by specific rules regarding each of the intricate schedules.

Income Tax Means Work.

The most difficult administrative feature of the new act is the income tax provision. This entirely new venture will require the work of experts to draft a workable plan that will insure the government receiving its lawful dues from every taxable citizen.

William H. Osborn, commissioner of internal revenue, today began the task of formulating as simple a plan as possible.

While no official announcement has been made, it is believed that L. F. Speer of Bangor, Pa., at present chief of the corporation tax division of the treasury department, will be appointed deputy commissioner of internal revenue in immediate charge of the income tax.

WOMEN PASS BUCKETS AND TOWN IS SAVED

Winnebago, Ill., People Fight Fire and Finally Win.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 4.—A bucket brigade of young women saved the business district of Winnebago, near here, from being destroyed by fire yesterday. The fire was confined to two buildings by the exertion of practically the entire male population, who were kept supplied with buckets of water by lines of women. The Rockford fire-fighting apparatus made a 10-mile cross country run and arrived in time to aid in saving the town.

GIRL SAYS OELRICHS DID NOT STAB HER

Young Millionaire Freed When She Retracts Charge.

New York, Oct. 4.—Hermann Oelrichs, millionaire law student at Columbia university, was discharged in police court today when arraigned on the charge of stabbing Lucile Singleton, daughter of a Texas mine owner.

The case against young Oelrichs was dismissed at the request of Assistant District Attorney James O'Malley, to whom Miss Singleton confessed that there was no basis for her previous declaration that Oelrichs had stabbed her.

Miss Singleton was not in court today, as she still is confined to her room as the result of injuries sustained in the accident several nights ago to the automobile in which she was riding with Oelrichs. Her signed statement asserting that her injuries were caused by being thrown against the windshield was read to the court.

President Gets Many Congratulations on Work So Far.

Passage of Money Reform Act By Jan. 1 Is Predicted.

Bryan Gives Out Statement on the Underwood Law.

Washington, Oct. 4.—President Wilson went to the golf links early today, according to his Saturday custom and when he returned to the White House shortly before noon found a pile of telegrams congratulating him on the signing of the new tariff bill.

The messages came from chambers of commerce, as well as political organizations from various parts of the country. With the congratulations on the completion of the tariff came in many cases the sentiment, "now for currency legislation."

In this spirit the president took up the task of securing the accomplishment of the second big measure of his administration.

Expect Action This Year.

At the White House and executive quarters generally there is confidence that the currency bill, already passed by the house, will be passed by the senate and signed by the president before many weeks. The opinion prevails that if the work is not completed before the December session of congress begins it surely will be by Jan. 1.

Secretary Bryan today indorsed the new tariff law as the best tariff measure since the Civil war, and predicted the early passage of the currency bill. Mr. Bryan issued this statement:

"The tariff law that went into force last night, is the best tariff measure since the war, and all who have taken part in preparing and passing it are entitled to great credit. It is a better bill than we were able to pass twenty years ago, and I rejoice that political

CUT IN STEEL PRICE BEING CONSIDERED

The Manufacturers Expect Competition From Across Atlantic.

New York, Oct. 4.—Steel manufacturers were reported here today to be considering a reduction of from $2 to $3 a ton in the price of their products to meet the lowering of steel duties in effect today under the new tariff schedule. The possibility of competition from German and British manufacturers was said to be responsible for the move.

SAYS NEW TARIFF IS VICTORY FOR PEOPLE

London Times Makes Comment on American Action.

London, Oct. 4.—The Times editorially says: "The Underwood act is not in intention or effect a step toward free trade. What its framers aimed at, and what they accomplished, is a wide and wholesome reduction of that insensate protectionism which led Chamberlain to describe the American tariff as a monstrosity he would never think of urging Great Britain to adopt.

"Meanwhile nothing can undo the fact that the American people have at length taken into their own hands the direction of the fiscal policy of the nation. The passage of the bill is something more than the triumph of economic sanity. It is the triumph of self-government. It marks the first time that the American electors, having voted at the polls for a reduction in the tariff, have seen their wishes translated into legislation by their peers.

"Whatever happens, the United States is not likely again to relapse into the condition of four years ago that made the Payne-Aldrich act possible. That is why President Wilson is literally justified in hailing the issue of the struggle which brought him nothing but credit, as a victory 'for the people.'"

MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATS MEET

Federal Patronage Question May Be Disturbing Figure.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 4.—The question of the distribution of Federal patronage threatened to become a disturbing factor in the Democratic state convention in Faneuil Hall today. When the committee on resolutions drew up its report at a session lasting into the early hours of the morning, several members favored the inclusion of a resolution calling on the president to consult with the state leaders of the party in reference to appointments in Massachusetts and protesting against the nomination of men who were not recognized Democrats.

This was understood to have reference to the reported decision of Mr. Wilson to appoint as collector of the port of Boston a man not indorsed by the party leaders in this state.

BULL MOOSERS HEAR LEADER

Roosevelt Promises to Get Into Politics After Southern Trip.

Addresses Meeting of Progressives in New York City.

New York, Oct. 4.—On his return from his South American trip, Col. Roosevelt told the Progressives gathered to hear him on the eve of his departure, his best endeavors will be extended toward the upbuilding of the party.

The party is solid, he declared, and he added that it was the firm determination of the rank and file as well as the leaders to preserve its political entity, its solidarity and integrity.

Speaking of the work he had mapped out for himself on his return, Col. Roosevelt said that "we shall enter undaunted as a national party on another national campaign."

The colonel said that he never would rest content until every single principle enunciated by the Progressive party is put into practical operation by the nation.

Would Fight Alone.

"It is emphatically a fight for our country," he declared. "I would continue to fight, even if I stood entirely alone."

Col. Roosevelt began his speech by saying that he wanted to take this means of saying a word to all men and women of the Progressive party. All his life, he said, he had been engaged in work that culminated in the last eighteen months, and of all his political life, it was the last eighteen months to which he looked back with the most satisfaction. This was his compliment to the men and women who have worked with him in the organization and first campaign of the party, which he termed a movement for "social and industrial justice to be achieved in a spirit of brotherly good will and of the broadest social consciousness."

"I warn our opponents that the fight has only just begun," he said, his voice breaking in its earnestness. "I will never abandon the principles to which we Progressives have pledged ourselves."

The wildest enthusiasm greeted his assertion. Waving bandana handkerchiefs and napkins, the diners jumped to their feet and cheered for half a minute.

Address By Beveridge.

Under the wise leadership of the present administration the Democratic party is becoming the conservative party of the nation, declared Former Senator A. J. Beveridge of Indiana. He added that Mr. Bryan will be used for a time to mask the movements of its troops and the placing of its batteries but the signs are certain that the purposes of the administration are fixed and that the end is sure.

Mr. Beveridge assailed alike the Democratic and Republican parties. The one, he said, was dying of internal strife, the other was becoming the antithesis of the Progressives—the conservatives. Such a division, he said, was bound to come; even now the party lines were fading and re-forming. The Progressive party "brotherhood of liberals, is the party of the future," he said.

pot, and stopped to register just as his attention was called to smoke curling through a crevice in the wall. He assisted in spreading the warning. Within twenty-five minutes from the time the fire was discovered the ceiling of the main waiting room fell.

$200,000 in the Ruins.

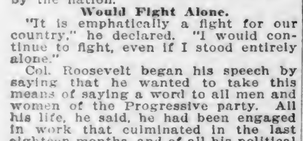

A strongbox containing $200,000 is in the ruins, according to officials. The money was being shipped from Seattle to the United States treasury by express. A guard has been thrown around the building and no one will be allowed near until the box is found.

The building, a three-story structure, burned like tinder and the numerous streams trained upon the fire were of little avail. Firemen soon devoted their efforts to adjacent buildings which were threatened with destruction. When the fire was discovered the station was hurriedly cleared of drowsy travelers, many of whom are reported to have left their hand baggage behind. No one was injured. Trains were only temporarily delayed.

Although there is some doubt as to the origin of the blaze, it is generally believed that it started in the kitchen of the station restaurant.

The fire was one of the most spectacular ever seen here, and the police had difficulty in restraining the throngs that got beyond fire lines and dangerously near to the crumbling walls.

Every railroad entering St. Paul used the station. A temporary station probably will be erected immediately. For several years there has been considerable agitation for a new station, and the old one was commonly referred to as "Noah's Ark."

YOUR RUPTURE Sufferers CAN BE PERMANENTLY CURED

By the most scientific invention of the age

The "SCHUILING RUPTURE LOCK"

A lifetime was spent to perfect this marvelous rupture holding device, and it has received the universal endorsement of the medical profession.

Rupture has always been a serious problem to successfully hold and produce lasting results no matter what kind of a truss or appliance was used. That is now a thing of the past, for the "Schuiling Rupture Lock" has proven to thousands that it produces instant relief, perfect comfort at all times, holds the rupture as nature intends it should be held, and therefore produces a thorough and lasting cure.

It has no springs, unsanitary leg straps, or other annoying features, but it holds with a positive, easy and soothing pressure, such as you never experienced or thought possible.

Sent on 30 days free trial to prove its merits. You have all to gain and nothing to lose.

Hundreds Are Going to Get His Treatment.

Mr. Halquist, 2826 Huron street, Duluth, Minn., cured of weak eyes. Mrs. C. Draper, La Crosse, Wis., cured of paralysis of one side after years of suffering. George Ryckman, 1423 West Michigan street, was carried upstairs to Dr. Mitchell's office suffering from rheumatism and kidney trouble; had given up hope of getting cured; was restored to health in a short time. Albert Rogers, Duluth, Minn., says: "I recommend Dr. Mitchell's Electro-Magnetic treatment to anyone with stomach and heart trouble, for when I started Dr. Mitchell's treatment I was down to 120 pounds. After a course of treatment my weight was 180 pounds. I see many in Dr. Mitchell's office; they were all getting better every day." Dr. Mitchell has practiced in Duluth for nearly 18 years, and is here to stay. Consultation free.

conditions are such as to make the present law possible.

The Wilson Bill.

"The Wilson bill was compelled to carry a burden that will not fall upon the present law and ought not to have fallen on that law. The Wilson law provided for an income tax, which was held unconstitutional by a divided vote, the one majority having been secured by a change of opinion on the part of one judge between the two hearings of the case.

"The nullification of the income tax portion of the Wilson law reduced the government's income until it would not meet the expenses of the government, and this compelled an increase of indebtedness that threw upon the bill an undeserved odium which, together with the fact that the senate deprived the bill of some of its best features, robbed the party of the benefit which would ordinarily have come to it from a reduction in import duties.

"Then, too, the bill went into operation at a time when financial conditions were bad, and many attributed to the law the defects for which it was not at all responsible.

Conditions Different.

"I mentioned the law of nineteen years ago because it is the only thing since the war with which we can compare the present law. Both economic as well as political conditions make it possible to do now what could not be done then. We have too, at this time, a united party, which is a great asset. The president and the Democrats of the house and senate have been in full sympathy and have worked unitedly in the accomplishment of this important work. They share the honors together, and the honors are sufficient to give distinction to all who have participated.

"Oct. 3 marks an important epoch in the economic history of the generation, and I am confident that it will not be long before the country will be able to celebrate a second triumph for the president, congress, the party and the country, when the new currency bill passes and receives the president's signature."

lamp was in place upon his cap and burning.

The most noticeable thing about him was a pallor which showed through the grime on his face, contrasting strangely with the other black faces of the other miners, whose ruddy color showed even through the coat of dust.

Refused to Use Stretcher.

Toshesky climbed the path to the rim of the pit almost unaided. A stretcher had been taken to the foot and there was plenty of willing hands to carry him, but he would have none of it. His whole attitude from the time of the rescue until he disappeared beneath the blankets in his bed at home was one of semi-stolidity.

Toshesky was glad to get out of his prison, but he acted as if it were an old story to him and nothing over which to make a great fuss. Once before in his career as a miner he had been entombed for nearly forty-eight hours.

Half way up the pit Toshesky was stopped and posed for a photograph, together with Dr. H. G. Fortner, who had been in almost constant touch with him since communication was established Tuesday night, and to whom is largely due the good health of the man.

"Hello," he greeted everybody who spoke to him.

His one reply to questions as to how he felt was, "Bully."

RETIRING CONSUL AT WINNIPEG HONORED

Public Luncheon Tendered J. E. Jones By Citizens.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 4.—A public luncheon was tendered today to J. E. Jones, consul-general of the United States, on the eve of his departure for his new post at Genoa. He was presented with two illumined addresses and a solid silver desk set by the citizens of Winnipeg. Sir Rodmond Roblin, premier of Manitoba, made the speech of presentation.

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM HEREAFTER IN PERU

Prohibition Against Protestantism Voted Out By Congress.

Lima, Peru, Oct. 4.—Peru in the future is to enjoy religious tolerance for all sects. Heretofore the exercise of any religion other than the Roman Catholic has been prohibited.

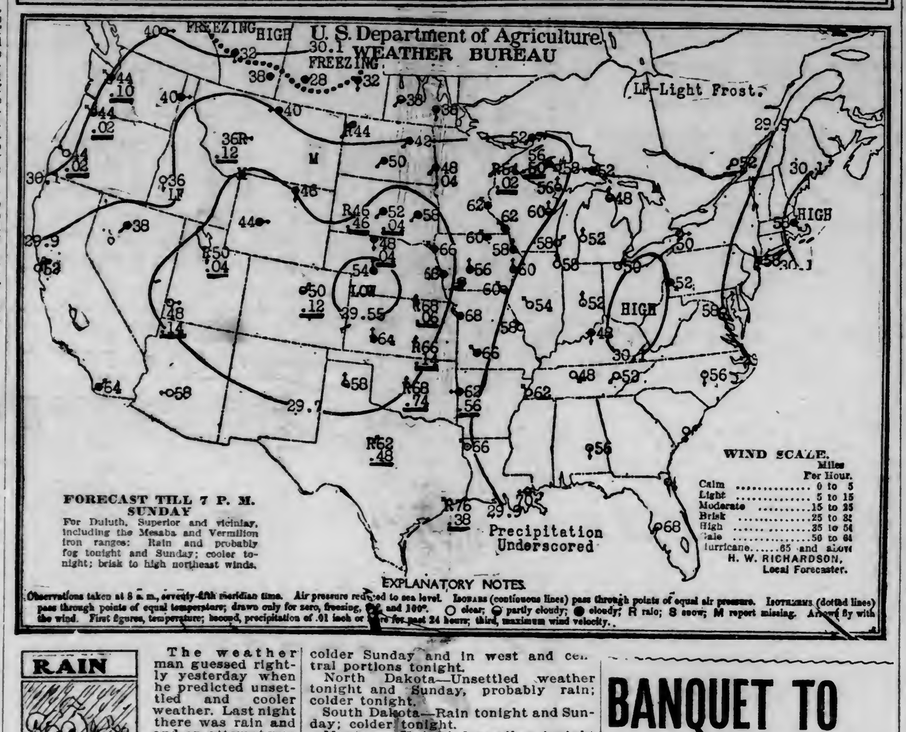

The chamber of deputies today adopted, by 66 votes to 4, an amendment to article 4 of the Constitution, dealing with this subject. The amendment had been already approved by the senate.

In spite of the constitutional prohibition, the government some time ago permitted the building of a number of Protestant churches and mission schools in various parts of the country.

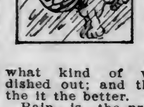

WILL SUE NEW HAVEN RAILROAD AS TRUST

Washington, Oct. 4.—Attorney General McReynolds expects to file a civil anti-trust suit for the dissolution of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad system as soon as the department of justice's investigation is completed, and to defer the question of possible criminal prosecutions under the Sherman anti-trust law for future developments. Mr. Reynolds believes that the question which is urging for solution is the railroad transportation problem in New England.

RAIN

The weather man guessed rightly yesterday when he predicted unsettled and cooler weather. Last night there was rain and and an attempt was was made to stir up a thunderstorm but it resulted in only a few growls. Today people can see for themselves what kind of weather has been dished out; and the least said about the it the better.

Rain is the prediction for tonight and Sunday.

It was regular Indian summer weather a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 6:11 o'clock and will set this afternoon at 5:42, giving 11 hours and 31 minutes of sunshine.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The barometeric depression centered over Nebraska caused light to copious rains over Lake Superior, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arizona, Utah, Colorado and Western Montana during the last twenty-four hours. Rains also fell along the North Pacific coast. The easterly advance of this depression will be attended by rain and strong northeast winds at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours. Somewhat warmer weather prevails throughout the Upper Mississipi and Lower Missouri valleys, but it has turned colder in Saskatchewan and Manitoba."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Forecasts for twenty-fours hours ending 7 p. m. Sunday:

Upper Michigan—Unsettled tonight and Sunday, probably rain; cooler Sunday and in northwest portion tonight.

Wisconsin—Unsettled weather tonight and Sunday, probably showers; cooler Sunday and in northwest portion tonight.

Minnesota—Rain tonight and Sunday; colder tonight and in south portion Sunday.

Iowa—Rain tonight and Sunday; colder Sunday and in west and central portions tonight.

North Dakota—Unsettled weather tonight and Sunday, probably rain; colder tonight.

Montana—Unsettled weather tonight and Sunday, probably rain or snow; colder tonight.

FALL CARNIVAL

GIVEN BY

NORMANNA MALE CHORUS

Woodman Hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, from Oct. 6th till Oct. 12th. Concert, Sunday evening, Oct. 12th. Good program. Refreshments.

TEXAS RIVERS ARE SWELLED BY RAINS

Falling Floods Are Renewed and Railway Traffic Hindered.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 4.—Rain fell again during the night throughout the Texas coast section, checking the fall of many streams and continuing the period of disordered railway schedules. In the southwest portion of Texas conditions continue to improve in spite of the additional rain, but the situation is again serious in the southwestern section.

The lower reaches of the Trinity, Brazos, Colorado, Guadalupe and other rivers are at flood stages and many thousands of acres of farm lands are inundated. Seventy-five persons are marooned on a mound near Gonzales.

HUNT GUN MAN AS CHILD'S MURDERER

New York Police Receive Little Body in Macaroni Box.

New York, Oct. 4.—The battered body of a fair-haired little girl—killed by a blow on the head—lay in the Harlem morgue today while the New York police sought Joseph De Puma, a notorious Italian gunman, as her slayer.

The child's body was brought to the morgue in a macaroni box last night by Ralph Pasqua, an undertaker, who told a terrified tale of having been coerced at pistol's point to go to the gunman's flat and remove the body. In the flat he saw a blonde woman, weeping. When detectives reached the flat later she was gone, and with her the gunman.

The theory advanced was that the little girl had been kidnaped and was being held for ransom. There is no police record, however, of a child of that description being missing.

The undertaker was held today, pending further investigation of the matter. He says the gunman told him that he had hit the child as she begged for water at night.

FIVE SHOTS FIRED AT MINNEAPOLIS MAN

Harry Thayer, Switchman, Is Object of Mysterious Attack.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Four deputy sheriffs, six detectives and a score of railway employes have searched since early morning for two men who are alleged to have fired five shots at Harry Thayer, a switchman employed in the yards of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railway, outside the city limits. One bullet passed through Thayer's trousers and grazed his ankle.

Thayer was talking with P. H. Fox, a stationary engineer at a grain elevator, when two men walked out of the woods nearby and began shooting at the railway man.

Mystery surrounds the attempted assassination. Thayer says he has no known enemies.

FIND BALL LOST 38 YEARS AGO PETRIFIED

Stone Bears Mark of Wallop By Later Officer of U. S. Senate.

Norfolk, Neb., Oct. 4.—A baseball batted over into a cornfield thirty-eight years ago by E. K. Ballantyne, later sergeant-at-arms in the United States senate, was found yesterday when excavations were being made for a building.

The ball had completely turned to stone, but the seams and stitches were perfectly visible. A slight dent on one side marked the terrific wallop given the ball by Ballantyne.

This was the first league baseball ever bought for North Nebraska, and the game, which was being played between Tekamah and West Point, was stopped because the ball was lost.

Years of Suffering

Catarrh and Blood Disease--Doctors Failed to Cure.

Miss Mabel F. Dawkins, 1214 Lafayette St., Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "For three years I was troubled with catarrh and blood disease. I tried several doctors and a dozen different remedies, but none of them did me any good. A friend told me of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took two bottles of this medicine and was as well and strong as ever. I feel like a different person and recommend Hood's to any one suffering from catarrh."

BANQUET TO CREDIT MEN

President and Directors of National Association in Duluth.

Witty Speeches Mark Dinner---Visitors Delighted at Reception.

Seven members of the directorate of the National Credit Men's association were guests of honor at a banquet given by the Duluth credit men at the Commercial Club last evening. One hundred and nine guests were present and speeches were made by both visitors and local men.

Most of the evening, aside from the dinner itself, was spent in shop talk, and the most vital topics of the credit business were discussed. Mayor Prince, in a well-turned speech, welcomed the visitors. Mark Baldwin and R. W. Higgings amplified the mayor's welcoming address. W. B. Cross, president of the Duluth Jobbers' Credit bureau, was toastmaster, and did the business with many a flash of wit and appropriate eulogy. H. A. Sedgewick, president of the Duluth association, presided, shrouding himself in that popular dignity most pleasing in presiding officers.

The visitors well represented the national body. The party included President F. R. Salisbury, Minneapolis; E. M. Underwood, Portland, Or.; C. R. Burnett, Newark, N. J.; H. G. Moore, Kansas City; W. A. Petzoll, Detroit; Frank S. Flagg, New York; S. J. Whitlock, Chicago.

The speeches, while being serious as a whole, were full of wit, and sharp repartee was kept up. The party had just spent the week at St. Paul, where the directors met, and lively reminiscences helped brighten the banquet.

Salisbury's Address.

President Salisbury gave a splendid address, speaking of the accomplishments of the association during the last year and of what it would do for each member during the coming year. He said the membership would reach 20,000 by 1915.

Mr. Whitlock spoke of the work of the adjustment bureau of association. He has been chairman of the adjustment committee and spoke from experience.

Mr. Petzoll, in speaking of the compromise settlement, said that these should never be made unless the offer were commensurate with the assets of the debtor.

"Chaplain" More, as he was called by his friends, is said to be a big man in Kansas City, being president of the Commercial club, and "big Mogul" in most of the enterprises of the city that are worth while. His address dealt with the possibilities of the organization.

"Great Imperator Stoker" Burnett of Newark, as he was dubbed, was the butt of most of the jokes, but managed to hold up his end. He is said to have made a speech in Minneapolis fluently trimmed with figures of speech. One of them was that the credit man is to business what the stoker is to a ship.

Mr. Underwood emphasized the importance of good bookkeeping, and said that this should be impressed upon the young. Most of the failures, he said, were due to poor bookkeeping.

After the banquet the visitors left for their homes. They were highly pleased with the hospitality of Duluth, and were surprised that Mr. Bergin and other Duluth credit men should come down to Minneapolis to get them to visit the Zenith City.

ATHLETES CARRYING WILSON MESSAGE

Will Deliver It at International Meet in Leipsic.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 4.—The German-American runners who started from Washington this morning with a message and banner from President Wilson to be delivered at Hoboken, N. J., to athletes about to sail for Europe, arrived here at 7 o'clock this morning. The message and banner will remain here until tomorrow, when runners will start for the last stretch of the run. Athletes will take the emblem to Leipsic, where an international athletic meet is to be held.

SANTA ROSALIA TAKEN BY HUERTA'S SOLDIERS

Refugees From Mexico Tell of Attack on Their Sanctuary.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 4.—Santa Rosalia has fallen before the attack of 4,000 federals under Gen. Castro, according to advices received here this morning in a telegram from Gen. Mercado, military governor of Chihuahua, to Guillermo Porras, personal representative of Gen. Huerta in this city.

Santa Rosalia was defended by 4,000 Constitutionalists under Gen. Francisco Villa. The dispatch said the town was taken after four hours' heavy firing yesterday morning. The message declares the Constitutionalists are retreating southward. No other details of the battle, which was considered by the rebels as a critical one for the establishment of their power in Chihuahua, have been received.

Place of Refuge Attacked.

New York, Oct. 4.—American refugees from Durango, Mex., have arrived here after three months of hardship. They were members of a party of thirty, all of whom had been forced to leave the interior of Mexico.

Charles von Brandis, one of those from Durango, said that when the rebels took the city last June all the Americans, to the number of 100, fled to the McDonald institute mission. Their refuge was assailed and the door was blown in by a bomb. This explosion injured several and left Mr. von Brandis with injuries which still force him to walk on crutches.

MILK TESTS IN SCHOOLS

Children in Adolph and Solway Districts Will Receive Practical Instruction.

County Agricultural Agent and Farmers' Clubs Cooperating to This End.

Children attending rural schools in the towns of Adolph and Solway will be given an excellent opportunity next month to receive some expert instruction in scientific dairying and farming, when Fred Ward, county agricultural agent, and Mark Thompson, superintendent of the Northeastern Minnesota experimental station, will conduct a series of lectures for their benefit.

Three schools will be visited and on the following dates: Carson school, No. 2, on Nov. 10; Munger school, No. 1, Nov. 11, and the Adolph school on Nov. 12. The Carson and Munger schools are in the town of Solway and the Adolph school in the town of Adolph. On Nov. 10 and 11 Mr. Ward will conduct the practical tests and give the lectures. At the Adolph school on Nov. 12 Mr. Thompson will assist him in the lecture work.

The children will be urged to bring samples of milk to school from their home dairies to be tested in the schoolroom by Mr. Ward. In the evening a lecture for the older children and their parents, with stereopticon pictures showing land clearing, dairying enterprises and farm operations, will be the attraction.

The affair has been arranged by the Farmers' Improvement club of Adolph, which has been quite active this season. C. Gustafson is president of the organization and the other officers are: J. E. Pelletier, vice president; Ernest Zeabott, secretary, and Erick Lundberg, treasurer.

Short Courses.

During the winter months, according to Mr. Ward, a number of the rural school buildings throughout the county will be utilized for short course agricultural courses conducted by himself and others for the benefit of the older school children and the farmers.

The general plan which has been outlined is to spend about three days in each of the communities where there are active farmers' clubs. The course will consist chiefly of lectures and practical tests and demonstrations on such subjects that are of particular interest to the St. Louis county agriculturists.

The school children will be expected to take notes on the lectures and to incorporate their impressions into the form of an essay, to be later submitted to a committee from the farmers' club, which will decide which are the best. In this way it is figured that quite a keen interest can be stimulated among the school children.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Sophomores Elect Officers---Raise Limit on Zenith Cost---Teachers on Hunting Trip---Musical Society Will Be Reorganized.

The sophomores were third in order in the matter of holding their first business meeting of the year in the assembly hall Monday at the close of school.

• • •

The freshmen are to lose out in the first round of class meetings, for next Monday is the regular time for the seniors, but hereafter the class meetings will follow in regular rotation.

• • •

The members of the senior Zenith board met on Monday afternoon and the recent action of the committee of school affairs of the board of education was presented by Principal Young. Due to facts presented by the business management of the Zenith the committee of school affairs raised the limit which may be expended on this year's publication from $1,000 to $1,200. This allows the 1914 senior Zenith board to breathe a little easier. The Zenith board's report included a number of suggestions as to how the publication might be brought about at a reduced cost. There will have to be many reductions in the illustrative features heretofore so prominent and the new policy will make it necessary to eliminate many of the pictures of school organizations, athletic pictures, class sections, and kodak views. However, the committee of school affairs feel that this will really tend to emphasize the literary side of high school life which heretofore has been neglected.

• • •

Yellmaster Jack Shields is making great headway in arousing high school spirit by a series of booster meetings held at the noon hour on the south steps of Central.

• • •

At a special meeting of the senior class held on Wednesday at the close of school, a number of important matters of business were considered. Miss Allison Brown and William Craig were elected to manage the senior auction. High school students look forward to this event as one of the most enjoyable of the year and in order to insure great success, plans will be formulated at once in order to place this years' auction on a most satisfactory basis.

The class dues were placed at 10 cents a month, and Class Treasurer Dunn will visit the senior session rooms at an early date in order to put the class on a proper financial basis.

The final bid was accepted by the class on all photographic work which is to appear in the 1914 Zenith. As the book will appear one month earlier than usual it will be necessary to have the individual pictures of the graduates taken at once. In order to facilitate this plan, drawings have already been made and the seniors will have their sittings according to a definite schedule. Editor Harold Bradley prepared slips stating the date, time and day, the pictures are to be taken. Besides the individual pictures of the graduates, the Zenith will contain pictures of athletic teams, school organizations and groups in limited numbers.

• • •

There will be no chapel on Monday, the usual chapel time being given over to the seating of the assembly. The increased attendance at Central has caused this to become one of the big problems for Miss Taylor and Principal Young.

• • •

The ideal days for fall hunting have arrived and at the close of school on Friday the following faculty members will leave for a week-end shooting: Principal Leonard Young, J. R. Adair, F. B. Carey, A. L. Lawson, T. F. Phillips, J. Romieux and G. A. Wyley.

• • •

The weekly meeting of the Stump Debating society was postponed to next Wednesday owing to the fact that the attendance did not warrant carrying out the program.

• • •

The last opportunity to obtain senior class pins will be extended to Oct. 18. Albert Olson, who has charge of this matter, states that the money should accompany the order.

• • •

On next Tuesday at the close of school will occur the reorganization of the musical society, which begins its twenty-second year as one of the live organizations of Central high. The meeting will occur in the assembly hall, and at this time officers will be elected. Prof. A. F. M. Custance will outline the character of the year's work, following which an interesting special program will be given. A somewhat different plan will be followed this year. There will be one open meeting on the first Tuesday of each month, at which time a very choice program will be presented. While the high school choir forms the nucleus of the organization it is hoped that many students will avail themselves of the opportunity of identifying themselves with an organization that has had such a long and useful history. It is this organization that furnishes most of the music at the various high school functions of the year.

• • •

A very practical method may be introduced at Central for reducing the tendency to tardiness on the part of those students with whom this trait is becoming chronic. It is noteworthy that most cases of this kind came from students who live in the immediate vicinity of the high school, while the students who come the greater distances are usually on time. The remedy will be a special session room, where those inclined to be tardy will report, and the regular privileges of the high school, such as chapel attendance, etc., will be withheld

• • •

The faculty took the opportunity of enjoying the picnic supper on Thursday afternoon at the close of the regular teachers' meeting. About twenty-five members went to Minnesota Point and had a jolly time preparing and disposing of the evening meal.

• • •

Another enthusiastic chapel meeting was held Friday morning in preparation for the Eau Claire-Central game which is being played this afternoon at Athletic park. Mr. Young urged the students to make a representative showing in the matter of attendance and pointed out the special features of the first interscholastic game on Central's schedule. Mr. Custance with the able assistance of the choir, followed with a number of spirited football songs. Yellmaster Shields then led the students in a series of well chosen yells.

CURIOUS FACTS ABOUT KOREA

Most Numerous Crimes Are Connected With Tombs and Burials---Widows Carried Off By Impecunious Bachelors.

Seoul, Korea, Oct. 4.—A curious social fact about Korea is that the most numerous crimes committed by Koreans are connected in some way with tombs and burials. This is the conclusion of M. Kokubu, chief public procurator of the supreme court here. A common occurrence is for Koreans to bury their dead in ground belonging to other people without first obtaining the consent of the owner. This is sometimes accomplished in secret, sometimes by force, and it is almost invariably done under cover of darkness.

The underlying reason for these offenses is the Korean superstition that the prosperity or unhappiness of the surviving members of the family in which death has occurred, as well as the happiness of the departed person, depends upon the selection of the burial ground of the dead. Therefore when Koreans are told by soothsayers that a certain spot is good for the burial place they do not hesitate to take possession of the indicated ground.

Blackmail concerning tombs also is frequent. The criminals first open up the tombs belonging to some wealthy family, then remove the head of the corpse and hold it for ransom. In former times the blackmailer succeeded, as Koreans believe that the desecration of tombs brings woe to those who allowed them to remain in a ruined condition. Recently these crimes have decreased, owing to the activity of the police.

Widows Abducted.

Mr. Kokubu has recorded another favorite Korean custom, namely, the carrying off by force of widows by bachelors who are unable to marry in the regular way on account of their poverty.

Influenced by Confucianism, Korean women in general believe that they are morally bound not to marry a second time. On the other hand, many men cannot marry on account of the great expense attached to the ceremony. These two conditions have combined to bring about abductions, which are very often nothing more than elopements. Immediately a woman loses her husband some Don Juan in needy circumstances is certain to undertake her rescue from widowhood. Accompanied by friends he goes to the woman's house at midnight and bears her away. Afterward the marriage is announced at a banquet and nobody blames the abductor or the abducted, who are supposed to be happy forever afterward.

All Marry Early.

The investigation of crime and criminals in Korea by Procurator Kokubu, and the tradition of the widow's abduction, led him to study marriage customs in general. These he finds have not been changed by the annexation of the peninsula to Japan.

All classes of Koreans marry very early. Not infrequently one meets in Korea boys and girls of 14 or 15 already married. These boy-and-girl marriages are arranged by their parents, the young people having no voice in the matter. The decision rests with an astrologer, to whom the parents of a prospective couple go for advice. If the astrologer decides against the pact the matter is dropped. If his advice be favorable, presents are exchanged between the two families and the coming wedding is announced to the actual parties to the alliance. They are however, still not allowed to see each other.

In Korea, girls are kept confined in an "inner chamber" and are not allowed to go out. They are entirely cut off from society, and consequently are melancholy and unsociable. The wedding announcement is accepted by the prospective bride as heart-breaking news, for she has to leave her own family and join strange people. On the wedding day she says good-bye to her parents and goes to the bridegroom's house, carried in a Korean chair covered with a tiger's skin. This the Koreans believe keeps away the evil spirit. The bride is only allowed to see her husband for the first time when the wedding ceremony is over, for during the ceremony her head is enveloped in a thick veil.

Army "Collapsed."

An attempt of a few politicians in Korea to form a "righteous army" to restore Korea to its independence has collapsed and the leaders have been sentenced to jail chiefly on the ground that they were obtaining money under false pretences.

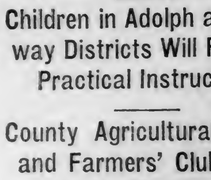

The defendants numbering three were recently tried in the local court at Seoul. The hearing had all the picturesqueness of a Korean gathering, the top-knots and the historic Korean stovepipe hats contrasting quaintly with the modern European dress of the up-to-date Korean dandy.

Two of the defendants were Confucian scholars and the third a farmer. They declared that their ambition was to show to foreign powers that Koreans were discontented with Japanese rule and that the restoration of independence was justified and desirable. The "righteous army" numbered about fifty, and they realized they were weak. Money was collected for traveling expenses, but nothing ever came of the movement.

Yi Chong No, a small, thin man, who stated that he had been made chief of the general staff of the army, accused the police of having beaten him as a means of forcing him to make incriminatory statements. The defendants were vague as to the disposition of the money collected for the independence movement. Kim Chai Sun was sentenced to two years for having obtained money under false pretences and having invented a story about the "People's Party" in Japan which was supposed to be ready to help the Koreans to win back their independence. Kwak Han was given one and a half years for helping to organize the "righteous army," and Yi Chong No six months for conspiracy against the government.

SWEDISH HEIR TO TOUR AMERICA.

Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 4.—Crown Prince Gustave Adolph of Sweden, it is announced, intends to visit the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco in 1915 and afterward to make a tour of the United States. The crown prince was married to Princess Margaret of Connaught in 1905.

HIGH LIFE
The Champagne of Bottled Beer

Has never been excelled—either in purity—quality—taste.

The explanation is simple. HIGH LIFE is brewed with the idea of making it not only wholesome but inviting to the taste—it is the net result of years of development.

It is the one bottled beer you will like because its excellent quality is so noticeable compared with average beers.

Try HIGH LIFE once and you will freely admit it is the "finest tasting beer ever produced." Convince yourself—order a case today. On sale at leading Buffets, Dining Cars and Steamship lines.

We use light bottles exclusively for this high grade beer—common beer comes in dark bottles.

Brewed in Milwaukee by the Miller Brewing Co.

THE BROWN BOTTLE BOOMERANG

European authorities are being quoted by brown bottle advocates. Some of these quotations date as far back as 1882, since which time the world has progressed an inch or two. The opinion of these Europeans are considered of little value for the reason that European brewers are compelled to use brown bottles because foreign bottled beer does not compare in stability with American quality beer. High grade bottled beer has been perfected by the better class of American brewers to the point where it can be safely stated without fear of contradiction that 90 per cent of the country's product is successfully handled in light bottles.

With this situation so definitely understood throughout the brewing industry, it is absurd to promote or make capital of the brown bottle having influence on the quality of the brew. A beer that is naturally immune from deterioration does not need the support of colored bottles to preserve its qualities.

Observe the "moldy," "timeworn" dates of letters submitted on the brown bottle question and then bear in mind that Wahl-Henius, America's greatest authority has certified in support of the use of the light bottle for HIGH GRADE BEER as recently as November 12, 1912. Here is their letter:—

Chicago, November 12, 1912.

To our Clients:—
Please take note that we have recently given our opinion to one of our clients as to the relative merits of the white and the brown bottle for beer, as follows:
"Referring to your recent request for our opinion on the relative merits of the white and the brown bottle for beer, we wish to say that the ONLY advantage of the brown bottle over the light bottle consists in the protection it affords against the influence of light WHERE BEERS ARE NOT OF SUCH QUALITY AS TO BE IMMUNE.
"Where, however, bottle beers have attained A HIGH DEGREE OF STABILITY, so that they are practically immune to such influences as prolonged chilling and prolonged storage at summer temperature, they also become less sensitive to the influence of light, so that with the usual precautions no bad effect need be feared.
"FOR SUCH BEERS THE LIGHT BOTTLE IS PREFERABLY EMPLOYED because it can more readily be inspected before filling to insure thorough cleanliness, and because the finished package reveals at a glance whether the contents meet the requirements of the consumer as to color, clarity and freedom from sedimentation."
"Yours very truly,
"WAHL-HENIUS INSTITUTE OF FERMENTOLOGY."

Band Will Go to Madison Through C. S. Brackett's Generosity.

Annual Y. M. C. A. Membership Campaign to Begin Next Tuesday.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The band is happy. The organization, which last week refused to play at any of the home football games unless allowed to take the trip to Madison, received the joyous news last Saturday that an admiring football fan, C. S. Brackett, had agreed to pay the expenses of the band on the coveted trip. The band decided on the mutinous action ten days ago. The members notified Prof. Paige that they would play either in Wisconsin or nowhere. Mr. Paige pointed out that the rule adopted last year by the conference said that no football delegation, including coaches, trainers and players could exceed thirty members, at the expense of the athletic association. The authorities refused to extend any sympathy to the band, first, because of the rule, and second, because the athletic association will begin to save money for the erection of a new grand stand on Northrop field. It is estimated that the cost of sending sixty members of the band to Madison will amount to $1,400. However, as a result of Mr. Brackett's sportsmanlike offer, everybody is happy.

Big Social Event.

The Y. M. and Y. W. reception which is to be held in the Armory this evening is one of the big social events of the year in which the freshman will have an opportunity to meet and get acquainted with their fellow students, and many of the deans and professors of their college. There will be a reception committee composed of ten men and ten women from each of the classes. There will be other novel means of getting acquainted that have been devised by the committees in charge. There will also be a more extensive program this year than has been the case in previous years. Robert Wilson, Minnesota's favorite actor, is to appear as Shylock from "The Merchant of Venice." A comic scene will be given by "Rupert and Rodney" besides several other musical acts.

Y. M. C. A. Campaign.

The annual Y. M. C. A. membership campaign will begin next Tuesday morning, under the supervision of Henry J. Doermann, the new secretary, who is a member of the class of 1913. He will be assisted by Jack Childs of Kankakee, Ill., who is traveling interstate student secretary. The old practice of a $1 membership fee has been abolished, and instead each student will be asked to give as much of his time and money as he can afford.

Dr. Northrop Congratulated.

Dr. Cyrus Northrop, president emeritus, was fairly smothered Tuesday beneath the pile of telegrams, cards, flowers and other tokens of friendship and esteem which were showered upon him, the day being his seventy-ninth birthday and the fifty-first anniversary of his marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Northrop were busy receiving the many callers, who dropped in to wish them many more years of life and contentment. Time has dealt kindly with President Northrop. He is still as active as many a man of younger years. His activities include many public duties, principal among which are lectures which he is called upon to deliver in many parts of the country.

Class Elections.

The Academic Student council has announced the dates for the class elections. Greatest interest is, of course, expressed in the election of the senior president, as well as the other senior class officers, who remain in office for life. The election of the juniors becomes next in importance, because of the numerous social duties and other university work which the junior class annually assumes. One of these is the junior ball, the big event of the season. The juniors and seniors are also in the habit of holding numerous get-togethers. The sophomores are already beginning to think of the sophomore vaudeville and the coming Gopher election for the freshman, the annual class scrap looms up large in importance.

Senior Advisers For Freshmen.

This year, for the first time, the plan of senior advisers for the freshmen has been tried out. The plan gives each new student a member of the senior class to whom he may go for advice and counsel and requires the senior to keep in helpful touch with all freshmen, placed in his charge, during the year. The list of advisers as finally approved by President Vincent was the result of the work jointly of Prof. E. E. Nickolson, Dr. John W. Powell and the presidents of the two senior societies, the Grey Friars and the Iron Wedge. Selection for this advisory council is considered an honor at the university and the list resulting from the winning out of the whole number of seniors is advanced by the authorities as representative of the best among the student body.

To Cover Railroad Tracks.

Engineers representing the Northern Pacific railroad and the university will confer and attempt to work out a plan for severing the Northern Pacific's tracks through the campus, in connection with the grade crossing problem at University avenue, according to a statement issued by President Vincent. This statement followed a conference at the railroad's general offices in St. Paul on Wednesday. The running of trains through the campus has long been a great nuisance, as the attendant noise frequently handicaps the holding of classes. At the last session of the state legislature, it was ordered that the track be covered up, but the railroad has been reluctant in doing the work.

The annual freshman-sophomore class scrap, which has supplemented the old cane rush, will take place on the parade grounds on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 11. As there is no football game on this date, it is expected that a large crowd will be in attendance at the fracas. The events will consist of a tug-of-war, a wrestling and a talking match.

PRESIDENT WILSON SIGNS TARIFF BILL AIMED AT PRIVILEGE

Expresses Pleasure But Says Work Is Only Half Done.

Reformation of Currency Must Come Next, He Holds.

Photographers Are Barred From Scene at the National Capital.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Surrounded by the leaders of a United Democracy, President Wilson signed the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill at 9:09 o'clock last night at the White House. Simultaneously telegrams were sent to the customs collectors throughout the country by the treasury department, putting into actual operation the first Democratic tariff revision since 1894.

A happy group of legislators, members of the cabinet and friends encircled the president as he smilingly affixed his signature with two gold pens. He presented to Representative Underwood the pen that had written the word "Woodrow," and the one which had completed his name to Senator Simons, both of whom bowed their appreciation.

Wilson Spoke of Work.

After an impressive silence, the president delivered in easy, natural tones an extemporaneous speech that brought prolonged applause.

The president declared that the journey of legislative accomplishment had only been partly completed; that a great service had been done for the rank and file of the country, but that the second step in the emancipation of business was currency reform. He earnestly called upon his colleagues to go "the rest of the journey" with fresh impulse.

"Gentlemen, I feel a very peculiar pleasure," said the president, "in what I have just done by way of taking part in the completion of a great piece of business. It is a pleasure which is very hard to express in words which are adequate to express the felling, because of the feeling that I have that we have done the rank and file of the people of this country a great service.

Profound Gratitude.

"It is hard to speak of these things without seeming to go off into campaign eloquence, but that is not my feeling. It is one very profound, a feeling of profound gratitude that, working with the splendid men who have carried this thing through with studied intention and doing justice all around, I should have part in serving the people of this country as we have been striving to serve them ever since I can remember.

"I have had the accomplishment of something like this at heart ever since I was a boy, and I know men standing around me who can say the same thing—who have been waiting to see the things done which it was necessary to do in order that there might be justice in the United States. And so it is a solemn moment that brings such a business to a conclusion, and I hope I will not be thought to be demanding too much of myself or my colleagues, when I say this, great as it is, is the accomplishment of only half the journey.

Work Not Complete.

"We have set the business of the country free from those conditions which have made monopoly not only possible but, in a sense, easy and natural. But there is no use taking away the conditions of monopoly if we do not take away also the power to create monopoly, and that is a financial, rather than a merely commercial and economic, power.

"The power to control and guide and direct the credits of the country is the power to say who shall and who shall not build up the industries of the country, in which direction they shall be built, and in which direction they shall not be built. We are now about to take the second step, which will be the final step in setting the business of this country free.

"That is what we shall do in the currency bill, which the house has already passed and which I have the utmost confidence the senate will pass much sooner than some pessimistic individuals believe. Because the question, now that this piece of work is done, will arise all over the country, 'For what do we wait? Why should we wait to crown ourselves with consummate honor? Are we so self-denying that we do not wish to complete our success?'

"If It Be a Sin."

"I was quoting the other day to some of my colleagues in the senate those lines from Shakespeare's 'Henry V,' which have always appealed to me: 'If it be a sin to covet honor, then am I the most offending soul alive;' and I am happy to say that I do not covet it for myself alone. I covet it with equal ardor for the men who are associated with me, and the honor is going to come from them.

"So I feel tonight like a man who is lodging happily in the inn which lies half way along, and that in the morning, with a fresh impulse, we shall go the rest of the journey and sleep at the journey's end like men with a quiet conscience, knowing that we have served our fellow men and have thereby tried to serve God."

An Unusual Spectacle.

It was an unusual spectacle which attended the completion of a legislative reform that had been seven months in congress, and embraced a tariff revision of a most far-reaching character.

Happy and jubilant, the invited guests came to the executive offices. They chatted and jested with the president in an ante-room, while waiting for the full group to appear. When the members of the senate finance committee and house ways and means committee arrived, Vice President Marshall was ushered into the president's office followed by Speaker Clark, Representative Underwood and members of the cabinet and congressional committees and their friends. No photographers were admitted, as the president regarded the occasion as too solemn to be disturbed by flashlight apparatus.

The guests crowded about the president's desk, over which an electric light threw a bright glow.

"I chose 9 o'clock," explained the president, "on the advice of the attorney general. In order that the bill might be signed after business transactions everywhere, including San Francisco, had closed for the day.

"I will not say anything about the bill," he added with a smile, "until I have signed it. I don't want it to get away from me."

Took Him One Minute.

Promptly at 9:09 o'clock the president began writing, and at 9:10 he had written the words "Approved 9:10 p. m., October, 1913, Woodrow Wilson," on the 111th page of parchment containing the engrossed bill.

As the president rose and handed the two pens to the two men who had steered the measure successfully through both houses of congress, there was an outburst of hand-clapping.

"We'll be coming here again in a short time to see the currency bill signed," said Secretary Bryan. Secretary McAdoo spoke with equal confidence.

MEMORANDA FOR INCOME TAXPAYERS.

Here are a few facts and dates that the income taxpayer must fix in his mind:

Everybody with a net income of more than $3,000 a year if single, and $4,000 a year if married, is subject to the tax.

The taxpayer must file a return with internal revenue collector by March 1, 1914, showing all sources of his income and the deductions to which he is entitled.

All incomes are to be computed by the calendar year, but taxes for the first year will be levied only from March 1, 1913, to Dec. 31 next.

Notification of assessments will be sent out by the government before June 1 next.

Taxes must be paid by June 30.

Failure to file a return means a fine of from $2 to $1,000.

A fraudulent return makes the taxpayer liable to a fine of $2,000 or imprisonment for a year, or both.

The man whose income tax is withheld by his employer must file an affidavit by Feb. 1 with the employer or the internal revenue collector in claiming deductions.

All holders of corporate bonds must file by the same date a statement in writing claiming exemptions from the tax if it is not to be deducted from interest payments.

A Dainty Toilet Article.

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance, while at the theater, attending receptions, when shopping, while travelling, and on all occasions should carry in her purse a booklet of Gouraud's Oriental Beauty Leaves. This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powered leaves which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed and is far superior to a powder puff as it does not spill and soil the clothes.

It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool delicate bloom to the complexion. Sent anywhere on receipt of 5 cents in stamps or coin. F. T. Hopkins, 37 Great Jones street, New York. Adv.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT NEW TARIFF

BY HENRY T. RAINEY, Member of House Ways and Means Committee.

The Democratic theory that tariffs should bear heaviest upon the luxuries and lightest upon the necessaries of life has been fully carried out in the Underwood tariff bill.

This bill is the result of nearly three years of labor on the part of the Democratic members of the ways and means committee of the house.

In its preparation the house endeavored to place the lightest possible rate upon articles intended for the household.

In the long conference which has just ended I was one of the conferees on the part of the house, and whenever we found that the senate had reduced the tax below the house rate on any article for household use the policy of the Democratic conferees was to agree at once to the reduction without any discussion or debate.

Upholds Bill as Democratic.

The bill is Democratic. It was framed by the Democratic members of the ways and means committee of the house; it was revised by the Democratic caucus of the senate; the agreement between the house and the senate was effected by the Democratic conferees of both houses, and the Republican conferees, including the Progressive party conferees, refused to sign our report.

We are willing to stand by the bill, and we expect the bill to meet with popular approval. Realizing the economic importance of the American home, we have done what we could to lighten the burdens upon the family.

THE INCOME TAX

In arranging the income tax we have made a distinction in favor of the American home. An unmarried man is allowed only $3,000 exemptions. A married man living with his wife is allowed $4,000.

NECESSARY HOUSEHOLD ARTICLES REDUCED

In the first place we started out by removing the tax on Bibles. Heretofore under Republican tariffs they have been taxed 25 per cent. We think Bibles are necessities in American homes and we wanted to make them as cheap as possible. In this connection I might also mention that we have put stained glass windows for churches on the free list. Heretorore they have paid a high rate of duty.

We put lumber on the free list in order that hereafter American homes and American churches might be built free from a large portion of the tariff burden heretofore placed on them.

FOOD ARTICLES

We have put bread and meat on the free list. Wheat and flour and potatoes are free from all countries which do not impose a tax on our products of this character. Canada still imposes a tax on our wheat and flour and potatoes. Just as soon as this is removed these articles will come in absolutely free from Canada.

We have made live cattle, sheep and swine free without any restrictions. Our diminishing supply of food animals, we thought, made this necessary. We are trying to feed 100,000,000 people with a cattle supply no larger than we had when our population was only 70,000,000 and our cattle supply is constantly diminishing.

Of course, swine and sheep do not come in in any considerable numbers and never will. We anticipate, however, that live cattle will come in. Arrangements are now being made in our Northern states to bring in feeding cattle from Canada.

Sees Hope From Mexico.

Just across our boundary to the south lies the greatest area of grazing land in the world. When peace is restored in Mexico this immense tract is capable of supporting countless herds of cattle. There is no reason why we should not avail ourselves of the cattle that can be raised in Mexico. We are becoming merely a cattle feeding country. Our great cattle ranches in the West are being broken up and divided into small farms.

The cattle which come in from Canada and which will come in from Mexico when that country is quieted and the industry there is restored will supply our farmers in the corn belt with their raw material for feeding purposes cheaper than they can now get it. The presence of feeding cattle on our farms will keep up their fertility and the fact that farmers can get feeding cattle cheaper will enable them to take a less price from the packers. In this way the introduction of cattle free into the country will prove of tremendous benefit to the farmers throughout the country and to the consumers.

We have been boasting for a century that we were a meat eating nation. Without a provision of this kind it would not be many years before meat would be practically banished from a large portion of our American homes.

TAXES ON THE PARLOR

Carpets made of druggets were taxed 65 per cent in the Payne bill; carpets made of flax or cotton, 50 per cent in the Payne bill; wooden furniture, 35 per cent in the Payne bill; common looking glass, 20 per cent in the Payne bill; wall paper, 50 per cent in the Payne bill; tapestry carpets, 64 per cent; ingrain carpets, 64 per cent in the Payne bill; plush furniture, 35 per cent in the Payne bill.

In our bill none of these articles bear a higher tax than 20 per cent except wall paper, which bears a tax of 35 per cent, and we have reduced common looking glass to 7 per cent.

TAXES ON THE BEDROOM

The Payne bill started in by taxing common blankets 73 per cent. It taxed a wooden bed 35 per cent, a feather bed 52 per cent, an iron bed 45 per cent, wooden chairs 35 per cent, sheets 45 per cent, mattresses 20 per cent, common chinaware 55 per cent.

We reduced nearly every one of these rates 50 per cent, and we put mattresses as low as 5 per cent and common wooden beds as low as 15 per cent.

HENRY T. RAINEY, Congressman From Twentieth Illinois District.

TAXES ON CLOTHING

The present Payne-Aldrich tariff taxed flannels for underwear 103 per cent. We have reduced it to 25 per cent. Ready-made clothing, wool hats and knitted goods of all kinds were taxed over 80 per cent by the present law. We have reduced this tax nearly 50 per cent. Cotton underwear, corduroy suits, waterproof coats have all been reduced in our bill from 35 to 40 per cent. Cloaks and shawls for ladies were taxed over 60 per cent ad valorem in the Republican measure. We have reduced this burden 45 per cent. Corsets were taxed 59 per cent. We have made it 25.

Stockings and cotton gloves we have reduced nearly 25 per cent. Upon the theory that the fine laces were luxuries we have made no reductions. We have put boots and shoes on the free list. By reducing the taxes on glove leather we have made it possible also to reduce over 30 per cent the taxes on men's gloves and ladies' gloves, and the ordinary coarse kind of men's working gloves we have made free.

TAXES ON THE KITCHEN

Bacon, mutton, beef, potatoes and flour are free. Potatoes and flour, however, are still subject to the countervailing duty which will be automatically removed whenever Canada takes off her tax on these products. Under the Payne bill bacon and mutton were taxed 17 per cent, potatoes were taxed 28 per cent and beef was taxed 17 per cent. We have reduced the tariff burdens nearly 50 per cent on poultry, upon cheese, rice, onions, apples, walnuts, starch, scrub brushes, common clocks, common yellow tinware, cutlery, common chinaware and almonds. In fact, on some of these articles we have reduced the burden considerably more than 50 per cent.

Products for Household Reduced.

Other articles pertaining to the household: We have reduced the tariff upon brick from 30 per cent to 10 per cent, on window glass from 92 per cent to 64 per cent, on hay from 49 per cent to about 26 per cent, on cutlery, scissors and shears, razors and files we have reduced the tariff 50 per cent, and we have made the tax on some of these articles as low as 30 per cent. On furnaces we have reduced the tariff over 50 per cent. We have made typewriters free. They were taxed 30 per cent. We have made cream separators free. Nails and saws we have reduced over 50 per cent. We have reduced linen fabrics over 50 per cent.

We have put sewing machines on the free list. They were taxed 30 per cent in the Payne bill. Needles we have reduced from 42 per cent to 25 per cent, thread from 54 per cent to 25 per cent, and we have put broom corn on the free list (it was taxed in the Payne-Aldrich bill), and we have reduced the taxes on brooms.

SOME OTHER FOOD ARTICLES

Fresh water fish, mackerel, halibut, and salmon are all free in our bill. They were heavily taxed in the Payne-Aldrich bill. Cranberries, prunes, raisins, currants, olives, and grapes have all been reduced, some of them over 50 per cent.

Barley, buckwheat, macaroni, rice, rye flour, have all been greatly reduced. Biscuits are on the free list. Milk is on the free list. Beans and beats have been reduced over 50 per cent.

CONCESSIONS TO THE FARMER

We have given the farmer all of his farming implements free of duty. This ought to enable him to purchase American made farming implements as cheaply at home as the same articles are sold abroad. We have reduced the taxes on his wire and other fencing materials until they are now merely nominal. We have given him his bagging free, and when our tariff bill has brought about the competition it will bring about and has brought reductions, as it will, in the expensive system of distribution at present prevailing in this country, he ought to be able to buy cheaper nearly everything he is compelled to buy for use on his farm and in his home.

One of the last things the outgoing secretary of agriculture called to the attention of the country was the fact that everything the farmer sells for 50 cents costs the consumer $1, although there is no conversion cost included in this enormous increase.

Economies to Help Consumer.

In other words, transportation charges and commissions increase 100 per cent the cost to the consumer of farm products. When the economies in transportation and conversion made necessary by this bill come into effect it is not too much to expect that the farmer will receive more for his product and the ultimate consumer will pay less for them.

The business for the country has adjusted itself to the bill without a perceptible tremor, no factories are closing, no banks are failing. Our exportations never were so large, and they are constantly increasing. Our exportations of goods ready for further manufacture are less than they have been for many years, and are constantly diminishing. This indicates that our factories are reaching out and are holding in this country the goods ready for further manufacture, which we usually export.

There are no clouds on the horizon. Without the slightest disturbance to the business of the country we have revised the tariff downward and have swept out of existence the old war tariffs.

Sees New Epoch for Nation.

With the passage of this bill commences a new epoch in the economic history of this country. In addition to this we are proceeding with the revision of our currency system. If we accomplish that also the Democratic party will have the record of doing something no other party in the history of the country has ever attempted to do—revise the currency system, reducing it to a sane basis and at the same time revise the tariff.

The cuts we have made in the tariff are drastic and the currency revision we propose is not merely nominal. At the same time we have started out in a new direction by taxing incomes. An attempt to do any one of these things under Republican administration within the last sixteen years would have produced a panic. I submit that the Democratic party has established that it is a coherent, constructive party entitled to the confidence of the country.

Natural Way to Melt Away a Double Chin

(From Home Queen.)

No single thing can ruin the good looks of an otherwise pretty woman so much as a double chin. There's a simple, harmless treatment for this affliction which is remarkably effective. It is nothing more than the application of parafied plastoid jelly, which any druggist can supply. Every other night put a liberal amount on the fingers, put the fingertips together under the chin and draw them smartly up to the base of the ears. Do this several times, also smearing the jelly well up over the chin. The substance quickly "draws in" the saggy muscles, holding them firm and taut, while an increased supply of vitalized blood courses through the weakened tissue. In a half hour wash off the dried jelly and it will be seen that the double chin has greatly receded and the jaw line wonderfully improved.

The combined astringent action of the jelly and reconstructive effect of renewed circulation are bound to bring further improvement with each treatment. Adv.

SAVES NICKELS AND BUYS PIG

Boy Is Raising Stock on Capital Supplied By School Board.

One enterprising Park Point lad has purchased a pig which cost him $3 and is now worth $10 from the nickels given him by the school board for car fare.

The pupils attending the Whittier school, who live one mile or more from the building, will still have their street car fares paid. This was decided by the board of education last night after considerable debate.

Director Brewer was of the opinion that walking is good exercise, especially during the fall weather, and thought it was wrong for the board to let children get the impression that they were not able to walk. He said the board was supplying playgrounds so that the pupils could get sufficient exercise and at the same time paying fares in the Whittier district if the pupil lived a mile or more from the building. Nearly every member of the board took a hand in the discussion.

A motion made to pay fares only during bad weather and then only to pupils living one and a half miles or more from the building was overwhelmingly lost.

EIGHTEEN BRITISH SEAMEN DROWNED

Steamers Collide Off Yarmouth and the Gardenia Sinks.

Yarmouth, Eng., Oct. 4.—Eighteen seamen of the crew of the British steamer Gardenia were drowned when that vessel foundered today after a collision in a fog with the British steamer Cornwood. Four others of the Gardenia's crew were picked up alive. The collision occurred in the North sea, off this port.

EVIDENCE OF BIG TRAFFIC

September Report on Car Movements Shows Substantial Increase.

Coal Is Only Commodity Which Shows a Falling Off.

Marked activity in the general freight movement is reflected in the statements of car handlings by the railroads at the Head of the Lakes during September. Except in coal, which fell off appreciably, gratifying increases in handling were exhibited over the same period last year. That was especially so in the case of grain and general merchandise, both of which showed good expansion.

Car handlings by the Lake Superior Demurrage bureau, according to the report of the manager, James Kelly, for the month were 45,611 cars against 43,586 a year ago, an increase of 2,025 cars. To that is to be added the Great Northern railroad's quota, placed at 18,000 cars, bringing the total movement at this point up to 63,611 cars for the month.

Cars of wheat handled by the bureau are reported at 15,825 and the Great Northern accounted for 9,000 additional, bringing the aggregate up to 24,825 cars.

Coal handling by the bureau last month were 16,731 cars as against 18,127 cars last year, and the Great Northern moved 7,000 cars or slightly below its record of a year ago.

The movement of general merchandise as reported by the bureau was reported as follows: Lumber and forest products, 2,808 cars; hay, flour, corn, oats and bran, 1,947; general merchandise and groceries, 738; sugar, syrup and salt, 469; building materials, including brick, tile, cement, lime and clay, 2,128; iron, pipe and machinery, 1,993; fruit and vegetables, 355; meat and livestock, 333; oil, 354; beer, 243; barrels, 240; ice, 350; paper, 95, and furniture, 95 cars.

CELEBRATE FIFTY YEARS OF WEDDED HAPPINESS

MR. AND MRS. A. G. MELLIN,
Who Celebrated Their Golden Wedding on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Mellin, 305 North Twenty-second avenue west celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Monday. Hundreds of their friends visited them during the afternoon and in the evening a surprise reception was tendered them by members of the Swedish Mission church.

Mr. and Mrs. Mellin have resided in Duluth for nine years. They have six children living and ten grand children. The children are A. J., C. G. and F. G. Mellin, and Mrs. Anton Simons of this city; Martin Mellin of Seattle, and Mrs. John Larmore of Chicago.

Mr. Mellin is 80 years of age, and Mrs. Mellin 70 years. Both are hale and hearty in spite of their advanced years.

SKATING RINK FOR CHILDREN

Improvement Club Discusses Parks, Schools and Sidewalks.

Schools, sidewalks and parks occupied the attention of the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club at its meeting in the Merritt school, Fortieth avenue west and Sixth street, last night. The club intends asking for additional school facilities, more sidewalks, and planned to take charge of the park and playground at Fortieth avenue and Third street.

It is proposed to appoint a committee at the club's next meeting to have charge of this park. This committee will prepare the ground for a skating rink for the children, and will ask only the installation of lights for the place from the city.

The school question brought out that the seating capacity was only 370, while at present there are 416 children enrolled. Members claimed that at the opening of school next year there would be enough children to occupy at least four other rooms. It is intended to ask the school board to enlarge the building so that at least another 200 children could be taken care of.

Members of the club expressed regret over the action of the city commissioners in turning down their request for sidewalk on Sixth street from Fortieth to Forty-sixth avenue. It was decided to institute a campaign to get this improvement early next year.

CHURCH HOLDS BIG CELEBRATION

Second Presbyterian Anniversary Is Marked By Pleasing Program.

Two games of volley ball and one indoor baseball game will feature the program of the anniversary celebration at the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street this evening. A game will be played between the married men and bachelors, another between the ladies and the younger boys, and the indoor baseball game will be between teams made up of the men and older boys.

The banquet given by the men of the Servo Adult Bible class last night was attended by nearly 200 members of the church. John G. Ross, president of the class, was toastmaster. Responses to toasts were made by Harry O'Brien, D. A. Diere, E. E. Williams, B. L. Hinsliff, James Maghan, Mrs. John Ledingham, Mrs. J. A. McGaughey and Rev. Mr. McGaughey.

Rev. Mr. McGaughey gave a brief history of the class and the work which it was doing. He told of its first organizing on Nov. 7, 1911 with twenty-four members and that it now had over 100 names on its rolls. The average attendance for fifty-two Sundays in 1912 had been 40, and this year it was expected the average would be more than 50.

The class, he said, had taken a very active part in the progress of the church, doing a large amount of benevolent work since its organization. He predicted that a class of that kind would be a great aid in the building up of a big church.

H. C. Goodell of Barnum, who is interested in men's Sunday school classes, was present and gave a short talk congratulating the class on its activities.

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas M. Finley of Glenwood were unable to reach the city yesterday but arrived this afternoon to take part in the celebration this evening and tomorrow. Rev. Mr. Finley will preach the special anniversary sermon tomorrow morning, and Mrs. Finley will speak on missionary work to the members of the women's home and foreign missionary society and the Epworth league tomorrow evening.

A special musical program has been arranged in connection with the evening services. The church is being decorated especially for the occasion by the older members of the congregation. Autumn leaves and mountain ash berries will form the decorations.

Rev. Mr. Finley was pastor of the local church from early in 1888 until late in 1898. At the time he left the church had a resident membership of 174. In going over the church roll this week it was interesting to note that only 24 per cent of his former members were still members of the congregation. The others had either moved out of the city or transferred to other churches. The church has now a membership of over 250 communicants.

CARNIVAL WILL LAST ALL WEEK

The Normanna Male chorus has arranged for a week of music and festivities beginning next Monday night, and expects to have one of the biggest carnivals that has ever taken place in the West end. The affair will be held at Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street and will continue each night of the week, ending with a concert to be given a week from Sunday evening. Each night sketches, playlets, musical and vocal numbers and other attractions will be given on the stage by the talent which the chorus possesses. The halls will be handsomely decorated and will have booths arranged in Norwegian style.

On Tuesday evening the Nordron Singing society will present a program; on Wednesday night the Svea Glee club will be heard; and on Thursday night the chief attraction will be the Orpheus Singing society. The following young women, attired in Norwegian national costume, will assist the society:

Misses Swava Johnson, Nanny Einarson, Ella Hagen, Anna Hagen, Ella Hanson, Anna Lee, Elizabeth Hobberstad, Caroline Hobberstad, Helen Paulson, Nikoline Christiansen, Emma Wick, Olga Waage, Christine Ophaug, Carine Nordeng, Johanne Erickson, Jennie Olson, Hanna Skog, Sigrid Skare, Sophie Landsvik, Inga Lund, Mabel Jerstad, Lillian Larson, Agnes Mathieson and Bergljot Solum.

The committees in charge of the affairs are:

Arrangements—Birger Sande, Gust Sodahl and A. H. Tesdahl; decorations, Oscar Hanson, John Rathe, Louis Bolem; program, Ludwig E. Nagel, A. J. Meyer, Carl A. Schulz and Jonas Jonassen; advertising, Joe Solem, J. A. Johnson and Fred Hansen; refreshments—Jacob Strand, H. Haugan, L. Hansen and Hans Nordby.

Officers Elected.

At the meeting of the Epworth League of the First Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Larson, 2602 West Third street, the society held its annual election. The following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. L. B. Donner; first vice president, Mrs. August Gustafson; second vice president, Miss Clara Olson; third vice president, Miss Annie Johnson; fourth vice president, Miss Ruth Larson; fifth vice president, Miss Myrtle Larson, secretary, Miss Elsie Johnson, treasurer, Miss Agnes Olson and organist, Miss Ruth Larson.

Missionary Meeting.

The meeting of the Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Second Presbyterian church will be held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. M. Worthington, 417 North Twenty-seventh avenue west. Mrs. Hiram Olson will be leader for the home subject and read a paper on Mormonism. Mrs. Fred Jones will have charge of the foreign subject and speak on "The Philippines." Mrs. T. H. Findley of Glenwood, former member of the society, and wife of the former pastor of the church, will be present at the meeting and give an address on missionary work.

West End Briefs.

Peter Anderson of West Fourth street left yesterday for a few days' business trip to Chicago and Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Baker of Twenty-seventh avenue are spending a few days visiting relatives in the Twin Cities.

Repairs under way at the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street are nearly completed. Services will be held both morning and evening in the church.

Thomas A. Utley of Red Wing, who has been spending a few days visiting relatives in the West end, left for his home last night.

Miss Ethel Eggerstrom of Willmar, Minn., left for her home last evening after spending several days visiting relatives in this end of the city.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS PLAN WORK

Activities for Eleventh Season Outlined at Committee Meeting.

President Watson S. Moore Presides and Names Committees.

The eleventh season of the Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A. was formally opened last evening when over 100 of the committeemen met for dinner, and heard the plans for the year. The boys who have assumed the responsibility for this year's work will make an effort to establish a precedent that will keep the future committees hustling to keep up to.

Watson S. Moore, president of the Y. M. C. A., presided. Richard Cullum, who so ably occupied the presidency of the Boys' department for the past year, turned over the key of the club to Mr. Moore, who in turn handed it to Edwin Scriven, who is this years' president. Warren Moore was then installed as vice president, and Harold Smithies as secretary, each responded with a snappy speech.

The following new cabinet members were installed: Ben McCabe, chairman of the athletic committee; Rollin Hawkes, secretary; music committee, Charles Diers and Ralph Brown; extension committee, Louis Wade and Willard Thorp; clubs committee, Irving C. Rover; membership, Norman Sweeny; camp and outing committee, Lester Steurwald and Earl Shaw, Knights of Sir Galahad. The cabinet is composed of twenty members representing ten committees.

W. J. McCabe made a short speech in which he congratulated the members of the cabinet on the splendid opportunity it gave them for service and training in doing things worth while. Mr. Moore followed with appointing the following committeemen and asked the chairman of each to read the policy of the work the committee adopted.

Names Committees.

Camp and outing committee, Charles Le Richeaux chairman; Norman Sweeney secretary, John Fee, Henry Jenswold, Edwin Skinner, Gerard Spencer, Stewart Thompson, Ralph Mee, Russell Palmer, William Fitzgerald, Stephen Reichert, James Wahl, Paul Winship, Towne Peterson, George Watts.

This committee has outlined the following things for the year: spring auto ride, cross country hikes, Saturday outings, observation trips to industries, camp reunions, bicycle trips, reception talks on Camp Miller, short camps, hike to Camp Miller, Sturgeon Lake 50 miles, programs on special holidays. The seventeenth season of Camp Miller will be for one month, July 27 to Aug. 22. They will raise $30 to buy camp dishes.

Sunday Club Committee—Warren Moore, chairman; Harold Smithies, secretary; Harold Coe, Jack Shields, Alfred Melrose, Edwin Pearson, Albert Armstrong, Alex Koefed, Oliver Maggard, Walter Morrison, Ross Beatty, Hiram Elliott, Carl Hoingman, Luther Olson. The policy for the year will be to conduct the Sunday club for older boys every Sunday at 4 o'clock; have a Sunday lunch, older boys to lead the meetings, plan an older boys' conference for the whole city and raise $25 for a clock for the club rooms.

Short talks were made by Mr. Wade, J. R. Batchelor and N. D. McLeod. At the close of the conference each committee met for a short while to plan some special activities for the month of October. The boys' building is open every day from 9 a. m. to 9:30 p. m., and all the fall and winter activities will be in active operation at once.

GIVES MINOR BEER; IS JAILED

George Bromfield Gets 30 Days; Bartender's Case Is Dismissed.

For furnishing liquor to Dan Summers, a minor, George Bromfield a sailor, was yesterday afternoon given a straight sentence of thirty days in the county jail. The case against Fred Erickson, bartender at 526 West Superior street, who is said to have sold the liquor to Bromfield, was dismissed.

According to the testimony, Bromfield came into the saloon on Friday, Sept. 20, and ordered two glasses of beer, saying that a friend of his would come in and drink the other glass. In a few minutes, Summers, who is but 17 years old, came in and drank the other glass of beer. Upon seeing this, Erickson declared on the stand yesterday, he refused to sell any more beer.

Young Summers was arrested in a drunken state on the day following, and it was on his information that Erickson and Bromfield were arrested. When arraigned last Monday Erickson pleaded not guilty, while Bromfield pleaded guilty.

FAMOUS ACTRESS LOSES 70 LBS. OF FAT

NEW TREATMENT GIVES ELEGANCE OF FIGURE AND STARTLING RESULTS QUICKLY

Eat All You Want and Grow Thin—Reduce Rapidly as Much as Desired—The World's Youngest and Most Beautiful Star Shows All Womankind the Way to Slim Grace and Beauty.

"Texas" Guinan, once a plain, stout girl who suddenly and mysteriously reduced herself to fawn-like, fascinating, fairy proportions, now idolized by the thrilled and dazzled audiences before whom she appeared in "The Passing Show of 1912" and "The Kissing Girl," a peerless artist whose immaculate melody of voice and bewitching beauty of face and figure have taken American theatergoers by storm. It is said she was pronounced by New York's foremost theatrical manager as 'the most perfectly formed woman alive.'

As Texas Guinan had to perform at the matinee it seemed the easiest thing in the world to arrange an interview without consulting her. The vigilant stage doorkeeper was easily passed. The dressing room was hospitably turned open by a maid, and then—well, Miss Guinan, that is, what is left of her, appeared.

"So you have come to learn the story of my weight reduction, have you?" said Texas in her breezy style, with her glorious countenance beaming in smiles at her supreme gladness, realizing how appreciative the world was in bestowing admiration and applause upon her, all on account of the new glory of her form which she transformed almost as if by magic with her own marvelous new treatment.

"While you are not going to get away with my secret," said Texas, "it is true that my seventy pounds of weight reduction was brought about with my own delightful treatment, but it cost me a pretty sum of money to learn of it, and I am not giving my secret of how I lost my weight free to reporters, but I have written a book telling all about this wondrous new treatment which rescued me from the thralldom of fat. This book has just come off the press and is offered free to fat burdened men and women, as I early learned in life that the only way to know happiness was to give it to others, and if by letting the world know of this harmless, quick method of reducing weight I can do a great good, then I will feel that I have not lived in vain."

"But won't you give me an inkling of its component parts? Just a suggestion as to what it is, or will I have to be content to read your free book telling all about it?"

"That is exactly it," said Texas, "but I don't mind telling you what the treatment is not. It does not consist of internal drugs or medicine; there is nothing to take internally. Neither is there any worthless, harmful cream to rub on the body. There is no sweating, no bandages, no Turkish baths. The treatment does not consist of a single exercise or physical culture of any description. There is no diet. One may absolutely eat all the food they desire of any kind, and go right on reducing without depriving themselves in any way.

"There are no enemas or flushing of the colon, no harmful massaging, no sweating garments to wear, no immersing yourself in hot baths with the tub filled with obesity water or epsom salts, nor does it include any medical concoction of any doctor, and it has nothing to do with any drug store prescription to have filled. There is no formula to carry out, no soaps to rub on the skin; neither is it a religious faith cure or Christian Science stunt. It is not a vibratory electric massage treatment, mental suggestion—no, and it is not a belt or mechanical device of any kind.

"I have tried many such fakes. I tried drugs, pills, capsules, harmful concoctions to rub on the body. I have tried sweating and taking Turkish baths, exercising, physical culture and everything known to science without result, and without losing weight. As I was about to despair and give up in disgust all further efforts to reduce my enormous weight, which was two hundred and four pounds, I, by lucky accident, learned of the most simple, harmless, rapid, safest fat reducing treatment on earth. I tried it on myself with astonishing results. My friends stood aghast in amazement, marveling at the wondrous change in my appearance. My fat just rolled away. After the first three days I noticed it beginning to leave me. My reduction grew greater and greater until finally, I was almost appalled with delight when I realized the stupendous success of my efforts and when I awoke to the fact that I had reduced 70 pounds of my fat without leaving a wrinkle, and the glory of my new figure and the grace and beauty of my curves gave me the admiration of the world. I enjoyed the triumph of my life and the success of my whole career when my manager, Mr. Shubert, on account of my glorious new figure, made me the star of the 'Passing Show,' and, mind you, this very same manager saw me tip the scales at two hundred and four pounds. I was crushed and bewildered when he told me he could not give me a part in the 'Passing Show' unless I could reduce my enormous weight, and my heart hangs heavy with the memory of the fat days that are gone when that monster, fat, began to rob me of my youth and charm.

"My success in reducing my own fat proves that there is no such word as 'fail.' I simply would not be resigned to my fate, and although everyone said 'Texas, there is no way out of your dilemma,' and told me that no fat reducing specialist could reduce my weight, I determined not to give up in despair, with the result that I absolutely conquered my fat. My new, great book on obesity, which gives full particulars of my simple, safe, quick, harmless fat reducing treatment, is now ready and will be sent free to all who wish to reduce their weight any number of pounds."

It is simply astonishing the furore this new treatment is causing among the intimate friends of Miss Guinan to whom she has given it. A letter from the world's most famous dancer, La Petite Adelaide, says: "Dear Miss Guinan: Let me congratulate you upon the high excellence of your remarkable new obesity treatment, which I find reduces me as rapidly as I desire. Sincerely, Adelaide." Other letters of praise and gratitude are pouring in to Miss Guinan from all parts of the country from those who have reduced with her successful treatment. Louise Brunelle, the Quaker maid, one of the earth's greatest beauties, states she lost 10 pounds the first week with this astonishing new treatment. It is said this remarkable treatment is not unlike the treatment used by the court ladies and famous actresses of the Old World, who have been using a similar remedy throughout Europe, and the remarkable thing is that Texas Guinan is the first to introduce it in America. Her free book, which is now ready for distribution, should be requested by all who desire quick reduction. It is written in a fascinating style. It explains how, by her treatment, Texas Guinan, who is acknowledged America's most successful star, reduced her own weight seventy pounds, and conquered the monster, FAT.

This glorious little woman is doing her utmost to benefit fat men and women who are in need of a perfect home treatment. Everything will be sent to you in a perfectly plain package so that in your own room, away from all prying eyes, you may plan to reduce your weight at once. Miss Guinan wants to help all who are burdened with superfluous fat and thereby make life really worth while.

Write her at once, and learn the anguish she felt when her girlish beauty started to develop to abnormal proportions. Read of the tears she wept when that monster "fat" made her realize that she must do something quickly to reduce her weight. Learn how she experimented, how she tried everything and, finally, with patient effort and determination she conquered her fat. Learn of these things so you may improve your own form and destroy your own fat so it will not be longer necessary for you to suffer the jibes and sneers of others. Remember there is no exercising or physical culture of any description in her treatment, no harmful massage or worthless poison body lotions. You may eat as many meals daily as you desire and go right on rapidly reducing. A most astonishing part of this fat reducing treatment is that it does not produce wrinkles or leave the skin flabby. All you have been dieting and starving themselves, trying to reduce their weight, and who have been taking exercises and internal baths and who have been taking internal and external remedies should write for a copy of her great FREE book entitled "RAPID WEIGHT REDUCTION WITHOUT EXERCISE, DIET OR INTERNAL REMEDIES," so crushed and bewildered when he told me he could not give me a part in the 'Passing Show' unless I could reduce my enormous weight, and my heart hangs heavy with the memory of the fat days that are gone when that monster, fat, began to rob me of my youth and charm, and, rapid, safest fat reducing treatment on earth. I tried it on myself

BUILDING NEW HOME IN CANADA

Col. A. D. Davidson Erecting Magnificent Residence in Toronto.

Col. A. D. Davidson of Duluth is erecting a magnificent new home in Toronto, Can., which he will make his winter residence when it is completed. He will retain his house on East Superior street as his summer residence.

Col. Davidson was in Duluth Wednesday for a brief visit, leaving Wednesday night for Montreal, where he joined Sir William Mackenzie. They sailed today from Montreal on the steamer Royal Edward, one of the Canadian Northern lines, for England, where they are going on business connected with the Canadian Northern's interests. Mrs. Davidson remained in Duluth.

The new residence of Col. and Mrs. Davidson in Toronto is expected to be one of the best homes in that city. It will be three stories in height, built of gray stone, in Elizabeth style, and will be 57 by 120 feet in size.

A BEAUTIFUL LITTLE HOME

Many times we are asked if it is not possible to get away from the stereotyped "residence" without putting in a lot of money, if it is impossible to build imperishably without running away up into the double cipher thousands.

The above house may answer both these questions and will assist the prospective builder of the small "different" home along both lines.

The stucco exterior applied to fireproof hollow tile construction has proven itself to be an ideal external wall for this Northern clime and more and more we are beginning to realize its many good points.

It is often no easier to select a suitable color combination than it is to decide upon the type of home to build. We are often asked for advice, and rightly so, for a well designed house must be properly decorated or many of its pleasing features may be destroyed. Light colors are as a rule best for the small house that is not of a decidedly bungalow type, but occasionally when there is little trim, as in this case, a strong dark color can be effectively used in combination with the light body color. This accentuates what trim there is without giving it too prominent an appearance. In a very simple exterior of this kind let the color combination be worked up on the same simple basis—use the least possible number of colors—confine the scheme to two colors in this case and get a little variety by making the roof and trim a different shade of perhaps a nice strong apple green; of course the stain on the roof shingles and the finished surface of the paint on the trim would naturally give a different effect, and by making the body color a nice shade of cream.—JOHN M. CARSON, Architect, Room 2, 212 West First Street, Duluth, Minn.

We have lots everywhere at all prices—$300 to $1,500, some higher; good building lots. Let us know where you wish to locate—we will then find you the best lot in that neighborhood and get it for you at the right price. Fine lots at low prices and easy terms.

SOIL SURVEY IS FINISHED

Fred Ward Ready to Report on New Work Farm Location.

If Sand and Gravel Are Lacking, Site May Be Changed.

Fred Ward, county agricultural agent, and Mark Thompson, superintendent of the Northeastern Minnesota experimental station, have completed a soil survey of sections 1 and 2, range 15, township 50, selected by the city and county as a site for a joint work farm. Their report will be submitted to the joint city and county work farm commission at it next regular meeting Monday, Oct. 13.

While Mr. Ward stated that he did not feel at liberty to make any comprehensive statement as to the character of the soil and its possibilities as a work farm site, until his report had been made to the work farm commission, he expressed himself as being satisfied that the 970-acre tract would meet the expectations of the commission, in so far as the producing value in the raising of crops of any kind that can be grown in this climate is concerned.

A close inspection of the subsoil in both sections was made. The report will show the result of drillings to various depths to determine what can be found in material for building purposes, such as sand, gravel, stone and clay. It is also expected to show what may be expected in the way of water supply.

When Frank R. McDonald, Minneapolis work farm expert, addressed the work farm commission at its organization meeting here in August, he impressed very forcibly on the minds of the commissioners the necessity of having a work farm site containing such material as can and necessarily would be used for manufacturing and building purposes by misdemeanants committed to the institution. He even recommended that should the soil survey show an insufficient amount of sand or gravel that it would be well to consider the advisability of disposing of this tract and the securing of another location where such building material is plentiful or one near a railroad where material can be delivered handily.

The soil survey and topographical inspection of the property which has just been completed for the commission was made at the suggestion of Mr. McDonald, who advised that this be done before determining what would be the requirements for the future in buildings. He stated that if the land contained good sand and gravel, all of the future as well as the first building material could be manufactured on the ground.

TWO ESTATES BEFORE COURT

Stanley E. Patterson filed a petition with the probate court yesterday asking that the will of his father, Henry S. Patterson, who died Aug. 27 leaving real and personal property valued at $8,600, be admitted to probate. All of the property is left to the widow, although there are eight children in the family. Stanley Patterson, son, and Alfred E. Bergren are named in the will as executors.

In the estate of Carl H. Rusch, who died in this city on Sept. 29 last, a petition was filed yesterday for letters of administration. The property consists of an interest in a 160-acre tract of land and is left to brothers and sisters.

ADMISSION 50c DOOR RIGHTS

New York, Oct. 4.—A receiver has been appointed by the supreme court to administer the affairs of Henry W. A. Page, wealthy linen merchant, who fled the country last May after he had been convicted of sending a scurrilous letter to Chairman Norton of the judiciary committee of the house of representatives. Page was sentenced to a term in a federal prison in Minnesota, but fled.

Page's wife, petitioner in the receivership proceedings, alleges that she and her three minor children are destitute because of Page's failures to pay recent installments of alimony at the rate of $4,000 a year. She says her husband has no intention of returning to the United States.

VIVISECTIONISTS ARE INDICTED.

Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—Five physicians engaged in research work at the University of Pennsylvania were indicted yesterday on charges of cruelty to animals. The defendants are Doctors Alfred N. Richards, Allen J. Smith, Richard Mills Pearce, Alonzo Engelbert Taylor and Joshua A. Sweet. Members of the Women's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals charged that after performing vivisection experiments, the injured animals were not properly cared for.

NEW MEXICAN SOLON SENTENCED.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 4.—Judge C. E. Abbott of the district court has sentenced Jose P. Lucero, member of the state assembly, to serve one year to eighteen months in prison. Lucero was convicted of having solicited a bribe in return for his vote in the senatorial election in 1913. Three colleagues, indicted jointly with Lucero for the same offense, remain to be tried.

WIDOW DENIES SHE CONFESSED MURDER.

Harrisonville, Mo., Oct. 4.—Over the protest of the defense, Judge A. A. Whitsett admitted the alleged confession of Mrs. Ida May Keller, on trial charged with the murder of her husband and 7-year-old daughter.

Harry A. Arthur, a detective, told of obtaining the alleged confession and denied he had used threats to gain it. Mrs. Keller was called to the stand by the defense.

"I had been without rest or sleep for three whole days and nights," she testified, "when I was brought into the prosecutor's office. There was no one in the room, but Mr. Arthur entered. He said I was guilty of the murder. He kept trying to make me say I had killed my husband and daughter. Then he pulled out his revolver and I fainted. I made no statement that I had killed by husband."

TANGO BANNED AT KANSAS VARSITY.

Lawrence, Kan., Oct. 4.—The "tango and other objectionable dances" are prohibited in the university of Kansas in an order issued by the board of the institution.

The order is a result of recent agitation over the latest forms of dancing, which resulted in two university students being suspended after they had sent out a newspaper story of the organization of a "tango club" by university sororities and fraternities. It was intimated by members of the faculty that the suspended correspondents would be reinstated at the end of this week.

Prince Bags Big Elk.

Cody, Wyo., Oct. 4.—A messenger from the hunting camp of Albert I, prince of Monaco, has arrived here. He brought word that the royal big game hunter killed a five-pronged elk on the day the party established camp.

YOU'RE BILIOUS AND COSTIVE!--CASCARETS

Get a 10-cent box now.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

BRIDGE NOW IN GOOD SHAPE

Ordinance Fixing Tax Levy for 1914 Given Final Reading.

The aerial bridge is now in first class conditon and is running in a most satisfactory manner, according to the verbal report made to the city council yesterday afternoon by Commissioner Leonidas Merritt.

The commissioner stated that the time has been practically cut in two, the trip across the canal now being made in 1 minute and 40 seconds. The disagreeable overhead rumble has been eliminated and only half the power formerly required to propel it is now required. The guide rails were straightened and new pieces installed. This reduced the friction, making operation easier, and at the same time greatly lessened the noise.

The commissioner explained that the repairs took more time than had been anticipated, necessitating the introduction of an ordinance making an additional appropriation of $585 for ferry service. The previous appropriation was $985, bringing the total cost of the ferry to $1,560. The steamer Plowboy, under the command of Capt. Walter Lloyd, supplied the service, and Commissioner Merritt stated that it was very satisfactory. The city paid $65 per day for the boat.

The ordinance fixing the tax levy for 1914 at $849,500, on the bonds of an assessed valuation of $51,000,000, was given its third reading and passed. The budget ordinance becomes effective immediately upon its passage and will be certified at once to the county auditor.

The ordinance of Finance Commissioner Fred J. Voss providing for the issuance of $275,000 of certificates of indebtedness in anticipation of the tax collections of next year was given its first reading. The certificates will provide funds to carry the various departments the balance of the year and until the first apportionment is received next spring.

A resolution was passed providing rooms for the West Duluth municipal court in the Commercial club building. The rental is $300 a year.

MISTRIAL IN GRANT CASE

A second mistrial has been entered in the case of the state against Maud Grant, charged with being the proprietor of a house of ill fame. The second jury within two weeks was discharged by Judge Dancer in district court last evening at 9:45 o'clock because it had failed to reach an agreement after having considered the case for thirty-six hours.

Foreman George Lindberg told the court that there was a bare possibility of a verdict being arrived at if further deliberation of the case was ordered by the court. Other members of the panel, when questioned by the court, seemed to doubt this.

The jury asked that certain portions of the testimony be read to them in order that their memories might be refreshed. This was denied by Judge Dancer, who held that such a procedure would tend to give a prejudiced view of the entire case and that the testimony should be considered as a whole.

JUDGE HUMPHREIS SUDDENLY SOFTENS

Jurist Remits Many Fines in Contempt of Court Cases.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 4.—Superior Judge John E. Humphreis, who began the day in belligerent mood, with his docket full of contempt of court cases against the Socialists, adjourned court late yesterday, after dispensing pardons and remissions to all comers. His change of attitude came after a consultation with a representative of eight other superior court judges.

Until the middle of the afternoon Judge Humphreis continued to hear the cases of the fifty-five signers of the "defiance," making frequent addresses to the crowd. In the morning the penalties imposed were severe; in the afternoon mild. The court frequently warned the defendants not to be "sassy." Those who were "sassy" fared ill.

After the "defiant" persons had been disposed of the case of Dr. Titus, on the charge of violating an anti-street speaking injunction, was called.

Higher Than the Governor.

The judge delivered a long address. He dwelt upon the great power he wielded saying he had but to close his hand to put his hearers in jail, and to open it to let them out. He exclaimed:

"I hold the keys. I have got power. I am higher than the governor. I can put you in jail and I can pardon you."

Then the judge discharged Dr. Titus, to the latter's intense astonishment.

"Another friend of mine." Price answered a few questions and was discharged.

Kate Sadler, a street speaker, was brought from jail where she had been confined for interrupting the court proceedings Thursday. Questioned by Judge Humphreis, she declared she had not assailed him in speeches, but on the contrary had praised him as an object lesson of the need of recall of judges. To her amazement, the court said he would reduce her $100 fine to $10.

"I'll not pay it," she shouted.

Don't Get Sassy."

"Don't get sassy," said the judge, adding, "the fine is remitted anyhow."

"What became of the woman with the two babies?" the court next asked.

He was told that Mrs. McNally would be released from jail at once. The judge then inquired about Mrs. Spender, a woman with four children, and remitted the fine against her. The prosecutor objected, saying:

"She was very defiant, your honor."

At the close of the court the principals in the Socialist contempt cases were free and more than a score of persons were in jail in default of payment of fines varying from $50 to $300 for "talking back to the court." Three of the latter had been sentenced to six months each in prison.

Five women are in jail for non-payment of $100 fines.

Don't Neglect the Kidneys

The subtle and delusive character of kidney disease is well known. The patient and even the doctor often fail to recognize its existence until the disease has become well established, little thinking the backache, headache, indigestion, weakness of heart, loss of appetite and that tired feeling is caused from kidney trouble; the kidneys failing to perform their function of removing the poisonous matter from the blood.

Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy

which soothes and heals the inflamed parts and gradually restores them to their normal condition. You can be among the thousands who have testified to their complete relief from suffering by the use of this wonderful medicine. It has been the standby in correcting kidney and liver troubles for 36 years.

"I wish to say that your remedies have been used in our family for about fifteen years. We are never without a bottle of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy in our home, and it has saved many a doctor's bill. It is a wonderful medicine for all diseases of the kidneys and liver."—Florence E. Schmidt, R. F. D. No. 1, Dunkirk, O.

SOAP ON HAIR CAUSES DANDRUFF, SCALP GETS DRY, HAIR FALLS OUT

Girls! Get a 25 Cent Bottle and Try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse."

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and lustre.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it.

NEW ROUTE TO THE BAY FRONT

Canadian Northern Seeking to Connect With West Duluth Plants.

The Canadian Northern railroad is looking for a new route from its terminals at Seventy-first avenue to the water front, according to residents of West Duluth. The company's engineers have been surveying a route which would lead through the Keene's creek hollow and would tap the coal docks and be in easy reach of the Grassy Point bridge of the Northern Pacific railroad.

Local engineers of the railroad would give out no information regarding the intentions of the company.

It is claimed that this route would be far preferable to the present road in getting to the company's docks. Trains now bound for the docks have to be hauled to Forty-third avenue west and then switched and backed up on a spur leading to the dock.

The proposed new road will leave the main line just west of the shops at Seventy-first avenue and cross Sixty-third avenue just west of the Incline on a grade which will bring it under the Grand avenue bridge at Sixtieth avenue. According to the surveys being made it will follow the west side of Keene's creek to a point below Central avenue where it will swing eastward along the lowlands to its property east of Ramsey street.

It is intimated that it is probable that the company may purchase or lease the terminal tracks of the Northern Pacific railroad which are now located in this valley and also this company's tracks in its switching operations along the water front. This will give it access to all the industries, including the two sawmills, the three coal docks and the Zenith furnace.

CLASS TEAMS IN TIE GAME

Industrial High Championship to Be Decided Next Tuesday.

The Duluth Industrial high school senior-sophomore football game resulted in a tie, the score being 18 to 18, in a game played yesterday afternoon on the Fifty-second avenue grounds. The game was fought bitterly by both sides and a surprising amount of resistance was put up by the younger classmen.

On Tuesday afternoon the game to decide the school's class championship will be played between the juniors and seniors. This game is expected to draw out the entire membership of the school. The juniors are said to have the heavier team—and in its game with the freshmen piled up a score of 42 to 0. This team as sophomores last year won the school championship.

The boys who are expected to play on Tuesday, will be as follows: Seniors: Joseph Usinski, Bates, Cashin, Otto Blais, Louis White, Clifford Little, Allan Forsberg, Robert Scott, Al Overton, John Davis, Frank Martin and Otto Olafson; Juniors: James Donald, John Nettleton, Otto Blais, Joe McDonald, Frank Wade, Albert Mattson, Rudolph Peterson, George Johnson, Gordon Huth, Stanley Allen and John Miller.

APPEAL TO BOARD FOR NEW SCHOOL

Store Building May Be Rented to Accommodate Children.

Half a dozen of the public spirited citizens of Gary appeared before the school board at its meeting last night, and asked for better school facilities. More room and better sanitation were asked.

The Gary representatives said that the accommodations were unfit for winter. Last year, they said, there was one portable school which accommodated about forty pupils. This year, they said, there are two portable schools and more than eighty pupils. They maintained that these buildings were all right during the fall but too frail for winter.

Superintendent Denfeld and the members of the board have been paying a great deal of attention to the situation at Gary and their visits there have been very frequent. The board expressed itself as willing to furnish all necessary equipment and proper housing for the pupils, but did not want to authorize the purchase of a new building site until it could be learned definitely where the most suitable building spot would be. The village has grown rapidly and the board is kept at sea to know just which way the center of population will swing.

The Gary men suggested the rental of a store building for the winter, which they said would house 100 pupils. This proposition will be investigated if the present school quarters get cold.

LONGFELLOW ALUMNI ELECTS OFFICERS.

Plans for a series of entertainments to be given this winter for the members and the election of officers were the chief features of the meeting of the Longfellow school alumni association last night. The first entertainment will be a Halloween party on Oct. 31.

The officers elected were as follows: Ragnar Larson, re-elected president; Miss Edith Pollock, vice president; Miss Grace Pollock, secretary; Gordon Huth, treasurer, and John Nettleton, sergeant-at-arms.

Several committees were appointed to have charge of the entertainment. These were as follows: General arrangements, Miss Adeline Buckley, Miss Ethel McLyman, Miss Fern Brooks and Miss G. Doyle; decorations, Roy Winness, Gordon Huth, Hugh Myles, Miss Hazel Burnside and Miss Grace Pollock; refreshments, Miss Myrtle Elgin, chairman to appoint her own assistants; program and music, Alec Anderson and John Nettleton.

Future events will also include the presentation of dramatics. Miss Edith Pollock was appointed chairman of a committee to plan giving plays later in the winter.

DISCUSS WEATHER AND CITY PLANNING

H. W. Richardson and C. S. Mitchell Talk at Social Center.

Nearly 100 people attended the entertainment and lectures given under the auspices of the social center at the Irving school last night. H. W. Richardson of the U. S. weather bureau and C. S. Mitchell gave the addresses.

Mr. Richardson spoke on the work of the local weather bureau stating that it had become a vital factor in commerce, both lake and rail. He said that the Duluth station was one of the most important in the country.

Mr. Mitchell praised the work of social centers and stated that he would go a step further by making the school the place where clubs of men, women, boys and girls could enjoy any wholesome innocent pastime.

Modern city planning he said was in its infancy. Nearly all cities of the country were now laid out by men who had taken a piece of ground, platted it by making cross lines to represent streets and alleys but that no heed was taken at the time for the recreation of the people who were to inhabit it.

The program also included solo selections given by Miss Maud Mattson and Charles O. Applehagen both of whom were encored, and several reels of interesting moving pictures. John Davis, "Mayor" of the Duluth Industrial high school, presided as chairman.

WILL BE ORDERED TO ADJUST RATES

An order directing the Northern Pacific railroad to establish one fare from West Duluth to St. Paul for its different trains or else operate all of its trains via Thomson on or before Nov. 1 will be given by the state railroad and warehouse commission, according to a statement made by Andrew Myles this morning. Mr. Myles returned last evening from St. Paul where he was in consultation with members of the commission.

Mr. Myles said that he had put before the commission the unfairness of the present schedule of rates from this station. This consisted he said of charging $2.96 to St. Paul on the morning trains while $3.04 was being charged on the other two. He also referred to the charges made to other points on the line, referring to Carlton to which the rates now being charged are 38 cents and 42 cents depending on which of the trains is being used.

SURPRISED AT THE GROWTH OF DULUTH.

David H. Nelson former resident of West Duluth, now owner of one of the largest farms in Oregon is spending a few days visiting at the home of his step-father, Gust Erickson, 21 North Sixty-fourth avenue west. Mr. Nelson just returned from Detroit, Mich., where he attended the national convention of "Good Roads" committee.

Mr. Nelson has not been in Duluth for twenty-four years and expressed surprise at this city's rapid growth and its future possibilities. Mr. Nelson was a delegate to the convention in Detroit representing the farming interests in the vicinity of Pendelton, Or.

EPIDEMIC IS CHECKED

Gary is now without a single case of typhoid fever, according to Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, who visited the suburb yesterday.

The suburb had two deaths from typhoid and eight other cases developed there, but the patients have all been removed. Three of them left the city to go to their homes and the others are now being cared for in local hospitals. This condition was highly gratifying to Dr. Webster and to Dr. T. R. Martin, who has charge of the local branch of the state laboratory and who accompanied the city health officer on his trip of investigation.

Dr. Martin took samples of water from the wells at Gary, from which the typhoid is believed to have been transmitted, and also from the system which has been installed by the steel company. The water supply of the latter is believed to pure but it will be tested as a precautionary measure. The company employe who contracted the disease was boarding in Gary and very likely was infected by well water.

The officials believe that the threatened epidemic has been throttled. Dr. Webster stated that Inspector Robert Metcalf has been getting excellent results in a surprisingly short time. He was instructed to have all residents of Gary boil their water before using it and to have clean up the filthy spots which have been serving as prolific breeding places of flies, recognized as the most dangerous of typhoid carriers.

NORTH DAKOTA TOWN IS BADLY SCORCHED

York Lighting Plant Explodes and Several Buildings Are Burned.

York, N. D., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was a fire loss of $75,000 here last night, started by the explosion of a lighting plant in Odd Fellows hall while a dancing party was in progress. The dancers were in wild confusion for several moments, though all escaped without injury.

The buildings destroyed included the J. M. Johnson mercantile store, the York Hardware company, Odd Fellows hall and the postoffice, owned by Andy Cochrane, the Asberry Abel Confectionery store, the York State bank and the John Baker butcher shop.

The Leeds fire department reached the city shortly before midnight and its aid prevented the destruction of other buildings. The fire already had leaped across the street. The Leed department brought its engine attached to an automobile.

BIG LEVY FOR ROADS MAY INCREASE COUNTY BUDGET

Whether there will be any decrease in the county budget for the coming year will depend largely on what stand the county board takes at its October meeting on Tuesday next on the matter of road expenditures for 1914. The annual levy of taxes will be made by the board at that time.

The levy for the county revenue fund, it is understood from information received at the county auditor's office, will undoubtedly be reduced this year as compared with last year's levy. The county revenue or general fund is the largest item in the county's budget.

Under the Dunn road law, which was passed by the 1913 legislature, the limit of a one-mill tax levy for road expenditures has been removed and county boards are now authorized to spend as much as 3 mills. In other words, the St. Louis county board last year could not levy more than $311,000 for roads. This year, figuring on the last valuation of $311,000,000, the amount which might be legally expended for roads would be $933,000.

For a number of months the county board has been swamped with new road petitions. New roads are wanted in every portion of the county. It is generally understood that the levy for the road fund will be considerably larger for next year than would have been permitted under the 1-mill limit imposed by the old law.

The tax rates cannot be figured out until the county auditor's abstracts of personal property and real estate valuations have been received from the state tax commission. As soon as the state commission readjusts them they will be forwarded to the auditor. The county's 1914 tax levy will probably be decided upon at the meeting of the board Tuesday. The various budgets from the cities and towns of the county must be forwarded to the county auditor's office by Oct. 10.

Last year $308,460 was levied for the county revenue fund and $291,000 for the road fund.

CITY BRIEFS

Blow Cost Him $5.

For striking Hugo Christopher, 12 years old, on Tuesday, Sept. 25, Oscar Carlson of 521 North Twenty-first avenue west yesterday afternoon was compelled to pay a fine of $5 and costs, after being found guilty of the charge. Carlson claimed he struck the boy because he was stealing some truck from his garden.

Two Small Fires.

The barn belonging to C. R. Johnson, 3220 West Third street, was damaged to the extent of $350 yesterday afternoon, when several children playing with matches set fire to the structure. A second fire yesterday afternoon caused about $50 damage to the dwelling of Thomas Smith, 8 Thirteenth avenue west. It is believed that the fire was started by sparks from the chimney.

Placed on Parole.

On their promise to pay their rooming bills, Kalle Kvist, Frank Heino and Frank Snari, were yesterday afternoon placed on parole for one year, after pleading guilty to the charge of attempting to defraud an innkeeper. A sentence of thirty days in the county jail was placed against them, in case they violate their parole.

Held for Assault.

Herbert H. Watts was yesterday afternoon bound over to the November term of the grand jury on a charge of assault in the second degree, preferred against him by W. H. Streeter. Both men are employed as switchmen on the Northern Pacific railroad and according to Streeter's complaint, Watts struck him with a lantern following a quarrel Tuesday evening. Bail was fixed at $100.

Held to Grand Jury.

John Everett, who was arrested Wednesday on a charge of having criminally assaulted Mrs. P. J. Hickey of Duluth Heights for whose husband Everett worked, waived examination in police court yesterday afternoon and he was bound over to the November term of the grand jury. No bail was fixed in his case.

Placed on Parole.

Sentenced to thirty days in the county jail following his trial in police court yesterday morning on a charge of having assaulted his wife Thursday evening, William Dorvinen, 320 West Third street, was yesterday afternoon placed on parole for one year. Sentence in his case was suspended.

Municipal Court Revenue.

During September the total revenue in municipal court exceeded the amount received in August by $116.85. The total receipts for last month were $1,390.14, while the West Duluth court received $228.64.

Few Fires in September.

The report of Fire Chief Joseph Randall for September shows that during the month the department responded to thirty-one alarms, and that the total loss was $10,655.16, amply covered by insurance. Sales of miscellaneous articles netted the department $66.

Seeking New Trial.

In district court this afternoon Judge W. A. Cant is hearing arguments for a new trial in the case of the state against W. H. Lawrence, former judge of probate of Lake county, who was convicted in the Lake county division of the court on a charge of embezzlement.

Clerk Pleads Guilty.

Ray B. Clifford of 223 West Second street is the fourth grocery clerk to be arrested for short weighing. He pleaded guilty in police court this morning to having sold 16½ ounces of cranberries for a quart, which should contain 18 ounces. Judge Cutting continued sentence until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Safe Is Opened.

The safe in the office of City Treasurer Grant E. McLean was opened yesterday afternoon by a local expert. The time lock failed to work at its usual time, 8 o'clock, yesterday morning. The failure of the clock to work did not interfere with the transaction of business as the securties in the safe were not immediately needed. About $500 in cash was locked in the strong box.

Plead Guilty.

Tony Cinto, 32, and Maud Imbleau, 26, were each fined $50 and costs or sixty days in the county jail following their trial in police court this morning. They pleaded guilty to the charges against them. Cinto and the woman were found together in a house at 925 West Michigan street and were taken into custody by Officer Brouillette.

Collect Coal Bill.

Federal Judge Morris handed down the final decree this morning in the admiralty case of the Selther Transit company against the Great Lakes Coal & Dock company. The court orders the respondent company to pay the libellant $2,443.45, together with 6 per cent interest from Dec. 5, 1912, the amount asked for in the suit. The Transit company claimed that it delivered a load of coal on the steamer Grammer on Dec. 5, 1912, and that payment was only made for 35 cents a ton, when a verbal contract had been made for 70 cents a ton. The remainder of the bill amounted to $2,443.45.

Often Bound Over Once.

Ivar Often, alias John Holt, 43 years old, waived examination in police court this morning on a grand larceny charge of having stolen two coats, a mackinaw jacket and two pairs of shoes from the home of George Deloughary, 5803 Cody street, on Wednesday afternoon, and was bound over to the November term of the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $500.

RECOVERS HER FARM

Woman Who Was Tricked Out of Homestead Regains Title.

Flina Stein, farmer's wife and mother of five small children, who came into district court a few months ago with a story of how she had been tricked out of her homestead, an 80-acre farm in the Finnish settlement, seventeen miles out of Floodwood, has won it back again through a decision which was handed down by Judge Ensign today. A jury last March decided that her name had been forged to a purported mortgage and today the court signed findings and an order for judgment that William A. Baune, Floodwood horse dealer, holder of the mortgage, had no interest in her property.

Mrs. Stein's claim was that she lost her farm to Baune on a mortgage foreclosure sale. She alleged that her signature had been forged to the mortgage and that she had no knowledge of the foreclosure proceedings until it was too late to redeem. Baune, defendant, claimed that he acted in good faith and that the mortgage was executed by the woman's husband. Stein owed Baune money and the latter accepted the purported mortgage as security. Stein took the mortgage home and brought it back to Baune with the proper signatures. Mrs. Stein claims that she never saw the paper. Stein later left his family and Baune foreclosed.

PRISONERS WILL PLEAD GUILTY.

Iver Often, alias John Holt, aged 43, who was arested at Superior yesterday afternoon on a charge of grand larceny, second degree, and Herbert H. Watts, charged with second degree assault, will be arraigned before Judge Fesler in district court this afternoon. Both men have asked permission to plead guilty on information instead of waiting the action of the November grand jury.

NEW HOURS AT THE CITY HALL

Offices May Be Kept Open at Noon in the Future.

Beginning today offices in the city hall are being kept open Saturday afternoons.

During the summer months they have been closing at noon on Saturdays, giving city employes a half holiday each week. The full force will not be on duty Saturday afternoon, but the various employes will alternate in staying on the job each week end.

Another change remains to be put into effect. Some of the offices are closed the whole or part of the noon hour. There is a strong feeling that the city hall offices should be kept open continuously from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Business and professional men are not seriously inconvenienced, but those who are working for a wage, are compelled to suffer.

It is probable that this question will be taken up by the commissioners at an early date and orders issued to the effect that noon hours shall be so arranged that no offices shall be closed any part of the day.

VACATION MAY NOT BE GRANTED

Commissioners Think Crescent Avenue May Yet Be Needed.

When the city commissioners this morning viewed the four blocks of Crescent avenue, located in Woodland, for which a vacation petition has been filed, they were not at all satisfied that the vacation should be made. They felt that the avenue might be desirable as a public thoroughfare when the suburb becomes more settled. Should the vacation be made it was their opinion that the abutting lots will be practically doubled in size, receiving a material benefit for which the city should be paid. The petition for the vacation is scheduled to come up for final hearing Monday afternoon, when the matter will likely be thrashed out in more detail.

G. G. Hartley accompanied the council on its trip this morning. The first leg of the journey included London road, where Mr. Hartley, in a recent communication to the commission, pointed out that many trees have died from lack of care, while many others are in danger of being lost to the city from inattention. The commissioners found that the statements of Mr. Hartley were correct and agreed with him that prompt steps should be taken to save those remaining, not only on London road but in other parts of the city.

From Lakeside the commissioners journeyed over the Hartley road, where they witnessed the extensive land clearing operations being conducted by Mr. Hartley. They then looked over Sixth street between Fifteenth and Eighteenth avenues east, a petition for the improvement of which has been filed with the city. A storm sewer is asked for in connection with the work and it was the opinion of the council that this should be laid and the ground allowed to settle before the street is improved.

RECOUNT WILL BEGIN MONDAY

Richard M. Funck Named as the Third Inspector.

The list of three men who are to recount the ballots in the contest of the referendum election in which the Hicken liquor ordinance was said to have been approved was completed today when Richard M. Funck was named by A. T. Banning, Jr., and Walter Gonska, the two already selected. Mr. Gonska was named by Hugh McClearn, who filed the appeal, and Mr. Banning by the city attorney.

The recount will probably start Monday.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Large Dividends Are Reported By Book Concern This Year.

Dr. Forbes Ill and Will Visit Duluth When Recovered.

Detroit, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—After an address by Bishop Quayle at the morning's session of the Northern Minnesota Methodist conference, Rev. Dr. M. P. Burns, superintendent of the Minneapolis district, read his annual address.

Rev. Dr. Downey of New York, book editor of the Methodist book concern, spoke before the conference. This concern is one of the largest publishing houses in the country. Its dividends returned this year to the various conferences this year amounted to $260,000 and of this amount $2,200 came to the Northern Minnesota conference, which was turned into the superannuated fund.

John H. Clark was received as an elder from the Congregational church.

Large Fund Assured.

Rev. J. B. Hingeley of Chicago, secretary of the board of conference claimants, spoke before the conference, reporting that his board would be able to report to the general conference of 1916 that the permanent fund being established in the Methodist church for its superannuated ministers would reach $9,000,000 or $10,000,000.

Howard B. Adams, Justus Parish, John W. Schenck, Howard H. Hare, Henry C. Meck Lenberg and Joseph P. Alair were received into full membership in the conference.

The bishop addressed the class for admission on Winston Churchill's book, "The Inside of the Cup." The bishop took issue with Churchill in this criticism of the Protestant Episcopal church and in his claim that the church at large is dominated by predatory wealth and seeking ministers who will preach doubts.

Women's Home Missions.

Yesterday afternoon's session of the conference opened with Mrs. H. G. Leonard of Minneapolis presiding. It was the annual conference meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society. Mrs. Benjamin D. Longley of St. Paul spoke in behalf of the woman's home missions and deaconess work. More than $10,000 has been raised by the women's societies in the churches.

Among the prominent visitors who arrived yesterday were Dr. David G. Downey of New York, book editor for the Methodist publishing interests; Rev. S. F. Kerfoot, D.D., president of Hamline university; Thomas Owens and family of Two Harbors and Rev. Dr. Robert Forbes of Philadelphia.

Dr. Forbes Ill.

Dr. Forbes, on his arrival here, was obliged to seek a physician's advice. He has just come from the West coast where, on account of the extra amount of conference visitation detailed on him, he has been greatly overworked. He is resting quietly and hopes are entertained of a speedy recovery. Symptoms of ptomaine poisoning are present. Dr. Forbes is one of the oldest members of the conference and for many years was a most prominent figure in religious and civic affairs in the state. For many years he was closely associated with the church and civic life of Duluth. During the past ten years he has been secretary of the the board of home missions and church extension of the Methodist church, with headquarters at Philadelphia. Mrs. Forbes is here with him and his son, Sabin, is expected.

The condition of Dr. Forbes is much improved today and he and Mrs. Forbes intend to proceed to Duluth for a short visit as soon as the doctor is able to travel.

Bishop Quayle lectured last night on "Abraham Lincoln" to an audience which taxed the capacity of the church auditorium.

The bishop announced today that the conference will adjourn Sunday evening.

WAS PIONEER NEWSPAPER MAN

"Uncle Dudley" Russell Was Part Owner of Old Duluth Herald.

Morris C. Russell, known throughout the state as "Uncle Dudley," one of the pioneer printers and newspapermen of Minnesota, who died at Red Wing hospital yesterday, was one of the earliest settlers in Duluth, and, with Capt. Thomas H. Pessnell, deputy clerk of the United States court, printed one of the first newspapers in this city.

According to Capt. Pressnell, Mr. Russell came here in 1875 and shortly after arriving formed the partnership of Russell & Pressnell and purchased the old Duluth Herald. Russell later returned to Brainerd, where his wife died.

The following year Mr. Russell returned to Duluth and became the editorial writer for the Duluth Tribune, holding that position for some time. In 1880 he was appointed register of the Duluth land office, which position he held for two years. At this time Mr. Russell married a young woman from Lake City, his former home. He is survived by the second Mrs. Russell and several children.

Mr. Russell was born in Franklin county, Pa., 76 years ago. He came to Minnesota in 1854, when just 14 years old. He learned the printing trade at Tipton, Ia., and when the Civil war broke out the young man joined Company K, Second Minnesota infantry, serving a year. He was discharged in 1862 on account of poor health and he returned to serve as a scout with Gen. Sibley in the Sioux outbreak.

After the war Mr. Russell established the Brainerd Tribune, the first paper on the line of the Northern Pacific railroad east of the Rocky Mountains. For many years he was publisher of the Lake City Republican.

AMIDON WILL CONDUCT CASE

North Dakota Jurist Coming for Street Railway Hearing.

Federal Judge Charles F. Amidon of North Dakota will arrive here Tuesday morning to conduct the case of the Central Trust company against the City of Duluth, in which the plaintiff company asks for an injunction to prohibit the city from attacking the franchise of the Duluth Street Railway company.

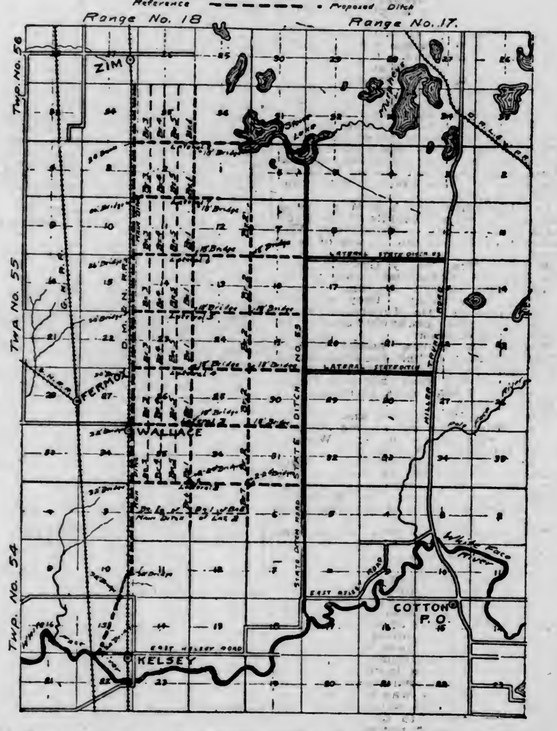

Federal Judge Morris is leaving this evening for Minneapolis, where he will open a term of court Tuesday morning. From Minneapolis Judge Morris will leave for Omaha, where he will spend several weeks. He will probably remain there until the Christmas holidays.

The case in the local court will begin at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

DR. R. F. STONE COMMITS SUICIDE.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—Dr. Richard F. Stone, physician and author, was found dead in his office here today from asphyxiation, and the police saye he committed suicide. The police also say Dr. Stone planned an explosion and fire to cover up his suicide. He is said to have had domestic and financial troubles recently.

NEW COUNTY DITCH WILL DRAIN THOUSANDS OF ACRES OF SWAMP LAND

The above cut shows the proposed course of County Ditch No. 1. The contract for construction has just been let to Friedrick, Barnard & Small of Minneapolis, who will do all preliminary work on the project during the fall and winter.

The channel of the ditch will extend from Kelsey to Zim, touching at other small towns and villages. It will be 66½ miles in length and drain 24,000 acres of land, which will make excellent farms when drained. The territory as it now stands is practically worthless for agricultural purposes owing to its swamp condition.

DARK WHEN POLICE SAY IT IS

Mere Fact That It Happens Still to Be Daylight of No Importance in Prussia, According to Decree of the Supreme Court.

Berlin, Oct. 4.—It is dark in Prussia whenever the police say it is dark. The mere fact that it may happen still to be daylight in defiance of police orders is of no importance.

This is the decree of the Prussian supreme court in an appeal taken by a truck owner accused of driving after work without a lantern on his wagon. The law prescribes that a lantern must be carried by such vehicles after dark, and the police have decided that it is dark thirty minutes after the sun sets. The defendant admitted that he had driven after the prescribed time without a lantern, but contended that it was still light. Two lower courts permitted him to prove his contention and acquitted him. The police, the lower court held, have no power to set a certain time when it shall be considered dark. The actual conditions must govern in each case. The supreme court has reversed this decision upon appeal by the prosecutor and imposed a fine on the offender.

An analogous ruling has been made in an action for damages, brought by a tenant of an apartment house who had fallen in a dark hallway and injured himself. The landlord pleaded that the hour had not yet arrived when, by police regulation, hallways must be lighted. The plaintiff offered proof that it was quite dark when the accident happened. The proof was excluded as irrelevant. The police, said the court, had decided that it was dark at a specified hour, and that settled it.

Decrease in Births.

A decided check in the growth of Germany's population, most alarming to the military apostles of the empire, is shown by the statistics for 1911 which have just been published.

The surplus of births over deaths fell from 879,000 in 1910 to 740,000 in 1911, a shrinkage in the rate of growth of 139,000, or over 15 per cent. This marked retardation in the growth of the nation was due both to a reduction in the number of births and an increase in the death rate. Despite an increase in marriages from 496,396 to 512,819 the total number of births for the empire dropped from 1,982,836 in 1910 to 1,927,039 in 1911, while on the other hand, the number of deaths rose from 1,103,723 to 1,187,094, an increase of more than 83,000. This increase in mortality and drought which prevailed during the summer of 1911 and under which infants suffered with particular severity.

Almost a third of the deaths, 359,522, during the year were of children under 1 year old, some 48,000 babies more than in 1910 succumbing to the heat. The death rate for children in their first year rose from 16.2 in 1910 to 19.2 in 1911. The general death rate, too, after a steady decline for a number of years, rose to 18.2 per 1,000 as compared with 17.1 in 1910.

Summing up the statistics in another form the net surplus of births over deaths per thousand of population was only 11.3 in 1911, as against 13.6 in 1910 and 14.9 for 1906. These statistics bring out also the fact that almost 30 per cent of he illegitimate children died before reaching their first birthday.

A Novel Suggestion.

A novel interpretation of how the Monroe doctrine should be applied after the completion of the Panama canal has just been voiced by a German diplomat of authority and high position. In substance it is to give the United States full control as far south as the isthmian waterway, but to let the countries of Europe, including Germany, have a free field from Panama to Tierra del Fuego.

The high standing of this diplomat may reasonably be expected to influence the standpoint of Germany in any future controversy, involving the famous doctrine of American foreign relations; consequently his views are not without a certain interest. He would cut the American continent in two at the Panama canal and allow to the United States full and free hand as far south as that waterway, but exclude from the sphere of any Washington supervision or control the relations of Germany, and the other European powers, with the states of South America. He believes Germany should refrain from any interference whatsoever in Mexico, and that the same rule should apply to all the Central American states. This would involve a virtual extension of the southern boundary of the United States to the canal, so far as the relations of these states to the European powers is concerned. This, it will be seen, is the Monroe doctrine for Central America in an even stronger form than is at present enforced.

But the European states must and should, this diplomat believes, be allowed to settle their controversies with the countries south of this line in their own way and without reference to Washington. The role of the United States as guardian and protector to the whole continent is, he believes, a thing of the past; the South American states have reached years of discretion; they are out of the legitimate sphere of control of the American department of state; the countries of Europe are entitled to insist on a free hand in their relations with them.

Jockey Renews Contract.

Archibald, the American rider who is at the head of the winning jockeys in Germany this year, has renewed his contract with Baron S. A. von Oppenheim, thereby rejecting handsome overtures to engage him for the French turf.

Thanks largely to Archibald's talents, the Oppenheim stable this year heads not only the other German stables but those of the world in winnings, having up to Sept. 14 taken prizes amounting to $196,640. This is the highest figure reached by a private stable in Germany and is only some $6,000 behind the record scored last year by the government stud at Graditz.

According to local sporting authorities the high winners of the year in other countries of Europe have been Baron E. de Rothschild in France, with $140,000; J. B. Joel in England with $110,000, and B. Mautner von Markhof in Austria with $120,000.

Postal Bank Extension.

Encouraged by the remarkable success of the postal system of open check accounts the German postoffice authorities are about to carry government banking one step further by selling postal letters of credit designed to appeal specially to regular and occasional travelers whose financial requirements are not great enough to call for a banker's letter of credit.

Two great advantages for these classes of travelers are that the letters will be issued for smaller sums than banks are willing to bother with in this line, and that money can be drawn on them at all the larger postoffices. For purposes of identification the holder will be supplied with a special card bearing his signed photograph.

CANNIBALISM IN NEW GUINEA

Horrible Stories of Practice Among the Natives in the Island---Boiling Springs Used to Cook Prisoners Captured in Village Warfare.

Berlin, Sept. 27.—That cannibals seldom eat white captives and then without particular zest is the gist of a scientific report on the subject made by Dr. Hofman, formerly a consul in Africa and an authority on the subject of tribal customs.

Writing of the recent murder of the German-American mineralogist, John Henry Warner, by natives of New Guinea, Dr. Hofman asserts that the abstention of cannibals in Africa and of Guinea from the flesh of white men is not because they fear the spirit of the white victim or his powers of magic, as has sometimes been assumed, but because they consider that it has an unpleasant taste due to the use of sharp spices and condiments and of salted dishes in the diet of the European.

Dr. Hofman cites an article printed several years ago in a journal of Liberia, in which it was said that the cannibals in the Liberian territory eat a white man only when he has fallen into their hands alive. Then the victim is immersed to the neck in a running brook and held there by bonds for two or three days, on much the same principle that an oyster is "floated" in fresh water after being taken from the beds. Dr. Hofman had confirmation of this from a former cannibal.

The reported killing and eating of Mr. Warner, in Papua, by the natives, has called attention to the fact that cannibalism is by no means stamped out in New Guinea. Warner believed that radium could be found in Papua and fell a victim to his own zeal. It is reported that his two native companions escaped his horrible fate, the news of which they brought to the coast.

At one time official circles believed that cannibalism was a thing of the past in British New Guinea, but clear evidence that it has persisted into the present decade has been provided by unimpeachable witnesses. In a book published last year, J. H. P. Murray, lieutenant governor and chief judicial officer of Papua, has much to say about the practice of cannibalism among the natives in the island. He writes about boiling springs which not many years ago were made use of for cooking any prisoners captured in the village warfare.

Cut Up and Boiled.

Describing the northeastern division of the island, Murray quotes a native witness, who, telling of the eating of human bodies, said: "We boil them; we cut them up and boil them in a pot. We boil babies, too; we cut them up like a pig. We eat them cold or hot; we eat the legs first. We eat them because they are like fish. We have fish in the creeks and kangaroos in the grass—but men are our real food."

Murray tells of the remark of a Fergusson islander to a stranger who wanted to buy betel nuts from him: "Why should I sell you betel nut; I am going to eat you." Which he promptly did. He also writes of a crew of shipwrecked Chinese, who were eaten one by one, until the captors, surfeited with the diet, peddled those who were left around the coast, selling them to the highest bidders. Wives, who ventured to look around during the funerals of their husbands, were killed and eaten. One native who was concerned in the killing of a neighborhood chief and his two wives told of the subsequent eating of the victims with the utmost unconcern.

He told of eating the hand of one wife, but refused to touch the other, as he had killed her, and it was not the custom of his tribe to eat one's own victim. The two women were singed first, then cut up into small pieces, mixed with sago, cooked wrapped up in leaves, and distributed to the victors, including their women and children.

Heads German War College.

Lieut. Gen. Kuno von Steuben is the new "schoolmaster" of the German war college, to which the best of the young German army officers are sent soon after receiving their commission. Americans will recall with interest that other Von Steuben of the same family, he of the testy temper and indomitable perseverance, who organized and drilled George Washington's untrained recruits into first-class fighting material.

The task to which Gen. von Steuben has been assigned was too onerous for his predecessor, Gen. von Guendell, who retired after less than six months' service. A detail to the war academy is an indispensable preliminary to service with the general staff, from which the officers for higher commands are selected, and Gen. von Steuben possibly has in his hands the military training of a future commander of the German army in a later war.

Born Without a Brain.

A German medical journal reports the curious case of a child born without a brain, which in spite of this handicap, lived to the age of almost 4 years. At the autopsy it was found that both the cerebrum and cerebellum, the so-called "big" and "little" brain, were completely lacking, only the medulla oblongata being present. This little knot of brain tissue at the base of the male brain, which in fishes forms the sole brain, was able here to control the functions of the body necessary to a bare existence, but nothing more. The child lay in a state of coma, with contracted arms and almost motionless, during its whole existence. It was impossible to obtain the slightest mental reaction.

SPEND $60,000 FOR NEW ROADS

Stuntz Township Is Carrying Out Extensive Highway Program.

More Building Going on Than in Any Other District in State.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Over $60,000 has been spent by the town of Stuntz on the construction of new roads and the gravelling and maintenance of old ones, during the past year, according to the estimates of Town Engineer Prior, who has had charge of the work.

Eighteen miles of new road were built during the season, the majority by contract. Six and a half miles of old road was gravelled and the remainder have been subjected to careful supervision.

This, it is claimed, is the largest mileage of road work ever completed in the town. Practically every piece of road that was built, and there were none longer than three miles, opened up a new territory that kas being taken up by settlers. Wherever two or three farmers had built their shacks the town made an endeavor to reach them with a road. Six miles southwest of the village and an equal distance southeast, near Barrett's farm, taps what will soon be a well settled community. A mile and a half of judicial road between St. Louis and Itasca county was completed, the road eventually being headed for Goodland.

The new road work cost on an average $2,200 a mile while the gravelling was paid for at the rate of about $2,500 a mile. With the maintenance of the old roads the total amount expended will exceed $60,000.

Next year will be an even busier year in road building according to the engineer. With the addition of two new townships, 56-20 and 56-21 to the town of Stuntz, a territory will be taken in that is practically without trails. There will also be an immense amount of work north of the village and additional stretches on the judicial road will be completed. It is estimated that over twenty-five miles of new road will be constructed.

"The work next year will be principally the construction of feeders to the main roads that have been built this year," said Engineer Prior in discussing the plans. "A rich settlement is to be opened up next year when we reach the little settlements near Stewart. All these roads will bring business directly into Hibbing, will make land more valuable in this vicinity and will encourage farming communities."

The outline of the road work done in the town as sent to the state engineer was complimented by the state officials who expressed their opinion that the town of Stuntz had more roads than any town in the state and that their yearly construction was easily in excess of other localities.

HEARDING ADDRESSES EVELETH BOYS' CLUB

Duluth Mining Man Discusses Honesty as Exemplified By Lincoln.

Eveleth, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The regular fortnightly meeting of the Presbyterian Boys' Study and Recreation club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pfremmer on Jones street last night was one of the most pleasant and profitable meetings that the club has thus far held.

The subject of study for the evening was "Honesty," as illustrated in the life of Abraham Lincoln. John H. Hearding of Duluth, assistant general manager of the Oliver Iron Mining company and a former resident of Eveleth, as general superintendent of the Adams-Spruce district, was the speaker of the evening and gave an interesting and instructive address on Lincoln. As Mr. Hearding told of Lincoln's early struggles in life with poverty and of his pluck and perseverance in overcoming obstacles in the effort to get an education, he held the undivided attention of the boys. He also showed how Lincoln, self-educated as he was, became distinguished as a man of letters and that he received his literary impulse and guidance from practically five great books, viz., the Bible, "Pilgrim's Progress," "Shakespeare," "Aesop's Fables" and "Robinson Crusoe." The greatness of Lincoln's character as a man and statesman was well brought out in the address, special emphasis being laid on his absolute honesty in all matters, and he was thus held up to the boys for their emulation.

One of the pleasant features of the evening was the singing of Mrs. H. J. Schulze, who favored the company with a number of selections, accompanied by Miss Florence Pfremmer, pianist. A bountiful luncheon was served, Miss Florence Robb assisting Mrs. Pfremmer, the hostess.

The next study meeting of the club will be on Friday evening, Oct. 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Rutty on Jackson street, when the subject will be "Patriotism," and City Clerk D. P. McIntyre will give an address on "City Government."

ELY WANTS METHODIST PASTOR TO RETURN.

Ely, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. E. F. Stidd is attending the Methodist conference in Detroit. Mr. Stidd has completed two very successful years in charge of the Ely church and at the last conference of the church was asked by the unanimous vote of the board of stewards to remain in charge for another year. This he consented to do subject to the arrangements of the stationing committee.

Martin Witford, night shift brakeman at the Pioneer mine, A shaft, had a close call this week when he fell off the fly wheel of the engine and severely hurt his back. He was engaged in cleaning the engine when he lost his balance. He was found by one of the night watchmen in a semi-conscious condition and conveyed to the Shipman hospital.

The Tuesday Social club met this week at the home of Mrs. J. T. Nankervis.

The Savoy stockpile has been cleaned up, this being the last of the ore piles that the Oliver company figures on shipping from the Ely mines.

Fred Baribeau is seriously ill at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Baribeau of this city.

There is a good deal of sickness reported in the city and several cases are typhoid fever.

The Methodists are having a change of service on Sunday evening. The service will be largely musical and will consist of anthems by the choir, solos, duets and quartets. The address will be given by Mr. Leopard. The morning service will be in charge of John J. Nankervis.

The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Neff was buried at Tower on Tuesday.

Mrs. Rogers has removed to Robinson Lake. Mr. Rogers is mining captain at the mines near Robinson and they are taking up their residence near the mining property. Next spring the company proposes erecting some cottages on the property.

Marvin Trezona is back in Ely again. His many friends are glad to welcome him back to the city.

The partridge season is open and hunters in the Ely district say that the birds are plentiful and that good sport is to be easily obtained.

Douglas Opperton is in Ely visiting with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Camarsh and family of Virginia are in Ely visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bridson.

James Prout is back in Ely again. He has been employed as foreman in the Fayal mine, but had to quit mining owing to ill health. Mr. Prout contemplates purchasing a piece of land on the north side of the local lake and will try farming.

VIRGINIA PASTOR TO TOUR BRITISH ISLES

REV. THOMAS GRICE.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. Thomas Grice, pastor of the First Methodist church, who has been attending the conference at Detroit, Minn., will not return to this city until December. At the conclusion of the conference he will go to the Twin Cities for a short visit and from there will leave for a tour of the British Isles.

During his absence the pulpit at the First Methodist church will be supplied by pastors from various points throughout the state.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS MISSING RANGE MAN

Marco Grosso of Chisholm Disappears—Wife Tells of His Peculiar Habit.

Chisholm, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Marco Grosso, for a number of years in business here, left home ten days ago without explaining to his family where he was going or how long he would be absent and has not yet been heard from. His wife stated today that on several occasions he had left under strange circumstances and remained away for a couple of days, but always returned. The matter was never made public, but kept a family secret. Reports have it that he was seen headed for Montana, but they are not confirmed and his wife cannot verify them.

An attachment was placed upon his stock of goods yesterday afternoon. It develops that he had made loans ranging from $300 downward just a few days before he left and was just arranging with a business man for a loan of $100 on his note when the partner of the firm stepped in and asked for an explanation, which resulted in the loan being refused. His wife and family reside on Maple street.

TWO HARBORS POLICE CHIEF IN THE TOILS

Gust Nelson and His Assistant Chief Arrested By Game Warden.

Two Harbors, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief of Police Gust Nelson and his assistant, Axel Ringdor, were arrested here yesterday afternoon on a warrant sworn out by Deputy Game Warden August Tabor charging them with killing deer out of season.

The residence of Ringdor was searched by Deputy Tabor of this city and Deputy Archie Boyd of Duluth and resulted in the finding of some of the venison.

Ringdor pleaded guilty when arranged before the justice and was fined $50 and costs. Nelson will be arragned before the court Monday morning.

VIRGINIA BLIND PIGGERS ARE FINED.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first convictions resulting from the raids upon Virginia's blind piggers were had in municipal court yesterday before Judge Carey. The case of John Matikovich was the first tried. He was found guilty and assessed $65 and costs, the total amounting to $72, which he paid. Dan Skerbich was tried on the same charge and also found guilty. His fine was fixed at $35, with $7 costs. The attorneys for the defendants asked for and were granted a stay of ten days. The others arrested in the roundup have all retained legal counsel to fight the charge against them but it is likely that a number of them will plead guilty, the evidence seeming to be most conclusive in the two cases already tried.

Chief of Police Rice is determined that the blind pig nuisance be wiped out and a close watch will be kept on the various mining locations for possible violators.

SECRET MEETING CALLED AT HIBBING

To Induce Workingmen to Reject Compensation Act's Benefits.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A mysterious meeting has been called here for tomorrow, and though the utmost secrecy has been thrown around its purposes, it is asserted by some who say that they have been approached on the subject that its purpose is to form an organization for the purpose of inducing workingmen to refuse to come under the new workingmen's compensation act. Back of it, it is claimed, are several attorneys who have conducted a business in personal injury cases. Those invited to attend are said to be mostly saloon keepers, with some business men.

Under the law any employer or any employe can refuse to let its provisions apply to him, and can escape it by formal notification that he does not elect to come under it. However, the employer who does this loses the benefit of the common law defenses like contributory negligence, assumption of risk and the fellow servant rule; while the workman who refuses to come under the law gives his employer the full benefit of these defenses.

CHARITY WORKERS ORGANIZE FOR YEAR

Virginia Women Planning Systematic Care of Town's Unfortunate.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of the Associated Charities held at the public library yesterday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. George F. Shea; vice president, Mrs. R. R. Balley; secretary, Mrs. S. J. Cusson; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Deering.

Mayor M. A. Murphy, representing the committee recently appointed by the city council to co-operate with the society, was present and was elected an honorary member. Mr. Murphy on behalf of the committee turned over $162, the proceeds of a baseball game between members of the city council and city boards, which will go into the contingent fund of the society to relieve distress during the coming winter months.

A supplementary meeting was held last night in the library building at which representatives of the various churches of the city were present and plans outlined to make the work of caring for the needy more systematic than in the past.

KEEWATIN MAN IS ACQUITTED BY JURY

Louis Nocovitch Proves Innocence of One Murder Charge; Another Trial.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—After being out just two minutes the jury yesterday afternoon acquitted Louis Nocovitch of Keewatin, charged with the murder of Mike Vukobrotovitch on the night of April 19 at Keeewatin. The verdict came like a bolt of lightning from a clear sky, for there were few who supposed that it would be possible for the jury to return a verdict other than guilty. There was no demonstration following the verdict and the defendant was apparently unmoved. It was said this afternoon the verdict hinged upon the testimony of Frances Winsor, stenographer for R. A. McOuat, the county attorney. Miss Winsor this morning took the stand and read the notes from the original as she took them at the preliminary hearing last April. This evidence was permitted after several of the witnesses had flatly denied statements made at the preliminary trial.

On Monday morning the trial of Nocovitvh, on the second indictment brought in by the jury, charging him with the killing of Steve Vukobrotovitch, the cousin of Mike, will be taken up and Attorney H. W. Stark is confident that his client will be freed after the turn which affairs took today.

WESTERN MESABA TO HAVE PIONEER SOCIETY.

Coleraine, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pioneers of the Canisteo mining district will meet here this evening to form an association. The proposition is one which has for several months been under advisement of the older men here who think favorably of such a move.

Those interested in the proposition believe that an association of this kind formed for social advancement will fill a long-felt need. It is expected men from all parts of the Western Mesaba range will be present at tonight's meeting.

CHISHOLM MEN WILL "LEARN TO BE USEFUL."

Chisholm, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The manual training department of the local schools, which will be one of the branches of evening schools opening next Monday night, is interesting a number of business men who are arranging to take a course during the winter. A number tried the scheme last winter and got so much pleasure out of it that a large class has been organized. The department is under the supervision of R. W. Jackson. Many useful pieces of house furniture will be made by the married men, who will form a large portion of the class this winter.

Bleckis Acquitted.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—At 10 last night the jury in the Bleckis assault case brought in a verdict of not guilty after being out ten minutes.

The case of the state against Mike Fairbanks, a Bena Indian, charging a violation of the game laws by shooting deer out of season, was taken up this morning. The jury was selected at 9 o'clock and the first witness called at once. The case is to be made a test to decide whether or not an Indian has a right to shoot at all seasons of the year. The defendant claims that his tribe is allowed the privilege of shooting at all times in recognition of their giving their land to the United States.

Hibbing Man Acquitted.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Steve Plesch, arrested on complaint of Nathan Aronifsky, who alleged that he was assaulted by Plesch Aug. 3, was found not guilty here yesterday. The complaining witness alleged that Plesch ran into him with an automobile, and after an argument, blacked his eye and inflicted other injuries. The defendant admitted the argument, but denied that he did more than grasp Aronifsky by th arm. A physician testified that on the following day no marks were found on the complainant except a slight bruise o.i one arm. There were several heated tilts between the attorneys and witness.

Winton Rail Service Better.

Winton, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—In order to improve the service from Duluth to towns on the Vermilion and Mesaba ranges, the Duluth & Iron Range railroad has shortened the running time of its daily train one-half hour, leaving the union station at 7:30 a. m. instead of 7 a. m., arriving at Winton at the usual time. Changes have also been made in the schedule of the Sunday train, which will arrive at Winton at 10:45 p. m. instead of 10:30 p. m. Week-day trains from the range towns will now arrive in Duluth at 10:15 p. m. instead of 10:30 p. m., leaving Winton at the same time. The towns affected are Knife River, Two Harbors, Aurora, Biwabik, Virginia, Eveleth, Tower, Ely and Winton.

ROAD MEN CLOSE WORK

National Meeting Adjourns After Adopting Resolutions.

Many Cities Are After the Session for Next Year.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 4.—The third American Road congress was concluded here today with the reports of various officers and committees, the presentation and adoption of a mass of resolutions with reference to the building and maintenance of good roads, and the selection of the next convention city. Invitations were extended by several cities for the 1914 road congress. The delegation from Atlanta, however, claimed the largest number of supporters up to the time when the final vote was taken.

Resolutions Adopted.

Declaring the loss by reason of bad roads which lessen the profits of industry, increase the cost of living and burden business enterprises, amounts to millions of dollars annually, the congress adopted resolutions favoring the creation of a national department of public works, directed by a secretary who shall be a member of the president's cabinet.

Other resolutions adopted favor state highway commissions and state aid for the construction and maintenance of the main roads of the several states; the establishment of a national roads system, and the construction by states, counties and towns of the latter and connecting market highways; request the congress of the United States to authorize the president to appoint a commission from civil life to make a thorough and exhaustive report on and to recommend a system of Federal aid, and that wherever and practicable, the use of convicts in road construction and maintenance.

Hear Governor Ferris.

"The good roads movement is closely allied with the religious, educational and economical feature of our country," declared Governor Ferris of Michigan, in an address before the congress. "Good roads play an important part in our religion. With good roads we will have fewer and better churches and fewer and better ministers," he continued.

"Good roads and education go hand in hand. In New England, where good roads have been built extensively in the last few years, the ratio of illiteracy is small. In states where but few roads have been built, the illiteracy ratio is higher. In many localities in this state it is impossible for children to attend school when the weather is bad."

LEGAL POINT HOLDS UP SALE OF BONDS

A nice point of law is under discussion by the Duluth school board, touching on the $200,000 bond issue.

The selling of the bonds is still in doubt as attorneys hold that the proposition, which provides for the making of the bonds in thirty years is illegal. Thorndye, Palmer & Daly, Boston attorneys, have interpreted the revised Minnesota statutes of 1905 to forbid municipalities from issuing bonds whose date of maturity extends beyond the 20-year limit. Baldwin & Baldwin, attorneys for the school board, also, advise the board to go slow in the matter. They suggest that the board make a test case in order that the state supreme court may give a final interpretation of the statutes.

W. M. Prindle & Co. offered to sell the bonds at a commission of 2 per cent, but made the offer contingent upon an agreement to grant the company the opportunity to invest $125,000 of the sinking fund in bonds to return 3½ per cent.

Prindle & Co.'s representatives offered to pay the expenses of any good attorney to get his opinion as to the legality of the proposition. The board turned over the matter to the finance committee with power to act.

Additional Society News

Several hundred teachers were entertained at the reception given for them by the Duluth Teachers' association last evening at the ballroom of the Masonic Temple. Mrs. R. E. Denfeld, Mrs. Andrew Nelson and Miss Porter were in the receiving line. W. H. Schilling gave an informal talk and the program consisted of two solos by Robert Drummond, who sang, "Were I a King," by Sullivan and the old English ballad, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," which were enthusiastically received and Miss Daisy Macaskill danced the sword dance and Highland fling in Scottish costume with grace and skill being strongly applauded.

Refreshments were served by a number of the teachers, followed by dancing.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT IS GRANTED TO LAMAR

Impersonator of Congressmen Out on $2,000 Bond.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Chief Justice Clabaugh of the district criminal court today issued a writ of habeas corpus in favor of David H. Lamar, returnable next Friday noon, and released Lamar in $2,000 bond pending hearing on the writ.

Lamar, under indictment in New York for impersonating a Federal official, petitioned for the writ through his attorney, Henry E. Davis, setting forth that the indictment against him does not charge an offense against the United States, that there was not sufficient testimony presented to show him guilty, and that the New York authorities are without jurisdiction.

Lamar was under bond to appear in New York next Tuesday.

SOME CASUAL COMMENT ON THE FEATURES OF THE SPORTING PARADE

When All Has Been Said and Done, No One Can Forecast With Any Degree of Certainty the World's Series.

Followers of Wrestling Are Equally Divided Over Result of Beell-Yokel Match---Willie Leith Thinks Ouimet Was Over True Form.

BY BRUCE.

IT'S A POOR day whose low descending sun doesn't close a day of busy talk regarding the playing of the series between two teams that are generally speaking regarded as the cream de la cream de menthe of the big league aggregations. As the bell wethers of their respective leagues we are about to behold the inspiring sight of the Athletics and Giants in the throes of mortal baseball combat. General Sherman upon a historic occasion uttered some very grave words regarding war. Were the good general present and were he a baseball fan, it is not altogether improbable that he would have occasion to amend his utterance slightly.

It is safe to say that never before in the long and temperential history of the world's series has the opinion as to the issue of the conflict been so evenly divided. There are hosts who are going down, hook, bait and sinker on the chances of the Athletics, believing implicitly in the infallibility of the $100,000 infield; and likewise, or contrawise, there are the brave cohorts of the opposite thought who will string along with belief and coin of the realm on the theory of the Giants copping for the first time since the memorable occasion of 1905.

Prognostic or prophet who could be so sure of his hunch, premonition, forecast or line of vision as to embolden him to sink all in sight and then mortgage the house he is paying for on the installment plan would in the ordinary sense of the word possess sufficient nerve to write accident insurance for young and inexperienced aeronauts in addition to backing the company with his own capital.

There is really no forecasting the outcome of the series that starts on Tuesday next. All of those seeking advertising have crowded in on the prediction business, and when all is said and done they know no more than you and the rest of us regarding the ultimate result.

One says that McGraw has the best pitchers and Mack the best team—on paper, yes. But the series may show that Mack's pitchers will be the ones to pitch air tight baseball and the formidable array of boxmen of the McGraw clan may blow before the mighty prowess of the war clubs of the McGillicuddies.

Anyone with a bunch of dinerno on the result of the series is going to worry some. The fugacious thought sticks its curly head into the pictures: some of those who are doping out the ultimate end may switch before the series starts and hedge a bet.

No one knows; you are just as liable to hit the happy winner by throwing a coin into the air and deciding your bet on its flop. Because the world is so evenly divided in its belief, the series is exciting the greatest interest in the history of the game.

As to Beell and Yokel.

COMPARISONS are odious. Four years ago most every man and boy in Duluth would have said without a great deal of hesitation, "Fred Beell will beat the life out of Mike Yokel." Four years ago and this bright and shining day are very different. For that reason the city is divided into a hostile camp of varying opinion, and no one seems able to confidently forecast the result of the meeting of the two most remarkable mat gladiators of modern times.

Farmer Burns has wrestled both men. Walter Miller has fallen a victim to the prowess of the two men. It is interesting to note what they say.

Give way for the moment to Farmer Burns, one of the greatest wrestlers of all times and a past master of every move of the game:

"Beell is one of the greatest of all wrestlers in the history of the game. There has been perhaps one man of his weight who was as good. Mike Yokel is one of the greatest of all middleweights. I met him when he was a kid, believing that it would be easy to defeat him twice in an hour. I handled the Utah wrestler as I have handled few men in my long career, and yet at the end of the hour Yokel had not been thrown. If Yokel has improved as he should have since that day, the outcome is very doubtful."

As Miller sees it:

"Fred Beell's headlock is the most terrible hold of any wrestler in the history of the game. Can you imagine a man like Joe Rogers, weighing 270 pounds, being beaten in nine minutes by Beell. He did it with his headlock. He beat me with it, and when he clamped it over my head it seemed to me that I could hear the muscles crack under the grip of Beell. Beell's arms are short and so powerful that it gives him a wonderful grip. It is no use to try to get away when he has put on the headlock for you can't. I believe Beell will beat Yokel with this hold."

In his contest with Miller last winter the little master of the mat showed most of the wizardy that has made him one of the greatest freaks of the mat sport. He neatly and artistically thwarted the efforts of Miller to get a dangerous hold on him. Yokel came along later and beat Walter. In reviewing these two matches there is little to choose between the two men.

Beell is 36 years of age. He has always lived a clean and well regulated life. He is a farmer with the simplicity of the farmer's habits. He has shunned the bright lights and avoided steadfastly the contagion of alcohol. Can he beat one of the greatest wrestlers of his time? Can a man who is going, be it ever so slightly, defeat the fellow who is coming? That's the answer to this question.

Meeting Kelly and Walters.

MESSRS. Kelly and Walters will meet in a Superior ring in the near future, shake hands, smile pleasantly, and then—at least we hope—promptly proceed to attempt to knock the block off each other.

Boxing is queer, one of the most dearly delightful studies in the long shady avenue of psychology. An actor tears his hair in an emotional scene and makes even men who bully their wives weep tearfully. But, we are told, that the true artist is so intent on paying attention to the little details of his art that he does not feel the emotion of the thing, or at least should not.

Boxing is akin to the unemotional actor's art, in that the really artistic man of fistic affairs never permits emotion to cloud his vision or to misguide his unerring efforts to crush the map of the other fellow.

Bill may meet Mike after the fracas and shake hands and pleasantly remark that it is a perfect specimen of evening as evenings go in this part of the country. Replying in similar vein Miguel passes on and forgets the punch he received in the eye in the third round.

Therefore it is presumed that Messrs. Kelly and Walters, two eminent gents in their chosen line of work, will shake hands with no small evidence of pleasure, smile as if there was nothing in the world between them, and then proceed, as aforementioned, to endeavor to knock the block off the shoulders of the man opposing the winner's end, presuming again that there is to be a winner's end.

• • •

Getting the Early News.

NEWS of the encounter between Kelly and Walters was first published on this side of the bay. The meeting of the two men is to be held in the village of Superior. Why was the news first published on this side of the bay, Fred? Because, presumably, George, those behind the line of entertainment desired to have the largest number of people read the announcement first. Does Superior know that these bouts are being held in its midst? Yes; some of the people going from this city tell the few they see on the streets of the impending event.

As Willie Looks at It.

WILLIE LEITH believes that the victory of Francis Ouimet over the more experienced Vardon is just one of those things. In other and perhaps more explicit words Willie is of the opinion that it would not happen in the majority of instances. As the instructor of the Northland club viewed the contest, Vardon was off in his putting and was beaten by a youngster who was playing ahead of his normal game, but who showed some of the greatest golf that has ever been played on any course in this country.

Hurrying the Season.

WE ARE in receipt of a letter from one of the secretaries of the National Ski association, in which it is stated that active preparations are being made for the coming season. With the new fall hats causing the head to resemble the general lethergy of a hot box and the new fall suit feeling like the robes of the amateur Santa Claus in the steam-heated Sunday school room of the church where 7,894 perspiring and aspiring kids are packed, it is one fine time to send dope like that along—it is one fine time, not. After we come out of this Indian summer haze, Askel Holter, it will be time in plenty to give fugitive thoughts to the extensive preparations that are being made in the behalf of ski sport.

SAID MAYOR OF GOTHAM TO THE MAYOR OF PHILLY

New York, Oct. 4.—Mayor Kline yesterday wrote to Mayor Rudolph Blankenburg of Philadelphia, as follows:

"My dear mayor: On Tuesday next, Oct. 7, the Giants are going to wipe up the Polo grounds with the so-called Athletics of your city. It will give me great pleasure to have you present on that occasion as my guest. Please let me know as early as possible if you can come, and if so, where I can meet you not later than 1 o'clock, to go to the ball grounds. With high regard,

"Very truly yours,

"A. L. KLINE, Mayor."

Makes New Auto Marks.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 4.—Louis Disbrow and "Wild Bill" Endicott established what are declared to be new speed records for half mile circular tracks yesterday. Disbrow drove his machine a mile in one minute, five and three-fifths seconds, and Endicott traveled two miles in 2:17. The previous mile record was 1:06 and for two miles 2:23 4-5. The trials were sanctioned by the American Automobile association.

Wins Eastern Marathon.

Brookton, Mass., Oct. 4.—Joseph M. Lordan of Somerville, Mass., won the twenty-five mile marathon from Boston to this city yesterday. His time was 2 hours, 36 minutes and 30 seconds. Tom Lilley of Dorchester, was second. There were forty-one starters.

Wins World's Championship.

New York, Oct. 4.—Benny Allen of Kansas City won the world's pocket billiard championship last night, defeating Alfred De Oro, of Cuba, the title holder for several years, by a total score in the three nights' play, of 600 to 516.

INDIANAPOLIS TEAM IS SOLD

Denver Team Owner and Manager Enters American Association Field.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—The Indianapolis American association baseball club was sold last night by Sol Meyer, owner, to James C. McGill, George A. Wahlgreen, and Jack Hendrick of Denver. The purchase price, said to be $165,000, is said to be the largest ever paid for a minor league organization.

The disposal of the franchise by Mr. Meyer comes after a year of futile effort to build up a winning aggregation. He became owner during the summer of 1912 and that season and the one just ended the team finished in last place in the race. Since 1908 when the local team won the association pennant, baseball from an Indianapolis standpoint, has been disappointing and the attendance has been poor.

This city is said to be one of the best baseball towns in the circuit and with a team playing fairly well the returns to the promoters have been large.

The season just finished was particularly displeasing to the owner. It is generally conceded that all of the Indianapolis players were individually among the best in the league.

Mr. McGill for years has been president of the Denver team of the Western league and he and his associates expect to begin work at once toward building up the local team.

Hendricks Will Manage.

Denver, Col., Oct. 4.—It was announced last night that Jack Hendricks would assume the management of the Indianapolis team of the American association, acquired yesterday by J. C. McGill, George A. Wahlgreen and himself. Hendricks has led the Denver team of the Western league to second place four years and won the pennant each succeeding year.

MIDDLE WEST FOOTBALL SEASON IN FULL SWING

All Conference Teams in Field, Mostly in Light Games.

Indiana-Chicago Contest Only One Likely to Be Struggle.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—College football got its real start yesterday in the Middle West with all the conference elevens in action. The "Big Nine" athletes were booked for light games in preparation for harder contests later in the season.

The one exception was the Indiana-Chicago game at Marshall Field, considered the first struggle of importance in the Middle West. Elevens from these institutions have met annually for twelve years and the Hoosiers have been successful but once. That was in 1910. Although Chicago is again the favorite today, Coach Sheldon of Indiana believes that his team has almost an equal chance to win. He feels that he has evolved a defense which will stop the Maroons' forward passes and end runs.

Coaches of both elevens have confessed that their lines are weak and have boasted of the strength of their backfields. Coach Stagg asserted that if the Hoosiers gain ground consistently it will be through the line. Chicago's strongest eleven will start, but Stagg said that he would give all his promising players a chance as soon as he had the game safely tucked away. There is not a pound's difference in the average weight of the teams.

The game yesterday will follow the dedication of the new athletic field, completed at a cost of $200,000. This is the last day the Maroon stadium will be known as Marshall Field. Hereafter it will be called the Athletic Field of the University of Chicago.

Kentucky State will be Illinois' opponent at Urbana and the strength of the down-state team should be known after this combat. Kentucky has given Illinois hard games in previous years. Northwestern was expecting a stiff struggle with Lake Forest, which last year held the Methodists scoreless.

Minnesota will play its second game of the season, meeting Ames at Minneapolis. The Gophers were not expected to exert themselves to pile up a large score.

Wisconsin will get into action for the first time, meeting Lawrence at Madison. Followers of football are watching for the result of this game to get an idea of the strength of last year's conference champions. Iowa has an easy opening game with Iowa normal, and Ohio State is expected to win handily from Ohio Wesleyan.

Following its annual custom, Michigan will open its season against Case. Notre Dame, one of the strongest teams in the West last year, will play Ohio Northern. As Notre Dame will play the Army later, the result of today's game will be of national interest.

Chicago—	Position.	Indiana—
Vruwink	le	Barnhardt
Hardinger	lt	Winters
Scanlon	lg	Goodman
Des Jardien	c	Voss
Harris	rg	Dice
Goettler	rt	Davis
Huntington	rg	Krouse
Russell	qb	F. Whitaker
Gray	lhb	B. Whitaker
Norgren	rhb	B. Erhart
Pierce	fb	Scott

SEASON IN EAST.

More Strenuous Opening Than Usual Marks Its Beginning.

New York, Oct. 4.—Football games of a more strenuous character than heretofore mark the opening of October gridiron schedules in various parts of the country. Several of the larger Eastern university teams today will face opponents which recorded victories at their expense in 1912. The day will also mark the introduction of several Eastern teams into the football arena.

In the East the games to be played by Pennsylvania and Cornell will be watched with unusual interest since both the Quakers and the Ithaca eleven face colleges which last year scored decisive victories over them. The University of Pennsylvania has what appears to be the hardest contest of the day, for in Lafayette the red and blue face virtually the last autumn team. Lafayette strengthened by the addition of Kelly, the star kicker of 1911, and the fact that the team has the benefit of experience and team work for two years, expects to give Pennsylvania another stiff contest.

Harvard meets Bates in what is a little more than a practice game, and Yale has the University of Maine on which to try some of Shevlin's new plays.

The Army and Navy elevens will start the season on an even footing today, for the naval academy plays the University of Pittsburg at Annapolis and the military academy faces Stevens Institute at West Point.

Harvard vs. Bates.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 4.—The strongest eleven that Harvard has gathered since the game with Yale last year lined up against Bates in the Stadium today.

Threats of a northeast rain storm kept down the crowd, but a loyal band of undergraduates and other football enthusiasts trod their way across the little foot bridge for the game.

It was the first appearance of Bates in the Stadium since 1911, when the team was defeated 15 to 0.

Nebraska Begins Season.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 4.—With two chosen for regular positions in the lineup out of the game, the University of Nebraska football team opened the season in a game with Washburn college today. Hawkins, quarterback, and Cameron, center, were out of the game with fractured bones, as a result of the hard scrimmage the men have been put through in the past two weeks, in an effort to get the inexperienced, but heavy, line into condition.

Notre Dame's Try-Out.

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 4.—With many of last year's players in the line, Notre Dame university this afternoon meets Ohio Northern for the season's first game. Notre Dame is awaiting the outcome of the game to judge the fitness of the eleven though both players and supporters declare the team to be one of the best the institution has had in years. Drop kicking is expected to be used a great deal by the local eleven as much attention has been given this work in practice.

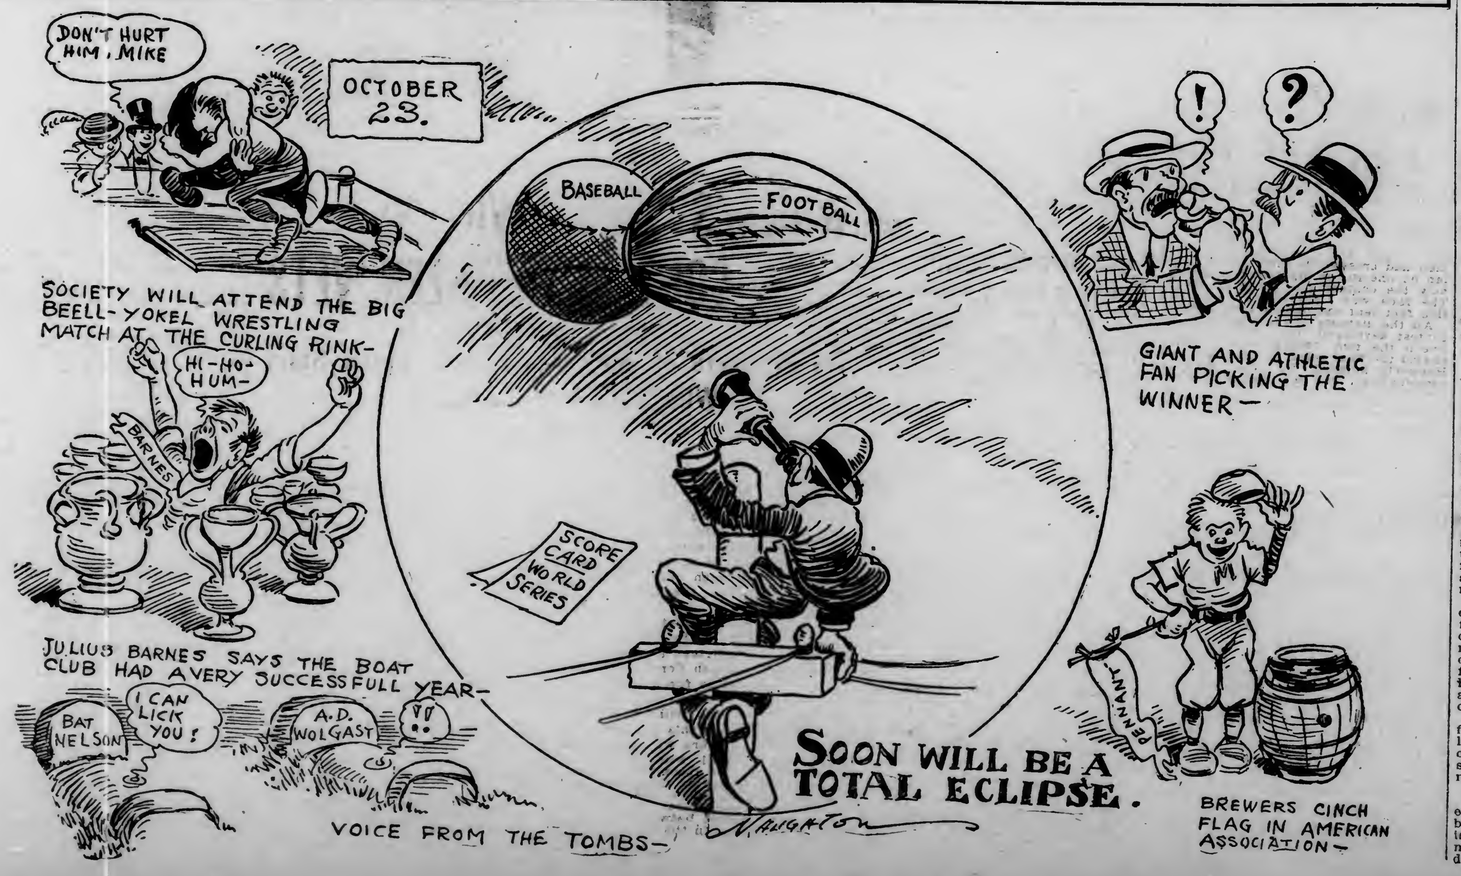

Michigan's Poor Shape.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 4.—When Michigan and Case met this afternoon in the first football game of the season on Ferry Field, the Wolverine team presented probably the lightest backfield in its history, the average weight of the men being only 152 pounds. Recent injuries sustained by some of the most promising candidates for positions on the team necessitated the use of comparatively inexperienced men. In spite of these handicaps, followers of the Maize and Blue were confident their team would win from the Cleveland school.

Expect to Win.

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 4.—The Missouri State University's football season will open here today in a contest with Drury college of Springfield, Mo. Though the coaches have been a little reticent in the matter of team confidence and predictions of victory usually expressed before games, it is expected here that the university team will outplay the visitors slightly. The teams are evenly matched in weight, but several of the university men have not fully recovered from the effects of injuries suffered during the heavy scrimmages of the week.

BIG SMOKES HAVE FAST TEN ROUNDS

Jeanette Outpoints Tar Baby, Owing Chiefly to Better Condition.

New York, Oct. 4.—Joe Jeanette outpointed Sam Langford in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden last night. Jeanette weighed 195 and Langford 199½ pounds. Jeanette was in superb form while his opponent did not appear as well trained. Langford's weight began to tell upon him in the latter part of the contest.

Jeanette outboxed his man in the first three rounds, using a left jab to the face to good advantage. The men fought hard at close range at times, and both suffered severe body punishment.

Langford's exertions began to tell on him in the sixth round and an effort to bring the contest to a quick close to avoid a loss on points was made by trying hard to send his right over to the jaw. Jeanette's clever footwork stood him in good stead, however, and he was able to keep away from Langford's wild swings, one of which grazed his jaw.

There were no knockdowns in the fight, which was less rough than the last engagement of the men in this city. In the first round Jeanette slipped to the floor but was up immediately.

CLABBY ALMOST HANGS ON K. O.

Gives Sailor Petroskey Fearful Beating in Twenty-Round Go.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 4.—Jimmy Clabby of Hammond, Ind., won a decision last night over "Sailor" Ed Petroskey of this city in a 20-round contest. It was Clabby's fight all the way. In the last three rounds he had the sailor all but out.

Petroskey weighed 158 pounds and Clabby 151. A count of the rounds gives Clabby all but four and Petroskey one.

In the eighth a raking cat-like left to Petroskey's jaw made his knees sag, and he clinched and hung on until his head cleared. In the eighteenth he took an unbelievable beating, and reeled tottering about the ring.

Knowing that only a knockout could win for him, Petroskey did his best to make a hurricane finish in the nineteenth, but the round was Clabby's by a wide margin, as was the twentieth.

THE TWO MANAGERS AND SOME GREAT STARS OF TEAMS THAT WILL COMPETE FOR Cchampionship

ADAMS MEN READY FOR GAME WITH THE KENTS

St. Paul Eleven Is Expected to Put Up a Great Fight.

The Winner Will Have Good Start in Championship Race.

All is in readiness for the meeting between the Adams team and the Kents. The two crack independent football teams will clash at Athletic park tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the first meeting for the independent title of the Northwest.

The winner of this contest will have achieved a very good start toward winning the independent championship for the present season.

A great reputation precedes the Kent team. For years this aggregation has been known as the best team in the Apostle City. Its games at Lexington park have been attended by crowds of several thousand people, and year after year the championship of St. Paul has been won by the eleven that is to contest with the Adams for the highest independent honors of the Northwest.

Teams Evenly Matched.

From what can be learned from the advance dope, the teams are very evenly matched. The Adams eleven will have the strongest line-up of the season in the game. This is also true of the Kents. It is doubtful if the full strength of the Adams has been shown during the present season. But in the contest against the Kents, if the visiting team lives up to the dope, the Blue and White aggregation will be forced to show everything in the shop to cop the opening round of the championship tilt.

Tomorrow's contest is about the largest independent football effort that has ever been staged here. Last season the Adams played and defeated the Beavers, but this game was not down on the program as a regular championship game. Until the present season there was no bona fide title at stake. The offering of a handsome cup and the formulating of rules governing the competition for the trophy has resulted in making the game between the Adams and the Kents a real championship affair and one that will have a distinct bearing on the remainder of the games played during the present season.

Adams Men Powerful.

There is no doubt but that the Adams team at the present time is one of the greatest elevens that has ever been organized at the Head of the Lakes. The addition of the Bradley boys and Erickson to the old Adams machine round out an eleven that will make the best team of the Twin Cities go some to win.

The Kents will enjoy the advantage of having played together for years. Ever since independent football secured a stronghold in St. Paul the Kents have been the leaders in the game. Year after year the same players have been members of the team, so that the members of the visiting aggregation know each other like a book and should be expected to show a degree of team work that will make trouble for the Adams.

However, the Adams team defeated the Beavers last year and the West end team is believed to be stronger at the present time than the same team a year ago. If the Kents are no stronger than the Beavers it is generally believed that the Three A bunch will prove the winner; but in the event of the Kents proving to be the pick of the independent teams of the Northwest, there is liable to be a distinct surprise sprung before the contest is over.

It is expected that the Kents will arrive this evening, in order to get a good rest before the game. There will be several substitutes in the visiting squad, and in the event of injuries the second string men are expected to prove nearly as strong as the players that will start the game.

The Adams will run through signals this evening and will also hold a short signal drill tomorrow morning. During the present week the team has been put through the hardest work of the season, and according to the statement of Manager John Geistman and Capt. Art Buchanan, the boys are ready for the best game of the present season.

CLOSE RACE IS WON BY HAGGERTY AND HOLLAND

Clem Holland and Guy Haggerty won the five-mile team roller skating race last evening at the big Auditorium rink, the race proving one of the best contests ever held at the skating palace, while one of the largest crowds that has ever turned out to witness the work of the boys on the rollers was present.

The time of the contest was caught at eighteen minutes and two-fifths seconds. This is considered very good and shows that some of the amateurs of the city can be classed with the stars of elsewhere.

Belanger and Mahr were but a few feet behind the winning team. Until the judge's gun announced that the men had crossed the line for the final lap no one in the big crowd could tell how the contest was going to result. The race was close all the way and this fact lent excitement and interest.

All the distance of the final mile the contest developed into a battle between the two leading teams. Mahr skated the final relay for his team and Haggerty finished for the winning combination. The final sprint between the two boys caused a roar of excitement and stood the crowd on "its head."

There will be a big city amateur skating contest at the Auditorium some time during the next month or so.

GOPHERS AND WOLVERINES MAY RESUME OLD RELATIONS

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 4.—The University of Minnesota is about to resume athletic relations with Michigan, according to well authenticated reports on the campus yesterday. Thursday at a meeting of the university senate, composed of faculty members, three resolutions from the Michigan athletic board, were presented by Prof. James Paige, chairman of the Minnesota athletic board. The nature of the resolutions was not disclosed, but it is said they open a way for the two universities to resume intimate athletic relations.

President G. E. Vincent of Minnesota said yesterday that the university senate had formulated three resolutions in answer to those received from Michigan. He said, however, they would not be made public until the board of regents had acted upon them which would be at a meeting next Monday. Complete publication of the matter will be made at that time, President Vincent announced.

Ann Arbor Hopeful.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 4.—It was generally believed last night that the University of Michigan would soon resume athletic relations with Minnesota and possibly with other large western universities.

The set of resolutions which the Michigan board of control drafted several weeks ago and sent to Minnesota authorities, are believed here to be a half way step toward a settlement of the matters which caused a breach between the two institutions. It has often been stated in university circles that only "foolish pride" is keeping the football teams of Michigan and Minnesota apart.

JACKSON FALLS TO THIRD PLACE

Henriksen of Boston Crowds Up Next to Cobb As Second Clouter in American League.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Joe Jackson dropped to third place among American league batters this week. Cobb still leads, but the Cleveland slugger must have found the pace too swift, for Olaf Henriksen of Boston, back in the game once more, crowded into second place, close on the heels of the Detroit man. Their unofficial averages are:

Cobb, .391; Henriksen, .385; Jackson, .367.

Speaker of Boston is in fourth place with .364. The rest of the men hitting .300 or better are: Collins, Philadelphia, .340; Baker, Philadelphia, .339; Gilhooly, New York, .337; La Joie, Cleveland, .336; McInnis, Philadelphia, .331; Gandil, Washington, .320; D. Murphy, Philadelphia, .315; Lelivelt, Cleveland, .314; Crawford, Detroit, .314; Bauman, Detroit, .303; Stovall, St. Louis, .303.

Milan, Washington and Moeller, Washington, are still one-two among the base-stealers, the former with 68 and the latter with 59.

Walter Johnson tops the pitchers in games won and lost. The first five rank:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Johnson, Washington.	36	7	.837
Walsh, Chicago	8	3	.727
Houck, Philadelphia	13	5	.722
Wood, Boston	12	5	.706
Bender, Philadelphia	21	9	.700

In the National league Yingling of Brooklyn leads in batting with a percentage of .399 for thirty-six games with Daubert of the same team, second with an average of .360 for 139 games. Hyatt of Pittsburg is third with .362 for fifty-two games.

The unofficial averages of the other players batting .300 and over are:

Cravath, Philadelphia, .334; Schmidt, Boston, .324; Becker, Philadelphia, .322; R. Miller, Philadelphia, .321; Walsh, Philadelphia, .320; Hess, Boston, .317; S. Magee, Philadelphia, .313; Zimmerman, Chicago, .312; Vlox, Pittsburg, .309; Wheat, Brooklyn, .308; Titus, Boston, .306; Wagner, Pittsburg, .306; J. Myers, New York, .305; Tinker, Cincinnati, .304; Houser, St. Louis, .304; Zinn, Boston, .301; Lobert, Philadelphia, .300.

Cary of Pittsburg leads in the number of stolen bases with 56. Myers of Boston is second with 49.

WORLD'S SERIES WILL BE CONTEST BETWEEN VETS

The Members of Both Teams Are Mostly Stars Who Played in the Games of 1911.

New York, Oct. 4.—Veterans of the memorable struggle between the Giants and Athletics for the world's championship in 1911—which the Athletics won by four games to two—will form the backbone of the two teams when they face each other again in a world's series on the afternoon of Oct. 7.

Of the fourteen Athletics who went on the diamond in the world's series games of 1911, thirteen are in the list of twenty-five which Connie Mack has prepared as eligible for the forthcoming games. Lord is the only man who played in 1911 who will not play on Philadelphia's team this year. Twelve of the fifteen players who fought for New York in 1911 will fight for it again in 1913. The absentees are Ames and Devore, traded to Cincinnati, and Becker, released. The world's series of 1913 will, therefore, be, in large measure, a contest between the same men who engaged in the series of 1911.

What these men did in 1911, their past performances in the six games of that series, are of unusual significance and bearing on the present contest.

The first game of the series of 1911 was played Oct. 14 on the Polo grounds, scene of this year's first encounter, before a crowd the like of which had never seen a baseball game before. There were 38,281 paid spectators. The day was brilliant, with the tang of autumn in the air. When the New York players trotted out into the field in their black uniforms, with a touch of white here and there, they were greeted with a roar of welcome such as had never arisen in a ball park before. The Athletics, clad in their customary grayish red traveling uniforms, were welcomed almost as warmly.

On a diamond, sleeked and groomed to perfection, the two teams played a 2 to 1 game. New York scoring the winning run in the seventh inning when Meyers clouted the ball to left field for two bases and scored on Devore's two-bagger. Mathewson and Bender were the opposing pitchers.

The Second Game.

The second game was played at Philadelphia Oct. 16. Marquard took the slab for the Giants, Park for the Athletics. Crandall supplanted Marquard in the eighth inning after John Franklin Baker had lifted one of Marquard's curves in the seventh over the right field fence for a home run, breaking the tie. Plank was easily master of the New York batters and the game was Philadelphia's, 2 to 1.

Philadelphia won the third game also, played in New York the following day, by a score of 3 to 2. This duel of pitchers—Mathewson and Coombs—lasted eleven innings. Philadelphia came from behind in the ninth on the second home run of the series to be batted out by Baker. The run tied the score. In the eleventh inning Baker scored the winning run.

With Philadelphia twice winner out of three games the series was interrupted by continued rainfall for a week. On Oct. 24 the fourth game was played at Philadelphia. Mathewson pitched again for the Giants, Bender for the Athletics. The Athletics won, 4 to 2, and needed but one more game to clinch the title of world's champions.

Marquard and Coombs were the opposing pitchers in the fifth game, played in New York the following day, Oct. 25. The attendance fell off nearly 5,000, reflecting the sentiment that the Giants were doomed to defeat. But, contrary to the wiseacres, New York won, after a ten-inning battle, 4 to 3.

The sixth and last game was played in Philadelphia, Oct. 26. Philadelphia took the snap out of the Giants' vigorous opening and won by the lopsided score of 13 to 2. Ames, Wiltse, Marquard and Crandall sought in vain to break up the Athletics' batting bee. Before Bender's curves the Giants were practically powerless.

The composite score of the six games—played by practically the same men who will decide the fate of the championship flag this year—reads as follows:

Phillies Hammered Hard.

New York, Oct. 4.—New York won the first game of a double-header with Philadelphia, 13 to 3, yesterday, while the second game resulted in a 4 to 4 tie called at the end of the ninth inning. The champions hammered Camnitz and Finneran in the first while the Quakers could do little with the delivery of Tesreau. Demaree, who took Tesreau's place, after the New York's had the game safe, was hit hard in the seventh and eighth innings, when the visitors made seven hits.

In the second game, Manager McGraw sent in a team of substitutes, who put up a good game. Manager Dooin depended upon a makeshift team in both games. Schupp and Schauer pitched well for New York, while Mayer was effective until the eighth when the Giants tied the score on four hits and a pass.

Snodgrass played first base during a part of the first game and favored his bad leg. Doyle seemed to have recovered from his injury. The scores:

First game—

	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	0	0	1
New York	1	3	2

Batteries—Camnitz, Finneran and Killifer; Tesreau, Demaree and Wilson.

Second game—

	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	4	9	0
New York	4	8	0

Batteries—Mayer and E. Burns; Schupp, Schauer and McLean, Hartley, Wilson. Umpires—Klem and Orth.

Boston Wins Both.

Boston, Oct. 4.—By defeating Brooklyn, 3 to 1, and 7 to 6, in yesterday's double-header, Boston clinched its hold on fifth place in the National league.

Steady work by Rudolph and excellent fielding enabled the Boston team to win the first contest, two double plays nipping what appeared to be the start of rallies by Brooklyn. Boston got to Rucker in the first two innings for five singles and a double.

Boston got away to a good start in the first inning of the second game, Schmidt's home run over the right field fence sending in two men ahead of him. The scores:

First game—	R.	H.	E.
Boston .....12000000x—3	3	1
Brooklyn .....000000100—1	3	0

Batteries—Brown, Rucker and Fischer; Rudolph and Rarlden. Umpires—Byron and Rigler.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Bad Day for Athletics.

Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—Yesterday was an unfortunate day for the Philadelphia champions—unfortunate because the weather was too cold for their pitchers to get a good tuning up for the world's series and unfortunate because Orr, the substitute infielder, had his right hand broken.

Philadelphia won the first game, 13 to 10, and New York the second, 2 to 1. The game was called on account of darkness at the end of the sixth inning. Orr's injury was received in the second game when he tagged Hartsell, who tried to steal third in the fourth inning. Hartsell's spikes were driven into Orr's hand and one of the bones fractured. This was the second accident of the series with New York, Catcher Schang having had his hand hurt by a foul tip yesterday.

Plank and Shawkey who are believed to be Manager Mack's second and third choices for pitching the world's series, did not look good in yesterday's opening game. This, however, was probably due to the cold weather. Plank pitched three innings and in the second session was touched up for three singles, which, with errors by Plank and Collins, netted the Highlanders three runs. Plank, also gave two passes, one each in the first and third innings. Shawkey was in poor form and was taken out in the sixth inning.

Philadelphia's victory was due to hard hitting off Caldwell. Fifteen hits, including two home runs and two doubles, were made by Philadelphia while Caldwell gave a number of passes and the visitors' errors were also taken advantage of to pile up runs.

In the second game, Manager Mack put in a brand new team consisting of youngsters, Daley, Walsh and Davis. New York will again play Philadelphia today, when it is expected that Bender and Plank will get their final preparation for the world's series. Scores:

First game—	R.	H.	E.
New York ....030205000—10	10	3
Philadelphia ..103422 10x—13	15	2

Batteries—Caldwell and Sweeney; Bush, Shawkey, Plank and Lapp. Umpires—Evans and Egan.

Second game—	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia .....000001—1	6	0

Batteries—Fisher and Sweeney; Wyckoff and McAvery. Umpires—Egan and Evans.

Senators in Second Place.

Washington, Oct. 4.—By breaking even in their double-header yesterday, Washington clinched second place and Boston fourth in the American league race. The Red Sox took the first game, 2 to 0, mainly through the pitching of Leonard, who held the locals to two hits.

The second game became a farce before it was half finished. Moseley started for Boston, but was wild and ineffective. He lasted five innings during which he was found for nine hits and these, coupled with five bases on balls, were good for nine runs. Hooper and Lewis, outfielders, in turn relieved him. The former went two innings and held the locals scoreless, while Lewis was hit for a double and two singles resulting in two runs in a single inning. With the game safe, Manager Griffith trotted out the Washington youngsters to look them over. Scores:

First game—	R.	H.	E.
Boston .....010001000—2	6	0
Washington ....000000000—0	2	2

Batteries—Leonard and Nunamaker; Gallia, Shaw and Henry. Umpires—Connolly and Dineen.

Second game—	R.	H.	E.
Boston .....011100000—3	8	2
Washington ..301050002—11	14	3

Batteries—Moseley, Hooper, Lewis, and Thomas; Boehling, Hughes, Dawson, Hedgpeth and Ainsmith. Umpires—Dineen and Connolly.

GRAVE CHARGE DROPPED.

Jess Willard and Others Charged With Fighting Instead of Murder.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 4.—The prosecution of Jess Willard and others on charges of murder resulting from the fatal John Young-Willard boxing bout at Vernon, will be dropped.

Information charging them with prize fighting was filed late yesterday in the superior court by Assistant District Attorney Ford. He said that the murder charge was not backed by sufficient evidence or legal precedent to warrant a prosecution.

KICKING GAME SHOULD FEATURE GRIDIRON SPORT

Abrogation of Distance Rule Should Bring Punting Stronger Into Play During Present Season.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 4.—The slight changes in the football rules seem to have made for the encouragement of the kicking game—the type of game that last year put Harvard at the top of the heap and encouraged every coach who believed in making his scoring openings by the artillery of the gridiron game rather than through the other arms of attack. The old one-side kick never had a chance and the cutting down of the distance of eligibility behind the line, it is to be hoped, will bring back into the game one of the features of which so much has been made by all elevens, but principally by Pennsylvania and Princeton, says Right Wing in the Gazette-Times.

It is well understood, I think, that when the one-side kick was at its best and when one of the best forms of attack was at its zenith, the chances against recovering a "loose ball" were so great that the soundness of the policy that built a scheme of attack on that basis might well have been questioned. The latest change in the rules, however, has removed the five-yard restriction on the kicker and he is now permitted to kick as close to the line as he can get, with safety.

Many Good Kickers.

With so many clever punters in the field, this change in the rules should help football materially and give the running game the chance that it deserves through the support of first-class kicking. Year after year the kicking game, one of the rocks upon which the best football has been founded, has been too often neglected. In the East, the value of this type of play has been best appreciated, I think, by such men as Haughton of Harvard, Camp of Yale and that group of Princeton coaches that has had the most to do in recent years with the progress of the Tigers.

Nearly all the first-class elevens of both East and West have had their good short-distance kickers, and nearly every team in both sections is beginning to realize what the kicking game really means.

Probably every body who ever saw a football game in recent years is familiar with the wonderful work of Harlan. Princeton's great short distance kicker, and with that of Mitchell of Yale, one of the cleverest men at kicking close behind the line the game has seen. Under the revised rules either Harlan or Mitchell would be invaluable, and men like young Camp of Yale and Dewitt of Princeton would add probably 50 per cent to the efficiency of their team.

Changes Are Conservative.

After all, the kicking game seems to be, in these days, the cornerstone of football, and it was natural enough that the rules committee should decide to remove all restrictions from that department of play. To further hamper one of the best engines of offense would have hurt the game more than it could afford just at this stage, and would also have robbed it of a peculiar form of interest not to be supplanted by any other.

Changes in the rules as they affected any other department of the game, were made along conservative lines. The much, and not always wisely, discussed forward pass, was kept in the game and there has been evidently an honest and above board attempt to give every eleven, of no matter what section, a chance to work out open play. As a matter of cold fact, football, even without the forward pass, has never been without open play in one form or another. Sometimes it has taken the form of a wide tackle runs; sometimes that of swinging end runs, so that the forward pass has been welcomed both East and West as a provider of opportunities and as a simulant to the newer form of game.

The rules committee, in keeping the rest of the rules almost intact, and in giving the quick kick under the line the range that it ought to have, has done a great deal for football. Give the kicking game half the chance it deserves, and the rest of it will take care of itself.

Other changes in the rules are for the most part in the nature of clarity. The center nowadays must pass the ball with his hands, which he has been doing for years. In the case of a forward pass it has been made clear that players may interfere with one another until after the pass has been made, which disposes of a situation that last season proved troublesome. But in the long run the change in the kicking rule is of the utmost importance. It permits the building up of a clever offense. It permits the approach of the attack nearer to the line, which is always dangerous, and it lays stress on a branch of the game that is still in its infancy.

Injury at Minimum.

Doubtless the old formations will continue to be used, and without a doubt the committee, when it considered the work of a year ago, realized that there was still plenty of room for experiment. Beyond question the members of this committee have done well, and have tried to conserve the best elements of the game without attempting to be revolutionary. It has been a slow process—this business of getting football down to something approaching a scientific game, but there is every reason to believe that it has at last reached that stage of its development.

The mere fact that annually there seems less reason to demand a change in the rules ought to prove, to my way of thinking, that the game is getting sounder the further it goes. Every attempt has been made by the rules committee to eliminate the possibility of injury, and at the same time maintain the best features of the game, and so far this much bedevilled committee seems to have been successful.

POST-SEASON GAMES

Play Twelve Innings.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 4.—The Cincinnati Nationals and the local Association team played twelve innings yesterday, Cincinnati winning, 7 to 5. The locals were unable to hit Robertson who succeeded Davenport on the mound for the visitors, while Cincinnati took kindly to Allison's curves in the last inning, scoring two runs on three hits and an error. Score: R. H. E.

Cincinnati	003000020002—7	12	4
Kan. City	100020200000—5	9	1

Batteries — Davenport, Robertson and Kling; Allison and Murphy.

BUYS BROTHER OUT.

Frank Storey Becomes Sole Proprietor of Taxidermist Shop.

Frank Storey has purchased the interest of his brother, T. J. Storey, in the T. J. Storey company, and will continue the business at the same location. They have done a taxidermist business in Duluth for the past twenty-five years. Frank Storey has always been an active agent in the sporting world and will continue to be of the same assistance to the sportsmen of the Northwest.

"LITTLE EVA" COMSTOCK IS MARRIED NOW.

"Little Eva" Comstock got a start toward the big league in the Northern league—and he also captured a bride in this town. News of the marriage of the Detroit twirler to Miss Florence La Franc of Duluth reached us yesterday from Toledo, where the wedding was celebrated. While Comstock didn't win many games from the White Sox, he won something better right here in this town.

HARD HARNESS STRUGGLE.

Columbus Grand Circuit Produces Some Heart-Breaking Contests.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 4.—Eight heats of the 2:08 trot on yesterday's racing program did not settle the race, which becomes the longest of this Grand Circuit season. Derby Boy and Densmore will trot a mile today to determine the winner. Etawah, the 3-year-old colt of the Geers stable, was the favorite. He lost the first two heats, won the next two and made a break near the finish of the fifth one. Prior to the start of the sixth heat he was withdrawn on account of lameness.

Douglass McGregor, who took the first two heats, was not up to a long struggle, but managed to remain in until the seventh when he was too weary to avoid being distanced. Derby Boy prolonged the race by winning the eighth heat after Densmore had taken two of the three previous ones.

There was no resumption of the Buckeye stake, five heats of which were raced on Thursday. It was discovered that Peter McCormick had no right to start in the fifth heat, as he did not stand as a money winner after the fourth one. Consequently he was disqualified and the race was awarded to Lady Grattan. Fan Patch, Tommy Horn, Waster, Wats, Prime and Harry J., were the other money winners, the stake being divided six ways.

ROAD NOTES ON ROUTE FROM ST. PAUL TO DULUTH

Road notes on the route from St. Paul to Duluth have been prepared by a Duluth motorist, who has taken the trip many times. Those on the trip from Duluth to St. Paul were published last week. Those on the road from St. Paul to Duluth follow:

St. Paul postoffice north to Seventh street, right on seventh, left on Bradley street, jog left and right on Decatur street, right to Beaumont street, jog at car track on to Payne avenue, and follow same out of city, leave car track going straight ahead, bear right past pond and cemetery, bear left over concrete bridge, jog right across railroad and then left, jog right and left at Lake Shore village, bear left across tracks on straight road, cross railroad.

Forest Lake, twenty-five and three-tenths miles, straight through on main road, swing right and left, three corners, turn left; (red buildings ahead on right fork), three corners, turn left, school house on right, right, railroad on left, left across railroad and right along same, right across railroad and left along same.

Harris, forty-eight and two-tenths miles, straight through, turn right, turn left, turn right, turn left, four corners, straight through, cross track, go straight ahead on little used road following poles, village on left.

Pine City, sixty-five and four-tenths miles, right short block, left one block by park right one block by park, cross railroad, then left, then right, left, cross bridge, jog right and left, turn left across railroad sixty-six eight-tenths, then right along track, avoid Beroun, seventy-one and five-tenths miles, straight ahead with poles, town and tracks on right, avoid right turn.

Carlton, 136.3 miles, brick church on right, wood and iron bridge over Cloquet river, power company dam on left.

Thompson, 137.4 miles, right one block then left passing church on right, left across iron bridge, dangerous, reverse turns, winding road, turn right, school house on right hand corner, straight road with poles around left hand road at 141.9 and 142.6, left under railroad trestle then right, turn left, turn right, straight through, four corners, winding road, turn right, turn left, turn right, main road, turn right, three corners, railroad down steep long grade, (Thomson hill), railroad, railroad, turn left, turn right, turn left at car tracks and follow same.

MIXTURE OF KEROSENE

Half and Half Mixture Gives a 15-Cent Fuel.

Local automobile owners will be interested to learn of a successful experiment made with the use of kerosene as fuel.

During the present mild weather the conditions for experimenting with the kerosene-gasoline mixture are most favorable and can be carried out without any danger. Several prominent automobile men in the East who have made successful experiments are enthusiastic about them.

It is recommended that the mixtures first used contain about equal portions of gasoline and kerosene by measure and that the proportion of kerosene be increased somewhat from time to time, until the conditions of the operation indicate that the practical limit has been reached.

Although gasoline and kerosene mix permanently, still some care is required. The two liquids can be poured or pumped simultaneously into the tank of the car through the same funnel.

Hints on Experiment.

"Some adjustment of the carburetor will usually be required if a mixture containing a considerable proportion of kerosene is being tried out, as a substitute for the gasoline heretofore used, and this adjustment can only be attained by experiment. As much heat as practicable should be supplied he carburetor by the use of the hot water jacket or hot air intake, or by both, if provided, and the engine should be allowed to run as warm as possible. If the cooling system is ample it may be practicable to run the fan belt looser than usual, or to shield the radiator upon the side upon which the intake manifold is located so as to prevent the blast of the fan from blowing directly upon it and cooling it, or a shield can be arranged within this hood to prevent the blast from reaching the intake piping and lowering its temperature below that which it would otherwise attain.

"As a rule, when gasoline-kerosene mixtures, rather rich in kerosene, are tried in an ordinary carburetor, the motor, when running closely throttled, shows considerable white smoke in its exhaust, and kerosene is sometimes seen to drip from the primary air intake, showing that the engine is running mostly upon gasoline, and that the kerosene is to some extent being thrown away. The idle operation of the motor may also be quite irregular. At medium and wide throttle openings and fair speed the white smoke in the exhaust does not increase proportionately or may even decrease, and dripping from the air pipe is noticeable, a more complete utilization of the kerosene being thus indicated.

"After a car has been operated for a considerable mileage upon gasoline-kerosene for fuel the motor should be examined to see if carbon deposits are forming at an unusual rate. Some idea as to this can be obtained by removing one or more of the exhaust valve plugs and noting the deposit upon their exposed surfaces and upon the valves to which their removal gives access. In some motors the piston heads can be partially or wholly exposed without great difficulty and in such instances a definite idea of the rate of deposit can be obtained.

"With kerosene at 10 cents and gasoline at 20 cents per gallon, one gallon of a half-and-half mixture obviously costs 15 cents and one gallon of a two-to-three gasoline-kerosene mixture costs 14 cents. The cost per gallon of a mixture of any given proportions is readily calculated."

Dealers report a very light business the past week. The new cars, however, are coming in fast and a complete line of the 1914 models is now being shown.

* * *

Yesterday afternoon J. T. Peacha of the Interstate Auto company, received three 1914 Hudsons, one a roadster, a five-passenger and a delivery wagon.

* * *

Fred Klein, the local Hudson dealer, explains very clearly why the six-cylinder cars produce continuous power. "The reason is very simple," he says. "As long as there are four divisions in the cycle of operation of a gas engine just so long will it be impossible for four cylinders or a less number to overlap in power. Five cylinders would produce just sufficient power impulses to meet the complete circle of the fly-wheel. But five cylinders would not balance, being an uneven number. Hence there is no four-cycle gasoline motor of less than six cylinders that can possibly produce continuous power. Anything more than six will do so, of course, but there is no necessity of adding more cylinders than are needed, and the larger number of cylinders is not commercially practicable."

ADVOCATES SABOTAGE.

I. W. W. Orator Is Fined $500 and Sent to Prison.

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 4.—Frederick S. Boyd of New York, one of the speakers connected with the Industrial Workers of the World, was sentenced to prison yesterday for publicly advocating sabotage. His term will range from a year to seven years, depending on his behavior. In addition he was fine $500.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

Service.

In a new and handsome portfolio just issued by the Kissel Motor Car company is found the following interesting definition of "service" as practiced by this company:

"Service is an elastic word, meaning little when backed only by good intentions, but much when based upon a sound and specific policy. Considering service as applied to the automobile industry, the buyer should bear in mind the following elements: text of the company's guarantee, its facilities, its responsibility and its reputation.

"The Kissel Kar service guarantee is as liberal and far-reaching as is consistent with safe business methods. Its terms are direct and unequivocal. It is a legal promise, made to be kept. Special service buildings have been built and equipped at principal points in America. These service centers, among other things, maintain complete stocks of spare parts for every Kissel Kar model ever built, providing quick replacements in case of accident. This system of service centers places a national service organization behind the Kissel Kar with the one purpose of aiding the owner to realize his fullest anticipation of motoring pleasure, and do so at the lowest running cost and with minimum depreciation.

"This company is content to refer its reputation for service to the owners of Kissel Kars. The final analysis and the acid test of the entire question lies in their experience. They have found that service with this company is a specialty, not an incident—that it is given freely, cheerfully and with manifest anxiety to keep the car 'tuned up' to its maximum possibilities."

Develop New Talent.

As a part of its policy of building for the future, the Peerless Motor Car company of Cleveland has adopted a plan of enrolling in its organization every year a considerable number of picked graduates from the leading American technical schools.

These young mechanical engineers are put through a post-graduate course of real work in the big Cleveland factories.

When their course of practical work is completed they are assigned to various departments where trained men are needed—to the engineering force, the experimental division and the factory managers' staff. Some go to the sales department, for a salesman who understands his car to the last detail is as valuable as an assistant engineer.

The men this year came from Boston Tech, Cornell, Purdue, Syracuse and the University of Michigan. Every year an emissary from the factory visits these and other institutions and seeks to interest the more capable men in graduating classes in Peerless organization.

Chains on Racers.

Something altogether new in equipping a car for racing is to put tire chains on it. Louis Disbrow is to put them on the Jay-Eye-See and the Simplex Zip. He says he thinks he can make better time on turns with the Weed chains he will mount.

The Case company, of whose racing team Disbrow is the head, will equip all its 1914 cars with Weed chains.

Completes Long Journey.

Completing 96,000 miles of travel in an American car over the roads of four continents, Garnet B. Holmes of Wellington, New Zealand, arrived in Buffalo Wednesday night. Three years ago he left New Zealand in a White steamer, a car no longer manufactured, built in Cleveland. Since that time he has motored over roads in Africa, Australia, Europe and North America.

Mr. Holmes is an electrical engineer and his business requires him to reach nearly every part of the world. He left New Zealand early in 1910 with letters of introduction from the prime minister, the American consul general in Australia and the mayor of Wellington. During most of the time he has been traveling he has been accompanied by friends in his profession, picked up at various points along the route, but none has traveled the entire distance with him.

Toured Europe By Auto.

Returning home from a delightful European tour, the major part of which was made by motor, W. S. Stafford of the Stafford Ink company of New York, gives the following description of his experiences:

"We toured through Wales to London and from London to Harwich, from whence we shipped our Kissel Kar and sailed to the Hook of Holland. We toured the principal points of interest in Holland, thence into Germany, down the Rhine and through the Black Forest into Austria, where we made a complete tour of Tyrol. We drove over practically every mountain pass in that country, including the famous Stelvio, 9,000 feet high. From there we went to Venice, from Venice across Italy to Aix-les-Bains; then to Nice and Monte Carlo, and back over the route Des-Alps to Aix-les-Bains, to Paris and from Paris to Havre and home. During all this strenuous trip, driving at times up to sixty-five miles an hour, and surmounting twenty of the most difficult passes in Europe, our Kissel Kar 'Six' gave no trouble whatever."

OPENING OF THE LINCOLN HIGHWAY.

Automobile owners in Duluth are very much interested and eagerly waiting for the opening of the Lincoln highway on the night of Oct. 31, when this great continental thoroughfore will be dedicated to the nation's honored president, Abraham Lincoln. Hundreds of celebrations are now being planned in the many small towns along the route, which will traverse thirteen states from coast to coast.

Many local automobile owners are planning to send their automobiles to the scenes of these celebration and to motor along from one hamlet to another, taking in all the celebrations, as is to be done by thousands of automobile owners throughout the country.

Programs are being arranged in every city, village, hamlet and crossroads either on or adjacent to the route between New York and San Francisco. The pathway through these cities and villages where the Lincoln highway will soon be a reality, will be decorated with the stars and stripes, bunting and the official flags of the Lincoln highway commission.

The new highway will be open all the year round to everyone and the praises of a national pathway across the continent will be sung at all these celebrations. The road will be smooth and dustless and operated without any toll taxes whatever.

Arrangements are now being made by the many towns on the route to manufacture markers designating the road and distances from one town to another for the benefit of the automobilist. The marker will consist of a strip of red three inches wide, white fifteen inches wide, and a blue strip three inches wide, with a letter L in blue on the white section. The first marker was placed last Monday at Clinton, Iowa, where W. F. Cosin, state representative on the commission resides.

KNABE MURDER TRIAL VENUED.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—The case of Dr. William P. Craig, charged with murder of Dr. Helene Knabe, whose body was found with her throat cut in her apartments here on the morning of Oct. 24, 1911, has been venued to Shelby county at the request of the defendant. The trial had been set to begin here Oct. 23.

HARVARD'S PROSPECTS LOOK VERY BRIGHT FOR THE PRESENT FOOTBALL SEASON

New York, Oct. 4.—The main battle of the season, as usual, will revolve about the Big Three, with Harvard looming up again as the favorite to beat both Yale and Princeton. The Crimson is the only standpatter of the trio in the matter of coaches. The contract of Percy Houghton, who worked wonders in Harvard football the last three years, expired at the close of the 1912 season, and for weeks Harvard sympathizers despaired of his ever agreeing to coach again, but after much persuasion he signed another three-year contract. Princeton this years has Andrews, the rushing, end of last year, as head mentor in the place of Cunningham, with Butenthal, the great center, to assist him. Yale has departed from the system of having the graduating captain become the next year's coach, and Captain Ketcham has brought Howard Jones, of four years back, to New Haven as head coach, Jesse Spalding, last year's captain, being only an assistant in the handling of the backfield candidates.

Crimson Is Rosy.

Harvard's football outlook is, to say the least, decidedly rosente. With Percy Houghton still on the job and all of the championship eleven except Gardner back in togs, prospects of another title for the Crimson are certainly the best in years; and that Houghton proposition is a bigger factor than most followers of football would believe. He undoubtedly possesses that keen instinct of judging his material rightly almost every time, of developing stars from raw recruits and of getting everything out of his eleven when effort counts for most.

Houghton's great work of last season now places him in a most enviable position, as his sole difficulty will be the development of a quarterback to replace Gardner, who was graduated last June. At that the problem may turn out a rather simple one, as Houghton nursed along a young freshman last season and primed him to a point where he could have taken charge of the varsity did the occasion require it.

The young man's name is Mahan, and although he scales at only 155 pounds, he is of the chunky, fighting type of which great quarterbacks are made. Mahan played at halfback for the freshmen and showed remarkable kicking ability, especially in getting the ball away with speed.

Backfield is Strong.

From present indications Harvard's backfield will consist of Bradlee, Brickley, Hardwick and Mahan—three tried veterans and a newcomer of somewhat known quantity. That quartet certainly must look good to the Crimson's adherents.

O'Brien and Coolidge are the likely end men, while Pennock and Trumbull will take care of the guard positions. The tackles are somewhat doubtful, all depending on whether Houghton decides to switch Capt. Storer from his regular berth to center. The latter is the real pivot in Houghton's machine, and he may place his captain there, with Hitchcock and either Gardiner or Wigglesworth at the tackles. Should Storer be sent back to his old job, there will be a lively tussle for the center position between Wigglesworth and Gardiner. Wherever the men are placed, that Harvard team sure does look good!

Yale's Hard Problem.

Yale, with its new coaching system on trial, faces a hard problem in its efforts to regain its lost laurels. There is a lot of seasoned material, but Howard Jones is going to find it hard to get the right combination in addition to his task of developing a first-class quarterback. Pumpelly, he of the great toe, will very likely step into that position. Markle, Castles, Wilson and Mitchell, all fair kickers, may produce a good quarterback from among them.

Among the veterans who have been showing up well in practice are Harbison, Gile, Talbot, Pendleton and Osborn. Cooney, Avery, Carter and Wheeler were late in getting going, but will no doubt be all there against Wesleyan. Should Ketcham go to end Martyng and Miller will have it out for center. Loftus, who was looked upon as excellent quarterback material, has gone into business and his absence will be sorely felt.

New Tiger Eleven Needed.

At Princeton, Coaches H. G. Andrews and Al Butenthal are confronted with the necessity of developing an almost entirely new eleven. Graduations and eligibility rules riddled the ranks of the Tigers last season, and left only a small nucleus for this season's eleven.

Only one of the regular linemen, Phillips, is back again, and when it is considered that Blutenthal, Tal Pendleton, E. C. Wallier and W. L. De Witt are among the missing the task to be tackled by the coaches seems a pretty big order.

Capt. Hobey Baker will again be in the backfield, and Princeton's sons certainly are thankful for that. With Hobey will be P. S. Baker, the 1912 quarterback. Mike Boland, the old Mercersburg and Lafayette star, is eligible, and may disuplace J. S. at quarter, while other candidates are Merritt, Galle and Thayer.

The arrival of Walter Hammond, the 1911 end, gladdened the hearts of the coaches, as he is fine and fit, and weighs nearly 180 pounds. Glick and Stew Baker are giving a pretty contest for the back position on the other side of Hobey. Merritt, Heyniger and Gale are getting off some excellent kicking, and assure Princeton of good service in that important branch of the game.

Victim of Diplomas.

Penn is a sore victim of graduation. Capt. Mercer, Harrington, Jourdet, Dillon and Greene all got diplomas besides other less prominent men. The places left by Harrington and Mercer in the back field will be hard to fill. Louis Young, the new captain, and Jourdet remain as ends, but every other department of the team has suffered. Marshall, Craig and Minds are the only remaining backs.

Cornell figures to be better off this year, principally because Coach Al Sharpe now is familiar with conditions there and because many of his candidates now have had a year's schooling under his system. Moreover, the freshmen, who in the past had received only cursory attention at Cornell, were started in the proper path last year and accordingly will offer some experienced material this time. Capt. Butler, the sensational quarterback, is the graduate who will be missed most, but the early squad that has turned out is so large that Sharpe has high hopes of finding a good man to take his place.

Dartmouth is struck a severe blow in the loss of Capt. Daly and Whitney. Other stars that will be missed by their teams are Tenney of Brown, Pazzetti of Lehigh, Bacon of Wesleyan, Devore of the Army and Rodes of the Navy.

Lyceum

The Lyceum de Luxe pictures will again be shown tomorrow, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Today an American feature in two parts, "For the Crown," a spectacular production in two parts featuring Warren Kerrigan, will be shown, also, the latest Mutual Weekly containg the latest weekly events. The Lyceum management considers itself fortunate in securing this weekly as it is considered to be the very best of all weeklies and further more it is shown on the third day after its release. Events that take place on Monday or Tuesday of the week are shown at the Lyceum on Sunday. This will be a regular Sunday feature."

On Wednesday only "The Stolen Woman," one of the splendid Reliance features, together with three single reels two of which will be comedies, will make up the program.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday "A Highland Romance" in two parts will head the program. This production has been made by the New Domino company, and is a delightful story filled with the atmosphere of bonnie Scotland.

Believing that patrons would rather see pictures than to see and hear a program made up partly of vaudeville and pictures or singers and pictures the Lyceum has arranged to show five reels of the best pictures obtainable, dispensing with any other form of entertainment in connection with the pictures except the best of music by an orchestra.

Play adaptations from books which have met with more than ordinary reading approval have come and gone, some of them have scarcely lived long enough to be of passing memory, while now and then a play founded upon popular fiction arrives at a very successful point.

"The Common Law," that extremely popular novel written by Robert W. Chambers, was put in dramatic form through Manager A. H. Woods towards the end of last season. The outcome provad that this manager's power of discernment was exceptional as it was not by any means the first instance where he had shown his excellent judgment in the selection of proper material for play building. Mr. Woods entered into the hot campaign of competition with rival managers for the possession of Mr. Chambers' work, and, owing to his record as a pre-eminently successful manager, Mr. Chambers evidently felt a sense of security in placing his creation where it would be most likely to receive all the better advantages.

In preparing "The Common Law" for the stage no attempt was made to adhere too closely to the text of the book. However, the real spirit was retained but additions were made to quicken the action and bring the story more vitally before the audience. Of course, the sensational points in the original story were retained and the melodramatic situations were led up to in a more exciting manner, giving the play a far greater compelling force as a drama than could have resulted by following the book lines too closely.

"The Common Law" will be at the Lyceum Monday and Tuesday.

Including dancers and musicians the company numbers nearly one hundred persons that will appear with Pavlowa at the Lyceum in December.

This is the most notable organization of its kind ever formed, and the program is said to be by far the most interesting and generally attractive that has been offered. There are many notable features and striking novelties.

• • •

The New York Sun, in a Sunday issue during Mrs. Fiske's engagement at the Hudson theater last season, devoted an entire page, with illustrations, to the mounting of the second act of "The High Road." This is said to be one of the most complete, unique, and beautiful stage settings ever devised. Perhaps the most liberal extracts ever carried by the Literary Digest from any story connected with the stage, were those taken from the Sun's description of this unusual scene.

Wherever Walker Whiteside and his company have appeared this season in the sensationally successful play "The Typhoon," critical writers in reviewing the performance have given unstinted praise to the excellence of the organization, every member of which has been selected by Mr. Whiteside himself. This fine actor evidently believes that however small the part in a play as big and vital as "The Typhoon," it should be played by a competent actor to give full value to the performance. The production which Mr. Whiteside has given to this play is said to be the most complete and perfect he has ever taken on tour.

With a record of over half a year at the Republic theater, New York, "The Governor's Lady" is announced as one of the early bookings at the Lyceum theater. Associated in the production of this drama are William Elliott and David Belasco, who have given the piece their best thought and most conscientious care, with the result that "The Governor's Lady," though the work of a new author, Miss Alice Bradley, has scored an overwhelming triumph for actors, author and producers alike. It has taken its place without question in the Belasco hall of fame. The cast is reported to show Mr. Belasco's usual discrimination and care, including such well known players as Emma Dunn, Gladys Hanson, William K. Harcourt, Eugene O'Brien, Starr K. Walker, Diana Storm, William H. Tooker, and thirty others. "The Governor's Lady" is having a fine run at Powers theater, Chicago, at the present time.

Orpheum

Headlining next week's bill at the Duluth Orpheum will be two grand opera singers of established reputation.

They are Marie McFarland and a young woman who goes by the mysterious title of "Madame."

Marie McFarland is a Colorado girl who has spent several years singing in grand opera in France and Italy. Her mysterious partner had a similar experience. Desiring to return to America they found facing them the alternative of doing concert work, which is considered uncertain at the best, and waiting for months and perhaps years for a grand opera opening. They chose vaudeville as the solution of their difficulties, and their tour of the Orpheum circuit has been successful beyond their fondest hopes.

Their repertoire is almost limitless, and contains practically all of the well known grand operas, but for their vaudeville tour they have selected about ten semi-popular numbers from which their numbers are chosen. These are: "Norma," a duet; "A Garden of Love"; the berceuse from "Jocelyn"; "My Hero" from the "Chocolate Soldier"; the barcarolle from "The Love Tales of Hoffman"; the ave maria from "Cavalleria Rusticana"; "Cara Nomi" from "Rigoletto"; "For You Alone," and the berceuse of Chaminade.

Owing to their long training abroad and their natural voices they have been ranked as being in a class by themselves among singers on the vaudeville circuits, and in their appearance next week is expected to be something out of the ordinary in the line of vaudeville acts.

An interesting dramatic offering is promised by Wallis Clark in "The Devil's Mate."

This spectacular dramatic attraction was written and invented by Stanley Cooke and ran for a long engagement at the Coliseum in London. Mr. Clarke brought to America the original production for his present tour. The story is that of a gambler who is forced by his losses to the verge of suicide. At this crucial moment the devil, impersonated by Mr. Clark, appears and relates all the important events of the gambler's life to him, concluding by an offer to play him a game of chess for his life, which offer the gambler accepts. Thereupon the game begins, and one of the most intricate of chess problems is worked out by electrical effects, each move being clearly shown on a large illuminated chess board.

Mr. Clarke will be remembered for his work in the title role of "Scrooge" when that Dickens' classic was presented in the United States and Canada.

Harry H. Richards and Bessie Kyle will be seen in a combination of laughter and song entitled, "Regular Club Fellow." The act has to do with the difficulties of a young woman whose husband has contracted the club habit, and it is said to be a very lively and entertaining act.

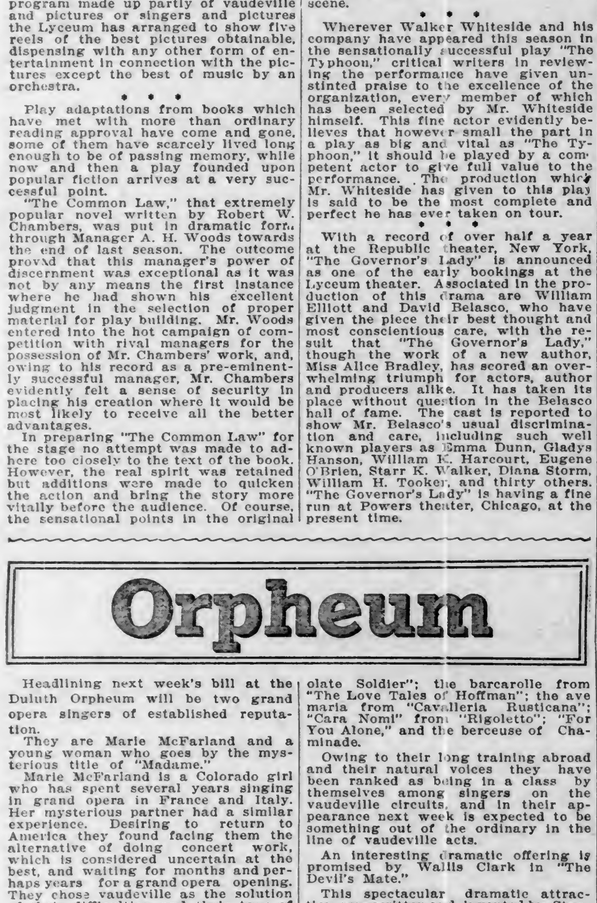

An unusually attractive young woman known to the stage as La Valera, has entered into a vaudeville partnership with Melvin Stokes, a young dramatic tenor, and the two are offering a blending of song and dance called "A Dash of Spanish." The young woman's dancing and Mr. Stokes' singing have made their vaudeville tour a most successful one to date and their act is expected to be one of the bright spots on next week's bill.

Hyman Meyer, "The Man at the Piano," offers a unique piano skit which may be described as a melange of monologue, impersonation, burlesque, imitation and musical travesty. As a foundation for his odd piano act Mr. Meyer is said to have a most brilliant technique and rare ability as a musician.

Brent Haynes has for long been recognized as one of the premier banjo players of the country. He has made a study of the banjo as thorough as most musicions make of such instruments as the piano and the violin. His playing, according to critics in other cities, is not the trickery which has so often brought the banjo into illrepute among musicians, but the careful manipulation of an artist. His selections range from the best musical compositions to plantation melodies.

Dupree and Dupree, a man and a woman, will present the seventh act on the bill—an exhibition of trick bicycle riding.

The motion pictures of recent news happenings and the overture by the Orpheum concert orchestra will complete the bill, which will continue all week with a daily matinee.

AT THE EMPRESS

A new program of vaudeville acts will be the attraction at the Empress theater for four days starting with the matinee performance Sunday afternoon, Oct. 5. Music, eccentricities, comedy sketch and posing will all have their inning at the Empress. The headline position will be filled by White's Models, a posing act. The models are a man, a woman, four dogs and a horse. The entire act is done in white with a black background.

Another big time act is Mills and Moulton in their laughable satire "A Trial Performance." This little playlet was written for laughing purposes.

Bert and Lottie Walton have an act called "Eccentricities." Their talk is said to be fast, light and witty. They also dance.

George Dawn is a musical comedian. His musical selections are played on the xylophone, trombone, cornet and his own arrangement of glasses on which he plays with the palm of his hand. His numbers are many and of the popular kind.

Two reels of the latest and best in photoplays will complete the program.

The electric score board which will play the 1913 World Series baseball game at the Empress theater simultaneous with those at the ball grounds, is now at the theater all set up and ready for the big event to begin. The board is a massive piece of work taking many weeks of hard labor to make and get into proper shape. The board contains every possible move on the diamond and will show every hit, ball, strike, error or play made or attempted. It names the players as they come to bat and will show what they do with their chances at bat and in the field. The first game starts in New York Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 2 o'clock which will make it 1 o'clock at the Empress theater in Duluth.

The price of admission will permit Empress patrons to remain for the regular matinee performance which immediately follows the games.

• • •

"Hotel A La Carte" in which Joe and Evelyn Alvia will appear, will be seen at the Empress theater for an engagement of three days starting with the matinee next Thursday.

Matt Kusell has spared no expense, it is said, in providing this attraction with a lavish production.

The novelty, which is invariably received with great enthusiasm, is the scene in the hotel lobby, in which all the foibles of hotel life are portrayed. The bell boy with all his tricks and expert knowledge is the foremost of the entertainers.

Among the many song hits to be heard will be: "Goody Good," "Be Sure He's Irish," "Baseball Rag," "Summer Song," "Monkey Song," "Foolish Fiddlers," "Bobbin' Up and Down," "I Want Someone to Call Me Papa" and others.

• • •

Among the attractions booked at the Empress are "Henpecked Henry," "The Third Degree," "The Tenderfoot," and "The Wolf."

Many people will be glad to hear that their favorite musical comdy "The Three Twins" will play the Empress.

The "Chorus Lady," James Forbes great comedy of theatrical life in which Rose Stahl first won her right to become a star will be another attraction to visit the Empress shortly.

A few of the other bookings at the popular playhouse are, "The Runaways'," "The Wizard of Oz," "Sun's Minstrels" and "Look Who's Here."

Rex

"Ivanhoe" is the play, King Baggot is the man, Leah Baird the woman, comprising one of the greatest attempts in motion picture production, that of the four-part "Ivanhoe" reel, that will be shown at the Rex theater commencing Monday matinee. It will continue for three days, ending Wednesday night.

An earnest and ambitious effort to film high-class popular fiction of the type of Sir Walter Scott's "Ivanhoe" will have the hearty commendation of every friend of the moving pictures. The film rendering of "Ivanhoe" by the Universal company is entitled to sincere praise purely on its merits. The director, Herbert Brenon, has evidently grown with his task, and there is plenty of evidence all through this feature, that care, and time, and patience, and skill entered into this four-part production. The producer has in this production aimed higher than usual. The magnificence of the settings and the splendid acting make this one feature that is expected to stand out among pictures shown at the Rex. This wonderful production visualizes for the observer very effectively the knights of olden days, ancient castles and battlements, Robin Hood and his merry men, and many incidents too numerous to mention. It is a story taking the spectator many years back to the days when the Christian knights were fighting for the cross in the Holy Land, and Prince John held the reigns of government in England. Prince John's greed was greater than his fraternal affection, and he sought every means to support his claims to the crown against the time when his brother, "Richard, the Lion Heart," the rightful king, should reign.

The love affair bteween Rowena and Ivanhoe is interesting, as Rowena is beloved by Athelstone, with the approval of her father, but she does not care for him, and through sorrow, trial and strife, Rowena remains loyal to Ivanhoe.

Later in the story the scene changes to a forest where are seen two weary travelers trying to gain shelter before night. These are the wealthy Jewish money lender, Isaac of York, disguised as a poor peddler, the better to ply his trade of usury, and his daughter, Rebecca. They are taken into Cedric's mansion, where Ivanhoe, disguised as a holy man, saves Rebecca from an insult. This is followed by a vicious attack upon the Torquilstone castle, where Ivanhoe's father and sweetheart, the Jewish money lender and his daughter, Rebecca, are held prisoners. This is followed by a number of exciting incidents ending in the duel for life or death for the hand of Rebecca, and the result is most interesting, completing a feature production that will live long in the memory of all those who witness it.

NEW PICTURE HOUSE WILL OPEN

The Echo Theater Is Located on West Superior Street.

The Echo theater at 515 West Superior street will open its doors this afternoon at 2 o'clock with a first-class program. Among the pictures to be shown will be "Trooper Billy," a two-reel feature by the Kalem company. Frederick Pauling's play is given a setting that makes it better, by far, than the stage version. Indians attacking a stockade, for instance, form the climax. There is action in every inch, the straining and grappling of hand-to-hand encounters, the fight to a finish. It is a Western play with a wonderful "punch."

"The Hindoo Charm" is a Vitagraph picture showing how evil intentions by a happy mistake win the love of a stepmother for her husband's children, whom she had previously ignored. Maurice Costello plays the lead. The program closes with two good comedies by the old reliable Biograph company, entitled "Dan Greegan's Ghost" and "His Hoodoo."

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Almost everyone has written a play. Many have imbibed strange notions of the profitable nature of this occupation from a few great success and huge revenues a few playwrights have made from it. The fact still remains that over 99 per cent of the plays that find their way into managerial offices are absolutely worthless; that over 60 per cent of the plays that are finally accepted for production fall flatly, yielding their authors perhaps $500 or $600 on the average, as a return for what may have been a year's work, and that of the remaining 40 per cent of the 1 per cent of plays submitted, about one-third are merely nominal successes from which the author is lucky to get $3,000 or $4,000.

Over against this is the occasional "knock-out." Up to the beginning of the present century, the undisputed royalty record for a play belonged to to Hall Caine, whose "The Christian" netted him $250,000 from this country alone, besides what he derived from the English, Australian and South African presentations. Since that time, this figure has been exceeded not more than once, though the two big Century theater spectacles, "The Garden of Allah" and "Joseph and His Brethren" threaten to eclipse it totally. The former, a play that theatrical experts believe will run for many seasons to come, has just begun its third season, the author being at least $150,000 the richer by reason of its production. "Joseph and His Brethren" written in 1905 but not produced until a year ago, is as valuable a play now as when it was written, and will probably be as valuable ten years hence. This play, a year younger than "The Garden of Allah," has apparently set out with the determination to equal or exceed the high business records of its sister spectacle.

It was calculated that Mr. Parker's royalties from his various plays last season brought him more than $120,000. This season with the London production of "Joseph and His Brethren," and the production by Cyril Maude of his version of "The Vicar of Wakefield," this total should be exceeded. A quarter of a million dollars in two years for a mere playwright sounds like big money, doesn't it?

But do the two things balance? It took Mr. Parker twenty years to learn to write successful plays, despite an exceptional equipment for the work. He had to teach music in a little English school to make ends meet until "Rosemary" brought him enough money to satisfy him that he could live by writing and staging plays.

Very few of the few playwrights that succeed do so right off the reel. The author of a successful "first play" recently confessed that it really was his forty-ninth. The other forty-eight had cost him a small fortune in return postage. A young man had a fair success this season with a play written as an "amateur." The play was the result of six years' study in various universities that gave special dramatic courses, and a year as stagehand in a theater where they changed the bill several times a week. He had taken this job to familiarize himself with the practical theater, and had been writing plays since his high school days.

That's a pretty proud moment in the life of an English player when the lord chamberlain or one of those high ones drops around to the theater and says:

"Doing anything special next Saturday evening?"

Answer: "Not a thing in the world, old chap."

"Then come on up to Balmoral and bring your play. The king and queen and a few of the right sort will be among those present."

The player wouldn't exchange that prospect for his weight in gold and precious stones.

Just at present the king and queen are putting in a season at Balmoral castle, which is in Scotland. They asked Cyril Maude—or rather "commanded" him—to come to Balmoral just before leaving for America and give a performance of "The Headmaster" for their select selves and a very few specially invited guests. The audience was exclusive, not only in respect to quality but in quantity as well. The room in which the feast of comedy was served held less than fifty spectators.

At these command performances it has been customary for the manager to stand all the expenses of transporting the company, building special scenery and hauling same. Reproduced for Mrs. Millions of Fifth avenue, the single private performance would cost a young fortune, but to play for the king and queen of England—well, that is the culminating honor for the British actor, and one not to be measured by an expense account.

Among those present at Balmoral castle at the "command" performance were King George's family, the Princess Royal, the duchess of Fife and Princess Maud, Princess Henry of Battenberg, Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein, Lord Charles Beresford, Lady Mackenzie, the Hon. Mrs. Mackenzie and Sir S. Neumann.

After the performance Mr. Maude was received by the king.

"BE MERCIFUL, BE JUST, BE FAIR TO EVERYWOMAN, EVERYWHERE."

"I heard today that the Morgages have bought a new automobile," said Mrs. Everyman as she settled down for the evening, supper over and the dishes washed and put away.

"Uh huh," replied Mr. Everyman, drawing himself farther into his shell as he read the evening paper.

"Mrs. Gawsup told me today that the Jarrs had separated," resumed Mrs. Everyman after a few moments' silence.

"So?" responded Everyman absently, as he studied the stock market quotations.

"Anything new down town today?" Mrs. Everyman hopefully inquired.

"No," said Everyman, not permitting his attention to be distracted from a magazine which he had taken up after finishing with the paper.

"I'll bet I couldn't be down town all day, seeing all sorts of people, without hearing something new," said Mrs. Everyman, a trifle tartly.

"I'll bet a million you couldn't," replied Everyman with his first show of animation. It was a brief spark, however, and soon flickered out. The magazine reabsorbed him.

Mrs. Everyman tried him on the latest play in town, and got a grunt in response. She tentatively broached a discussion of a book they both had lately read, and Everyman stirred impatiently in his chair. She tried him on a topic discussed by her club the day before, and was rewarded by a contemptuous comment on women's clubs. She asked him how the Hicken ordinance was working, and whether he didn't think it was a good thing; and he angrily asked what women knew about such things anyway, in a tone that implied that they don't know much about anything.

So finally Mrs. Everyman gave it up and retired to the company of her own thoughts. Everyman buried himself in a tomb-like silence while he read a fool story in a magazine, and no sound was heard but the beating of the northeaster on the windows.

An imaginary conversation? Yes, entirely.

But are there none who have heard the like—or participated in the like? There are, gentle reader, so many that we'd hate to estimate their numbers.

The picture which the above dialogue describes was called into being by a letter from a woman which is printed in the Pictorial Review. This woman says: "Every evening I look forward to my husband's return as the reward of my day's work, and every evening I feel the same sense of disappointment. I change my dress, have what I am sure he will like for supper, tuck the babies into bed early, and then sit down for an hour's companionship with my husband. But what do I get? An occasional grunt from behind his paper or around the stem of his pipe. * * * Sometimes I feel almost ashamed to find that I have stood talking five or ten minutes with the bright young man who delivers our groceries or to some agent trying to sell me a patent stove lifter or a book. But I realize that I talk to them because I want to hear about the outside world where my husband works. I get tired of the things women talk about."

And so the Pictorial Review advocates the forming of a national "Entertain-your-own-wife" association.

Not a bad idea at all. Of course no national association could remedy the condition of which this woman complains; but if every husband would form himself into such an association, put his wife on a plane of mental equality with himself and brighten the close of her day with a companionable chat, the world would be happier and the lot of the hardest worked and most deserving person we know of—the housewife—would be brighter.

You call Mr. Everyman a brute? Don't be too quick to do that. He isn't known as such. When people come in he brightens up and talks interestingly and freely. Out in the day-world where he circulates he is known as a mighty good fellow. Women like him, and with their "intuition" they would never like a brute. If he acts like one—and, honest now, Everyman, doesn't it look a little like it when you see it in cold print?—probably it is just thoughtlessness.

But thoughtlessness is more cruel than malice. Everyman isn't acting fairly. He is exposing Mrs. Everyman to a dangerous alternative between subsidence into a narrowing mental round and an outside search for the companionship he refuses her. Everyman should have a care.

Hotel guests in Paris are reported "being systematically robbed." It must be a great comfort to the victims to know there's nothing "hit and miss" about it.

AND NOW THE CURRENCY.

In his striking speech attending his signing of the new tariff law, President Wilson made it clear beyond a possibility of question that it is the duty of congress to proceed immediately to the passage of a currency law, that the country expects it, that the nation needs it, and that if he can influence results the country will get it.

And nobody can give even the most casual reading to the history of the tariff bill just made law without realizing that backed as he is by the overwhelming force of public opinion and public confidence, he wields a power rarely given to a president of the United States.

"There is no use taking away the conditions of monopoly," he said, "if we do not take away also the power to create monopoly; and that is a financial rather than a merely commercial and economic power. The power to control and direct the credits of the country is the power to say who shall and who shall not build up the industries of the country, in which direction they shall be built, and in which direction they shall not be built. We are now about to take the second step, which will be the final step in setting the business of this country free.

"This is what we shall do in the currency bill, which the house has already passed and which, I have the utmost confidence, the senate will pass much sooner than some pessimistic individuals believe."

There is a vast significance in these words, without a trace of bluster or bullying but with a quiet force that will be far more effective than any bluster or bullying possibly could be. Though not by a word does he indicate consciousness of the fact that monopoly has friends in the senate who are striving, on one pretext or another, to retain the present Wall Street dominated banking system, between the lines is ample evidence that he is fully aware of the situation in all its details and fully determined to give effect to the public demand by every honorable means at his command.

Though the currency bill lags in committee, though there is an outward appearance that it is intended to stay there, though there are pessimists who declare that it will not leave there this session, we firmly believe that President Wilson will have the glorious privilege of crowning the most brilliant record of any congress in the history of the nation by signing a currency bill before December's snows are flying.

One reason for this confidence is that the senate will hear from the country, and will learn that the country has lost none of its impatience with those who would pluck chestnuts out of the fire for privilege by blocking the program of legislation by and for the whole people.

A good-sized paper mill has been built at Kong Mun, China; and incidentally the natives are getting some ideas they never dreamed of in the way of odors.

FRONTAGE ASSESSMENTS FOR WATER AND LIGHT EXTENSIONS.

When the city commission was first considering Mr. Merritt's project of abandoning the eight per cent guaranty plan of caring for water and light assessments and substituting a frontage tax, The Herald suggested that this was a thing to go slow upon. It pointed out that one effect of the plan would be to impose a new burden on home-builders, and as this is a thing to be avoided it suggested the possibility that the desired result might be secured by assessing a proportionate share of the guaranty to al lthe owners of property benefited, whether or not the property is improved.

On maturer thought, The Herald is still less inclined to favor the proposed plan than it was on first thought.

The main object in view is to make owners of unimproved property, many of whom are non-residents, shoulder their share of the burden of making extensions. Now, with the guaranty plan wholly optionally, such owners can and often do refuse to participate in it, thus throwing the whole burden upon those who volunteer.

But if participation in the guaranty were made compulsory upon all owners of property benefited, the same object would be attained and the home-builder relieved of the burden that it is proposed to inflict upon him.

The commission should remember that the main part of the city is already supplied with water and gas mains, and that in no instance has the cost been met directly by the property-owners.

It should remember that the localities in which extensions are likely to be made hereafter are outlying sections, largely to be occupied by homes, and most of the homes to be built by people of small means.

Should a burden be placed on home-builders in these sections that was not imposed on property-owners in the profitable downtown districts and in the rich home sections of the East end?

Again, in a large measure existing water and light supplies were provided for by bond issues, and these must be met in part from department earnings and in part from taxation. In both cases the new home-builder must pay his share of the cost of making extensions already in use.

If the commission carries out the plan it is considering, the new home-builder will not only have to pay part of the cost of existing service, but ALL the cost of his own service.

This is penalizing home-building in a manner that should be avoided if it is possible.

It can easily be avoided by making participation in the guaranty compulsory instead of voluntary.

Mr. Merritt's suggestion that by adopting the frontage tax plan it will be made possible to cut water rates in two is interesting, and if it can be demonstrated satisfactorily it will have a large bearing on the question. It is so astonishing a promise, however, that it will need to be well fortified by mathematical proof.

The commission seems inclined to adopt the plan of a frontage tax. If the community is willing to accept it, the commission should go ahead. If the community does not wish unnecessarily to handicap home-building any more than it is now handicapped, it should let the commission know that the proposed plan is objectionable.

The Democratic administration left it for nature itself to bring about the first big shake-up in the canal zone.

MEN GOSSIP? NEVER!

Wisconsin has a new law prohibiting and punishing gossip.

That's a mighty good law to have and to enforce, too. Why under the sun the law should be so severe with those who steal mere trifles like watches and money, and so lenient with those who steal reputations, is an amazing puzzle.

But that isn't what we started out to report.

The first person arrested under this law was a MAN!

There must have been some mistake, surely. Don't the officers of the law in Wisconsin—who are men—know that gossip is the exclusive province of women? Don't they know that men are too big, too broadminded, too busy with great thoughts to waste their time in chatting personalities?

Haven't they all heard men rebuke their wives for telling tales about the neighbors, and instruct them that they ought to find something more elevating than gossip to fill their minds? Maybe they have also heard these same men exchanging personal gossip with their fellows and obviously relishing the mental exercise; but what of that? Maybt they have heard these same men whisper damning stories about people to the same wives; but what of that?

Men don't gossip. Never in the world! It is a grave miscarriage of justice that this law against gossip, which was plainly intended to apply only to women, should be exerted against a man.

The Wisconsin incident is an injustice so monstrous that we cannot refrain from crying out against it. It ought to be carried no further.

Gossip, we would have the Wisconsin authorities know, is the telling of unpleasant tales about people BY WOMEN.

When men tell the same tales with the same relish it isn't gossip. We don't quite know what it is, but it isn't gossip. Ask any male gos—beg pardon, conversationalist—if it is.

It's a mean suspicion that the time of the world series had anything to do with the schedule for the meeting in the East of the American Bankers' association.

A "GOOD TIME" NOT IRRELIGIOUS.

Charles E. Jefferson, pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle in New York, has thought it worth while to write a piece for the Woman's Home Companion to prove that "having a good time" is not inconsistent with piety.

Indeed, he declares that it has the commendation of the Christian religion.

There will be few to disagree with him. The notion that nobody could be religious without being solemn has gone out—and it is good riddance.

Somberness and preternatural gravity are not essential to sound religion. Nobody can tell how many good people have been lost to religion by the forbidding character of the ancient idea that merriment was impious, and that to be truly devout you must be miserable.

It goes without saying, of course, that by "a good time" Pastor Jefferson means decent enjoyments—which are always and always will be the most satisfying.

The Puritans who frowned upon the smallest attempt to illumine existence with pleasure, however innocent and wholesome, of course meant well; but it is good that their ideas have been outgrown.

Says Mr. Jefferson: "The Christian religion not only approves of our ambition, but it promises to help us in our attainment of it. Nothing is falser than the old superstition that piety and a long face go together, that saintliness and gloom are related, that if you want to be genuinely religious you must not expect to be happy—until you die. In many quarters it is a current opinion that becoming a Christian means giving up all prospects of ever having any more good times. Following Christ means doing what you do not want to do, giving up everything you like to do, going out of your way in search of things which put a cloud on the sun, making yourself as uncomfortable as you can. No wonder that young people in many cases turn their backs on the church. Religion is to them a straightlaced, unnatural, other-worldly affair, something to be avoided in the days of one's youth, and postponed until the sun is in the west.

"That this motion is a mistaken one is clear to anyone who reads the New Testament with both eyes. Goethe used to call Christianity the religion of sorrow, and whenever he said that Carlyle always gave a hearty 'amen,' but neither the German nor the Scotsman is a trustworthy interpreter of the Christian religion. Christianity is in fact the religion of joy. If it seems otherwise it is because we read the Gospels through the shadow cast by the tragedy on Golgotha."

No finer thing has happened to Christianity than the realization that it does not mean happiness only in the next world, but in this world as well; and that to build for ourselves mansions of joy in the next world, we must first build spiritual mansions of happiness and well-being for others in this world.

Sort o' looks as if Seattle is trying to furnish another argument in favor of the recall of judges.

"THE GOOD PROVIDER."

"What has become," asks the Kansas City Star, "of the old-fashioned husband who was known throughout the neighborhood as a good provider?"

We didn't know he was missing. Indeed, it had been our impression that the woods were full of him; and we shall be surprised to learn that it is not so. On this point, we are from the Star's home state, and will have to require the facts to be exhibited to us.

Moreover, the "good provider's" job is a harder one than it used to be when the term was heard oftener.

To be sure, he hasn't so many youngsters to find shoes and stockings and suits for as he used to have. But neither were there automobiles and the like to be coveted in those other days. Though there were no automobiles for the good provider of twenty years ago to mortgage his home to buy, he had half a dozen children where the average run now is from none at all to one or two.

So perhaps after all it is about six of one and half a dozen of the other.

But even if the name has fallen into disuse, the practice has not. The country is full of "good providers." Indeed, the majority of husbands and fathers are good providers; and the nobility of their purpose and the loyalty of their endeavors are heightened by the uphill struggle they face in the problem of the High Cost of Living.

Clever defenders of the existing order have said that the trouble these days is not so much the high cost of living as the cost of high living.

They should interview a few of these modern good providers about that—these men who have three to five mouths to feed, three to five backs to clothe and two to four loved ones to find shelter and warmth and happiness for. Theirs is not a problem of the "cost of high living," except as the cost of high living for a few increases the high cost of living for the many.

God bless the "good provider!" He is the backbone and the brawn and sinew of the nation! May his burdens be lifted and his pathway in life made smooth!

Almost time for the annual rumors about how much one team or the other was offered to "throw" the series.

Allan Knew.

Lippincott's: The teacher in a country school always tried to make the lessons as interesting as possible.

"Now, children," she said, "let me see what you remember about the animal kingdom and the domestic animals that belong it it. You have named all the domestic animals but one. Who can tell what that one is?"

There was no reply.

"What!" exclaimed Teacher. "Does no one know? It has bristly hair, likes the dirt, and is fond of getting into the mud."

A small boy at the end of the class raised a timid hand.

"Well, Allan?" said Teacher.

"Please, ma'am," said the little boy reflectively, "it's me."

The Rovers

From the New York Evening Sun.

A Masque of Plenty.

Somewhat restless, but plain,
They make their way from state to state;
As through the joyous land they go
Bank notes blossom, bloom and glow;
Everywhere that they remain
Plaudits greet the Safe Insane.
Now and then they pause to play
A Masque of Plenty by the way.

Dramatis Personae.

Harry K. Thaw, the Safe Insane.
Dressed as a Rover in a suit of Lincoln green and long green. The Hero.
William Travers Jerome, the Professional Nemesis.
The Villain.
The Habeas Corpus Writ.
Friend to the Hero.
Herd of Captive Lawyers.
Press Agents in all stages of composition and decomposition.
Chorus of Governors, Telegraphers, Messengers, Chauffeurs, Sheriffs, Mob, Guard, Federal Officials, Sleuths, Alienists, Judges, Village Constables, New England Peasantry.

Enter H. K. Thaw, followed by herd of captive lawyers. As the Safe Insane dances forward, and dancing sheds pieces of the long green costume, the lawyers save the pieces.

The Safe Insane.

To look at the money I scatter
You'd think I was mad as a hatter!

Chorus of Lawyers.

In Kennebunk, Maine,
Or Arkansaw,
You're certainly sane
By common law!

The Safe Insane.

O, I'll leave it to anyone legal
If I'm not as keen as an eagle!

Chorus of Lawyers.

Your sanity's plain
In Paris or Cork,
But you's Safely Insane
In the state of New York.

The Safely Insane.

Draw close for my defense—
Accept these double eagles—
Here comes the foeman, gents,
Surrounded by his beagles!

Herd of Captive Lawyers form a circle around the Safe Insane as Nemesis Jerome enters, the bolder lawyers browsing bank notes from the Safe Insane's costume. Nemesis Jerome is accompanied by photographers, sheriffs, constables, reporters, governors, sleuths, etc.

Nemesis.

I'm the only Professional Nemesis!
I follow from state to state;
Whatever the place or the premises,
I'm the legal adviser of fate.
On Wednesday and Thursday and Sunday
The prisoner really is sane,
But some day I'll catch him on Monday
And hale him to prison again!

Chorus of Alienists in the Distance.

In longitude thirty-eight fifty
And latitude fifty-six ten
The prisoner thinks rather nifty—
He's really as sane as most men!

The Safe Insane, mistaking the figures, hurriedly distributes $38.50 to everyone present, including the mob of New England peasantry who hasten in, with exception of Nemesis, and then as they still stand expectant he goes down the line again and gives each person $36.10 more. General satisfaction and song, in which all join but Nemesis.

Song of Thanksgiving.

From place to place about the land
He wanders with an open hand,
Spending, spending money!
And really, it would be inane
To question if he's really sane,
Spending, spending money!
Then let us keep him moving so
From Canada to Mexico,
Spending, spending money!
From Maine to Portland, Oregon,
And anywhere but Matteawan,
Spending, spending money!
O, let the crops fail if they will!
The Rover passes dale and hill,
Spending, spending money!
He scatters sunshine by the way,
He makes it Christmas every day,
Spending, spending money!

As the song ceases Nemesis rushes at the Safe Insane, who struggles in his grip. All seems lost, when the Habeas Corpus gallops up, flings Nemesis to one side and says:

The Habeas Corpus.

You better unhand him, Villain!
Touch him again if you dare!
My job is to see that he's treated
Respectful and perfectly fair!

I am the Habeas Corpus!
Merrily over the land
I follow the jolly Rover—
I am trained to eat out of his hand.

I am the Habeas Corpus—
I, too, am a merry Rover!
I have been trained to move lively
When jumping through and over.

Nemesis unhands him and slinks away, while the Safe Insane exits, leaning on the arm of the Habeas Corpus, while the other members of the cast follow, frisking happily and plucking at his suit of green.

Will She Wear Them?

Christian Century: A mother writes asking us to say something on the subject of women's dress. We will do nothing of the kind. But we will mention one point in her letter. She says:

"My daughter insists on wearing tight skirts because all the other girls do, although I tell her no decent girl would dress so."

Don't tell her that, says the Century. Because it is not true. Some modest girls do dress so—your daughter included. The dress is immodest—we do not like it. But some girls dress immodestly and are modest.

You, for instance, when you were her age, wore—pardon us, madame—a bustle. It took you some time to pass a given point, and it was not safe to shut the door behind you till you were well in the middle of the room. Your mother told you that no modest girl would dress so—do you remember?

And your mother's mother? She wore a Dolly Varden and a pin-back, and she affected the Grecian bend, and she dragged her train along filthy sidewalks. And her mother told her no modest girl would dress so.

And your mother's mother's mother? She wore hoopskirts, and her mother told her no modest girl would dress so.

And your mother's mother's mother's mother tied her corset strings to the bedpost and laced herself like an hourglass, and wore patches and powder and used wimples and crisping pins—and her mother told her no modest girl would dress so.

And so on back to Eve. And if Eve had had a mother she would have said the same to Eve.

The present styles are undeniably immodest. They seem to us intentionally immodest. We do not approve them. The only good thing about them is that they have driven out the styles that preceded them and will themselves be driven out by something better and wiser.

All the same, we know some women who are modest enough not to wear the current styles in their extreme form, and they are not prudes, but to our mind are far prettier than those in the ultra forms of current fashion.

Reassured Him.

New York Telegraph: An actor approached Herbert Gresham in front of the New Amsterdam theater.

"Am I addressing Herbert Cresham?" he began.

"You are," replied Mr. Gresham.

"Well, I have been idle for a long time," continued the other. "Could you lend me a dollar? I completely lost my nerve at the time of the Titanic disaster."

"No, you didn't," retorted Mr. Gresham, as he quickly sidestepped.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Danger Signals.

When some engineer, peering out of his cab, runs past a signal set against him, with the usual disaster to follow, the world is swift in condemnation. When some captain, careless of the wailing siren, piles his ship up on the rocks, we join the chorus of blame that descends on his unhappy head. The folly of disobeying warnings is apparent enough when exhibited by other people.

But, practically, how many of us are laughing at lights along the way that show red and speak of danger. A man ignores the ache or pain that indicates something wrong in his physical system. He disregards a signal bidding him "take care." Or it may be his mind that begins to play off on him. He cannot remember, cannot think straight or work with zest. The signal bids him take more out-door exercise, get more sleep, or have a change of scene. But in nine cases out of ten he works on in disregard of these monitors of danger.

Warnings that come from others are likewise ignored. There are precepts enough and examples enough to keep us going straight if we were not by nature heedless. No one in ancient or in modern times has ever lived an evil life without suffering the penalty thereof. We see bad habits holding men with a grip of steel. Yet the impression is lost as we reflect that we ourselves are somehow different. Alone of all men we can play with fire and not be burned.

I used to pass frequently in the train a battered old hulk of a vessel stranded in the mud and slowly falling to pieces at the head of a certain harbor. A zealous but not too quick witted advertiser had nailed on it a large sign. Drink Davie's Pure Whisky." It always seemed to me that he had provided unconsciously a graphic and telling parable of the ultimate port to which said whisky might conduct one who made its acquaintance. But no man who begins to drink expects to be a drunkard.

A ghastly number of human wrecks are strewn across the years through following advice like the above. We have abundant demonstration of the fact that "at the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." It is a pet but fatal delusion of many people that they are to draw the fangs of any venomous beast they may choose to handle.

After all our centuries of education mankind is still astoundingly credulous. No amount of chastisement apparently can make us wise. The great great liner speeds through the night after repeated warnings of icebergs near. Cities are rebuilt about the base of moutains again and again shaken with earthquakes and swept with molten streams of lava. The village works placidly on for hours after a messenger on a foam-flecked horse has ridden down the valley telling of a tottering reservoir.

There are perils of the body and there are perils of the soul. And the first are not more to be dreaded than the second. It is not enough to go through life with a whole skin if one's moral nature is in tatters. Vice may make one a bankrupt and a beggar. It may leave him with fortune wrecked, with body diseases, with mind unbalanced. Whether it does these more obvious things or no an even worse vengeance is certain. It means the death of purity, of peace, of honor, of hope. It means the extinction of the life of God within. There is no death to be feared like the death of the soul. "Wherefore, let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lets he fall."

A STUDY IN FREE TRADE

By SAVOYARD

Washington, Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Only a few weeks ago the city of Antwerp engaged in a triumphant carnival in commemoration of the commercial freedom she bought just half a century ago and paid for it cash in hand. Here is an account of it that I clipped from a newspaper:

"It is the celebration of the recovery of Antwerp of the freedom of the river Scheldt, in July, 1863, by means of a cash payment of $8,000,000 to the Dutch government. In return for this Holland surrendered her treaty rights to levy tolls amounting anywhere from 70 cents to $1 per ton on shipping passing up the river.

"Then after its long sleep of more than 300 years prosperity came back to Antwerp, trade began to flourish once more, foreign shipping made it their principal port of call, new docks were built, and the population of the city increased from 40,000, to which it had dwindled, into near 700,000 today. If Antwerp was enabled to thus buy the freedom of the river from Holland, it was because the money for the purpose was advanced by England in a loan which has long been repaid."

Today Antwerp is the second port of Continental Europe, her annual trade, $1,121,654,799, and the fifth port of the entire world, surpassed only by New York, London, Hamburg and Liverpool.

• • •

Then the United Netherlands had their struggle for liberty against the Spain of Phillip II., the closing decade of the sixteenth century. Antwerp was the first port of the entire world, and so continued until she fell before the military prowess of Spain under the the direction of the military genius of Alexander Farnese, son of Margaret of Parma, who was daughter, by the loft hand, of Charles V., emperor of Germany and king of Spain.

In military annals there are few chapters more thrilling than the siege of Antwerp. Farnese was the first captain of that age of great soldiers. 'Twas he not only discomfited, but he humiliated, Henry of Navarre in the mighty game of war. He stands in the front rank among the elite of the sons of Mars who did bloody work between the pagan era of Julius Caesar and the Christian era of Napoleon Bonaparte. It is doubtful if Belisarius or Marlborough was a greater general.

• • •

I do not remember how long that historic siege lasted. Certainly it was more than a year, and the defense was as desperate as the assault was heroic; but the genius and the force of Farnese finally prevailed and the city fell. There is scandal that Amsterdam, a sister Dutch city, did not contemplate this misfortune that overtook the Netherlands as an altogether unmixed evil, and made Amsterdam the first port of the commercial world.

"On form," as the race-horse men say, the subsequent siege of Ostand, carried to a like successful issue by Spinola, commander of the Spanish army, was the most heroic defense in history, in this—there was no town left when it fell; but it was on the coast and after defending every house till it crumbled, the Dutch got on their ships and stole away. Spinola got nothing other than a barren sand, but he got that and it was a famous victory. Ostend is a very heroic name in European geographical nomenclature.

• • •

But the fall of Antwerp took that city from the high estate that had long been hers. She was on the Catholic side of the pale, and Holland had little love for her—beside, Holland was interested in Amsterdam and thus Antwerp languished and lost her place.

Napoleon seized the town and added it to his empire. His tremendous genius saw the advantage it gave him. Had he been content with, or rather had he been allowed, ten years of peace, he would have made Antwerp the first commercial port of the world. After Trafalgar the Corsican was disgusted with the sea, but there is no doubt that he contemplated the construction of a fleet at Antwerp that would have been a match for all England's navy, and he built a basin there preparatory to the work, but either his ceaseless ambition, or the frantic fears of England and the continent, would not allow him rest, and when he fell Antwerp was a negligible quantity among the immense assets of his vast estate.

• • •

But in 1863 Antwerp regained the blessing of free trade, paid cash for it, and we see how it has advantaged her and all Belgium. There are tales that she is now expending enormous sums improving the harbor and constructing tunnels under the river with a view to surpassing Hamburg as the first port of the continent. There is talk of a canal connecting with Germany, that, if consummated, will divert to her an immense shipping now enjoyed by her rival, Hamburg.

And there is no doubt that if Belgium were a part of the German empire Antwerp would soon be the first port of the continent, but Belgium is a dish that Germany will not sit down to until she has whipped England, a rather tough job, as Germany knows. Ere now Germany would have licked England had she thought herself man enough for the job.

• • •

You ask what the foregoing rigmarole has to do with a place in an American newspaper.

I'll tell you—the Democratic tariff, ere ten years, will do for American trade what the lifting of the ban, the breaking of the shackle, did for the commerce of Antwerp.

That is what it has to do with American journalism and that is why I writ it.

The DOCTOR'S HELPS

By DONALD McCASKEY, M. D.

Member of Staff, General Hospital, Lancaster, Pa.; Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine

FOR A PERSISTENT BRONCHIAL CATARRH

A correspondent, "F. L. C.," writes:

"Will you kindly give me a remedy through the Doctor's Helps, for my bronchial catarrh? I am almost always choked up, and am unable to obtain relief thus far in my ailment. It seems as though I never will be successful in the attempt to clear my throat. The effort becomes most distressing, particularly because I can never succeed. In order to escape catching cold, I have been wearing heavy underclothing. I am afraid to go without it. What shall I do about this heavy clothing? Can I take cold in the air no matter whether I am perspiring or not, and no matter whether I feel chilly up the back? I have been taking a patent medicine. Do you think that hot water weakens the heart? When I feel sufficiently strong where would you recommend that I go for the summer on a vacation? Would you advise mountain air or the seashore. I have been confined to the house for the past three months with a sprained ankle. I have had four doctors treating the pain and swelling. I have used alcohol and iodine. Still I cannot go out. I forgot to explain that when I perspire it mostly occurs on the back of the head and behind the ears. What do you think causes this? I have been reading your information to the public in the Doctor's Helps, and I thought you would be kind enough to advise me what to do. You will confer a great favor to me who am in great misery with my ailments."

By all means wear heavy clothing so long as you are chilly. The fact that you are unable to avoid catching cold and are affected by a cold so easily indicates one of two things. Your system is either unduly overloaded with waste substances that are depressing you and keeping up a constant irritation of your system, especially your bronchial tubes and lung cells, or else there is some tubercular involvement which has lodged within your lung. Your letter says nothing as to whether you have been losing weight, running a temperature or presenting any other symptoms indicative of tuberculosis. From the meager information you have given me I am inclined to believe that the basis of your trouble is not tubercular, but rather the result of an accumulation of poisonous irritants within your system. These come from improper food and nourishment. First of all you must make up your mind to stick to the following treatment:

Have your druggist make up twelve separate powders of ten grains each of powdered calomel. Procure from him also one quart of cold-pressed castor oil. Once each week, say every Friday night or Saturday night, whichever is most suitable, take one of the powders. Wash this down with a glass of hot water. Two hours afterward follow the powder with half a glass of castor oil, which has been warmed on the stove. I mean one half a glassful. This is not a mistake, but ONE HALF A GLASSFUL. Understand me, please. Do not take any less. Cut out all drugs. Bathe twice a week, and drink no beer, wines or other liquors. If there is nothing deep-seated within your lungs, your bronchial trouble will soon be cleared up. You will have to keep your system cleaned up, however, and maintain it on its new level of health. Otherwise you will slump back to your old condition. Let me hear from you after three months.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

Fascinating Science.

THE MEANING OF EVOLUTION. By Samuel Christian Schmucker. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.50 net.

Dr. Schmucker has succeeded admirably in three achievements:

First, to tell the story of evolution clearly and, while not by any means in words of one syllable, so that anybody may grasp it.

Second, to cover his subject with thoroughness of scope and depth, without departing from his fixed purpose to keep it lucid and easily understood.

Third, to write a remarkably entertaining work on science, with theory interestingly illustrated by familiar instances.

There are charming side trips, such as the story of the English sparrow in this country as an illustration of adaptation for the species. Incidentally, he gives the encouragement of his opinion that the English sparrow has about reached its due balance, and will not further increase.

While it is not a child's book, the average child of normal intelligence and taste for knowledge will get from it a clear idea of a pretty wide sweep of natural science, and will be entertained in the bargain. Grown folk who have no special training in the sciences will find in the volume good entertainment and easily digested knowledge.

An Inspiring Essay.

LINCOLN AND SLAVERY. By Albert E. Pillsbury. Boston and New York: Houghton-Mifflin company. For sale in Duluth by the Glass Block store. 75 cents net.

In this inspiring and timely essay the author sets a-right a vision of Abraham Lincoln which late tendencies have put slightly awry, and incidentally paints a vivid and eloquent word picture of this greatest figure in American history. Of this picture the following paragraph is a specimen:

Within such narrow bounds of time lies a career the like of which is not to be found in history. In the elements of wonder and marvel, the story of Abraham Lincoln's life and death is without parallel or example. From the mean cabin in the Kentucky woods to the final peak of transfiguration, it moves in the successive acts of a great tragic drama, reaching the high-water mark of human achievement and sounding every note in the gamut of human emotion.

• • •

By turns a man of jest and laughter and again "dripping" as a friend said, with melancholy; ranging in his moods from unfathomable plainness to the heights of the human intellect; a shrewd, practical lawyer and politician dwelling among shadows, dreaming dreams, seeing portents and feeling mysterious influences that affected him not; the most unpretentious of men, set in the homeliest framework, thinking with the power of Plato, seeing with the eye of the Sibyl, speaking like the Hebrew prophets.

Mr. Pillsbury's essay manifestly is called out by recent evidences of a dangerous current in published views of Lincoln and his career. It is to the question thus expressed that he addresses himself with clearness and vigor:

Doubts are cast upon his title, by indirection if not directly. Was Abraham Lincoln a moral hero, whose places is among the foremost of mankind, or was he a mere time-server, a mere Union-saver, wielding power with the cold hand of political expediency, careless that the fate of a race or of freedom itself might be staked upon the issue, who came hesitating and reluctant to Emancipation and decreed the freedom of millions as an unavoidable more in the game of war? Which is the real Abraham Lincoln?

A fair indication of the character of the author's reply to this question may be gained from the following:

His whole life, now open to the world, was an all-embracing synathy with the oppressed and downtrodden that beat in every pulsation of his heart. To hate slavery was in his blood. It was a law of his being.

Every lover of Lincoln—and that ought to include every patriotic soul—will rejoice in the spirit of this vigorous and gripping essay.

A Book That Brings Fragrant Memories.

MY WANDERINGS. The Reminiscences of Henry Clay Barnabee. Boston: Chapple Publishing company. $2.50.

It is somewhat startling to be reminded that it is nearly a generation since the palmy days of the Bostonians, of "Robin Hood" and of Henry Clay Barnabee as the sheriff of Nottingham. But it is pleasant indeed to find that this splendid actor and singer is "hale, hearty and nearly 80," as he subscribes himself to the photograph which forms the frontispiece of this book.

Yet it is not so many years since the Bostonians passed off the stage regretted by thousands, and there surely will be a hearty welcome for this book from the hosts everywhere who have fragrant memories of pleasant evenings spent across the footlights from Marie Stone, Jessie Bartlett Davis, W. H. Macdonald, Eugene Cowles, Josephine Bartlett, George B. Frothingham and—last but never least—Henry Clay Barnabee.

It is a lively and cheerful account, even when disaster has to be treated, of the life and stage career of a stage favorite dear to the hearts and memories of the American theater-going public. It is full of anecdote and good-humored philosophy, and it contains much of great interest not only about its author but about the stage of his day and those who adorned it with him. Of the author himself, Harry B. Smith, the librettist, put it truly when he said that Barnabee's Sheriff of Nottingham "deserves a full length portrait in the theatrical hall of fame beside Jefferson's Rip, Raymond's Col. Sellers and Florence's Capt. Cuttle."

The story of the Bostonians, a noble epoch in American musical history, is told in full, and the book will be appreciated for its own sake as well as for the sake of its author. Incidentally, Mr. Barnabee, who is and has long been an enthusiastic Free Mason, takes pride in telling how he and others were the first to introduce music to emphasize the ritual, in the exemplification of which he was for many years famous among Masons.

The book deserves, and we are certain it will get, a wide circulation.

Country Versus City.

THE DESIRED WOMAN. By Will N. Harben. New York: Harper & Bros. $1.30 net.

One might search far and diligently without discovering any such combination of sordidness and sweetness as Mr. Harben has produced in "The Desired Woman." Making his plea for the purity and wholesomeness of life in the country, needless to say the author shows the sordidness in the city and the sweetness in the country. Whether one agrees with him or not, one cannot help but be impressed by the force of his implied arguments and the beauty of the story.

Richard Mostyn, Atlanta banker, is shown as a weak creature, entangled with a woman and hounded by a man whom he had wronged financially, building on the wreck his own career. Mostyn, disgusted with the city, goes to the hills of Georgia for a vacation, and there meets Dolly Drake, a school teacher, daughter of a mountaineer and a singularly sophisticated young woman for her position in life. Virtually pledged to her, Mostyn returns to the city only to allow himself to drift into a loveless marriage for financial advancement.

Jarvis Saunders, Mostyn's banking partner, has a farm near the Drakes. He, too, loves Dolly and guards her carefully through the affliction of a blasted love. When years later Mostyn's child dies and his wife takes her own life after fleeing with another man, he returns to the country only to find that Dolly pities him but loves Saunders. The book is rounded out by the development of Mostyn's good side, and he is revealed at the last as regenerated and contented, while Dolly and Saunders are a happy wedded pair.

The story is well told, well worth reading and well worth keeping for future reading.

A Clever Society Satire.

THE SOCIAL RUBIAYAT OF A BUD. By Mrs. Ambrose Mallson Wills. Decorated and illustrated by Elsie A. Harrison. San Francisco: Paul Elder & Co. 75 cents net.

Here is exceptionally clever verse, with exquisite book-making in paper, ink and pressmanship, and admirable illustrations and decorations by an English artist. The author shows behind the scenes in Vanity Fair with Cupid out of work while the up-to-date bud is mistress of her own heart, which she unlocks at will but only with a key of gold.

The social whirl—like the silly movements of the swarms of insects often to be seen on a summer's day, that whirl and turn an endless, footless round—is well hit off in this extract:

"To Climber, Snob, the Bore and to the Bored, -
'Tis but an ignis fatuuis, and the horde
Who chase it to the Dawn of Reckoning, find Upon the Roll of Fate a Minus scored."

The somewhat cynic quality of the satire is exemplified by this:

Adown the ages rings the vocal din
Of tedious texts on man and woman's sin,
But, chiefly, that on which the preacher pounds
Is woman's love of gold, with man thrown in.

The row goes on—we're bored by prigs and sages.
As each his turn in wordy onslaught rages,
Nor alters one the woman's pet position—
Her heart's her asset versus man—and wages.

Bread and Butter Causation.

ECONOMIC DETERMINISM. By Lida Parce. Chicago: Charles H. Kerr & Co. $1.00.

This work is a rather elementary but lucid explanation of the theory of economic determinism, otherwise known as the economic interpretation of history. Mrs. Parce goes back to prehistoric times and follows evolution from man in the animal stage to man today. She sketches the history of mankind briefly, but points out directly the economic reasons for historical conditions and changes. The book is a strong argument for the principles of Socialism and also for the political and economic equality of woman with man.

The Tale of a Light-o'-Love.

JOAN THURSDAY. By Louis Joseph Vance, author of "The Brass Bowl," "The Black Bag," etc. Pictures by Oscar Cesare. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.30 net.

This is a much more ambitious flight than Mr. Vance, author of several best-selling "thrillers," has yet attempted. And in it he has done vastly better work than he has ever done before. His story is good, his background of theatrical life and characters is sound and unassailable, but his heroine appeals to scorn rather than to sympathy. Of course, she isn't a "heroine," but merely a leading character; and the flaw in the book is that in the beginning the reader is led to regard her as its heroine, and to expect better things from her than she develops.

Joan Thursby—"Thursday" by accident and adopted for stage purposes—is a department store girl, living in a squalid and sordid family, who breaks away from her wretched surroundings and seeks a life on the stage. Accident throws her in contact with John Matthias, a gentleman whose disinterested help stands out in relief against the pack of human wolves that beset a pretty girl who seeks to carve her own way. She fastens her affections upon him, as much as they are capable of fastening on anything; but grows weary of tame virtue and while he is away goes on the stage in a vaudeville sketch in company with a dissipated but attractive actor whom she deserts after she has married him. She passes from one male hand to another on her way to a splendid success in the "legitimate," with inevitable tragedy in the wake of her triumph.

It is a kind of a female "Rake's Progress," and the term does Joan little injustice if any. Joan is brainless and soulless, willing to sell herself for personal gain.

Nevertheless, the story attracts, and its stage pictures and its pictures of types are striking and true and entertaining.

Books for Children.

A Boy Reporter.

DONALD KIRK, THE MORNING RECORD CORRESPONDENT. By Edward Mott Woolley, author of "Donald Kirk, the Morning Record Copy-Boy," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.20 net.

In this volume Mr. Woolley, who is better known for his stirring stories of business life than for his juvenile tales, resumes the story of Donald Kirk with his adventures at Larchwood academy, a "prep" school on the Hudson, where he acts as school correspondent for a morning paper. Here he works on his own responsibility, and when he is "scooped" he tries to retrieve himself by some daring adventures in news-getting. Ordway is again an important factor in his career, and stands to the boy as an ideal reporter to follow. Donald's conflict with the boys of a rival academy, his wild ride on an iceboat, and his final telegraphing "stunt," are a few of the incidents in the course of this lively story for boys of 14 and upward.

Hunting With a Camera.

NED BREWSTER'S BEAR HUNT. By Chauncey J. Hawkins, author of "Ned Brewster's Year in the Big Woods," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.20 net.

Following his year in the New Brunswick woods, Ned Brewster spends a season in the bear country. With his father and two guides, Moss and George, he goes hunting with a camera, and his attempts to snapshot Bruin at home make entertaining reading. His encounters are thrilling. He stalks other creatures as well, and makes a new collection of pets for the camp. He gains more knowledge of woodcraft and animal life, and gives promises of proving even a better sportsman than his father. Every boy will envy him his summer and his experiences. It makes good and informing literature for boys of 12 to 16.

An American Lad in India.

HENLEY ON THE BATTLE LINE. By Frank E. Channon, author of "An American Boy at Henley," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.50.

With this book Mr. Channon completes the story of Roger Jackson, an American boy who went to the large English school at Henley. The story finds Roger and his old school friends Dobson and Berry in India. The two English lads are officers in the British forces stationed there, and the American boy has joined his father, who is an engineer in charge of bridge construction on the Afghan border. A revolt by native tribes occurs, and Roger finds that his old friends the Maxwells are imprisoned as hostages, and joins the army as war correspondent. There are plenty of adventures, all well told and thrilling. The story is for boys of 12 and upward.

Another "Buddie" Book.

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF BUDDIE. By Anna Chapin Ray, author of "The Teddy Books," "The Sidney Books," etc. Boston. Little, Brown & Co. $1.50.

The "Buddie" books need no introduction to a large circle of admirers of this author of wholesome and entertaining juveniles. This is the third and last of them, and it brings together in New York for a final good time Buddie, his father and Aunt Julia, Chub, Mr. Kent, Teresa, Ebenezer and several attractive new boys and girls. Chub spends the winter with Buddie, and the two have exciting adventures together. A shipwreck, school games, a "party," and the successful launching of a school paper are among the episodes that occupy their energies and engage the interest of the young reader. The book is for boys of 10 to 15.

A Tale of Boys' Sports.

THE FRESHMAN EIGHT. By Louis W. Quirk, author of "The Fourth Down," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.20 net.

This, the second volume of the Wellworth college series, is a lively tale of character, school life and athletics, and deals with the same group of freshmen who appeared in "The Fourth Down." The sport which mainly engages the lads is rowing, in which they meet serious obstacles before their efforts culminate in a race at the Poughkeepsie regatta. There are a unique ball game, a foot race, a wrestling tournament, a boxing bout, etc., to add to the rapid action and lively humor of the tale, which is for boys of 14 and upward.

• • •

Azalea and Others.

ANNIE LAURIE AND AZALEA. By Ella W. Peattie, author of "Azalea," etc. Chicago: Reilly & Britton company. 75 cents net.

Mrs. Peattie's ability to charm her juvenile readers is further evidenced in this pleasant tale about Annie Laurie Pace, who has been invited by Mrs. Carson to join with her daughter, Carin, and Azalea McBirney in instruction under gentle Miss Parkhurst, and who does not find the welcome and comradeship she had expected. First there is merely cold aversion, but one day a healthy explosion clears the air, and the Triple Alliance results. The disappearance of Annie Laurie's inheritance gives the Triple Alliance something to do. Search is in vain. Suspicion falls on Sam Disbrow, Annie's friend, and his father. The "Doll Lady" and her story bring on the "wandering fever," and the three girls take to the road in the vague hope of encountering the vanished Disbrows. The mountain mist, a megaphone and a bad conscience work together to clear up the mystery and to bring Annie Laurie her own.

A Youthful Editor.

THE BOY EDITOR. By Winifred Kirkland, author of "The Home-Comers," etc. Boston and New York: Houghton-Mifflin company. For sale in Duluth by the Glass Block. $1 net.

The hero of this entertaining tale for boys and girls is an ambitious student who has fallen into the way of living entirely in his books—a good place to visit but a poor place to live. A serious mistake which he makes awakens him to a sense of the real world about him, and he sets out to achieve something really useful.

A Brilliant Juvenile.

BEHIND THE GARDEN WALL. Magic verses of the under-side of things by Robert Wallace. Blue Bird edition, with illustrations and decorations by Elsinore Robinson Crowell. San Francisco: Paul Elder & Co. $1 net.

In this clever conceit there is bright and breeze verse, fortified by whimsical humor and old-fashioned bits of morals, in which nature speaks for herself through the little people and the common things that lie near at hand—birds and beasts, beetles and bunnies. It is done into a highly attractive volume by Paul Elder & Co., makers of distinctive books who are holding high the standard of art in book-making. The book is for children, but there is much in the art of it that will appeal to their elders.

Among the Magazines.

Writing in Harper's Magazine for October, V. Stefanssen tells some interesting anecdotes showing the difficulties of conveying the true idea of Christianity to the Eskimo mind. "We settled down," he says, "to live with these Colville people, and commenced making preparations for the winter. The only thing to do was to catch fish. Now it seems that in Kotsebue Sound, where the Christian doctrines of the Colville people had originated, fishing is by nets only. As fishing is practically the only work done there, the missionary had probably said to them, 'Do not put out your fishnets on Sunday,' meaning thereby, 'Do not work on Sunday.' However that may be, the prohibition came to our community in the form: 'God has said you must not use fish-nets on Sunday.' Accordingly, the entire community pulled their fish-nets out of the river Saturday night, fished with hooks all day Sunday, and put the nets back into the water Monday morning." In the same number, in an article on "A Forgotten Slavery of Colonial Days," Prof. Jernegan of the University of Chicago, tells some interesting facts in regard to certain famous men who were descended from the indentured white servants sent to the colonies from England. "All the Way to Freemantle" is an interesting description by Norman Duncan of his voyage to Australia. The fiction includes "A Little Heaven," by Maud Christian Aymar; "The Tax at Lipi Lipi," by Eleanor Stuart; "Miss Mahala and Johnny," by Harriet Prescott Spafford; "Purple and Fine Linen," by Ednan Aiken; "A Homespun Wizardry," by Alice Brown.

The cover design of the Popular Mechanics Magazine for October is a rich color scheme depicting the sailing wheelbarrows of China guided by oriental farmers en route for market. An article explains how the Chinaman uses wind power and spares himself. We seldom realize what an important part in modern existence modes and means of transportation have assumed. It is a far cry from the Chinese sailbarrow to the latest type of automobile, also described in the October magazine, which uses kerosene as fuel, with not only a decided cost reduction but high degree of efficiency as well. Apropos of transportation and its problems there is an interesting account of a New York newspaper reporter's record-breaking trip around the world, made in about thirty-six days, in which he resorted to the use of motorboats, flying boats, and automobiles, when ships and trains failed him.

• • •

One of the most valuable contributions to the October Woman's Home Companion is an article by Mary Heaton Vorse entitled "The New Freedom For Little Children." It is the first of a series reporting the Montessori principle of education as it may be used by the American mother at home. Other unusual contributions to the October Companion are: "What A Little Knowledge of Music Means," by Ignace Jan Paderewski, the celebrated pianist; "The Confession of a 'Heart-Throb Specialist,'" by Anna Steese Richardson; "A Good Time" as defined by Charles E. Jefferson, pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle in New York city; "Housekeeping With Plants" in which a famous horticulturist tells what plants may be grown indoors and how to take care of them; and "What My Children Have Done For Me" by a successful business woman. Grace Margaret Gould, the fashion editor, has filled her department, which covers nearly twenty pages, with the latest information, beautifully illustrated, and with practical suggestions which women can use in the business of making their clothes economically and yet fashionably.

• • •

In the Smart Set for October there is a story called "The Wedding" by Maarten Maartens, dealing with a strange and unusual marriage on the high seas during a terrible storm. Mr. Maartens is undeniably one of the great modern masters of short story writing. Then there is a story in George Bronson-Howard's series of underworld life, "Pages from the Book of Broadway," which gives the inside history of some of the most notorious confidence games ever practiced on the public. It is called "From the Memoirs of a Prominent Citizen." Barry Benefield, the author of that sensational little masterpiece, "Daughters of Joy," comes to the front again with an equally attractive story of a professional beggar, entitled "The Tear Squeezer." "For Sale," by Albert Payson Terhune, is the story of a beautiful show girl, who, by a trick of fate, is thwarted in her desire to sell herself to the highest bidder.

• • •

One of the most astonishing contributions to the October American Magazine is an article by a Yale teacher entitled "The Village of a Thousand Souls." The author of the article, Arnold L. Gesell, has made a complete investigation of the 220 families that constitute a certain small village in the Middle West. His investigation reaches back through one whole generation—thirty-three years. The result of his investigation indicate an appalling amount of feeble-mindedness, insanity, alcoholism and general delinquency in small villages.

In the same issue Ray Stannard Baker writes a really wonderful article about Col. George W. Goethals, the builder of the Panama canal. It is an article containing more specific and interesting information about the canal and its remarkable builder, than has been collected before. Another interesting article in the number is a true story of a morphine fiend who reformed. This article is in a series entitled "Those Who Have Come Back"—a series of true stories of people who, failures or disgraced at 40, have succeeded in "coming back" to lives of usefulness.

When a chivalrous Englishman tells a girl that he is engaged to another girl, in order to put her at ease with him in an embarrassing situation, and later tells a company of conventional people that he is engaged to the first girl, to save her from criticism, it leads to a few complications. Getting in and out of complications seems to be the particular business of "Pat," the charming heroine of the novelette in October Ainslee's by Eleanor Hoyt Brainerd. Being a clever American girl, of course she gets out of them, and gets the hero out with her, most satisfactory, in the end.

• • •

"The Adder," by Ouida, opening novelette in October Young's Magazine, is one of the most enthralling pieces of fiction put forth by any magazine for many months. Other stories in this number are: "On Woman's Night," by Glad Madone; "The Liar," by Sally Underhill; "My First Love Affair," by Catherine Carr; "In Passing," by Maud Palmer Hart; "The Man's Payment," by Nalbro Bartley; "The Whisperings of Reason," by Frank Lovell Nelson; "Entertaining Virginia," by Med Ransom; "The Basic Law," by Vera Connolly," and "The Heart of Ismael," by Wallace Gillpatrick.

"What Makes a Football Player?" Brains or brawn? The answer is told in a most interesting football article in the October issue of Outing. "Making a Game Refuge" is an account of how two men found a new recreation and at the same time accomplished results of immense value to everyone interested in game bird preservation. This issue of Outing is the best well-rounded number of the year. Everything for the outdoor lover — nothing superfluous. "The Flying Boat," "Common Sense in Rowing," "Hunting with the Huicholes," "Wild Pets" and a host of other articles for the camper, hunter and fisherman.

Life has departed this week from its usual custom and has published a serious number, full of serious material about war. Among other things, there are contributions from William T. Taft, Lyman Abbott, Andrew Carnegie, Norman Angell, Gen. Funston and many others upon the subject, "Will Universal Peace Come Within One Hundred Years?"

In the October number of the Metropolitan begins "Joseph Pulitzer, the Reminiscences of a Secretary," by Alleyne Ireland. This first installment gives a brief account of Mr. Pulitzer's career up to the time Mr. Ireland became one of his secretaries. It also tells of his introduction to Mr. Pulitzer and some of the habits and peculiarities of the latter. It is well told and intensely interesting. In "Lean Years in Egypt," Edward Hungerford tells what is the matter with Wall street. Zelie Emerson, an American suffragette, in "My Prison Experiences," writes about her adventures in an English prison. This is a particularly strong fiction number, with stories by Richard Harding Davis, W. W. Jacobs, Herman Scheffauer and others, in addition to Larry Evans' great serial. The number contains the usual departments and pictorial features.

Hesketh Prichard, author of "Don Q.," is writing a series of romances of great prisons for the Popular Magazine. They are mostly concerned with remarkable escapes, and are printed under the title, "Prison Versus Ingenuity." The story in the current issue of the Popular is called "The Cage," and recounts the terrible experiences of a man incarcerated in the Chateau de Tartas.

• • •

"The Man in the White House," by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in the October number of Pulitzer's Magazine, is an article in which Mr. Bryan gives the public his candid opinion of the policy pursued by Mr. Wilson since assuming charge of the administration. While no doubt there are some who will take exceptions to the statements of Mr. Bryan, yet it gives an insight into the president's future policies that causes the article to be one of national interest.

The Wide World for October still bears out the correctness of the saying which declares that "truth is stranger than fiction." This issue of what is really a very remarkable publication contains stories and articles dealing with a score of different countries

Club business and club social affairs have almost entirely eclipsed other society events during the past week. Many important and interesting club events are also planned for the coming week.

Two of the largest affairs were the musicale at Mrs. John F. Killorin's home Tuesday evening given for the members of the Bishop's club and the reception at the Spalding hotel Wednesday afternoon for the members of the Twentieth Century club at which Miss Maria Sanford was a guest of honor. Several hundred women attended this reception and a musical program was given by George H. Madison, baritone accompanied by Miss Louise Murchison and Miss Gladys Reynolds soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury.

Two lectures by Prof. Sanford under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club proved literary feasts of great worth to two large audiences, and Prof. Thomas Dickinson of the University of Wisconsin gave an especially interesting lecture to the Drama League members Wednesday evening as the first of a series of four to be given during the winter.

The Cecilian society opened its year's work Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alexander M. Gow with an especially interesting program. The president Mrs. Archibald L. McDonald gave her address to the members and Mrs. Arthur N. Collins, Mrs. Donna Riblette Flaaten and Mrs. Louis Dworshak were the musicians who gave the program. Mrs. Dworshak and Mrs. H. R. Elliott will entertain the members at their next meeting, Nov. 6 at Mrs. Dworshak's home, 129 West Second street.

Annual meetings of the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church and the Children's Home board demanded attention from a large number of women and the annual business meeting of the Aftenro society was held Wednesday afternoon.

A reception for Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Rice given Wednesday evening at the First M. E. church parlors was attended by more than one thousand people and an "open house" at the Y. W. C. A. last evening and a reception for the teachers of the city at the Masonic temple, also last evening both attracted a large number of people.

Lectures.

Next week two lectures of special interest will be given one on Tuesday afternoon at the library club room at 2:30 o'clock by Dr. Raymond Phelan of the University Extension course bureau on "The History and Characteristics of American Cities" at the first meeting of the Civic Study class and the other by Dr. Mabel Ulrich of Minneapolis on "Eugenics and Heredity" at the Y. W. C. A. assembly hall at 10:30 a. m.

WILL WORK FOR BETTER CLASS OF MUSIC IN DULUTH THEATERS

GOOD music in the moving picture theaters" is the slogan which has been adopted by a number of the musicians of the city and they are earnestly at work on the matter to to see what can be done. Miss Mabel Fulton said in speaking of the matter.

"I know that people do like good music just as well as the trashy ragtime music which is so often given at the moving picture theaters. I don't mean by that, Beethoven sonatas or any of the deeper classical studies, but I mean the pretty little songs and compositions full of melody and real music, and I know that the patronage of the theaters wouldn't be lessened if managers demanded higher class music."

"The moving picture entertainments are an established factor in the amusements of the day," said Mrs. E. Frank Barker, "and I certainly hope that we may have the better class of music given so that one may go and really enjoy the whole hour. I know that a great many people simply will not go to the moving picture theaters because of the music which they hear there and if the managers only realized this they would feel that it was to their advantage from a business standpoint to give the better music."

There is now considerable interest stirred up in the movement and musicians say that they will work for it consistently.

Always Beautiful

Whatever her rank in society—a woman should always be beautiful; it is her part in life, almost her duty.

Although advancing years, sickness, grief, anxiety may dim her beauty, fade her complexion and produce wrinkles, there is a relief—

GOURAUD'S Oriental Cream

It renders the skin like the softness of velvet, leaving it clear and pearly white. A daily necessity for the ladies' toilet, whether at home or while traveling, as it protects the skin from all weather blemishes. It is a perfect non-greasy toilet cream, and positively will not cause or encourage the growth of hair, which every lady should guard against when selecting a toilet preparation.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Don't Use Headache Powders Recklessly.

A girl friend of mine died a short time ago of some trouble unnamed and unknown. Relatives and friends took it upon themselves to learn just what it might be, and today the cause has been laid to some brain disarrangement concerning which they are still more or less in doubt. The girl suffered much with headaches and was addicted to the use of headache powders, which may or may not have had a bearing upon her death.

The point is that there is a great army of men and women suffering with headaches who treat them regardless of their cause by way of the harmless looking white powder that slips down with a draft of water. Its power is magical. Almost instantly there is a lessening of the pain and in ten or fifteen minutes the patient who was quite beside himself has almost forgotten that a headache ever existed for him. Apparently all he thinks about is the relief and when it can be secured so easily why worry about the source of these aches. They can be assuaged for a dime any time.

In all ages and in all walks of life are human beings treating an aching head by this means. On comes one of these nerve-throbbing aches that starts just above the eyes and widens in a circle until the entire head is a fiery furnace. Then out comes a neatly folded oblong of white paper which is kept for just this emergency, and if perchance the contents of one will not cure it, then two will.

One is not apt to be over critical or curious concerning the nature of the little powder that relieves torture. But anyone of ordinary common sense does not have to delve very deep to be assured a pinch of powder must have some peculiar properties to put an end in twenty minutes to a headache that has been growing to its unendurable proportions for the better part of the afternoon.

Headaches or any other continued ache constitute danger signals. They announce a disturbance which requires the best medical attendance and advice, provided one does not know of himself just what creates the trouble. Some people require glasses to relieve the strain and vanquish the pain in the head. Others have a disarranged digestion which can be traced to lax and irregular habits of eating. Others read too much at a stretch, often under a poor light.

If you can decide yourself what occasions the trouble, and what will benefit it, then you may save the doctor's fees. But whatever you do, do not put your whole faith in headache powders. Get at the root of the trouble by conforming to regular and proper habits of living or else through the advice of a physician.

HELPING HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS TO HELP THEMSELVES

Business men and housewives of Duluth are learning the value of the "self help bureau" at the Central high school, which is being conducted by Miss Ethel Rockwood and Miss Mary Goodhue, two members of the faculty for the girls in the school, and almost daily applications are received by them from people who want help in their work for a few hours each day.

"Can you send me some girl who will take care of baby for a few hours today?" or, "I would like some one to do some writing for me this afternoon" are usual appeals and nearly always some one can be found who will just answer the needs and an opportunity is given to some girl to earn a little money.

It is only recently that this method of aiding girls to help themselves while attending school has been adopted and Duluth is one of the few cities that has such a bureau established in the high school.

There are numerous positions that can be filled by high school students and Miss Goodhue and Miss Rockwood supply girls for office work, including typewriting and stenography, clerical work that requires only a few hours' time a day, sewing in private homes, teaching music, nursing and domestic work. The two directors have outlined the plan at meetings of the girls of the various classes and many have already given their names as desiring to have work to help them finish their course.

At a recent meeting of the junior girls Miss Goodhue outlined the Smith college plan whereby those desiring positions are given them through a medium conducted like a regular employment agency.

Mabel Potter Dagget, a magazine writer will shortly publish a story dealing with the plan as worked out here and other cities and schools have been writing in for the plan of work that they may take it up.

ENTERTAIN PATIENTS.

Christian Endeavor Members Give Program at Nopeming Sanitarium.

FORTY members of the Christian Endeavor union went out to Nopeming to the sanitarium there last evening and after a supper served there at 6:30 o'clock a program was given for the patients with violin numbers by Miss Wally Heyman, which were especially popular, and other numbers.

Miss Jessie McGhie sang "O Perfect Day," Mr. and Mrs. Charles Towner sang a duet and Dr. R. W. Bowden gave a short talk on "Love of God." The program was so much appreciated that the visitors promised to return and give a second entertainment some afternoon soon, especially for the children's benefit. Altogether there were about seventy-five in the audience and every number was enthusiastically applauded. Besides the solo numbers there were songs by all of the audience with Miss Lillian Macaskill playing the piano accompaniments and G. A. Andresen, cornetist accompanying.

The different churches represented by Christian Endeavor members last evening were: First Presbyterian church, Baptist church, Pilgrim Congregational, Union, First Christian, Westminster Presbyterian and Smithville.

AFTENRO MEETING.

Officers Re-elected at Annual Meeting Held at Foresters' Hall.

AT the annual meeting of the Aftenro society which was held Wednesday afternoon at the Foresters' hall the officers for the year were re-elected for the coming year as follows: Mrs. J. J. Moe, president; Mrs. H. Hovde, vice president; Mrs. O. T. Strand, second vice president; Mrs. Anton Ringsred, treasurer; Mrs. H. P. Bjorge, secretary and Mrs. I. N. Sodahl, financial secretary.

The officers reported on last year's work the treasurer's report showing a fund of between $300 and $400 raised from dues and entertainments. The purpose of the society is to raise funds to build a home for aged Norwegians in Duluth and during the year the members of the society expect to plan various means of enlarging the fund.

The adoption of a constitution and by-laws was an important feature of the afternoon.

At the next meeting in November plans for the year will be outlined.

PRESIDENT'S DAY.

Matinee Musicale Will Open Its Season Monday Afternoon.

The formal activities of the Matinee Musicale year will begin Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Masonic Temple, corner of Lake avenue and Second street, when the "President's day" program will be given. Mrs. John A. Stephenson, the new president, will open formalities with the customary greetings and a musical program will be given as follows:

Sonata for 'cello and piano.....
.....Rachmaninoff
Lento—Allegro moderato.....
Andante .....
Allegro Mosso .....
Carlo Fischer and Ruth Alta Rogers.
(a) "Requiem" .....
(b) "Dearest" .....
(c) "A Banjo Song"....Sidney Homer
"Sehnsucht" .....Costello
"I Send My Heart Up to Thee".....
.....Mrs. H. H. A. Beach
Mary Syer Bradshaw.
(a) Cantabile .....Cui
(b) "Le Cygne" .....Saint Saens
(c) Govotte in D .....Popper
Mr. Carlo Fischer.

Mr. Fischer will be accompanied in his solo group by Miss Rogers and Miss Carlotta Simonds will be at the piano during Miss Bradshaw's songs.

American composers alone are represented in the song group of the program, Sidney Homer ranking among the foremost by all critics and classed as first by many. Being the husband of the famous operatic contralto, Louise Homer, it is to be expected that his best contributions to musical literature may be songs adapted to voices of low register, giving therefore additional reason for anticipating Miss Bradshaw's singing Monday. Doors are open to members, each of whom may bring one guest, and also to those planning to join, but they will be closed promptly at 3 o'clock that the introductory conventionalities may be uninterrupted. Doors will be open between numbers for admission of late members.

Piano Round Table.

Miss Josephine Carey will hold the first meeting of the Piano Teachers' Round Table at her studio in the Edison building Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

CLUB NOTES.

Twentieth Century Meetings Planned for Next Week.

THE Twentieth Century club classes are opening for their regular meetings of the year and next week the Art class and the Modern Drama class will hold their first meetings.

The schedule of meetings for this club during the week follows:

Tuesday at 2:30 p. m.—Meeting of the art department at the library clubroom. All interested in this study are cordially invited as plans for the year's work will be outlined under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Schilling, chairman of that department.

Thursday, at 10 a. m.—October meeting of the executive board and all members are requested to attend promptly.

Friday at 10 a. m.—At the guild hall of Trinity pro-cathedral the first meeting of the Modern Drama class will be held. The study of modern English drama will be taken up with the reading of Granville Barker's "The Voysey Inheritance," with Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst as leader. Mrs. Henry Taylor will give a twenty-minute talk on "Granville Barker."

Saturday—Juvenile Drama class at 3 p. m. will meet with Miss Irene Samuelson at Hunter's Park. Mrs. R. B. Liggett will meet with the class and "Nathan Hale" will be read.

CLUB MUSICALE.

Mrs. Killorin Hostess to Bishop's Club—Afternoon Class Meeting.

THE handsome residence of Mrs. John F. Killorin, 2709 Greysolon road was the scene of a delightful musicale on Tuesday evening of this week opening the club year for the members of the Bishop's club. A large number of the members enjoyed the evening's program, being received by Mrs. Killorin, president of the club, and Mrs. W. E. Wessinger.

A most enjoyable musical program, arranged by Miss Theresa Lynn, was given by Miss Helene Egyptiades, soprano, who was heard for the first time in Duluth. She has a delightful voice of good quality and range and her songs were artistically interpreted. Miss Mary Bradbury, pianist, who always delights her hearers with her artistic work, played two piano solos, responding to an enthusiastic encore, and John Longtin, who has been studying in New York, was heard with a great deal of pleasure in tenor solos.

The house was pretty with garden flowers and autumn leaves, and members of the social committee assisted in serving in the dining room.

Afternoon Class.

The afternoon class of the Bishop's club, which is a new department of the club this year, will hold its first meeting next Saturday afternoon, Oct. 11, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. M. H. Kelley, 606 East Second street.

The study of Catholic authors is to be the general work of this class this year and the following program will be given at the meeting next Saturday with Mrs. Edward L. Tuohy as leader: Scripture reading, Miss Jane Crowley, interpretation by Rt. Rev. James McGolrick, D. D.; book review, "Faustula" by John Ayscough, Mrs. Edward L. Tuohy; reading, Miss Florence Flynn; current events, Miss Lydia Poirier.

This meeting is open to all members of the club.

LECTURES ON BURNS.

Prof. Maria Sanford Says He Was Poet of True Democracy.

OF the lives of all the great men none seems quite so tragic as the story of Robert Burns," said Prof. Maria Sanford last evening in her talk on that poet given at the First Baptist church under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club.

She was introduced by A. G. McKnight.

Preceeding the lecture, Mrs. N. F. Hugo, president of the club, welcomed the members and their guests and introduced Phillip Gordon Brown as "Duluth's favorite singer of Scotch songs." He sang "The Lea Rig," and "The Star of Robbie Burns" with delightful expression, Miss Gladys Reynolds playing his accompaniaments. For an encore he gave the ever-loved "Annie Laurie" and was compelled to respond again, giving a part of "The Banks o' Loch Lomond."

Prof. Sanford spoke of Burns as the poet of true democracy expressed in his "Lines to a Mouse" where he claims kinship not only with his human brother, but with the field mouse in the line, "Thy poor earth-born companion."

She praised his songs with their pathos, tenderness and love, wit, tender humor and breadth of descriptive power.

"Whether one admires more profoundly his kindness, pathos, rollicking humor or patriotism," said the speaker, "one stands in reverence of the mind and soul that conceived the lofty thoughts to which his pen gave expression."

Miss Sanford read poems of Robert Burns with her wonderful charm and dramatic quality which were an unusual treat and the audience was genuine in its hearty applause which followed.

Some time during Monday night burglars entered Ryan & Miettunen's store and stole a dozen pairs of shoes, a couple of mackinaw coats and a revolver. Entrance was gained through a rear window. The thieves removed the cash register and several slot machines, and after taking them a short distance from the store the contents were removed. A number of mackinaws were also found a short distance from the store. Gum from one of the slot machines was found scattered along the railroad track east of town and the culprits undoubtedly headed for the Twin Ports. The value of the goods stolen amounted to about $60. A peculiar incident of the robbery was the fact that a mackinaw coat worn by Mr. Ryan for nearly two years was among the goods stolen, while new coats were carried out of the store and left on the ground. A number of suspicious characters were seen about town Monday and without doubt some of them pulled off the robbery.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BACKUS FIRES HIS MANAGER

Officials of Big Power Company Have Scuffle at International Falls.

President of Concern Angered at L. F. Houpt for Alleged Slander.

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 4.—L. F. Houpt, late general manager and vice president of the Minnesota & Ontario Power company, was physically ejected from the office of the company yesterday by E. W. Backus, president of the company.

Mr. Houpt had a desk in the office until yesterday, although a month ago suit was commenced by the company to annul his contract and since that time he has not had recognition as manager. He will attempt to collect his salary, said to be $25,000 a year on a contract for three years.

The ejectment from the office followed the receipt by Mr. Backus of an affidavit in the case connecting the name of Mr. Backus with a scandal.

TOWNS COMBINE TO PUSH DEVELOPMENT

Border Country Commercial Clubs Form Federation at Baudette.

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—An important conference between the Commercial clubs of this city, Baudette, Spooner, Warroad and Roseau was held at Baudette yesterday to form a federation of clubs for more effective work in bringing about the faster development of the northern counties.

The delegates from International Falls were George S. Langland, secretary of the International Falls club, John Doran, George P. Watson and Miss Annie E. Shelland, superintendent of schools.

It was decided to at once make the effort to obtain government bid for the construction of roads through the great tracts of Federal lands in Koochiching, Beltrami and Roseau counties. The road idea was brought to the attention of the clubs by the work of Miss Shelland, superintendent of the Koochiching county schools. The meeting was well attended and those from this city believe the desired result can be quickly obtained in regard to the roads. The organization is intended to be permanent for northern county development.

The structure will be 40 by 100 feet, the front to be run up two stories and the rear but one, with half basement at the rear of the building. On the ground floor in front will be two dressing rooms and a ticket office, while back of them will be a large hall in which meetings, theatrical performances and dances can be held. On the second floor will be reading and smoking rooms.

Erick Mattson and Nester Halonen have the contract for erecting the building and work was commenced on it Wednesday.

ANDREW MILLER SEEKS SENATOR GRONNA'S TOGA

ATTORNEY GENERAL ANDREW MILLER.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andrew Miller, attorney general of North Dakota, will be a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Gronna. He admits the fact in an announcement today confirming the rumors that have been current for a long time.

"I have investigated the conditions in North Dakota," said the attorney general, "and am confident I am stronger today than ever before. In the face of bitter opposition I was elected attorney general. I have retained the position despite the bitterness of the attacks made upon me by some of the men who were said to wield powerful political influences. I have had a great deal of encouragement from friends over the state and have become convinced that I stand as good a chance to win the nomination as any one.

"While I have no personal knowledge of the fact, I assume, of course, that Senator Gronna will be a candidate for re-election and that other candidates will also be in the race."

ROBBERS TOOK CROSBY BANK CASH

Cuyuna Range Town Interested $1,500 Worth in Thief River Holdup.

Crosby, Minn., Oct. 4.—Crosby bank officials were interested in the holdup of the Soo line agent at Thief River Falls on Tuesday morning to the amount of $1,500. An express package containing $1,000 in silver and $500 in currency, consigned to the First National bank here, was among the bank funds that the three masked men carried off in the express chest.

Cashier A. J. Hayes estimates that the silver in the package billed to the local bank weighed 100 pounds, and he doesn't believe the robbers would have carried that part of their swag a great distance.

The loss will be made good by the Western Express company, which had the handling of the package, and Mr. Hayes says that aside from the temporary inconvenience caused here there was no occasion for worry on his part.

Calumet—Members of the Knights of Pythias of the five Copper country lodges are planning a big jubilee to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the order, which falls during the month of February. Each lodge will be invited shortly to name members of a committee which is to meet and make arrangements for the gathering. It is probable that the anniversary will be celebrated in Calumet.

Hancock—The North Star Temperance society at a meeting this week, decided upon an entertainment to be given in the near future for the benefit of the strikers throughout the Copper country. A large celebration is planned and people from all parts of the country are asked to take part.

Marquette—A. E. Viller, acting for the Groveland Mining company, which holds a lease on an iron property in the Felch mountain district, in Dickinson county, near Randville, has filed a petition in a voluntary bankruptcy proceeding in United States court here, and the matter will be taken up at once by Referee Looney.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

Seeley, Who Fitted Czar of Russia, Called to Duluth.

F. H. Seeley of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will be at the Spalding Hotel and will remain in Duluth Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday only Oct. 7, 8 and 9. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield as now used and approved by the United States Government will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, affording immediate and complete relief, but closes the opening in 10 days on the average case. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, harmful injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. All charity cases without charge, or if any interested call he will be glad to show same without charge or fit them if desired. Any one ruptured should remember the date and take advantage of this opportunity.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Grand Rapids—The store of the Arpin Mercantile company at Arpin, north of this city, was burned to the ground and nothing was saved. The building and contents were valued at $10,000, covered with $8,000 insurance. The company consists of James Mercer and five Stoflet brothers, who live at Arpin.

Oconomowoc—The Oconomowoc Gas company purchased the property of Judge D. W. Agnew, south of the Milwaukee road tracks, and will erect a plant there. The Columbia Gas Construction company has the contract. The power plant will be of concrete, iron roofed, with cement floors. The gas tank, 50 by 20 feet, will be of concrete and steel and will have 30,000 feet capacity. The work of laying the miles of mains has been started.

Janesville—Mercy hospital, erected at a cost of some $30,000 by the efforts of the Sisters of Mercy of the Catholic church, was formally dedicated on Thursday by Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee, assisted by a corps of twenty priests from all parts of Southern Wisconsin.

Red Granite—Albert I. Paeth fell into a stone crusher at the Red Granite stone quarry. He was crushed to death.

Sheboygan—Sheboygan business men en masse are demanding the restoration of the noon northbound and 3:48 southbound Northwestern trains here. This train, which formerly ran to Manitowoc and return, was taken off two years ago. It now runs to Milwaukee.

Madison—Just when the governor will fill the vacancy on the capitol commission, caused by the resignation of Commissioner Johnson, no one seems to know. It is expected the selection for the place will be made in the near future. It is thought here the appointment will go to a Milwaukee man.

Neenah—A deed has been recorded on a twelve-acre plat of ground to be used for St. Margaret's Catholic cemetery.

Marinette—The first case brought under Wisconsin's new gossip law resulted in acquittal for Peter Keoski. The complainant was Mrs. Rosa Berney of Niagara.

La Crosse—Detectives raided a chop suey restaurant operated by Pio Lee, a Chinaman, confiscated a supply of bottled beer and arrested the proprietor on the charge of conducting a blind-pig. Two young men apprehended while drinking beer in the place will be witnesses against the Chinaman.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Valley City, N. D.—John A. Spouce, wanted in Mount Vernon, Ill., for dynamiting a residence with intent to kill, has been apprehended near Granville in this state. He was working on a threshing rig. He is in the county jail at Towner, awaiting the arrival of the Mount Vernon authorities.

Howard, S. D.—John Jarlew, a farmer, is dead from injuries received several days ago when he was gored by a bull.

Aberdeen, S. D.—A disease resembling cholera is raging among the swine in the vicinity of Columbia, in this county.

Ipswich, S. D.—Over thirty silos have been built in the eastern half of this county the present season.

Waubay, S. D.—A mother's pension, the first to be granted in Day county, has been issued to Mrs. Magna Christianson.

Yankton Indian Agency, S. D.—On Oct. 25 a civil service examination will be held here for the purpose of selecting a postmaster.

Winter, S. D.—Ray White, arrested on the charge of selling liquor to a Sioux Indian, has been held for trial.

Hudson, S. D.—Arrangements are being perfected for the thirty-third annual convention of the Yankton Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers, which is to be held in Hudson on Oct. 7 and 8.

Harvet, S. D.—J. C. Smith, a negro, who was arrested on the charge of burglarizing a store at Parkston, succeeded in making his escape from the county jail here and all trace of him has been lost. Bloodhounds were set on his trail immediately, but owing to the fact that rain had fallen they were unable to follow the scent for only about a mile.

Gary, S. D.—While a letter from her husband was speeding on its way to inform her that he had a new home prepared for her at Eugene, Or., Mrs. A. D. Houghton, a pioneer resident of Deuel county, suffered a stroke of apoplexy and died in a short time.

Newark, S. D.—O. R. Hildreth, a veteran of the Civil war and a pioneer of South Dakota, died suddenly at his home here, aged 77 years.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Mankato—Miss Hattie Sonnek of Minnesota Lake and Rupert Schlingler of Gull Lake, Sask., were married in this city. The wedding of Miss Lizzie Adams and Francis X. Kiffe was solemnized at St. John's Catholic church. Miss Myrtle Holmes of this city and John Davis Campbell of Spokane, Wash., were married at the home of the bride's parents, Capt. and Mrs. L. N. Holmes.

Winona—On Wednesday afternoon at Witoka, Miss Alice Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown of that place, became the bride of H. R. Leonard of Pallisade, Minn.

Little Falls—Harvey Ploof and Miss Florence Derosier of this city were married at St. Francis Xavier church.

Northfield—George Tandberg, 20 years old, of Thief River Falls, a junior at Carleton college, died last Wednesday from the effects of an operation for appendicitis. He was sick only a week. He was a prominent member of his class.

Pipestone—The funeral of Mrs. F. W. Davies, whose death occurred at Minneapolis Sunday, took place here yesterday. She was the wife of President Davies of the Pipestone State bank and had been a resident of Pipestone thirty-two years.

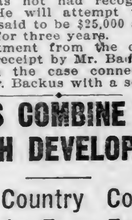

Rochester—Andrew Whitmore, a passenger on a Great Western train, en route from his home at Braden, Okla., to this city, suddenly leaped through the window of the car in which he was riding. The train was traveling at about thirty miles an hour, but Whitmore suffered only a fractured leg and minor cuts about the face. He was taken to Spring Valley and brought to Rochester on the next train. Whitmore falls to explain any motive.

Redwood Falls—H. A. Baldwin, president of the First National bank of this city, has purchased the Kahler hotel and will make extensive improvements.

Anoka—William Jackson, the 18-year-old son of Louis Jackson of Coon Lake, who was shot through the left arm by the accidental discharge of a shotgun, is dead from lockjaw. He was hurled to a Minneapolis hospital after the accident in the hope that his arm might be saved.

Northfield — Carleton college has been granted a chapter in the nationa honor society of Phi Beta Kappa.

Hastings—Orders were made by Judge T. P. Moran recently granting county aid under the mother's pension act to Mrs. Susan Schanno of Vermillion and Mrs. Martha Roszak of South St. Paul. These are the first applications granted in Dakota county.

The Joy Of Coming Motherhood

A Wonderful Remedy That is a Natural Aid and Relieves the Tension.

Mother's Friend is the only remedy known that is able to reach all the different parts involved. It is a penetrating external application after the formula of a noted family doctor, and lubricates every muscle, nerve, tissue or tendon involved.

By its daily use there will be no pain, no distress, no nausea, no danger of laceration or other accident, and the period will be one of supreme comfort and joyful anticipation.

Mother's Friend is one of the greatest of all helpful influences, for it robs childbirth of all its agonies and dangers, dispels all the doubt and dread, all sense of fear, and thus enables the mind and body to await the greatest event in a woman's life with untrammeled gladness.

You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, or the druggist will gladly get it for you. Mother's Friend is prepared only by the Bradfield Regulator Co., 237 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who will mail an instructive book to expectant mothers. Write for it to-day.

Electro-Medical Doctors' New Tox-Absorb Cures

Stubborn, Chronic and Special Diseases—If You Are Ailing Please Read These Items.

THE CORPORATION OF THE ELECTRO-MEDICAL DOCTORS HAS BROUGHT TO DULUTH THE SYSTEM FOR A RADICAL RESTORATION OF HEALTH, BOTH FOR MEN AND WOMEN. It is indeed the highest of scientific medical achievements of this country. Electro-Biological chemistry has shown the way to break up the components of the different poisons which are the cause of most diseases. It has also shown how to build up broken-down organs and diseased tissues. It is the very power of nature that Electro-Medical Doctors employ in doing away with WEAKNESS and bringing back HEALTH, VITALITY and VIGOR to every suffering man and woman. Most of the people who were restored to health with Electro-Medical methods have avoided unnecessary "doping" and "cutting." Just think of the many people who died from overdoses of poisonous medicines, who turned "dope-fiends," and of others who died from needless operations.

Our corporation has spent ten thousand dollars in the equipment of its Duluth office, which is to stay here permanently. It is the first and only institution in Duluth which has ever been incorporated. The present is the largest Doctors' office of its kind in the Northwest, and the directors and stockholders have planned to erect in this city, one of the largest sanitariums, where patients will be treated Electro-Medically. Duluth has seen many Doctors come and go within the last few years, but this office is going to stay, because it is supported by Duluth business men who believe in the future of our city, and in its healthful climate as the best site for a large sanitarium, of which the present office is the embryo, the beginning of.

The Greatest Thing For Rheumatism.

Duluth, Minn., July 9, 1913.

Electro Medical Doctors, Duluth:

Dear Sir: Your treatment for Rheumatism is far ahead of anything of which I have ever seen or read.

I was so greatly troubled with Rheumatism for some time past that it was impossible to do my own housework, but on taking your wonderful treatment, have noticed a great change in my condition right from the start of the very first treatment.

I now feel very well and recommend your treatment to any one.

Yours truly,
MRS. H. E. DE LAMOREY,
No. 14 Twelfth Avenue East, Duluth.

Stomach Trouble His Woeful Lot.

Duluth, July 19, 1913.

I have been suffering for a long time from Catarrh trouble, and I have taken a lot of medicine and medical treatments for it lately, but neither did me the least of good.

I went to the Electro Medical Doctors and have taken only four treatments and feel like a new man though I will not say that I am cured as yet, but it is a wonderful thing to feel like a new person after only the first four treatments.

Respectfully yours,
A. SWANBERG.

WASHOE SMELTER CLOSED FOR PURPOSE OF REPAIRS

Will Decrease Butte Output About 6,000,000 Pounds in October.

Bullwhacker Mine Now Back in Hands of the Company.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Washoe smelter of the Anaconda Copper Mining company was shut down Oct. 1, and will remain closed until near the middle of the month, while some necessary repairs are being made to the flue system. The concentrator is being kept going at full capacity and is taking care of the usual amount of ore from the Butte mines, so that, unless some unforeseen reasons arise, the mines will continue to operate on concentrating ore, and when the repairs at the smelter are completed, the enforced curtailment of metal production will easily be made up from the accumulated concentrates. The Washoe smelter output is about 18,000,000 pounds of copper a month, and the ten days' shutdown will decrease the outpt probably 6,000,000 pounds in October. It is positively stated that the only reason for the shutdown at this time is the need of repairs.

Davis-Daly.

Davis-Daly Copper has been compelled to shutdown mining operations at the Colorado mine for several days because of inability to get cars for hauling ore to the smelter, the ore bins being full.

Will Be Operated By Electricity.

The Butte, Anaconda & Pacific railway, owned by the Anaconda company, will be operated by electricity within two weeks, from the mines at Butte to the Washoe smelter at Anaconda. The electrification has been completed and all the equipment has been received. It is the first completed electrified railroad system in the world.

Butte Central.

A petition has been filed in the Federal court of this district asking that the proceedings in bankruptcy brought against the Butte Central Copper company be dismissed on the ground that already bankruptcy proceedings have been taken in Boston. The matter will be heard some time the present month.

Bullwhacker.

The Bullwhacker Mining company property, so far as the mine is concerned, is now back in the hands of the company. For the past eighteen months the mine has been operated by leasers at a good profit. There were seven men in the lease and they have been earning net $500 a month for a considerable length of time. President Patsy Clark a few days ago issued a letter to the stockholders, accompanied by a financial statement. He said that it had been fully demonstrated that the leaching plant which has been installed by the company was a complete success, and that under the process in use the pure copper could be produced and was being produced at 7 cents a pound. Mr. Clark says that in time it is proposed to increase the capacity of the plant to 500 tons a day. The ore extracted by the leasers ran around 4 per cent, and with the treatment of this ore by the leaching process the profits will be large. The crushing and leaching end of the plant just now is capable of treating 250 tons of ore a day, but the precipitating or copper plating end of the mill is somewhat limited yet, owing to the delay in getting machinery made, but it is intended to equip the mill to the limit of the crushing and leaching capacity. Mr. Clark states that the date of the fiscal year has been changed from June 1 to Dec. 31. The president predicts that next year will find the Bullwhacker treating 500 tons of ore a day, and turning out the pure at 7 cents a pound, or possibly a little better.

Butte Alex-Scott.

The Butee Alec-Scott company has commenced the cutting of a station on the 2,000-foot level and when it is completed a drift will be extended south to intersect the ore bodies on the 1,900-foot level. On this level commercial ore has been exposed from ten to fifty feet wide. The company is averaging 200 tons of ore daily to the East Butte smelter, of which fifty tons will run from 9 to 13 per cent copper and the balance about 4½ per cent. The shaft will soon be down to a depth of 2,200 feet and a station will be cut on that level.

Story Not Confirmed.

The story sent out to the effect that there had been a settlement of the litigation between the Anaconda company and the Butte Ballaklava company cannot be confirmed in this city at the present time. The manager of the Butte Ballaklava company, when asked as to the truth of the story originating in Boston, replied that if the story were true no information had been conveyed to him on the subject.

Movement to Tax Output.

An effort is being made by the Direct Legislation league, composed of Progressive politicians, to have a tax imposed on the production of the mines and with this object in view committees have been in session preparing bills and also with the object of imposing a tax on the water power companies. The idea is to submit the bills to the people for approval at the general election a year hence. The committees considering those bills were addressed at a considerable length by C. F. Kelley, vice president of the Anaconda Copper Mining company, and John G. Morony. The former entered a vigorous protest against the proposed action and showed by figures from the records of the company that the mining company was now paying even more than many other lines of business and that for the last several years the amount paid was 100 cents on the dollar. Mr. Kelley said that his company courted the fullest investigation into the manner of the assessment of the mining property and as to the taxes paid. He denied the assertions made from time to time that the large mining companies of the state were not paying their fair proportion of taxes and declared that the time had come when an appeal should be made to the people for protection against the malicious attacks of those whose only purpose has been to further their selfish political ambitions.

FINE SHOWING OF COPPER

Obtained By Cliff in the Horizon of the Ashbed Lodes.

Tamarack Closed for Winter But Is Not Down and Out.

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cliff Mining company, a Calumet & Hecla subsidiary, operating next north of the Ojibway mine and west of the Phoenix and Keweenaw companies, is obtaining a fine showing of copper in the horizon of the Ashbed lodes. Two diamond drills are in service in this area with the object of making a geological cross-section of this side of the property. The first four holes of this series have been completed. Holes Nos. 3 and 4 are reported to have located an exceptionally rich deposit. The width of the lode was not reported.

Wyandot.

The Wyandot, which resumed work a week or ten days ago, is finding less copper in the lode upon which operations have been centered for some time. The formation, however, continues to bear a "kindly" appearance, and it is entirely likely that the copper course has crossed to either foot or hanging, and will be found paralleling the drifts by the cross-cut which will be driven to open the vein for its full width between walls. The winze and also the drifts north and south from its bottom expose copper ground of fair average quality, bunchy, but altogether of commercial grade, up to the point where the shoots seem to have been lost. This lode, which has also been opened in a limited way by drifts on the main cross-cut level 710 feet below surface, is easily the most promising of a large number of lodes located in this acreage of painfully lean copper formations.

Tamarack.

The Tamarack, following the lead of a number of other companies, announces that mining operations in its property will not be resumed before next spring, regardless of the outcome of the present labor strike. The mine is being put into shape for the winter, and the underground force will go to work in the Calumet & Hecla mine. That the Tamarack is down and out and may never be worked again is only a pessimist's dream. The mine is old and deep, and operating costs are naturally high, but there is much more than a kick left in the old "bal," and when conditions laborwise are right, the mine will be right.

Isle Royale.

The Isle Royale is busily engaged in remodeling the wash department in the stamp mill. Concrete floors are being laid to replace old wooden floors; new and additional concentrating tables are to be installed, and the old-time round tables, or buddles, are being torn out to make place for Wilfley slime tables. One of the stamp heads is also being overhauled, and when the work is completed there will probably be little need of repair work for years to come. The company should have greater milling facilities to handle the increased tonnage that will come as a result of development work done and planned, but as the sand room below the mill is limited, no addition to the plant can be made. The tailings dump, in Big Portage lake, already encroaches on the harbor line, and it will probably be necessary to elevate the waste sands from the mill within the next few years. Surplus rock from the mine is to be milled in the Centennial-Allouez mill on Torch lake.

Ahmeek.

The Ahmeek resumed operations a few days ago, being the first of all Keweenaw county mines to resume. Beginning with a very small force, production can not be expected to reach large proportions, but the important thing is that a start has been made in the very heart and center of a community that is "strong for the union," in a county whereof even the sheriff and prosecuting attorney, not to mention the mine inspector, are alleged to be union members in good standing. As the present labor strike is principally a trammers' strike, with the majority of the miners forced unwillingly into idleness, the Ahmeek should have little difficulty in maintaining and increasing production, inasmuch as its rock is trammed by mules with the kindly assistance of man.

GREENE-CANANEA TO PAY DIVIDEND

To Resume Payment in December If War Clouds Clear.

By the end of 1913, probably in December, the Greene-Cananea Copper company will pay another dividend, provided the situation in Mexico does not present too gloomy an outlook.

Although operating at but 40 per cent of capacity, the mine has been making good profits during the past few months so that the company now has a very comfortable surplus in its treasury.

The monthly smelter production credited to the Greene company does not reflect in true light the actual output from the company's own mines, for they have been turning out about 2,500,000 pounds a month. The balance has come from purchased custom ores.

FINAL PAYMENT BY BARNES-KING

Now Owner of the Piegan-Gloster Group of Mines.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 4.—The Barnes-King Mining company is now the owner of the Piegan-Gloster group of mines in the Stemple district, near Marysville. The final payment on the purchase was made in this city Tuesday.

The Barnes-King people took an option on the property eighteen months ago, agreeing to pay $100,000 for it, and making a payment down. After taking the mines over the Barnes-King people started development and exploration work on a big scale. The results have been so satisfactory that after an examination, a day or two ago on the property by the directors, they decided to make the final payment.

During the operations of the Barnes-King people ore has been struck in two places in the property where it was not in evidence when they began work.

It is understood to be the plan of the company to erect a mill just as soon as arrangements can be made for the electrical power. It will probably be eighteen months before the property is on the list of regular producers.

The deal is one of the largest in the mining line that has been made in this county in a long time.

The sale includes in addition to the Gloster millsite, the Eclipse, Calumet, Patsy and Norman claims adjoining the Gloster on one side and on the other the Ophir, Plegan, Rabbi, Early Bird, East Gloster, Lost Cabin and Alberta claims.

The Plegan and Gloster mine has been one of the richest producers in Lewis and Clark county. It was worked successfully for a number of years, and then was closed down. A number of Helena men got hold of it, and proceeded with the development, but not on an extensive scale. This work, however, showed the property could be made a good producer, and when the Barnes-King people were looking for a good mine, their attention was directed to the Plegan-Gloster. Their experts were satisfied with the showing, and then the deal was made which has resulted in the new ownership.

NEW HIGH RECORD BY UTAH COPPER

In Twenty-Four Hours Mined and Shipped 29,000 Tons.

Salt Lake, Utah, Oct. 4.—The mining and shipment of 29,000 tons of ore by the Utah Copper company establishes a new twenty-four-hour record. Sept. 24, last year, the company sent out 20,000 tons. Sept. 2, this year, 25,000 tons were mined and shipped, and Sept. 28 the 20,000-ton record was set.

This means that almost four miles of railroad cars were loaded by the 2,300 men employed on the mountain of ore at Bingham. The twenty-two steam shovels chugged away, but they were not all employed in taking out ore for the record day. As the average car of ore is fifty tons, 580 cars were used to take the ore to the mills. A train usually hauls twenty cars, so that twenty-nine trains were required.

In spite of the fact that the month of September is a short one, having only thirty days, which means a decrease of 3 per cent in time, Utah Copper had the best month of the year. Since the K. and L. levels were connected up so that trains can now be moved across the mountain on any level, the company has been able to get out a better grade of ore, and this, it is declared, will be shown in the production for the past month. It is believed that well over 11,000,000 pounds of copper was produced.

IS OPTIMISTIC OVER OUTLOOK

Manager Tinker Says Superior & Boston's Prospects Are Good.

Extremely important developments are reported from the Superior & Boston property at Globe, where the ore body encountered on the 600 level has recently been opened on both the 800 and 1,000-foot levels.

Supt. Tinker, in a recent telegram, describes property conditions as follows:

"The development for the past six months at the property of the Superior & Boston have been very encouraging and the possibilities of encountering a large body of ore with depth have approached such a point that I feel confident in saying that developments east of the 1,000 and 1,200 levels will prove the existence of primary ores in the ledge which in the upper levels has shown both strength and permanency. The 600 level has proven the ledge for a distance of 600 feet with width varying from 10 to 30 feet, the ores occuring along the ledge at this level follow the footwall and those of commercial grade vary in width from one to twenty feet.

"The ledge matter is heavily iron stained and very silicious, often the alternation extends well into the two walls.

"The 800 level has proven the ledge for a distance of 400 feet and although the mineralization is not as strong as on the 600 level, the general conditions are about the same. We have done no recent drifting east on this level as we are working our tramming facilities to the limit on the ore from the stope above. The stope between the 800 and 600 level has been opened for a distance of 250 feet in length by 40 in height and 15 in width and has produced about 15,000 tons of 6 per cent copper ore. At the present time we are mining 150 tons per day with the probabilities that this tonnage will be maintained indefinitely as our developments east on the stope floor level continue to show good ore.

"The strength and permanency of the ledge on the 600 level leads one to predict other pockets equally as large below, and our developments below may prove the ledge at this point to be continuous with our recent strike on the 1,000 level. Should either be the case we can consider ourselves on the eve of important development, and I believe Superior & Boston will soon place itself among prominent producers."

FINE SHOWING BY BUTTE & DULUTH

Proved Wolvin Leaching Process and Developed 10,000,000 Tons of Ore.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 4.—The report that the Anaconda company is to abandon the Bradley process in favor of that tried out by Capt. Wolvin of the Butte & Duluth, draws attention at this time to the wonderful progress Capt. Wolvin has accomplished with Butte & Duluth in the years since the first prospect work was done on this property. The Butte & Duluth leaching plant is producing copper by Capt. Wolvin's methods, at 13 cents per pound or less, but the important addendum is made that with double the present capacity (3,500 tons of ore per month) the overhead and operating costs will not be materially increased, and the cost per pound might be reduced by nearly one-half. Capt. Wolvin says that by the first of the year at the latest he expects to have his leaching plant operating at double the present capacity and he anticipates a production cost in the vicinity of 10 cents per pound. There is a final payment of $30,000 still due on the purchase price of the property. This payment, which will be due in December, is guaranteed by Capt. Wolvin so that the company is today free of indebtedness outside of current operating bills.

The Butte & Duluth company is a peculiar one in that, while the concern is incorporated, no stock has been issued and none is on the market. The properties are located just east of the Pittsmont in Southeast Butte. They comprise 70 acres, in claims and fractions formerly known as the Brundy group. Forty men are employed. The assets of the company comprise, on a conservative estimate, 10,000,000 tons of copper ore that will go 2 per cent or better in the red metal, together with a successful leaching and electrolytic precipitating plant now operating at the rate of 3,500 tons of ore per month. The development of the property has been by means of two shafts, the Montgomery and Altoona, and approximately 1,500 feet of tunnel work, together with test pitting from the surface of the ore, has proven the ore body quite thoroughly for a length of 2,500 feet, a width of 500 feet and a depth of 300 feet. While no stock is issued or for sale, the company has an authorized bond issue of $500,000 6 per cent bonds convertible on or before June 2, 1915. Capt. A. B. Wolvin, who is president and treasurer of Butte & Duluth, as well as owner of the Wolvin leaching process, has put up most of the funds for operating the property. As previously stated, it is only a single year since the first prospect work was done by the company.

BUTTE MINING MAN MOVES TO SEATTLE

One of Organizers of Tuolumne and Pilot-Butte Companies.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 4.—Patrick Sheehan, formerly superintendent of the Tuolumne and Pilot-Butte mines, left Tuesday night for Seattle, where he will make his future home. With his departure Butte loses one of its old-time mining men, for Mr. Sheehan has been a prominent figure here for the past thirty years.

Louis A. Dunham, formerly connected with J. Park Channing of New York as mining engineer and expert, has been appointed consulting engineer and will have charge of the work until the selection of a superintendent to succeed Mr. Sheehan is announced.

Mr. Dunham has been in Butte for several weeks preparing for the work. Mr. Sheehan has purchased a splendid property close to Seattle and will have a beautiful home with an orchard connected. He expects to make it one of the palatial country homes on the Pacific coast. He was one of the original organizers of the Tuolumne Mining company and also of the Pilot-Butte. He still has large mining interests in this city and will not part with them for the present, it is understood.

At the Pilot-Butte mine ore is now being shipped at a daily average rate of about eighty tons. The grade of ore is said to be very fair. Only the 2,000-foot level is being worked and no effort has been made so far to develop levels above that.

There is an exciting description of "A Battle With a Stag," and an equally absorbing account of a big steamer which ran away.

The contributors to the October Strand include A. Conan Doyle, Morley Roberts, Baroness Orczy, Lady Randolph Churchill, Lord Cheylesmore, Gen. Neville Littleton, Richard Marsh, W. B. Maxwell, and many others of lesser note. Conan Doyle's contribution, a curious story entitled "How It Happened," almost proves that the noted author holds beliefs similar to those of Sir Oliver Lodge. Lady Randolph Church—perhaps the most noted American woman who ever married into the British peerage—writes on the subject of "The Most Impressive Sight I Ever Saw," taking as her theme the first jubilee of Queen Victoria.

The October Lippincott's follows up this publication's gratifying successes of the summer months with a budget of unusual variety and quality. The leading feature is a complete novel of swift movement and compelling interest—"Water-Witched Valley," by Elizabeth Dejeans, known for her melodramatic effects in fiction, for stirring action, and for pathos. Mrs. Dejeans is the author of "The House of Thane," "The Far Triumph," "The Winning Chance," and "The Heart of Desire," all very successful books. There are a number of effective short-stories. "A Professional Episode" is a powerful tale by Arthur Morrison, who wrote "Tales of Mean Streets" and "Green Ginger." "The Last of His Blood," by Mary Hart, is a dog story of strong dramatic interest. "From the Fold," by Evelyn Van Buren, is a humorous story of a large family brought up in an original manner. "The Capturing of Ezra," by Clinton Dangerfield, tells how a smart city girl overreached herself during a visit to the country. "The Demoralization of Mrs. Parton's Dinner," by Marguerite Putnam Bush, describes the unique experience of society folk, with a pair of imposters. "A Visit to the Palmist," by Katherine Metcalf Roof, is a monologue as natural as it is funny.

Among the excellent fiction features of the October Century Magazine stands out the first quarter of a full-length novel entitled "Home," by an anonymous writer. If this is a first book, it is a most extraordinarily fine one; if it was written by a woman, she has the mind of a man. Other writers represented in this number are: Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, John Burroughs, Eleanor Hallowell Abbott, author of "Molly Make-Believe," Theodore Dreiser and Ellis Parker Butler. Whatever may be the reader's political convictions, "The Progressive Party," by Theodore Roosevelt, is a contribution that few men or women can afford to miss. The article sums up the work of the young party and points the way to the future. The October Century is particularly rich in art and poetry, containing examples of the work of George Inness, John Alexander, Roger Boutet de Monvel, Oliver Herford and Reginald Birch, and verses by Timothy Cole, James W. Foley, Louis Untermeyer and others.

The Popular Science Monthly for October contains the following articles: "Immigration and the Public Health," by Dr. Alfred C. Reed; "An Irish Channel Railway," by Henry Grattan Tyrell; "Scientific Standards for the Government Regulation of Foods," by Dr. John R. Murlin; "A Problem in Educational Eugenics," by Prof. Charles W. Hargitt; "The Psychological Factor in Southern Race Problems," by Dr. James Bardin; "Women in Industry," by D. R. Malcolm Keir; "The Fourth Dimension," by Prof. Samuel M. Barton; "Some Psychological Problems Emphasized by Pragmatism," by Prof. Josiah Royce; "The Presidential Address Before the British Association;" "Prof. Ehrlich and Chemiotherapy."

The Woman's World for October announces a change in the editorship which is important to all its readers. Charles Dwyer, who for the last seven years has been in charge of the Ladies' World, and before that was editor of the Delineator, is now to conduct the Chicago publication. Herbert Kaufman, who has brought the magazine up to its present high standard, wished to be relieved of the details of editing so that he could devote himself to his writings. The general policy will remain unchanged.

Leading place in the October issue of the Engineering Magazine is given to a concise discussion by Alex Del Mar, on the question of contract prices for iron, copper, coal, etc., in the immediate future. The illustrated features of this issue include a description of mining activities in Mexico, especially during the present revolutionary period, written by Herbert A. Megraw; the second instalment of the series on "Motor Trucks in Construction Work," presenting their uses in building ronds and pavements, by Rollin W. Hutchinson, Jr.; the second chapter on "Compressed Air Machinery," by Robert L. Streeter, describing the various makes and uses of small compressors; a paper by A. Hamilton Church discussing the relation between premium piece work and the expense burden in factories and shops.

In the October Atlantic Prof. Laughlin drives home to organized labor the impalatable but very useful truth that twenty years of struggle for increased wages without relation to increased efficiency has so raised the cost of living that the union man is no better off than he was at the outset. The article will arouse feeling and argument. The opening feature of this October Atlantic is the first installment of "Letters of a Woman Homesteader." These genuine letters, written without thought of publication, tell the inspiring story of a young woman left a penniless widow who escapes from the drudgery of domestic service and goes homesteading. Her really extraordinary adventures are described with a natural vividness which would be hard indeed to surpass. Gamaliel Bradford contributes a Confederate Portrait of Raphael Semmes, who was apparently the mildest mannered pirate who ever cut a throat. Katharine Fullerton Gerould traces in entertaining fashion "The Boundaries of Truth." There are serious papers on "India and Self-Government," by H. Fielding-Hall; "Science and Mystery," by Harry Emerson Fosdick, and "The Goal of Equality," by ex-President Tucker. John Burroughs contributes "A Hay-Barn Idyl," while literary criticism is represented by W. A. Gill's "Some Novelists and the Business Man."

Scribner's magazine for October, under the title "The New Republic," gives Charles L. Freeston's impressions of Portugal, founded on a recent visit. He says that in many respects it is the most interesting country in Europe, full of surprises. The architecture, with its strong Moorish influences, is notable and the natural scenery is very unusual. The people are kindly to tourists. Being off the routes of travel it is the least-visited European country. Mr. Roosevelt's "Life History" in this number describes the African elephant. The study of prisoners at first-hand, which Miss Winifred Louise Taylor calls "The Man Behind the Bars," is founded on the work which she has carried on for a score of years. A. B. Frost, who has been living for a number of years abroad, joins with Guy Rose in presenting "Trout-Fishing in Normandy"—a most interesting picture of the Frenchman as a sportsman. Mrs. Rose who was their companion on fishing trips, furnishes the letter press. John Corbin, well known for his work with the New theater, describes the newly organized Drama league of New York and what it proposes to do for the benefit of the playgoer as well as the playwright. The fiction in Scribner's has never been more interesting.

CHOOSES SITE FOR SMELTER

Consolidated Coppermines Plant to Be at Warm Springs.

Big Churn-Drilling Campaign in Progress on Giroux Ground.

Ely, Nev., Oct. 4.—The best news in the Ely district in many years was the announcement made by Manager Gray of the Consolidated Coppermines company that he had been instructed by the directors of the company to select a site for the erection of a concentrating and smelting plant for the company. Mr. Gray announced to the people of Ely and East Ely that his preference for the location was at the Warm Springs, about three miles northeast of Ely, and that if property holders of Ely and East Ely would sign a legal document agreeing to release the company from any damages which might in the future arise from smoke fumes, he would report favorably upon that location. The matter was at once referred to a committee, and since that time nearly all of the largest property owners have signed up, and others are signing up as rapidly as possible. There is no opposition to the easement asked for, as all property owners realize that the erection of the concentrator and smelter so near the town will more than double its population within a year or two.

Plenty of Water.

The proposed location is owned by the Coppermines company, and was originally selected by Mr. Gray for the Nevada Consolidated company when he was managing its affairs about seven years ago. The water from Steptoe creek and also from the head of Murry creek will be brought to the proposed location by gravity, and will have a splendid pressure. No announcement has as yet been made as to the size of the plant, but judging from recent ore developments, it will be of considerable proportions, as the company will not lack for ore. Ore from the company's mines could be brought to within less than a mile of the proposed location over the present tracks of the Nevada Northern, hence it would not be necessary for the Consolidated company to build its own railroad, at least for the present. However, the Giroux company in past years surveyed two lines for a railroad from its mines to Warm Springs, which could be utilized should the company decide to build its own ore line.

The Giroux company now has two churn drills working from 1,200 to 1,500 feet east of the Brooks and Morris shafts, and both are going down in sulphide ore of the same grade hoisted from the shafts, which is better than 2 per cent. To the east of the shafts the overburden has been eroded away, hence the sulphide deposits were encountered only forty feet from the surface. About three years ago a considerable amount of churn drilling was done to the east of the shafts, the holes going down 200 feet apart, but all within a distance of about 1,000 feet of the shafts. The present drilling is therefore done to test out the extent of the sulphide deposit toward the east from the shafts.

Three More Steam Shovels.

It is understood that when the three new steam shovels, which have been ordered and are now on the way, arrive, two will be put to work at a point about where these drills are now working, while the other one will go into commission on the south side of the range, between the Morris and the Giroux shaft. On the south side of the range are some deep canyons which will afford ample dumping ground for several years' operations. Owing to the eroding which has taken place on the south side, the sulphide deposits also come near the surface of the ground, hence it is expected that two large steam shovel propositions will soon be brought in.

The churn drill of the Giroux company which was located at the new Ora pit three weeks ago, has been removed to the country east of the Morris shaft, hence the development at the new pit is not being pushed at the present time. On Sunday last two churn drills which are putting down shallow holes merely for the purpose of shooting up and loosening the ground for the steam shovels which are scooping out the overburden for the track of the railroad to enter the Liberty pit, both dropped into sulphide ore. These holes are several hundred feet east and north of the original discovery, and would appear to indicate that the ore body is continuous to that point. If this proves to be the case it is evident that the sulphide deposit extends practically through the Ora, and no doubt on into ground of the Nevada Consolidated at both ends of the claim. One of the drills on the Josey claim of the Nevada Consolidated has gone down 170 feet in sulphide ore of a good grade.

SHATTUCK ONE OF MARKET LEADERS

Production and Profits of Company Soon to Be Doubled.

Shattuck-Arizona has been one of the conspicuous features of the copper-share market of the past fortnight. The rise has been directly influenced by reports showing that during the first seven months of 1913 the company produced its copper at a cost of slightly less than 6¾ cents a pound, this low per pound cost being very largely due to high precious metal values in its ores. At this figure, on the production of only about 1,000,000 pounds of copper monthly, Shattuck is earning approximately $4 per share annually, as against $2 now being paid in dividends.

Greatly increased production and earnings are promised in the near future, however, as it is planned to double the present production. Shattuck is shipping its ores to the Calumet & Arizona smelter at Douglas, and some time during this month Shattuck's present shipment of 250 tons daily is to be increased to a minimum of 500 tons per day. Shattuck has been ready to furnish the increased tonnage since July 1 and has been waiting on the completion of the smelter.

The doubling of the shipments is expected to result in an increase proportionately in the earnings, inasmuch as the grade of the ore shipped—about 8 per cent copper—will remain the same. Shattuck is showing a profit of 10 cents per pound on its product at the present time.

As demonstrating Shattuck's enviable treasury position, it is worth noting that the company has at all times between $300,000 and $900,000 of copper in the hands of its selling agent on which it never asks for advances.

Underground conditions at the property are stated to be excellent, with ore being shipped from all levels down to the 600. Average of the ore mined is around 8 per cent copper, although a great deal of very high grade material is shipped—35 to 40 per cent copper glance.

Control of the company is in the hands of President Thomas A. Bardon, Louis W. Hill of Great Northern railway; A. M. Chisholm, Duluth; the Guthrie estate of St. Paul and L. C. Shattuck of Bisbee, Ariz.

WHEAT HAS A DECLINE

Bearish Sentiment Prevails Throughout the Session in Duluth.

Oats Break Sharply as Result of New Tariff Law.

Duluth Board of Trade, Oct. 4.—After a firm opening and ruling steady in the early trading, the wheat market declined steadily toward the end of the session today, reflecting weakness in oats, which broke sharply as a result of the new tariff law coming into effect.

December wheat opened ¼c off at 85c and closed ½c lower at 84½c. The May option also closed ½c off at 89⅞c after opening at 90c.

October durum closed ⅛c off at 80c and the December option ¼c off at 81¼c.

Heavy selling materialized in oats which closed ¾c lower at 36⅝c. Rye closed fractionally off at 55@56c.

Puts on December wheat closed at 83⅜c and calls at 84½@84⅝c.

Sentiment was generally bearish on the board, mainly on apprehension over the weak situation in oats and barley, it being known that large quantities of Canadian stuff had been bought on the basis of the new duties. That is considered likely to bring about further declines in those grains, with a relatively weakening influence on wheat quotations.

Wheat receipts for the day showed a falling off, 2,121 cars being reported at Duluth, Minneapolis and Winnipeg, an increase of 498 cars over last year against much heavier gains recently. Stocks of all grains in Duluth elevators were reported at 14,466,000 bu, which sets a new high record for this time of the year. An increase of 2,072,000 was shown in the week.

Flaxseed Holds Strong.

The market in flaxseed was steady after its first flurry at yesterday's close. Offerings were light and they were readily absorbed. Trading was on the narrowest possible order.

Prices opened unchanged in all options, and closings were on the same basis, except in May which sold off ¼c. October flax closed at $1.39; November at $1.40; December at $1.38¾ and May at $1.44.

MARKET GOSSIP.

A slight improvement was reported in the grain handling and elevator situation at Buffalo today, the amount of grain afloat there being reduced 200,000 bu from the day before to 3,100,000 bu. Good service is being given by the railroads at that point in supplying cars and rushing them to the seaboard.

• • •

In the course of an interview at Toronto yesterday, Sir William Whyte, vice president of the Canadian Pacific railroad, placed the yield of wheat in the three Western provinces at 190,000,000 bu of the finest quality possible for milling purposes. He predicted lower prices as a result of its outpouring on the British markets.

• • •

Minneapolis wired: "Cash market firmer; very good milling for top grades. One northern blue stem December to 1½c premium; velvet chaff ½c over December to 1c under. Flour sales moderate. Shipping directions a little slower."

• • •

A wire from New York said: "A private cable states that the Argentine government will immediately take steps toward the removal of the duty on wheat, particularly as affecting the United States, thereby permitting their grain and flour to come in here free."

• • •

Clearances reported: Wheat, 480,000 bu; flour, 23,000 bbl; together they equal 584,000 bu; corn, 700 bu; oats, 700 bu.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Turns Weak on Visible Supply Prospects.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Prospect of a large increase in the visible supply made wheat prices turn weak today. It was said that Minneapolis and Duluth stocks would exhibit a heavy gain and that wheat in transit would show up at the seaboard. There were also reports of improved weather conditions in Argentina and of unceasing liberal offers from Russia. The opening was ⅜ to ¼c off and a further decline followed.

The fact that wheat sales to arrive were meager failed to check the weakness. The close was steady, ⅝c to ⅞@¾c under last night.

Hedging sales by cash houses because of demand being poor gave a setback to corn. Prices started in shade to ⅞c lower and suffered an additional sag.

Lightness of country acceptances did not help the bearish course of prices. The close was steady at ⅞@½c to ⅞c net loss.

Longs unloaded oats on account of Canadian competition. The market which opened ⅛@¼c to ⅝@½c down, dipped still lower.

Provisions went under bearish control owing to a decline at the yards. First sales were the same as last night to 7½c less expensive, but later held fairly steady.

STOCKS GO DOWNWARD

Market Sags Decidedly After Showing an Advancing Tendency.

Reduction in the Prices of Steel Products Causes Decline.

New York, Oct. 4.—An exceptionally large increase in gross earnings shown in Canadian Pacific's latest statement caused an upturn of nearly 2 points in that stock at the opening today. The movement in this issue was the only one of importance. The market was narrow and dull. Small fractional advances were made by most of the active stocks.

Eagerness to take profits caused the list to fall back after the rise had been extended to ½ point in Steel, Reading and Copper and a point in Union Pacific. American Telephone lost a point on continuation of the recent professional selling.

The market closed weak. Stocks sagged decidedly today after the market during the early trading had shown an advancing tendency. The upturn was neither broad nor vigorous and was interrupted frequently by small reactions until in the second hour the course of the market was shaped downward definitely.

Announcement of reduction in prices of various steel products and assertions that further concessions might be made on account of the new tariff schedule were chiefly responsible for the turn in the market after its early manifestation of strength.

Pressure on United States Steel, which fell below 58, caused more general selling of the minor steel stocks, among which losses ran from 1 to 4 points. Additional unfavorable reports of earnings made by some Southern lines accelerated the downward movement among the standard railroad shares. Reading lost 2 points and Amalgamated 1.

Bonds were steady.

REAL ESTATE

WEST END CORNER SOLD FOR APPROXIMATELY $50,000

Former Vice President Fairbanks Sells Some of Duluth Holdings.

Second Street to Front—Factory Sites Are in Demand.

Increased investment interest in both central business and outlying properties was noted by real estate operators this week. A gratifying feature commented upon by the offices, came in the greater disposition being shown by local capitalists to assume ownership in Superior and First and Second street frontages. Some interesting deals on these streets are reported to be pending.

A large transaction was closed up today in the sale from Charles E. Henderson and Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice president of the United States, to Albert Polinsky, of a frontage, 100 by 140 feet at the northeast corner of Superior street and Twentieth avenue west. A substantial two-story block stands upon the property. The consideration was not named, but it is understood to have been approximately $50,000. Stryker, Manley & Buck acted for the former owners.

That Second street properties are regarded with growing favor by investors, is evidenced in the receipt of earnest money reported by two offices on frontages located between Lake avenue and Second avenue west. These deals follow two other transactions on the same street, put through by the Little & Nolte company during the last few weeks. One of them came in the sale of a site to the Duluth Board of Trade for a prospective new building.

A First street transfer was also recorded during the week in the sale by F. H. Burnett to Benjamin Sher of thirty feet at the corner of that street and First avenue east.

A broadening inquiry for factory sites was commented upon by John A. Stephenson. "During the last few days I have had parties from the outside looking for sites for industries and I have strong hopes of closing up a couple of sales shortly," he said today. "To help along the promotion of industrial propositions here, I think the city should adopt a liberal policy in vacating street ends and alleys at West Duluth. As a matter of fact the city only holds easements on them and it would be just a case of giving back something that cost nothing originally."

• • •

The sale of ten acres on the Superior side of the St. Louis river in section 13-48-15 near the Carnegie Depot division was reported by Stryker, Manley & Buck. The consideration was not named.

• • •

The Whitney Wall company sold for M. K. Stack to S. Hanson, house and lot No. 814 East Fifth street at $1,100.

The same office also effected an exchange of a house and lot on Twenty-third avenue east, belonging to George Shibby, with S. Podgasaki for an improved thirty-acre farm on the Rice lake road. That office besides disposed of eighty acres unimproved land near Burnett, Minn., for the Ebert, Walker & McKnight company, to Joseph P. Langlois at $1,000.

• • •

W. W. Fenstermacher, president of the Duluth Realty company, sold to A. J. Wink, house and lot No. 610 Eighteenth avenue east at $4,000.

• • •

The L. A. Larsen company reported strong inquiry for building lots in the Park Land division at the end of the Ninth street car line. Sales of two lots were effected yesterday.

• • •

The A. A. Fider company received earnest money on a house and lot at Third street and Twelfth avenue east. A number of other deals in the way of modcrate priced houses are advised to be pending by the same office.

• • •

Continued inquiry for building lots in the Dickerman division at the West Duluth hillside, is noted by the N. J. Upham company. A number of additional sales were closed up during the week and negotiations are pending for the building of four more houses up there this fall.

• • •

The Alliance Real Estate company sold twelve of its Exeter Farms tracts, the buyers being largely Duluth parties. It besides disposed of two lots at Princeton Place, Hunter's Park, for immediate improvement.

• • •

C. L. Rakowsky & Co., reported the receipt of earnest money on a Woodland avenue lot.

• • •

The New Duluth Land company sold six building lots at New Duluth during the week. Three of the purchasers are arranging to build at once.

• • •

The Hanford Construction company sold to E. E. Esterley, house and lot No. 2540 Woodland avenue at $4,800.

• • •

The Field-Frey company sold several lots on Grand and Central avenues, West Duluth, during the last few days to local investors, who regard properties in that section as cheap on its present price basis and anticipate a sharp increment in values in the near future.

• • •

C. Francis Colman reported a steady inquiry for lots in his divisions at Woodland. Few days pass, he avers, without a sale being closed up and in nearly all instances, the buyers propose to build homes.

• • •

The Harris Realty company advised a number of deals pending in both residence and business properties.

The following real estate transfers were recorded during the week with the register of deeds.

• • •

Stryker, Manley & Buck report a continued lively inquiry for acre tracts. Though their advertisement of Ingleside park appeared in but one issue of The Herald they affected sales as follows: To C. R. Thorburn three lots, J. P. Melander three lots, J. B. Quaderer, A. J. McLennan, A. Severson and A. Christensen, each two lots and one lot each to P. Arseneau, J. Karason, A. McKenzie, Thomas F. Clark, Minnie Kitto, H. C. Hanson, R. Wellington, M. Skinner, W. J. Ptaszek and W. J. Farmer, a total of twenty-four lots. They also advise the sale of three lots in Harbor View division.

NEW FIVE-STORY WAREHOUSE AS HOME FOR PAPER COMPANY

NEW HOME OF PEYTON PAPER COMPANY.

The new warehouse now occupied by the Peyton Paper company at 222 West Michigan street, ranks as one of the most modernly appointed and complete paper establishments west of Chicago. In its arrangements are embodied many new ideas that make for convenience and despatch in receiving and shipping goods.

The structure presents a substantial exterior. It is 50 by 100 feet in size, five stories in height, and of reinforced concrete construction, making it absolutely fireproof throughout.

The large business office occupying the front portion of the ground floor is a model in its arrangements and appointments, under the latter category coming house phones connecting with the various departments in the warehouse.

In the basement is located the shipping room. Here one of the conveniences to be noted is a spiral steel chute down which parcels are transmitted from the different floors. Building paper in which a heavy trade is enjoyed by the company is also carried in the basement. On the second floor are the stationery and school supplies. Here shelving designed with a view to conveniently staging the various lines handled, has been provided. The remaining floors are utilized for storing the heavy stocks carried.

Gratification over the expansion of his house's trade was expressed this morning by B. M. Peyton, president of the company. Said he: "Last month's business was the best in our history showing an increase of 37 per cent over the same period last year. We set a new high record for our last fiscal year ending Sept. 1. Our volume of sales showed an increase of 30 per cent over the 1911 total."

The Steel Corporation

Just at this time when the big work of the Steel Corporation is under way, Proctor is feeling the influence and will share in the development and "boom" now in sight for this region.

The same people own and control the railroad, shops and terminals here at Proctor that are building the Steel Plant on the bay below, and it is believed that the big Proctor shops will be used as an adjunct and auxiliary in the construction of the Steel Plant buildings and improvements.

Already the Railway Company has made the survey to extend a new ore road from the Yards to the Plant and another immense ore dock is being constructed on the bay.

These improvements will be direct feeders for Proctor, and with its two shop plants, yards and terminals, Proctor is really an important part of the Steel Plant. The position is such that when the street cars come from West Duluth, it is said, they will be extended from Proctor and make a "loop" around by the Steel Plant and back to West Duluth. CONTRACTORS KEPT BUSY COMPLETING FALL WORK

Labor Scarce and Builders Appear to Have Plenty to Do.

All Large Contracts Will Be Completed By Jan. 1.

While nothing especially new developed in building operations this week, it is to be noted that contractors are uniformly well employed in rushing though city and outside jobs before the incoming of cold weather. Labor is scarce in some branches of the trade, more especially so in the case of carpenters, attributable to the usual rush of fall repairs and the activity showing in the building of moderate-priced homes.

That the trade is in a healthy condition is evidenced in the record of permits issued during September by the building inspector. The value for the month aggregated $473,879, showing a tidy increase of $388,489 over last year.

• • •

Included in the new work for which plans will go out for figures next week is the proposed high school at Grand Rapids, Minn. The structure will be of brick, three stories and a basement, 78 by 72 feet in size on the ground floor plan. Its cost is estimated at $40,000. The plans were prepared by Holstead & Sullivan.

Good progress is being made by contractors in the various jobs now in hand. At the Kitchi Gammi club, the interior finish is being rapidly pushed forward. The glash and steel sash have arrived and a start has been made in installing it. The contractors, McLeod & Smith, anticipate that the building will be completed by Jan. 1.

The walls of the R. E. Denfeld high school at West Duluth are now up to the first floor, and it is taken as assured that the building will be enclosed before the weather conditions become seriously unfavorable for outside work.

• • •

The Gopher Real Estate company's new block at Superior street and Twentieth avenue west is nearly completed and is expected to be ready to pass from the hands of the contractor, Charles Donelson, within a short time. Wangenstein & Gilliuson were the architects.

• • •

The contract for a duplex flat building to be erected for A. B. Anderson between Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenues west has been let to Jacobson Bros. at $6,000. The plans were prepared by Wangenstein & Gilliuson.

• • •

Plans for the new Carlton county jail and sheriff's residence will go out for figures on Oct. 7 from the office of the architects, Vernon J. Price & Co. The structure will be of fireproof construction, entailing an estimated outlay of $25,000.

Included in the new work in progress at Gary, is a brick store and flat building for Fretner & Skola. John Berger is the contractor and the plans were prepared by E. S. Radcliffe.

• • •

Bids for the proposed factory structure for the Western Rug company to go up in West Duluth are now being received by the architect, Anthony Puck. As previously intimated, the premises are estimated to cost $50,000, and it is proposed to have it ready for occupancy by Jan. 1.

• • •

Figures for the remodeling of the Episcopal church at West Duluth are being received by P. M. Olsen, architect. A new foundation will be placed under the edifice, an addition and tower built and the interior redecorated. The work is to be proceeded with at once.

The same architect is receiving bids on foundations for two houses to be built for W. Gunn and F. C. Clarke on the Boulevard, between Sixth and Seventh avenues west. Figures on the superstructures will be called for later.

• • •

The Barnett & Record company, the contractor for the $100,000 addition to the Consolidated Elevators company's plant here is pressing ahead with the work, and it is anticipated that it will be completed within two months. A permit for the work was taken out yesterday.

• • •

HEALTHY GAIN IN BUILDING

Increase of More Than $1,700,000 for Nine Months.

September Alone Showed a Gain of Nearly $400,000.

Building in Duluth thus far this year year has been much heavier than during the same period a year ago, the gain for the first nine months of the current year being over $1,700,000 over that to Oct. 1, 1912, according to the records in the office of the building inspector.

To Oct. 1 of this year permits were taken out for improvements estimated at $3,525,029, as compared with $1,822,259 in the same period last year.

The gain of last September over the preceding September was close to $400,000. Last month 150 permits were issued for improvements estimated at $473,897. During September a year ago but eighty-eight permits were issued for improvements estimated at $86,408. During August of this year 151 permits were issued for improvements estimated at $156,960.

The records indicate a most healthy condition in the building trades. Thus far this year they show that the totals of 1913 will greatly exceed those of 1912.

FINED FOR STEALING IMITATION DIAMONDS.

For stealing six dozen "sparklers" valued at $6 from the five and ten cent store Wednesday afternoon, Robert Marshall, 61 years old, was this morning fined $40 and costs or thirty days in the county jail.

Marshall was arrested last evening on a charge of drunkenness, but when he was searched at the station, his pockets were found filled with these rings. A charge of petit larceny was the placed against him and was arraigned this morning. The prisoner claimed he found the rings on an empty lot.

GET PERMIT FOR NEW ELEVATOR.

The Consolidated Elevator company today took out a permit for a large concrete elevator which will be built on Garfield avenue between elevators G and C.

The new grain storage house will cost $100,000 and will be modern and fireproof. The structure will be 164 feet long, 80 feet wide and 110 feet high. It will have a capacity of 800,000 bushels, contained in 32 bins.

LAMB GETS LAND; WISE GIVEN $300.

E. H. Lamb was this morning awarded title of the farm land in Crow Wing county, for which he brought suit in equity before Federal Judge Morris against Ransford R. Wise of Brainerd.

Mr. Lamb must pay $1,500 for the property to Mrs. Benson and $300 to Mr. Wise. The suit was brought into court by Mr. Lamb, who claimed that Mr. Wise influenced Mrs. Benson to sell her property to him for $1,500, after the plaintiff had already made an agreement to buy the land for $1,800.

Ordinance Gives City Power to Shut Off Gas or Water.

Also Provides for Electricity in Case City Acquires Plant.

Duluth hasn't yet acquired an electric lighting plant, but in drawing an ordinance providing for the withholding of water or light from certain persons indebted to the city, City Attorney Harvey S. Clapp includes electricity with water and gas.

Should the city in the future operate an electric lighting plant this will obviate the necessity of drawing a new ordinance or amending the proposed ordinance. The same draft also includes those who are in arrears for extensions, which would cover the situation should the city adopt an ordinance providing for the payment of a frontage tax for water extensions.

The ordinance authorizes the commissioner of public utilities to shut off water and gas of persons who have not paid their water and gas bills, or are indebted to the city for repairs or other commodities. It will be introduced at the meeting of the city commission Monday afternoon.

The water and light department, cooperating with Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, head of the utilities division, and City Attorney Clapp, is now framing rules for the conduct of the department. These will include regulations for plumbers and for the payment of bills.

GETTING DAMAGED BOATS IN SHAPE

Rees and Rupert Soon to Continue Voyages—Other Repairs.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 4.—Wreckers Thursday began to put the steamers W. D. Rees and Prince Rupert, which were in collision above the Soo Tuesday night, into shape to continue their voyages.

Divers examined the Rees and reported she has a hole ten feet long and from four inches to a mere crack in width below the water line on the port side. Above the water two small holes were torn abreast of No. 11 hatch by the Rupert's anchor. Her water bottom forward is shoved up as a result of being beached. After these holes are patched her cargo hold, which is flooded, will be pumped out.

She lies on boulder bottom on Vidal shoals with fourteen feet of water at the stem and thirty feet at the stern. Her stern is submerged.

The Prince Rupert's stem is jammed to the port side, her hawse pipe and port anchor are broken and there is a hole below the hawse pipe. A plate was put over the hawse pipe and a cement patch over the hole. The Rupert's forepeak is full of water and, after it is pumped out, she will leave for Port William where permanent repairs will be made.

The steamer J. S. Morrow which was struck by the steamer City of London was docked at Ecorse Thursday.

It has not been decided what disposition will be made of the wreck of the steamer City of London which lies on the bottom west of Pelee island Arrangements have been made by the Lake Carriers' association to mark the wreck beginning tonight Descriptions of the lights marking the ship will be handed to all masters on down ships passing Detroit during the next few days Bulletins were posted on the boards of the association

HEAVY VESSEL RUSH NOW ON

Grain, Ore and Coal Movement Is Reaching Big Proportions.

One of the heaviest rushes of vessels of the season was on during the twenty-four hours that closed at noon today. A very large coal fleet came up the lakes and a big fleet of ore boats departed for the lower lakes.

The grain tonnage was heavier during the period mentioned than it has been for weeks, a fairly large fleet leaving for Buffalo.

Coal boats were far in the majority, and there is another large fleet of boats due to arrive here during the next twenty-four hours.

REVENUE OFFICER ON LAKES PUNISHED.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Secretary McAdoo yesterday reprimanded Capt. John Berry, commanding the revenue cutter Tuscarora, and suspended him from duty on three-quarters pay for three months. Capt. Berry was court-martialed recently on charges of neglect of duty and violation of regulations in connection with the grounding of the Tuscarora at St. Whitl point, Lake Michigan, on June 20. The court imposed a reprimand and six months' suspension from duty on three-quarters pay.

Menace to Vessels.

The following notice has been received from George A. Marr, secretary of the Lake Carriers' association:

"Anchor lost by car ferry at Conneaut lies slightly to eastward of center of channel and about 1,200 feet southerly from outer end of piers. Until removed, will be marked by buoy showing red light at night."

Draft at Soo.

The recommended draft for the Poe lock is nineteen feet, two inches. H. W. Brown, agent for the Pittsburg Steamship company, is posting the notice to the Lake Carriers' association.

MUCH MESABA ORE NOT OWNED BY TRUST

Merriam and Olcott So Testify at Steel Trust Hearing.

New York, Oct. 4.—In the Mesaba mining region there are 300,000,000 tons of iron ore not controlled by companies, it was testified on behalf of the United States Steel corporation in the government's suit to dissolve the corporation on the ground that it is a monopoly.

William A. Merriam, expert geologist for the "trust," said 50 per cent of the ore supply is now commercially available. Under cross-examination by Federal counsel, Mr. Merriam declared that independent holdings in the Mesaba range are as great as those of the steel corporation.

Olcott on the Stand.

William J. Olcott of Duluth, president of the Oliver Mining company, who said his company operates the corporation's mines in the Lake Superior district, testified he did not think that the "Trust" has secret holdings there.

"What would be the result of trying to monopolize the ore lands in the Lake Superior region?" the witness was asked.

"It would be hard to do, in the first place—almost impossible, in fact," was the reply.

"If done, what?"

"I think more exploring would be done and the development would go on faster," said Mr. Olcott.

"BARNES IS LYING" IS ROOSEVELT FAREWELL

Col. Makes Statement as He Starts for South America.

New York, Oct. 4.—Theodore Roosevelt and party, bound for South America, where the colonel will first lecture and then explore portions of the continent hitherto untrod by white men, sailed on the steamship Van Dyck shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Roosevelt held a reception in his suite before the boat got away, and took occasion to reply to William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the Republican state committee, who issued a statement last night saying that the Democrats and Progressives were in league to nominate supreme court Justice Seabury of this city for the court of appeals.

"That is one of Barnes' habitual lies," said Col. Roosevelt. "There has been no agreement whatever with reference to Justice Seabury.

Commenting on the fact that he had omitted from his set speech delivered at a banquet in his honor last night, references to the Panama canal zone and complimentary allusions to Brazil, Chile and Argentine republic—the countries he is now to visit—Col. Roosevelt explained he had done so merely because he thought other things more important. The trip to South America will occupy seventeen days.

MEMBER OF JURY UNDER CONVICTION.

Patrick F. Carpenter, one of the men who took part in the deliberations of the Maud Grant jury which disagreed last evening after having been out for thirty-four hours, is under sentence in municipal court for the charge of selling liquor to a minor in 1909.

The case was appealed to the district court and the higher tribunal has yet to pass upon the conviction. In police court, Carpenter was convicted on two counts, both charging the same offense. In one case he was given sixty days or a fine and in the second thirty days or a fine.

The case will be retried at the November term.

REV. J. W. POWELL WILL PREACH HERE

REV. J. W. POWELL.

Rev. John Walker Powell, formerly pastor of the Endion M. E. church of Duluth, and now head of the department of religious instruction at the University of Minnesota, will preach twice tomorrow at the First Methodist church.

This will be the only supply necessary since the departure of Dr. Rice, as the new pastor, Rev. Dr. J. W. Hoffman of Crafton, Pa., will arrive during the coming week and will occupy the pulpit of the First church a week from tomorrow.

Mr. Powell, who was a very popular pastor during his long service at Endion church, will, it is believed, be greeted by large audiences tomorrow. The subject of his sermon in the morning will be "Life's Ideals," and he will preach in the evening on "The Universal Quest."

HIS AMBITION IS NIPPED IN BUD

Louis Badore Sues for Damages for Loss of Finger on Railroad.

Louis Badore's life ambition was to be a railroad man, but on July 18 last at Two Harbors, while employed as switchman for the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company, he lost one of his fingers from his left hand through an accident. The hand was otherwise crippled.

Badore is now disqualified, he says, from ever entering the train service of a railroad either in the United States or Canada. In consequence in district court today he filed a suit for damages against his employers, the Duluth & Iron Range.

Badore asks for $20,000 as a balm for his injuries and to recompensate him for his disappointment in his chosen vocation.

He charges the company with negligence in not having its cars equipped with sufficient grab rails to prevent accidents.

MRS. PANKHURST IS "MUCH IN DEMAND"

Big Fees Asked for Lectures Do Not Daunt Americans.

Paris, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, after reading dispatches from New York this morning reporting the commotion among the American suffragettes caused by the large fees which the suffragette leader is to receive for her lectures, commissioned her daughter Christabel to explain her point of view.

"The women's movement is an international one," said Miss Pankhurst. "Consequently, anything contributed by Americans to help to win the women suffrage campaign in England will help the cause throughout the world England is more conservative than any other country. If woman suffrage should be obtained there it would be easier to win elsewhere."

Miss Christabal says that Mrs. John Wickham of the Women's Social and Political union, who is arranging Mrs. Pankhurst's tour, is receiving more invitations than it is possible for Mrs. Pankhurst to accept, in spite of the fee asked.

The trailing arbutus will be the state flower of Pennsylvania if the request of the Merion (Pa.) chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution is acceded to.

HEAD OF "PRINCES' TRUST" IN GERMANY

PRINCE MAX EGON VON FUERSTENBURG.

Prince Max Egon von Fuerstenburg is the head of the so-called "Prince's trust" which has just got into financial difficulties. It is reported the prince will mortgage his estates to borrow money to pay his debts. His indebtedness to the Deutsche bank runs into the millions. He and his associates relied on their intimacy with the kaiser to give them an advantage in the financial world and for years they have fought the Deutsche bank. But recently their affairs became so involved that they had to ask for the assistance of the bank.

PETITIONS ARE USELESS

Limit Reached on Street Improvements for Next Year.

More Work Petitioned for Now Than Can Be Done.

Citizens who contemplate street improvements can save themselves time, trouble and expense by forgetting about them this year and until next summer.

"More work has been ordered and more petitions presented for special improvements than can possibly be done next season," said Commissioner Roderick Murchison, head of the works division, this morning.

The funds in the permanent improvement fund from which street intersections and storm sewers must be paid, are limited. Commissioner Murchison states that he is very desirous of seeing all possible improvements made, but points out that it is not a question of what the city wishes to do, but what it can do. He explains that the work for next season must be so planned that a material reduction will be made in the deficit of the permanent improvement fund.

For that reason and in view of the fact that more work is already scheduled than can possibly be done, he stated that the property owners would not only help out the city but would save themselves inconvenience by not getting out petitions for future improvements. He explains that this can better be done next summer, when the improvements asked will be taken into consideration when the improvement work for 1915 is outlined.

Commissioner Murchison also makes another valuable suggestion to property owners before whose lots sidewalks have been built. He says that they can save 5 per cent by paying the amount of the assessment directly to the contractor who did the work. The amount of the assessment can be ascertained from the city. Because of the expense incurred by bookkeeping, mailing notices, etc., the city adds 5 per cent to the amount of the original assessment.

SULZER MAY NOT GO ON WITNESS STAND

Some of His Lawyers Believe It Would Be Big Mistake.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Although the opening of the case of the defense in the Sulzer impeachment trial is only two days away and the governor is determined to take the stand as ever, he has not yet convinced his counsel that this is the wise course. Some of them are said still to entertain the hope that they can convince the governor that if he opens the way for cross-examination by counsel for the board of managers he will make a big mistake.

Asked today at what stage of the proceedings the governor would be introduced, D-Cady Herrick, his chief counsel, said:

"I am not saying that he will testify."

Counsel for the board of managers are convinced, however, that at the advice of his counsel and all their pleadings will be futile now that he has decided to testify. Several of them remained here from the time court adjourned last Thursday until today and today are arranging their cross-examination. Their greatest hope is that Sulzer will testify in the manner he has suggested, "telling all."

The whole feature of the case depends on the governor's own actions. If his counsel at the eleventh hour can convince him it would be best to tell only a little of his story, or not take the stand at all, the trial ought to end within a few days. If he does not testify, counsel for the board of managers will have little more testimony to introduce. Practically all their plans now center on Sulzer himself.

TARIFF ORDERS FOR GREAT LAKES FRAMED

Goods From Canada Will Be Taxed According to Ships' Registry.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Under advice from the state department, the treasury department is about to instruct collectors of customs to assess duties against imports from Germany, Canada and Mexico and other countries not having special treaty arrangements to the contrary, at the full rates laid down in the Underwood tariff act, unless they were imported into the United States in ships of American registry, in which case they will be entitled to a differential of 5 per cent.

The maximum duties will not apply to goods from Prussia, because of the continuance in force of the old treaty with that country, but goods from all other parts of Germany would have to pay additional 5 per cent.

Likewise, the Canadian shipping on the Great Lakes will be charged full rates for their cargoes imported into the United States, while similar goods brought across the Lakes in American ships will enjoy the 5 per cent remission.

COBWEBS IN CHURCHES.

London Evening Standard: A well-known West end clergyman is responsible for the following story, which he gives as an "awful example" of the dangers to which, even in these days of an educated democracy, a preacher is exposed who ventures to use figurative language in the pulpit.

The clergyman in question when in the pulpit made use of the following expression: "Natural science nowadays has become the handmaid of the Lord; but the revelation which comes to us from that domain is, as it were, from without, and may be likened to a beam of sunlight darting through the windows of some ancient house of God; it does but reveal the presence of time's unnoticed cobwebs, which simply want brushing away."

As he was packing his robe in his bag before leaving the church, he noticed an elderly woman fidgeting about in the dim gloom at the back of the vestry. "What can I do for you?" he asked at length, as she showed no signs of taking her departure.

Nervously she burst forth: "Oh, sor, it was cruel of you to talk about them cobwebs from the pulpit. I does my best, but my mop's too short, and vicar, he won't let me get another."

Last year churches of Christendom contributed more than $30,000,000 to missionary work.

TRADE COURT IS ABOLISHED

Senate Passes the Urgent Deficiency Appropriation Bill.

Exempts Marshals and Deputy Collectors From Civil Service.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Securing the attendance of a voting quorum by a narrow margin, the senate today passed the urgent deficiency appropriation bill, carrying the house provision abolishing the commerce court. An amendment retaining the five commerce court judges on the circuit court bench until they resign or retire was added to the provision, following a filibuster by supporters of the amendment.

The bill also carried, as finally passed, an amendment proposed by the senate appropriations committee, exempting deputy United States marshals and deputy internal revenue collectors from the classified civil service. This provision was strongly opposed by the senate Republicans.

About $5,000,000 of appropriations are carried by the bill, including $100,000 for the use of the state department in moving Americans out of Mexico.

SEVERE HAIL STORM IN CROW WING COUNTY

EXPORTING PLAYGROUNDS

Spread of Our American Recreation Movement in Countries of the Orient---China Shows Most Progress.

By C. M. GOETHE.

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

(On a recent trip around the world, Mr. Goethe, a business man of Sacramento, Cal., sought to spread among missionaries and leaders of the "New East," the message of the American movement for play and recreation. He had earlier established a playground at an orphanage in Sacramento and helped to organize the playground work of the city. Mr. and Mrs. Goethe are backing playground work in Calcutta until a point is reached where the government will take it over, and they are also contributing the American share toward a playground leader in Korea.)

A Mexican governor addressed his people in 1908 with words which five years later seem almost prophetic. He said: "Today Mexico has Diaz. That means peace. Diaz is old. When he is gone, what will happen? I say as long as your recreation centers in the bull fight; as long as your little boys, and mothers with babes at breast, flock to these places, so long will Mexico be a land of revolutions. While the strong hand of Diaz still supports you, commence, now, to find a substitute in character-building recreation."

Watch the crowd in Montezuma's capital coming from the bull ring. Men and boys scramble, almost fight, for strips of muscle from a dead bull. They believe that eating this prevents cowardice. Little children carry away in triumph the cruel steel barbs, gleefully recounting scenes not much removed in bloodiness from those of the arena in which gladiators fought and early Christians were martyred. You turn away, feeling that, with our knowledge of a better recreation, there comes a responsibility to transmit that knowledge to those whose civilization is different.

Recreation is a world need. To what extent has our splendid American recreation movement spread to the countries of the Orient? There are only a few little beginnings. A start has been made in Manila. Through the co-operation of the Young Men's Christian association and the Playground and Recreation association, a committee was appointed by Acting Governor General Gilbert, who granted an appropriation for an experimental playground in the Tondo, a congested district. Success came at the very first. The attendance ran into thousands. The effort now is for a complete Manila system; and then should come extension throughout the islands. The Filipinos' legislature is quick to appreciate work toward social betterment. Members return to their homes with strong convictions that their town should have the same improvements as the capital.

Talk to the typical Chinese merchant of Singapore or Penang, owner of tin mines and plantations of pineapple and rubber, with one son perhaps at Princeton, another at Oxford, who poured his wealth into China to back the theories of Sun Yet Sin against the Manchu. How his knowledge of American institutions surprises you; and how eager he is to learn of American playgrounds. At his palatial country home, with luxuriant growth of mango and cocoanuts, and brilliant bougainveollias, you will find lodge gates decorated with the porcelain Chinese lucky dog and the American eagle. He is proud to have the emblem of our republic, the model for New China. The soil here awaits the playground seed. It will grow as luxuriantly as the bananas on his estate.

Or go to the Temple of Kali in Calcutta for a striking argument of playground extension in the Orient. We had planned to arrange for a model playground in India, preferably at Calcutta, Bombay or Delhi. It had been suggested to us that we see D. W. Lee, who with his wife, Ada Lee, has a reputation all over India for accomplishing things. After we told them the playground story, which we repeated from Yokohama to Cairo, Mr. Lee said: "This plan seems good. My niece has seen playground work in Los Angeles. We will discuss the matter. Meanwhile, go to Kalighat. You will then be better informed."

So we went to the temple of Kali, Goddess of Hate. Our word "thug" is Hindustandi. It comes from an organization of thieves and murderers whose headquarters were at the temple and who shared spoils with the priests. The man who originally gave the jungle land for the temple was a shrewd real estate operator, although he had not heard of "unearned increment." When Kali was carved to pieces by her husband, Shiva, one of the fingers fell on this spot, which henceforth became sacred. The legend was evidently concocted by the shrewd realty operator, though there is no record that he sold lots at a rupee down, a rupee a month. Tradesmen for several blocks around depend upon the visitors to the temple. The latter is situated in the center of a square in a crowded, dirty part of Calcutta. It is reached through a narrow alley, bounded by stalls filled with Brahmins. These men have few garments, save the sacred thread over the shoulder.

The temple visitors are largely women. Many bring children, some sick, to the shrine of the goddess who sends disease. The courtyard is crowded. In front of the shrine is a struggling mass of women, each fighting for the chance to lay her offering at the feet of the dread Goddess. Big burly Hindus are at the entrance. One says something like, "Kall. One-eyed goddess, Hate." Then with a formation like the old flying wedge of American football, they rush into the mass of women, opening a lane to the hideous grinning idol. Leaving the shrine, the women run through a line of almost naked Brahmins to where young kids, with feet bound, are stacked like piles of cordwood. Each mother pays the head priest. Another priest decapitates a kid, the mother meanwhile holding her screaming child so close that the spurting blood will strike its face. The paving stones became slippery with blood. A more horrible scene could hardly be imagined. Then the weak, puny bits of womanhood, mothers at a cruelly early age, run another gauntlet through priests who try to wring from them coppers for smearing them with holy ashes.

We thought of the merry peals of laughter on American playgrounds, and realized why Mr. Lee had said, "Go to Kalighat. You will then understand conditions in India better." When we returned, he offered a block in the center of Ballaghata, a suburb of Calcutta, and money toward what will probably be the first playground for a country containing one out of every five of humanity.

The whole value of such experimental work must be educational. A good field for another playground is Bombay, center of the wealthy Parsees. We criticize them for their Towers of Silence, where bodies of the dead are exposed to the vultures. We criticize them for giving funds to hospitals for sick dogs and neglecting human needs. But they are a benevolent people and they have that shrewd intelligence which gives them the control of great industries such as the vast Bombay cotton mills. They need only to have knowledge of American playgrounds to start them at work.

Publicity is needed. When a breakfast food manufacturer wants to demonstrate its merits, he plans a campaign costing hundreds of thousands. If there was an opportunity to make 1 cent a year on each of India's 300,000,000, how American capital would be poured in. Yet, a very modest sum spent in a campaign of education such as the Playground association conducts in this country would start these people working to help themselves.

OWN A HOME

AND CHEAT THE RAINY DAY

That every man can be a property owner needs no discussion, but that only a small percentage do, needs some comment.

Five, ten or fifteen years ago had you purchased a home on the easy payment plan, on payments no bigger than the monthly rent, it would be free and clear today and working for you every minute. It would have greatly increased in value. But it's never too late. In fact, there never was a better time to buy than now, never a time when the prospects for a bigger and better Duluth looked better, or a time when cozy, comfortable homes can be purchased on such easy terms. That monthly rent will do it, and to do it is a duty.

Every day The Herald's Real Estate Columns call to you with lists of payment plan homes. Look them over. You'll find what you want.

CONFESSES HE IS THE MURDERER OF TWENTY PERSONS

MYSTERY SHROUDS MURDER OF A STRUGGLING ART STUDENT

Ida G. Leegson Lured to Death on Prairie South of Chicago.

Led Exemplary Life, Had No Male Callers and No Money.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Mystery still shrouds the murder of Miss Ida G. Leegson, a struggling art student, who was lured by a telephone call to the prairie south of the city Saturday and strangled with a silken cord. Following her identification, little has been found to indicate a motive for the murder.

Hurried investigation has shown only that she led an exemplary life, had no male callers at any of the places where she is known to have resided, and she is not thought to have possessed any very large amount of money.

Miss Leegson was a graduate of the University of Chicago, a pupil of Lorado Taft, the sculptor, and a student at the Art Institute. Her murder marked the end of a long struggle to make her way as a sculptor. Her studies at the University of Chicago were to fit her for work by which she could earn enough to complete her art education. For several winters she taught school, returning to the city to resume work at the art institute.

Only a few hours before she was lured to her death she answered an advertisement for a domestic, saying she had to have funds to continue art study and was not too proud to do kitchen work.

Late Saturday afternoon a man, who gave the name of Wilson, telephoned the residence where Miss Leegson lived and asked her to take a position as nurse in a maturity case. She was directed to go to Seventy-first street and Western avenue and walk to an address four miles west. The body was found three miles west of that point in a clump of bushes. The address to which she had been directed does not exist.

Finger Marks on Neck.

Game wardens followed a trail of torn clothing to the spot where her half nude form was lying. On her neck were finger marks and encircling was a thin blue line which was made by a piece of fishline.

There also were fresh tracks made by an automobile. A guard at a railroad crossing on Seventy-first street saw a large black car go west on West Seventy-first street Saturday evening. It returned about three hours later.

Miss Leegson recently returned from Mason City, Iowa, where she taught school for a few days, giving up her position because she was not fitted for teaching in the grammar grades. She

HEATED DEBATE IS EXPECTED

At Opening Session of Episcopal Convention on Wednesday.

New York, Oct. 6.—The general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church, which begins on Wednesday, Oct. 8, will be marked by heated debates from the outset. It is expected that the first business session of the house of deputies, in the new synod hall, will be the occasion of a fight over the method of electing a presiding officer.

The president of the house of deputies at this time is Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim of Washington, but his term automatically expires with the formal opening of the convention in the cathedral in the forenoon on Wednesday. At 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Henry Anstice, the veteran secretary of the house of deputies, will call that body to order and under his temporary chairmanship, the deputies will immediately proceed to the election of a chief executive.

It is understood that at this point one of the members of the house will present a plan for voting which will be a radical departure from the method heretofore in use.

A few persons who have an inkling of what is to be proposed predict that the debate precipitated will be the most memorable in the 128 years of the convention's history.

The convention will be opened formally with the imposing and solemn services in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning. The holy communion will be celebrated by the Most Rev. Dr. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, the presiding bishop of the church and bishop of Missouri. He will be assisted by the Rt. Rev. Dr. David Hummell Greer, bishop of New York, and two other members of the episcopate. The convention sermon will be preached by the Rt. Rev. Dr. William Lawrence, bishop of Massachusetts.

Within the sacred enclosure there will be over 100 bishops. The stalls in the choir, usually reserved for visiting clergymen, will be occupied by laymen of the diocese of New York and elsewhere who have attained importance and distinction because of their services to the church.

SPOONING PEEVES GRAND FORKS MATRON

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Pearl Blough, police matron of Grand Forks, formerly of Minneapolis, insists that the steps of school buildings are no fit place for spooning, and she will ask the Grand Forks board of education to erect high picket fences about the several school buildings that are not now so provided.

Miss Blough insists that the proper kind of a fence will deter any spooning couples from attempting to gain the sheltered nooks.

She says that for some time past the darkened recesses of the school buildings have become the meeting places of lovesick swains and their maidens fair.

NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL REACHES PHILIPPINES

FRANCIS BURTON HARRISON.

Manila, Oct. 6.—Francis Burton Harrison of New York, the newly appointed governor-general of the Philippines, arrived here today on board the steamship Manchuria. He was greeted on his arrival by a crowd of several thousand people, many of whom had come from the provinces. Traffic in the streets of the city was brought to a standstill by the crowds. Several of the welcoming delegations were accompanied by bands.

The Manchuria was met down the harbor by a flotilla of steam launches, one of which took out Newton W. Gilbert of Fort Wayne, Ind., the vice governor.

Governor-general Harrison, on landing, drove from the pier by a roundabout route to the Luneta, where he delivered his inaugural address.

WOMEN ARE NOT HARMED

Missionaries Held By Chinese Bandits Thought to Be Safe.

Attempt of Bandits to Escape From City Is Failure.

Pekin, Oct. 6.—A message dated Oct. 3 was received today at Siang-Yang-Fu, in the province of Hu-Peh, from Rev. Christian Stokstad, and Rev. Mr. Johnson, the two American missionaries trying to negotiate with the Chinese bandits for the release of the American and Norwegian missionaries held in captivity by the bandits at Tsao Yang. It says that three white women and two children are at the bandits' headquarters and have not been harmed, while the men are believed to be living.

This message appears to discredit the report that the little son of the Rev. Mr. Fauske and Mrs. Fauske has been killed.

Rev. C. Stokstad and Rev. Mr. Johnson express the hope that the force of 1,800 troops around Tsao-Yang will be able to hold the bandits until reinforcements arrive. The bandits number about 1,000, of whom half are mounted.

Bandits Are Repulsed.

Hankow, China, Oct. 6.—Four thousand government soldiers surrounded the town of Tsao Yang, where a number of American and Norwegian missionaries are in the hands of Chinese bandits. Official telegrams received at the office of Gen. Li Yuen Hang, vice president of the republic, report an attempt on the part of the bandits to make their way out of the city. On Thursday evening, they opened all the gates and tried to escape through the strong government cordon but failed.

Fighting ensued for several hours and the bandits retired within the walls of the city. Two hundred bandits and eleven soldiers were killed.

One report estimates that the bandits number 1,000, all of them well armed. Skirmishes are occurring daily.

Missionaries' Fate Doubtful.

Pekin, Oct. 6.—The American legation fears the consequences of the fighting which has already occurred between the government forces and the bandits at Tsao Yang, in spite of instructions issued at Pekin.

The government has telegraphed to authorities at Siang Yang Fu to offer liberal rewards if all the missionaries at Tsao Yang are recovered alive. Up to the present, no official news has been received here regarding the fate of missionaries.

The American vice consul at Shanghai, P. J. Jamison, has informed the legation that one of the foreign women was injured when the town was attacked. The captives, according to the latest reports, are Rev. George Holm, wife and son, and Miss Sather, Americans; Miss C. L. Rasmussen, Mr. Berdahl and the Rev. H. Fauske, and wife, Norwegians. The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Fauske was killed. The Fancheng missionaries promise to communicate immediately with the American legation as soon as news is received from Rev. Christian Stockstad and Rev. Mr. Johnson, who are now believed to be outside of Tsao Yang with the soldiers.

WILSON MAY STUMP FOR CURRENCY BILL

All Depends on Action Which the Senate Will Take.

Washington, Oct. 6.—If the senate Democrats do not pass within a reasonable time the currency bill which President Wilson insists on being enacted at this session, the president may make two or three speeches in some of the larger cities of the country on the question. He has such a step under consideration, and is holding back simply to give the senate time to decide what it is going to do.

President Wilson has in mind the campaign made by Former President Taft in behalf of reciprocity, and believes in the idea. If he decides to take the stump in behalf of currency he will confine his speeches to that subject.

But the president does not yet believe there is any real danger of the senate failing to pass the bill in the main as it now stands. He is not ignorant, however, of the tactics of some of the Democrats in trying to delay action. He has the names of all those members who are fighting the present bill, and will get in touch with them shortly.

It can be stated on the highest authority that the president will use the speech-making method as a weapon before he even considers using patronage as a club.

TREATY RIGHTS NOT VIOLATED

Washington, Oct. 6.—None of Harry K. Thaw's treaty rights as an American citizen were violated when the Canadian immigration authorities forcibly deported him a few weeks ago. That was the ruling today of Solicitor Joseph W. Folk of the state department.

To Postpone Decision.

Concord, N. H., Oct. 6.—New York state officials have asked Governor Felker to postpone for a time his decision in the matter of the extradition of Harry K. Thaw from New Hampshire. The governor said he probably would grant the request. As the governor understands the situation, this move of the New York authorities is to be taken in view of the investigation to be made by Attorney General Carmody into the Thaw case.

NEW HAVEN MEN VOTE IN FAVOR OF STRIKE.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 6.—Officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers declined to discuss Governor Foss' second letter last night. The strike ballot taken on the New Haven system was forwarded to General Manager Bardo of the New Haven. It was said, unofficially, that the men favor a strike, if their demands cannot be gained in any other way, by a vote of 3,475 to 68.

Big Durum Crop.

Buffalo, N. D., Oct. 6.—A durum wheat yield of 31½ bushels per acre is reported by Beteri Anderson. The field containing the durum was thirty acres in extent and the crop is the largest of that type of wheat reported in this locality.

SARECKY TO TAKE STAND

Campaign Secretary to Be First Witness for Sulzer.

Opening Day for the Defense in the Impeachment Trial.

CASE IS REOPENED.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Despite the protest of Governor Sulzer's counsel, a motion by attorneys for the assembly board of managers to permit them to reopen their case and introduce further testimony was allowed by Presiding Judge Cullen this afternoon. The new testimony was expected to be brief.

A new unreported campaign contribution of $10,000 developed. I. V. McGlone testified that he handed the governor ten $1,000 bills for his employer, Allen A. Ryan, a son of Thomas F. Ryan, last October.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 6.—This was the opening day for the defense in the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer. According to the agreed Monday program, only an afternoon session of the court was to be held, beginning at 2:15 o'clock and lasting until 6 p. m. Senator Harvey D. Hinman planned to occupy half this time with his opening address, much of which he said would be extemporaneous.

Louis A. Sarecky was selected as the first witness. As campaign secretary to the governor, Sarecky handled much of the money contributed to the campaign fund and many checks intended for Sulzer were made out to Sarecky. He said on his arrival here that he could prove that at least $21,000, which the governor is charged with not having reported as a contribution, really was not such, but came to Sulzer from an entirely different source.

Counsel for the governor have maintained since the beginning of the trial that attorneys for the board of managers were not anxious to have Sarecky testify, and today the legal advisers of the defense said they expected his cross-examination would be brief. Counsel for the managers stated they searched for twenty-four days for Sarecky before he finally turned up here and was subpoenaed. Much was made of his discovery at the time, but they never called him to the witness stand.

CASHIER ROBBED BY MASKED MEN

Stonington, Conn., Oct. 6.—Carl A. Keelb, cashier of the American Velvet company, was held up at the point of a gun and robbed of $16,000 this forenoon by two masked men.

He was driving with the money from the First National bank to the mill. After taking the money the robbers disappeared in a northerly direction. Posses have started in pursuit.

The money was later found hidden in a crevice in a stone wall, a short distance from where the holdup occurred.

RUSH TO SEE FIRST GAME

Fans Are Pouring Into New York By Every Train.

Fair Weather Forecasted for Opening Day of World's Series.

New York, Oct. 6.—This, the day before the opening of the world's series baseball games in New York, found the vanguard of fans pouring into the city on every train.

With the exception of minor details to be disposed of by the national commission, everything is in readiness for the opening contest at the Polo grounds tomorrow afternoon. Today's weather was flawless and the Washington forecast for tomorrow called for another fair day.

Baseball writers from far and near trooped into the city today for their annual meeting this afternoon. There was the usual talk this morning that speculators had secured a choice allotment of reserved seats and signs were displayed in a number of ticket agencies announcing this. The casual fan who arrived today found all of the 8,000 reserved seats disposed of and nothing left for him to do but get in line at the Polo grounds early tomorrow morning when the 30,000 unreserved seats are thrown open.

It was said again today that it was doubtful whether Snodgrass, the Giants' centerfielder, who is suffering with a "charley horse," would be able to take part in the series. Doyle's injured shoulder has completely recovered, however, and it is certain that he will be in the opening game. If Snodgrass does not play, it is probable that Shafer will take his place in the field and Herzog will go to third base.

Betting Is Light.

Generally speaking, betting on the series has been light. Some few big bets have been recorded, but neither team can be called the favorite and it was said that the wagering would be the smallest in recent years. An even money proposition has been the rule in most bets.

At an exhibition game with the Philadelphia Nationals today, the Giants had their final workout. Both Mathewson and Marquard were assigned to

VOTE TO DEFY JUDGE'S ORDER

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 6.—Six women and thirty-two men, convicted of signing the resolutions of defiance of Superior Judge John E. Humphreis, spent Sunday in jail. Mrs. Hulet M. Wells, whose husband, Socialist nominee for mayor last year, is in jail, made preparations to surrender to the sheriff. She had signed the resolutions, but had not been arrested.

The state executive committee of the Socialist party decided to violate the injunction of Superior Judge Humphreis forbidding speaking on Pike-Westlake square; appointed a manager to handle the campaign, and appropriated money to carry it on. Announcement of the committee's decision was made at a great mass meeting of the Free Speech league last night. It was stated that several meetings would be held in the forbidden square next Tuesday night.

ELECTED PRESIDENT OF CHINESE REPUBLIC

YUAN SHI KAI.

Pekin, Oct. 6.—Yuan Shi Kai was today elected president of the Chinese republic for a term of five years. He received the necessary two-thirds vote of the united houses of parliament on the third ballot.

Before the third ballot was taken, Li Yuen Heng, who is the provisional vice president, declared that he would not accept a nomination for the presidency.

MINE CLERK IS WOUNDED

Guy Wilkins of Ahmeek Mine Office Shot By Strikers.

Wound Pronounced Serious But Not Expected to Prove Fatal.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Strikers at North Kearsarge this morning shot and seriously wounded Guy Wilkins, clerk of the Ahmeek mine office, who was walking to his work from Kearsarge. As Wilkins passed a bunch of ten strikers, two revolver shots were fired, the first missing him and the second striking him above the right hip and knocking him down.

The strikers fled. Wilkins was taken to the Mohawk hospital, where his wound was pronounced serious but is not expected to prove fatal. The bullet passed entirely through Wilkins' body between the ribs and his hip.

Outside of this shooting the district was unexpectedly quiet this morning, especially so because the Calumet & Hecla Mining company brought in a carload of harvest hands from South Dakota to work in the mines here.

TRAFFIC HELD UP BY LANDSLIDES

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 6.—Heavy rains have caused sections of the Canadian Pacific railway track east of Fort William to slide into Lake Superior and all traffic is held up. The water lies knee deep in lowlying sections of Port Arthur and Fort William.

PRESIDENT POINCARE ON VISIT TO SPAIN.

Paris, Oct. 6.—President Poincare left Paris last night for Spain, where a brilliant series of fetes has been arranged in his honor. In view of the great work in which France and Spain are jointly embarking in Africa and the growing movement in favor of a closer political relationship, special importance attaches to the president's visit.

HANGED HIMSELF IN A NEW YORK HOTEL.

New York, Oct. 6.—Col. James E. Tate, a native of Georgia, was found dead yesterday, hanging in his room in a hotel. It is stated he committed suicide. A bank book showing a balance on deposit of $8,900 was found on the body.

Col. Tate was many years engaged in business in Baltimore. He is said to have been despondent over heavy losses in the New York stock market.

He was a cousin of the late Rear Admiral W. S. Schley.

FOURTEEN KILLED AND MANY INJURED.

Dvinsk, Russia, Oct. 6.—Fourteen passengers were killed and twenty-eight injured today when the express from Kiev to St. Petersburg collided with a stalled locomotive near the station here.

SPENT HALF OF HIS LIFE IN PRISON

Henry Spencer, Arrested for Rexroat Murder, Tells Amazing Story.

Calmly Relates to Chicago Police Details of Crimson Career.

Ten of His Victims Women and Robbery the Incentive.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—The police today began their grewsome investigation of the almost unparalleled confession last night of Henry Spencer that he is the murderer of twenty persons. Possessing evidence to support his admission that he killed Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rexroat, the dancing instructor, on Sept. 25, the authorities are convinced that they will in a short time confirm Spencer's guilt of many, if not all, the crimes of his crimson career.

Following his arrest last night for the Rexroat murder, which was made at the home of a woman who had notified the police of his coming, detectives went to Spencer's room, where they found the rattan suitcase which the tango teacher had taken with her on her fatal trip to Wayne. She was lured there on the pretext that she was to instruct a class in the dance. In it was part of her clothing and not far away the revolver with which Spencer ended her life.

En route to the detective bureau Spencer admitted to Chief of Detectives John J. Halpin that "you've the goods on me, I know I'll swing for this."

Long List of Victims.

Then began his extraordinary recital of the murders he has committed, the list of victims growing longer as the questioning continued on through the night. By morning Spencer had asserted that he had sent the following to their graves and told repeatedly the manner of their going:

One of two farmers, shot near Zion City, Ill., in the spring of 1903. Peter Niedermeier, one of the car barn bandits, who afterwards was hanged, killed the other, he said. Obtained $560.

Policeman Timothy Devine and Charles Pennell, shot in August, 1902, when they surprised Spencer and a man named Murphy breaking into a house. Murphy now dead.

Fannie Thompson, body found Jan. 1, 1908, gagged and bound in bed in a Michigan avenue rooming house. Robbed of diamonds worth $1,200.

Former wife near Fort Montgomery, N. Y. Beaten to death in woods. Robbed of $300 and diamonds worth $800. Former maid to Helen Gould.

Aged man in Washington park, last spring. Shot and body thrown in lagoon. Got $200 in cash.

Two girls at Paw Paw lake, Mich., in May or June. Beaten and bodies thrown into water.

Girl at Delavan Lake, Wis., in June. Killed with hammer and body thrown in lake.

Woman in house near county hospital. Used hammer and burned clothes. Got $140 and rings.

Woman in house at Fulton and Halsted streets, about eight months ago. Used hammer and burned clothing. Robbed house.

Saloon keeper on Van Buren street near Aberdeen. Shot man and wounded wife while robbing saloon.

Man shot and killed in alley under South Side elevated about a year ago.

Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rexroat, shot near Wayne, Sept. 25, and body placed on railroad tracks.

Ida Oliver, killed with hammer Nov. 9, 1912. Body thrown into drainage canal and recovered May 29.

Mrs. Connors, killed at St. Joseph, Mich., and robbed of jewelry.

Half His Life in Prison.

The man who claims this almost unbelievable record is a Chicago product. He does not know his real name and the first he remembers he was in the Home for the Friendless, located within a block of the scene of his arrest last night. He has spent half of his thirty-two years in the state penitentiary at Joliet. He was sentenced twice for wholesale robberies and was returned twice following violation of paroles.

He is short, weighs about 145 pounds, wears glasses and has the appearance of a clerk, whose life has known little excitement. He has been a devout worshipper at the prayer meetings of the Immanuel Baptist church and attended the wedding of its pastor's daughter three nights before he accompanied Mrs. Rexroat down the lonely stretch of railroad track near Wayne, grasped her by the neck and placed a revolver to her head.

And in a manner as unconcerned as though he was repeating the number of dances he had attended, Spencer sat with detectives and newspaper men in the office of Capt. Halpin and told of the lives he had taken. Details as to names and dates he could not always supply, but as to whether he "beat 'em in the head with a hammer," or "shot 'em to death," his memory was better. He also remembered approximately how much money or jewelry he got from his victims.

He said he did not drink or smoke—except opium. He repeatedly asserted that he had not "touched a pill" for

WILL IMPROVE FIFTH WARD

Improvement Club to Meet and Ask City for Appropriation.

The Fifth Ward Improvement club will take up a number of proposed improvements for the Fifth ward at its meeting tomorrow evening at the Emerson school, Eleventh avenue west and Third street. The members will ask the club to adopt a resolution asking the city to make provisions for covering the Buckingham creek when making out its appropriations for next year.

The residents of the district in the vicinity of this creek have for several years been attempting to get the city to make this improvement. They want the creek covered from Superior street to Fourth street. It is said that the creek is no more than an open sewer and is a menace to the health of the community during the hot weather of the summer.

It is also proposed to start petitions asking for the improvements of some of the streets in the western end of the ward.

Yeomen to Initiate.

A class initiation of new members will take place this evening at the meeting of Duluth homestead, No. 3131, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, at the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. The homestead has recently organized a degree team and this body in its full regalia will have charge of the ceremonies. The lodge will also complete plans for its "Children's Festival" which will be held on Oct. 20.

SIN AS PART OF RELIGIOUS RITES

Complicates Problem of Missionary, Says Speaker at Anniversary Service.

"Sins committeed by the heathen are a part of their religion. Sins committed in this country are done in spite of the religion." Such was the statement made by Mrs. Thomas M. Kinley in speaking of the problems confronting the missionary workers at home and abroad, in her address at the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, last night.

Mrs. Kindley, who is the wife of the former pastor of the local church, said that the negro, Mormon and Alaskan problems as well as the "white slavery" problem were the big subjects confronting the missionary workers in this country. The Christianizing of heathens in foreign lands, she said, was of importance because these people were committing sins which they considered a part of their religion.

Yesterday morning Rev. Mr. Findley delivered the fortieth anniversary address in connection with the celebration of the church's dedication. The pastor gave a short history of the church from the first organization of the flock in 1858 by a few settlers in Oneota and later the building of the church on its present site and its dedication on Oct. 8, 1873.

Rev. Mr. Findley praised the activity of the old settlers and early members of the church. He said that in spite of their limited means they had been a great factor in the upbuilding of the local church as well as many of the churches established in villages surrounding Duluth and in St. Louis county.

PASTOR RETURNED TO GRACE CHURCH

REV. GEORGE E. SILLOWAY.

Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, was returned by the Northern Methodist conference for another year to the West end church. He returned yesterday from Detroit, Minn., where he has been attending the meeting.

Rev. Mr. Silloway has been pastor of the local church for the past two years. His reports to the conference showed substantial growth in his congregation and also that its societies had largely increased subscriptions to missions and other philanthropic work.

WILL CLOSE WEDNESDAY

French Fair in West End Has Been Most Successful.

The French fair in progress in the West end will close Wednesday evening with the awarding of the grand prizes and closing of all contests. The halls have been filled every evening. The women in charge have worked hard and faithfully and they have been well repaid. So far, the bazar is successful beyond their expectations.

THREE WEDDINGS OCCUR IN ONE DAY.

Rev. Carl G. Olson of the Swedish Bethany Lutheran church had a busy day Saturday. He married two couples during the evening and one during the afternoon.

Miss Vera Albertina Vikholm and Hugo Burgman were married Saturday afternoon at the parsonage, 2305 West Third street. Mr. and Mrs. Burgman will reside at 1817 West Fourth street.

Miss Hettie Carlson and Oscar Hellstrom, both of Cumberland, Wis., were married at the parsonage at 7 o'clock in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Hellstrom are spending a few days visiting relatives in the city and will make their home in Cumberland.

Miss Esther Erickson and John Sack were married in the evening at the home of a relative at 904 Eleventh avenue east. They will make their home at Thirty-ninth avenue west and Sixth street.

Swedish Mission Notes.

The congregation of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, will hold its monthly business meeting in the church parlors this evening.

The Young People's society will hold its quarterly meeting in the church parlors tomorrow night.

RECOUNT IS UNDER WAY

Seventeen Disputed Ballots Found in First Four Precincts.

Most of Them Likely to Be Approved By Court.

Seventeen disputed ballots were held out from the first four precincts of the First ward by the inspectors, who this morning began the recount of the special election held Sept. 16 to pass upon the Hicken liquor code.

Although these will be submitted to the district court for determination, the irregularities were of such a nature, with but two or three exceptions, that it is probable that the count in the four precincts will be little changed from that returned by the judges of election.

Eliminating consideration of the disputed ballots, the ordinance loses eleven votes in the first four precincts of the First ward. Thus far more irregularities have developed on ballots which seem to have been cast for the ordinance than on those against it. The returns of the election judges show that 1,038 votes were cast in those precincts, of which 714 favored the ordinance. Half of the total vote is 519 votes, giving a majority of 195 votes. This morning's count, not including the disputed ballots, gives the ordinance votes, giving a mapority of 195 votes. A decrease of eleven in the majority. As the ordinance carried by the scant margin of thirty-eight votes, as shown by the figures of the official canvass made by the city council, this would be quite startling were it not for the fact that it is probable that most of this loss will be regained when the disputed ballots have been passed upon by the court.

Disputed Ballots.

In the first precinct three disputed ballots were found, two in the second, eight in the third and four in the fourth precinct. All of them were marked as exhibits by Deputy City Clerk Fred Ash and placed in sealed envelopes, those in each precinct by themselves.

The recount is the first step in the contest against the ordinance which has been instituted in the district court by W. W. Clayton through his attorney, Hugh J. McClearn. A. T. Banning, Jr., was chosen as the city's inspector, Walter Gonska was named by the appellant and the two agreed upon Richard M. Funck as the third inspector. The three inspectors are attorneys practicing in the city. Rapid progress was made in the recount this morning and there is little doubt but what it will be completed before the end of the week.

All the ballots are being carefully scrutinized and all those of which there is any question as to legality are being withheld. Each inspector looks at every ballot and each of them makes a separate count, practically eliminating all possibility of error. Some of the ballots withheld were marked so that the lines of the cross ran into the other square; some were marked opposite the lines of instruction, and others were marked in both places or in both the yes and no squares. In one the word "yes" had been written in where the cross should have been placed. Two or three are so marked that it is impossible to tell what was the intent of the voter.

FIVE CLERKS PLEAD GUILTY

Fined $10 Apiece for Selling Short Measures to Customers.

Arrests Are Result of Activity of State Inspector.

Five grocery clerks in different sections of the city pleaded guilty in police court this morning to having used false measures in selling goods. They were each fined $10 and costs or ten days in the county jail. They paid their fines.

Two of the clerks, Henry Johnson of 2814 West Third street ,and C. E. Anderson of 5615 Grand avenue, were arrested Firday morning. Anderson pleaded not guilty when arraigned Friday morning, but changed his plea today, while Johnson entered a plea of guilty when his case was taken up. He was arraigned last Friday, but did not enter a plea, it being agreed at the time that he would enter one this morning.

Johnson was charged with having sold 16½ ounces of cranberries for a quart, which should contain 18 ounces. The charge against Anderson is that he sold 20½ ounces of pickling onions for a quart, which should contain 26 ounces.

Ray B. Clifford of 223 West Second street pleaded guilty to selling 16½ ounces of cranberries for a quart, when arraigned Saturday morning, but sentence was continued until this morning.

This morning Emil Kjall of 2005 West First street and Charles Novak of 6302 Roosevelt street were taken into custody by Court Officer Jensen. They were each charged with selling 15½ ounces of cranberries for a quart. They both pleaded guilty.

The complaints against the clerks were made by C. A. Montgomery, state inspector of weights and measures.

WEARING AIGRETTES VIOLATION OF LAW.

Washington, Oct. 6.—A woman entering the United States wearing an aigrette on her hat violates the new tariff law just as much as a man with a pound of opium in his pocket. That is the unofficial view of officials here who have asked the New York customs house for details of seizures of plumes from hats of trans-Atlantic passengers there Saturday.

Nominations Expected Soon.

Washington, Oct. 6.—President Wilson expects to send to the senate this week the nomination of H. M. Pindell, a newspaper editor of Peoria, Ill., to be ambassador to Russia, and that of Mayor Brand Whitlock of Toledo to be minister to Belgium.

DID CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH?

Look, Mother! If Tongue Is Coated Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled!

BIG SUM IS DUE THE CITY

Nearly $30,000 in Delinquent Assessments to Be Collected.

Commission Is Expected to Revoke Another Saloon License.

The city has from $25,000 to $30,000 coming from delinquent assessments.

The detailed list is being prepared by the city finance division and at the meeting of the city commission this afternoon a resolution was submitted directing that they be transmitted to the county auditor for collection.

The delinquent assessments include those for sprinkling, sidewalk construction, sewers and special street improvements. If they are not paid within forty days from the publication of the confirmation of the assessment by the council, they become delinquent and a penalty of 10 per cent is added. The assessments are a lien against the property.

Considerable routine business is scheduled for the consideration of the city commissioners this afternoon. The saloon license of P. J. Hickey at 113 West First street is likely to be revoked, following the conviction of his bartender for keeping open Sunday. Commissioner Merritt will offer an ordinance authorizing him to shut off the water or gas of persons indebted to the water and light department. The ordinance providing for the issuance of $275,000 of certificates of indebtedness, in anticipation of the 1914 tax collection will be given its second reading. The vacation of four blocks or Crescent avenue will be considered and judging from the present attitude of the commission will likely fail of approval. The vacation of the alley in block 4, Harrison's division, will be passed upon, probably favorably.

FILES SUIT IN CREDITORS' BEHALF

First National Bank and Brunswick Co. Are the Defendants.

In behalf of a number of creditors of the estate of David Polinsky, bankrupt, Norman S. Marshall, trustee in bankruptcy, is suing the First National bank and the Brunswick company to recover certain assets of the estate paid over to the defendants by Polinsky prior to his going into bankruptcy. The two cases are being tried before the same jury in Judge Dancer's division of the district court today.

The trustee claims that in March, 1912, the First National bank and the Brunswick company obtained written confessions of judgment for $449.05 and $504.69 respectively from Polinsky and that executions were levied against his property to satisfy the claims. The trustee claims that Polinsky agreed to the judgments only on the condition that the other creditors be taken care of at the same time. This, he claims, has not been done. The suit is brought to recover the money for the estate in order that the funds may be distributed pro rata among all of the creditors. The property was valued at $2,000 and the claims amounted to about $3,500.

Polinsky went into bankruptcy in July, 1912, nearly four months after the transaction.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Two Vocalists of Exceptional Merit Headline New Bill.

"Marie McFarland and Madam ?" is the unique billing of two of the best legitimate singers who have ever graced vaudeville in Duluth.

Sandwiched in between two tango dancers and a banjo artist at the Orpheum yesterday, they won the Sunday audience with their true musicianship, their evidences of splendid training and the excellent quality and power of their voices. When a Sunday vaudeville audience will enthusiastically applaud a duet from Norma, "A Garden of Love," the Berceuse from "Jocelyn" and "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier," the singing must be far above the vaudeville average. True "My Hero" got the bulk of the applause, and Miss McFarland was forced to come before the curtain and repeat the chorus after the lights had been turned on for the next act.

The reason for the mask on Madame ? is hard to fathom. She was originally billed in New York as a prima donna of international reputation who had entered vaudeville and had refused to disclose her identity. It did not take the musical critics of the metropolis long to penetrate the very slim disguise, and they announced that she was Miss McFarland's sister. The mask was probably retained for the sake of a little extra publicity, but the act is of too high a class to require such bizarre methods. The singing of the two women will bear comparison with any that Duluth hears during the course of a season, and it should attract many to the Orpheum this week who have not formed the vaudeville habit.

There isn't an acrobat on this week's bill. It is true the bill closes with a trick bicycle act by Dupree and Dupree, but it is such a classy, sensational little turn that it holds its own on a most entertaining bill.

Hyman Meyer, "The Man at the Piano," gives a musical monologue, combining a little ventriloquism, some stunts on the piano that make one wish to hear him really play and a running comment that assays a little higher in wit and comedy than anything heard in many weeks. His impression of grand opera is worth a trip to the Orpheum this week, and his capturing of the chicken in the piano and making it a "Chicken Patti" is another clever bit.

La Valera and Melvin Stokes, a dancer and a tenor singer, open the program this week. The man has a very fair tenor voice and the woman has the fire and snap associated with Spanish dances, but not always obtained. She is a very graceful and sinuous little person, and the act deserved a better position than opening the bill.

Harry Richards and Bessie Kyle scored the applause hit of the bill with a song, dance and dialogue number of a popular type. Their songs and jokes are "put across" in lively style, and their closing tango dance brought them a storm of applause.

Wallis Clark and company offer a melodramatic little playlet called "The Devil's Mate." It tells the story of a gambler who plays the devil a game of chess for possession of his soul. Mr. Clark plays the Devil in the accepted red robe and feather, and shows some ability, but Shirley Braithwaite as the gambler is inadequate.

Brent Hayes, banjoist, has a popular number on the bill. He gets a lot of good music out of the much despised (by musicians) instrument. His playing of the "Miserere," giving his own accompaniment on the banjo, is rather remarkable, and he knows how to get results with ragtime.

The motion pictures complete an all round good bill, one that is fully up to the standard set the first two or three weeks of the season.

AT THE EMPRESS.

Novel Posing Act Headlines New Bill of Vaudeville.

A novel posing act, White's Models, in which one horse, four dogs and two persons, all in white, are the principals, headline the vaudeville bill, which opened at the Empress yesterday afternoon.

The act is exceptionally interesting, as the dogs and the horse execute some very difficult poses. One scene that scored a hit is "Hunting Morn," in which the horse, dogs and a man pose. The scenery effect aids very much in placing the act far above the average.

The bill opens with a musical act by George Dawn, who introduces several novel instruments, which he plays in an accomplished style. He scored quite a hit with his accordeon, which he used in closing his act, playing a medley of the latest ragtime airs.

Mills and Moulton present the sketch for the week in their act, "A Trial Performance," which is a "scream" from beginning to end. The young man and the woman are both able actors and the manner in which they present the comedy situations accounts for the success of the act to a great extent.

A good singing and dancing act, which is full of clean comedy, is presented by Bert and Lottie Walton. They manage to introduce some new comedy patter during their dances.

Two reels of motion pictures close the bill, which will continue until Wednesday evening. Beginning tomorrow afternoon the Empress management will show the world's series games on the electric score board. This exhibit will start each afternoon at 1 o'clock, while the regular matinee performance will not begin until 3 o'clock.

"The Common Law."

The dramatization of "The Common Law," A. H. Woods' successful production which comes to the Lyceum tonight, as, in the case of most novels dramatized, does not follow the book too closely inasmuch as the stage requirements demand action and speed, brevity and terseness and a comprehensive grasp of the story such as no book could be. A dramatization is like an impressionistic picture, the high lights stand out in bold relief from the shadows.

In presenting a story in book form, it is possible for the reader to go back and read over again any point upon which he has the slightest double. It is obvious that on the stage such a proceeding is impossible. It never do because someone in the audience does not understand a particular line to stop the play and to do it all over again for the benefit of one person. Thus a stage story must be told plainly and in the most unclouded manner. There must be no doubt or speculation on the part of the audience as to what a line or situation means. Nothing must be veiled; everything must be brought out clearly and concisely.

"The Common Law" tells a love story between two people, gifted with rare intelligence and powers of reasoning not usually accorded to most mortals. The man wants to marry the girl, and the girl wants to marry the man, but the girl thinks their positions in life are different, that she belongs to a different set than the one of which he is a member. She fears that their marriage will result in ruining his career and making him unhappy. This is worked out with due regard to stage requirements and the result is that the somewhat simple story Mr. Chambers has written has been worked up into a series of gripping situations and thrilling climaxes that account for the popularity of this new play.

Manager Woods, it is said, has bestowed great consideration in making up the cast for "The Common Law" and the production is said to be on the most lavish scale.

At the Rex.

When the wonderful representation of the stirring scenes about which Sir Walter Scott wrote in "Ivanhoe" are seen at the Rex today, the public will be able to grasp for the first time the infinite skill, knowledge of historical associations and Yankee assurance necessary to produce with modern accessories and actors the stirring scenes of Merrie England in the days of Robin Hood and Richard.

Herbert Brenon, the manager of the Imp Film company, has earned the admiration of all who have heard of or witnessed his exploit. And, strange as it may seem, he is a veritable hero in the little town of Chepstow, where the scenes were enacted, this though he interpreted the work of the town and its inhabitants for a fortnight and used the men of the foundries and other industries to defend and attack the castle and to provide local color in such capacities as being thrown from the castle wall and being drowned in the moat. It all added to the fame of the community, and that pleased Chepstow, for nothing like the "Ivanhoe" film has ever been made in England, and those who participated in it will have something to remember all their lives.

But the wonderful picture was not taken without actual peril and exhibitions of pluck and bravery on the part of the actors. One instance of sacrifice to the interest of the film will serve to show the devotion of the actor tp his calling.

As every one knows, the leading figure in the drama, the brave Ivanhoe, is played by that sterling actor and star of the Imp company, King Baggot. In the finish of the fight, when he had the enemy on the run, he received a tremendous blow on the head, a blow which may have been intended to settle a grudge in the foundry. It found the wrong mark, and so savage was it that the actor realized that he must lose consciousness. But it was not on the cards for the victorious Ivanhoe to faint at that time, and so it must not be. Weak, dizzy, and half out of his wits, he nevertheless kept his head, and his feet as well, until he saw the operator drop the handle. Then, when the picture was taken and the necessity of acting over, he fainted dead away.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent litiha-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

HELPED TAKE YOUNGER BOYS

C. C. Pettis of Madelia Recalls Capture of Northfield Bandits.

Left Field to Join Posse and Got $1,500 as Reward.

The Younger boys! The mention of their name brings back to the survivors of the older generation a cloud of reminiscences, and to the younger generation a story of deeds as bold and daring as portrayed in a historical romance.

A part of their story—that of their capture some time after they and the James boys with a few others had robbed the Northfield bank, was recalled today with all the freshness of an eye-witness by C. C. Pettis of Madelia, who was one of that doughty little bank of soldiers and farmers that bearded the bandits in their lair near Madelia and took them captive to the city, each getting $1,500 reward for his morning's work. Mr. Pettis was a farmer two miles west of Madelia at the time and he still tills the soil although his hair has turned white and he wears a charm on his watch given him at his golden wedding last month.

War Indian Fighter.

He served in Company K, Seventh Minnesota regiment during the Civil war, helped hang the thirty-nine Indians at Mankato after the massacre, and has subdued a pioneer farm, and is now the father of seven grown up children and a score of grandchildren. Although the frost of more than seventy winters is on his brow, he is still hale and hearty. He still gets up at 5 o'clock in the morning, swings an ax or a scythe with his old time vigor and can outwalk and outwork many young men.

"The Younger brothers, Cole, Jim and Bob," said Mr. Pettis, "were driven from Northfield to a swamp near Madelia on the Watonwan river. After the fugitives had taken refuge there, word spread over the neighborhood, and the farmers left their fields to capture the bandits. I was pitching hay at the time, but left the field and joined about fifty others. We surrounded the swamp, which comprised about two acres, and then Capt. Murphy, who lead the party, took six others with him and penetrated the brush. Capt. Murphy marched ahead and on his approach one of the bandits fired. The bullet went straight for the captain's chest, but he had a large briar pipe in his left breast pocket. The bullet struck the bowl of the pipe, glanced off, and left Murphy unharmed. Seeing that their fire was ineffective the bandits became alarmed, and we poured a hot fire into them. Then the bandits surrendered. Cole Younger had one eye shot out, and Bob had several teeth shot out. Charlie Pitts, who accompanied the Youngers, was killed outright.

Were Exhibited.

"The prisoners were taken to the city and were on exhibition several days. Then they were taken to Northfield and sentenced to state's prison. Jim died in prison, and Bob committed suicide, but Cole is still living in Missouri, having been pardoned."

Mr. Pettis says that the Younger brothers were not a bad lot in many ways, considering the savage period in which they lived. "And they were bright fellows, too," said Mr. Pettis. "A banker from Mankato came to see the prisoners at Madelia, and told Cole that he was too bright a man to be a bandit.

"'I don't know', Cole is said to have remarked, 'I rob the rich and you rob the poor, and when we get a final settlement I may have a shade the better on you.'"

LANGDON HOST TO PRESBYTERIANS.

Langdon, N. D., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota Presbyterian synod holds forth in Langdon this week, the entire week being given over to the affairs of the denomination, commencing Tuesday with the sessions of the Pembina Presbytery, and continuing Thursday with the state synod, which holds forth till the following Monday.

Many prominent out-of-state speakers have been secured, these including Rev. William Sulzer of Minneapolis, Rev. William R. King of Monmouth, Ill., Rev. C. H. French of Chicago, Mrs. J. P. Engstrom of Chicago, Rev. Moses Breese of Cambridge, Wis., Rev. George G. Mahy, Rev. William H. Foulkes and Rev. Stanley B. Roberts of Chicago.

Rev. G. William Barnum is the retiring moderator of the state synod.

TARIFF WILL HELP DULUTH

Local Shippers Buy 2,000,000 Bushels of Canadian Oats in Two Days.

Canada Expected to Drop Duty on Wheat in Near Future.

That as a result of the new tariff bill coming into effect, receipts of grain at Duluth will be enormously increased through shipments from the three Western Canadian provinces, is the consensus of opinion among members of the local board of trade.

"This is not theorizing," said a prominent operator this morning. "The plain, hard facts are that on Friday and Saturday of last week, fully 2,000,000 bushels of Canadian oats were bought by our dealers, duty paid, and the great bulk of them are to be shipped here. One house alone contracted for 1,250,000 bushels. Considerable barley has also been bought by Duluth houses with connections in the Canadian West and more of it will be secured and routed this way as soon as the market in the cereal braces up. I most certainly think, that with a new area for developing business opening to us, and the expansion in settlement showing in many sections of our own Northwest, Duluth is in a fair way to become the biggest grain market on the continent."

While the influence of the tariff reductions has been felt in liberal marketings of Canadian coarse grains here, it is thought that it will be only a matter of a few months before the Dominion government is forced by the weight of public opinion in the western provinces to remove the duty on American wheat entering Canada so that their growers may be able to send their wheat, duty free into this country. Already Calgary, the most Conservative city politically west of the lakes, has opened a campaign towards that end, and it is believed that within the next three or four weeks, other centers in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be lined up in the fight. According to accounts from across the line, the free wheat question will be one of the first to be taken up when the Canadian parliament meets early next January.

In the event of the West winning out as many authorities think will ultimately come about, Duluth will rival Fort Arthur and Fort William as an outlet for Canadian wheat. It was with that contingency in view and its effect in raising the status of this market, that the executive of the Duluth Board of Trade purchased a site for new and larger trading quarters a few weeks ago.

Coming to trade in butter and eggs, in which Duluth is becoming increasingly interested as a distributing center, it is pointed out that producers in this district will not be directly affected by the cutting down of the duty on the former from 6 cents to 2½ cents a pound and placing the latter on the free list as the Canadian West has no surplus of those products to export. On the contrary large shipments of butter and eggs are now being made by Duluth dealers to Winnipeg, Brandon and other points up there. As however quotations in dairy products here are largely governed by the New York market, their cost to the consumer would be reduced in the event of a break down there through shipments from Eastern Canada.

Will Reduce Prices.

That the new tariff should tend to reduce the cost of living is to be gathered in a perusal of the appended list of articles representing both food and raiment, in which the old and the new tariff rates are set out:

also has taught at Cameron and Oshkosh, Wis., and Dollar Bay, Mich.

Miss Leegson once brought suit against Dr. T. J. Allen of Aurora, Ill., on the grounds that he falsely accused her of flirting with some of her pupils and caused her dismissal.

Sued Dr. Allen.

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 6.—Miss Ida Leegson, who was slain in Chicago Saturday, came to Aurora from Milwaukee in the fall of 1907 to take a position as a teacher of English in the Aurora college. Dr. T. J. Allen, president of this school, gained wide note by going on a sixty-day diet of uncooked peanuts to prove their food value and the test indirectly brought on a dispute with Miss Leegson as to her salary. She came to teach English, she said, but Dr. Allen called upon her to help with his correspondence which accumulated by the bushel after he began his monodiet effort. For this labor Miss Leegson sued the doctor and got a judgment of $26.

Dr. Allen's defense was that Miss Leegson stayed on in the college dormitory after he had discharged her for flirting with young men students. She denied the accusation, admitting, however, that she had smiled when the boys made humorous comment upon the digestive trials of Dr. Allen.

Miss Leegson had few acquaintances in Aurora, as she seldom left her apartments in the college dormitory. When interested she spoke with a girlish rush of words, her face dimpling and her eyes twinkling, a mannerism that gained for her the appellation of "The Merry Widow." She was a blonde and was about 30 years old.

Of Retiring Disposition.

Oshkosh, Wis., Oct. 6.—Miss Ida G. Leegson, the young woman murdered at Chicago, was a teacher in the Oshkosh public schools in 1908 and 1909. She was second assistant to Principal Nevins at the Jefferson school on the South side. She was a graduate of the Milwaukee normal school.

It was stated this forenoon by Supt. McIver of the local public schools that Miss Leegson was of a retiring disposition, but was considered a successful teacher here. She lived with Mrs. Minnie Kiel, 718 Oregon street. Supt. McIver said he did not know where Miss Leegson went from here, but last summer she wrote him a letter from Chicago saying she had been studying art there and wanted him to recommend her as a teacher of art. Her address at that time was 809 Windsor avenue. He wrote the letter as she requested and mailed it to her.

Mrs. Kiel, the Oshkosh woman with whom Miss Leegson roomed, said she was of a quiet disposition and always attended strictly to her own affairs, and so far as she knew Miss Leegson never had any desire for male companions.

RUSH TO SEE FIRST GAME

twirl an inning or two. The Athletics are expected here either late this afternoon or early this evening. Reservations for the entire squad have been made at the Hotel Somerset and the players will return to this city after each game in Philadelphia.

How many tickets the speculators have been able to get was a matter of general discussion prior to the national committee meeting. It was said that, if it developed that they had secured any considerable number of choice seats, the commission would institute an investigation. It was said that private detectives employed by the commission would sleuth around the ticket agencies today and, if successful in buying tickets at their places, would attempt to learn the names of the original buyers and how they obtained them.

All police arrangements have been completed for handling the vast crowds at the Polo grounds. One hundred and fifty men have been detailed for the work.

For the opening game tomorrow, two lines will be formed. One will consist of patrons who have reserved seats; the other for those who will buy at the gates.

Mack Gives Men Workouts.

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—Instead of taking the Philadelphia team to New York early this afternoon, as he had originally planned, Manager Connie Mack of the American league champions will not leave here with his players until 8 o'clock tonight. It is his intention to take advantage of the fine weather today and give his men good workouts this morning and this afternoon.

Mack was at the park early this morning. The sun was then shining strongly on the diamond.

"This would have been our day," remarked Mack, as he watched the groundkeepers getting the field into condition. "Yes, this would have been our day. I wish we were going to start the world's series this afternoon."

The leader of the Athletics was told that cold, stormy weather was predicted for this week, after tomorrow.

"That's too bad," Mack remarked. "It will be bad for the players and bad for the spectators. I had been hoping for clear, warm weather."

Bender to Pitch.

Bender, who is expected to be the pitcher in the opening game, finished his course of preparation yesterday when secret practice was held. The fans are guessing as to whether Thomas or Shang will handle Bender's benders.

The public ticket sale for three games here began here this morning. A few hundred fans stood in line all night and their ranks were increased almost every minute after daylight. Among those who stood in the line nearly all night were several women.

All the $5 and $3 seats were parcelled out in advance, leaving only $2 tickets for the public sale. The indications were that all of the reserved seat tickets would be disposed of today. There are between 16,000 and 17,000 of these, leaving 4,000 bleacher seats to be sold on the days of each contest.

The stands at the Philadelphia park will seat only about 21,000 persons. Unless the national commission changes its ruling and permits fans to stand on the field, the attendance at the games here this year will be smaller than in previous world's series contests in Philadelphia.

CONFESSES HE IS THE MURDERER OF TWENTY PERSONS

two days and a physician who examined him declared the prisoner was not under the influence of the drug.

Knows He Will Be Hanged.

"My head is as clear as a bell," Spencer said. "You have got me dead to rights on the Rexroat murder, and I know that I shall be hanged in a couple of months. That is why I want to tell everything else and get it out of the way. I want to tell all and then be treated decently until they pull the rope."

After hours of questioning Spencer was asked why he had lived as he had.

"I have been in and out of prisons since I was a boy," he replied. "I have been hunted and hounded all my life. I am sore on the world. My own life doesn't amount to much and nobody's life has meant much to me."

The proceeds of Spencer's crimes have amounted to more than $10,000 in the last year, according to his confession. He has spent the money on women in the Twenty-second street district where he said he has been a big spender in the cafes.

"I killed Mrs. Rexroat because she was trying to make a sucker out of me," he said. "She told me I was responsible for her condition and how badly she needed $300. We intended going East to be married, but I decided right then to put her out of the way and save all that trouble. I didn't murder her for the ring. I took it just because it was there."

Always Mutilated Victims.

Ten of Spencer's victims were women. Two, he said, came from New York. He said he married four times and had killed two of his wives. He always mutilated his victims so that they could not be identified.

"I married Helen Gould's maid in New York," Spencer said. "I took her to Fort Montgomery and killed her in the woods nearby. She had about $300 and $800 in diamonds."

"Did you have any other women in New York?" asked Capt. Halpin.

"Yes, there was a widow I married. We were coming to Chicago and stopped off at Detroit. We went to Belle Isle or Walkerton or Windsor. We walked down one of the walks in the park and I shot her. I got $600 and a diamond."

Spencer said he killed three persons with the revolver found in his room. The jewelry he got he sold to denizens of the district he frequented and did not go near pawnshops. Shortly after the murder of Fannie Thompson he said he was arrested for robbery and pleaded guilty to one of eighty-two charges. The last "job" he did was a few nights ago when he robbed the Astor cafe, located a block from the detective bureau. He said he ran down the alley past the detective headquarters.

Chief of Police McWeeney believes that Spencer is telling the truth.

"I believe we have the man who has committed this large number of murders," said the chief. "When Pennell and Devine were murdered I was lieutenant at the detective bureau and worked on the case. I talked to him about it for half an hour and he went over the story in a way that makes me think he is telling the truth."

Appears to Be Truth.

"It is the most wonderful confession ever made in the United States," asserted Capt. Halpin. "We have not been able to trip him up in his statements, and many things stamp his confession as the truth. It will take several days to establish for a certainty the truth or falseness of his story."

After being questioned for fourteen hours during which he confessed to having committed more than twenty murders, Spencer nearly exhausted, was allowed to retire in a cell at the central police station shortly after 8 o'clock this morning for a few hours sleep.

He had been questioned without interruption by Capt. Halpin and Assistant State's Attorney Sullivan in regard to the details of his criminal career ever since his arrest at 6 o'clock Sunday night. After the long siege he put his hands to his head and said:

"I am too tired to remember any more just now. I got to have some sleep. Maybe when I am rested I can remember some more. The truth o' the matter is that I killed so many I can't remember all of 'em."

Police Captain Halpin said: "Spencer has confessed to more than twenty murders."

"I went to New York six years ago and inspected the art gallery which Helen Gould had installed in the Martha Washington hotel for women," said Spencer. "There I met Nellie, Miss Gould's maid. We were married three days later. I had told her I was a wealthy traveling salesman.

"One day we took a ride up the Hudson river to West Point and from there went by 'bus to Fort Montgomery. In a secluded spot I struck her twice with a hammer, killing her instantly. I took $800 from her clothing and returned to Chicago."

Killed Two Girls.

The prisoner told the police of killing two girls at Lake Delavan, Wis., last October. He said he shot one and killed the other by hitting her on the head with a hammer. He said both bodies were thrown into the lake. Spencer said he robbed nearly every room in the leading hotels at Delavan Lake before committing the murders and fleeing.

"One of the two women I killed at Delavan Lake was a school teacher from Oskaloosa, Iowa, and the other was the wife of the auditor of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad at Minneapolis," Spencer said. "I guess they were there on a vacation. I got acquainted with them. They both had jewelry and money. I told them of an exclusive dance that was supposed to be held and they wanted to go. I took one around one side of the lake and shot her and the other I killed with a hammer and pushed her body off a high pier."

Two other alleged victims were added to Spencer's long list in his amplified confession when he told of having murdered a man and woman at Fox Lake, Ill., in September, 1911.

"Is your name really Spencer?" he was asked.

"Oh, not more than any other name. I never knew my parents and I never knew my name, except 'Harry,'" he replied.

With that the detectives adopted "Harry," when addressing him.

Lived With Thieves.

"The first I remember was in the reform school at Feehanville. That is my first recollection. They may have a record of my real name. I ran away from the school. From that time I lived with thieves and bad women. I never knew a good man or woman in my life. I got my first prison term shortly after running away from the school. A man sold me a suit of clothes for a nickel—that's how it started. I knew the suit had been stolen, but it didn't impress me as anything serious. The next day I walked into the shop from which it had been stolen and I was surprised when they arrested me.

"What do you suppose I got? I got ten years, and if there was ever any good in me that killed me. Ten years for a suit of clothes!

"I served the full term. I had about two years' good time coming to me, but I attacked a guard and lost it. They strung me up by the arms and they starved me; they put me in solitary, too.

"I think it was the solitary that really got me. When I came out I wanted blood; anybody's blood. They gave me $10 when they turned me loose and $8 of that I spent for a revolver. I have been killing people more or less since. I killed it in a way, when I robbed anybody it was a sort of satisfaction to clean up the job by shutting up the victim's mouth forever."

Spencer told his grewsome story calmly to Capt. Halpin and a roomful of detectives and newspaper men. He said that he never drank nor smoked, but that he chewed tobacco and smoked opium. "I've been a thief all my life," he declared. "I killed all these women to get their money. I found it was the easiest way to live. It cost me $400 or $500 a week to enjoy myself the way I wanted to in these cabarets and dives, and the easiest and quickest way to get the money was to get some girl off by herself and kill her."

Mrs. Rexroat's Murder.

"Mrs. Rexroat was easy. She thought she was working me the same way she worked the farmer. She thought I was a farmer like her husband and she could work me the same way. I let her think so. At first I was going to take her to Michigan and kill her there, but finally I decided it would be less trouble to take her a little way out on the car line and get it over in a business-like way."

"She thought we were going to be married. She came along just as I told her.

"When we got out at the station it was nearly 8 o'clock. We turned around and walked down the track until we got where it was dark. I took her by the right arm, pulled out my gun and shot her through the head. Then I laid her on the railroad track so she would be 'tore up.' I took what few dollars she had and her diamond ring. I opened her suitcase and dumped her stuff out of it and brought it back to Chicago with me. I took the next train back about ten minutes after I shot her.

"I didn't want the ring. I never go near pawnshops; that's the way people get caught. I gave the ring to a girl I met on the street. She went to New York Tuesday or Wednesday."

May Be Exaggeration.

While the police are satisfied that Harry Spencer is guilty of many murders beside that of Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rexroat, they were forced to the conclusion today that his statement of murdering twenty persons during his career of crime is an exaggeration.

Spencer is addicted to the opium habit, a symptom of which is a weird and grotesque imagination. Some years ago the police had occasion to investigate his conduct and learned that while in prison at Joliet on a charge of larceny, the prison authorities had regarded him as mentally defective and from time to time confined him to the infirmary. He told fellow prisoners of having committed several murders.

Associated Press dispatches from Detroit, Delavan Lake, Wis., and Goshen, N. Y., today further shook official faith in the confessions. Investigation at these points, while not absolutely disproving Spencer's statements, indicated that there was little likelihood that they were true.

A painstaking investigation which will require some time will be necessary before it can be determined just how much of the prisoner's story is true and how much is fiction.

The woman whom Spencer said he murdered near the county hospital was shown by police records to have been Mrs. Annabel Wright, who was beaten on the head last December, robbed of $50 and two diamond rings, and who succumbed to her injuries June 19 last.

No Girls Murdered.

Delavan Lake, Wis., Oct. 6.—There have been no mysterious murders or deaths here during the last summer with one exception, that of a man named Albert Jones, who was found dead in a lonely spot near the lake on July 24, according to the police authorities today.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict that Jones' death was caused by heart failure following a blow from the crank of an automobile. Jones' body was found in a leaning position half way in and half way out of the automobile.

The police chief says there is a bare possibility that the man was murdered, as he was known to have considerable money and was a free spender. He had been a summer resort guest for twenty years and had traveled for an Eastern concern. He spent much of his time while here in the company of a trapper named Nelson.

PRESIDENT VISITS INJURED BOY

Tells How He Was Dodging Stones When Accident Occurred.

Washington, Oct. 6.—President Wilson went to Providence hospital yesterday and visited Robert Crawford, the 15-year-old messenger boy who was struck by the president's automobile Sunday. The president sat at the boy's bedside while the youngster related how he was trying to dodge stones being thrown at him by another boy, and turned his bicycle in front of the automobile without seeing it.

"I didn't know you were in the machine," he said. He showed Mr. Wilson his injured ankle and bruised knee. "I'll be all right in a few days," he said. "I had better be, or I'll lose my job."

The president reassured him that folks did not usually lose their jobs when they met with accidents and not to worry about it. The little fellow beamed with joy at the president's visit, introduced Mr. Wilson to some of the patients about him, and thanked him for his visit with tears in his eyes.

Mrs. Crawford, the boy's mother, who is employed at the hospital, expressed her appreciation to the president for his attention to her son.

"There aren't many folks," she told Dr. Cary Grayson, the president's physician who accompanied him, "who pay so much attention to those they run down with their automobiles."

UNDERWOOD WILL RUN FOR THE SENATE.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Representative Oscar W. Underwood, majority leader in the house, issued a formal statement late Saturday announcing his candidacy for the United States senate from Alabama to succeed the late Joseph F. Johnston.

MORE BRIEFS FILED BY THAW'S ATTORNEYS.

Concord, N. H., Oct 6.—Supplementary briefs opposing the extradition of Harry K. Thaw were filed with Governor Felker late Saturday. With the briefs were submitted telegrams from the governors of thirty-three states, all of whom said that they had no knowledge of a request ever having been made in their states for the extradition of a lunatic.

Thaw's attorneys set up that the requisition papers show no indictment against their client; that on the date of the alleged conspiracy to escape from the insane asylum at Matteawan he was insane and so legally incapable of committing a crime; and that on all the evidence it should be determined that the real purpose of New York state is to obtain the return of Thaw to Matteawan. They argue that it is the legal duty of the executive to refuse the requisition.

CLOQUET CLUB TO BE FED BY GIRLS.

Cloquet, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual banquet of the Commercial club will be held Monday evening, Nov. 10, at the high school, the menu to be under the direction of Miss Clara Clausen, the director of domestic science at the high school, and prepared by her students. The invitation is given by Peter Olesen, superintendent of city schools, and is the second occasion when the club men have been permitted to enjoy the hospitality of the school girls at dinner. Last year over 100 men were served and all pronounced the affair a great success from a culinary point of view.

It is planned to have Maurice I. Flagg, head of the Minnesota Art Institute, here for the evening to give his lecture on "Home and Country Life."

PASTOR IS MOVED TO EAU CLAIRE

REV. W. GRANT FRITZ,
Who Will Assume Charge of Merritt Memorial Church in Place of Rev. C. W. Emery.

Rev. C. W. Emery, pastor of the Merritt Memorial Methodist church, Forty-sixth avenue west and Halifax street, is the only Duluth pastor to be moved from the city by the recent Northern Methodist conference, which closed its sessions last night at Detroit, Minn. Rev. Mr. Emery will take charge of the First Methodist church of Eau Claire, Wis.

The pastor has been in charge of the Oneota church for the past two years, succeeding Rev. E. F. Stidd. He will move his family to his new charge this week.

Rev. W. G. Fritz, who was in charge of the Garfield Avenue mission from the time of the death of the late Rev. J. A. Roberts until the last of April this year, and who for four months has been touring in Europe and the Holy Land, will take charge of the Merritt church.

Rev. Mr. Fritz returned from his trip abroad last week. He visited Jerusalem, points of interest in Italy, France, Germany, Austria, the Scandinavian peninsula and the British isles.

The Garfield Avenue mission will be in charge of Rev. J. W. Lillico. He will also have charge of the new Methodist church at Gary.

Rev. W. H. Farrell, pastor of the Asbury Methodist church, was returned to his charge at West Duluth by the conference.

YOUTH DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Peter Raymond Reinertson, 18 years old, son of Rev. J. C. Reinertson, pastor of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, died at the home of his parents, 634 North Fifty-eighth avenue, at 11:50 o'clock last night. The young man had been ill of pulmonary tuberculosis since early in February this year.

He is survived by one sister, Miss Sophia Reinertson, who is attending the St. Olaf's college at Northfield, Minn., and one younger brother, Elmer, besides his parents. The arrangements for the funeral will be made this afternoon. His sister arrived from Northfield at 2 o'clock today to attend the funeral services.

CELEBRATION IN AUSTRIAN COLONY

Wedding Is the Occasion of Great Feasting and Rejoicing.

The malady commonly known in Duluth as "Hickenitis" was not felt yesterday on Raleigh street. Not because there was any crack in the "lid" but because the day was one of great celebration and feasting in the Austrian colony.

The event celebrated was the wedding of John Greato and his newly arrived bride, Lucy Mellinich, which was solomnized at the St. James' Catholic church yesterday morning. Guests numbered by the hundreds were wined and dined, and maintained order under the watchful eye of the law in the shape of Patrolmen Root and Paradise.

There was nothing small about the feast. Amber fluid, seventy-five cases of it, washed away the thirst of the multitude. Dozens of willing hands prepared and fed the crowds of guests, and there were many, for only the bones remain to tell about the eight roasted sheep, the 255 pounds of chicken and the large porker with its accompaning dressing, that had existed shortly before.

Just to remind the new covers that those who had resided in this country a short time had not forgotten their fatherland, old country songs and music whose strains could be heard all afternoon and until late in the evening, were played and sung. During the latter part of the day a collection amounting to a considerable sum, was taken up to give the newlyweds the proper start on the matrimonial sea.

Will Resume Studies.

Miss Bernice Foster, daughter of S. A. Foster, principal of the Irving school, has left for Minneapolis, where she will take up an advanced course to secure a degree of Master of Arts in English at the Minnesota university. Miss Foster has been teaching history and Latin at the Duluth Industrial high school. She has been granted a leave of absence for one year by the board of education.

West Duluth Briefs.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul S. Nweeya of the Plymouth Congregational church left this afternoon for St. Paul, where they will attend the annual conference of Minnesota Congregational churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Erickson, 6 North Thirty-ninth avenue west, have returned from a two weeks' visit in Milwaukee, Chicago and the Twin Cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowe have returned to their home in International Falls, after spending a week visiting at the home of Mrs. Charles Lowe, 1010 North Fifty-sixth avenue west.

Mrs. John Gustad, who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. S. B. Johnson, 127 North Fifty-fourth avenue west, left yesterday for her home in Ashland, Wis.

Mrs. John A. Richardson and son Allan, 4102 West Fourth street, have returned from a two weeks' visit down the lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scott and daughter, Miss Olive Scott, 126 South Sixty-sixth avenue west, have returned from a short visit to relatives in the Twin Cities.

MARINE NEWS

RECORDS BROKEN AT SOO CANALS

Last Month's Business Greater Than for Any Previous September.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 6.—All previous records for the month of September were broken by the volume of freight carried through the American and Canadian canals at Sault Ste. Marie last month.

The statistical report compiled by L. C. Sabin, general superintendent of the American canal, under direction of Lieut. Col. Mason M. Patrick, corps of engineers, U. S. A., in charge of Detroit district, shows the total freight movement was 10,910,365 short tons, carried in 3,182 vessels.

While this falls short of the traffic in August, this year, when 3,440 vessels moved 11,489,442 tons of freight through the canals, the record exceeds that of any one month in 1912.

Wheat Shipments.

Shipments of wheat through the canals show an increase of 13,878,498 bushels compared with August.

There was a considerable decrease in the amount of the other principal commodities of lake commerce, compared with August. The movement of iron ore was 257,559 tons less, of grain 505,508 bushels less, of hard coal 82,314 tons less, of soft coal 508,964 tons less and lumber 21,828,600 feet less.

The number of vessels locked through the American side was 1,100 greater than the passages by the Canadian lock, but the aggregate registered net tonnage handled by the latter route exceeded by 1,545,695 tons the tonnage passing through the American locks.

The summary for the month with comparisons for September in 1912 and 1911 follows:

September Lake Levels.

The United States lake survey reports the stages of the Great Lakes for the month of September, 1913, as follows:

Lakes—	Feet above tide-water, New York.
Superior	602.83
Michigan-Huron	580.93
Erie	572.76
Ontario	246.74

Lake Superior is .09-foot higher than last month, .3-foot higher than a year ago, .05-foot above the average stage of September of the last ten years, 1.25 feet below the high stage of September, 1869, and 1.34 feet above the low stage of September, 1879. It will probably remain about stationary during October.

Lakes Michigan-Huron are .31-foot lower than last month, .24-foot higher than a year ago, .05-foot above the average stage of September of the last ten years, 2.5 feet below the high stage of September, 1876, and 1.27 feet above the low stage of September, 1911. They will probably fall about .2-foot during October.

Lake Erie is .48-foot lower than last month, .26-foot higher than a year ago, .33-foot above the average stage of September of the last ten years, 1.18 feet below the high stage of September, 1876, and 1.48 feet above the low stage of September, 1895. It will probably fall about .3-foot during October.

Lake Ontario is .57-foot lower than last month, .36-foot higher than a year ago, .46-foot higher than the average stage of September of the last ten years, .87-foot below the high stage of September, 1862, and 2.74 feet above the low stage of September, 1895. It will probably fall about .3-foot during October.

STEAMER BARKER IS AGAIN IN FISH TRADE.

The S. B. Barker, the largest fish carrier on Lake Superior at the present time, arrived in the harbor yesterday for the first time this season. The Barker will make its first trip of the year up the North shore next Wednesday. The boat has been entirely remodeled at Port Wing and would scarcely be recognized by some of those who journeyed on the boat when it was in the package freight and passenger business of the Booth line.

BIG FLEET CLEARS IN TEETH OF GALE.

One of the largest fleets of the season left the local harbor during the past twenty-four hous in the very beginning of what looks like one of the hardest blows of the year. Present weather indications point to a big wind up the lake.

Among the outgoing boats was the largest lumber fleet of the past two months, there having been an unusually heavy loading at the local docks during the past few days.

Tried to Steal Tug.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Two men attempted to steal the Harlem, a large tug owned by the White Star line from the Commercial slip early Saturday morning. They were discovered and pursued by the patrol boat crew through the slip to the foot of Main street, where they ran the boat to the dock and made their escape. The damage done the tug and the dock is considerable.

The two men, believed to be known to the police, were seen loitering about the dock at the Commercial slip, but little attention was paid to them until they boarded the tug and were well out in the slip. Policemen blew their whistles and in a few minutes the crew of the patrol boat was after the men.

Many along the water front were aroused by the whistles and shouting. Policemen chased the men through the Lackawanna yards, but they disappeared in the darkness.

The Harlem was towed back to the slip by the police boat. Officials of the company began to make repairs.

ALONG THE LAKES

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 6.—Divers Saturday finished plugging the holes in the sunken steamer W. D. Rees and pumps were started in the evening. The steamer will discharge part of her cargo here to put her in shape to complete her trip to drydock. Capt. C. H. Sinclair arrived today to look after the interests of the underwriters in putting the vessel in shape.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Records of the United States customs office show that the shipments from the port of Buffalo fell off to a large degree during September. This particularly applies to coal shipments. In August 742,215 tons of coal were shipped from here by lake compared to last month's shipment, which is 523,115 tons. This is about 100,000 tons less than the total for September last year.

Alpena, Mich., Oct. 6.—Workmen have gone from here to repair the boiler of the City of Rome of the James D. Mitchell line, which was disabled opposite Thunder Bay.

CULVERT WOULD BE AN ECONOMY

Commissioner Roderick Murchison, head of the works division, plans to have a culvert built near the bridge at Forty-third avenue west and Oneota street this fall if arrangements can be made to get the money to do the work.

If that is done it may be possible to get all or part of the fill made this season, which would clear away much of the preliminaries to the paving of the street next year. And even though no filling were done this fall it could hardly be started immediately next spring, when the excavation from the street could be dumped into it, replacing the old bridge at a small cost.

The culvert at Fortieth avenue west was constructed a year ago and because of that fact the filling was secured at comparatively small cost by the city. The earth excavated by the street car company on East Fourth street was hauled to the bridge by the company. The cost to the city was the wages of the men who unloaded the dirt from the cars. The fill is settling steadily and by next spring it will have gone down sufficently to allow the pavement to be laid across it.

The estimated cost of the culvert under Fortieth avenue is $1,700 but Commissioner Murchison thinks that it could be built for less than that sum. The resolution authorizing the work may be offered at the council meeting this afternoon, in which case it will lay over one week before being passed, as required by the charter.

HEARING IS DUE TUESDAY

First Skirmish With the Traction Company in Federal Court.

The suit of the Central Trust company, representing bondholders of the street railway company, against the city of Duluth, is due to be called before Judge Amidon in the Federal court tomorrow morning.

The trust company seeks to have the city restrained from taking any action against the company which will jeopardize its securities.

The attorneys for the city assert that the action cannot be maintained in the Federal court, holding that the case is strictly intrastate and concerning no issues involved outside of Minnesota. They believe that the case will be dismissed and not brought to trial.

Arrangements have been made to start the case of the city against the company, to annul its franchise, as soon as the Federal court action is concluded. The suit was instituted in the name of the state in the local district court. The city contends that the company is operating without a franchise, as it did not comply with the conditions upon which the franchise was granted. Tentative offers of a compromise were put forth but failed to result in any settlement proposition of a definite nature.

BOSSY MUST "MAKE GOOD"

Cows in the town of Cotton have to "make good." If they don't they are doomed for a trip to the slaughter house.

Fred Ward, county agricultural agent, who attended the meeting of the Cotton Farmers' club Saturday evening, declared that the farmers there have dairying reduced to an exact science.

The Cotton farmers, he says, are applying scientific milk tests to every cow. The output from each bovine is weighed daily and tested once a month. If at the end of the milking season the figures show bossy has been derelict in her duty she is converted into beef.

Among the farmers who are now conducting the tests for milking capacity are J. C. Weingart, Nels Bergvall, P. S. Seling, Ed Randall and Mrs. Wickstrom. Mr. Ward declares that the Cotton Farmers' club is one of the most progressive in the county.

MITCHEL TALKS AT HOME RULE MEETING.

New York, Oct. 6.—A home rule rally was held in Carnegie hall last night, attended by men and women of Irish birth or parentage come to celebrate Ireland's promised political freedom. The principal address was made by John Purroy Mitchel, Fusion candidate for mayor and grandson of John Mitchel, the Irish patriot. Chief Magistrate William McAdoo and others spoke. About $5,000 was raised for the home rule cause. The meeting was arranged by the United Irish league, the Ancient Order of Hibernians and other Celtic organizations.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. James Morris, formerly of Morris, Minn., was instantly killed while with a party of hunters near Havre, Mont. She was preparing to have her picture taken, posing with her weapon and a bag of game, when the accident occurred, she receiving the full charge.

The remains were taken through Grand Forks Saturday to Morris.

This Is Wooltex Week In Duluth!

Mme. Savarie and Her "Mannequins" Will Be at the Lyceum Tomorrow.

Would you like to know what the Paris masters of fashion have decreed for fall and winter?

Would you like to see "the real thing" in tailor made coats, suits and skirts for the new season?

Look at our Arcade windows—or better—yet come in this week. We've planned this week as a demonstration of Wooltex

The models shown in Wooltex coats, suits and skirts do incorporate the best ideas of the French designers. They do show the productions of the leading American designers. And they are, in themselves, the best expression of the ready-tailored garment for women.

They are not high priced. In fact, considering their guaranteed service they are the lowest priced garments you can buy.

Come in and see them.

Mme. Savarie's visit tomorrow will be illustrated by seventy beautiful gowns and costumes shown on living models.

Never mind the weather—come, rain or shine if you have tickets—it will be a rare treat.

If You Know of Anyone having tickets which they will be unable to use at the Mme. Savarie Lecture tomorrow — we will gladly send for them as we have many requests for seats which we will be unable to supply.

HUGE STATE LEVY RESULTS IN INCREASED TAX RATE

State Rate Will Be Highest in More Than Forty Years.

More Than Offsets City and School Decreases; County Rate Not Fixed.

TAX RATE FIGURES.

	1913, Mills.	1912, Mills.	Decrease, Mills.	Increase, Mills.
State	5.03	3.58	...	1.45
County* ..	3.80	2.72	...	1.45
City	16.49	16.61	.12	....
School	11.70	12.39	.69	....
Total	37.02	35.30		1.72

*Conservative estimate of the county rate for the coming year. Rate not yet determined.

Unprecedented expenditures by the present state administration and appropriations by the 1913 Minnesota legislature will be largely responsible for a heavy increase in the rate which Duluth taxpayers will pay next year.

Although the exact figures from which the aggregate tax rate is computed will not be available until after the county board makes its annual levy this week and the county rate can be determined, local taxing officials seem to be of the opinion that the increase in the tax rate this year over last will be from 1.7 to 1.9 mills.

Duluth taxpayers paid their 1912 taxes on a rate of 35.3 mills, a decrease of exactly 1 mill from the 1911 rate. This year the tables have been turned and from present indications, the 1913 rate will be from 37.02 to 37.22 mills depending to a considerable extent on the amount of taxes to be levied by the county board this week. The increase in the county tax rate, however, will not be as large as the increase in the state rate.

Th state rate jumps from 3.58 mills to 5.03 mills, showing a gain of 1.45 mills. Even were the county board to be lavish in its levy for county road purposes as it is allowed to be under the terms of the Dunn road law passed by the last legislature, the increase in the rate for county taxes would not parallel the gain made by the state. In face of the increases to be noted in the state and county rates are decreases of .69 mills in the school rate and .12 mills in the rate for city taxes.

State Rate Sets Records.

The rate of 5.03 mills which has been established by the state is an increase of 1.15 mills over the 1911 rate of 3.88 mills, which was the highest in forty years of the state's history. Not only is the 1913 rate the largest in forty-two years but it also marks the greatest increase from one year to another. The increase this year over last year was 1.45.

Responsible for a portion of the increase in the state rate was the passage of an amendment authorizing an increase in the levy for state roads of from .25 mills to 1 mill. Other appropriations and expenditures also enter into it.

The increase in the county rate may also be accounted for by new legislation. Before the Dunn road bill passed authorizing the levying of 3 mills for county road purposes, the county board was powerless to levy more than 1 mill. Last year's levy was .93 mill. It is expected this year that the levy for road purposes will be from 1 to 1.5 mills on a county valuation of $311,000,000.

Other matters will also figure in the county rate increase. The county will provide in this year's levy of taxes for the retiring of the last of the Missabe railroad aid bonds and another block of the courthouse bonds, or in all about $335,000 worth of bonds on a levy of $250,000 and on what the county fund for that purpose now has on hand. The Missabe aid bonds amount to $250,000 and in addition to this a block of $85,000 worth of the courthouse bonds will be taken up.

The county will also have a new fund to provide for this year in the work farm commission fund for which $16,000 is to be levied by the county board. The county revenue fund, the largest to be levied by the county ordinarily, will show a decrease this year, but it is expected that the road levy will be responsible for the net increase in the rate for county purposes.

Recovering From Illness.
Oscar Fleer of 409 East Fourth street, who has been ill with heart disease, is reported to be recovering.

Estate Distributed.
Judge Fesler today signed an order for the distribution of the funds of the estate of Michael Mertel, miner, who was killed in an accident at the Pioneer mine near Ely on April 22, 1913, and for whose widow and children, $3,000 has been collected on a claim for wrongful death against the Oliver Iron Mining company. Under the terms of the order, the widow will receive $750, the attorney, Leo A. Ball, $500, and the two children $1,494.40. The remainder has been spent for expenses and the settlement of claims against the estate.

Left Property Here.
Henry Brevillier, son of C. F. Brevillier, who died recently at Erie, Pa., leaving Duluth property valued at about $1,800, today petitioned the probate court for the admission of his father's will to probate. He asks that letters testamentary be granted to him. All the heirs reside at Erie.

Recovering From Typhoid.
Ellard Sibbitt, son of Mrs. J. J. Sibbitt, who is at St. Mary's hospital with typhoid fever, is reported to be recovering.

May Have Typhoid.
Albert Rutz, 35 years old, was yesterday taken to the St. Luke's hospital in the police emergency ambulance, it having been hurriedly called to the Salvation Army hotel at 1202 West Michigan street. The authorities at the hotel believe that Rutz has typhoid fever. Rutz was recently employed at Camp No. 2 of the Trout Lake Lumber company.

Returns From an Eastern Purchasing Trip.
Ed Silberstein of the Silberstein & Bondy company returned this morning from New York city, where he has been to replenish stocks of suits, coats and dresses, owing to the tremendous early buying this fall, especially velvet suits and novelty coats.

Best Coffee
And the best meals in the city served at Wegman's cafe, 217½ West Superior street.

Were Disorderly.
Alfred Kotka, 25, and Alex Markland, 27, pleaded guilty in police court this morning to a charge of disorderly conduct. They were arrested late Saturday evening by Detectives Toewe and Bradley and Officer Connors for creating a disturbance. They will be sentenced this afternoon.

Wanted in Superior.
Charles Rey, 28 years old, was arrested by Officer Callahan Saturday afternoon for the Superior authorities. Rey is wanted across the bay on a charge of robbery. He was turned over to the Superior police yesterday afternoon.

Arrested and Released.
A fugitive from justice, William Griffin, 18 years old, was arrested by Officer Youngberg Saturday evening. He was wanted by the authorities at Hibbing on a charge of larceny. Young Griffin is said to have returned the money he was accused of taking and he was released last evening at the order of the Hibbing chief.

Fugitive From Asylum.
Nels B. Johnson, 50 years old, who escaped from the state hospital for the insane at Hastings about ten days ago, was taken into custody Saturday evening by Chief Troyer and Detective Bradley. John J. Barrett, one of the officers at the asylum, took Johnson back to Hastings yesterday afternoon.

Denies Assault Charge.
George Barney, 38 years old, pleaded not guilty in police court this morning to the charge of assault in the third degree. The complaint against him was made by his wife, who declares that Barney struck her last Thursday. Barney's trial was set for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Is Placed On Parole.
For three months prior to Sept. 12 Peter Helland failed to support his wife and this morning he was brought into police court to face a charge of non-support. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned at first, but after his trial was set for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, Helland changed his plea to guilty. He was given a straight sentence of three months in the county jail, but sentence was suspended and Helland placed on parole for one year.

Fire in Carpenter Shop.
Fire in the carpenter shop of Thomas Mated, 19 East Superior street, gave the department a run shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday evening. The damage was nominal. The cause of the fire is unknown.

No Money For Toximeter.
Although the value of a toximeter, a new device for determining a person's sobriety, is apparent to Chief Troyer, he does not think the department will purchase one for some time. The present campaign of the city commission to reduce the expenses for the next year, he said, would hardly permit of the installation of the system. Four men were discharged from the police department last week to cut the 1914 expenses.

Fall Cleaning Day.
Thursday, Oct. 9, will be cleaning day throughout the state. The governor has issued an appeal to have all residents put their property in first-class shape, not only to improve its appearance but to eliminate fire risk. To further the governor's purpose Mayor Prince will issue a proclamation asking the people of Duluth to comply with the request of the state executive.

Not Enough Applicants.
Owing to the fact that an insufficient number of applications have been made for positions at the local postoffice, the civil service board of Washington had extended the time limit from last Wednesday until Oct. 15. Applications for positions may be made up to that time with E. M. Barker, superintendent of the registry department, who is secretary of the local examining board.

Lodging House Statistics.
During September twenty-five persons were cared for at the city municipal lodging house, according to the monthly report submitted to Mayor Prince today by Mrs. Anna E. Cruikshank, the matron. Of these seven were furnished permanent and three temporary employment, two were sent to their homes, one to a hospital and four left to establish homes for themselves. Four remained at the end of the month. They were sent to the lodging house by various agencies in the city.

Recovering From Operation.
Mrs. J. B. Morrill, who recently underwent a serious operation at St. Luke's hospital, is reported to be well on the road to recovery. It is expected that she will soon be removed to her home at Thirty-sixth avenue east.

Had Chance For Riches.
Henry Smith, 56 years old, who was arrested last evening by Officer Brouillette on a charge of begging and who told a story of how he had lost an opportunity to get wealthy when the iron range opened, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court this morning. His case was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Should Begin Work Earlier.
That Duluth should get into the game earlier next year in its plans for the state fair was decided by the agricultural committee, at a meeting at the Commercial club today. No definite plans were made, but the members expressed the opinion that Duluth should make a big showing and get its exhibits arranged early. The committee will discuss the subject at a later date and form definite plans. Considerable gratification was expressed over the excellent showing of exhibits at the Duluth exposition.

GENERAL DESIRE FOR THE CURRENCY BILL

Washington, Oct. 6.—President Wilson showed callers today a huge stack of telegrams and letters from all over the country, which he said indicated a desire for immediate currency legislation and contained approval of the main features of the administration bill as pending in the senate. Many letters are said to be from bankers who did not wish to be quoted. Mr. Wilson reiterates his confidence of signing the bill during the present session of congress.

Arguments supporting the administration currency bill were presented to the senate banking committee today by George H. Shibley, director of the bureau of political research.

A tacit understanding has been reached to close the hearings Saturday, Oct. 16.

STRUGGLE IS FIERCE

Leader of Militant Suffragettes in London Is Arrested.

London, Oct. 6.—The militant suffragettes, at the outset of their fall campaign today, were deprived of one of their leaders, Miss Annie Kenney, who was arrested on the platform of a London music hall in the course of a meeting to inaugurate the recommencement of hostilities.

Miss Kenney was released from prison after a "hunger strike" two months ago. She was undergoing a term of eighteen months imprisonment for conspiracy.

The arrest today brought about a scene of wild excitement and a fight in the crowded hall.

Miss Kenney had just opened her speech with the words "I hear there are detectives in the 'wings,'" when a squad of policemen dashed out on the platform in flying wedge formation.

Scattered Like Ninepins.

The women seated around Miss Kenney tried to get between her and the police so as to give their leader a chance to escape, but the policemen scattered the resisting women about like ninepins and caught Miss Kenney, just as she was preparing to leap from the platform into the orchestra.

As Miss Kenney was seized, yells of protest arose from the hundreds of women filling the hall. There was a wild din, accompanying the short, but fierce struggle between women who endeavored to rescue Miss Kenney and the officers who had her in custody. She was rushed to a waiting taxicab, which started off, after a final sharp skirmish, to Holloway jail.

Dresses Are Torn.

The scene in the street in front of the music hall was of the wildest description. The women fought and struggled furiously with the police and their torn dresses and the rips in the policemen's tunics testified to the fierceness of the scrimmage.

One of the women threw herself in front of the wheels of the cab. Others attempted to climb through the windows, and the shrieking militants had to be pulled off by force.

Eventually a solid phalanx of policemen cleared the way and enabled the cab to start on its journey.

Two men, one of them a clergyman, and seven women were arrested.

Before adjournment of the suffragettes' meeting two derby hats and a walking cane which had been captured from the detectives by the women, were put up to auction. The bidding was lively. The hats fetched $25 each and the cane $12.50.

MAY WRITE THIS YEAR BUT "NEVER AGAIN."

New York, Oct. 6.—No baseball player or manager may write for the newspapers after the present world's series, but those with contracts with newspapers signed prior to Sept. 27 may go ahead with their writing this year. This was the decision reached by the national baseball commission this afternoon.

DEATH ENDS A LONG ILLNESS

Thomas F. Christie, 44 years old, 902 East Third street, for twenty years a resident of Duluth, died at his home last evening following an illness of several months.

Mr. Christie was born in Scotland and came direct to Duluth twenty years ago. He is a cousin of John Christie of the Christie Printing company and for years has been foreman of the plant. He is survived by a widow and his father, John Christie, who is in Scotland.

The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence. Rev. W. E. Harmann of St. Peter's Episcopal church will officiate and interment will be at the Forest Hill cemetery.

ENGINEER DEAD AND FIREMAN WILL DIE.

Port Arthur, Ont., Oct. 6.—Engineer Frank Blaufus of the Canadian Northern railway was scalded to death, and Fireman J. E. Dempsey was fatally scalded when an engine, box car and two flat cars, part of a work train, plunged through a small bridge on the Canadian Northern railroad eastern extension, nine miles east of here, early today.

COST OF DYING, AT LEAST, LOWER

No longer will undertakers' bills ranging from $125 to $300 be allowed as just claims in the settlement of an estate in probate court.

The workmen's compensation act is now in effect and one of its provisions is that not more than $100 can be taken from a man's estate for funeral expenses.

According to Judge Gilpin of the probate court, the average funeral expense claim is about $160. Some of the bills presented by undertakers have run as high as $300.

OBITUARY

J. Stoddard Johnston, former associate editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, died Oct. 4 at the home of his son, Harrison H. Johnston in Clayton, Mo. Death was due to hardening of the arteries. Mr. Johnston was 80 years old and was a nephew of Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston, one of the Confederate commanders at the battle of Shiloh. Mr. Johnston was the Democratic nominee for governor of Kentucky in 1875, but was defeated.

Prof. Robert Kutner, founder of the Empress Frederick house for medical study, died at Berlin, Oct. 5.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS WILL HOLD REUNION

Veterans of the Civil war will touch elbows and revive the memories of fifty years ago at a joint meeting of the J. B. Culver post, No. 128, and the relief corps at Memorial hall, courthouse, Saturday evening.

The bugle will blow the reveille at 6 o'clock, assembly at 6:10 p. m. and supper five minutes later. Following the meal there will be a program of speeches. Among the speakers will be Rev. W. F. Hovis and Dr. D. D. Murray. The latter will entertain with dialect readings.

The meeting will be an open meeting and a number of invitations are being sent out to friends of the old soldiers. The meeting will mark the opening of the winter series of gatherings.

FORM COMPANY TO BUILD MODEL TOWN

For the purpose of handling the big contract to build the model town for the Minnesota Steel company at Spirit Lake, the Lounsberry-MacLeod company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000. The articles of incorporation were filed today with the register of deeds.

The incorporators are George H. Lounsberry, R. J. MacLeod, J. A. Smith and E. P. Towne. The general nature of the concern's business will be contracting and the erection of buildings of every description, the articles say.

It is understood that the company was organized only for the purpose of handling the steel company's contract.

FOUR MEN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Four men on a Northern Pacific switch engine narrowly escaped death late Saturday night, when a train of twenty cars, which had cut loose from the engine that was hauling them, crashed into the switch engine, throwing the members of the crew to the floor of the cab and derailing three of the freight cars.

The wreck took place about 11:30 o'clock at First avenue east. Engineer Carl Hanson was hauling a train of thirty cars from the Garfield avenue yards to the D. & I. R. transfer and just as the train reached the top of the grade at Seventh avenue east, twenty of the cars became uncoupled and went down the incline.

The switch engine with the crew of four men was proceeding west at First avenue east, where it was struck by the runaway cars. The men were thrown to the floor of the cab, but escaped serious injury. Three of the runaway cars were derailed at this point.

Bud Wilkins, foreman of the crew of the switch engine, and S. Walzac were the only members of the crew found at the scene of the accident, the others having gone home. Their names could not be learned.

KOOCHICHING VOTES FOR BIG BOND ISSUE

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 6.—The $300,000 bond issue election for new roads in Koochiching county held here Saturday carried ten to one.

The proposed roads, four in number, are as follows: One road to run from International Falls a distance of eighty-three miles in a southwesterly direction to Northome, where it will join the proposed state road to Bemidji and the Twin Cities. Another road is twenty-two miles long and to run from this city to the St. Louis county line east of Ely, where it will join the state road to Duluth. Another road is laid out from here west for fifty-three miles, down Rainy river to the county line, where it joins the proposed state road to Baudette, Warroad and Thief River Falls and also with the Canadian highway to Winnipeg. The fourth road will run east from Northome to the Deer River road in Itasca county, a distance of about forty miles.

PRAISES GOPHER CREW.

Lieut. H. S. Emerson, U. S. N., who will referee the annual target practice of the navy militia at Encampment Island this week, has nothing but praise for the Gopher crew. Lieut. Emerson went to Encampment Island with the marines Saturday and watched them lay out their targets, the shoot having been postponed on account of the severe storm. The men were also complimented for their efficient work on board the Gopher. The target practice will be held sometime this week.

German Exhibit Assured.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—In spite of the German government's opposition and widespread criticism in certain industrial circles, the private committee which is organizing an exhibit for the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco seems to be making good progress, and announces that already more than 1,000 firms have promised to participate.

CAT HAS ADOPED INSPECTOR

Comes Daily to the Office of the City Milk Tester for Her Saucer of Milk.

It's only a cat; a common, ordinary cat, a scrawny, black and white, mongrel sort of cat.

But that scrubby, spotted, rough-furred cat can talk—and not say a word, not even "me-e-ow."

You ought to see the look in that plebeian cat's eyes. Every morning, regular as a clock, she comes around to the laboratory of Gust Hedman, milk inspector, on the Michigan street floor of the city hall. She's as wise as an owl, for she has learned that there she gets food and drink. Also, she has pegged Gust for a kind-hearted man who will never turn her down.

In the laboratory the milk inspector tests the many samples of milk which he takes from the dairies which are operated in the city. He often brings in pint or quart bottles, of which only a small portion is used in making the test. The balance is useless to him and of the abundant over-supply he liberally supplies the cat, which has adopted the lower floor of the city hall as its home.

"Pussy" never fails to show up between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning. Like an old and well-acquainted personage she steals silently through the door. Regardless of who else may be present she travels directly to the spot where the milk inspector chances to be working. Without a sound she nuzzles her nose and rubs her back against the bottom of his uniform trousers. Then she will back up a foot or two and turn her head up towards his face. And the dumb appeal in that cat's eyes just seems to speak volumes. If she does not get results she repeats the operation, and always, before she desists, she gets a large saucer of milk, replenished as long as she continues to drink.

Then with a last, self-satisfied purr, interpreted as a grateful "thank you," she fades away as silently as she came.

Where does she go?

Straight down the flight of stairs leading to the engine room in the basement, where she is nursing a litter of new-born, nondescript little bundles of fur, which will soon become members of the nomadic tribe of cats infesting the city.

Denied by Vatican.

Rome, Oct. 6.—The Osservatore Romano, the official organ of the Vatican, denies that negotiations are in progress for the re-establishment of relations between the French government and the Vatican.

AVIATOR PEGOUD HAS CLOSE CALL

Tries to Loop the Loop and Machine Becomes Uncontrollable.

Paris, Oct. 6.—The French aviator, Pegoud, essayed yesterday to loop the loop in a two-seated aeroplane, with a handbag weighing about 150 pounds to represent a passenger, but failed in the attempt. He rose about 3,000 feet and dropped lower and faster than on his previous remarkable flights before he turned over.

The spectators became greatly alarmed when they saw the tips of the wings vibrate like those of a bird after it has been struck. They feared he had lost control but he managed to right the machine with great difficulty, and landed safely.

Pegoud, in explaining his experience, said that the machine for the moment was quite uncontrollable, whether owing to the extra weight or because it was badly balanced, he did not know. He declared he would try again today and would find out.

Murderer Captured.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 6.—Archie Edwards, the negro who killed his wife and wounded a policeman at Alliance Tuesday, was captured here yesterday after a revolver battle in which Policeman H. A. Burns was dangerously wounded and Herman McCurley, a negro, was shot through the leg.

Wanted!

Perfectly healthy men and women who will voluntarily submit to an experiment which may lead to temporary or permanent impairment of health, or possible death.

This experiment to be conducted with the coffee drug, "caffeine."

Would You Apply for the Job?

Thousands are trying the experiment every day in spite of the fact that physicians and government experts have proven:

That the average cup of coffee contains about 2½ grs. of caffeine;

That caffeine is attributed to be one of the principal causes of headache, biliousness, heart disease, indigestion and kidney, liver and bowel trouble;

That caffeine in doses as small as that contained in two average cups of coffee has killed rabbits, guinea pigs and other animals at the laboratories of the Gov't in Washington and elsewhere.

To be sure a guinea pig or rabbit may weigh but a pound or two, while the average human may weigh 100 times as much.

A few cups of coffee or a single cup (according to the resistance of the individual) will not kill, but the poison is there and can be added to day by day.

That's why so many coffee drinkers suffer from headache, dizziness, indigestion and other symptoms referable to the poison effect on heart, liver, nerves, kidneys and stomach.

If you know coffee has no bad effect in your particular case and you like it, why, bless your heart, stick to it, but if coffee drinking leaves its tell-tale mark by some symptoms of physical discomfort or peace of mind, it's a good idea to stop and use

POSTUM

This pure food-beverage, made of prime wheat and the juice of southern sugar-cane, makes a rich, seal-brown blend turning to golden-brown when cream is added, which tastes much like real Oriental Java but is absolutely free from the coffee drug, "caffeine."

Postum comes in two forms. One, called Regular Postum, must be boiled full 15 minutes.

The other, Instant Postum, is in powder form and a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water makes the beverage instantly. Grocers keep both kinds.

"There's a Reason" for POSTUM.

At the conference Saturday evening Dr. Joseph B. Hingeley of Chicago, secretary of the retired ministers' fund, gave an address on his work, and Dr. J. P. Trennery of Milwaukee spoke of the work of the Sunday school board.

Sunday's Services.

Sunday was a great day. It opened with the conference love feast at 9 o'clock, in charge of Rev. George E. Tindall of Alexandria. At 10:30 Bishop Quayle preached on "The Higher Ministry of the Spiritual." In the afternoon a memorial service was held. Only one member of the conference had died during the year, the Rev. John P. Hess, professor of church history in Garrett Biblical university, Evanston. Rev. Dr. Stout of First church, Minneapolis, read a memoir of his life and work. Following the memorial service, the bishop ordained the following young men to the ministry: J. P. Adair, F. C. Gilchrist, Elmer La Roe, H. C. Mecklenberg, E. C. Parish, James J. Wittrup, as deacons, and R. W. Duel, B. D. Hanscom, H. H. Hare, Blaine Lambert, James W. Lillico, John W. Schenck and E. E. Thompson, as elders. Dr. S. F. Kerfoot, president of Hamline university, addressed the closing session of the conference in the evening.

BUSINESS MEN TOO TIRED TO THINK

Pastor Deplores Tendency To Seek Cheap Amusements and Light Literature.

Rev. J. W. Powell, formerly pastor of Endion M. E. church, but now head of the department of religious instruction at the University of Minnesota, occupied the pulpit at the First Methodist Episcopal church last evening filling in the vacancy created through the removal of the Rev. M. S. Rice to Detroit. It is announced that the Rev. J. W. Hoffman, the new pastor, will be here next Sunday.

He attributed the present tendency of business men to neglect their religious duties on Sunday mornings and to read the lightest kind of literature rather than that containing solid information, to the stress of modern commercial life. The average man is so tired that he does not care to think after business hours, said the speaker.

Mr. Powell deplored the tendency of the present day to seek rest and comfort in useless ways. "Do you know," he said, "that the most profitable business in America last year was the automobile business, and the next the motion picture shows. More money was spent for automobiling and motion pictures than for bread, clothing, and rent."

WOULD REVISE RULES OF PARTY

Republican National Committee to Hold Meeting on Dec. 16.

Washington, Oct. 6.—The Republican national committee will meet in Washington on Tuesday, Dec. 16, to confer on party matters. The meeting was decided upon at a conference of Chairman Charles D. Hilles and Secretary James B. Reynolds.

The decision to call the national committee results from the repeated requests of Republican leaders that an opportunity be given to revise the rules of the Republican party. The principal changes demanded are in the basis of representation from the Southern states at national conventions; and in the method of electing delegates from states that have primary laws covering that subject.

It is expected that the national committee, when it meets in December, will not agree to the calling of a national convention without protest on the part of some of its members who claim that the committee itself has ample authority to make the changes in rules and regulations.

MANAGED OLD PAVILION

Matt Kusell Returns to Duluth, Bringing a Reminder of Novel Amusement Enterprise of Old Days.

Like a leaf from a nearly-forgotten story book relegated to the shelves of other times comes a reminder of Duluth's earlier days in the person of Matt Kusell.

Many Duluthians will remember Kusell, and many more will recall the pavilion formerly located at the top of the incline to Duluth Heights, of which he was manager for five years. The pavilion was razed fourteen years ago by one of the city's most spectacular fires. Not only was the property wiped out by flames which resembled a giant blazing pillar, but one of the big, clumsy, old-fashioned cars which transported the crowds to the hilltop was cut loose and flashed downwards like a meteor, crashing over Superior street with a grand smash.

The pavilion was one of the popular amusement resorts of the city. Kusell talks of it as though its existence were ended only yesterday. He was almost as intimately associated with its career as it is linked with the early history of Duluth. During his administration of its affairs it reached the height of its success and popularity, for Kusell was a "live wire," and his present appearance gives no indication that he has gone back. Kusell knew the value of advertising, and appreciated the fact that the sure way to win the confidence of the public was to give it returns for its money. Among other things, he brought Mantell to the pavilion from Boston, paying him $750 a week, which at that time was "going some." So thoroughly was his judgment vindicated that he was obliged to put on morning shows to accommodate the people. He brought Modjeska here, and Corinne, and other celebrities and stars. Other times a first-class stock company held down the boards. For the further delectation of his patrons Kusell conducted a cafe and maintained a palm garden and a promenade.

Kusell left Duluth shortly after the pavilion was destroyed by fire. He did not return until last Saturday, when he breezed into town. He declares that were it not for the unchanging hills, he would scarcely have recognized the Zenith City, so greatly has progress and development altered its appearance. Incidentally, he expressed the confidence that the re-establishment of an enterprise similar to the pavilion of other days would be a profitable enterprise. Kusell is still in the theatrical business, and is managing a company that will be seen at the Empress.

CHANT PRAYER FOR WOMEN IN PRISON

Party of Suffragettes Interrupt Services in Westminster Abbey.

London, Oct. 6.—Because the clergy do not include women in their prayers, a party of suffragettes yesterday interrupted services at Westminster Abbey by chanting a prayer for the women now in prison.

The party arose as the litany was being recited and ignored a request to desist from singing. At the conclusion the women left the abbey quietly.

Addressing a crowd outside, one of them said: "This is nothing to what will happen unless women are included in the clergy's prayers."

Italy to Send Fleet.

Rome, Oct. 6.—It is announced Italy will send a squadron to Hampton Roads to celebrate, with the warships of the other powers, the opening of the Panama canal.

Eight Firemen Injured.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 6.—Eight firemen were injured and $75,000 damage was done in a fire which burned out the pressroom of the Seattle Times yesterday. The loss is covered by insurance.

CROXONE SAVES ELDERLY PEOPLE FROM KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Sleep-Disturbing Bladder Weaknesses, Backache, Stiff Joints, Rheumatic Pains Disappear After Few Doses Are Taken.

While people along in years are naturally more subject to weak kidneys, they can easily avoid the tortures of backache and rheumatism, and be saved the annoyance of getting up at night with disagreeable bladder disorders.

Croxone relieves these conditions by promptly reaching the cause and making the kidneys filter the blood and sift out the poisonous acids and waste matter that cause these troubles.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped up, inactive kidneys, dissolves and drives out the uric acid and other poisonous impurities that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause rheumatism. It neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the bladder, overcomes unnecessary breaking of sleep and helps the kidneys and bladder regain health and strength.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what else you have used. It is practically impossible to take Croxone without results. It starts to work the minute you take it—the first time you use it. An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

Woman's Realm

David A. Soderquist, baritone, of Chicago, who is a guest in Duluth for a few days was the soloist at the vesper service at the Pilgrim Congregational church yesterday held at 4:30 o'clock and the first one of the season at which the full chorus choir sang. These vesper services will be held every Sunday afternoon at 4:30 and all interested, whether members of the church or not, will be welcome.

Mr. Soderquist sang two big numbers, a recitative and aria, "And Who May Abide" from "The Messiah," delighting the audience with his voice of power and feeling. His voice has a quality of evenness and smoothness which is especially pleasing.

He has sung in oratorio in Chicago, the Twin Cities and other cities of the Northwest and is on his way for a concert tour in the principal cities of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morton Dworshak, church, and Miss Faith Helen Rogers, choir, director, will have charge of the choir director will have charge of the programs at the vesper services throughout the year and will arrange for some special solo or ensemble numbers for each Sunday afternoon. The quartet is composed of Miss Florence Hyland, soprano; Mrs. O. J. Larson, contralto; John Koneczny, tenor, and Clarence Dunning, bass.

CHURCH MUSIC.

Kenneth Runckle and Miss Cammack Play.

Two delightful organ programs were given at the Glen Avon Presbyterian church yesterday at the morning and evening services conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. W. Lawrence. Kenneth Runckle, who came to Duluth a short time ago to take charge of the music at the Rex theater, played at the morning service, his numbers being especially good and Miss Pauline Cammack played in the evening, both artists delighting the congregation.

KUBELIK OPENS TOUR.

Noted Violinist Attracts Tremendous Audience.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jan Kubelik, the Bohemian violinist, opened his American tour at Orchestra hall, with a seating capacity of 3,000 yesterday afternoon. When it was found that all seats had been sold the management of the hall was obliged to place 300 people on the stage to quiet the throng that demanded to see and hear the noted violinist. A detachment of police was necessary to clear the lobbies and street.

SUFFRAGE CLUB.

Mrs. Spring Will Speak on Housewives' League.

Mrs. C. E. Spring will speak on the Housewives' league at the regular meeting of the Duluth Woman's Suffrage club, to be held on Wednesday evening of this week at the council chamber of the city hall, at 8 o'clock.

For Miss Heymar.

Miss Wally Heymar was the guest of honor at a linen shower given Saturday evening by Miss Lou A. Grogan, 1712 Jefferson street. Pink and white Killarney roses and pink shaded candles decorated the dining room table where the refreshments were served and mountain ash berries were used in the living room. Miss Heymar's wedding to Carl H. George of Chicago will take place Nov. 1. The guests were:

Mesdames—
Charles M. Wilson, R. W. Bowden,
Bruce TerBush.
Robert Yost,
Misses—
Muriel Brown, Agnes Mae Johnson,
Anna Macaskill,
Esther Anderson, Maud Grogan.

Proudlock-Magnus.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Proudlock of 708 East Second street will be the scene of a wedding this evening, when their daughter, Miss Fanny Helen Proudlock, and Rollo Morris Magnus of St. Paul will be married at 8 o'clock by Rev. R. E. Sayles of the First Baptist church. The bride's sister, Miss Charlotte Proudlock, will be bridesmaid and Walter Scott Stratton of St. Paul, best man. Miss Wahlgren will play the wedding music and Harlow Tischer will sing, "I Love You Truly."

Miss Jessie Proudlock, Miss Mamie Bannock and Miss Margaret Wahlgren will assist about the rooms, and the out-of-town guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Lemon and son, Walter; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Magnus, Miss Jessie Proudlock, Anthony Magnus and Walter K. Tanner, all of St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Townsend and Mrs. John Pachenham of Superior. Mr. Magnus and his bride will leave for a short wedding trip, and will be at home at 1307 Capitol avenue, St. Paul, after Nov. 1.

WHY ENGLISH LORDS MARRY ACTRESSES

ETHEL OLIVER.

After seeing the picture of Ethel Oliver one is not surprised that English lords marry actresses. Miss Oliver is one of the prettiest women on the London stage today. She has big melting eyes, fine features and a skin of exquisite texture and color. She is appearing in a current success.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Fasting Does Not Relieve Bodily Ills.

Starving oneself into a state of health will not be the road chosen by many. It is just as well, too, for this method of finding relief from bodily ills is fraught with danger unless followed under the advisement of a physician, whose directions should be obeyed minutely.

Even then it is doubtful if abstaining from food for days together is helpful. There is no precedent in nature for any such course, and since the body does not cease its labors while that which keeps its fires going is withheld, the chances are that going without food for one or two weeks will not benefit the majority of human beings.

Three women are at present receiving some publicity because of their determination to fast three days and then subsist for a period of two weeks upon a milk diet. They are in normal health. One hopes to achieve a radiant complexion; another to reduce her figure to proportions more to her liking, and the third to overcome nervous dyspepsia. And while it may be possible for these three to accomplish the desired abstinence from food for three days, the chances are very largely in favor of old Nature asserting herself and the craving for food on the second day becoming too strong for resistance.

There is this much to recommend the course of these women. They are making the attempt sanely, and are not setting themselves too harsh a chore as would be the case if they had decided upon a week's total abstinence. Provided they have the leisure and the surroundings, and, more than all, the determination to follow directions to the letter, there is little question that, scientifically conducted, the absence of food in the stomach for three days may contribute to better health, including brighter eyes, clearer skin and a more definite waistline.

It would be useless to deny that one of our commonest errors is eating more than is good for us and of food that has few qualities to recommend it. Going without regular allowances of nourishment, however, is not advisable. It is probably true that better results will follow a diet carefully selected as to its nourishing qualities and the requirements of the individual and exactly portioned to avoid over-crowding and overworking the digestive organs, than any period of starvation, in face of the remarkable cures said to have been effected by the latter means.

"THE ART OF DRESS"

Living Models Will Display Fall Styles at Theater--- Attempts to Regulate Styles By Law a Failure Says Mme. Savarie.

Women of Duluth are keenly interested in the style lecture by Mme. Savarie and display of correct fall models which will be given tomorrow afternoon at the Lyceum theater through the courtesy of the George A. Gray company to their customers and their friends. Reserved seat tickets have been given out and there will probably be a full house at the matinee when Mme. Savarie and her company of living models will make seventy changes of costumes.

"Can women's dress be regulated by law?"

This question apropos of the recent efforts in Rochester and elsewhere in the United States, was asked of Mme. Savarie.

"Not widely, or for long," was her reply. "But legislators who cannot find anything more important to do will continue to try from time to time.

"Saint Louis tried. His daughters had ill-shapen feet, and they wore long trains in the effort to hide them. That created a fashion, and presently all women wore long trains. This hurt the feelings of those who wished to be exclusive. Then King Louis IX came back from the crusade with severe ideas of what was right and proper, and he deprecated the general display of women's dress. So he issued an edict that all but a few women must refrain from wearing trains, or handsome mantles, or turned down collars, or gold belts.

"The edict lasted just enough to get into the French language the saying 'bonne renomee vaut mieux que ceinture doree.' (Fair fame is better than a gold belt.) Then it passed into a memory.

Laws Short Liver.

"From time to time throughout the history of civilization there have been laws forbidding the wearing of this or that, but they have been short lived. In 1634 the general court of Massachusetts forbade everybody, man or woman, to buy any apparel of any kind that had any lace on it, whether gold, silver or thread. At the same time this august legal body forbade men and women to wear, make or buy any slashed clothes with more than one slash in each sleeve and another in the back. All needlework, caps, and embroideries were forbidden, all ruffs, all beaver hats, etc. Five years later the court held that 'people of mean condition, education and calling' must not take upon themselves 'the garb of gentlemen.'

"In 1676 in Northampton, Mass. thirty-six young women were haled into court and fined at one time for being over dressed, their chief transgression being that their hoods were too big and splendid. Six years later a stern magistrate tried to follow suit, but nothing came of it.

"Men have in past times gone to such ridiculous lengths in their style of dresing, to such extraordinary expense in the cost of their finery, that nothing spent or worn by women of today is more than a mild commentary on the feminine lack of good taste and good judgment shown by the few. Men have learned better. Women are learning better. But it is to be hoped that all legislators for the future will be people (whether men or women or both) with good sense. The day is past when women will consent ever again to wrap themselves about in useless and heavy and uncomfortable superfluous yards of material.

"Many women would like to see a street costume invented for women that would consist of knee breeches, neat, knee-high gaiters, and a coat with skirts to just below the knees. It would be modest, and in every way desirable in cool and stormy weather. For hot weather many of the present season's styles in women's dress are pretty, comfortable and altogether desirable.

"Men's dress of the present day, with few exceptions, is excessively ugly. And in hot weather most of the masculine toilets worn in town are uncomfortable. So men are not altogether the ablest guides as to what women should wear. However, credit where it is due. Most of the advantageous changes in women's dress have come to us from the hands of men. The altogether practical tailored suit is the gift to women from men designers and makers. Let no one deny that the narrow skirt separated from absurd exaggerations is the very best walking skirt that women have ever had. And even in 1634 the general court of Massachusetts allowed one slash."

PICKS UP HAT; STRUCK BY CAR

While attempting to recover his cap, which had been blown on the street, John Zabaraski, 12 years old, was struck by an aerial bridge car at Lake avenue and Superior street, shortly before 9 o'clock Saturday evening. Gust Voppari, 40 years old, was struck by an East end car at First avenue east and Superior street, early Saturday evening, while he was crossing the street. Neither received serious injuries, although Voppari was taken to the St. Luke's hospital by the police emergency patrol.

Young Zabaraski received slight bruises about his face and hands. He was able to walk to his home, 608 East Tenth street.

Voppari sustained bruises about his face and hands and after being treated at the hospital Saturday evening, was able to leave yesterday for his home, 314 Lake avenue south.

BEMIDJI MAN FOOLS NORTH DAKOTA THUGS.

Hannah, N. D., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Wrenn of Bemidji, Minn., when held up by two masked men near here, saved a big sum of money by dropping his purse into the grass, the act escaping detection in the darkness.

Wrenn and four companions, including James Anderson of Duluth, Minn., and James Nelson of Langdon, were accosted by the highwaymen while they were walking from Snowflake, Man., to this city. Two of the victims got away in the darkness, while Anderson and Nelson lost about $150. All the victims are threshers.

HEAR SERMON BY A RABBI

Dr. Maurice Lefkovits Fills Pulpit of a Methodist Church.

A Jewish rabbi yesterday morning conducted services in a Methodist Episcopal church in Duluth; Dr. Maurice Lefkovits of Temple Emanuel preaching at the Endion M. E. church in the absence of Rev. W. F. Hovis.

Dr. Lefkovits has previously preached in several of the pulpits of the city and has made a favorable impression with both the ministry and the congregations, and his sermons have created considerable interest outside of his own church circle.

Dr. Lefkovits preached on "The Jewish Attitude Toward Jesus as a Teacher," in which he spoke on the life of Jesus Christ.

"Jesus was a great teacher, but His teachings are those taken from the history of the children of Israel," said Rabbi Lefkovits. "We accept Him as a great teacher, but not as the greatest teacher, and we had accepted His teachings before He uttered them, because they were the teachings of the prophets who lived before Him.

"The life of Jesus as an individual was full of sorrow and suffering, just as the racial life of the Jewish people has been. I consider His life a parallel to our history, in a great many respects.

"As Jesus bore a cross and wore a crown of thorns, so have the children of Judea been forced to bear the cross of persecution and the thorn of abuse and homelessness."

CANADA AND FREE WHEAT.

Free wheat is of course the point in the new tariff law in which Duluth is most vitally interested. Free wheat unquestionably means the diversion to this market of enormous quantities of wheat from the Canadian Northwest, with a consequent rapid growth of Duluth's importance as a wheat market.

But free wheat is only wheat that comes from countries imposing no tariff on American wheat, and Canada has a duty on wheat.

That bar to the realization of what the new tariff law means to Duluth probably will not exist long. In a speech at Calgary the other day Minister of Justice Doherty said that the question of the removal of the wheat duty would be taken up when parliament meets, which is likely to be in January. He did not intimate what the action of parliament will be, of course, but there seems no possible doubt that it will result in the removal of the Canadian duty on wheat, as by this means Canada will open to the products of its fields a great and rich and soon to be hungry market.

The Canadian Northwest, of course, will be solidly for the removal of the duty; and it is difficult to see where Eastern Canada can find reason for opposing it.

The Canadian government is protectionist, and it came into power on the anti-reciprocity issue. This accounts for the fact that while it could remove the duty, subject to the approval of parliament, it prefers to leave this act to parliament itself.

But the Borden government knows that a redistribution of parliamentary representation is at hand that will give the wheat-raising Northwest a great increase in power; and therefore it will hardly dare to set itself against free wheat.

The benefit to Duluth of the new tariff law, therefore, will begin to make itself evident before many months have passed.

ULSTER AND THE HOME RULE BILL.

The people of Ulster are in such deadly earnest about their opposition to home rule that we should like to sympathize with them if we could. But in view of all the circumstances it is hard to see how anybody can sympathize with them.

Of course the north of Ireland is Protestant and the rest of it Catholic. Of course there is a hereditary bitterness between the Protestant one-fourth and the Catholic three-fourths. That, and not reason, accounts for Ulster's attitude.

A study of the home rule bill, which we trust will become law, develops no earthly reason why Ulster should foolishly threaten war and rebellion.

The bill establishes an Irish parliament consisting of a senate of forty members and a house of commons of a hundred and sixty-four members, fifty-nine of them from Ulster. The house members are to be elected, and the senate is to be appointed first by the imperial ministry and later by the Irish cabinet. Bills must pass both houses in order to become laws, but where the two houses disagree both sit together, and of course the house will out vote the senate.

The executive business of Ireland will be handled by a cabinet, but the lord lieutenant, appointed by the British government, will be the supreme executive head with the power to veto or to suspend any law passed by the Irish parliament on instruction from the imperial cabinet in London.

Ireland being three-quarters Catholic, naturally Catholics will predominate in the parliament, and this is what Ulster objects to. But that it is mere bigotry, and not reason, that animates these objections, is proved conclusively by the terms of the home rule bill.

For while the Irish government will be given control of most local affairs, there are very important exceptions. It cannot establish any state church. It cannot require any religious test of officials. It can levy taxes, but the collection of these taxes is to be controlled by the British government, which also keeps control of the Irish constabulary for six years.

What harm can come to Protestant Ulster under this bill? None that we can even imagine. She is protected from unjust taxation and from religious interference by the very terms of the bill to which she objects. The final authority over all legislation is left with a representative of the British government, under which Ulster is content to remain.

If the people of Ulster cannot be satisfied with home rule under this bill, they never could be satisfied with home rule under any bill, unless it were one which disfranchised Catholics and let the Ulster one-quarter rule over all Ireland. In other words, if Ulster's wishes are consulted there will never be home rule in Ireland.

Hence our utter inability to sympathize as we would like to with the seething discontent of the north of Ireland.

THE NEW TARIFF IN THE HOME.

The new tariff law was devised more largely in the interest of the consumer than any tariff law in the history of the country.

Yet nobody must expect an economic millennium to fruit from it.

While the tariff has been the underlying cause of the High Cost of Living, it is not the only cause. Bad roads, bad farming methods, bad marketing methods, the tendency of the population from the fields to the city streets, have had their share and will continue to have their share until the problems associated with them are also solved.

But much relief should follow the enactment of the new tariff law, and if it fails to reach the consumer it will be because it has been unfairly absorbed somewhere on the way.

A study of the new law will convince anybody that congress has sought, so far as it might without injuring legitimate industries, to make a revision that would lessen the burden of the cost of living. A few figures will illustrate:

Wool blankets, taxed nearly seventy-three per cent under the old law, are taxed less than thirty-one per cent under the law.

Wool underwear, taxed nearly ninety-four per cent under the old law, is taxed less than thirty-six per cent under the new.

Raw wool, taxed nearly forty-four per cent under the old law, is free under the new.

Wool dress goods for women and children, taxed nearly a hundred per cent under the old law, are taxed thirty-five per cent under the new.

Cotton underwear, taxed sixty per cent under the old law, is taxed thirty per cent under the new.

Poultry, taxed three cents a pound under the old law, is taxed but one cent a pound under the new.

Brooms, taxed forty per cent under the old law, are taxed but fifteen per cent under the new.

The duty on cattle was $3.75 a head, and cattle are now free.

The duty on citrus fruits—oranges, lemons and grapefruit—is cut in two.

Salt, milk and cream, flour, meats, and potatoes are removed from the dutiable list to the free list. Sugar will be on the free list in less than three years.

The duties on fruit have been cut from twenty-five per cent to ten per cent.

Molasses, taxed forty-eight and a half per cent, is made free.

These examples, taken at random from a long list, will show the tendency of the new tariff.

Examples might be shown, too, of the tendency to place the load thus lifted from the common necessaries of life to the luxuries which are out of the reach of the many.

There are other problems to solve before the High Cost of Living problem is banished, but the tariff has done its share; and, the tariff question out of the way, the nation is free to attack these other problems.

WHY PRESIDENT WILSON IS SUCCEEDING.

In order to have his will prevail in the solution of great problems a president must first have the personal character and capacity that will appeal to public confidence. Nobody will deny that President Wilson has these.

But something more is needed. With parties in the chaotic state that prevailed at the time of last year's conventions, to succeed a president must have qualities that would appeal to something higher than partisanship. Success in the presidency depends altogether on having either such qualities or the united support of a predominant party.

And unquestionably President Wilson has these qualities.

In a way that is beyond cavil, Woodrow Wilson is more patriot than partisan, more a president than a party leader; though the history of the tariff bill proves him to be both.

His partyism rests upon him more lightly than his instinct for democracy and the public good.

That is why he has appealed so strongly to those who care more for results than for processes, and more for the common well-being than for the welfare of any party.

And that includes a great deal larger proportion of the people than it ever did before.

There being in existence no "party solidarity" on which to rest the foundations of a structure of legislation for the common good—for there is wide division within the Democratic party that was visible at Baltimore and that will be yet more visible as the Wilson program of real democracy develops—President Wilson has gathered to him the mighty force of the independent thought and patriotism of the nation.

NONPARTISAN CITY ELECTIONS.

Judging from the able editorial columns of the Indianapolis News, it is necessary there to argue at length the advantages of nonpartisan city government over partisan city government.

It ought not to be necessary to argue that anywhere.

It ought to be—and is getting to be in most places—so plain that nobody can be mistaken about it.

If the citizens of Indianapolis have any doubt whatever about it—and it would undermine our respect for their intelligence to learn that they have—they need only to put in parallel pictures those who are fighting for nonpartisan government and those who are fighting to retain partisan government.

An analysis of the motives of the two factions, a mental process within the capacity of a child, should be answer enough to any question Indianapolis or any other city may have about it.

Without pretending to know a single one of the parties to the present controversy in Indianapolis, we'd be willing to bet a little on the result if any Indianapolis voter will do what we suggest.

OUIMET.

The Toronto Star, smug in its intimacy with French-Canadian names, is highly amused because of the way Americans are puzzling over the pronunciation of the name of their new athletic prodigy, Francis Ouimet.

The Star notes that "they get Ouimet wrong mostly when they say it." Presumably they do not get it wrong when they don't say it. It notes that the Chicago Tribune has been inviting limericks on the name, and it quotes one from a writer who calls it "Weemay." "Otherwise," says the Star, "it is clever enough." So we presume that that is not what they call it in Canada. The limerick follows:

There was a young man named Ouimet
Who said golf was quite easy to plet;
"I beg pardon," said Vardon,
"This is awfully hard on
Mr. Reid and myself and E. Ret."

Next the Star reports the Tribune as gravely declaring that the right way to say it is "Weemit," with the accent on the first syllable. Which sounds as though the Star considers that wrong, too. It adds:

To Canadians the name presents no difficulties. It is a good French-Canadian name. The parents of the present golf champion came from Montreal, and the name is a prominent one in public life at Ottawa.

And there the Star leaves it! How DO you pronounce it, anyway?

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

EXTENSIONS OF GAS AND WATER MAINS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The method of water and gas extension in this city as outlined by Commissioner Merritt is a very important one, and our commissioners should seriously consider some such plan as the one outlined by him.

The western suburbs only need water and gas service, together with street railway facilities, to make a very desirable home location, especially for the working man.

The Finnish college needs water badly, but there are not enough residences at present in this location to make a guarantee required under the present rules of the city water department.

Arrangements, if possible, should be made to extend the water and gas mains as soon as possible and practicable to Smithville and Spirit Lake, having the mains large enough, of course, to take care of the New Duluth end.

Certainly a plan whereby property owners should be assessed for at least part of the expense would be equitable and fair. SMITHVILLE.

Duluth, Oct. 4.

Wanted to Get It Right.

Lippincott's: A traveling salesman died suddenly and was taken to his home in the West. His relatives telephoned the nearest florist, some miles distant, to make a wreath; the ribbon should be extra wide, with the inscription "Rest in Peace" on both sides, and, if there was room, "We Shall Meet in Heaven."

The florist was away, and his new assistant handled the job. It was a startling floral piece which turned up at the funeral. The ribbon was extra wide and bore the inscription:

"Rest In Peace on Both Sides, and If There is Room We Shall Meet in Heaven."

A Misunderstanding.

Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph: In the struggling days at Tuskegee Booker T. Washington found that he would have to use an old chicken house for a schoolroom.

"Uncle," he said to an old colored man, "I want you to come down at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and help me clean out a henhouse."

"Law, now, Mr. Washington," the old man expostulated, "you-all don't want to begin cleanin' out no henhouses roun' here in de daytime."

How to Tell the Real Gardener

Walter A. Dyer in the Craftsman.

You can tell a good gardener from a poor one by the number of weeds visible in his garden, but I know a subtler way of judging. I apply my test in November. In the spring an army of gardeners marked out their rows and sowed their seed with proper enthusiasm. Then came the first crop of weeds, and a few weak brothers and sisters fell from the ranks after gathering a handful of spindly radishes. Then came more weeds and a further defection.

In July came an early drouth. The peas dried up, the lettuce wilted, and even the corn looked sickly. The salvation of the garden was water for the lettuce and faithful cultivation for the corn, and only the old guard stood by through the heat and burden of the day.

By fall only a remnant made any pretense at gardening. Beans and corn had been gathered; the tomatoes took care of themselves. Only the faithful kept up the fight for the love of it, only a tried and true Gideon's band remained.

But it is after the first killing frosts that the true test comes. The cornstalks stand brown and withered. The last ungathered tomato hangs shriveled upon its stem. The garden is a scene of desolation—a battle field whence all have fled save the fallen. The dainty beauty of spring and the fullness of summer have departed. It is no place for the dilettante gardener. Most of the back yards on our street are deserted.

But over in Neighbor Burt's yard I see a lonely figure poking around among the debris. (It was Neighbor Burt's Golden Bantam corn that beat us all.) Now he is standing amid the desolation like a widow in a graveyard. His loved ones are dead.

But Neighbor Burt is no faint heart. He is not mourning. Listen, he is whistling. He is pulling up his dead plants and vines and piling them neatly for the burning. Soon an aromatic odor will be borne to me. Neighbor Burt will be burning sweet incense to Ceres. And I know that he will find something to do until the snow covers his garden—and then he will begin looking for next Spring's seed catalogues to arrive and will begin planning what varieties of dahlia bulbs he will buy.

By these tokens I know that Neighbor Burt and I are two members of the Brotherhood of Year-Round Gardeners.

To me there is a vast deal of satisfaction in cleaning up. I crave orderliness as some folks crave excitement. And there is the satisfaction, too, that comes only from a work that is well done, completed, finished.

I believe that half our restlessness and discontent is due to our inability to finish things. Life is a ceaseless round. Duties overlap and crowd each other. It is hard to get the breakfast dishes out of the way and the beds made before it is time to start dinner, and the average housewife is eternally oppressed with the haunting realization of a hundred unfinished tasks. We men folks come home from the office or the shop with our minds full of things we have dropped in the middle, and some of us never finish them until someone folds our hands across our breasts and says, "It is all over."

But the man or woman who works out of doors with things that grow and bear fruit may taste a little of the heavenly joy of things accomplished. For God, who is wiser than our other employers, has appointed the seasons, and has ordained that each year shall come to an end, whether we will or no.

The fruit ripens and is gathered. The leaves fall and the sap runs back into the roots. No overweening ambition, no feverish desire for more time, more time, can stop it. Soon comes winter to seal the earth in compulsory rest. But before it comes Neighbor Burt and I go forth into our gardens and clean up, and we alone of all the people on our block know the joy the craftsman feels when he puts the last fond touches on his work and sees that it is good.

It Bored Him.

Everybody's: The late James R. Keene, himself a '49-er, used to tell many a story about the characters of those days.

"It was difficult," he once said, "to be a temperance man, for to refuse to drink with a '49-er was a worse offense than to kiss his wife.

"A '49-er, twirling his long, drooping mustache, said to a tenderfoot in a barroom:

"'Have some red-eye with me?'

"'Thank you—no,' said the tenderfoot, a total abstainer, firmly.

"There was a tense silence in the crowded bar. A pin could have been heard to drop. Then the '49-er reached back to his hippocket and said with a weary sigh:

"'Hell! Can't I even take a drink without killin' a man?'"

The Workers.

The palace doors are closed upon the Mount,
For none may view the King who rules supreme,
In wisdom, justice, mercy and in power;
Designing and directing from his throne,
He wields unseen his sceptre over all.

Far, far below the summit of the Mount,
The workers go their darkened way alone;
Ten thousand times ten thousand toiling lives
In one great image made and glorified,
And shaped to working as the Master works.

And instruments of marvelous design
Are ready waiting for the eager hands
Whereto they are adapted; yet few find,
Groping in darkness of the twilight world,
The instrument for which their hands were made.

So to the carpenter there falls a sword;
Unto the warrior a scrivner's reed;
To him born tiller of the soil a loom,
Unto the poet is a plowshare given,
And to the brute dominion and a throne.

But since a gleam of far celestial light
Breaks through some crevice in the palace doors,
The workers with their misfit instruments
And alien tasks accomplish yet some work
Slowly and surely—to their endless praise.

Yet some, grown bitter with their wasted strength,
Seeing the mighty things they could have wrought
Had their been no confusion of the tools,
Cry "Who is this who sits enthroned in light,
Foiling his workers and his instruments?"

—M. E. Buhler in New York Times.

McAdoo, Master Executive

From the World's Work.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo is a master executive. He is capable of long periods of uninterrupted work, and has a tremendous capacity for detail. He displayed everywhere this latter quality when building his Hudson river tunnels; from the day he first conceived the idea his was the mind that directed all the company's activities; neither abstruse financial nor engineering problems had the slightest terrors for him. As part of this tunnel enterprise Mr. McAdoo constructed what was then New York's largest single office building. He did not overlook a single detail in this structure. In order to provide a tenant for the top floor—a problem which the real estate men regarded as insoluble—Mr. McAdoo himself organized the now flourishing Railroad club. Here again he attended to every detail; he superintended the decorations, the purchase of furniture, the selection of table linen, silver and china. In one respect, at least, Mr. McAdoo decided, his Railroad club should stand pre-eminent; it must provide the best bread of any club in town. With this idea in mind, he invited all the master bakers to forward samples of their handiwork. One day his friends discovered Mr. McAdoo in his office surrounded by a large semi-circle of freshly baked loaves of bread. He spent an hour solemly tasting the samples.

"The man who baked this one shall bake the Railroad club's bread," he finally decided, indicating the premium loaf.

Mr. McAdoo is also noted for his resourcefulness; he has the happy faculty of never "getting left." He has been known to despatch a special train to bring a traveling bag which he has accidentally left behind—this incident really happened a few years ago in Arizona.

His fondness for fast automobiling amounts almost to recklessness; he has narrowly escaped death three times; and he was once arrested in Germany for "endangering a railroad train"—the offense consisting in racing with a locomotive to see which would have the right-of-way over a crossing. One day an enormous crowd collected in Church street, New York, with eyes upturned toward a dizzy spectre several hundred feet up in the air. A large steel girder attached to a chain was making an ascent to the twenty-second story of the Hudson Terminal building, then in its skeleton stage. Standing on this girder, with hand clasping the chain, stood Mr. McAdoo. He was making a personal inspection of his building—the only way, as things then stood, in which he could do so. Slowly he made the ascent; once arrived at the top, he picked his way about the fragmentary floor, stepping gingerly from crossbeam to crossbeam—a single inadvertent move would have plunged him to the pavement below.

"You'd better take the hod elevator down," said the foreman; "on the way down you're apt to get the 'zoop.'"

"What's that?"

"A drop that makes you feel like your stomach and nerves had fallen into your shoes."

"'Zoop' or no 'zoop,'" said Mr. McAdoo, "I'm going down the way I came up." On the return trip he did not have the girder to stand on. He placed his foot in the hook at the end of the chain and gave the signal. One of the workmen joined him and threw his arm around him as a protection.

"You go ay-way from heah," said Mr. McAdoo. He preferred to make the trip all alone and did so.

As It's Done in Duluth

Winnipeg Free Press: The Duluth system of providing work for men involuntarily idle during the winter is compelling widespread attention. No other city on this continent, it is said, has developed a system for dealing with the unemployed problem comparable with the Duluth system, which the New York Evening Post declares to be superior in some ways to any plan with the same end in view as yet in operation in Great Britain, Germany or Switzerland—the three countries that have led in unemployed relief.

Other Western cities in the United States, notably Kansas City, Cleveland and Cincinnati, which already have progressive ways of dealing with the temporarily out-of-work, are reported by their newspapers to be considering favorably the adoption of the plan which Duluth has been perfecting since 1910. The chief merit of that plan is the main objections to ordinary relief. The work which Duluth offers the winter unemployed—farm hands, dock workers and construction gangs, whose problem means a relatively heavier tax on Duluth, as the New York Evening Post points out, than any similar tax on New York or Chicago—is not useless, but consists in the cutting away of a stony wall which has to be removed, as it would in time bar the city's further growth.

The men working at that job are not receiving charity in the guise of wages, and the taxpayers of Duluth know that a necessary public improvement is being effected. The men are answerable to supervisors, who punish incompetence or indolence by discharge, so that no worker receives relief without putting forth as sturdy an effort as would be required by a private employer. Most important of all, each worker is required to submit a scheme for returning to regular employment, and it is understood that his wages are simply to rehabilitate him or otherwise assist him in carrying out this scheme. By these safeguards Duluth has secured the objects of guaranteed employment, with a minimum of such evils as were recently exposed by the British royal commission on the Poor Laws.

The significance of the achievement, as is pointed out by the Survey, is apparent in the fact that, except for Kansas City and Cincinnati, the Duluth system is the first case on this continent of the establishment of a permanent basis of the "winter work" that is carried on in more than a hundred German cities and elsewhere in Western Europe. One important feature of the Duluth plan remains to be noted. The public work in question is completely stopped during the summer; it begins again with the hardships of winter.

In most cities there is work which might be carried on in this way. This planning of public work so that it will be done in dull seasons is a settled policy of the German states.

The Burden.

Detroit Free Press: Apropos of one type of American family, Dr. Charles F. Aked said in San Francisco:

"Smythe is of this type. A man said to me about him:

"'Is Smythe in business for himself?'

"'For himself?' said I. 'No, sir, Smythe is not in business for himself. Smythe is in business for an extravagant family that is at present occupying the royal suite in a $6-a-day Atlantic City hotel.'"

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

"Granny" Urges Care.

Anoka Union: The good roads propositions may work great damage, unless wonderful care is taken in building them. Good roads are hard to find in Minnesota, although thousands of dollars have been spent on them.

Thinks He Was Chump.

Fergus Falls Journal: The sensational withdrawal of Sidney Anderson, the Minnesota congressman who resigned his membership on the powerful ways and means committee of the house because the Democrats would not give him a look-in when they were framing their tariff bill, has given him widespread fame and led to considerable discussion as to whether the present system of framing legislation should not be improved upon. Here in Minnesota, the consensus of opinion seems to be that Sidney was a chump to quit.

Lindbergh Slipping Back.

Belgrade Tribune: The people of this district should bear in mind that Congressman Lindbergh of this district voted against the Wilson-Underwood measure. We were sorry to note his deviation from his past devotion to the people's cause. Democrats are certainly excused from tendering him any political support as they have done in the past.

Denial Unnecessary.

Northfield News: Former Congressman Tawney denies that he ever thought of resigning from the international boundary commission. An entirely unnecessary waste of breath. No one ever suspected that he would be guilty of such a thought.

There Now! Figure It Out.

Red Wing Daily Eagle: It is clearly apparent that President Wilson made a big mistake when he tendered to "Willing" Jennings Bryan a cabinet portfolio.—Princeton Union.

Would Wilson have had any cabinet portfolios to tender anybody if it had not been for Bryan? Isn't Bryan more responsible for Wilson, than Wilson is for Bryan?

Query: What Destination?

Montevideo Leader: And now they say the G. O. P. elephant and the Big Bull Moose will soon become reconciled and will lie down together, and that Teddy R. will lead them, but they don't say where to.

Anderson a Standpatter.

Luverne Journal: The standpatters shouldn't make such relentless war on poor Sid Anderson. He's one of them now, having gone into Maine during that recent congressional fight and made such splendid high tariff speeches that the standpat committee chairman was moved to give him words of the highest commendation.

Right Back at the Pioneer.

Warren Register: Last Sunday's Pioneer Press takes several inches of editorial space to show up Congressman Sidney Anderson's hypocrisy on the tariff question. In so doing the Pioneer—unwittingly, no doubt—shows up its own two-facedness, which is quite as great as Anderson's.

Assuredly.

Life: "Will you marry me?" he asked. She paused for a moment before she replied. Then she said:

"Listen carefully, please. You are a man of ordinary abilities and perfectly conventional ideas. You haven't the slightest conception of the new world movement which is now taking place. You are intensely blind to all of its radicalism, intensely unoriginal, satisfied to be an intellectual nonentity, engrossed in that horrible, stagnating thing known as business, and a mental slave to the opinions put forth by your daily paper. I am a true feminist, an individual searcher, bound by no ties, seeking the highest self-expression in advanced art forms and acknowledging no preconceived standards. Will I marry you? Of course I will; you're just the man I want."

A Softer Snap.

Youngstown Telegram: A couple of colored boys were discussing plans for a coming county fair.

"I got a job working for a cigar man," said one. "All I have to do is to stick my head through a canvas and dodge baseballs."

"Huh!" sniffed the other, "I got a softer snap than that."

"Whatta you gonna do?"

"My job is just like yours only I don't have to run de risk ob gettin' hit by no baseballs. All I has to dodge is tomaters."

A Woman's Reason

From "Two Gentlemen of Verona."

JULIA—
But say, Lucetta, now we are alone,
Would'st thou then counsel me to fall in love?

LUCETTA—
Ay, madam, so you stumble not unheedingly.

JULIA—
Of all the fair resort of gentlemen
That every day with parle encounter me,
In thy opinion which is worthiest love?

LUCETTA—
Please you repeat their names, I'll show my mind
According to my shallow, simple skill.

JULIA—
What think'st thou of the fair Sir Englamour?

LUCETTA—
As of a knight well spoken, neat and fine;
But, were I you, he never should be mine.

JULIA—
What think'st thou of the rich Mercatio?

LUCETTA—
Well, of his wealth; but of himself, so so.

JULIA—
What think'st thou of the gentle Proteus?

LUCETTA—
Lord, Lord; to see what folly reigns in us!

JULIA—
How now; what means this passion at his name?

LUCETTA—
Pardon, dear madam, 'tis a passing shame
That I, unworthy body as I am,
Should censure thus a lovely gentleman.

JULIA—
Why not on Proteus, as on all the rest?

LUCETTA—
Then thus: of man good I think him best.

JULIA—
Your reason?

LUCETTA—
I have no other but a woman's reason:
I think him so because I think him so.

Twenty Years Ago

Definite news of the storm several days ago on the Mississippi gulf coast has reached New Orleans, all wires have been down and the Louisville & Nashville railroad having been washed out at intervals from Mobile to New Orleans. The financial loss along the entire coast will foot up not less than $1,000,000, and fully 100 lives are lost. At Biloxi nothing escaped the fury of the elements and the losses are very great. Miles of Chandeleur island were washed away and the quarantine station was destroyed, while many vessels were wrecked.

The first race for the America's cup between Lord Dunraven's English cutter Valkyrie and the New York syndicate's centerboarder Vigilant was started yesterday in a thick mist and with scarcely a sign of a breeze. The Valkyrie turned the stake boat one mile in the lead, but at 5:25 p. m., the time in which the race could be sailed expired. The race was then declared off. The Valkyrie was nearly ten miles from the finish and had a good lead.

A Friend of Peace.

London Opinion: The peace advocate was talking. He said:

"I wish we'd all take as sensible and prudent a view of war as the Nice avocat took of dueling.

"An avocat and lieutenant quarreled one evening at the Cafe de la Regence in Nice, and the lieutenant sent his seconds to the avocat the next morning. But the avocat shook his head and said: 'A duel? No, no. It wouldn't be fair. The risks would be unequal. For, look you, the lieutenant is a single man, whereas I have three children.'

"The avocat's refusal was conveyed to the lieutenant, who, being a bloodthirsty wretch, straightway got married. In three years he became the father of three children, and then he called upon the avocat.

"'Ha,' he said fiercely, 'you'll have to fight me now; I have three children.'

"'But I,' said the avocat, with a peaceful and joyous smile, 'I have now got five.'"

ON THE IRON RANGES

CRIMINAL CASES ARE DISPOSED OF

Grand Rapids District Court Gets Down to Civic Actions.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The criminal cases on the district court calendar were completed Saturday night with the dismissal of the action against Dan Buckovich of Keewatin, charged with resisting an officer.

The hearing of the civil list was resumed this morning, the first case being that of the Coleraine Lumber company against William J. Stock for the recovery of an alleged balance on a bill of lumber sold to the defendant.

Louis Nocovitch, who was Thursday found not guilty of the murder of Mike Vukobrotovitch, and who was to have been tried Monday for the murder of Mike's cousin, Steve Bukobrotovitch, was freed Saturday afternoon, after the court had granted the request of the attorney for the prosecution that the second indictment be dismissed. The murders occurred on the same night, and the witnesses and evidence were identical in every particular.

The jury drawn in the first case was out exactly two minutes before it brought in a verdict of not guilty. For this reason it was deemed foolish to resummons the witnesses, some twenty-five in all, and make so great an expense for the county, when the chances were so small for a conviction. Nocovitch seemed hardly to realize what was happening, and took his freedom merely as a matter of course. His attorney, H. W. Stark, is, however, jubilant over the victory.

The case of Gust Korhonen of Swan River, charged with assault in the third degree on Mrs. Sali Niemi, of the same place, was heard Saturday. She claimed that a few days after an alleged squabble over a calf which Korhonen had purchased, he waylaid her as she was passing his cabin on the trail, and had spanked her with a broom, woefully hurting her feelings. After hearing the evidence, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

RANGE PEOPLE FILE SUITS FOR FORTUNES

Miner Wants $50,000 for Burns and Girl $5,000 for Bruised Feelings.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Suits for damages aggregating $67,000 have been filed in district court by Victor L. Power as attorney for three clients.

Luka A. Lukich wants $50,000 for injuries sustained Nov. 25, while an employe of the Mahoning Ore & Steel company. According to the complaint E. M. Johnson, superintendent of the mine, a co-defendant in the action, ordered Lukich to build a fire in a small company shack. It is alleged that there was a quantity of oil and explosives stored there, and that a spark from the fire ignited the material. As a result of the explosion, Lukich was badly burned. He claims that he is unable to work, and will be a cripple for the remainder of his life.

Five thousand dollars is the value placed on a lost fiance in a suit brought by Miss Anna C. Kraker, of Chisholm against George Chrep, a merchant, her former employer. According to the complaint, Chrep circulated a report that the young lady had been indiscreet, and the rumors resulted in breaking of an engagement between Miss Kraker and a Chisholm man. Austin & Austin represent the defendant.

Dan Stokich, a former employe of the Winston-Dear company, wants $12,000 for the loss of an eye. He alleges that he was injured in August, 1912, while repairing a chain that was broken during the course of his work. A spark of steel, he says, entered the eye. The plaintiff is 21 years old.

VIRGINIA BARBER COLLISION VICTIM

Auto Runs Into Train and Louis Padden Dies of Injuries.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis B. Padden died yesterday afternoon as the result of injuries sustained in an accident Saturday night between 10 and 11 o'clock, when an automobile in which he and two companions were riding collided with a logging train on the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific railway on a crossing about a mile and a half from the city.

The party hired an automobile at a local garage shortly after 10 o'clock and started in the direction of Mountain Iron, west of the city. The car was being driven by Otto Hohuottala, who was in the employ of the garage. The night was an exceedingly dark and cloudy one, and where the accident occurred there are no lights to warn of possible danger. The train into which the automobile ran was going north and was made up of empty logging cars. These cars are low, and according to the driver of the car the searchlight on the automobile did not reveal the danger until he was within a very short distance of the train, and then he threw on the emergency brake, but the roads had been made muddy by the recent rains and instead of responding to the brake, the car slid on to destruction. Padden was riding in the seat with the driver and he was thrown beneath the train, his right arm and right leg being ground to a pulp and in addition he received internal injuries. Hohuottala escaped with a few minor scratches and bruises and the other occupants of the car were uninjured. The automobile was entirely demolished.

The spot where the accident occurred is a short distance west of the car house of the Mesaba Electric railway, and a jury-up call was sent to the city for an ambulance and Padden was taken to the Lenont hospital. His injuries were of such a nature that the physicians never gave out any hope for his recovery.

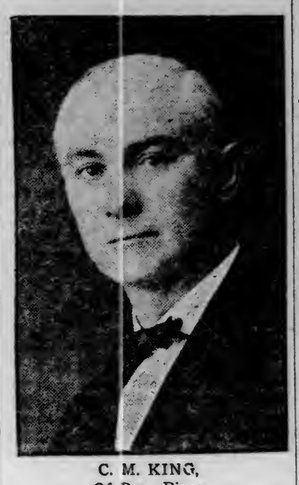

The unfortunate victim of the accident was the owner of a barber shop and had resided in this city for about two years. He was about 30 years of age, and besides his wife he is survived by a sister, Mrs. F. E. Thomas of Virginia, and another sister, whose residence is in St. Paul.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

Seeley, Who Fitted Czar of Russia, Called to Duluth.

F. H. Seeley of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will be at the Spalding Hotel and will remain in Duluth Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday only Oct. 7, 8 and 9. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield as now used and approved by the United States Government will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, affording immediate and complete relief, but closes the opening in 10 days on the average case. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, harmful injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. All charity cases without charge, or if any interested call he will be glad to show same without charge or fit them if desired. Any one ruptured should remember the date and take advantage of this opportunity.

ROAD ENTHUSIAST TO SEEK FEDERAL AID

C. M. KING,
Of Deer River.

ROAD ENTHUSIAST TO ASK FEDERAL AID

President King of Development Association to Visit Washington.

Deer River, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. M. King, president of the Northern Minnesota Development association, will in a few days go to Washington in an attempt to gain appropriations for bridges across the Mississippi river between Itasca and Cass counties, and over Pike bay in the latter county. He will also petition for a road and bridge in Carlton county.

Congressman Miller, who was to have urged the proposed appropriations, is not expected to return from his trip abroad in time to obtain action at the next session.

Mr. King will also appear before senate and house committees in the interest of the Chippewa Indians in this section. Adjustment of prices in government land sales will be urged by him.

GRAND RAPIDS TO BE WELL ENTERTAINED

Boosters' Club Arranges for Lyceum Course for the Winter.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The directors of the Booster's club and a small gathering of citizens attended the meeting Friday evening in the library to discuss the plan of a lyceum course for the coming winter.

Because of the fact that four other towns want the same course and are willing to club together, the entire course can be secured at a reduction, and the directors voted to try the plan, and have contracted for a course of six entertainments. The first will be given on Oct. 27, and will be H. W. Sears. On Nov. 13 William Sterling Battis, a well-known Dickens impersonator, will be the attraction. The local organization has been most fortunate in securing Round's Ladies' orchestra for Christmas, and feel that they are providing the village with a first-class entertainment to top off the many family parties held on that day. The Commonwealth quartet will come on Jan. 9, and Caveny's quartet on Jan. 28. The last attraction for the course has not as yet been announced, but will be quite as good as the other numbers.

CHISHOLM BOY IS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Chisholm, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Probably fatally shot by the accidental discharge of a gun carried by his companion, Peter Hanson, age 16, was carried for more than a mile by Carl Olson to the latter's home, where the injured boy was placed in a wagon and taken to a hospital yesterday morning.

The boys were hunting in the vicinity of Sturgeon lake and were making their way through heavy underbrush. Young Hanson was slightly in the lead. The shotgun carried by Olson caught in the brush and as he tried to dislodge it the trigger was forced by a twig. The heavy charge entered Hanson's shoulder.

Hanson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hanson of Chisholm. The Olson boy lives near Sturgeon lake.

DULUTH MEN WILL TALK TO EVELETH BOYS.

Eveleth, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Speakers for meetings of the Boys' Study and Recreation club of Eveleth have been announced for the winter by Rev. Philip A. Schwarz, organizer of the society. Regular sessions will be held the first and third Fridays of each month. Among those who have promised to talk to the boys are B. Silberstein of Duluth, George Whitman, Eveleth; Dr. Herman J. Schulze, Eveleth; James P. Boyle, Eveleth; Norman D. McLeod, Duluth; A. E. Pfrenmner, Eveleth; Dr. C. W. More, Eveleth.

CHARTER ELECTION AT EVELETH TUESDAY

Sponsors Believe New Constitution Will Receive Strong Indorsement.

Eveleth, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth voters will tomorrow decide the fate of the newly formulated charter, and it is believed by its sponsors it will be adopted by a large majority. Little opposition is shown the plan which proposes to abolish the old system and promises businesslike methods in the operation of the municipal government.

One of the points frequently discussed is the intent of the charter commission with reference to the liquor law enforcement. The new charter fails to alter the present method of regulating the saloons—that is, the mayor is at the head of the police force as at present and he is responsible for the enforcement of the state law.

EASTERN IRON MEN TO VISIT MESABA.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Officials of the La Belle Iron works and the Pitt Iron Mining company, operating the Miller mine at Aurora, the Wacoutah at Mountain Iron and the La Belle at McKinley, are expected to arrive Tuesday in a special car over the Duluth, Missabe & Northern to spend several days on the range inspecting their properties and seeing other range mines. They will go as far as Coleraine, where the new washing plant is located. Most of those coming are from Pittsburg, Pa., while the representatives of the La Belle Iron works come for the most part from Steubenville, Ohio.

VIRGINIA WINS FROM SUPERIOR.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—In a slow game Saturday the Superior Central high school eleven was defeated by the Virginia high school team by a score of 12 to 0. The rains had made the grounds too muddy for a good article of football, and no sensational plays were recorded.

The game which was to have been played here Sunday afternoon between the Tigers of Duluth and the City team was cancelled on account of the wet condition of the grounds.

GILBERT TEACHERS VISIT TOWER.

Tower, Minn., Oct 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A bevy of teachers numbering nearly a dozen, came over from Gilbert Saturday for an outing on Lake Vermilion. The weather was not propitious for a lake trip, so the ladies enjoyed the comforts of Tower's leading hotel, the Vermilion. Sunday, the weather being somewhat improved, the party took a trip across Pike Bay to the Indian school. The teachers returned to Ilbert on one of the afternoon trains.

CALUMET NOTES.

Calumet, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ed Leya, who for the past week has been working for L. Cucci, has moved his family here from Keewatin.

Mrs. George Maynard arrived home Saturday evening after a few weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Du Pere, Wis.

E. E. Hanner of Hibbing, and general superintendent of the Arthur Iron Mining company was in the village Saturday.

Ellery Scannell left for Duluth this morning where he will stay about three weeks visiting friends and relatives.

Gust Pherson visited Virginia today.

TOWER NOTES.

Tower, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Bayliss of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who has been looking after business interests in this section, left Saturday afternoon for Aitkin on a like errand. Mr. Bayliss has spent the last two winters in this section, and earlier in the season had charge of a party of Cedar Rapids people who were enjoying an outing on Lake Vermilion and Vermilion river. Mr. Bayliss is an artist and took many fine photos of scenes in this section, which he will copyright and soon place on sale in this vicinity. His work is of a high order and sells rapidly.

Miss Esther Strand, now teaching in the Gilbert schools, made a week-end visit at her home.

Fred Wahlsten of Wahlsten & Sons was a visitor in Tower on Saturday. The firm is making preparations for an active logging season.

The Lake Vermilion Summer Home company has filed articles of incorporation. The company consists of Charles P. Meyers, William Elder and Alexander Marshall, all of Duluth. The capital stock is stated to be $50,000 and the indebtedness limited to $100,000.

A party of Tower's young business and professional men went on a hunting trip up the line of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad on Sunday.

Ted Hall came down from Hall's camp with his fine launch, bringing passengers for the outgoing afternoon trains. Hall's place and Hunter's lodge are both open, and probably will remain so all winter to care for the hunters, timber and mining prospectors and others having occasion to do business on or near Lake Vermilion.

Mrs. W. G. Gallien spent the week-end at the home of Miss A. S. Meeker at Pike River.

Rev. Joseph Mapson of Ely, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, was in town Friday on pastoral visits.

Oscar Fredrickson, the teacher of the Little Fork school in District No. 9, was spending Saturday in Tower.

The secretary of the Commercial club has sent out the usual notices for a regular meeting to be held Monday night at the Vermilion hotel.

It is rumored that the steamer Mary Bell, one of the largest on Lake Vermilion, will be raffled off. The boat is owned by Ed Osterberg of this place.

Mr. Montgomery, proprietor of the Vermilion hotel, returned home this week from a trip to Pittsburg, Pa.

Carlson to Face Charges.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Edward J. Carlson, who has been held by the local police for the past four days charged with embezzlement was taken to Escanaba, Mich., today by Sheriff Tim Curran of Delta county. Carlson, who was manager for a shoe company in the Michigan city, is alleged to have appropriated $750 belonging to the company. When seen shortly before his departure he admitted having used the money, but stated that it was in the ordinary course of the company's business as expenses and that his arrest and return to Michigan has been brought about through a misunderstanding. He feels confident that the matter will be satisfactorily adjusted upon his arrival in Escanaba.

WARREN COLLEGE BEGINS SIXTH YEAR.

Warren, Minn., Oct. 6.—The sixth school year has been begun at North Star college. The enrollment is already over fifty, which is more than twice that at the opening last year. All departments are well represented, and many more students are coming in the next two weeks.

The following towns had representatives on the opening day: Oslo, Alvarado, Warren, Vega, Fork, Argyle, Kennedy, Angus, Newfolden, Strandquist, Karlstad, Adams, N. D., and Esmond, N. D.

Miss Agda Wennerberg, the principal of the music department, who has been in Europe during the summer, has returned and will take charge of the work. Many of the advanced music students have already returned.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

RAIN

Cloudy and rainy weather still continues and the weather man holds out no immediate prospect of a change, predicting showers for tonight. A year ago today it was fair and cool. The sun rose this morning at 6:14 and will set at 5:38, making eleven hours and twenty-four minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four to thirty-six hours light to copious rains fell throughout the lake region, central valley states and a great part of the Northwest. Snow was falling this morning in Southern Saskatchewan and Northwestern Montana. Freezing weather prevails in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Nevada, Utah and Colorado, temperatures of 16 to 20 deg. occurring in Southwestern Alberta, Northwestern Wyoming, Idaho, Nevada and Southwestern Utah. Indications favor unsettled weather and occasional rains in St. Louis and Douglas counties during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Upper Michigan—Cloudy tonight and Tuesday; probably rain; cooler in east and central portions tonight.

Minnesota — Showers tonight and Tuesday; cooler in south portion tonight.

Wisconsin — Showers tonight and Tuesday; cooler in south portion tonight.

Iowa—Unsettled tonight and Tuesday with showers; cooler tonight and in east and central portions Tuesday.

North Dakota—Unsettled tonight and Tuesday; probably showers.

South Dakota—Cloudy in west; unsettled weather tonight and Tuesday with probably showers in east portion.

Montana—Unsettled weather tonight and Tuesday; probably showers; warmer in west portion tonight.

WILL STAND BY NEW LAW

Men Will Elect to Work Under Compensation Act, Says McEwen.

Average Net Compensation Will Be Larger Than Before.

That the efforts of interested parties to persuade workmen not to elect under the Workingmen's Compensation law, will be futile, is the opinion of William E. McEwen, editor and publisher of the Labor World. The attempt being made to bring about this result in Hibbing will not be indorsed in Duluth, Mr. McEwen says.

"Of course, certain lawyers," said Mr. McEwen, "will do what they can to keep labor fees coming into their pockets, but the workmen generally are going to elect under the compensation law. The compensation is recognized as being too small, but we hope to remedy that in the next legislature."

In speaking of the new law Mr. McEwen said:

"If the accident is due wholly to the employer's negligence and without the fault of the injured workman or a fellow employe, he might obtain greater compensation under the old law than under workingman's compensation. Even then there is doubt for there is the element of chance and the caprice of the jury to contend with. The outcome is as uncertain as even then there is the attorney's fee of 50 per cent of the verdict to be paid and the expense in waiting the long time in litigation. Under the compensation law there is no uncertainty or delay, nor high attorney's fees. I think on the average the workman will receive a larger net compensation under the new law than has been received by him under the old law.

"Now the injured man is entitled to compensation without respect to any person's fault. Under the old law it was necessary to first prove that the employer was negligent and after which the employe was compelled to prove that he did not contribute to the negligence or that the accident was due to the negligence of a fellow employe. I rather think after we shall have had some experience under the new law that the workingmen generally will be glad to come under it.

"The Workingmen's Compensation law in England, passed in 1907, was an elective measure more favorable to the workman as such than the Minnesota law, for the workman could elect to come under the act or employers' liability after the accident, whereas, under our law, he must elect at the time of employment. For the first two years under the English law a large number of the injured workmen sought recovery under the old law. Juries, however, soon made their verdicts about the same as fixed in the compensation laws. This discouraged such litigation and as a result, in 1910, but 2 per cent of the accidents were litigated under the old law. The balance were paid for under the compensation act."

ARE THESE FIVE ALL ACCIDENTS

A. M. Kendall, shoe dealer of Colorado City, Colo., seventy years of age, was in what appeared to be the final clutches of Bright's. The treatment was changed and in three months he wrote that he considered himself well.

He has a neighbor, a grocer, J. J. Abensham, sixty-eight years of age, who had Bright's Disease. "The best doctors he could get told him there was no help for him and advised him to settle up his accounts." Kendall told him about his own case and Abensham, too, recovered. In giving us these facts, Kendall closes: "There are three others here who have been cured since I was."

One of the above recoveries might have been an accident, but how about all five? These people are not in league with Fulton's Renal Compound and the curability of Bright's Disease is a fact if one-tenth of the letters we have received are true.

With failure admitted by the books under the old treatment in chronic Bright's Disease and with reports like the above from many patients on this treatment how can any one be undecided. If you have Bright's Disease you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up. You can get it at druggists supplied by Leithhead Drug company.

For pamphlet on our investigation into the curability of Bright's Disease write John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco.

SATURDAY IS HOLIEST DAY

Yom Kippur Will Be Fittingly Celebrated By Duluth Jews.

Services Will Be Held at Temple Friday and Saturday.

The Day of Atonement, the holiest day in the Jewish calendar, which falls on Saturday, Oct. 11, will be duly celebrated in Duluth by the Jewish population. Services at Temple Emanuel will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock and Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and will continue all day until sunset.

"However, the Day of Atonement is Yam ha-Kippurim, later shortened to Yom Kippur. The Central Council of American Rabbis sends out the following announcement:

"According to Biblical tradition Yom Kippur is one of the cycle of holidays instituted by Moses; for we find it mentioned in Leviticus XXIII, 26-32, in the list of holidays. Its ceremonial is described in Lev. XVI, its sacrifices in numbers XXIX. 7-11.

"However, the Day of Ttonement is not dependent on the sacrificial service prescribed in the Bible. Thus, after the destruction of the temple in the year 70, when sacrifices were abolished, the Day of Atonement was able to survive, and of all the holidays of the Jewish calendar it has most completely held its own in the hearts and observance of the Jewish people. Emphasis was laid upon confession, penitence, prayer and good deeds. It became the day of 'afflicting one's soul' (Isaiah LXIII, 3, 5,) which was interpreted as meaning fasting from the eve of Atonement until the following evening. As in the Biblical ceremonial, confession continues to be an important feature of the service; yet, while confession brings forgiveness of sins between man and his Maker, sins between man and man are not forgiven until redress is made for the injury. The eve of Atonement Day, therefore, becomes the occasion for the cessation of feuds and ill-will. And the Day of Atonement is known as the Sabbath of Sabbaths—when we are at peace with all the world.

"The service of the Day of Atonement beginning with Kil Nidre service on the eve of Atonement is a continuous one throughout the entire day. The prayers in the Synagogue are intoned in plaintive penitential tones. The spirit of the masterly sermon of Isaiah (Is. LVII, 4-9), which is the prophetical portion of the morning's reading, is manifested throughout."

VERDICT OF $150 FOR INJURED MAN.

A jury in Judge Edson's division of the district court this morning returned a sealed verdict for $150 in favor of Niholai Jockinen, who sued the Republic Iron & Steel company for $2,999 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained while in the employ of the defendant company on Oct. 8, 1912.

Jockinen, at the time of the accident, was engaged in unloading a car of ties. He was directed by the foreman to cut a wire which held the ties in place on a flat car. He used a ladder to get to the top of the load, and when he cut the wire, the ties rolled off the car, knocked him off the ladder and burying him under a portion of the load. He claimed to be badly injured. The evidence was that he was back to work in two weeks.

GAS ON THE STOMACH

Use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for This Form of Indigestion.

It is a poor treatment for stomach trouble that treats the stomach alone. Back of all your lack of appetite, sourness of stomach, belching of gas, nausea, pains after eating, heaviness and lump-like feeling in the stomach, is bad blood. The food is fermenting in the stomach, only partly digested, because the stomach is weak.

Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and notice the difference in your condition. You will be able to eat three good meals a day without discomfort.

The new blood, which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make, will restore the stomach to its normal condition, positively strengthen the digestive organs and increase the flow of digestive fluids.

You will also find a great improvement in your general health, and new strength in every nerve and muscle.

Do not put off finding relief a single day. Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today and begin the treatment at once.

ECONOMY COST HIM TWO TEETH

Morris Bindler's Attempt to Save Electricty Resulted in Beating.

At 8 o'clock the evening of Sept. 29 Morris Bindler, 2114 West Michigan street, went downstairs to the home of William Koske and removed the single electric light in the house, and at 8 o'clock the next day he replaced the bulb. But as he did so, Koske struck him in the face, knocking out two teeth, and in police court this morning Koske paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of assault in the third degree.

In police court this morning Bindler appeared against Koske and told the court that the latter had been renting the electric light of him, having agreed to use it only in the evening, and then up to 8 o'clock. The meter is in Bindler's name.

It was on the evening of Sept. 29 that Bindler, coming home at 8 o'clock, saw the electric light still burning in the kitchen of the Koske home. He went in and removed the light. A little later in the evening, according to Koske, his wife fell downstairs and injured herself. This accident greatly stirred up the defendant, and when Bindler appeared the following morning with the light, he struck him.

Koske was fined $10 and costs or ten days. He paid the fine.

LOSERS BY HAIL GET BETTER RETURNS.

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Increased hail insurance rates, created by the last legislature, will result in the payment of this year's losses on a 90 per cent basis, as against a 55 per cent basis last year.

The state hail insurance department, says Commissioner of Insurance W. C. Taylor, suffered heaviest losses in the western part of the state, there being but few losses in the eastern section.

During the first two years of the hail insurance department's existence, a charge of 20 cents an acre was made for insurance, but this was increased by the last legislature to 30 cents, it being found that the original figure was not great enough to cover the losses and make state hail insurance attractive.

DON'T TRUST CALOMEL

Thousands Experience Bad After Effects From This Dangerous Drug.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute Is Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver toner in a combination of vegetable materials mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him, years ago, towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. And their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

There is no necessity, when you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, by following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts, or castor oil, as you do after taking calomel. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio.

MANY WILL BE AFFECTED

Income Tax Will Apply to Large Percentage of Duluthians.

"City of Millionaires" Will Pay Its Full Proportion.

It is claimed from Washington that 425,000 people in the United States will have to keep tab on their incomes now that the income tax law has gone into effect. Of this number, it is claimed here, Duluth will have perhaps the greatest proportion when population is considered, of any city in the United States. It has been said for years that Duluth has more millionaires as residents, in proportion to its population, than any other city in the United States, and while this is not fully conceded it is admitted that it comes very close to being the fact. Aside from this there are an unusually large number of people who count their fortunes in five and six figures, and all of these will be affected by the income tax.

In addition to these there are many high class employes of large concerns here whose salaries will bring them within the fire zone, so to speak, and these will be affected. Of course every business man whose business nets him more than $3,000 a year be he single, or $4,000 a year, if married, will have to pay tribute to Uncle Sam on March 1, 1914, and each March 1 thereafter.

This whole district will contribute more heavily than most to the United States revenue collector on each March 1. Just what the district will comprise, is not yet known, of course. The local deputy refused to talk about the matter in view of the fact that he has nothing official to say or talk about yet. The law went into effect when the president signed the tariff bill, which embodies the income tax law, so that the details have not yet been worked out, but as the treasury department officials have been at work on it anticipating the new law it is expected that it will not be long before full details as to districts and other rules will be announced.

Up to Citizen.

One curious thing about the new law is that the matter of reporting is up to the citizen. He or she must voluntarily report on March 1 of each year what his or her income has been during the past year and there state what exemptions he feels justified in claiming. It is then up to the government officials to pass upon these exemptions, which can cover only such matters as the following:

Interest paid out on indebtedness; national, state, county, school or municipal taxes paid within the year; trade losses, or storm or fire losses not covered by insurance; worthless debts charged off during the year; reasonable allowance for depreciation of property; dividends from companies whose income has been taxed; interest from state, municipal or government bonds.

The reports must be made to the internal revenue collector in the district in which one resides; for instance, Duluthians will report to the deputy internal revenue collector at room 9 Federal building. Failure to report is punishable by a fine as is also false reporting; for under the law the government will have the right to check up one's accounts at any time doubt is felt as to the authenticity of the reports made.

Another feature about the law is that all firms paying one or more persons salaries amounting to $3,000 to a single person or $4,000 to a married person, must report the matter to internal revenue collector and pay the income tax out of the employe's salary envelope.

The taxation will be made on the following basis: From $3,000 to $20,000, 1 per cent; from $20,000 to $50,000, 2 per cent; $50,000 to $75,000, 3 per cent; $75,000 to $100,000, 4 per cent; $100,000 to $250,000, 5 per cent; $250,000 to $500,000, 6 per cent; above $500,000, 7 per cent.

A single man with an income of $25,000 for example, would pay 1 per cent on $17,000 and 2 per cent on $4,000, a total of $270. If married, the first tax of 1 per cent would apply to only $16,000 of the income.

OSBORNE ENDS TERM IN PRISON

Believes His Experience Will Be Valuable to Commission.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Thomas Mott Osborne, chairman of the New York state commission on prison reform, after spending a week in Auburn prison as an inmate for the purpose of studying the prison system, ended his self-imposed term yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Osborne was pale and tired and showed the marks of his ordeal, but he was enthusiastic over the success of his experiment, which included a taste of every experience possible for an inmate to undergo, aside from electrocution. He even committed a misdeed Saturday to cause his incarceration in the "dungeon" cells and he lay on his back in the prison jail from 3 o'clock Saturday until 6 o'clock yesterday morning, his ration consisting of three gills of water and three slices of bread. He declared that this part of his experience took him into the "innermost circle of inferno." He is positive that the fruits of his week's stay in prison will be valuable to the commission.

"I am more than ever confirmed in my previous opinion," he said, "that the prison system is singularly unintelligent and cruel. It takes from the convict his own initiative and freedom of action and he becomes an irresponsible automaton, unable to guide his own destiny when he returns to the outside world."

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER

Washington, Oct. 6.—A storm now covering the Southwest will move northeastward, causing inclement weather in the great central valleys Monday and Tuesday, and in the Eastern states by Wednesday, the weather bureau's weekly forecast says. The latter part of the week there will be rains in the North Pacific states.

Temperatures below seasonal average during the week in the Mississippi valley and districts west of there are indicated with frosts over the middle and northern plains states and the upper Mississippi valley during the first half of the week.

Refused to Affiliate.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 6.—Members of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers' International Union of America have voted not to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor. Out of a total of 82,351, only 20,351 votes were cast and of these only 7,375 were in favor of affiliation.

DULUTH PLAN IS DISCUSSED

Magazines and Newspapers Laud "Rock Pile" Jobs for Idle.

New Form of Employment to Be Provided This Winter.

In a recent issue of the Survey, a magazine devoted to the discussion of sociology, philanthropy and charities, a special article appears in which the Duluth system of providing work for men, involuntarily idle during the winter months, is treated. Since the publication of this article, the subject has been quite widely discussed editorially throughout the country and as a result Duluth has received considerable advertising.

In the article particular reference was made to the winter rockpile job for Duluth's unemployed. The rockpile job will not exist this coming winter, although it is probable that some other form of "winter work" will be provided. The Survey points out that the Duluth system, except for Kansas City and Cincinnati, is the first case on this continent of the establishment of a permanent basis of the "winter work" that is carried on in more than a hundred German cities and elsewhere in Western Europe.

The New York Evening Post, one of the many newspapers to comment upon the Duluth plan, declares the Duluth system to be superior in some ways to any system with the same end in view as yet in operation in Great Britain, Germany or Switzerland, the three countries that have led in unemployed relief. The Winnipeg Free Press has a recent editorial on the subject, in which it comments upon the widespread attention which the winter work plan in this city is receiving.

FIGHTING EVIL INCREASES IT

"Overcome It By Giving Yourself to Great Inspiration," Says Pastor.

"The Great Morality" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. George R. Gebauer at the First Unitarian church, yesterday morning.

"Morality consists in our proper relation to our fellows, and in action which will promote the welfare of our fellows," he said. "Yet, in order that morality may become most effective, it must have not merely in view the well-being of either self or others, but it must have for its aim the establishment of truth and right, often regardless of any immediate good. We must align ourselves in our conduct to what is more than human; we must have a standard of action which is not merely temporal; we must be in rapport with the eternal forces of goodness and truth. The final test of every action is: 'Am I in accord with the spiritual principle of life, which is behind and in all things, and which asserts itself whenever I lift myself above the contingent passing conditions of the day in which I live?' If I am in harmony with this eternal principle, then my action will be right and, in the end, of the highest benefit to others. If I am out of touch, then even my honest endeavor to do the right will be inefficient.

"The great principle of action the Master gave us in his wonderful startling sermon on the mount. If we get away from the largely impractical literal interpretation, then we see the inward truth. The morality of the world says, 'Fight the evil on the way; knock it down.' The Master says, 'Resist not evil; by fighting it you only increase it.' Now, to fight against evil may be a noble thing; but the world has fought these thousands of years, and still evil is with us. Society punishes a murderer by execution, and behold we have, instead of one murder, now two. Indeed, the thing the fighter for righteousness sake generally learns first of all is the methods of unrighteousness. He will treat the doer of wrong unjustly, while his very claim for righteousness demands that he treat the worst criminal justly, kindly. In fighting evil, evil defeats even at times its slayer. In the great French Revolution a great evil was fought, but it was fought by evil, and the very saviors of the people became in the end its greatest oppressors. They fought ruthlessly, and ruthless they became; they spilled the blood of tyrants, and tyrants they became.

"The suffragettes in England are fighting for a righteous cause, but see what the fighting has done for them. It has destroyed their character. The longer they fight, the more hardened they become; the weaker becomes their goodness; justice withdraws into the background, and personal glory and vanity and ambition come into prominence. For all their good intentions, their lives become sordid and hardened and criminal. In their fight for right they trample under foot righteousness itself. Even if they attained their object by such means, the vote will be a poor exchange for the womanhood they killed in the fight.

"To fight the good fight we must be grounded in eternal love. It is so, too, in the endeavor to attain the best in ourselves. We overcome the evil in us best by paying no attention to it, and giving ourselves to a great inspiration. To be strong and healthy in mind and body and soul, we must give ourselves to the great all-soul and all-life, and not merely struggle against the evils which beset us. The evil becomes null and void when we throw ourselves upon the great reality of being. Sickness will lose its terrors and the grave its victory over us.

"In tune with the music of the infinite life, we shall attain the things which are ours by the righteousness of God; we shall fulfill our lives and help our fellows best to fulfill theirs."

LOST LIFE TRYING TO SAVE HORSES.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—The body of a man was discovered yesterday among thirty-one horses suffocated in a fire which destroyed a grain warehouse and stables, causing a loss of $60,000. The dead man was partially identified as Thomas Ridley of Mattoon, Ill. He was one of five men who rushed into the burning stable to attempt to save the horses.

Periodic Comet Seen.

Geneva, N. Y., Oct. 6.—The Westtion by Dr. William R. Brooks, profestion by Dr. William R. Brooks, profressor of astronomy of Hobart college, Smith observatory. Last night the comet was in the upper part of the head of Aquarius and moving slowly northwest. It is a round telescopic object visible in small instruments and it is growing brighter, according to Dr. Brooks. The comet was last seen in 1852, giving it a periodic revolution around the sun of sixty-one years.

LARGEST CROP IN ITS HISTORY

Is Harvested in Wheat Belt of the Canadian Northwest.

Government Urges Farmers to Hold Grain for Higher Prices.

Canada's western agricultural provinces, Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, are harvesting one of the largest, if not the largest, crop in their history. Their total yield is now estimated as follows: Spring wheat, 188,018,000 bushels; oats, 244,125,000 bushels; barley, 28,156,000 bushels; rye, 612,000 bushels, and flax, 15,056,000 bushels. The total is 475,967,000 bushels, an increase of more than 42,000,000 bushels over last year, says a correspondent of the Wall Street Journal.

Railroads Ready.

"To haul these large crops, the railroads have made ample provision. The Canadian Pacific, has an equipment of 40,000 cars and 1,171 engines. This is the record figure of equipment brought to bear by one railroad in moving Canadian crops. At such central points as Lethbridge, Calgary and Edmonton, every available foot of track is filled with cars ready to load. Most of these cars went west under load some time ago and were held to receive grain instead of being returned empty, as would be done at other seasons of the year.

"This year's crop is fully a month earlier than last year's in getting under way. Assisted by phenomenally fine weather, the railroads are doing their utmost to reach the Head of the Great Lakes with as much of the crop as possible before navigation closes. It is a race between the railways and freezing weather, as all grain, which does not reach the Great Lakes before closing of navigation, will have long hauls by rail to seaboard shipping points, or to elevator storage.

Expect Higher Prices.

"The Canadian government is endeavoring to persuade the farmers to hold their grain in elevators, since most of it is of high quality, and will find a ready market subsequently. But the average farmer is anxious to realize on his crop as soon as possible and does not take kindly to the government's suggestion. Throwing upon the market at one time such a crop as Western Canada is reaping this year naturally tends, to lower the price of grain for a short time, so that were the farmer to store his crop, he might be in almost a certain position to demand a higher price.

Farmers Would Sell.

"A farmer may deliver his wheat at the elevator and receive cash for it, or, if he prefers to hold for a higher price, he may store it in an elevator and get a ticket stating that he is entitled to a certain number of bushels of a stated grade. If he prefers, he may load his grain into a car without dealing with the elevators.

"The tariff of charges for hauling grain from stations in Saskatchewan to Fort William or Port Arthur ranges from 16 cents to 20 cents per 100 pounds, or from 9½ cents to 12 cents per bushel for wheat; 5½ cents to 7 cents per bushel for oats; 7¾ cents to 9¾ cents for barley and from 9 cents to 11¼ cents for flax. The rate of transportation is somewhat lower from points in Manitoba and slightly higher from points in Alberta."

FREE WHEAT TO BE ISSUE IN CANADA

Government Now Sounding Public Sentiment on the Question.

Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 6.—That free wheat will be one of the issues before the Canadian parliament at the coming session was practically admitted here by Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice. The minister said nothing at a short public meeting, but in an interview he stated that he and his colleagues in the Borden cabinet were in the West to feel the pulse of the people on that question particularly.

He would express no opinion, however, admitting that the government was watching closely the movement of grain in the West this fall and getting other data on the wheat crop from the growers' points of view. He would not say whether he would favor free wheat or otherwise.

TWENTY-ONE CONVICTS MAKE THEIR ESCAPE.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 6.—Twenty-one convicts crept out of an opening sawed in the ventilation grating of the bunkhouse of the Sugarland camp near here early yesterday, while sixty of their fellows refused the chance of freedom. One of the escaped men surrendered soon after and two others have been recaptured. The terms of the escaped convicts ranged from one to nineteen years.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Notice of Sale of Stumpage on State Lands.

Notice is hereby given that I will offer for sale at public auction at the State Capitol, in St. Paul, on the twenty-eighth (28th) day of October, A. D., 1913, at ten (10) o'clock in the forenoon, certain timber belonging to the State and liable to waste.

An official copy of the list of lands upon which said timber is situated will be furnished by me to all applicants on and after the twenty-seventh (27th) day of September, A. D. 1913. Said list will be published in connection with this notice, once a week for three weeks next prior to said sale.

Dated St. Paul, Minnesota, this first (1st) day of September, A. D., 1913.

S. G. IVERSON,
State Auditor.

Following is the list of lands (referred to in the above notice) upon which the timber is situated, and a statement of the estimated quantities of the timber thereon that will be so offered, and the appraised prices of same:

TERMS OF SALE.

This sale is to be made pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 204, of the General Laws of Minnesota for 1905, Chapter 342 of the General Laws of 1909, and Chapter 530 of the General Laws of 1913.

Purchasers of timber at this sale must pay down in cash at the time of sale 25 per cent of the value of the timber purchased, based on the estimated quantity and the appraised price of same.

"Permits" to cut and remove the timber from the land will be issued to the purchasers, good for two logging seasons (to expire June 1, 1915), and the timber must be cut and removed within that time, unless the State Timber Board, by unanimous vote, agrees to an extension of time.

No Permit shall be extended, except for good and sufficient reasons, and by unanimous consent of the Board of Timber Commissioners, and in no event shall more than two extensions be granted for one year each. A condition of any extension shall be that the purchaser shall be liable to the State for interest on the entire unpaid purchase price at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum, during the whole time of such extension and the destruction of the timber by any cause during the period of such extension shall not relieve the purchaser for payment of same, and said purchaser shall be liable to the State therefor. When any extension is granted a bark mark shall be agreed upon for each season.

None of the timber can be sold for less than the appraised price as given herein, and sales will be made to the party bidding the highest price per M feet for all the several kinds of timber advertised on the land in the different sections. Any bidding over and above the said appraised price shall be by "percentage," the per cent bid to be added to the appraised price of each kind of timber advertised on the land. No bids of less than five (5) per cent will be entertained or accepted.

Dated at St. Paul, Minnesota, September 20, 1913.

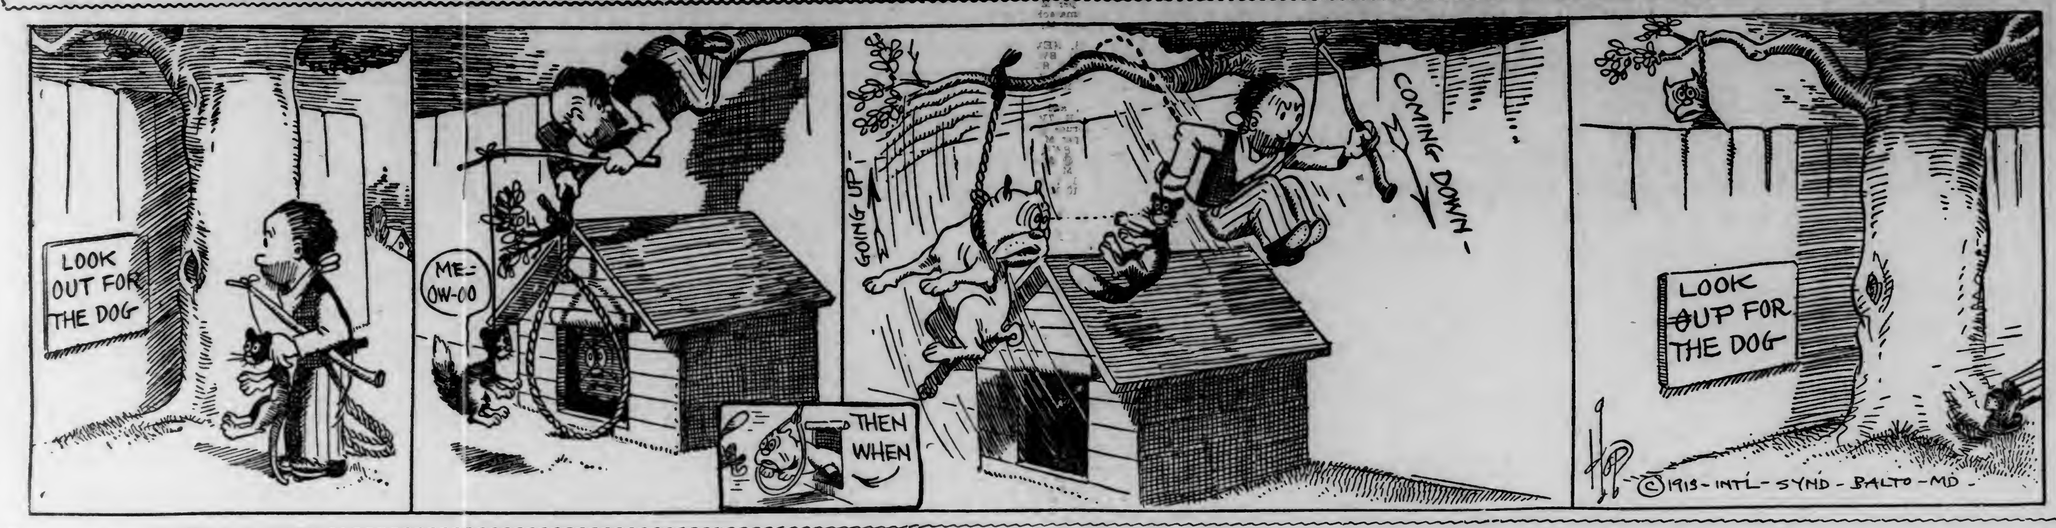

S. G. IVERSON,
State Auditor of Minnesota.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WARROAD IS FIRE VICTIM

Whole Block of Buildings Destroyed and One Man Loses Life.

Enterprising Border Town Has Early Morning Blaze in Heavy Rain.

Warroad, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—An entire block of business buildings was destroyed by fire here early Sunday morning and one or more lives have been lost. The charred remains of Harry Gibson, a trapper, was found in the debris of the Slatten restaurant and two more lodgers have not yet been accounted for.

The fire started in the kitchen of the Slatten restaurant and was driven by a heavy storm through the entire block in less than an hour, in spite of a pouring rain and the efforts of the fire department.

The loss will total $75,000 to $100,000, with $25,000 insurance.

The losers are Mrs. Peter Smith, confectionery store; Fred Springhorn, Canadian Northern hotel; Louis Slatten, restaurant; Martin Berg, bakery and restaurant; W. A. Munro, saloon; Peter Orness, hotel Warroad and saloon; Cohn H. Stein, grocery; Dr. Parker, hospital and drug store; S. A. Selvog, saloon. Besides these, Doctors MacDonald and Lewis, William Bros. and a large number of lodgers in the three hotels destroyed, lost all their personal property, many escaping half dressed from the building.

Among the losses is the Munro collection of moose and deer heads, probably the largest of the kind in the country.

The Hotel Lakewood is the only building left on Main street, very little of the contents of the buildings destroyed was saved.

Work of rebuilding several of the structures will begin at once.

Gibson, who lost his life, was sleeping on the second floor of the building in which the fire originated. He had ample warning to get out, but the fire spread more rapidly than he anticipated, and he probably was overcome by smoke.

CATTLE MOVEMENT IS GIVEN IMPETUS

Minnesota Dairyman Stirs Ramsey County Farmers to Action.

Devils Lake, N. D., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Over 300 Ramsey county farmers heard W. F. Schilling, Minnesota's dairyman, in an address Saturday afternoon, his appearance here being under the direction of the Devils Lake Commercial club.

Mr. Schilling's address was directly responsible for action on the part of several local banks which have agreed to finance the movement of cattle into the county.

Through the work of the local banks the movement will be spread over the other six counties of the so-called "lake region," the counties including Towner, Benson, Rolette, Nelson, Cavalier and Pierce.

That the North Dakota rural commission which recently asserted, in a report to Governor Hanna, that the "farmers were tired of being preached at," is hardly in accord with the actual facts is evidenced by the crowd that attended the Schilling meeting, and the great interest that is being shown among the farmers on the question of stock growing.

Incident to the stock importation movement a meeting will be called in Devils Lake within a few days, the purpose of which will be to discuss plans for immigration. With the adoption of better farming methods going rapidly forward throughout the lake region, the demand for more farmers has become very essential to the continued success of the movement.

TOWN BOOSTS SALOON LICENSES TO $6,000

Little Fork's Council Takes Effective Means to Hold Down Groggeries.

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village of Little Fork in Koochiching county is getting itself talked about all over the north country by the recent action of its council in boosting the price for a liquor license to $6,000 a year.

Two years ago the liquor license price was $500. Then it was advanced to $750, where it stood until last August when it was placed at $1,000. The next jump was to $6,000. One license had been granted at $1,000 recently. The next license to expire is that of S. S. La Chappelle which will be in November.

People of the village believe they have the cost of a saloon license fixed at a higher price than any other place in the United States.

ISHPEMING GETTING READY FOR TEACHERS

Upper Peninsula Educational Association to Convene This Week.

Ishpeming, Mich., Oct. 6. — The eighteenth annual convention of the Upper Peninsula Educational association will be held in this city this week. Sessions open Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The program appears to be exceptionally good—of interest not only to the teachers themselves but to the general public. Among the speakers will be Prof. Lotus D. Coffman, University of Illinois; Prest. H. W. Shyrock of the Southern Illinois university; Dr. Ernest B. Hoag, special director of school hygiene, state board of health, Minnesota; C. A. Prosser, secretary of the National Association for Promotion of Industrial Education, New York; Miss Elizabeth Jenkins, lecturer, Chicago Kindergarten Institute.

A reception will be given Thursday evening by the school board, teachers and citizens of this city, Braastad's hall, and the corridors of the high school building. Trombly's orchestra will furnish the music at Braastad's hall and the high school orchestra will play at the high school building. Light refreshments will be served by the domestic science department in the corridors of the high school building.

The commissioner's and school officer's section, which will meet Friday morning, will be addressed by State Superintendent L. L. Wright, Superintendent John V. Brennen of Ironwood, and Superintendent Edward J. Hall of Calumet.

There probably will be a thousand or more strangers in the city. This is a greater number than can possibly be taken care of by the hotels. The committee on entertainment, of which Principal E. P. Davis is the chairman, urges the people to open their homes for the reception of visiting teachers.

SHOVEL TO BE POPULAR AT WALKER THURSDAY

Business Men Will Lock Up Shops and Put in Day on the Roads.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 6.—Walker will lock up shop on Thursday, Oct. 9 and go to work on the roads. Mayor Kinkele will issue a proclamation, declaring Thursday, good roads day, and the business men and other residents will organize road gangs on the highways leading out from town. Teams, wagons and scrapers will be brought into use and the laborers will be taken to various points on the roads and put to work.

The humps in the Walker-Akeley road will be removed and the hollows will be swollen up to grade, while similar work will be done on the Walker-Hackensack and other roads. The village is waking up to an era of good roads making as never before, and it is proposed to make good roads day the biggest thing of its kind ever pulled off in the county.

TRACTION LINES FOR RED LAKE FARMERS

Corporation to Build Electric Railway From Thief River Falls.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Oct. 6.—It is now a certainty that Thief River Falls and the surrounding territory, especially that lying to the eastward of this city, will be connected by means of an electric railway in the near future. This is assured by the fact that the Minnesota Northwestern Electric Railway company has just been incorporated. The purposes of this corporation are to build and equip a railway and to operate the same by means of electric cars.

It is expected to do some construction work this fall before the snow flies and during the winter materials will be distributed along the proposed route, so that active construction work can begin as soon as spring opens up and sufficient mileage completed by next fall to assist materially in the handling of crops. People living east and northeast of here who have long seriously felt the need of railroad facilities will welcome this announcement.

While there has been some development in this territory, it has been handicapped by want of proper transportation. Farmers have been compelled to haul their produce a distance of from twenty to sixty miles, involving hardship and the loss of valuable time.

DAIRYMEN TO MEET IN CROOKSTON DEC. 3-4.

Crookston, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The tenth annual convention of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association will be held at Crookston Dec. 3 and 4. The best meeting in the history of the association will be held at that time. The wonderful progress made in dairying during the ten years since this association was organized will be fully brought out.

A large number of able and interesting speakers will be present. The butter contest will be carried out as before. Crookston will welcome the members and all who are interested in dairying.

MINING VILLAGES TO SOON HAVE LIGHTS.

Crosby, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Recorder H. C. Bailey has reported to the village council that he has received assurances from the Cuyuna Range Power company that the somewhat delayed street lights would soon be placed in the Hale, Keating and Smith additions.

The news will be welcomed by the residents in these localities and there will be no occasion for them to be "afraid to go home in the dark" hereafter. The lights had been ordered put in some time ago, but it seems that the power company was unable to get the men and material with which to do the work.

Instead of attempting to have the proposed storm sewer system put in on the main streets of Crosby this fall, the council has decided to grade up the low spots and wait until spring to start the sewer system.

DRAWING NET OVER SOO HOLDUP MEN

Pinkerton Detective Says Arrests in Thief River Falls Robbery Are Near.

Bemidji, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arrests for the holding up of the Soo ticket agent and baggage man at Thief River Falls last Tuesday morning, when $7,500 in cash and currency was stolen from the care of the Western Express company, may be made within the next few days, according to O. O. Rindal of St. Paul, district superintendent of the Pinkerton national detective agency. Mr. Rindal was in Bemidji yesterday investigating two men under suspicion of the Bemidji police, but declared these men were none of the three who robbed the depot.

Besides Mr. Rindal, several other Pinkerton men and Chief Special Agent Otto Hicks of the Soo are searching towns along the Soo Line for traces of the robbers.

"The men who did the work are not burglars," said Mr. Rindal. "They are professional hold-up men."

Mr. Rindal returned to the scene of the robbery last night.

TOWN MAY ENGAGE IN TELEPHONE BUSINESS

Thief River Falls Will Decide About Purchasing Plant Tuesday.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Oct. 6.—Tuesday the people of this city will vote on the question of issuing $34,000 6 per cent bonds, for the purchase of the telephone exchange now being operated by the Tri-State company. There is a heated difference of opinion over the measure, but the city administration is working hard to effect its passage and expects to win.

CRIEL IS WINNER IN CORN CONTEST.

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 6.—Earl Criel of Foster City, Dickinson county, was the winner over 400 competitors in the Upper Peninsula school corn contest, the awards in which have just been announced. The second prize went to Gabriel Colombe of Dollar Bay.

Special prizes were awarded to Houghton and Baraga county competitors in the order following:

Houghton county—Gabriel Colombe, Dollar Bay; Eugene Colombe, Dollar Bay; Arthur Morin, Chassell; Charles Filpus, Askel; Joseph Rodosevich, Trimountain; Esther Simpson, Chassell; Hogan Soivola, Chassell. Baraga county—Flora Sirard, Baraga; Adrian Anderson, Baraga; Fred Leclear, Baraga; Peter Cline, L'Anse; Ruth Anderson, Baraga; Teresa Sarantany, Baraga.

The baby contest for boys and girls of 1 year and under was held Saturday afternoon. The results follow: Girls—First, Mrs. George Greenleaf, Houghton; second, Mrs. John Grahek, Houghton. Boys—First, Mrs. May Hyslop, Tamarack; second, Mrs. Vickers, Pewabic.

This is the second year in succession that Mrs. Hyslop has carried off the prize for babies in this class.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Ashland — Mrs. Henry Sharpe died yesterday morning at her home at Roehm's farm, after a lingering illness. She leaves a widower and four children.

Stevens Point—The third person in the family of Mr. and Mrs. George Peck to die within the last eighteen months was their son, John, 23 years old. Felix, another son, was the first to die and nine months ago Maggie, 21 years old, died.

Sheboygan—At a caucus in Sheboygan Falls a citizens' ticket was nominated for the first city election Tuesday. H. E. Holdt for mayor, O. W. Chaplin for clerk and E. C. Helmer for treasurer were nominated, all being present village officers.

Wausau—Anton Dern, 81 years old, a retired hotelkeeper and the oldest German settler in Marathon county, died Thursday night. He is survived by five children.

Waukegan—Marriage licenses have been issued here to Richard Stahler and Kate Pelkaher, William Kahn, Jr., and Henrietta Hofner, both of Milwaukee; Fred Brandt, Racine, and Hazel Eschwig, Rhinelander; Emil Kranz, Waukesha, and Anna Tillman, Kenosha.

La Crosse—Speakers of national prominence have been engaged for the sixty-sixth annual session of the Wisconsin Universalist and Unitarian convention, including the Women's Missionary association, the Young People's Christian Union and Sunday School association, to be held in this city Oct. 8, 9 and 10. Among those who will speak are State Superintendent of Schools C. P. Cary, Madison; Rabbi I. L. Rypins, St. Paul; Rev. J. W. Carter, Racine; Rev. F. A. Gilmore, Madison; Rev. N. E. Laughlin, Rev. W. H. Gould, Wausau; Jenkin Lloyd Jones, Chicago.

Abbottsford—Harry Heida, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Heida, is a victim of tetanus. Four weeks ago a colt stepped on the boy's heel and two weeks later lockjaw set in.

Appleton—As a result of falling downstairs at school, Myrtle Parmeter, high school girl, has been unconscious for two days. High heels caused the fall.

La Crosse—Miss Dina O. Erickson of Mabel, Minn., and Fred J. Kuckler of Stacy, Minn., were married here.

Milwaukee—Alfred Dawson, aged 75 years, pioneer Milwaukee citizen, friend of Plankinton, Swift and Armour, in their prime, and for twelve years president of the Layton Packing company, died Wednesday in London, England, following an operation for appendicitis.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Ishpeming—Inspector Thomas Shafer of the state fire marshal's department, who has been looking over the moving picture theaters of the upper peninsula, has completed his tour and returned to Lansing, according to reports received from the Capital city. In general he found that the proprietors of the moving picture houses have been complying with the law.

Menominee — The Menominee county farmers, Henry Zimmerman and Archi Marchaterre, who were arrested by Deputy Game Wardens Leisner and Rough, were arraigned yesterday. Both pleaded guilty to hunting deer with a headlight and were fined $25 and costs, amounting to $30.25 each.

Marquette—A petition for voluntary bankruptcy proceedings was filed in the United States district court for the Cleveland Mining company, which holds a lease on mining property in the Felch mountain district in Dickinson county. The petition shows liabilities of $140,709.80. The assets are approximately $244,000.

Hancock—Mrs. Michael Casey passed away at Newberry yesterday. The deceased was 70 years of age and was well known in Hancock. The remains were brought here to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Slattery, East Hancock. She is survived by four sons and four daughters, Mrs. James McCarthy of Marinette, Patrick and Mrs. Joseph Slattery of Hancock, Mrs. Edward Day, Mrs. David Walsh, Daniel, Timothy and Michael of Butte.

Hubbell—Treasurer Arthur Marcotte of the village reports that tax collections are brisk and of a total roll of $3,000 only $300 remains outstanding.

Negaunee—According to an analysis received by City Health Officer Larson, Teal lake water is exceedingly unsafe for drinking purposes. Dr. Larson a short time ago sent several samples of the water to the state health department. The analysis shows the presence of bacillus coli. Dr. Larson is considerably worried over the analysis, and suggests that all Negaunee people using the water boil it thoroughly before using.

Calumet—Commencing Tuesday, Oct. 7, the Italian Presbyterian Mission of this city will reopen its free school for non-English speaking Italians in the Presbyterian church. The school will be open on Tuesday and Friday commencing at 8 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Rev. E. P. Patrona, the Italian missionary, will be in charge.

Laurium — A very pretty wedding took place at the parsonage of the Kearsarge M. E. church yesterday morning when Miss Clara Blight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blight of Eagle River, was united in marriage to Wilbur A. Bloy, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bloy of Laurium. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hamilton Magahay and was witnessed by only the immediate friends and relatives.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Thief River Falls—C. L. Hansen, cashier of the First National Bank of Thief River Falls, who for some time has been mentioned for the senate, has consented to become a candidate.

Stephen—The industiral contest of the rural schools, together with the special contest, brought out a better crowd and a better exhibit than had been expected. The citizens put up $125 in prizes, aside from some special inducements, such as the cook stove given by William Merdink. The exhibits were varied and of a better quality than ever before.

Fergus Falls—The ladies of the two hospital societies, the Wright Memorial and the St. Luke's, are busy making preparations for the annual tag day, which will be held the last Saturday in October.

Walker—On Oct. 25 an examination will be held at Longville to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth class postmaster at that place. The compensation at this office is $250 for the fiscal year.

Walker—The election of Shingobee town officers resulted as follows: Supervisors, J. W. Rice, Joseph Jakschi, Frank Coyle; treasurer, John Whaley; clerk, Harry Paddock; assessor, A. O. Hilberg; justices, A. A. Oliver and Fred Mitchell; constables, George Reviere and Jim Fields.

St. Paul—The colonels of the four regiments of the Minnesota National Guard, headed by Adjt. Gen. F. B. Wood, left last night for Chicago to attend the annual meeting of the National Guard association, Oct. 6, 7 and 8. The delegates from the different regiments are Col. George C. Lambert of the First Field artillery, Col. Erle D. Luce of the First infantry, Col. John Buschers of the Second infantry, and Lieut. Col. F. E. Resche of the Third infantry.

Warren—A few fine bunches of grapes were brought in the other day by A. B. Carlson of the town of McCrea, grown by him on vines that have withstood several winters without being covered up. The grapes looked very much like the Concord, though of a different variety.

Crookston—It is very probable that Crookston will vote on the liquor question at the municipal election to be held Nov. 4. A petition is being circulated asking that the license question be submitted to the voters. A hard fight will be waged by the temperance people to place Crookston in the "dry" column.

Warren—Fred Steinbauer, a prominent young farmer of the town of Excel, was married at St. Hilaire to Miss Ida Nyvall of that place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Pope of St. Hilaire, in the presence of many relatives and friends. Among those present from a distance was Mrs. Pulaski of Duluth, a sister of the groom.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Devils Lake—An important change in the professional business of the state was perfected here when F. T. Cuthbert and H. G. Middaugh, both former associates of Former Governor Burke in the practice of law, formed a partnership taking in two prominent state attorneys, Rollo F. Hunt and Arthur R. Smythe. The new firm will have offices in Devils Lake.

Bismarck, N. D.—Sheriff Ed Kelly of Minot left in jail here last night Robert Fletcher and George Harthouse, who stole an automobile at Minot ten days ago and escaped as far as South Dakota, where the sheriff overtook them and recovered the car. Single-handed, he is compelling them to drive the car, with himself as a passenger, back to Minot, where they will be held to trial.

Webster, S. D.—A brass band composed of twenty-one women has been organized here and Prof. Ireland engaged as instructor.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Rev. William H. Elvring of Sioux City, Iowa, pastor of the Mayflower Congregational church of that city, has been invited to become pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church of Grand Forks, to succeed Rev. C. C. Warner.

Gann Valley, S. D.—Rev. Charles R. Bruce, late of Sanborn, N. D., has arrived here and assumed his duties as pastor of the Congregational church.

Wilmot, S. D.—A fire of mysterious origin destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. William Cameron, living near here.

Summit, S. D.—The annual farmers' festival is in progress here. One of the features was an address by Prof. Larson of the state agricultural college.

Arlington, S. D.—After litigation of years, Judge Taylor has awarded to M. C. Madson title to a valuable island in Lake Albert.

Northville, S. D.—The annual conference of the Wesleyan Methodist churches of South Dakota was held here.

Aberdeen, S. D.—Miss Lorna Doone Brown, daughter of Frank A. Brown, an Aberdeen banker, was married to Edward Frost Spalding Thursday at high noon at the home of the bride. Afterward they left on an automobile tour of several states.

Grand Forks, N. D.—The annual meeting of the North Dakota Hardware association will be held in Grand Forks this year instead of in Fargo, as originally planned. The fact that Fargo has not yet completed its auditorium, in which the big hardware exhibit was to have been held, made the change necessary, and the convention will be held here Feb. 18, 19 and 20.

Aneta, N. D.—Former State Senator Iver Swenson of Nelson county was, at the age of 20 years, a common farm laborer in Goodhue county, Minn., and when he died this week at his home here, he left an estate valued at about $100,000. Mr. Swenson served eight years in the North Dakota senate—from 1900 to 1908—and he also held other public offices. He died after a lengthy illness.

Fargo, N. D.—A pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon at the S. Morris home on Fourteenth street south, when Miss Ruth Morris became the bride of Durand Robards Hart of Minot. The ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock by Rev. J. M. Walters of the First Methodist church. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served, at which covers were placed for twelve guests.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Mr. and Mrs. William Montgomery of North Fourth street, Grand Forks, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Anna Mae, to Fred Perry Fiers of East Grand Forks. The wedding will take place Oct. 20, at St. Paul's Episcopal church, and Rev. J. K. Burleson will officiate.

Finley, N. D.—Married, Friday evening, at the parsonage in Finley, by Rev. E. C. Tollefsen, Edwin Christopherson of Franklin township to Miss Ida Olson of Romness.

Minnewaukon, N. D.—Cards have been received announcing the marriage of Miss Anna Thorsness of Minnewaukon to Selmer Myers, at Hayti, S. D., on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Myers was formerly elevator agent at the Great Western elevator in Minnewaukon. Mr. and Mrs. Myers will be at home at Hayti After Oct. 1.

Grafton, N. D.—Miss Inga Clemenson and Robert Monsbrotten were married Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Grayling in Grafton. The service was read at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. H. G. Glenn. Following the wedding ceremony, a course dinner was served, only the immediate relatives being guests.

WORLD'S SERIES OUTCOME APPEALS TO YOUNG AND OLD

All the World Seems Interested in the Battle Between the Two Greatest Teams of Baseball, Which Starts Tomorrow.

Eau Claire Youth Has Unique Excuse for Team---Fullerton Gives Athletics a Lead on Points ---Langford Should Win Next Time.

BY BRUCE.

TOMORROW we will be in the midst of it—midst of what? Answer—the world's series. The seven ages. Is grandfather interested in the world's series? No, not exactly; but there are so many other members of the family interested in it that grand papa has become quite worked up over the thing, admitting that he hopes the Athletics will win, being that Connie Mack is a churchman. Is father interested in the series? Yes, quite so; father and the stenographer have a bet up, and if the Giants lose father will have to take the stenog out to dinner. No matter how the series end, father should win. Does the oldest boy care about the series? Oh, yes; if the Athletics lose the busy collector of the tailor who has made the first real honest-to-goodness suit for brother Ned is liable to call on father, and there is perturbation in sight for elder brother. Does little brother Henry care who wins the series? Verily, yes. In his first package of cigarettes there was a picture of J. Franklyn Baker with a bat nonchalantly swung athwart his broad and gracefully sloping shoulders, and little brother of the pernicious habit hopes fervently that the Athletics will win. And still smaller brother Gabriel, who was named after an early member of the geneological pine, poor little fellow, read in the boy's section of the Saturday paper of the fact that Christy Mathewson never smoked, chewed Peerless like the rest of the boys, or used swear words. Therefore little Gab is heart and soul in accord with the Giants.

Thus do we observe, constant reader, that in the families throughout the land there is a wide and varied interest in the big doings that are off tomorrow. We have not dragged the sisters or mother into the argument, taking it for granted that they are employed at the present time in putting up jelly; but then you can never tell, for household duties stand on exiguous and uncertain limbs when confronted with the universal acclaim that has saluted the coming of the greatest series in all the world, and there is liable to be a very interesting and many-sided argument in the bosom of many of the best and largest of our families before, during the course of, and after the series.

A few warnings, for the time being. Even if you are a staid and studious man of affairs and your mind is not on baseball, has not been on baseball and never will be on baseball, don't go around in indiscriminate groups of fellow men, such as might be gathered on the board of trade or other places, and speak of Oscar Underwood, Simmons or any of the others of the tariff bunch, for someone will immediately want to know where Underwood plays, what his batting average is, and whether he is with the Giants or Philadelphia.

Don't let us confuse or transfuse the issues, so to speak—let us keep them clear and distinct, each one in its little place. For the time being the tariff is forgotten and all of us, whether of the triumphant party in power or of the somewhat dispirited or pouting Populist, are with the baseball thing, first, last and until the series is ended.

The large and illuminative history of the world has told of several movements that will draw eager and aggressive crowds to one particular spot. A bargain sale of silk hosiery, a free lecture on how to be beautiful, a free lunch, a dog fight on any congested street during the noon hour and a great baseball game can be listed among some of the greatest drawing cards, now that Mrs. Leslie Carter and Dave Belasco have parted company.

Most of the world would like to witness some of the games of the series that starts tomorrow. All of the better part of the world, the United States, meaning of course, is interested in the outcome. New fall suits and the winter's supply of coal hang nebulously in the balance, and until either the Giants or the Athletics emerge from the contest with the leaf of the victory on classic and collective brow, business to most of the men between the ages of 95 and 14 will be a mere perfunctory tedium, for the mind of the nation will be upon the outcome of this series.

Maybe Next Saturday.

AFTER the first half had been played in the football game between Central and Eau Claire, one of the Eau Claire followers was puzzling out the one sided beating the Brownites were handing to the folks from the country. "Well, even if you fellows is beatin' us," the white headed youth from Eau Claire, or the immediate environs, declared, "you oughta seen the game our boys played last Saturday." All of this simply goes to prove that the world is filled with infinite sources of priceless consolation if we but know where to look.

Quite a Lead Now.

THOSE who believe in the solid ability of figures have grave comfort in the compilation of worth that Hughey Fullerton has piled up for the Athletics. While we have not kept accurate account of the point lead of the Mackmen, it must be around the .258 scientific point figure at the present time. All this is fine and shows conclusively the possibilities of the game and also that we are in a very advanced period in the matter of learning of its scientific side; but, should the Giants stride to the barrier and everlastingly whale the very stuffing out of the formidables that comprise the team of Mack, there will be an incoherent but insistent chorus insisting that figures are brazen and bold members of the Annanias club and that a three base clout at the right time is worth more than all the science that any of the masters can muster in advancing the argument of the worth of this or that player.

It Is Sam's Turn Next.

JOE JEANNETTE has somewhat the better of Sam Langford on the occasion of the meeting in New York the other evening. The time before the duo were entwined in the throes of battle Langford had the better of Josephius. Going back further in the history of the various appeals that have been taken in this celebrated case, it will be discovered that in the meeting before the meeting before the last meeting that Jeannette had the better of the going. Therefore those who hold that Langford is one of the greatest boxers in all the world have no reason to hang their heads and let their daubers go to the bad. The law of compensation will undoubtedly give the next victory to the stocky and clever fighter of Boston.

How About Wisconsin?

ALONG about this time of the year some of us are inclined to wax vigorously enthusiastic and proclaim to the world in general that Minnesota has the best team in the long and honorable history of the school. Steady, sirrah, likewise Monsieur; in the days when Michigan gladdened the heart of the follower of football by playing an annual one afternoon engagement with Minnesota, we used to build visions of victory all through the glittering regime that swept away the aspiring Ames, Iowas, North Dakotas, Nebraskas, Illinois and Northwesterns, and then with ashen lips and blanched faces behold the tottering of the dynasty, the overthrow of the kingdom of triumph by the ruthless and husky hands of Michigan.

Let us hope that the sweeping victories of the last two Saturdays are potently portentious of one autumned-hued victory over that old and thoroughly untamed foe of the gridiron, Wisconsin. Michigan and Wisconsin have stood without the pale of the law abiding states, speaking now purely of football, and have fought us tooth and nail.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Cubs Win Final.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—The final curtain of the 1913 National league baseball season was rung down yesterday under threatening conditions, Chicago winning the last game from Pittsburg 5 to 1. The local club won the game by hitting O'Toole opportunely. Manager Evers was the only regular player in the Chicago lineup. The recruits showed up well, Zabel, the recruit pitcher secured from Green Bay, was on the mound for the locals and held the visitors runless. They were saved a shutout when Stack replaced Zabel. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	1	6	1

Batteries—O'Toole, Cooper and Kelly, Kafora; Zabel, Stack and Bresnahan, Hargrove. Umpires—Emslie and O'Day.

Last Game of Season.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 6.—The curtain was rung down on the major league season here yesterday when St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 4 to 1. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	1	8	0
St. Louis	4	10	1

Batteries—Rowan and Blackburn; Harmon, Doak and Wingo. Umpire—Brennan.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Divide Double-Header.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 6.—St. Louis and Cleveland split even in the last two games of the season yesterday. By a batting rally in the twelfth St. Louis won the first game, 9 to 4. After four and one-half innings play in the dusk, Cleveland won the second, 4 to 3.

In the first game, Blanding kept St. Louis' hits well scattered until the ninth, when the visitors tied the score on three singles. St. Louis then went hitless until the twelfth. In that inning five singles, a three-bagger and a hit batsman brought in five runs.

First game:

									R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	1	0	0	0	2	1	0	0	0	4	10	4
St. Louis	1	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	1	9	18	3

Batteries—Blanding and Carisch; Leverenz, Wellman and Agnew. Umpires—Hildebrand and Sheridan.

Second game:

									R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	1	2	1	0	x				4	6	2
St. Louis	2	0	0	1	0				3	5	2

Batteries — Blanding and O'Neil; Brown and Agnew. Umpires—Hildebrand and Sheridan.

Tigers Win Out.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 6.—Chicago's wild fielding yesterday enabled Detroit to win the last game of the season. Chicago started Scott and he lasted two innings, Lathrop, a recruit shouldered the White Sox burden and he was assaulted in nearly every inning. Comstock blanked Chicago until the fifth, when four hits and a pass yielded four runs. He was replaced in the eighth by Williams after Collins and Chappelle singled. The southpaw managed to retire the side with one tally.

Chase's sensational defensive work and Stanage's daring steal of second were features. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	4	15	4
Detroit	9	15	1

Batteries—Scott, Lathrop and Easterly; Comstock, Williams and Stanage. Umpires—O'Loughlin and Ferguson.

PREPARATIONS ARE COMPLETE

Eight Thousand Reserved Seats for World's Series Given Out.

Giants Are Having Final Workout—Lineup Is Arranged.

New York, Oct. 6.—Final stages of preparation for the series between the New York Nationals and the Philadelphia Americans, to decide the baseball championship of the world, are at hand with the assembling here of the national commission to put the last touches on the arrangements for the big event.

August Herrmann, chairman of the commission, and President Lynch of the National league already are on the ground, and President Johnson of the American league, the third member of the governing baseball body, is expected today.

The commission is meeting today and clearing up any points of uncertainty that may remain regarding the playing of the series. All will then be in readiness for the calling of play at the Polo grounds at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for the opening game.

Tickets Given Out.

Distribution of the 8,000 odd reserved seat tickets for the series at the New York grounds was under way yesterday and the prized cards of admission will all be in the hands of those to whom they have been assigned by tonight. The greater part of these tickets have gone to baseball men throughout the country and to New York club patrons. Some 30,000 seats in the lower stand and bleachers will be available to the public at the grounds for each game of the series.

The seat question has given the magnates no little concern this year, but the arrangements are believed by them to be such as to eliminate chances of speculation so far as that is possible, and giving the real supporters of the game an opportunity to see the series with a minimum of personal inconvenience and without an excuse to raise the charge of favoritism.

Snodgrass Out.

So far as the condition of the teams which do battle is concerned, there seems no doubt that all the regulars of the Athletics will be ready to take the field. While it appeared to be settled last night that Larry Doyle, the hustling second baseman of the New Yorks would be in shape to take his position at the beginning of play on Tuesday, the impression prevailed that McGraw would be without the services of Fred Snodgrass, the team's center fielder. Doyle appears to have recovered well from the effects of his recent automobile spill. Snodgrass' "Charley horse," however, is still bothering him so much that it is out of the question to expect him to play to his usual form.

It looks to be probable, therefore, that the Giants will line up on Tuesday with Merkle, Doyle, Fletcher and Herzog filling the infield positions and with Burns, Shafer and Murray in the outfield. Some close watchers of the play of the team, are inclined to think that the team as thus formed will not be a bit weaker than with a lineup that included Snodgress and left Herzog out.

Have Final Workout.

Snodgrass has been an unfortunate world's series player. His batting was light both in the 1911 and 1912 run of post-season contests, and his fatal muff of a fly ball in Boston last fall, is still remembered. There is no doubt that McGraw values the center fielder's aggressiveness and spirit and all around ability so greatly that Snodgrass will be worked in the series if there is a possible chance of using him.

The Giants will have a final workout today at the Polo grounds in an exhibition game with the Philadelphia Nationals. The regulars will be given a chance to limber up and most of them probably will play through the game. Mathewson and Marquard are likely to be two pitchers tried out for an inning or two, as between them apparently lies the choice of a box man to oppose the twirler Connie Mack may select to open the series.

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—Men, women and boys were lined up here last night in front of the department store where the advance sale of tickets for the world's series games here opened at 9 o'clock this morning. First in the line which before midnight extended for more than a city block, were two messenger boys, who took their positions early in the afternoon. Each had an empty soap box and a package of lunch. Shortly afterwards a negro arrived with a big rocking chair in which he proceeded to make himself comfortable. The first woman arrived about 8 o'clock. She was No. 30 in the line and was accompanied by her husband.

The American league champions will have their final practice today and will leave at 8 o'clock tonight for New York to be prepared for the game Tuesday. The regulars will oppose a team of substitutes with a regular pitcher in the practice game at Shibe park.

It is believed that Bender will be chosen to oppose Mathewson in the opening game, while Schang is expected to be at the receiving end. Plank and Lapp, however, may be the battery in case Manager McGraw should decide to send Marquard to the mound. Bush and Shawkey are other pitchers on whom the Athletics are pinning their hopes for victory. All of the Athletics' regulars are in fine condition, but Orr, first utility infielder, who broke a bone in his hand on Friday will be out of the series.

BROWN VICTOR IN AUSTRALIA

Hughie Mehegan, Australian Champion, Beaten on Points By Hibbing Boy.

Sydney, Australia, Oct. 6.—Pal Brown, an American fighter, yesterday defeated Hughie Mehegan, an Australian lightweight in a 20-round contest. Brown won on points.

The American fighter outpointed his opponent in fourteen of the twenty rounds and was given the decision on points. There were no knockdowns during the bout and both men were strong and comparatively fresh at the end. The American boy seemed to have better success in landing his blows, Mehegan having trouble in penetrating the peculiar defense of Brown. As Mehegan has claimed the championship of England, the victory of Brown gives him claim to the title won from Mat Wells.

BALL PLAYERS GET AUTOMOBILES

Walter Johnson and Jake Daubert Are Given First Honors.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Jake Daubert, the Brooklyn first baseman, in the National, and Walter Johnson, Washington's famous pitcher, in the American, are winners of the automobiles offered to the players performing the most valiant services for their teams in 1913. The players were selected by a vote of a committee of newspaper men and the result was announced here Saturday by Ren Mulford, chairman of the committee.

CENTRAL EASILY BEATS EAU CLAIRE BY BIG SCORE

Visitors Show Poor Defense and a Very Weak Offense and Are Defeated by the Count of 44 to 0.

In the heavy going of Saturday, Duluth Central high school had not the least difficulty in the world in defeating the Eau Claire eleven by the score of 44 to 0. The score just about represents the difference between the two teams. At no stage of the game did the visitors have the least chance to score. Shortly after the first few minutes of the first quarter Central began gaining consistently and kept this up until the whistle sounded just as the ball went over the line for the final touchdown of the game.

Brown was the individual star of the game, as he has been in all of the contests of the present season. Kerr, Denfeld, Culkin and Stevens pressed the doughty captain hard for honors. But it is hardly fair to thus choose individual members of the team, for the line as a whole completely outplayed the opposing forwards and by its combined work enabled the backs to tear off large gains through the line, around the ends or drive off tackle for repeated and consistent gains.

Eau Claire Looked Bad.

In the matter of the weight Central had considerably the better of the argument. In the matter of team work, intricate knowledge of how to play the game, and in the method of playing the game, there was no comparison between the teams. During most of the time when the visitors were in possession of the ball they gave a lamentable exhibition of how to play the game, and while one should give due credit to Central for the dash and smash of the plays, if the truth is to be known, it might be said that the team that was so soundly beaten was clearly below the average of high school excellence.

Utter lack of team work on the offense crushed the chances of the visitors to gain consistently or even occasionally. For the most part the strong line of Central forwards would smash the opposing linemen back, or would dive headlong into the play and pile it of scrimmage.

There was a crude sort of interference that straggled out and into this crashed the defense of Central, generally getting the runner for a loss, or nailing him before he had gone past his own line.

Start Scoring Early.

Eau Claire kicked to Central and immediately it was seen that the high school boys could pierce the defense of the Badgers. By consistent gains the ball was carried to the twenty-yard line of the visitors and an excellent forward puass from Du Moe to Brown took the oval over for the first score of the game. Du Moe kicked goal.

Before the close of the quarter the ball was worked down to the five-yard line of the visitors and Gibby Denfield, with his 168 pounds of sinew and bone, was crushed over the line for the second and final score of the first quarter.

But one score was made in the second quarter. In this period of the game the visitors put up the best exhibition of the afternoon, several gains being pulled off in a manner that gave enthusiasm and provoked considerable noise among the rain-soaked visitors who had come all the way from Eau Claire to witness the triumph of the team.

Brown was shoved over for the one score. No goal was kicked.

In the second half Central behaved just as it pleased. Gains were pulled on every play. Brown went over for the first touchdown shortly after the start of the half. Kerr made the second on a smashing run off tackle, and O'Brien dodged around the opposing end for the first touchdown of the last quarter, Brown kicking the goal. Brown made the last touchdown of the afternoon, no time being taken by the wet players to try for the goal as the whistle blew just as the ball was going over the line.

MAY WRITE FOR THE PRESS

National Baseball Committee Will Not Molest Player-Authors.

"Baseball Service" Is Held in New York Church.

New York, Oct. 6.—Unless the player-author question is broached, there seems little probability of anything momentous occurring at the national committee meeting today. At one time it appeared probable that there might be a lively tilt over the announced determination of participants in the series to write articles for the press while the series is on, against the expressed opposition of the commission. Chairman Herrmann, however, has said within a day or two that the commission expected to take a reasonable view of the matter, and intimated that it would not trouble player-authors who did not deliberately defy it. When he was asked if there were any new developments in the situation as regards the writing players, Herrmann said, "I hardly believe that question will come up until after the series."

Johnson Opposed.

What difference, if any, the arrival of Ban B. Johnson may have on the situation, cannot be anticipated. President Johnson has been for a long time a determined opponent of the player-author, who lets some one else do his writing for him.

A unique preliminary to the series was a "baseball service" held at Grace Methodist Episcopal church last night. Many baseball men were present and letters were read, among others from John J. McGraw and Connie Mack. The latter, telling "why baseball is worthy of support," praised the game for its honesty and other characteristics.

"Baseball is a manly sport," wrote Manager Mack, "that brings to the surface the natural skill and prowess of an individual to a greater extent than any other game ever devised; second, as conducted under organized lines, it is absolutely above reproach.

Game Will Not Die.

"Baseball never can lose its popularity, never die, as long as the American public retains its confidence in the men who conduct it. Organization on the lines which have brought it to such a high standard are absolutely necessary to maintain its integrity and popularity. May it ever remain our national sport, safeguarded by men of high principles."

McGraw, in his letter, said:

"Baseball develops the mind, establishes discipline and gives to those who take part in it sound bodies, clear heads and a better sense of life. For almost all of my life I have been a participant and a student of the American national sport and I know that everything in connection with it is for the betterment of those who participate in it."

PRESENT SERIES IS THE RUBBER CONTEST OF THE GIANTS AND ATHLETICS

New York, Oct. 6.—When the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants meet in the initial game of the 1913 world's series tomorrow a peculiar combination of baseball complications will be resumed after the lapse of two years. To begin with, the coming series will be in the nature of a rubber match, since these two clubs have twice before figured in world's series and each has a championship to its credit. In 1905, two years after the opening of the existing series between the National and American league pennant winners, the Philadelphia and New York clubs were the contenders. The Giants triumphed in what in many respects was the most sensational world's series ever played. The New York team, under McGraw, won four out of five games and every game of the series was a shutout.

Joe McGinnity, the Giants' "Iron Man," was at the height of his pitching career, while Christy Mathewson was just developing into a master twirler. McGinnity officiated at the Polo ground games, while Mathewson did the pitching for the Giants in Philadelphia. These two famous boxmen proved effective in every game except the second, when Connie Mack's Indian hurler, Bender, did even better, winning a 3 to 0 victory for his club, the only one gained by the Athletics. The scores in the remarkable series were as follows: New York 3, Philadelphia 0; Philadelphia 3; New York 0; New York 9; Philadelphia 0; New York 1; Philadelphia 0; New York 2; Philadelphia 0.

Got Revenge.

Connie Mack and his Athletics had to wait six years for revenge but they did not forget and in the autumn of 1911 Philadelphia won the world's championship at the expense of the Giants in such a decisive manner as to leave no question as to which was the better team. In a six-game series the Athletics won four. All the games, with one exception, were close, the victor's margin never exceeding two runs and two games went into extra innings. The exception was the final contest played at Philadelphia, when the Athletics broke down the Giants' defense and won by a score of 13 to 2.

Of all the players who participated in the 1905 series but five wear the uniforms of the Athletics and Giants today. Danny Murphy, who played second base; Davis of first base fame, and the two pitchers, Bender and Plank, are the Philadelphia veterans, while Mathewson is the sole survivor of the New York team which won the world's highest baseball honors but eight years ago. Of the twenty-nine players who figured in the series of 1911 between these two clubs four are missing from the ranks of eligibles for the present conflict. Lord of the Athletics is no longer under Mack's control and McGraw has released or traded Devore, Becker and Ames.

The batting and fielding averages of the players who participated in the series of 1905 and 1911, and who are still eligible for the 1913 games follow:

ADAMS WIN THE FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Kents of St. Paul Are Beaten By Score of 18 to 0.

Heavy Field Checks Speed and Makes Going Very Hard.

In the rain and slush of Athletic park the crack Adams team yesterday gained the first leg on the championship cup by decisively defeating the Kents of St. Paul by the score of 18 to 0.

All of the scoring of the game was done in the final half. In the first half the visitors showed a strong and determined defense, holding the Adams repeatedly when it looked as if the home team would be able to put the oval over the goal line.

While the triple A men had the better of the playing in the first period, the difference was not sufficient to warrant the belief that the final score would bring victory for the home team. But with the opening of the second half the Adams played a harder article of football than was shown during the first two quarters, and the large score rolled up fairly represents the superiority of the playing of the Duluth boys.

Forwards Showed Well.

The brilliant gains of some of the Adams backs must be largely attributed to the consistent work of the linemen. The Kents were completely outplayed in the line. Great holes were torn in the first line of defense of the visitors, and through these openings would speed the fleet backs of the blue and white aggregation. On plays off tackle the end of the opposition was generally smashed out of the play and the opposing back kept out of the play until the runner had made a good distance.

The exhibition of yesterday was the best of the year upon the part of the Adams. With the linemen getting into the play as never before during the present season, the backs clearly proved the assertion that the West end team has the best backfield in its history, for once the scent of victory stimulated the play of the Adams there was no stopping the plunging backfield quartet.

At the beginning of the third quarter the Adams secured the ball near the middle of the field, owing to a bad kickoff and a good return of the ball. From this point the march for the first touchdown started. The linemen were alternated with the backs in the attack. Wicklund and Flanagan made some good gains, while Dick Bradley generally tore off a good gain every time he was given the ball. Flanagan went over for the first score of the game from the 7-yard line, after he had scored long gains in the march to the goal of the enemy. Roberts failed at the attempt at goal.

In the last quarter a clever forward pass, Roberts to Whittle brought the ball within striking distance of the Kent's goal. Dick Bradley took the ball for a gain of seven yards and then brother Bill tore off a gain of five yards on the other side of the line. Bad Bill Stevens tore through for another five-yard gain and from the six-yard line Roberts was hurtled across the line of the enemy's desperate defense. Again the attempt at goal failed.

The Adams kicked off and secured the ball when the Kents failed to gain the required distance. Anuother long and well executed forward pass brought the ball well down toward the Kent goal line. After several rushed by the two Bradleys and Stevens, Roberts went through the line for a touchdown, but fumbled the ball as he was over the line. Bick Bradley fell on the ball. The third attempt to negotiate a goal failed and time was called shortly after this.

The line-up:

Adams—	Positions.	Kents—
Ryan	le.	Purcell, Sullivan
Erickson	lt.	Merriman, Hogan

WORLD SERIES ON THIS WEEK

Final Games Are Played in the Regular League Schedules.

Preparations for Big Series Now the All-Absorbing Problem.

New York, Oct. 6.—The regular major baseball season for 1913 closed yesterday with the playing of the final games in the West. This week will see the start and possibly the finish of the world's championship series between the respective flag winners—the New Yorks of the National, and the Phillies of the American league.

Preparations for the "big series" practically has monopolized baseball attention for the last few days, but several interesting contests for place have been going on among clubs in each organization. In the National league, Philadelphia's title to second place was not seriously questioned.

Chicago Is Third.

Chicago finishes in third place with a good margin over Pittsburg in fourth place. The Bostons under George Stallings finished fifth, heading the second division. To take a tail-end club and bring it up to this notch in one year, was no small achievement. Brooklyn finished sixth, a notch above last year.

Cincinnati, with Joe Tinker at the helm had to be satisfied with seventh position. The Reds' start, like Pittsburg's, was poor. St. Louis, last by nearly 100 points, never got going well and played worse instead of better as the season progressed.

The Athletics this year got an earlier lead in the American league than they have had for some seasons, and the finish was an easy one. Cleveland, the runners-up for the greater part of the year, was beaten out even for second place, losing their grip in the season's later weeks, while Clarke Griffiths' Washingtons were bracing and making a strong showing.

Red Sox Fourth.

It took the last week of play to decide the fourth place contest, but the Red Sox finally won by a slight margin. Misfortune hit the last year champions hard in the early months and this fall from their high estate of 1912 was one of the season's remarkable developments. The White Sox were without the services of Ed Walsh, their former pitching mainstay, for the greater part of the season and finished in fifth place.

Detroit, ending in sixth place, is there largely by virtue of weakness in the box.

The seventh place fight was not decided until the last moments of the season in Cleveland when Cleveland, by taking the last half of a double-header, kept the Browns in the cellar. The New Yorks occupy the seventh position by a four-point margin.

BUNKERS BEING PLACED ON NORTHLAND COURSE.

Tom Bendelow, one of the best-known golf course experts in the country, is here at the present time engaged in constructing several bunkers on the Northland links. It is the opinion of some of the members of the club that the completion of the improvement will make the course one of the best in the Northwest.

Each season for the past few years has witnessed some improvement on the links of the Northland club. This season the links were extended through the additional purchase of land and the course made an 18-hole one. With the placing of the bunkers on the course, and this under the direction of one of the greatest course experts in the country, it is believed by those qualified to speak, that the Northland course will be greatly improved and will be in better shape than ever before.

BECOMES A MANAGER.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 6.—Briscoe Lord, former member of the Philadelphia Athletics, world's champions, and more recently of the local National league, will manage the Mobile club of the Southern association next year. His unconditional release from Boston was announced Saturday. Lord said that he expected to manage the team from the bench, but may get into the game occasionally.

GOPHERS ARE EASY WINNERS

Defeat Ames Team By One-Sided Score of 25 to 0.

Minneapolis, Oct. 6.—Playing through a drizzling rain that made impracticable other than straight football, the University of Minnesota Saturday defeated Ames Agricultural college, 25 to 0. Touchdowns, one each in the first and second periods, and two in the last, were the direct result of hard line plunges.

Fullback Shaughnessy's gains through the Ames line featured the first three-quarters. The playing of Left Halfback McAlmon and Lawler, who had substituted Tollefson at quarterback when the latter injured his leg in the third period, was principally responsible for Minnesota's two touchdowns in the final session. Ames was unable to consistently penetrate Minnesota's defense and frequently the Iowa backs were thrown for losses. The play for the most part was confined to Ames' territory and the latter never came dangerously near to scoring.

Tollefson displayed great improvement over his showing of last Saturday, particularly in the handling of punts. He also kicked the only goal after touchdown.

Forward Passes.

Minnesota tried two forward passes, the first one netting a gain of twenty yards and making possible Shaughnessy's five-yard dash through Ames' center for the first touchdown. The second pass failed. Solon, left end, Mattern, right halfback, and McAlmon scored the other three touchdowns.

The showing of the Gophers pleased the coaches and Minnesota adherents are looking for a banner season on the gridiron. The players handled themselves much better than in the opening brush with South Dakota a week ago in spite of the inclement weather and heavy playing field. The team will be given a rest next Saturday but a week from that date a hard game is expected with Nebraska at Lincoln.

Because of weather conditions, the periods were cut to ten minutes yesterday. Following is the lineup:

Minnesota—	Position.	Ames—
Solon	L. E.	Cowan (Capt.)
Sawyer	L. T.	Worm, Haudt
Ostrom	L. G.	Holmes
Robertson	C.	John
Rosenthal	R. G.	Kerwin

Pimples Source of Great Danger

May be Means of Absorbing Disease Germs in Most Unexpected Manner.

Make Your Blood Pure and Immune With S. S. S.

In thousands of instances the most virulent types of blood troubles have been the result of coming in contact with disease germs in public places, and the apparently insignificant pimple has been the cause. It spreads with astonishing rapidity, often infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope quickly and thoroughly with such a condition, and thanks to the energy of its producers the famous S. S. S. may now be had at most any drug store in the civilized world.

This preparation stands alone as a blood purifier. It is somewhat revolutionary in its composition, since it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic, and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. It contains one ingredient which serves the active purpose of stimulating each tiny cellular part of the tissues to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paresis, neuritis, and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than most people are aware of. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 217 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with special information, to all who write describing their symptoms.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day, but be careful not to have something palmed off on you falsely claimed to be "just as good."

The only reason why anyone will try to sell you something in place of S. S. S. is the extra profit.

NOTICE

IN RELATION TO

HAND BAGGAGE ON STREET CARS

During the last year or two much complaint has been made to the company of the inconvenience and discomfort caused to patrons by reason of other patrons abusing the privilege of taking hand baggage on the cars.

The payment of fare entitles any passenger to the privilege of taking "hand baggage" upon the car, but the term "hand baggage" has apparently been interpreted by some to mean anything that the passenger could lug aboard the car and the privilege has been abused to such an extent that the comfort of passengers and the operation of the cars has been seriously interfered with.

Without any desire to inconvenience those who have used the cars too freely in this way, but rather to promote the comfort of other patrons and in the best interests of all concerned, the company has adopted some new regulations and will hereafter require its employes to more strictly enforce all rules pertaining to this matter.

The new regulations will go into effect on October 1st next and this notice is given at this time in order that patrons who have been depending upon the cars for transporting articles that will not after that date be received as hand baggage may devise other means of transporting such things.

HAND BAGGAGE

Traveling bags, boxes, baskets, bundles, packages and other articles of such size, shape and weight as to enable the passenger to carry them in one hand while boarding the car will be considered as "hand baggage," provided, of course, they are not objectionable on account of being dangerous or offensive to other passengers.

PROHIBITED ARTICLES

Trunks, bicycles, baby carriages (except go-carts and small folding carriages that are of such shape that they may be taken inside the car folded up and held by the owner so as not to interfere with the comfort of other passengers), lumber, tool kits from which sharp tools protrude, unprotected glass, open pails of paint or grease, foul smelling articles, as well as all such things as by reason of their shape, bulk or weight could not be taken into the car proper without blocking the aisles or otherwise interfering with the comfort of passengers, must not be taken onto the cars as hand baggage.

When the "dinky" cars were used in Duluth and Superior passengers were permitted to stand in the front vestibule and the back part of the rear vestibules was used for baggage. This has resulted in the practice of depositing baggage in the rear vestibules of the large cars, greatly to the discomfort of passengers. All that part of the rear vestibules of the large cars which is not necessary to keep open for the safe and easy entrance and exit of passengers will hereafter be kept clear for the accommodation of those who desire to stand in the vestibule, and beginning October 1st no baggage whatever will be permitted in the rear vestibules of such cars. We believe this rule will materially add to the comfort of passengers and save time and accidents due to passengers having to climb over boxes and bundles when getting on or off the cars.

We respectfully solicit the co-operation of our patrons with our employes in enforcing this new rule. Patrons will kindly take their hand baggage into the body of the car with them and carry it upon their laps or place it under the seats, where it will not obstruct the aisles.

Passengers who wish to stand in the rear vestibule to smoke are requested to find a place under the long seats and near the rear door for any baggage that they do not wish to hold in their hands.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Sale of School and Other State Lands

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office.

St. Paul, September 10, 1913.

Notice is hereby given, That on October 15, 1913, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the office of the County Auditor at Duluth, St. Louis County, in the state of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from date of sale to June 1st, 1914, must be paid at the time of sale. The balance of purchase money is payable in whole or in part on or before forty years from date of sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance is four per cent per annum, payable in advance on June 1st of each year; provided, the principal remains unpaid for ten years; but if the principal is paid within ten years from date of sale, the rate of interest will be computed at five per cent per annum.

Appraised value of timber, if any, must also be paid at the time of sale.

Lands on which the interest is deliquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale to an actual purchaser.

All mineral rights are reserved by the laws of the state.

Not more than 320 acres can be sold or contracted to be sold to any one purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority. Appraisers' reports, showing quality and kind of soil, are on file in this office.

Lists of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the State Commissioner of Immigration at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at above address.

SAMUEL G. IVERSON,
State Auditor.

D. H., Sept. 15, 22, 29, Oct. 6, 1913.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

Default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed by Ursula Russ and John Russ, her husband, mortgagors, to Sattler Liquor company, mortgagee, bearing date Oct. 1st, 1909, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, in the County Court House in the City of Duluth in said County and State on Oct. 15th, 1909, at eleven o'clock A. M., in Book 267 of Mortgages on page 402 thereof.

That said default consists in the failure of said mortgagors to pay the balance of principal and interest due according to the conditions of that certain promissory note secured by said mortgage and described therein; no part of such principal and interest having been paid except the sum of $380.00, though payment of said note has often been demanded and the same and the whole thereof, is now long overdue.

The name of said Sattler Liquor company has been changed to and now is, Sattler Brothers' company; said mortgage has never been assigned and said company is now the owner and holder thereof, of record and in fact.

By reason of such default the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage.

The amount claimed to be due, and actually due, upon said mortgage at the date of this notice, is the sum of $1,289.05.

The premises described in and mortgaged by said mortgage are situated in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and are described as follows, to-wit: Northwest quarter (NW¼) of the Northeast quarter (NE¼) of Section Thirty-three (33) in Township Fifty-nine (59) of Range (20) West, containing forty (40) acres more or less, according to the government survey thereof and buildings thereon situate, all situated in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota.

By written instrument dated Aug. 28th, 1911, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on Dec. 23rd, 1911, in Book 215 of Mortgages on page 555, said Sattler Brothers' company (formerly Sattler Liquor company) mortgagee in said mortgage, released from the lien of the above described mortgage to Independent School District No. 40 of St. Louis County, Minnesota, all that portion of said mortgaged premises described as follows:

Commencing at a point where the sixteenth line of the Northeast quarter (NE¼) of Section Thirty-three (33), Township Fifty-nine (59) North, Range Twenty (20) West, intersects the westerly line of the County Road as now established; thence West, along the said sixteenth line, Three Hundred (300) feet; thence North at right angles, Two Hundred Seventy-four (274) feet; thence East, at right angles and parallel with said sixteenth line, Three Hundred and Forty-five (345) feet more or less to the Westerly line of said County Road; thence southwesterly along the Westerly line of said County Road to the place of beginning, containing two (2) acres more or less.

Said property had previously been conveyed by the mortgagors to said relessee. Now therefore:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises first above, and in said mortgage, described, reserving and excepting therefrom all that portion of said mortgaged premises last above described as having been released to Independent School District No. 40 of St. Louis County, Minnesota; that said sale will be made at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, by the Sheriff for said County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, at the office of the Sheriff in the County Court House in the City of Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 5th day of November, 1913, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to satisfy the amount then due on said mortgage and Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars, attorneys' fees as provided in said mortgage, together with the costs and disbursements allowed by law.

Dated at Duluth, Minnesota, this 22nd day of September, 1913.

STEADY AT THE CLOSE

Good Demand for Flax From Crushers Keeps Prices Up.

Duluth Board of Trade, Oct. 6.—The wheat market was steady at the close after its break in the first two hours trading. December wheat closed ⅝c off; and May ⅝c down. October durum declined a cent and the December option ½c.

Oats closed ¼c off at 36⅜c.

Puts on December wheat closed at 83⅛@83¼c bid, and calls 85¾c bid.

The wheat market turned weak again today through a combination of unsettling influences. Cables were lower, stocks at primary points burdensome and the Eastern demand was light. The weak situation in oats and barley was another bearish factor, it being reported that further large purchases of Canadian oats had been made by Duluth operators.

December wheat opened ⅛c off at 84⅞ and a decline of ½c was recorded up to the final hour on liberal offerings and lack of buying power. May opened ⅛c off at 89⅜c and declined ⅝c further to 88⅞c. October durum opened unchanged at 80c and broke ¾c. The May option opened ⅛c off at 81c and declined ½c.

Grain piled up in the local elevators to the extent of 2,645,000 bu last week, receipts coming to 6,040,000 bu, while shipments amounted to 3,395,000 bu. Wheat stocks alone increased over 1,700,000 bu.

For the present crop year from Aug. 1 up till last Saturday, receipts of all grains at Duluth aggregated 31,952,620 bu, as compared with 25,635,386 bu up to the corresponding period last year, an increase of 6,317,234 bu. Shipments during the same period came to 25,737,958,000 bu against 21,826,287 bu a year ago. The elevator and handling situation at Buffalo was reported in a badly congested condition this morning. A rift in that cloud came today however, in a substantial falling off in receipts as compared with last week, arrivals at Winnipeg, Minneapolis and Duluth being reported at 4,070 cars for the two days an increase of 147 cars over last year, whereas the gains had of late been running all the way up to 1,000 and 1,200 cars.

Good Demand in Flax.

The market in flaxseed opened steady on the execution of a fair volume of buying orders. These filled, quotations sagged ½c and ¾c during the first hour, but good demand from crushers appearing on the low spots, the declines were mostly regained at the close. The weakness in December was attributed to liberal buying of the seed on the Winnipeg market and hedging sales here.

Receipts for the two days were heavy, 388 cars coming to hand at the three principal markets, compared with 138 cars last year. October flaxseed opened unchanged at $1.39 and closed at $1.39; November opened unchanged at $1.38¾ and closed at $1.38¼, and May opened ¼c off at $1.43¾ and closed at $1.43½.

MARKET GOSSIP.

W. H. Vale of Chicago was a visitor on the floor

As prominent Duluth grain operators view it, the blockade at Buffalo is likely to gradually adjust itself, it being thought that receipts will be on a more moderate scale from now. Growers having raised sufficient funds through marketings to cover their pressing financial needs, are showing an inclination to hold their remaining stocks for higher prices.

The situation in oats and barley is said to be growing worse as a result of the competition of Canadian stuff under the present tariff. It is reported that there are now 500 cars of barley on the tracks here unsold, with a corresponding piling up of oats.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The market opened ⅛@¼d lower, being influenced by the heaviness in American cables on Saturday, and following the opening there was a further decline of ⅛@¼d, with the undertone easy. The large world's shipments incident upon the contribution from Russia and America and the pressure of second-hand Manitobas, with continued free Russian offers and a decline in American grades of spot, have caused profit-taking. The weakness in coarse grains and the continued large American and Canadian receipts is having an effect on sentiment. The decline, however, was checked by the Argentine official acreage and many unfavorable reports of growing conditions there. At 1:30 p. m. the market was dull and easier, ¼@½d lower."

• • •

The Argentine acreage sown to wheat this year is officially placed at 16,264,000 acres, against 17,095,000 acres last year. Acreage of oats is 3,090,000 acres, against 2,946,000 acres last year.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Weakness in Wheat Due to Large World's Shipments.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—World's shipments much larger than expected induced weakness today in wheat. There was also bear pressure on account of free hedging sales in the Northwest. Reports, however, that the Argentine acreage was smaller than a year ago and that growth conditions were unfavorable helped to check the decline. Opening prices were a shade to ¼c lower and there was some further recession.

Assertions that under the new tariff Russia and China would ship wheat to the Pacific coast and that Argentina would also qualify as a wheat shipper to the United States increased the depression. So did late reports of Argentine rain and a big gain in the visible supply. The close was steady, ⅝c net lower.

Corn suffered from a general rush to sell. Longs were unloading, and shorts eager to take advantage. The market opened 1-16@⅛c down, rallied a trifle and then made a decided drop.

Covering by shorts led subsequently to considerable hardening of prices, but the effect failed to last. The close was steady, ¼@⅞c under Saturday night.

Sympathy for corn rendered oats heavy. Trading, though, was not active. Quotations, which at the outset showed a loss of ¼@⅜c to ½@⅝c, went still lower before there was any upturn.

Provisions eased off with hogs. Offerings of lard were especially heavy. First sales varied from Saturday night's level to 5c decline and did not promise to react.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Final Prices Close to the Low Level of the Day.

Steel Under Pressure Owing to Cut in Prices of Products.

New York, Oct. 6.—Heavy plunging on the short side uncovered a number of soft stocks in today's market. Closing out of margin accounts was a considerable factor in the widespread break in prices and bear traders operated with boldness owing to the absence of scale buying orders and the recent declines.

Tariff uncertainties, the unexpectedly poor bank statement, trade unsettlement and decreasing railroad earnings played a part in fostering bearish sentiment.

While Steel was subjected to the most conspicuous pressure, weakness was shown in Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, St. Paul and the copper and coal groups. Steel was especially affected by the reduction in the prices of steel products and talk of foreign competition. Bonds were easy.

The stock market leaders were under heavy pressure when trading began today, and prices declined sharply. The opening in Steel, in which selling was heaviest, was a block of 4,000 shares at 57½ to 57¾, as compared with Saturday's close of 58½. Reading, Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and Agricultural Chemical fell back a point, Canadian Pacific 1⅝ and American Tobacco 3.

Bears sold stocks freely when it became evident that inside interests were offering little support to the market. Steel was the pivotal stock, and when it crumbled to 56⅝, all resistance elsewhere was swept away. New Haven dropped nearly 2 points on its unfavorable annual report, which showed a deficit of over $4,500,000. Other active stocks lost from 1 to 2 points.

The market continued extremely sensitive and more effect was produced by a further small decline in Steel than by a rally of a point in Union Pacific. Feeble rallies seemed to exhaust the buying power and there were protracted periods of dullness. Steel went down to 56 and acted sluggishly, when the entire market afterwards began to mend.

More headway upward was made late in the day, when it became apparent that the immediate liquidation had been concluded. Recoveries of ½ point or more were general with Union Pacific making a considerable advance.

The market closed heavy. A rise in call money to 5 per cent furnished a pretext for further selling. Prices receded little, as it was recognized that the flurry was due entirely to the necessities of borrowers who had failed to make arrangements earlier in the day. Final prices were close to the low level of the day with most losses in the neighborhood of a point.

LIQUIDATION IN MINING STOCKS

Mining stocks were weak at Boston today and some liquidation was in evidence at the close which was at the low point of the session's trading. Except in a few issues, however, the losses were only fractional.

Butte & Superior closed 75c down at $34.50; Alaska Gold, 25c down at $22.87; Amalgamated Copper 63c off at $74.62; Butte & Ballaklava fractionally down at $2.94; Granby 50c off at $72; Greene-Cananea unchanged at $$30.50; North Butte 25c off at $27; Shattuck 25c off at $29, and Calumet & Arizona, $1 down at $66.

The market in Duluth curb issues held fairly steady, with only straggling blocks offering. Alex Scott was a feature, selling at $8.25 and $8.38, at slightly up from Saturday.

A dividend of $2 was declared on Osceola stock, payable Oct. 31, to stock of record Oct. 9.

Gay & Sturgis had the following from New York on the market situation there: "The weakness in Steel is running through the rest of the list. It is evident that there is real liquidation in Steel. Reports of cuts in steel prices are becoming numerous and insistent, and people are beginning to realize that Germany will be able to sell steel in America at a profit. We will undoubtedly get rallies in Steel and also in the rest of the market but it looks to me as if liquidation had set in again and that the market was more apt to go down during the next sixty days than it is to go up."

• • •

Referring to the situation at the Calumet & Sonora mine, Skilling's Mining and Market Letter says in Saturday's issue:

"Probably the most important news from this company's property since it was announced that the new equipment was installed and working smoothly, was the word this week that the work of sinking from the 525 level to the 700 level now is in progress. It is the desire of the management to enlarge the production and there is no way to do that except to open up additional ore faces."

METALS GET TIRED.

Chicago Tribune: Metals frequently need a holiday. This may be a surprise to many who believe that metals are always the same, never varying from year to year.

It has been proved, however, that metals suffer from fatigue just as much as a man does, and that rest strengthens them proportionately.

Lord Kelvin has proved that iron wires kept in constant motion during the week act quite differently after a Sunday's rest. He has made countless experiments with various metals under many conditions, and has found that an iron bar which is subjected to frequent strain while "working" will rise 10 per cent in elasticity after a three week's holiday.

Repeated experiments have proved that steel and wrought iron deteriorate rapidly under constant strain and vibration, and, if they are denied the necessary rest, the time will come when, like the human machine, they will collapse altogether. A rest, however, at frequent intervals will keep these metals in good condition.

A Bessemer steel rail is one example of what lack of rest will do to metals. This rail had done good service for twenty-two years without a day's holiday. Then, suddenly, it collapsed under the weight of a train and broke into half a dozen pieces. Lord Kelvin believes that, with a proper rest, this rail would have lasted for several years more.

Singularly enough, cast iron, never considered very strong, and thought by most people to be far less durable than steel, improves greatly in strength when subjected to constant shocks. This was proved by guns of various ages and service. Guns tried a month after casting burst at the seventieth or eightieth discharge. Other guns, which had been in use for six years, failed to burst after 2,000 or 3,000 discharges, and cast iron bars, after being subjected to shocks, frequently gain 100 per cent in strength. But, in all cases, the cast iron which proved strongest was cast iron which had had "a holiday" in between the hard work.

SULZER TRIED TO GET INFLUENCE OF MURPHY TO HAVE TRIAL ENDED

In Return "Was Willing to Do Whatever Was Right."

Sensational Testimony By Allan Ryan Admitted By the Court.

Sarecky Expected to Be Most Important Witness for Sulzer.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Governor Sulzer attempted to secure the influence of Charles F. Murphy to stop the trial of his impeachment, and in return therefor said he "was willing to do whatever was right," according to the testimony of Allan A. Ryan at the trial today.

The testimony was given after the court, by a secret vote of 41 to 14, decided to admit upon the record Ryan's testimony of yesterday. This was that Governor Sulzer had asked him to see Senator Root and request him to induce State Chairman William Barnes to influence the Republican votes of the members of the court to declare the impeachment proceedings illegal because they were brought during an extraordinary session of the legislature.

The admission of this testimony yesterday, stricken from the record, opened the doors to Ryan's story of the governor's alleged attempt to make peace with Tammany Hall on the eve of his trial.

Much Depends on Sarecky.

The groundwork for the defense of Governor Sulzer was to be laid today by Louis A. Sarecky, formerly Sulzer's campaign secretary, and expected to be the day's first witness at the impeachment trial. On his testimony more than that of any other man—with the possible exception of the governor himself—it was agreed, rested the success or failure of the respondent's case. If anybody could explain away the clouds that have befogged the financial transactions of the governor in the "street" and other places, it was Sarecky.

In outlining the defense yesterday Former Senator H. D. Hinman laid much stress on the testimony of Sarecky. He told how the governor practically turned his campaign funds over to his secretary and trusted in him to

BLOODY KNIFE BATTLE IN CABIN

One Man Dead, One Seriously Injured and Two Women Cut.

Green Bay, Wis., Oct. 7.—One man is dead, another seriously injured and two women are slightly cut and bruised as the result of a bloody knife battle which took place here early today in a small cabin.

Margo Walowitz of Milwaukee bled to death from the score of wounds he received, while Mike Janic is in a critical condition. Miss Milka Conkovitz and Mrs. Annie Janic are slightly injured.

The battle took place at the home of Janic when Walowitz tried to force his way into the house. All of the participants were armed with long, sharp jagged knives and Walowitz and Janic were horribly mutilated.

HOME RULE BILL WILL BE PASSED

London, Oct. 7.—The government has decided to have nothing to do with Earl Loreburn's suggestion for a home rule conference. The first speech by a cabinet minister since Lord Loreburn made his suggestion was delivered last night at Pontipool by the Right Hon. Reginald McKenna, secretary of state for home affairs, who declared that such a conference could only mean procrastination, when one party gave nothing but a flat refusal to the proposals of the other party. He further announced that the home rule bill would follow the anticipated course in parliament, and would become a law next session, despite the opposition of the house of lords. The government, he declared, was determined to submit neither to minority rule nor to anarchy.

HEARINGS WILL END ON OCT. 25

Washington, Oct. 7.—The senate's currency hearings were resumed today with the definite understanding that they will continue until Oct. 25 if important witnesses appear. An attempt by Chairman Owen to terminate the hearings Oct. 18 had been defeated by his committee by a vote of 6 to 4, in which Senators Reed and Hitchcock, Democrats, joined four Republican members, Senators Nelson, Weeks, Brisstow and Crawford, in voting against the termination of hearings; while Senators Owen, Shafroth, Hollis and Pomerene voted for Oct. 18.

It is expected that, with a definite date set, every effort will be made by the administration forces to bring Democrats into line in support of the administration bill.

CUDAHY CASHIER IS SHORT $26,000.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 7.—William O. Lucas, formerly cashier of the Kansas City branch of the Cudahy Packing company, was charged with embezzlement in a state warrant yesterday afternoon. An Eastern surety company that bonded Lucas estimated that a shortage of $26,000 will be found when the auditing of the Cudahy books is completed.

After waiving examination in the preliminary hearing, Lucas was bound over to the Wyandotte county district court. He failed to furnish a $65,000 bond, and was remanded to jail.

BIRTHDAY OF HOOSIER POET IS CELEBRATED

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

"O child so mild,
"In pure worth, and so wild
With delight, take the love
Of an elderly child."

The above little poem was written by James Whitcomb Riley especially for the school children of the state of Indiana as a token of his appreciation of their interest in his birthday, which was celebrated in practically all the schools of Indiana today. It is the Hoosier poet's first composition since his illness two years ago.

In addition to the exercisesin the schools at Indianapolis, more than 4,000 children paraded past the poet's home.

The exact year of Mr. Riley's birth is not known definitely, but it is generally accepted that he was born in 1852, making hi m61 years old today.

CONFESSION UNFOUNDED

Spencer's Stories of Murders Now Believed to Be Untrue.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—A speedy trial for the murder of Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rexroat on Sept. 25 was today promised Henry Spencer, whose confessions of twenty murders, woven by an opium-clouded brain, dumbfounded the police. The authorities will continue to investigate his fantastic stories in the hope of establishing further facts.

His admission of the Rexroat crime is substantiated by evidence, and he is known to have committed many of the large number of burglaries he has confessed and there is a possibility that he may have slain Mrs. Annabel Wight, last December. She was beaten to death wit ha hammer, by a man who had rented a room, and robbed.

Insane Dreams.

The remainder of Spencer's twenty "murders" are believed to be the dreams of a man obsessed by that form of insanity known as "stir simple," a delusion described as penitentiary insanity.

In a few days Spencer will be turned over to the authorities of Du Page county, Illinoining, where Mrs. Iaxroat was killed.

Spencer spent a sleepless night in his cell at the detective bureau and this morning was extremely nervous.

The fact that he has been without opium for at least two days, and the many hours of questioning to which he has been subjected since his arrest, are believed by the police to be responsible for his present physical condition.

The officials will consider the advisability of sending local detectives to investigate some of the out of town murders which Spencer claims to have committed.

The supposed murder at St. Joseph, Mich., will be investigated, as a message was received from the authorities there confirming the statement that there had been a woman killed there recently.

WEALTHY ST. PAUL MAN INDICTED

Chicago, Oct. 7.—William Rufus Edwards, a wealthy lumber and coal dealer of St. Paul, was indicted by the Federal grand jury here yesterday charged with a violation of the Mann white slave act. He was charged with having caused the transportation of Miss Ada M. Cox from Chicago to St. Paul, Oct. 7, 1910. Miss Cox was employed as a stenographer for the Shelby County Coal company. Her home was in Rockford, Ill.

Sued for Breach of Promise.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 7.—Miss Ada M. Cox, whose alleged transportation from Chicago to St. Paul three years ago, resulted in the indictment of William Rufus Edwards at Chicago for the violation of the Mann white slave act, sued Edwards for breach of promise in the district court here in March, 1912. A verdict of $15,208 was granted by the jury. The court reduced the verdict to $12,500. The case then was appealed to the supreme court, which granted a new trial. Oct. 17 was set as the date for the new trial.

Edwards was married last December to Miss Frances Lorraine Bernard, a niece of Senator Moses E. Clapp. Edwards was not at his home last night, and his whereabouts were not made known.

JILTED BY ART CRITIC

Miss Leegson Was Despondent Over Breaking of Engagement.

Search for "Wilson" Whose Promise Drew Her to Prairie.

NEGRO SUSPECTED.

Chicago, Oct. 7—Acting on information given by a man who saw Miss Ida Leegson walking west in West Seventy-first street at 6 o'clock last Saturday evening accompanied by a negro, instructions were given the police today as follows:

"Arrest for murder and robbery a copper skinned negro, 5 feet, 11 inches or 6 feet tall; weighing between 180 and 190 pounds. Well dressed; square shoulders; erect carriage. Wore black soft hat and gray coat."

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 7.—Information as to the reason for the wanderings of Miss Ida G. Leegson, the woman art student whose nude body was found lifeless near Chicago Sunday morning, came to light here today when it was announced that she became despondent after the failure of a Milwaukee man to keep his engagement to marry her.

Edwin C. Eldridge, a former curator in a local art gallery and well-known as an art critic, under whom Miss Leegson studied, is reported to be the man.

They became engaged, it is reported, and planned to go to Paris together, where they intended to study art and open a studio. Miss Leegson made the trip and studied for a time, but her alleged suitor failed to follow her.

Robbed of Her Money.

She then returned to Milwaukee, where satisfactory explanations were made and Miss Leegson went to Chicago to purchase her wedding outfit. While on her shopping tour she was robbed of $600, all the money she had in the world.

In the meantime, the art critic went

MAY BE SETTLED OUT OF COURT

New Haven's Efforts to Comply With Law May Succeed.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Any attempt by the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad to treat with the department of justice to square New England's transportation system with the terms of the Sherman anti-trust law, will be favorably received, it became known last night, by Attorney General McReynolds, who would be willing to delay for a reasonable time the filing of the government's proposed dissolution suit to consider proposals from the road.

The possibility of an effort being made to settle the case out of court became apparent in the attention which the recent announcements of attitude by the New Haven have attracted at the department of justice. Officials were pleased with President Elliott's statement that the railroad had no desire to retain investments except in conformity with law and sound public policy. The present intention of the attorney general is to seek a dissolution of the road by the quickest means possible.

HUNDREDS ARE MADE HOMELESS

Storm at Nome Abating After Doing Very Severe Damage.

Fire Adds to Destruction By Worst Storm Known There.

Help From Outside Necessary to Relieve the Suffering.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 7.—The storm is abating. Three unidentified bodies have been washed ashore. Five hundred persons are homeless. Help from outside will be necessary. The steamships Victoria, Navajo and Corwin are safe at anchor seven miles out.

Town Almost Destroyed.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 7.—Nome has been visited by a storm that has almost destroyed the town. Front street is a seething mass of wreckage into which seas are breaking while hundreds of homeless persons are struggling to save the necessities of life. Receding seas are carrying away the contents of wrecked houses and stores as well as parts of wrecked structures. None of the buildings on the San Spit remain standing and the leveled structures there are in flames. This portion of the community is cut off by the turbulent waters. The flames have attacked the Pacific Cold Storage plant, where is stored the chief supply of meat for the winter. The fire apparatus was destroyed in the gale.

The storm which began Sunday night, beating in from Behring sea, was the worst ever known here. Men and women worked all night in the icy water to save their household effects. The electric light plant was wrecked and telephone service cut off. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000. There will be much suffering and outside help will be required. Winter is at hand, and it will be impossible to get in supplies needed.

The steamships Victoria and Corwin, which were lying in the roadstead, ran to open sea and escaped damage. All the small boats on the beach were destroyed. Five hundred houses have been demolished and more are falling.

BILLINGS TO BE MADE COLLECTOR

President Decides on Collector of Customs at Boston.

Washington, Oct. 7.—President Wilson decided early today to send to the senate the nomination of Edmund K. Billings to be collector of customs at Boston, Mass. The nomination had been vigorously opposed by organization Democrats of Massachusetts, on the ground that Mr. Billings had not been an active Democrat.

Timid Women May Vote.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 7.—In order to insure that the more timid women vote, the Decatur Woman's club has petitioned the city council to establish polling places in all the Decatur public schools at the coming city election.

New York, Oct. 7.—The Philadelphia Athletics overcame the New York Nationals by a score of 6 to 4 in the first game of the world's series here today. Forty thousand people saw the battle in which heavy hitting featured the contest. New York used three pitchers in the box in an endeavor to stop the Athletics' batsmen. Bender was hit hard and outside of the fifth inning managed to keep the Giants' hits scattered. Baker was again a hero at the bat, driving out three hits, one of which was a terrific home run drive into the stand, which scored Collins ahead of him. The only fielding misplay was a wild throw by Barry.

The teams will meet at Shibe park tomorrow, weather permitting.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 7.—Some 40,000 persons filled the broad reaches of the big Brush stadium this afternoon to witness the New York Giants, pennant winners of the National league, do battle with the Philadelphia Athletics, leaders of the American league, in the first game of the world's baseball series.

A record-breaking attendance was indicated for the turnstiles were still merrily clicking at noon and elevated trains, traction cars, automobiles and all manner of conveyances were bringing their hundreds to the playing field.

Murky clouds, from which there came an occasional sleazless drizzle, screened the sun and there was a constant threat of heavy weather.

The Giants and Athletics came early to the club houses, which lie behind the backfield bleachers. "Chief" Bender was first in uniform. There was a rousing cheer as the Athletics' pitching star popped his head out of the little doorway under the center field stand. Bender grinned at the crowd, then disappeared.

Shortly after, the contending clubs trotted on the field and then came the batting practice. A great shout went up when long hit after long hit was driven by the Giant batters to the far corners of the field. The hits were made off straight ball pitching, but seemed to presage heavy hitting by the home club, and the crowd was happy. Fielding practice was brisk and brilliant by home folks and visitors and the plays were loudly cheered.

The umpires came on the field shortly before 2 o'clock and there was a discussion of ground rules in which Manager McGraw of the Giants and Capt. Danny Murphy of the Athletics participated.

Mayor Kline of New York and Maj. Gen. Barry of the United States army were escorted across the playing field just before the umpires called "Play ball!"

It was announced that Umpire Klem would give the balls and strikes decisions, while Umpire Connolly would give the decisions on the bases.

First Inning.

Philadelphia—John Brush Hempstead, the young grandson of the late John T. Brush, president of the Giants, threw out the ball and the world's series battle was on. Marquard sent over a high one and Murphy flew out to Murray. Murphy smashed the first ball pitched and the crowd cheered. Marquard shot a strike over on Oldring. Oldring singled to right on the second ball between Doyle and Merkle. Marquard tried to catch Oldring at first, but could not quite get him. The New York pitcher used plenty of speed and kept the ball around the Athletics' knees. Oldring was caught off first by a quick throw by Marquard to Merkle. Collins singled sharply to center after having two strikes called on him. The crowd gave Home Run Baker a big cheer when he came to bat. Baker flied out to Burns. No runs, two hits, no errors.

New York—Bender grinned as Shafer came to bat and shot a wide curve which was close to Shafer's knees. It

COALHEAVER IS MADE WEALTHY

Sioux City, Iowa, Oct. 7.—From coalheaver to a German count with a fortune of nearly $500,000. This is the experience of Henry Von Hagerdorn of Sioux City, a fireman on the Chicago, St. Paul & Omaha railroad, who last night received a cablegram from Germany stating that by the death of Count Heinrich Von Hagerdorn of Strassberg, Germany, he received a fortune of $450,000. Hogerdorn is 24 years old and has not been in Germany for sixteen years. His run on the Omaha railroad was from Sioux City to St. James, Minn.

WOODRUFF HAS NOT SUFFERED RELAPSE.

New York, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Timothy L. Woodruff issued a statement today denying that her husband, the former lieutenant governor, had suffered a relapse on Sunday. His condition continued to improve slowly, she said. Mr. Woodruff had a slight stroke of paralysis recently while addressing a Progressive mass meeting.

NEW PHASE OF TROUBLE

School Children in Keweenaw County Out on Sympathetic Strike.

Strike-Breakers Are Arriving at Rate of Hundred a Day.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 7.—(Special to the Herald.)—The sympathetic strike of school children in the Keweenaw county copper strike district spread this morning and 50 are now out. The Ahmeek, New Allouez and Mohaw schools are affected. A special meeting of the school board was called today to deal with the situation. It is said the compulsory school attendance law will be upheld and that wholesale prosecutions of parents will follow if the children do not return to school at once. This morning a parade of 400 of the striking pupils was held at Ahmeek.

West Virginia, Minnesota and Montana miners, harvest hands and Great Lakes sailors make up the greater part of the large bodies of strike-breakers being brought into the copper mining country. Strike-breakers are being brought in at the rate of a hundred or more a day. The mines are all amply guarded and the strikers make practically no attempt to prevent the imported men working. Agents for the companies are scouring the country for more men.

Federation Asks Aid.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Aid for striking miners in the Calumet, Mich., copper district was asked of organized labor throughout the country yesterday by the executive of the American Federation of Labor. The appeal was made in a circular letter sent broadcast to the federation's members, under the signature of President Gompers.

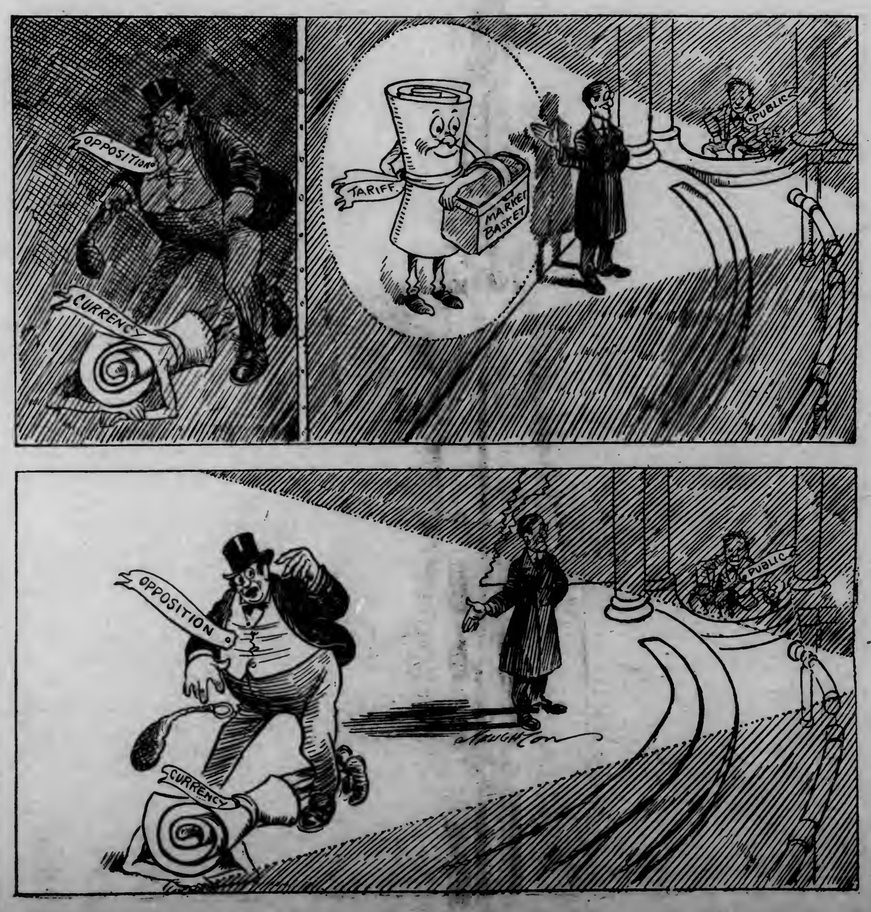

YAGER GOVERNOR OF PORTO RICO.

Washington, Oct. 7.—President Wilson today selected Dr. Arthur Yager, president emeritus of Georgetown college, Georgetown, Ky., for governor of Porto Rico. His nomination will be sent to the senate this week.

Chinese Vice President.

Pekin, Oct. 7.—Gen. Li Yuen Heng, provisional vice president of the Chinese republic, was elected vice president today for a term of five years by the united houses of the Chinese parliament. He received 610 votes out of the 719 cast by the representatives and senators present.

DIPHTHERIA COMES EARLY

Health Department Bulletin Shows Twenty-One Cases in September.

Sixty-One More Births Than Deaths During the Month.

Diphtheria has developed in Duluth earlier than usual this year, according to the monthly bulletin of the health department, edited by Dr. I. J. Murphy, medical inspector.

During September twenty-one persons with the bacilli were found, of whom ten were carriers and not actually sick. Diphtheria does not generally become so prevalent until November or December. Of the thirty-two cases of typhoid fever which were investigated, but six were of local origin. These developed at Gary, presumably from drinking contaminated well water.

The summary of statistics is as follows:

"The total number of births reported during the month was 159; the total number of deaths recorded was 98, of which 15 were infants under 1 year of age.

"Diphtheria is the only one of the communicable diseases that has been at all prevalent. Twenty-one people with diphtheria bacilli in their throats were found, of these only eleven were rank clinical cases, the others being carriers. As a rule we do not have so much diphtheria until in November and December. Since so many cases are coming so early a physician should be called for even the slightest sore throat. If these cases are taken care of early we need have no deaths from diphtheria. There was one death this month.

"Only eleven cases of scarlet fever were reported; one was reported by death certificate.

"Three cases of smallpox were found. Thirteen new patients with tuberculosis were recorded; 9 death certificates were received.

"In all 32 cases of typhoid fever were investigated. Only six of these were apparently of local origin. Six others came from Cloquet; 2 from Proctor; 4 from boats and the others from various outside camps. Typhoid was the cause of four deaths.

"The milk inspector reports testing 159 cows and condemning one. One arrest was made. Dairy conditions were uniformly good.

"The meat inspector condemned 194 pounds of various meats and 2 cases of eggs. The score card is working to the mutual benefit of the butcher and the public. There are now 81 meat markets in the city.

"The bakery inspector finds things in general quite satisfactory. However, there are a few foreign boarding houses which are quite a problem on his hands. That reminds us that we need a lodging house ordinance.

An Actor Honored.

Montreal, Ont., Oct. 7.—Sir Gilbert Parker, Canadian novelist, and F. R. Benson, Shakespearean actor, were given the degree of doctor of laws by McGill university yesterday. In giving Mr. Benson his degree, Dr. Peterson, head of the university, asserted that no other actor had ever been thus honored in North America.

Not Favored by President.

Washington, Oct. 7.—President Wilson indicated yesterday that he did not favor exempting from civil service deputy collectors of internal revenue and deputy United States marshals, provided in the urgent deficiency bill as passed by the senate. He told callers it was originally intended that only special agents should be exempted because of their necessarily confidential relations with collectors.

Kaiser Will Take Half.

Berlin, Oct. 7. — Emperor William has agreed to a compromise in connection with the estate of $800,000 left to him by Herman Knorr, a patriotic but eccentric wood dealer in Kauschwitz. He has consented to take one-half and allow the widow to keep the remainder.

Officers Inaugurated.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 7.—Officers of the National Life Underwriters' association, elected at the annual meeting held in Atlantic City, Sept. 18, were inaugurated here last night, following a custom of thirteen years. They are: President, J. E. Clark, Baltimore; vice presidents, Edward A. Woods, Pittsburg, and J. B. Morisette, Quebec; secretary, Frank Buser, Philadelphia; treasurer, Harvey S. Dale, Chicago.

Retired Georgia Planter's Advice to Kidney Sufferers

Regarding the wonderful curative merits of your Swamp-Root, I cannot say too much. After suffering severely for three years or more with severe pains caused by weak kidneys, I was finally induced to try Swamp-Root through a testimonial I read in one of the newspapers. I was in such a condition that I was obliged to arise from my bed six or eight times every night. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and before it was used I felt so much relief that I purchased a one-dollar bottle and by the time this was taken the old pains had left my back and I could sleep the whole night through. I am a retired planter, 70 years of age, and owing to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, I am in the best of health and feel like a boy. I am always glad to recommend Swamp-Root to those who are in need of it.

Sincerely yours,
C. E. USSERY,
Bowersville, Ga.

Personally appeared before me, this 8th day of September, 1909, C. E. Ussery, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

EXPLOSION'S THIRD VICTIM IS DEAD

Andrew Mazak Passes Away From Burns Received at Steel Plant.

After suffering intensely for twelve days from burns which covered almost his entire body, Andrew Mazak, 45 years old, 2825 Railroad street, died at 6 o'clock this morning at St. Mary's hospital, from injuries received in the explosion of the gas tank at the steel plant on the evening of Sept. 28.

Mazak is the third victim of the explosion. The other two victims were Carl Rusch, who died a few hours after the explosion and Charles J. Simpson, who died the following morning. Three others, Stephen Faith of West Duluth, John Frazer of Proctor, and Peter Passich were burned, the former two still being in the hospital recovering. The latter has been discharged from the institution, his injuries having been only slight.

Mr. Mazak had burns covering every part of the body except a small part of the breast, and his death was expected daily. He leaves a widow and a daughter, 19 years old.

The body was removed this morning to Filiatrault's undertaking rooms. The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from the Polish Catholic church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Fifth street. Burial will be in the Polish cemetery.

DRAYMAN FINED $10.

Andrew Peterson Obstructs Cars Despite Toots of Horns.

A little obstinance on the part of Andrew Peterson, a drayman, cost him $10 and costs in the police court when arraigned before Judge Lanners this morning. Peterson was driving along Third street yesterday afternoon and sticking close to the center of the street railway track. West bound cars tooted horns and rang their bells all to no avail, for Peterson refused to hear. After holding up three cars for a period of nearly a half hour while going from the ore dock to Fifty-fourth avenue, a policeman took Peterson in tow. Peterson was charged with being drunk.

Stone Thrower in Custody.

Emil Mihich and Peter Cejovich of New Duluth are again in the limelight and in charge of the police. This time the former is charged with having thrown stones at the latter. The offense is said to have taken place on Saturday. Mihich will be given an opportunity of telling his story in police court tomorrow afternoon.

Daughters of Norway.

The Daughters of Norway lodge of West Duluth has planned to entertain at an "apron" social tomorrow evening at the West Duluth Commercial club rooms. Members and friends of the lodge are invited to the affair. A literary and musical program is also arranged.

Annual Meeting.

The Hope Young People's Society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church will hold its annual meeting in the church parlors, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Wadena street, this evening. Election of officers will be held following which a social program will be enjoyed. Oscar Klovstad, president of the society, who has been spending a month visiting in the West returned yesterday and will be present.

Postponed Lecture.

Dr. Mabel Ulrich of Minneapolis will give her postponed lecture for women tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the assembly hall of the Irving school.

The meeting of the women's clubs this evening will be postponed, but a class in folk dancing will be organized at the Irving school under the direction of Miss C. Johnston. A number of girls from the various schools of this end of the city have signified their intention of joining this class.

Reinertson Funeral.

The funeral services for Peter Raymond Reinertson, 18 years old, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Reinertson, 634 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, who died Sunday night, will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock from the residence and at 1:45 o'clock from Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church.

Pastors of the United Norwegian Lutheran church at the Head of the Lakes will be present. Rev. J. H. Hervig of the Zion church will have charge. The other pastors who will take part in the services are Rev. J. H. Stenberg of the First church and Rev. E. R. Lockrem and Rev. E. R. Anderson of Superior.

West Duluth Briefs.

Harry Martin returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit to relatives in Chicago.

A meeting of Non-Excelled homestead, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, will be held in Gilley's hall, 322 North Central avenue, tomorrow evening. Plans will be made for a children's festival to be held on Oct. 22.

The women's clubs and girls' clubs of the social center at the Irving school will meet this evening in the school. Plans will be made for a series of entertainments this winter.

J. A. Bellmeur, district manager for the Yeomen, will leave Thursday for Crookston, Minn., where he will organize a class for initiation into the order. Mr. Bellmeur expects to be gone for a month.

George Markell of Calumet, Mich., who has been visiting in this end of the city left last evening for the Twin Cities where he will spend a few days before returning home.

Andrew C. Weddell arrived home last night with a "package," it is claimed, and things did not suit him at his domicile. He attempted to put his wife and daughter out of the house. A policeman was called and Weddell was given lodging in the West Duluth station. This morning his case was indefinitely continued by Judge Lanners.

FRANCE HAS BLACK ARMY

And With the New Force Comes the Negro Peril.

Would Increase the African Legion to 100,000 Men.

Paris, Oct. 7.—Is France destined to be overrun with blacks as is certain parts of the United States? There are a number of thinking men here who see such a thing happening if what appears to be the republic's ultimate military policy be carried out.

"Black France." That is the latest Gaelic phrase used to denote France's black colonies in Africa and her negro soldiers there. The average Frenchman thinks of it with a thrill of pride, but there are those who fear that the country is brewing for itself a pot of trouble, without realizing it, through the fast increasing native African soldiery and the proposed importation of them into France.

The falling birth rate has made drastic action necessary. No attempt was made to conceal the fact that this was the cause for returning to the three-year military service law just passed by both the chamber of deputies and the senate. But even with that addition, France's standing army is not big enough; something else had to be done. That thing seems to be the formation of the mightiest negro legion the world has ever seen. Senator Gervais is fighting for 100,000 black men, but others say that eventually there will be under the tri-color of France an army of native Africans 200,000 strong.

The black soldier was sanctioned by law in 1910. There are 20,000 of him already.

Solved Army Problem By Negroes.

The argument for the innovation is simple. France, being at a standstill, or worse, so far as population is concerned; and Germany, its mortal enemy, being on the rapid increase, it is pointed out that no other alternative presented itself. Manifestly France, with its 29,000,000 people, cannot provide a white army as big as can Germany with its more than 60,000,000. Germany's new army law gives it about 500,000 soldiers on a peace footing; France's new law gives it 729,000. In France every youth must serve three years, in Germany he serves two. Suppose Germany likewise should take the notion to adopt a three-year service. Germany would have far more than a million men ready to take the field at an instant's notice and France, having already gone its limit, would be helpless to meet the increase.

The only remedy for the situation, it is argued, is to introduce the negro into the military scheme. There are millions of negroes in France's African dependencies, and Col. Mangin and Col. Marchand, heroic French leaders in Morocco, give them a good character. The thing to do is to use them, they say.

And there, in the opinion of many, is where the trouble would begin, for it has been found that in actual practice the Senegalian (a generic term applied to all France's black troops whether Senegalians or not) is not worth much as a soldier unless he has his family with him. He must carry his wife—or wives—along to act as cook, porter and clothes-mender, and without her he is utterly lost. Therefore if the Senegalian be brought to France, Mrs. Senegalian will have to come, too, with the thousands upon thousands of little Senegalians trailing at her abbreviated skirt.

That, say those who have studied United States history, is where the trouble thickens.

Used Black Troops Against Germany.

The first appearance of blacks upon the battle fields of Europe came during the Franco-Prussian war, France using its "Turcos" as the Algerian troops were called, against the Germans, evoking the bitterest criticism on the other side of the Rhine. France was charged as a soldier unles she has his family people.

If the negro is to be employed in Europe considerable preparation has to be done. The question of proper food, clothing and general living conditions will have to be studied. The white plague is frequent among negroes nowadays, and he is particularly susceptible to the disease. The moral confusion resulting from a new code of manners would have to be forestalled. However, it is apparent that the French are pursuing a wise course in gradually habituating the black man to the new conditions and, what is equally important, habituating public opinion to the notion that it has in these ebony soldiers a magnificent fighting force capable of rendering the highest services to the mother country.

The negro trooper was seen at the great July 14 review at Longchamps for the first time this year. This annual military display, when from forty to sixty thousand soldiers of all arms dash past the reviewing stand, heretofore has been minus African representatives. From all parts of Africa this summer, however, came negroes as black as the proverbial ace of spades, but wearing the French uniform, and they were the "hit of the show."

BEATS WIFE; FINED.

Geo. Barney, Former Pool Hall Manager, Gets Sentence.

George Barney, 38 years old, for many years an employe on the tugs in the Duluth harbor and up to last spring manager of the old Metropole hotel pool room, was fined $20 and costs or twenty days by Judge Cutting this morning for having struck his wife last Thursday afternoon. Barney paid the fine.

The complaint against Barney was made by his wife, who declared that he had been following her around ever since she left him last April, and that he struck her just as she was entering the New England hotel, where she is rooming.

Barney claimed that his wife struck him with her hand bag and that he merely pushed her away. He declared that he wants her to come back and live with him, but this she refuses to do. Barney rooms at the Astoria hotel.

The Barneys have been married for two years, Mrs. Barney having left her husband on April 8 last, when she secured a position.

A DISHEARTENING SIGHT.

New Orleans States: Mayor Gaynor, at a luncheon in New York, talked about laws.

"It is difficult to execute," he said, "laws that the majority of people don't want and don't believe in."

The mayor smiled and added:

"Why, a friend of mine, just back from a prohibition state, said to me the other day:

"'In every large city in the state I saw well-dressed citizens drinking with relish from bottles labeled Rat Liniment, and even Furniture Polish.'"

SAVED ADRIANOPLE TO OTTOMAN EMPIRE

PRINCE SAID HALIM.

Prince Said Halim is the Turkish grand vizier, whose efforts have succeeded in redeeming Adrianople from the Balkan allies. Once surrendered to the Bulgarians, Adrianople refused to stay conquered. The Turks, acting under the direction of Prince Said Halim, took control of the city and petitioned the powers to confirm their control of it. In the final settlement, Prince Said Halim and the city will remain Turkish property.

WILL BEGIN WORK SOON

Engineer Who Will Value Lighting Plant Arrives in City.

Meets Commissioners; Has Some Business to Complete in Chicago.

The appraisal of the physical holdings of the Duluth-Edison Electric company will be started the latter part of next week or early the week following by W. B. Rittenhouse of Chicago.

Mr. Rittenhouse reached the city today and was introduced to the commissioners by Commissioner Merritt, head of the utilities division, and D. A. Reed, manager of the water and light department. The employment of Mr. Rittenhouse meets with the approval of the city council and after an absence from the city for ten days or two weeks, during which he will wind up his other affairs, he will return to Duluth to take charge of the valuation of the electric lighting plant.

Charles L. Pillsbury of Minneapolis, who was one of the two experts retained by the city in the lighting plant proposition, will likely be called into consultation when Mr. Rittenhouse returns. He will be asked to assist in outlining the mode of procedure.

Mr. Rittenhouse has had considerable experience in the electrical business, principally in Chicago and Paterson, N. J., and has done considerable revaluation work similar to that in which he will engage in this city. He may be asked to assist the water and light department in valuing its outside properties in connection with the lighting plant appraisal.

The figures which are obtained will be used as the basis of negotiations with the lighting company for the purchase of the plant by the city. The local officials have stated that they are willing to pay a fair and reasonable price but that if satisfactory terms cannot be agreed upon they assert that condemnation proceedings will be started without delay. The valuation figures would be valuable in condemnation proceedings. Before they are finally submitted to the city they will be checked up by Mr. Pillsbury.

ON THE TRAIL OF THE MOLECLUE.

Sir William Ramsay in Harper's Magazine: It came to be evident, about the middle of the last century, that, in order to explain certain facts connected with the relative weights of gases, matter must not merely consist of atoms, but that these atoms must have the power of uniting in small groups. In forming a compound, indeed, this must be so; for instance, carbonic-acid gas must consist of one atom of carbon which, along with two atoms of oxygen, forms a small group of three atoms. The novelty of the conception was in the notion that oxygen itself, in the state of gas, as it exists, for example, in the air, consists of small groups of atoms; in this case, two. To such small groups of atoms was given the name molecules. A molecule is that portion of a substance which can exist in the free state, as oxygen does in air. An atom generally exists in combination; but atoms may, and sometimes do, exist separately; in which case they also are termed molecules. Now, can molecules be seen? Is their existence a mere assumption? The answer to that question is: no, they cannot be seen; but artificial molecules can be made which correspond so closely in their behavior to real molecules that the existence of real molecules is practically certain. Moreover, although no one has ever seen a molecule, still the track of a molecule moving through space has been seen; and just as Robinson Crusoe was right in inferring the existence of the man Friday from his footstep imprinted in the sand, so the real existence of a molecule may just as certainly be inferred from the track it leaves.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFUL, CHARMING HAIR, NO DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE

Try This! Doubles Beauty of Your Hair and Stops it Falling Out.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

JU-JU MAGIC.

Wide World Magazine: Early in 1911 a deputation from one of the larger towns of West Africa brought two prisoners, father and son, before the commissioner at Oban. They were accused of having, in crocodile form, killed two women while the latter were crossing the river. As they refused to swear their innocence on the dominant ju-ju of the town, they were brought before the "white man," who naturally decided that there was no case against them. The deputation, however, had not finished with the matter. On returning home another ju-ju was invoked, with the result that the son confessed that both he and his father were guilty, and that they had killed and eaten seven other men and women.

Strangely enough, people accused of this uncanny power nearly always acknowledge their guilt, even when fully aware that such confession will probably cost them their lives. Awa ita, an old woman of Oban, was suspected of being "a snake soul," and of sending out her familiar every night to lick a wound on her husband's ankle while he slept, and so prevent it from healing. The chiefs of the Egbo society summoned her before their dreaded tribunal, and she was condemned to death.

FOR MEN ONLY

Specialists for Over Twenty Years in the City of Duluth.

A CURE FOR MEN'S DISORDERS.

We have cured hundreds of men who have long suffered a gradual decline of physical and mental energy as a result of ailments, and have been interested in noting the marked general improvement that follows a thorough cure of the chief disorder. Our success in curing difficult cases of long standing has made us the foremost specialists in treating men's disorders. This success in curing difficult cases of long standing has made us the foremost specialists in treating men's disorders. This success is due to several things. It is due to the study we have given our specialty; to having ascertained the exact nature of men's ailments, and to the original, distinctive and thoroughly scientific methods of treatment we employ.

FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Thousands of young men and middle aged men are annually swept to a premature grave through EXCESSES AND BLOOD DISEASES. If you have any of the following symptoms, consult us before it is too late. Are you nervous and weak, despondent and gloomy, specks before the eyes, with dark circles under them, weak back, kidneys irritable, palpitation of the heart, bashful, debilitating dreams, sediment in urine, pimples on the face, eyes sunken, hollow cheeks, careworn expression, poor memory, lifeless, distrustful, lack of energy and strength, tired mornings, restless nights, changeable moods, premature decay, bone pains, hair loose, sore throat, etc. The New Dissolving Process Will Cure You.

FOR NEW VITALITY.

There is today no excuse for any man remaining weak. The vital, manly man is admired by all men, as well as all women; there is an influence about him no man can resist; he knows no fear; he knows no weakness; he knows no result of debility. It is the same VITALITY which carries our young soldiers to war without thoughts of death. Vitality, reader, is what you MUST have if you would enjoy a life of health, strength and manly vigor. We can give you this same life and vitality; if we can do for you what we are doing for thousands of others we can put the vigor of youth into your blood and nerves; we can make you feel young again and keep you feeling young; we can drive away all debility, weakness and despondency. You will laugh at trouble, you will tackle obstacles with the vim to win, just as all other hearty, vital men may do. We don't ask you to use drugs. We ask no change in your present mode of living; all we ask is to come to our office and let us fill your body with new power, to dissolve diseased poisons and liberate your system from poison. If everybody else failed to cure you of these troubles, we don't—WE WILL CURE YOU.

MAN AND GIRL ELOPE THE SECOND TIME.

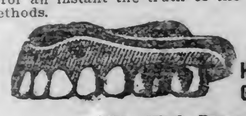

Mandan, N. D., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was a second elopement of William McComus and 14-year-old Dolly Clyde. A few weeks ago they disappeared and later McComus was arrested in Glendive, Mont., with the girl. She promised to remain in school and the man was discharged. More recently both suddenly left town. The authorities will probably make no further effort to secure the arrest of the man, who is about twenty-five years older than the girl.

SAYS MILK IS SCARCE

Old "H. C. of L." May Take Another Wallop at Public.

City Milk Inspector Says Cows Are Scarce and Feed High.

Ouch! The high cost of living threatens to take another wallop at the dear public.

"A scarcity of milk is already noticeable in the city and the high cost of cows, combined with a possible scarcity of hay and feed, will still further complicate the milk situation before the winter is over," says the monthly report of Milk Inspector Gust Hedman for September.

The householder has heard that direful "scarcity" explanation before and he knows without study what it means. It's sad to have to say so, but the milk inspector's report probably means that another cent or two or more, may be plastered to the present price of the lacteal fluid.

Inspector Hedman reports that with the ice cream season drawing to a close the situation is satisfactory, but he recommends the passage of an ordinance regulating the manufacture and sale of the frozen dainty.

The bacteria count for milk for September averaged 100,000 per cubic centimeter, the best showing which has been made since last March. The maximum allowed by the state law is 500,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter. The local record is considered exceptionally good.

Most of the dirty milk discovered by the sediment test came from outside points. One dairy, which was especially bad and has been derelict before, located in a nearby town, has been put out of business and two small dealers dropped out during the month. Two new barns are being built and new equipment is being installed in several places.

ORE SHIPMENTS SHOW INCREASE

Late Falling Off in Shipments Due to Dock Conditions.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 7.—Shipments of iron ore durng September were only 28,817 tons less than in September, 1912. The total movement to Oct. 1 amounted to 39,265,484 tons, an increase of 2,927,102 tons over the movement to Oct. 1, 1912. The shipments in September amounted to 7,258,413 tons.

Although shipments were smaller both in August and September this year than in the corresponding months of 1912, dock conditions were responsible for the larger part of the loss in August and the smaller shipments in September probably were due to lack of storage space at the furnaces and postponements. So far this year the postponements have been light and the movement will hold up well within the range of predictions.

During October, 1912, the ore shipments by water amounted to 7,010,219 tons and in November 4,072,674 tons. The total movement between Oct. 1 and the last shipment in December amounted to 11,082,893 tons. If the same amounts should be shipped this year the movement for the season would amount to 50,348,377 tons. It is not expected such large shipments will be made. Persons in the ore business yesterday estimated a movement of about 6,500,000 tons this month and of 3,000,000 tons next month. This would bring the lake traffic for 1913 in the neighborhood of 48,750,000 tons.

Shipments this year and last were as follows:

MONEY FOUND IN RIVER BOTTOM.

Cheboygan, Mich., Oct. 7.—The river rats of Cheboygan are revelling in a veritable gold mine.

The work of dredging the river in front of the old Baker dock, the landing place of the larger passenger boats in the early days of the village, was commenced today. The dirt and refuse is thrown on the shore for filling in where the old dock buildings have been removed.

In the deposit the boys are finding all manner of treasures, including money thrown into the river by tourists to induce the lads to dive. One boy has already found $3 in money, besides 200 feet of anchor chain, tools of many kinds, propeller wheels and corked bottles containing liquid refreshment.

About a dozen boys are busily wading in the mud searching for treasures and salable goods. They says it is far more lucrative busines than diving off the dock for pennies and nickels thrown by D. & C. passengers in the tourist season.

CANADA A RIVAL IN WATERWAYS.

Bufaflo, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Warning against Canadian competition in water transportation was sounded by John A. Bensel, state engineer and surveyor, in an address to the chamber of commerce here last night. Canada, he said, is spending many millions on its waterways.

"If Buffalo is to retain her position as a great transportation point," said Mr. Bensel, "her people must never lose interest in the state waterways. Future competition with Canadian waterways must not be overlooked."

Mr. Bensel predicted that in two years, boats drawing 12 feet of water will be able to go from Buffalo to New York. The barge canal between Buffalo and Oneida lake is practically completed and work on the remaining sections is progressing rapidly.

DREDGERS MOVE BUFFALO BUOYS.

Ruscoe House, Buffalo, inspector of the tenth lighthouse district, announces that while dredging operations now under way in Buffalo harbor are continued, Buffalo north entrance buoy No. 6, a third-class spar, will be moved easterly from its present position as necessitated during progress of dredging the shoal, and Buffalo river junction buoy HS., a third-class spar, will be moved, northeasterly along the Black Rock channel bank, as necessitated during the dredging of the northerly channel bank of the river entrance.

West channel buoy No. 3, a third-class spar, reported missing, and west channel buoys Nos 6 and 7, third-class spars, reported out of position, will be replaced in Niagara river as soon as practicable.

Warning to Mariners.

George A. Ware, secretary of the Lake Carriers' association, has sent out the following notice to marine men on the City of London obstruction:

"Look out for floating obstruction sighted last night one and one-half miles east of southeast shoal on Ashtagula-Conneau course. Obstruction probably wreckage from steamer City of London, and described as being seventy-five by forty-five feet in size."

Lights at Vidal Shoals.

There will be a change of lights at Vidal shoals, according to the following notice:

"Lighthouse bulletin No. 40 states that about Oct. 25 Vidal shoals channel range front light will be changed to occulting white light, two seconds; eclipsed, one second, and intensity increased."

Ore Receipts Increase.

Ashtabula Harbor, Oct. 7.—Deputy Collector Jarvis' monthly report for the lake business during September shows 1,267,266 tons of ore were received and 643,893 tons of coal were shipped. The ore to date is 6,454,859 tons, which is 388,245 tons more than 1912 and 1,264,736 tons les than in 1910.

KEEPS IT UP.

Chicago News: "Talk about persistence!" said Bildad. "What's the name of that giggety-gig piece that girl's always playing?"

"That's the Orvetta Waltz," answered Mrs. Bildad, wearily.

"Orvetta waltz! Where did the name come from?"

"Where did the piece come from? that's what I'd like to know. It doesn't seem to be a difficult piece; the bass goes 'ging boom boom' all the way through and the treble goes 'diddle diddle dee,' but that girl will never be able to play it properly."

"There seems to be one hard place in it," remarked Bildad. "She is sure to stop there every time and slide over it the way a boy does when he comes to a hard word in a book."

"Yes, and when she is playing for guests she is always inspired to make a remark when she reaches that point. That leads them to suppose she could have played it if she hadn't happened to stop to say something.

"She goes along, 'yum diddle diddle, yum—didd—wasn't it warm today?—deedle deedle yum.'

"So she gets past it."

"Does she play that waltz for guests?" asked Bildad.

"If she gets a chance. She left a Sunday school once because they wouldn't let her be the organist."

"I wish to goodness he would play some Sunday school pieces once in a while! I would lots rather hear 'There Is a Happy Land,' 'Tell Aunt Rhody' and 'The Sweet By and By' or even 'Little Drop of Water' than our old friend Orvetta.

"By the way, do you suppose Orvetta is the name of the lady who composed the famous waltz? Probably she wrote it and then named it for herself."

"Perhaps the waltz merely sounded as though it ought to be named Orvetta," said Mrs. Bildad. "The waltz probably suggested the name. There is, so far as I know, no way of knowing what suggested the waltz."

"Well," sighed Bildad, "I'd hate to blameit on to any innocent person."

Girlish, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

(From Pilgrim Magazine)

Since its remarkable astringent and tonic properties became known, clever women all over the world have been using the saxolite face bath to "tone up" their faces, remove wrinkles and draw flabby cheeks and neck back to normal. After using the solution, the face immediately feels much firmer. The skin tightens evenly all over the face, thus reducing lines and sagginess. The formula is: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½ pint.

Another wonderful facial beautifier and rejuvenator that has become quite a rage in the United States, as in Europe, is mercolized wax. Druggists report a great demand. The wax literally absorbs a sallow, blotchy or withered complexion, giving the fresh, vigorous, healthy-hued young skin underneath a chance to "breathe" and to show itself. Applying the wax at night, like cold cream, washing it off mornings, will completely renovate a poor complexion in a week or ten days. One ounce usually is sufficient. Adv.

FAIR DEVOTEE OF THE ANCIENT SPORT OF ARCHERY IN BOSTON

MARY BROWNELL.

No, this lady has not donned the trousers. She is simply standing in a high wind which spoils the hang of her skirt. She is one of the enthusiastic followers of the sport of archery and took a prominent part in the annual tournament which has just closed in Boston. Archery is still popular all over the country though with a limited number of sportsmen and sportswomen.

MINING WORK IN FULL SWING

Many Properties on Cuyuna Range Will Operate All Winter.

Recent Assays Show Rich Values in Manganese Ore Deposits.

Prospecting and mining operations on the Cuyuna range are still in full swing and promise to be maintained up to the close of the season. Some of the operators propose to mine and stockpile all winter, with a view to entering the shipping list on a liberal scale next spring.

The Iron Mountain Mining company is now raising ore steadily from its new shaft and is said to be obtaining assays carrying high manganese values. An assay received today showed 44 per cent manganese and 19 per cent iron and two other specimens returned 34 and 37 per cent manganese. It is now intimated that the Northern Pacific railroad will start laying steel on Oct. 15 on its extension from Iron Rith into the Iron Mountain mine, which it is expected will be reached by Nov. 1. Trial shipments will be sent out this fall, and arrangements are being made to install a permanent equipment at once and continue stockpiling throughout the winter.

The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs Iron company also plans to mine during the winter. The company is reported to have more of its manganese ore contracted for than can be filled up to the close of navigation and every effort is being made to augment the output of the mine. The working force has been increased to seventy-five men.

The Cuyuna-Duluth Iron company is raising over 150 tons of ore daily and it is planned to accumulate a stockpile during the winter for shipment in the spring. In the meantime, ore will also be sent out all-rail on a standing contract with the Lake Superior Iron & Chemical company at Ashland, Wis. Over sixty men are at present employed.

The shaft at the Duluth-Brainerd Iron company's mine is now down twenty feet. Permanent buildings and pumps are being installed at the property.

to Texas and the couple never met again. Miss Leegson is said to have become despondent over the breaking up of the engagement. She went to her home in Barron, Wis., for a time, and then returned here, where she was advised by Bishop Isaac Lea Nicholson of the Episcopal diocese to continue her teaching vocation. Bishop Nicholson died several years later.

She did as he bid, but never was able to settle in any place for any great time. She became quiet, morose, and refused to become friendly with people she met.

Search for "Wilson."

Chicago, Oct. 7.—With the finding of an abandoned automobile in Palos park the police today redoubled their energies in the search for the mysterious "Wilson" whose telephonic promise of a position drew Mis Ida G. Leegson to the prairie near Clearing where she was garroted early Sunday after a terrific struggle.

The automobile was stolen before 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon from Jackson park. It was shortly before this hour that "Wilson" telephoned the residence where Miss Leegson roomed. The call was in response to an advertisement for work, which read:

"Practical nurse—Maternity cases preferred."

Miss Leegson was told to take a car to Seventy-first street and Western avenue and to walk west. The street address she was given does not exist. She was told not to take a heavy suitcase as she would have considerable walking to do.

Indicates Violent Struggle.

The police have ascertained that Miss Leegson was met by a man in a black automobile when she alighted from the Western avenue car. The tonneau of the automobile recovered in Palos park, west of the scene of the murder, indicated there had been a violent struggle. Among other articles found in it was a piece of a shirt waist.

Coroner's Physician Jacob Springer is of the opinion that Miss Leegson was tortured by the man from 6 o'clock Saturday night until 4 or 5 o'clock Sunday morning. He asserted the woman had not been dead more than four or five hours when the body was found Sunday forenoon. The police believe they are confronted with the problem of solving a mystery where the victim may not have known the person who plotted her death.

keep them straight. When it came time to make out a financial statement, Hinman said, Sarecky drew it up, the governor glanced at it, took his secretary's word for its correctness, signed it and thus ended the transaction. Sarecky himself experienced much trouble in drawing up that statement. Hinman said, because, not knowing until after the election was over that he would have to make a statement, he had kept no accurate account of amounts received and expended.

Two Others in Reserve.

Two other witnesses—Lieut. Commander L. J. Josephthal and Hugh J. Reilly—were held in reserve for use in case Sarecky was excused before the end of the court today. Josephthal is the man who paid off the governor's Wall Street debts and Reilly maintains he loaned $26,000 to the governor for his personal use, not as a campaign contribution. Both men have expressed the opinion that their testimony would prove valuable to Sulzer's case.

There was much speculation about the capitol today as to whether Mrs. Sulzer would take the stand, despite positive assurances from the most authoritative sources two weeks ago that she would.

With the assurance from Hinman that the defense would deal only with three articles, one, two and six, the opinion was expressed that the testimony of the governor's witnesses would be in this week. Should that prove true, the attorneys should be able to sum up in two days and final deliberation on a verdict by the court should begin early next week.

Executive Session.

The court of impeachment went into executive session almost immediately after reconvening this morning, for the purpose of reconsidering the vote by which Allan A. Ryan's testimony was stricken from the record yesterday. Ryan declared Sulzer had asked him to see Senator Elihu Root and endeavor to have him intercede with William Barnes in an effort to prevail upon Republican senators of the impeachment court to hold the impeachment illegal.

The executive session was ordered at the request of Republican Leader Brown of the senate, after Attorney John B. Stanchfield for the assembly managers had asked permission to recall Ryan to the witness stand.

Stanchfield said he had been requested by the governor's atorneys to recall Ryan.

Vote to Retain Ryan's Testimony.

The court after an executive session lasting an hour voted to retain in the record the testimony of Allen A. Ryan regarding Governor Sulzer's alleged attempt to bring pressure to bear on Republican senators to vote that his impeachment was illegal.

Mr. Ryan was then recalled to the stand and asked what further conversation he had with the governor on the occasion of the latter's request that he see Root.

"I suggested to Mr. Sulzer that, now that certain charges had been made against him, I did not see that he could afford to put himself in a position in which he could not answer the charges. He said that the reason was that he did not want to drag his wife into the situation and put her on the stand.

"I told him I would not go to Washington, but I would try to ascertain the Republican sentiment on that question—whether the court had a right to impeach him."

"Is that all of the conversation?" asked Attorney Stanchfield.

"No, sir. He said that if they voted that the trial was not legal, he could make a public statement and explain the situation satisfactorily."

Got $10,000 From Ryans.

Governor Sulzer attempted to obtain the influence of United States Senator Elihu Root and of William Barnes, chairman of the Republican state committee to prevent the trial of his impeachment, according to testimony given by Allan A. Ryan, son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, a New York financier. It was also brought out through the testimony of Ignatius V. McGlone, secretary of the elder Ryan, that Governor Sulzer was the recipient of a $10,000 cash campaign contribution from the Ryans which was not reported in the governor's sworn campaign statement.

"Tell your father I am the same old Bill," young Mr. Ryan said the governor said to him over the telephone, in asking for the contribution.

Mr. Ryan was called to the stand after the attorneys for the impeachment managers had obtained permission to reopen their case, which they announced as complete when court adjourned last Thursday. The witness said that just a week before the trial of impeachment began he had seen Governor Sulzer in the latter's office in New York.

Asked to See Root.

"He asked me," testified the financier's son, "to go to Washington and see Senator Root and request him to see Mr. Barnes, get him to endeavor to have the Republican members of this body to vote that this court had no right to try him, and impeach him."

It was in the face of repeated objections by counsel for the defense, who several times halted him as he was about to answer that Mr. Ryan was permitted to tell of his transactions with the governor. Judge Cullen withheld final ruling on their objections. As soon as the testimony fell from his lips, counsel for Governor Sulzer conferred and Attorney D-Cady Herrick demanded that the testimony be stricken out on the grounds that it was incompetent.

"The testimony is stricken out," said Presiding Judge Cullen.

Senator Eton R. Brown, Republican leader in the senate, demanded a vote on the ruling of the presiding judge.

"With all due deference to the ruling of the president," said the senator, "I desire that this testimony be allowed to stand on the record."

The presiding judge was sustained by a vote of 32 to 15.

Edward P. Meany, attorney for the New York Telephone company, testified that he had "loaned" the governor $10,000 in cash within a week or ten days after his nomination. Meany said he had paid the contribution in cash because he did not wish it known for the "gift might be misconstrued." He added that the governor had promised to pay it back whenever he could.

Opens Sulzer's Defense.

The testimony preceded the opening of the case for the defense by Harvey D. Hinman, who compared Governor Sulzer to the Apostle Paul, whose former friends, the attorney said, "did not attempt to impeach him or his epistles because of what he done while acting with them, and while one of them."

"When, in the nineteenth century has a voice been raised to condemn Paul or his epistles for his acts as Saul?" asked Mr. Hinman.

The question was, he added, whether Governor Sulzer was impeached for corrupt conduct in office or "because of what he has refused to do since he took office."

Hinman charged counsel for the board of managers with using unfair tactics and making unwarranted insinuations throughout the trial.

"Although there is an entire lack of evidence in support of any one of these five articles of impeachment," he said, "it is equally true that this case, from the beginning, has been filled with insinuations which were not only unjustified and misleading, but which, of necessity, tended to befog and divert the attention of the court and public as well from the real issues."

The attorney then took up articles 1, 2 and 6, on which he indicated counsel for the governor would make their strongest fight. The charges brought in the articles and Hinman's answers follow in part:

Articles and Answers.

Article 1—That the governor made a false statement regarding his campaign expenses and thereby concealed certain contributions.

Sulzer "knowing the sentiment and feeling of the voters toward him," believed many of the gifts were intended for him personally, to be used in his campaign if needed, or to be applied to his personal expenses. Many of these contributions were handled by clerks and by Louis A. Sarecky, his campaign secretary, so that Sulzer had no personal knowledge of the gifts. Not until after the election did Sarecky learn that it would be necessary to make out a statement of expenditures, he having kept no account of all the expenditures, he had to depend on his memory regarding many of them. When he finally submitted the statement to the governor, he, without reading it, got Sarecky's assurance that it was "all right," and with no thought of falsifying, signed it and swore to its truthfulness.

Art. 2—That in swearing to the campaign statement, the governor committed perjury.

Nowhere does the law say that a candidate shall tell what money he receives during the campaign. Only a statement showing expenditures is demanded. None has questioned the governor's expenditures, therefore his affidavit meets every requirement of the law, and he is in no way guilty of perjury.

Art. 6—That in converting campaign contributions to his personal use, the governor was guilty of larceny.

Only the persons who contributed money to Sulzer could bring him into court on such a charge. Even the donor could only ask the return of the gift and then, if this were refused, only civil proceedings could be brought. No donor yet has asked the return of his gift. To urge the impeachment of a public officer because he did not use the money in aid of his election is so "unreasonable as to be almost ridiculous."

Gifts and Loans.

"During the campaign the respondent received donations, gifts and loans from many friends and acquaintances," said Mr. Hinman.

"The respondent received these gifts, making no effort to keep them separate from his own moneys or to apply them to any definite or specific purpose.

"Some of these gifts were deposited by the respondent in his bank account, where they have ever since remained. It was there that the Elkus and Morganthau checks were deposited. Some of these gifts were turned over by the respondent to Mr. Sarecky, and some were turned over to the respondent's wife.

"Some of the checks received by the respondent were finally used in payment of the purchase price of certain stocks bought of the firm of Boyer, Griswold & Co. It is claimed here that this stock was purchased of Boyer, Griswold & Co., secretly. This claim is made in the face of the fact that the checks used in payment to Boyer, Griswold & Co., of that stock were, with one or two exceptions, checks made to the order and indorsed in the name of the respondent, and one of them was the personal check of the respondent.

"Had there been any wrongful intent or purpose in connection with these transactions, it is certain that such checks would never have found their way into any brokerage house."

Questions Motives.

In closing, Hinman questioned the motive of the persons who brought the charges, intimating that the whole proceeding was the result of efforts the disgruntled politicians made to punish an enemy.

"The question must be, and is," he said, "was the respondent impeached because of 'mal and corrupt practices in offices,' for crimes and misdemeanors, or was he impeached because of what he refused to do since he took office?

"Were the proceedings instituted because of a desire to accomplish a public good, or was it for the purpose of getting rid of a public official who was performing his duty? Was he impeached, as they, for 'stealing' the moneys which his friends gave him, or was it because he was preventing grafters from stealing the moneys of the taxpayers? Was he impeached because, as they say, he made a false oath, or was it because he refused to violate his oath of office?

"These are some of the questions which the public are expecting this court to answer, and which this court, under the questions to be voted upon, will have to answer. Upon this answer, we believe, depends quite largely the future welfare and interests of the state.

"The time is surely coming—indeed it may be near at hand—when we, as people must demonstrate whether our form of government, with an almost unlimited elective franchise, can endure. We cannot escape the feeling that what is done here and now, may have a tremendous influence on the determination of that question."

ATROCITIES BY FEDERAL TROOPS

Man Dragged From Hospital After Operation and Executed.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 7.—A number of mining men who arrived today from the state of Durango assert that the Federal troops there have been acting with far more inhumanity than the rebels. They say that in pursuance of their instructions, the Federal soldiers kill all wounded rebels and that one man was dragged from a hospital immediately after one of his legs had been amputated, placed before a firing squad and executed.

In the coast country south of Vera Cruz, the Federal soldiers have been ordered not to take any prisoners and it is reported that this order is to be extended to the state of Vera Cruz today.

Rebel activity is reported to have greatly increased in the vicinity of Teziutlan in the state of Puebla, where an American mining concern has its headquarters. A force of rebels, who lately attacked the town and were repulsed, are said to have received fresh supplies of ammunition. From other portions of the same state minor uprisings are reported.

"THE COMMON LAW."

Popular Priced Production of Robert Chambers' Novel at Lyceum.

From the viewpoint of one who has read Robert W. Chamber's sensational creation, "The Common Law," the dramatization of that much talked-of novel put on by a well-meaning company at the Lyceum theater last evening, might or might not have been slightly disappointing. It depends entirely on what the play-goer expected. If one anticipated seeing all of the sensational situations which arise in the book, he or she was doomed to disappointment. Also if the play-goer expected a $2 production at popular price, he would have been disappointed.

The delicate situations which present themselves in the Chamber's novel are familiar to nearly all theater-goers and fiction readers. The infatuation which grows up between Louis Neville, a promising young artist, and his model, Valerie West, the timid blonde who figured she couldn't make an honest living any other way and who loved the atmosphere of an artist's circle, is brought before the audience in the real spirit of the writer. The text of the book is not followed and there are some diversions—though not important ones.

George Kelly, in the role of Louis Neville, the artist, shows ability. Virginia Berry, as Valerie West, the pretty model around whom the story centers, plays with a true understanding of her lines. Rence Noel, in the role of Rita Tevis, Valerie's helpmate, and Edwin C. Davies as Sam Ogilvy, who always wanted to "give a party," were very good, and other members of the company acceptable.

"The Common Law" will be at the Lyceum again tonight.

Amusement Notes.

When Carlo Fischer, associate manager of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, who appeared here yesterday in a program before the Matinee Musicale, came into the Orpheum theater at Minneapolis last week to hear Marie McFarland and Madam? it was only with the vague thought that Miss McFarland was the same whom he used to know in Atchison and subsequently in St. Joseph, Mo. After the performance Mr. Fischer went back and met the singer, having discovered to his pleasure that his impression was correct.

MADAM ?
With Marie McFarland at the Orpheum.

Miss McFarland is on this week's bill in Duluth.

"You have no idea what a pleasure it has given me to see Miss McFarland again after all these years. We were children together and used to live in adjoining houses. I have seen her father a number of times since I have grown up, but have never seen her since the old days in St. Joe. I find, too, that we have many friends in common in the musical world whom we have met since childhood." Miss McFarland was no less delighted than Mr. Fischer at the meeting.

"I was so glad that I sent father and mother a night letter telling them all about it. It does not surprise me at all that Mr. Fischer should have become so prominent in the musical world. His whole family was devoted to music. Of course, since I have been abroad for fourteen years I have lost sight of many old friends, but it is always a pleasure to meet them again."

Vaudeville is holding the boards at the Empress theater for the first half of this week. The headline act is White's Models. The four English setters and the English cobb, formerly owned by Harry K. Thaw, make an interesting group for the posing of famous hunting scenes. Everything is in white with a black background which sets off all poses with good effect. The animals are well trained and they do not move during the pictures. The comedy hit of the bill is provided by Mills and Moulton with their line of comedy and witty sayings. Their take-off on "Othello" is one huge scream from start to finish. Mr. Mills is an excellent comedian and has a pretty and capable partner in Miss Moulton. Bert and Lottie Walton with their act "Eccentricities," go through a good round of songs, talk and acrobatic dancing. They receive many encores. George Dawn, with his musical intruments, is taking care of the musical end of the program. His selections are many and well rendered. The photo plays are of the usual high standard established by the Empress management. The matinee tomorrow and for the balance of the week will start at about 3 p. m. This is due to the fact that the forepart of the afternoons will be taken up with the returns of the world series baseball games, which start at about 1 p. m. and finish at 3 o'clock.

King Baggot, the star of the Universal's Imp Stock company, who is appearing before the camera in a series of European historical pictures, under the direction of Herbert Brenon, has made a tremendous hit in England; he has been wined, dined and feted, by the leading celebrities in the theatrical world of the British metropolis, and the pictorials have carried his photograph in a variety of poses.

Miss Leah Baird, late of the Vitagraph company, is playing opposite Mr. Baggot in the pictures which Mr. Brenon is directing, but their supporting company is recruited entirely from British thespic ranks.

"Ivanhoe," adapted from the famous novel of the same name by Sir Walter Scott, in which these two actors appear, is now being seen at the Rex. No expense has been spared to make it a most thrillingly realistic spectacle. English museums have been ransacked to secure the costumes and armor of the period, and the scenes were enacted in the same historical spots in which the author located them.

SPELLS OF WEAK KIDNEYS READ AND SEE WHY

Some People Have Trouble With the Kidneys Every Autumn. They Become Frightened When the Symptoms Appear. There Is a Reason. It Can Be Avoided.

During the month of October the kidneys are especially liable to become deranged.

The perspiration that has been going on freely during the previous months is at least partially stopped during October. The skin and the kidneys are very similar in their action. They both eliminate from the blood, poisons. As is well known, the skin can act in place of the kidneys in a small degree, and vice versa. When one is affected the other is apt to be.

The sudden checking of perspiration during the month of October throws upon the kidneys the extra work of eliminating the blood poisons. This concentrates the poisons in the urine, which may set up an irritbale conditon in the kidneys. The concentrated acidity of the urine irritates the whole tract.

The crisp weather of October naturally increases the appetite. It requires some self control not to over eat during the first cold days. During the hot weather previously the amount of food consumed is much less than the appetite craves during October. This also tends to produce irritation of the kidneys by the excess of material in the blood.

Peruna is a gentle diuretic. It assists the kidneys in meeting the extra burden thrown upon them through October weather. It is well to take it, according to the directions on the bottle, during the whole month.

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

CHURCHS FERRY MAN SEEKS STATE OFFICE.

Churchs Ferry, N. D., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bernt Anderson of this city, an eight times member of the state legislature, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for commissioner of agriculture and labor. For some time Mr. Anderson has been talked of as a possible candidate, and it is now understood that he has definitely decided to enter the race.

W. C. Gilbreath, the present commissioner, is said to have determined upon retirement from the position at the conclusion of his present term.

Mr. Anderson is very well known throughout the state. He was a candidate for the speakership of the house in the last assembly, and had a big following during the early part of the conflict.

NEW PASTOR OF FIRST M. E. CHURCH WILL ARRIVE WEDNESDAY

Members of His Former Congregation Regret His Departure, But Are Pleased at Duluth's "Honorable Methods."

Rev. Dr. John W. Hoffman, the new pastor of the First Methodist church, will arrive in Duluth tomorrow from Crafton, Pa., to take up his new charge. He will meet his new parishioners for the first time, officially, on Thursday night at prayer meeting at the church, and it is expected that the attendance that evening will be large.

Crafton evidently likes the open and above-board methods that Duluth employed to take its pastor to this point, for in a set of resolutions adopted by the congregation of the First Methodist church of Crafton, passed a week ago today, the following clause was appended to the section regarding the disposal of the copies of the resolutions:

"Also that a copy of same be sent to official board at Duluth, in appreciation of the honorable method used by them in presenting their invitation to Dr. Hoffman."

The resolutions mentioned, which are highly complimentary to Dr. Hoffman, are as follows:

"Whereas, Rev. John W. Hoffman has requested this board to permit him to accept a call to the First Methodist Episcopal church of Duluth as a field of greater opportunity in the service of the Master,

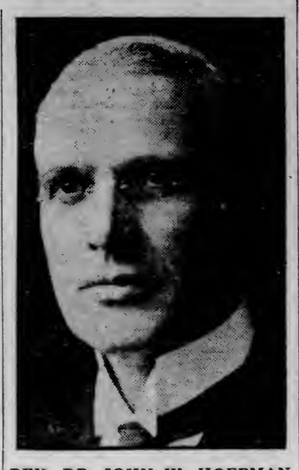

"And whereas, This board has consented to grant the request,

"Therefore, in the love and esteem which we have for Brother Hoffman,

"Be it resolved by the official board of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Crafton, Pa., that we express to him the feeling of loss that we sustain in the severance of the relationship that has bound us as co-workers and friends, during the seven years of consecrated service he has given us as a church and people,

"And be it also resolved, That we wish him God speed, and pray that he may have the hearty, sympathetic support in his new field that he is assured in Crafton, Pa.,

"And be it further resolved, That these resolutions be engrossed, signed by the members of the official board, and presented to Brother Hoffman, and that a copy of same be spread on the minutes of the meetings of the official board; also that a copy of same be sent the official board at Duluth, in appreciation of the honorable method used by them in presenting their invitation to Dr. Hoffman."

FIRST SKIRMISH IN FRANCHISE FIGHT IN FEDERAL COURT

Arguments on Injunction Proceedings Submitted to Judge Amidon.

Formidable Array of Legal Talent on Each Side.

The first skirmish in the legal fight of the city of Duluth against the Duluth Street Railway company to attempt to prove the latter's franchise invalid, is on in Federal court today before Judge Amidon of Fargo, and the arguments are expected to take up all of today and perhaps a part of tomorrow.

In this hearing, which began this morning, the real question at issue does not appear. It is purely on a matter of jurisdiction and comes up on a bill filed by the Central Trust Company of New York against the city of Duluth, asking that the latter be permanently enjoined from bringing suit against the street railway company to test its franchise. Some months ago, when the bill was first filed, Judge Morris issued a temporary injunction, which was later dissolved on consent of all parties, the matter being left until arguments for a permanent injunction could be presented; and that is what is up at this time.

Present in court this morning was quite a formidable battery of legal counsel for and against the city. Appearing for the city were Frank B. Kellogg, member of the firm of Davis, Kellogg & Severance of St. Paul, R. E. Olds of the same firm, Francis W. Sullivan of Duluth and City Attorney Harvey Clapp. Opposed were Oscar Mitchell of the Duluth firm of Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell, Henry B. Greene of Duluth and T. H. Thygeson of Minneapolis, general counsel for the Twin City Rapid Transit company. Sitting on the sidelines, as it were, was John C. Nethaway, assistant attorney general of Minnesota. Mr. Nethaway says that he is here merely as a spectator and to observe the outcome and arguments for the suit of the state, ex rel, against the street railway company, which is to be conducted from the attorney general's office, will have many of the same points as those brought up in the present arguments.

Had Read Pleadings.

When court opened shortly after 10 o'clock this morning, Judge Amidon announced that while coming over from Fargo in the train he had read the pleadings in the case, so was quite familiar with the matter and could, therefore, save time for the attorneys. Two of the points which the court expressed it as his belief must come up for decision are: Has the complainant such an interest in the property of the street railway as to be able to maintain a suit to quiet title? and is the street railway company an indispensable party in this suit?

Attorneys for both sides admitted that these were points which must be met in the argument. By agreement the defense was permitted to present the initial argument and it was made by Mr. Olds. He filed a motion for dismissal of the whole bill, which, while in general is based on the contention that the court has no jurisdiction in the matter, and gives the following reasons for the motion:

"That the said complaint is fatally defective in failing to name and join as a party complainant the Duluth Street Railway company.

"That the said bill of complaint does not state a cause of action of equitable cognizance within the jurisdiction of said court.

"That this suit is not one arising under the constitution of the United States.

"That this suit is not a controversy between citizens of different states.

"That the subject matter of said suit, to wit, the validity of the franchise claimed by the complainant on behalf of the Duluth Street Railway company cannot be adjudicated in this proceeding."

During the course of his argument Mr. Olds said that there is no allegation of an action on the part of the city, or an attempt to give rights to others that would conflict with those of the street railway company; and that the whole case is brought to enjoin a single threatened suit, the city council having given its attorney power to employ other counsel to assist in such a proposed suit. Mr. Olds spent the entire morning reading authorities in support of his contentions, and court took a recess at 12:30 until 2 o'clock this afternoon, without his having finished his argument.

SPAIN MAY AGAIN BECOME GREAT POWER.

Madrid, Oct. 7.—President Raymond Poincare of France, arrived here today on a three day's visit to king Alfonso of Spain, which it is believed will result in an agreement between the two countries and bring about the re-entry of Spain into European politics as one of the great powers after a century's occupation of a minor position.

The king met the president at the railroad station where they embraced and then proceeded to the royal palace amid hearty cheers from a vast crowd.

FREE LECTURES ON PHILOSOPHY

The Duluth Theosophical society is preparing for the coming of L. W. Rogers of New York, national lecturer of the society, who will give a course of free lectures next week in the Unitarian church, First street and Eighteenth avenue east.

An outline of the course to be given shows that it will present the fundamental points of the philosophy in simple terms. Among the themes to be discussed are reincarnation, dreams, premonitions, clairvoyance, the conditions of life after bodily death, thought power, the part played by misfortune in the evolution of higher faculties and the application of occult knowledge to the affairs of daily life.

On Sunday evening Mr. Rogers will open the course with "Do We Survive Bodily Death?" and will give his audience a description of the experiments of Sir William Crookes, and other scientists, in which they claim to have scientifically demonstrated that death does not destroy consciousness. Other subjects to follow are: "The Invisible World," "Reincarnation," "Thought Power and Karma," "Delusions About Death," "Visible and Invisible Evolution" and "The Evolution of the Soul," the latter lecture closing the course on Saturday evening.

OBITUARY

Robert Alexander Kirk, a member of the wholesale firm of Farwell, Ozman, Kirk & Co. of St. Paul, died Oct. 5 at his home at 445 Laurel avenue, St. Paul, after a lingering illness. Mr. Kirk was 76 years old, and for more than thirty years had been actively engaged in commercial and philanthropic work in St. Paul. He was vice president of the board of directors of Macalester college. Mr. Kirk was one of the best known business men of St. Paul and was a veteran of the Civil war, serving in the 103rd Ohio volunteers.

Dr. J. S. Cumming, pastor of the Second Methodist church and the oldest clergyman in both years and service in the Central Illinois conference, died at Moline, Ill., Oct. 6. He was born in Abingdon, Va., in 1832, and was the son of Rev. W. C. Cumming, who brought his family to Illinois in 1836.

The Rev. Patrick Augustine Sheehan, D. D., essayist and lecturer, and cannon of Cleoyne, Ireland, since 1903, died Oct. 6. He was born in Mallow, County Cork, March 17, 1852.

UNIVERSITY LECTURES FOR DULUTH TEACHERS

At the teachers' meeting next Saturday, Dr. Raymond Phelan, upon the invitation of Supt. R. E. Denfeld, will outline a special plan of university extension lectures for the Duluth teachers.

The university offers the teachers a course of sixteen lectures. If 240 teachers accept this offer, the cost to each teacher will be only $1. If only 100 agree to attend the lectures th cost of each teacher will be $2.40. Under this plan any number of teachers up to forty-eight may, if they choose, work for university credit. Dr. Phelan says that teachers may receive from the university lectures not only an impetus that will be valuable to them personally, but they can get from the course much information and many suggestions that will help them to keep their teaching close to the life of their pupils. The teachers of Minneapolis have already arranged for a course of lectures on "Social Economics," and the three teachers' associations in St. Paul intend to take up this plan for co-operation with the state university.

GIVEN HIS OFFICIAL DISCHARGE FROM PRISON

John Hadukovich of Chisholm was this morning given an official discharge from Leavenworth prison by Thomas H. Fressnell, United States commissioner of the Eighth Minnesota district.

Hadukovich was arrested at Milwaukee two years ago on a charge of counterfeiting and was sentenced to serve a term of five years in the Federal prison at Leavenworth and also pay a fine of $100. Sentence was then suspended on condition that the prisoner pay the fine. He was also placed on parole for five years.

Because he was unable to pay the $100 fine, Hadukovich was sent to Leavenworth for thirty days. He was released July 17, 1912, but was not given his official discharge until this morning.

EXPECT HEAVY TOURIST TRAVEL.

George Lovell, traveling passenger agent of the Wabash, who has been making the Head of the Lakes passenger territory for years, and who is in the city today, declared that passenger business on all of the Western lines is very good and that the prospects for winter travel were the best in years.

"Generally speaking the travel on all of the lines west of the Alleghenies is very good," said Mr. Lovell. "Railroad passenger men all over the country look for one of the best tourist seasons in years. The exodus to California, all of the Gulf states resorts, and to Florida is expected to be very heavy."

Lansing, Iowa, Oct. 7.—Although he had numerous relatives who came from far and near to attend his funeral, one of the largest ever held in this village, Herman Scherholz, well-to-do resident, left his property to the village of Lansing in his will filed for probate today. No value is officially placed on the estate, but as it consists mainly of a farm within the corporate limits it is estimated by delighted citizens to run well into the thousands. The village has not yet decided what to do with the bequest.

HUNDRED THOUSAND VISITORS AT ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—The first business session of the seventh annual convention of the National German-American alliance opened here today. Tonight the convention will adjourn to give the delegates an opportunity to attend the Veiled Prophet's festivities. The coincidence of the annual fall festivities, the German convention and the centennial celebration commemorating the liberty of the Germans from the rule of Napoleon gained at the battle of Leipsig, has brought almost 100,000 visitors to the city.

The grand ball at which the Veiled Prophet will preside tonight will be preceded by a street pageant in which electrical floats will depict the seven ages of man.

HUERTA GETS READY FOR THE ELECTIONS.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The latest shakeup in the Mexican cabinet, the third in a few months, is interpreted by officials here as a move by Huerta to put his official household in order for the coming presidential elections. The rearrangement is understood to have been made with a view in the placing each of the cabinet officers in position where his peculiar talents might be of the greatest service from a party point of view.

Johnson Buried at Cloquet.

Cloquet, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Johnson of Scanlon died Sunday and the remains were brought to Cloquet for burial at the Swedish Baptist church, Tuesday afternoon. The deceased was 78 years old and at one time lived in Cloquet. He is well known here. A daughter, Mrs. Swan Gustafson lives at Scanlon, and a son, Emil Johnson also resides at Scanlon. Another son is living on the range.

New Wakefield Priest.

Ironwood, Mich., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Father Koplec of Ironwood has been assigned as pastor of the Catholic church at Wakefield, filling the vacancy made by the transfer of Rev. Father J. J. Stenglein to Palatka, Mich. Father Stenglein has moved his household to the new parish.

"Joker" in Kahn Bill.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Discovery of a "joker" that might cost American manufacturers millions of dollars in the Kahn bill, recently passed by congress to protect patents on foreign exhibits at the Panama-Pacific exposition, has caused the state department to withhold formal notification of the enactment of the law pending an effort to have it amended.

Shot by Robber.

Roch Island, Ill., Oct. 7.—The body of Basiel Martins, victim of the second murder here within a week, was found on the prairie yesterday. He was taking home with him the proceeds of the sale of a load of hogs, and is believed to have been waylaid by a robber who shot him to death and escaped with the money.

Executed by Mexicans.

Nogales, Ariz., Oct. 7.—Gabriel F. Mendoza, a Mexican, but a resident of Nogales, Ariz., who was arrested on the Mexican side of the border, was executed here yesterday. The Nogales authorities said they had found on Mendoza's person letters showing he had conspired against the Constitutionalists.

NOSE AND HEAD STOPPED UP FROM COLD OR CATARRH, OPEN AT ONCE

My Cleansing, Healing Balm Instantly Clears Nose, Head and Throat—Stops Nasty Catarrhal Discharges. Dull Headache Goes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

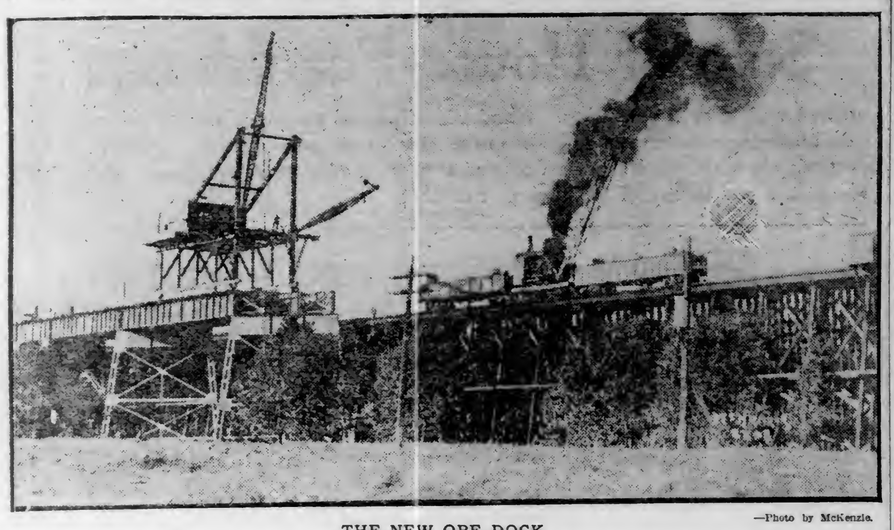

Don't lay awake to-night, struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

NEWS OF THE WEST END

HERALD BRANCH:— HERMAN OLSON, Manager, 1823 West Superior Street.

THE LARGEST DOCK ASSUMING FORM

THE NEW ORE DOCK.

The steel bridge approach to the largest steel dock in the world, being constructed at a cost of nearly $3,000,000 by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad at Thirty-fourth avenue west, is rapidly assuming shape. Large traveling cranes are stringing up the steel at the rate of a span each day.

The contractors have already put up the steel to a point half way between Third and Superior streets. At the rate at which the steel is being put up, it is believed that the bridge will be completed to the water front before Nov. 30.

The larger of the two cranes being used in the construction work places the heavy beams, some of which weigh fifteen tons, in place, while the smaller crane is used in moving the lighter pieces of steel from the cars to points of advantage on the ground near the points where they are to be used.

In addition to the rapid work being done on the construction of the bridge, work on the dock is being pushed. The concrete crib work and foundation for the dock is almost completed, and on the shore end the steel frame work for the pockets is already started.

The dock, which will be known as No. 5, will be the largest in the world. It will have 385 pockets, each with a storage capacity for 300 tons. From it six boats will be able to load ore at one time, each 7,000-ton steamer being able to load within a space of two hours. The dock is to be ready for operation at the opening of navigation in 1914.

SPAA CLUB BRANCHES OUT

Rents Room for Activities and Outlines Big Winter Program.

Social, Athletic and Educational Work Will Make Busy Season.

The elements will not interfere with the activities of the Spaa Club of the Second Presbyterian church this winter. The club will continue to hold its sessions, social, athletic and otherwise.

The club yesterday completed arrangements for using the vacant store building on the lower side of Superior street, just west of Garfield avenue, for its activities. This building was formerly used by a branch of the Salvation Army, and will be converted into a first-class gymnasium and clubroom.

Form Social Center.

The place will be known as "The Second Presbyterian Social Center," and will be operated under the auspices of the Spaa club. Every form of healthful and innocent indoor game will prosper within the place, according to present plans.

Since the organization of the Spaa club this summer it has grown from a membership of less than a score to nearly three score. A large crowd of the young people last night spent considerable time in cleaning up the building in order to get it ready for occupancy. It is proposed to place all the apparatus at the disposal of the club into the building and to get considerable more to fit up the building. The room provides a space as large as that formerly occupied by the Y. M. C. A. when it was situated on East Superior street.

Rev. J. A. McGaughey, pastor of the church, who has been a moving spirit in the Spaa club, stated this morning that the work of the club was a great stimulant in the upbuilding of the church. Of the 150 members who had joined the church since he took hold of the congregation two years ago, 87 were young people.

To Entertain the Young.

"It is up to the church to provide some form of amusement for these young people," said Rev. Mr. McGaughey. "A social center where the young people can enjoy themselves in a healthful manner at athletic sports and other forms of amusement is necessary. Arrangements will be made so that the various clubs can meet on different nights. Classes in athletics and games will be arranged for each meeting."

The Spaa club is now composed of several smaller clubs, one of which is composed of the married folk, others of older boys, younger boys, and young women and girls.

THIRTY-ONE WILL GO TO NORWAY

Most of Normanna Chorus Will Attend Independence Celebration.

Thirty-two members of the Normanna Male chorus will take the trip to Norway next year to take part in the centennial celebration of Norway's independence, according to their announcement at the opening night of the society's bazar at the Woodmen hall last night. The society has forty-two members and it is probable that some of the other eleven members will also decide to take the trip before the singers leave next spring.

Those who are going are: George Thrana, president; Alfred Christopherson, Bert Eldegaard, Otto Hammer, Olaf J. Hanson, Sverre Haug, Haakon Haugen, Sander Jentoft, J. A. Johnson, Harold Kjelman, Helmer Sorentzen, A. J. Meyer, Jens Morkued, Ludo E. Nagel, Hans Nordby, Gunnar Okstad, John Rathe, Birger Sande, Carl A. Schulz, Jens Solem, Joseph Solem, Louis Solem, Jacob Stensholt, Daniel Stoen, Olaf Sandfor, Gust odahl, Anton H. Tesdahl, John Thorgeson, Hans Thorstad, D. J. Wick and A. Hanson.

The other members, some of whom may announce their decision later, are: Fred A. Hanson, Lars Hennung, Anders Jerstad, Ingwald Jonasson, John Klefstad, Rudolph P. Morch, Martin Rockman, Aksel Ruskey, John Simonson and Sevrin Thoresen.

A large crowd attended the opening of the bazar last night in spite of the threatening weather. The hall has been arranged to represent a Norwegian village, the booths representing cottages in the "Fatherland." A pleasing program of songs, given by the chorus and solo selections by the members as well as humorous recitations and instrumental numbers, was given.

Another Adams Party.

The Adams Athletic association will give another of its series of dancing parties at the Lincoln Park pavilion this evening. Only a few more of these parties will be held by the association this fall. The dances given by the organization have proved popular and have been attended by a large number of young people of the city. Flaaten's orchestra will furnish the music.

NIGHT SCHOOL OPENS.

Small Attendance Due to Bad Weather and Lack of Publicity.

Night school opened last evening at the Munroe school, Twenty-sixth avenue west and First street with only six scholars. The small attendance on the opening night is believed to have been caused by the bad weather as well as the small amount of publicity given the opening.

English courses will be given for foreigners and work in sixth, seventh and eighth grade work will be taught. The classes will meet twice each week, on Monday and Wednesday nights.

CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL.

Duluth Homestead of Yeomen Making Ready for Oct. 20.

Final plans were completed last night for the "Children's Festival" to be held on Oct. 20 at the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and Third street, at the meeting of Duluth homestead, No. 3131, Brotherhood of American Yeomen. A program in which about forty children will take part has been outlined.

The children taking part are those of members of the order. Various parts will be put on by the children, such as musical numbers, recitations and drills by classes.

Two prizes will be awarded to those whose performances are considered best. One of these is donated by the supreme office of the lodge and the other by the local homestead. The program for the evening will be arranged within another week.

A class of candidates was also initiated at the meeting last night.

West End Briefs.

The Fifth Ward Improvement club will meet this evening at the Emerson school, Eleventh avenue west and Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Heglund, 2709 West Second street, have gone to Minneapolis, where they will spend a week visiting relatives. They will later visit in Fergus Falls and other cities in the western part of the state before returning home.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Grace Methodist church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Cumming, 5323 Wyoming avenue. Plans will be made for the annual supper and sale to be held in November.

Mrs. Louis Zenner and Mrs. William Spranger have returned to their home in Houghton, Mich., after spending three weeks visiting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Fisher, 220 North Twenty-second avenue west.

Mrs. E. Gibeau of Mesaba, Minn., is a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Frink, 2819 West Third street. Miss Georgina Gibeau is also a guest at the home of her sister.

HELD AS HOSTAGE.

Miner Says Strikers Have His Brother in Captivity.

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 7.—Officers are investigating the story of Eris Karas, a fireman at the Tabasco mine, who reported that a band of coal mine strikers are holding his brother as a hostage under threat of death, to insure his own return to captivity.

Karas returned to Tabasco yesterday afternoon and told Mine Supt. O'Neill that he had and his brother had been held up by armed strikers, dragged from the buggy in which they were driving to Ludlow, beaten and threatened with death if they did not join the strikers. Then, according to the Greek's story, they were taken to the camp of the striking miners at Ludlow and held prisoners over night. Karas said he had been allowed to return to Tabasco for his trunk on promise that he would return to the strikers' camp.

DEADLOCK IN DUBLIN STRIKE COMPLETE.

Dublin, Ireland, Oct. 7.—The deadlock between the employers and the striking transport workers here, is complete and there seems to be no prospect of an immediate settlement of the dispute.

Sir George Asquith, the official "strike-breaker," and his fellow commissioners of the board of trade submitted to both sides a set of proposals to form the basis of direct negotiations between the disputants. These proposals were accepted by the men, but the employers refused to agree.

WILL BUILD NEW SCHOOLS

Supt. Young to Advertise for Bids for Unorganized Districts.

Three Structures Will Be Erected—Seven New Teachers Employed.

N. A. Young, county superintendent of schools, will advertise for bids on the construction of three new school buildings to be erected in the unorganized district this fall, as a result of action taken last evening at the meeting of the county board of education. School No. 40, a two-room structure, will be erected on the road leading from Tower to Virginia at a cost of $4,000. School No. 11 in 69-26, and School No. 59, twelve miles northwest of Cook, will be one-room affairs and will cost $1,600 apiece. A new school will be opened in section 34, 52-12, for the next five months.

Seven new teachers were selected by the board, as follows: Esther E. Phillips of Northfield, Minn., at School No. 46; Bessie F. Stage of Minneapolis, School No. 38; Esther Harris of Ely, School No. 36; Mary E. Elden of Northfield, School No. 45; K. E. Forsell of Lake Dinham, School No. 47; Ethel J. Post of South Range, Wis., lower grade, School No. 44, and Bessie Tonkin of Ely, upper grade, School No. 44.

Miss Anna Flebiger was selected as a stock room clerk for the office of the superintendent. Bills for school supplies to cost $8,600 and a teachers' payroll of $3,132.50 were allowed by the board.

TEACHERS WILL GO TO CONVENTION

Two Days' Leave of Absence Granted for Minneapolis Meeting.

Teachers in the Duluth public schools will be granted a two-days' leave of absence so that they may attend the Minnesota Educational association meeting in Minneapolis, Oct. 22 to 25 inclusive.

Up to this time only one day's leave has been given, but teachers say that two days are necessary to make the trip and attend the meeting. Other instructors will be in charge of the work of the absentees so that the work will go on as usual.

PRINTER'S ESTATE IN PROBATE COURT

G. A. Bergstrom's Will Is Declared Inoperative By Court.

Judge Gilpin in probate court yesterday afternoon allowed final accounting in the estate of Gustav A. Bergstrom, well known Duluth printer, who died several months ago leaving an estate of about $7,000.

Bergstrom, before he married, executed a will in which he left all of his property to his two sisters. The will was declared inoperative by the court because it was made prior to the marriage.

Arthur P. Mandelin, as administrator, petitioned the court yesterday for final settlement in the estate of Juhan Matinprika Homalainen, consisting of $8,000, the greater portion of which was received in settlement of a claim for wrongful death. Homalainen was killed March 26, 1912, while working in one of the Shenango Furnace company's mines near Chisholm.

ANOTHER SHAKE-UP IN HUERTA'S CABINET.

Mexico City, Oct. 7.—Another general shake-up in the Huerta cabinet has resulted in a complete change of the ministry with the exception of the war portfolio. The cabinet, as it is now constituted, follows:

Minister of foreign relations, Querida Moheno, recently appointed subsecretary in that department.

Minister of interior, Manuel Garza Aldape, recently foreign minister, and later minister of public instruction.

Minister of war, Gen. Auerliano Blanquet, retains portfolio.

WOMAN ARRESTED FOR MURDER OF HUSBAND.

Freedom, N. H., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Bessie Shackford, aged 29, was arrested yesterday charged with the murder of her husband, Edward Shackford, aged 35, at their home on the night of Sept. 30.

Shackford was shot as he lay asleep in the room which was also occupied by his wife and some of their children. In reporting her husband's death, Mrs. Shackford said that the shooting had been done by masked men, who had drugged her and then robbed the house.

Export Duty Imposed.

Nogales, Ariz., Oct. 7.—The American beef consumer will not procure meat more cheaply because of the new tariff, if the Sonora Constitutionalist government can prevent it. An export duty equal to the former import duty collected by the United States customs department, was imposed yesterday by officials of the insurgent state.

NORTH DAKOTA CLUB WOMEN INCORPORATE.

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because of the creation of its endowment fund, the North Dakota Federation of Women's Clubs has been incorporated under the state laws, Secretary Thomas Hall issuing a charter Saturday.

The incorporators are: Miss Minnie J. Neilson, Valley City; Mrs. C. H. Anheir, Mrs. H. L. Bolley, Mrs. N. C. Young, Mrs. R. M. Pollock, Mrs. J. H. Sheppard, Mrs. M. A. Hildreth, Mrs. G. H. Hollister, Mrs. C. F. Amidon, Mrs. W. L. Stockwell, Fargo; Mrs. S. A. Zimmerman, Mrs. H. A. Presler, Mrs. Frank White, Miss Fanny C. Amidon, Mrs. George McFarland, Valley City; Mrs. W. F. Cushing, Mrs. E. B. Goss, Mrs. Ed. Taylor, Mrs. M. C. Budiong, Bismarck.

The endowment fund proposed by the federation is $5,000.

DR. FORBES ILL.

Attempt to Visit Twenty-One Conferences Too Much for Him.

Rev. Robert Forbes, D. D., formerly one of Duluth's most popular ministers, but now head of the board of church extension of the Methodist Episcopal church at Philadelphia, is at the McKay hotel suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Rev. Mr. Forbes was taken ill while at the Methodist conference at Detroit. He is accompanied by his wife.

An assignment to cover twenty-one conferences this fall caused the breakdown. Dr. Forbes was attending the nineteenth and had but two more to visit, when he collapsed and was brought to Duluth for a rest.

VILLAGE DESTROYED BY AN EARTHQUAKE.

Panama, Oct. 7.—The village of Tomosi in the western part of the republic, according to unconfirmed reports, was totally destroyed by an earthquake on Saturday. Shocks were felt both here and at Colon the same day. Tomosi has a population of 300 persons. There is no mention of any loss of life. The village consisted mostly of native shacks.

Disciples of Christ.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 7.—The Disciples of Christ last night concluded their annual convention. It was decided to use the budget idea in raising and apportioning money for the various departments. In accordance with this plan, the budget for the next year will amount to $600,000, which will be apportioned among the states, and by the state boards to the individual churches. The 1914 convention will be held in Atlanta, Ga.

DULUTH OFFICE IS IN THE LEAD

Employment Bureau Gives Work to 875 During Month.

In a summary of the work done by public employment offices for the month dating to Sept. 30, showing the number of persons given employment at Duluth, St. Paul and Minneapolis, the Duluth office according to the population drawn from, is far in the lead. Almost as many persons were employed in Duluth as in either of the larger cities.

The total number of women given employment by the Duluth office was: Skilled, 16; semi-skilled, 21; unskilled, 521; total, 588. For men the number was: Skilled, 31; semi-skilled, 91; unskilled, 763; total, 875; total men and women, 1,463.

The total number of men and women employed by the St. Paul office was 1,554; Minneapolis, 2,919.

The total number of women securing employment in all three offices was 2,414; men, 3,522; total men and women, 5,936.

The total cost for each situation found, follows: Duluith, $00.1845; St. Paul, $00.1499; Minneapolis, $00.1274; average cost, $00.1539.

THREE NIGHT SCHOOLS OPEN

Instruction Given at Central, Monroe and Irving Schools.

Night school sessions, which have been maintained in the Duluth schools for several years past, began last night. Instruction is now given at the Central high school, and at the Monroe and Irving schools. The work is under the direction of Supt. Denfeld.

The Central opened a class for foreigners and also for students of the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth grades for boys who have work permits relieving them from the necessity of attending day sessions. The work at the Irving and Monroe schools will be open to all and the instruction will be in the common branches and those most useful for practical purposes.

Do Your Dollars Fly up the Flue?

Coal costs money. You know it. The winter's coal costs BIG money. You know that also. Yet, half of it is wasted by poor management. Oh, yes it is! Listen and be convinced.

Ordinary soft coal is half gas. An average ton of $3.00 coal contains about 14,000 cubic feet of gas—common illuminating gas. A gas which will, if properly mixed with air, burn with an intensely hot blue flame. This gas represents the best half of your ton of coal.

This unburned gas and a large portion of the heat IS CARRIED UP THE CHIMNEY by the air leaking cracks in stoves of ORDINARY construction.

There is only one way to save this wasted gas and heat and that is with a

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

which is so constructed that it has no air leaking cracks. In this wonderful heater and fuel-saver the gas is kept under perfect control until oxidized and burned.

It is the only stove that is made tight—holds tight—stays tight.

It is the only stove that saves the wasted chimney heat.

It's the only stove that gives you a constant, steady heat with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.

It will give you all the heat that is in your coal.

It will hold your fire 36 hours without attention.

It will burn all kinds of fuel.

It is guaranteed to consume one-third less fuel than any lower draft stove of the same size, using soft coal, lignite or slack.

AND—It is sold you under a guarantee to fill all these claims.

Back of this guarantee is the credit and capital of an immense factory and it is worth to you 100 cents on the dollar.

COME IN AND SEE IT. IT MEANS DOLLARS IN YOUR POCKET AND A PLEASED CUSTOMER FOR US.

when the results were marvelous. Mr. Fred O. Smith desires his letter be given the widest publicity so that others may be restored to perfect health as he has been.

"I suffered for five years with a very bad form of bowel trouble and could get but slight temporary relief. I was induced by a friend to try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. The result was marvelous.

"I am feeling fine and trust many more may use your splendid product and be restored to health again, as I have.

"I hope you will give this letter the widest publicity so others having a similar trouble may find relief as I have, for it is the remedy I had long sought."

MR. FRED O. SMITH.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If every man and women in the United States would only appreciate what this great family medicine does toward building up the system, much of the illness would be avoided. When people get sick they blame different causes, but if they would only stop and think, the chief cause is the system is allowed to run down; the blood becomes thin, the digestive organs are not strong enough to do their work properly, the tissues become weakened, the kidneys are unable to carry off the waste matter. The result is pains, aches and all kinds of troubles. Just give your system a chance; build it up by taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as directed; it will build new tissue, by helping the stomach to digest the food, strengthen the heart action, enrich the blood and invigorate the body, brain and nerves.

ABSOLUTELY PURE & UNADULTERATED TRADE MARK

Woman's Realm

The audience which went to hear the opening program of the Matinee Musicale at "president's day," yesterday afternoon, completely filled the auditorium of the Masonic temple, the new meeting place of the society for the year.

Mrs. John A. Stephenson, the new president of the club, gave her address saying that what the National Federation of Musical Clubs is to the country, she hoped the Matinee Musicale will be to Duluth, a factor in the uplift in music throughout the city. She expressed her hope that the members of the club will fight earnestly against the coarse songs and cheap music and will do active work all of the time to encourage the study and the appreciation of music.

She said that one of her hopes is that the Matinee Musicale may offer scholarships for music courses for deserving students and she also urged Duluth composers to work on music for an opera to be entered in the contest which the National Federation will hold in 1915 at the San Francisco exposition.

She spoke of the biennial federation meeting held at Chicago last spring and of the inspiration derived from it with Minnesota ranking second in the point of membership.

The most discriminating of music lovers found nothing to criticize in the program which followed her talk, Carlo Fischer of Minneapolis, being the visiting artist on the program. Mr. Fischer prefaced his playing with a short talk about the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra and its work and told of the children's concerts given there.

The Program.

In the conception of the Rachmaninoff Sonata for piano and cello, the opening number, Miss Ruth Rogers, pianist, and Carlo Fischer, cellist, proved themselves in perfect sympathy throughout. The andante number, repeated for an encore, was the most charming of the three movements. In its colorful passage, Mr. Fischer revealed a magnificent show of temperament and it was here also that Miss Rogers was at her best, playing her solo passages with a display of a variety of tonal effect and entire comprehension of pedal treatment.

Mr. Fischer's group of solo numbers, which closed the program, were given with a smoothness and richness of tone and artistic phrasing which characterize his work and his own enjoyment in his playing found deflection in added enjoyment on the part of the audience. Two favorites, Saint-Saens "The Swan" and the Popper "Gavotte, No. 2," were given with exquisite taste and proved excellent foiles for each other. Miss Rogers here showed her versatility as a pianist in the liquidity and delicacy of the orchestral effects and made her instrument a perfect background for the soloist.

Mary Syer Bradshaw, whose unaffected charm of manner and voice of velvety smoothness assure her always of a warm welcome, sang a group of songs which were equally enjoyed with the instrumental numbers. A group of Sidney Homer songs, "Requiem," "Dearest" and "A Banjo Song" were well received and she repeated the last named in response to an insistant demand. The Costello "Sehnsucht," with its low harp melody, expressed to best advantage the intensity of resonance of her tones. Her most ambitious number was "I Send My Heart Unto Thee," by Mrs. H. H. A. Beach.

Miss Carlotta Simonds accompanied her admirably with full understanding of displaying the singer to the best advantage.

The members of the club and their guests, invited for the afternoon, felt that the program was a most auspicious opening for the year's work.

SEEKING HUSBAND FOR CZAR'S DAUGHTER

GRAND DUCHESS TATIANA.

Now that their eldest daughter, Olga, has been married, the czar and czarina are looking for a fitting match for their second daughter, Tatiana. She is a little more than 16 years of age so she will probably not marry for two years. When her husband is chosen it will be with a view to political advantage to the Russian government.

LADIES' NIGHT.

Commercial Club Plans Social Evening.

The first of the series of "ladies' nights" at the Commercial club for this season will be held there next Tuesday evening, Oct. 14. Plans are now being made for the affair by a committee consisting of Mrs. John Macgregor, Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury, Mrs. Hans Haroldson, Miss Marjorie Ferguson and Miss Lucille Bradley. Invitations will be sent out this week to members.

Miss Margaret Culkin spoke on "The Democracy of the Social Center."

Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Thomas Gibson, Mrs. A. R. Macfarlane, Mrs. J. L. Washburn, Mrs. M. V. Salter, Mrs. W. A. McGonagle and Mrs. J. R. Quigley, Sr.

Milner-De Golia.

Duluthians will be interested in the following announcement of the marriage of Miss Ruth Milner, daughter of Mrs. A. J. Milner, formerly residents of Hunter's Park, who left here a few years ago and who have been living in the West:

"Los Gatos, Cal., Sept. 27.—The beautiful home of J. A. Casa was the scene of a pretty wedding this evening, when Miss Ruth Milner of Duluth, Minn., was united in marriage with Harold De Golia of Oakland, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Henry H. Winter, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city. Miss Milner is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Case and Mr. Case gave the bride away. Miss Dorothy Harwood was maid of honor and Raymond Yelland was best man. The bridesmaids were Miss Sue Bell and Miss Alice Moore. Messrs. Robert Yelland and Ray Kearney officiated as groomsmen. Donald Case and Mary Balch were flower children and Miss Yvonne De Golia was ringbearer.

"The bride's gown was of handsome white brocade poplin, with point lace and pearl trimmings, with a long bridal veil, caught up with a bunch of lilies of the valley. She also carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid of honor was robed in a brocaded yellow satin, with chiffon and white brilliants for trimming. The bridesmaids wore pink brocaded satin, with white lace trimming.

"Among the guests present were: Mrs. Albert Milner of Buhl, Idaho, mother of the bride; Mrs. C. F. Smith of Minneapolis, Minn., grandmother of the bride.

"The young couple left for a honeymoon trip of two weeks in the southern part of the state, and they will be at home to their many friends after Nov. 1 in Oakland, where they will reside."

Wahwahta Club.

Mis Gertrude Stock of 928 East Third street entertained the members of the Wahwahta club last evening at her home. The evening was spent with games and music.

THE ORDER OF THE THISTLE.

Indianapolis News: The Order of the Thistle, of which Lord Haldane, lord high chancellor of Great Britain, is to be made a knight, dates only from the last day of 1703. Centuries earlier, however, the thistle was a national badge of Scotland, and the origin of its emblematic use is ascribed by tradition to the Danish invasion of Scotland. The invaders planned a night attack, and, marching barefoot, had contrived to creep up close to the Scottish forces unobserved, when one of them stepped on a thistle and uttered a cry of pain. The alarm was given and the attack failed. Out of gratitude the thistle was adopted as the insignia of Scotland.

HEIR TO THE RUSSIAN THRONE AND HIS MOTHER

CZARINA AND SON.

This picture of the czarina and the heir to the throne of Russia has just been received from St. Petersburg. The little boy is doubly dear to his mother since he was taken ill nearly a year ago. It is reported that the boy is to be taken to the Sakki salt lake baths in the hope of relieving the lameness from which he suffers.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Men Judge Women By Their Wives, Sisters or Mothers.

"It is always the man with the impossible wife who has impossible ideas about women," declares a prominent English suffragette visiting in this country. And this is practically true, as he who runs may read. Also the rule holds good with women in their estimation of men.

Perhaps we do not realize as fully as we might how our lightest word and most trivial act molds the opinion of the opposite sex regarding us, nor how irrevocable are the opinions formed of an intimate knowledge of but a handful of men or women as the case may be. As a husband or wife does so do all the other men and women in the world, in the opinion of those associated with each other in close relationship.

Let a man have a silly, extravagant, empty-headed wife, and it is almost impossible to make him admit there may be a type less vain and frivolous. He may give grudging consent to a possibility of one who can be treated as an equal in intelligence, but he does not consider her in his every day estimate of the sex. Women are as his wife, or mother or sister, and if these are lacking so much the worse for women generally, for women are all alike. Any man will tell you that, and every woman will so proclaim men.

Give a man a capable, self-respecting wife with intelligence enough to recognize that her part in life is just as vital as his and that she must play it gamely, and it is a revelation how differently such a man looks on the entire body of women. Find a woman with a father, brother or husband who has high ideals of man's obligation and you have one who believes implicitly in the goodness of men. This belief helps to sustain them on a high plane, too, for the better opinion people have of us, especially those who love us, the more we strive to live up to that ideal.

Since we are dependent on one another for our general opinion of all men, it behooves us to exert our best influence. Men place their highest valuation on women through those of their household and closest association. And women judge the entire world of men on the same narrow basis. Therefore try to raise the standard that you may not be judged too meanly.

If you use a JEWEL Base-Burner or Stove this much coal will give you as much heat as this much if you use any other kind

WHAT WE DESIRE, Mrs. Prospective Heater Customer, is an opportunity of showing you a heater that is positively different from any other on the market. Don't forget that Radiating Surface is the one and only feature that makes a heater a success. By that we mean the number of cubic inches of flue surface the heat is forced to travel over in going from firepot to chimney.

We can convince you that the Flue Surface of the Jewel Parlor Furnace is double that of any other heater. All nickel trimmings on the heater may be easily removed, as there are no screws used to hold them in place. The firepot is removable and made of exceptionally heavy material. A personal investigation will surely create a desire to own one of these heaters.

AWLWOOL HOUSEHOLD BLANKETS

Price $8.80 Per Pair

A FOREWORD ABOUT BLANKETS

The AWLWOOL Household Blanket is the outcome of a popular demand for better blankets at more reasonable cost.

Realizing the enormous expense to the consumer of marketing through the usual channels—manufacturer to commission agent, commission agent to wholesaler, wholesaler to retailer, retailer to consumer—the Minnesota Woolen Co. determined to make a high-grade strictly all-wool blanket and sell directly to the consumer, with only a reasonable working profit added to the actual manufacturing cost.

This plan, therefore, saves the buyer practically the entire profit ordinarily exacted by the wholesaler and the retailer; and these two profits represent fully one-third of the price the householder pays when buying a blanket at any store.

It is clearly evident then that the "AWLWOOL" plan of selling means a saving to the buyer of several dollars on each and every blanket.

The Awlwool blanket weighs 5 lbs. per pair, size 70x80 in.—soft, downy, beautifully finished in 7 choice color combinations—white with pink or blue border, silver gray with blue border, and ¾ inch plaid blocks in blue and white, tan and white, gray and white, and pink and white.

The blankets are put up in individual boxes the moment they leave the finishing machine, and are therefore absolutely sanitary, as they are shipped direct from the mill to your home. The price, the same to everybody, $8.80 per pair. Delivery charges prepaid to any part of the United States. The Awlwool blankets can be seen at our city office.

THE STATE LEGISLATIVE ISSUE FOR 1914.

The state tax rate for 1914 will be 5.03 mills.

This is the highest state tax rate since 1865. In forty-eight years it has not been exceeded or equalled; and it has been equalled or exceeded in but one year in the history of the state. In 1865, when the state was poor, when its area was but scantily settled and when valuations were low and the state's needs great, there was a state tax rate of six mills.

The next year it was five mills, and in 1874, the state having settled rapidly in the meantime, the rate dropped to 2.33 mills.

THE AVERAGE STATE TAX RATE FOR THE THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS ENDING WITH 1910 WAS BUT 1.83 MILLS.

Since 1910 the rate has gone from 1.47 mills to the 1914 rate of 5.03 mills.

THE STATE TAX RATE HAS BEEN MULTIPLIED THREE AND A HALF TIMES IN FOUR YEARS.

This year the rate was 3.58 mills, and the increase in next year's rate over this year's will be FORTY PER CENT.

The appalling increase in the state tax rate has come in spite of the fact that railroads which used to pay less than a million dollars a year through their gross earnings taxes are now paying close to five millions a year.

It has come in spite of the fact that indirect taxes of many kinds have been created and multiplied.

It has come in spite of the fact that the iron mines, which were paying the state in taxes less than twenty thousand dollars yearly a dozen years ago, will next year pay the state in taxes more than a million and a quarter!

The greater the state's revenues from new sources, the higher climbs the rate on which the farmer and merchant, the laborer and banker, must pay taxes.

The Herald said, shortly after the legislature adjourned, that the legislative issue for 1914 should be ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY.

Can there be any doubt, in the face of these figures, that this is the issue on which the legislature of 1915 must be pledged?

MIGHTY BAD ADVICE.

There are persistent rumors of more or less disinterested attempts to induce workingmen to elect not to come under the new workingmen's compensation act, which it is their privilege to do under the act.

This looks to The Herald like mighty bad advice, of a kind which workingmen will do well to reject.

While it is the privilege of any workingman or employer to refuse to come under the act, the penalty of refusal is so harsh in either case that there will be few with full knowledge of the results of their act that will take such a course.

The most evil thing in the old system which the workingmen's compensation act supplants is the common law system of defenses like contributory negligence, assumption of risk and the fellow servant rule. The best thing about the new law is it does away with these atrocious heritages from the past—EXCEPT WHERE EMPLOYER OR WORKMAN ELECT NOT TO COME UNDER THIS LAW.

The workman who elects to remain in the situation he occupied before this law came into effect deliberately chooses to give his employer the benefit of the defenses that were available to all employers before Oct. 1.

Moreover, he subjects his case—if he is injured—to the uncertainties and heavy expense of the old order, under which the only certainty is that even if the injured workman wins his case his reward will be so drawn upon by costs and attorneys' fees that there will be little left for him in the end.

While the awards provided for in the new law seem small compared with many personal injury verdicts that have been reported, they seem large indeed when the personal injury verdicts are reduced—as they invariably are—by court costs and lawyers' fees.

The workman who refuses to come under the new law subjects himself, if he is injured, to these penalties:

That the courts may hold that no matter how urgent his need of a job to feed himself and his family, if he took a place attended by danger he assumed the risks of that employment and therefore his employer is not liable to him for his injury;

That the courts may hold that the blame for the accident lay with another workman, and therefore that the employer is not liable;

That the courts may hold that the workman was not properly diligent in protecting himself, and therefore that the employer is not liable;

That even if he fights his way successfully through this thicket of defenses made by and for employers, the court costs will absorb an appalling proportion of his verdict;

That his attorney will take the lion's share of what the employer is compelled to pay;

That the case may be fought by the employer through to the highest courts, exhausting the injured workman's funds and tiring him out of his due victory;

That, in the end, after perhaps years of litigation, he may emerge with only a fraction of what the workingmen's compensation act would have provided automatically and immediately.

It would be a miracle if the workingmen's compensation law were perfect at its birth. Yet it is a vastly better law than anybody had expected to get, and if defects in it develop in practice they can be cured by amendment.

In the meantime, it is the part of wisdom for both employers and employes to come under its terms and take the benefits of its provisions.

TALKING TURKEY.

There is plenty of evidence that President Wilson is in earnest in his insistence on the passage of a proper currency and banking bill at this session of congress, and that to that end he does not propose that the public shall rest in any doubt about the character and motives of the opposition.

"Significant in the day's developments," says an Associated Press dispatch, "were remarks which the president made to callers to the effect that the objection to the administration bill proceeded CHIEFLY FROM BIG BANKS BECAUSE THEY FEAR THAT THE CONTROL OF THE COUNTRY'S FINANCIAL SYSTEM WOULD BE TAKEN FROM THEIR HANDS BY THE MEASURE."

Senators and others interested in blocking the way may and doubtless will be irritated by such remarks. The people, however, will be well content to be told the facts, so that they may rightly judge those statesmen who set themselves in opposition to the president's will—which is also the will of the nation.

THE NORTHERN MINNESOTA SPIRIT.

The thriving community of Warroad, on the border, has the right spirit.

Day before yesterday news came that its business section had been ravaged by fire, causing a loss of a hundred thousand dollars, with only a quarter as much insurance.

Yesterday, with the embers of the fire still gloving, came word that Warroad had started to rebuild, better and bigger than ever.

That's the spirit that is making Northern Minnesota grow—and the spirit that has made the nation grow.

A CRUEL PRANK OF FATE.

Fate does queer things sometimes. For instance:

Irwin De Rainey was an engineer on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, with a remarkable record. He had driven an engine for forty years, having been put in charge of one when he was twenty-three years old. In all these forty years he had never had a single accident. Every train driven by his engine had reached its destination without mishap. Every carload of freight and every passenger that traveled behind him had arrived scatheless.

So, in recognition of this distinguished service, service of a character so high that in the army his breast would be covered with medals, he was called into the New York offices of the company late last month, complimented on his career, and notified that in placing him on the pension list the officers extended to him their best wishes for long life and happiness. He was particularly felicitated on the fact that in all his forty years of engine-driving he had never been in a wreck, and had never received or given a scratch.

The happy man thanked his superior officers, and went to where his engine was standing to pat it an affectionate goodby. Leaving the roundhouse he decided to walk over to where the Lackawanna Limited was waiting its hour for departure, to tell the good news to his brother, who was the engineer of the Limited.

As he was crossing the tracks, an incoming train swept down upon him and killed him instantly.

A few minutes later somebody told John De Rainey, engineer of the Limited, that a man had been killed, and John strolled over to see who the victim was. He was so unnerved at the discovery that it was his brother that he had to give up his run. Other engineers, summoned to take his place and learning of this tragic trick of fate, were so nerve-shattered that they hesitated. The train was a quarter of an hour late before a substitute engineer could be found.

AN INNOVATION.

And there is a greater marvel abou the new tariff law than any yet mentioned.

A party pledge, on a vital issue affecting every citizen, has actually been fulfilled to the letter.

This is rare enough to constitute the crowning wonder of the enactment of a tariff law in the public interest.

KILLING THE DEAD.

There is irrepressible and constantly growing conversation about Roosevelt as the Republican nominee for president in 1916.

How much of this talk comes from Rooseveltian sources is not clear. Perhaps none of it is, maybe all of it is.

The Republican party has sinned, and it has been sentenced and executed for its sins. To add more punishment would be "cruel and unusual."

In other days, after hanging a culprit, they used to draw and quarter him as well.

But those days are passed. Humanity is softened and more civilized in these latter times.

That's why this talk of Roosevelt as the Republican candidate for president in 1916 seems so strongly suggestive of kicking the dead.

The Colonel killed the Republican party in 1912.

Does he wish to kill it all over again in 1916?

IT SHOULD BE SO, AND CAN BE SO.

Secretary Daniels having saved the country about sixty per cent on the cost by buying turbines for a new battleship in England, the Philadelphia Public Ledger mourns and will not be comforted. It says:

> A feeling of regret will stir the nation that our navy is to have any British equipment. It ought not to be so. A land that can send its mechanical equipment to every part of the globe, that can reap the harvests of Russia, draw the trains in Palestine, span the rivers of Africa and light the homes of India, should have a pride in its navy so high that every part of all its craft should be made in America.

Right. It should.

And it can and will be so as soon as the master artificers in metals are willing to give their own country the advantage of as good bargains as they offer Russia, Palestine, Africa and India.

Until that time, government being a business proposition, Secretary Daniels is right in buying supplies in the cheapest market.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

CONDEMNS STATE SWAMP LAND POLICY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The item in The Herald of Sept. 18, touching the plan proposed to secure a grant by the United States to the state of Minnesota of all the swamp lands now owned by the Federal government, is attracting considerable attention in the territory affected. I do not question the good faith of The Herald and the other supporters of the measure, but I do believe the matter should have thorough consideration and careful investigation, and I believe the result will be the abandonment of the plan by the majority of its supporters.

The failure of the state to comply with the terms of the grant of swamp lands made in 1860 is sufficient evidence of its inability to comply with the terms of another grant that will be almost identical in its conditions. The state has actually drained only about 3,000 acres in Koochiching county, where it received a grant of nearly 1,000,000 acres from the United States. The yearly sales in the county considerably exceed the whole amount that has been drained in fifty years. The settlers of the Red Lake reservation, where most of the government swamp land lies, would hardly care to see the land surrounding them placed in the hands of an organization that has made such a pitiful failure in its attempt to comply with the terms of its contract.

The state ownership of large tracts of land has been the greatest hindrance to the settlement of a large part of Northern Minnesota. The undrained swamp lands have been offered for sale in small tracts in unaccessible places. The prices are uniformly higher than those asked by private owners of the same class of land and in most cases there has been added the cost of drainage under the judicial ditch law. Where the timber is of value it is sold and removed before the land is offered for sale. The state gets at least $5 per acre plus the value of the timber for the undrained land. Then the settler pays for the drainage, when he gets it, under the drainage laws.

Actual settlers are not buying state land in Koochiching county this year and they are not likely to buy it until the terms of sale are changed. It will be soon enough to ask for another grant when the state "makes good" on this one.

The fact that the state lands pay no taxes throws the entire burden of taxation on the other property of the county, keeping the tax rate up to the legal limit and preventing much needed improvements. For example: Koochiching county can raise only about $14,000 per year for the construction and maintenance of roads in a territory of a hundred townships, with about 4,000 miles of section lines.

In the districts where the state owns large tracts the population, especially the farming population, is decreasing, while in the districts where the United States still holds the swamp there is a gradual increase in spite of the total lack of systematic improvement by either the state or Federal government. A comparison of the growth of communities along the M. & I. with the growth of communities along the Canadian Northern, west from Baudette, where other conditions are about the same, will furnish conclusive evidence that the plan of the United States is far ahead of that followed by the state, at least so far as the district directly affected is concerned.

Under the Federal statute that brings all government land under the jurisdiction of the state in drainage matters, the state has the power to drain the swamp land owned by the United States and to assess the cost of drainage against the land. The purchaser pays the cost of drainage plus $1.25 per acre. Under the state land regulations the purchaser pays the cost of drainage, plus the appraised value of the timber, plus $5 per acre or more, and must await the pleasure of the state land department to secure any land under any circumstances.

In case the United States should grant its swamp lands to the state of Minnesota the state could do no more to drain and settle these lands than it can do under existing laws. There is positively nothing to be gained by the settler or the state at large if the grant is made with the terms suggested and there is a chance of losing the advantages now enjoyed by the settler. There are now several drainage projects well advanced for the improvement of large areas of this swamp land under our present laws. These projects would probably be abandoned or delayed and much of the good already done would be lost if the state secured control. The state's policy of delay would be extended to the new lands and many thriving settlements would receive a setback from which it would require years to recover.

It is well enough to call upon the United States for an appropriation to help in the drainage of these lands or to request the government to reduce the amount per acre from $1.25 to the actual cost of keeping the land office records. The idea of giving any more land over to the state for mishandling is most unreasonable in the light of the past record of the state land department. Such a move should be fought by every friend of Northern Minnesota.

ROBERT AP ROBERTS.

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 4.

While unfortunately there is much to what Mr. Ap Roberts says about the state's land policy, he is slightly in error. The project is not one of inducing the Federal government to give the state another swamp land grant, but to tie up swamp land already granted, but not yet patented, so the state will be compelled to use the proceeds of its sale for reclamation, which includes not only drainage but clearing and road building. The question is not whether or not the state shall get this land, since it is going to get it anyway, but whether it shall get it on the old terms, or on new terms through which a wiser and a better state land policy may be introduced.—The Editor.

SCHOOLS NOT AS OUT OF DATE AS PICTURED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your issue of the 2nd inst. there appears an article in the Open Court, "Know Everything But Way to Make Living."

Mr. Knutson says that "if a business course, such as bookkeeping, typewriting, etc., and a manual training department were included in the public schools there would be more skilled workers than there are now." No doubt about that at all. But isn't Mr. Knutson aware of the fact that most cities in Cloverland (the upper peninsula of Michigan) already have those departments or most of them in the public schools now? Wonder if he was referring to Cloverland or other places? Michigan, or most of the upper peninsula at least, has had those departments in the public schools for a number of years. Ironwood, for instance, has one of the best equipped manual training schools in Michigan and in the country for that matter. The domestic science school is of the very best, too.

Michigan is as far advanced in that line as most of the states and a whole lot more than some of them. The intention of this isn't to say anything against what Mr. Knutson had to say if he was referring to other places than Cloverland, but if he was referring to Cloverland I think he was a little out of the way. Yours truly,

MUSIC IN MOTION PICTURE THEATERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

This letter is an answer to Miss Fulton's idea of the music that should be played in motion picture theaters as published in Saturday's Herald.

I am a patron of a number of moving picture theaters of this city. I have watched in particular the music end of it, (being myself a lover of music), and can freely say that I don't understand how the musicians, in order to hold their jobs could play classical music for the pictures. Of course, there are cases where only classical music is required, but from a general standpoint, popular songs and ragtime are in great demand. For instance, a visit to any local music store will prove that 500 popular ragtime songs are sold to one classical. Now what is the public demand? A moving picture theater is nothing more than any other line of business, not any different from a grocery store or meat market or anything else, employing a number of people to help entertain the public in general. If classical music was in demand, classical music only would be played. If a grocery store knew that crabapples would not sell as well as potatoes, then of course potatoes would be sold, and crabapples done away with. It is my advice to all parties who take an interest in music for the picture, to encourage the picture musician, and not discourage, and you will find by merely offering suggestions, that it will prove more profitable, and it would leave a better impression of you upon all parties interested.

Duluth, Oct. 6.

Will He Help or Hurt Him?

By Savoyard.

Washington, Oct. 7.—(Special to the Herald.)—The other day I was riding on a street car, a rather long journey, and fellow-passengers were a rather good-looking man and a small boy, not yet emerged from childhood. My attention was atracted to them by the efforts the boy made to repeat the names of the presidents of our republic in the order of their accession to that exalted dignity, and the child accomplished the task with a single "wobble"—he omitted Millard Fillmore, who came between Taylor and Pierce.

I became interested and interposed with a question as to the age of the child, who is five years. Then I was impertinent enough to remonstrate with the father and admonish him that what the boy needed was a curb rather than a spur. Said I, "You turn that boy loose, do not give him any task, let him read as suits him, study as he lists. If you put too heavy a load on it that young mind will stagger, perhaps fall."

* * *

Possibly the man did not agree with me, and with a great deal of pride he went on to relate that his boy confounded all the Sunday school of his church by knowing more of the story of Joseph as recorded in the Bible than all his class together. "So much the more reason," retorted I, "to let his mind grow in the open, by suggestion rather than by discipline. Do not put that memory in a hot house; toughen it under the sun and sky above."

And here we came to the parting and he and the boy got off the car. I do not know his name. Haply I shall never see him more and never hear of his promising offspring.

* * *

If that child is properly trained he may turn out a genius to delight and to profit his fellow man; but if his mind is forced the chances are it will break down and all his remaining days he will be a mental weakling. Yet at the age of 3 years Horace Greeley could read; the same is true of Lord Macaulay. One of the remarkable men I have met is Louis Brownlow, and he scarce remembers when he first knew how to read. He could read before his mother knew that he knew the alphabet. But his mind was not forced and it was as lusty as it was subtle. In an hour's conversation he can give valuable suggestion and material instruction to most anybody you ever saw.

As for the memory—if it be not attended by its greater brother, meditation, it is something like the state of case Balzac observed when he spoke of the mockery of hospitality without food. We all remember what a rage possessed Voltaire when Frederick the Great played the trick on him of concealing in the closet a freak with a memory, who heard Voltaire recite an original poem he had just composed, one of his unpublished masterpieces. The king, always miserable if he lived an hour without making somebody else wretched, confronted Voltaire with his freak, who repeated the poem from beginning to end, and his majesty then and there accused the Frenchman of the unspeakable meaness of plagiarism.

* * *

I have no doubt that many a glowing young mind has been made practically impotent by forcing it. A tender young colt cannot bear the burden of a mature and full-grown horse. If you have a bright boy allow him to browse in the pastures of learning almost at will.

If the young cub that I met on the street car were mine and I fancied that I could make him what old Simon Cameron contemptuously called "one of them literary fellers." I'd try to do it by suggestion. I'd induce, not force him, to read Robinson Crusoe. Then I'd lead him to Marryatt and his tales, delicious for the young mind of 8 or 10 years.

* * *

Then I'd put in his hand Oliver Goldsmith's abridged histories of Greece and Rome, after which his mind would long for Plutarch. Then I'd give him Dickens' "Child's History of England," and put Sir Walter Scott in his hands—"Old Mortality," "Ivanhoe," "The Talisman," "Woodstock," "Quentin Durward," and all the others.

There you have got an educated boy that beats the colleges all hollow. Leave him alone. He will search out those romancists, Bolin and Herodotus. He will drop into Hume and Guizot. And then I'd take him in charge and insist on his reading Shakespeare from lid to lid—not once, but repeatedly. Of course I'd have him read the English Bible all the time.

Shakespeare and the Bible will give him expression, even though naturally he were as mute as a fish. That boy, if he has any imagination, will manage to read and master thousands of other volumes. And the man who has acquired "the reading habit" is not only educated, but he is happy.

In my next I shall try to tell you of another young phenomenon who was exploded—by forcing.

The Smile in the Heart.

When a smile's back there in the twinkling eyes,
And you feel its flash as you pass along;
When a smile way down in the warm heartlies,
And it springs to your lips till they wake in song;
Oh, then is the world all right, all right,
And the roses seem to grow
For you and yours all the bright day long
Wherever you happen to go.

When a smile's down there in the deeps of life,
And it warms and wreaths your face;
Oh, then there's a balm for the daily strife,
And the world is an all right place;
For a smile helps so, with its magic touch,
Its lovely and golden ray,
To help us along who are worn o'er much
In the duties that dot the day.

When a smile shows through all the pain you feel,
All the sorrows and aching and tears;
Oh, then there's a balm for the worry and care
And the patient trust of the years;
And you lift your head till the shadows flee,
And the street and office seem
A path and palace that lead you on
To the golden regions of dream.

It's the smile in the heart that counts, ah yes!
And the smile that is back in the eyes,
With its twinkle and glow, till around you flow
The joy and the gloom of the skies;
For a smile helps so when the world is down,
To lift it and help it swing
Along to the song of faith still strong
With the spirit of endless spring.

The New Tariff Law

Comments by the Press of the Nation.

A People's Victory.

New York World: It was no mere personal victory that had been won when President Wilson signed the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill last night and made it the law of the land. It was no mere partisan victory. It was a victory for American institutions, and it should inspire the American people with new confidence in their system of government.

A Steady Hord at the Helm.

Louisville Courier-Journel: The president, not only in this, but in other instances, has surprised the country by the daring and dauntlessness of his leadership through situations which appeared to compel only resentment, division and failure, and without such leadership the work which has finally triumphed in the new tariff would have been thrown away.

A Great Work.

Indianapolis News: With the signing of the tariff bill last night a great task was brought to completion. In our opinion the new law is the best that the country has had since the Walker tariff of 1846. Those charged with the duty of framing it approached the subject from the point of view of the consumer—the average man. They kept before themselves constantly the great principle that it is the duty of governments to seek the greater good of the greatest number. Of course, conditions that have grown up as the result of a long period of high protection could not be ignored—and they were not ignored. It was necessary to make many concessions. But in spite of it all this tariff was made by the representatives of the people, acting for the people, and not by the interests acting for themselves.

Where Are the Ruins?

Kansas City Star: For fifty years it has been urged vociferously that a reduction in duties meant the ruin of American industry. The tariff revisionists, it has been contended, were blasting at the foundations of prosperity, prying out the keystone of the arch, and pulling down the pillars of the temple. Well, a real tariff revision is in effect this morning. Do you see the ruins all about you?

And Now on Currency.

St. Louis Republican: The Democracy of America challenges public scrutiny of the tariff pledges of the Baltimore platform and of the Underwood-Simmons act. It asks the judgment of the nation upon its fulfillment of its trust. And then it asks the countenance and support of the American people, without regard to party, in the tremendous task, now in the midst of performance, of systematic revision of a set of currency laws wholly inadequate to our financial needs, which make our prosperity itself a menace.

The Best in Two Generations.

New York Times: The underlying principle of the new tariff is that of competition. The aim of its framers has been to lower the barriers to foreign commerce so as to induce our own industries to meet the prices in the world markets. Free trade has been neither sought nor enacted. Our industries still, on the whole, are "protected," for all such great changes should be made gradually. But protection, on the one hand, is less, and, on the other, our industries get the great advantage of untaxed or lightly taxed materials. This law is as nearly fair and intelligent as could be hoped for. It is the best the country has had in two generations, and we believe it will stand the test of practical application.

On Their Own Feet.

New York Evening Post: The plain fact is that American manufacturers, if they are worth their salt, will be able to prosper under the Underwood tariff. With the average rates still more than 20 per cent, the common verdict will be that, if they cannot survive, they do not deserve to. But they will survive. They have been, through all the tariff discussion, like the man who was struggling in the river and crying piteously for help, but whom an old fisherman exhorted to stand up. He did so, and found that the water was only three feet deep.

A Canadian View.

Toronto Star: We look upon the reduction of the American tariff with unqualified satisfaction, as a step in the progress of civilization, and a benefit to the world. It may not do all that is feared or all that is hoped. If it does not result in a substantial cheapening of food, we may confidently expect that President Wilson will take other measures. He will remove one pile of rubbish after another, until he comes to the real cause of the wholly unnecessary famine prices for food which now prevail. If we want cheaper food in Canada, we must do the same.

Let It Be Fairly Judged.

Chicago Record-Herald: Industry and commerce view the future with confidence. There has been no sign of business disturbance, although uncertainty must have hampered the advance of prosperity. Now let the new act be honestly judged by its fruits. The time for doleful predictions is past—if there ever was a time for such predictions. If we have no need of higher duties, even the stanch protectionists should rejoice. If the new tariff, without injuring any industry or element, shall tend to reduce the cost of living for all, not even the spoils politician will venture to attack it. Fair play and an honest verdict, then, for the new tariff.

The Time of Payment

Toledo Blade: For the first time in the career of its finances, the province of Quebec has sought to borrow money in American markets. It has been the practice of the Dominion to go to London for money and its issues have been taken up there without the least cajoling of investors. But recently an advertisement has appeared in New York newspapers of a million dollar issue of bonds at 4 per cent, backed by the credit of the richest province in Canada. The price for these bonds is rated as a bargain.

The reason for this advertisement seems to be that the greatest money market in the world is "saturated." It has financed bond issues to the point where it cannot, or will not, take up the bonds of Quebec even upon sentimental grounds.

Every country, province and state, county and municipality, not to mention the innumerable building and industrial companies, has been putting out bonds until the weight of them is clear beyond computing. We are passing out of the period of borrowing into the period of payment. You can almost see the world wince at the thought of it.

John D. Murphy of Tower passed through the city yesterday on his way home from the World's fair. John says that he was the only Irishman from Minnesota who walked in the procession on Irish day.

The Evil Way.

We are not worse at once—the course of evil
Begins so slowly, and from such slight source,
An infant's hand might stem its breach with clay;
But let the stream get deeper, and philosophy—
Ay, and religion too—shall strive in vain
To turn the headlong torrent.

The Doctor's Helps

By DONALD McCASKEY, M. D.
Member of Staff, General Hospital, Lancaster, Pa.; Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine

FOR THE SUFFERER FROM PARALYSIS AGITANS

There are two types or varieties of nervous twitchings of the muscles. One is that which occurs when the muscles are quiet and at rest. It is entirely an involuntary movement and occurs unconsciously. The other variety of muscular tremor occurs when any voluntary movement is made. A good example of this latter is the sudden development of trembling when a man attempts to shave himself and finds his hand trembles so that he becomes afraid to proceed. This type of twitching is brought on by conscious effort. A dread takes possession of the mind. This mental fear unbalances and unnerves the muscles. The tremor is the result. The same thing is seen in stage fright, or, in fact any other form of conscious fear.

The simplest form of treatment and the most effective at the same time lies with the individual himself. Disappointment and discouragement will certainly appear at first, because of fear and failure. But this attitude of the sufferer can be quietly overcome. Persistently refusing to be afraid, and with a quiet determination not to be "bluffed" by vague dreads and fearful premonitions, any individual suffering from nervous tremors can readily gain the mastery and conquer the twichings. Understand me, however. I am speaking now of the conscious variety of twichings as exampled by the man whose hand trembles when he shaves. No organic disease is here. Every one knows the old story of the man who vigorously tried to stand up so straight that he actually fell backward.

In overcoming a tremor which has been associated with some thought or movement of the body the patient should adopt a natural and comfortable position. First of all, this will permit the brain, which controls all muscular action, to become quietly collected and regain its natural poise. Gradually, as composure is regained, confidence returns and grows stronger. Eventually the fear and dread of failure fades away and the trembling subsides. The adoption of this basis or plan of procedure is the identical one necessary in treating paralysis agitans with success. This latter is an entirely involuntary and unconscious affection.

It differs, however, from the voluntary nervousness illustrated by the man shaving.

Paralysis agitans is the result of disease located within the spinal cord. It is an organic affection. The other, or voluntary, type of muscular trembling has nothing organic about it. It occurs purely as the result of a dread or fright and a lack of confidence, which temporarily upsets the highly organized brain cells controlling muscle action.

A sufferer from paralysis agitans can help himself wonderfully. The first thing necessary is to persistently refuse to become upset or excited by timidity. Oftentimes in entering a room the patient will become so annoyed in the presence of people that he will lose heart, become discouraged and almost try to run out of the room. It is just such periods in the treatment of paralysis agitans that can be made to act as powerful aids in strengthening one's confidence. Confidence can be cultivated. Remember that. Likewise remember that confidence MUST BE CULTIVATED; and as soon as this cultivation begins, the muscular twitching diminishes. Look ahead into the future with a feeling of hope and satisfaction for what comforts and advantages you now possess. Do not even mention a gloomy thought aloud to anybody. Soon you will forget them as your courage increases, and a visit into a room or hall or church filled with people will then serve to decrease the tremor and it will be easier to get around. Every hour of every day strive to DO SOMETHING FOR SOMEBODY. Don't let people wait upon you. Rather make it the reverse. DO SOMETHING FOR SOMEBODY. SPRINKLE SUNSHINE. Gloom will never cure.

GIFTS TO COLUMBIA AMOUNT TO $223,000.

New York, Oct. 7.—Gifts to Columbia university, amounting to about $223,000, were anounced at the first trustees' meeting of the present academic year. Among them was $200,000 from Mrs. W. Bayard Cutting and her children as a fund in memory of the late W. Bayard Cutting, Columbia '69, who was trustee for thirty-two years before his death in 1912. The income is to be applied to the maintenance of traveling fellowships in letters, sciences, law, medicine or engineering.

Smaller gifts included those from Jacob H. Schiff, Clarence H. Mackey, Mrs. James W. Gerard, wife of the new ambassador to Germany, and Joseph P. Chamberlain.

NEW BUSTER OF TRUSTS

Richard Cullen Dangles Slice of Bad Bacon Before Commissioners.

Wants "Pure Clean Place for Young Fellows to Eat."

With a smelly slice of bacon as exhibit No. 1, Duluth's own Richard Cullen, mine promoter and pioneer, appeared before the city council yesterday afternoon to urge the honorable commissioners to smash to smithereens the diabolical restaurant trust which has Duluth by the throat.

Dangling the sickening strip of smoked hog before his audience, Mr. Cullen let language flow unchecked. Essaying oratorical flights unparalleled in the history of the present administration, he called upon the powerful, noble guardians of Duluth's destiny to smite the restaurant monster in its midst. When he soared towards the uppermost heights and words to cap the climaxes failed, Mr. Cullen was not dumbfounded, not by a jugful. He just dangled that cured hunk of pig; it was eloquence which couldn't be dodged, all by itself.

Emphasizing his remarks with his crawling exhibit—it was louder than the squeal of the original porker ever could have been—Mr. Cullen elucidated in detail that one magnate in our midst has three beaneries; that another plutocrat has three soup stands, and that worst of all, invaders from a faraway land, the Chinese, have six places for filling the human bread basket. He declared that one of the men whom he was denouncing had shown him a certified check of $10,000, representing but a quarter of a year's share of his ill-gotten gains, and that in another quarter, when he had but two stations for supplying fuel of the human system, he had grabbed off $9,000.

In scathing, burning, searing, scorching phrases, Mr. Cullen averred that these menaces to Duluth's prosperity are chucking vile germs down the throats of the common people, endangering if not actually wiping out human life. As witness the piece of foul bacon which he held forth for the inspection of all who wished to inspect. The audience didn't have to go to the bacon; the bacon, or a very noticeable part of it, managed to get to the audience. The audience couldn't get away from it.

When Mayor Prince put the brakes upon his rushing river of words and descriptions, Mr. Cullen made a final spurt over the home stretch. Spectacled, gray-haired, wrinkled, he wound up with a last touching appeal. With the exhibit's noise increasing in volume in ratio to his accelerated speed, he called upon the most powerful commission, for the sake of humanity and dencency, to throttle the awful creature threatening the city's life. And with a "for heaven's sake, give us young fellows a pure, clean place to eat," he grabbed up his straw hat and almost jumped into the corridor.

Dick forgot to tell where he obtained exhibit No. 1 and he also left behind him several pages of manuscript relating to the restaurant trust, which he had evidently intended to read but which seemed to have slipped his mind in the fervor of his exhortations.

JUDGE WOULD NOT SEND MAN TO JAIL

Instead, Sentences Him to Reformatory for Ten Years.

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 7.—Judge McHenry, of the criminal division of the district court, sentenced Glen McGill, self-confessed thief, to the Anamosa reformatory yesterday, because, as he expressed it, "to send a man to the county jail for a year is too cruel for any use."

McGill had pleaded guilty to stealing a coat.

"Ordinarily I would punish you by imposing a sentence of twelve months in the county jail, but under present conditions that would be too inhuman for men to do," said Judge McHenry. "Looking at it from a humanitarian standpoint, I am going to sentence you to the reformatory for ten years as the law does not permit me to give you a shorter prison sentence. But at the end of the first, I will petition the board of parole to release you."

DECLARES FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Progressive Party in Massachusetts Favors Recall of Governor.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—The Progressive party of Massachusetts in its first state convention as an official party, adopted a platform last night which advocates submitting to the people by referendum vote at the state election next year, the question of taking over the Boston & Maine railroad.

The platform also declares for woman suffrage.

The convention was in session more than twelve hours, the latter part of which was marked by discussion over the platform that grew acrimonious at times.

The platform demands that the governor have a longer term of office subject to recall, and again declares in favor of a complete primary and an adequate corrupt practices act.

The convening of a non-partisan constitutional convention is demanded.

The platform declares against compulsory interference with the right to strike or lockout and in favor of the minimum wage.

STARTS PROGRAM AGAINST TRUSTS

President Wilson Expected to Make Recommendations Next Session.

Washington, Oct. 7.—A start was made by President Wilson yesterday on his anti-trust program for the December session of congress. He had a long preliminary conference with Senator Newlands of Nevada, chairman of the interstate commerce committee which handles trust legislation in the senate.

Senator Newlands said he expected the president to transmit some recommendations to his committee early in the December session. These probably will materialize after the president consults Attorney General McReynolds and some prominent lawyers outside of the official circle, who have been studying the problem for years.

The discussion with Chairman Newlands was of a general character, bringing forward no particular scheme of legislation. The president examined the history and arguments presented for and against pending bills which would supplement the Sherman anti-trust act by providing for the prevention of holding companies, stock watering and discrimination in prices, the regulation of the size of business and the definition of the world "reasonable" as used by the supreme court of the United States.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOW EPISCOPALIAN

Wisconsin Congregation Is Admitted in a Body to Protestant Organization.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Oct. 7.—Members of St. Anne's church at Montpelier, Kewaunee county, a former Roman Cahtolic congregation, have been admitted in a body to the Episcopalian organization by Bishop R. H. Weller of this city. The Rev. Joseph Thicky, Cleveland, Ohio, a priest of the Old Catholic faith, has been chosen to take charge of the church.

The members of the congregation are for the most part Bohemian immigrants, who were originally brought to the little hamlet of Montpelier by beet sugar operators.

Bishop Weller assigned the Rev. Lope Gardner, a priest in old Catholic orders, to visit the congregation and report upon the best method of ministering there.

The church numbers about forty families. It was originally Roman Catholic and was served by missionaries sent out by Bishop J. J. Fox, Green Bay Roman Catholic diocese, but owing to its outlying position was not provided with a regular priest.

"The congregation is now Old Catholic, like my church," said Father Gauthier of Green Bay. "The Old Catholic church is not under the headship of the pope at Rome, nor under that of the king of England, the head of the Episcopal church. It is, however, closely allied to the Episcopal church. It has no head in the same sense that the other two have."

IRONWOOD ALUMNI MAKES NEW START.

Ironwood, Mich., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The re-organization meeting of the Ironwood High School Alumni association was held and the following officers elected for the year: President, Miss Jean Goudie, '04; vice president, Miss Anna Gretzinger, '13; secretary, Ernest May, '11; treasurer, Arthur Peterson, '13.

An informal party is planned for this evening, to be held at the Domestic Science building. A musical program will be rendered by the talented members of the alumni, together with J. C. Watson and others in both instrumental and vocal numbers, after which there will be dancing followed by refreshments.

LOGGERS ACTIVE ON TORCH LAKE.

Hubbell, Mich., Oct. 7.—Torch Lake lumbermen are making preparations for an active season, during which they will cut the largest timber output on record. The two camps of the Eddy Lumber company, situated at Toivola and east of Lake Linden, are already in operation, but the force of men will be increased shortly.

Timber and cordwood will be cut from each tract, and the entire product will be conveyed to the company's sawmill in this city. The mill is steadily operating and the output is approximately 35,000 feet daily. The mill will remain in commission until the end of the year, when a number of the employes will be given employment in the camps.

Contractor Frank Buschell is operating a camp at Copper Harbor, where he will cut about 4,000,000 feet of timber during the winter. About 250 men will be employed at the camps, and efforts are now being made by the operator to secure expert woodsmen. Wages paid to lumbermen are the highest on record, and experts are paid as high as $80 clear a month. The entire cut is contracted for with the National Pole company.

Onezime Dion has a force of men engaged in cutting cordwood south of Torch Lake, and numerous small operators have reopened camps all through the district.

New G. N. Branch.

Charlson, N. D., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Citizens of this locality have been promised a branch of the Great Northern. Formerly they felt certain of being on the main extension from New Rockford west, but difficulties in the way of grading made that impossible. The road officials have promised a branch through this section. The Soo, which has made several surveys, is also expected to come through this locality.

Consumption Takes 350 People Daily

in the United States and the deadly germs claim more victims in cities than in rural districts, due no doubt to the increased number of indoor workers in confining quarters and their lack of sunshine.

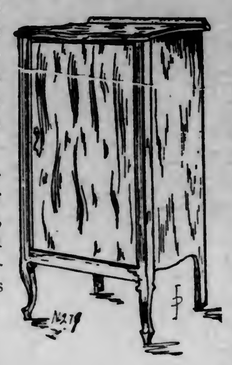

Tubercular germs always attack when the system is weakened from colds or sickness, overwork, overstrain, confining duties or any drain which has reduced the resistive forces of the body. But nature always provides a corrector and the best physicians emphasize that during changing climate our blood should be kept rich and pure and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals; the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood—it peculiarly strengthens the lungs and upbuilds the resistive forces of the body to avoid colds and prevent consumption.

If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known; it builds energy and strength and is totally free from alcohol or any stupefying drug—every druggist has it.

POCKETS EMPTY BUT WON'T WORK

Many Idle Men in City With Employers Begging for Help.

"With his pockets empty, little clothing on his back and a long cold northern winter staring him in the face, why will a laboring man walk the streets of Duluth idle when plenty of work can be had in the city or nearby at $2.50 to $2.75 a day?"

That's the question being asked by J. O. S. Burke, manager of the Minnesota State Employment agency. There is plenty of work at good wages now, he says, but there may be cold months in the near fututre when cold weather will stop the wheels of many enterprises and turn loose a great many laborers in the city.

"Workingmen seem discontented," said Manager Burke, "and although there are plenty of idle men in Duluth, we can't get them to work. There is more work now than we can get laborers to do. Later we look for a congestion of men. The Canadian Northern is in need of men, and crews are being asked for for work all the way from Virginia on up the line. The wages are from $2.50 to $2.75 a day.

"Work in the woods is on and $35 a month and board is being paid. Shipments are going out daily to the camps. My advice to the idle man is to get employment at once and keep it."

Heavy Withdrawals.

New York, Oct. 7.—Withdrawals of imports from bonded warehouses here during the first two business days of the new tariff's operation, ending last night, totaled 7,500, with duty payments aggregating $2,383,000. Six hundred withdrawals are above the daily average.

DEMANDS OF REFORMERS

Senator Cummins Outlines Plans of the "Conciliation Committee."

National Committee Must Have No Power to Seat Delegates.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Senator Cummins yesterday outlined in part the reform plans of the so-called "conciliation committee" of Republicans and Progressives, which hopes to bring about the holding of a national convenvention early in 1914.

The change in the representation of Southern states in the national convention is a secondary matter in the program of the committee. With the added support of many Republican leaders who did not participate in the "get together" conference in Chicago last spring, they will insist that the control of the national committee over seating of delegates in a national convention be abolished.

"The chief issue in this fight," said Senator Cummins, "is that involving the method of selecting and seating delegates in the national convention that nominates the Republican national presidential and vice presidential candidates. We shall insist that present rules shall be so modified and constructed that the Republican national committee will no longer have the power to make up a temporary roll of delegates, or to pass on the credentials of state delegates before they are seated in the convention.

Should Pass on Contests.

"Where states have primary laws that govern the election of delegates, it will be an easy matter to provide by party rule that the certificates issued by the local election officers shall be final evidence entitling the delegates to seats in the convention. Where such laws do not exist, however, I believe that Republican authorities in each state, either the state committee or a special board, should pass on all contests and settle the eligibility of delegations before they go to the national conventions.

"We shall insist that such change as this be made, so that the Republican national committee will not in the future have the power to temporarily seat contested or contesting delegates and thus virtually determine the control of the national convention."

The call issued by Chairman Hilles for a meeting of the national committee in Washington on Dec. 16, has set in motion again the movement started early last summer by Senators Cummins, Jones, Crawford and others for the special national convention. The indorsement given the project a few weeks ago by the New York Republican state convention added impetus to the campaign.

RAILROADS' EYES ON BORDER COUNTIES

Era of Building Expected in Koochiching Territory Next Year.

International Falls, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Information which comes from dependable but unofficial sources is to the effect that railroad building will be carried on to a great extent in Koochiching, Beltrami, Itasca and other of the northern counties within the next year and that the Soo line will have a direct line in to International Falls. The proposed extensions and development are confidently expected by the commercial clubs of the various live border towns.

The Minnesota, Dakota & Western, built and operated by the Backus interests has a line paralleling the Rainy river westward from International Falls to Loman and the survey has been made for the extension westward, reaching out toward Thief River Falls.

Another line of this road is that from Little Fork reaching south through the timber country and where 500 men are now at work extending the line toward Big Fork, which will give a through connection with Deer River on the line through Jessie Lake and Bowstring.

Two visits of President Pennington of the Soo line here recently has given credence to the belief that the Soo is interested in the vast section of country which would be traversed by a line of road reaching westward from International Falls to its main line at Thief River Falls and also southward from this city through Deer River to a point on its new main line of road in Cass county. Only a few miles of construction are required to make the southern connection. President E. W. Backus of the Minnesota, Dakota & Western lines in this county, is neither affirming or denying that the Soo line directorate is interested in the extensions of the Backus lines westward from Loman and south from Little Fork.

Another line in the northern counties, which has been surveyed and which, in operation would traverse the largest section of the state now without a railroad, is the proposed Canadian Northern cut-off, leaving the Winnipeg-Port Arthur line at Beaudette and joining the Fort Frances-Duluth line at or near Cook in St. Louis county.

NEW TEACHERS ARE APPOINTED

Several Vacancies on Staff Filled By Superintendent Denfeld.

Owing to necessary changes and vacancies a number of new teachers have been employed within the last few days in the Duluth schools. These have been recommended by Supt. Denfeld and approved by the board of education.

Adelaide H. Eaton has been placed in the sixth grade, Endion school. Roy J. Holmes will teach English in the freshman class, Central high school. Victor L. Erickson of the University of Minnesota, will teach commercial geography, physiography, Norwegian and Swedish in the Central high school. Miss Edna Erickson will take the place of Miss Bernice Foster, teacher of English and history in the Industrial high school. Miss Foster has been granted a leave of absence to continue her studies at the University of Minnesota. Miss Addie Smith, who has been absent from the Central high school for a year on account of death in her family, will resume her work instructing in mathematics. Miss Jessie Thomson will have charge of the primary work in the Bryant school. Miss Catherine Combs will have the seventh grade at the Endion school.

E. R. Donalde, formerly principal of the Lowell school, has been transferred to the principalship of the Fairmont.

EASEMENTS ARE COSTLY

City Clerk Suggests Better Method of Establishing Building Lines.

No Action Taken on Petitions to Vacate Street and Alley.

City Clerk Charles S. Palmer recommended a more businesslike method of handling building line easements to the city council at its meeting yesterday afternoon.

Building lines fix definite distances from the street in front of which no structure can be erected and are established in residence districts. The purpose is to secure uniformity and to improve the appearance of the sections in which homes are erected.

When an easement is to be established the proceedings are brought almost to conclusion before the property owners are brought in. Much time is consumed in getting out the detailed descriptions, commissioners are appointed to fix damages and benefits and resolutions and notices of hearings published. In the aggregate the cost is considerable, as the clerks who get out the descriptions are paid by the city, the commissioners are paid and the publications are expensive. The clerk points out that after all this has been done the proceedings are not infrequently abandoned when the property owners appear before the city officials.

City Clerk Palmer suggests that the unnecessary expense and trouble be eliminated by adopting another system. He would have the easements established after they are requested by petition of the property owners, as is done with vacations, or have the property owners notified as soon as building line easements are proposed in order that the officials can determine whether or not they will go through before further steps are taken. The matter was referred to Mayor Prince, head of the division of public affairs, for investigation and report.

Vacations Laid Over.

No action was taken on the petitions for the vacation of the alley between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh avenues east and Second and Third streets, or of Crescent avenue in Woodland, both being laid over for one week to give the property owners and the commissioners more time to consider them.

Speaking on the proposed alley vacation, Attorney H. C. Fulton, representing the property owner opposing it, asserted that the action would work a hardship upon his client. He said that it was not clear to him how the council could deprive the lot owner of the right of access to the rear of his property by means of the alley which was there when he bought it. He suggested that if either of the two large property owners asking the vacation wished to be fair, they would furnish his client a 10-foot driveway over their much larger holdings, thus leaving his client's lot intact.

When the vacation of Crescent avenue came up for consideration, Attorney C. R. Magney, who circulated the petition, vented a little peeve by saying that he supposed the matter had already been settled by the newspapers, but that he wanted to be heard, anyhow. He claimed that much of the avenue is practically worthless for street purposes, adding that part of it has been fenced in for years. He represented that his chief reason for desiring the vacation was that when he builds his home he doesn't want a stretch of wild, no-man's ground alongside. When Mayor Prince asked him if he would be willing to compensate the city for the 33-foot frontage which would be added to his property, Attorney Magney answered that he has all the ground he wants, and therefore would not be willing to pay anything in return for the city's vacation of its easement. Other property owners whose holdings do not abut Crescent avenue said that they are interested in seeing the vacation go through, as it would improve the grade of Winona street, on which they have built their homes.

New Ordinance.

Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, head of the utilities division, introduced an ordinance authorizing the commissioner of utilities to shut off water, gas and electricity of persons indebted to the city. The substance of the ordinance is as follows:

"Section 1. Whenever any person shall be in arrears to the city of Duluth for water or light supplied to such person by the city of Duluth; or by reason of any guaranty for the payment of water or light, or for the payment of any portion of the cost of any extension, or for any other commodity, or for repairs, the commissioner of public utilities may refuse to supply to such person any water, gas or electricity, or all, until said arrears, together with interest and any cost that may have been incurred by the city, shall be fully paid.

"Sec. 2. When any water, gas or electricity supplied by the city of Duluth in or upon any building, place or premises, shall not be promptly paid for, according to such rules and regulations as may be adopted by the city of Duluth or the commissioner of public utilities, then the commissioner of public utilities may cause the water or light, or both, to be shut off from such building, place or premises, until the arrears, with interest, together with the costs and expenses of shutting off and turning on said water or light, shall be fully paid.

"Sec. 3. Any person applying to the division of public utilities shall, upon payment of a fee of 25 cents, be furnished by the division of public utilities with a certificate showing the arrears, if any, against any piece or parcel of land in the city of Duluth.

"Sec. 4. The commissioner of public utilities may refuse to supply water or light, or both, to any person who has violated any of the ordinances or rules of the city of Duluth relative to the sale of water or light."

Don't Like New Rules.

A petition protesting against the new regulations of the street railway company, prohibiting the depositing of baggage on the rear vestibule, was presented and referred to Mayor Prince. The petitioners asked the council to use its influence in securing a return to former conditions.

On motion of Finance Commissioner F. J. Voss the city's delinquent assessments were ordered certified to the county auditor for collection. They include assessments for sprinkling, sidewalks, street improvements and sewers, aggregating $25,000 to $30,000. Assessments become delinquent if they are not paid within forty days of the date on which they are confirmed by the council and published, when a 10 per cent penalty is attached.

Ordinances appropriating $1,700 for the construction of a concrete culvert at Forty-third avenue west and Oneota street and changing the name of the thoroughfare known partly as Princeton avenue and partly as Vermilion road, to Vermilion road, were given their first reading.

On recommendation of Commissioner Murchison, Pretter and Skala were granted a revocable permit to connect their store building on Commonwealth avenue with the storm sewer in that avenue. It was pointed out that no other sewerage facilities are available. The firm agreed to sign a petition for a sanitary sewer when presented.

An ordinance appropriating $17,000 from the general fund to pay for sidewalks was given its third reading and passed.

A resolution was passed authorizing the settlement of the city's claim against the board of fire underwriters, for damages to the fire chief's automobile July 4, for $117.70.

A resolution was passed making a number of changes in the locations of street lighting lamps.

This is Guaranteed to Stop Your Cough

This plan makes a pint of better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. A few doses usually conquer an ordinary cough—relieves even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite, and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, bronchial asthma and whooping cough.

The effect of pine on the membranes is well known. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup remedy has often been imitated, though never successfully. It is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ROAD RESPONSIBLE; MAISE EXONERATED.

New York, Oct. 7.—A coroner's jury yesterday found the Long Island Railroad company responsible for the collision between two trains at College Point, L. I., Sept. 22, in which four persons were killed and nearly fifty injured. In returning this verdict the jury exonerated William B. Maise, the signal tower man at Flushing Meadows, who had been held under $10,000 bail. Maise was discharged from custody and the jury's verdict was given to the district attorney for use in a grand jury investigation.

ELECTRIC AND STEAM BATHS

Y. M. C. A. Will Install Modern Parlors in Connection With Gymnasium.

The Young Men's Christian association has arrangements almost completed for the installation of one of the most modern and up-to-date electric and steam bath and massage parlors to be found in any association in the country. The equipment, which will cost about $1,000, will be paid for by subscription. Physical Director A. F. Olson, who has been raising the money by subscription, says that nearly the full amount is now in sight.

The work of installation will begin in a few days, and the parlors will be opened before winter. The parlors will be situated where the present hot room is, with additional space adjoining. A first-class masseur will be in charge. The plans have been worked out by General Secretary B. C. Wade.

WAGE DEMANDS WOULD IMPOSE BIG BURDEN.

New York, Oct. 7.—It will cost the Eastern railways nearly $18,000,000 a year more to operate, if they are compelled to grant the wage demands of their 80,000 trainmen and conductors, it was testified on behalf of the roads before the Federal arbitration board. The increases asked for represent an increase of 31 per cent over the total wages now paid, according to John G. Walber, a vice president's assistant of the Baltimore & Ohio.

SAVED BY BRAVERY OF A BOAT'S CREW.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—The steamer City of Atlanta arrived last night from Savannah, bringing the crew of the Boston schooner Frank B. Witherbee, which had capsized off Cape Hatteras Friday night after collision with the steamer.

That there was no loss of life, was due largely to the bravery of First Mate Lincoln C. Dalzell and a boat's crew of seven men from the steamer, who took off the schooner's men in a small boat in a heavy sea.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

PASTORS SEEK HIGHER PLACE

Two Candidates for Methodist Superintendent of Grand Forks District.

Annual State Conference Opens in Lisbon This Week.

Lisbon, N. D., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. G. H. Quigley of Drayton, and Rev. C. E. Stinson of Grafton, are Methodist pastors who are being prominently mentioned for appointment to the position of superintendent of the Grand Forks district as successors to Dr. J. G. Moore, the retiring superintendent.

Among the early delegates who have reached Lisbon for the annual Methodist conference, the first feature of which will be staged tonight in the form of a public reception to the visitors, the names of Messrs. Stinson and Quigley are most often heard, and it is believed that the choice lies between them.

Another important change in superintendents may be made in the Fargo district, it being reported that Rev. Charles A. MacNamara is to be transferred. Just what post he will be assigned to, and who will be appointed to succeed him, is entirely uncertain at this stage.

One of the most important questions to come before the conference will be that of the conference claimants fund. Last year the conference, in session at Grand Forks, voted to abandon active work in the creation of the fund, suspending operations for a year. There is, however, a desire at this time to renew activities, and that matter will be brought to the attention of the conference.

Still another question, vastly important to the educational work of the Methodists, is that of establishing a second college in the state. For some time there has been a movement under way, particularly in the southwestern part of the state, for the establishment of a second college. In the last conference, however, the proposition was given little encouragement, the delegates authorizing, instead, a campaign for the creation of an endowment fund for Wesley college, the first established Methodist institution. Work on the creation of this fund is now under way.

HILL CITY TO HAVE FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Commercial Club Succeeds in Arranging With State for Meeting Oct. 16.

Hill City, Minn., Oct. 7.—A meeting of first importance to the farmers of this community will be the Farmers' institute to be held Oct. 16, under the direction of the state agricultural college. This will be the first institue ever held in Hill City and is expected to bring out a large number. The speakers are acknowledged experts in the subjects they will discuss and a great deal of information will be given out that will be of benefit to farmers and other people as well. Negotiations between the Commercial club and the university have been carried on for some time and this institute is the result. It proposed to have the institutes from time to time, at least once a year, and the citizens generally are requested to help make it a success by being present at the meetings. It is proposed that exhibits of such products as can be had at this time be made for the purpose of giving an idea of the great fertility of the soil here and also to get a start toward an annual local fair.

TEACHERS' MEETING WILL BE IMPORTANT

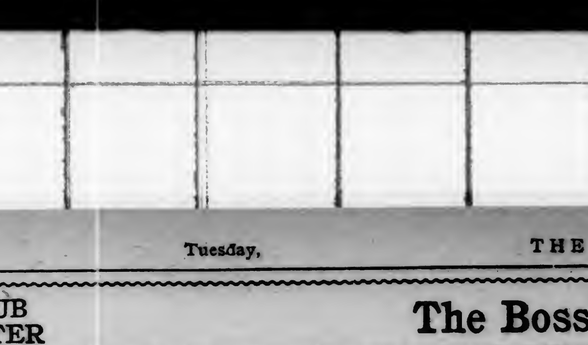

Many Prominent Educators to Attend Association's Session in Ashland.

Ashland, Wis., Oct. 7.—The annual session of the North Wisconsin Teachers' association will be held at the high school auditorium on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 10 and 11.

This meeting gives promise of being one of the best that the association has held and teachers from all parts of Northern Wisconsin will be in attendance. Among the speakers on the program are Dr. M. P. Ravenel and Prof. F. C. Sharp of the university, State Superintendent C. P. Cary, President McCaskill, Miss Carolina Barbour and Prof. D. S. Gillette of Superior normal, State Superintendent L. L. Wright of Michigan, Profs. W. S. Weles and E. W. Himelick of River Falls, City Superintendent V. T. Thayer of Ashland and J. V. Brennen of Ironwood, Mich., and Mrs. Anna Williams, supervisor of music, Superior.

On Friday evening the Philharmonic orchestra of Minneapolis will give a concert in the high school auditorium.

BAUDETTE HUNTERS PROVE THEY LIVE IN GAME PARADISE

BAUDETTE SPORTSMEN AND THEIR BAG.

Baudette, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the nearby territory is the finest game preserve in the state was demonstrated again yesterday when Frank Smystiek, Dr. Osborn and William Hoeschied, returned from a three-day hunting trip. The party had only one dog but were kept busy dodging prairie chickens. The picture shows the trio and their bag of game at the camp.

TO SEEK PARDON FOR CAMERON DAM OUTLAW

Dietz Case Will Be Up Before Wisconsin Governor Soon.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 7.—"We have accumulated evidence to show that our father did not fire the shot which struck Oscar Harp, and we believe that it is so strong that Governor McGovern will issue a pardon," said Leslie Dietz, son of John Dietz, the "defender of Cameron dam," who was in Milwaukee with his brother Clarence last night.

The governor has promised a hearing on the case for the latter part of this month or early in November. Attorney Henry Cochems, accompanied by Leslie and Clarence Dietz and several witnesses, will appear before the governor.

A three-reel moving picture reproduction of the "Defense of Cameron Dam" has just been completed for the Dietz family. It is to be shown at several moving picture theaters in Milwaukee in a short time. Miss Myra Dietz and Leslie will give talks.

MERICA TO LEAVE TRAINING SCHOOL.

Red Wing, Minn., Oct. 7.—Supt. C. O. Merica of the Minnesota state training school in this city since August, 1912, whose resignation has just been made public is not inclined to discuss the real reason for his action, which is said to be due to differences with the state board of control.

"I tendered my resignation to the board of control on Sept. 22," he said yesterday afternoon, "to take effect Jan. 1, 1914. After consulting the members it was decided not to make the resignation public at this time, believing it would be for the best interests of the school, and for that reason I have said nothing. Conditions have been very satisfactory at the school."

Dr. Merica was superintendent of the Wisconsin Industrial school for boys at Waukesha, Wis., from 1897 to 1903, and in 1908 was chosen president of the University of Wyoming, a position which he resigned to take up the work at this state institution.

He introduced new methods at the training school and eliminated corporal punishment for a time, and placed boys on their honor.

PRESBYTERIANS TO CONVENE THIS WEEK.

Stillwater, Minn., Oct. 7.—The Minnesota Presbyterian synod will hold its fifty-fifth annual conference in the First Presbyterian church of this city, beginning Thursday evening. There will be sessions Friday and Saturday. The Stillwater congregation is the oldest Presbyterian one in the state, and celebrated its sixtieth anniversary Dec. 9, 1909.

At the opening Thursday evening a sermon will be preached by Rev. H. C. Swearingen, D. D., of House of Hope church, St. Paul.

A Sunday school institute will open in the same church Wednesday evening. It will have sessions Thursday morning and afternoon. The opening address Wednesday night will be by Rev. W. W. White, D. D., of New York, whose theme will be "Red Letter Day in Bible Study."

HAYWARD MAN THE VICTIM OF LUNATIC.

Ashland, Wis., Oct. 7.—John J. Heelan, aged 38, chief clerk at the Indian school at Hayward, is dead at a hospital here and a youth who gives his name as Gronfedt is held at Hayward as his murderer. Heelan was rushed here in a special car after being held up and shot shortly before midnight. He died several hours later.

Heelan was on his way home from the railroad station. At a particularly dark spot in the road he was commanded to throw up his hands. Thinking the order a joke on the part of acquaintances, he laughed and continued his walk. The hold-up man then fired twice, one bullet taking effect in the right arm and the other penetrating the breast.

The youth held as his slayer is 20 years old. Sheriff Madden of Hayward arrested Gronfeldt at the home of a farmer named Munson, who says the boy tried to shoot him, but was disarmed. The youth has been living alone in a cabin in the woods, and his mind is believed to be unsound.

NORTH DAKOTA THAW SEEKS HIS FREEDOM.

Schafer, N. D., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—After killing Brownie Emery over their rivalry for the affections of a young lady near here, Thomas Allen was adjudged insane and sent to the state asylum before his trial on the murder charge. The authorities say he is still insane, but he is making a strenuous effort to secure his freedom and claims he wants to go to California and reside. He has written to officials asking his freedom.

TWO DAKOTANS HAVE ARMS BLOWN OFF.

Harvey, N. D., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Balson went with a party of friends on a duck hunt. The boat capsized and in the excitement Balson's gun was discharged and a part of his arm was torn off. He will not lose the entire member.

Mott, N. D., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—While assisting in the celebration of the wedding anniversary at the M. Johner home, Gabriel Greff lost a part of his arm. George Grimm was loading a shotgun, which was accidentally discharged. Nearly the entire load entered Greff's arm. Amputation will probably be necessary.

BREAK INTO JAIL TO STEAL BEER.

Mohall, N. D., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thirsty thieves broke into jail to quench their thirst. Sheriff Wilcox and deputies raided a blind pig at Tolley, arresting H. B. Albrechtand, seizing a barrel and a half of bottled beer. The latter was placed in a cell in the city jail to be held as evidence. During the night thieves raided the jail and secured every bottle of the beer.

Harvesta Big Wheat Crop.

Milnor, N. D., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Proving that better farming pays, Halvard Jensen reports thirty-five bushels of wheat to the acre on twenty acres of summer fallowed land and an average yield of twenty-four bushels per acre on a quarter of a section. The 35-bushel yield is thought to be the largest in the county this year.

Minnesota Pioneer Dead.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Amos C. Jordan of Cogswell, died Monday evening at the home of her son, Charles A. Jordan, editor of the Enterprise. She was born May 27, 1846, in Maine, but removed with her parents to Minnesota at an early age, and in Minneapolis she married Col. Amos C. Jordan, Company D, First Minnesota volunteers. Col. Jordan was for some time managing editor of the Minneapolis Tribune. She has lived in Cogswell eight years with her son Charles.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Fargo, N. D.—Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Lewis will give a bridal dinner for their son, Robert Carpenter Iewis, and Miss Lou Ceil Quirk, whose marriage is an event of next week. The dinner for the bridal party will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis at their home on Third avenue south Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. The wedding will be solemnized at the bride's home Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, at which only the immediate members of the family will be present.

Dickinson, N. D.—Cards have been received by friends in this city announcing the wedding of the daughter of Mrs. Mary Lewis Pashley to Edward John Hauser of Dickinson. The wedding took place in Minneapolis Sept. 27. Dr. Hauser is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hauser of Fargo, and is now practicing dentistry in Dickinson.

Grand Forks, N. D.—The Entre Nous club of Grand Forks held its first regular meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. H. Ashley. Prof. Vernon P. Squires of the university faculty gave a splendid address on "The Novelists of the Eighteenth Century," tracing their works down to the present time. The club will take up the study of "The Novelists and Painters of the Nineteenth Century" for this year's work. The club will not be represented at the State Federation of Women's Clubs which meets in Fargo next month.

Crosby, N. D.—At St. Patrick's church in Crosby Tuesday occurred the marriage of James A. Buck of Crosby and Miss Agnes Magdalen, daughter of Mrs. Mullen of Skermo, Rev. Mr. Stahl reading the marriage service. They were attended by Joseph Lynch and Miss Nellie Mullen, a sister of the bride.

Minot, N. D.—The Athenian Dramatic club of Minot will present the comedy play, "Brown's Troubles," in Granville, Velva, Plaza and Kenmare, after which it will probably be given in Minot. The club was organized by Mrs. Jeanette Jerome, who received her training in dramatic art in New York, and has been very successful in her work. The cast is composed of local talent, but under the guidance of Mrs. Jerome, will rival professionals in dramatic skill.

Hettinger, N. D.—The Twentieth Century club of Hettinger will devote the year to a study of North Dakota in all its various phases. The special subject for the last meeting was "The History of North Dakota, Landmarks of North Dakota and Laws for Women in North Dakota."

Fargo, N. D.—The second convention of the North Dakota Votes for Women league will be held in Fargo at the Civic Center, Oct. 13. This meeting has been called immediately after the State Federation of Women's Clubs, in order to accommodate the club women, many of whom are planning to remain over and attend, and every North Dakota woman is cordially urged to attend and may consider herself a delegate.

Langdon, N. D.—George McCauvran was taken into custody at Osnabrock on the charge of keeping for sale intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and in justice court in this city, before Justice O. B. Aldrich waived examination. He was accordingly bound over to the district court, and has given a personal bond of $250 for his appearance at that time.

Devils Lake, N. D.—The Devils Lake Retail Merchants' association has been organized, with Louis Mundt as president and H. J. Kenner as secretary and treasurer. The organization followed a meeting conducted by L. F. Nangle, field representative of the state association.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Health Officer Dr. G. Rheudiger has issued a warning to the citizens of Grand Forks to boil all city water used for domestic purposes for several days, as the condition of the water is not sanitary because of the 2,000,000 gallons pumped yesterday morning in fighting the Barnes feed store fire. "Raw" water, that is to say unfiltered, has been found in the city water mains.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Crookston—C. G. Selvig is sending out notice of the tenth annual convention of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association which will be held in Crookston Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 3 and 4 next.

Crookston—The wedding of Miss Leah Wilde of Crookston, daughter of Judge and Mrs. G. C. Wilde, and Frank Smith of Grand Forks will take place at the home of the bride's parents in Crookston Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Smith is well known in the state. He has just returned from Mexico where he is superintendent of San Domingo silver mines at Batopolis.

Bralnerd—Residents of Riverton will take the necessary legal steps to incorporate Riverton as a village. The rapid growth at that place within the past few months has necessitated the step that is to be taken, in order that improvements may be made and other conditions given attention.

Crosby—Several Crosby graduates of the University of Minnesota have been discussing the possibility of organizing a Cuyuna range alumi association, and if it is found that there are a sufficient number of former students of that institution on the range it is probable that the association will be perfected within a short time.

Red Lake Falls—T. O. Melby, a prominent merchant of Oklee, of the firm of Melby brothers, died at the hospital at Bemidji.

Red Lake Falls—Paul Brunelle and Miss Zella Quesnelle, two popular young people of this city, were married at St. Joseph's church.

Red Lake Falls—The identity of the man found dead along the Soo tracks near Plummer has been established He was Fred Johnson, and had been working near Carlos, Minn.

Cloquet—Peterson & Persinger have moved their road construction outfit to the new road in section 19, 49-17, running north from the northwest corner of the section to the St. Louis county line, and in six weeks expect to have completed the road, which has already been partially graded. This road is part of a system of road leading from different farming sections to the city.

Cloquet—The Cloquet Lumber company has started a night run at its water power mill to continue for the balance of the season as long as the weather permits. The Johnson-Wentworth mill shut down Saturday to make repairs for a couple of weeks previous to beginning a run for all winter.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Houghton—Following the plans of the program committee who met this week for the purpose of preparing the yearly program, the first meeting of the Houghton District Ministerial association will be held at the Houghton M. E. church on Oct. 13. At this the first meeting, officers for the year will be elected.

Calumet—Contractor Edward Ulseth has completed work on the new four-room addition to the Copper City school and the structure has been turned over to the school authorities, who are already utilizing the new rooms. The addition practically doubles the capacity of the school and gives Copper City one of the finest structures of its kind in the Upper Peninsula.

Calumet—The Calumet Woman's club held its first regular meeting for the season in the Y. M. C. A. lecture room and reports of the various officers and committees were read and adopted. The resignations of President-elect Mrs. Anna Lee and of the corresponding secretary-elect Miss Ida Fisher, were received. Mrs. Anna Hall was elected as president for the ensuing term and Mrs. Lillian Rupprecht as corresponding secretary.

Iron Mountain—Wallace Peterson, struck by a freight train on the St. Paul tracks near Randville, died at St. George's hospital at Iron Mountain. He was so severely mangled that there was never any hope of saving his life. Before he died he stated he had two sisters at Republic. The man was about 35 years of age and had been working at a lumber camp near Carey Spur.

Hancock—A. S. Rossman of Fourth street has a plum tree that is the marvel of the neighborhood and one that effectually refutes the assertion made recently by O. K. White of the state agricultural college that Upper Michigan was not and could not be a fruit raising section. Mr. Rossman's tree is about five years old and he gathered thirty-one bushels from the tree and took two twigs loaded with fruit to the fair at Houghton for exhibition.

Hubbell—Special services are being planned by members of the German Lutheran church of Hubbell for Oct. 12, the occasion of which will be the dedication of a new bell which has recently been received. The church has been in existence for twenty years but no effort has ever been made to procure a bell.

Hancock—In the presence of a large number of friends Miss Anna Gauthier became the wife of Frank Mereno at St. Joseph's church, Rev. Father Glaser officiating. The ceremony was performed in the church sanctuary. The witnesses were Miss Belle Marchand, cousin of the bride and Joseph Gauthier, brother of the bride.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Marinette—A big black bear forced John Danielson, a motorman, to stop a traction car on the electric line between Electric park and Arcadian, Mich. The bear showed fight at the approach of the car and reared up on its haunches on the track. Danielson feared the car would be derailed if he ran it over the animal. When passengers crowded into the vestibule of the car, the bear ambled away.

Beaver Dam—The most successful fair ever held by the Dodge County Fair association closed here on Friday with an attendance of 23,000. The attendance for the week was 83,000. The exhibits were of the best quality and in number excelled those of any previous fair. Many of the stock exhibits go from here to Springfield, Ill., where the Illinois state fair is held this week.

Madison—F. R. King of Milwaukee has been appointed state plumber inspector by the state board of health. He will supervise the local plumbing inspectors. Thomas Ferguson of Madison, as the representative of journeymen plumbers; James Robertson, Milwaukee, as the representative of the master plumbers and W. G. Kierchoffer, Madison, as the representative of the state board of health have been appointed to the state plumbing board.

Manitowoc—This city is to have a camp of Sons of Veterans, a semi-military organization, which will take the place of the Grand Army of the Republic. The organization is launched with a membership of 150.

Manitowoc—Frank J. Trost, Manitowoc, was married to Miss Houston at Whitehall, S. D., a month ago and kept the wedding a secret until Sunday.

Sheboygan—The new German Reformed church at Plymouth, Rev. F. W. Belsser, pastor, was dedicated Sunday.

Beloit—Lloyd Mathews, aged 17, was killed by an interurban car while driving across the track.

Racine—The executive committee awarded the 1914 state convention of the Young Men's Christian association to Racine in February.

Waukesha—Dr. George E. Hoyt of Menomonee Falls is ineligible as deputy state health officer because he is a state senator.

Madison—The board of health has no authority to determine educational qualifications of embalmers, according to Attorney General Owen.

Racine—After eating green berries the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Krogh, remained unconscious for three days.

H-O Cooks in 20 minutes

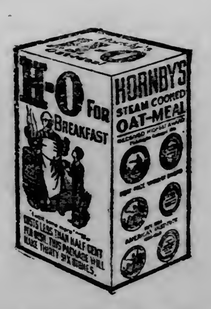

Don't confuse H-O Oatmeal with any other, for there is no other like it.

It is the only oatmeal made from a blend of selected varieties of oats. This adds highly to the flavor.

Note this: H-O, unlike other oatmeals and rolled oats, doesn't come to you raw—because we give it our exclusive steam-cooking process—two hours of it. This has a remarkably fine effect on the flavor. Makes easy digestion sure—and saves you most of the cooking.

Get H-O Oatmeal and taste the big difference.

RAILROADS MAY ASSIST IN BOOSTING BIG MATCH

Curling Club Officials to Take Up Matter of Securing Accommodations for Yokel-Beell Contest.

Walter Johnson Has Refused Lucrative Offer to Go on the Stage---Mrs. Agnes Havenor First Woman to Win Pennant.

BY BRUCE.

ACCORDING to the statement of Secretary J. E. MacGregor of the Duluth Curling club, the matter of securing the best accommodations from the railroads for the world's championship contest between Yokel and Beell, which will be wrestled at the curling club on the evening of Oct. 3, will be immediately taken up through the proper traffic channels.

It is expected by the officials of the curling club that there will be an immense number of fans from the range, from the Twin Cities, and from all down the Wisconsin line, where the Germans are strong for the ability of the little Dutch Farmer of Marshfield.

The officials of the curling club will take up the matter of having the crossing at Fourteenth avenue east fixed. Arrangements will also be made for the parking of automobiles around the big curling club building and in the avenue below.

A special committee of twenty-five members will have charge of the distribution of the tickets. Guy E. Warren is the chairman of the ticket committee, and optimistic members of the committee believe that by far the largest number of tickets ever sold for any athletic contest this side of Chicago will be disposed of for the big contest.

The special invitation to Governor Eberhard was sent Saturday. Also special invitations will be sent to Mayor Prince, to each member of the commission, and to the members of the Superior Curling club, and it is expected that the members of the club across the bay will attend the match in a body. Members of the ticket committee also expect that there will be a large representation from all of the curling clubs on the ranges.

Does Not Want to Act.

MOST of the brave and bold athletes in the nestling limelight clasp the idea that they can act tightly to their chests and hold on. Among those cherishing thoughts of histrionic straining are Mike Donlin, Abe Attell, Robert Fitzsimmons and little fat Muggsy McGraw. Outside of the fact that these men have performed lustrously in the ring and on the baseball field, as actors their knowledge of art extends no farther than the knowledge of a wild and untrammeled Missouri razorback hog of the more subtle forms of Theosophy.

Therefore it is with great pleasure that the world at large may learn of the fact that Walter Johnson of the brave and hard-fighting Nationals has refused a contract that called for the magnificent salary of $15,000 for ten weeks of idle work.

"I don't want to act, can't act, and wouldn't if I could," was the sententious declaration of the greatest pitcher in the world. Hurrah for the greatest pitcher in the world.

Mrs. Agnes Havenor Wins.

MORE than one record was broken when the Teutons of gay Milwaukee won the pennant of the American association. The Milwaukee team won one of the first pennants for a German city and also the first woman in the history of the world won the oriflamme. Mrs. Agnes H. blushed, not gushed, and modestly declared that she was proud of the honors that had been thrust upon her. Of course the team had something to do with it. Where did you get the idea that it didn't?

Now it is up to the Milwaukee sangerbund of the woman suffragist association to get together and promptly and proudly celebrate the fact that one woman in the short space of one year can go forth and accomplish more than several of the masculine sharps have been able to in the effluxion of the weary years.

It would be on the order of the sneaking and thoroughly inappropriate to call to mind the non progress of Mrs. Britton down St. Louis way, and therefore we won't. Mrs. Britton finished in last place—but then this is not the occasion to make mention of the fact, let the suffragists be gay and happy.

Like the Mexican Rumors.

COMES now creeping wearily on all fours the story of how Cornellius McGillicuddy is slyly grooming the convalescent Coombs for the world's series. We credit not this theory, thinking maybe that some scribe lacked the price for winter raiment and sought said price through the medium of sending some story that would wake the baseball world to delirious action and bring forth orders for more of the same dope.

With Coombs right and on the firing line for the slugging Mackmen it would be the sensible thing to do to place some of the nest egg provided on the Athletics. The one possible line of superiority of the Giants, according to the majority of eminent critics, is in the box, and with Coombs back and well, this point might be surrendered to the Mackmen.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF CHICAGO AT STAKE

First of Games Between White Sox and Cubs Is On.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The first game to decide the baseball championship of Chicago will be played today, starting at 2 o'clock, between the Chicago teams of the American and National leagues.

Both teams had their final workouts yesterday.

President Comiskey, of the American league club, indicated that "Big Ed" Walsh, who has been the mainstay of the American leaguers in the previous series between the city clubs, would be in condition to participate in the series.

The probable batteries in the opening game will be Cheney and Archer for the Nationals, and Russell and Chalk for the Americans.

CUB BOSS SAYS ZABEL IS A STAR

Charles W. Murphy Says He Wouldn't Take $20,000 for Recruit.

It may interest some of the fans around these parts to learn that Charles W. Murphy, generally credited with owning the Cubs, has stated that he would not at the present time take $20,000 for Zabel, the pitcher who made so sensational a record in the Northern league during the present season.

Comstock, Bell, Schauer and even young Bill Snow sort of overshadowed the tall youth who came to the Peg toward the latter end of the season and won every game he worked in with the exception of one, that being a tie game he flung against the great Ralph Bell of Winona.

In his first start in the big leagues, without being heralded as any $7,500 beauty, this Zabel youth goes in and stands the Pittsburg hitters on their collective heads. This was rather different from the start of Friend Schauer.

It is further said that before his start against the Pirates that Zabel worked in a practice game against the Cub regulars and that he made them look foolish.

All of the players of the local team used to swear that Zabel had nothing but a horse shoe and some smoke. However, he beat them and in so decisive a fashion as to leave some lingering doubt as to the truth of their statements.

Now Murphy comes and says the youth is worth more than $20,000. A great game, this baseball.

TWO TRACK RECORDS LOWERED AT LEXINGTON.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 7.—The world's record for 2-year-old trotters was broken yesterday when Peter Volo won the futurity for 2-year-old trotters, making the second mile in 2:04¼. The previous record was 2:06¼. The fractional time was :31¼, 1:02½, 1:33 and 2:04½.

Uhlan, C. K. G. Billings' champion trotter, lowered the world's record for quarter mile by going the distance in 27 seconds. Peter Volo won in straight heats. Second money went to Lady Wannata. The Walnut Hall cup was won by Fan Patch, well driven by Snow, after the daughter of Joe Patchen had lost the first two heats to Bright Axworth. The latter was unable to keep up the pace set.

President Tipton presented S. J. Honsel, her owner, with a silver cup.

SAME OLD STORY IN SAME OLD WAY

Prospects of Michigan Returning to Conference Not Very Bright.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 7.—The regents of the University of Minnesota do not take kindly to the proposition of the athletic board of the University of Michigan to resume athletic relations with Minnesota, unless the Michigan institution can come in under the regular Western conference rules. They would, however, be glad to welcome the Wolverines back, if they will come in the right spirit.

The board yesterday held its October meeting on board a pleasure steamer down the Mississippi river, as the guests of Dr. W. J. Mayo of Rochester, Minn.

In a leter written to the Minnesota regents the Michigan authorities had expressed a desire to resume athletic relations with Minnesota, but advanced the conviction that it was "inconsistent with the dignity of any university to surrender to any other authority its right to prescribe and maintain its own rules and regulations." The Michigan authorities, in a resolution, called for an agrement within the conference, as conditional on its resumption of membership, whereby a unanimous vote of all members would be necessary to adopt and enforce a rule.

The Minnesota regents adopted a resolution, framed by the university senate, in effect as follows:

"We do not feel that any real progress could be made in the Western intercollegiate conference if all changes depended on a unanimous vote, as that would practically establish minority control in the conference."

The regents further expressed to Michigan the hope that it would find it possible to re-enter the conference and pledged their hearty support as fas as posible "without sacrificing the fundamental principles underlying the organization of the conference."

BEAVERS AND MARINES LOOK AWFULLY STRONG.

That two of the greatest rivals of the Adams team for the Northwestern championship will be the Marines and the Beavers, both of Minneapolis, is certain from the scores made by these crack independent teams in the contests of last Sunday.

The Marines defeated the East Side Athletics of Minneapolis by the score of 61 to 0, while the Beavers, the team the Adams boys defeated last season, overwhelmed the Sorensons of Minneapolis by the score of 23 to 0.

As both of these teams are in the running for the championship, and one of them is pretty sure to meet the Adams team during the present season, it may prove interesting to the fans to know that the blue and white eleven will undoubtedly experience some rough going when it runs against either of the aforementioned teams.

STARS TO SHOW FOR LAKESIDERS

Abe O'Neil and Teddy Hempstead, Steve Gardner and Martin Bugge, and little Louis Zorbas and "Doc" Chamberlain, will be the principals of three of the star bouts that will be put on at the athletic entertainment of the Lakeside Athletic club, next Thursday evening at the rooms of the club in the old firehall at Lakeside.

It is expected that Mayor Prince and Commissioner Hicken will be among those in attendance to witness the initiation of amateur boxing in the city. If the entertainment of the present week is a success it is planned by the members of the club to put on a more ambitious one in the future.

In addition to the wrestling and boxing there will be a moving picture feature and some other lines of entertainment. It is expected that the show of Thursday evening will be the best ever given by the Lakeside club.

POST-SEASON GAMES

Allows Only Two Hits.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 7.—"Cy" Falkenberg held the Pittsburg National leaguers to two hits in the opening game of their post-season series yesterday and Cleveland took the first game, 3 to 0. With two out in the second inning, Miller walked and Mitchell got Pittsburg's first hit, a single to left. Gibson then fielded out. In the sixth with one out, Carey got the visitors' other hit, a single to center. Dolan walked but Hans Wagner hit into a double play. Thereafter Pitteburg failed to get a man to first base. In the first inning, Johnston's fumble and a poor throw by Carisch enabled Carey to reach second. Only one other Pittsburg runner got that far and none reached third.

Cleveland got three hits in the first inning but a pretty throw by Dolan caught Jackson at the plate. Adams kept Cleveland's hits scattered then until the sixth when Jackson's single and Lajoie's long double scored the first run. In the seventh Cleveland scored two more on Olson's single, Dolan's wild throw of Graney's grounder, and Wagner's wild throw to the plate on Falkenberg's infield hit.

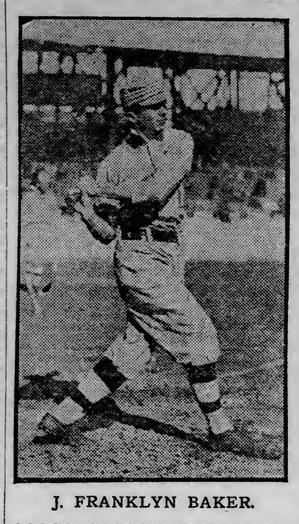

Only about 5,000 fans turned out to see the game. However, they saw a contest worthy of a world's series. Dolan, Chapman, Wagner and Johnston all contributed fine fielding stunts.

The teams play here today and McQuillan for Pittsburg, and Gregg for Cleveland, probably will be the pitchers. Score:

Giants Beat Phillies.

New York, Oct. 7.—In an exhibition game here yesterday afternoon the champion Giants and the Philadelphia Nationals set a new record for speed for a full game between major league teams, the time being 31 minutes. With McGraw hustling in new players in rapid succession the contest resembled rapid fire target practice on a battleship. The Giants won by 4 to 1.

Preceding the game there were several field events. In a 100-yard dash Lobert beat Thorpe in 13 seconds. The fungo hitting contest went to Thorpe with a rap for 414 feet and Lobert won the chase around the bases in 15 seconds. Score:

Kentucky trotting horse breeders' meeting today. The stake is for 3-year-olds and is worth $14,000. It was expected to bring out the best horses in the 3-year-old class and that it would be the best contest of the week.

Among the twenty-eight horses eligible to start were Etawah, Don Chenault, Dillon Axworthy, Peter Johnston, Polnesetta, Bonington, Derby Worthy, Margaret Druien, Nowaday Girl and Miss Rilda.

The other events on the card were the 2:13 class trot and a 2:05 class pace, both calling for three in five heats.

HOPPE TO MEET CHALLENGERS

World's Champion Billiardist Expects a Very Busy Year.

William Hoppe (William the Conqueror), reigning monarch of the billiard world has begun light practice as a preparatory step toward fitting himself for what bids fair to be the most strenuous campaign the great young champion ever encountered and he has been through the mill, everyone knows.

This fall and winter Hoppe will be called upon to defend his world's title at both styles of balk line—18:1 and 18:2—against practically all the leading masters of both hemispheres and realizing that he will have to be at his best the New York star aims to be in good stroke and first class physical condition when the time comes for him to cross cues with the various experts clamoring for his double crown.

Hoppe's first opponent has not as yet been named, but it doubtless will come from the following list:

Calvin Demarest or George Sutton of Chicago; George F. Slosson of New York; Ora Morningstar of Pittsburg; Harry Cline of Philadelphia; Koji Yamada of Tokio, Japan; or Melbourne Inman of London, England.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Catholic Athletic Association Prepares for Busy Season.

Officers of the Catholic Athletic association for the ensuing year were elected at the annual meeting of the association last evening. A. E. Harroun was chosen president; James Lydon, vice president; A. F. McDowell, recording secretary; George Aramond, financial secretary; and W. C. Toben, treasurer. Herbert Paul will be the manager of the basket ball team and Fred Lavall the manager of the indoor baseball team.

It is expected that the present season will be one of the best in the history of the association. There are at the present time a large number of candidates out for the indoor baseball team. One of the features of the winter season is expected to be an indoor athletic meeting at the Cathedral gymnasium.

Only Light Practice.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 7.—Only light practice was indulged in by the Minnesota football squad yesterday. From now on the regular team will work in preparation for the game with Nebraska at Lincoln Oct. 13.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

Champion Kilbane Is Accused of Hitting Small Boy.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 7.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with assaulting 11-year-old Charlie Chambers. The warrant, which was sworn out by the boy's mother, Mrs. Clara Chambers, charges that Kilbane attacked the boy because of a dispute over a bicycle given the lad's older brother for services in keeping a record of press clippings concerning the champion.

"I didn't give Charlie Chambers' brother the bicycle," said Kilbane. "I just loaned it to him a year ago. I wanted it back. When I saw Charlie with it the other day I took it away from him.

"I did not hit him or hurt him. I wouldn't hit a little boy like that," said Johnny.

He gave $50 bond for his appearance at the trial and requested a jury trial.

Big Classics Are Off.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 7.—All hope that the Vanderbilt cup and grand prize automobile races will be run over the local course, was ended last night when the Savannah Automobile club adopted a resolution declaring both events off. The club directed that the grandstands on the course be advertised for sale.

Pennsy Loses Veteran.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—University of Pennsylvania football team suffered a loss yesterday when it was announced that Harry Wilson, veteran tackle on the team last year, would not report for the eleven this season. Wilson decided to devote all his time to studies.

Tigers Have Signal Work.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 7.—The Tiger eleven was given a rest yesterday from scrimmage and what signal work the coaches decreed, was carried on behind closed gates. E. Shea reported for the first time in several weeks. Capt. Baker and J. S. Baker, with Emmons, had a long session at handling punts, Kirby doing the kicking.

WOMAN GETS LIFE TERM FOR MURDER.

Harrisonville, Mo., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Ida May Keller, charged with killing her husband and 7-year-old daughter, Margaret, was convicted of murder in the first degree by the jury last night. Her punishment was fixed at life imprisonment.

Want More Chaplains.

New York, Oct. 7.—The Federation Union of the Churches of Christ in America, representing thirty Protestant Evangelical denominations, have petitioned President Wilson, the secretary of war and the secretary of the navy for an increase in the number of chaplains in the army and navy. The council asks that a chaplain be provided for every army post and every battleship.

IGNORANCE NO PROTECTION

P. J. Hickey's Bartender Sells Liquor on Sunday; License Is Revoked.

Saloon Keeper's Plea of Former Good Record Is of No Avail.

Saloon keepers in Duluth cannot save their licenses by pleading ignorance of law violation on the part of their bartenders.

"To listen to that argument would be making a farce of law enforcement," said Commissioner William A. Hicken, head of the safety division, at the city council meeting yesterday afternoon. "The bars could be run on Sundays and after hours by bartenders and the proprietors would be able to evade the penalty by claiming that it was contrary to their instructions and they didn't know anything about it. Men running saloons must be held responsible for the acts of their employes."

That the commission indorses this view was established at yesterday's meeting when the saloon of P. J. Hickey, 113 West First street, was tossed into the growing list of discards. Because James Standley, his bartender, has been convicted of keeping open on Sunday, Hickey's license was revoked by unanimous vote.

Pleads Good Record.

Through Frank E. Jenswold, a Superior attorney, Hickey begged for leniency, basing his appeal upon a previous good record. Commissioner Hicken then pointed out that Hickey had kept his saloon open the Sunday preceding that on which his bartender was arrested. He was corroborated by Chief Troyer, who said that he had a bottle of whisky in his possession which he was certain he could prove had been bought from Hickey the Sunday in question. Hickey claimed that he was not in the city that day.

Hickey's saloon is the sixth which has been put out of business since the advent of the city commission April 14, an average of one a month.

The first was John Talonen on Lake avenue south. The police reported that it afforded shelter to thieves and disreputable characters.

The second was the Metropole hotel, conducted by Joseph Kenny on Lake avenue south. Gambling was allowed and liquor sold after hours.

The third was John Peterson, 2008 West Superior street, for keeping open on Sunday.

The fourth was J. D. Campbell in the St. James hotel, which had a reputation which was against it.

The fifth was Dunlap & Thatcher, on the Bowery, where a patron was assaulted following a quarrel with one of the proprietors over a dice game.

DINNER FOR NEW SCHOOLMASTERS

Duluth Club Entertains in Honor of Recent Additions to Staff.

The Duluth Schoolmasters' club gave a dinner and reception last evening at 6 o'clock in honor of the new high school men.

At the banquet proper toasts were responded to as follows:

"The New Men," Principal Leonard Young; "The Purpose of These Meetings," A. G. Alexander; "Who Got the Patridges?" A. L. Lawson; "It Is Good to be a Manual Training Man," talks by Messrs. Vincent, H. J. Sullivan and C. R. Carman; "Winning the Game of Life," W. H. Schilling; "My Beginning in Duluth," Mr. Blair; "The Proper Spirit," Mr. Holmes; "The Last Arrival," Mr. Erickson. Principal S. A. Foster of the Industrial high school, gave a rousing talk on good fellowship and professional enthusiasm. The toastmaster was E. P. Gibson, president of the club. H. A. O'Brien was elected secretary to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of F. B. Carey. It was voted to continue special committees as follows with unchanged membership: Boys' employment, T. F. Phillips, chairman; vocational guidance, Principal Leonard Young, chairman; program, James F. Taylor, chairman.

THREATEN TO CUT DOWN HER ANNUITY

Former Princess Louise of Saxony Warned By Government.

Leipsic, Germany, Oct. 7.—Signora Toselli, formerly Crown Princess Louise of Saxony, will probably become involved in trouble with the Saxon government in connection with the comic opera of which she wrote the libretto and whose approaching production is announced in Rome.

The government declares that, if the work contains any attacks on the Saxon royal family, it will cut down the princess' annuity, which already has been once reduced owing to the princess' indiscretions. The authorities will, however, abstain from any criminal or civil prosecution which, they consider, would only furnish publicity for the work.

RUSSIAN CASE IS DISCUSSED

Boris Fild of Duluth Knew Beleis, Charged With Ritual Murder.

Says Exhaustive Report Would Clear Defendant of "Ritual" Charge.

Mendel Beleis, whose trial is to open tomorrow at Kiev, Russia, where he is charged with ritual murder, was known to Boris Fild, the young Russian fugitive from Siberia, who is now working as a porter in a local cloak store.

Beleis was arrested two years ago charged with murdering Andrei Yuschinsky, a young Russian boy, who was found dead near Beleis' home with forty-seven knife wounds in his body. Beleis was declared to have killed Andrei for ritual purposes, and an investigation was immediately begun by the government.

So strongly did the crown take up the matter that wealthy Jews throughout Russia interfered and secured eminent counsel for Beleis. The investigation became stronger and stronger, until the head of the Russian secret service was put on the case to discover, if he could, the reason why the boy was killed. After an exhaustive search for proof, the officer returned a report that Beleis did not kill Andrei for a ritual purpose, nor did he have anything at all to do with the crime. The government then ordered the arrest of this officer on the charge that he was in league with Beleis.

Ritual Charge.

Immediately after this incident the government charge of ritual murder was placed against Beleis. The affair spread throughout the world and civilized nations are watching with interest the probable outcome.

Fild, who is now here, lived at one time in Kiev, although he spent a great deal of his time in Odessa and was acquainted with Beleis. He says that the entire Russian nation is watching this case and that the Jews are not the only ones fighting this ridiculous charge. Many of the Russians themselves, he says, are opposing the government in this case. Beleis, according to Fild, is about 40 years old and quite well to do.

An interesting feature that will come out during the trial, which begins in the criminal section of the Kiev court tomorrow morning, is the exhaustive report made by British experts after two post mortem examinations of Yuschinsky, which completely demolishes the ritual murder theory.

Rich Jews Interested.

M. Karavchevsky and Gruesenberg, leading members of the St. Petersburg bar, who have been retained by the wealthy Jews to defend Beleis, will introduce this report as evidence. They will also endeavor to introduce like reports from German, Austrian and French medico-legal authorities.

The main contention of the crown in endeavoring to establish the ritual murder theory is that the forty-seven knife wounds were inflicted by the murderer for the purpose of draining the boy's blood, while he was still alive, to be used in making the passover bread. On this point the British experts have made the following report, through their chairman, Dr. W. H. Wilcox, whose remarkable analysis conclusively proved that Dr. Crippen murdered Belle Elmore several years ago:

Not Killed For Blood.

"It appears to us quite impossible to suppose that the boy was killed for the purpose of collecting his blood. If the murderer had wanted the boy's blood he would have used a knife or cutting instrument, and probably would have cut the throat or arm of his victim. He would not have inflicted punctured wounds with an awl or chisel-like instrument, for these wounds cause internal bleeding and not such copious external bleeding as a cutting instrument.

"In our opinion this case was one of murder, prompted neither by greed, lust nor revenge, but committed with excessive unnatural and frantic violence. It was a coarse, brutal murder committed by a person of unsound mind and by means of such an instrument as happened to be at his service. We find no evidence whatever to suggest the nationality or occupation of the murderer.

THE SCHOLAR IN POLITICS

President Wilson an Example of Plato's Teaching, Says University Lecturer.

"What the Utopians Teach Us" was the subject of Dr. Raymond Phelan's university lecture last night at the Y. M. C. A.

He spoke in part as follows: "While the Utopians taught much that was fantastical, they have on the other hand sent ringing down the ages lessons that will ever mean freedom and justice.

"Lycurgus, the Spartan law giver so adjusted economic conditions in his city that distinction, rank, and social position were henceforth found in virtue and in praiseworthy actions. The position toward which modern women are striving was suggested by this little dialogue between a Spartan woman and a woman of another country. Said the other woman, 'You of Sparta are the only women who rule the men.' To which the self-reliant Spartan woman replied, 'We are the only women who bring forth men.'

"This suggests a truth that will become generally recognized, that a free womanhood means a better race. The cause of women is truly the cause of humanity. Plato also taught the race necessity of the free, strong, woman, and besides he declared for the scholar in politics, a lesson that we are just learning. Woodrow Wilson as president of the United States, exemplifies Plato's teaching, uttered nearly 400 years before Christ, 'until kings are philosophers and philosophers kings, cities will never cease from ill.'"

Dr. Phelan lectures every Monday and Tuesday evenings at the Y. M. C. A.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN IS HEIRESS TO $750,000.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Winifred G. Cabbannes of this city yesterday received a copy of the will of her grandfather, Jerome Francis Downing, who died in Erie, Pa., last June, by which she is made heiress to $750,000.

The will disposed of an estate valued at $4,000,000. Each of five children, or their descendants, received one-sixth of the estate. Mrs. Cabbannes' parents are dead, and therefore she received the $750,000 that was willed to her mother.

LOST MONEY IN FLORIDA LAND

Sureties for Cuthbert Petre's Former Guardian Will Make Restitution.

Affairs of Member of Distinguished Family Again in Probate Court.

The affairs of Cuthbert J. Petre, descendant of a noble English family and a familiar Duluth character who has been under guardianship since 1906, will again be given an audience by Judge Gilpin in probate court Thursday.

The court this time will conduct a hearing on the application of Frank I. Salter, guardian, for an order confirming a settlement of $1,500 from the United States Fidelity & Guaranty company, sureties for George L. Tyler, Petre's former guardian, who is indebted to the guardianship fund in the sum of about $2,025.

The present guardian represents in a petition to the court that he is willing to accept the offer of settlement and avoid lengthy litigation in the courts to collect the money.

When Tyler, former Duluth music professor, was guardian of the funds he invested $2,025 in Florida fruit lands, but the investment turned out to be a poor one.

Petre never consented, it is claimed, to the purchase of the land. The purchase, however, had already been authorized by the court. Later Prof. Tyler resigned as guardian and was replaced by Mr. Salter.

The new guardian had the former action of the court confirming the transfer of the lands set aside and Prof. Tyler appealed to the district court from this order and the appeal is still hanging fire. If the settlement is made and approved by the court, it will be dismissed.

Of English Nobility.

Cuthbert J. Petre and his brother, Douglas, whose death occurred at Minneapolis on Nov. 26, 1912, came from one of the oldest Catholic families of the English nobility. Douglas was about 60 years old and Cuthbert is still on the sunny side of 40.

The Petres had an uncle in England, whose descendants now occupy seats in the English house of lords. Although neither Douglas or Cuthbert held titles, their family was accepted in England as of the first rank.

Douglas Petre came to Duluth in the 70's as a "remittance man," owing to a family estrangement. After a checkered career he died a pauper in a Minneapolis hospital.

C. J. Petre, the younger brother, came to Duluth several years after Douglas. Cuthbert had not been in Duluth very long before his brother, Douglas had him in probate court and committed to an insane asylum.

Here the first guardian appears on the scene. Prof. Tyler, who took a liking to Cuthbert, had him released from the insane asylum and put up a bond to take the responsibility of the younger Petre's affairs.

While Prof. Tyler was guardian, each of the Petres received about $20,000 as their shares of their father's estate in England. Tyler invested the greater portion of Cuthbert's portion in real estate. A tenement house at Second avenue east and Third street was purchased and the annual income from this is about $2,000.

Another break between the brothers came when Cuthbert in March, 1909, met, wooed and won Miss Flor Rogers as his bride. Miss Rogers was a Superior girl. Douglas, upon learning of Cuthbert's marriage, attempted to have it annulled. In the files of the case in probate court is a letter which Douglas wrote the probate judge, in which he accused the woman of being mercenary. The marriage, however, was never annulled and the marital ties still exist.

Some of the earlier files in the guardianship case are labeled "Cuthbert J. Petre, Spendrthrift," while later ones are under the caption of "Cuthbert J. Petre, Incompetent." Petre has a monthly allowance of $100 at the present time.

GERMAN SUBJECT IS QUICKLY RELEASED.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 7.—Quick action was obtained yesterday by San Francisco friends of Frederick Jebsen, a wealthy shipping man of this city, in procuring his release from a military prison in Guaymas, Mex., through the diplomatic channels of the German government. Jebsen is a German subject. His friends were notified by a wireless message from the United States cruiser Maryland yesterday, that he was in jail. Late in the afternoon a telegram from the German minister at Mexico City, announced Jebsen's release.

Barbers' Convention.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 7.—With the announced intention of taking action that will improve sanitary conditions in the barber shops of the county, the supreme court of the national league of barbers convened here yesterday for a three days' session. Sixty members took part in the opening meeting. The sessions are secret.

Oppose Pardon or Parole.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—A resolution questioning the wisdom of the release of convicted murderers either by pardon or parole was adopted by the Massachusetts Civic alliance yesterday, as the result of the confessions of Henry Spencer of Chicago. The alliance believes such men to be a great menace to society.

BIG DEMAND FOR RAILS

Reduction in Tariff Not Expected to Cut Much Figure.

American Credit Feature Eliminates Danger of Foreign Invasion.

It is expected that orders for steel rails aggregating 500,000 tons will be placed during the present month. Inquiries to cover 1914 requirements are reported as having been received from the St. Paul, Northern Pacific, Chicago & Northwestern, Rock Island, Atchison, New York Central and Pennsylvania roads. An order for 25,000 tons has just been placed by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. The railroads are reported to be buying in fairly large volume for new bridge work in the West, and taken on the whole, authorities in the trade are sanguine that the general situation will show a substantial improvement during the next few weeks. The recent reduction in prices is already leading to broadening inquiry in all lines, according to reports.

Regarding the tariff changes, a steel man expresses the opinion in the Wall Street Journal that it will make little difference to American steel manufacturers' earnings until prices for foreign steel are lower than they are today.

"Even in that case," he said, "it would mean the establishing of bank credits abroad by domestic consumers, who also are obliged to accept responsibility for their products as soon as they are delivered by the foreign steel makers aboard ship on the other side. Also, foreign makers will not sell steel on time, as American producers are doing and have done. It is not hard for an American consumer to get an extension of time on his bill from an American steel producer, but in the case of a foreign manufacturer it would be very difficult."

BRAINERD Y. M. C. A. HAS 500 MEMBERS.

Brainerd, Minn., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Y. M. C. A. association reached a membership of 500 on the first of October. In addition all current indebtedness has been paid, $128 worth of improvements completed and a balance of $140 left in the fund to apply on this month's bills.

HIBBING INDORSES ZENITH CITY PLAN

Movement to Stimulate Interest of Autoists in This Section Commended.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing residents heartily indorse the scheme of the Duluth organizations to interest automobile tourists in the range country, and the local societies will do all in their power to aid Zenith City promoters.

The Duluth people plan to hand to every visiting automobilist a road map and folder showing the routes that may be taken in reaching the various range towns. Descriptive matter of Duluth and the range will also be distributed.

It is believed that the move will interest the citizens at large in good roads, will advertise this section of the state and will help build up a local pride in road maintenance.

"The Duluth people can certainly count on Hibbing's support," said one of the officers of the Commercial club today. "The plan is an excellent one that will meet with favor on the range and I personally will suggest that Hibbing furnish a booklet and its share of the road map. Stuntz township is proud of the roadwork that has been done here and automobilists will find easy travel in this section."

VIRGINIA TO PROBE ALL STREET WORK

Council Employs Experts to Check Up Public Improvements.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The permanent improvements which have been made by the city during the past four years will be checked up by a special engineer engaged for the purpose under the direction of Mellis, Pirie & Co., of Minneapolis, expert accountants, who made an audit of the city's books last spring, and at which time they were authorized to make the investigation. Thomas C. Mellis, a member of the firm, has arrived in the city and the work will begin at once. Measurements will be made of all paving and cement sidewalk construction that has been completed during the past four years. Several miles of both paving and walks have been laid in that time and the investigation will require several weeks.

The special assessments in cases where property owners were required to pay only a certain proportion of the cost of the improvements will also be checked up. It is probable that when the surface improvements have been gone over the matter of sewer extensions and improvements will also be looked into.

DEER RIVER BITTER OVER ROAD CONTEST

Award Made By Itasca County Commissioners Is Criticized.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deer River people are threatening to make trouble over the awarding of the contract for the construction of a three-mile extension of the Ball Club road by the county commissioners. When the bids were opened William Hulbert of Deer River had a bid for the whole job of $2,300.98; James Dowling of Duluth bid $2,535; Mitchell & Co., $2,900, and Shea Bros. of Duluth bid a few dollars more than Hulbert. The contract was awarded to Hulbert on the first day's session of the board, with the understanding that the contract was to be affirmed the following day when the entire board would be present.

When the day arrived a change was made and the contract was awarded to Shea Bros., the commissioners saying that upon second reading it was found that the contract by this firm included not only the building of the road, but that of all culverts on the road.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO WED AT GRAND RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Otto Guildemeister entertained a dozen friends at her home on the Beckfelt farm Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Adeline Becker. During the afternoon the engagement of Miss Becker to Mrs. Guildemeister's brother, A. E. Kuester, was announced. The marriage will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 15. The affair Saturday took the form of a china shower, followed by a three-course dinner.

COMPENSATION LAW NOT FOR STUDENTS.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Whether or not the children of the local schools or their parents would be entitled to damages in case of injury or death by a boiler explosion, fire or any other accident has been investigated by local men interested in school affairs.

A letter has been received from W. F. Houck, commissioner of labor, in which he states that the workmen's compensation law, which recently went into effect, applies to employes only, such as teachers and janitors, but that the children could secure damages under the common law. Visitors could also apply for damages in case of injuries while in the school.

TWO RANGE WOMEN WOULD HAVE DIVORCE

Mrs. Clara Boucher and Mrs. Anna Boben File Suits.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Clara Belle Boucher of this village has filed suit in the district court against James Boucher for a divorce on the grounds of desertion. She claims he left her Jan. 12, 1912, and is now residing in Edmonton, Can., with two of their daughters. The Bouchers were married fifteen years ago in Cloquet, when the plaintiff was only 17 years old and the defendant 28. They have four children, two of the offspring residing with the plaintiff, who asks for their custody.

Anna Boben of Eveleth is seeking a divorce from Anton Boben, whom she charges with having left her on Nov. 15, 1911. The Bobens were married twenty-five years ago and have five children, ranging in age from 24 years to 9 months. The case will be tried here this month.

The case of Frank Stefenich against John Champa, which involves rental on the building formerly occupied by the defendant at Chisholm, will be tried at the Hibbing term of court.

CHISHOLM COMPLETES BIG PAVING CONTRACT

Range Town Improves Several Miles of Streets During Season.

Chisholm, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—City Clerk Frank Austin passed out $30,000 yesterday to the city employes. Most of the money was in wages for laborers on sewer, paving, street work and water main laying.

The pay roll will be considerably reduced this month as the paving crews will all be laid off this week.

The concrete work has been finished and all that now remains is the laying of about a half block of creosoted blocks. Work on sewer and water mains will continue until it freezes as much still remains unfinished.

Between three and four miles of paved streets is the record for Chisholm this season, according to the statement of the village engineer. Twenty-six thousand two hundred square yards of creosoted blocks were laid, the work all being done under the direction of the engineer and paid for on a day labor basis by the council.

Other public work is progressing as fast as labor and conditions will permit. The library building has been completed to the first floor and a large crew of brick layers are hurrying to get the building enclosed before it freezes up.

Sapero & Sons big department store has been started and the bricklayers have one of the side walls up close to the second story. Contractor Barger will try and get this building enclosed within the next sixty days. Lewis & Manson's new brick and plate glass front is about finished and the store will be opened for business within a few days.

Contractor Coons, who has the contract for the excavation of the garbage disposal plant, has had a crew of men working for thirty days excavating in solid rock on the shores of Longyear lake. The contract will reach well into next year before it is finished. Excavation for the clear well on Central avenue and Walnut street has been practically finished on the first contract of twelve feet excavation and the remaining ten or twelve feet will be done by city labor.

TOWER SCHOOL BOYS DEFEAT CITY TEAM.

Tower, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—An exciting game of football was held at the football grounds yesterday afternoon between the city team and the high school team. In spite of the weight of the city boys the high school players did splendid work, winning with a score of 13 to 6. The lineup was as follows:

George Campaign spent Sunday with his parents in this city.

Abraham Gordon, who is attending business college in Duluth, spent the week-end with his parents.

Ernest Hanson and John Pluth of Ely came down Sunday for a visit with friends.

For the lack of a quorum the Commercial club failed to hold its regular October meeting.

Carniel de Caigney came down on business Monday from Crowe Lake Portage.

Rev. Joseph Mapson of Ely conducted the public service Sunday night at the local Presbyterian church, preaching to one of the largest congregations of the year.

G. A. Whitman, the banker of Eveleth, arrived in Tower on business Monday evening.

J. A. Kirkwood of Duluth visited Tower Monday on business.

The Tower band held its first rehearsal under the new administration Monday evening. The new leader, E. Laucler of Virginia, was present.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Carlson entertained a number of their friends at dinner Monday evening.

George Kittner, who has resided all summer at Lakeside, expects to occupy the house recently occupied by Peter Morin's family on South Second street.

The friends of Rev. J. W. Schenck in Tower and Soudan, will be pleased to learn that Bishop Quayle returned him to the Aurora-Soudan charge for another year.

STUDENTS TO DEBATE MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The next debate to be held by the future statesmen and stateswomen who are at present attending the high school, will be upon the question,

"Resolved, That municipalities should own and operate plants for lighting and water, and transportation facilities." The debate will be held at the Roosevelt auditorium on Friday and the students are being coached by Professor L. H. Wellman, who is in charge of the rhetoricals.

Night school will be opened next week under the direction of Supt. Colgrove, and it is expected that the enrollment will far surpass former years.

LAWYERS LOSE WAY IN THE WILDERNESS

Ralph and Philip Stone of Itasca County Have Harrowing Experience.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney Ralph Stone of this village, and his brother, Attorney Philip Stone of Keewatin, reached town this morning at 8 o'clock, after being lost in the woods late yesterday afternoon. The two men, accompanied by Dr. Harrison and Lee Whittimore of this village went to Gunn Junction yesterday on the afternoon train for a shooting trip. During the afternoon the Stone boys became separated from the other two members of the party.

Vain attempts were made by both sections to locate the missing ones, but after a several hours' search the doctor and Mr. Whittimore returned. The Stones finally became alarmed, after they had wandered about for several hours, and built a fire, until it was daylight, when they finally located a road. Both men suffered keenly from worry and exposure, and neither looks upon the matter as a joke.

NOCOVITCH TO LIVE IN GRAND RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.—Louis Nocovitch of Keewatin who was Saturday freed from the county jail, following the verdict of not guilty brought in by the jury, after Nocovitch had been tried for murder in the first degree, will probably become a resident of Grand Rapids.

At the trial, the evidence tended to show that the two men killed were professional gamblers, and had attempted to rob the boy of his savings. At the close of the trial a number of the jurymen talked with him and advised him to remain here. It is probable that his new friends will secure him work at once.

HIBBING MAN'S JINX ON HIS TRAIL MONDAY.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—While out motoring yesterday Peter McHardy's car struck a snag eight miles south of the village. After waiting a reasonable length of time for a passing machine he walked in and obtained the services of B. Bushman and his car.

The second machine stalled in practically the same place and the two men walked into Hibbing, where they engaged another car. On the trip back the auto caught fire, but escaped with little damage.

COLLISION VICTIM BURIED IN ST. PAUL.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The remains of Louis B. Padden, who received fatal injuries in the automobile accident at the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific crossing on the Mountain Iron road Saturday night, have been shipped to t. Paul for burial beside the bodies of his parents. The remains were accompanied by Mrs. Padden, John Padden of Crookston, a brother, and Mrs. F. E. Thomas of this city, a sister. Deceased was born and reared in St. Paul and came from one of the city's oldest families, his father, Luke Padden, having been sheriff of Ramsey county over thirty years ago.

VIRGINIA MOOSE TO HAVE FINE HOME.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Cohen, H. J. Thorpe and H. B. Holmes, a committee selected by the local lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose, have gone to Minneapolis to select the furniture for the new home of the lodge in the Hamm building, which is rapidly nearing completion. They will be assisted by James Lavick, who is an experienced furniture man. More than $2,000 will be spent for the furniture and when the lodge moves into its new home it will have one of the finest and best furnished lodge and clubrooms in the state.

LOGGING COMPANY TO HAVE BUSY WINTER.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Gillmor, superintendent of logging for the Virginia & Rainy Lake company, who was in the city today, says that his company is preparing for a large winter's work in the woods near Cusson the coming winter.

GRAND RAPIDS PHONE BUSINESS GROWING.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Something is booming the telephone business in this section of the county, judging by the list of new subscribers posted at the local exchange, of which Ralph Nelson, formerly of Hibbing, is manager.

Grand Rapids is much interested in these additions, for the reason that it is understood that but a few more subscribers will be necessary to insure the installation of a new drop light switchboard, for which the business men have been asking for the past two years. At present the board used is one of the old-fashioned ones, and though the operators give the very best of service, at the rush hours or when there is a fire, it is almost impossible to keep up with the calls.

WINTON BANKER TO LOCATE IN DAKOTA.

Winton, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Winton this week loses one of its most prominent citizens in A. H. Peterson, cashier of the Winton State bank, who left this morning for Buffalo, S. D., where he has accepted a position as cashier in the First State Bank of Buffalo.

Mr. Peterson and family have been residents of Winton for the past six years. Many parties have been given during the past week in their honor, and a banquet was given Saturday evening at the Walsh hotel. This affair took the form of a stag party, given by a number of Mr. Peterson's friends.

LIGHTNING DAMAGES TWO HARBORS DOCK.

Two Harbors, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lightning started a fire in the power house at the coal dock of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad last night and caused considerable damage. Some of the machinery was so badly affected that it was impossible to operate it today. The lightning struck the bridge a considerable distance from the power house and followed the cable down to the machine room. The blaze was quickly extinguished.

Police Chief Fined.

Two Harbors, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gust Nelson, chief of police, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Beckman yesterday to answer to the charge of unlawfully having in his possession a certain amount of venison. Nelson pleaded guilty of the charge and was fined $50 and costs. Patrolman Axel Ringdor was arraigned on a similar charge last Friday and was fined $50 and costs. The officers did not kill the deer but it was given to them by some friend. Deputy Game Warden August Tabor, who arrested the policemen, is after the party who killed the deer.

To Ask Bids for Hospital.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sketches of the addition to the detention hospital have been received by the council and will be considered at the meeting this evening. If approved, bids will be called for at once for the excavation and building of the foundation. The plans show the new part 47 by 38 feet, with accommodations for twenty beds. Several private rooms are provided for, with complete equipment for the modern hospital. Four verandas will be added.

Blind Pigger to Jail.

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mike Polesko, the third of the blind piggers to be convicted in municipal court, will serve a term of sixty days at the county jail in Duluth. A fine and costs totaling $72 was imposed, but Mike thought this too much and accepted the alternative. Twelve cases against piggers are still to be tried but many of these may plead guilty.

Winton Woman Honored.

Winton, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The teachers and officers of the Winton Sunday school tendered Mrs. L. B. Hagen a pleasant surprise at the home of Mrs. Axel Anderson. A delicious supper was served and Mrs. Hagen was presented with a gift of linen in remembrance of her five years of faithful work as treasurer of the Sunday school. Mrs. Hagen and family will leave for Virginia in a few days to make their home.

Overland by Bike.

Hibbing, Minn., Oct. 7.—Joe Tanzig of the Meridan Iron company left yesterday morning for Minneapolis, where he will connect with a motorcycle for Clinton, Iowa. His machine was shipped to the Mill City. Mr. Tanzig expects to be gone two weeks.

RAIN WAS HEAVY WHILE IT LASTED

Electrical Storm in October Was Also Rather Unusual.

The weather man made one of the fastest short-distance runs last night ever made in October. Rain fell in torrents—but only for ten minutes. A rainfall of .26 of an inch fell from 9:53 o'clock to 10:03 p. m. "The storm not only struck Duluth," said Weather Forecaster Richardson today, "but spread over the Northwest for a radius of 100 miles.

"In St. Paul," said Mr. Richardson, "the rainfall was much heavier and for a longer period than at Duluth. The heavy thunder and display of lightning was rather unusual for this season, but we have heard of little damage."

Paulist Fathers at Aitkin.

Aitkin, Minn., Oct. 7.—The Paulist fathers of New York will conduct mission services here Nov. 2 to 9. Rev. P. Welsh and Rev. L. O. Reagan will be the speakers. The mission meetings will be held in the St. James church.

AUTO TRAILS BEING BLAZED

Signs Painted at Cross Roads as Guide to Tourists.

Duluth Will Be Connected With Big Northwestern System.

Automobile trails, connecting Duluth with all points in the Northwest, and continuing as far as Chicago, are being blazed and the whole network of trails will be completed in a short time.

A trail connecting Duluth and the Twin Cities will be started tomorrow from St. Paul, and will be completed in a few days. The work is being done by the Automobile Trail Blazing association of Minneapolis.

A representative of the association was in Duluth today, and gave an outline of the work under way.

"We are painting trails all over the United States," he said, "and the main thoroughfares of the Northwest will be blazed in a short time. We already have a trail painted from Grand Forks to Winnipeg, and as far as Cass Lake. This trail will connect those cities with Duluth. Yellow is the color of this trail.

"There is a green trail from Brainerd to Aitkin. This also will run into Duluth. Trails over the range will be started this fall and be compled by spring.

"After the trails in the Northwest are completed, auto tourists can go from Duluth to the Yellowstone park, Glacier park and east to Chicago. Our main object is to make auto traffic easy for tourists, and we believe that these trails will greatly augment the number of tourists in Duluth next summer."

Only three letters are used on the trail—"R," "L" and "X." R indicates turn to the right, L to the left and X danger. One of these signs is painted at every turn in the road in bright colors. The same color scheme is used on each trail so that confusion is impossible.

Information as to color and courses of different trails will be given at hotels and garages so that the driver can obtain full information before starting on a trip.

CLOQUET SALOONS MAY BE VOTED OUT

Temperance Wave Results in Petition to Make Liquor an Election Issue.

Cloquet, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. C. Rankin of Chicago, who has spent two weeks in Cloquet lecturing on temperance, awakened the people of the city to an unusual degree, all nationalities coming together in a movement to rid the city of saloons. A petition started several days ago asking for a "wet" and "dry" vote at the November election, has been signed by many more than the number of voters required to put the issue before the voters, and some who have never before expressed any hope that the "drys" coudl carry the day, feel that they will be successful.

Cloquet has seventeen saloons, all located on Dunlap island in the middle of the St. Louis river, due to an ordinance older than the city or village incorporation, and dating from the time when the land where the city is situated was Indian reservation, forbidding the sale of intoxicating liquor. No city in the country has saloons so uniquely situated nor so isolated and many contend that were the saloons situated on the main street of the city, under the nose of every passer-by, it would be better for the city morally, as the present condition, it is asserted, shuts out of sight much that is reprehensible and unlawful.

The campaign against the saloons will be continued, and it is possible that Mr. Rankin may return to the city before election for another effort to bring the campaign to a successful issue.

UPPER PENINSULA W. R. C. IN SESSION.

Ironwood, Mich., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The nineteenth annual convention of the Woman's Relief Corps of the Eleventh district, comprising the entire upper peninsula, opened here this morning and will continue over Wednesday. There are five corps in the Eleventh district, comprising Escanaba, Marquette, Crystal Falls, Iron Mountain and Ironwood, but this convention is the first held in Ironwood.

The sessions are being held in the Commercial clubrooms. An informal reception for the visiting delegates and members of the local corps was given at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Fox last evening.

PRESCRIPTION AIDS CHRONIC SUFFERERS

Sickness Caused by Impure Blood Is Easily Relieved.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a doctor's prescription of many years, are a tonic that have been of the greatest benefit in obstinate diseases caused by impure blood. These pills build up the blood; the restored blood burns up the poisons and normal health follows. In no disease does the blood show more altering and thinning than in rheumatism. No permanent relief is possible until the blood is restored and the rheumatic poisons are cast out.

Good digestion is impossible without a supply of rich red blod. When the blood is thin and poor, the food remains undigested in the stomach and ferments, causing gas on the stomach. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red and the stomach trouble disappears.

THOMSON FARMERS WANT MAIL ROUTE.

Cloquet, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Farmers in the town of Thomson have asked for a mail route, leaving Cloquet by way of Scanlon and many homes will be benefited thereby. It is possible that if the route is established, it will include the village of Scanlon, as there has been considerable difficulty in securing a postmaster there. The present postmaster, H. F. Snow, resigned several months ago, but as yet no one has wanted the position and consequently no one has qualified for the appointment.

Cloquet Wedding.

Cloquet, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Lizzie Bergstrom and Charles Bodell were married Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. C. O. Swenson of the Swedish Lutheran church performing the ceremony. Miss Esther Anderson and John Swenson were the attending couple. About twenty relatives and friends were present and a lunch was served after the marriage ceremony. Both young people are well known in the city. They have gone to housekeeping in a flat on Avenue E.

LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE—"CASCARETS"

Salts, Calomel, Pills, Act on Bowels Like Pepper Acts in Nostrils.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

BLOOD POISON

Pimples, spots on the skin, sores in the mouth, ulcers, falling hair, bone pains, catarrh, etc., are symptoms. Delays are dangerous. Send at once to Dr. Brown, 935 Arch St., Philadelphia, for BROWN'S BLOOD TREATMENT. Convincing proof in a $2.00 bottle—lasts a month.

Sold in Duluth by Max Wirth, 13 West Superior street, and by all druggists.

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. This remedy softens the muscles, enables them to expand without strain and enables women to go through the ordeal without pain, nausea, morning sickness or other dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found how easy it is to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists, and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 227 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book to expectant mothers.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

HEALTH DEPARTMENT GIVES HINTS ON FIRST AID TO INJURED

Feeling in the victim's mouth to remove tobacco, false teeth, chewing gum or other foreign substance which might become lodged in the throat, is the first step which should be taken in restoring a person who is unconscious, according to the health department bulletin for September.

The issue is largely devoted to first aid advice and gives information which should be known by all in case of accidents. The method of restoring the patient by artificial respiration is described in detail and considerable space is devoted to handling a person who has suffered an electric shock.

The person coming to a victim's assistance is advised first of all to send for a doctor. It is also pointed out that the emergency ambulance at the police station is equipped with a pulmotor, which is available at any time for the asking. When acident calls are sent to the police station the ambulance and pulmotor, accompanied by a physician, will be immediately dispatched unless occupied elsewhere. The pulmotor provides the best method of securing artificial respiration, no matter what the cause of the asphyxia, and should be employed in all cases of suffocation, drowning, strangulation, poisoning or shock.

The statement of the bulletin is in part as follows:

"An accidental shock usually does not kill at once, but may only stun the victim. Hope of restoring patient lies in prompt and continued use of artificial respiration.

"With a single quick motion separate the victim from the live conductor. In so doing avoid receiving a shock yourself. Many have, by their carelessness, received injury in trying to disconnect victims of shock from live conductors.

"Use a dry coat, a dry rope, a dry stick or board, or any other dry nonconductor, to move either the victim or the wire, so as to break the electrical contact. Beware of using metal or any moist material. The victim's loose clothing, if dry, may be used to pull him away; do not touch the soles or heels of his shoes while he remains in contact—the nails are dangerous.

"If the body must be touched by your hands, be sure to cover them with rubber gloves, mackintosh, rubber sheeting or dry cloth or stand on a dry board or on some other dry insulating surface. If possible, use only one hand.

"If the victim is conducting the current to ground, and is convulsively clutching the live conductor, it may be easier to shut off the current by lifting him than by leaving him on the ground and trying to break his grasp.

"Open the nearest switch, if that is the quickest way to break the circuit.

"If necessary to cut a live wire, use an ax or a hatchet with a dry wooden handle, or properly insulated pliers."

Lightning Causes Fire.

Lightning struck a barn connected with the isolation hospital near South Superior last night and burned the building to the ground. Two horses, one of which belonged to the hospital and the other formerly used by the chief of the Superior fire department, were cremated. The loss is estimated at $1,200.

Dentists' Office Entered.

Offices of Dr. J. L. Malone and Dr. W. F. Gordon in the Truax building were burglarized at some time between Saturday night and Monday afternoon. When the two dentists, who had been hunting during the week end, returned yesterday afternoon they found the place ransacked. Gold used for filling and other material valued at $1,000 was taken.

Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the business men of Allouez, scheduled to take place last night, was postponed until Thursday evening. Bad weather caused a number of the men to stay at home. The merchants intend to start a campaign to release the entire Tenth ward of the city of Superior from under the city's rule. The action is being taken because of alleged neglect on the part of the city to provide improvements for Allouez and Itasca.

Train Kills Indian.

WHISKY POOR AS STIMULANT

Hot Tea, Coffee or Water Better, Says Dr. I. J. Murphy.

Whisky classes very low as a stimulant in the opinion of local health department officials.

Even hot water is a better stimulant than whisky, while hot coffee or hot tea is greatly preferable, according to the first aid hints, which have been compiled for this month's bulletin by Dr. I. J. Murphy.

Emphasis is laid upon the necessity of summoning a physician promptly as the primary measure to be taken. Cleanliness, comfort and fresh air are mentioned among the other important essentials.

The list includes the following suggestions:

Keep cool.
Send for a doctor.
Make the patient comfortable in a safe place while waiting.
Never let an injured person know that his condition is dangerous.
There is more or less shock even with the slightest injury.
Roughness with a patient is inexcusable.
If a patient vomits, turn on one side with head low.
Hot coffee, hot tea, or even hot water is a better stimulant than whisky.
Supply external heat if patient is cool and clammy.
In summer give a glass of cold water.
Safety should be the first consideration.
Do not attempt to do too much.
Cut clothing away, never pull or tear it.
Avoid touching an open wound with the hands or anything not surgically clean.
Never wash away blood clots, bind them up.
Give the patient plenty of fresh air.
Securing the physician promptly is the most important first aid measure.

HAS TO MODIFY HER CHARGES

Mrs. Selma Bladin Fails to Establish Alleged Brutality of Husband.

Selma Bladin, who is suing her husband, Albert Bladin, fish peddler, 118 West First street, for divorce in a contested action which is on in district court before Judge Fesler today, contradicted herself so frequently in her testimony that the court called her to account for it.

Mrs. Bladin in her papers filed against her husband pictured him as a brute and claimed that on numerous occasions he mistreated her, threatened her and the children and called her bad names.

When Attorney Goldberg had her under a two hours' cross-examination this morning the only vile name that she could recall as coming from him was "devil." She admitted that he had never struck her while they had been living in Duluth.

Bladin is strongly opposing the divorce. He had a large number of witnesses in court this morning who were ready to go on the stand in his behalf. He claims that his oldest daughter, Bertha, with whom he had a quarrel because she married a Gentile without his consent was responsible for the divorce suit in that she alienated her mother's affections from him.

He denies all acts of cruelty charged against him.

HIGH VOLTAGE.

Indianapolis News: On Big creek, 275 miles from Los Angeles, a large hydroelectric plant is now being built. Current from this plant will be conducted to Los Angeles at a voltage of between 150,000 and 175,000. The gradual increase of voltage used on transmission lines in California is due to the low hygroscopic condition of the atmosphere. It is predicted that before long voltages of 200,000 and 250,000 may be employed.

EDWARD'S WALKING STICKS.

Indianapolis News: The late King Edward was very proud of his collection of walking sticks, of which he had hundreds. BALLOT BOX WAS EMPTY

Judges in Third Ward Precinct Put Ballots in Bag.

Vote of Entire Precinct May Be Disputed in Court.

When the inspectors making the recount of the ballots cast at the election held Sept. 16 to pass on the Hicken liquor code, opened the ballot box from the second precinct of the Third ward this morning the box was empty. It didn't contain a single slip of paper.

For a minute or two the inspectors were dumbfounded; they could scarcely believe the evidence, or lack of it, before their eyes. Concurrently, various kinds of suspicions flashed through their minds.

An investigation was started without loss of time. City Clerk Charles S. Palmer and his deputy, Fred Ash, were called into the case. A search for the missing ballots was immediately instituted.

They were discovered in the first place at which they were sought, stuck away under a counter in the paper bags which are supposed to contain only the unused ballots which are returned. Until the ballot box was opened about 10 o'clock today no one suspected that they were there. The indications were that they were untouched since misplaced by the election board of that precinct. The election judges of the Second precinct of the Third ward were R. F. Berdie, J. J. Haley and N. Youngblood and the clerks were Wolf Zien and A. C. Anderson.

May Contest Precinct.

Because of the misplacing of the ballots those who are contesting the election may dispute the vote of the entire precinct, but as there is no evidence that any wrongdoing was intended it is probable that the court will admit them. Twenty of the ballots were found to have been initialed by but one judge and they were included in the disputed ballots which will be passed upon by the court. This same precinct showed an error also in the returns which were brought in the night of the election, according to the city clerk. The affirmative and negative totals were transposed and when the error was discovered all but one judge had left. He signed the sheet which was part of the canvass made by the city council.

Three Wards Finished.

The inspectors, Richard M. Funck, Walter Gonska and A. T. Banning, Jr., completed the recount of the first three wards by noon today. Thus far they have passed upon 4,369 ballots, or nearly half of the vote cast. At the present rate of progress the recount will be completed within the next two days.

No material change in the results has been developed by the recount. Each side has lost exactly 39 votes in the three wards, while 105 ballots have been withheld for the inspection of the court. The likelihood is that the court's action will not cause any particular change in the general result. The election returns in the first three wards gave the affirmative 2,324 votes and the negative 2,026. The recount gives the affirmative 2,285 votes and the negative 1,977 votes.

The summary by precincts is as follows:

LEVY OF $550,000 FOR GOOD ROADS WILL INCREASE COUNTY RATE TO 5.03 MILLS

Huge Sum Will Be Expended on Rural Highways Next Year.

Board Well Within Limit Fixed By the Dunn Law.

The county tax levy is expected to be established at the October meeting of the county board this afternoon. Although the levy up to a late hour this afternoon had not been formally passed upon by the county commissioners it was quite generally understood that the budget would total 1,199,000 as compared with $846,962.76 levied and collected in taxes this year.

With the 1912 county valuation of $311,383,370 as a basis, it is figured that the rate for county taxes this year will be approximately 3.8 mills, as compared with 2.72 mills last year. The increase is quite large, but not as phenomenal as the increase in the state rate which jumped from 3.58 to 5.03 mills, and set a record for forty years in Minnesota.

County Commissioner Kauppi this morning stated that in all probability that the county levy for roads this year would be about $550,000 or practically 1.5 mills. Under the new Dunn road law, the county has authority to levy 3 mills for road purposes instead of being held to the 1-mill limit as under the old law.

Wanted Full Levy.

At the meeting of the commissioners this morning a communication from a committee representing the various civic and commercial organizations of Hibbing, Virginia, Chisholm, Eveleth, Biwabik and Duluth—of which George M. Peterson of this city is secretary, was read in which the county board members were urged to levy the maximum allowed under the Dunn law for roads. The committee asked the board to make provision in this levy for the expenditure of $100,000 on the Miller Trunk road between Duluth and the trade centers on the range. It also requested the expenditure of $25,000 for resurfacing, repairing and completing the Vermilion road connecting Duluth, Biwabik, Tower and Ely.

E. J. Filiatrault, William Burgess and Henry Bridgemen appeared personally before the board in support of the proposed appropriation for both roads and strongly urged the spending of $100,000 on the Miller Trunk road by making concrete or other suitable improvements on the highway.

The consensus of opinion among the commissioners appeared today to be that the burden of putting the Miller Trunk road in first-class condition between Duluth and the ranges should not rest entirely upon the shoulders of the county board, and that a considerable portion of the expense should be taken care of by the various towns through which the road runs. One of the commissioners declared this morning that he thought the board might spend between $40,000 and $50,000 on the highway this year, but that he did not believe that the county should spend $100,000 this year.

Seven New Roads.

Seven new roads were legalized at the commission. They were as follows: Extension of the Heino road in the fourth and seventh districts; change in the Swan Lake road extension in the fifth district; Robinson road in the fifth district; extension of the Connor's road in the seventh district; Frazer-Bay road in the fourth district; change in the Stevens road in the fifth district; and the Haakenson road in the fifth district. Commissioner McMahon of the fourth district had a resolution passed authorizing the appropriation from the special county road fund of $8,000 to be spent on the following roads in his district: Burntside road, $1,500; Tower and Itasca road, $2,000; Eagle Nest road, $2,000; Tower and Ely road, $3,000.

Mayor W. I. Prince and Commissioner of Public Utilities Merritt appeared before the county board this morning with the request that the county commissioners look into conditions at Mission creek, Fond du Lac, which is likely overflowed causing considerable damage to property and which has caused a number of damage suits to be filed against the city. The stream originates in the town of Midway in Commissioner Kauppi's district. A committee of the board will be appointed who with the county engineer will look over conditions there, with a view of remedying them.

DEAD MAN A DESPERADO

Officers Assert He Led the Thief River Falls Robbers.

Bemidji, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the dead man now stretched out at the county morgue here was one of the three bandits who actively participated in the Soo $7,500 robbery at Thief River Falls, appeared to be established beyond question this morning, as the result of information received from Cass Lake.

Officers declare that the robber trio was traced from Cass Lake to Thief River Falls and that the dead man here not only was the leader of that gang but that he was a desperado with a trail of crimes extending from New York to San Francisco. These assertions are made despite the fact that the dead man had taken the usual yeggman precaution to hide his identity by stripping himself of everything that would permit the ordinary investigation to establish his identification. His kit of burglar tools and a notebook containing the name of "Anthony Comstock" led to the dead man's identification by Cass Lake men. This was made still more positive just before by Otto Hicks, chief special officer of the Soo line, who has the Thief River Falls robbery investigation in charge.

Following the discovery yesterday of the body near Pinewood, sixty-eight miles this side of Thief River Falls on the Soo, Mr. Hicks and Detective Richard Lawler of St. Paul at once investigated and agreed with the Cass Lake men that the dead man was the leader of the Thief River robbery, but his name is not given out.

A BILLION IN A BALL AT SEA

Kansas City Star: A billion dollar ball—that is the latest distinction of the largest passenger steamer afloat. Probably the most remarkable "revelry by night" ever held upon the high seas was that which crowned a recent voyage of the Imperator, monarch of the deep. About 500 Americans, dancers and spectators, crowded the ship's ballroom one night recently for the final festivity before the arrival in New York. And the fortunes of this half thousand of persons have been estimated as reaching the enormous total of $1,000,000,0000.

For look who traveled on the Imperator: Put Judge Elbert H. Gray and Mrs. Gray first. Judge Gray alone, the chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, has a personal fortune estimated at $50,000,000. He has an interest in banks, railroads and industrial corporations, the aggregate capitalization of which is up in the billions.

Then we have Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney and their pretty young daughter, Miss Flora. Mr. Whitney is understood to have inherited no less than $40,000,000 from his father. One of his fellow passengers was the broker, B. M. Baruch, widely known on the street as "Barney," who is believed to have taken some $20,000,000 out of the stock market. Another well-to-do broker and society man, who probably would have led the cotillion at the billion dollar ball if they'd had one, is James Cutting of New York and Newport. Mr. Cutting has frequently been reported as engaged to the wealthy and beautiful widow, Mrs. William B. Leeds.

Other Men of Millions There.

Also on the passenger list were Louis C. Tiffany of the celebrated jewelry establishment, whose father's estate was estimated at $30,000,000. The major part went to Louis. Charles T. Crocker, the grandson of a California '49er, has been credited with a fortune of $20,000,000, including what his wife brought him. The great wealth of John R. Drexel, the Philadelphia banker, and of Oscar Strauss, the merchant prince, needs no comment. Both were on the Imperator. And so was Harry S. Black, formerly the active head of the "skyscraper trust." The United States Realty company of which he was president, owned the Hotel Plaza. According to reports Mr. Black paid the lump sum of $6,000,000 at the time of his divorce from the woman who later was married to Tyler Morse.

Jules S. Bache, rich banker, returned on the Imperator. So did the lawyer, James Deering, for years the private counsel of Charles R. Murphy. So did John N. Willys of the Willys Overland company, John H. McCollough, Francis Wellman, George M. Lauder, De Witt Talmadge and many other men of wealth and note.

Nor was all the money represented at the $1,000,000,000 ball in the hands of men. For was not Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont present, whose husband is supposed to have left her $5,000,000? And Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt was on the ship, and Miss Laura A. Braun of Chicago, who admitted that she was at least $200,000 richer than when she went abroad. She played baccarat wisely and well at Enghein, the resort near Paris.

So, you see, it was really some party, and you can't blame the canny ones for getting into corners and figuring out the "dem'd total," as Mr. Mantalini would call it. Also, you see that they weren't understating when they made it out a cool billion.

Everybody Had a Good Time.

And what is a $1,000,000,000 ball like? Really, the short and simple summary loved by the village newspaper fits this party, too—"a good time was had by all." The affair took place in the rose ballroom, a large and beautiful apartment just opposite the restaurant. It derives its name from the fact that carpet, chairs and sofas are all in the most glowing shade of rose-red. Costly tapestry panels are set in the walls, and all the light is let through the exquisitely modelled ceiling.

The decorations for the ball were simple but effective. The big platform at the rear reserved for the ship's orchestra, was banked deep in pale pink and lavender asters, with ferns and palms sprinkled among them. There really was no other space for flowers, as every inch of room was needed by the dancers and those who sat around the sides of the room and looked on.

Dancing began at 9 o'clock. Through Mrs. Degemhardt, the social director of the Imperator, the Hamburg-American company offered five beautiful prizes, one to the best dancer of the tango, two to the two couples who one-stepped most gracefully, and two to the two best pairs of waltzers. The judges were Mrs. Degemhardt and Maurice, the professional tango dancer, and his wife.

For about an hour there was general dancing on a floor as smooth as glass and to inspiriting music. No party in the most exclusive Fifth avenue residence could show more wonderful costumes or a more extraordinary display of costly jewelry. Many of the women wore for the first time the frocks which they had just purchased in Paris for the coming season. there was no informality, no sketchiness of costume, because the dance was on shipboard.

Nothing But Slit Skirts.

And here's a fashion tip from the highest circles: According to an observant eyewitness, every one of the wealthy and beautiful women present wore a slit skirt!

But though they tangoed briskly, they were most discreet and modest about it. No standards of propriety were set at defiance. And a little after 10 o'clock chairs and carpet changed the ballroom back to a concert room. After the concert proper came a final treat. On a little carpeted square in the center of the room Maurice and his wife showed the very, very latest tango steps and a brand new skating waltz, which were applauded enthusiastically. Then he gave out the prizes to the fortunate terpsichoreans. And a little after 11 o'clock the billion dollar ball was over.

Oh, yes, though the ball was free to every first-class passenger, they took up a subscription for the members of the crew. And the crew wouldn't mind having a billion dollar ball on every voyage.

A LEPER BAND.

Indianapolis News: On the island of Culion, in the Philippine archipelago, is to be heard the most select and remarkable brass band in the world. It is made up wholly of lepers, banished there to a living death, for the island is the haven and retreat for the lepers of the United States' possessions in the Far East. The total population of the island is in the neighborhood of 4,775, all of whom are under treatment.

HAS EARNED A REST.

Indianapolis News: One of the big engines of the London & Northwestern Railway company has just completed a distance of 2,000,000. A locomotive travels, on an average, only about 20,000 miles a year, so this performance is equal to 100 years' service on an ordinary basis. As a matter of fact, the engine in question has been worked five times as hard as the average, and has accomplished its task within a period of twenty years.

JOHN DREW'S AMBITION TO PLAY SHAKESPEARE SATISFIED

JOHN DREW AND MISS CREWS.

John Drew has had the reasonable ambition to appear in Shakespearean parts ever since he was the chief support of Ada Rehan in the old Daly days. But Charles Frohman, his manager, has kept him in polite modern comedy in which he appears always to good advantage. This season he persuaded Mr. Frohman to put on "Much Ado About Nothing," in which he has been appearing for some weeks with Laura Hope Crews as chief support. He will appear next week in two Barrie comedies and probably alternate them with the Shakespeare play on the road.

WHAT IS THE LURE OF FIFTH AVENUE?

Women Have Made It the Most Expensive and Interesting Street in America.

New York, as everyone knows, is mainly just four streets, Broadway, Wall, Fifth avenue and Bowery, and their suburbs. And of those four Frederick Starr, writing in the Ladies' Home Journal, says Fifth avenue is far the most important and interesting.

Nowhere else in America does one find such splendid window dressing. Nowhere else does one wander freely through such bewildering displays of beautiful fabrications. It is no wonder that the American woman loves to visit the Fifth avenue shops. At a score of stores, famous almost the country over, one may see beautiful stocks tastefully displayed. Of course Fifth avenue prices are a thing by themselves. It is true that women quarrel over the question whether one pays twice as much for the same thing on Fifth avenue as on Seventh avenue, but no one is ignorant that there is a Fifth avenue price.

I know a woman who for many years had her hats made on Seventh avenue. She was able to pay a handsome price and always had the finest article. The man who for many years constructed her headgear, with increasing trade and reputation, finally removed to Fifth avenue. His customer followed him as was natural, but to her surprise the next hat purchased after the removal cost her more than was expected. When the proprietor attention was called to the matter and questions were asked he stated that she could no longer expect to pay the price of Seventh. Of course in extenuation something may be said about increased rents, greater wages paid to salesmen—but, after all, the Fifth avenue price exists because it is Fifth avenue.

The Correct Hour to Shop.

There is naturally precise regulation for New York women in regard to frequenting Fifth avenue. There are still some women of wealth who take their morning airing, but no New York woman of quality must be caught on foot upon Fifth avenue after 11 o'clock. At that time shopping begins. For most women who live for shopping 11 o'clock is the earliest possible hour for indulging in their favorite occupation. Most of these women are out every evening to social functions. They are too exhausted by their efforts to start out upon the new day's labors earlier than 11 o'clock. From then until 3 o'clock in the afternoon they may shop, but no woman should think of shopping later in the day.

The Promenade Is the Specialty.

But Fifth avenue's present specialty does not lie even in the shops and shopping, but in the promenade. Again we take the bus and from its top look down upon the busy scene from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until evening. A gayer, livelier scene is hard to imagine. The sidewalks on both sides of the street are packed with people, chiefly women. The street itself is jammed with motor cars, making all the speed which the watchful guardians of the law permit. It is a mass of swarming humanity. After we have ridden through it we descend and mingle with the people on the sidewalks.

Here are dresses of the latest styles, a kaleidoscopic movement of brilliant colors, as one sees tints never before witnessed. One is apt to say, the colors of the rainbow, but the simple seven colors of our childhood teaching are nowhere visible. There are shades for which new names are coined this year to be forgotten next. Everybody laughs and chats and hustles, frightfully busy about nothing.

Who Makes Up the Crowd?

Who compose this sidewalk crowd? What are they doing? The most curious fact is that the crowd is composed almost entirely of women who are not New Yorkers. They are people from the country and outside towns, parading to show their own good dresses and to study what they are pleased to consider "New York" fashions. They are out, of course, to see and to be seen. They scan the dresses and makeups of all they meet, comment upon them, make mental memoranda for future guidance, and commend or criticize.

And the motor cars and the people in them? They are not out for pleasure. They are not indulging in a paseo, back and forth, for inspection, but they are going somewhere. The riders, indeed, expect to see and to be seen. They are New Yorkers and are dressed with care, but they are not out for the sake of being seen or for the sake of seeing. Nor, curiously, do they attract much attention from the crowds upon the sidewalk. In fact the most astonishing thing in all this remarkable parade is the scantness of attention which the sidewalk crowds give to the riders as they pass.

What Is the Lure of Fifth Avenue?

I have been asked, are the brilliant shops and the magnificent displays of goods in Fifth avenue an appeal to woman's savagery? I have been asked, is the Fifth avenue parade comparable with the scenes and facts of savage life in Central Africa? To these questions I would answer yes, and no. The real savagery of woman is survival. It is akin to childishness. It is due to innate conservatism.

The true savagery of woman is simple, naive. The child, too, is a savage. The savagery of woman and the child finds its delight in noise and movement and glitter. But the delight is due to inexperience. If we are to compare the lure of Fifth avenue to savagery we must distinguish carefully between two kinds of savagery. We sometimes speak of second childhood. It is a very different thing from actual infancy. The savagery of fifth avenue is second childhood. It is senility. It is over refinement. It is complexity. If savagery it is relapse, not primitive.

The Fifth Avenue Woman.

These women who spend their time in shopping and promenading on Fifth avenue have no serious interest in life They do not know what to do. They are lonesome. They have no household cares of wholesome character to occupy their thoughts, no cooking, no dressmaking, no homely duties. Mechanisms and servants and delicatessen shops have robbed them of all legitimate and natural employments. They do not know how to converse, and they have no thoughts suitable for conversation matter. They have lost the art of reading, and if they skim an occasional copy of the magazines with the most fleeting contents, they are wearied with their extraordinary mental effort. They are incapable of producing anything. They must have contact, company, movement, so they gad and stare and gossip. They are physically and mentally worn and broken down. They are nervously unstrung. They crave excitement and continuous "go."

Such is the Fifth avenue crowd. It is not only weak and neurotic, it has bad tendencies besides. It is ill natured in comment, mean in criticism. If each member of that self-satisfied crowd could actually hear the comments made upon her, ears would tingle.

They are the savagery of decadence and degeneration.

OVERSTEPPING THE MARK

By Charles Hall Johnston in Collier's.

Certain conditions imagined, or falsely deduced from circumstances, result in disaster because we are not willing to let well enough alone. Too much supervision is ofttimes worse than none.

Deductions are all right, but we must first be sure of our facts.

An insurance company sent a new man into a very prosperous rural community. He produced as many applications in a week as the average good solicitor would write in a month. The agency superintendent became suspicious. He sent his assistant into the territory to deliver the policies written by the new man and to collect the premiums. He cautioned the assistant so much about the probability of the business being bad that the assistant believed it before he started. Attempting to make three policy deliveries, he found that the new agent had collected each of the premiums in advance and had disappeared. Without trying to deliver the policies, he frankly informed the applicants that they had most likely been swindled, saying that the company would make adjustments later. Afraid to go any further, he hurried back to his chief to inform him of the imposter—only to find the new agent calmly turning in the money for all policies sold and giving the superintendent a glowing account of his success. The balance of the policies sold were simply mailed to the insured, and in every case policy receipts were promptly returned with letters showing that policy holders were well satisfied. The assistant quietly slipped out of the office, returned to the field, and delivered the three policies with suitable explanations.

Costly Enthusiasm.

A solicitor for a large advertising agency called at the office of a client who was already carrying a contract calling for $4,000 per month. The manager did not seem to be interested in any additional advertising, but casually remarked that he wished about half of his present contract could be transferred to another city recently entered by his company. The solicitor, anxious to be of service, said he thought it could be arranged. The manager became interested and asked the solicitor to verify his statement at once. The solicitor called his house on the 'phone and asked if "advertising could be taken care of" in the city in question. Receiving an affirmative answer, he assured the advertiser that the transfer could be made. Contracts were produced and made out accordingly, the manager called his advertising man and instructed him to make out new copy. The solicitor took the new contracts to the office of his firm, only to discover that the advertising in the other city was controlled by a different company, and that it could be placed on a commission basis only. The transfer would cost his company $1,000 per month! The advertiser was immediately notified that the new contracts could not go through, as they had failed of approval by the agency. The advertiser refused to accept this statement, saying that he had gone to the trouble and expense of preparing new copy, and that he had already notified his customers in the other city that the campaign would be carried on there. The agency then called his attention to the fact that contracts were not binding until approved by the company, and that the agent did not have the authority to alter existing contracts. The advertiser used the most effective weapon at his command—he refused to pay any more bills until adjustment was made in accordance with the new contract. The agency consulted its lawyers and while it was assured of a good chance of winning in court, it decided that it could not afford to risk a suit with an influential advertiser, especially since its own salesman had advanced the original proposition. The overstepping of this solicitor cost his company $9,000 during the balance of the contract year.

Cheapened.

A company manufacturing an article of both beauty and utility for the home gave the article an artistic name, and steadily maintained the price at $300. Tremendous sales resulted. People mentioned with pride the fact that they owned a "——." The sales manager, realizing that the price was prohibitive to a large percentage of the people, asked his designers to make a similar article, but on a very much less elaborate and less expensive scale. As a result, a smaller but quite creditable article was produced to sell for $30. He gave it the same artistic name as the expensive one. A howl of protest went up from owners of the better article. The artistic name had lost its meaning, and the article had been unalterably cheapened by the lowpriced model bearing the expensive name. A rival firm had, in the meantime, entered the field with a similar article of even more elaborate and beautiful appearance, and of equal utility and with an equally artistic name, with the price of $300 maintained absolutely.

In less than two years the balance had swung in favor of the new company for the high-priced article, while the old company was compelled to devote most of its energies to the sale of the cheaper article, with a corresponding decrease in profits.

Enthusiasm is the mainspring o business, but it can be overwound. Enthusiasm not tempered with sound judgment has brought defeat to many men and to many business organizations. A good deed well begun is half done—often much more than half done. Many men, by overdoing the last half, have killed it entirely. They simply overstep the mark.

COW TESTING IN CANADA.

London Globe: Special attention is being given by the Canadian department of agriculture to cow testing. In general, the practice enables the farmer to find out the poorest cows—those not paying for their feed—so that they may be got rid of. In many cases one-quarter of the cows in a herd have been discovered to be not worth keeping; in some cases half the herd and even as high as three-quarters have been turned out.

Cow testing means certainty in dairying; no more guesswork as to individual performances. It also promotes economy in feed. Experiments conducted under widely varied conditions show that 300 best cows save 2,130,900 pounds more milk than the 300 poorest cows. It took scarcely one-third of 3,387 cows to give one-half of the total yield of milk. The advantage of improving one's herd by the elimination of the unfit is shown by the fact that if the 300 hundred poorest cows had given as much milk as the 300 best cows, there would have been an additional income from them of $21,309.

A PHILOSOPHIC CHINESE.

Los Angeles Times: Recalling the horrors of the Civil war, Gen. Sickles once said in a Memorial day address:

"Those horrors were so grisly and so numerous that we became, in a certain sad sense, hardened to them—not really hardened, but so it seemed. Our mood seemed almost like the Chinaman's.

"A Chinaman, you know, was employed as a cook in Los Angeles at the time when the Yellow River flood carried off its thousands. The man's master hurried to him of the calamity, thinking it would overwhelm him; but the cook's only comment was the calm and practical one:

THE FAMILY IN FRANCE.

London Evening Standard: Some interesting remarks on the birth rate in France are made by Dr. W. H. Whitehouse in his annaul report as medical officer of health for the metropolitan borough of Deptford. He states: "The serious decline in the French birth rate, which last year showed a falling off of 32,869 births as compared with 1910, has led the minister of finance to appoint a commission for the purpose of investigating the causes of the decline and of suggesting remedies."

In emphasizing the importance of immediate action if France is to maintain her position in the world, M. Jacques Bertillon, the eminent statistician, points out that whereas a century ago 27 per cent of the population of the great European powers was French, today the proportion is only 11 per cent. Formerly French was the most widely spoken language; today it is the mother tongue of only 45,000,000, as compared with 100,000,000 who speak German and 130,000,000 who speak English.

As for remedies, M. Bertillon insists that Frenchmen must be taught to regard a child as a burden which its father supports for the benefit of the whole community. But in order that a family should pay what it owes to the state it should consist of at least three children—two to fill the places of the parents when they die, and the third to fill the gap caused by those who die before attaining adult age. In order to promote this end M. Bertillon proposes a reduction of taxation upon fathers of three or more than three children, in proportion to the number of living offspring—a system already adopted in Prussia, Saxony, Servia, Norway, Sweden and parts of Switzerland. The laws of succession should be modified and formalities of marriage simplified. Mothers of large families should be assisted in various ways, and especial provision should be made for widows left with children. Finally, M. Bertillon suggests that among the humbler class of public servants those candidates for employment by the state who have children should be considered as eligible in proportion to the size of their families.

Twenty-five years ago Argentina had to import its flour. Today it sells wheat to the world, the annual harvest value amounting to more than $500,000,000.

FAME AND RICHES IN PLAYS

Some Authors Who Have Struck the Fancy of the Public.

New York Sun: "You never can tell." That's the name of a play. Maybe the author was thinking of the play business. It fits admirably. There are some lines of endeavor to which certain hard and fast rules can be applied and in which experience, observation, analysis and education along certain lines count, but not in play writing. You never can tell what will succeed and what will not. Here is an example:

A man who had written nondescript plays for some years, not one of which brought royalties, succeeded in getting one of the most successful managers in America to promise to try out his latest play. The thing was crude. The manager insisted that an experienced playwright, a man who knew technique, who had literary ability and who had proven his worth in a dozen or more successes, should be employed to polish the play, take out its crudities and furnish it as only a real craftsman could. For this work the experienced craftsman was to get a 25 per cent interest. The author agreed, but made the provision that his wife should play a leading role in one of the manager's many companies.

Only a Fair Reception.

The play was tried out in Chicago. Its reception was fair. The author, like most authors, has a temper. He quarreled with the manager, partly because the author's wife hadn't received the job as promised and partly because the play wasn't going better.

The manager in disgust sold all his right, title and interest in the play and told the playwright to go to the devil. The playwright acted as if he was going to obey orders. He took the play, tore out all the so-called frescoing and fine writing, restored all the so-called crudities and rough stuff and in course of time the play was produced in New York exactly as he wrote it.

The author was Bayard Veiller. The manager was William A. Brady, the man who polished up the play was George Broadhurst, the author's wife was Margaret Wycherly and the play was "Within the Law."

There are ten thousand persons in America who are writing plays. Some time in his or her life every man or woman has an idea he or she can write a play. Writing a play is a simple undertaking in comparison with the work of getting it produced. There are men and women who after writing a play have devoted the rest of their lives to the effort of getting it placed before the public.

There are persons who have been successful playwrights who never have been heard of. Take for example the case of James J. McClosky, who died the other day. For sixty years his plays have been on the American stage. For somewhere between thirty-five and fifty years McClosky was a clerk in the city court in New York city. He wrote one play, for which he got $600, which brought in more than $2,000,000 to Oliver Doud Byron. It was "Across the Continent." McClosky got $300 for "Across the Pacific," out of which the Blaneys drew more than a $1,000,000. He never wrote a failure and he never got as much as $1,000 for a play. Half a million persons have seen his plays. Only a few persons connected with the stage were at his funeral, although he was the oldest American dramatist at the time of his death.

Some Who Have Succeeded.

No wonder there are 10,000 persons writing plays. They read of the fortunes that are won by those who succeed and they take a chance. What they don't know has to do with the sorrows and the heartburning of those who fail. There is only about one playwright out of 500 who gets a great golden reward. The vast majority of playwrights struggle all through their lives without recognition and without financial reward. Here's the story of some who have had recognition and reward.

You would suppose that most dramatists would be drawn from the stage. Not so. A large number of the present day dramatists were graduated from the newspaper business. Take the case of Augustus Thomas. He was a police court reporter in St. Louis. Occasionally he wrote special articles for the Sunday paper. He was not highly considered as a reporter, or as a writer for the Sunday papers. In fact, the Sunday editor, on various occasions, threw Thomas' offerings into the waste basket. In time Thomas wandered to New York and was employed by A. M. Palmer as literary hack. He used to read plays and rewrite others. Mr. Palmer had respect for Thomas' judgment of other men's productions. Palmer was the leading American producer. Three or four of Thomas' plays were in the pigeon hole of Palmer's desk.

It happened one season that a show which Mr. Palmer depended on running throughout the year began to pall on the public. He asked Thomas what they could put on instead. Thomas modestly suggested one of his own. Palmer didn't like the idea, but finally consented. The result was "Alabama." There hardly is a city in America that hasn't paid tribute to Gus Thomas since then.

"Arizona," "The Earl of Pawtucket," "In Missouri," "The Witching Hour," "As a Man Thinks" and a dozen other plays have added to his fame and fortune. One of his greatest successes was the dramatization of one of the stories that was thrown in that St. Louis waste basket.

Margaret Mayo is a remarkable example of success. She is an actress. Her husband, Edgar Selwyn, is an actor and has done a bit of playwriting. One day Miss Mayo got a notion she would like to write a play of her own. Up to that time she never had read a play from start to finish. This is her own statement. She had, of course, read her own part in many plays, but the rest of the manuscript didn't interest her particularly. She never had studied the technique of playwriting. She never before had a desire to write a play. She acted simply on impulse when she wrote this first play of hers. The name she gave it was "Polly of the Circus." It was an immediate success. Then she intensified this success by writing "Baby Mine," which brought a fortune to her.

The Rise of Eugene Walter.

The story of Eugene Walter is pretty well known. He was a mediocre reporter in New York. He got as much as $15 a week. He became a press agent and naturally started to write a play. There was not a manager in New York who didn't reject that play. It was no good. They all agreed as to that. To some managers the play was sent anonymously. Somehow Walter succeeded in getting Wagenhals & Kemper to agree to produce it. They regretted their promise to him after it was made and only spent $900 in putting it on. They produced it in Canada and Northern New York. The press criticisms were varied. Some roasted the show unmercifully; some praised it extravagantly.

It was brought to New York and was an extraordinary success. "Paid in Full" is its name. It would not have been brought to New York had it not been that the Astor theater was unoccupied and had to have some play.

Eleanor Gates was raised on a ranch in Dakota. She went to California and got work on an Oakland paper. One day when she went out on a murder story she met Richard W. Tully, who was covering the story for another newspaper. They fell in love and got married. Tully had a leaning toward the stage. He wrote two plays that caught David Belasco's fancy. One was the "Rose of the Rancho" and the other the "Bird of Paradise." Miss Gates had a notion that she had as much ability as her husband. She sat down and wrote a play. It took New York by storm. It's called the "Poor Little Rich Girl."

Paul Armstrong was a sporting writer, making a specialty of prize fighting. He is not lacking in assurance, and he took to play writing. His first play was about as flat a failure as there is on record. That didn't bother him. He kept on writing. "The Heir to the Hoorah," "Salomy Jane," "Alias Jimmy Valentine" and a lot of other successes have been the result.

William Gillette was a telegraph operator. Then he turned to acting. Everybody knows his "Secret Service" and "Sherlock Holmes."

Not so many persons know Harry De Souchet. He, too, was a telegraph operator in the Western Union office at 195 Broadway.

He wrote a play that one after another of his telegraph friends read and which, after long and hard efforts, he got a manager to put on the road. One day the man who had the Bijou theater in New York was in a fix. He had spent a fortune on a production which he thought was a sure winner. It fell flat. He had to get something in a hurry to replace it. It had to be cheap, for he had little money left. Somebody told him of seeing a show in Trenton that was fair, but which had the poorest lot of actors in it that he had run across in a long time. The show was doing one-night stands. The Bijou man got it for New York as a stop gap until he could find something better. The show ran three years. It was "My Friend from India." De Souchet got $70,000 in royalties.

A Baseball Play.

Mrs. Rida Johnson Young, who lives in Greenwich, Conn., is a dramatist of great promise. She has written two decided successes, "The Boys of Company B" and "The Lottery Man." She is youthful, handsome and clever. Now she is doing a thing that is unusual for a woman. She is writing a baseball play. Christy Mathewson is collaborating to the extent of seeing that she makes no technical errors so far as the game of baseball is concerned.

George Broadhurst, who has written many successes, including "Bought and Paid For" and "The Man of the Hour," is a graduate of a Chicago newspaper office. He is in imminent danger of becoming a millionaire. There have been weeks when his royalties have been close to $5,000.

Edward Sheldon has had a surprising career. While he was in college he wrote "Salvation Nell." He followed that with a still more powerful play which he called "The Nigger." He never has had a failure. "The Boss" brought a lot of money to him. So did "The High Road." Probably the best of all productions has been "Romance." He put that on last season and it is likely to bring $100,000 to him. He is only about 30 years old and looks much younger.

Henry M. Blossom of St. Louis is one of the most prolific of playwrights. "Checkers" was a great success. "Mlle. Modiste" has stood the test of many seasons. "All For the Ladies" has coined money. These are only three out of a great lot he has given to the stage. He is a member of a widely known family and took to playwriting just because he couldn't help it.

Two very wealthy men who have tried their hands at playwriting are Joseph Medill Patterson of Chicago and Preston Gibson. They both have talent. Mr. Patterson's offering was "The Fourth Estate."

WRONG IDEAS.

Chicago News: "Somehow or other," remarked Wittles, "people always think that because my brother plays the trombone in the band I must be musical also. They are always digging me out of an obscure corner of the parlor to play or sing something when there is company.

"When I say that it can't be done they inquire: 'Ain't your name Wittles, same as the trombone player?'

"'Yes,' I say, 'my name is Wittles, but I'm not the trombone Wittles.'

"'That's funny,' they say. They seem to think I am trying to dodge my responsibilities and going back on the family. It is quite annoying."

"Yes," observed Fibbit, sadly. "I have two brothers, both doctors, so every one calls me 'Sawbones.' If any one gets hurt they come to me to ask whether they ought to put on arnica or boracic acid or Ezra's emulsion.

"They know I am not a doctor, but they think I must know it all just the same because my brothers are qualified physicians and surgeons.

"I suppose they figure that on account of your not being a doctor they won't have to pay you," volunteered Orbit. "You should be able to cure an ordinary ailment without charging me. Consider my case, if you please. I have two sisters who paint china. They are well known painters and have their names in the paper occasionally. So people are always springing this sort of stuff on me, because my sisters paint: 'Oh, isn't that a per—fect—ly glorious sunset, Mr. Orbit? See how those mellow mauve tints shade and countershade the pink perspective.' And I reply: 'Sure! But you're right, I know nothing about that line of talk. I ain't in the tombstone business; I'm a contractor.'

"Your troubles, gentlemen, touch me deeply," said Tomlins, "but there are others. I have experienced difficulties more or less closely allied to those you have mentioned and I too have often wondered why the qualities that characterize one's relatives are so often ascribed to one, when there can be absolutely no reason for such misdirected procedure. My stepmother, for instance, has always cultivated the belles lettres. That is to say, she has been something of a literrary character and a poet, or rather a poetess. But what is my stepmother's inclination to me? It is a great deal. People quote poetry at me! They ask me to write sentiments in their autograph albums. At a picnic once an otherwise charming young woman asked me to compose some verses for her, as she wished to see a poet engaged in 'courting the muse.' And yet, aside from my stepmother, I have no poetic qualities whatever. None of you can boast of having seen me with a frenzied eye or hair that needed cutting. No, indeed! I have a lucrative position as night clerk in a bowling establishment!"

"Gentlemen," said Wisp, "I have listened to all you have said with great interest.

"I, too, have a tearful tale to tell. My brother is what is called a scraper. He likes to give and take right arm jolts and leads for the head. But I am not at all like that. I do not care to give or to take right arm jolts, or rights or lefts over the kidneys.

"But every one knows my brother so men come up to me yelling: 'Good! Here is Wispy! Hank Wispy's brother! Come on, Wisp! Some roughhouse in sight. Husky guys looking for trouble! An iron worker and a couple of football players getting frisky! We'll tone 'em up a little, eh, Wispy?'

"When I draw back and say: 'I certainly do not intend to have anything to do with iron workers or college athletes, so have the goodness to let go my arm,' they nearly faint! The idea that Hank Wisp's brother should turn down a scrap! A disgrace to the family! But I can't help it. The tastes of my brother and myself are very dissimilar."

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

A Mortgage with Power of Sale, was made and delivered by Virginia and Knife River Land Company, a corporation created and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Minnesota, as Mortgagor, to George B. Morley and Waldo A. Avery, as Mortgagees, dated the 5th day of October, A. D. 1912, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 4th day of December, A. D. 1912, at 9:00 o'clock A. M., in Book 213 of Mortgages, on page 364.

Default has been made in the conditions, agreements and covenants of said Mortgage, the said default consisting in the non-payment of Eighteen Hundred Fifty-eight and 28-100 Dollars ($1,858.29), being a part of the principal sum of said mortgage debt, which part became due and payable on the 5th day of July, A. D. 1913, and in the non-payment of One Hundred Twelve and 15-100 Dollars ($112.12) interest, to date of this notice on said sum so due, and in the non-payment of One Hundred Eighty-five and 83-100 Dollars ($185.83), annual interest on Three Thousand Ninety-seven and 15-100 Dollars ($3,097.15), of said mortgage debt, which annual interest became due and payable on the 5th day of October, A. D. 1913, and the said mortgage containing a provision that in case of default, it shall be lawful for said Mortgagees, their heirs, executors, administrators or assigns, or their attorney, to declare the whole sum specified in said mortgage to be due and payable, and the said Mortgagees having so elected, do hereby declare the entire sum secured by said Mortgage to be now due and payable; and there is claimed to be due and is due to the subscribers at the date of this notice, upon said Mortgage, in principal and interest, the sum of Five Thousand Two Hundred Fifty-four and 42-100 Dollars ($5,254.42), and no action or proceeding has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage or any part thereof.

Now, Therefore, Notice is Hereby Given, that by virtue of the Power of Sale contained in said Mortgage and of the Statute in such case made and provided, said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises described therein and hereinafter described, to satisfy the amount which shall, at the date of sale, be due on said mortgage, together with the costs and expenses of said sale, as allowed by law, and taxes if any on said premises, paid, or that shall have been paid by said mortgagees prior to said Sale, and the further sum of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), attorney's fees, as stipuated in said Mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure. Said sale will be made by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County at his office in the St. Louis County Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, on Friday, the 21st day of November, A. D. 1913, at ten (10) o'clock A. M. of that day, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

The premises described in said Mortgage, and so to be sold, are situated in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and are known and described as follows, to-wit:

The East half of the Northeast quarter, Northwest quarter of the Northeast quarter, Northeast quarter of the Northwest quarter, West half of the Northwest quarter, and the Southeast quarter of the Southwest quarter, in Section One; Southeast quarter of the Southeast quarter, the East half of the Northeast quarter, the Southwest quarter of the Northeast quarter and the East half of the Southwest quarter, in Section Two; the North half of the Northeast quarter, the North half of the Northwest quarter and the Southeast quarter of the Northwest quarter, Section Three; the Northeast quarter of the Northeast quarter, the Southwest quarter of the Northeast quarter and the Southeast quarter in Section Ten. East half of the Southeast quarter, Southwest quarter of the Southeast quarter, the West half of the Northeast quarter, the East half of the Southwest quarter, the Southwest quarter of the Southwest quarter, and the East half of the Northwest quarter, in Section Eleven; the North half of the Northeast quarter and the Northwest quarter of the Northwest quarter, in Section Fourteen; the West half of the Northeast quarter, the Northeast quarter of the Southwest quarter, the East half of the Northwest quarter and the Northwest quarter of the Northwest quarter, in Section Fifteen; the West half of the Southeast quarter, the Northeast quarter of the Northeast quarter, West half of the Northwest quarter, and the Southeast quarter of the Southwest quarter, Section Twenty-two; the Northeast quarter of the Southeast quarter, the Southwest quarter of the Southeast quarter and the Northwest quarter of the Northwest quarter, Section Twenty-three; the Northwest quarter of the Southwest quarter, Section Twenty-four; the Southwest quarter of the Southwest quarter in Section Twenty-five; the Southwest quarter of the Southeast quarter, and the Northwest quarter of the Northeast quarter, Section Twenty-six, and the West half of the Northeast quarter, Section Twenty-seven, all in Township Fifty-three North, Range Twelve West, containing Two Thousand Four Hundred Seventy-seven and 72-100 acres, more or less, according to the government survey, with all the hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in anywise appertaining.

Saving, excepting and reserving, however, unto said George B. Morley and Waldo A. Avery, all minerals and mineral rights in said premises.

Dated this 7th day of October, A. D. 1913.

Good Buying By the Milling Interests Keeps Wheat Prices Up.

Flaxseed Market Supported By Crushers and Offerings Are Absorbed.

Duluth Board of Trade, Oct. 7.—The wheat market closed strong under the influence of good buying attributed to leading milling interests. December wheat closed ½c up, and May ⅝c up. October durum closed ½c higher and the May option ¼c better.

Oats were stronger, closing ⅜c up at 36¾c.

Puts on December wheat closed at 83⅞c bid and calls at 84½c asked.

Good activity in the wheat market today and moderate advances were scored during the first three hours' trading. Opening prices were unchanged, the first call in December coming at 83⅞c and in May at 88¾c. Fair inquiry turned up in October durum, which opened ½c up at 79½c. May was unchanged at 80½c.

Prices sagged slightly during the first hour's business, and then an upturn came with a more bullish sentiment in evidence as a result of the decrease showing in local and primary receipts and some improvement in Eastern milling inquiry.

Receipts for the day at the three primary markets—Duluth, Minneapolis and Winnipeg—were reported at 1,879 cars, an increase of only 165 cars over last year, which compares with a gain of over 900 cars for the same day last week. Advices being received here are to the effect that marketings at interior elevators are now dropping off, and they are expected to continue light till the end of the present month, as farmers are now devoting their attention to their fall plowing.

The Liverpool market closed steady in the face of an increase of 15,000,000 bu for the week reported in the world's visible supply.

Flaxseed Is Stronger.

The market in flaxseed was firm with steady support coming from the crushers, who absorbed everything offered. Offerings were more liberal than they had been running during the last few days, but on the substantial buying, the tendency was upward and closing prices were at the top, showing moderate advances. October flax opened unchanged at $1.39 and closed at $1.39½; November opened unchanged at $1.40 and closed at $1.40¼; December opened unchanged at $1.38½, sold off to $1.37¾ and closed at $1.38¾, and May opened at ½c up at $1.43¾ and closed at $1.43½.

The grain handling and elevator situation at Buffalo is reported unchanged. The amount afloat there this morning was approximately 3,000,000 bu. As the blockade at Canadian ports is said to be growing more serious, making it certain that a larger proportion of the grain from the Canadian Northwest must seek the Buffalo outlet from now on until the close of navigation, no improvement down there is looked for by grain men. In the meantime vesselmen are asking demurrage guarantees on all forwardings except those destined for the seaboard.

* * *

Grain being received here continues to grade up high. Out of 317 cars in yesterday's wheat inspections, there were only 5 cars classed as no grade, compared with 260 cars out of the 363 received on the same day last year.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Weakness in American cables and a decline in Buenos Ayres yesterday, was offset here by the improved demand for Canadian wheat and the unfavorable reports from India regarding dryness and firmness of holders there, and the opening was unchanged to ⅛d lower. Following the opening there was an advance of ¼d on few speculative offers and shorts covered. The firmness on Hungarian offers and the large diversion of Russian shipments to the continent helped the advance. At 1:30 p. m., the market was steady, unchanged to ¼d higher."

Foreign crop summary: United Kingdom—Weather has been favorable for seeding and the finishing of harvest. It is now unsettled and generally wet. Supplies of native wheat are disappointing.

France—Harvesting is progressing with favorable weather. The outlook for the yield is unchanged. Many complaints are heard regarding condition. Buying of foreign wheat continues.

Roumania—Movement of wheat very slow and there are no signs of an increase. The outlook for corn is favorable except in the north, where the yield is smaller.

Hungary—Weather favorable for the seeding of wheat and harvesting of corn.

India—In the United provinces dry weather continues and holders of wheat are very firm.

The close of the first month of the crop year of 1913 shows a record for wheat movements in the Canadian West. During September 23,169 cars were inspected. The average contents of a car of wheat is 1,125 bushels, making a total of 26,065,126 bushels, of which 23,283,923 bushels were of contract grade. Worked out at the regular Winnipeg prices, the value is $22,213,533. During September, 1912, a total of 5,834,250 bushels was inspected, and the value at regular market prices was $5,305,738. During the week ending Oct. 2, payments for grain at Winnipeg aggregated $39,851,856 as compared with $30,561,513 for the corresponding period last year.

A reduction of 2 cents a gallon in prices on all domestic grades of linseed oil has just been announced by the American Linseed Oil company. This is a result of the easier market and cheaper quotations of the seed which is now around $1.39 for the October option or 25c a bu lower than a year ago. The present season's flaxseed yield is placed at 40,000,000 bu or 15,000,000 bu less than last year. The visible holdover stock is however estimated at around 3,000,000 bu, and the invisible supply at even larger proportions, so that some authorities are disposed to regard the market situation as still weak, in face of this season's heavy drop in quotations.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Seesaws Under Influence of Conflicting News.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Wheat see-sawed today, bullish and bearish news being nearly balanced. Drouth reports from India were offset by beneficial rains in Southern Argentina. Then, too, Northwestern receipts showed a falling off, but Minneapolis stocks nevertheless exhibited a heavy increase for the last three days, compared with a year ago. The opening was ⅛c lower to a shade up. After hardening ¼@⅜c, the market fell back to an equal extent below last night's level.

Fine weather and lower cables eased corn. Prices opened unchanged to ⅛c off, rallied a trifle and then declined with December leading the downturn.

Estimates that the French oats crop was 31,000,000 bu short of the government figures made the oats market relatively firm. The opening, which was a sixteenth lower to a like advance, was followed by a fractional rise, but later the market sagged with corn.

Weakness at the yards carried down provisions, especially lard. First sales were a shade to 10c off and a further setback took place.

BETTER TONE TO COPPER STOCKS

Substantial improvement was shown in trading in mining stocks today. Liquidation that had been in evidence since last Friday was over and the market ruled firm at Boston on the development of fair support through the list. Moderate advances were general. Alaska Gold closed 50 cents up at $23.38 on good volume of sales. Butte & Superior was also active. Opening fractionally up at $34.50, it advanced to $35, and closed at $34.75. Granby closed 50 cents up at $73; North Butte 38 cents up at $26.87; Shattuck 25 cents up at $29 and Amalgamated Copper 25 cents up at $75. The Duluth curb list held steady, with a better outside demand reported by brokers. Alex-Scott sold at $8 and $8.12 and Calumet & Montana at 4 cents.

Copper metal was strong with sales reported at 16⅞ cents a pound. The metal market in London closed 5s up in both spot and futures.

Gay & Sturgis received the following from New York:

"The market looks to me as though it should be sold on all the hard spots. Everything is revolving around the tariff discussion, and now it looks as though we would have a long drawn-out currency argument. At the moment things are probably a little oversold, but the list has an unmistakable look of sagging lower, helped along by an occasional attack by the bear party."

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Closing Prices Are Substantially Higher Than on Monday.

New York, Oct. 7.—Prices reacted at the opening from yesterday's decline. Steel, the recent weak feature, advanced ½ on initial transactions of 2,500 shares. Canadian Pacific rose 1¼ and Reading, Union Pacific and Amalgamated advanced large fractions. Republic Steel preferred was an exception to the general movement, declining a point.

The market ruled stronger than yesterday. There were a few slight recessions during the session, but the close was substantially higher than on Monday throughout the list.

London, Oct. 7.—American securities opened steady and a fraction higher today. The list advanced during the early trading and at noon prices were from ¼ to 1¼ higher than yesterday's New York closing.

GIANTS AND ATHLETICS MEET

was a ball. The next one was a strike. Bender had good speed which was difficult to follow in the dark day. Shafer flied out to Murphy. Doyle out on a high fly to Strunk. Fletcher got a single by Barry on New York's first hit. Fletcher out stealing, Schang to Collins. Fletcher was caught at least ten feet off the bag. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning.

Philadelphia—McInnis fouled off the first pitched ball. McInnis out, Herzog to Merkle. Strunk fanned. He was unable to solve Marquard's puzzling shoots. Barry out, Fletcher to Merkle. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Bender employed a wide out-shoot and a high fast one. Burns fanned, after having three balls and one strike called. Bender shot over two curves on Burns. Herzog out on a grounder to McInnis who retired the runner at the bag. Murray singled to left and would have taken second but Oldring's quick fielding and throw drove him back to first. With Meyers at the bat it was Indian against Indian. Meyers flied to Oldring. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning.

Philadelphia—Schang out on a high one to Burns. The crowd gave the Indian Bender a big hand when he came to the plate. The chief went out, Fletcher to Merkle. Fletcher made a poor throw, but Merkle speared the ball nicely. Murphy got a Texas leaguer to center, which Shafer could not get near. Murphy was forced at second when Fletcher took Oldring's grounder and touched second base. No runs, one hit, no errors.

New York—Merkle sent up a high foul near the right field stand, but neither McInnis nor Murphy could get it. Merkle got an infield hit which Barry could not field in time to catch the runner. Marquard sacrificed Collins to McInnis. With one out and a man on second the New York crowd kept up a constant cheering. Shafer out on a fly to Strunk. Merkle scored on Doyle's single to right. The crowd was in a frenzy. Fletcher flied to Murphy. One run, two hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning.

Philadelphia—Collins sent a long drive to the centerfield fence for three bases. It was the first ball pitched. With Baker up, the Philadelphia fans cheered to the echo. Baker fouled off the first ball. Collins scored on Baker's infield hit, which Doyle was barely able to knock down with his glove hand. McInnis sacrificed, Marquard to Merkle. Baker was out at third when Marquard speared Strunk's grounder and threw to Herzog. Barry doubled down the left field line, sending Strunk to third. Strunk and Barry scored on Schang's three bagger. Shafer misjudged the ball. He leaped into the air while running backwards, but the ball went through his fingers clear to the centerfield fence. Marquard threw out Bender. Three runs, four hits, no errors.

New York—Burns doubled along the left field line. Herzog sent a ball toward third which was foul by only a few inches. Burns was caught out on the line when Bender took Herzog's grounder and DANUBE-AEGEAN CANAL.

Outlook: The prospect of peace between Servia and Bulgaria increases the probability of the completion in the not far distant future of the Danube-Aegean canal, to form a direct water route from the Baltic and North seas to the Aegean with the rivers Elbe, Rhine, Oder, Danube, Morava and Vardar. The surveying and preliminary engineering for such a project, including the digging of a canal across the Preshevo watershed, connecting the Servian river Morava with the Serbo-Greek Vardar, was begun four years ago by Servian engineers under the direction of Prince Lazarovich-Hrebelianovich, who obtained a concession from the Servian government for this purpose. His chief aim, he has said, was to aid the economic development of his country and to secure her independence from Austria-Hungary. The war against Turkey, followed by the dog-eat-dog conflict among the former allies, has interrupted this preliminary work, which, it is said, could be completed within seven months of the restoration of peace. If Servia has even partial control of the Vardar valley when the final settlement has been made, the way will be clear for the construction of this water course between Salonika and the Danube at its junction with the Morava a few miles east of Belgrade. Engineers under Prof. Stamenkovitch, of Belgrade university, have estimated the outside cost of the connection and canalization of the north flowing Morava and the south flowing Vardar, to form a 38½-mile waterway, at $65,000,000. They declare that 4,000,000 tons of traffic annually would be available at once, more than enough to meet all running expenses, without taking into account profits from the sale of power and riparian rights. While the condition of Servia's treasury may prevent her taking up this work as soon as her war ceases, that such a canal is bound to come sooner or later cannot be doubted when the tremendous saving it would effect is considered. This canal would provide a trade waterway from Hamburg, Antwerp, Rotterdam, Bremen, Strettin and other ports on the Baltic and North seas to Suez, little more than half as long as the present inland route via the Danube, Black sea and Constantinople, and some 1,500 miles shorter than that via Gibraltar and the Mediterranean. Traffic could then avoid the dangerous "Iron Gates" of the Danube and the perilous Black sea passage. Furthermore, such a canal would constitute a great inland waterway system with the Danube-Oder canal, the Danube-Moldau-Elbe canal and the Danube-Main-Rhine canal, which would drain the industrial centers and fertile agricultural areas of Central Europe, and open to them a much cheaper and shorter channel for trade relations with the near and far East. All Europe will owe Servia a debt of gratitude if that country carries to completion the work begun by a few patriotic Serbs.
